① hotel /həʊ'tel/ noun a building where travellers can rent a room for the night, eat in a restaurant or drink in a bar ○ They are staying at the Grand Hotel, which is the only five-star hotel in town. ○ I'll meet you in the hotel lobby. ○ All the hotel rooms in the town are booked.

hotelier /həʊ'telɪər/ noun a person who owns or manages a hotel hot flush /hɒt 'flaʃ/ noun a sudden hot feeling in the upper body which is a typical symptom of the menopause in women hotfoot /hɒt'fʊt/ adv running fast. Synonym immediately. Antonym slowly hothead /'hɒthead/ noun a person who acts without thinking of the consequences hothouse /'hɒthaʊs/ noun a heated greenhouse

hot key /hɒt ki:/ noun a computer key that you press as a quick way to perform a set of actions hotline /'hɒtlɪn/ noun 1. a direct emergency phone line between two heads of government ○ The President called the Prime Minister on the hotline. 2. a phone line for giving urgent messages or for placing urgent orders ○ We get thousands of orders on our Christmas hotline. ○ Call the ticket hotline for reservations.

hotly /'hɒtlɪ/ adv 1. angrily ○ He hotly denied the reports which had been published in the newspapers. 2. close behind ○ The enemy fled, hotly pursued by government troops.

hotplate /hɒtpleɪt/ noun a flat heated surface on a cooker hotpot /'hɒptɒt/ noun meat stew with sliced potatoes on top, cooked in the oven hot potato /hɒt pə'teɪtəʊ/ noun a subject which is difficult to deal with hot spot /'hɒt spɒt/ noun 1. a place which is exciting ○ This café is one of the hottest spots in town. 2. a place where fighting is taking place ○ He was sent to report from one of the hot spots in the Middle East.

hot-tempered /hɒt 'tempəd/ adj with a violent temper. Synonym excitable. Antonym relaxed hot-water bottle /hɒt 'wɔ:tə ,bɒt(ə)l/ noun a container filled with hot water which is placed in a bed to warm it

hound /haʊnd/ noun a dog used for hunting ○ He has a pack of hounds for hunting. ■ verb to attack or victimise someone ○ When he came out of prison he was hounded by the press. □ the minister was hounded out of office the minister had to resign because of attacks on him in the press

① hour /aʊə/ noun 1. a period of time which lasts sixty minutes ○ The train journey takes two hours. ○ It's a three-hour flight to Greece. ○ The train travels at over 150 miles an hour. ○ The pay is £10 an hour. ○ The hours of work are from 9.30 to 5.30. ○ The lunch hour is from 12.30 to 1.30. ○ She works a thirty-five hour week. □ a quarter of an hour 15 minutes ○ I'll be ready in a quarter of an hour. □ to be paid by the hour to be paid for each hour you work 2. □ hours a very long time (informal) ○ They took hours to serve us. ○ We waited hours for the bus.

hourglass /'aʊəglə:s/ noun a device for timing, with two glass containers joined with a narrow neck, one full of sand, which takes exactly one hour to trickle down to fill the other hourly /'aʊəli/ adj happening every hour □ hourly-paid workers workers paid at a fixed rate for each hour worked □ an hourly rate the amount of money paid for an hour worked ○ The minimum hourly rate is £5.60.

① house noun /haʊs/ 1. a building in which someone lives ○ He has bought a house in London. ○ He has a small flat in town and a large house in the country. ○ All the houses in our street look the same. 2. □ they get on like a house on fire they like each other very much (informal) 3. business ○ She runs a publishing house. ○ An important finance house has financed the deal. 4. a part of a Parliament ○ The British Parliament is formed of the House of Commons and the House of Lords. ○ The American Congress is formed of the House of Representatives and the Senate. 5. a bar, pub or restaurant □ drinks are on the house drinks are free to customers 6. the showing of a film, play, etc. (NOTE: The plural is houses /'haʊzɪz/.) ■ verb /haʊz/ to provide accommodation for someone or something ○ His collection of old cars is housed in a barn. ○ We have been asked if we can house three students for the summer term.

house arrest /'haʊs ə,rest/ noun □ to be under house arrest to be under police guard in your own home, without being allowed to leave it ○ The opposition leader has been under house arrest for six years.

houseboat /'haʊsbət/ noun a boat moored on a river, arranged for living in, not for travelling housebound /'haʊsbənd/ adj not able to leave your house house fly /'haʊs flai/ noun a common insect which lives in houses and lays its eggs in food

② household /'haʊshəʊld/ noun the people living together in a house householder /'haʊshəʊldə/ noun a person who owns a private house household goods /,haʊshəʊld 'gʊdz/ plural noun goods which are used in a house household linen /,haʊs,həʊld 'linɪn/ noun all the things such as sheets, towels, pillowcases and tablecloths which you use in the home household name /,haʊshəʊld neɪm/ noun a well-known brand house husband /haʊz 'haʊzbənd/ noun a man who does not go out to work but stays at home to look after his house and family housekeeper /'haʊski:pə/ noun 1. a person who looks after a house ○ He employs a housekeeper, a chauffeur and two gardeners.

2. a person employed to look after the rooms in a hotel, being responsible for the people who do the cleaning, and for providing clean sheets, etc. ○ The housekeeper is responsible for the cleanliness of the rooms.

housekeeping /'haʊski:pɪŋ/ noun the work of looking after a house. Synonym housework (NOTE: no plural)

house magazine /haʊs mægə,zi:n/ noun a magazine produced for the employees or shareholders in a company to give them news about the company houseman /'haʊsmən/ noun GB a young doctor who works in a hospital during his or her final year of training (NOTE: The US term is intern.)

housemate /'haʊsmeɪt/ noun a person who is not a member of your family, but who shares a house with you

House of Commons /,haʊs əv 'kɒmənz/ noun the lower house of the British Parliament (NOTE: Members of the House of Commons are called Members of Parliament or MPs.)

House of Lords /'haʊs əv 'lɔ:dz/ noun the upper house of the British Parliament

House of Representatives /'haʊs əv repri'zentətɪvz/ noun the lower house of the US Congress (NOTE: Members of the House of Representatives are called Congressmen.)

house plant /'haʊs plɑ:nt/ noun a plant that is grown indoors and not in a garden houseproud /'haʊspraud/ adj taking great pride in the appearance of your house, and very concerned with keeping it tidy

③ Houses of Parliament /'haʊzɪz əv 'pa:ləmənt/ noun a building in London where Parliament meets house-to-house /'haʊs tə 'haʊs/ adj going from one house to the next, in order to ask people to buy something or vote for someone, or to ask them questions ○ The police carried out house-to-house checks to try to find the gunman. ○ He has a job selling cleaning products house-to-house.

house-trained /haʊz treɪnd/ adj (of animals) having been taught not to urinate or defecate on the floor in houses housewarming /'haʊswɔ:gɪŋ/ noun a party that people have when they move into a new house

③ housewife /'haʊswaɪf/ noun a woman who does not go out to work but stays at home to look after her house and family (NOTE: The plural is housewives /'haʊswaɪvz/.)

house wine /'haʊs wain/ noun a special wine selected by a restaurant, cheaper than other wines on the wine list housework /'haʊswɜ:k/ noun the work of keeping a house or flat clean (NOTE: no plural)

② housing /'haʊzɪŋ/ noun 1. the activity of providing places where people can live ○ The local council is responsible for the housing of homeless people. 2. houses ○ Public housing has to conform to certain standards.

housing benefit /'haʊzɪŋ 'benɪfɪt/ noun money paid by the government to unemployed people, to help them pay their rent housing development /'haʊzɪŋ dɪ'veləpmənt/ noun a group of houses built at the same time housing estate /'haʊzɪŋ ɪ,steɪt/ noun 1. a group of new flats or houses ○ She lives on the Bellevue Estate. Synonym estate 2. a group of houses and flats belonging to a local authority, and rented to tenants for a cheap price housing project /'haʊzɪŋ 'prɒdʒekt/ noun US a series of houses or flats built by a local municipality hovel /'hɒv(ə)l/ noun a small dirty house. Synonym slum hover /'həʊvəl/ verb 1. to hang in the air without moving forward ○ flies hovering over the surface of a pool 2. □ to hover around someone to stay near someone ○ He hovered around her for the whole evening.

hovercraft /'hɒvəkra:fɪt/ noun a type of boat which moves over the surface of the water on a cushion of air

① how /haʊ/ adv 1. showing or asking the way in which something is done ○ How do you switch off the cooker? ○ Can you tell me how to get to the railway station from here? ○ I don't know how he does it. 2. showing or asking about the extent or quantity of something ○ How big is their house? ○ How many people are there in your family? ○ She showed us how good she was at skiing. ○ How old is your little boy? ○ How far is it to the church? 3. showing surprise ○ How cold it is outside! ○ How different it is from what I remember! 4. □ how about? would you like? (informal) ○ How about a swim before breakfast? ○ How about a cup of coffee? □ how come? why ○ How come you're late? ○ How come the front door was left open? □ how do you mean? what do you mean? ○ How do you mean, the payment won't be made until next week?

how are you? /haʊ 'a: ju:/, how are you doing? /haʊ dʒə 'du:/ interj 1. a general greeting ○ Hi Robert! How are you doing? — Fine, thanks! (NOTE: In this meaning a detailed reply is not expected.) 2. used for asking someone about the state of their health ○ How are you today? ○ The doctor asked me how I was.

how do you do? /,hau ə ju 'du:ɪŋ/ interj a greeting (formal) (NOTE: This expression is usually used while shaking hands when meeting someone formally. The expected response is 'How do you do?' rather than a detailed reply.)

① however /haʊ'evəl/ adv 1. to whatever degree or amount ○ However many times she tried, she couldn't pass the driving test. ○ I must have the house painted, however expensive it's going to be. ○ However hard he tried, he still couldn't swim. 2. used for emphasising 'how' ○ However did you manage to get in? 3. but ○ We never go out on Saturdays — however, this week we're going to a wedding. ■ conj in whatever way ○ Do it however you like.

howl /haʊl/ verb to make a long loud cry ○ The wolves howled outside the cabin. ○ The wind howled in the chimney. ■ noun a long loud cry ○ Howls of disappointment came from the fans. Synonym wail

HQ abbr headquarters

hr abbr hour

hrs abbr hours

HRT abbr hormone replacement therapy

HTML noun a system of codes used to prepare a document for the World Wide Web hub /hʌb/ noun 1. the centre of a wheel ○ The spokes of a wheel meet at the hub. 2. the centre of some activity, especially business activity ○ Frankfurt is hoping to take the place of the City of London as the financial hub of Europe. 3. a central airport, where domestic flights connect with international flights ○ Chicago is the airline's American hub.

hub bub /'hʌbəb/ noun the confused sound of voices. Antonym silence hub cap /'hab kæp/ noun a metal or plastic plate covering the hub of a car's wheel huddle /'hʌd(ə)l/ verb to crowd together, or to be crowded together ○ The refugees huddled in the shade of some trees. ○ The children were huddled together in one room.

■ noun □ to go into a huddle to get together to discuss something ○ The players went into a huddle to discuss tactics.

hue /hju:/ noun a colour (formal) ○ The garden is filled with flowers of every hue. (NOTE: Do not confuse with hew.)

hue and cry /,hju: ən 'kraɪ/ noun 1. an excited chase after someone 2. a loud protest. Synonym uproar huff /hʌf/ noun □ in a huff in a bad temper (informal) ○ She went off in a huff.

huffy /'hʌfɪ/ adj bad-tempered hug /hʌg/ noun an action of throwing your arms around someone ○ She ran to the little girl and gave her a hug. ■ verb 1. to throw your arms around someone ○ The players hugged each other when the goal was scored. 2. to hold something very tightly ○ The little girl was hugging a blue blanket. 3. to keep very close to something ○ The road hugs the foot of the mountain. ○ She drove along slowly, hugging the pavement. (NOTE: hugging – hugged)

② huge /hju:dʒ/ adj very large ○ Huge waves battered the ship. ○ The concert was a huge success. ○ Failing the test was a huge disappointment for him.

hugely /'hju:dʒli/ adv enormously. Synonym enormously. Antonym slightly huh /hʌ, hə/ interj 1. used for showing that you did not hear or understand what someone has just said 2. used for showing a reaction such as surprise or disgust ○ Huh, you think you can sneak out without paying, do you?

hulk /hʌlk/ noun 1. a big and awkward person or thing ○ Watch where you're treading, you lumbering great hulk! 2. a rotten old ship ○ Rusting hulks blocked the approaches to the harbour.

hulking /'hʌlkɪŋ/ adj big and awkward (informal). Synonym bulky. Antonym dainty hull /hʌl/ noun the main body of a ship ○ The liner is in dry dock for repairs to her hull. ■ verb to take peas out of their pods, or take the green leafy tops off strawberries ○ If you hull the peas I'll get the potatoes ready.

hum /hʌm/ noun a low buzz ○ A loud hum came out of the beehive. Synonym whine ■ verb 1. to make a low buzz ○ Bees were humming around the hive. 2. to sing without words ○ If you don't know the words of the national anthem, you can always hum the tune. (NOTE: humming – hummed)

① human /'hju:mən/ adj referring to people □ he's only human he can make mistakes like anyone else ○ I know there's a mistake in the exam question – examiners are only human, after all!

human being /,hju:mən 'bi:ŋ/ , human /'hju:mən/ noun a person humane /hju:'meɪn/ adj kind to people or animals. Synonym compassionate. Antonym cruel humanely /hju:'meɪnlɪ/ adv in a humane way human error /,hju:mən 'erə/ noun a mistake made by a person, and not by a machine human interest /,hju:mən 'intrəst/ noun the power to make people interested or sympathetic humanism /'hju:mənɪz(ə)m/ noun a concern with humans as opposed to religious ideas humanist /'hju:mənist/ noun a person who is concerned with humans as opposed to religious ideas humanitarian /hju:,mæni'teəriən/ adj helping other human beings humanity /hju:'mænɪti/ noun 1. all people ○ a crime against humanity 2. great kindness ○ She showed great humanity to the refugees.

humankind /,hju:mən'kaɪnd/ noun all human beings humanly /'hju:mənlɪ/ adv □ humanly possible possible with the maximum effort ○ We did everything humanly possible to rescue the survivors.

human nature /,hju:mən 'neɪtʃə/ noun natural feelings which are found in all people human race /,hju:mən 'reɪs/ noun all human beings, regarded as a group human resources /,hju:mən rɪ'sɔ:sɪz/ plural noun the employees of a company, seen as a group

① human rights /,hju:mən 'raɪts/ plural noun rights which each member of society should enjoy, such as freedom of speech and freedom of movement ○ Demonstrators are protesting against abuses of human rights in various parts of the world.

humble /'hʌmbl/ adj 1. modest; feeling you are not important ○ Seeing how much work she does for charity makes me feel very humble. 2. poor and ordinary ○ He comes from a humble family. ○ They live in a humble little house in the mountains. (NOTE: humbler – humblest) humdrum /'hʌmdrʌm/ adj dull and boring. Synonym routine. Antonym exciting humerus /'hju:mərəs/ noun a bone in the arm, running from the shoulder to the elbow (NOTE: Do not confuse with humorous.)

humid /'hju:mid/ adj (of the air) warm and damp. Synonym moist. Antonym arid humidifier /hju:'midifaiər/ noun a device which makes the air in a room or house less dry humidify /hju:'midifai/ verb to make the air in a room or house less dry. Synonym moisten

③ humidity /hju:'midriti/ noun a measurement of how much water vapour is contained in the air. Synonym moisture humiliate /hju:'milieit/ verb to make someone feel unimportant or stupid humiliating /hju:'milieitn/ adj which makes you feel embarrassed, unimportant or stupid humiliation /hju:,mili'eɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the act of making someone feel unimportant or stupid, or the feeling of being made to look like this. Synonym disgrace humility /hju:'militi/ noun the quality of being humble. Antonym arrogance humorist /'hju:mrəst/ noun a person who makes jokes or writes funny stories or articles humorous /'hju:mərəs/ adj funny

humour /'hju:mə/ noun 1. the characteristic of finding particular things funny ○ He has a good sense of humour. ○ She has absolutely no sense of humour. ○ Want to meet male, aged 30 – 35, with a good sense of humour (GSOH). 2. a general feeling or mood ○ I am in no humour to talk about holidays just now. ○ His good humour lasted until the end of the party. ■ verb □ to humour someone to say you agree with someone in order to please them ○ When he starts shouting and cursing, you have to try to humour him to keep him happy. (NOTE: [all senses] The US spelling is humor.)

humourless /'hju:mələs/ adj lacking an ability to find things funny (NOTE: The US spelling is humorless.)

hump /hʌmp/ noun 1. a raised part on the back of a person or animal ○ Arabian camels have only one hump, while Bactrian camels have two. 2. a small raised part in the ground ○ They have built humps in the road to slow down the traffic. 3. an awkward situation ○

Now that we are over the hump we can perhaps discuss discounts again. ■ verb to carry something on your shoulder (informal) ○ We spent all morning humping sacks of sand.

hump-backed bridge /'hʌmp bækɪt 'brɪdg/ noun a little bridge which rises and falls very steeply humus /'hju:məs/ noun decomposed organic matter in good soil which makes soil dark and makes it bond together hunch /hʌntʃ/ noun a feeling that something is going to happen ○ I've got a hunch that we will win. ○ The detective acted purely on a hunch. Synonym feeling (NOTE: The plural is hunches.) ■ verb to bend forward ○ We hunched down behind the wall to get out of the wind. Antonym straighten hunchback /'hʌntʃbæk/ noun a person with a hunched back (offensive) hunched /'hʌntʃt/ adj bent forward

① hundred /'hʌndrəd/ noun the number 100 ○ The church is over a hundred years old. ○ My grandfather will be a hundred next month. ○ Do I have to tell you a hundred times to stop that noise? ■ □ hundreds of very many ○ Hundreds of birds were killed by the cold weather. ○ Hundreds of people caught flu last winter. ○ They came in their hundreds to visit the grave.

hundredweight /'hʌndrədweɪt/ noun a weight of dry goods, equal to 112 pounds or approximately 50 kilos

① hung /hʌŋ/ □ hang

hunger /'hʌŋgə/ noun the state of wanting or needing to eat □ to die of hunger to die because you do not have enough to eat ○ He was dying of hunger when they found him.

hunger strike /'hʌŋgə straɪk/ noun a continuing refusal to eat, as a form of protest hung jury /hʌŋ 'dʒʊəri/ noun a jury which cannot reach a majority decision hungover /hʌŋ'əʊvə/ adj feeling ill as a result of having been drunk a few hours earlier

② hungry /'hʌŋgrɪ/ adj wanting to eat ○ You must be hungry after that game of football. ○ I'm not very hungry – I had a big lunch. ○ Hurry up with the food – we're getting hungry. □ to go hungry not to have enough to eat ○ Students had to go hungry when their grants were not paid. (NOTE: hungrier – hungriest)

③ hung up /,hʌŋ 'ʌp/ adj worried or bothered about something. □ hang-up. Synonym anxious hunk /hʌŋk/ noun 1. a rough piece of something ○ We each had a hunk of bread and a bowl of soup. 2. a strong athletic man (informal) ○ Sophie came to the party with that gorgeous hunk of hers.

hunky /'hʌŋki/ adj attractively strong and athletic (informal)

hunt /hʌnt/ verb 1. □ to hunt for something to search for something ○ We're hunting for a cheap flat. ○ They came to London in the week after Christmas, hunting for bargains. 2. to chase wild animals for food or sport ○ We took the dogs out hunting rats. ○ Our cat is not very good at hunting mice. ○ They go to Scotland to hunt deer. (NOTE: You hunt animals, but you hunt for things.) ■ noun 1. a search ○ The hunt for new offices has just started. 2. a group of people who meet together with dogs to hunt foxes ○ The hunt will assemble at 10.00 a.m.

hunter /'hʌntə/ noun a person who hunts □ bargain hunter a person who looks for bargains ○ Bargain hunters were queuing outside the shop on the first day of the sales.

③ hunting /'hʌntɪŋ/ noun 1. the sport of chasing wild animals and killing them ○ Many people are opposed to fox hunting. 2. the action of looking for something hunting ground /'hʌntɪŋgraʊnd/ noun 1. a place where wild animals are hunted ○ The island is a fabulous hunting ground for butterfly collectors. 2. a place where things are often found ○ Secondhand shops are a good hunting ground for old designer clothes.

huntsman /'hʌntsmən/ noun a man who hunts animals, especially foxes (NOTE: The plural is huntsmen.)

hurdle /'hɜ:d(ə)l/ noun 1. a small fence which you have to jump over in a race ○ She fell at the first hurdle. 2. an obstacle in the way of something ○ Only one more hurdle to clear and the house will be ours.

hurdles /'hɜ:d(ə)lz/ plural noun a race in which you run and jump over fences hurl /hɜ:l/ verb to throw something hurly-burly /'hɜ:li,bɜ:li/ noun a situation of rough activity. Synonym commotion hurricane /'hɜ:rikən/ noun a tropical storm with strong winds and rain in the Caribbean or Eastern Pacific Ocean (NOTE: In the Far East called a typhoon; in the Indian Ocean called a cyclone.)

③ hurried /'hʌrid/ adj done in a rush, or too quickly

hurriedly /'hʌridli/ adv in a rush, or too quickly

③ hurry /'hʌri/ noun □ in a hurry doing things fast ○ The waiters are always in a hurry. ○ Can't you drive any faster? – We're in a hurry to catch our plane! ○ He wants the report in a hurry. □ what's the hurry? why are you going so fast? ○ What's the hurry? It's only two o'clock and the plane doesn't leave until nine. □ there's no hurry you do not need to do it fast ○ There's no hurry for the figures – we do not need them until next week. ■ verb 1. to go, do or make something fast ○ She hurried across the room. ○ You'll have to hurry if you want to catch the last post. ○ There's no need to hurry – we've got plenty of time. 2. to make someone go faster ○ Don't hurry me, I like to take my time.

③ hurry up /,hʌri 'ʌp/ verb 1. to go or do something faster ○ Hurry up – we'll be late for the film. ○ Can't you get the cook to hurry up? I'm getting hungry! 2. to make someone do something faster, or to make something happen faster ○ Can you hurry up that order? The customer wants it tomorrow.

② hurt /hɜ:t/ verb 1. to have or give pain ○ My tooth hurts. ○ No one was badly hurt in the accident. ○ Where did you hurt yourself? ○ Is he badly hurt? ○ Two players got hurt in the game. 2. to harm; to damage ○ The bad publicity did not hurt our sales. ○ This news report will surely hurt his reputation. □ it wouldn't hurt to, it never hurts to it would be a good thing to ○ It wouldn't hurt to complain to the local council. ○ It never hurts to be polite to customers. □ to hurt someone's feelings to make someone upset ○ Be gentle when you tell her the news – we don't want to hurt her feelings. ■ noun 1. a place where you have a pain (children's language) ○ He has a hurt on his toe. 2. a feeling of sadness because you have been badly treated ○ She feels resentful towards him because of the hurt to her pride.

hurtful /'hɜ:tf(ə)l/ adj which is upsetting, and which makes someone sad. Antonym kind

hurtle /'hɜ:t(ə)l/ verb to go dangerously fast

① husband /'hʌzbənd/ noun a man to whom a woman is married ○ Her husband is Scottish. ○ He's the doctor's husband. Synonym spouse. Antonym wife □ to live as husband and wife to live together as if you were married without being married ○ They lived together as husband and wife for twenty years. ■ verb not to waste money, supplies, etc. (formal) ○ We must learn to husband our resources.

husbandry /'hʌzbəndri/ noun farming, looking after crops and animals

hush /hʌʃ/ noun a time of silence ○ A hush fell over the people in the hall as the speaker stood up. ■ verb 1. to make someone quiet ○ She eventually managed to hush the children to sleep. 2. □ to hush something up to hide something so that no one knows about it ○ They tried to hush up the scandal. □ to hush someone up to make someone keep quiet about something ○ We hushed him up with a bribe.

hushed /hʌʃt/ adj quiet, so as not to make too much noise hush-hush /hʌʃ 'hʌʃ/ adj secret (informal) hush money /'hʌʃ ,mʌni/ noun money paid as a bribe to prevent someone talking about something (informal) husk /hʌsk/ noun the dry outside coating of cereals or nuts ○ Take the husks off peanuts before you roast them. ■ verb to remove the husk from seeds or nuts ○ We all sat in front of the house husking corn.

husky /'hʌski/ adj 1. hoarse, but in an attractive way ○ She spoke in a low husky voice. 2. (of a young man) tall and strongly built ○ A group of husky students cheered when they saw her. (NOTE: huskier – huskiest) ■ noun a dog used to pull sledges ○ Each sled was pulled by a team of huskies. (NOTE: The plural is huskies.)

hussy /'hʌsi/ noun an immoral and indecent woman (dated, insulting) (NOTE: The plural is hussies.)

hustle /'hʌsl(ə)l/ noun a movement of people ○ the hustle of the commuters trying to get home on the Underground ■ verb to hurry someone along roughly ○ The police tried to hustle the crowd of protesters away. ○ Don't hustle me – I'm going as fast as I can!

hustle and bustle /,hʌsl(ə)l ən 'bʌsl(ə)l/ noun great activity hustler /'hʌslə/ noun a person who works energetically to achieve something

③ hut /hʌt/ noun a small rough wooden house hutch /hʌtʃ/ noun a box or cage for animals such as rabbits hyacinth /'haɪəsɪnθ/ noun a bulb which produces spikes of bright pink, white or blue scented flowers hybrid /'haɪbrɪd/ adj, noun a cross between two varieties of plant or animal ○ She is well known for growing hybrid roses.

hydraulic /haɪ'draʊ:lik/ adj worked by fluid pressure hydroelectric /haɪdrəʊ'lektrɪk/ adj referring to hydroelectricity □ a hydroelectric power station a power station producing electricity by water power hydroelectricity /haɪdrəʊ'lek'trɪsɪtɪ/ noun electricity from water power hydrofoil /'haɪdrəʊfɔɪl/ noun a type of boat which skims fast over the surface of the water hydrogen /'haɪdrədʒən/ noun a common gas which combines with oxygen to form water hyena /haɪ'i:nə/ noun an African animal like a large wild dog

③ hygiene /haɪdʒi:n/ noun the science of being and keeping things clean hygienic /haɪ'dʒi:nɪk/ adj clean and free of germs hymn /hɪm/ noun a religious song, usually sung in church

hype /haɪp/ noun an excessive claim in advertising ○ No one really believes all the hype surrounding the pop group. ○ There was a lot of hype about the festival and in the end it turned out to be very small. Synonym publicity ■ verb to make excessive claims in publicity ○ The show was hyped (up) in all the newspapers. Synonym publicise hyper- /haɪpə/ prefix higher, or to a greater degree hyperactive /,haɪpə'ræktyv/ adj very active hyperbole /haɪ'pə:bəli/ noun an exaggerated statement. Synonym exaggeration. Antonym understatement hyperlink /'haɪpəlɪŋk/ noun a link in hypertext hypermarket /'haɪpəmɑ:kɪt/ noun a very large supermarket, usually on the outskirts of a large town

hypersensitive /,haɪpə'sensətɪv/ adj 1. very easily upset or insulted 2. having a strong physical reaction to a drug or other substance hypertension /,haɪpə'tenʃən/ noun high blood pressure; a condition where the pressure of the blood in the arteries is too high hypertext /'haɪpətekst/ noun a system of storing computer files that gives the user direct access to related electronic information hyperventilate /haɪpə'ventɪleɪt/ verb to breathe so fast or deeply that you start to feel dizzy

③ hyphen /'haɪf(ə)n/ noun a printing sign (-) used to show that two words are joined or that a word has been split hyphenate /haɪfəneɪt/ verb to put a hyphen between two words; to divide a long word into two parts with a hyphen, or to show that a word has been split at the end of a line hyphenated /'haɪfəneɪtɪd/ adj (of a word) spelled with one or more hyphens hyphenation /,haɪfə'neɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the act of putting hyphens between words or between parts of a word hypnosis /hip'nəʊsɪs/ noun a state like sleep, but caused artificially, where the patient can remember forgotten events in the past or will do whatever the hypnotist tells him or her to do hypnotherapy /,hɪpnəʊ'θerəpi/ noun the treatment of a patient by hypnosis hypnotic /haɪ'pntɪk/ adj referring to hypnosis ○ Hypnotic treatment can be successful for deeply traumatised patients.

hypnotise /'hɪpnətaɪz/, hypnotize verb to make someone go into a state where he or she appears to be asleep and will do anything the hypnotist suggests. Synonym fascinate hypnotism /'hipnətɪz(ə)m/ noun the act of hypnotising people hypnotist /'hipnətɪst/ noun a person who practises hypnosis hypoallergic /,haɪpə'ələdʒenɪk/ adj unlikely to start off an allergic reaction hypochondriac /,haɪpəʊ'kɒndriæk/ noun a person who is always worried about his or her health hypocrisy /hɪ'pɒkrɪsɪ/ noun pretending to be what you are not. Synonym insincerity. Antonym sincerity hypocrite /'hɪpəkrɪt/ noun a person who says one thing and acts in a different way hypocritical /,hɪpə'kritɪk(ə)l/ adj referring to hypocrisy. Synonym insincere. Antonym genuine hypodermic needle /,haɪpədɜːmɪk 'ni:d(ə)l/, hypodermic syringe /,haɪpədɜːmɪk sɪ'rɪŋʒ/ noun a needle or syringe for injecting liquid under the skin hypotenuse /haɪ'pɒtənju:z/ noun the long side of a right-angled triangle hypothermia /,haɪpəʊ'θɜːmɪə/ noun a state where the temperature of the body is dangerously low

③ hypothesis /haɪ'pɒθeːsɪs/ noun something which is probably true, though it cannot be proved (NOTE: The plural is hypotheses /haɪ'pɒθeːsɪz/.)

hypothetical /,haɪpə'θetɪk(ə)l/ adj suggested as possible, but not an actual happening

hysterectomy /,hɪstə'rektəmɪ/ noun the surgical removal of a woman's womb, either to treat cancer or because of some other problem hysteria /hɪ'stɪəriə/ noun a neurotic state, where the patient is in a fit of panic or excitement. Antonym calm □ mass hysteria nervous excitement which affects crowds of people at the same time ○ Amid scenes of mass hysteria the pop group came onto the stage.

hysterical /hɪ'stərɪk(ə)l/ adj 1. referring to hysteria ○ He burst into hysterical laughter. ○ Hysterical fans tried to climb onto the stage. 2. very funny ○ The video of the wedding was hysterical.

hysterically /hɪ'stərɪkli/ adv in a hysterical way hysterics /hɪ'stərɪks/ plural noun 1. an attack of hysteria ○ He went into hysterics when he saw his daughter covered in blood.

2. laughter which you cannot control ○ The children were in hysterics as they watched the clown tearing up pieces of paper.

i /aɪ/, I noun the ninth letter of the alphabet, between H and J □ to dot one's i's and cross one's t's to be very careful to get the final details right

① I¹ /aɪ/ pron used by a speaker when talking about himself or herself ○ She said, 'I can do it', and she did it. ○ He told me I could go home early. ○ She and I come from the same town. ○ I said I was going to be late. (NOTE: When it is the object of a verb, I becomes me: I gave it to him – he gave it to me; I hit him – he hit me. When it follows the verb be, I usually becomes me: Who is it? – It's me!)

② I² /aɪ/ noun the Roman numeral for one or first ○ King Charles I ibid /'ɪbɪd/ adv used in references to mean 'from the text previously referred to'

ibis /'aɪbɪs/ noun a tropical water bird with long legs and a curved bill

② ice /aɪs/ noun 1. water which is frozen and has become solid ○ When water freezes, it turns into ice. ○ Would you like ice in your drink? (NOTE: no plural: some ice, a lump of ice) □ her hands are like ice her hands are very cold. ♦ dry ice 2. □ to break the ice to make people feel more relaxed ○ The party started quietly, but a few games soon broke the ice. □ to keep or put something on ice to not do anything about something for the moment 3. an ice cream ○ We had ices during the interval. ○ Two coffee ices, please. ■ verb to put a layer of icing on a cake. ♦ iced

iceberg /'aɪsbɜ:g/ noun a huge block of ice floating on the sea □ the tip of the iceberg a small noticeable part of something much bigger, especially something unpleasant that is mostly hidden ○ These errors in the accounts were just the tip of the iceberg – the staff had been stealing money and stock for years.

icebox /'aɪsbɒks/ noun 1. a box containing ice to keep food or drink cool ○ We took the drinks to the picnic in an icebox. 2. US same as refrigerator (dated) ice-breaker /'aɪs, 'breɪkə/ noun 1. a specially strengthened boat used to break up ice in the sea 2. a game at the start of a party or other event with a lot of people, to help everyone to get to know one another ice cap /aɪs kæp/ noun a thick layer of ice and snow that never melts, such as at the North and South Poles or on the top of some high mountains ice-cold /aɪs kɔuld/ adj extremely cold

② ice cream /aɪs 'kri:m/ noun a frozen dessert made from cream and flavouring such as fruit ice cream cone /aɪs 'kri:m kəʊn/ noun a hollow cone of biscuit, inside which ice cream is served. Also called ice cream cornet ice cream soda /,aɪs kri:m 'səʊdə/ noun a sweet fizzy drink mixed with ice cream ice cube /'aɪs kju:b/ noun a little block of ice, used to cool a drink iced /aɪst/ adj cold; with ice in it

ice floe /'aɪs fləʊ/ noun a thick sheet of ice floating on the sea

ice hockey /'aɪs ,hɒkɪ/ noun a form of hockey played on ice using a hard rubber disc called a puck (NOTE: The US term is hockey.)

ice lolly /'aɪs ,lɒli/ noun a mixture of water and flavouring, frozen until solid with a stick in it (NOTE: The plural is ice lollies. The US term is popsicle.)

ice pack /'aɪs pæk/ noun a bag of ice placed on your forehead to cure a headache, etc.

ice rink /'aɪs rɪŋk/ noun a special area for ice skating, or for playing ice hockey, etc.

ice skate /'aɪs skeɪt/ noun a boot with a steel blade fitted to the bottom for skating on ice ■ verb to glide over ice on ice skates ice skating /'aɪs ,skeɪtɪŋ/ noun the activity of skating on ice, as opposed to roller skating

③ ice up /,aɪs 'ʌp/ verb to become covered with ice icicle /'aɪsɪk(ə)l/ noun a long piece of ice hanging from a roof, etc., formed by water dripping in freezing weather

icily /'aɪsɪlɪ/ adv in a cold and unfriendly way

③ icing /'aɪsɪŋ/ noun a covering of sugar and flavouring, spread over a cake or biscuits

③ icon /'aɪkɒn/ noun 1. a little picture used as a symbol on a computer screen ○ Click

twice on the icon of a key to enter the program. ○ To print your text, point your cursor at the printer icon and click twice. 2. a picture of Christ or a saint in the Eastern Christian church ○ There is an exhibition of Russian icons in the British Museum. ○ The icon of the Virgin Mary is carried in procession round the church.

3. a person who is admired as a good example of a certain type ○ She has become something of a feminist icon.

iconoclast /aɪ'kɒnəklæst/ noun a person who goes against a tradition that many people believe in. Synonym revolutionary. Antonym conservative icy /'aɪsɪ/ adj 1. covered with ice ○ Be careful, the pavement is icy. 2. very cold, like ice ○ Icy rain fell as we started our walk. 3. very cold or unwelcoming ○ The police commissioner received an icy reception at the meeting. (NOTE: icier – iciest)

I'd /aɪd/ short form I would, I did

ID card /aɪ 'di: kɑ:d/ noun an identity card; a card which shows a photograph of the holder, with their name, date of birth and other details, carried by citizens of a country or members of a group to prove who they are. Also called identity card

① idea /aɪ'dɪə/ noun 1. something which you think of □ to have an idea that to think that ○ I have an idea that the buses don't run on Sundays. □ to have no idea, not to have the faintest idea not to know ○ Where's your brother? – I've no idea or I haven't the faintest idea. ○ I had no idea it was as late as that. 2. a plan which you make in your mind ○ Some of his ideas were really original. ○ I've had an idea – let's all go for a picnic! ○ That's a good idea!

② ideal /aɪ'dɪəl/ noun the highest point of perfection, which people try to reach ○ My ideal would be to work hard and get rich. □ man or woman of ideals a person who has standards of perfection ■ adj perfect; extremely suitable ○ This is the ideal site for a factory. ○ The cottage is an ideal place for birdwatching.

idealisation /aɪ'dɪəlɪzə'seɪʃn/, idealization noun the process of making someone seem perfect in your mind

idealise /aɪ'dɪəlائز/, idealize verb to make someone or something seem perfect idealism /aɪ'dɪəlɪz(ə)m/ noun aiming at achieving an ideal idealist /aɪ'dɪəlist/ noun 1. a person who aims at achieving an ideal ○ She's an idealist, and is upset when anyone suggests a solution which is less than perfect. 2. an impractical person ○ He's too much of an idealist to be a government minister.

idealistic /aɪ'dɪəlistɪk/ adj aiming at an ideal; too perfect

③ ideally /aɪ'dɪəli/ adv 1. in an ideal way ○ She is ideally suited to the job of chef. 2. if everything were perfect ○ Ideally, I'd take three weeks holiday, but there's too much work at the office.

identical /aɪ'dentɪk(ə)l/ adj exactly the same ○ The twins wore identical clothes for the party. ○ Their political opinions are identical. Antonym different □ identical to exactly the same as ○ Her political opinions are identical to mine.

identically /aɪ'dentɪkli/ adv in exactly the same way identical twins /aɪ'dentɪk(ə)l twɪnz/ plural noun twins who look exactly alike, because they developed from the same egg. Compare fraternal twins identifiable /aɪ'dentɪfɪəb(ə)l/ adj which can be identified

identification /aɪ'dentɪfɪ'keɪʃn/ noun 1. the act of saying who someone is by giving their name, personal details, etc. ○ The formal identification of the body was made by the victim's sister. 2. a document which shows who someone is ○ The bank manager asked him for identification.

① identify /aɪ'dentɪfɪ/ verb 1. to say who someone is or what something is ○ Can you identify what sort of rock this is? ○ She was able to identify her attacker. 2. to state that something belongs to you ○ Each person was asked to identify his or her baggage. 3. □ to identify with someone or something to have the same feelings as someone, or to have a feeling of sympathy for someone or something ○ I can identify with the heroine who spends her life trapped in a small rural town.

② identity /aɪ'dentɪti/ noun someone's name, personal details, etc. ○ He changed his identity when he went to work for the secret services. (NOTE: The plural is identities.)

identity card /aɪ'dentɪti kɑ:d/ noun a card which shows a photograph of the holder, with the name, date of birth and other details, carried by citizens of a country or members of a group to prove who they are. Synonym ID card ideological /aɪdɪə'lɒdʒɪk(ə)l/ adj referring to ideology

③ ideology /aɪdɪə'lɒdʒi/ noun a theory of life based not on religious belief, but on political or economic philosophy (NOTE: The plural is ideologies.)

idiocy /'ɪdɪəsɪ/ noun total stupidity (offensive)

③ idiom /'ɪdiəm/ noun 1. an expression which means something different as a whole from what the individual parts of it usually mean ○ 'It's raining cats and dogs' is an idiom meaning 'it is raining hard'. 2. a characteristic way of speaking or of writing ○ 'How now, what news?' was a common greeting in the idiom of Shakespeare's England.

idiomatic /'idiəmætɪk/ adj referring to a natural colloquial way of speaking a language idiosyncrasy /'idiəʊsɪŋkrəsɪ/ noun a particularly odd way of behaving. Synonym quirk (NOTE: The plural is idiosyncrasies.)

idiosyncratic /'idiəʊsɪŋ'krætɪk/ adj odd or peculiar; particular to one person. Synonym characteristic

③ idiot /'ɪdɪət/ noun 1. a person who behaves in a stupid way (insult) 2. a person with low intelligence (dated offensive)

idiotic /'ɪdɪɒtɪk/ adj stupid

idle /'aɪd(ə)l/ adj 1. lazy ○ He's the idlest man I know – he never does any work at all. 2. not working ○ The machines stood idle during the strike. ○ 2,000 employees were made idle by the recession. (NOTE: idler – idlest. Do not confuse with idol.) ■ verb (of a machine) to run at a low speed ○ He waited for her in the car with the engine idling.

idly /'aɪdli/ adv 1. lazily ○ He sat idly turning over the pages of the magazine. 2. without being involved ○ You can't stand idly by and watch him making a mess of his life.

idol /'aɪd(ə)l/ noun 1. the statue of a god which is worshipped ○ The tribesmen danced in front of their idols. 2. a star performer who is worshipped by fans ○ The England captain is many boys' footballing idol. 3. a favourite person ○ My cousin Jimmy was my great idol when I was small. (NOTE: Do not confuse with idle.)

idolatry /aɪ'dɒlətri/ noun the practice of worshipping idols idolise /'aɪdəlaɪz/, idolize verb to admire someone very much. Synonym worship. Antonym disdain idyll /'ɪd(ə)l/ noun a scene of peace and happiness in the country (literary) idyllic /'ɪdɪlɪk/ adj happy and pleasant in a romantic way

① if /ɪf/ conj 1. showing what might happen ○ If he's going to be late, he should send me a text to warn me. ○ If it freezes tonight, the paths will be slippery tomorrow. ○ If I'm in London, I'll come and see you. ○ If he had told me you were ill, I'd have come to see you in hospital. ○ If I won the lottery, I would take a long holiday. 2. asking questions ○ Do you know if the plane is late? ○ I was wondering if you would like to have some tea. 3. although ○ He is nice, if rather lazy. ■ noun a question which is not certain ○ He'll catch the plane if he gets up in time – and that's a very big if!

iffy /'ɪfi/ adj doubtful, not at all certain if only /ɪf 'əʊnlɪ/ interj showing regret igloo /'ɪglu:/ noun a dome-shaped shelter built out of blocks of snow igneous rock /'ɪgnjuːs 'rɒk/ noun a rock originally formed from lava

ignite /'ɪgnait/ verb 1. to light; to set fire to ○ The teacher showed us how to ignite the Bunsen burner. 2. to catch fire ○ There was a loud explosion as the gas ignited.

ignition /ɪg'nɪʃ(ə)n/ noun (in a car) the process which starts the burning of the compressed air-fuel mixture (NOTE: no plural) ignition key /ɪg'nɪʃ(ə)n ki:/ noun a key used to switch on the ignition ignominious /'ɪgnəmɪnɪəs/ adj shameful (formal). Synonym humiliating ignominy /'ɪgnəmɪnɪ/ noun disgrace (formal). Synonym humiliation ignorance /'ɪgnərəns/ noun a state of not knowing □ to keep someone in ignorance of something not to tell someone about something ○ The soldiers were deliberately kept in ignorance of the dangers facing them.

ignorant /'ɪgnərənt/ adj 1. not knowing anything 2. stupid

② ignore /ɪg'nɔ:/ verb not to notice someone or something on purpose ○ She ignored the red light and just drove straight through. ○ When we met he just ignored me. Antonym notice

iguana /ɪg'wænə/ noun a large type of plant-eating lizard

I'll /aɪl/ short form I will ① ill adj /ɪl/ sick; not well ○ Stress can make you ill. ○ If you're feeling ill you ought to see a doctor. □ to fall ill to become ill ○ She fell seriously ill and we thought she was going to die. □ to be taken ill to become ill suddenly ○ He was taken ill while on holiday in Greece. ■ adv not sufficiently or very well ○ He was ill prepared for the journey. □ ill at ease embarrassed, not comfortable ○ She seemed ill at ease when we started talking about the missing money. ○ He felt ill at ease in his new suit.

ill-advised /ɪl əd'veɪzd/ adj not sensible, or not a good idea. Synonym foolish ill-conceived /ɪl kən'sɪvəd/ adj foolish or badly planned illegal /ɪ'lɪg(ə)l/ adj against the law ○ It is illegal to serve alcohol to people under 16.

illegal immigrant /ɪl,ɪlɪg(ə)l 'ɪmɪgrənt/ noun a person who has entered a country illegally and wants to settle there illegality /ɪlɪlɪ'geɪltɪ/ noun the quality of being illegal illegally /ɪlɪlɪ'geɪli/ adv against the law illegible /ɪl'edʒɪb(ə)l/ adj (of writing) which cannot be read. Antonym legible illegitimate /ɪlɪdʒɪtɪmət/ adj 1. born to parents who are not married to each other ○

He failed in his attempt to hide his illegitimate child from the press. 2. forbidden by certain rules; against the law ○ We should all be concerned at the illegitimate use of certain prescription drugs. ○ The government is cracking down on the illegitimate ownership of firearms.

ill-equipped /ɪl ɪ'kwɪpt/ adj not having the right equipment or preparation ill-fated /ɪl 'fetɪd/ adj unlucky and bound to fail. Synonym doomed ill-fitting /ɪl 'fitɪŋ/ adj which fits badly ill-gotten gains /ɪl ɡɒtn 'geɪnz/ plural noun money made illegally or dishonestly (humorous) ○ Thinking of them sitting there with their ill-gotten gains makes me envious.

ill health /ɪl 'helθ/ noun the state of not being well illicit /ɪl'sɪsɪt/ adj against the law; not legal. Synonym illegal (NOTE: Do not confuse with elicit.)

ill-informed /ɪl ɪn'fɔ:md/ adj having a lack of knowledge in a particular area illiteracy /ɪl'ɪt(ə)rəsɪ/ noun the state of being unable to read or write illiterate /ɪl'ɪt(ə)rat/ adj not able to read or write ○ With so few schools or teachers it is hardly surprising so many children are illiterate. ■ noun a person who cannot read or write (offensive) ill-mannered /ɪl 'mænəd/ adj rude illness /'ɪlnəs/ noun a medical condition which makes you unwell ○ She developed a serious illness. ○ A lot of the staff are absent because of illness. (NOTE: The plural is illnesses.)

illogical /ɪl'ɒdʒɪk(ə)l/ adj not sensible; not reasonable illogicality /ɪl'ɒdʒɪk'kælɪti/ noun the quality of being illogical ill-treat /ɪl 'tri:t/ verb to treat animals, children, etc. badly. Synonym abuse. Antonym look after illuminate /ɪl'u:mineɪt/ verb 1. to make something bright with lights ○ The pitch was illuminated by giant floodlights. ○ The town looked magical, illuminated with strings of lights along the edge of the sea. 2. to explain something to make it clearer ○ His talk illuminated several points which I hadn't understood before. 3. to draw coloured pictures in a manuscript ○ The manuscript was illuminated with pictures from the Bible.

illuminated /ɪl'u:mineɪtɪd/ adj 1. lit up with bright lights ○ a brightly illuminated football pitch 2. with small coloured illustrations ○ The library has several illuminated manuscripts of the twelfth century.

illuminating /ɪl'u:mineɪtɪŋ/ adj interesting and educational, particularly in the case of something that explains or emphasises facts that were previously difficult to understand illumination /ɪl'u:mi'neɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. the state of being brightly lit, or the act of lighting something brightly 2. the action of giving information about something ○ I turned to the encyclopaedia for illumination. 3. a coloured illustration in a manuscript ○ The chapter illuminations are real works of art.

illusion /ɪl'u:zɪʃ(ə)n/ noun an impression which is not true □ to have no illusions about something to know the real unpleasant facts about something, rather than having fantasies about it ○ She has no illusions about her abilities. □ to be under the illusion that to think that something is true when it is not ○ He seems to be under the illusion that he is indispensable.

illusory /ɪl'u:sərɪ/ adj not real; which is an illusion. Synonym deceptive

② illustrate /ɪlə'streɪt/ verb 1. to put pictures into a book ○ The book is illustrated with colour photographs of birds. 2. to show examples of something ○ The article illustrates his views on the way the company should develop. 3. to be an example of ○ This poem illustrates the sort of style I prefer.

③ illustration /ɪlə'streɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. a picture in a book ○ The book has 25 colour illustrations. 2. an example ○ His daughter's birthday party is a good illustration of the way he likes to spend money.

illustrative /ɪlə'strætɪv, ɪlə'strætɪv/ adj which illustrates; which is an example. Synonym descriptive illustrator /ɪlə'streɪtə/ noun a person who draws the pictures for a book illustrious /ɪl'ʌstriəs/ adj very famous (formal). Synonym distinguished ill will /ɪl 'wɪl/ noun dislike and unpleasantness towards someone

I'm/aim/ short form I am

① image /'ɪmɪdʒ/ noun 1. a portrait or picture of someone or something ○ I want the portrait to be a faithful image of my mother.

2. the idea which other people have of a person or of an organisation ○ In an attempt to change his image he bought a lot of trendy clothes. ○ They are spending a lot of advertising money to improve the company's image. 3. a picture produced by a lens, mirror or computer ○ The mirror throws an image onto the paper. ○ Can this software handle images in that format? ○ Can you adjust the projector? The image on the screen is out of focus.

③ imagery /'ɪmɪdʒəri/ noun the use of comparisons or symbols in writing as a way of making people imagine things imaginable /ɪ'mædʒɪnəb(ə)l/ adj which you can imagine. Synonym conceivable. Antonym unimaginable imaginary /ɪ'mædʒɪn(ə)ri/ adj false; not real. Synonym fantasy

③ imagination /ɪ,mædʒɪ'neɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the ability to picture things in your mind. ○ She let her imagination run riot in her stories for children. □ to use your imagination to imagine what is possible ○ Try and use your imagination – think of the money we could make. □ to let your imagination get the better of or run away with you to think things are possible when they are not ○ He let his imagination get the better of him and saw himself as a future Prime Minister.

imaginative /ɪ'mædʒɪnatɪv/ adj having or showing a lot of imagination. Synonym creative

imaginatively /ɪ'mædʒɪnətɪvli/ adv in an imaginative way

② imagine /ɪ'mædʒɪn/ verb to picture something in your mind ○ Imagine yourself sitting on a beach in the hot sun. ○ She thought she had heard footsteps, and then decided she had imagined it.

imaging /'ɪmɪdʒɪŋ/ noun a technique for creating pictures using scanners attached to computers imam /ɪ'ma:m/ noun a Muslim religious leader imbalance /ɪm'bæləns/ noun a lack of balance. Synonym inequity imbecile /'ɪmbəsɪ:l/ noun 1. a person who behaves in a stupid way (insult) ○ You imbecile, you threw the envelope with the cheque in it into the rubbish! 2. a person with low intelligence (dated offensive) imbibe /ɪm'bایb/ verb to drink (formal or humorous) imbue /ɪm'bju:/ verb to fill someone with a feeling imitate /'ɪmɪteɪt/ verb to copy something or someone; to do as someone does imitation /'ɪmɪ'teɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. the act of imitating ○ She does a very good imitation of the Queen. 2. a copy made of something □ beware of imitations be careful not to buy low quality goods which are made to look like other more expensive items ■ adj copied; not genuine ○ It's not real leather, just imitation. ○ The bag is made of imitation leather. Synonym mock immaculate /ɪ'mækjʊlət/ adj 1. extremely clean or tidy ○ The car looked absolutely immaculate – there wasn't a spot of dirt on it. ○ The nurses all wore immaculate white uniforms. ○ The last house we visited was in immaculate condition, while all the others needed a lot of repairs. 2. perfect;

with no errors ○ She did an immaculate driving test.

immaculately /ɪ'mækjʊlətlɪ/ adv 1. extremely tidily ○ It suddenly started to rain, and the immaculately dressed guests had to run from the garden into the house. 2. perfectly ○ She danced her solo immaculately.

immaterial /,ɪmə'trɪərlɪ/ adj not relevant. Synonym irrelevant. Antonym relevant immature /,ɪmə'tjʊərl/ adj 1. not mature; still developing ○ Two immature swans followed their parents across the lake. 2. not sensible; not adult ○ I wish she would grow up and stop being so immature!

immeasurable /ɪ'meʒ(ə)rəb(ə)l/ adj too enormous to be measured immediacy /ɪ'mi:diəsɪ/ noun the quality of being immediately present

② immediate /ɪ'mi:diət/ adj 1. very soon ○ He wrote an immediate letter of complaint. ○ You didn't expect an immediate reply, did you? ○ Your order will receive immediate attention. 2. closest, or right next to you ○ He had to share his programme with his immediate neighbour.

① immediately /ɪ'mi:diətlɪ/ adv very soon afterwards ○ He got my letter, and wrote back immediately. ○ As soon as he heard the news he immediately phoned his wife.

immense /'ɪmens/ adj very big; enormous. Synonym huge. Antonym tiny immensely /'ɪmenslɪ/ adv very much. Synonym hugely immensity /'ɪmensɪtɪ/ noun a huge size (NOTE: no plural)

immerse /ɪ'mɜ:s/ verb 1. to plunge something in a liquid ○ To sterilise the bottle, immerse in water and boil for four minutes. ○ He lowered the box into the water until it was completely immersed. 2. □ to immerse yourself in something to concentrate on, or get fully involved in, something ○ He immersed himself in the study of Latin literature.

immersed /ɪ'mɜ:stɪ/ adj □ immersed in fully involved in ○ The whole family is immersed in politics. ○ He's immersed in his job.

immersion /ɪ'mɜ:sʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. the action of plunging something into a liquid ○ Total immersion in the acid bath will remove all traces of paint. 2. □ immersion, immersion heater a heater inside a water tank ○ If you want a bath you'll have to switch the immersion on.

immigrant /'ɪmigrənt/ noun a person who comes to a country to live. Synonym settler. Antonym emigrant immigrate /'ɪmɪgrēt/ verb to come to live in a new country. Synonym settle. Antonym emigrate immigration /'imɪ'greɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. the process of settling in a new country ○ The government is encouraging immigration because of the shortage of workers in key industries. 2. □ Immigration the section of an airport where new arrivals have to show their passports ○ He was stopped at Immigration. ○ You will need to show these documents when you go through Immigration. Compare emigration immigration controls /,imɪ'greɪʃ(ə)n kən'trəʊls/ plural noun restrictions placed by a country on the numbers of immigrants who can come into the country imminence /'iminəns/ noun the state of being about to happen imminent /'imɪnənt/ adj which is about to happen. Synonym impending immobile /'məʊbələɪl/ adj not moving; not able to move immobilise /l'məʊbɪləɪz/, immobilize verb to stop something moving. Synonym restrain immobility /'imə'biliti/ noun the state of not moving. Antonym mobility immobiliser /l'məʊbɪləɪzəl/ noun an electronic device that prevents a vehicle from being stolen by stopping the engine from working immoral /'ɪmrəl/ adj not following the usual principles of good behaviour

immortal /'ɪmɔ:t(ə)l/ adj 1. who never dies ○ Roman emperors were believed to be immortal. 2. very famous; which will always be remembered ○ that immortal line from 'Casablanca': 'play it again, Sam' ○ And now, another song from the immortal Frank Sinatra. ■ noun a famous person who will always be remembered ○ W.G. Grace, and other cricket immortals immortalise /'ɪmɔ:t(ə)laɪz/, immortalize verb to make someone or something be remembered for ever. Synonym commemorate immortality /,ɪmɔ:t'əlɪti/ noun the state of being immortal immovable /'mu:vəb(ə)l/ adj which cannot be moved immune /'ɪmju:n/ adj 1. protected against infection ○ I seem to be immune to colds – I just never have any. ○ This injection should make you immune to yellow fever. 2. legally protected against, or not liable to something ○ She believed she would be immune from prosecution. (NOTE: You are immune to a disease, and from prosecution.)

immune system /'ɪmju:n ,sɪstəm/ noun a complex network of cells which protects the body from disease immunisation /,ɪmju:nai'zeɪʃ(ə)n/, immunization noun injections, etc., to make a person immune to a disease. Synonym vaccination

immunise /'ɪmju:nائز/, immunize verb to give someone immunity to a disease (NOTE: You immunise someone against a disease.)

③ immunity /'ɪmju:nɪti/ noun 1. the ability to resist attacks of a disease because of antibodies produced in your body ○ The injection will give immunity to malaria for six months. 2. □ immunity from or against arrest protection against being arrested ○ When he offered to give information to the police, he was granted immunity from prosecution.

immutable /'ɪmju:təb(ə)l/ adj which cannot be changed, or which does not change (formal). Antonym mercurial imp /'ɪmp/ noun 1. a naughty child ○ The little imp – he's put glue on my chair! 2. a small devil ○ When you go into the cathedral, look out for the little imp carved high up near the choir.

② impact noun /'ɪmpækɪt/ 1. a forceful effect ○ The TV documentary had an strong impact on the viewers. 2. a forceful bump ○ The car was totally crushed by the impact of the collision. □ on impact as soon as it hit ○ The plane burst into flames on impact with the ground. ■ verb /'ɪmpækɪt/ □ to impact on something to have a strong effect on something ○ The fall in the value of the currency will impact strongly on the stock market.

impair /'ɪmp'eə/ verb to damage something so that it does not work properly impaired /'ɪm'peɪd/ adj damaged or not very good, either temporarily or permanently impairment /'ɪm'peɪmənt/ noun damage to or poor functioning of something, particularly a physical or mental ability impale /'ɪm'peɪl/ verb to jab a sharp object through the body. Synonym spear impart /'ɪm'pa:t/ verb to pass on information; to communicate something to someone ○ The news imparted a sense of excitement to the meeting.

impartial /'ɪm'pa:ʃ(ə)l/ adj not biased impartiality /'ɪm'pa:ʃi'əlɪti/ noun the state of being impartial. Synonym neutrality. Antonym bias impassable /'ɪm'pa:səb(ə)l/ adj which you cannot go through or across impasse /'em'pa:sl/ noun a state where two sides cannot agree impassioned /'ɪm'pæʃ(ə)nd/ adj showing very deep feelings. Synonym emotional. Antonym impassive impassive /'ɪm'pæsɪv/ adj showing no expression of feelings impassively /ɪm'pæsɪvli/ adv in an impassive way impatience /ɪm'peɪs(ə)ns/ noun a lack of patience

impatient /ɪm'peɪs(ə)nt/ adj unable to wait for something; always in a hurry to do something ○ We were all impatient for the film to start. ○ He's very impatient with anyone who works slowly.

impatiently /ɪm'peɪs(ə)ntli/ adv in a hurried way; not patiently impeccable /ɪm'pekəb(ə)l/ adj perfect. Antonym flawed impecunious /ɪm'pɪk'kjʊniəs/ adj poor; not having any money (formal). Antonym wealthy impede /ɪm'pi:d/ verb to stop someone or something going forwards. Antonym facilitate impediment /ɪm'pedɪmənt/ noun an obstacle; a situation which stops something happening ○ Is there any just impediment why these two people should not be joined together in matrimony? ○ He finds that not having a car is no impediment to his job as a salesman.

impel /ɪm'pel/ verb to force someone to do something (formal) (NOTE: impelling – impelled) impending /ɪm'pendɪŋ/ adj which will happen soon. Synonym imminent. Antonym far-off impenetrable /ɪm'penɪtrəb(ə)l/ adj which you cannot go through or into, or see through imperative /ɪm'perətɪv/ adj urgent; which has to be done ○ It is imperative that a reply be given immediately. ■ noun 1. a thing which has to be done ○ Profitability is an imperative with most companies. 2. (in grammar) the form of a verb when used as a command ○ 'Come here!' is an example of a verb used in the imperative.

imperceptible /ɪm'pɛr'septɪb(ə)l/ adj which you cannot notice. Antonym obvious imperceptibly /ɪm'pɛr'septɪbli/ adv in a way which is impossible to notice. Synonym slightly. Antonym obviously imperfect /ɪm'pɛ:fɪkt/ adj not perfect or not complete ○ It's an imperfect world we live in. ○ We only have an imperfect understanding of the origins of the universe. Synonym faulty ■ noun (in grammar) the form of a verb which shows that something was not finished in the past ○ 'He was cycling' is the imperfect past of 'to cycle'.

imperfection /ɪm'pɛfek'shən/ noun a fault or flaw imperial /ɪm'pɪəriəl/ adj referring to an empire ○ the power of imperial Rome ○ Im- perial Russia ended with the Russian Revolution.

imperialism /ɪm'pɪəriəlɪz(ə)m/ noun 1. (often as a criticism) the idea or practice of having an empire formed of colonies 2. control of other countries as if they were part of an empire ○ Multinational businesses are accused of economic imperialism. (NOTE: [all senses] no plural) imperialist /ɪm'pɪəriəlist/ adj referring to imperialism ○ They were criticised for their imperialist attitude towards neighbouring countries. ■ noun a person who builds or favours empires and imperialism ○ The nineteenth century Russian tsars were imperialists.

imperil /ɪm'perəl/ verb to put someone or something in danger (formal). Synonym endanger. Antonym protect (NOTE: impelling – impelled. The US spelling is impelling – impelled) imperious /ɪm'pɪəriəs/ adj like a commander, expecting people to obey. Synonym domineering

impersonal /ɪm'pɜ:s(ə)n(ə)l/ adj not personal; without any personal character ○ Just stick to the facts and keep the interview impersonal. ○ The waiting-room was cold and impersonal.

impersonal verb /ɪm'pɜ:s(ə)nəl vɜ:b/ noun a verb used without a subject referring to a particular person or thing impersonate /ɪm'pɜ:səneɪt/ verb to dress like someone, or to pretend to be that person impersonation /ɪm'pɜ:səneɪt(ə)n/ noun the act of impersonating someone impertinence /ɪm'pɜ:tɪnəns/ noun rudeness and lack of respect. Synonym impudence. Antonym respect impertinent /ɪm'pɜ:tɪnənt/ adj rude and lacking respect. Synonym impudent. Antonym respectful

imperturbable /ɪm'pɜ:təbəl(ə)l/ adj calm; not flustered. Synonym calm. Antonym excitable impervious /ɪm'pɜ:viəs/ adj 1. (of a person) not bothered by something ○ She seems quite impervious to the noise of children all around her. ○ Not all authors are as impervious to criticism as she is. 2. (of a substance) which does not allow liquids to go through ○ These rocks are impervious to water.

impetuous /ɪm'petʃuəs/ adj acting without thinking, or referring to an action of this type. Synonym impulsive. Antonym considered impetus /ɪmpɪtəs/ noun energy which encourages rapid progress forward impinge /im'pindʒ/ verb □ to impinge on something to affect something, usually badly (formal) impish /'impɪʃ/ adj wicked, like a naughty imp. Synonym mischiefous implacable /im'plækəb(ə)l/ adj strong; which cannot be satisfied or changed. Antonym kind implacably /im'plækəbli/ adv in an implacable way implant noun /'impla:nt/ a thing which has been fixed inside a person's body ○ She has had silicone breast implants. ■ verb /im-'plænt/ 1. to fix something inside a person's mind very deeply ○ A love of his native country was implanted in him from a very early age. 2. to fix something inside a person's body ○ Surgeons implanted a pacemaker in his chest.

implausible /im'plɔ:zib(ə)l/ adj difficult or impossible to believe

③ implement noun /'implɪmənt/ a tool or instrument ○ The plumber brought an implement for bending pipes. ■ verb /'implɪmənt/ to put something into effect ○ The changes must be implemented immediately. Synonym carry out

④ implementation /,implɪmen'teɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the act of putting something into effect

implicate /'implɪkeɪt/ verb □ to implicate someone in something to suggest that someone is connected with a crime or something morally wrong ○ The documents seemed to implicate his boss in the scandal.

② implication /,implɪ'keɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. the possible effect of an action ○ What will be the implications of the election results for public spending? 2. an involvement with a crime or something that is morally wrong ○ The newspaper revealed his implication in the affair of the stolen diamonds. 3. a suggestion that something such as a criticism is true although it has not been expressed directly ○ I resent the implication that I knew anything about the report in advance.

implicit /im'plɪsɪt/ adj 1. which is not definitely said, but is suggested ○ It was implicit in his tone of voice that he wasn't going to agree. ○ Implicit in the inspectors' report was the possibility that the restaurant might have to close permanently. 2. complete and unquestioning ○ He has implicit faith in his teacher's advice.

implicitly /im'plɪsɪtlɪ/ adv without asking questions

implied /im'plaɪd/ adj which has been suggested. Synonym indirect implode /im'plaʊd/ verb to burst inwards implore /im'plɔ:/ verb to ask someone in an emotional way to do something (formal). Synonym beg

② imply /im'plaɪ/ verb to suggest something without actually saying it ○ He implied that he knew where the papers had been hidden. ○ The lawyer implied that the witness had not in fact seen the accident take place.

impolite /,impɔ:lait/ adj rude; not polite. Synonym rude. Antonym polite

import noun /'impɔ:t/ □ import controls rules limiting goods which can be brought into a country ○ Import controls on foreign makes of car have been lifted. ■ verb /im-'pɔ:t/ to bring goods into a country ○ The company imports television sets from Japan. ○ This car was imported from France. Antonym export

① importance /im'pɔ:tns/ noun seriousness; a serious effect or influence ○ Do not attach too much importance to what he says. ○ The bank attaches great importance to the deal.

① important /im'pɔ:tənt/ adj 1. which matters very much ○ It's important to be in time for the interview. ○ I have to go to London for an important meeting. ○ He left a file containing important papers in the taxi. 2. (of a person) in a high position ○ He has an important job. ○ She's an important government official. ○ He was promoted to a more important position.

importantly /im'pɔ:təntli/ adv in an important way ○ She strutted around importantly. ■ referring to something that is important ○ He understood the facts, and, more importantly for a teacher, he was able to explain them.

importation /,impɔ:teɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. the act of importing something ○ The importation of certain wild animals is prohibited. 2. goods imported ○ Importations from Africa are subject to customs checks.

import duty /'impɔ:t ,dju:ti/ noun tax paid on goods brought into a country importer /im'pɔ:tə/ noun a person or company that imports goods. Synonym trader import licence /'impɔ:t ,laɪs(ə)ns/, import permit /'impɔ:t ,pɜ:mit/ noun an official document which allows goods to be imported imports /'impɔ:ts/ plural noun goods which are brought into a country for sale

② impose /im'pəʊz/ verb 1. to ask someone to pay a fine or tax ○ The judge imposed a fine on the shoplifter. ○ The government imposed a 10% tax increase on electrical items. 2. to put something into action ○ They have tried to impose a ban on smoking. 3. □ to impose on someone to cause someone trouble or inconvenience ○ I hope it's not imposing on you too much, but I need to have the report today.

③ imposing /im'pəʊzɪŋ/ adj grand or solemn. Synonym impressive imposition /im'pəzɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. the action of making people pay a tax or of laying down conditions ○ the imposition of a tax on tea 2. an unfair duty or punishment ○ She felt it was something of an imposition.

impossibility /im'pɒsə'biliti/ noun the quality of being impossible. Antonym possibility

② impossible /im'pɒsɪb(ə)l/ adj 1. which cannot be done ○ It's impossible to do all this work in two hours. ○ Getting skilled staff is becoming impossible. 2. (of a person or situation) awkward and difficult ○ That child is completely impossible.

impossibly /im'pɒsiblɪ/ adv to such an extent that something is impossible imposture /im'pɒstʃə/ noun the act of pretending to be someone else (formal). Synonym deception impotence /'impət(ə)ns/ noun 1. the state of being unable to do anything when faced with a problem ○ the impotence of the authorities in the face of widespread looting 2. (of a man) the physical inability to have sexual intercourse impotent /'impət(ə)nt/ adj 1. not able to do anything ○ We were impotent in the face of the typhoon. 2. (of a man) physically unable to have sexual intercourse impound /im'paʊnd/ verb to take something away and keep it until the owner claims it. Synonym confiscate impoverish /im'pɒvərɪʃ/ verb to make someone or something poor impoverished /im'pɒvərɪʃt/ adj made poor impracticable /im'præktɪkəb(ə)l/ adj (of a plan or idea) which cannot work ○ The plan was written off as completely impracticable.

impractical /im'præktyk(ə)l/ adj 1. which is not easy to put into practice ○ It is quite impractical to expect three people to move all the furniture in two hours. 2. not good at doing things with your hands ○ He's totally impractical – he can't even change a light bulb.

imprecise /im'pri:sɪs/ adj not precise; not accurate. Synonym sketchy. Antonym precise impregnable /im'pregnəb(ə)l/ adj which cannot be captured. Antonym vulnerable

impregnate /'impregnɪt/ verb 1. to soak with something, usually with a liquid ○ She wiped the floor with a cloth impregnated with insecticide. 2. (of a male animal) to make a female animal pregnant impresario /,imprə'sa:riəʊ/ noun a person who organises concerts, shows and operas (NOTE: The plural is impresarios.)

③ impress /im'pres/ verb 1. to make someone admire or respect someone or something ○ Her rapid response to the request impressed her boss. ○ She was impressed by his skill with the paintbrush. ○ The military government organised the display to impress the neighbouring states. 2. □ to impress something on someone to make someone understand something ○ I must impress on you just how urgent this is.

③ impressed /im'prest/ adj full of admiration

② impression /im'preʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. an effect on someone's mind ○ Blue walls create an impression of coldness. ○ The exhibition made a strong impression on her. 2. □ to be or labour under an impression to have a wrong impression; to assume something which is not the case ○ He was labouring under the impression that air fares were cheaper in Europe than in the USA. □ to get the impression that to sense that; to have a feeling that ○ I got the impression that she wanted us to leave.

impressionable /im'preʃ(ə)nəb(ə)l/ adj easily influenced by others. Synonym susceptible

Impressionism /im'preʃ(ə)nɪz(ə)m/ noun a French art movement, where painters tried to create an impression of how something really looked, using light and colour but without painting it in exact detail

Impressionist /im'preʃ(ə)nɪst/ adj referring to Impressionism ○ Renoir and Monet were Impressionist painters. ○ The Impressionist movement flourished in the latter half of the 19th century. ■ noun a painter in the Impressionist movement ○ The Impressionists worked mainly in Paris in the late nineteenth century.

impressionistic /im'preʃ(ə)nɪstɪk/ adj 1. giving a general rather than a detailed idea of something 2. (of art or music) in, or having elements of, the Impressionist style

③ impressive /im'prezɪv/ adj which impresses people ○ He had a series of impressive wins in the chess tournament. ○ The government staged an impressive display of military hardware.

impressively /im'prezɪvlɪ/ adv in an impressive way imprint noun /'imprint/ 1. a mark made by something pressed down 2. the name and address of the publisher or printer, which must appear on most printed matter ■ verb /im'print/ to stamp; to mark ○ The outline of a child's hand was left imprinted on the door. ○ The scene of devastation remained indelibly imprinted on her memory.

imprison /im'prɪz(ə)n/ verb to put or to keep someone in prison. Synonym confine imprisonment /ɪm'prɪz(ə)nment/ noun the act of putting or keeping someone in prison. Synonym custody □ term of imprisonment the period of time which a prisoner has to spend in prison ○ He was sentenced to the maximum term of imprisonment.

improbable /ɪm'prɒbəb(ə)l/ adj not probable, not likely. Antonym likely impromptu /ɪm'prɒmptju:/ adj done without any rehearsal or practice ○ He gave an impromptu interview on his doorstep. Synonym unprepared. Antonym prepared

■ adv without any rehearsal or practice ○ They gave her five minutes' notice to speak impromptu in front of six hundred delegates.

improper /ɪm'prɒpər/ adj 1. not according to the normal rules of society or of an organisation ○ It was a quite improper use of our company name. 2. rude or shocking ○ The old man made some very improper suggestions to the girl. 3. used in a wrong way ○ The improper use of a drug can cause serious damage to health.

improperly /ɪm'prɒpərli/ adv not done in the correct way impropriety /,ɪmprə'praiəti/ noun the quality of being socially wrong, or an act which is socially wrong

① improve /ɪm'pru:v/ verb 1. to make something better ○ We are trying to improve our image with a series of TV commercials. □ to improve on something to try to do better than something ○ She tried to improve on her previous performance. 2. to get better ○ The general manager has promised that the bus service will improve. ○ It poured down all morning, but in the afternoon the weather improved a little.

② improvement /ɪm'pru:vmənt/ noun 1. a process of making something better or becoming better ○ There has been no improvement in the train service since we complained. 2. a thing which is better ○ They carried out some improvements to the house. ○ We are planning some home improvements such as a new kitchen. ○ The new software is a great improvement on the old version.

improvisation /,ɪmprə'veɪz'zeɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the process of making something without any proper preparation

improvise /'ɪmprəvaɪz/ verb 1. to do or to make something without any proper planning ○ Without a tent, we improvised a shelter using leaves and branches. 2. to speak without having any text to read from ○ Having forgotten the notes for her speech she had to improvise as best as she could.

impudence /'ɪmpjud(ə)ns/ noun the quality of being rude or cheeky. Synonym impertinence. Antonym respect impudent /'ɪmpjud(ə)nt/ adj rude and without showing respect. Synonym bold. Antonym respectful impulse /'ɪmpəls/ noun 1. a sudden feeling or decision ○ He had a sudden impulse to take the car and drive to France. □ to do something on impulse to do something because you have just thought of it, not because it was planned 2. a shock which makes something move or work ○ Electrodes attached to his head measure brain impulses. ○ Neurons are cells in the nervous system which transmit nerve impulses.

impulse buying /'ɪmpəls ,baɪŋ/ noun the act of buying goods which you have just seen, not because you had planned to buy them impulsive /'ɪmpəlsɪv/ adj acting because of a sudden decision, without thinking. Antonym cautious impulsively /'ɪmpəlsɪvli/ adv without thinking impunity /ɪm'pjū:nɪti/ noun □ with impunity without risk of punishment ○ No one can flout the law with impunity.

impure /ɪm'pjʊər/ adj which is not pure, having another substance mixed with it impurity /ɪm'pjūərɪti/ noun a substance which is impure. Antonym purity (NOTE: The plural is impurities.)

① in /ɪn/ prep, adv 1. showing place ○ He lives in the country. ○ In Japan it snows a lot during the winter. ○ She's in the kitchen. ○ He's still in bed. ○ Don't stand outside in the pouring rain. 2. at home, in an office, at a station ○ Is the boss in? ○ He isn't in yet. ○ My husband usually gets in from work about now. ○ The train from Birmingham is due in at 6.30. 3. showing time ○ In autumn the leaves turn brown. ○ On holiday there was nothing to do in the evenings. ○ She was born in 1999. ○ He ate his meal in five minutes. ○ We went for a skiing holiday in January. 4. showing time in the future ○ I'll be back home in about two hours. ○ She should arrive in twenty minutes' time. 5. showing a proportion or ratio ○ One in ten of the children wears glasses. ■ noun □ the ins and outs of something the complicated details ○ He knows all the ins and outs of trading on the Internet. ■ adj fashionable ○ Round dark glasses are the in thing this summer. Antonym out □ to be in for something /ɪn fɔ:l/ to be about to get something ○ I think we're in for some bad weather. ○ She's in for a nasty shock. □ to be in on something 1. to know something such as a secret ○ Who else was in on the secret? 2. to be involved in planning or discussing something inability /,ɪnə'biliti/ noun being unable to do something inaccessible /,ɪnək'sesɪb(ə)l/ adj 1. impossible to reach or to get to ○ They live in a farm which is inaccessible by car. ○ The explorers were lost in an inaccessible mountain region. ○ The valley is inaccessible to motorists. 2. difficult to read or understand ○ He writes in a rather inaccessible style.

inaccuracy /ɪn'ækjʊrəsi/ noun 1. the state of not being exact ○ the inaccuracy of the data 2. a thing which is inaccurate ○ I found several inaccuracies in the report.

inaccurate /ɪn'ækjʊrət/ adj not accurate, not exact. Synonym imprecise. Antonym precise inaccurately /ɪn'ækjʊrətlɪ/ adv not accurately inaction /ɪn'ækʃən/ noun 1. a failure to do something in a situation 2. a lack of activity inactive /ɪn'æktɪv/ adj not active or not doing anything inactivity /,ɪnæk'tɪvɪtɪ/ noun a state of not being active inadequacy /ɪn'ædɪkweɪsi/ noun 1. a feeling of being inadequate ○ Being compared with his brother all the time gave him feelings of inadequacy. (NOTE: no plural in this meaning) 2. a feature of something which is not good enough or which does not work well enough ○ The report mentions inadequacies in the system used for counting votes. (NOTE: The plural is inadequacies.)

inadequate /ɪn'ædɪkweɪt/ adj 1. not enough ○ The island has inadequate supplies of water in the summer months. 2. not good enough compared with what is expected ○ Being compared to his brother made him feel quite inadequate.

inadmissible /,ɪnæd'mɪsɪb(ə)l/ adj □ inadmissible evidence evidence which is not allowed to be presented in a court inadvertent /,ɪnæd'vent(ə)nt/ adj said or done by mistake and not on purpose. Synonym unintentional. Antonym intentional inadvertently /,ɪnæd'vent(ə)ntli/ adv said or done by mistake and not on purpose inadvisable /,ɪnæd'veɪzəb(ə)l/ adj (of a plan or idea) unwise or foolish inalienable /ɪn'elɪənəb(ə)l/ adj which cannot be taken away or refused (formal) inane /'neɪn/ adj silly, senseless. Synonym silly. Antonym sensible inanimate /ɪn'ænɪmət/ adj not alive

inapplicable /ɪn'æplɪkəb(ə)l/ adj not relevant. Synonym unsuitable. Antonym appropriate inappropriate /,ɪnəp'rəʊpərɪt/ adj not suitable, not fitting the circumstances. Synonym unsuitable. Antonym fitting inarticulate /,ɪnə'tɪkjʊlət/ adj 1. not speaking clearly ○ an inarticulate exam can- dicate 2. unable to speak ○ She was so shocked, she became inarticulate.

inasmuch as /,ɪnəz'matʃ əz/ conj seeing that, owing to the fact that inaudible /ɪn'ɔ:dɪb(ə)l/ adj which cannot be heard. Antonym perceptible inaugural /ɪn'ə:gjʊrəl/ adj 1. being the first of a series 2. referring to an official beginning inaugural address /ɪnə:gjʊrəl ə'dres/ noun a speech given at an inauguration or opening ceremony

inaugurate /ɪn'ə:gjʊreɪt/ verb 1. to open officially a new building or a festival, etc. ○ The Minister was invited to inaugurate the new computer system. 2. □ to inaugurate someone something to swear in someone as the new holder of a particular post ○ Each new US president is inaugurated on January 20th.

inauguration /ɪnə:gjʊ'reɪʃn/ noun 1. an official opening ○ Invitations to the inauguration of the new computer system will be sent out next week. 2. the swearing in of a new president ○ The inauguration of the president will take place on January 20th. ○ Security was extremely tight during the inauguration.

inauspicious /,ɪnəs'pɪʃəs/ adj unlucky, not very promising. Antonym auspicious inborn /,ɪn'bɔ:n/ adj which you have since birth. Synonym innate inbox /'ɪnbɒks/ noun (computers) the folder in an email package into which mail is delivered inbred /,ɪn'bred/ adj existing from birth or since a very young age. Synonym congenital inbreeding /'ɪnbri:dɪŋ/ noun breeding between closely related persons or animals, etc.

in-built /,ɪn 'bɪlt/ adj 1. constructed as part of something ○ an in-built clock 2. part of a person's character ○ She has an in-built dislike of horses.

③ Inc abbr US incorporated ○ We're dealing with a company called John Doe, Inc.

incalculable /m'kælkjʊləb(ə)l/ adj which cannot be calculated, so large that it cannot be measured incandescent /,ɪnkæn'des(ə)nt/ adj 1. shining brightly 2. showing extreme emotion, especially anger incapable /ɪn'keɪpəb(ə)l/ adj not able to do something incapacitate /,ɪŋkə'pæsɪteɪt/ verb to make someone unable to do something. Antonym enable incapacity /,ɪnkə'pæsɪti/ noun 1. a lack of ability to do something 2. a physical or mental disability incarcerate /ɪn'kju:səreɪt/ verb to put someone in prison (formal). Synonym imprison incarnate /ɪn'kɑ:nət/ adj in the form of a human being incarnation /,ɪnka:'neɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. an appearance in human form ○ To many people, he was the incarnation of evil. 2. □ previous incarnation what you were in a previous life ○ He thinks he was a ballet dancer in a previous incarnation.

incendiary /ɪn'sendɪəri/ adj which causes fire ○ Terrorists left incendiary devices in the shopping centre. ■ noun a bomb which causes fire (formal) ○ Many thousands of incendiaries were dropped on London during the Blitz. Synonym troublemaker (NOTE: The plural is incendiaries.)

incense noun /'ɪnsəns/ powder which when burnt gives a strong smell ○ The priests burnt incense round the shrine. ■ verb /ɪn'sens/ to make someone angry ○ His speech incensed the crowd who went on the rampage in the centre of the town. Synonym enrage. Antonym calm incensed /ɪn'senst/ adj very angry. Antonym calm

③ incentive /ɪn'sentɪv/ noun a thing which encourages someone ○ The possibility of a bonus is an incentive to the sales force. Synonym inducement inception /ɪn'septʃən/ noun the start of something (formal). Synonym beginning. Antonym culmination incessant /ɪn'ses(ə)nt/ adj continuous, not stopping. Antonym sporadic incessantly /ɪn'ses(ə)ntli/ adv continuously, without stopping incest /'ɪnsest/ noun the offence of a person's having sexual intercourse with a close relative, e.g., their daughter, son, mother, or father incestuous /ɪn'sestjuəs/ adj referring to incest

② inch /ɪntʃ/ noun a measure of length (= 2.54cm) ○ a three and a half inch floppy disk ○ Snow lay six inches deep on the ground. ○ She is five foot six inches tall (5'6"). ▶ foot (NOTE: The plural is inches. With numbers inch is usually written with the symbol "": a 3½" disk, He is 5' 9"; say: 'a three and a half inch disk', 'He's five foot nine..') ■ verb incident /'ɪnsɪd(ə)nt/ noun 1. something which happens ○ Last year six hundred incidents of oil pollution were reported. 2. a usually violent action or disturbance ○ There were several incidents during the demonstration.

□ to inch forward to go forward little by little ○ The queue inched forward slowly. ○ The project is inching forward, but it's hard work getting things moving.

③ incidence /'ɪnsɪd(ə)ns/ noun □ the incidence of something how often something happens ○ They reported a high incidence of accidents relating to drunken drivers.

incidental /,ɪn'sɪd'ent(ə)l/ adj 1. happening in connection with something else, but not important ○ Breaking the Olympic record was almost incidental – winning the gold medal was the important thing. 2. □ incidental to something resulting from something by chance ○ The discovery of penicillin was incidental to research on moulds. ■ noun an unimportant expense which happens in connection with something else ○ Take some cash to cover incidentals.

② incidentally /,ɪn'sɪd'ent(ə)li/ adv by the way

incidental music /,ɪn'sɪd'ent(ə)l 'mju:zɪk/ noun background music which accompanies a film incinerate /ɪn'sɪnəreɪt/ verb to destroy something by burning. Synonym burn incinerator /ɪn'sɪnəreɪtə/ noun a furnace for burning rubbish incipient /ɪn'sɪpiənt/ adj which is beginning or starting. Antonym final incision /ɪn'sɪz(ə)n/ noun a cut in a patient's body made by a surgeon incisive /ɪn'saɪsɪv/ adj very perceptive, sharp or cutting. Synonym keen incisor /ɪn'saɪzəl/ noun a sharp front tooth used for cutting food incite /ɪn'saɪt/ verb to encourage something □ to incite someone to something to encourage or persuade someone to do something bad ○ He was accused of inciting racial hatred.

incitement /ɪn'saɪmənt/ noun a crime of encouraging, persuading, or advising someone to commit a crime. Synonym provocation. Antonym deterrent □ incitement to racial hatred the offence of encouraging people, by words or actions or writing, to attack others because of their race

③ inclination /,ɪnklɪ'nейʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. a tendency ○ After a big lunch he had a strong inclination to go to sleep. 2. a slope, or angle of a slope ○ The hill has an inclination of 1 in 15. 3. a slight movement forwards ○ She acknowledged my presence with a slight inclination of her head.

incline noun /'ɪnkleɪn/ a slope ○ A steep incline leads to the garage. ■ verb /'ɪn'kleɪn/ 1. to slope ○ The garden inclines gradually down to the river. 2. to encourage someone to do something ○ The results of the poll inclined newspaper reporters to try to forecast the result of the general election. 3. □ to be inclined to do something to be likely to do something ◦ She is inclined to try to excuse everything her son does. ◦ Our washing machine is inclined to overheat. 4. to bend or to bow ◦ He inclined his head and murmured a greeting.

③ inclined /ɪn'klaɪnd/ adj 1. sloping ◦ An inclined plane gives easy access to the warehouse. 2. likely to do something ◦ She is inclined to get very annoyed when anyone criticises her golf strokes.

④ include /ɪn'klu:d/ verb to count someone or something along with others ◦ The waiter did not include service in the bill. ◦ The total is £140, not including insurance and handling charges. ◦ There were 120 people at the wedding if you include the children.

⑤ included /ɪn'klu:dɪd/ adj taken together with something else

⑥ including /ɪn'klu:dɪŋ/ prep taking something together with something else ◦ The total comes to £25.00 including VAT. ◻ not including not counting ◦ There were thirty people at the lunch, not including the children.

⑦ inclusion /ɪn'klu:z(ə)n/ noun the act of counting someone or something in among others inclusive /ɪn'klu:sɪv/ adj 1. which counts something in with other things ◦ The bill is not inclusive of VAT. 2. (giving figures or dates) referring to a period of time or a passage of writing that includes the first and last items mentioned ◦ The conference runs from the 12th to the 16th inclusive. ◦ For the next lesson, you need to study pages 23 to 31 inclusive.

incognito /ɪn'kɒg'nɪ:təʊ/ adv, noun ◻ to travel incognito to travel using a false name or identity incoherent /ɪn'kəʊ'hiərənt/ adj not able to speak in a way which makes sense

⑧ income /'ɪnkʌm/ noun money which you receive, especially as pay for your work, or as interest on savings ◦ Their weekly income is not really enough to live on. Antonym expenditure

⑨ income tax /'ɪnkʌm tæks/ noun a tax on money earned as wages or salary incoming /'ɪn,kʌmɪŋ/ adj 1. arriving or coming in 2. recently elected or appointed ◦ The chairman welcomed the incoming committee. ◦ The incoming government has the job of trying to deal with the worsening economic situation. Antonym outgoing incoming call /'ɪn,kʌmɪŋ kɔ:l/ noun a phone call that someone receives from someone outside the building incoming mail /'ɪn,kʌmɪŋ meɪl/ noun mail which comes into an office incomings /'ɪn'kʌmɪŋz/ plural noun money which is received incomparable /ɪn'kɒmp(ə)rəb(ə)l/ adj which cannot be compared to anything else. Synonym unequalled. Antonym ordinary incompatibility /,ɪn'kɒmpætɪ'bɪlɪti/ noun the quality of being incompatible with another person or thing incompatible /,ɪn'kɒm'pætɪb(ə)l/ adj ◻ incompatible with something not able to live, work, or fit together, or with something else ◦ The two computer systems are incompatible. ◦ John and Susan are quite incompatible: I don't know how they can stay married. ◦ His behaviour is quite incompatible with his position as a manager.

incompetence /ɪn'kɒmpɪt(ə)ns/ noun a lack of competence. Synonym ineptitude incompetent /ɪn'kɒmpɪt(ə)nt/ adj 1. who cannot work well, who is not able to do something ◦ She was dismissed for being incompetent. 2. not legally able to do something ◦ He is incompetent to sign the contract because he is not a director of the company.

incomplete /,ɪn'kɒm'plɪ:t/ adj not complete, not finished incomprehensible /ɪn,kɒmprɪ'hensib(ə)l/ adj which cannot be understood. Synonym unintelligible. Antonym understandable inconceivable /,ɪn'kən'si:vəb(ə)l/ adj very unlikely, which cannot be imagined. Synonym unimaginable. Antonym imaginable inconclusive /,ɪn'kən'klu:sɪv/ adj without any definite result. Synonym indecisive incongruous /ɪn'kɒngruəs/ adj which does not fit with the rest, which seems out of place. Antonym consistent inconsequential /ɪn,kɒnsɪ'kwenʃəl/ adj not important. Synonym unimportant inconsiderate /,ɪn'kən'sɪdərət/ adj not thinking of other people. Synonym selfish. Antonym caring inconsistency /,ɪn'kən'sɪstənsi/ noun 1. a lack of consistency ◦ the inconsistency in the way the results are measured 2. something which is not consistent ◦ His evidence was full of inconsistencies. (NOTE: The plural is inconsistencies.)

inconsistent /,ɪn'kən'sɪstənt/ adj 1. ◻ inconsistent with which does not follow from or agree with something else ◦ His evidence in court was inconsistent with his earlier statement to the police. ◦ Owning a night club is inconsistent with being a priest. 2. whose behaviour changes often and is unpredictable ◦ He's inconsistent – sometimes he works hard, sometimes he doesn't. ◦ The team's form has been inconsistent of late.

inconspicuous /,ɪn'kən'spɪkjuəs/ adj not at all obvious. Synonym unobtrusive. Antonym obvious inconspicuously /,ɪnkən'spɪkjuəslɪ/ adv without being noticed incontinence /ɪn'kɔntɪnəns/ noun being unable to control the waste products from your body incontinent /ɪn'kɔntɪnənt/ adj unable to control the body's waste products incontrovertible /ɪn'kɔntrə'bɪl(ə)bɪl/ adj which is true and cannot be disproved. Synonym undeniable. Antonym questionable inconvenience /,ɪnkən'veniəns/ noun awkwardness ○ The inconvenience of the date of the business conference, on the day before Christmas Day, meant that few people turned up. □ to cause someone an inconvenience to make difficulties for someone ■ verb to bother someone ○ I don't want to inconvenience you.

inconvenient /,ɪnkən'veniənt/ adj awkward, causing difficulties. Synonym troublesome. Antonym beneficial

③ incorporate /ɪn'kɔ:pəreɪt/ verb 1. to bring something into something else to make one main whole ○ We are trying to incorporate the suggestions from the committees into the main proposal. 2. to form an official body or a registered company ○ The company was incorporated three years ago.

incorporated /ɪn'kɔ:pəreɪtɪd/ adj US showing that a company has been officially registered. Synonym combined. Antonym separate (NOTE: The British term is Ltd or Plc.) incorporation /ɪn,kɔ:pə'reɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the act of incorporating a company

incorrect /,ɪnka'rkət/ adj wrong, not correct incorrectly /,ɪnka'rektli/ adv not correctly

incorrigible /ɪn'kɔrɪdʒɪb(ə)l/ adj naughty in a way that cannot be changed

① increase noun /'ɪnkrɪs/ 1. the process of becoming larger ○ An increase in tax or a tax increase. ○ An increase in the cost of living. 2. a rise in salary ○ She went to her boss and asked for an increase. 3. □ on the increase becoming more frequent ○ Stealing from shops is on the increase. ■ verb /ɪn'kri:s/ 1. to rise, to grow, to expand ○ The price of oil has increased twice in the past year. □ to increase in price to become more expensive □ to increase in size or value to become larger or more valuable 2. to make something become bigger ○ The boss increased her salary. ○ Rail fares have been increased by 10%.

① increased /ɪn'kri:st/ adj which has become bigger ○ These increased rail fares mean that we cannot afford to travel so much.

increasing /ɪn'kri:sɪŋ/ adj which is growing

② increasingly /ɪn'kri:sɪŋli/ adv more and more ○ He found it increasingly difficult to keep up with the workload at the office. ○ His future with the company looks increasingly doubtful.

incredible /ɪn'kredɪb(ə)l/ adj 1. which you find difficult to believe ○ It is absolutely incredible that anyone as rich as he is can avoid paying tax. 2. of remarkable size, quantity, etc. ○ Over the years he has amassed an incredible fortune. ○ You should go to see 'Jaws' – it's an incredible film.

③ incredibly /ɪn'kredɪbli/ adv 1. difficult to believe ○ Incredibly, he passed his driving test first time. 2. very, extremely ○ She's incredibly tall. ○ It is incredibly difficult to find a parking space near my office in the middle of the day.

incredulity /,ɪnkrə'dju:ltɪ/ noun a lack of belief in what someone says. Synonym disbelief. Antonym belief incredulous /ɪn'kredjuləs/ adj who does not believe what someone says or what is happening increment /'ɪnkrɪmənt/ noun a regular automatic addition to salary incremental /,ɪnkrɪ'ment(ə)l/ adj gradually increasing

incriminate /ɪn'krimɪneɪt/ verb to show that a person has committed a criminal act. Antonym exonerate □ to incriminate yourself to say something which makes you seem to be guilty ○ He refused to testify in case he incriminated himself.

incubate /'ɪnkjubeɪt/ verb 1. to make eggs hatch, either because a bird sits on them or because they are heated in an incubator ○ The male penguin incubates the egg standing up for sixty days. 2. to make bacteria grow ○ In order for the experiment to be acceptable, the bacteria must be incubated in a sterile environment.

incubation period /,ɪnkjʊ'bɛrɪəs(ə)n pəriəd/ noun a period during which a virus develops in your body after infection, before the disease appears incubator /'ɪnkjubeɪtə/ noun 1. a piece of equipment for hatching eggs and raising very small birds 2. a specially controlled container in which very small babies can be kept in ideal conditions ○ She was born five weeks premature and is in an incubator.

incumbent /ɪn'kʌmbənt/ noun 1. a person who holds an official post ○ Mrs Jones is our new librarian – she is taking over from the present incumbent next month. ○ There will be no changes in the governor's staff while the present incumbent is still in office. 2. the priest in charge of a parish ○ The former priest was much older than the new incum- bent. ■ adj (formal) □ it is incumbent on you it is your responsibility ○ It is incumbent on you to seek advice before you buy a house. ○ It is incumbent on everyone to check the facts before making an accusation.

③ incur /in'kɜː/ verb 1. to get into a position where you have to pay or are in danger ○ The company has incurred considerable losses in the USA. ○ He incurred many debts during his time at college. 2. □ to incur the anger or wrath of someone to make someone very annoyed ○ She incurred the anger of the authorities by demonstrating outside the parliament building. □ to incur a risk to run a risk ○ If you put all your money into doubtful investments, you incur the risk of losing everything.

incurable /in'kjʊərəb(ə)l/ adj 1. (of a patient) who will never be cured 2. (of an illness) which cannot be cured ○ He has an incurable disease of the blood. ○ Treatment in a hospice is often better for patients with incurable illnesses. 3. who cannot change ○ He's an incurable optimist – he always thinks everything will turn out fine. ■ noun a person who will never be cured ○ a hospital for incurables incurably /in'kjʊərbli/ adv in a way which cannot be changed incursion /in'kɜːʃn(ə)n/ noun an attack on another country's territory indebted /in'detɪd/ adj owing something to someone. Antonym ungrateful indecent /in'di:s(ə)nt/ adj 1. rude, offensive ○ He was prosecuted for indecent exposure. 2. not polite ○ As soon as the speeches ended, there was an indecent rush to find something to eat.

indecision /,indi'sɪz(ə)n/ noun hesitating, not being able to decide indecisive /,indi'saɪsɪv/ adj 1. without any positive result ○ The result of the election was indecisive as no party had a majority. 2. who cannot decide anything ○ He was criticised for being indecisive.

① indeed adv /m'di:d/ 1. (for emphasis) greatly, really ○ Thank you very much indeed for inviting me to stay. ○ They have been very kind indeed to their daughter. 2. in fact ○ They are very poor – indeed they have no money at all. ■ interj a word showing indignation ○ She called me stupid. – Indeed! The cheek of it! ○ It wasn't you who scratched my car was it? – Indeed not!

indefatigable /,indi'fætɪgəb(ə)l/ adj who does not become tired indefensible /,indi'fɛnsɪb(ə)l/ adj which cannot be defended or excused indefinable /,indi'fæməb(ə)l/ adj which cannot be defined or explained. Synonym indescribable indefinite /in'def(ə)nət/ adj without a definite end ○ He has been suspended for an indefinite period, pending an inquiry.

indefinite article /in,def(ə)nət 'a:tɪk(ə)l/ noun the word 'a' or 'an' in English, or a word with a similar use in another language indefinitely /in'def(ə)nətlɪ/ adv for an indefinite period indelible /in'delɪb(ə)l/ adj which cannot be removed indelibly /in'delɪbli/ adv in a way which cannot be removed. Synonym permanently. Antonym temporarily indelicate /in'delɪkət/ adj rude and embarrassing. Synonym tactless. Antonym polite indemnify /in'demnɪfaɪ/ verb to pay someone for damage caused indemnity /in'demnɪti/ noun compensation for a loss or a wrong (NOTE: The plural is indemnities.)

indent /in'dent/ verb to start a line several spaces in from the left-hand side of the page indentation /,indən'teɪʃn(ə)n/ noun 1. a mark or hole in a surface 2. an inward cut in a straight edge 3. a space at the beginning of a line 4. the act of indenting something

② independence /,indi'pendəns/ noun

1. freedom ○ The colony achieved independence ten years ago. ○ Scotland is aiming for independence in the next few years. 2. not needing or not relying on anyone else ○ She's eighteen and is looking forward to a life of independence from her family.

Independence Day /,indi'pendəns dei/ noun July 4th, the National Day of the USA, which commemorates the country's independence

② independent /,indi'pendənt/ adj

1. free, not ruled by anyone else ○ Slovenia has been independent since 1991. 2. not owned by a group, not run by the state ○ The big chains are squeezing the independent bookshops out of the market. 3. □ of independent means with enough income to be able to live without working ○ a man of independent means 4. not needing or not relying on anyone else ○ She's eighteen and wants to be independent of her family. ■ noun 1. a candidate who does not belong to a political party ○ He stood in the general election as an independent. 2. a shop which is owned by a person and is not part of a chain ○ Supermarkets have a bad effect on the small independents.

independently /,indi'pendəntli/ adv separately

independent school /,indi'pendənt sku:l/ noun a private school, not run by the state in-depth /'ɪn'dept/ adj very serious and thorough indescribable /,ɪndɪ'skrəbəb(ə)l/ adj which cannot be described indestructible /,ɪndɪ'strʌktəb(ə)l/ adj which cannot be destroyed

ineterminate /,ɪndɪ'tɜːmɪnət/ adj 1. not exact or clear 2. not having a predictable result

③ index /'ɪndeks/ noun 1. a list, usually in alphabetical order, showing the references in a book ○ Look up the references to London in the index. (NOTE: The plural in this meaning is indexes) 2. a regular report which shows rises and falls in prices, unemployment, etc. ○ The economic indices look very promising at the moment. ■ verb to relate something such as pensions or wages to the cost-of-living index ○ The government is considering indexing pensions.

index card /'ɪndeks kɑːd/ noun a card used to make a card index

index finger /'ɪndeks ,fɪŋgə/ noun the first finger, next to the thumb index-linked /,ɪndeks 'lɪŋkt/ adj calculated according to the cost-of-living index

③ Indian /'ɪndiən/ adj 1. referring to India ○ Indian cooking is famous for its curries. 2. referring to one of the original peoples of America ○ The traditional Indian skills of hunting and tracking. □ in Indian file in line, one behind the other ○ The children walked into the assembly in Indian file. ■ noun 1. a person from India ○ Many Indians and Pakistanis emigrated to Britain in the 1960s. 2. a person from one of the peoples who lived in North, Central and South America before the arrival of Europeans (NOTE: now usually called Native Americans) 3. an ordinary worker, as opposed to a manager □ the company suffers from having too many chiefs and not enough Indians the situation in the company is that there are lots of managers, but not enough people to do the actual work

Indian elephant /,ɪndiən 'elfənt/ noun an elephant found in India and South-East Asia, slightly smaller than the African elephant, and used as a working animal in forests

Indian subcontinent /,ɪndiən ,səb'kɒntɪnənt/ noun the land area occupied by Bangladesh, India and Pakistan

Indian summer /,ɪndiən 'sʌmə/ noun a period of hot weather in autumn

① indicate /'ɪndɪkeɪt/ verb to show ○ Can you indicate the position of the enemy camp on this map? ○ The latest figures indicate a fall in the number of unemployed men.

③ indication /,ɪndɪ'keɪʃ(ə)n/ noun a sign indicative /'ɪndɪkətɪv/ adj that shows or indicates something ○ Repeated attacks on tourists are indicative of a general breakdown of law and order in the country. Synonym revealing ■ noun the form of a verb showing that the action actually took place or is taking place ○ The indicative is used chiefly to make statements of fact.

indicator /'ɪndɪkeɪtə/ noun 1. something which indicates how good or bad, hot or cold, etc. something is ○ The inflation rate is a good indicator of the strength of the economy. 2. a flashing light on a car which shows which way the driver is going to turn ○ His left indicator was flashing and then he turned right! 3. same as indicator panel indicator panel /'ɪndɪkeɪtə ,pæn(ə)l/ noun a large board which shows details of plane or train departures and arrivals indict /ɪn'daɪt/ verb to charge someone with a crime (formal). Synonym accuse. Antonym exonerate indictable /ɪn'daɪtəb(ə)l/ adj being, or causing someone to be, charged with a crime (formal) indictment /ɪn'daɪtmənt/ noun a written statement of the details of the crime with which someone is charged (formal) indifference /ɪn'dɪfr(ə)rəns/ noun a lack of interest in something indifferent /ɪn'dɪfr(ə)rənt/ adj 1. not caring, not interested ○ The world cannot remain indifferent to the problems of the starving refugees in central Africa. 2. not particularly good, not special ○ In view of the school's indifferent exam results, the governors have set up a review of teaching practices. ○ They served us a bottle of very indifferent champagne.

indigenous /ɪn'dɪdʒɪnəs/ adj born in or belonging to a place. Synonym native. Antonym immigrant indigent /'ɪndɪdʒənt/ adj very poor (formal). Antonym wealthy indigestible /,ɪndɪ'dʒestɪb(ə)l/ adj which causes pain because the stomach cannot digest it indigestion /,ɪndɪ'dʒestʃən/ noun a pain caused when your stomach has difficulty in digesting food. Synonym heartburn indignant /ɪn'dɪgnənt/ adj feeling offended or angry because of an unfair situation indignation /,ɪndɪg'nейʃ(ə)n/ noun the state or feeling of being indignant. Synonym anger. Antonym delight indignity /ɪn'dignɪti/ noun a shameful action which causes embarrassment. Synonym humiliation indigo /'ɪndɪgəʊ/ noun 1. a blue dye 2. a deep blue colour ○ My denim shirt started off indigo but has faded to light blue.

indirect /,indar'ekt/ adj not direct ○ The taxi took us to the airport by a very indirect route.

indirectly /,indri'rektli/ adv not directly indirect object /,indirekt 'ɒbdʒɪkt/ noun a person or thing to whom or which an action is done indirect speech /,indirekt 'spi:tʃ/ noun the reporting of what someone has said indirect tax /,indairekt 'tæks/ noun a tax, such as VAT or a sales tax, that is added to the price of goods and not paid directly to the government indirect taxation /,indairekt tæk'seɪʃn/ noun taxes such as VAT, which are added to the price of goods and not paid directly to the government indiscreet /,indi'skri:t/ adj very obvious, not discreet

indiscretion /,indi'skref(ə)n/ noun 1. being careless about what you do or say ○ the minister's indiscretion in talking to the journalist 2. doing something mildly immoral ○ We must forget his youthful indiscretions.

indiscriminate /,indi'skrɪmɪnət/ adj widespread, not choosing carefully indispensable /,indi'spensəb(ə)l/ adj which you cannot do without indisposed /,indi'spəuzd/ adj slightly ill indisposition /,indispə'zɪʃ(ə)n/ noun a slight illness (formal) indisputable /,indi'spu:təb(ə)l/ adj which cannot be argued about (formal). Antonym debatable indistinct /,indi'stɪŋkt/ adj vague or unclear

indistinguishable /,indi'stɪŋgwɪʃəb(ə)l/ adj □ indistinguishable from something which cannot be told apart from something ○ To some people margarine is indistinguishable from butter.

① individual /,indi'vɪdʒuəl/ noun 1. one single person ○ We cater for private individuals as well as for groups. 2. a person ○ The police would like to talk to the individual who was responsible for this. ■ adj 1. single, for a particular person ○ We treat each individual case on its merits. ○ We provide each member of the tour group with an individual itinerary. 2. enough for one person ○ I want three individual portions of ice cream, please.

individualism /,indi'vɪdʒuəlɪz(ə)m/ noun a liking for doing things in your own way, not as other people do. Synonym uniqueness. Antonym conformity individuality /,individʒu'ælti/ noun the quality which makes each person different from all others. Synonym independence. Antonym conformity individually /,indi'vɪdʒuəli/ adv separately, singly. Synonym separately indoctrinate /in'dɒktrɪneɪt/ verb to teach political or religious ideas and force someone to accept them. Synonym instruct indoctrination /in'dɒktrɪn'eɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the process of indoctrinating someone indolence /'indələns/ noun laziness indolent /'indələnt/ adj lazy. Antonym energetic indomitable /in'dɒmɪtəb(ə)l/ adj which cannot be beaten. Antonym submissive indoor /'indɔ:/ adj inside a building. Antonym outdoor

③ indoors /in'dɔ:z/ adv inside a building. Antonym outside indubitably /in'dju:bitəbli/ adv certainly, without any doubt

③ induce /in'dju:s/ verb 1. to persuade someone to do something ○ Do you think an extra 10% will induce them to sign the contract? ○ They induced him to steal the plans by offering him a large amount of money. 2. to make something, such as the birth of a child, happen ○ The baby was ten days late, so had to be induced.

inducement /in'dju:smənt/ noun a thing which helps to persuade someone to do something. Synonym stimulus

induction /in'dʌkʃən/ noun 1. the process of starting a new person in a new job ○ Induction for all trainees will take place over two weeks in May. 2. the installation of a new priest ○ His induction into the church will take place next Sunday. 3. the creation of electricity in an object by placing it near a magnet or near something which is electrically charged ○ An induction coil is made of coils of wire and changes the voltage passing through it.

indulge /in'dʌldʒ/ verb 1. □ to indulge in to enjoy yourself doing something ○ I like to indulge in a sauna once in a while. 2. to give someone little luxuries ○ She always indulges her little grandson with sweets and presents. □ to indulge yourself to give yourself a little luxury ○ I love Greek cakes, but I don't often get the chance to indulge myself.

indulgence /in'dʌldʒəns/ noun a pleasant activity, especially eating or drinking

indulgent /in'dʌldʒənt/ adj kind, too generous towards someone. Synonym permissive

① industrial /in'dʌstriəl/ adj referring to the production of goods ○ The Midlands is the main industrial region in Britain.

industrial action /in'dʌstriəl 'ækʃən/ noun a strike or protest by workers industrial dispute /in'dʌstriəl dr'spu:t/ noun an argument between management and workers industrial espionage /ɪn'dʌstriəl 'espənəs/ noun the practice of spying on another company (NOTE: no plural) industrial estate /ɪn'dʌstriəl ɪ'steɪt/ noun an area of land near a town specially for factories and warehouses industrialisation /ɪn'dʌstriələz/ noun the changing of an economy from being based on agriculture to being based on industry industrialise /ɪn'dʌstriə,laɪz/, industrialize verb to set up industries in a country where there were none before industrialised /ɪn'dʌstriə,laɪzd/, industrialized adj heavily affected by industrial development industrialist /ɪn'dʌstriəlist/ noun an owner or director of a factory. Synonym manufacturer industrially /ɪn'dʌstriəlɪ/ adv by an industrial process industrial park /ɪn'dʌstriəl pa:k/ noun an area especially for factories and businesses industrial relations /ɪn'dʌstriəl ri'leɪʃ(ə)nз/ plural noun the relations between management and workers ○ He carried out a study of industrial relations over the last 10 years. ○ We aim to promote good industrial relations.

Industrial Revolution /ɪn'dʌstriəl revɔ:l'ju:ʃ(ə)n/ noun the development of industry during the 19th century in western Europe and the United States industrial tribunal /ɪn'dʌstriəl traɪ'bju:n(ə)l/ noun a court which decides in disputes between employers and workers industrious /ɪn'dʌstriəs/ adj who works steadily and hard. Synonym diligent. Antonym indolent

① industry /'ɪndəstri/ noun production companies, or other types of commercial activity ○ Oil is a key industry. ○ The car industry has had a good year. ○ The government is helping industry to sell more products abroad. ○ The tourist industry brings in a lot of foreign currency. (NOTE: The plural is industries.)

inebriated /ɪ'nɪ:bri:tɪd/ adj drunk

inedible /ɪ'nedɪb(ə)l/ adj which you cannot eat. Synonym uneatable. Antonym edible ineffective /ɪ'mɪ'fektɪv/ adj which does not have any effect. Synonym unsuccessful. Antonym successful ineffectual /ɪ'mɪ'fektʃu:l/ adj 1. which does not have the right effect ○ Her ineffectual attempts to open the door. 2. weak, unable to show any authority ○ He's a nice man but quite ineffectual as a salesman.

inefficiency /ɪ'mɪ'fɪʃ(ə)nsi/ noun an inefficient way of working inefficient /ɪn'ɪfɪʃ(ə)nt/ adj not efficient ineligible /ɪn'elɪgɪb(ə)l/ adj who is not qualified for something or to do something ineluctable /ɪn'ɪlʌktəb(ə)l/ adj which cannot be avoided (literary). Synonym unavoidable. Antonym avoidable inept /ɪ'nept/ adj not able to do much; lacking any skill. Synonym incompetent ineptitude /ɪ'neptɪtju:d/ noun stupidity or silliness; being unable to do something. Synonym incompetence

③ inequality /ɪn'ɪkwɒlɪti/ noun the state of not being equal. Synonym disparity. Antonym parity inequity /ɪn'ekwɪti/ noun unfairness (formal) inert /ɪ'nɜ:t/ adj not able to move ○ The fallen jockey lay inert on the ground.

inertia /ɪ'nɜ:ʃə/ noun 1. a lack of wanting to move, lack of being able to do anything ○ A feeling of inertia came over the committee as the meeting continued. 2. a physical force which makes a stationary body remain still, or a moving body remain moving ○ An astronaut who pushes himself away from his spaceship will continue to drift away into space under inertia if he is not attached to a safety line. 3. a lack of energy, laziness ○ He became manager of the shop through sheer inertia on the part of everyone else.

inescapable /ɪn'skeɪpəb(ə)l/ adj which you cannot avoid. Synonym inevitable. Antonym avoidable

inevitability /ɪn'evɪtə'biliti/ noun the state of being inevitable

③ inevitable /ɪn'evɪtəb(ə)l/ adj which must happen, which cannot be avoided ○ It was inevitable that the younger children would want to leave home. Synonym unavoidable. Antonym avoidable

③ inevitably /ɪn'evɪtəbli/ adv naturally, of course inexact /ɪnɪg'zækt/ adj not exact, not correct. Synonym imprecise. Antonym precise inexcusable /ɪnɪk'skju:zəb(ə)l/ adj which cannot be excused or forgiven inexhaustible /ɪnɪg'zɔ:stib(ə)l/ adj 1. impossible to finish or use up 2. never becoming tired inexorable /ɪn'eksərəb(ə)l/ adj which cannot be stopped (formal). Synonym unstoppable inexpensive /ɪnɪk'spensɪv/ adj cheap. Antonym costly inexperience /ɪnɪk'spɪəriəns/ noun a lack of experience inexperienced /ɪnɪk'spɪəriənst/ adj who does not have much experience inexplicable /,ɪnɪk'splɪkəb(ə)l/ adj which cannot be explained. Synonym unaccountable inexplicably /,ɪnɪk'splɪkəbli/ adv in a way which cannot be explained inextricable /,ɪnɪk'strɪkəb(ə)l/ adj which is very complicated, very closely connected inextricably /,ɪnɪk'strɪkəbli/ adv in an inextricable way infallible /ɪn'fælɪb(ə)l/ adj 1. always correct, which always works ○ No one has yet invented an infallible testing system. 2. who never makes mistakes ○ The children soon realised that their teacher wasn't infallible.

infamous /'ɪnfəməs/ adj 1. famously bad ○ Tourists were warned not to go near the infamous back street moneychangers. 2. very wicked ○ She complained of infamous treatment by her bank.

infamy /'ɪnfəmɪ/ noun great wickedness infancy /'ɪnfənsɪ/ noun 1. young childhood ○ Two of her children died in infancy. 2. □ in its infancy in the very early stages of development ○ In 1910, the aircraft industry was still in its infancy.

③ infant /'ɪnfənt/ noun a very young child infantile /'ɪnfəntɪl/ adj referring to a small child; childish infantry /'ɪnfəntrɪ/ noun soldiers who fight on foot (NOTE: no plural)

infant school /'ɪnfənt sku:l/ noun a school for little children from 4 years old infatuated /ɪn'fætjuētɪd/ adj wildly in love with infatuation /ɪn'fætjuētʃ(ə)n/ noun a great passion for someone or something new infect /ɪn'fekt/ verb to pass on a disease or infection

③ infection /ɪn'fekʃən/ noun a disease which spreads from one person to another ○ Her throat infection keeps coming back. ○ He was sneezing and spreading infection to other people in the office. ○ She seems to catch every little infection there is.

③ infectious /ɪn'fekʃəs/ adj 1. (of a disease) which can be passed from one person to another ○ This strain of flu is highly infectious. ○ Chickenpox is infectious, so children who have it must be kept away from others. Compare contagious 2. which can be passed on to someone else ○ He's a great music teacher and his enthusiasm for choral music is very infectious.

③ infer /ɪn'fɜ:/ verb 1. to reach an opinion about something from facts ○ He inferred from the letter that the accused knew the murder victim. ○ Counsel inferred that the witness had not been present at the time of the accident. 2. to imply, to hint ○ The newspaper article infers that we should not sign the treaty. (NOTE: inferring – inferred)

inference /'ɪnf(ə)rəns/ noun an understanding or conclusion □ to draw an inference from to infer, to deduce that something is probably true ○ What inference can we draw from his reaction?

inferior /ɪn'fɪəriə/ adj 1. not as large as ○ The enemy's inferior numbers meant they could not attack the castle. 2. □ inferior to not as good as something or someone else ○ This camera is inferior to that one, although they are both the same price. ○ The shop was accused of selling cheap inferior goods at inflated prices. ■ noun a person of a lower rank ○ He always addressed his inferiors in a very abrupt way. Synonym junior. Antonym superior inferiority /ɪn'fɪəri'ɔrɪtɪ/ noun the state of being less important, less intelligent, not as good as something or someone else inferiority complex /ɪn'fɪəri'ɔrɪtɪ 'kɒmpleks/ noun a feeling that you are not as good as others. Synonym inadequacy infernal /ɪn'fɜ:n(ə)l/ adj 1. very annoying ○ That infernal bank manager keeps phoning me about the overdraft. ○ Can't you make them stop that infernal noise? 2. referring to hell ○ They believe that after death sinners are sent to the infernal regions.

inferno /ɪn'fɜ:nəʊ/ noun a very great fire. Synonym conflagration. Antonym heaven (NOTE: The plural is infernos.)

infertile /ɪn'fɜ:tal/ adj 1. (of living things) not able to reproduce ○ Over the last few years there has been an alarming increase in the number of infertile couples. 2. (of soil) barren, not able to produce good crops ○ Without water, the desert will remain infertile. Antonym fertile infest /ɪn'fɛst/ verb (of parasites) to be present in large numbers infestation /,ɪnfɛ'steɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the presence of large numbers of parasites or vermin infidel /'ɪnfɪd(ə)l/ noun a person who does not believe in the true religion (dated) infidelity /,ɪnfl'delɪtɪ/ noun being unfaithful infield /'ɪnfi:d/ noun the part of a cricket pitch or baseball pitch near where the players are batting. Antonym outfield infighting /'ɪnfaitɪŋ/ noun bitter arguments between members of a group. Synonym rivalry infiltrate /'ɪnfɪltreɪt/ verb to become, or to make someone become, a member of an organisation secretly, without the officials knowing. Synonym penetrate infinite /'ɪnfinɪt/ adj with no end infinitely /'ɪnfɪnɪtli/ adv very much more. Synonym markedly. Antonym slightly infinitesimal /,ɪnfɪnɪ'tesɪm(ə)l/ adj tiny, very small. Synonym tiny. Antonym huge

③ infinitive /in'finitɪv/ noun the basic form of a verb, usually shown by using 'to'

COMMENT: Some people feel that to use 'to seriously consider a proposal' is wrong, especially in writing, and that you should use 'to consider a proposal seriously' or 'seriously to consider a proposal'. In speech, avoiding a split infinitive can sound clumsy or too formal: 'I used to really enjoy it' is more usual than 'I used really to enjoy it'.

infinity /in'finitɪ/ noun a space or quantity that never ends. Synonym eternity infirm /ɪn'fɜ:m/ adj old and weak. Synonym unwell infirmary /ɪn'fɜ:məri/ noun 1. a room in a school or factory where people can go if they are ill ○ He cut his knee in the playground and was taken to the school infirmary. ○ She was sent to the infirmary to have her hand bandaged. 2. an old word for a hospital, now used in names ○ the Glasgow Royal Infirmary (NOTE: The plural is infirmaries.)

inflame /ɪn'fleɪm/ verb 1. to make more violent ○ His speech was calculated to inflame public opinion. 2. to make part of the body react by becoming red and sore ○ His eyes had become inflamed from the chlorine in the water.

inflamed /ɪn'fleɪmd/ adj red and sore inflammable /ɪn'flæməb(ə)l/ adj which can easily catch fire. Synonym flammable inflammation /ɪnfla'meɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the process or state of being sore, red and swollen as a reaction to an infection, an irritation, an injury inflammatory /ɪn'flæmət(ə)ri/ adj 1. which makes people behave violently ○ His inflammatory speeches caused riots. 2. which makes an organ or a tissue become sore, red and swollen ○ an anti-inflammatory drug ○ The ointment produced an inflammatory reaction.

inflatable /ɪn'flɪtəb(ə)l/ adj which can be inflated or blown up inflate /ɪn'flæt/ verb 1. to fill with air ○ He used a small pump to inflate the dinghy. 2. □ to inflate prices to make prices rise ○ The rise in interest rates has had the effect of inflating prices in the shops.

inflated /ɪn'fleɪtid/ adj greatly increased. Synonym exaggerated. Antonym understated

② inflation /ɪn'fleɪʃ(ə)n/ noun a state of the economy where prices and wages are rising to keep up with each other ○ The government is trying to keep inflation down below 3%. ○ We have 15% inflation or inflation is running at 15%. Antonym deflation inflationary /ɪn'fleɪʃ(ə)n(ə)ri/ adj which tends to increase inflation

inflected /ɪn'flektɪd/ adj (of words) whose endings change to indicate the plural, the gender, etc.

inflection /ɪn'fleksʃən/ noun the ending of a word which changes to indicate the plural, the gender, etc.

inflexible /ɪn'fleksɪb(ə)l/ adj 1. which cannot be bent or changed ○ The rules on this point are quite inflexible. ○ Negotiation is pointless if everyone maintains an inflexible position. 2. determined not to change your mind ○ She had a reputation for being totally inflexible in her talks with her EU counterparts.

③ inflict /ɪn'flikt/ verb □ to inflict pain or damage on someone to cause pain or damage to someone ○ Drugs can inflict serious harm on young people. ○ The bombs inflicted heavy damage on the capital.

in-flight /ɪn flait/ adj during a flight □ in-flight catering the preparation of food to be served during a flight □ in-flight entertainment a film shown during a flight

inflow /'ɪnfləʊ/ noun the action of flowing in. Synonym influx. Antonym outflow

① influence /'ɪnfluəns/ noun being able to change someone or something ○ He has had a good influence on the other staff in the department. ○ The influence of the moon on the tides. ○ He was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol. ■ verb to make someone or something change ○ She was deeply influenced by her old teacher. ○ The moon influences the tides. ○ The price of oil has influenced the price of industrial goods.

③ influential /,ɪnflu'ensʃəl/ adj 1. which causes change ○ Her speech was influential in changing the opinion of the other members of the committee. 2. powerful ○ She has influential friends who got the police to drop the charges.

③ influenza /,ɪnflu'enzə/ noun an infectious disease like a bad cold, with fever and aching muscles (NOTE: usually shortened to flu) influx /'ɪnflʌks/ noun a sudden flow into (NOTE: The plural is influxes.)

info /'ɪnfəʊ/ abbr information

in force /ɪn 'fɔ:s/ phrase 1. in large numbers ○ The police were there in force. 2. □ to be in force to be operating or working ○ The rules have been in force since 1986. □ to come into force to start to operate or work ○ The new regulations will come into force on January 1st.

② inform /ɪn'fɔ:m/ verb 1. to tell someone officially ○ Have you informed the police that your watch has been stolen? ○ I regret to inform you that your father has died. ○ We are pleased to inform you that your offer has been accepted. 2. □ to inform on or against someone to tell the authorities that someone has done something wrong ○ He met the police secretly and informed on his colleagues.

 ② informal /ɪn'fɔ:m(ə)l/ adj 1. relaxed, not formal ○ Dress casually – the party will be informal. ○ The guide gave us an informal talk on the history of the castle. 2. (of language) used when talking to friends, but not used on formal occasions informality /ɪn'fɔ:mælɪ/ noun the lack of any special ceremony. Antonym formality informally /ɪn'fɔ:məlɪ/ adv unofficially, not formally informant /ɪn'fɔ:mənt/ noun a person who informs or who gives information to someone ① information /ɪn'fɔ:meɪʃ(ə)n/ noun facts about something ○ Can you send me information about holidays in Greece? ○ She couldn't give the police any information about how the accident happened. ○ She gave me a very useful piece or bit of information. ○ For further information, please write to Department 27.

information processing /ɪn'fɔ:meɪʃ(ə)n 'prəsesɪŋ/ noun same as data processing

information retrieval /ɪn'fɔ:meɪʃ(ə)n rɪ'trɪv(ə)l/ noun the process of storing and then finding data in a computer informative /ɪn'fɔ:mætɪv/ adj which tells you a lot, which provides a lot of information. Synonym educational informed /ɪn'fɔ:md/ adj having the latest information. Synonym knowledgeable. Antonym ignorant informer /ɪn'fɔ:mər/ noun a person who gives information to the police about a crime or criminals, sometimes someone who is himself a criminal. Synonym informant infraction /ɪn'frækʃən/ noun the act of breaking the law. Synonym breach

③ infrastructure /'ɪnfrastrʌktʃəf/ noun the basic structure of roads, railways and other connections in a country infrequent /ɪn'fri:kwənt/ adj not frequent, not happening very often. Antonym frequent infrequently /ɪn'fri:kwəntli/ adv not happening very often □ not infrequently quite often ○ She not infrequently has to work on Saturdays.

infringe /ɪn'frɪndʒ/ verb to break a law or a right □ to infringe a copyright to copy a published text illegally ○ We reserve the right to prosecute people who infringe our copyrights.

infringement /ɪn'frɪndʒmənt/ noun the breaking of a law or a right

infuriate /ɪn'fju:reɪt/ verb to make someone very angry. Synonym enrage. Antonym calm infuriated /'ɪnfju:reɪtɪd/ adj furious, very annoyed. Antonym calm infuriating /ɪn'fju:reɪtɪŋ/ adj which makes you very annoyed. Synonym maddening infuse /ɪn'fju:z/ verb 1. to soak in hot water to make a drink ○ Leave the lime flowers to infuse for five minutes. 2. to pour hot water on tea, flowers, etc., to make a drink ○ Put a pinch of China tea in the cup and infuse it in hot water for four or five minutes. 3. □ to infuse something into someone or something to fill someone or something with a certain feeling (formal) ○ His speech infused the meeting with great enthusiasm.

infusion /ɪn'fju:ʒ(ə)n/ noun 1. an addition of something new which will help ○ The football club needs an infusion of capital to buy new players. ○ What we need is an infusion of original ideas. 2. a drink made by pouring boiling water onto a dry substance such as tea or flowers ○ My grandmother drinks a herbal infusion every evening before bed to help her get to sleep.

ingenious /ɪn'dʒi:nɪəs/ adj very clever (NOTE: Do not confuse with ingenuous.)

ingeniously /ɪn'dʒi:nɪəslɪ/ adv in a very ingenious way ingenuity /ɪn'dʒi:nju:ɪtɪ/ noun skill in inventing new things ingenuous /ɪn'dʒenjʊəs/ adj naive, not trying to hide anything (NOTE: Do not confuse with ingenious.)

ingest /ɪn'dʒest/ verb to take into the body as if it were food. Antonym vomit ingot /'ɪngət/ noun a bar of gold or silver. Synonym slab ingrained /ɪn'greɪnd/ adj deeply fixed. Synonym deep-seated ingratiate /ɪn'greɪʃeɪt/ verb □ to ingratiate yourself with someone to make yourself liked by someone ingratiating /ɪn'greɪʃeɪtɪŋ/ adj which will help make someone like you ingratITUDE /ɪn'grætɪtju:d/ noun not being grateful. Synonym rudeness. Antonym gratitude ingredient /ɪn'grɪ:dɪənt/ noun a material which goes to make something inhabit /ɪn'hæbɪt/ verb to live in a place inhabitable /ɪn'hæbɪtəb(ə)l/ adj which can be lived in. Synonym habitable inhabitant /ɪn'hæbɪt(ə)nt/ noun a person who lives in a place. Synonym occupant inhabited /ɪn'hæbɪtɪd/ adj lived in, especially by humans inhalation /ɪn'hə'leɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the action of breathing in inhale /ɪn'heɪl/ verb to breathe in, to draw something into your lungs when breathing. Antonym exhale inhaler /ɪn'heɪlə/ noun a small device for administering medicine which can be inhaled inherent /ɪn'hɪərənt/ adj natural, which belongs to someone or something naturally.

Synonym characteristic inherently /ɪn'hɪərəntli/ adv naturally part of something inherit /ɪn'herit/ verb 1. to receive money or property from a person who has died ○ She inherited a small fortune from her father. ○ When her grandfather died she inherited the shop. 2. to have characteristics passed on from a parent ○ I think she has inherited her father's grumpy character. 3. to take over a client or a problem from someone ○ When they bought the shop they inherited a lot of ancient equipment. ○ The new manager had inherited a lot of financial problems.

③ inheritance /ɪn'herit(ə)ns/ noun property which is received from a dead person

inheritor /ɪn'heritər/ noun a person who receives something from a person who has died (NOTE: usually called an heir)

③ inhibit /ɪn'hibit/ verb to prevent an action happening □ to have an inhibiting effect on someone or something to stop something happening ○ If the teacher keeps looking over my shoulder at what I'm doing it has an inhibiting effect on my work.

inhibited /ɪn'hibitɪd/ adj not being able to express yourself freely or to do what you want to do. Synonym self-conscious. Antonym uninhibited

③ inhibition /ɪnhi'bɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the action of some mental influence which prevents normal reactions. Antonym spontaneity

inhospitable /ɪn'hoʊ'spɪtəb(ə)l/ adj not welcoming in-house /ɪn 'haʊs/ adv, adj working inside a company's building □ in-house training training given to staff at their place of work inhuman /ɪn'hju:mən/ adj cruel, not human inhumane /ɪn'hju:'mɛn/ adj not humane; barbarous. Antonym humane inhumanity /ɪn'hju:'mænɪti/ noun the cruel treatment of people or animals. Synonym cruelty inimical /ɪ'nɪmɪk(ə)l/ adj unfriendly, which does not encourage inimitable /ɪ'nɪmɪtəb(ə)l/ adj which cannot be imitated. Synonym unique

② initial /ɪ'nɪʃ(ə)l/ adj first ○ The initial stage of the project went off smoothly. ○ My initial reaction was to say 'no'. ○ He started the business with an initial investment of £500. Antonym final ■ verb to write the first letters of your name on a document to show you have read and approved it ○ Can you initial each page of the contract to show that you have approved it? ○ Please initial the agreement at the place marked with an X. (NOTE: initialling – initialled. The US spelling is initialing – initialled.)

③ initially /ɪ'nɪʃ(ə)li/ adv at the beginning ○ Initially we didn't like the new flat, but we have got used to it now.

initials /ɪ'nɪʃ(ə)lz/ plural noun the first letters of a person's names initiate /ɪ'nɪʃeɪt/ verb 1. to start something ○ He initiated the new project last year. 2. to introduce someone into something secret, to show someone the basic information about something ○ He initiated her into the secrets of digging for gold.

initiation /ɪ,nɪʃ'i,eɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. an introduction to a new group of people ○ New members of the society have to undergo an initiation. ○ Freshmen protested at the initiation ceremony they had to go through. 2. the act of starting to put something into practice ○ The initiation of the new project has been delayed.

② initiative /ɪ'nɪʃətɪv/ noun a decision which you hope will get something moving ○ The government has proposed various initiatives to get the negotiations moving again. □ to take the initiative to decide to do something which other people are reluctant to do ○ The manager decided to take the initiative and ask for a meeting with the boss. ○ The president took the initiative in asking the rebel leader to come for talks.

inject /ɪn'dʒekt/ verb 1. to force a liquid into something under pressure ○ The nurse injected the drug using a needle and syringe. ○ He injected himself with a drug. 2. to put something new into something ○ to inject some cash into a company ○ Come on, let's try to inject some life into these rehearsals!

③ injection /ɪn'dʒekʃən/ noun 1. the act of injecting a liquid into the body ○ The doctor gave him a cholera injection. 2. a liquid which is to be injected ○ The clinic has ordered another batch of flu injections.

injunction /ɪn'dʒʌŋkʃən/ noun 1. a court order forcing someone to stop doing something or not to do something ○ He got an injunction preventing his ex-wife from selling his car. ○ The company applied for an injunction to stop their rivals marketing a product which was similar to theirs. 2. an instruction, order ○ The children were given strict injunctions not to open the door. ○ Most people ignored the government's injunction to spend less and save more.

injure /'ɪndʒə/ verb to hurt ○ He injured his spine playing rugby. ○ Two people were injured in the bank hold-up. ○ When the goal-keeper was injured they sent on a substitute. ○ He was badly injured in a motorway accident. Synonym damage. Antonym heal

③ injured /'ɪndʒəd/ noun □ the injured people who have been hurt ○ The badly injured were taken to hospital by helicopter.

injurious /ɪn'dʒʊərɪəs/ adj which can harm. Synonym harmful. Antonym beneficial

② injury /'ɪndʒəri/ noun 1. a place where your body has been hurt ○ He never really recovered from his football injury. ○ She received severe back injuries in the accident. 2. a hurt to your feelings ○ Not getting first prize was a severe injury to his pride. (NOTE: The plural is injuries.)

injustice /ɪn'dʒʌstɪs/ noun a lack of justice. Antonym justice

ink /ɪŋk/ noun a liquid for writing with a pen ○ He has ink marks on his shirt. ○ The ink won't come off the tablecloth. ○ She wrote comments on his work in red ink. ■ verb □ to ink in to write or draw using ink on top of something which was written or drawn in pencil ink-jet printer /'ɪnk dʒet ,prɪntə/ noun a computer printer that prints characters by sending out little jets of ink inkling /'ɪŋklɪŋ/ noun a small idea

inland /'ɪnlənd/ adv to the interior of a country ○ If you go inland from the port, you soon get into the forest. ■ adj in the interior of a country ○ They spent a holiday on the inland waterways of Holland. Antonym coastal

-in-law /ɪn 'lɔ:/ suffix showing a relationship by marriage in-laws /ɪn lɔ:z/ plural noun the parents of your wife or husband ○ He visited his in-laws while his wife was in hospital.

inlet /'ɪnleti/ noun a small branch of water off a large stretch of water ○ The smugglers could have used any one of the numerous inlets along this stretch of coastline.

in-line skating /,ɪn laɪn 'skeɪtɪŋ/ noun same as rollerblading

inmate /'ɪnmɪt/ noun a person living in a home or in a prison. Synonym prisoner in memoriam /ɪn 'mɪ'mɔ:riəm/ phrase phrase meaning 'in memory of' written on a gravestone to show who is buried inmost /'ɪnməʊst/ adj deepest, most private inn /ɪn/ noun a small hotel

innards /'ɪnədz/ plural noun 1. the stomach and intestines 2. the inside of a machine ○ He spent the whole morning fiddling around with the innards of his car.

innate /'ɪneɪt/ adj which is present in someone from birth

② inner /'ɪnə/ adj inside ○ Go through that archway and you will come to the inner courtyard. ○ Heat is conducted from the inner to the outer layer of the material.

inner circle /,ɪnə 'sɜ:k(ə)l/ noun a small group of people closely associated with an important person such as a president

③ inner city /,ɪnə 'sɪti/ noun the central part of a city. Synonym city centre

inner ear /,ɪnər 'ɪə/ noun a space inside the head, beyond the middle ear, which controls balance and hearing innermost /'ɪnməʊst/ adj 1. furthest inside ○ A long dark corridor led to the innermost part of the bank vault. 2. deepest, most private ○ His poems reveal his innermost feelings.

inner tube /'ɪnə tju:b/ noun a thin rubber tube containing air inside a tyre innings /'ɪnɪŋz/ noun (in cricket) the time when a team or a player is batting (NOTE: The plural is innings. In US English, in baseball, the singular inning is used.) ◇ he's had a good innings 1. he's been in his job a long time 2. he has lived a long time innocence /'ɪnəs(ə)ns/ noun 1. not being guilty ○ The lawyers tried to prove his innocence. 2. not having any experience or particular knowledge ○ In my innocence, I believed them when they said they were police officers.

innocent /'ɪnəs(ə)nt/ adj 1. not guilty ○ He was found to be innocent of the crime. ○ In English law, the accused is always presumed to be innocent until he is proved to be guilty. 2. not having any experience or knowledge ○ She's quite innocent when dealing with TV reporters. ■ noun a person who has no experience or knowledge ○ He's a total innocent when it comes to dealing with car salesmen.

innocently /'ɪnəs(ə)ntli/ adv in a way which shows that you do not know something, or have any experience or knowledge innocuous /'ɪnəkju:s/ adj harmless. Synonym inoffensive. Antonym offensive innovate /'ɪnəʊveɪt/ verb to introduce changes or new methods

③ innovation /,ɪnə'veɪʃ(ə)n/ noun a new invention, a new way of doing something innovative /'ɪnəvətɪv/ adj which is a new way of doing something. Antonym outdated innovator /'ɪnəveɪtə/ noun a person who brings in new ideas or new methods innuendo /,ɪnju'endəʊ/ noun a remark that suggests someone has done something wrong, but without giving direct details. Synonym insinuation (NOTE: The plural is innuendoes.)

innumerable /'ɪnju:m(ə)rəb(ə)l/ adj very many, which cannot be counted. Synonym countless inoculate /'ɪnəkjuleɪt/ verb □ to inoculate someone against a disease to stop someone catching a disease by injecting him or her with a vaccine ○ The baby was inoculated against diphtheria.

inoculation /ɪ,nɒkjʊ'lɛf(ə)n/ noun □ inoculation against a disease an injection to stop you catching a disease ○ Has the baby had a diphtheria inoculation? ○ Make sure you have the right inoculations before you go to the Far East.

inoffensive /ɪ,nə'fɛnsɪv/ adj harmless.

Synonym innocuous. Antonym offensive inopportune /ɪn'ɒpətju:n/ adj at the wrong time, at an awkward moment. Antonym opportune inordinate /ɪn'ɔ:dɪnət/ adj more than is usual. Synonym excessive. Antonym moderate inordinately /ɪ'nɔ:dɪnətli/ adv much too much in-patient /'ɪn_peɪs(ə)nt/ noun a person who stays in hospital for treatment. Antonym outpatient

③ input /'ɪnpʊt/ noun 1. an electric current which goes into a piece of equipment ○ Plug the input cable into the computer. 2. data fed into a computer ○ The input from the various branches is fed automatically into the head office computer. 3. a contribution to a discussion ○ Thank you very much for your input during the seminar. ■ verb to put data into a computer ○ Have you inputted or input the addresses into the database? Synonym enter (NOTE: inputting – inputted or input) inquest /'ɪnkwɛst/ noun a legal inquiry into how someone died. Synonym investigation

③ inquire /ɪn'kwaɪər/ verb 1. to ask questions about something ○ The chef inquired if anything was wrong with the meal. ○ She phoned the travel agent to inquire about air fares to Australia. ○ She inquired about my mother's health. □ 'inquire within' ask for more details inside the office or shop 2. to investigate, to try to find out about something ○ The police are inquiring into his background. ○ The social services are inquiring about the missing girl. (NOTE: also spelt enquire) inquiring /ɪn'kwaɪərɪŋ/ adj interested in finding out information

③ inquiry /ɪn'kwaɪəri/ noun 1. a formal investigation into a problem ○ A government inquiry into bribery in the police force. ○ A public inquiry will be held about plans to build another airport. 2. a question about something ○ I refer to your inquiry of May 25th. ○ All inquiries should be addressed to this department. ○ He made an inquiry about trains to Edinburgh. (NOTE: also spelt enquiry. The plural is inquiries.)

inquisition /ɪn'kwi'zɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. asking very thorough questions, usually using threats or force ○ They were put through an inquisition by the detectives. 2. a Roman Catholic organisation in the 15th to 17th centuries that punished people whose beliefs were different from those that were expected inquisitive /ɪn'kwɪzɪtɪv/ adj asking a lot of questions inquisitively /ɪn'kwɪzɪtɪvlɪ/ adv inquiringly

inquisitiveness /ɪn'kwɪzɪtɪvnəs/ noun being inquisitive inroads /'ɪnrəʊdз/ noun □ to make inroads into something to use up or deal with a large part of something ○ Defending the court case has made considerable inroads into our funds. ○ I've finished painting the kitchen and I hope to start making inroads into the bathroom tomorrow. ○ She finished writing Chapter 3 last week and is making good inroads into Chapter 4.

insane /ɪn'seɪn/ adj with a mental disorder insanitary /ɪn'sænɪtɪ(ə)rɪ/ adj not clean. Antonym hygienic insanity /ɪn'sænɪtɪ/ noun a severe mental disorder or illness. Synonym foolishness. Antonym common sense insatiable /ɪn'seɪʃəb(ə)l/ adj which cannot be satisfied

inscribe /ɪn'skraɪb/ verb 1. to write, especially to write a note inside a book when giving it to someone ○ The book is inscribed 'with best wishes to John, from the author'. 2. to write permanently, as on stone ○ The names of the dead soldiers are inscribed on the walls of the cemetery.

inscription /ɪn'sk्रɪpʃən/ noun 1. words cut on a surface such as stone ○ The tomb has an inscription in Latin. 2. a note written in a book which is given to someone ○ The inscription in the front of the book is by the author who gave it to his mother.

inscrutable /ɪn'skru:təb(ə)l/ adj mysterious, which you cannot understand. Synonym enigmatic insect /'ɪnsekt/ noun a small animal with six legs and a body in three parts ○ A butterfly is a kind of insect. ○ Insects have eaten the leaves of the cabbages. ○ She was stung by an insect.

insect bite /'ɪnsekt baɪt/ noun a sting caused by an insect which goes through the skin and irritates insecticide /ɪn'sektɪsaɪd/ noun a liquid or powder which kills insects insect repellent /'ɪnsekt rɪ'pelənt/ noun a chemical which keeps insects away insecure /,ɪn'si:kjuə/ adj 1. not safe ○ She felt insecure when walking down the High Street alone at night. 2. not firmly fixed ○ Be careful! that scaffolding looks insecure.

insecurity /,ɪn'si:kjʊrɪtɪ/ noun a feeling of not being safe insemination /ɪn'semɪ'nейʃ(ə)n/ noun the process of making a woman or female animal pregnant insensible /ɪn'sensɪb(ə)l/ adj 1. not conscious 2. with no feeling insensitive /ɪn'sensɪtɪv/ adj not worrying how other people feel, not sensitive to other people's feelings inseparable /ɪn'sep(ə)rəb(ə)l/ adj 1. which cannot be separated ○ In my experience, discos are inseparable from noise and drugs. 2. (of people) always together ○ The twins are absolutely inseparable, they do everything together.

insert verb /ɪn'sɜ:t/ to put something inside ○ She inserted another sentence into the letter. ○ He inserted each leaflet into an envelope. ○ Insert a coin into the slot. ■ noun /'ɪnsɜ:t/ a paper which is put inside something ○ The wedding invitation card had an insert with a map showing how to get to the church.

insertion /ɪn'sɜ:ʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. the action of putting something in ○ The insertion of the words 'not likely' changes the meaning of the phrase completely. 2. words added to a text ○ The editors have made so many insertions that the book is a lot longer. 3. the action of putting an advertisement into a magazine or newspaper ○ The ad is charged at £50 per insertion.

inset /'ɪnset/ noun a small piece which is put into something larger, such as a small picture inside a larger one ■ adj with something fixed into it

inshore /ɪn'ʃɔ:/ adj, adv on the water, but near the coast

① inside /ɪn'saɪd/ adv indoors (informal) ○ Come on inside – it's cold in the street. ○ It rained all afternoon, so we just sat inside and watched TV. ○ Is there anyone there? – The house seems quite dark inside. Antonym outside

■ prep 1. in ○ There was nothing inside the bottle. ○ She was sitting inside the car, reading a book. ○ I've never been inside his office. 2. within ■ noun two hours in less than two hours ■ noun a part which is in something ○ I know their office from the outside, but what is the inside like? ○ The meat isn't cooked – the inside is still quite red. Synonym interior. Antonym outside ■ adj 1. which is inside something ○ He put his wallet into his inside pocket. 2. which is indoors ○ The office has an inside garage.

inside lane /,ɪn'saɪd 'leɪn/ noun a track nearest the side of the road, used by slow-moving vehicles, or by vehicles planning to turn off the road inside leg /'ɪn'saɪd leg/ noun the measurement of an inside trouser leg seam inside out /,ɪn'saɪd 'aʊt/ adv 1. turned with the inner part facing outwards ○ He put his pyjamas on inside out. 2. □ to know something inside out to know something very well ○ She knows Central London inside out.

insider /ɪn'saɪdə/ noun a person who works in an organisation and therefore knows secret information insider dealing /ɪn'saɪdə 'di:lɪŋ/ noun the illegal buying or selling of shares by people who have inside information about a company

③ insides /ɪn'saɪdz/ plural noun the interior of something, especially your stomach insidious /ɪn'sɪdɪəs/ adj working secretly to do harm. Synonym sinister. Antonym harmless insight /'ɪnsaɪt/ noun clear ideas or knowledge insignia /ɪn'sɪgnɪə/ plural noun badges, chains or other decorations which symbolise the special position someone holds ○ He wore the insignia of a chief magistrate.

insignificance /,ɪnsɪg'nɪfɪkəns/ noun being insignificant insignificant /,ɪnsɪg'nɪfɪkənt/ adj very small and unimportant. Antonym significant insincere /,ɪnsɪn'sɪə/ adj not sincere. Synonym dishonest. Antonym sincere insincerity /,ɪnsɪn'serɪtɪ/ noun a lack of honesty. Synonym dishonesty. Antonym sincerity

insinuate /ɪn'sɪnju:eɪt/ verb 1. to suggest by hinting at something in an unpleasant way ○ The finance director seemed to be insinuating that the boss was incompetent. 2. □ to insinuate yourself to work your way gradually into a favourable position ○ He managed to insinuate himself into the MD's good books.

insinuation /ɪn'sɪnju'eɪʃ(ə)n/ noun an indirect and unpleasant comment (NOTE: usually used in the plural)

insipid /ɪn'sɪpɪd/ adj 1. with no particular taste ○ They served us some insipid tomato soup. 2. with no excitement ○ Her fiancé is a very insipid young man. ○ The film is beautifully shot, but it's a pity the story is so insipid.

② insist /ɪn'sɪst/ verb to state firmly ○ He insisted that he had never touched the car. ○ She insisted that she should be paid compensation for the delay. □ to insist on something to state firmly that something must be done or given ○ She insisted on (being given) a refund. ○ I insist on an immediate explanation.

insistence /ɪn'sɪstəns/ noun firm demands for something. Synonym persistence insistent /ɪn'sɪstənt/ adj stating or demanding something firmly insistently /ɪn'sɪstəntli/ adv in a firm or demanding way

③ in so far as /ɪn 'səʊ 'fa: 'æz/, insofar as con/ to the extent that insolence /'ɪnsələns/ noun rudeness and lack of respect. Synonym impudence. Antonym respect insolent /'ɪnsələnt/ adj rude and lacking in respect. Synonym impudent. Antonym respectful insoluble /ɪn'sɒlju:b(ə)l/ adj 1. (of a substance) which will not dissolve in water 2. (of a problem) which cannot be solved insolvency /ɪn'sɒlvənsi/ noun not able to pay debts. Synonym bankruptcy. Antonym solvency insolvent /ɪn'sɒlvənt/ adj (especially of a business) not able to pay debts. Antonym solvent the company was declared insolvent the company was officially stated to be unable to pay its debts

COMMENT: 'Insolvency' and 'insolvent' are usually applied to companies and 'bankruptcy' and 'bankrupt' are applied to people. A company is insolvent when its debts are higher than its assets; if this happens it should stop trading insomnia /ɪn'sɒmniə/ noun the condition of not being able to sleep. Synonym sleeplessness (NOTE: no plural) insomniac /ɪn'sɒmniæk/ noun a person who suffers from insomnia

③ inspect /ɪn'spekt/ verb to look at something closely. Antonym ignore

③ inspection /ɪn'spe:kʃn/ noun the process of examining something closely ○ They carried out an inspection of the drains.

③ inspector /ɪn'spektə/ noun a senior official who examines something closely. Synonym examiner

inspectorate /ɪn'spekt(ə)rət/ noun all inspectors □ to join the factory inspectorate to become one of the inspectors of factories inspiration /,ɪnspɪ'reɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. a sudden urge to create something ○ Her inspiration comes from the countryside of her native Cornwall. 2. a sudden good idea ○ We had run out of sugar and all the shops were closed, but she had an inspiration and tried the railway station snack bar.

inspirational /,ɪnspɪ'reɪʃ(ə)nəl/ adj which inspires. Antonym boring

③ inspire /ɪn'spaɪə/ verb to make someone feel a wish to do something. Synonym stimulate inspired /ɪn'spaɪəd/ adj filled with a desire to do something inspiring /ɪn'spaɪərɪŋ/ adj who or which inspires. Synonym inspirational instability /ɪnstə'biliti/ noun the condition of not being steady. Antonym stability (NOTE: The adjective is unstable.)

③ install /ɪn'stɔ:l/ verb to put a person into a job, a machine into a workshop, etc. ○ It took the plumber a week to install the new central heating system.

③ installation /,ɪnstə'leɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. putting a machine in place ○ The installation of the central heating took six days. 2. a group of machines which have been put in place ○ The harbour installations are very modern. ○ The fire seriously damaged the oil installations.

installment plan /ɪn'stɔ:lment plæn/ noun US the system of buying something by paying money regularly each month until the whole price has been paid (NOTE: The British term is hire purchase.)

③ instalment /ɪn'stɔ:lment/ noun 1. a payment of part of a total amount of money, which is made regularly ○ They are paying for the kitchen by monthly instalments. ○ You pay £25 down and twelve monthly instalments of £20. 2. a part of something which is being broadcast or delivered in parts ○ The next instalment of the thriller will be shown on Monday evening. (NOTE: [all senses] The US spelling is installment.)

② instance /'ɪnstəns/ noun an example ○ There have been several instances of bullying in our local school. ○ In this instance, we will pay for the damage. □ for instance as an example ○ Why don't you take up a new sport – golf, for instance?

② instant /'ɪnstant/ noun a moment or second ○ For an instant, he stood still and watched the policemen. ■ adj immediate ○ A savings account can give you instant access to your money.

instantaneous /,ɪnstən'teɪnɪəs/ adj immediate. Synonym prompt. Antonym gradual instantaneously /,ɪnstən'teɪnɪəsli/ adv immediately instant coffee /,ɪnstənt 'kɒfi/ noun coffee powder to which you add hot water to make a fast cup of coffee instantly /'ɪnstantli/ adv immediately, at once. Synonym promptly. Antonym gradually instant messaging /,ɪnstənt 'mesɪdʒɪŋ/ noun a system for communicating directly by electronic means such as e-mail

instead /ɪn'steɪd/, instead of adv in place of ○ Since he's ill, I'm going instead of him. ○ Instead of stopping when the policeman shouted, he ran away. ○ Why don't you help me with the housework, instead of sitting and watching TV all day? ○ We haven't any coffee – would you like some tea instead? ○ If you can't go, can I go instead?

instep /'ɪnstep/ noun the arched middle part of your foot (NOTE: Do not confuse with in step.) instigate /'instɪgeɪt/ verb to make something happen. Synonym bring about instigation /,instɪ'geɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. the process of making something happen ○ We await the instigation of criminal proceedings against those responsible for the violence. 2. □ at someone's instigation when someone suggests it ○ At the instigation of the store manager, the opening times were changed.

instigator /'instɪgeɪtə/ noun a person who stirs up trouble or who makes something happen instil /in'stɪl/ verb to put an idea into someone's mind gradually (NOTE: instilling – instilled. The US spelling is instill.)

instinct /'instɪŋkt/ noun something which you have from birth and have not learnt ○ Many animals have a hunting instinct. □ by instinct from a feeling which you have inside you ○ She seems to know by instinct if we have bought any chocolates. ○ He seemed to feel by instinct that the plane was dangerous.

instinctive /in'stɪŋktɪv/ adj (of a reaction) natural instinctively /in'stɪŋktɪvli/ adv because of something which you feel inside you. Synonym impulsively

② institute /'ɪnstrɪtju:t/ noun an organisation set up for a special purpose ○ They are proposing to set up a new institute of education. ○ She goes to the research institute's library every week. ■ verb to set up or to start ○ to institute a lawsuit against someone.

① institution /,ɪnstrɪ'tju:ʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. an organisation, society set up for a special purpose ○ A prison is an institution which houses criminals. 2. a permanent custom ○ The lottery has rapidly become a national institution. ○ British institutions such as cream teas and the royal family. 3. the process of setting something up ○ The institution of legal proceedings against the president.

institutional /,ɪnstrɪ'tju:f(ə)n(ə)l/ adj referring to institutions. Synonym utilitarian.

Antonym unique

institutionalise /,ɪnstrɪ'tju:f(ə)nəlaɪz/, institutionalize verb 1. to make something into an institution ○ The 1970s rock group have been around for so long that they have become institutionalised. 2. to put a person into an institution ○ She was declared insane and institutionalised.

③ instruct /in'strʌkt/ verb 1. □ to instruct someone to do something to tell someone officially to do something ○ The inspectors instructed the restaurant to replace its kitchen equipment. ○ The firemen instructed us to leave the building. 2. to show someone how to do something ○ The stewardess will instruct you in ways of evacuating the aircraft if a fire breaks out. 3. □ to instruct a solicitor to give information to a lawyer and to ask him to start working for you □ to instruct a barrister (of a solicitor) to give a barrister all the details of a case which he will need in court instruction /in'strʌkʃən/ noun 1. the process of teaching, or the facts and skills taught 2. the profession of teaching 3. an order or a command instructional /in'strʌkʃənl/ adj which teaches (formal) instruction manual /in'strʌkʃən,maenjuəl/ noun a book which tells you how something should be used instructive /in'strʌktɪv/ adj which gives a lot of information. Synonym informative instructor /in'strʌktə/ noun a teacher, especially of a sport. Synonym teacher ② instrument /'instrʊmənt/ noun a piece of equipment ○ The technical staff have instruments which measure the output of electricity.

instrumental /,instrʊ'ment(ə)l/ adj 1. □ instrumental in doing something responsible, playing an important part in getting something done ○ The mayor was instrumental in getting our building proposals passed by the planning committee. 2. referring to a musical instrument ○ I prefer instrumental music to choral music.

instrumentalist /,instrʊ'ment(ə)list/ noun a person who plays a musical instrument. Compare vocalist. Synonym musician instrumentation /,instrumen'teɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. the process of arranging a piece of music for several instruments ○ Tim wrote the lyrics and Andrew was responsible for the instrumentation. 2. technical equipment ○ We were impressed by the advanced instrumentation of the new fighter.

instrument panel /'instrʊmənt,paen(ə)l/ noun a flat part of a car in front of the driver, with dials which show speed, etc.

insubordinate /,ɪnsə'bɔ:dɪnət/ adj not obeying orders. Synonym disobedient. Antonym obedient insubordination /,ɪnsə'bɔ:di'neʃ(ə)n/ noun the act of not obeying orders. Synonym disobedience. Antonym obedience insubstantial /,ɪnsə'bɔ:tənsəl/ adj 1. not very solid or strong 2. not seeming real insufferable /in'sʌf(ə)rəb(ə)l/ adj which you cannot bear. Synonym excruciating insufficient /,ɪnsʌ'fɪʃ(ə)nt/ adj not enough. Synonym inadequate. Antonym surplus insufficiently /,ɪnsʌ'fɪʃ(ə)ntli/ adv not enough insular /'insjʊlə/ adj 1. thinking only of your own local interests ○ Opponents of the UK joining the euro were accused of being insular 2. referring to an island ○ The insular flora and fauna of the Galapagos are unique.

insularity /'insjʊ'lærɪti/ noun a lack of interest in anything other than your own local interests insulate /'insjuleɪt/ verb to prevent heat or cold or sound escaping or entering insulation /'insjʊ'lɪsʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. the process of preventing heat or cold or sound escaping or entering ○ Good insulation saves energy. 2. materials used to insulate something ○ The previous owners had used straw in the roof for insulation.

insulator /'insjoleɪtə/ noun 1. a material which insulates something ○ Rubber is a good insulator. 2. a device which insulates something ○ The high voltage electric cables must have good insulators.

insulin /'insjʊlin/ noun a hormone which controls the way in which the body converts sugar into energy and controls the level of sugar in the blood insult noun /'ɪnsəlt/ a rude word said to or about a person ○ That is an insult to the government. ○ The crowd shouted insults at the police. Synonym affront. Antonym compliment □ an insult to someone's intelligence something which is so obvious or easy that anyone could understand it ○ That TV quiz is an insult to the intelligence of the viewers. ■ verb /in'səlt/ to say rude things about someone ○ He was accused of insulting the president's wife. Antonym praise

③ insulting /in'saltɪŋ/ adj rude. Synonym abusive. Antonym polite

insultingly /in'saltɪŋli/ adv in an insulting way insuperable /in'su:p(ə)rəb(ə)l/ adj which cannot be solved or dealt with successfully. Synonym insurmountable. Antonym easy

② insurance /in'ʃʊərəns/ noun an agreement with a company by which you are paid compensation for loss or damage in return for regular payments of money ○ Do you have insurance for your travel? Synonym cover □ to take out an insurance against fire to pay money, so that if a fire happens, you will get some money insure /in'ʃʊər/ verb to agree with a company that if you pay them a regular amount of money, they will pay you for loss or damage to property or persons. Synonym protect (NOTE: Do not confuse with ensure.)

insurer /in'ʃʊərə/ noun a person or company which insures insurgency /in'sɜ:dʒənsi/ noun a situation where many groups fight to try to bring down a government over a long period of time. Synonym uprising insurgent /in'sɜ:dʒənt/ adj fighting to bring down a government by force ○ The insurgent army is within ten kilometres of the capital. Synonym mutinous ■ noun a person who fights to bring down a government by force ○ The army tried to capture the leader of the insurgents. Synonym rebel insurmountable /,ɪnsə'maʊntəb(ə)l/ adj which cannot be solved or dealt with successfully. Synonym unbeatable. Antonym easy insurrection /,ɪnsə'rekʃən/ noun a rebellion against a government. Synonym uprising intact /ɪn'tækt/ adj in one piece, not broken. Synonym complete intake /'ɪntɪk/ noun 1. a thing or things which are taken in ○ She is trying to reduce her calorie intake or her intake of calories. 2. a group of new students, soldiers, etc. ○ We are increasing our intake of mature students again this year. ○ This year's intake of recruits has more potential officers than usual.

intangible /ɪn'tændʒɪb(ə)l/ adj which cannot be defined integer /'ɪntɪdʒər/ noun a whole number, not a fraction integral /'ɪntɪgrəl/ adj which forms part of something integrate /'ɪntɪgret/ verb to link up to form a whole integrated circuit /,ɪntɪgretɪtɪd 'sɜ:kit/ noun an electronic circuit on a microchip

③ integration /,ɪntɪ'greɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the act of integrating integrity /ɪn'tegriti/ noun 1. honesty, moral principles ○ His integrity is in doubt since the report on the company loan scandal. 2. an existence as a single thing or group ○ We must try to maintain the integrity of the association by avoiding a split among the members.

intellect /'ɪntɪlekt/ noun 1. the power of the brain to think or reason ○ You could see at once that she was a person of superior intellect. 2. a very intelligent person ○ Erasmus was one of the great intellects of the sixteenth century.

④ intellectual /,ɪntɪ'lektʃuəl/ adj 1. referring to the way you use your brain ○ The Times' crossword requires considerable intellectual effort. ○ She has great intellectual capacity. 2. (of a person) who is good at using their brain ○ She is more intellectual than her husband. ■ noun 1. a person who believes that the brain is very important 2. a person who uses his or her brain to make a living ○ Left-wing intellectuals have criticised the Prime Minister. Synonym philosopher intellectual property /intɪ,lɛktʃuəl 'prɒpəti/ noun original creative work or ideas which can be protected by law

③ intelligence /ɪn'telɪdʒəns/ noun 1. the ability to think and understand ○ His intelligence is well above average. 2. information provided by the secret services ○ Intelligence gathered by our network of agents is very useful to us in planning future strategy.

intelligence quotient /ɪn'telɪdʒənt/ noun a number believed to show how intelligent a person is compared to others. Abbr IQ ③ intelligent /ɪn'telɪdʒənt/ adj 1. clever, able to understand things very well ○ She is more intelligent than her brother. ○ He's the most intelligent child in his class. 2. able to think and reason ○ an intelligent computer terminal ○ Is there intelligent life on Mars?

intelligentsia /ɪn,tɛli'dʒɛntsiə/ noun the intellectual, artistic and educated people in a society intelligible /ɪn'telɪdʒɪb(ə)l/ adj which can be understood. Synonym comprehensible. Antonym unintelligible

① intend /ɪn'tend/ verb □ to intend to do something to plan to do something ○ We intended to get up early but we all overslept. ○ The company intends to sue for damages. □ I intended no insult I did not mean my words to be taken as an insult

③ intended /ɪn'tendɪd/ adj 1. planned or chosen deliberately ○ They never reached their intended destination. ○ The murderer followed his intended victim. 2. provided for a special purpose ○ The big plate is intended to be used for serving meat.

③ intense /ɪn'tens/ adj 1. very strong or energetic ○ There was a period of intense diplomatic activity to try to get the hostages released. ○ She had an intense period of study before the exams. 2. extremely serious and showing feelings strongly ○ She is a very intense young woman.

intensely /ɪn'tensli/ adv strongly. Synonym forcefully. Antonym mildly intensification /ɪn,tensɪfɪ'keɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. the process of making something stronger 2. the process of becoming stronger ○ the intensification of the paper's attacks on the government ► Antonym reduction intensify /ɪn'tensifai/ verb 1. to become stronger ○ The rain intensified and continued all night. 2. to make something stronger ○ He intensified his attacks on the government.

intensity /ɪn'tensiti/ noun strength or violence. Antonym moderation (NOTE: no plural) intensive /ɪn'tensiv/ adj with a lot of effort ○ He took a two-week intensive course in German.

intensive care /ɪn,tensɪv 'keə/ noun the close care and treatment of patients who are very ill or badly injured so that essential action can be taken with a minimum of delay if it is needed intensively /ɪn'tensivli/ adv with a lot of effort

intent /ɪn'tent/ adj determined ○ She's intent on becoming a manager. ■ noun an aim. Synonym intention □ with intent to defraud with the aim of deceiving □ to all intents and purposes in almost every way ○ He is to all intents and purposes the boss of the business.

② intention /ɪn'tenʃən/ noun an aim or plan to do something ○ I can assure you that I have no intention of going to the party. ○ The fans came with the deliberate intention of stirring up trouble. Synonym aim intentional /ɪn'tenʃən(ə)l/ adj done on purpose. Synonym deliberate. Antonym accidental intentionally /ɪn'tenʃən(ə)li/ adv on purpose intently /ɪn'tentli/ adv with a lot of concentration. Synonym closely inter /ɪn'tɜ:/ verb to bury (NOTE: interring – interred) inter- /ɪntə/ prefix between interact /ɪntər'ækɪt/ verb □ to interact with someone to work in a friendly way with someone ○ She is interacting well with her teachers. □ to interact with something to have an effect on something

③ interaction /ɪntər'ækʃən/ noun an effect of two things on each other interactive /ɪntər'æktrɪv/ adj each having an effect on the others ○ We teach drama through interactive groups.

intercept /ɪntə'sept/ verb to stop something as it is passing. Synonym cut off interception /ɪntə'sepʃən/ noun the process of stopping something which is passing. Synonym capture interchange noun /'ɪntəsɛɪndʒ/ 1. an exchange ○ an interchange of ideas ○ The conference was organised to promote an interchange of ideas in the field of robotics.

2. a large road junction where motorways cross ○ There was a massive pile-up at the interchange. ■ verb /,ɪntə'seɪndʒ/ to exchange one thing for another ○ The four wheels can be interchanged (with each other). ○ The players are constantly interchanging positions on the field.

interchangeable /,ɪntə'seɪndʒəb(ə)l/ adj which can be exchanged for each other intercity /,ɪntə'siti/ adj (of trains or planes) travelling between two cities intercom /'intəkɒm/ noun a radio for speaking to people over a short distance inside a building intercontinental /,intəkɒn'tɪnənt(ə)l/ adj from one continent to another, between continents intercourse /'intəkɔ:s/ noun 1. same as sexual intercourse ○ They had intercourse on the first night they met. 2. communication between people ○ 'How do you do?' is a polite expression used in normal social intercourse.

interdependent /,intə'dɪpəndənt/ adj 1. needing each other to exist 2. relying on each other's help or support interdict /'intədikt/ noun an official order telling someone not to do something. Synonym order

① interest /'intrəst/ noun 1. special attention to something ○ She takes a lot of interest in politics. ○ He has no interest in what his sister is doing. ○ Why doesn't he take more interest in local affairs? 2. a thing which you pay attention to ○ Her main interest is canoeing. ○ List your special interests on your CV. 3. a percentage which is paid to someone who lends money ○ Deposit accounts pay more interest. ○ How much interest do I have to pay if I borrow £1000? 4. a financial share in something □ he has a controlling interest in the company he owns more than 50% of the shares and so can direct how the company is run □ to acquire a substantial interest in the company to buy a large number of shares in a company ■ verb to attract someone ○ He's particularly interested in old cars. ○ Nothing seems to interest him very much. ○ The book didn't interest me at all. ○ He tried to interest several companies in his new invention.

① interested /'intrəstɪd/ adj with a personal interest in something ○ He's interested in old churches. ○ She's interested in crime fiction.

① interesting /'intrəstɪŋ/ adj which attracts your attention ○ There's an interesting article in the newspaper on European football. ○ She didn't find the TV programme very interesting. ○ What's so interesting about old cars? – I find them dull. Antonym boring interestingly /'intrəstɪŋli/ adv it is interesting that interest rate /'intrəst reɪt/ noun a percentage charged for borrowing money

interface /'intʃeɪf/ noun 1. a point where two computer systems connect, or a program which allows two computer systems to be connected 2. an area where two different systems meet and interact ○ Great progress is being made at the interface between medical science and genetic engineering. ■ verb □ to interface with (of a computer device) to communicate with ○ My laptop can interface with any other computer in the building.

interfere /intə'fɪər/ verb □ to interfere in or with something to get in the way of something, to be involved in something in such a way that it does not work well ○ His mother is always interfering in his private life. ○ Stop interfering with the TV controls.

③ interference /intə'fɪərəns/ noun 1. an involvement with someone else's life or business ○ His aunt's interference in his wedding preparations made him very annoyed. 2. a noise which affects radio or TV programmes ○ The reception isn't good tonight – there's a lot of interference. (NOTE: no plural)

interim /'intərɪm/ adj (of a report) given halfway through a period, before the final result is known ○ Please send us an interim report on the first year of your research project. Synonym temporary. Antonym permanent ■ noun □ in the interim meanwhile ○ We are still redecorating the offices: in the interim you will have to share an office with your boss.

interior /ɪn'tɪəriə/ adj inside. Synonym internal. Antonym peripheral ■ noun an inner part of a building, car, etc. ○ She cautiously walked into the interior of the cave. ○ The interior of the building is fine, but the exterior needs repainting.

interior decorator /ɪn'tɪəriə 'dekəreɪtə/ noun a person who paints and decorates the interior of buildings interior design /ɪn'tɪəriə dɪ'zain/ noun the planning of the appearance of the inside of a building

③ interior designer /ɪn'tɪəriə dɪ'zainə/ noun a person who designs the inside of a building, including wall coverings, paint colours, furniture, fabrics, etc.

interject /,ɪntə'dʒekt/ verb to interrupt with a comment

③ interjection /,ɪntə'dʒekʃən/ noun an exclamation, a word used to show surprise interlock /,ɪntə'lɒk/ verb to fit together so as not to come apart easily. Synonym mesh interlude /'ɪntəlu:d/ noun 1. a pause for a dance or piece of music between parts of a performance ○ There will now be a short musical interlude. 2. a quiet time between two lively periods ○ There was a short interlude, then the noise started again. ○ During an interlude in the street battle, ambulances went to find wounded demonstrators.

intermarry /,ɪntə'mæri/ verb to marry within the same family group intermediary /,ɪntə'mi:diəri/ adj between two parties ○ She played an intermediary role in the negotiations between the two sides. Synonym intermediate ■ noun a person who is the link between parties who do not agree or who are negotiating. ○ He refused to act as an intermediary between the two directors. (NOTE: The plural is intermediaries.)

intermediate /'ɪntə'mi:diət/ adj 1. between two points ○ We are at an intermediate stage in our research work. 2. between beginners and advanced ○ She has passed her intermediate level English.

interminable /ɪn'tɜ:mi:nəb(ə)l/ adj which never ends, which is boring. Synonym endless. Antonym finite interminably /ɪn'tɜ:mi:nəbli/ adv without coming to an end intermission /,ɪntə'miʃ(ə)n/ noun especially US an interval in a performance intermittent /,ɪntə'mɪt(ə)nt/ adj stopping and starting at intervals. Synonym spasmodic intern noun /'ɪntɜ:n/ US a medical school graduate who is working in a hospital while at the same time finishing his studies ○ Hospital interns work very long hours. (NOTE: The British term is houseman.) ■ verb /ɪn'tɜ:n/ to put someone in a prison or in a camp without trial, usually for political reasons ○ Many intellectuals and opponents of the military regime have been interned. Synonym imprison

② internal /'ɪn'tɜ:n(ə)l/ adj inside

internal combustion engine /ɪn'tɜ:n(ə)l kə'mbɪ'shən'fən, ɪn'dʒɪn/ noun a type of engine in which petrol is burned inside the cylinders of the engine, so forcing the pistons to move internal flight /ɪn'tɜ:n(ə)l 'flaɪt/ noun a flight inside a country internally /ɪn'tɜ:n(ə)li/ adv inside

① international /,ɪntə'næʃ(ə)nəl/ adj between countries ○ an important international company ○ An international conference on the environment. Synonym global ■ noun 1. a sportsman who has played for his country's team against another country ○ There are three England internationals in our local team. 2. a game between two countries ○ The Rugby international will be held next Saturday at Twickenham.

internationalist /ɪntə'næʃ(ə)nəlist/ noun a person who believes in the need for countries to work together internationally /,ɪntə'næʃ(ə)nəli/ adv between countries

internee /,ɪntɜ:n'i:/ noun a person who has been interned, usually a political prisoner who has not been tried

Internet /'ɪntənet/ noun an international network linking thousands of computers using telephone links ○ We send messages over the Internet to hundreds of users of our prod- ucts. ○ He searched the Internet for information on cheap tickets to Alaska. (NOTE: also called simply the Net)

COMMENT: Internet addresses (or 'domain names') of companies and other organisations are made up of two or three parts. The first part is the name of the organisation (often abbreviated); the second can be .co (for a company), .com (for companies based in the USA), .edu (for educational establishments), .net (for Internet suppliers), .gov for US government organisations and .mil (for military). With the exception of the USA, all countries add a further two-character country of origin name, such as .au for Australia, .cn for China, .uk for the United Kingdom, or .de for Germany.

internment /ɪn'tɜ:nmənt/ noun the action of interning, of putting someone into a prison or camp without trial. Synonym imprisonment interpersonal /,ɪntə'pɜ:s(ə)n(ə)l/ adj between people interpersonal skills /,ɪntəpɜ:s(ə)n(ə)l 'skɪlz/ plural noun skills used when communicating with other people, especially when negotiating interplay /'ɪntəpleɪ/ noun a reaction between two things. Synonym chemistry interpose /,ɪntə'pəʊz/ verb to place something in between

③ interpret /ɪn'tɜ:prɪt/ verb 1. to translate what someone is saying into a different language ○ The courier knows Greek, so he will interpret for us. 2. to explain the meaning of something ○ His letter was interpreted as meaning that he refused the offer. ○ Her fit of giggles was interpreted as 'yes'.

② interpretation /ɪn,tɜ:prɪ'teɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. a meaning ○ A poem can have many interpretations. ○ The book puts quite a different interpretation on the meaning of the rule. 2. the act of translating what someone is saying into a different language ○ She is taking a course in simultaneous interpretation. 3. a way of playing a piece of music ○ Two of the young musicians were praised for their interpretations of Bach.

interpretative /ɪn'tɜ:rpri:tətɪv/ adj referring to interpretation. Synonym explanatory

③ interpreter /ɪn'tɜ:prɪtə/ noun a person who translates what someone is saying into a different language interrelate /,ɪntər'læɪt/ verb to be closely connected with something else interrelated /,ɪntər'læɪtɪd/ adj in a relationship in which each depends on or is affected by the other or others interrogate /ɪn'terəgeɪt/ verb to question someone severely, often for a long period of time interrogation /in'terə'geʃ(ə)n/ noun a severe questioning interrogative /,intə'rɒgətɪv/ adj which asks a question interrogative pronoun /,intə'rɒgətɪv 'prəʊnən/ noun a pronoun which asks a question interrupt /,intə'rʌpt/ verb 1. to start talking when someone else is talking ○ Excuse me for interrupting, but have you seen the office keys anywhere? 2. to stop something which is taking place ○ They interrupted their tour of Europe. ○ The strike interrupted the flow of spare parts to our factory.

③ interruption /,intə'rʌpʃən/ noun something that interrupts or stops you from working intersect /,intə'seкт/ verb to cut across each other. Synonym cross

intersection /'intə,sekʃən/ noun 1. a place where two or more roads cross ○ The accident occurred at one of the busiest intersections in the city. 2. a place where lines cut across each other ○ The intersection on the graph shows when the pound became weaker than the dollar.

intersperse /,intə'spɜ:s/ verb 1. to interrupt one activity with another for short periods of time 2. to put various things in or among something else interspersed /,intə'spɜ:sɪd/ adj □ interspersed with among or between other things ○ The play consisted of short conversations interspersed with long periods of silence.

interstate adj /intə'steɪt/ 1. between two countries ○ Interstate negotiations are continuing to decide on the expansion of the EU. 2. US between two states ○ We took the interstate freeway to San Diego. ■ noun /'intəsteɪt/ US a road between two states ○ They took Interstate 80 to Nevada.

intertwine /,intə'twайн/ verb to twist things together; to be twisted together. Synonym interweave

③ interval /'intəv(ə)l/ noun 1. a period of time between two points ○ There will be bright intervals during the morning, but it will rain in the afternoon. ○ There will be a short interval during which the table will be cleared. 2. a period of time between two acts in a play ○ Anyone arriving late won't be allowed in until the first interval. 3. □ at intervals from time to time ○ At intervals, he almost seems sane. □ at regular intervals fairly often ○ At regular intervals during my interview, the phone would ring and the man interviewing me would take down messages. 4. (in music) a difference in pitch ○ The interval between D and A is a fifth.

③ intervene /,intə'veɪn/ verb to come between □ to intervene in a dispute to try to settle a disagreement ○ The government refused to intervene in the dispute.

intervening /,intə'veɪnɪŋ/ adj which comes between

③ intervention /,intə'venʃən/ noun an act of intervening between two things, or an action to make a change in a system

interventionist /,intə'venʃənist/ adj referring to a policy of intervention

② interview /'intəvju:/ noun 1. a conversation between an important or interesting person and a journalist, broadcast on radio, TV or printed in a newspaper ○ She gave an interview to the Sunday magazine. 2. a formal meeting in which one or more people ask you questions to find out if you are suitable for something such as a particular job or a course at university ○ We asked six candidates for interview. ○ He's had six interviews, but still no job offers. ○ When will you attend your first interview? ■ verb 1. to ask a famous or interesting person questions about themselves and their work in order to publish or broadcast what they say ○ The journalist interviewed the Prime Minister. 2. to meet a person who is applying for something such as a job or a place on a university course, to see if he or she is suitable ○ We interviewed ten candidates, but did not find anyone we liked.

interviewee /,intəvju:'i:/ noun a person who is being or who is going to be interviewed. Synonym applicant. Antonym interviewer

③ interviewer /'intəvju:ə/ noun a person who asks the questions at an interview interweave /,intə'wi:v/ verb to weave together. Synonym intertwine (NOTE: interweaving – interwove /,intə'wəʊv/ – interwoven) intestate /in'teɪstɪt/ adj not having made a will intestinal /in'testɪn(ə)l/ adj referring to the intestine intestine /in'testɪn/ noun □ the small intestine the top section of the intestines, leading down from the stomach intestines /in'testɪnz/ plural noun the tube inside your body which passes from the stomach to the anus, and in which food is digested as it passes through intimacy /'intrɪməsi/ noun a sexual relationship with someone intimate adj /'intɪmɪt/ 1. very close ○ She is an intimate friend from my schooldays. ○ They had intimate knowledge of the layout of the house. 2. sexual ○ an intimate relationship 3. very detailed ○ They had intimate knowledge of the layout of the house. ■ verb /'intɪmeɪt/ to announce or to suggest ○ He intimated that he was going to resign and go to work in Australia.

intimately /'intimətlɪ/ adv closely intimation /,intɪ'meɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the suggestion that you will do something. Synonym hint intimidate /ɪn'tɪmidɪteɪt/ verb to frighten someone by threatening them or appearing to threaten them intimidated /ɪn'tɪmidɪteɪtɪd/ adj feeling frightened or feeling that someone is better than you at doing something intimidating /ɪn'tɪmidɪtɪŋ/ adj frightening. Synonym threatening. Antonym approachable

intimidation /ɪn'tɪmɪdɪ'keɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the action of frightening someone with threats. Synonym coercion

① into /'ɪnto, 'intu, 'intu:/ prep 1. showing movement towards the inside ○ She went into the shop. ○ He fell into the lake. ○ Put the cards back into their box. ○ You can't get ten people into a taxi. ○ We all stopped talking when he came into the room. ○ The bus is going into the town centre. 2. hitting against something ○ The bus drove into a lamppost. 3. showing a change ○ The tadpole changed into a frog. ○ Water turns into steam when it is heated. ○ She changed into an evening dress for the party. □ to burst into tears to start crying suddenly ○ When she opened the box she burst into tears. 4. showing that you are dividing ○ Try to cut the cake into ten equal pieces. □ six into four won't go you cannot divide four by six 5. liking something very much ○ He's into reggae.

intolerable /ɪn'tɒlərəb(ə)l/ adj which you cannot bear. Synonym unbearable. Antonym bearable intolerably /ɪn'tɒlərəblɪ/ adv in a way that you cannot bear intolerance /ɪn'tɒlərəns/ noun a refusal to accept the points of view of other people intolerant /ɪn'tɒlərənt/ adj refusing to accept the points of view of other people. Synonym bigoted. Antonym tolerant

③ intonation /,intə'neɪʃ(ə)n/ noun a rise or fall of the voice in speech or singing intone /ɪn'təʊn/ verb to speak something in a slow singing voice intoxicant /ɪn'tɒksɪkənt/ noun a substance such as alcohol, which makes you drunk intoxicated /ɪn'tɒksɪkeɪtɪd/ adj 1. drunk, under the effects of alcohol ○ He was charged with driving while intoxicated. 2. extremely excited ○ Intoxicated with their success, they decided to go out to celebrate.

intoxicating /ɪn'tɒksɪkeɪtɪŋ/ adj 1. which makes you drunk ○ It is illegal to sell intoxicating liquor to people under the age of 18. 2. which makes you excited ○ Excited by the intoxicating atmosphere of the football crowd she stood on her seat and cheered.

intoxication /ɪn'tɒksɪ'keɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the state of being drunk. Synonym alcoholism intractable /ɪn'trækɪtəb(ə)l/ adj very difficult to deal with; which is impossible to solve intranet /'ɪntrənet/ noun a computer network within an organisation intransigence /ɪn'trænsɪdʒəns/ noun the quality of being determined not to change your mind. Antonym flexibility intransigent /ɪn'trænsɪdʒənt/ adj determined not to change your mind. Synonym inflexible intransitive /ɪn'trænsɪtɪv/ adj describes a verb that does not need a direct object to complete its meaning intravenous /,ɪntrə'venəs/ adj put into a vein

in-tray /'ɪn treɪ/ noun a file or basket on your desk for papers that you have to deal with. (NOTE: The file for outgoing letters is the out-tray and that for letters which are waiting for a decision is the pending tray.)

intrepid /ɪn'trepɪd/ adj without fear, very brave (literary or humorous). Synonym fearless. Antonym cowardly intricacy /'ɪntrɪkəsi/ noun the state of being very complicated. Synonym complexity intricate /'ɪntrɪkət/ adj very complicated, made of many different parts intrigue /'ɪntrɪ:g/ noun a secret plan ○ The story is one of intrigues at the court of Mary Queen of Scots. ■ verb 1. to make secret plans, especially to harm someone ○ She intrigued to get the ambassador assassinated.

2. to make someone interested ○ The girl's story intrigued him.

intrigued /'ɪntri:gɪd/ adj interested in something because it is unusual intriguing /'ɪn'tri:gɪŋ/ adj which makes you interested. Synonym interesting intrinsic /ɪn't्रɪnsɪk/ adj forming a basic part of something. Synonym basic intrinsically /ɪn't्रɪnzɪklɪ/ adv basically intro /'ɪntrəʊ/ noun an introduction, especially to a piece of music

① introduce /,ɪntrə'dju:s/ verb 1. to present someone to another person or to people who did not know him or her previously ○ He introduced me to a friend of his called Anne. ○ She introduced me to her new teacher. 2. to announce a TV or radio programme, etc. ○ He introduced the start of the cricket commentary. 3. to bring something to a new place ○ Several species of plant now common in Britain were introduced by the Romans. ○ Starlings were introduced to the USA in 1891.

② introduction /,ɪntrə'dʌkʃən/ noun 1. the act of meeting someone or something for the first time ○ The Fair in Chicago was his introduction to the American business scene. 2. a letter making someone known to other people who did not know him previously ○ I'm going to Moscow next week – can you give me an introduction to anyone there? ○ I'll give you an introduction to Mike Smith – he is an old friend of mine. 3. a piece at the beginning of a book which explains the rest of the book ○ Read the introduction which gives an explanation of the book's layout. 4. a book which gives basic information about a subject ○ He's the author of an introduction to mathematics. 5. bringing into use □ the introduction of new technology the process of putting new computers into a business or industry 6. the act of bringing something to a new place ○ Before the introduction of grey squirrels, the red squirrel was widespread.

introductory /,intrə'dʌkt(ə)ri/ adj which introduce introspection /,intrə'speksjən/ noun looking inwards at yourself introspective /,intrə'spektɪv/ adj thinking a lot about yourself

introvert /'intrəvɜ:t/ noun a person who does not like to be with other people. Synonym recluse. Antonym extrovert intrude /'in'tru:d/ verb to go in or become involved where you are not wanted

③ intruder /'in'tru:də/ noun a person who has got into a place, usually illegally

③ intrusion /'in'tru:ʒ(ə)n/ noun the act of intruding. Synonym disturbance intrusive /'in'tru:sɪv/ adj which intrudes and is not wanted. Synonym invasive intuition /,intju'ɪʃ(ə)n/ noun thinking of something or knowing something naturally, without it being explained intuitive /'in'tju:ɪtɪv/ adj based on intuition

Inuit /'inuɪt/ noun a member of a group of people living in the north of Canada and Greenland (NOTE: also called Eskimo or Eskimos, though this may be offensive) inundate /'ɪnʌndeɪt/ verb 1. to have more things or people than you can deal with ○ We have been inundated with requests for tickets. ○ The relief camps were inundated with refugees. 2. to flood a place ○ Acres of farmland were inundated when the banks of the river gave way.

invade /'ɪn'veɪd/ verb 1. to attack and enter a country with an army ○ William the Conqueror invaded England in 1066. 2. □ to invade someone's privacy when people such as journalists try to find out details of someone's private life ○ She claimed that the photographers had invaded her privacy by climbing over the wall.

invader /ɪn'veɪdə/ noun a person who enters a country by force with an army. Synonym attacker invalid¹ /'ɪn'vælɪd/ adj not officially accepted, not legal ○ She was stopped at the frontier because her passport was invalid. ○ Your library card is invalid, so you need to renew it.

③ invalid² /'ɪn'vælɪd/ adj sick or disabled ○ Her invalid mother lives in a nursing home. ■ noun a sick or disabled person ○ She's been an invalid since her operation. ■ verb □ to invalid someone out to make someone leave their job because of ill health ○ He was invalidated out of the navy.

invalidate /ɪn'vælɪdeɪt/ verb to make something no longer officially accepted or legal invalidity /,ɪnvə'lɪdɪtɪ/ noun 1. the fact of being an invalid ○ She receives an invalidity pension. 2. the state of being not legal or not officially accepted ○ The invalidity of the contract was discussed. (NOTE: no plural) invaluable /ɪn'væljuəb(ə)l/ adj extremely valuable. Antonym worthless invariable /ɪn'veəriəb(ə)l/ adj always the same, never changing invariably /ɪn'veəriəbli/ adv always invasion /ɪn'veɪz(ə)n/ noun 1. entering a country by force with an army ○ The invasion took place in early June. 2. □ invasion of privacy the behaviour of people such as journalists when they try to find out details of someone's private life ○ The photographers climbing over the wall constituted an invasion of privacy.

invasive /ɪn'veɪsɪv/ adj 1. which tends to spread throughout the body ○ A malignant tumour is an invasive growth. 2. which involves cutting open and entering the patient's body ○ Invasive surgery will only be used as a last resort.

invective /ɪn'vektɪv/ noun insulting speech or swearing (formal)

③ invent /ɪn'vent/ verb 1. to create a new process or a new machine ○ She invented a new type of computer terminal. ○ Who invented shorthand? 2. to think up an excuse ○ When she asked him why he was late he invented some excuse.

③ invention /ɪn'venʃən/ noun 1. the act of creating a new process or a new machine ○ The invention of computers was made possible by developments in electronics. 2. a new machine or piece of equipment ○ He tried to sell his latest invention to a US car manufacturer.

inventive /ɪn'ventɪv/ adj which creates something in a way that shows imagination. Synonym creative

③ inventor /in'ventər/ noun a person who invents new processes or new machines

③ inventory /'invənt(ə)ri/ noun 1. a list of all the things in a place such as a house ○ The landlord checked the inventory when the tenants left. (NOTE: The plural in this meaning is inventories.) 2. US all the goods in a warehouse ○ Our whole inventory was destroyed by fire. ○ We are carrying a high inventory. (NOTE: The British term is stock.)

inverse /,in'vers:əs/ noun the opposite of something ○ Actually, the inverse is true. ■ adj completely opposite ○ Their value is in inverse proportion to their weights.

invert /in'vert/ verb to turn something upside down or back to front ○ Invert the mould and ease the jelly onto the dish.

invertebrate /in'ver:tbrət/ noun an animal which has no backbone ○ Fish are vertebrates but worms are invertebrates. ■ adj with no backbone ○ Can you name any other invertebrate animals besides worms? Compare vertebrate inverted commas /in,vɜ:tɪd 'kɒməz/ plural noun printed or written marks (‘ ’ or “ ”) showing that a quotation starts or finishes inverted snobbery /,in,vɜ:tɪd 'snɒbərɪ/ noun the idea that people and things connected with the working class are better than those of a higher social class

③ invest /in'vest/ verb 1. to use your money for buying things such as property or shares in a company, so that you will make a profit ○ She was advised to invest in government bonds. ○ He invested all his money in a fish-and-chip restaurant. 2. to spend money on something which you believe will be useful ○ We have invested in a new fridge.

② investigate /in'vestɪgeɪt/ verb to try to find out about something ○ The detective is investigating the details of the case. ○ We are investigating the possibility of going to live in Costa Rica.

② investigation /in'vestɪg'eɪʃ(ə)n/ noun a close examination ○ A police investigation into the causes of the crash. □ on investigation when it was examined ○ On further investigation, the newspaper report was shown to be quite untrue.

investigative /in'vestɪgətɪv/ adj who or which investigates investigative journalism /in'vestɪgətɪv 'dʒɜ:snəlɪz(ə)m/ noun a type of journalism where journalists try to find out and publish new details or facts about something

③ investigator /in'vestɪgeɪtər/ noun a person who investigates, e.g. a police officer

① investment /in'vestmənt/ noun 1. money which has been invested, e.g. in shares or property, and is expected to make a profit ○ He has been very successful with his investments. □ long- or short-term investments investments such as shares which are likely to increase in value over a long or short period ○ Buying a house is considered a good long-term investment. 2. money spent by a government or a company to improve it or make it more successful ○ The economy is suffering from a lack of investment in training. ○ Investment always declines during a recession.

③ investor /in'vestər/ noun a person who invests money

inveterate /in'vet(ə)rət/ adj always doing something and not likely to change invigilate /in'vedʒɪleɪt/ verb to watch students who are taking an examination in order to see that they do not cheat invigilator /in'vedʒɪleɪtər/ noun a person who invigilates an examination invigorate /in'vegəreɪt/ verb to make someone feel healthy and full of energy. Synonym energise invigorating /in'vegəreɪtɪŋ/ adj which makes you feel healthy. Synonym bracing invincible /in'venʃib(ə)l/ adj which cannot be defeated. Synonym unbeatable invisible /in'vezib(ə)l/ adj which cannot be seen ○ The message was written in invisible ink and hidden inside the pages of the telephone directory.

invisible earnings /in'vezib(ə)l 'ɛ:nɪnɪŋz/ plural noun foreign currency earned by a country by providing services such as banking, insurance or tourism but not selling goods. Compare visible

③ invitation /,invɪ'teɪʃ(ə)n/ noun a letter or card, asking someone to do something ○ He received an invitation to his sister's wedding. ○ She had an invitation to dinner. □ at someone's invitation invited by someone ○ She spoke to the meeting at the invitation of the committee.

② invite /in'veɪt/ verb to ask someone to do something, especially to come to a social event such as a party ○ We invited two hundred people to the party. ○ She invited us to come in. ○ She's been invited to talk to the club.

③ inviting /in'veɪtɪŋ/ adj which attracts

in vitro /in 'vɪ:t्रəʊ/ adj relating to an experiment which is carried out in a laboratory

② invoice /'ɪnvəsɪ/ noun a note sent to ask for payment for services or goods ○ Our invoice dated November 10th has still not been paid. ○ They sent in their invoice six weeks late. ○ Ask the sales assistant to make out an invoice for £250. Synonym bill ■ verb to send a note asking for payment for services or goods □ we invoiced you on November

10th we sent you an invoice on November 10th invoke /ɪn'vəʊk/ verb to call on someone or something for help or support involuntary /ɪn'vɒlənt(ə)ri/ adj 1. done suddenly in a way that you cannot control ○ His leg gave an involuntary jerk when the doctor tapped his knee. ○ Her cry was the involuntary reaction of a mother protecting her young. 2. not done willingly ○ Does the travel insurance cover the involuntary cancellation of the holiday?

① involve /ɪn'velve/ verb 1. to bring someone or something into an activity or situation ○ a competition involving teams from ten different countries ○ We want to involve the local community in the decision about the bypass. ○ Members of the local council are involved in the company which has won the contract for the new road. 2. to make necessary ○ Going to Oxford Circus from here involves taking a bus and then the Underground.

② involved /ɪn'velvd/ adj complicated

③ involvement /ɪn'velvmənt/ noun the fact of being connected with someone, or involved in something ○ Did she have any involvement with the music festival? ○ The police were unable to prove his involvement in the crime.

invulnerable /ɪn'venlərb(ə)l/ adj which cannot be harmed by something. Antonym vulnerable inward /ɪn'wəd/ adj on the inside inward investment /ɪn'wəd ɪn'vestmənt/ noun money invested in a country by foreign companies inwardly /ɪn'wədli/ adv 1. to or inside yourself 2. on or to the inside of something inwards /ɪn'wədz/ adv towards the inside (NOTE: The US term is inward.)

in-your-face /ɪn jəs/ adj direct or obvious in a way that is designed to attract attention iodine /aɪ'deɪn/ noun 1. a chemical element which is essential to the body ○ The nurse dabbed the cut with iodine. 2. a chemical put on cuts in the skin to prevent infection ion /aɪən/ noun an electrically charged atom

iota /aɪ'əʊtə/ noun a very small piece or amount. Synonym dot

IOU /aɪ əʊ 'ju:/ noun a paper promising that you will pay back money which you have borrowed (NOTE: It spells the words I owe you.)

IPA abbr International Phonetic Alphabet

③ IQ abbr intelligence quotient ○ She has an IQ of 110.

irascible /ɪ'ræsib(ə)l/ adj easily made annoyed irate /aɪ'reɪt/ adj very angry. Antonym calm iridescence /ɪrɪ'des(ə)ns/ noun the state or quality of being iridescent iridescent /ɪrɪ'des(ə)nt/ adj with colours which seem to change in different types of light iris /'aɪrɪs/ noun 1. a plant with tall flat leaves and usually yellow or purple flowers ○ Irises grow well in damp soil. 2. a coloured ring in the eye, with the pupil at its centre ○ The iris has muscles that adjust the size of the pupil. (NOTE: The plural is irises.)

① Irish /'aɪrɪʃ/ adj referring to Ireland ○ The Irish Sea lies between Ireland and Britain. ■ noun

1. a Celtic language still spoken in parts of Ireland ○ Eire is the Irish name for the Republic of Ireland. 2. □ the Irish the people who live in Ireland ○ The Irish are famous for their folk music.

Irish coffee /'aɪrɪʃ 'kɒfɪ/ noun hot coffee, served in a glass, with Irish whiskey added to it and whipped cream poured on top irk /ɪ:k/ verb to annoy someone irksome /'ɪ:ks(ə)m/ adj annoying

② iron /aɪən/ noun 1. a common grey metal

○ The old gates are made of iron. (NOTE: no plural in this meaning: some iron, lumps of iron, pieces of iron) 2. a heavy object with a flat bottom, which is heated and used to make clothes smooth after washing ○ Don't leave the iron plugged in, it will burn the clothes. ○ If your iron is not hot enough it won't take the creases out. 3. a golf club with a metal head 4. □ in irons with iron chains tied around the ankles to prevent escape ■ verb

1. to make cloth smooth, using an iron ○ She was ironing shirts when the telephone rang. ○ Her skirt doesn't look as though it has been ironed. 2. □ to iron out to deal with a problem ○ We had a very productive morning – all the remaining problems were ironed out.

ironically /aɪ'rɒnɪkli/ adv 1. in a way which means the opposite ○ 'It's no trouble at all,' he said ironically. 2. at the wrong time, as if deliberately planned ○ Ironically, although they had lost both his suitcases, the airline claimed that he owed them for excess baggage.

③ ironing /'aɪrənɪŋ/ noun clothes which have been washed and are ready to be ironed

④ ironing board /'aɪrənɪŋ bɔ:d/ noun a special narrow table used when ironing clothes irony /'aɪrənɪ/ noun 1. a way of referring to something where you say the opposite of what you mean ○ Do I detect a note of irony in his letter? 2. a situation when something happens at the wrong moment, as if deliberately planned ○ The irony of it was that the rain finally stopped on the last day of our holiday.

irradiate /ɪ'rɛdɪteɪt/ verb 1. to subject something to radiation ○ In South Africa male mosquitoes have been irradiated to make them sterile and then released back into the environment. 2. to treat food with radiation to prevent it going bad ○ Some people wonder whether irradiated food is safe to eat.

irradiation /ɪ'reɪdɪ'eɪʃn/ noun the use of radiation to kill bacteria in food irrational /ɪ'ræʃ(ə)nəl/ adj not sensible or reasonable. Synonym illogical. Antonym rational irreconcilable /ɪ'rekən'saɪləb(ə)l/ adj which cannot be made to agree irregular /ɪ'regjʊlə/ adj 1. not happening in a regular way ○ An irregular pattern of lines and circles. ○ His heart had an irregular beat. 2. not level ○ An irregular stone path leads across the garden. 3. not happening always at the same time ○ His payments are very irregular. ○ He makes irregular visits to his mother in hospital. 4. not according to rules or a usual way of doing something ○ This procedure is highly irregular.

irregularity /ɪ'regjʊ'lærɪti/ noun a thing which goes against the rules or the law irregularly /ɪ'regjʊləli/ adv not regularly irregular verb /ɪ'regjʊlər 'vɜ:b/ noun a verb such as 'to run' which has forms which do not fit the usual patterns of grammar irrelevance /ɪ'reləvəns/ noun the fact of not having any connection with the subject irrelevant /ɪ'reləvənt/ adj with no connection to the present subject. Synonym immaterial. Antonym relevant irreparable /ɪ'rep(ə)rəb(ə)l/ adj which cannot be repaired irreparably /ɪ'rep(ə)rəbli/ adv in a way which cannot be repaired irreplaceable /ɪ'rɪ'pleɪsəb(ə)l/ adj which cannot be replaced. Synonym unique irrepressible /ɪ'rɪ'presəb(ə)l/ adj which cannot be held back. Synonym un-controllable irreproachable /ɪ'rɪ'prəʊtʃəb(ə)l/ adj which cannot be criticised. Synonym blameless. Antonym blameworthy irresistible /ɪ'rɪ'zɪstəb(ə)l/ adj which cannot be controlled, which you cannot refuse irresolute /ɪ'rezəlu:t/ adj who cannot decide what to do. Synonym indecisive irrespective /ɪ'rɪ'spektɪv/ prep □ irrespective of taking no account of ○ Anyone parking on a double yellow line will be fined, irrespective of who they are. ○ The appointment will be made on merit, irrespective of age or sex.

irresponsible /ɪ'rɪ'sponsɪb(ə)l/ adj in a way that is not sensible, not responsible. Synonym reckless irreverence /ɪ'rev(ə)rəns/ noun a lack of respect. Synonym disrespect. Antonym respect irreverent /ɪ'rev(ə)rənt/ adj not showing respect, often in a humorous way. Synonym disrespectful. Antonym respectful irreversible /ɪ'rɪ'vezɪb(ə)l/ adj which cannot be changed back to how it was before. Synonym irreparable irrevocable /ɪ'revəkəb(ə)l/ adj which cannot be changed irrigate /ɪ'rɪgɪt/ verb to supply water to land to allow plants to grow, usually through a system of little channels irrigation /ɪ'rɪ'geɪʃn/ noun the action of irrigating an area of land irritability /ɪ'ritə'biliti/ noun the fact of being irritable irritable /ɪ'ritəb(ə)l/ adj easily annoyed. Synonym bad-tempered irritably /ɪ'ritəbli/ adv in an annoying way

irritant /ɪ'rit(ə)nt/ noun 1. a thing which annoys ○ The mosquitoes were a minor irritant, the big problem was the alligators. 2. a substance which can irritate ○ Irritants like chlorine in swimming pool water can make the eyes inflamed.

irritate /ɪ'ritɪteɪt/ verb 1. to annoy ○ It irritates me when the trains run late. 2. (of a substance) to make something sore or to cause a burning feeling ○ Some plants irritate the skin.

irritated /ɪ'ritɪteɪtəd/ adj annoyed irritating /ɪ'ritɪteɪtɪŋ/ adj which annoys. Synonym annoying. Antonym soothing

③ irritation /ɪ'rit'eɪʃn/ noun 1. something which annoys you ○ The irritation of having bad weather every day of the holiday made him quite unbearable. 2. spots on your skin which cause a burning feeling ○ The irritation on his chest got worse during the day.

③ is /ɪz/ □ be

-ish /ɪʃ/ suffix 1. having the quality of, like, tending to 2. almost, nearly

Islam /'ɪzla:m/ noun the religion of the Muslims, founded by the prophet Muhammad

Islamic /ɪz'laemɪk/ adj referring to Islam

② island /aɪlənd/ noun a piece of land with water all round it ○ They live on a little island in the middle of the river. ○ The Greek islands are favourite holiday destinations.

islander /aɪləndə/ noun a person who lives on an island. Synonym inhabitant isle /aɪl/ noun an island (literary) □ the British Isles the islands which make up Great Britain and Ireland

③ isn't /'ɪz(ə)nt/ ◊ be

isobar /'aɪsəʊbə/ noun a line on a weather map linking places of equal barometric pressure

③ isolate /'aɪsəleɪt/ verb 1. to put something or someone in a place alone ◊ Violent prisoners are usually isolated from the others. 2. to separate a chemical substance from a compound, to identify a single virus or bacterium among many ◊ Doctors have isolated a new form of the flu virus. ◊ Scientists have been able to isolate the substance which causes the disease.

③ isolated /'aɪsəleɪtɪd/ adj 1. separated from others ◊ They live in an isolated village in the hills. 2. one only ◊ isolated attack a single attack, which has not been repeated

③ isolation /,aɪsə'leɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. the state of being cut off from communication with other people ◊ He lived for six months on the island in complete isolation. 2. ◊ in isolation all alone ◊ The plans for the new bus station should not be seen in isolation – they are part of a major redevelopment scheme for the town centre.

isolationism /,aɪsə'leɪʃ(ə)nɪz(ə)m/ noun a country's policy of deliberately not becoming involved in international relations isosceles triangle /aɪ,sɒsəli:z 'trɪəng(ə)l/ noun a triangle with two sides which are the same length isotope /'aɪsətəʊp/ noun a form of a chemical element which has the same chemical properties as other forms, but a different atomic mass

ISP abbr Internet service provider

① issue /'ɪʃu:/ noun 1. a problem ◊ The main issues will be discussed at the meeting.

◊ to make an issue of something to have a big discussion about something ◊ She's apologised so don't try to make an issue of it. ◊ the point at issue the question which is being discussed ◊ The point at issue is whether the government is prepared to compromise.

◊ to take issue with someone to disagree with someone 2. an occasion when new stamps are put on sale or new coins or banknotes start to be used ◊ There will be a new issue of stamps this month. 3. an occasion when something is officially given out ◊ The issue of ration cards has been delayed.

4. a newspaper or magazine which is published at a particular time ◊ We bought the January issue of the magazine. 5. the act of giving out new shares ◊ verb 1. to make something available for use ◊ The new set of stamps will be issued next week. ◊ Initially the euro was issued alongside the former national currencies. 2. to give something out officially ◊ We issued a writ against the company. ◊ The government issued a report on London's traffic. ◊ The Secretary of State issued guidelines for expenditure.

3. to come out ◊ Smoke began to issue from the hole in the ground.

isthmus /'ɪsməs/ noun a narrow piece of land with water on both sides of it, connecting two larger pieces of land (NOTE: The plural is isthmuses.)

① it /ɪt/ pron 1. used to show something which has just been mentioned ◊ What do you want me to do with the box? – Put it down. ◊ Where's the box? – It's here. ◊ She picked up a potato and then dropped it on the ground. ◊ I put my book down somewhere and now I can't find it. ◊ Where's the newspaper? – It's on the chair. ◊ The dog's thirsty, give it something to drink. 2. referring to no particular thing ◊ Look! – it's snowing. ◊ It's miles from here to the railway station. ◊ Is it the 30th today? – It's almost impossible to get a ticket at this time of year. ◊ What time is it? – It's ten o'clock. ◊ It's dangerous to use an electric saw when it's wet. (NOTE: It's = it is or it has. Do not confuse with its.)

③ IT abbr information technology

italic /'ɪtəlɪk/ adj (of letters) sloping ◊ The text under the illustrations is printed in italic type.

italicise /'ɪtəlɪsaɪz/, italicize verb to put a word into italics italics /'ɪtəlɪks/ plural noun sloping letters ◊ This example is printed in italics. Compare Roman itch /ɪtʃ/ noun a place on the skin where you want to scratch ◊ I've got an itch in the middle of my back which I just can't reach – it's driving me mad! (NOTE: The plural is itches.) ◊ verb 1. to make someone want to scratch ◊ The cream made his skin itch more than before. 2. ◊ to be itching to do something to be very keen to do something (informal) ◊ I am itching to have a go at hang-gliding but my wife won't let me.

itchy /'ɪtʃɪ/ adj 1. which makes a person want to scratch ◊ The main symptom of the disease is an itchy red rash. 2. ◊ itchy feet a desire to change jobs or to travel (informal) ◊ I'm starting to get itchy feet again – I've been in the same job for too long.

it'd /'ɪtəd/ short form it had, it would

① item /'aɪtəm/ noun 1. something shown in a list ◊ I couldn't buy several items on the shopping list because the shop had sold out. ◊ We are discussing item four on the agenda. ◊ Please find enclosed an order for the following items from your catalogue. 2. a piece of information, e.g. on a news programme ◊ Here is a summary of the main items of news or the main news items.

itemise /'aɪtəmaɪz/, itemize verb to make a detailed list of things itinerant /aɪ'tɪnərənt/ adj moving from place to place, without settling. Synonym peripatetic. Antonym settled itinerary /aɪ'tɪnərəri/ noun a list of places to be visited on one journey. Synonym route (NOTE: The plural is itineraries.)

① its /ɪts/ adj referring to ‘it’ ○ I can’t use the car – one of its tyres is flat. ○ The company pays its staff very badly. (NOTE: Do not confuse with it’s.)

① it’s /ɪts/ short form it is, it has

① itself /ɪt'self/ pron 1. referring to an object ○ The dog seems to have hurt itself. ○ The screw had worked itself loose. □ all by itself alone, with no one helping ○ The church stands all by itself in the middle of the street. ○ The bus started to move all by itself. 2. for emphasis ○ If the plug is all right there must be something wrong with the computer itself.

IUD abbr intrauterine device

IV noun the Roman numeral for four or fourth

③ I've /aɪv/ short form I have

IVF abbr in vitro fertilisation

ivory /'aɪvəri/ noun a hard whitish substance from an elephant’s tusk ○ She bought some finely carved ivory chessmen. ○ Trade in ivory has been banned.

ivory tower /,aɪvəri 'taʊə/ noun an imaginary place where an intellectual can live, isolated from the ordinary world. Synonym seclusion. Antonym real world ivy /'aɪvɪ/ noun an evergreen plant which climbs up walls and trees (NOTE: The plural is ivies.)

J

j /dʒeɪ/, J noun the tenth letter of the alphabet, between I and K jab /dʒæb/ noun 1. a sudden push with something pointed ○ He felt a jab in the back from someone's umbrella. 2. an injection ○ Have you had your cholera jabs yet? ■ verb to push with something sharp ○ He jabbed the piece of meat with his fork. ○ She jabbed me in the back with her umbrella. Synonym stab (NOTE: jabbing – jabbed) jabber /'dʒæbə/ verb to speak fast and not very clearly. Synonym chatter jack /dʒæk/ noun 1. a tool for raising something heavy, especially a car ○ I used the jack to lift the car up and take the wheel off. 2. (in playing cards) the card with the face of a young man, with a value between the queen and the ten ○ I won because I had the jack of hearts. 3. (in bowls) a small white or black ball for players to aim at ○ You need a lot of skill to hit the jack. 4. an electric or telephone plug with a single pin ○ When he had plugged the jack in he could use the modem.

jackal /'dʒæk(ə)l/ noun an African wild animal, similar to a dog, which feeds mainly on dead flesh

② jacket /'dʒækɪt/ noun 1. a short coat worn with trousers ○ He was wearing a blue jacket and brown trousers. ○ Take your jacket off if you are hot. ○ This orange jacket shows up in the dark when I ride my bike. 2. a paper cover wrapped round a book ○ The design of a book jacket has to be very attractive to make people want to buy the book.

jacket potato /,dʒækɪt pə'tetəʊ/ noun a potato cooked in an oven with its skin on jack in /,dʒæk 'ɪn/ verb □ to jack it in to stop doing something such as a job, a piece of work or a course (informal) ○ I'm fed up with this accounting course, I'm going to jack it in.

jack-in-the-box /'dʒæk ɪn ðə ,bɒks/ noun a toy in which a doll jumps up out of a box when the lid is opened jackknife /'dʒæknaɪf/ noun a large folding knife ○ He pulled out a jackknife and cut the rope. (NOTE: The plural is jackknives.) ■ verb (of an articulated vehicle) to go out of control, when the two parts bend in half so that they are pointing in different directions jackpot /'dʒækpɒt/ noun □ to win or hit the jackpot to win the highest prize in a lottery ○ He won the jackpot and bought himself a new car. ○ Last week's lottery jackpot was the highest ever.

○ The section of the motorway is closed where a lorry has jackknifed.

jack up /,dʒæk 'ʌp/ verb 1. to lift up something heavy with a jack ○ They jacked up the car to remove the exhaust pipe. 2. to raise profits or prices ○ The newspaper article alleged that dealers had jacked up prices to make bigger profits.

Jacobean /,dʒækə'bɪən/ adj referring to the time of James I, the early seventeenth century

Jacuzzi /dʒə'ku:zi/ trademark a type of bath which has bubbly water ○ The health club has two Jacuzzis and a whirlpool.

jade /dʒeɪd/ noun a hard green stone used for making jewellery and other attractive objects jaded /'dʒeɪdɪd/ adj worn out, tired jagged /'dʒægɪd/ adj with edges which are rough and not even jaguar /'dʒægjuə/ noun a large wild cat with marks like spots on its skin, which lives in Central and South America

③ jail /dʒeɪl/ noun a prison ○ She was sent to jail for three months. ■ verb to put someone in prison ○ He was jailed for six years. Synonym imprison jailer /'dʒeɪlə/ noun a person who guards prisoners in a jail (dated)

Jain /dʒain/ noun a member of a Hindu group which believes that people should have deep respect for any living creature jalopy /dʒə'lɒpi/ noun an old car which is in a poor condition (dated informal). Synonym wreck

③ jam /dʒæm/ noun 1. a sweet food made by boiling fruit and sugar together ○ A pot of apricot jam. ○ Do you want jam or honey on your bread? ○ We made jam with the fruit in the garden. ○ Have you any more jam – the jar is empty? □ money for jam a profit which is easy to make 2. a condition in which too many things block something such as a space or a machine ○ There is a paper jam in the printer. 3. a difficult situation ○ He's got

himself into a jam. ■ verb 1. (of machines) to stick and not to be able to move ○ Hold on – the paper has jammed in the printer. 2. to force things into a small space ○ Don't try to jam all those boxes into the car boot. ○ The switchboard was jammed with calls. 3. □ to jam on the brakes to stop a vehicle or machine suddenly ○ He jammed on the brakes and the car went into a spin. 4. to make a radio broadcast impossible to understand by broadcasting noise on the same wavelength ○ They jammed all the enemy radio frequencies. (NOTE: jamming – jammed) jamboree /dʒæmbə'ri:/ noun 1. a big outdoor party ○ Are you going to the jamboree in the public gardens tonight? 2. a large gathering of people, especially of scouts and guides ○ The next world jamboree will be held in Japan.

jam jar /dʒæm dʒɑ:/ noun a glass container for putting jam in jam-packed /,dʒæm 'pækt/ adj extremely full (informal). Synonym crowded. Antonym empty

Jan. abbr January

jangle /'dʒæŋgəl/ noun a harsh noise of pieces of metal hitting together ○ She heard the jangle of keys on the other side of the door. ■ verb 1. to make a noise of pieces of metal hitting together ○ He jangled the keys in his pocket. 2. □ to jangle (on) someone's nerves to make someone feel nervous ○ The sound of the dentist's drill started to jangle my nerves.

janitor /'dʒænɪtər/ noun especially US a person who looks after a building, e.g. by making sure it is clean and that the rubbish is cleared away (NOTE: The British term is caretaker.)

① January /'dʒænjuəri/ noun the first month of the year, followed by February ○ on January 26 ○ He was born on January 26th. ○ We never go on holiday in January because it's too cold. ○ We all went skiing last January. (NOTE: January 26th or January 26: say 'the twenty-sixth of January' or 'January the twenty-sixth'; American English: 'January twenty-sixth').

① Japanese /dʒæpə'ni:z/ adj referring to Japan ○ A typical Japanese meal can include rice and raw fish. ■ noun 1. □ the Japanese people from Japan ○ The Japanese are very formal people. 2. the language spoken in Japan ○ He has lived in Japan for some time and speaks quite good Japanese. ○ We bought a Japanese phrase book before we went to Japan.

③ jar /dʒɑ:/ noun a container for food such as jam, usually made of glass ○ There was some honey left in the bottom of the jar. ○ Open another jar of jam – this one is empty. ■ verb to produce an unpleasant effect ○ He tripped over the step, jarring his knee. ○ The drilling sound jarred on my ears. ○ Orange curtains will jar with purple cushions.

jargon /'dʒɔ:gən/ noun a special type of language used by a trade or profession or particular group of people jasmine /'dʒæzmin/ noun a plant with little white or yellow flowers which have a sweet smell jaundice /'dʒɔ:ndis/ noun a condition where there is too much bile in the blood, and the skin and the whites of the eyes become yellow jaundiced /'dʒɔ:ndist/ adj negative and tending to criticise things. Synonym cynical jaunt /dʒɔ:nt/ noun a short journey, especially for pleasure. Synonym outing jauntily /'dʒɔ:ntili/ adv in a happy way jaunty /'dʒɔ:nti/ adj happy and confident. Synonym carefree (NOTE: jauntier – jauntiest) javelin /'dʒæv(ə)lin/ noun a long spear used in battle or in sport jaw /dʒɔ:/ noun the bones in the face which hold the teeth and form the mouth □ upper jaw the part of the skull holding the top set of teeth jawbone /'dʒɔ:bən/ noun one of the two bones forming your jaw, usually the lower jaw jay /dʒei/ noun a brightly coloured bird, one of the crow family jaywalker /'dʒeiwə:kə/ noun a pedestrian who crosses a street without paying any attention to the traffic, or who does not cross a street at a pedestrian crossing jaywalking /'dʒeiwə:kɪŋ/ noun crossing a street without paying attention to the traffic jazz /dʒæz/ noun a type of music with a strong rhythm, and solo improvisations, first played in the southern United States jazz up /,dʒæz 'ʌp/ verb to make bright and attractive (informal) jazzy /'dʒæzi/ adj of a bright colour (slang). Synonym showy jealous /'dʒeləs/ adj feeling annoyed because you want something which belongs to someone else ○ John was jealous of Mark because all the girls fancied him. ○ She was jealous of his new car. ○ Her new boyfriend is very handsome – I'm jealous!

jealously /'dʒeləsli/ adv in a jealous way, keeping something so that no one else can get it jealousy /'dʒeləsli/ noun the feeling of being annoyed because someone has something which you want but do not have

② jeans /dʒi:nz/ plural noun trousers made of a type of strong cotton, often blue ○ I like wearing jeans better than wearing a skirt. ○

She came into the restaurant in her jeans. ○ He bought a new pair of jeans.

jeep /dʒi:p/ trademark a strong four-wheel drive vehicle used for travelling over rough ground, especially used by the army ○ The convoy of jeeps and tanks crossed slowly over the bridge.

jeer /dʒiə/ noun an unpleasant joke or criticism about someone ○ She left the stage in tears with the jeers of the audience ringing in her ears. ■ verb □ to jeer at someone to laugh at someone in an unpleasant way ○ Because he was fat he was often jeered at and bullied at school.

jell /dʒel/ verb (of liquid) to become a jelly ③ jelly /dʒeli/ noun 1. a type of sweet food which shakes, made with fruit flavouring ○ The children had fish fingers and chips followed by jelly and ice-cream. (NOTE: The plural is jellies. In the USA this is often referred to by the trademark Jell-O.) 2. □ to turn to jelly to shake and become weak ○ When he heard the sound of the bell his legs turned to jelly. 3. a type of jam made of fruit juice boiled with sugar ○ She loves peanut butter and blackcurrant jelly sandwiches.

③ jelly baby /dʒeli ˈbeɪbi/ noun a sweet of coloured jelly, shaped like a little person

jelly bean /dʒeli bi:n/ noun a sweet of coloured jelly, shaped like a bean jellyfish /dʒelɪfiʃ/ noun an animal with a body like jelly, which lives in the sea (NOTE: The plural is jellyfish.)

jeopardise /dʒepədəɪz/, jeopardize verb to be likely to harm

jeopardy /dʒepədɪ/ noun □ to be in jeopardy to be in danger ○ The management's attitude to safety has put us all in jeopardy. ○ The sale of the company has put thousands of jobs in jeopardy. □ his driving licence is in jeopardy he may lose his driving licence jerk /dʒɔ:k/ noun 1. a sudden sharp pull ○ He felt a jerk on the fishing line. 2. a stupid person ○ Don't ask that jerk anything! ■ verb to give something a sudden sharp pull ○ He jerked the rope.

jerkily /dʒɔ:kɪli/ adv with sudden sharp movements jerkin /dʒɔ:kɪn/ noun a short coat with no sleeves jerky /dʒɔ:ki/ adj abrupt, sudden. Synonym irregular jerry-built /dʒeri bilt/ adj which has been badly built at a low cost jersey /dʒɔ:zi/ noun 1. a close-fitting woollen sweater ○ She was knitting a pink jersey for the new baby. 2. a special shirt worn by a member of a sports team ○ After every game the players swapped jerseys with the other team.

Jerusalem artichoke /dʒə.ru:sələm ˈa:tɪ,ʃəkəʊk/ noun a tall plant which develops tubers like lumpy potatoes jest /dʒest/ (literary) noun something done or said to make people laugh ○ It started off as a jest but turned into something more serious. Synonym joke □ said in jest said as a joke ○ The remark was said half in jest, but I think he really meant it. ■ verb to make jokes ○ One should not jest about that sort of thing – it's very serious.

jet /dʒet/ noun 1. a long narrow stream of liquid or gas ○ A jet of water put out the flames. 2. an aircraft with jet engines ○ Jets flew low overhead. ■ verb to travel by jet plane ○ She jetted off to Los Angeles for a short holiday. ○ Nice airport was busy with stars jetting in for the Cannes Film Festival. (NOTE: jetting – jetted)

jet black /dʒet ˈblæk/ adj very black and shiny

③ jet engine /dʒet ˈendʒɪn/ noun an engine which gets its power from a jet of gas jet lag /dʒet læg/ noun the feeling of being extremely tired after a long journey by plane jetsam /dʒet'sæm/ noun things which have been thrown into the water from a boat. Synonym odds and ends (NOTE: no plural) jet set /dʒet set/ noun rich people from all round the world (informal) jet setter /dʒet ,setə/ noun a person who belongs to the jet set jet setting /dʒet ,setɪŋ/ adj referring to the jet set

Jet Ski /dʒet ski:/ trademark a jet-propelled vehicle for one person which travels across water jettison /dʒetɪs(ə)n/ verb to throw fuel from a plane, or goods from a ship into the sea to make it lighter. Synonym throw away jetty /dʒeti/ noun a small structure, e.g. at the side of a river, where boats can tie up (NOTE: The plural is jetties.)

Jew /dʒu:/ noun a member of the group of people who lived in Israel in ancient times or who believe in Judaism jewel /dʒu:əl/ noun a precious stone, such as a diamond jeweller /dʒu:ələ/ noun a person who makes or sells jewellery, and usually watches as well (NOTE: The US spelling is jeweler.)

② jewellery /dʒu:əlri/ noun ornaments to be worn, made from precious stones, gold, silver, etc. ○ The burglar stole all her jewellery. (NOTE: no plural. The US spelling is jewelery.)

Jewish /dʒu:ɪʃ/ adj 1. of Judaism 2. of Jews jibe /dʒaɪb/ noun an unpleasant remark (NOTE: The US spelling is gibe.)

jiffy /'dʒɪfi/ noun a very short time (informal). Synonym moment jig /dʒɪg/ noun 1. a type of fast lively dance ○ When he heard the news he did a little jig around the office. 2. music for this dance ○ The band started to play an Irish jig and everyone got up to dance. 3. a piece of equipment which helps to control a tool and holds the material being worked on ○ Set up the jig so that the holes will be drilled in exactly the same place in each piece of wood. ■ verb to jump up and down or to move about with quick nervous movements ○ The head teacher told the children to stop jiggling about and to stand still. (NOTE: jigging – jigged) jiggery-pokery /,dʒɪgəri 'pəʊkəri/ noun dishonest behaviour (informal)

jiggle /'dʒɪg(ə)l/ verb 1. to move quickly or nervously 2. to move something a little ○ If you jiggle the top a bit, it should come off fairly easily.

jigsaw /'dʒɪgɔ:/ noun 1. □ jigsaw (puzzle) a puzzle of odd-shaped pieces of wood or cardboard which when fitted together form a picture ○ As it's raining, let's stay indoors and try to do this huge jigsaw of the Houses of Parliament. 2. a saw with a thin blade for cutting designs out of wood ○ His electric drill has a jigsaw attachment.

jihad /dʒɪ'hæd/ noun a holy war by Muslims against people who do not believe in Islam

jilt /dʒɪlt/ verb suddenly to end a romantic or sexual relationship

jingle /'dʒɪŋg(ə)l/ noun 1. a sound made when little pieces of metal knock together ○ The jingle of tiny bells on the horse's harness. 2. a song with simple words or tune ■ verb to make a sound like pieces of metal knocking together ○ The doorbell jingled as he went into the shop.

jingoism /'dʒɪngəʊɪz(ə)m/ noun a strong feeling that your country is best. Synonym chauvinism jingoistic /,dʒɪngəʊ'ɪstɪk/ adj showing jingoism. Synonym chauvinistic jinx /dʒɪŋks/ noun something which brings bad luck. Synonym curse (NOTE: The plural is jinxes.)

jinxed /dʒɪŋkst/ adj affected by bad luck. Synonym unlucky

jitters /'dʒɪtəz/ noun (informal) □ to get or have the jitters to be nervous and unable to concentrate ○ I always get the jitters before an exam. □ to give someone the jitters to make someone nervous ○ All this talk of bombs gives me the jitters. ○ It was a day of jitters on the stock market as the news from Japan began to come in.

jittery /'dʒɪtəri/ adj nervous and unable to concentrate. Antonym calm jive /dʒaɪv/ noun a type of fast dance or music for this dance ■ verb to dance to jive music

③ Jnr /'dʒu:nɪə/ abbr junior (NOTE: The US spelling is Jr.)

① job /dʒɒb/ noun 1. regular work which you get paid for ○ She's got a job in the supermarket. ○ He's finding it difficult getting a job because he can't drive. ○ When the factory closed, hundreds of people lost their jobs. □ to be out of a job to lose your employment □ jobs for the boys the unfair practice of giving work to your friends or supporters (informal) ○ There'll be plenty of jobs for the boys when the new government comes in. 2. a piece of work ○ Don't sit down, there are a couple of jobs I want you to do. ○ He does all sorts of little electrical jobs around the house. □ to make a good job of something to do something well ○ They made a very good job of mending the table. 3. □ it's a good job that it's lucky that (informal) ○ It's a good job he can drive. ○ What a good job you brought your umbrella! ○ It's a good job you're not hungry, as there's nothing in the fridge. □ to give something up as a bad job to stop trying to do something ○ He tried to get the car to go, and in the end had to give it up as a bad job. □ just the job just the right thing, exactly what we need ○ That heavy hammer is just the job for breaking up concrete. 4. difficulty ○ I had a job trying to find your house. ○ What a job it was getting a hotel room at the time of the music festival! 5. a crime, especially stealing something ○ He was one of the gang who did the Italian job.

jobbing /'dʒɒbɪŋ/ adj (of a workman) doing small jobs which are paid for separately. Synonym casual

③ jobcentre /'dʒɒbsentə/ noun an official office which helps people to find work, e.g. by telling them about jobs which are available

job description /'dʒɒb dɪ,skrɪpjən/ noun an official document from a company which says what a job involves

③ jobless /'dʒɒbləs/ adj with no job. Synonym unemployed. Antonym employed ■ plural noun □ the jobless people who have no jobs job satisfaction /'dʒɒb sətɪs,fækʃən/ noun a feeling that you are happy in your work and pleased with the work you do job security /'dʒɒb sɪ,kjuərɪti/ noun a situation in which an employee is likely to keep his or her job until he retires jobseeker /'dʒɒbseɪ:kə/ noun an unemployed person who is looking for a job job-share /'dʒɒb ʃeə/ verb to share a single job with another person so that each of you works for part of the day or week job-sharing /'dʒɒb ,ʃeərɪŋ/ noun a situation where a job is shared by more than one person, each working part-time job specification /'dʒɒb ,speʃifi'keɪʃ(ə)n/ noun a very detailed description of what is involved in a job jockey /'dʒɒki/ noun a person who rides horses in races ○ He's an experienced jockey and knows how to handle a horse over a muddy racecourse. ○ He's the youngest jockey to ride in the Grand National. ■ verb □ to jockey for position to try to improve your position in relation to other people ○ There's a vacancy for managing director, and the sales director and the production director are jockeying for position.

jockstrap /'dʒɒkstræp/ noun a tight piece of underwear which male athletes wear to support the genitals, when playing sport jocular /'dʒɒkjurəl/ adj in a humorous way, treating things as a joke jocularity /,dʒɒpkju'laრiti/ noun good humour. Antonym solemnity jhdprous /'dʒɒdprouz/ plural noun trousers for wearing when horse riding, which are wide above the knee and narrow below it

joey /'dʒəʊi/ noun (in Australia) a young kangaroo

③ jog /dʒɒg/ noun 1. a rather slow run, especially when taken for exercise ○ She goes for a jog every morning. 2. a fairly slow running movement ○ He ran at a jog round the park. ■ verb 1. to run fairly slowly, especially for exercise ○ He jogged along the river bank for two miles. ○ She was listening to her personal stereo as she was jogging. 2. to move at a steady, but rather slow run ○ The train jogged through the suburbs, stopping at every station. 3. to push slightly ○ Someone jogged my elbow and I spilt my drink. □ to jog someone's memory to make someone remember ○ The police are hoping that the film from the security camera will jog people's memories.

jogger /'dʒɒgə/ noun a person who jogs for exercise

③ jogging /'dʒɒgɪŋ/ noun the practice of running in slow steady way for exercise □ to go jogging to run gently for exercise ○ They went jogging in the streets near their home.

john /dʒɒn/ noun US a toilet (informal)

① join /dʒɔɪn/ verb 1. to put things together ○ You have to join the two pieces of wood together. ○ The rooms were joined together by making a door in the wall. 2. to come together ○ Go on for about two hundred metres, until a road joins this one. ○ The two rivers join about four kilometres beyond the town. 3. to become a member of a club, group, etc. ○ After university, he is going to join the police. ○ She joined the army because she wanted to travel. 4. □ to join a firm to start work with a company □ he joined on January 1st he started work on the January 1st 5. to do something with someone ○ We're going to have a cup of coffee – would you like to join us? ○ Won't you join us for a game of golf? ■ noun a place where pieces are joined ○ Can you see the join where I added an extra piece of cloth?

joined-up /'dʒɔɪnd ʌp/ adj 1. used to describe handwriting in which each letter of a word is joined to the next, especially by children learning to write in this way 2. well-planned or with all its separate parts working well together, e.g. of government or a policy joiner /'dʒɔɪnə/ noun a person who builds things out of wood, especially windows and doors for houses

joinery /'dʒɔɪnəri/ noun the work done by a joiner

③ join in /,dʒɔɪn 'ɪn/ verb to take part in something done as a group. Synonym participate

① joint /dʒɔɪnt/ noun 1. a place where several pieces are attached, especially in building or woodwork ○ The joints of the drawer have worked loose. 2. a place where bones come together and can move, such as the knee or elbow ○ Her elbow joint hurt after her game of tennis. 3. a large piece of meat, especially for roasting ○ The joint of lamb was very tender. ○ We all sat round the table while Father carved the Sunday joint. 4. a club or restaurant ○ Let's go to Rick's joint. 5. a cigarette with marijuana ○ He smoked a couple of joints during the evening. ■ adj combined, with two or more things connected together. Synonym combined jointly /'dʒɔɪntli/ adv together with one or more other people

③ join up /,dʒɔɪn 'ʌp/ verb 1. to link things together ○ She's getting better at writing, and can do joined-up letters. 2. to join the army, navy or air force ○ He joined up when he was 18 and soon rose to become an officer.

joist /dʒɔɪst/ noun a horizontal beam which supports a ceiling or floorboards

② joke /dʒəuk/ noun a thing said or done to make people laugh ○ She poured water down his neck as a joke. ○ They all laughed at his jokes. ○ He told jokes all evening. ■ verb 1. to tell jokes 2. to say or do something to make people laugh ○ He used to joke about always being late for the office. Synonym kid □ he was only joking he did not mean it seriously □ you're joking! you must be joking! you are not being serious, are you? ○

He's just bought a new Rolls Royce – You must be joking, he's only the office boy!

joker /'dʒəʊkə/ noun an extra card, with the picture of a clown on it, used as a bonus in some card games

jokingly /'dʒəʊkɪŋli/ adv in a joking way

③ jolly /'dʒɒli/ adj happy, pleasant, enjoyable ○ It was marvellous to see all the jolly faces of the children. ○ Her birthday party was a very jolly affair. Synonym cheerful (NOTE: jollier – jolliest) ■ adv 1. very (used for emphasis) ○ It's jolly hard work carrying all those boxes up to the attic. 2. ○ If you don't want to pay the proper rate for the job, then you can jolly well do it yourself. ■ verb (informal) □ to jolly someone along to encourage someone by keeping him happy ○ We tried to jolly the children along, but they just walked slower and slower.

jolt /dʒəʊlt/ noun a sudden shake or shock, or violent push ○ The train stopped with a jolt. ■ verb 1. to move with sudden movements ○ The train jolted twice before moving off. 2. to push or to shake suddenly ○ The people in the back of the truck were jolted about from side to side as we bumped over the rocky track. 3. to give a sudden shock to ○ The sound of the whistle jolted her into action. □ to jolt someone out of to make someone stop doing something ○ Getting married will jolt him out of his lazy bachelor habits.

Joneses /'dʒəʊnzɪz/ plural noun an expression used to refer to somebody's next-door neighbours, especially with the idea that they own things which other people would like or live in a way which other people want to copy joss stick /'dʒɒs stɪk/ noun a stick with a special substance on it, which burns slowly giving off a pleasant smell jostle /'dʒɒst(ə)l/ verb to push or to knock into people, especially in a crowd □ to jostle for position to push others so as to get into a good position ○ The cars on the starting line were jostling for position.

jot /dʒɒt/ noun a very small amount (dated) ○ Don't worry, it doesn't make a jot of difference. ○ There wasn't a jot of truth in the article. Synonym iota ■ verb □ to jot something down to make quick notes about something ○ He jotted down her phone number.

jotter /'dʒɒtə/ noun a small pad of paper for making notes jottings /'dʒɒtɪŋz/ plural noun notes written down at random joule /dʒu:l/ noun a unit of measurement of heat or energy, equal to the heat needed to raise the temperature of 1 g of water by 1 °C journal /'dʒɜ:n(ə)l/ noun 1. a book where you write details of things that you want to remember ○ He kept a journal during his visit to China. ○ She wrote a journal of the gradual progress of her illness. 2. a magazine, especially one on a learned subject ○ She edits the journal of the Historical Society. 3. a book for recording each day's business ○ She wrote the day's sales in the sales journal.

③ journalism /'dʒɜ:n(ə)lɪz(ə)m/ noun the profession of writing for newspapers or magazines, or reporting on events for radio or TV

③ journalist /'dʒɜ:n(ə)lɪst/ noun a person who writes for newspapers or magazines, or reports on events for radio or TV ○ Journalists asked the policeman some very awkward questions. ○ Film stars were greeted by journalists from around the world at the première of the new film.

journalistic /,dʒɜ:nə'listɪk/ adj referring to journalism. Synonym reporting ② journey /'dʒɜ:nɪ/ noun an occasion when you travel somewhere, usually a long distance ○ It's at least two days' journey from here. ○ They went on a train journey across China. ○ She has a difficult journey to work every day – she has to change buses twice. ■ verb to travel ○ They journeyed many miles to find the treasure. ○ The book tells the story of a man who journeyed from Italy to China in the 13th century.

joyful /'dʒɔ:fl(ə)l/ adj good-humoured, happy. Synonym cheerful. Antonym glum

③ joy /dʒɔ:ɪ/ noun very great happiness joyful /'dʒɔ:fl(ə)l/ adj very happy joyfully /'dʒɔ:fl(ə)li/ adv very happily joyous /'dʒɔ:ʊəs/ adj very happy joypad /'dʒɔ:pæd/ noun a control for a computer game which you hold in your hand joyriding /'dʒɔ:raɪdɪŋ/ noun the crime of high-speed driving in a stolen car joystick /'dʒɔ:stɪk/ noun 1. a rod which controls the movements of an aircraft ○ Pull on the joystick to make the plane rise. 2. a device that allows the user to move the cursor round the screen by moving an upright arm

JP abbr justice of the peace

③ Jr abbr junior

jubilant /'dʒu:bɪlənt/ adj full of happiness, e.g. because of winning something. Synonym triumphant. Antonym disappointed jubilation /,dʒu:bɪ'lɪʃ(ə)n/ noun a show of great happiness. Synonym elation jubilee /'dʒu:bili/ noun a celebration on the date of an important event which happened in the past. Synonym anniversary

Judaism /'dʒu:deɪɪz(ə)m/ noun 1. the religion of the Jewish people, which is based on the texts called the Torah and Talmud 2. the Jewish way of life judder /'dʒʌdə/ noun (of a machine) a shaking movement ○ For some reason, there's a judder when I put the car into third gear. Synonym shudder ■ verb (of a machine) to shake ○ The ferry juddered as it slowed down and reached the pier. ○ He brought the car to a juddering halt.

② judge /dʒʌdʒ/ noun 1. a person whose job is to make legal decisions in a court of law ○ He was convicted for stealing, but the judge let him off with a small fine. 2. a person who decides which person or thing should win a competition ○ The three judges of the beauty contest couldn't agree. 3. a person who makes sensible judgments ○ He's a good judge of character. ■ verb 1. to make decisions in situations such as a court of law or a competition ○ He was judged guilty. ○ Her painting was judged the best and she won first prize. 2. to guess at a value or to make a judgment about a situation ○ To be a good driver you need to be able to judge distances well. ○ The Senator judged it would be impossible for him to win the Presidency so he dropped out of the race.

Judgement Day /dʒʌdʒmənt dei/ noun a day when dead people are judged by God judgmental /dʒʌdʒ'mənt(ə)l/ adj tending to judge or criticise people judicial /dʒu:ʃiʃ(ə)l/ adj referring to a legal process or to a court of law judicious /dʒu:ʃiʃəs/ adj based on good judgment. Synonym sensible. Antonym foolish judo /'dʒu:do/ noun an Olympic sport, derived from the traditional Japanese art of fighting without weapons between two people

③ jug /dʒʌg/ noun a container with a handle, used for pouring liquids

juggernaut /'dʒʌgənə:t/ noun a very large truck

juggle /dʒʌg(ə)l/ verb 1. to throw and catch several things such as balls, so that most of them are in the air at the same time ○ Try and juggle four balls at once. 2. to keep changing things or arrange them in a complicated way ○ I will have to juggle my meetings so that I can fit everyone in. ○ She's trying to juggle her investments to get the best interest rate.

juggler /'dʒʌglə/ noun a person who juggles juggling /'dʒʌglɪŋ/ noun the art of throwing things in the air and catching them, so that several are in the air at the same time jugular² noun one of the veins running down the side of the neck

② juice /dʒu:s/ noun 1. a liquid from fruit, vegetables or meat ○ They charged me £1 for two glasses of orange juice. ○ She had a glass of grapefruit juice for breakfast. 2. □ to stew in your own juice to suffer because of your own mistakes ○ Don't bother about him

— just let him stew in his own juice for a while.

juicy /'dʒu:si/ adj full of juice (NOTE: juicier – juiciest)

jukebox /'dʒu:kbo:k/ noun a coin-operated machine which plays records or CDs

① July /dʒu'laɪ/ noun the seventh month of the year, between June and August ○ July 23 ○ She was born in July – her birthday is July 23rd. ○ We went to Spain last July. ○ July is always one of the busiest months for holidays. (NOTE: July 23rd or July 23: say 'July the twenty-third' or 'the twenty-third of July'; American English: 'July twenty-third').

jumble /'dʒʌmbəl/ noun a confused mess ○ His clothes were lying in a jumble on the floor. ○ A jumble of thoughts raced through my mind. ■ verb □ to jumble up to mix; to confuse ○ The books are all jumbled up – can you sort them out? ○ I wish he spent more time on his reports – the details are always rather jumbled up. ○ His thoughts were all jumbled up in his head.

jumble sale /'dʒʌmbəl seɪl/ noun a sale of old clothes and other things which people no longer want, organised by a club or organisation to raise money (NOTE: The US term is rummage sale.)

jumbo /'dʒʌmbəʊ/ noun a child's name for an elephant ○ Let's go to the zoo to see the jumbos. ■ adj very large ○ He ordered jumbo sausages and chips. ○ She bought a jumbo box of fireworks. Antonym tiny jumbo jet /'dʒʌmbəʊ dʒet/, jumbo /'dʒʌmbəʊ/ noun the Boeing 747, a very large jet aircraft

① jump /dʒʌmp/ noun a sudden movement into the air ○ The jump was higher than she thought and she hurt her leg. □ long or high jump a sports competition where you see who can jump the furthest or highest ○ She won a gold medal in the high jump. ■ verb 1. to go suddenly into the air off the ground ○ Quick, jump on that bus – it's going to Oxford Circus! ○ The horse jumped over the fence. ○ She jumped down from the chair. 2.

□ to jump the gun to start before it is your turn, before it is the right time □ to jump the queue to go in front of someone who has been waiting longer than you have 3. to move upwards suddenly ○ The price of oil has jumped from $15.50 to $30.00. 4. to make a sudden movement because you are frightened ○ She jumped when I came up behind her quietly and said 'Boo!'. ○ When they fired the gun, it made me jump. 5. to miss something ○ I think I jumped a page in my book.

③ jump at /dʒʌmp æt/ verb to accept enthusiastically

③ jumper /'dʒʌmpə/ noun a warm woollen knitted sweater jump start /'dʒʌmp sta:t/ verb to start a car engine when the battery is flat by connecting the battery to the battery of another car. Compare bump start jumpsuit /'dʒʌmpsju:t/ noun a piece of clothing made of trousers and top joined together jumpy /'dʒʌmpi/ adj nervous and excited (NOTE: jumpier – jumpiest)

Jun. abbr junior

③ junction /'dʒʌŋkʃən/ noun a place where railway lines or roads meet □ Go as far as the next junction and you will see the library on your right. □ Leave the motorway at Junction 5.

juncture /'dʒʌŋktʃən/ noun a point in time

① June /dʒu:n/ noun the sixth month of the year, between May and July □ June 17 □ She was born in June: her birthday is June 17th. □ Last June we had a holiday in Canada. (NOTE: June 17th or June 17: say 'June the seventeenth' or 'the seventeenth of June' or in US English: 'June seventeenth'.)

jungle /'dʒʌŋgəl/ noun thick tropical forest which is difficult to travel through

③ junior /'dʒu:nɪə/ adj 1. younger, less important □ He was the junior member of the team. 2. for younger children □ She sings in the junior choir. □ He plays for the junior hockey team. ■ noun 1. US a student in his or her third year at college 2. a son in a family who has the same name as his father □ John Smith, Junior junior high school /'dʒu:nɪə haɪ/ noun a school in the US for children from 12 to 15 years old junior school /'dʒu:nɪə sku:l/ noun a school for children from 7 to 11 years old juniper /'dʒu:nɪpə/ noun a small evergreen tree of the Northern Hemisphere, with berries which are used as a flavouring

③ junk /dʒʌŋk/ noun 1. useless articles, rubbish □ Don't keep that – it's junk. □ You should throw away all that junk you keep under your bed. (NOTE: no plural in this meaning) 2. a large Chinese sailing boat □ Hong Kong harbour was full of junks.

junk food /'dʒʌŋk fu:d/ noun prepared food which is not healthy, e.g. because it contains a lot of fat or sugar junkie /'dʒʌŋki/ noun (slang) 1. a person who is addicted to an illegal drug □ The park is full of junkies and dossers at night. 2. a person who is very enthusiastic about something and cannot get enough of it □ I'm something of a crossword junkie. □ Some Internet junkies spend a fortune on telephone bills.

junk mail /'dʒʌŋk meil/ noun advertising material sent through the post, often thrown away immediately by the people who receive it because they do not want it

③ junk shop /'dʒʌŋk ſɒp/ noun a shop selling useless old articles

junta /'dʒʌntə/ noun a ruling group of ministers, a government which has taken power by force (NOTE: used mainly of military governments. The word is correctly pronounced as /'hʊntə/ but this pronunciation is not often used in English.)

Jupiter /'dʒʊpɪtə/ noun the largest planet in the solar system, more than eleven times the size of the earth juridical /dʒu'ridɪk(ə)l/ adj referring to the law and judges jurisdiction /dʒu'ərɪʃn'dɪkʃən/ noun legal power over someone or something □ within the jurisdiction of the court in the legal power of the court □ outside the jurisdiction of the court not covered by the legal power of the court □ The matter is outside the jurisdiction of the court.

jurist /'dʒuərɪst/ noun a person who specialises in the study of law juror /'dʒuərə/ noun a member of a jury

jury /'dʒuəri/ noun 1. a group of twelve citizens who are sworn to decide whether someone is guilty or innocent after hearing the evidence given in a court of law □ The jury brought in a verdict of not guilty. 2. □ the jury is still out on this no one is sure what the result will be 3. a group of judges in a competition □ He's been chosen to serve on the jury for the literary prize.

jury service /'dʒuəri'_ſɜ:vɪs/ noun a service which all citizens may be asked to perform, to sit on a jury

① just /dʒʌst/ adv 1. exactly □ Is that too much sugar? – No, it's just right. □ Thank you, that's just what I was looking for. □ Just how many students have got computers? □ What time is it? – It's just seven o'clock. □ He's just fifteen – his birthday was yesterday.

2. □ just enough enough but no more □ She had just enough money to pay the bill. □ He had just enough time to get dressed before the police arrived. □ just so exactly as it should be (informal) □ She always wants everything to be just so. 3. showing a very small quantity in space or time □ Your umbrella is just by the door. □ Don't come in just yet – we're not ready. □ Can you wait just a minute? 4. showing the immediate past or future □ The train has just arrived from Paris. □ She had just got into her bath when the phone rang. □ I don't want any coffee, thank you, I'm just going out. □ Thanks for calling – I was just going to phone you. 5. only □ We're just good friends, nothing more. □ I've been to Berlin just once. ■ adj fair, without giving anyone an unfair advantage ◎ The decision of the court was just.

just about /dʒʌst ə'baʊt/ adv nearly, more or less ◎ I've just about finished my homework. ◎ The meal's just about ready. ■

□ just about to do something going to do something very soon ◎ We were just about to leave. ◎ They were just about to go to bed when someone knocked on the door.

just as /dʒʌst əz/ adv 1. at the same time ◎ Just as I got into the car there was a loud bang. 2. in exactly the same way ◎ The film is just as good as the book. ◎ It is just as hot inside the house as it is outside. ◎ She loves her cats just as other people love their children.

② justice /dʒʌstɪs/ noun fair treatment in law ◎ Justice must always be seen to be done. □ to bring someone to justice to start a legal case against someone □ rough justice judging someone in a rough and unfair way justifiable /dʒʌstɪfaɪəb(ə)l/ adj which can be justified. Antonym undefensible justifiably /dʒʌstɪfaɪəblɪ/ adv in a justifiable way

② justification /dʒʌstɪfɪ'keɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. a reason which shows that something has been done correctly ◎ What was his justification for doing that? ◎ They tried to find some justification for what they had done. 2. (in typing and printing) arranging the words in the lines so that the right-hand edge is straight ◎ An American hyphenation and justification program will not work with British English spellings.

justified /dʒʌstɪfaɪd/ adj shown to be right

② justify /dʒʌstɪfaɪ/ verb 1. to show that something is fair, to prove that something is right ◎ How can you justify spending all that money? ◎ How can you justify your behaviour? 2. □ the end justifies the means if your final aim is good or honourable, you are right to do anything that is necessary to achieve it 3. (in printing) to space letters and numbers on the page so that the ends of lines are straight ◎ The text should be fully justified.

justly /dʒʌstli/ adv 1. with justice ◎ She was justly punished for her crime. 2. with good reason ◎ He is justly seen as the best British Chancellor this century.

just now /dʒʌst 'naʊ/ adv 1. at the present time ◎ We're very busy in the office just now. 2. a short time ago ◎ I saw her just now in the post office.

jut /dʒʌt/ verb □ to jut (out) to stick out, usually horizontally ◎ My hotel room has a balcony jutting out over a busy main road. ◎ The cliff juts out into the lake.

jute /dʒu:t/ noun a substance which comes from tropical plants and is used for making rope or cloth

③ juvenile /dʒu:vənəl/ adj 1. referring to young people ◎ Young offenders are tried before a juvenile court. 2. silly, like a young person ◎ The new comedy series on TV is really juvenile. ■ noun a young person, officially, one under seventeen years of age ◎ The police entered the club and arrested four people, two of them juveniles.

juvenile delinquency /dʒu:vənəlɪ dɪ'lnkwənsi/ noun crimes committed by young people juvenile delinquent /dʒu:vənəlɪ dɪ'lnkwənt/ noun a young person who commits minor crimes, especially crimes against property juxtapose /dʒʌkstə'pəʊz/ verb to place side by side, so as to show a difference juxtaposition /dʒʌkstəpə'zɪʃ(ə)n/ noun being side by side or very close together

K

k /keɪ/, K noun the eleventh letter of the alphabet, between J and L

③ K abbr one thousand □ £20K twenty thousand pounds

kaleidoscope /kə'laɪdəskəʊp/ noun 1. a toy formed of a tube with mirrors which reflect small pieces of coloured material and make patterns when you move it while looking into it 2. something which has a series of patterns and colours ○ The kaleidoscope of autumn colours which you only see in parts of North America.

kaleidoscopic /kə,laɪdə'skɒpɪk/ adj like a kaleidoscope, with bright colours which change all the time kangaroo /kæŋgə'ru:/ noun a large Australian animal, of which the female carries its young in a pouch kangaroo court /,kæŋgə'rʊ: kɔ:t/ noun a court that is not official, set up by a group of people to judge one of their members karaoke /kær'i'əʊki/ noun entertainment, coming originally from Japan, in which people sing to recorded music karat /'kærət/ noun US a measure of the quality of gold. Pure gold is 24 karats. (NOTE: The British spelling is carat.)

karate /ka'ra:tɪ/ noun a Japanese style of fighting, where you hit sharp, quick blows with the side of the hand or kicks with the feet karma /'ka:mə/ noun 1. the Hindu and Buddhist belief that the quality of people's current and future lives is determined by their behaviour in this and past lives 2. the atmosphere which some people can feel is present in a place, situation, person, or object 3. destiny or fate kayak /'kaiæk/ noun a type of small boat which is pointed at both ends, and almost completely covered, with only a narrow opening for one person to sit in kebab /kɪ'bæb/ noun small pieces of meat or vegetables, cooked on a long metal stick keel /ki:l/ noun 1. a long beam in the bottom of a ship, on which the framework is built ○ The dolphins swam under the keel and came up on the other side of the ship. 2. □ on an even keel steady and not likely to change suddenly ○ After the huge fluctua- tions in the exchange rate in recent weeks, the pound is back on an even keel now. ■ verb □ to keel over to fall over (informal) ○ One minute she was sitting and talking happily, the next minute she keeled over onto the floor.

② keen /ki:n/ adj 1. □ keen on something or someone liking something or someone, enthusiastic about something ○ He's keen on keeping fit – he goes running every morning. ○ I am not very keen on classical music. ○ I don't think she's very keen on her new maths teacher. □ keen as mustard very keen (informal) ○ The new group of trainees are good to work with, they're keen as mustard. 2. very sensitive ○ Bats have a keen sense of hearing. (NOTE: keener – keenest) keenly /'kɪ:nli/ adv sharply, to a great degree keenness /'ki:nəs/ noun the fact of being keen

① keep /kɪ:p/ verb 1. to have for a long time or for ever ○ Can I keep the newspaper I borrowed from you? ○ I don't want that book any more, you can keep it. ○ The police kept my gun and won't give it back. 2. to continue to do something ○ The clock kept going even after I dropped it on the floor. ○ He had to keep smiling so that people would think he was pleased. ○ Keep quiet or they'll hear you. ○ Luckily the weather kept fine for the fair. ○ The food will keep warm in the oven. 3. to have or put something in a particular place ○ I keep my car keys in my pocket. ○ Where do you keep the paper for the laser printer? 4. to make someone or something stay in a place or state ○ It's cruel to keep animals in cages. ○ I was kept late at the office. ○ They kept us waiting for half an hour. ○ We put the plates in the oven to keep them warm. 5. to prevent someone from doing something or from going somewhere ○ She kept him from going out and playing football. ○ He kept her from seeing her friends. □ what kept you? why are you so late? (informal) 6. to stay □ let's keep in touch we should continue to meet or write to each other □ kept someone company stayed with someone □ to keep an eye on to watch carefully ○ He's keeping an eye on the shop

while I'm away. □ to keep your ear to the ground to follow what is happening and know all about something 7. □ to keep a diary to write notes every day about what has happened ○ She kept a diary of her holiday in Spain. 8. (of food) to stay in good condition and not to go bad ○ Raspberries don't keep. (NOTE: keeps – keeping – kept /kept/) ■ noun 1. a central tower, the strongest part of a medieval castle 2. the amount of money that you need to live on □ she doesn't earn her keep she doesn't earn enough money to pay for her food and lodgings 3. □ for keeps for ever (informal)

③ keep back /ki:p 'bæk/ verb 1. to hold on to something which you should give to someone ○ They kept back £20 from the deposit to cover damage to the carpet. 2. □ to keep something back from someone not to tell someone information which you could give to them ○ I have the feeling that she's keeping something back from us.

③ keep down /ki:p 'daʊn/ verb 1. to keep at a low level ○ Keep your voice down, the police will hear us! 2. to bend down in order to hide from someone ○ Keep down behind the wall so that they won't see us.

keeper /'ki:pə/ noun 1. a person in charge of a certain type of animal in a zoo ○ an elephant keeper 2. a person in charge of a section of a museum ○ The keeper of Roman coins in the British Museum. 3. same as goalkeeper (sport) 4. a fruit which can be kept in good condition for a long time ○ You should eat those pears immediately as they are not good keepers.

keep-fit /ki:p 'fɪt/ adj using exercises to keep you fit keeping /'ki:pɪŋ/ noun □ in keeping with fitting in with, matching ○ The dinner plates are antiques, in keeping with the furniture in the dining room.

③ keep off /ki:p 'ɒf/ verb 1. not to walk on ○ Keep off the grass! 2. not to use ○ If he can keep off drink, his health will improve.

① keep on /ki:p 'ɒn/ verb to continue to do something. Antonym stop □ to keep on about something to talk all the time about something

③ keep on at /ki:p 'ɒn ət/ verb to criticise someone all the time (informal). Synonym nag □ she keeps on at me about getting a job she tells me all the time that I should get a job

① keep out /ki:p 'aʊt/ verb 1. to stop someone going in ○ There were 'Keep Out!' notices round the building site. ○ We put up notices telling people to keep their dogs out of the field where the lambs are. 2. not to get involved ○ He kept out of the quarrel. ○ Try to keep out of trouble with the police. □ to keep out of the way of someone to make sure you avoid someone ○ It would be best to keep out of her way while she's angry.

keepsake /'ki:pseɪk/ noun an object which you keep because it reminds you of the person who gave it to you. Synonym memento

③ keep to /'ki:p tu:/ verb 1. to stay in a position ○ When you drive in France, remember to keep to the right. 2. not to move away from a subject ○ Let's keep to the subject of widening the motorway. 3. □ to keep something to yourself to keep something secret, not to talk about something ○ He doesn't want to talk about his illness, he'd rather keep it to himself. □ to keep yourself to yourself to avoid other people ○ They were a quiet couple and kept themselves to themselves.

① keep up /ki:p 'ʌp/ verb 1. to make something stay at the same high level ○ He finds it very difficult to keep up his German. ○ They won't be able to keep up that speed for very long. □ keep it up! continue doing what you doing! ○ You're doing very well – keep it up! 2. to prevent someone from going to sleep or to bed ○ The noise from the street kept us up all night.

① keep up with /,ki:p 'ʌp wɪð/ verb 1. to go at the same speed ○ My foot hurts, that's why I can't keep up with the others. ○ His salary hasn't kept up with the cost of living. □ to keep up with the Joneses to try to do the same things as your neighbours or friends to show that you have as much money as they have 2. to keep yourself informed about ○ Have you been keeping up with the news from Russia?

keg /keg/ noun a small round container for liquid, especially alcohol. Synonym barrel kennel /'ken(ə)l/ noun a small house for a dog

③ kept /kept/ □ keep kerb /kɜ:b/ noun the stone edge of a path along the side of a road (NOTE: The US spelling is curb.)

kerbstone /'kɜ:bstəʊn/ noun one of the stones forming a kerb kernel /'kɜ:n(ə)l/ noun 1. the softer inside part of a nut which you can eat ○ Squirrels bite into nuts to get at the kernel. 2. the centre, the essential part ○ At the heart of every classical myth is a kernel of truth. (NOTE: Do not confuse with colonel.)

kerosene /'kerəsɪ:n/ noun especially US a type of thin oil, e.g. used in lights or heaters kestrel /'kestrel/ noun a type of bird similar to a small falcon ketchup /'ketʃəp/ noun a tomato sauce (NOTE: Another US spelling is catsup.)

kettle /'ket(ə)l/ noun a container with a lid and a spout, used for boiling water □ to put the kettle on to start heating the water in a kettle ○ I've just put the kettle on so we can all have a cup of tea. □ the kettle's boiling the water in the kettle is boiling. ♦ different

① key /ki:/ noun 1. a piece of metal used to open a lock ○ I can't start the car, I've lost the key. ○ Where did you put the front door key? 2. one of the moving parts which you push down with your fingers on something such as a computer or piano ○ The 'F' key always sticks. ○ There are sixty-four keys on the keyboard. 3. an explanation of a problem ○ The key to the signs is written under the diagram. 4. a system of musical tones ○ The symphony is written in the key of F major. ■ adj most important ○ The key person in the team is the goalkeeper. ○ The key person in the company is the sales manager. ○ Oil is a key industry. ■ verb to type letters or numbers on a keyboard ○ She keyed in the data. Synonym input

② keyboard /'ki:bɔ:d/ noun a set of keys on something such as a computer or piano ○ She spilled her coffee on the computer keyboard. ○ He practises on the keyboard every day. ■ verb to put data into a computer, using a keyboard ○ She was keyboarding the figures. Synonym type keyborde /'ki:bɔ:də/ noun a person who keyboards data into a computer keyed up /'ki:d 'ʌp/ adj nervous and tense (informal). Antonym relaxed keyhole /'ki:həʊl/ noun a hole in a lock which you put a key into keyhole surgery /'ki:həʊl ,sɜ:dʒəri/ noun a type of medical operation where very small medical instruments are sent into the body through a thin tube keynote /'ki:nəʊt/ noun a main subject ○ The keynote of the meeting was the need for political compromise.

keynote speech /'ki:nəʊt spi:tʃ/ noun the main speech at a large meeting such as a conference keypad /'ki:pæd/ noun a set of special keys on a computer keyboard, e.g. the number keys key ring /'ki: riŋ/ noun a ring on which you can put several keys to keep them together ○ The garage gave me a key ring with their telephone number on it.

keyword /'ki:wɜ:d/ noun 1. a word used as a reference point for further information or as a guide to show you what is contained in a document 2. a series of letters and numbers, often in the form of a common word, which has a special meaning for a computer database or programming or command language

③ kg abbr kilogram

khaki /'ka:kɪ/ noun a dull yellow-brown cloth used for soldiers' uniforms ○ The troops wore khaki uniforms. ■ adj of a dull yellow-brown colour ○ I don't like those dull khaki cushions in the living room.

kibbutz /'kɪ'bɒts/ noun a type of farm in Israel (NOTE: The plural is kibbutzim /,kɪ'bʊt'si:m/.)

② kick /kɪk/ noun 1. the act of hitting with your foot ○ The goalkeeper gave the ball a kick. 2. a feeling of excitement ○ He gets a kick out of watching a football match on TV. □ did it for kicks did it to get some excitement 3. a strong effect ○ My! This drink has a kick in it! 4. the strong backward movement of a gun when you fire it ○ Watch out, this rifle has a powerful kick and can hurt your shoulder. ■ verb 1. to hit something with your foot ○ He kicked the ball into the net. ○ She kicked her little brother. 2. □ to kick the habit to get rid of a bad habit (informal) ○ I wish he'd kick the habit of whistling while he works. ○ He doesn't smoke any more – he kicked the habit a couple of months ago. ♦ bucket kickback /'kɪkba:k/ noun an amount of money paid illegally to someone who helps a business deal. Synonym bribe kick in /,kɪk 'ɪn/ verb 1. to make something open by kicking it ○ The police kicked the door in. 2. to start to have an effect ○ The car really moves when the turbocharger kicks in. ③ kick off /,kɪk 'ɒf/ verb 1. to start a game of football ○ They kicked off at 3.00 and by half-time there was still no score. 2. to start ○ Let's kick off with a discussion about modern painters.

kick-off /'kɪk ɒf/ noun the start of a football game

③ kick out /,kɪk 'aʊt/ verb to get rid of someone (informal)

kick start /'kɪk sta:t/ noun a pedal on a motorbike that you press down with your foot in order to start the engine ○ You'll need the kick start on cold mornings. ■ verb 1. to start a motorbike by pressing down on the pedal ○ He kick started the engine. 2. to make something start or start again ○ The government's plans to kick start the economy.

③ kick up /,kɪk 'ʌp/ verb (informal) □ to kick up a fuss to make a noisy protest about something or to have an argument ○ The kids are only messing about – there's no need to kick up a fuss by calling the police.

① kid /kɪd/ noun 1. a child ○ There were a few school kids on their bicycles. ○ I saw your kids going off on the bus this morning. ○ They've been married a few years, and have got a couple of kids. 2. a young goat ○ A mother goat and two little white kids. 3. a very soft leather made from the skin of a goat ○ He wore a pair of kid gloves. □ to treat someone with kid gloves to treat someone very carefully (informal) ○ He needs to be treated with kid gloves so as not to upset him. ■ verb to make someone believe something which is not true □ I was only kidding I did not mean it □ no kidding? is it really true?

kiddie /'kɪdɪ/ noun a small child (informal)

③ kidnap /'kɪdnæp/ verb to take someone away illegally and keep them prisoner. Synonym abduct (NOTE: kidnapping – kidnapped)

kidnapper /'kɪdnæpə/ noun a person who kidnaps someone

③ kidney /'kɪdnɪ/ noun 1. one of a pair of organs in animals that clean the blood and remove waste from it 2. this organ from an animal such as a lamb or pig, used as food ○ steak and kidney pie

kidney bean /'kɪdnɪ bi:n/ noun a type of bean with reddish seeds which look a little like kidneys

① kill /kɪl/ verb 1. to make someone or something die ○ He was sentenced to death for killing his wife. ○ The drought has killed all the crops. ○ The car hit a cat and killed it. ○ Six people were killed in the plane crash. 2. □ to kill time to spend time while waiting for something important ○ I killed some time waiting for the train by having a coffee. □ to kill two birds with one stone to get two successful results from one action ○ While I'm in London for the conference I could kill two birds with one stone and visit my parents. □ my feet are killing me my feet are hurting very much (informal) □ he was killing himself laughing he was laughing very much (informal) killer /'kɪlə/ noun 1. a person who kills ○ The police are still hunting for the killer. 2. which kills ○ a killer flu virus

killer whale /'kɪlə weɪl/ noun a medium-sized black and white whale which eats fish and seals

killing /'kɪlɪŋ/ noun 1. the process of putting a person or animal to death ○ The police are investigating the killing of the tourists. ○ There have been reports of killings in the villages. ○ The killing of rhinos has been banned. 2. □ to make a killing to make a very large profit ○ He made a killing on the stock market. ■ adj very funny ○ I thought it was killing, but no one else laughed at all.

killjoy /'kɪldʒɔɪ/ noun a person who stops other people from enjoying themselves. Synonym spoilsport kiln /kɪln/ noun an oven for making objects from clay hard enough to last

③ kilo /'ki:ləʊs/ abbr kilogram (NOTE: The plural is kilos.)

kilobyte /'kɪləbət/ noun a unit of storage for a computer equal to 1,024 bytes

③ kilogram /'kɪləgræm/ noun a measure of weight equal to one thousand grams (NOTE: written kg after figures: 20kg)

③ kilometre /'kɪlə,mi:tə/ noun one thousand metres □ the car has just had its 100,000 kilometre service the car has been checked by the garage after having travelled 100,000 kilometres (NOTE: The US spelling is kilometer.)

kilt /kɪlt/ noun a skirt, usually of tartan cloth, worn by men in Scotland, and also by women kimono /kɪ'mo:nəʊ/ noun a long, loose dress or coat traditionally worn by Japanese people (NOTE: The plural is kimonos.)

kin /kɪn/ noun □ next of kin a person's nearest relative ○ After the fatal accident, the police informed the next of kin. ○ Names of the victims will not be released until their next of kin have been informed. ♦ kith and kin

① kind /kɪnd/ adj friendly, helpful, thinking about other people ○ It's very kind of you to offer to help. ○ How kind of you to invite him to your party! ○ You should always be kind to little children. ○ He's a kind old gentleman. Synonym caring. Antonym inhumane (NOTE: kinder – kindest) ■ noun 1. a type ○ A butterfly is a kind of insect. ○ We have several kinds of apples in our garden. ○ We discussed all kinds of things. 2. □ kind of in a certain way (informal) ○ I was kind of annoyed when she told me that.

kindergarten /'kɪndəgə:tən/ noun a school for little children

kindhearted /,kɪnd'hæ:tid/ adj kind and thoughtful towards other people

kindle /'kɪndlə/ verb 1. to make something catch fire ○ A cigarette end must have kindled the dead leaves. 2. to make someone start to feel something ○ The aim of the class is to kindle an interest in art.

kindling /'kɪndlɪŋ/ noun material such as small pieces of wood, used for starting a fire

kindly /'kɪndlɪ/ adj thoughtful and pleasant ○ A kindly neighbour brought him soup when he was ill. Synonym friendly ■ adv 1. in a thoughtful or pleasant way ○ He behaved very kindly towards me. □ not to take kindly to not to like ○ She doesn't take kindly to being told she's fat. 2. please, if you don't mind ○ Kindly shut the door. ○ Customers are kindly requested to pay at the cash desk.

③ kindness /'kɪndnəs/ noun 1. the quality of being kind ○ She was touched by his kindness. Synonym compassion. Antonym cruelty 2. a kind act kindred spirit /,kɪndrəd 'spɪrɪt/ noun a person who thinks in the same way as you do

① king /kɪŋ/ noun 1. a man who governs a country by right of birth ○ The king and queen came to visit the town. (NOTE: king is spelt with a capital letter when used with a name or when referring to a particular person: King Henry VIII) 2. the main piece in chess ○ She moved her knight to place his king in check. 3. (in cards) the card with the face of a bearded man, coming after the ace and before the queen in value ○ He knew he could win when he drew the king of spades. 4. a person in the top position ○ He's king of the pop music scene. ○ The lion is king of the jungle.

③ kingdom /'kɪŋdəm/ noun 1. the land ruled over by a king or queen ○ England is part of the United Kingdom. ○ He gave her a book of fairy stories about a magic kingdom. 2. a part of the world of nature ○ the animal kingdom 3. □ till kingdom come for ever, for a very long time (informal) ○ On Saturday mornings you can wait till kingdom come to be served.

kingfisher /'kɪŋfɪʃə/ noun a small bright blue bird that dives for fish kingpin /'kɪŋpɪn/ noun the main person in an organisation (informal) king-size /'kɪŋ saɪz/ adj bigger than the usual size

kink /kɪŋk/ noun 1. a twist in something that should be straight ○ Can you straighten the flex, it's got a kink in it. 2. a peculiar mental state ○ He has a kink about women's underwear.

kinky /'kɪŋki/ adj sexually odd or strange kinship /'kɪnsɪp/ noun 1. the relationship that exists between people in the same family 2. a connection through common characteristics or a common origin kiosk /'ki:ɒsk/ noun a small shelter, for selling goods out of doors. Synonym booth

kip /'kip/ (informal) noun a short sleep ○ I was so tired I lay down on the sofa and had a kip. □ verb to lie down to go to sleep ○ You can kip down on the sofa if you want. ○ Can we kip here tonight? – We've missed the last bus. (NOTE: kipped) kipper /'kipə/ noun a split herring, salted and smoked

kirk /kɜ:k/ noun (in Scotland) a church

③ kiss /kɪs/ noun the act of touching someone with your lips to show love ○ She gave the baby a kiss. □ to blow someone a kiss to show your love for someone by touching your lips with your hands and making a gesture to the person at a distance ○ As the train left, she blew him a kiss. □ verb to touch someone with your lips to show that you love them ○ She kissed her daughter and walked away. ○ They kissed each other goodbye.

kiss of death /,kɪs əv 'deθ/ noun something which ruins a project (NOTE: The plural is kisses.)

kiss of life /,kɪs əv 'laɪf/ noun the act of bringing someone back to life by breathing into his or her mouth

③ kit /kɪt/ noun 1. clothes and personal equipment, usually packed for carrying ○ Did you bring your tennis kit? 2. a box containing pieces which can be put together to make something such as a piece of furniture or a model ○ He spent the afternoon building a model aircraft from a kit. ○ The new garden furniture arrived as a kit and we had to put it together ourselves. ■ verb □ to kit out to supply with clothes and equipment ○ They kitted themselves out with skis and boots.

kitbag /'kɪtbæg/ noun a long round bag which a soldier uses for carrying clothes and equipment

① kitchen /'kɪtʃɪn/ noun a room where you cook food ○ She put the meat down on the kitchen table. ○ If you're hungry, have a look in the kitchen to see if there's anything to eat. □ fitted kitchenette /,kɪtʃɪ'net/ noun a small kitchen in a corner of a living room kitchen garden /,kɪtʃɪn 'ga:dn/ noun a part of a garden where fruit and vegetables are grown ③ kite /kait/ noun 1. a toy made of light wood and paper or cloth which is flown in a strong wind on the end of a string ○ He was flying his kite from the top of the hill. ○ The wind nearly blew the kite away. 2. a shape in mathematics like a kite, with two short sides and two long sides, and no right angles 3. a large bird of prey ○ Red kites have started nesting in the cliffs.

kith and kin /,kɪθ ən 'kɪn/ plural noun friends and relatives kitsch /kɪtsʃ/ noun popular works of art or decorative objects that are brightly coloured but lack artistic taste (NOTE: no plural)

③ kitten /'kit(ə)n/ noun 1. a baby cat ○ The kittens are playing in their basket. ○ The cat carefully picked up her kitten by the scruff of its neck. 2. □ to have kittens to be very nervous (informal) ○ She was having kittens, waiting for her interview.

kitty /'kɪti/ noun 1. money which has been collected from each member of a group of people to be used for everyone later ○ We each put £5 into the kitty for the office party. 2. a child's name for a cat ○ She called out 'kitty, kitty, kitty' but the cat didn't come.

kiwi /'ki:wi/ noun 1. a bird which cannot fly, native to New Zealand 2. a New Zealander kiwi fruit /'ki:wi fru:t/ noun a small tropical fruit, with a hairy skin and green flesh (NOTE: no plural)

Kleenex /'kli:neks/ trademark the trademark for a paper handkerchief (NOTE: The plural is Kleenexes or Kleenex: a box of Kleenex.)

③ km abbr kilometre

knack /næk/ noun a natural ability, or a skill (informal) ○ She has a knack of making people feel at home. ○ There's a special knack to getting this machine to work.

knackered /nækəd/ adj very tired (slang).

Synonym exhausted

knapsack /'næpsæk/ noun a bag carried on the back of a walker (dated)

knave /neɪv/ noun (in cards) a jack, the card with the face of a young man, with a value between the queen and the ten knead /ni:d/ verb to press and fold dough before it is cooked to make bread. Synonym massage

② knee /ni:/ noun 1. the joint above the lower leg, where your leg bends ○ She sat the child on her knee. ○ He was on his knees looking under the bed. 2. the part of a pair of trousers that covers the knee ○ My jeans have holes in both knees.

kneecap /'ni:kæp/ noun the little bone in front of the knee ○ He hurt his kneecap when he fell. ■ verb to punish someone by shooting him in the knees (informal) ○ The terrorists kneecapped the young man.

knee-deep /,ni: 'di:p/ adv □ knee-deep in up to your knees in ○ They had to walk knee-deep in snow for several miles.

knee-high /,ni: 'haɪ/ adj reaching up to your knees □ knee-high to a grasshopper (of a child) very small (informal) ○ When I saw him last he was just knee-high to a grasshopper.

knee-jerk /'ni: dʒɜ:k/ noun a movement of the thigh muscle that suddenly stretches the leg, usually in response to a light tap on the tendon below the kneecap ■ adj tending to react without thinking, or happening as a result of such a reaction

② kneel /ni:l/ verb to go down on your knees (NOTE: kneeling – kneeled or knelt /neɪlt/)

knelt /neɪlt/ □ kneel

③ knew /nju:/ □ know

knickers /'nɪkəz/ plural noun a piece of woman's or girl's underwear for the lower body ○ She bought a pair of blue knickers. (NOTE: plural; for one item say a pair of knickers) knick-knack /'nɪk næk/ noun a small, light article. Synonym trinket

① knife /naɪf/ noun an instrument used for cutting, with a sharp metal blade fixed in a handle ○ Put out a knife, fork and spoon for each person. ○ You need a sharp knife to cut meat. □ on a knife edge in a difficult position, where you are not sure what will happen ■ verb to stab someone with a knife ○ He was knifed in the back during the fight. (NOTE: knifes – knifing – knifed)

③ knight /naɪt/ noun 1. a man honoured by a king for services to his country (and taking the title 'Sir') ○ He was made a knight. □ baronet 2. (in medieval times) a brave soldier often devoted to the service of a lady ○ King Arthur and the Knights of the Round Table. ○ Many knights were killed in the Wars of the Roses. 3. one of two pieces in a chess set with a horse's head ○ With a clever move she took his knight. ■ verb to make someone a knight ○ He was knighted for services to education.

COMMENT: Knights are addressed as 'Sir', followed by their Christian name and family name; their wives are addressed as 'Lady' followed by the family name (hence Sir John Smith's wife is addressed as 'Lady Smith').

knighthood /'naɪθʊd/ noun the position of being a knight

③ knit /nɪt/ verb 1. to make a piece of clothing out of wool by linking threads together with two long needles ○ My mother is knitting me a pullover. ○ She was wearing a blue knitted hat. (NOTE: knitting – knitted) 2. □ to knit your brow to wrinkle your forehead as you try to do something difficult ○ She knit her brow as she tried to understand the guidebook.

③ knitting /'nɪtɪŋ/ noun 1. the action of making something out of wool with knitting needles ○ Her great hobby is knitting. 2. a piece of work which is in the process of being made by knitting ○ She brought her knitting with her to the conference.

knitwear /'nɪtweə/ noun knitted clothes such as jumpers and pullovers (NOTE: no plural) knob /nɒb/ noun 1. a rounded handle such as on a door or drawer ○ To open the door, just turn the knob. 2. a round button which you turn to operate a radio or TV etc. ○ Turn the knob to increase the volume. 3. a round lump ○ Put a knob of butter in the frying pan.

knobbly /'nɒbli/ adj bumpy; covered with knobs. Synonym lumpy

① knock /nɒk/ noun 1. a sound made by hitting something ○ Suddenly, there was a knock at the door. 2. the act of hitting ○ She received a knock on the head with a brick. 3. an unfortunate event ○ He's taken some knocks during his career. ■ verb 1. to hit something ○ Knock twice before going in. ○ You'll need a heavy hammer to knock that nail in. 2. to criticise ○ She wrote an article knocking the Prime Minister. 3. (of a car engine) to ignite badly in the cylinder and make a knocking sound ○ The car has started to knock, so the timing needs adjusting.

③ knock about /,nɒk ə'baʊt/ verb 1. to wander about doing nothing ○ He spent several years knocking about the back streets of New Orleans. 2. □ to knock someone about to beat someone ○ He was badly knocked about in the fight. □ to knock something about to damage something ○ The cathedral was badly knocked about in the bombardment. 3. to be in a place (informal) ○ Can you see my hammer knocking about anywhere?

③ knock back /,nɒk 'bæk/ verb 1. to drink a drink quickly ○ He knocked back his drink and ran outside. 2. □ to knock someone back a sum to cost someone an amount of money ○ It will knock me back a few hundred pounds.

③ knock down /,nɒk 'daʊn/ verb 1. to make something fall down ○ They are going to knock down the old house to build a factory. 2. to hit ○ She was knocked down by a car. 3. to reduce a price ○ They knocked the price down to £50. 4. to sell something to someone at an auction ○ It was knocked down to a German buyer for £250.

knock-down /'nɒk daʊn/ noun a very low price

knocker /'nɒkə/ noun 1. a knob or ring attached to a door which can be hit against it to call attention ○ The bell on the front door doesn't work, so you have to use the knocker. 2. a person who is always criticising something ○ The letter in the paper should silence the government's knockers.

knock-kneed /nɒk 'ni:d/ adj with knees that touch each other when walking

③ knock off /,nɒk 'ɒf/ verb 1. to make something fall off by hitting it ○ The cat knocked the glass off the shelf. 2. to stop work ○ The workmen all knocked off at 4.30. 3. to reduce the price of something by an amount ○ He knocked £1000 off the price of the car.

knock-on effect /'nɒk ɒn ɪ,fekt/ adj effect which follows on from something ○ The airport strike had a knock-on effect on the tourist industry.

③ knock out /,nɒk 'aut/ verb 1. to hit someone so hard that he is no longer conscious ○ She was knocked out by a blow on the head. ○ The boxer was knocked out in the third round. 2. to make someone go to sleep ○ The doctor gave her something which knocked her out.

knockout /'nɒkaut/ noun (in boxing) the action of hitting someone so hard that he loses consciousness ○ He won by a knockout (KO) in the third round.

knockout competition /,nɒkaut ,kɒmpə'tɪʃ(ə)n/ noun a contest where several teams or players compete against one another and each one that loses then leaves the competition knock up /,nɒk 'ʌp/ verb 1. to wake someone up ○ Can you knock me up early tomorrow morning? 2. to put something together rapidly ○ She knocked up a dinner for six people at half an hour's notice. ○ He knocked up a garden shed out of old pieces of timber.

knock-up /'nɒk ʌp/ noun (in tennis) a practice time before a game when the players hit the ball backwards and forwards over the net

③ knot /nɒt/ noun 1. the ends of a piece of string or rope, etc., twisted and fastened together ○ Boy Scouts are supposed to be able to tie knots. ○ Is the knot of my tie straight? □ to tie the knot to get married 2. a small group ○ Knots of people stood and watched the firemen. 3. a measure of speed used to show the speed of a ship or of the wind ○ The ship was doing 22 knots when she hit the rocks. ○ There's a wind speed of 60 knots. 4. a round place on a piece of wood where a branch or twig was originally growing ○ This piece of wood is no good – it is full of knots.

■ verb 1. to tie a knot in something ○ He knotted the end of the rope. 2. □ get knotted! go away, don't bother me (showing annoyance and contempt) ○ If they ask for money again, tell them to get knotted.

knotted /'nɒtɪd/ adj tied in a knot, confused or tangled up in knots, or made using decorative knots knotty /'nɒti/ adj difficult to solve (NOTE: knottier – knottiest)

① know /nəʊ/ verb 1. to have learned something, to have information about something ○ Do you know how to start the computer? ○ He didn't know she had died. ○ How was I to know she wasn't his wife? ○ You knew it would be expensive. ○ Do you know the Spanish for 'one – two – three'? ○ His secretary doesn't know where he is. 2. to have met someone ○ I know your sister – we were at school together. ○ I used to know a man called Jones who worked in your company. □ to know someone by sight to know who someone is, even though you have never spoken to him or her 3. to have been to a place often ○ I know Paris very well. ○ She doesn't know Germany at all. 4. to experience ○ She knew years of poverty before she became famous. ○ He knows what it is like to be out of work. 5. □ you never know perhaps ○ You never know, she may still turn up. □ as far as I know all I know is that ○ As far as I know, he left by car at 6 p.m. ○ Is she in trouble? – Not as far as I know. ■ noun □ in the know knowing something that most people do not know (informal) ○ Those in the know say that's the best restaurant in town. ○ Someone in the know gave me the tip.

know-all /'nəʊ ɔ:l/ noun a person who claims he knows everything (informal) know-how /'nəʊ haʊ/ noun knowledge about how something is made or is done (informal) knowing /'nəʊɪŋ/ adj showing that you know about something knowingly /'nəʊɪŋli/ adv 1. deliberately, on purpose ○ He is accused of knowingly handling stolen goods. 2. showing that you know about something ○ He glanced knowingly in her direction.

① knowledge /'nɒlɪdʒ/ noun 1. what a particular person knows about something ○ To my knowledge, he left the house at 10 p.m. ○ The police have no knowledge of the accident. □ to the best of my knowledge as far as I know ○ To the best of my knowledge, no one else has seen this document. □ it is common knowledge that everyone knows that ○ It is common knowledge that his wife wants to emigrate. 2. the general facts or information that people know ○ An encyclopaedia is supposed to list all human knowledge.

Knowledge /'nɒlɪdʒ/ noun the ability to remember the road map and street plan of London, which taxi drivers are tested on before getting their licence (informal) knowledgeable /'nɒlɪdʒəb(ə)l/ adj who knows a lot about something. Synonym well-informed. Antonym ignorant

③ known /nəʊn/ adj which is known. Synonym recognised. Antonym unknown □ a known quantity something, a fact or a situation, which you know about ○ When trading with American companies, at least you are dealing with a known quantity.

knuckle /'nʌk(ə)l/ noun a joint in your fingers. Synonym protuberance □ to rap someone over the knuckles to criticise someone ○ He was rapped over the knuckles for having overspent his budget.

knuckle down /,nʌk(ə)l 'daʊn/ verb to start working hard (informal) knuckle under /,nʌk(ə)l 'ʌndə/ verb to give in to someone. Antonym continue

KO abbr knockout

kookaburra /'kukəbʌrə/ noun a large Australian kingfisher

Koran /kɒ'rɑ:n/ noun the holy book of Islam kosher /'kəʊʃə/ adj (of food) prepared according to Jewish law kowtow /'kao'tau/ verb to do whatever someone tells you to do kph abbr kilometres per hour

Kremlin /'kremlɪn/ noun the Russian government and its building in Moscow krypton /'kriptɒn/ noun an inert gas found in very small quantities in the atmosphere kudos /'kjʊ:dɒs/ noun glory, fame. Antonym discredit (NOTE: no plural) kung fu /kʌŋ 'fu:/ noun a Chinese style of fighting, where you can kick as well as punch

L

L¹ /el/, L noun the twelfth letter of the alphabet, between K and M. ◊ L-plates

③ L² abbr litre

③ lab /læb/ noun same as laboratory (informal)

③ label /'leɪb(ə)l/ noun 1. a message attached to something to give information such as its price or contents or someone's name and address, etc. ◯ She stuck a label on the parcel. ◯ The price on the label is £25.00. ◻ a tie-on label a label with a piece of string attached so that it can be tied on to an item 2. the name of a recording company on a record or CD ◯ The group have made their first single on the Virgin label. ■ verb to put a label on something ◯ All the goods are labelled with the correct price. (NOTE: labelling – labelled. The US spelling is labeling – labeled.)

③ laboratory /lə'bɒrət(ə)rɪ/ noun a place where scientific experiments, testing and research are carried out ◯ She's a chemist working in the university laboratories. ◯ All our products are tested in our own laboratories. (NOTE: The plural is laboratories.)

Labor Day /'leɪbər deɪ/ noun an American and Canadian national holiday celebrated on the first Monday in September laborious /lə'bɔ:riəs/ adj 1. involving a lot of work ◯ I'm afraid it is a very laborious task, moving that pile of sand to the back of the house. 2. showing signs of a lot of effort ◯ His laborious newspaper articles are difficult to read.

laboriously /lə'bɔ:riəsli/ adv involving a lot of work or effort

③ labor union /'leɪbə ,jʌnʒən/ noun US a trade union

① labour /'leɪbər/ noun 1. hard work ◯ After digging the garden, it is good to lie on the grass and rest from your labours. ◻ to charge for materials and labour to charge for both the materials used in a job and also the hours of work involved 2. all workers, the workforce ◯ Cheap labour is difficult to find. 3. the process of childbirth ◯ She went into labour at home, and her husband drove her to the hospital. ◯ She was in labour for 12 hours. ■ verb 1. to work very hard ◯ They laboured night and day to finish the project in time. 2. ◻ to labour under an impression or a delusion to have a wrong impression, to assume something which is quite wrong ◯ He was labouring under the delusion that air fares were cheaper in Europe than in the USA. ◻ to labour the point to discuss something too long ◯ I don't want to labour the point, but may I raise the question for the third time? (NOTE: [all senses] The US spelling is labor.)

labour dispute /'leɪbər dɪ,spju:t/ noun same as industrial dispute laboured /'leɪbəd/ adj showing signs of too much effort (NOTE: The US spelling is laborated.)

labourer /'leɪbərər/ noun a person who does heavy work with his hands (NOTE: The US spelling is laborer.)

labour force /'leɪbər fɔ:s/ noun the total number of workers employed in a country, an industry or an organisation. Synonym workforce labour-intensive /,leɪbər in'tensɪv/ adj involving a high number of employees or greater costs for labour than for other areas such as materials, machines or design labour market /'leɪbər ,mɑ:kɪt/ noun a supply of workers ready and available for work labour movement /'leɪbər ,mu:vment/ noun organisations whose aims are to improve conditions for workers and get political power labour-saving /'leɪbər ,seɪvɪŋ/ adj which saves you doing hard work (NOTE: The US spelling is labor-saving.)

labrador /'læbrədɔ:/ noun a type of large dog, usually black or pale brown labyrinth /'laebərɪnθ/ noun a system of complicated paths, alleys or corridors which it is difficult to find your way out of lace /leɪs/ noun 1. a thin strip of leather or cord for tying up a shoe or other piece of clothing ◯ His laces kept coming undone. ◯ She's too little to be able to do up her laces herself. 2. decorative fabric with open patterns of threads like a net ◯ a lace tablecloth ◯ Her wedding dress was trimmed with lace. (NOTE: no plural in this meaning) ■ verb 1. to fasten with laces ◯ He laced up his boots.

2. to add alcohol to a drink ○ Someone had laced her orange juice with gin.

lacerate /'læsə'reɪt/ verb to cut someone's flesh laceration /,læsə'reɪʃ(ə)n/ noun a place where flesh has been torn. Synonym cut lace-ups /'leɪs ʌps/ plural noun shoes which are fastened with laces

② lack /læk/ noun not having enough of something ○ The children are suffering from a lack of food. ○ The project was cancelled because of lack of funds. Synonym shortage. Antonym surplus (NOTE: no plural) ■ verb not to have enough of something ○ The sales staff lack interest. ○ He doesn't lack style – he puts on his sunglasses the moment the sun comes out.

lackadaisical /,lækə'deɪzɪk(ə)l/ adj done without any effort or enthusiasm. Synonym apathetic. Antonym energetic lackey /'læki/ noun a person who acts like a servant. Synonym minion

③ lacking /'lækɪŋ/ adj □ lacking in without any ○ She's completely lacking in business sense.

lacklustre /'læk'lʌstə/ adj dull, not brilliant (NOTE: The US spelling is lackluster.)

laconic /lə'kɒnɪk/ adj using only a few words. Synonym terse laconically /lə'kɒnɪkli/ adv using only a few words lacquer /'lækə/ noun 1. a type of hard shiny varnish or paint, often used on wood or metal ○ The coating of lacquer on the chest had begun to crack. 2. a spray for keeping hair in place (dated) ○ Cover your eyes if you're using hair lacquer anywhere near your face. ■ verb to coat with lacquer ○ It took a long time to lacquer the whole wardrobe.

lactose /'læktəʊs/ noun a sugar contained in milk

lacy /'leɪsɪ/ adj made of a network of fine fibres like lace (NOTE: lacier – laciest)

③ lad /læd/ noun a boy or young man □ the lads a young man's friends ○ I'm meeting the lads at the pub. □ he's a bit of a lad he likes wild parties and drinking, etc.

③ ladder /'laedə/ noun 1. a device made of horizontal bars between two uprights, used for climbing ○ The ladder was leaning against the wall. ○ He was climbing up a ladder. ○ She got down off the ladder. 2. a series of little holes in stockings or tights, when a stitch has come undone ○ Bother, I can't wear these tights because they've got a ladder. (NOTE: The US term is run.) ■ verb (of stockings) to get a ladder ○ I laddered my stocking on the nail.

laddie /'laedi/ noun (in the North of England & Scotland) a boy or young man (informal). Compare lassie laden /'leɪd(ə)n/ adj □ laden with containing a cargo, carrying something heavy ○ She was laden with shopping bags. □ heavily laden with carrying a heavy load of ○ The ship was heavily laden with coal.

ladle /'leɪd(ə)l/ noun a large deep spoon for serving liquid foods such as soup ○ The cook stood by the soup bowl, with her ladle in her hand. ■ verb □ to ladle out to serve with a ladle ○ She ladled the soup out into bowls.

② lady /'leɪdi/ noun 1. a polite way of referring to a woman ○ There are two ladies waiting to see you. 2. a name given to a female worker ○ The lollipop lady will see you across the road. 3. the title given to a woman, either the wife of a lord or knight, or because she is a peer in her own right (NOTE: As a title Lady is followed by the family name: Lord and Lady Forbes; Sir Peter and Lady Ross.)

COMMENT: The wives of knights, barons, earls and viscounts are addressed as 'Lady' followed by the family name.

ladybird /'leɪdɪbɜ:d/ noun a type of small beetle, usually red with black spots (NOTE: The US term is ladybug.)

ladykiller /'leɪdɪkɪlə/ noun a man who is attractive to women (informal) ladylike /'leɪdɪlaɪk/ adj (of behaviour of women) elegant, refined lag /læg/ noun an interval of time between two linked happenings ○ There's often a long time lag between setting up in business and seeing any results. □ jet lag ■ verb 1. to be behind, to fall behind ○ She was lagging 10m behind the leaders. 2. to cover water pipes to prevent them losing heat or freezing ○ Make sure your pipes are lagged before the winter. (NOTE: lagging – lagged)

③ lager /'laɪgə/ noun 1. a type of light beer ○ He came to the bar and ordered six pints of lager. 2. a glass of this beer ○ He came to the bar and ordered six lagers.

lager lout /'laɪgə laʊt/ noun a young person who drinks a lot of beer and behaves badly (informal insult) lagoon /lə'gu:n/ noun a shallow part of the sea in the tropics, surrounded by reefs

③ laid /leɪd/ □ lay laid-back /,leɪd 'bæk/ adj relaxed, not in a hurry (informal)

③ laid up /,leɪd 'ʌp/ adj unable to work because of illness. Synonym unwell. Antonym well

③ lain /leɪn/ □ lie

lair /leɪə/ noun a place where a wild animal sleeps (informal) laissez-faire /,leɪsəz 'feɪə/ French noun a political theory where a government does nothing to control the economy ○ Laissez- faire policies resulted in increased economic activity, but contributed to a rise in imports.

② lake /leɪk/ noun an area of fresh water surrounded by land ○ Let's take a boat out on the lake. ○ We can sail across the lake. ○ The hotel stands on the shores of Lake Windermere. Synonym pond lama /'lə:mə/ noun a Buddhist priest, especially in Tibet. Synonym monk (NOTE: Do not confuse the spelling with llama.)

③ lamb /læm/ noun 1. a young sheep ○ In spring, the fields are full of sheep and their tiny lambs. 2. meat from a lamb or sheep ○ a leg of lamb ○ roast lamb and mint sauce (NOTE: no plural in this meaning) 3. a dear child or person ○ She's such a lamb!

lambast /læm'bæst/ verb to be very critical of someone or something lambing /'læmɪŋ/ noun the process of giving birth to lambs lambswool /'læmzwʊl/ noun a very soft wool, from a young sheep (NOTE: no plural) lame /leɪm/ adj 1. not able to walk properly ○ He is lame in his left leg. 2. weak or unsatisfactory ○ He produced a very lame excuse for not coming to the meeting. (NOTE: lamer – lamest) ■ verb to injure someone so that he or she cannot walk properly lame duck /,leɪm 'dʌk/ noun someone or something that is regarded as weak and unsuccessful lame-duck /,leɪm 'dʌk/ adj regarded as weak and unsuccessful □ lame-duck company a company which is in financial difficulties ○ The government has promised a rescue package for lame-duck companies. □ lame-duck president a president in the last part of his term of office who cannot stand for re-election and so lacks political support ○ No foreign policy decisions will be made because of the lame-duck presidency. (NOTE: only used before a noun)

lamely /'leɪmli/ adv weakly

lameness /'leɪmənəs/ noun the state of being lame lament /lə'ment/ noun 1. a sad song or music ○ A lone piper played a lament at the funeral. 2. an expression of sadness ○ His lament at the demolition of the old church. ■ verb to be very sad about ○ We are still lamenting the closure of our local post office. Synonym mourn lamentable /'leɪməntəb(ə)l/ adj very bad lamentably /'leɪməntəbli/ adv very badly lamented /'lə'mentɪd/ adj missed because it has gone lament verb /'leɪməneɪt/ 1. to cover something with a thin protective sheet 2. to bond layers together ■ noun /'læmɪnət/ a hard material made up of bonded layers ■ adj made from layers laminated /'læmɪneɪtɪd/ adj covered with a layer, or with several layers glued together to form a thick surface

② lamp /læmp/ noun a device which makes light ○ The campsite is lit by large electric lamps.

lamplight /'læmplaɪt/ noun the light from a lamp

lampoon /læm'pu:n/ noun an attack in writing or verse that is supposed to be funny

■ verb to use humour as a way of attacking somebody or something in a piece of writing lamppost /'læmp,poʊst/ noun a tall post by the side of a road, holding a lamp

③ lampshade /'læmpʃeɪd/ noun a cover put over a lamp

LAN abbr local area network

lance /læns/ noun a long pointed stick carried by a knight in armour. Synonym spear

■ verb to make a cut in a boil or abscess to remove the pus ○ The doctor decided to lance the abscess.

① land /lænd/ noun 1. earth, as opposed to water ○ They were glad to be back on (dry) land again after two weeks at sea. (NOTE: no plural) 2. a piece of ground ○ She owns some land in the north of the country. ○ We bought a piece of land to build a house. ♦ farmland

(NOTE: no plural) 3. a country ○ People from many lands visited the exhibition. ○ He wants to see his native land again before he is too old to travel. ■ verb 1. to arrive on the ground, or on another surface ○ The flight from Amsterdam has landed. ○ We will be landing at London Airport in five minutes. ○ The ducks tried to land on the ice. □ to land on one's feet to be successful (informal) ○ After being made redundant he joined the police force and has really landed on his feet. 2. to be successful in hitting someone ○ He landed several punches on his opponent's head. 3. to put goods or passengers on to land after a voyage by sea or by air ○ The ship was landing goods at the port. ○ We landed several passengers at Heathrow Airport. 4. to catch a big fish ○ We landed three salmon. 5. to manage to get something ○ He landed a contract with a Chinese company.

landed /'lændɪd/ adj owning land

landfill /'lændfil/ noun a way of disposing of rubbish by putting it into holes in the ground and covering it with earth landfill site /'lændfil saɪt/ noun an area of land where people's rubbish is put into holes in the ground and covered with earth landing /'lændɪŋ/ noun 1. (especially of aircraft) arriving on the ground or on a surface ○ The plane made a smooth landing. ○ Strong winds meant that landing on the aircraft carrier was difficult. ♦ crash-landing

2. a flat place at the top of stairs ○ She was waiting for me on the landing.

landing stage /'lændɪŋ steɪdʒ/ noun a platform where passengers can get on or leave a boat. Synonym jetty landing strip /'lændɪŋ strɪp/ noun a rough place for planes to land

③ landlady /'laendlədi/ noun 1. a woman from whom you rent somewhere to live ○ You must pay your rent to the landlady every month. 2. a woman who is in charge of a hotel or pub ○ The landlady sat behind the bar. (NOTE: The plural is landladies.)

landline /'læn(d)laɪn/ noun 1. a telecommunications line on land 2. a telephone which is not a mobile phone landlocked /'lændlɒkt/ adj more or less surrounded by land. Antonym coastal

③ landlord /'laendlɔ:d/ noun 1. a man or company from whom you rent property such as a house, room or office ○ Tell the landlord if your roof leaks. ○ The landlord refused to make any repairs to the roof. 2. the man who is in charge of a hotel or pub ○ There's a new landlord at the 'Half Moon'.

landmark /'laendma:k/ noun 1. a building or large object on land which you can see easily ○ The Statue of Liberty is a famous New York landmark. 2. an outstanding or important event ○ The day when power was handed over to China was a landmark in the history of Hong Kong.

landmass /'lændmæs/ noun a large area of land. Synonym continent (NOTE: The plural is landmasses.)

landmine /'laendmaɪn/ noun a small bomb hidden under the surface of the soil, which explodes if disturbed landowner /'laendəʊnə/ noun a person who owns land, and may rent it out. Antonym tenant

③ landscape /'lændskeɪp/ noun 1. scenery, the appearance of the countryside ○ The beautiful landscape of the West Country. 2. a painting of a country scene ○ He collects 18th century English landscapes. ■ verb to improve the appearance of a garden by making artificial lakes, planting trees, etc. ○ He spent years landscaping his garden. Synonym design

landslide /'laendləɪd/ noun 1. a sudden fall of large amounts of soil and rocks down the side of a mountain ○ Landslides have blocked several roads through the mountains. 2. an large majority obtained in an election ○ The Socialists won in a landslide or won a landslide victory.

③ land up /'laend 'ʌp/ verb to end in a place (informal)

② lane /leɪn/ noun 1. a narrow road, often in the country ○ A lane with hedges on both sides. 2. a way for traffic going in a particular direction or at a certain speed ○ Motorways

usually have three lanes on either side. ○ One lane of the motorway has been closed for repairs. 3. a way for one runner in a race ○ She is coming up fast on the inside lane.

① language /'laengwidʒ/ noun a way of speaking or writing used in a country or by a group of people ○ His first language is German. ○ Chinese is a very difficult language to learn, but it is the language spoken by most people in the world. ○ We go to English language classes twice a week. ○ I don't like travelling in places where I don't know the language.

language laboratory /'laengwidʒ la:bɒrət(ə)rɪ/ noun a room with tape recorders and monitors where students listen to lessons in foreign languages in order to practise their language skills languid /'laengwid/ adj moving slowly, without any energy. Antonym vigorous languish /'laengwɪʃ/ verb to become weaker or more ill, to be in a bad situation languor /'laengə/ noun a pleasant lack of energy lank /læŋk/ adj (of hair) straight and untidy, and possibly dirty. Synonym limp lanky /'laŋki/ adj tall, thin and awkward. Synonym gangling. Antonym rotund

(NOTE: lankier – lankiest)

lantern /'læntən/ noun an oil or gas lamp which can be carried in the hand lap /læp/ noun 1. your body from your waist to your knees, when you are sitting ○ She listened to the story, sitting in her father's lap.

2. a circuit, one turn round a racetrack ○ He's finished lap 23 – only two laps to go! 3. a part of a long journey ○ The last lap of the tour was from Bangkok to Singapore. 4. □ it's in the lap of the gods no one knows what will happen ○ I can't predict the result of the election – it's all in the lap of the gods.

□ in the lap of luxury in great luxury ○ They live in the lap of luxury. ■ verb 1. (of animals) to drink with the tongue ○ The dog lapped the water in the pond. 2. (of waves) to wash against something ○ Little waves lapped against the side of the quay. ○ The water was lapping round his ankles.

3. to go so fast that you are one whole lap ahead of another competitor in a race ○ The winner had lapped three other runners. (NOTE: lapping – lapped)

lapel /lə'pel/ noun one of the two parts of a coat or jacket which are folded back, just above the top button that fastens it lapse /læps/ noun 1. an interval of time, especially when something does not take place ○ There is a lapse of two seconds between touching the switch and the screen lighting up. ○ They have started work on the motorway again after a considerable lapse of time. 2. a failure of something to work properly ○ I must have had a lapse of memory. ■ verb 1. to stop ○ All rubbish collections lapsed during the strike. 2. to stop being valid ○ My parking permit has lapsed, I must get it renewed. 3. □ to lapse into something to fall into a worse state than before ○ The country lapsed into anarchy when the president was assassinated. ○ After the brain operation, she lapsed into a coma from which she never recovered.

lapsed /læpst/ adj □ a lapsed Catholic a person who was baptised a Catholic, but no longer practises their religion

③ laptop /'læptɒp/ noun a small computer which can be held on your knees

③ lap up /læp 'ʌp/ verb 1. (of animals) to drink greedily with the tongue ○ The cat was lapping up the milk. 2. to accept something enthusiastically ○ She told him how good his book was, and he just sat there lapping it up.

larch /lɑ:tʃ/ noun a tree which has cones, but which loses its leaves in winter (NOTE: The plural is larches.)

lard /la:d/ noun pork fat used in cooking larder /'la:də/ noun a cool room or cupboard for storing food. Synonym pantry

① large /la:dʒ/ adj 1. big ○ She ordered a large cup of coffee. ○ Our house has one large bedroom and two very small ones. ○ How large is your garden? ○ Why has she got an office which is larger than mine? 2. □ by and large generally speaking ○ By and large, it is cheaper living in Madrid than in London. □ at large 1. illegally out of prison

2. in general

large intestine /la:dʒ in'testin/ noun the second section of the intestines, leading down to the rectum

② largely /'la:dʒli/ adv mainly, mostly ○ The strange weather is largely due to El Niño. ○ His farm is largely grazing land. Antonym particularly

③ large-scale /'la:dʒ skeɪl/ adj involving large numbers of people or large amounts of money. Antonym small-scale

largesse /la:dʒes/ noun the generous giving of money

lark /la:k/ noun 1. a bird which sings and flies high in the sky ○ Larks were singing high up above the fields. □ to get up with the lark to get up very early in the morning 2. amusing and daring behaviour ○ We all jumped into the fountains at Trafalgar Square – what a lark! ■ verb □ to lark about to play around noisily like children (informal) ○ The students were larking about in the snow.

larva /'la:rvə/ noun the early stage of development of an insect, like a fat worm and different in form from the adult (NOTE: The plural is larvae /'la:rvɪ:./.)

larval /'la:v(ə)l/ adj referring to larvae laryngitis /'ærɪn'gætɪs/ noun an inflammation of the larynx larynx /'lærɪŋks/ noun the upper part of the windpipe, where sounds are made. Also called voice box (NOTE: The plural is larynxes.)

lasagne /lə'zænʒə/ noun a type of flat pasta, served cooked with meat or vegetable sauce lascivious /lə'sɪvɪəs/ adj full of sexual desire laser /'leɪzə/ noun an instrument which produces a highly concentrated beam of light laser printer /'leɪzə ,prɪntə/ noun an office printing machine which prints using a laser beam laser surgery /'leɪzə ,sɜ:dʒəri/ noun surgery using lasers, such as the removal of tumours, etc.

lash /la:ʃ/ verb 1. to beat something with a whip ○ She lashed at the horse to make it go faster. 2. to beat against something, as if with a whip ○ The rain was lashing against the windows. 3. to fasten or tie down tightly with rope ○ Containers carried on the deck of a ship must be securely lashed down. ■ noun

1. a stroke with a whip ○ He was sentenced to six lashes. 2. the part of a whip that bends easily ○ He hit the horse with the tip of his lash. 3. an eyelash ○ She has lovely long lashes. (NOTE: The plural is lashes.)

lashings /'la:ʃɪŋz/ noun a lot (dated informal) lash out /,la:ʃ 'aut/ verb □ to lash out at to try to hit ○ He lashed out at the policeman.

lass /la:s/ noun (in the North of England & Scotland) a girl or young woman. Antonym lad (NOTE: The plural is lasses.)

lassie /'læsi/ noun (in the North of England & Scotland) a girl or young woman (informal). Compare laddie lassitude /'la:stɪtju:d/ noun a feeling of being very tired, where you do not want to do anything. Antonym liveliness lasso /la:su:/ noun a rope with a loop at the end for catching animals such as cattle or horses ○ She caught the horse with a lasso. Synonym noose (NOTE: The plural is lassoes.) ■ verb to catch an animal with a lasso ○ He lassoed the horse. (NOTE: lassoes – lassoing – lassoed)

① last /la:st/ adj 1. which comes at the end of a list, line or period of time ○ The post office is the last building on the right. ○ The invoice must be paid by the last day of the month. □ at last, at long last in the end, after a long time □ she's the last person I would want to take to a chic restaurant I would never go to a chic restaurant with her □ last thing at night at the very end of the day ○

We always have a drink of hot milk last thing at night. □ last but not least the last in a list, but by no means the least important ○ Last but not least, mother topped the cake with chocolate icing. 2. most recent ○ She's been ill for the last ten days. ○ The last three books I read were rubbish. □ last but one the one before the last one ○ My last car but one was a Rolls Royce. 3. □ last night the evening and night of yesterday ○ We had dinner together last night. □ last Tuesday the Tuesday before today ○ I saw her last Tuesday. ○ Have you still got last Tuesday's newspaper? □ last week the week before this one ○ The fair was in town last week – you've missed it! □ last month the month before this one ○ Last month it rained almost every day. □ last year the year before this one ○ Where did you go on holiday last year? ■ noun 1. the thing or person coming at the end ○ She was the last to arrive. □ that's the last of the apples we have finished the apples 2. final words ○ That's not the last they've heard from me. 3. □ before last the one before the most recent □ the Tuesday before last two Tuesdays ago □ the week before last two weeks ago □ the year before last two years ago ○ He changed his car the year before last. ■ adv 1. at the end ○ She came last in the competition. ○ Out of a queue of twenty people, I was served last. 2. most recently ○ When did you see her last? ○ She was looking ill when I saw her last or when I last saw her. ■ verb to continue for some time ○ The fine weather won't last. ○ Our holidays never seem to last very long. ○ The storm lasted all night. ○ The meeting lasted for three hours. Synonym carry on last-ditch /'la:st 'ditʃ/ adj final, last before something unpleasant happens last gasp /'la:st 'ga:sp/ a final action, which marks the end of something lasting /'la:stɪŋ/ adj which lasts for a long time. Synonym permanent. Antonym temporary lastly /'la:stli/ adv at the end. Synonym finally. Antonym firstly ③ last-minute /'la:st 'minɪt/ adj very late. Antonym prompt last name /'la:st neɪm/ noun a person's surname last night /'la:st 'naɪt/ noun on the previous day after dark last orders /'la:st 'ɔ:dəz/ plural noun, interj the final opportunity to buy drinks before a pub or bar closes last post /'la:st 'pəʊst/ noun 1. the last collection of mail from a letterbox ○ The last post goes at 5.30. 2. a bugle call played at military funerals, and at Remembrance Day ceremonies ○ A lone bugler played the last post as the general was buried. (NOTE: The US term is taps.)

last rites /'la:st 'raɪts/ plural noun a religious service for someone who is dying (NOTE: Do not confuse with right.)

last straw /'la:st 'strəʊ/ noun the final problem which makes everything seem hopeless last word /'la:st 'wɜ:d/ noun the very latest fashion

latch /'la:tʃ/ noun the fastening for a door consisting of a small bar which fits into a catch ○ The burglars pushed on the door and broke the latch. Synonym fastener □ the door is on the latch the door is held shut by a latch but is not locked ○ Leave the door on the latch – I'll be back in a minute. ■ verb 1. to close with a latch ○ It's not enough just to latch the door, it must be locked at night. 2. □ to latch on to something to understand something or to take up something (informal) ○ Children latch on to their parents' bad habits very quickly. ○ The reporters quickly latched on to the fact that the Prime Minister did not applaud the Chancellor's speech.

① late /leɪt/ adj 1. after the usual time; after the time when it was expected ○ The plane is thirty minutes late. ○ It's too late to change your ticket. ○ Hurry or you'll be late for the show. ○ We apologise for the late arrival of the plane from Amsterdam. 2. at the end of a period of time ○ The traffic was bad in the late afternoon. ○ He moved to London in the late 1980s. 3. towards the end of the day ○ It's late – I'm going to bed. 4. dead ○ His late father was a director of the company. ○ The late president was working on his memoirs when he died. (NOTE: only used before a noun in this meaning) latecomer /'leɪtkəmər/ noun a person who arrives late. Synonym straggler lately /'leɪtlɪ/ adv during recent days or weeks. Synonym recently late-night /'leɪt naɪt/ adj happening late at night latent /'leɪt(ə)nt/ adj present but not yet developed; hidden

later /'leɪtə/ adv at a time after the present; after a time which has been mentioned ○ The family came to live in England and she was born a month later. ○ Can we meet later this evening? □ see you later! I hope to see you again later today □ later (on) afterwards, at a later time ○ I'll do it later on. ○ We were only told later that she was very ill.

lateral /'læt(ə)rəl/ adj referring to the side lateral thinking /'læt(ə)rəl 'θɪŋkɪŋ/ noun a way of thinking about problems by looking at them from an unusual point of view latest /'leɪtɪst/ adj the most recent (informal) ○ Have you seen his latest film? ○ He always drives the latest model car. □ The latest snow reports are published each day in the papers. ■ noun □ the latest the most recent news (informal) □ Have you heard the latest about Gina? □ at the latest no later than □ I'll ring back before 7 o'clock at the latest.

latex /'leɪtɛks/ noun 1. the milky juice from a rubber tree □ The raw latex is collected and then heated to make rubber. 2. a soft plastic □ The stair carpet is backed with foam latex.

lather /'la:ðə/ noun 1. a mass of soap bubbles □ The barber covered my chin with lather. 2. (especially on horses) a sweat like froth □ to get in(to) a lather to get upset or flustered □ He got into a terrible lather about the letter. ■ verb 1. to form a mass of bubbles □ Hard water makes it difficult for soap to lather. 2. to cover with bubbles □ The barber was just lathering my chin when the police rushed in.

Latin /'lætɪn/ noun the language spoken by the ancient Romans □ We learnt Latin at school. □ The inscription on the tomb is in Latin. ■ adj 1. referring to the language of ancient Rome □ He was reading a book of Latin poetry. 2. referring to Italy, Spain, Portugal and South America □ They always go to one of the Latin countries on holiday.

latitude /'lætɪtju:d/ noun 1. a position on the earth's surface measured in degrees north or south of the equator □ Pine trees grow in temperate latitudes. ▶ longitude 2. freedom to do what you want to do □ The management allows the heads of department considerable latitude in selecting staff.

latte /'lætə/ noun a coffee made with hot milk

② latter /'lætə/ adj coming at the end of a list □ I'm busy on Monday and Tuesday, but I'll be free during the latter part of the week. Antonym former ■ noun □ the latter the second person or thing mentioned of two people or things □ Which do you prefer, apples or pears? – I prefer the latter.

latter-day /'lætə deɪ/ adj of the present time. Synonym modern. Antonym former latterly /'lætəli/ adv recently lattice /'lætɪs/ noun a pattern of crossing diagonal lines such as pieces of wood in a fence

② laugh /la:f/ noun 1. a sound you make when you think something is funny □ He's got a lovely deep laugh. □ 'That's right,' she said with a laugh. □ to do something for a laugh to do something as a joke or for fun □ Don't be angry – they only did it for a laugh. 2. □ to have the last laugh to be successful in the end, after people have laughed at you earlier on □ Everyone told him a clockwork radio wouldn't work, but he had the last laugh when it sold in millions. ■ verb 1. to make a sound to show you think something is funny □ He was very good last night – he had everyone laughing at his jokes. □ She fell off the ladder and everyone laughed. □ to laugh like a drain to laugh a lot □ He laughed like a drain when he was told the story. ▶ sleeve 2. □ to laugh at someone or something to make fun of someone or something □ Don't laugh at her because she's so fat. □ You mustn't laugh at his hat – he's very proud of it.

laughable /'la:fəb(ə)l/ adj which can only be laughed at. Antonym impressive laughing stock /'la:fɪŋ stɒk/ noun a person who is laughed at by everyone laughter /'la:ftə/ noun the sound or act of laughing □ The clowns' appearance in the ring was greeted by laughter. □ As soon as he opened his mouth, the audience burst into laughter. Synonym happiness. Antonym sadness (NOTE: no plural)

② launch /lɔ:ntʃ/ noun 1. the act of starting off a boat, a rocket, a new product, etc. □ The launch of the new car went off successfully. □ The rocket launch has been delayed by two weeks. 2. a type of small motor boat □ He took the launch out on the lake. (NOTE: The plural is launches.) ■ verb 1. to put a boat into the water, especially for the first time and with a lot of ceremony □ The Queen launched the new ship. 2. to send a rocket into the air □ The spacecraft was launched from Cape Kennedy. 3. to put a new product on the market □ They are launching their new car at the motor show. 4. to give something or someone a start 5. to begin □ The enemy launched an attack on our headquarters.

launching /'lɔ:ntʃɪŋ/ noun the act of starting off a boat, a rocket, a new product, etc.

launching pad /'lɔ:ntʃɪŋ pæd/ noun an area from which a rocket is launched laundress /'lɔ:ndrəs/ noun 1. a woman whose job is washing clothes □ He asked to have two shirts laundered. 2. a person whose job is to wash clothes or bedclothes □ The money was laundered through an offshore account.

laundrette /,lɔ:ndrə'ret/ noun a shop with washing machines which anyone can pay to use (NOTE: The US term is laundromat.)

③ laundry /'lɔ:ndri/ noun 1. a place where clothes and linens are washed □ The hotel's sheets and towels are sent to the laundry every day. (NOTE: The plural is laundries.) 2. dirty clothes to be sent for washing □ Please put any laundry into the bag provided. (NOTE: no plural)

laundry bag /'lɔ:ndri bæg/ noun a special bag in a hotel room, into which you can put dirty clothes to be taken to be washed laundry basket /'lɔ:ndri ,ba:skit/ noun a large basket in which you put dirty clothes or linen waiting to be washed laurel /'lɔ:rəl/ noun a large bush with smooth shiny evergreen leaves \square to rest on your laurels to enjoy your past success, without trying to do any more \circ They've done very well so far but they can't afford to rest on their laurels because their rivals will catch up with them.

lav /læv/ noun a lavatory (informal) lava /'la:və/ noun the hot liquid rock flowing from a volcano which becomes solid when it cools

lavatory /'lævətri/ noun 1. a small room for getting rid of waste matter or water from the body \circ The gents' lavatory is to the right. \circ The lavatories are situated at the rear of the plane. 2. a bowl with a seat and water flushing system, for getting rid of waste matter from the body \circ The drink was so awful that I poured it down the lavatory. (NOTE: The plural is lavatories.)

lavender /'lævində/ noun 1. a shrub with small lilac-coloured flowers and narrow leaves, grown for perfume \circ My grandmother puts bags filled with dried lavender flowers in her wardrobe to make her clothes smell nice. 2. a bluish-purple colour \circ The bedroom walls have been painted a soothing shade of lavender.

lavish /'lævɪʃ/ adj 1. very generous \circ He bought all the children lavish presents. 2. larger than necessary \circ Grandmother always gives us lavish portions. ■ verb \square to lavish something on someone to give lots of something to someone \circ He lavished presents on his grandchildren. \circ She lavishes a lot of care on her collection of orchids.

lavishly /'lævɪʃli/ adv in a lavish way

① law /lɔ:/ noun 1. \square the law the set of rules by which a country is governed \circ Everyone is supposed to obey the law. \square within the law obeying the laws of a country \square against the law not according to the laws of a country \circ It is against the law to drive at night without lights. \square to break the law to do something which is not allowed by law \circ He is breaking the law by selling cigarettes to children. 2. one single part of the rules governing a country, usually in the form of an act of parliament \circ Parliament has passed a law against the ownership of guns. \square to be a law unto yourself to do exactly what you want 3. all the laws of a country taken together \square maritime law, the law of the sea laws referring to ships and ports 4. \square the law the police and the courts (informal) \circ The law will catch up with him in the end. 5. a general scientific rule or controlling force \circ Einstein's Law of Relativity \circ The law of gravity can be demonstrated by showing how an apple falls to the ground and not up into the air. \square the law of supply and demand a general rule that the amount of a product which is available is related to what possible customers need law-abiding /'lɔ: ,ə,bɔ:diŋ/ adj who obeys the law. Synonym honest law and order /,lɔ: ənd 'ɔ:da/ noun a situation where the laws of the country are obeyed by most people law-breaking /'lɔ: ,breɪkiŋ/ noun the act of doing something which is against the law lawcourt /'lɔ: ,kɔ:t/ noun a court where cases are heard by a judge and jury, or by a magistrate law enforcement /'lɔ: in,fɔ:smənt/ noun the process of making sure that people obey the law lawful /'lɔ:f(ə)l/ adj acting within the law. Antonym unlawful lawfully /'lɔ:fəli/ adv in a lawful way lawless /'lɔ:les/ adj not controlled by the law or by the police. Synonym unruly. Antonym law-abiding lawlessness /'lɔ:ləsnəs/ noun being lawless. Synonym anarchy law-making /'lɔ: ,meɪkiŋ/ noun the process of making laws lawman /'lɔ:ma:n/ noun US a policeman, a sheriff (NOTE: The plural is lawmen.)

lawn /lɔ:n/ noun a part of a garden covered with short grass lawnmower /'lɔ:nməʊə/ noun a machine for cutting grass lawsuit /'lɔ:su:t/ noun a case brought to a court \square to bring a lawsuit against someone to tell someone to appear in court because you think they have acted wrongly towards you \circ The parents of the victims brought a lawsuit against the tour company.

② lawyer /'lɔ:jə/ noun a person who has studied law and can advise you on legal matters \circ If you are arrested you have the right to speak to your lawyer.

lax /læks/ adj not strict (NOTE: laxer – laxest) laxative /'lækstətɪv/ noun medicine which causes a bowel movement \circ The doctor prescribed a laxative to help his constipation. ■ adj which causes a bowel movement \circ The laxative properties of fresh fruit are well known.

① lay /leɪ/ verb 1. to put something down flat \circ He laid the papers on the table. \circ A new carpet has been laid in the dining room.

\square to lay claim to something to claim that something is yours 2. \square to lay the table to put knives, forks and spoons on the table ready for a meal \circ The table is laid for four people. 3. (of birds, turtles, etc.) to produce an egg \circ The hens laid three eggs. 4. \diamond lie

(NOTE: laying – laid) ■ adj not trained for a profession or to be a member of a religious order ○ Lay people often cannot understand doctors' language. ○ Lay members of the church helped the priest to organise the Christmas party. ◇ layman layabout /'leɪəbət/ noun a person who doesn't work (informal insult) layby /'leɪbɪ/ noun a place at the side of a road where vehicles can park

③ layer /'leɪə/ noun a flat, usually horizontal, thickness of something ○ She put a layer of chocolate on the cake, then one of cream. ◇ bricklayer. Synonym level ■ verb to make a new plant by attaching a shoot to the ground so that it makes roots ○ Now it the time to layer some shrubs.

layered /'leɪəd/ adj made in layers layman /'leɪmən/ noun a person who does not belong to a particular profession, who is not an expert in something (NOTE: The plural is laymen) lay off /'leɪ ɒf/ verb 1. to dismiss employees for a time, until more work is available ○ The factory has had to lay off half its workforce because of a temporary lack of orders. 2. to stop doing or using something ○ You should lay off bread and potatoes if you want to reduce weight.

lay-off /'leɪ ɒf/ noun the action of dismissing an employee for a time lay on /'leɪ 'ɒn/ verb to provide lay out /'leɪ 'aʊt/ verb 1. to put out in an organised way ○ The plans were laid out on the table. ○ They laid out the children's presents under the Christmas tree. 2. to design a plan for a garden, a book, etc. ○ The grounds of the hotel are laid out with trees and flower-beds. 3. to spend ○ She laid out thousands of pounds on her wedding dress.

layout /'leɪaʊt/ noun a design, especially of a garden, a book, etc.

laze /leɪz/ verb to relax, to do nothing or very little lazily /'leɪzɪlɪ/ adv in a lazy way laziness /'leɪzɪnəs/ noun the state of being lazy

② lazy /'leɪzɪ/ adj not wanting to do any work ○ She's just lazy – that's why the work never gets done on time. ○ He is so lazy he does not even bother to open his mail. Synonym indolent. Antonym energetic (NOTE: lazier – laziest)

③ lb abbr pounds ○ It weighs 26lb. ○ Take 6lb of sugar.

LCD /'el si: 'di:/ noun a screen used in many watches, calculators and other small pieces of digital equipment. Full form liquid crystal display

① lead noun 1. /led/ a very heavy soft metal ○ Tie a piece of lead to your fishing line to make it sink. 2. /led/ a black part in the middle of a pencil ○ If your lead's broken then you need to sharpen the pencil. 3. /li:d/ an electric wire which joins a machine to the electricity supply ○ The lead is too short to go across the room. 4. /li:d/ first place in a race ○ He went into the lead or he took the lead. ○ Who's in the lead at the halfway mark? ○ She has a lead of 20m over her nearest rival. 5. /li:d/ a string or thin piece of leather to hold a dog ○ All dogs must be kept on a lead in the park. 6. /li:d/ a main part in a play, opera or ballet ○ The understudy had to take over last night when the male lead fell and broke his arm. 7. /li:d/ a piece of information which may solve a crime ○ He gave us our first lead in the case of the car thefts.

■ verb /li:d/ 1. to be in first place, to have the most important place ○ Our side was leading at half time. ○ They were leading by three metres. 2. to go in front to show the way ○ She led us to the secret box. ○ The road leads you to the top of the hill. 3. to be the main person in a group ○ She is leading a group of businesswomen on a tour of Chinese factories. 4. ◻ to lead to make something happen ○ The discussions led to an international treaty. ◻ it led me to think she was lying it made me think she was lying ■ adj who sings or plays the main tunes in a pop group ○ He's the lead guitarist with a pop group. ○ She's the lead singer of the group. Synonym principal leaden /'led(ə)n/ adj like lead ◻ a leaden sky a dull grey sky

① leader /'li:də/ noun 1. a person who leads ○ He is the leader of the Labour Party. ○ The leader of the construction workers' union. ◻ leader of a council, council leader the head of the majority party on a local council ◻ leader of an orchestra the chief violinist in an orchestra 2. a leading article, one of the main articles in a newspaper, giving the newspaper's views on a topic of current interest ○ The rail disaster was featured in the leader.

② leadership /'li:dəsɪp/ noun 1. the ability to be the person who manages or directs others ○ We think he has certain leadership qualities. 2. the position of a leader ○ Under his leadership the party went from strength to strength. 3. a group of leaders of an organisation ○ The leadership was weaker after the president's resignation.

② leading /'li:dɪŋ/ adj most important. Antonym secondary leading article /,li:dɪŋ 'a:tɪk(ə)l/ noun a leader, one of the main articles in a newspaper, giving the newspaper's views on a topic of current interest. Synonym editorial

leading-edge /'li:dɪŋ edʒ/ noun the most modern developments in technology, science or some other field leading lady /,li:dɪŋ 'leɪdi/ noun an actress who plays the main part in a play or film leading light /,li:dɪŋ 'læt/ noun a person who plays an important part in a group. Synonym big name. Antonym unknown

leading question /,li:dɪŋ 'kwestʃən/ noun a question which is worded in order to get a particular answer

③ lead on /,li:d ɒn/ verb 1. to go first ○ Lead on, we will all follow! 2. □ to lead someone on to mislead someone by promising something ○ He's just leading you on. ○ They promised him a new car, but they were just leading him on.

③ lead up to /,li:d 'ʌp tu:/ verb to prepare the way for something to happen

② leaf /li:f/ noun 1. one of many flat green parts of a plant ○ The leaves of the trees turn brown or red in autumn. ○ Caterpillars have eaten the leaves of the roses. 2. a sheet of paper, especially a page of a book □ to turn over a new leaf to make a new start ○ After years of wild living he decided to turn over a new leaf and join the family firm. 3. a very thin sheet of a substance such as metal ○ The ceiling is covered in gold leaf. (NOTE: The plural is leaves /li:vz/.) □ verb □ to leaf through to turn the pages of a book quickly without reading properly ○ He leafed through the book, looking at the illustrations.

② leaflet /'li:fɪ:t/ noun a sheet of paper, often folded, giving information. Synonym booklet leafy /'li:fɪ/ adj 1. with lots of leaves ○ These lettuces are really leafy. 2. with lots of trees ○ We strolled along the leafy avenue.

② league /li:g/ noun 1. an association of sports clubs which play against each other ○ He plays for one of the clubs in the local football league. □ not in the same league as not as good or as successful as ○ You can't compare our little corner shop to the supermarket, they're not in the same league. 2. a group joined together for a particular purpose □ to be in league with someone to work with someone against someone else 3. a measure of distance equal to about 5 km (dated) ○ 10,000 leagues under the sea □ verb to join together ○ The opposition parties all leagued together to vote against the government.

league table /'li:g ,teɪb(ə)l/ noun a list of things placed in order of quality

③ leak /li:k/ noun 1. an escape of liquid or gas through a hole ○ I can smell gas – there must be a gas leak in the kitchen. 2. an escape of secret information ○ She was embarrassed by the leak of the news. ○ The leak of the report led to the minister's resignation. (NOTE: Do not confuse with leek.) □ verb 1.

(of liquid or gas, etc.) to flow away, to escape ○ Water must have been leaking through the ceiling for days. 2. to pass on secret information ○ Governments don't like their plans to be leaked to the press. ○ We found that the sales director was leaking information to a rival company. 3. (of a container) to allow liquid or gas to escape ○ The drum was leaking acid all over the floor.

leakage /'lɪ:kɪdʒ/ noun 1. an escape of liquid or gas ○ There's a smell of gas – there must be a leakage somewhere. 2. the act of revealing a secret ○ The leakage of the report annoyed the minister. ○ After the leakage of the report, everyone was ringing up about it.

leaky /'li:ki:/ adj which leaks

② lean /li:n/ adj 1. (of a person) thin ○ He's a lean bearded man. 2. (of meat) with little fat ○ a slice of lean bacon (NOTE: leaner – leanest) □ verb to be in or to put into a sloping position ○ The ladder was leaning against the shed. ○ She leaned her bike against the wall. ○ He leaned over and picked up the cushion. ○ It's dangerous to lean out of car windows. (NOTE: leaning – leaned or leant /lɛnt/)

leaning /'li:nɪŋ/ noun a tendency towards ○ She has socialist leanings. ○ He has a leaning towards a career in the church. Synonym inclination □ adj which is leaning ○ The Leaning Tower of Pisa is one of the most famous buildings in Italy.

③ lean on /'li:n ɒn/ verb 1. to try to influence someone ○ They leaned on him to get him to agree. 2. to depend on someone ○ If things get difficult she always has her father to lean on.

lean over /,li:n 'əuvə/ verb to bend down in a particular direction □ to lean over backwards to help someone to make every effort to help someone ○ The landlady leaned over backwards to make us feel at home.

leant /lɛnt/ □ lean

lean-to /'li:n tu:/ noun a small building, such as a shed, attached to a large building leap /li:p/ noun 1. a jump ○ She took a leap forwards and fell into the water. 2. a great improvement or progress □ by leaps and bounds making fast progress ○ His German has improved by leaps and bounds. 3. □ a leap in the dark an action where you are not sure of what the consequences will be ○ The deal is something of a leap in the dark, but we hope it will pay off. □ verb 1. to jump ○ He leapt over the ditch. ○ She leapt with joy when she heard the news. ○ He leapt into the train as it was leaving. 2. to go up suddenly ○ Sales leapt during March. (NOTE: leaping – leaped or leapt /lɛpt/)

③ leap at /'lip æt/ verb to accept eagerly something which is suggested. Synonym jump at

leap-frog /'li:p frɒg/ noun a game where one person bends down, and others jump over his back ■ verb to advance more quickly than someone else □ leap-frogging

pay demands pay demands where each group of workers asks for higher pay to do better than another group leapt /lept/ □ leap

③ leap year /'li:p Ȑɪə/ noun every fourth year, in which February has 29 days

① learn /lɜ:n/ verb 1. to find out about something, or how to do something ○ He's learning to ride a bicycle. ○ We learn French and German at school. □ to learn something by heart to learn and remember something ○ She learnt the poem by heart. □ to learn from your mistakes to make mistakes and because of them learn how something should be done ○ He doesn't want to ask advice, so I only hope he learns from his mistakes. 2. to hear news ○ Her boss learned that she was planning to leave the company. ○ How did you come to learn about the product? ○ We learnt of his death only yesterday. (NOTE: learning – learnt /lɜ:nt/ or learned) learned /'lɜ:nɪd/ adj who has a lot of knowledge ○ Learned professors have written to the paper contradicting the government's calculations.

③ learner /'lɜ:nə/ noun a person who is learning. Synonym beginner

② learning /'lɜ:nɪŋ/ noun the process of gaining knowledge of something or of how to do something. Antonym ignorance □ a steep learning curve the need to learn new skills fast ○ Being promoted into a new department involved a steep learning curve.

learning curve /'lɜ:nɪŋ Ȑɜ:v/ noun a gradual process of learning learning difficulties /'lɜ:nɪŋ ,dɪfɪkəltɪz/ plural noun a condition of being unable to learn as fast as others

③ lease /li:s/ noun 1. a written contract, allowing someone to use a building or piece of land for a particular period ○ We're renting our offices on a twenty-year lease. □ the lease expires or runs out in 2020 the lease comes to an end in 2020 2. □ to give someone a new lease of life to make someone want to make a fresh start or to live life more fully ○ Alan's retirement has given him a new lease of life. ■ verb 1. □ to lease or lease out to give on a lease ○ He leased the shop to an Australian company. ○ My landlord leases out six other flats. 2. to take or hold on a lease ○ We're leasing our offices at a good rent. ○ We lease our photocopier as it's cheaper than buying one.

leasehold /'li:shəʊld/ noun the holding of property on a lease ○ The leasehold was sold last year.

leash /li:ʃ/ noun a strap for holding a dog. Synonym lead

① least /lɪ:st/ adj smallest or most unimportant ○ This car uses by far the least amount of petrol. Antonym most □ pron □ the least the smallest or the most unimportant amount ○ She was the one who spent the least during their trip round Holland. □ to say the least

which was more than I expected ○ I thought he was in the office so when I saw him in the supermarket I was surprised to say the least. □ not in the least not at all ○ It doesn't bother me in the least to work on Sundays. ■ adv less than everyone or everything else ○ I liked that part of the book least. ○ He was the least conceited man she had ever met. □ least of all absolutely less than everyone else ○ No one was interested in what I said, least of all my son. □ at least 1. mentioning one good thing in a bad situation 2. to correct a statement 3. as the smallest thing 4. not less than

③ leather /'leðə/ noun a skin of certain animals used to make shoes, bags, etc. ○ a leather bag ○ My shoes have leather soles. □ synthetic leather a plastic material which looks like leather

leathery /'leðərɪ/ adj tough like leather

① leave /li:v/ noun permission to be away from work ○ He has six weeks' annual leave. □ to go on leave, to be on leave to go or be away from work ○ She is away on sick leave or on maternity leave. ■ verb 1. to go away from somewhere ○ She left home at 9 o'clock this morning. ○ When they couldn't find what they wanted, they left the shop. ○ Eurostar leaves Waterloo for Brussels every day at 8.25. ○ When does the next bus leave for Oxford? 2. to forget to do something; to forget to take something with you ○ I packed in a rush and left my toothbrush at home. 3. to allow something to stay in a certain condition ○ The chickenpox didn't leave any marks. ○ Did you leave the light on when you locked up? ○ Yesterday she left the iron on, and burnt a hole in the ironing board. ○ Someone left the door open and the dog got out. ○ The coffee left a stain on the tablecloth. 4. not to take something ○ Leave some pizza for your brother. 5. to go away from someone ○ She's left her husband. □ leave me alone don't disturb me 6. not to do something, so that someone else has to do it ○ She went out leaving me all the washing up to do. 7. to give something to someone in your will ○ He left all his property to his grandson. 8. to have property or family at the time of your death ○ He left a widow and six little children. 9. □ leave it to me let me do it ○ Leave it to me, I'll find out the address for you. □ I leave it to you to decide you are the one who has to decide, not me

③ leave behind /'li:v bɪ'haɪnd/ verb to forget to take something or someone with you; not to take something or someone with you leave of absence /'li:v əv 'æbsəns/ noun permission to be away from work. Synonym sabbatical

③ leave off /'li:v 'ɒf/ verb 1. to stop doing something □ leave off! stop doing that 2. to forget to include ○ She left the postcode off the address. ○ The waitress left the drinks off the bill.

① leave out /'li:v 'aʊt/ verb to forget something or someone; not to put something in. Synonym omit. Antonym include lecherous /'le:tʃərəs/ adj only interested in sexual intercourse. Synonym lewd lectern /'lektɜ:n/ noun a high desk with a sloping surface on which you put a book or the text of a speech which you are going to read aloud in public lecturer /'lektʃərə/ noun 1. a person who gives a talk on a particular subject ○ This week's lecturer is from Sweden. 2. an ordinary teacher in a university or college ○ He has been a lecturer for five years.

③ lecture /'lektʃə/ noun a talk to students or any other group of people on a particular subject ○ She gave a lecture on Chinese art. ○ Are you going to the lecture this evening? ○ The lecture lasted thirty minutes, and then there was time for questions. ■ verb 1. to give a lecture on something ○ He will lecture on Roman history next Thursday. 2. to teach a subject, by giving lectures ○ She lectures on history at Birmingham University.

③ led /led/ □ lead ledge /'ledʒ/ noun a narrow flat part which sticks out from a cliff or building ledger /'ledʒə/ noun a large book in which accounts are written lee /li:/ noun a side of a building, hill or ship, sheltered from the wind leech /'li:tʃ/ noun a type of parasitic worm which lives in water and sucks the blood of animals by attaching itself to the skin (NOTE: The plural is leeches.)

leek /li:k/ noun a vegetable of the onion family, with a white stem and long green leaves (NOTE: Do not confuse with leak.)

leer /lɪə/ noun an unpleasant look, often expressing sexual desire ○ The leers of the men as she came into the bar made her turn round and walk straight out again. Synonym sneer ■ verb to look with a leer at someone ○ The men were sitting in the pavement café, leer-ing at girls passing in the street. Synonym smirk leery /'li:əri/ adj suspicious (informal). Antonym confident leeward /'li:wəd/ adj, adv, noun on the side sheltered from the wind leeway /'li:wei/ noun the time or space available □ to make up leeway to make up for lost time or for a lost opportunity ○ You have a lot of leeway to make up after missing so much of the term through illness.

① left /lef/t/ adj 1. not right, referring to the side of the body which usually has the hand you use less often ○ I can't write with my left hand. ○ The post office is on the left side of the street as you go towards the church. 2. (in politics) referring to the socialists ○ His politics are left of centre. Compare right 3. □ left or left over still there, not used up ○ After paying for the food and drink, I've still got £3 left. ○ If you eat three of the sweets, there will be only two left for everyone else. ○ There was nobody left in the building. □ leave ■ noun 1. the side towards the left ○ Remember to drive on the left when you are in Britain. ○ The school is on the left as you go towards the town centre. ○ She was sitting on the chairman's left. 2. □ the left (in politics) the socialists and communists, the group supporting the rights of the workers ○ We support the left by campaigning for our local Labour candidate. □ swing to the left a movement of votes towards the left-wing candidates ■ adv towards the left ○ Go straight ahead and turn left at the traffic lights. ■ verb □ leave

left-click /lef klick/ verb (in computing) to click with the left mouse button

left-hand /lef 'hænd/ adj on the left side. Antonym right-hand

left-handed /lef 'hændɪd/ adj using the left hand more often than the right for doing things. Synonym anticlockwise. Antonym right-handed leftist /'lefɪst/ adj (usually as a criticism) socialist, referring to the left in politics ○ The Minister of Justice was accused of showing leftist tendencies. ■ noun a person with left-wing ideas ○ It is apparent that there is no place for traditional leftists in the new centre government.

left-luggage office /lef 'lægɪdʒ ɒfɪs/ noun a place where suitcases can be left and collected later for a fee (NOTE: The US term is baggage room.)

leftover /'lefəʊvər/ adj which is not used ○ I've finished painting the kitchen – what shall I do with the leftover paint?

leftovers /'lefəʊvəz/ plural noun food which is left after a meal ○ The children will eat the leftovers tomorrow morning.

③ left-wing /lef 'wɪŋ/ adj in politics, on the left. Antonym right-wing left-winger /lef 'wɪŋə/ noun a person who is on the left of a political party. Synonym progressive. Antonym right-winger

lefty /'lefti/ noun a person with left-wing beliefs

① leg /leg/ noun 1. the part of the body with which a person or animal walks ○ The bird was standing on one leg, asleep. ○ Some animals can't stand on their back legs. ○ She fell down the steps and broke her leg. ◊ arm 2. ◊ to pull someone's leg to tease someone, to try to make someone believe something that is not true ○ Don't worry, she will get here on time – I was only pulling your leg. ◊ on its last legs almost worn out ○ The poor old car is on its last legs. ◊ not to have a leg to stand on to be in an awkward situation because you cannot prove what you say ○ The children produced a later will, so the claimants to the estate didn't have a leg to stand on. 3. one of the parts of a chair or table which touch the floor ○ The table has four legs. 4. a leg of an animal used for food ○ roast leg of lamb ○ Would you like a chicken leg? 5. the part of a piece of clothing which covers your leg ○ I think this (trouser) leg is longer than the other one. 6. a stage of a journey, tour or race ○ The last leg of the trip goes from Paris to Amsterdam. ○ The first leg of the tour takes in London, Hampton Court and Windsor. ■ verb ◊ to leg it to run away (informal) ○ They legged it round the corner when they saw the police coming.

legacy /'legəsi/ noun 1. what is left to a person after someone's death ○ He received a large legacy from his uncle. ○ The legacy can be paid only to the rightful claimant. 2. what is left behind by someone ○ The company's overdraft is a legacy of the previous finance director. (NOTE: The plural is legacies.)

① legal /'li:g(ə)l/ adj 1. according to the law, allowed by the law ○ It's legal to drive at 17 if you have a provisional driving licence. 2. referring to the law ◊ to take legal action to sue someone, to take someone to court ◊ to take legal advice to ask a lawyer to advise about a legal problem legal aid /'li:g(ə)l 'eɪd/ noun free legal work done for people without enough money to pay lawyers' fees legalisation /'li:gələtɪ'zeɪʃ(ə)n/, legalization noun the action of making something legal. Synonym ratification legalise /'li:gəlaɪz/, legalize verb to make something legal. Synonym decriminalise. Antonym prohibit legalistic /'li:gə'lɪstɪk/ adj too concerned with the law legality /lɪ'gælɪti/ noun being allowed by law. Antonym illegality legally /'li:gəlɪ/ adv in accordance with the law legation /'li:geɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. a group of officials below the rank of ambassador, who represent their government in a foreign country 2. a building where members of a legation work ○ He escaped from prison and hid in the Russian legation.

legend /'ledʒənd/ noun 1. a story, or group of stories, from the past which may not be based on fact ○ The legend of Jason and the Golden Fleece. 2. a famous person whose name often appears in the news ○ Marilyn Monroe, the Hollywood legend 3. a key to the symbols used on a map or chart legendary /'ledʒənd(ə)ri/ adj 1. famous, often talked about ○ His meanness is legendary. ○ Her legendary dislike of men with beards. 2. referring to legends ○ A legendary tale of witches and good fairies.

-legged /legɪd, legd/ suffix with legs

leggings /'legɪŋz/ plural noun 1. tight-fitting trousers made from a stretchy material, worn by women and girls ○ When my daughter comes home from school she changes out of her uniform and puts on a pair of leggings. ○ A group of women exercising in tops and leggings. 2. thick coverings for the legs ○ The hunters wore thick leggings and boots. (NOTE: plural; for one item say 'a pair of leggings') leggy /'legɪ/ adj with long legs legible /'ledʒɪb(ə)l/ adj able to be read easily. Antonym illegible legibly /'ledʒɪbɪli/ adv in a legible way

legion /'li:dʒən/ noun 1. a group, especially of soldiers 2. a division of the Roman army ○ The Roman legions under Julius Caesar invaded Britain. 3. a very large number ○ Many of the legions of fans who support Manchester United will be unable to buy tickets for the Cup Final.

legionary /'li:dʒən(ə)ri/ noun a member of a legion, especially the Foreign Legion (NOTE: The plural is legionaries) legionnaire's disease /,li:dʒə'nærɪz dɪ'zi:z/ noun a bacterial disease similar to pneumonia, which appears to be spread by drops of moisture in air-conditioning systems legislate /'ledʒɪslæt/ verb to make a law or laws. Synonym enact

② legislation /,ledʒɪ'sleɪʃ(ə)n/ noun laws, written rules which are passed by Parliament and applied in the courts

③ legislative /'ledʒɪslətɪv/ adj referring to laws or to law-making legislator /'ledʒɪslətər/ noun a member of a legislature, a person who makes or passes laws, such as an MP or Congressman ③ legislature /'ledʒɪslətʃər/ noun 1. a body which makes laws ○ Members of the legislature voted against the proposal. 2. a building where a law-making body meets ○ The protesters marched towards the State Legislature.

legitimacy /lɪ'dʒɪtɪməsi/ noun the quality of being in accordance with the law legitimate /lɪ'dʒɪtɪmət/ adj 1. according to the law ○ He acted in legitimate defence of his rights. 2. born to married parents ○ The old duke had no legitimate children, so the title passed to his brother.

legitimate concern /lɪ'dʒɪtəmət kən'sə:n/ noun a reasonable and justifiable concern legitimise /lɪ'dʒɪtɪmaɪz/, legitimize verb to make someone or something legitimate legless /'legləs/ adj 1. without any legs 2. drunk (informal) legroom /'legru:m/ noun the amount of space available for the legs of a person sitting down, e.g. between the rows of seats in a cinema or aircraft, or inside a car (NOTE: no plural)

③ leisure /'leʒə/ noun □ leisure (time) free time when you can do what you want leisure centre /'leʒə ,sentə/ noun a building where people can play sports, put on plays, dance, act, etc. Synonym sports centre leisurely /'leʒəli/ adj without any hurry. Antonym frantic leitmotif /'laɪtmətɪf/, leitmotiv noun a theme which reappears in a book or a piece of music lemming /'lemɪŋ/ noun a small Scandinavian mammal which often travels in mass groups lemon /'lemon/ noun 1. a pale yellow sour-tasting citrus fruit ○ Oranges are much sweeter than lemons. 2. a tree which produces these fruit ○ Lemons grow best in hot dry climates. 3. a yellow colour like that of a lemon

③ lemonade /'lema:nəd/ noun a usually fizzy lemon-flavoured drink

lemur /'li:mə/ noun a small animal with a long tail, rather like a monkey

① lend /lend/ verb 1. to let someone use something for a certain period of time ○ He asked me if I would lend him £5 till Monday. ○ I lent her my dictionary and now she won't give it back. Compare borrow 2. □ to lend a hand to help ○ Can you lend a hand with the cooking? □ to lend an ear to someone to listen sympathetically to what someone has to say □ to lend itself to to be able to be used for something special ○ The garden lends itself to landscaping. ○ The room lends itself to playing chamber music. 3. to make a certain effect ○ The Christmas decorations lend a festive air to the shopping centre. ○ Her new hairstyle lends her an air of authority. (NOTE: lending – lent /lent/) lender /'lendə/ noun a person who lends money. Synonym giver

② length /lɛnθ/ noun 1. a measurement of how long something is from end to end ○ The table is at least twelve feet in length. 2. □ length of time the amount of time something takes or lasts ○ Can you estimate the length of time you need to do this? □ she was a bit vague about the length of her visit she was not certain how long she was going to stay 3. a long piece of something ○ She bought a length of curtain material in the sale. ○ We need two 3m lengths of copper piping for the new central heating system. 4. the distance from one end to the other of a swimming pool ○ He swam two lengths of the pool. 5. □ to go to great lengths to get something to do anything, even to commit a crime, to get something ○ He went to considerable lengths to get a signed photograph of David Beckham. □ at length 1. speaking for a long time and using many words 2. giving a lot of details 3. in the end lengthen /'lɛnθən/ verb 1. to make longer ○ You can lengthen the skirt by turning down the hem. 2. to become longer ○ The shadows began to lengthen across the lawn as the sun sank slowly down in the west. Antonym shorten

③ lengthy /'lɛnθi/ adj very long. Antonym brief (NOTE: lengthier – lengthiest) leniency /'li:nɪənsi/ noun the quality of not being strict. Synonym clemency. Antonym severity lenient /'li:nɪənt/ adj not strict or severe. Synonym compassionate leniently /'li:nɪəntli/ adv in a lenient way lens /lɛns/ noun 1. a piece of glass or plastic, curved so as to cause light rays to join or spread out, and used in spectacles, telescopes, cameras, etc. ○ My eyesight is not very good, and I have to have glasses with strong lenses. ○ If the sun is strong enough you can set fire to a piece of paper using a lens. □ contact lens 2. a part of the eye behind the iris and pupil which focuses light (NOTE: The plural is lenses.)

③ lent /lɛnt/ □ lend

Lent /lɛnt/ noun the period of forty days before Easter ○ Many people try to give something up for Lent.

lentil /'lentɪl/ noun a small round dried seed, used especially in soups and stews

Leo /'li:əʊ/ noun one of the signs of the Zodiac, shaped like a lion, covering the period 23rd July to 22nd August leopard /'lepəd/ noun a large wild spotted cat, living in Africa (NOTE: Black leopards live in America and are called panthers.)

leotard /'li:ətə:d/ noun a skin-tight one-piece costume covering the top of the body, worn by ballet dancers leper /'lepə/ noun a person who has leprosy. Synonym outcast leprosy /'leprəsɪ/ noun a serious infectious disease which slowly destroys flesh and nerves lesbian /'lezbiən/ adj who is sexually attracted to other women ○ They went to the Lesbian and Gay Pride march in London. ■ noun a woman who is lesbian lesion /'li:ʒ(ə)n/ noun a wound or sore, or other damage to the body. Synonym wound

① less /les/ adj, pron a smaller amount (of)

○ You will get thinner if you eat less bread. ○

The total bill came to less than £10. ○ She finished her homework in less than an hour.

○ He sold it for less than he had paid for it. ■

adv 1. not as much ○ I like that one less than this one. ○ The second film was less interesting than the first. ○ I want a car which is less difficult to drive. □ less and less diminishing all the time ○ I enjoy my work less and less.

○ He's less and less able to look after his garden. □ more or less almost ○ I've more or less finished painting the kitchen. 2. □ in less than no time very quickly ○ They repaired the car in less than no time. □ nothing less than absolutely no less than ○ She'll be satisfied with nothing less than a husband who is a millionaire. ■ prep minus, with a certain amount taken away ○ We pay £10 an hour, less 50p for insurance.

lessen /'les(ə)n/ verb to become less, to make something become less, to reduce something (NOTE: Do not confuse with lesson.)

lesser /'lesəl/ adj smaller, not as large or important □ the lesser of two evils one of two things which is not quite as bad as the other ○ Faced with the choice of taking a taxi or waiting in the rain for a bus, we chose the lesser of two evils and decided to take the taxi.

② lesson /'les(ə)n/ noun 1. a period of time, especially in school, when you are taught something ○ He went to sleep during the French lesson. ○ We have six lessons of history a week. ○ She's taking or having driving lessons. ○ He gives Spanish lessons at home in the evenings. 2. something which you learn from experience and which makes you wiser ○ He's learnt his lesson, he knows you shouldn't be rude to policemen. □ to teach someone a lesson to punish someone for doing something wrong ○ I locked up her bike – that will teach her a lesson.

lest /lest/ conj 1. in order to avoid ○ They had to speak in whispers, lest they be overheard. 2. for fear that ○ She is afraid to say what she thinks, lest she might offend someone.

③ let /let/ verb 1. to allow someone to do something ○ He let her borrow his car. ○

Will you let me see the papers? ○ Let me see what I can do for you. 2. □ to let someone know something to tell someone about something, to give someone information about something ○ Please let me know the result as soon as you can. ○ Can you let me know when the parcel arrives? 3. to allow someone to borrow a house or office for a while and pay for it ○ We're letting our cottage to some friends for the weekend. □ the flat is to let at £1000 a month the flat can be rented for £1000 per month 4. □ let's making a suggestion that you and someone else should do something together ○ Let's go to the cinema. ○ Don't let's leave yet or let's not leave yet. (NOTE: letting – has let) ■ noun the period of the lease of a property ○ They took the house on a short let.

③ let down /,let 'daʊn/ verb 1. to lower something or someone ○ They let him down into the mine on a rope. 2. to make the air go out of something such as a tyre or balloon ○ Someone had let down my front tyre. 3. not to help when someone expects you to help ○ I asked three people to speak at the meeting but they all let me down.

letdown /'letdaʊn/ noun a disappointment

③ let go /,let 'gəʊ/ verb to stop holding on to something lethal /'li:θ(ə)l/ adj which kills. Synonym deadly lethargic /lɪ'θə:dʒɪk/ adj showing lethargy. Synonym sluggish. Antonym energetic lethargy /'leθədʒɪ/ noun a tired feeling, when your movements are extremely slow and you are almost unable to do anything

③ let in /,let 'ɪn/ verb to allow to come in

③ let off /,let 'ɒf/ verb 1. to make something such as a gun or bomb fire or explode ○ They let off fireworks in the town centre. 2. not to punish someone severely ○ He was charged with stealing, but the judge let him off with a fine. 3. to agree that someone need not do something ○ She let the class off their homework.

③ let on /,let 'ɒn/ verb to tell a secret

① let out /,let 'aut/ verb 1. to allow to go out ○ The boys let the pigs out of the field. ○ We let the dogs out into the garden in the evening. ○ She let the air out of my front tyre.

□ let out a piercing cry shout very loudly 2. to make a piece of clothing bigger ○ Can you let out these trousers, they're getting too tight? (NOTE: In this meaning the opposite is to take in.)

① let's /lets/ □ let

① letter /'letəl/ noun 1. a piece of writing sent from one person or organisation to another to pass on information ○ There were two letters for you in the post. ○ Don't forget to write a letter to your mother to tell her

what we are doing. ○ We've had a letter from the bank manager. 2. one of the signs which make up the alphabet, a sign used in writing which means a certain sound ○ Z is the last letter of the alphabet. ○ I'm trying to think of a word with ten letters beginning with A and ending with R. □ to the letter exactly as shown or stated ○ They followed his instructions to the letter. ○ The referee makes sure that the rules of the game are followed to the letter. ♦ capital, red-letter day

letterbox /'letəbɒks/ noun 1. a box in the road where you post letters ○ There's a letterbox at the corner of the street. 2. a hole in a front door through which letters are delivered ○ The Sunday paper is too big to go through the letterbox.

letterhead /'letəhed/ noun the name and address of a company printed at the top of a piece of writing paper lettering /'letərɪŋ/ noun the style of letters in a piece of writing, e.g. on a sign or a notice lettuce /'letɪs/ noun a plant with large green leaves which are used in salads (NOTE: no plural except when referring to several plants: a row of lettuces)

③ let up /,let 'ʌp/ verb to do less, to become less ○ The snow didn't let up all day. ○ She's working too hard – she ought to let up a bit.

③ let yourself in for /,let jəself 'ɪn fɔ:/ verb to allow yourself to get involved in something difficult or unpleasant leukaemia /lu:'ki:mɪə/ noun any of several serious illnesses where an unusual number of white blood cells form in the blood (NOTE: The US spelling is leukemia.)

① level /'lev(ə)l/ noun 1. a position relating to height or amount ○ I want to lower the level of our borrowings. ○ The floodwater has reached a level of 5m above normal. 2. a floor in a building ○ Go up to the next level. ○ The toilets are at street level. 3. □ on the level honest and not trying to trick anyone (informal) ○ I don't think the salesman is being on the level with us. □ to do your level best to do as well as you can (informal) ○ I'll do my level best to be there on time. ■ adj 1. flat, even ○ Are these shelves level, or do they slope to the left? 2. □ level with at the same level as ○ The ground floor is level with the street. 3. equal, the same ○ At half-time the scores were level. ■ verb 1. to make level □ levelled the house to the ground destroyed the house completely 2. □ to level off or out to stop going up or down ○ Price increases are starting to level off. ○ The road climbs for about two kilometres and then levels out. 3. to point or to aim a weapon at someone □ to level an accusation to accuse someone of doing something wrong

③ level crossing /'lev(ə)l 'krɒsɪŋ/ noun a place where a road crosses a railway line without a bridge or tunnel (NOTE: The US term is grade crossing.)

level-headed /,lev(ə)l'hedɪd/ adj sensible. Antonym rash level playing-field /,lev(ə)l 'pleɪɪŋ/ noun a situation in which all the conditions are the same for everyone who is involved, so that nobody has an unfair advantage leverage /'li:vərɪdʒ/ noun 1. the power to move something heavy by using a lever ○ They used a longer bar to get better leverage. ○ You'll need a longer pole to increase the leverage. 2. an influence which you can use to get what you want ○ His business contacts were useful leverage in discussing terms for the contract. ○ She has a majority of the shares in the company and therefore can exert a lot of leverage over the directors.

③ lever /'li:vər/ noun an instrument like a bar, which helps to lift a heavy object, or to move part of a machine ○ We used a pole as a lever to lift up the block of stone. Synonym handle ■ verb to move with a lever ○ They levered open the door with an iron bar.

levitate /'levɪteɪt/ verb to rise into the air, as if by magic levity /'levɪtɪ/ noun a lack of respect when considering serious things

levy /'levɪ/ noun an official tax or other payment ○ I think the import levies on luxury goods are too high. ○ We paid the levy on time. (NOTE: The plural is levies.) ■ verb to order a person to pay a tax or other payment, or to collect it ○ The customs levied a large fine. Synonym impose lewd /lu:d/ adj rude because of referring to sex in an unpleasant way (NOTE: lewdier – lewdest)

lexicographer /,leksɪ'kɒgrəfə/ noun a person whose job is to write dictionaries

② liability /,laɪə'bɪlɪtɪ/ noun 1. a legal responsibility ○ Make sure you understand your legal liabilities before you sign the contract. □ to accept liability for something to agree that you are responsible for something □ to refuse liability for something to refuse to agree that you are responsible for something □ couldn't meet liabilities did not have enough money to pay debts. ♦ limited 2. a tendency to do something ○ His unfortunate liability to burst into tears when criticised. 3. disadvantage ○ Bad eyesight is a liability if you want to be a pilot. 4. a person who causes problems or who makes you feel embarrassed ○ He has been arrested several times and is something of a liability to his parents.

liable /'laɪəb(ə)l/ adj □ liable for legally responsible for something ○ You will be liable for the payment of the fine. ○ Parents can be made liable for their children's debts.

liaise /li'eɪz/ verb □ to liaise with someone to inform someone of what is being done or planned so that everyone who is involved can work together well ○ Can you liaise with each individual manager regarding the move to new offices?

③ liaison /li'eɪz(ə)n/ noun 1. the process of keeping someone informed of what is happening ○ There has been a total lack of liaison between the police and the customs department on this case. 2. a sexual relationship ○ His liaison with the beautiful Hungarian was soon well-known in the embassy.

liar /'laɪə/ noun a person who tells lies lib /lɪb/ noun same as liberation (dated informal)

Lib Dem /lɪb 'dɛm/ abbr Liberal Democrat ○ Delegates at the Lib Dem party conference. (NOTE: The plural is the Lib Dems.)

④ libel /'laɪb(ə)l/ noun a written statement about someone which is not true and may damage their reputation ○ I will sue you for libel. ■ verb □ to libel someone to damage someone's reputation in writing ○ He accused the newspaper of libelling him. Compare slander libelous /'laɪbələs/ adj which libels someone (NOTE: The US spelling is libelous.)

⑤ liberal /'lɪb(ə)rəl/ adj 1. not strict, willing to accept other people's views ○ The liberal view would be to let the teenagers run the club themselves. 2. generous ○ He left a very liberal tip.

Liberal /'lɪb(ə)rəl/ noun 1. (in politics) referring to or supporting the Liberal Party 2. (in politics) a member or supporter of a Liberal Party liberal arts /,lɪb(ə)rəl 'a:ts/ noun US subjects other than science, such as English, history or languages liberalise /'lɪb(ə)rəlaɪz/, liberalize verb to make things such as laws more liberal. Antonym tighten liberalism /'lɪb(ə)rəlɪz(ə)m/ noun the ideals and beliefs of Liberals liberality /,lɪbə'rælɪti/ noun 1. the fact of being willing to accept that other people have the right to hold opinions which you do not agree with ○ He was well known for the liberality of his views on divorce. 2. the quality of being extremely generous ○ The liberality of the sheikh's presents astonished everyone.

Liberal Party /'lɪb(ə)rəl ,pɑ:ti/ noun a political party which is in favour of some social change, some involvement of the state in industry and welfare, but less centralisation of government, with no fixed connections with either employees or employers liberate /'lɪbəreɪt/ verb to set someone or something free from something. Antonym imprison liberated /'lɪbəreɪtɪd/ adj 1. not influenced by a society's traditional ideas about how people should behave e.g. the way women should behave 2. set free from enemy control liberating /'lɪbəreɪtɪŋ/ adj which liberates you liberation /,lɪbə'reɪʃ(ə)n/ noun setting free. Synonym freedom. Antonym captivity libertarian /,lɪbə'teəriən/ noun a person who believes in freedom of thought and action

liberty /'lɪbəti/ noun 1. freedom ○ When he was in prison he wrote poems about his lost liberty. ○ Anti-terrorist legislation can be seen as an infringement of the liberty of the individual. 2. □ at liberty free; not in prison ○ Two of the escaped prisoners are still at liberty. □ to be at liberty to do something to be free to do something ○ You are at liberty to go now.

libido /lɪ'bɪ:dəʊ/ noun the feeling of wanting to have sex

Libra /'lɪ:b्रə/ noun one of the signs of the zodiac, shaped like a pair of scales, covering the period 22nd September to 23rd October librarian /lai'b्रeəriən/ noun a person who works in a library

⑥ library /laɪbrəri/ noun 1. a place where books are kept which can be borrowed ○ He forgot to take his books back to the library. ○ You can't sell it, it's a library book. 2. a collection of things such as books or records ○ He has a big record library. (NOTE: The plural is libraries.)

libretto /lɪ'bretəʊ/ noun the words of an opera or musical (NOTE: The plural is librettos or libretti.)

lice /laɪs/ □ louse

⑦ licence /'laɪs(ə)ns/ noun 1. a document which gives official permission to own something or to do something ○ She has applied for an export licence for these paintings. 2. a freedom, especially when used wrongly ○ Designers should be given the licence to change the whole design whenever they want.

3. □ under licence with official permission from a owner ○ The cars are made in South America under licence. (NOTE: [all senses] The US spelling is license.)

⑧ license /laɪs(ə)ns/ verb to give someone official permission to do something ○ The restaurant is licensed to serve beer, wines and spirits. ○ She is licensed to run an employment agency. Synonym certify ■ noun US □ licence licensed /'laɪs(ə)nst/ adj which has a licence to do something licensee /,laɪs(ə)n'si:/ noun a person who has a licence for a particular activity, especially a person who is in charge of a public house license plate /'laɪs(ə)ns pleɪt/ noun US a number plate on a vehicle lichen /'laɪkən, 'lɪtʃən/ noun a very small plant which grows on the surface of stones or trunks of trees

③ lick /lɪk/ noun 1. a gentle movement of the tongue across the surface of something ○ The dog gave him a friendly lick. ○ Can I have a lick of your ice cream? 2. a quick coat of paint ○ The door could do with a lick of paint. 3. □ a lick and a promise a quick wash (informal) ■ verb 1. to make a gentle movement with your tongue across the surface of something ○ You shouldn't lick the plate when you've finished your pudding. ○ They licked their lips when they saw the cakes. □ to lick someone's boots to do everything you can to please someone in authority 2. to beat, to hit □ to lick someone into shape to train someone to do something properly ○ A few weeks with the army and he'll soon be licked into shape.

licorice /'lɪkərɪs/ noun US spelling of liquorice

③ lid /lɪd/ noun a covering for a container, sometimes with a handle ○ Where's the lid of the black saucepan? ○ He managed to get the lid off the jam jar. Synonym top

① lie /laɪ/ verb 1. to say something which is not true ○ She was lying when she said she had been at home all evening. ○ He lied about the accident to the headmaster. (NOTE: in this meaning: lying – lied) 2. to be in a flat position; to be in a particular place ○ Six soldiers lay dead on the ground. ○ The dog spends the evening lying in front of the fire. ○ There were bits of paper and cigarette packets lying all over the pavement. ○ The city of Quito lies near the equator. (NOTE: lying – lay – lain) □ to lie in wait for someone to hide and wait for someone to come so as to attack him ■ noun something which is not true ○ That's a lie! – don't believe what he says. ○ Someone has been telling lies about her. Antonym truth

lie detector /laɪ drɪ'tektə/ noun a machine which is used to check if someone is telling the truth, e.g. when the police are questioning them

③ lie down /,laɪ 'daʊn/ verb to put yourself in a flat position, especially on a bed lie-down /'laɪ daʊn/ noun a short rest (informal)

③ lie in /,laɪ 'ɪn/ verb to stay in bed late in the morning (informal) ○ I think I'll lie in this morning.

③ lie-in /'laɪɪn/ noun (informal) □ to have a lie-in to stay in bed longer than usual ○ I can't wait until Saturday comes, then I can have a lie-in.

③ lie low /laɪ 'ləʊ/ verb to keep hidden and quiet lieu /lu:/ noun (old) □ in lieu of in place of ○ When she was sacked she was given four weeks' pay in lieu of notice. ○ He accepted a car in lieu of payment.

③ lieutenant /lɪ'tenənt/ noun 1. a rank in the armed forces below a captain ○ The lieutenant has to report to his captain. 2. someone whose job is to help an important person ○ The mayor came into the room with two of his lieutenants.

① life /laɪf/ noun 1. the time when you are alive ○ He spent his whole life working on the farm. □ in early life when you are a child ○ In early life he lived in the country. □ for life for as long as someone is alive ○ They put him behind bars for life. ○ His pension gives him a comfortable income for life. □ a matter of life and death a very serious matter ○ Call the hospital immediately – it's a matter of life and death. □ not on your life! certainly not! (informal) ○ Don't you want to go camping? – Not on your life! □ I can't for the life of me understand I can't understand at all 2. the fact of being a living person □ to lose your life to die ○ Several lives were lost when the ship sank. □ saved my life saved me from dying □ to take your life or own life to kill yourself ○ In a fit of despair she took her life. 3. an experience ○ Life can be hard when you don't have much money. ○ Being a miner is a hard life. 4. living things ○ Is there life on Mars? □ there's no sign of life in the house it looks as though there is no one in it 5. enthusiasm or energy ○ The young actors injected some life into the old play. ○ The film comes to life when she appears on the screen. ○ She's always full of life. 6. a biography, the written story of someone's life ○ She has written a life of Henry VIII.

lifebelt /'laɪfbelt/ noun a large ring which helps to prevent you from sinking in water (NOTE: Another US term is life preserver.)

lifeboat /'laɪfbət/ noun a special boat used to save people from danger at sea lifebuoy /'laɪf,baʊ/ noun a float used in an emergency to keep somebody's head and shoulders above water until help arrives life cycle /'laɪf ,saɪk(ə)l/ noun all the changes which a living creature goes through during its life life expectancy /laɪf ɪk'spektənsi/ noun 1. the number of years that a person or animal is likely to live ○ Average life expectancy has increased to over 80 for women. 2. the length of time that something is expected to continue ○ The life expectancy of this government is short – it only has a majority of one in Parliament.

lifeguard /laɪfga:d/ noun a person who is on duty on a beach or at a swimming pool, and who saves people who get into difficulty in the water life insurance /'laɪf ɪn,ʃʊərəns/ noun a type of insurance paying an amount of money to your family if you die (NOTE: For life insurance, British English prefers to use the word assurance.)

life jacket /'laɪf, dʒækɪt/ noun something which you wear when you are on a boat and which will prevent you from sinking if you fall into the water (NOTE: Another US term is life preserver.)

lifeless /'laɪfləs/ adj 1. not alive ○ Her lifeless body was washed up on the shore. 2. not lively ○ The dancers' performance was lifeless and the audience booed them at the end of the ballet.

lifelike /'laɪflaɪk/ adj just like a living person lifeline /'laɪflaɪn/ noun 1. a rope thrown to a person who is sinking in water ○ They threw him a lifeline from the boat. 2. the help given to someone in difficulties ○ The scholarship offers a lifeline to young writers. ○ The government grant is a lifeline which helps them put on exhibitions of young painters' work at their gallery.

lifelong /'laɪflɔːŋ/ adj lasting your whole life. Synonym enduring. Antonym temporary life raft /'laɪf ræft/ noun a small boat carried on a ship people to use if the ship sinks life saving /'laɪf ,seɪvɪŋ/ noun the practice of saving people from sinking in water ○ He took a course in life saving before becoming a guard at the swimming pool. ■ adj which saves lives ○ The surgeon performed a life-saving operation on the little girl.

life sciences /'laɪf 'saɪənsɪz/ plural noun the sciences which involve the study of animals and plants life sentence /'laɪf 'sentəns/ noun the punishment of being sent to prison for many years for committing murder life-size /'laɪf saɪz/ adj the same size as the real thing life-sized /'laɪf saɪzd/ adj an object such as a statue or painting which is the same size as the real thing or person

③ life-span /'laɪf spæn/ noun the length of time something exists life story /'laɪf 'stɔːri/ noun a detailed account of all the events of someone's life

③ lifestyle /'laɪfstaɪl/ noun the way in which someone or a group of people live. Synonym way of life life-threatening /'laɪf ,θret(ə)nɪŋ/ adj which may kill. Synonym dangerous lifetime /'laɪftaɪm/ noun the time when you are alive □ the chance of a lifetime the best chance you are ever likely to get ○ Take the offer – it's the chance of a lifetime. □ in my lifetime while I am alive ○ I don't expect to see that happen in my lifetime. ○ I hope to see men on Mars in my lifetime.

② lift /lɪft/ noun 1. a machine which takes people up or down from one floor to another in a building ○ Take the lift to the tenth floor.

○ Push the button to call the lift. ○ Your room is on the fifteenth floor, so you had better use the lift. (NOTE: The US term is elevator.) 2. a ride in a car offered to someone ○ She gave me a lift to the station. □ to hitch a lift to ask a driver to take you as a passenger, usually by standing by the side of the road and holding up your thumb or a sign saying where you want to go ○ He hitched a lift to Birmingham. ○ Her car broke down and she hitched a lift from a passing motorist. 3. □ chair lift, ski lift chairs which take skiers to the top of a mountain slope ○ The chair lift takes about ten minutes to reach the top. ■ verb 1. to pick something up or move it to a higher position ○ My briefcase is so heavy I can hardly lift it off the floor. ○ He lifted the little girl up so that she could see the procession. ○ He hurt his back lifting the box down from the shelf. 2. to remove ○ The government has lifted the ban on selling guns. 3. to go away ○ The fog had lifted by lunchtime. 4. to copy ○ Whole sections of his book were lifted from one I wrote two years ago.

lift-off /'lɪft ɒf/ noun the act of sending a spacecraft up into the air

lift shaft /'lɪft ſa:ft/ noun a hole inside a building in which a lift moves up and down ligament /'lɪgəmənt/ noun a thick band of fibrous tissue which connects the bones at a joint

① light /laɪt/ noun 1. brightness, the opposite of darkness ○ I can't read the map by the light of the moon. ○ There's not enough light to take a photo. □ to stand in someone's light to stand between someone and where the light is coming from 2. an electric bulb which gives light ○ Turn the light on – I can't see to read. ○ It's dangerous to ride a bicycle with no lights. ○ In the fog, I could just see the red lights of the car in front of me. □ there's light at the end of the tunnel there is some hope that everything will be all right (informal) 3. a way of making something such as a cigarette start to burn ○ Can you give me a light? or do you have a light?

4. □ to cast or throw light on something to make something easier to understand ○ The papers throw light on how the minister reached his decision. □ to come to light to be discovered ○ Documents have come to light which could help the police in their investigations. □ in the light of something when something is considered ○ In the light of the reports in the press, can the minister explain his decision? ■ verb 1. to start to burn, to make something start to burn ○ He is trying to get the fire to light. ○ Can you light the candles on the birthday cake? ○ He couldn't get the fire to light. ○ Light a candle – it's dark in the cellar. 2. to give light to something ○ The full moon lit the village, so we could see the church clearly. ○ Flood-lights were brought in to light the accident site. (NOTE: lighting – lit /lɪt/) ■ adj 1. not heavy ○ I can lift this box easily – it's quite light or it's as light as a feather. ○ You need light clothing for tropical countries. ○ She's just been ill, and can only do light work. 2. pale ○ He was wearing a light green shirt. ○ I prefer a light carpet to a dark one. 3. having a lot of light so that you can see well ○ The big windows make the kitchen very light. ○ It was six o'clock in the morning and just getting light. 4. not very serious ○ I like to listen to light music when I am doing the cooking. ○ She took some detective novels as light reading on the train. (NOTE: lighter – lightest) ■ adv □ to travel light to travel with very little luggage ○ If you're hitching across Australia, it's best to travel light.

light aircraft /laɪt 'eə,kra:fɪt/ noun a small plane

③ light bulb /laɪt bɒlb/ noun a glass ball which gives electric light

lighten /laɪtn/ verb 1. to make or become brighter, not so dark ○ You can lighten the room by painting it white. ○ The sky lightened as dawn broke. 2. to make or become lighter, not so heavy ○ I'll have to lighten my backpack – it's much too heavy. 3. to make someone happier, less gloomy ○ The news has lightened the gloom in the office considerably.

light entertainment /laɪt ,entə'meɪnt/ noun entertainment that is not serious, usually involving things such as telling jokes, singing, dancing or popular music lighter /laɪtə/ noun 1. a small object used for lighting things such as cigarettes ○ Can I borrow your lighter? – mine has run out of gas. 2. a boat for carrying goods from a large ship to land ○ Cranes were unloading the cargo into lighters. ■ adj light light-fingered /laɪt 'fɪngəd/ adj who tends to steal things light-headed /laɪt 'hedɪd/ adj with the feeling that you are going to fall down light-hearted /laɪt 'ha:tɪd/ adj happy, not very serious light heavyweight /laɪt 'heviweɪt/ noun the weight of boxer above middle-weight and below heavyweight lighthouse /laɪthaʊs/ noun a tall building near the sea containing a bright light to show ships where there rocks (NOTE: The plural is lighthouses /'laɪthaʊzɪz/.)

light industry /,laɪt 'ɪndəstri/ noun an industry which makes small products, such as clothes, books or things you use in the home ③ lighting /laɪtɪŋ/ noun the light in a place. Synonym illumination lightly /'laɪtli/ adv 1. gently, without force ○ She touched my arm lightly. ○ I always sleep lightly and wake up several times each night. 2. not severely □ she was lucky to get off so lightly she was lucky not to be punished 3. without much rich food ○ She always eats lightly at lunchtime. 4. not very much ○ some lightly cooked vegetables

② lightning /laɪtnɪŋ/ noun 1. a flash of electricity in the sky, followed by thunder ○ The storm approached with thunder and lightning. 2. □ like lightning very fast ○ Deer can run like lightning.

light-sensitive /laɪt 'sensɪtɪv/ adj which reacts to light light socket /'laɪt ,sɒkɪt/ noun the part of a lamp where the bulb is fitted

③ light up /,laɪt 'ʌp/ verb 1. to make something bright ○ The flames from the burning petrol store lit up the night sky. ○ The firework display lit up the gardens and the lake. 2. to become bright and happy ○ Her face lit up when she saw the presents under the Christmas tree. 3. to start to smoke ○ Please do not light up until coffee has been served.

lightweight /'laɪtweɪt/ adj 1. made of light cloth ○ At last we have some hot weather and a chance to wear lightweight clothes. 2. without much influence or importance ○ He's quite sensible, but only a lightweight member of the committee. ■ noun a weight of a boxer between featherweight and welterweight ○ the lightweight champion ○ a lightweight title fight

③ light year /laɪt jɪə/ noun 1. the distance travelled by light during one year, equal to about 9.3 billion kilometres ○ Stars are light years from earth. 2. □ light years apart very different ○ The new model is light years in advance of its competitors.

① like /laɪk/ adj similar, nearly the same ○ sociology, psychology and like subjects. Antonym dissimilar ■ prep 1. similar to, in the same way as ○ What's that record? – it sounds like Elgar. ○ He's like his mother in many ways, but he has his father's nose. ○ Like you, I don't get on with the new boss. ○ The picture doesn't look like him at all. ○ He can swim like a fish. ○ It tastes like strawberries. □ it feels like snow it feels as if it is going to snow □ do you feel like a cup of coffee? do you want a cup of coffee? 2. asking someone to describe something ○ What was the weather like when you were on holiday? ○ What's he like, her new boyfriend? ■

adv \square as like as not probably \circ As like as not, Dan will arrive late. ■ conj in the same way as \circ She looks just like I did at her age.

■ verb 1. to have pleasant feelings about something or someone \circ Do you like the new manager? \circ She doesn't like eating meat. \circ How does he like his new job? \circ No one likes driving in rush hour traffic. \circ In the evening, I like to sit quietly and read the newspaper. 2. to want \circ I'd like you to meet one of our sales executives. \circ I'd like to go to Paris next week. \circ Take as many apples as you like. ■ noun 1. a thing which you like \circ We try to take account of the likes and dislikes of individual customers. 2. \square the likes of someone like \circ The likes of him should not be allowed in.

likeable /'laɪkəb(ə)l/ adj pleasant likelihood /'laɪklihod/ noun the chance of something happening. Synonym probability ① likely /'laɪkli/ adj which you think is going to happen \circ It's likely to snow this weekend. \circ He's not likely to come to the party. \circ Is that at all likely? (NOTE: likelier – likeliest) ■ adv probably \circ Most likely he's gone home. \square not likely! certainly not \circ Are you going to the office party? – Not likely!

like-minded /,laɪk 'maɪndɪd/ adj who has the same opinions liken /'laɪkən/ verb \square to liken something to something to compare two things, by showing how one is similar to the other \circ Can I liken her to a ray of sunlight? \circ He likened being tackled by the South African forward to being hit by a rhino.

likeness /'laɪknəs/ noun 1. a picture or other object which looks like someone \circ The sketch is an astonishing likeness of grandmother. 2. the fact of being like someone else \circ There is a strong family likeness in all the children. (NOTE: The plural is likenesses.)

likewise /'laɪkwaɪz/ adv in the same way. Synonym similarly

③ liking /'laɪkɪŋ/ noun a pleasant feeling towards someone or something \square to take a liking to someone to start to like someone \circ The manager has taken a liking to her.

lilac /'laɪlæk/ noun 1. a tree with purple or white flowers \circ They have a pretty lilac in their front garden. 2. a pale purple colour \circ They painted the bathroom a deep lilac. ■ adj pale purple \circ She wore a lilac dress and gloves.

lilt /'lɪlt/ noun a way of speaking or singing with a light well-marked rhythm. Synonym intonation lilting /'lɪltɪŋ/ adj which has a lilt

lily /'lɪli/ noun a type of flower shaped like a trumpet, which grows from a bulb (NOTE: The plural is lilies.)

lily-of-the-valley /'lɪli əv ðə 'væli/ noun a spring plant which has small bell-shaped white flowers and a pleasant smell (NOTE: The plural is lilies-of-the-valley or lily-of-the-valley.)

③ limb /'lɪməb/ noun 1. a leg or arm \circ He was lucky not to break a limb in the accident. \square danger to life and limb danger that someone may be hurt \circ When he's on his motorbike he's a danger to life and limb. 2. a branch of a tree \square out on a limb in a difficult situation \circ He feels out on a limb, with no one to share responsibility for running the company.

limber /'lɪmber/ verb \square to limber up to do exercises to warm your muscles before playing a sport \circ The athletes were limbering up before the race.

limbo /'lɪmboʊ/ noun 1. a place between heaven and hell, where people who are not baptised are said to go when they die \circ In medieval times, some poor souls were condemned to wander in limbo for ever. 2. the position of being halfway between two stages \circ After losing his seat in the election he now finds himself in political limbo.

limbo dancing /'lɪmboʊ ,da:nsɪŋ/ noun a West Indian dance where the dancer bends his or her body backwards to pass under a low horizontal bar lime /laɪm/ noun 1. a white substance containing calcium, used in making cement \circ The builder ordered some bags of lime. (NOTE: no plural in this meaning) 2. a small yellowish-green tropical fruit like a lemon or the tree which bears such fruit \circ You need the juice of two limes to make this recipe.

lime green /,laɪm 'grɪ:n/ adj, noun the bright green colour of lime, the fruit limelight /'laɪmlaɪt/ noun attention or publicity limerick /'laɪmərɪk/ noun a type of funny poem with five lines limestone /'laɪmstənən/ noun a common white sedimentary rock lime tree /laɪm tri:/, lime /laɪm/ noun a northern tree with yellowish flowers and smooth leaves which fall off in the winter

② limit /'lɪmɪt/ noun the furthest point beyond which you cannot go \square over the limit with more alcohol in your blood than is allowed by law \circ The breath test showed he was way over the limit. \square within limits in a way which is not extreme \circ We're prepared to help you within limits. \square that's the limit! that's too much, that's more than I can stand!

■ verb not to allow something to go beyond a certain point \circ Her parents limited the number of evenings she could go out. \circ The treasurer wants to limit expenditure on flowers. Synonym control. Antonym deregulate

③ limitation /'lɪmɪ'teɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. the act of limiting someone or something 2. a thing which stops you going further ◇ the limitations of a machine ◇ to know your limitations to know what you are capable of doing ◇ I'd love to go hang-gliding but I know my limitations. 3. ◇ statute of limitations law which allows only a certain amount of time, usually six years, for someone to start a legal case to claim damages

② limited /'lɪmitɪd/ adj which has been limited limited company /,lɪmitɪd 'kʌmp(ə)nɪ/ limited liability company /,lɪmitɪd laɪ-'bilitɪ ,kʌmp(ə)nɪ/ noun a private company in which the shareholders are only responsible for the company's debts up to the amount of capital they have put in (NOTE: Limited companies are abbreviated to Ltd in the company name: Jones & Black, Ltd.) limited edition /,lɪmitɪd ɪ'dɪʃ(ə)n/ noun something of which only a few copies are printed or made, usually no more than 1,000 limiting /'lɪmitɪŋ/ adj which limits ◇ limiting factor something which sets a limit to something ◇ The size of the room is a limiting factor – it will only hold fifty people. ◇ The limiting factor is the amount of money we can allocate to the project.

limitless /'lɪmitləs/ adj without any limit. Antonym limited limousine /lɪmə'zi:n/, limo /'lɪməʊ/ noun a large expensive car, especially one that is longer than usual limp /lɪmp/ noun an uneven way of walking, when one leg hurts or is shorter than the other ◇ His limp has improved since his operation. ■ verb to walk in a way which is affected by having an injured leg or foot ◇ After the accident she limped badly. Synonym hobble ■ adj soft, not stiff ◇ All we had as a salad was two limp lettuce leaves. ◇ He gave me a limp handshake. ◇ She went limp and we had to give her a glass of water.

limpet /'lɪmptɪ/ noun a small shellfish shaped like a flat cone, which attaches itself firmly to rocks

limply /'lɪmplɪ/ adv in a limp way

linchpin /'lɪntʃpɪn/ noun 1. a pin which goes through an axle to hold a wheel on 2. a person or part of a machine that is very important linctus /'lɪŋktəs/ noun a sweet cough medicine

① line /lайн/ noun 1. a long thin mark ◇ She drew a straight line across the sheet of paper. ◇ Parking isn't allowed on yellow lines. ◇ The tennis ball went over the line. ◇ to draw the line at to refuse to do ◇ I don't mind having a cup of coffee with the boss, but I draw the line at having to invite him for a meal at home. 2. a long string ◇ She hung her washing on the (washing) line. ◇ He sat with his fishing line in the river, waiting for a fish.

3. a wire along which telephone messages are sent ◇ The snow brought down the telephone lines. ◇ Can you speak louder – the line is bad. ◇ to be on the line to be talking to someone on the telephone ◇ Don't interrupt – I'm on the line to New York. ◇ Do you want to speak to Charles while he's on the line? 4. a long row of people or things ◇ We had to stand in (a) line for half an hour to get into the exhibition. ◇ The line of lorries stretched for miles at the frontier. 5. a row of written or printed words ◇ He printed the first two lines and showed them to me. ◇ Can you read the bottom line on the chart? ◇ to drop someone a line to send someone a short letter (informal) ◇ I'll drop you a line when I get to New York. 6. ◇ lines words learnt and then spoken by an actor ◇ He forgot his lines and had to be prompted. 7. a way of doing things ◇ in line with according to ◇ We acted in line with the decision taken at the meeting. ◇ to take a hard line not to be weak ◇ The headmaster takes a hard line with boys who sell drugs in the playground. 8. a type of work ◇ What's his line of business? 9. a series of different products, all sold or made by the same company ◇ We sell several lines of refrigerators. ◇ I'm afraid we don't stock that line any more. ■ verb 1. to stand side by side in a line ◇ Soldiers were lining the streets. 2. to put a lining inside something, especially a piece of clothing ◇ His jacket is lined with red silk.

lineage /'lайнɪdʒ/ noun all the people of someone's family who lived before they did, used especially when you are referring to a family of high social status. Synonym ancestry linear /'līniəl/ adj 1. referring to lines ◇ a linear diagram 2. referring to length ◇ A metre is a linear measurement.

③ lined /laɪnd/ adj 1. with lines on it 2. with people or things standing side by side ◇ an avenue lined with trees, a tree-lined avenue an street with trees along both sides 3. with a lining inside ◇ You'll need fur-lined boots in Canada.

lined paper /laɪnd 'peɪpə/ noun paper with lines printed on it line drawing /'lайн ,drɔ:ɪŋ/ noun a picture which has been drawn with a pen or pencil and shows only lines line manager /'lайн ,mænɪdʒə/ noun a manager in a company who is involved in production or the central part of the business and who is in charge of the employees in that part of the company linen /'līnən/ noun 1. a cloth made from flax ◇ He bought a white linen suit. 2. underwear ◇ You should change your linen more often in hot weather. ◇ to wash your dirty linen in public to tell personal secrets about yourself and your family ◎ Politicians try to be careful not to wash their dirty linen in public.

liner /'laɪnə/ noun 1. a thing used for lining
 2. □ eye liner makeup for putting round the eyes 3. a large passenger ship ◎ They went on a cruise round the Caribbean on an American liner.

linesman /'laɪnzmən/ noun 1. a man who looks after electric, telephone or railway lines ◎ The linesmen struggled for days to restore power to the areas that had been cut off by the storm. (NOTE: The US term is lineman.)
 2. an official who stays on the side of the playing area in a game to see if the ball goes over the line, and helps the referee to spot any breaking of the rules ◎ After consulting with his linesman, the referee awarded a free kick. ◎ The linesman flagged that the ball had gone out of play. (NOTE: The plural is linesmen.)

③ line up /lain 'ʌp/ verb to stand in a line ◎ Line up over there if you want to take the next boat.

line-up /'lain ʌp/ noun a group or list of people

④ linger /'lɪŋgə/ verb to stay longer than necessary, longer than expected lingerie /'laenʒəri/ noun women's underwear lingering /'lɪŋgəriŋ/ adj which remains for some time

⑤ linguist /'lɪŋgwɪst/ noun 1. a person who knows foreign languages well ◎ Only the very best linguists can hope to become interpreters for the EU. 2. a person who studies linguistics ◎ Linguists have discovered similarities between Sanskrit and ancient Greek.

⑥ linguistic /'lɪŋ'gwɪstɪk/ adj referring to language or languages

⑦ linguistics /'lɪŋ'gwɪstɪks/ noun the science of language

lining /'laɪnɪŋ/ noun material put on the inside of something, especially of a piece of clothing ◎ You'll need a coat with a warm lining if you're going to Canada in winter. ◎ She has a pair of boots with a fur lining. □ every cloud has a silver lining although a situation may seem bad there is always some aspect of it which is good

⑧ link /lɪŋk/ noun 1. a thing which connects two things or places ◎ The Channel Tunnel provides a fast rail link between England and France. 2. one of the rings in a chain ◎ A chain with solid gold links. □ verb to join together ◎ They linked arms and walked down the street. ◎ His salary is linked to the cost of living. ◎ All the rooms are linked to the main switchboard. ◎ Eurostar links London and Paris or Brussels. Synonym connect

linking verb /'lɪŋkɪŋ vɜ:b/ noun same as copula

③ link up /'lɪŋk 'ʌp/ verb to join two or more things together ◎ We have been able to link up all our computers to form a network.
link-up /'lɪŋk ʌp/ noun a connection between two things linoleum /'lɪnəliəm/ noun a hard smooth floor covering, made in large rolls lion /'laɪən/ noun 1. a large wild animal of the cat family ◎ Lions can be seen in African safari parks. (NOTE: The female is a lioness and the young are cubs.) 2. □ the lion's share the biggest part ◎ Pat took £750, the lion's share of the £1000 prize.

lioness /'laɪənəs/ noun a female lion

② lip /lɪp/ noun 1. one of the two fleshy parts forming the outside of the mouth ◎ Put some cream on your lips to stop them getting chapped. □ to lick your lips to show that you expect something to be enjoyable ◎ They licked their lips when they saw the cakes. □ my lips are sealed I have promised not to say anything 2. the edge of a round deep container such as a cup ◎ There's a chip on the lip of that cup. 3. the edge of a round deep hole in the ground ◎ They stood on the lip of the crater and looked down into the volcano.

lip-read /'lɪp ri:d/ verb (of a deaf person) to understand what someone says by watching the movements of his or her lips (NOTE: lip-reading – lip-read /'lɪpred/) lip service /'lɪp ,sɜ:vɪs/ noun □ to pay lip service to something to appear to respect or obey something when in fact you do not ◎ The management pays lip service to sexual equality, but none of the directors is a woman. ◎ He pays lip service to the party's ideas but in reality does very much what he wants.

② lipstick /'lɪpstɪk/ noun a substance for colouring the lips liquefy /'lɪkwifai/ verb to become liquid. Antonym solidify liqueur /lɪ'kjuə, lɪ'kɔ:/ noun strong sweet alcohol, made from fruit or herbs liquid /'lɪkwɪd/ noun a substance like water, which flows easily and which is neither a gas nor a solid ◎ You will need to drink more liquids in hot weather. Synonym fluid □ adj which is neither gas nor solid, and which flows easily ◎ a bottle of liquid soap liquid assets /'lɪkwɪd 'æsets/ plural noun cash, or items which can easily be changed into cash liquidate /'lɪkwɪdeɪt/ verb □ to liquidate a company to close a company and sell everything it owns ◎ The bank has decided to liquidate the company rather than to try and sell it as a going concern.

liquidation /'lɪkwɪ'deɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the closing of a company and selling of everything it owns. Synonym insolvency □ the company went into liquidation the company was closed and everything which it owned was sold liquidator /'lɪkwɪdeɪtə/ noun a person named to be in charge of the closing of a company which is in liquidation liquidise /'lɪkwɪdaɪz/, liquidize verb to crush food such as fruit or vegetables in a special machine so that they become liquid liquidity /lɪ'kwɪdɪtɪ/ noun having cash or assets which can be changed into cash liquidiser /'lɪkwɪdaɪzə/, liquidizer noun a machine which makes food liquid liquor /'lɪkə/ noun an alcoholic drink liquorice /'lɪkərɪs/ noun a black substance from the root of a plant, used to make sweets and also in medicine (NOTE: The US spelling is licorice.)

liquor licence /'lɪkə_laɪs(ə)ns/ noun an official document which gives someone permission to sell alcohol liquor store /'lɪkə stɔ:/ noun US a shop which sells alcohol (NOTE: The British term is off-licence.)

lisp /lɪsp/ noun a speech difficulty in which 's' is pronounced as 'th' ○ She speaks with a lisp. ■ verb to speak with a lisp ○ *He lisp*s, which makes him difficult to understand.

① list /lɪst/ noun 1. a number of things such as names or addresses, written or said one after another ○ We've drawn up a list of people to invite to the party. ○ He was ill, so we crossed his name off the list. ○ The names on the list are in alphabetical order. □ to be on the sick list to be reported sick □ to be on the danger or critical list to be dangerously ill ○ After the accident, she was on the critical list for some hours. 2. a book or document containing information in the form of a list 3. a situation where a boat leans to one side ○ The trawler had taken in water and had developed a 5° list. ■ verb 1. to say or to write a number of things one after the other ○ The contents are listed on the label. ○ She listed the ingredients on the back of an envelope. ○ The catalogue lists twenty-three models of washing machine. 2. (of a ship) to lean to one side ○ The ship was listing badly and the crew had to be taken off by helicopter.

listed building /'lɪstɪd 'bɪldɪŋ/ noun GB a building which is considered important because of its architecture or history, and which cannot be taken down or changed without the permission of the local authority

① listen /'lɪs(ə)n/ verb to pay attention to someone who is talking or to something which you can hear ○ Don't make a noise – I'm trying to listen to a music programme. ○ Why don't you listen to what I tell you? □ to listen out for to wait to see if something makes a noise ○ Can you listen out for the telephone while I'm in the garden?

listener /'lɪs(ə)nə/ noun a person who listens listing /'lɪstɪŋ/ noun a published list of information listless /'lɪst(ə)ləs/ adj with no energy, weak and tired. Synonym languid. Antonym energetic listlessly /'lɪstləsli/ adv in a way which shows lack of energy listlessness /'lɪstləsnes/ noun being generally weak and tired list price /'lɪst prɪs/ noun a price of something as shown in a catalogue listserv /'lɪst,sɜ:v/ noun an Internet service allowing users to have online discussions

③ lit /lɪt/ □ light

-lit /lɪt/ suffix showing where light comes from

litany /'lɪtəni/ noun 1. a series of prayers with repeated responses, used in church ○ The priest and congregation recited the litany. 2. □ a litany of a long list of ○ She started on a litany of complaints about the service.

litchi /'laitʃi:/, lichee, lychee noun a small subtropical fruit with a hard red skin and a soft white flesh surrounding a hard shiny brown seed lite /laɪt/ adj low in calories, sugar, fat, or alcohol literacy /'lɪt(ə)rəsi/ noun being able to read and write. Synonym knowledge

③ literal /'lɪt(ə)rəl/ adj keeping to the exact meaning of the original words ○ A literal translation usually sounds odd. ■ noun a mistake made when typing or keyboarding, especially where one letter is put in place of another ○ The reviewer found hundreds of literals in the index – who was the proofreader?

② literally /'lɪt(ə)rəli/ adv 1. in a literal way ○ She translated the text literally. 2. in a way that is extreme ○ She was literally horrified by the question.

② literary /'lɪt(ə)rəri/ adj referring to literature literary criticism /'lɪt(ə)rərɪ 'krɪtɪzɪsm/ noun assessment of the quality of works of literature literate /'lɪt(ə)rət/ adj able to read and write ○ Most people in Britain are literate. ○ When he left school he was barely literate.

② literature /'lɪt(ə)rətʃə/ noun 1. books or writing, especially when considered to be of high quality ○ She's studying English and American literature. 2. what has been written on a particular subject ○ He knows the literature on Roman Britain very well. 3. written information about something ○ Do you have any literature on holidays in Greece? (NOTE: no plural) lithe /laɪð/ adj able to bend your body easily. Synonym supple lithograph /'lɪθəgrɑ:f/ noun a print made by pressing paper onto a smooth surface where the design has been made in grease and ink has been put on it litigate /'lɪtɪgeɪt/ verb to go to law, to bring a legal case against someone to have a disagreement settled litigation /,lɪtɪ'geɪʃ(ə)n/ noun an act of bringing a legal case against someone in order to have a disagreement settled (NOTE: no plural)

③ litre /'lɪ:tə/ noun a measurement for liquids, equal to about one and three-quarter pints (NOTE: usually written L or L after figures: 25 L, say 'twenty-five litres'. The US spelling is liter.)

litter /'lɪtə/ noun 1. rubbish left on streets or in public places ○ The council tries to keep the main street clear of litter. (NOTE: no plural in this meaning) 2. a group of young animals born at one time ○ She had a litter of eight puppies. ■ verb to drop rubbish in a place ○ The street was littered with bits of paper.

litter bin /'lɪtə bɪn/ noun a metal container in the street for putting litter in

① little /'lɪt(ə)l/ adj 1. small, not big ○ They have two children – a baby boy and a little girl. (NOTE: no comparative or superlative forms in this sense) 2. not much ○ We drink very little milk. ○ A TV uses very little electricity. ○ He looked at it for a little while. (NOTE: little – less – least /'lɪ:st/)

■ pron ○ a little a small quantity ○ I'm not hungry – just give me a little of that soup. ○ Can I have a little more coffee please? ■ adv not much; not often ○ It's little more than two miles from the sea. ○ We go to the cinema very little these days.

little by little /,lɪt(ə)l bai 'lɪt(ə)l/ adv gradually little finger /'lɪt(ə)l ,fɪŋgə/ noun the smallest of the five fingers □ she can twist him round her little finger she can get him to do whatever she wants little toe /'lɪt(ə)l təʊ/ noun the smallest of the five toes livable /'lɪvəb(ə)l/ adj 1. comfortable to live in 2. which you can bear

① live /laɪv/ 1. living, not dead ○ There are strict rules about transporting live animals. ○ Guess who's moved to the house next door? – a real live TV star. 2. carrying electricity ○ Don't touch the live wires. ○ The boys were killed trying to jump over the live rail. 3. not recorded ○ a live radio show ■ adv /laɪv/ not recorded ○ The show was broadcast live. ■ verb /laɪv/ 1. to have your home in a place ○ They have gone to live in France. ○ Do you prefer living in the country to the town? ○ He lives next door to a film star. ○ Where does your daughter live? 2. to be alive ○ King Henry VIII lived in the 16th century. ○ The doctor doesn't think she will live much longer.

live down /,laɪv 'daʊn/ verb to stop being embarrassed by something which has finally been forgotten by everyone □ he'll never live it down it will never be forgotten

③ live in /,laɪv 'ɪn/ verb to live in the building where you work live-in /'laɪv in/ adj who lives in the place of work livelihood /'laɪvlihʊd/ noun a way of earning your living liveliness /'laɪvlɪnəs/ noun the state of being energetic and enthusiastic. Antonym lethargy

③ lively /'laɪvli/ adj very active. Synonym energetic. Antonym lethargic (NOTE: lively – liveliest) liven up /,laɪv(ə)n 'ʌp/ verb to make something more lively. Synonym enliven ③ live off /'laɪv ɒf/ verb to earn money from

③ live on /'laɪv ɒn/ verb to use food or money to stay alive

liver /'laɪvə/ noun 1. a large organ in the abdomen which helps your body to process food and cleans the blood ○ Her liver was damaged in the car crash. 2. animal's liver used as food ○ I'll start with chicken liver pâté. ○ He looked at the menu and ordered liver and bacon.

live rail /'laɪv reɪl/ noun a rail which carries electricity for electric trains

livery /'laɪvri/ noun 1. special clothing of a group of servants or of an organisation ○ Every employee has to wear the hotel's distinctive livery. 2. a special design used to show that something belongs to an organisation ○ British Airways have changed the livery of all their planes. 3. looking after horses for payment

③ lives /laɪvz/ □ life

livestock /laɪvstɒk/ noun farm animals, which are kept to produce meat, milk or other products (NOTE: no plural)

③ live through /'laɪv θru:/ verb to experience something dangerous

③ live together /'laɪv tə,geðə/ verb (of two people) to live in the same house and have a sexual relationship

③ live up /'laɪv 'ʌp/ verb □ to live up to expectations to succeed as was expected ○ The film didn't live up to the hype that preceded it.

live wire /laɪv 'waɪə/ noun a very lively person (informal)

③ live with /'liv wið/ verb 1. to put up with something ○ As for aircraft noise – you'll just have to live with it. 2. □ to live with someone to live in the same house as someone else as if married ○ He lives with a writer of children's books.

livid /'livid/ adj 1. dark blue grey like the colour of lead ○ The livid bruise on her eye where he had hit her. 2. extremely angry ○ Her father was livid when he heard she had spent the night with her boyfriend.

② living /'lɪvɪŋ/ adj alive ○ Does she have any living relatives? □ within living memory which can be remembered by people who are alive today ○ An old farmhouse stood near the church within living memory.

■ noun 1. money that you need for things such as food and clothes ○ He earns his living by selling postcards to tourists. □ what do you do for a living? what job do you do? □ not earn a living wage not earn enough to pay for the things you need such as food, heating and rent 2. □ cost of living money which a person has to pay for things such as food, heating and rent ○ Higher interest rates increase the cost of living.

② living room /'lɪvɪŋ ru:m/ noun (in a house or flat) a comfortable room for sitting in living standards /'lɪvɪŋ ,stændədz/ plural noun the quality of personal home life, such as the amount and quality of food or clothes you can buy or the type of car you own ○ As long as living standards continue to improve, everyone is happy. (NOTE: also the standard of living)

③ lizard /'lɪzəd/ noun a type of small reptile with four legs and a long tail llama /'la:mə/ noun an animal of the camel family, with thick hair, found in South America (NOTE: Do not confuse the spelling with lama. Note also that it is usually pronounced /'la:mə/ but that in South America it is /'ja:mə/.)

lo /ləʊ/ interj 'look' □ lo and behold! used to introduce something you think is surprising ○ We had been waiting for hours for a bus when, lo and behold, three came together. ○ I turned round, and lo and behold the keys had disappeared.

② load /ləʊd/ noun 1. heavy objects which are carried in a vehicle such as truck ○ The lorry delivered a load of bricks. 2. a responsibility, thing which is difficult to live with □ that's a load off my mind I feel much less worried ○ I've finished my exams – that's a load off my mind. 3. □ loads of plenty, lots of (informal) ○ It was a wonderful party – there was loads to eat. ○ You don't need to rush – there's loads of time before the train leaves. ○ John always has loads of good ideas. ■ verb 1. to put something, especially something heavy, into or on to a vehicle such as a truck or van ○ They loaded the furniture into the van. 2. to put bullets into a gun, or a film into a camera ○ They loaded their guns and hid behind the wall. 3. to put a program into a computer ○ Load the word-processing program before you start keyboarding.

loaded /'ləʊdɪd/ adj 1. having a lot of money ○ Chris is loaded – he won the lottery. 2. referring to a gun which contains bullets or a camera which contains a film □ loaded dice dice which have a secret weight in them loaded question /,ləʊdɪd 'kwestʃ(ə)n/ noun a question which is asked in such a way as to trick the person who answers

loaf /ləʊf/ noun 1. a large single piece of bread, which you can cut into slices before eating it ○ He bought a loaf of bread at the baker's. ○ We eat about 10 loaves of bread per week. 2. a head, brains (informal) ○ Use your loaf – it's obvious what she wants. (NOTE: From loaf of bread which means 'head' in rhyming slang; see also rhyming slang.) ■ verb □ to loaf around to hang around, doing nothing ○ He hasn't any proper job and just loaf around Leicester Square all day.

loafer /'ləʊfə/ trademark a type of light casual shoe which you slide your foot into ○ He wore jeans and a pair of brown loafers. ■ noun a person who does nothing all day ○ There was no one in the square except a couple of loafers sitting on benches.

loam /ləʊm/ noun good dark soil which is very good for growing plants in loamy /'ləʊmi/ adj (of soil) which is like loam

② loan /ləʊn/ noun 1. the act of lending ○ I had the loan of his car for three weeks. □ on loan being lent ○ The picture is on loan to the National Gallery. 2. a thing lent, especially an amount of money ○ He bought the house with a £100,000 loan from the bank. ■ verb to lend ○ The furniture for the exhibition has been loaned by the museum.

loan shark /'ləʊn ſə:k/ noun a person who lends money at a very high interest rate loath /ləʊθ/ adj □ to be loath to do something to be unwilling to do something ○ Personally, I'm very loath to get involved.

loathe /ləʊð/ verb to hate very much. Synonym detest. Antonym adore loathing /'ləʊðɪŋ/ noun a feeling of disgust. Synonym hate loathsome /'ləʊðs(ə)m/ adj disgusting and horrible. Synonym hateful. Antonym delightful loaves /ləʊvz/ □ loaf

lob /lɒb/ noun a ball which is hit or thrown high into the air ○ His lob fell just over the baseline. ■ verb to throw or hit a ball slowly high into the air ○ He lobbed a ball at his sister. (NOTE: lobbing – lobbed) lobby /'lɒbi/ noun 1. an entrance hall ○ I'll meet you in the hotel lobby in half an hour. 2. a group of people who try to influence important people, especially members of parliament ○ The MPs met members of the anti-abortion lobby. 3. the hall in the House of Commons used especially for interviews with members of the public ■ verb to try to influence someone, especially in order to get a bill through Parliament ○ She lobbied her MP with a detailed letter and other documents. Synonym petition (NOTE: lobbying – lobbied) lobby correspondent /'lɒbi kɔrɪsɒndənt/ noun a journalist who reports on parliamentary matters, after speaking in private to ministers lobbyist /'lɒbiɪst/ noun a person who is paid to represent a pressure group lobe /ləʊb/ noun 1. the soft fleshy part at the bottom of the ear ○ He has a ring in his right ear lobe. 2. a round section of an organ, such as the brain, lung or liver ○ The right lung has three lobes, the left only two. ○ The surgeon could see that the right frontal lobe of the brain was affected.

lobster /'lɒbstə/ noun a shellfish with a long body, two large claws, and eight legs; the flesh of this shellfish used as food

① local adj /'lɒk(ə)l/ referring to a place or district near where you are ○ She works as a nurse in the local hospital. ○ The local paper comes out on Fridays. ○ She was formerly the headmistress of the local school. ■ noun 1. □ locals people who live in the area ○ The locals don't like all the rich people who have weekend cottages in the village. ○ The restaurant caters for the tourist trade rather than for the locals. 2. a pub near where you live ○ You can find him in his local every evening.

local anaesthetic /,ləʊk(ə)l ænəs'θetɪk/ noun a substance which removes the feeling in a certain part of the body only local area network /,ləʊk(ə)l 'eəriə/ noun a network of personal computers within a small area local authority /,ləʊk(ə)l ɔ:'θɒrɪti/ noun a section of elected government which runs a town or district local colour /,ləʊk(ə)l 'kʌlə/ noun entertaining or unusual details which go with a certain place locale /ləʊ'keɪlə/ noun a place where something happens in a film or book

③ local government /,ləʊk(ə)l 'gʌvənmənt/ noun organisations dealing with the matters of small areas of the country, such as towns and counties localised /'ləʊkəlaɪzd/, localized adj which happens or shows in one part of the body only. Antonym generalised locality /ləʊ'kælɪti/ noun an area of the country or district of a town (formal) □ in the locality near by ○ There are two theatres and four cinemas in the locality.

② locally /'ləʊk(ə)li/ adv in the district near where you are. Synonym nearby

local time /'ləʊk(ə)l taɪm/ noun the time of day in a particular place

③ locate /ləʊ'keɪt/ verb 1. to find the position of something ○ Divers are trying to locate the Spanish galleon. 2. □ to be located to be in a particular position ○ The heart is located in the left side of the body. ○ The warehouse is located near to the motorway.

② location /ləʊ'keɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. a place or position ○ The hotel is in a very central location. 2. □ on location (filming) in a real place, not in a studio ○ The film was shot on location in North Africa. 3. finding the position of something loch /lɒx/ noun (in Scotland) an inland lake or arm of the sea

② lock /lɒk/ noun 1. an object which closes a door or closes a container such as a box, so that you can only open it with a key ○ She left the key in the lock, so the burglars got in easily. ○ We changed the locks on the doors after a set of keys were stolen. □ under lock and key locked up firmly ○ We keep our jewels safely under lock and key. 2. an amount by which the wheels of a car can turn left or right ○ The car has an excellent lock – it turns easily in a narrow road. 3. a section of a canal or river with gates which can be opened or closed to control the flow of water, and so allow boats to move up or down to different levels ○ They passed through dozens of locks on their trip down the Thames. 4. □ lock, stock and barrel everything all together ■ verb 1. to close a door or a container such as a box, so that you need to use a key to open it ○ I forgot to lock the safe. ○ We always lock the front door before we go to bed. 2. to fix or to become fixed in a certain position ○ The wheels suddenly locked as he went round the corner.

lockable /lɒkəb(ə)l/ adj which can be locked

② locked /lɒkt/ adj which has been shut with a key

③ locker /lɒkə/ noun a small cupboard for personal things which you can close with a key locker-room /'lɒkə ruːm/ noun a room where people can change clothes before going to play a game locket /'lɒkɪt/ noun a piece of jewellery which consists of a small case that you can keep a picture in, attached to a chain which is worn round the neck

③ lock in /lɒk 'ɪn/ verb to make someone stay inside a place by locking the door

③ lock out /lɒk 'aʊt/ verb to make someone stay outside a place by locking the door lockout /lɒk'aʊt/ noun a time where an employer locks the door of the factory and refuses to let the workers enter unless they agree to his conditions

③ lock up /lɒk 'ʌp/ verb 1. to close a building by locking the doors ○ He always locks up before he goes home. ○ She was locking up the shop when a man walked in. 2. to keep a person or thing inside a place or container by locking the door or lid ○ Lock up the jewels in the safe or lock the jewels up in the safe. 3. to put someone in prison ○ They locked him up for a week.

lockup /lɒkʌp/ noun a small prison cell (dated) ○ The police arrested the three boys and put them in the lockup overnight.

locomotive /ləʊkəʊ'meʊtɪv/ noun the engine of a train. Synonym engine locum /ləʊkəm/ noun a person who does the work of a doctor who is away on holiday locust /ləʊkəst/ noun a tropical insect, like a large grasshopper, which destroys crops lode /ləʊd/ noun a band of metal ore in rocks lodge /lɒdʒ/ noun a small house at the gates of a large building ○ If the lodge is as big as that, just imagine the size of the main house!

■ verb 1. to rent a room in a house ○ He lodges with Mrs Bishop in London Road. 2. □ to lodge a complaint against someone to make an official complaint about someone (formal) ○ They lodged a complaint with the local electricity company. □ to lodge something with someone to leave something with someone to look after for you ○ They lodged all the documents with the solicitor. 3. to become stuck ○ A piece of bread was lodged in her windpipe. ○ The bullet was lodged in his spine.

lodger /lɒdʒə/ noun a person who pays to stay in a room in a house. Synonym tenant lodging /lɒdʒɪŋ/ noun a place where someone lodges lodgings /lɒdʒɪŋz/ plural noun rooms in a house where someone lodges ○ Are you still looking for lodgings or have you found somewhere to stay?

③ loft /lɒft/ noun 1. the top part of a house right under the roof ○ They converted their loft into a bedroom. Also called attic 2. a part of a large building, such as a warehouse which has been made suitable for people to live in ○ He's bought a loft apartment in the centre of Soho.

lofty /'lɒfti/ adj 1. very high ○ From the lofty height of the church tower the boys could see for miles. ○ The lofty ceiling and wide windows gave the studio a wonderful feeling of space. 2. proud ○ Her lofty attitude towards her colleagues does not make her many friends. (NOTE: loftier – loftiest)

③ log /lɒg/ noun 1. a thick piece of a tree ○ He brought in a load of logs for the fire. □ to sleep like a log to sleep very deeply ○ After his 12-mile walk he slept like a log. 2. a record of details such as speed or position especially on a ship or plane ○ The ship's log gave details of their position when the fire broke out. ■ verb to write down details of something which has happened in a book as a record ○ Have you logged your day's activities into the book?

loggerheads /'lɒgəhedz/ noun □ to be at loggerheads with someone to always argue with someone ○ He has been at loggerheads with the town council for some months.

logging /'lɒgɪŋ/ noun the practice of cutting down trees for use in industry or building logic /'lɒdʒɪk/ noun 1. formal reasoning ○ Your logic is flawed – just because she's an MA doesn't mean she's a good teacher. 2. sensible thinking, good reason ○ I don't see the logic of owning two cars and not being able to drive.

③ logical /'lɒdʒɪk(ə)l/ adj 1. clearly reasoned ○ a logical conclusion 2. (of a person) able to reason clearly ○ She's a very logical person and thinks everything through carefully.

logically /'lɒdʒɪkli/ adv in a logical or reasonable way log in /lɒg in/, log on /lɒg ɒn/ verb (in computing) to start to use a computer system, usually by typing a particular word login /'lɒgɪn/ noun the act of logging in to a computer system logistic /lə'dʒɪstɪk/, logistical /lə-'dʒɪstɪk(ə)l/ adj referring to logistics logistics /lə'dʒɪstɪks/ noun the organisation of the movement of large numbers of people and things such as vehicles and supplies

③ logo /ləʊgəʊ/ noun a symbol or design used by a company in order for people to recognise its products. Synonym symbol (NOTE: The plural is logos.)

log off /lɒg ɒf/, log out /lɒg aʊt/ verb to finish using a computer system, usually by typing a particular word (NOTE: logging – logged) loin /lɔɪn/ noun a cut of meat, taken from the back of the animal loincloth /'lɔɪnkləθ/ noun a piece of clothing in the form of a long cloth worn round the waist loins /'lɔɪnz/ plural noun the part of the body between the hips loiter /'lɔɪtəl/ verb to stand or walk slowly about doing nothing

loll /lɒl/ verb 1. to sit or lie in a lazy way ○ They spent the afternoon lolling about in armchairs, watching the cricket. 2. □ to loll out (of an animal's tongue) to hang out ○ The dogs were lying in the shade with their tongues lolling out.

lollipop /'lolɪpɒp/ noun a large sweet on the end of a stick ○ She bought the children a lollipop each.

lolly /'lɒli/ noun 1. a lollipop, a sweet on the end of a stick □ ice lolly a piece of flavoured ice on the end of a stick 2. money ○ What happened to the lolly, then? (NOTE: no plural in this meaning) lone /ləʊnəl/ adj single, one alone. ♦ wolf.

Synonym solitary (NOTE: Do not confuse with lonan.)

loneliness /'ləʊnlɪnəs/ noun 1. a feeling of sadness because you are alone ○ After his wife died it took him a long time to get over his feelings of loneliness. 2. the state of being alone ○ He was attracted by the loneliness of the hotel, all by itself on the top of the cliff.

③ lonely /'ləʊnlɪ/ adj 1. feeling sad because of being alone ○ It's odd how lonely you can be in a big city full of people. 2. (of a place) with few or no people around ○ The cliff top is a lonely place at night. ○ We spent the weekend in a lonely cottage in the Welsh hills. (NOTE: lonelier – loneliest) loner /'ləʊnəl/ noun a person who prefers to be alone. Synonym recluse lonesome /'ləʊns(ə)m/ adj especially US lonely, sad because of being alone lone wolf /ləʊn 'wʊlf/ noun a person who prefers to be alone, who has no friends

① long /lɒŋ/ adj 1. not short in length ○ a long piece of string ○ The Nile is the longest river in the world. ○ My hair needs cutting – it's getting too long. 2. not short in time ○ What a long programme – it lasted almost three hours. ○ They've been waiting for the bus for a long time. ○ We don't approve of long holidays in this job. 3. indicating measurement in time ○ How long is it before your holiday starts? □ long time no see! I haven't seen you for a long time (said when meeting someone) ♦ length □ adv 1. for a long time ○ Have you been waiting long? ○ I didn't want to wait any longer. ○ Long ago, before the war, this was a wealthy farming area. □ all night long for the whole night ○ It rained all night long. 2. □ as long as, so long as provided that ○ I like going on picnics as long as it doesn't rain. □ noun a long time □ before long in a short time ○ She'll be boss of the company before long. □ for long for a long time ○ He wasn't out of a job for long. □ the long and the short of it the basic facts ○ The long and the short of it is that his book isn't very good. □ verb to want something very much ○ I'm longing for a cup of tea. ○ Everyone was longing to be back home.

long-awaited /,lɒŋ ə'weɪtɪd/ adj for which people have been waiting for a long time

long-distance /lɒŋ'dɪstəns/ adj 1. (of a sports race) between two places which are far apart ○ She was over fifty when she took up long-distance running. ○ You'll have to get fit if you're going to run a long-distance race. 2. made over a long distance ○ We spent three days walking along one of the long-distance paths in the hills. ○ Long-distance telephone calls cost less after 6 p.m.

long-drawn-out /,lɒŋ drɔ:n 'aut/ adj which continues for a long period of time longed-for /'lɒŋd fɔ:/ adj which people have been hoping will come (literary) longevity /lɒn'dʒevɪtɪ/ noun a very long life longhand /'lɒŋhænd/ noun ordinary writing, not shorthand or typing. Compare shorthand long-haul /,lɒŋ 'hɔ:l/ adj over a large distance, especially between continents long-haul flight /'lɒŋhɔ:l flait/ noun a long-distance flight such as across the Atlantic

③ longing /'lɒŋɪŋ/ noun a strong wish to have something. Synonym desire longingly /'lɒŋɪŋli/ adv showing that you want something very much longitude /'lɒndʒɪtju:d/ noun a position on the earth's surface measured in degrees east or west of an imaginary line running north-south through Greenwich, a town just to the east of London. Antonym latitude

COMMENT: Longitude and latitude are used to indicate the exact position of something on the earth's surface. They are measured in degrees, minutes and seconds. London is latitude 51°30'N, longitude 0°5'W.

③ long-lasting /,lɒŋ 'la:stɪŋ/ adj which lasts a long time. Synonym long-term long-life /lɒŋ laɪf/ adj (of food and drink) treated with a special process so that it will stay fresh for a long time longlived /,lɒŋ'lɪvd/ adj which lives for a long time. Compare shortlived long-lost /lɒŋ lɒst/ adj who or which is not seen for a long time

③ long-range /lɒŋ 'reɪndʒ/ adj which covers a long distance or a long time. ▶ short-range. Synonym long-term

long-running /lɒŋ 'rænɪŋ/ adj 1. which has been performed for several years without a break ○ a long-running musical ○ Which is the longest-running TV sitcom? 2. which has been going on for a long time ○ Our long-running dispute with our neighbours.

longsighted /lɒŋ'saɪtɪd/ adj able to see things clearly things which are far away but not things which are close. ▶ shortsighted long-sleeved /lɒŋ 'sli:vɪd/ adj with long sleeves. ▶ short-sleeved longstanding /lɒŋ'stændɪŋ/ adj which has been in existence for a long time long-stay /lɒŋ stei/ adj referring to a stay of weeks or months □ long-stay car park a car park where you can leave your car for several days or weeks. Compare short-stay long-suffering /lɒŋ 'sʌf(ə)rɪŋ/ adj patient with problems caused by other people. Antonym intolerant

② long-term /lɒŋ 'tɜ:m/ adj planned to last for a long time. Synonym lasting. Antonym short-term long-time /lɒŋ taim/ adj who has existed for a long time long vacation /lɒŋ və'keɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the summer holiday in a British university

③ long wave /lɒŋ weɪv/ noun a radio wave with a wavelength longer than 1000 metres long weekend /lɒŋ wi:k'end/ noun a weekend, including Friday night long-winded /lɒŋ 'wɪndɪd/ adj 1. (of a person) who talks too much in a boring way 2. (of a talk) which lasts too long

③ loo /lu:/ noun a lavatory (informal)

① look /lʊk/ noun 1. the act of seeing something with your eyes ○ Have a good look at this photograph and tell me if you recognise anyone in it. ○ We only had time for a quick look round the town. 2. the way someone or something appears ○ There is a French look about her clothes. 3. a search for something ○ We had a good look for the ring and couldn't find it anywhere. ■ verb 1. to turn your eyes towards something ○ I want you to look carefully at this photograph. ○ Look in the restaurant and see if there are any tables free. ○ If you look out of the office window you can see our house. ○ He opened the lid of the box and looked inside. 2. □ to look someone in the eye to look straight at someone in a confident way ○ He didn't dare look me in the eye. □ don't look a gift horse in the mouth don't criticise something which someone has given you for free 3. to appear to be ○ Those pies look good. ○ I went to see her in hospital and she looks worse. ○

Is he only forty? – he looks much older than that. ○ It looks as if it may snow. 4. used as an interjection ○ Look! if we don't sort this out now, we'll never do it.

① look after /lʊk 'a:ftə/ verb to take care of

③ look ahead /lʊk ə'hed/ verb to make plans for the future. Antonym look back lookalike /'lʊkəlaɪk/ noun a person who look like someone else, especially someone famous (informal). Synonym double

③ look back /lʊk 'bæk/ verb 1. to turn your head to see what is behind you ○ He looked back and saw a police car was following him. 2. □ he never looked back he was very successful ○ The first year after starting the business was difficult, but after that they never looked back.

③ look back on /lʊk 'bæk ɒn/ verb to think about something which happened in the past

① look down /lʊk 'daʊn/ verb □ to look down on someone, to look down your nose at someone to think you are better than someone ○ He looks down on anyone who hasn't been to university.

① look for /lʊk fɔ:/ verb to search for, to try to find

① look forward to /lʊk 'fɔ:wəd tu:/ verb to think happily about something which is going to happen

③ look in /lʊk 'ɪn/, look in on /lʊk 'ɪn ɒn/ verb to pay a short visit look-in /'lʊk in/ noun the chance or opportunity to share in something (informal) looking glass /'lʊkɪŋ gla:s/ noun a mirror (dated)

① look into /lʊk intə/ verb to try to find out about a matter or problem. Synonym investigate

① look like /'lʊk laɪk/ verb 1. to be similar to ○ He looks just like his father. 2. asking someone to describe something ○ What's he look like, her new boyfriend? ○ Tell me what she looks like so that I can recognise her when she gets off the train. 3. to seem to be going to happen ○ Take an umbrella, it looks like rain. ○ The sky is dark, it looks like snow.

look on /lʊk 'ɒn/ verb 1. to watch without doing anything ○ The police beat up the demonstrators while the tourists just looked on.

2. to consider, to think of something as ○ We look on trade fairs as a bit of relaxation after the office. ○ He looks on his secretary as simply someone to make coffee and answer the phone.

① look out /lʊk 'aut/ verb 1. to be careful ○ Look out! – the car is going backwards! 2. □ to look out on or over to have a view towards ○ The windows of the office look out over a park.

③ lookout /'ləkəut/ noun 1. a careful watch ○ Keep a sharp lookout for pickpockets. ○ From their lookout post they could see across the square. □ to be on the lookout for to watch carefully for ○ She's always on the lookout for bargains. ○ The police are on the lookout for car thieves. 2. a person who is on watch ○ The captain posted a lookout in the bows. 3. something which someone has to deal with □ that's his lookout that is something he must deal with himself

③ look out for /,lək 'aut fɔ:/ verb 1. to keep looking to try to find ○ We're looking out for new offices because ours are too small. ○ I'll look out for his sister at the party. 2. to be careful about ○ Look out for ice on the pavement. 3. □ to look out for someone US to protect someone ○ The falling rock missed us by inches – someone was obviously looking out for us!

③ look over /,lək 'əvər/ verb 1. to examine quickly ○ She looked over the figures and said they seemed to be OK. 2. to have a view over something ○ The office looks over a disused warehouse.

③ look round /,lək 'raund/ verb 1. to turn to see what is behind you ○ She heard footsteps behind her and quickly looked round. 2. to go round looking at something ○ Did you have time to look round the town? ○ Can I help you? – No, I'm just looking round to see what is available.

① look up /,lək 'ʌp/ verb 1. to turn your eyes upwards ○ She looked up and saw clouds in the sky. 2. to try to find some information in a book ○ I'll look up his address in the telephone book. ○ Look up the word in the dictionary if you don't know what it means. 3. to get in touch with ○ Look me up when you're next in London. 4. to get better ○ Things are looking up.

③ look up to /,lək 'ʌp tu:/ verb to admire or respect someone. Synonym admire loom /lu:m/ noun a machine on which cloth is woven (literary) ○ She weaves cloth on a hand loom at home. □ verb to appear in a rather threatening way ○ A storm loomed on the horizon. ○ A bus suddenly loomed out of the fog.

looming /'lu:min/ adj threatening. Synonym impending loony /'lu:nɪ/ adj silly or crazy (informal) ○ He had this loony plan to cycle round Africa. ○ That's the looniest idea I've heard yet! (NOTE: loonier – looniest) □ noun a person who is regarded as silly or crazy (insult) ○ Whoever invented bungee-jumping was a bit of a loony. (NOTE: The plural is loonies.) loop /lu:p/ noun a curve formed by a piece of something such as string, which crosses over itself ○ To tie your laces, start by making a loop. □ verb to attach with a loop ○ She looped the cord over the tent pole.

loophole /'lu:phəʊl/ noun a means of avoiding a law. Synonym dodge □ to find a tax loophole to find a means of legally not paying tax ○ He spends his time looking for tax loopholes.

③ loose /lu:s/ adj 1. not attached ○ Watch out! – the sail is loose and swinging towards you! ○ The front wheel is loose and needs tightening. ○ The boat came loose and started to drift away. ○ Once he was let loose, the dog ran across the park. 2. □ to be at a loose end to have nothing special to do ○ We're at a loose end this weekend. 3. (of a garment) wide, not tight-fitting (NOTE: looser – loosest) □ verb to start something happening ○ The government's proposals loosed off demonstrations in all parts of the country.

loose cannon /lu:s 'kænən/ noun someone who is not easily controlled and may do or say things which are not officially approved (slang)

loose change /lu:s 'tseɪndʒ/ noun money in coins only loose end /lu:s end/ noun one of the details in something such as a problem or situation which has not yet been dealt with loosely /'lu:slɪ/ adv 1. not tightly ○ The skirt fits loosely round her waist. ○ He tied his horse loosely to the post. 2. in a way which is not completely accurate ○ The word can be loosely translated as 'hanging down'.

loosen /'lu:s(ə)n/ verb 1. to make something less tight ○ He loosened his shoelaces and relaxed. 2. □ to loosen your grip on something to hold something less tightly than before ○ The parliament forced the president to loosen his grip on the civil service.

loot /lu:t/ noun 1. things which have been stolen ○ The police discovered the rest of the loot under his bed. 2. money (informal) ○ He's got plenty of loot. (NOTE: no plural) □ verb to steal, especially from shops and houses, during a riot or other emergency ○ Some houses were looted during the floods.

looter /'lu:tə/ noun a person who steals, especially from houses and shops during a riot or other emergency looting /'lu:tɪŋ/ noun the act of stealing from shops and houses during a riot or other emergency (NOTE: no plural)

lop /lɒp/ verb to cut branches off trees (NOTE: lopping – lopped) lope /ləup/ verb to run with long easy steps □ noun a way of running with long steps lopsided /lɒp'saɪdɪd/ adj leaning to one side, with one side lower than the other. Synonym uneven loquacious /ləʊ'kweɪʃəs/ adj who talks a lot. Synonym talkative. Antonym silent ② lord /lɔ:d/ noun 1. a man who has a high social rank ○ He was born a lord. ○ Powerful lords forced King John to sign the Magna Carta. 2. the title for certain peers ○ Lord Smith 3. an expression of surprise or shock ○ Good lord! I didn't realise it was so late! ■ verb □ to lord it over someone to treat someone like a servant ○ She lords it over the junior staff in the office.

Lord /lɔ:d/ noun God or Jesus Christ

Lord Mayor /lɔ:d 'meəl/ noun the title of a mayor in certain important cities

lore /lɔ:/ noun traditional beliefs and knowledge. ▪ folklore. Synonym wisdom (NOTE: no plural)

③ lorry /'lɒri/ noun GB a large motor vehicle for carrying goods. ▪ truck

lorry driver /'lɒri 'draɪvə/ noun GB a person whose job is to drive a lorry (NOTE: The US term is truck driver.)

lorry-load /'lɒri ləʊd/, van-load /'væn ləʊd/ noun an amount of goods carried on a lorry or van ○ They delivered six lorry-loads of coal.

① lose /lu:z/ verb 1. to put or drop something somewhere and not to know where it is ○ I can't find my wallet – I think I lost it on the train. ○ If you lose your ticket you'll have to buy another one. 2. not to have something any longer ○ We lost money on the lottery. □ to lose interest not to be interested in something any more □ to lose weight to get thinner ○ She doesn't eat potatoes as she's trying to lose weight. □ the clock loses 10 minutes every day it falls 10 minutes behind the correct time every day □ to lose sight of not to see something any longer ○ We lost sight of her in the crowd. □ to lose your temper to become angry ○ He lost his temper when they told him there was no room in the hotel. □ to lose time to waste time, not to do something quickly enough ○ Don't lose any time in posting the letter. □ to lose your way to end up not knowing where you are ○ They lost their way in the fog on the mountain. ▪ heart 3. not to win ○ We lost the match 10–0. ○ Did you win? – No, we lost. (NOTE: losing – lost /lɒst/)

③ loser /'lu:zə/ noun a person who does not win. Synonym failure □ a bad loser a person who behaves badly when he loses a game

① loss /lɒs/ noun 1. no longer having something ○ He was very despondent at the loss of his house. ○ The loss of a child is almost unbearable to a parent. □ it's no great loss it does not matter now that we no longer have it ○ The map's no great loss – I brought two along, just in case. 2. money which you have spent and have not got back ○ Companies often make losses in their first year of operations. □ they sold it at a loss they sold it for less than they paid for it 3. □ it's a dead loss it's no use at all (informal) ○ The plan was a dead loss.

loss leader /'lɒs ,lɪ:də/ noun an article which is sold at a loss to attract customers loss of memory /,lɒs əv 'mem(ə)rɪ/ noun the condition of not being able to remember anything

② lost /lɒst/ adj □ to be lost to end up not knowing where you are ○ Did you bring a map? I think we're lost! □ to get lost not to know where you are ○ He's hopeless, he got lost walking from Oxford Circus to Piccadilly. ○ They should be back by now – do you think they've got lost? □ get lost! go away! (slang) ○ When she asked him for money he told her to get lost.

lost cause /lɒst kɔ:z/ noun something such as a plan or activity which cannot succeed

lost property office /lɒst 'prɒpəti ,ɒfɪs/ noun a place where articles which people have left somewhere, e.g. on a bus or train, are stored, and where they can be collected by their owners (NOTE: The US term is lost and found office.)

① lot /lɒt/ noun 1. □ a lot of, lots of a large number or a large quantity ○ There's lots of time before the train leaves. ○ What a lot of cars there are in the car park! ○ I've been to the cinema quite a lot recently. ○ She's feeling a lot better now. ○ Lots of people are looking for jobs. □ a fat lot of not much (informal) □ a fat lot of help you are! you are no help at all ○ he's a bad lot he's a bad person, a criminal (informal) 2. US a piece of land, especially one to be used for development 3. an item or group of items sold at an auction sale ○ Lot 23 is a collection of books and pictures. 4. □ to draw lots to take pieces of paper from a box to decide something. The person who has the marked piece wins. ○ We drew lots to decide who would go first. ○ They drew lots for the bottle of whisky.

lotion /'ləʊʃ(ə)n/ noun a liquid used on the skin to make it smooth or to protect it

③ lottery /'lɒtəri/ noun 1. a game of chance in which tickets with numbers on are sold with prizes given for certain numbers 2. a situation where anyone may win ○ Getting a government contract is something of a lottery. (NOTE: The plural is lotteries.)

② loud /laʊd/ adj 1. which is very easily heard ○ Can't you stop your watch making such a loud noise? ○ Turn down the radio – it's too loud. 2. (of colours) too bright ○ He was wearing a particularly loud tie which didn't go with his jacket at all. ■ adv loudly

○ I can't sing any louder. ○ She laughed out loud in church. (NOTE: louder – loudest)

loudly /'laudli/ adv in a way which is easily heard loudness /'laudnəs/ noun being loud, being noisy. Antonym quietness loudspeaker /'laud'spi:kə/ noun the part of an object such as a radio or CD player which allows sound to be heard. ♦ tannoy lounge /'laundʒ/ noun a comfortable room for sitting in ○ Let's go and watch TV in the lounge. ■ verb □ to lounge about to sit or lie doing nothing or very little ○ He doesn't do anything on Saturdays, he just lounges about waiting for the pubs to open. ○ It rained all the time, so we had to spend the day lounging about in the hotel.

lounge bar /'laundʒ bə:/ noun a bar in a pub or hotel which has comfortable chairs louse /'laʊs/ noun a small insect which sucks blood and lives on the skin as a parasite on animals and humans (NOTE: The plural is lice /'laɪs/.)

louse up /'laʊs 'ʌp/ verb (informal) □ to louse something up to spoil something completely ○ He loused up the whole deal by trying to increase his commission by 25%.

lousy /'laʊzɪ/ adj extremely bad or unpleasant (NOTE: lousier – lousiest) lout /laʊt/ noun a rude and badly behaved young man (insult) ♦ lager. Synonym bully louvred /'lu:vrəd/, louvered adj with louvres lovable /'lʌvəb(ə)l/ adj pleasant, easy to love. Synonym endearing

① love /lʌv/ noun 1. a great liking for someone or something ○ Give my love to your wife. ○ Her great love is opera. □ to be in love to love each other ○ They seem to be very much in love. □ to fall in love with someone to start to like them very much ○ They fell in love at first sight. 2. □ to make love to have sex with someone ○ She swore on oath that he had never made love to her or that they had never made love. 3. (in games such as tennis) a score of zero points ○ She lost the first set six – love (6–0). 4. a person whom you love ○ She's the love of his life. 5. a way of addressing, especially to a woman or child ○ Haloo, love, what can I do for you this morning? ■ verb 1. to have strong feelings for someone or something ○ 'I love you,' he said. ○ She loves little children. ○ The children love their teacher. ○ His wife thinks he loves someone else. 2. to like something very much ○ We love going on holiday by the seaside. ○ I'd love to come with you, but I've got too much work to do.

love affair /'lʌv ə'feɪə/ noun a sexual relationship between two people who are not married to each other loved ones /laʊvd wʌns/ plural noun your family and friends love-hate relationship /lʌv 'heɪt rɪ'leɪʃ(ə)nʃɪp/ noun a situation where two people get on well together and then dislike each other in turn love life /'lʌv laɪf/ noun someone's sexual relationships

② lovely /'lʌvlɪ/ adj very pleasant (NOTE: lovelier – loveliest)

③ lover /'lʌvə/ noun 1. a person, especially a man, who is having a sexual relationship with someone ○ Her lover was arrested when the woman's body was found on the beach. 2. a person who loves something ○ a lover of French food love story /'lʌv, stɔ:ri/ noun a story about two people in love loving /'lʌvɪŋ/ adj affectionate, showing love. Synonym affectionate lovingly /'lʌvɪŋli/ adv in a loving way

① low /ləʊ/ adj 1. not high, with little height ○ She hit her head on the low branch. ○ The town is surrounded by low hills. ○ We shop around to find the lowest prices. ○ The engine works best at low speeds. ○ The temperature here is too low for oranges to grow. ○ Sales were lower in December than in November. 2. feeling extremely sad and unhappy ○ She was very low when I saw her last. 3. quiet ○ He said a few words in a low voice. 4. not favourable ○ He has a low opinion of the boss. (NOTE: lower – lowest) ■ adv towards the bottom; not high up ○ The plane was flying too low – it hit the trees. □ supplies are running low supplies are becoming scarce. ♦ lie low ■ noun a point where something is very small ○ Sales have reached a new low. ■ prefix with not much of ○ low-calorie diet food or drink containing very few calories ○ She's on a low-calorie diet. ■ verb (of a cow) to make a noise ○ The cows were lowing in the field.

lowbrow /'laʊbraʊ/ adj not difficult to understand and of a low quality. Antonym highbrow low-calorie /'laʊ 'kælərɪ/ adj containing few calories low-class /'laʊ 'kla:s/ adj not rich or middle-class (dated)

low-cut /'laʊ 'kʌt/ adj used to describe women's clothing which has a low neckline and shows the top part of the chest lowdown /'laʊdaʊn/ (informal) noun □ to give someone the lowdown on something to tell someone the details, especially secret details, about something ■ adj mean, bad ○ 'You lowdown crook,' she shouted.

③ lower /'laʊə/ adj which is below something else of the same type. Synonym inferior ■ verb 1. to make something go down ○

They lowered the lifeboat into the water. 2. to reduce something □ All the shops have lowered their prices to attract customers. □ to lower your voice to speak more quietly 3. □ to lower yourself to or by to do something of which you should be ashamed □ Don't lower yourself by going around with that gang.

lower case /'ləʊə 'keɪs/ noun small letters such as a, b and c as opposed to capitals such as A, B and C lower class /'ləʊə 'kla:s/ noun a group of people in society who are not rich, aristocratic or middle-class (dated). Synonym working class lower ground floor /'ləʊə 'graʊnd flɔ:/ noun same as basement (NOTE: In America the ground floor is called the first floor.)

low-fat /'ləʊ 'fæt/ adj containing very little fat □ Do you have any low-fat yoghurt?

low-grade /'ləʊ greɪd/ adj of the worst quality low-key /'ləʊ 'ki:/ adj quiet, without much excitement. Antonym elaborate lowland /'ləʊlənd/ adj referring to a region which is near sea level lowlands /'ləʊləndz/ plural noun a low-lying area of the country □ the Lowlands of Scotland

low-level /'ləʊ 'lev(ə)l/ adj 1. positioned or done at lower than the usual level 2. low in status or degree lowly /'ləʊli/ adj with a low status. Synonym humble (NOTE: lowlier – lowest) low-lying /'ləʊ 'laɪŋ/ adj which is near to sea level, or to the level of a river low-paid /'ləʊ 'peɪd/ adj not being paid much for a job □ She has a low-paid job as a cleaner or her job as a cleaner is very low-paid. ■ plural noun □ the low-paid people who do not get paid much for their job □ The government has promised to reduce taxes for the low-paid.

low point /'ləʊ pɔɪnt/ noun the least enjoyable or successful period of something low profile /'ləʊ 'prəʊfərl/ noun behaviour that avoids public attention ■ adj deliberately avoiding attention or publicity low-rise /'ləʊ raiz/ adj (of buildings) consisting of only a few levels ■ noun a building consisting of only a few levels low season /'ləʊ 'si:z(ə)n/ noun a time of year, usually during the winter, when few people go on holiday, and when air fares and hotel prices are cheaper. Also called off season. Antonym high season low-tech /'ləʊ 'tek/ noun simple and not highly developed technically □ a low-tech solution

low tide /ləʊ 'taɪd/ noun the lowest level of the sea the land, or the time when the sea is at this level lox /ləks/ noun US smoked salmon loyal /'ləɪəl/ adj who supports someone or something for a long time without changing. Synonym faithful. Antonym disloyal loyalist /'ləɪəlist/ noun a person who is loyal to someone or something. Synonym stalwart. Antonym rebel loyally /'ləɪəli/ adv in a loyal way loyalties /'ləɪəlti:z/ plural noun the strong feelings of support and friendship which you have for someone or something loyalty /'ləɪəlti/ noun being loyal. Antonym disloyalty lozenge /'ləzɪndʒ/ noun 1. a diamond shape, especially when used in heraldry □ The shield has a pattern of red lozenges. 2. a sweet medicine in the form of a pill □ She was sucking cough lozenges to get rid of her cough.

LPG /el pi: 'dʒi:/ noun petroleum gases such as propane or butane, stored in liquid form in special containers, and used as fuel. Full form liquid petroleum gas

③ L-plates /'el pleɪts/ plural noun two white plastic squares, each with a large red L on it, attached to a car driven by a learner driver □ green L plates similar plastic plates with a green L to show that the driver has passed the driving test recently

LSD /el es 'di:/ noun an illegal drug which has a powerful effect, e.g. making people see things which are not real lubricant /lu:bri'keɪnt/ noun a smooth liquid substance used to prevent the moving parts in a machine from rubbing against each other □ If there is not enough lubricant, the engine will seize up. ■ adj which makes something run smoothly □ The lubricant properties of oil are well-known.

① Ltd abbr limited company

lubricate /lu:bri'keɪt/ verb to cover something with a lubricant to make it run smoothly. Synonym oil lubrication /lu:bri'keɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the action of lubricating something lucid /'lu:sɪd/ adj 1. clear, easily understood □ The old lady gave a clear and lucid account of the incident to the police. 2. able to think clearly □ For most of the time he was delirious but in his few lucid moments he seemed to recognise me.

lucidity /lu:sɪdɪti/ noun the quality of being clear and easily understood

② luck /lʌk/ noun something, usually good, which happens to you □ The bus is empty – that's a bit of luck! □ good luck with your driving test! I hope you do well in your driving test □ I wear this ring for luck because I hope it will bring me luck □ bad luck!, hard luck! I am sorry you didn't do well ○ You failed the driving test again? – Bad luck! □ to be down on your luck to be going through a period of bad luck ○ He was down on his luck and thought of emigrating. □ as luck would have it as it happened ○ As luck would have it, the bus was empty.

③ luckily /'lʌkɪlɪ/ adv which is a good thing
 ② lucky /'lʌki/ adj 1. having good things happening to you ○ He's lucky not to have been sent to prison. ○ How lucky you are to be going to Spain! □ you'll be lucky! it will never happen (informal) ○ She's hoping to get an extra day off this week – she'll be lucky! 2. which brings luck ○ 15 is my lucky number. (NOTE: luckier – luckiest) lucrative /'lu:kətrɪv/ adj bringing in a lot of money or profit. Synonym profitable ludicrous /'lu:dikrəs/ adj ridiculous, which makes you laugh. Synonym absurd. Antonym sensible lug /lʌg/ verb to carry or pull something heavy ○ I had to lug my cases up two flights of stairs. ○ Lugging those boxes up into the attic has worn me out. (NOTE: lugging – lugged) ■ noun a small projecting piece on the side of something such as a jar, for carrying it or for attaching something to it ○ One of the lugs on the vase has been knocked off.

② luggage /'lʌgɪdʒ/ noun suitcases or bags for carrying your belongings when travelling. Synonym baggage luggage rack /'lʌgɪdʒ ræk/ noun a space for suitcases and bags, above the seats in a vehicle, e.g. a plane or train lukewarm /'lu:k'wɔ:rm/ adj 1. not very hot ○ The soup was only lukewarm. ○ We sent back the coffee because it was lukewarm. 2. not enthusiastic ○ He was only lukewarm about our project. Synonym tepid lull /lʌl/ noun a quiet period ○ After last week's hectic rushing around this week's lull was welcome. Synonym quiet. Antonym storm ■ verb to make someone calmer, to soothe someone ○ She sang a song to lull the baby to sleep. ○ The report was not very critical and that lulled them into a false sense of security. Synonym soothe lullaby /'lʌləbəi/ noun a song or piece of music designed to make a child sleep (NOTE: The plural is lullabies.)

lumbago /'lʌm'bægəʊ/ noun a pain in the lower part of the back. Synonym backache (NOTE: no plural) lumbar /'lʌmbər/ adj referring to the lower part of the back (NOTE: Do not confuse with lumber.)

lumber /'lʌmbər/ noun 1. junk, old articles which you are not using at the moment ○ I am going to take some of this useless lumber to the jumble sale. 2. US trees which have been cut down ○ The lumber is tied together in rafts and floated down river to the sawmill. (NOTE: The British term is timber.)

■ verb 1. □ to lumber someone with something to give someone things he or she doesn't want (informal) ○ You always manage to lumber me with the worst jobs. ○ Why do I always get lumbered with doing the shopping? 2. to move slowly and heavily ○ The tractor lumbered across the field pulling a trailer full of hay. ○ Watch where you're treading, you lumbering great hulk! (NOTE: Do not confuse with lumbar.)

lumberjack /'lʌmbədʒæk/ noun a person who cuts down trees luminary /'lu:minəri/ noun an important or famous person. Synonym celebrity. Antonym nobody (NOTE: The plural is luminaries.)

luminosity /'lu:mi'nɒsɪti/ noun the fact of being full of light luminous /'lu:minəs/ adj which gives out light in the dark. Synonym luminous

② lump /lʌmp/ noun 1. a piece of something, often with no particular shape ○ a lump of coal ○ a lump of sugar 2. a hard or swollen part on the body ○ She went to the doctor because she had found a lump on her neck. □ she had a lump in her throat she could not speak because she was choking with emotion ■ verb □ to lump things or people together to bring several different things or people together ○ We lump all the cash purchases together under 'other items' in the account book.

lump sum /lʌmp 'sʌm/ noun money paid in one payment, not in several small payments lumpy /'lʌmpi/ adj with solid lumps in it (NOTE: lumpier – lumpiest) lunacy /'lu:nəsi/ noun madness, idiotic behaviour lunar /'lu:nər/ adj referring to the moon

lunatic /'lu:natɪk/ adj mad ○ It was a lunatic idea to try to steal the blue light from in front of the police station. ■ noun a person who acts in a mad way (informal insult) ○ Don't be such a lunatic – try to talk to her! ○ He drove like a lunatic to catch the ferry.

① lunch /lʌntʃ/ noun the meal eaten in the middle of the day ○ Come on – lunch will be ready soon. ○ We always have lunch at 12.30. ○ We are having fish and chips for lunch. ○ I'm not hungry so I don't want a big lunch. ○ The restaurant serves 150 lunches a day. ■ verb to have lunch ○ I'm lunching with my sister today. ○ Don't forget we're lunching with the agents tomorrow.

luncheon /'lʌntʃən/ noun lunch, the meal eaten in the middle of the day (formal) lunch hour /'lʌntʃ aʊə/ noun a period of a working day when lunch is usually eaten

③ lunchtime /'lʌntʃtaɪm/ noun the time when you usually have lunch lung /lʌŋ/ noun one of two organs in the chest with which you breathe; air goes down into the lungs and the oxygen in it is deposited in the blood in exchange for waste carbon dioxide which is breathed out lunge /lʌndʒ/ noun a sudden movement forwards ○ The police officer suddenly made a lunge for the gun. Synonym swipe ■ verb to make a sudden movement forwards ○ The baby suddenly lunged at the candles on the cake.

lupin /'lu:pɪn/ noun a plant with tall flowers in different colours

lurch /lɜ:tʃ/ noun 1. a sudden unsteady movement ○ The ship gave a sudden lurch. (NOTE: The plural is lurches.) 2. □ to leave someone in the lurch to leave someone in trouble and not help him or her (informal) ○ They left me in the lurch by going off on holiday when they were supposed to be running the shop. ○ You've really left me in the lurch by cancelling at such short notice. ■ verb to make a sudden unsteady movement ○ When the taxi finally lurched to a stop I was shaking all over. ○ He lurched over to the bar and ordered another drink.

lure /'lu:ə/ noun a thing which attracts a person or animal ○ The white beaches are a lure for tourists. Synonym bait ■ verb to attract someone, especially into something bad ○ She was lured to the club by reports of high wages for bar staff. Synonym entice lurid /'lju:ərid/ adj 1. glowing with brilliant colours ○ The flames gave a lurid glow to the scene. ○ She was wearing a lurid pink tracksuit. 2. (of a book or film) sensational, meant to shock ○ There were several lurid descriptions of conditions in the refugee camps.

lurk /lɜ:k/ verb to be hidden luscious /'lʌʃəs/ adj very sweet and juicy lush /lʌʃ/ adj thick and rich ○ The cattle were put to graze on the lush grass by the river. ○ Lush tropical vegetation rapidly cov- ered the clearing. ■ noun an alcoholic, drunkard (slang) ○ She has the reputation of being a bit of a lush.

lust /lʌst/ noun 1. strong sexual desire ○ He looked at her with eyes full of lust. 2. a great desire for something ○ She is driven by a lust for power. ■ verb □ to lust after or for someone or something to have a great desire for someone or something ○ She has been lusting after Harry ever since she met him. ○ I have never really lusted after power or glory.

lustre /'lʌstə/ noun shine and brilliance (NOTE: The US spelling is luster.)

lustrous /'lʌstrəs/ adj shiny lusty /'lʌsti/ adj strong and healthy. Synonym hearty. Antonym feeble (NOTE: lusterier – lustiest) luxuriant /'lʌg'zjuəriənt/ adj growing thickly luxurious /'lʌg'zjuəriəs/ adj very comfortable and expensive luxuriously /'lʌk'zjuəriəsli/ adv in a luxurious way

luxury /'lʌkʃəri/ noun 1. great comfort ○ He lived a life of great luxury. ○ A hot bath is a real luxury after two weeks camping in the mountains. □ to stay in a luxury hotel to stay in a five-star hotel, a very good hotel with luxurious rooms and higher prices 2. a thing which is pleasant to have, but not necessary ○ She often buys little luxuries for dessert on Friday nights. (NOTE: The plural in this meaning is luxuries)

Lycra /'laɪkrə/ trademark the trademark for a type of stretchable fabric ○ She was wearing Lycra shorts.

③ lying /'laɪŋ/ □ lie

lynch /lɪntʃ/ verb (of a mob) to catch an accused person and execute him or her, especially by hanging, without a trial lynx /lɪŋks/ noun a short-tailed animal of the cat family (NOTE: The plural is lynxes.)

lyricist /'lɪrɪsɪst/ noun a person who writes the words of a song lyrics /'lɪrɪks/ plural noun the words of a song ○ He wrote the lyrics for the musical.

M

m¹ /em/, M noun the thirteenth letter of the alphabet, between L and N m² abbr 1. metre 2. mile 3. million 4. motorway

M noun the Roman numeral for 1000

③ ma /ma:/ noun a mother (informal)

MA abbr Master of Arts ○ She's taking an MA course in Italian art. (NOTE: written after the name: Jane Bushell MA)

ma'am /mə'əm/ noun a formal or polite way of referring to a lady mac /mæk/ noun a coat which keeps off water, which is worn when it is raining (informal). Also called raincoat (NOTE: short for mackintosh) macabre /mə'kə:bərə/ adj very strange and horrifying, especially referring to dead bodies macaroni /mækə'rəʊni/ noun an Italian food made of short thick tubes of flour paste mace /meɪs/ noun 1. a heavy bar of wood or metal used in ceremonies to symbolise authority 2. a spice made from the outside of a nutmeg machete /mə'ʃeti/ noun a large sharp knife

① machine /mə'ʃi:n/ noun 1. a device which works with a motor ○ We have bought a machine for putting leaflets in envelopes. ○ There is a message on my answering machine. ○ She made her dress on her sewing machine. ○ The washing machine has broken and flooded the kitchen. 2. an organisation ○ The party machine moved into action to prepare for the general election. ■ verb to make or shape with a machine machine gun /mə'ʃi:n ɡʌn/ noun a gun which automatically fires many bullets rapidly, one after the other machine-readable /mə'ʃi:n 'ri:dəb(ə)l/ adj which can be used by a computer

③ machinery /mə'ʃi:nəri/ noun 1. many machines, taken as a group ○ The factory has got rid of a lot of old machinery. 2. a way of organising something ○ a review of local government machinery ○ the machinery for awarding government contracts (NOTE: no plural: some machinery, a piece of machinery) machine tool /mə'ʃi:n tu:l/ noun a tool driven by a motor, used to work on wood or metal machinist /mə'ʃi:nɪst/ noun a person who works a machine macho /'mætʃəʊ/ adj behaving in a way that is thought to be typical of a man (disapproving). Synonym manly mackerel /'mækərəl/ noun a sea fish with dark flesh, eaten grilled or smoked; also canned and made into pâté (NOTE: The plural is mackerel.)

mackintosh /'mækɪntɒʃ/ noun full form of mac (dated) macro /'mækərəʊ/ noun a block of instructions for a computer identified by one or more keystrokes ○ I do the page layouts using a macro. (NOTE: The plural is macros.)

macro- /mækərəʊ/ prefix on a large scale

② mad /mæd/ adj 1. having a serious mental disorder (offensive) 2. silly or crazy ○ Everyone thought he was mad to try to cross the Atlantic in a rowing boat. □ mad about someone or something very keen on someone or something (informal) ○ He's mad about jigsaw puzzles. □ mad as a hatter totally crazy ○ Don't ask him for advice – he's as mad as a hatter. 3. wildly frantic ○ The noise is driving her mad. □ like mad very fast or very enthusiastically (informal) ○ He drove like mad and managed to get to the station in time to catch the train. ○ They worked like mad to finish the job on time. 4. very angry (informal) ○ She's mad at or with him for borrowing her car. ○ He was hopping mad when they told him his car had been stolen. (NOTE: madder – maddest)

madam /'mædəm/ noun 1. a way of referring to a lady, often used by waiters or servants ○ After you, madam. ○ Would madam like some more tea? 2. writing a letter to a lady whom you do not know ○ Dear Madam mad cow disease /maed 'kau di:zɪ:z/ noun bovine spongiform encephalopathy, a disease affecting the brains of cattle (informal) madden /'mæd(ə)n/ verb to annoy a person or animal greatly. Synonym infuriate. Antonym pacify maddening /'mæd(ə)nɪŋ/ adj exasperating or annoying. Synonym infuriating. Antonym pleasing

① made /meɪd/ \diamond make (NOTE: Do not confuse with maid.)

made-to-measure /,meɪd tə 'meʒər/ adj (of clothes) made specially for one person. Synonym tailor-made. Antonym off-the-peg

③ made-up /,meɪd 'ʌp/ adj 1. wearing makeup \circ She was heavily made-up to try to hide the bruise on her cheek. 2. invented \circ It was a made-up story – none of the report was true.

madhouse /'mædhaʊs/ noun 1. a hospital for people who have mental illnesses (offensive) 2. a place where there is a lot of confused activity (informal) madly /'mædli/ adv in a wild way

③ madman /'mædmən/ noun a person who is mentally ill (offensive) \square to drive like a madman to drive very fast

③ madness /'mædnəs/ noun 1. stupid behaviour which may be dangerous \circ It's sheer madness to go out in a little boat in this weather. 2. the fact of being mad \circ They say that talking to yourself is the first sign of madness.

madras /mə'dra:s/ noun a type of hot curry madrigal /'mædrɪg(ə)l/ noun a group song popular in the 16th and 17th centuries maestro /'maɪstrəʊ/ noun 1. a musical genius 2. the conductor of an orchestra \circ Play it again, maestro! (NOTE: The plural is maestros.)

mafia /'mæfiə/ noun a secret Italian organisation dealing in crime. \blacktriangleright godfather

mag /mæg/ noun an illustrated publication which comes out regularly \circ He found a pile of old car mags in a corner of the shop. Synonym magazine ■ abbr magnetic ② magazine /'mægə'zi:n/ noun 1. an illustrated publication which comes out regularly \circ The gardening magazine comes out on Fridays. 2. radio or TV programme made up from various items on the same theme, broadcast regularly \circ Following the news, this week's science magazine has features on space telescopes and the disappearing ozone layer. 3. a container for ammunition which can be attached to a gun, or for film or slides which can be attached to a camera or projector \circ He clipped the magazine to the gun.

maggot /'mægət/ noun a white caterpillar of a bluebottle, which eats rotting meat

magic /'mædʒɪk/ noun spells, and conjuring tricks which do not appear to follow normal scientific rules \circ The conjuror made a rabbit appear in his hat, and the children all thought it was magic. \square as if by magic suddenly, without any possible explanation \circ He pushed a button and, as if by magic, lights came on all over the garden. ■ adj enchanted \circ The children found themselves in a magic wood.

magical /'mædʒɪk(ə)l/ adj as if produced by magic magically /'mædʒɪkli/ adv as if by magic magic bullet /,mædʒɪk 'bulɪt/ noun 1. a medicine which can quickly cure a serious illness 2. a quick solution to a difficult problem magician /me'dʒɪʃn(ə)n/ noun 1. a wizard

\circ Merlin was the great magician in medieval legends. 2. a conjuror \circ They hired a magician to entertain the children at the party.

magic wand /,mædʒɪk 'wɒnd/ noun same as wand

③ magistrate /'mædʒɪstreɪt/ noun a judge who tries cases in a minor court

magistrates' court /'mædʒɪstreɪts kɔ:t/ noun 1. a building where magistrates try cases \circ The magistrates' court is just opposite the police station. (NOTE: Magistrates who do not receive a salary are also called Justices of the Peace or JPs.) 2. a court presided over by magistrates \circ He appeared before the magistrates' court on a charge of theft.

Magna Carta /,mægna 'kɑ:tə/ noun the 'Great Charter', granted by King John in 1215, which gave English barons and free citizens certain political and personal freedoms magnanimity /,mægna'ni:mɪtɪ/ noun great generosity

magnanimous /mæg'nænɪməs/ adj very kind and generous to someone you have defeated or to someone who is weaker than you magnanimously /mæg'nænɪməsli/ adv in a magnanimous way magnate /'mægnɛt/ noun an important and powerful businessman. Synonym tycoon

magnesium /mæg'ni:ziəm/ noun a white metal which is used in making alloys and is also an essential element in biological life

③ magnet /'mægnɪt/ noun 1. a piece of metal which attracts iron and steel and will point roughly north when balanced on a pivot \circ There is a magnet inside the compass. \circ She has a Mickey Mouse which sticks to the fridge door with a magnet. 2. anything which attracts people or things \circ Moths were attracted to the lamp like a magnet. \circ The big city is a magnet for teenagers running away from home.

magnetic /mæg'netɪk/ adj 1. which attracts metal \circ Iron and steel can be made magnetic, but wood and paper cannot. 2. having a power of attraction \circ She has a magnetic personality – everyone looks at her when she enters a room.

magnetically /mæg'netɪkli/ adv by or using a magnet magnetic field /mæg'netɪk 'fi:ld/ noun an area around a magnet which is under its influence magnetic north /mæg'netɪk 'nɔ:θ/ noun the point near the North Pole to which the needle of a compass points magnetic pole /mæg'netɪk 'pəʊl/ noun one of the two poles which are the centres of the earth's magnetic field magnetic strip /mæg'netɪk 'strip/ noun a layer of magnetic material on a plastic card, used for recording data magnetic tape /mæg'netɪk teɪp/ noun a special plastic tape on which sounds and pictures can be recorded, also used for recording computer data. Also called mag tape magnetise /'mægnətaɪz/, magnetize verb to make a piece of metal into a magnet magnetism /'mægnətɪz(ə)m/ noun 1. the quality of being magnetic 2. being charming and attractive ○ The princess had enormous personal magnetism.

magnification /,mægnɪfɪ'keɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. the action of making something appear larger ○ Magnification enables us to see things that are too small to be visible to the naked eye. 2. the degree to which things appear larger when magnified ○ What magnification do you get with these binoculars?

magnificence /mæg'nɪfɪs(ə)ns/ noun splendour or luxury magnificent /mæg'nɪfɪs(ə)nt/ adj very fine, very splendid or very luxurious. Synonym superb magnificently /mæg'nɪfɪs(ə)ntli/ adv in a magnificent way magnify /'mægnɪfaɪ/ verb to make something appear larger magnifying glass /'mægnɪfaɪɪŋ_, gla:s/ noun a lens which makes small objects appear larger

③ magnitude /'mægnɪtju:d/ noun 1. importance ○ They did not underestimate the magnitude of the task. ○ We will need more staff if we take on a project of this magnitude. 2. a measure of the brightness of any object in the sky ○ a star of the third magnitude magnolia /mæg'nəliə/ noun a large tree with huge white or pink flowers magnum /'mægnəm/ noun a large bottle of wine, especially champagne, containing about 1.5 litres ○ They ordered magnums of champagne to celebrate their win.

magnum opus /,mægnəm 'əpəs/ noun the most important work produced by someone, especially by an artist magpie /'mægpai/ noun a common large black and white bird mag tape /mæg teɪp/ noun same as magnetic tape

mahogany /mə'hɒgəni/ noun a dark red tropical hardwood, now becoming rare

maid /meɪd/ noun 1. a female servant ○ The maid forgot to change the towels. ○ The chateau has a daily maid to do the cleaning. 2. □ old maid a middle-aged woman who is still not married maiden /'meɪd(ə)n/ noun an unmarried girl or woman ○ The village maidens danced at the wedding. ■ adj 1. (of a woman) unmarried 2. □ maiden (over) (in cricket) an over where no runs are scored maiden aunt /,meɪd(ə)n 'a:nt/ noun an unmarried aunt (dated) maiden flight /,meɪd(ə)n 'flaɪt/ noun the first flight of a new aircraft maiden name /'meɪd(ə)n neɪm/ noun the surname of a woman before she is married maiden speech /,meɪd(ə)n 'spɪtʃ/ noun the first speech of a Member of Parliament maiden voyage /,meɪd(ə)n 'vɔɪɪdʒ/ noun the first voyage of a new ship

② mail /meɪl/ noun 1. letters which are delivered or which are sent ○ The mail hasn't come yet. ○ The receipt was in this morning's mail. 2. a service provided by the post office ○ We sent the parcel by sea mail. ○ It's cheaper to send the order by surface mail than by air. ■ verb to send something by the postal services ○ We mailed the catalogue to addresses all over Europe. ○ He mailed the order last Wednesday. (NOTE: Mail is used in both British and US English; British English also uses post, but US English does not.)

mailbox /'meɪlbɔks/ noun US 1. one of several boxes where incoming mail is put in a large building ○ I checked the mailbox to see if I had any letters. 2. a box for putting letters and packets in which you want to mail ○ I posted the letter in the mailbox at the corner of the street. (NOTE: The plural is mailboxes. The British English term is letterbox or postbox.)

③ mailing list /'meɪlin lɪst/ noun a list of names and addresses of people to whom information can be sent

mailman /'meɪlmeɪn/ noun US a man who delivers letters (NOTE: The plural is mailmen. The British English term is postman.)

mail merge /'meɪl mɜ:dʒ/ noun a computer program which allows the same letter to be written to many different addresses

③ mail order /'meɪl 'ɔ:də/ noun ordering and buying by post mail shot /'meɪl ʃt/, mailing shot /'meɪlin ʃt/ noun a letter or letters advertising ing things and sent by post to possible customers main /meɪm/ verb to injure someone very badly, sometimes causing permanent damage. Synonym wound

① main /meɪm/ adj most important ○ The main thing is to get to work on time. ○ Their main factory is in Scotland. ○ January is the main month for skiing holidays. ○ A car will meet you at the main entrance. Antonym minor ■ noun 1. a large pipe for water or gas ○ A water main burst and flooded the street. ○ Workmen hit a gas main when they were digging a hole in the road. 2. □ the mains electricity brought into a building ○ That computer is plugged into the mains. ○ Our radio can run either on battery or mains.

main clause /meɪn 'kluːz/ noun the main part of a sentence

main course /'meɪn kɔːs/ noun the most important part of a meal, usually a dish of meat and vegetables or fish and vegetables mainframe /'meɪnfreɪm/ noun a large computer mainland /'meɪnlənd/ noun a large solid mass of land, as opposed to an island. Synonym landmass. Antonym island □ in mainland Europe in Europe, not counting the British Isles main line /'meɪn laɪn/ noun an important main railway line

② mainly /'meɪnlɪ/ adv 1. most often ○ We sell mainly to businesses. ○ People mainly go on holiday in the summer. 2. chiefly ○ She is mainly interested in old churches.

main road /meɪn 'rəʊd/ noun the largest and busiest road in a place mainsail /'meɪnsel/ noun the most important sail on a sailing ship

mainspring /'meɪnsprɪŋ/ noun 1. the central spring of a watch or clock ○ The mainspring has snapped and needs replacing. 2. the most important reason which makes you do something ○ Ambition seemed to be the mainspring of her professional life.

mainstay /'meɪnstei/ noun a main support that plays the most important part in keeping something going mainstream /'meɪnstriːm/ adj (of a group) most important. Synonym normal. Antonym unconventional

② maintain /meɪn'teɪn/ verb 1. to keep something going ○ We like to maintain good relations with our customers. 2. to keep something in good working order ○ The boiler needs to be regularly maintained. 3. to state something as a fact ○ Throughout the trial he maintained that the car was not his.

② maintenance /'meɪntənəns/ noun 1. the act of keeping something in working order ○ We offer a full maintenance service. 2.

the act of keeping things going or working ○ The maintenance of contacts with government officials. 3. money for upkeep, especially paid by a divorced or separated person to help pay for living expenses for children ○ to pay maintenance for the children maisonette /,meɪzə'net/ noun a flat on two floors in a larger house (NOTE: The US term is duplex.)

maître d'hôtel /,metrə dəʊ'tel/ noun a head waiter (NOTE: The US term is maître d'.)

maize /meɪz/ noun a widely grown cereal crop, with tall plants bearing large yellow seeds (NOTE: Do not confuse with maze. The US term is corn.)

majestic /mə'dʒestɪk/ adj grand or stately majestically /mə'dʒestɪkli/ adv grandly

majesty /'mædʒəstɪ/ noun 1. a beautiful or impressive sight ○ The majesty of the snow-covered mountains took his breath away. 2. used as a title for a king or queen ○ Her Majesty, Queen Elizabeth II (NOTE: The plural majesties is used to refer to several kings and queens: Their Majesties, the King and Queen of Norway. The way to address a king or queen directly is: Your Majesty.)

② major /'meɪdʒə/ adj 1. important ○ Inhaled tar is a major cause of lung cancer. ○ Computers are a major influence on modern industrial society. ○ Many small roads are blocked by snow, but the major roads are open. □ the major part of something most of something ○ The major part of the film takes place in Scotland. 2. (in music) a key where there are semitones between the third and fourth, and seventh and eighth notes, and tones between the others ○ She played a concerto in B major. Compare minor ■ noun a rank of an officer in the army below colonel ○ A major came up in a truck with six soldiers. (NOTE: also used as a title before a surname: Major Smith) ■ verb US to specialise in a subject at university ○ She majored in English literature.

majorette /,meɪdʒə'ret/ noun a girl who marches in front of a parade

② majority /mə'dʒɔrɪtɪ/ noun 1. the larger part of a group ○ The majority of the members of the club don't want to change the rules. □ in the majority being more than half of the members ○ Women are in a majority on the committee. □ silent 2. a number of voters which is larger than half ○ She was elected with a majority of 10,000. □ the government has a majority of one the government has one MP more than the opposition □ a two-thirds majority more than 66% ○ You need a two-thirds majority to get the approval of the shareholders. 3. the age when you become legally adult ○ He will inherit from his grandfather when he reaches his majority.

① make /meɪk/ noun the country or the company which makes something ○ Japanese makes of cars ○ What is the make of your refrigerator? Synonym sort ■ verb 1. to put something together or build something ○ He made a boat out of old pieces of wood. ○ These knives are made of steel. 2. to get something ready ○ She is making a Christmas cake. ○ Do you want me to make some tea? □ to make a bed to make a bed tidy after someone has slept in it ○ When we got to the hotel, the beds hadn't been made. 3. to add up to a total ○ Six and four make ten. 4. to earn money ○ He made millions of pounds by buying and selling property. 5. to give someone a feeling ○ The smell of curry makes me hungry. ○ The rough sea made him feel sick. ○ Looking at old photographs made her sad. ○ He made himself comfortable in the armchair. 6. to force someone to do something ○ His mother made him clean his room. ○ The teacher made us all stay in after school. ○ I can't make the car go any faster. ○ What on earth made you do that? 7. (in sports) to score ○ He made 156. (NOTE: making – made /meɪd/) □ to make good something to put something right ○ They promised to make good the damage they caused. □ to make good to become successful ○ He's a local boy who has made good in the city. □ to make it to be successful ○ We won't make it – we left the house too late. □ what time do you make it? what is the time according to your watch? □ to make sense of something to understand something ○ I can't make any sense of what she's trying to say. □ to make do with to use something because there is nothing else available □ to make sense 1. to be understood ○ The message doesn't make sense. 2. to be a good idea ○ It makes sense to put a little money into your savings account every week.

make-believe /'meɪk bɪ,li:v/ noun the practice of pretending that something is true when it is not. Synonym fantasy. Antonym reality

③ make for /'meɪk fɔ:/ verb 1. to go towards a place ○ The army was making for the capital. ○ As soon as the film started, she made straight for the exit. 2. to help something to happen ○ Non-stick pans make for easier washing up.

③ make of /'meɪk ɒv/ verb to have an impression or opinion about something

③ make off with /,meɪk 'ɒf wɪð/ verb to steal something. Synonym appropriate

① make out /,meɪk 'aʊt/ verb 1. to be able to see clearly ○ Can you make out the house in the dark? 2. to be able to understand ○ I can't make out why he doesn't want to come.

3. to claim something which is probably not true ○ The English weather isn't really as bad as it is made out to be. ○ She tries to make out that she's very poor. 4. to write something, such as a name ○ The cheque is made out to Mr Smith. 5. US to be successful ○ He tried opening a fish restaurant but it didn't make out. ○ How is Bobby making out at school?

make over /,meɪk 'əʊvə/ verb □ to make over something to someone to pass ownership of something to someone ○ He made over the property to his daughter.

maker /'meɪkə/ noun a person who makes something. Synonym creator. Antonym destroyer □ our Maker God makeshift /'meɪkʃɪft/ adj used temporarily in place of something else. Antonym permanent ① make up /,meɪk 'ʌp/ verb 1. to invent a story ○ He said he had seen a man climbing into the house, but in fact he made the whole story up. 2. □ to make yourself up to put on makeup, e.g. powder and lipstick 3. to form something ○ The staff is made up of secretaries and drivers. 4. □ to make up your mind to decide on something ○ They can't make up their minds on where to go for their holiday. □ his mind is made up nothing will make him change his mind ○ It's no use talking to him – his mind is made up. 5. to become friends again ○ They quarrelled, and then made it up. 6. □ to make it up to someone to compensate someone for something, e.g. for something lost or damaged ○ Don't worry about the paint on your carpet – we'll make it up to you.

③ makeup /'meɪkʌp/ noun 1. substances, e.g. face powder and lipstick, which are put on your face to make it more beautiful ○ She wears no makeup apart from a little eye shadow. ○ He spent hours over his makeup for the part of the monster. 2. the way in which something is formed or arranged ○ By bringing in ministers from another party, the Prime Minister has altered the whole makeup of the Cabinet. ○ The census shows the ethnic makeup of the population.

③ making /'meɪkɪŋ/ noun the construction or formation of something □ it was four years in the making it took four years to make □ it has the makings of something it may develop into something ○ The situation has all the makings of a political crisis.

maladjusted /,mælə'dʒʌstɪd/ adj unable to fit in with the rest of society maladroit /,mælə'drɔɪt/ adj clumsy when dealing with people or things. Synonym awkward malaise /mə'læɪz/ noun 1. a feeling of being slightly ill ○ She had a feeling of malaise but couldn't say what caused it. 2. a feeling of being slightly worried ○ There is a general malaise among the middle-class which might make them vote against the government.

malaria /mə'lɛəriə/ noun a tropical disease caused by a parasite which enters the body after a bite from a female mosquito

② male /meɪl/ adj 1. referring to the sex which does not give birth to young ○ A male deer is called a stag. 2. referring to men or boys ○ The male population is more likely to get flu than the female. ■ noun 1. a man or boy ○ The wreckage contained the bodies of two males and two females. 2. an animal or insect of the sex which does not give birth to young or lay eggs ○ With spiders, the female is usually bigger than the male. (NOTE: Do not confuse with mail.)

male menopause /meɪl 'menəpɔ:z/ noun a period in a man's life in middle age, when he wants to change his way of life malevolence /mə'lɛvələns/ noun the state of wanting to harm other people. Synonym wickedness. Antonym benevolence malevolent /mə'lɛvələnt/ adj who wants to harm other people. Antonym benevolent malformation /,mælfɔ:t'meɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the fact of being wrongly shaped or badly formed malfunction /mæl'fʌŋkʃən/ noun the fact of not working properly ○ The data was lost due to a software malfunction. Synonym fault ■ verb not to work properly ○ Some of the keys on the keyboard have started to malfunction. Antonym function malice /'mælɪs/ noun an unfriendly or spiteful feeling towards someone. Synonym hatred ■ to do something out of malice to do something just to hurt someone ○ She threw away his diary out of or from pure malice.

malicious /mə'lɪʃəs/ adj 1. done because you want to harm someone ○ There has been some malicious gossip about her. ○ It was a malicious attempt to make her lose her job. 2. done without a lawful reason maliciously /mə'lɪʃəslɪ/ adv in a malicious way

malign /mə'læɪn/ verb to say nasty things about someone or something ○ I've no wish to malign my assistant, who has generally been doing an excellent job. Synonym criticise. Antonym praise ■ he has been much maligned people have criticised him a lot ■ adj causing harm (literary) ○ the malign influence of drugs. Synonym harmful. Antonym benign malignancy /mə'lɪgnənsi/ noun the fact of being malignant malignant /mə'lɪgnənt/ adj 1. likely to be cause death 2. wanting to harm someone ○ his malignant attitude towards his neighbours because of their dog mall /mɔ:l/ noun □ the Mall a street in London leading from Trafalgar Square to Buckingham Palace ○ The soldiers paraded down the Mall to Buckingham Palace. (NOTE: Do not confuse with maul.)

malleable /'mæliəb(ə)l/ adj soft, which can be moulded into shape mallet /'mæltɪ/ noun a large wooden hammer malnourished /mæl'nɔ:rɪʃt/ adj suffering from malnutrition malnutrition /,mælnju'trɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the state of not having enough to eat

malpractice /mæl'præktɪs/ noun the practice of acting in an unprofessional or illegal way (by a doctor, lawyer, accountant, etc.) Synonym misconduct malt /mɔ:lt/ noun barley grains which have been through the malting process and are used in breweries to make beer and in distilleries to make whisky ■ verb 1. to treat grain such as barley by allowing it to sprout and then drying it 2. to flavour something with malt malted milk /,mɔ:ltɪd 'mɪlk/ noun a hot drink made from milk powder flavoured with malt maltreat /mæl'tri:t/ verb to treat someone badly malt whisky /mɔ:lt 'wɪskɪ/ noun whisky distilled from malted barley mama /'mɑ:mə/ noun a child's name for mother (informal dated)

③ mammal /'mæm(ə)l/ noun a type of animal which gives birth to live young and feeds them with milk

mammalian /mə'meɪliən/ adj referring to mammals

mammoth /'mæməθ/ noun a very large hairy elephant living in prehistoric times ○ There's a full-size model of a mammoth in the museum. ○ The woolly mammoth is thought to have become extinct during the last Ice Age. ■ adj enormous or huge ○ Updating the bank's computer records is a mammoth task. Synonym enormous. Antonym tiny ① man /mæn/ noun 1. a male human being ○ That tall man is my brother. ○ There's a young man at reception asking for Mr Smith.

2. any human being ○ Stone Age men existed several thousand years ago. 3. □ the man in the street an ordinary person ○ The man in the street isn't interested in quantum physics.

4. an ordinary soldier or worker ○ Half the men are off sick. (NOTE: The plural is men /men/.) ■ verb to provide staff to work something ○ The switchboard is manned all day. ○ She sometimes mans the front desk

when the receptionist is ill. (NOTE: mans – manning – manned)

manacle /'mænək(ə)l/ noun one of two steel rings connected by a chain which attaches the wrists or ankles of a prisoner together.  handcuffs  verb to attach a prisoner's wrists or ankles together.  The prisoners entered the court manacled.

① manage /'mænidʒ/ verb 1. to be in charge of something  She manages all our offices in Europe.  We want to appoint someone to manage the new shop. 2.  to manage to do something to do something successfully  Did you manage to phone the office?  The burglars managed to open the door of the safe. 3. to be able to work properly or cope with a situation  Can you manage all by yourself?  How are we going to manage without a driver?

manageable /'mænidʒəb(ə)l/ adj which can be dealt with easily

① management /'mænidʒmənt/ noun 1. a group of people who direct workers  The management has decided to move to new offices.  under new management with a new owner or manager  The shop is under new management. 2. the directing and control of work  He's taking a course in management.  If anything goes wrong now it's just a case of bad management.

management team /'mænidʒmənt t̬i:m/ noun all the managers who work together in a company

① manager /'mænidʒə/ noun 1. the person in charge of a department in a shop or in a business  The bank manager wants to talk about your account.  The sales manager organised a publicity campaign.  She's the manager of the shoe department. 2. an organiser of a sports team  The club have just sacked their manager. 3. a person who is employed to organise the work of someone, e.g. a singer, sportsman or actor  Her manager is organising her tour of North America.

manageress /'mænidʒə'res/ noun a woman who manages a shop or department (dated) (NOTE: The plural is manageresses.)

managerial /mænə'dʒɪəriəl/ adj referring to managers. Synonym executive  to be appointed to a managerial position to be appointed a manager  decisions taken at managerial level decisions taken by managers

③ managing director /'mænidʒɪŋ daɪ-rek'tər/ noun a director in charge of a company

Mandarin /'mændərɪn/ noun the principal spoken form of Chinese, the official language of China

④ mandate /'mændɪt/ noun the power given to a person to act on behalf of someone else  the government has a clear mandate from the people to improve the health service when they voted for the government people approved of the plan to improve the health service mandatory /'mændət(ə)ri/ adj which has to be done or has to take place because of a rule or law. Synonym obligatory. Antonym optional mandible /'mændɪb(ə)l/ noun the lower jaw of an animal, e.g. a bird, insect, or human being mandolin /'mændə'lɪn/ noun a stringed instrument like a small guitar with eight strings mane /meɪn/ noun the long hair on the neck of a lion or horse (literary or informal) (NOTE: Do not confuse with main.)

manfully /'mænf(ə)li/ adv in a strong and determined way manger /'meɪndʒə/ noun a box for food for farm animals, e.g. horses or cows mangle /'mængəl/ noun a device with rollers for squeezing the water out of clothes, etc. which have been washed (dated)  Put the sheets through the mangle before hanging them up to dry.  verb 1. to squash something or chop something up  The mangled remains of a dog run over by a lorry. 2. to spoil something by doing it badly  He mangled his part so much that the audience laughed.  The poem was completely mangled in translation.

mango /'mænɡəʊ/ noun a large tropical fruit with yellow flesh and a big stone (NOTE: The plural is mangoes.)

mangrove /'mænɡrəʊv/ noun a tree which grows beside water in hot countries and which has roots above the ground manhandle /'mænhandl(ə)l/ verb 1. to move something large and heavy by hand  Ten men were needed to manhandle the statue into place. 2. to handle someone roughly  The protesters complained they had been manhandled by the police.

manhole /'mænhaʊl/ noun a hole in the road or pavement through which you go below the ground, e.g. into the sewers manhood /'mænhood/ noun the state of being a man (NOTE: no plural) manhunt /'mæn,hʌnt/ noun a search for someone, especially by the police mania /'memiə/ noun 1. a form of mental illness where the patient is very excited and violent 2. a passion for something  He has a mania for collecting old cars.  She has a mania for white clothes.

maniac /'memiæk/ noun 1. a person with a mania  A maniac with a gun was holding the family hostage. 2. a crazy person  We were nearly killed by some maniac driving a sports car.

manic /'mænɪk/ adj 1. wildly energetic ○ The scene of manic activity in the office as everyone rushed to finish the work before the deadline. 2. referring to mania manic depression /,mænɪk dɪ'preʃ(ə)n/, manic-depressive illness /,mænɪk dɪ'prezɪv ,ɪlnəs/ noun a psychological illness in which the patient moves between mania and depression and has delusions manicure /'mænɪkjʊə/ noun the act of looking after the hands and nails □ to have a manicure to have your hands cleaned and nails trimmed ○ She offered to give me a manicure. ■ verb to look after the hands and nails ○ her beautifully manicured hands manicurist /'mænɪkjʊərɪst/ noun a person whose job is to look after people's hands manifest /'mænɪfɪst/ adj obvious, plain for everyone to see ○ His manifest lack of interest in the subject, made teaching him difficult. Synonym apparent. Antonym unclear ■ noun a list of goods, cargo, or passengers ○ According to the manifest, the cargo is supposed to be tractor parts. ■ verb to show something ○ The cat manifested no interest in her food whatsoever. □ to manifest itself as something to show itself as something ○ The disease first manifests itself as a slight skin rash.

③ manifestation /,mænɪfe'steɪʃ(ə)n/ noun an appearance manifestly /'mænɪfestli/ adv obviously (formal) manifesto /,mænɪ'festəʊ/ noun □ a political party's manifesto a programme of action outlined by a political party and published as a pamphlet ○ The Conservative manifesto was published last week. Compare platform manipulate /mə'nipjuleɪt/ verb 1. to influence people or situations so that you get what you want ○ By manipulating the media the government made sure its message got across to the people. 2. to handle something ○ She found it difficult to manipulate the instruments when wearing protective clothing. 3. to falsify accounts to make a company seem more profitable ○ He was accused of manipulating the sales figures to protect the share price.

③ manipulation /mə,nipju'leɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. the act of influencing people or situations so that you get what you want ○ The government made sure its message got across through its manipulation of the media. 2. the act of handling machinery ○ Manipulation of the machine is best done by an expert.

manipulative /mə'nipjulətɪv/ adj controlling and using people, so as to get them to do what you want

③ mankind /mæn'kaɪnd/ noun the human race, all human beings (dated) (NOTE: no plural) manly /'mænli/ adj looking or behaving as a man should look or behave. Synonym virile man-made /,mæn 'meɪd/ adj which has been made by human beings. Synonym artificial manned /mænd/ adj which is operated by people mannequin /'mænɪkɪn/ noun 1. a model of a person, dressed in clothes to show them to people who might buy them ○ Her job is to dress the mannequins in the store window. 2. same as model (old)

② manner /'mænəl/ noun 1. a way of behaving ○ She has a very unpleasant manner. ○ The staff don't like the new manager's manner. 2. a sort □ in a manner of speaking in some sort of way ○ In a manner of speaking, I'm glad to have got the sack, as I won't have to work in that dreadful office again.

mannered /'mænəd/ adj full of odd unnatural expressions. Synonym affected mannerism /'mænərɪz(ə)m/ noun a gesture or way of speaking which is particular to one person manners /'mænəz/ plural noun a way of behaving in public manning /'mænɪŋ/ noun same as staffing mannish /'mænɪʃ/ adj (of a woman) looking or dressing like a man manoeuvre /mə'nju:və/ noun a planned action to avoid something or to deceive someone ○ The captain had to make a sudden manoeuvre to avoid hitting the smaller ship. ○ The company has carried out various manoeuvres to avoid bankruptcy. ■ verb 1. to move something heavy or difficult to handle ○ We manoeuvred the piano into position on the stage. ○ A big lorry is difficult to manoeuvre round corners. 2. to work to put yourself in a good position ○ She managed to manoeuvre herself onto the board of the company. (NOTE: [all senses] The US spelling is maneuver.) manoeuvres /mə'nju:vəz/ plural noun military exercises (NOTE: The US spelling is maneuvers.)

③ manor /'mænər/ noun a country house and the land surrounding it (NOTE: Do not confuse with manner.)

manor house /'mænə haʊs/ noun a country house manpower /'mænpaʊə/ noun the number of workers in a country or industry or organisation

③ mansion /'mænʃən/ noun 1. a very large private house ○ He's bought a mansion overlooking the golf course. ○ They live in a mansion in Hampstead with its own swim- ming pool and tennis courts. 2. □ mansions a large block of flats ○ His address is Flat 10, Harewood Mansions, London Road.

manslaughter /'mænslɔ:tə/ noun the offence of killing someone without having intended to do so or of killing someone intentionally but with mitigating circumstances. Compare murder mantelpiece /'mæntlpi:s/, mantelshelf /'mæntlʃelf/ noun a shelf above a fireplace mantle /'mænt(ə)l/ noun 1. a cloak ○ Ladies arrived for the ball wrapped in fur mantles. 2. a covering ○ The ground was covered by a mantle of snow. □ to assume the mantle of office or power to take up an official position or to take power (formal) ○ After the coup, the general assumed the mantle of power.

mantra /'mæntrə/ noun a phrase which is chanted many times, as in a prayer manual /'mænjuəl/ adj 1. done by hand 2. (of a car) in which the gears are changed by hand ○ I prefer a manual model to an automatic. □ noun a book of instructions ○ Look in the manual to see if it tells you how to change the toner cartridge.

manufacture /,mænju'fæktʃə/ noun the process of making a commercially produced product ○ Robots are used in car manufacture. ○ Most of the cars are of foreign manufacture. □ verb to make products commercially ○ We no longer manufacture tractors here. Synonym build

② manufacturer /,mænju'fæktʃərə/ noun a person or company producing industrial products. Synonym builder

③ manufacturing /,mænju'fæktʃərɪŋ/ noun the business of making things in large quantities for sale ○ Only 25% of the nation's workforce is now engaged in manufacturing.

■ adj which manufactures things ○ the decline of manufacturing industry

manure /mə'njuə/ noun animal dung used as fertiliser on land ○ The farmers were out in the field, spreading manure. □ verb to spread animal dung on the land as fertiliser ○ The soil should be well manured before you begin planting.

manuscript /'mænjoskrɪpt/ noun 1. a document, letter or poem which has been written by hand ○ the sale of several manuscript letters by King Charles II ○ One of the original manuscripts of the Domesday Book is kept in London. 2. a handwritten or typed version of a book which has not been printed or published ○ He sent his manuscript to several publishers, but no one wanted to publish it. (NOTE: often written MS, plural MSS, say 'manuscripts')

① many /'meni/ adj 1. a large number of things or people ○ Many old people live on the south coast. ○ So many people wanted

rooms that the hotel was booked up. ○ She ate twice as many cakes as her sister did. 2. asking a question ○ How many times have you been to France? ○ How many passengers were there on the plane? 3. □ a great many, a good many quite a lot ○ A good many people think we should build a bypass round the town. □ too many more than necessary ○ There were too many people waiting and not enough room on the bus for all of them. □ one too many one more than enough ■ pron a large number of people ○ Many of the students knew the lecturer when he was a student himself. ○ Many would say that smoking should be banned in all public places.

Maori /'maurɪ/ adj referring to the original inhabitants of New Zealand ○ The visitors were greeted with Maori songs. ■ noun 1. a person of the race of the original inhabitants of New Zealand ○ The Maoris decorated the prows of their war canoes. 2. the language spoken by the race of the original inhabitants of New Zealand

② map /mæp/ noun a drawing which shows a place, e.g. a town, a country or the world, as if it is seen from the air ○ Here's a map of Europe. ○ The village where they live is so small I can't find it on the map. ○ Show me on the map where the mountains are. ○ They lost their way because they'd forgotten to take a map. □ verb 1. to make a map of a place such as a country ○ *The explorers mapped the whole of the south of the country. 2. □ to map something out to plan something in advance ○ We met yesterday to map out our publicity programme. ○ They mapped out a plan to buy the company. ○ *He mapped out a route to get to Birmingham using only minor roads, not motorways.

maple /'meip(ə)l/ noun a northern tree, growing mainly in Canada and the USA, with sweet sap maple leaf /'meip(ə)l li:f/ noun a leaf with five points, used as the symbol of Canada on the Canadian national flag maple syrup /,meip(ə)l 'sɪrəp/ noun syrup made from the sap of the maple tree mar /ma:/ verb to spoil something. Synonym deface. Antonym repair (NOTE: mar-ring – marred) marathon noun /'mærəθ(ə)n/ a long-distance race ○ A marathon is run over 26 miles. ○ She's training for the New York marathon. ■ adj which lasts a long time and is very tiring ○ The marathon meeting of club members lasted for over five hours. ○ After a marathon negotiating session, we finally reached agreement.

marauder /mə'rɔ:də/ noun a person who raids a place. Synonym raider marauding /mə'rɔ:dɪŋ/ adj moving from place to place to steal and destroy things marble /'mɑ:b(ə)l/ noun 1. a very hard type of stone which can be polished so that it shines brilliantly ○ The entrance hall has a marble floor. ○ The table top is made from a single slab of green marble. 2. a small glass ball marbles /'mɑ:b(ə)lz/ plural noun a game played by children by rolling marbles along the ground march /mɑ:tʃ/ noun 1. the act of walking in step, especially by soldiers or sailors ○ The soldiers were tired after their long march through the mountains. □ a quick or slow march a rapid or slow walking pace 2. a piece of music with a regular beat for marching ○ At the end of the burial service the band played a slow march. ■ verb 1. to walk in step ○ The guards marched after the band. ○ We were just in time to see the soldiers march past. □ quick march! an order to soldiers to march at a rapid pace 2. □ the police marched him off to prison the police took him away quickly to prison 3. to walk quickly and purposefully ○ She marched into the shop and asked to speak to the manager. 4. to walk in a protest march ○ Thousands of workers marched to the parliament building.

① March /mɑ:tʃ/ noun the third month of the year, between February and April (NOTE: March 6th or March 6: say 'March the sixth' or 'the sixth of March' or in US English: 'March sixth.') marcher /'mɑ:tʃə/ noun a person who marches in a protest march march past /'mɑ:tʃ pɑ:st/ noun a ceremonial military parade mare /meə/ noun a female horse

margarine /,mɑ:dʒə'rɪ:n/ noun a mixture of animal or vegetable oil which is used instead of butter marge /mɑ:dʒ/ noun same as margarine (informal)

③ margin /'mɑ:dʒɪn/ noun 1. a white space at the edge of a page of writing ○ Write your comments in the margin. ○ We left a wide margin so that you can write notes in it. 2. extra space, time, etc. □ leave a margin for error to allow extra space or time in case you have made a mistake □ by a wide margin by a big distance, by a large number of votes, etc. ○ The Labour candidate won by a wide margin. 3. money received which is more than money paid ○ Small businesses operate on very narrow margins. ○ We have to cut our margins to remain competitive.

marginal /'mɑ:dʒɪn(ə)l/ adj 1. slight ○ There is only a marginal difference between them. 2. (of a parliamentary seat) in which the opposing parties are almost equal, with very few votes between them ○ The party is targeting the most marginal seats in the country.

marginalise /'mɑ:dʒɪnəlaɪz/, marginalize verb to make someone or something less important. Antonym include marginally /'mɑ:dʒɪn(ə)li/ adv slightly marigold /'ma:ri:gɔ:d/ noun a common garden plant with yellow or orange flowers marijuana /,maɪə'rwa:nə/ noun a drug made from hemp. Also called cannabis marina /mə'ri:nə/ noun a special harbour with floating jetties where a large number of yachts and pleasure boats can be tied up marinade /'mærɪneɪd/ noun a mixture of wine and herbs, etc., in which meat or fish is soaked before cooking ○ The marinade gives a delicious flavour to the meat. ■ verb to soak meat or fish in a mixture of wine and herbs, etc. ○ Marinade the meat for twelve hours before cooking.

marinate /'mærɪneɪt/ verb same as marinade marine /mə'ri:n/ adj referring to the sea ○ She studied marine biology. ■ noun a soldier serving in the navy

Marines /mə'ri:nz/ plural noun a branch of the armed forces whose members operate both on land and on sea marionette /,mærɪə'net/ noun a puppet moved by strings attached to its arms and legs marital /'mærɪt(ə)l/ adj referring to a marriage. Synonym conjugal marital status /,mærɪt(ə)l 'steɪtəs/ noun the position of being married, divorced or not married maritime /'mærɪtaim/ adj referring to the sea or ships marjoram /'mɑ:dʒərəm/ noun a herb used in Mediterranean cooking, especially pizzas

① mark /mɑ:k/ noun 1. a small spot of a different colour ○ The red wine has made a mark on the tablecloth. ○ She has a mark on her forehead where she hit her head. 2. the points given to a student ○ She got top marks in English. ○ What sort of mark did you get for your homework? ○ No one got full marks – the top mark was 8 out of 10. 3. a line showing a certain point ○ His income has reached the £100,000 mark. 4. a target □ wide of the mark not at all correct ○ His estimate of the costs was wide of the mark. 5. a printed sign 6. an order given to runners at the beginning of a race ○ On your marks, get set, go! 7. money formerly used in Germany, now replaced by the euro ○ The price was twenty-five marks. Also called Deutschmark (NOTE: usually written DM after figures: 25DM) ■ verb 1. to make a mark on something □ the box is marked 'dangerous' the box has the word 'dangerous' written on it 2. to correct and give points to work ○ The teacher hasn't finished marking our homework. ○ Has the English exam been marked yet? 3. □ to mark an opponent (in games) to follow an opposing player closely, so as to prevent him or her getting the ball

③ mark down /'ma:k 'daʊn/ verb to reduce the price of something ○ We have marked all prices down by 30% for the sale.

③ marked /'ma:kɪt/ adj 1. very obvious, definite ○ This month's sales showed a marked improvement. ○ His performance was first class – in marked contrast to his game last week. 2. □ to be a marked man to have been selected by an enemy as a probable target ○ He informed on the mafia boss, and since has become a marked man in fear for his life.

markedly /'ma:kɪdli/ adv very obviously

③ marker /'ma:kə/ noun 1. a thing which marks something ○ The golfer put down a marker before moving his ball. 2. a person who gives a mark to something, e.g. a piece of work, an examination or an entry in a competition ○ Our teacher is a very hard marker – nobody gets more than seven out of ten.

① market /'ma:kɪt/ noun 1. a place where products, e.g. fruit and vegetables, are sold from small tables, often in the open air ○ We buy all our vegetables and fish at the market. ○ Market day is Saturday, so parking will be difficult. 2. □ in the market for something wanting to buy ○ We are in the market for good quality antiques. □ on the market for sale ○ Their house has been on the market for three months. □ to put something on the market to offer something for sale ○ We put our house on the market three months ago and no one has even been to look at it. 3. a place where a product is required or where a product could be sold ○ The market for Russian cars has almost disappeared. ○ The potential global market for this product is enormous. □ the domestic market, the home market the market in the country where you live ○ Sales in the domestic market have not increased. ■ verb to sell products using marketing techniques ○ This product is being marketed in all European countries.

marketable /'ma:kɪtəb(ə)l/ adj which can be sold easily

market economy /'ma:kɪt ɪ'kɒnəmɪ/ noun a system of economy in which prices and earnings are controlled by the people's demands rather than by the government market forces /,ma:kɪt 'fɔ:sɪz/ plural noun commercial influences which have an effect on the success of a product or firm ○ Market forces decide which firms succeed and which fail.

market garden /,ma:kɪt 'ga:dn/ noun a small farm which grows vegetables or fruit which are sold in a nearby town (NOTE: The US term is truck farm.)

③ marketing /'ma:kɪtɪŋ/ noun the techniques, e.g. publicity and packaging, which are used to sell a product. Synonym advertising

③ marketplace /'ma:kɪtpleɪs/ noun 1. an open space in the middle of a town where a market is held ○ The marketplace is usually right in the centre of a town. 2. the activity of selling goods or services ○ Our sales staff find life difficult in the marketplace. ○ What is the reaction to the new car in the marketplace?

market research /,ma:kɪt rɪ'sɜ:tʃ/ noun the activity of examining the possible sales of a product and the possible customers before it is put on the market

③ market share /,ma:kɪt 'ʃeə/ noun the percentage of possible sales which a company or product has

market town /'ma:kɪt taʊn/ noun a town where an open-air market is held regularly

③ marking /'ma:kɪŋ/ noun 1. the action of making marks 2. the action of correcting something, e.g. exercises or homework ○ Marking is not a job I like. 3. exercises or exam papers which are waiting to be marked ○ He took a pile of marking home with him.

marksman /'ma:ksmən/ noun a person who shoots well (NOTE: The plural is marks-men.)

③ mark up /,ma:k 'ʌp/ verb to increase the price of something ○ These prices have been marked up by 10%. ○ If retailers find the discount too low they mark the prices up to make a better margin.

mark-up /'mark ʌp/ noun an amount added to the cost price to give the selling price

③ marmalade /'ma:məleɪd/ noun a jam made from fruits such as oranges, lemons or grapefruit and eaten at breakfast maroon /'ma:rʊ:n/ adj deep purple red ○ He was wearing a maroon tie. ■ noun 1. a deep purple red colour ○ Maroon is a favourite colour for school uniforms. 2. a small firework used as a distress signal by ships ○ The coastguard let off a maroon as a signal for the lifeboat to be launched. ■ verb to leave someone in a place from which there is no escape ○ They were marooned on the desert island for ten days. ○ The bus broke down, leaving us all marooned miles from anywhere. Synonym abandon marque /'ma:k/ noun a famous brand name for a car. Synonym make marquee /ma:'ki:/ noun a very large tent marquess /'ma:kwɪs/, marquis noun a member of the nobility, the rank below a duke

② marriage /'mærɪdʒ/ noun 1. the state of being legally joined as husband and wife ○ A large number of marriages end in divorce. ○ She has two sons by her first marriage. 2. a wedding, the ceremony of being married ○ They had a simple marriage, with just ten guests. ○ The marriage took place at the registry office.

marriageable /'mærɪdʒəb(ə)l/ adj suitable to become married

② married /'mærid/ adj joined as husband and wife ○ Are you married or single? ○ How long have you been married. ○ Married life must suit him – he's put on weight.

married name /'mærid neɪm/ noun a husband's surname taken by a woman when she gets married marrow /'mærəʊ/ noun a large green vegetable of the pumpkin family, similar to a large cucumber ○ His marrow was the biggest exhibit in the vegetable show.

① marry /'mæri/ verb 1. to make two people husband and wife ○ They were married at the registry office. 2. to become the husband or wife of someone ○ She married the boy next door. ○ She's married to a policeman. ○ They're getting married next Saturday.

marsh /'ma:ʃ/ noun a wet and swampy land. Synonym bog (NOTE: The plural is marshes.)

marshal /'ma:ʃ(ə)l/ noun 1. a military officer of the highest rank 2. an organiser of a race or a show ○ Marshals tried to direct the crowds to the grandstands. ○ Some marshals rushed to the scene of the crash and others waved flags to try to stop the race. 3. US an officer of a court ○ Federal marshals raided several houses looking for a prisoner who had escaped from jail. 4. US the chief of police or chief of the fire brigade in an area ■ verb to organise people or things into order ○ Extra police were brought in to marshal the crowds of fans. ○ He tried to marshal the facts but was too sleepy to think clearly. Antonym muddle (NOTE: Do not confuse with marital. Note: marshalling – marshalled but the US spelling is marshaling – marshaled) marshland /'ma:flænd/ noun an area where the soil is wet and there are many pools of water. Synonym bog marshmallow /'ma:ʃmæləʊ/ noun a soft white or pink sweet marshy /'ma:ʃi/ adj (of land) swampy or wet (NOTE: marshier – marshiest) marsupial /ma:ʃu:pɪəl/ noun a type of animal found in Australia, which carries its young in a pouch in the front of its body martial /'ma:f(ə)l/ adj referring to war (formal) □ martial music marches played by military bands martial arts /'ma:f(ə)l a:tz/ plural noun oriental fighting techniques, sometimes using swords or sticks martial law /,ma:f(ə)l 'lɔ:/ noun maintenance of law by the army instead of the police. Synonym state of emergency

Martian /'ma:f(ə)n/ adj referring to the planet Mars ○ The probe has taken photographs of the Martian landscape. ■ noun an imaginary person living on or coming from the planet Mars ○ A story about Martians who come to invade the Earth. Synonym alien. Antonym terrestrial martinet /,ma:tɪ'net/ noun a person who is very strict about making other people obey rules. Synonym disciplinarian martyr /'ma:tər/ noun 1. a person killed or made to suffer because of his or her beliefs ○ St Stephen, the first Christian martyr. ○ Christian martyrs were killed by the Romans. ○ She was a martyr in the cause of national liberation. 2. a person who pretends to suffer in order to get sympathy ○ She sat at the switchboard all day, looking a real martyr. 3. ■ to be a martyr to something to suffer a lot from something ○ He's a martyr to indigestion. ■ verb to kill someone for his or her religious beliefs ○ St Catherine was martyred in the 4th century.

martyrdom /'ma:tədəm/ noun the fact of suffering death for your beliefs martyred /'ma:təd/ adj pretending to suffer in order to get sympathy

marvel /'ma:v(ə)l/ noun a thing which you think is wonderful ○ The building is one of the marvels of the modern age. ○ It's a marvel that she managed to remember my birthday. ■ verb □ to marvel at someone or something to show wonder or surprise at someone or something ○ Everyone marvelled at the sheer size of the statue.

② marvellous /'ma:vələs/ adj wonderful (NOTE: The US spelling is marvelous.)

marvellously /'ma:v(ə)ləsli/ adv in a wonderful way (NOTE: The US spelling is marvelously.)

Marxism /'ma:kɪz(ə)m/ noun the political theories of Karl Marx, which led to communism and socialism

Marxist /'ma:kɪst/ noun a person who believes in Marxism ■ adj referring to Marxism marzipan /'ma:zɪpən/ noun a paste made from ground almonds, sugar and egg, used to cover a fruit cake before icing or to make individual little sweets mascara /mæ'skʊ:rə/ noun a substance for making eyelashes dark mascot /'mæskɒt/ noun an object or animal which you think brings good luck. Synonym symbol

③ masculine /'mæskjʊlɪn/ adj 1. male, referring to men ○ She had a very masculine hair style. 2. manly, with qualities that are typical of men ○ He answered in a gruff masculine voice. 3. (in grammar) referring to words which have a particular form to show the male gender ○ Is the French word 'table' masculine or feminine? Antonym feminine masculinity /,mæskju'liniti/ noun male qualities, what is typical of a male. Antonym femininity

mash /mæʃ/ noun 1. a food mixture made of different ingredients which are crushed together ○ They prepared some mash for the pigs. 2. mashed potatoes ○ a plate of sausage and mash or bangers and mash ↗ banger ↗ verb to crush something into a paste ○ Mash the ingredients together before adding water. ○ She mashed the potatoes with butter and milk. Synonym pulp

③ mashed potatoes /,mæʃt pə'teɪtəʊz/ plural noun potatoes which have been boiled, then crushed into a soft mass with milk and butter, served hot mask /mɑ:sk/ noun something which covers or protects your face ○ The burglars wore black masks. ○ He wore a mask to go diving. ↗ verb to cover up or hide something ○ She masked her face with her scarf. ○ Too much curry powder will mask the flavour of the other spices.

masked /ma:skt/ adj wearing a mask. Antonym exposed masochism /'mæsəkɪz(ə)m/ noun 1. a condition in which a person takes sexual pleasure in being hurt or badly treated 2. the practice of doing something painful and enjoying it ○ Taking all those children to France sounds more like masochism than a holiday to me. Compare sadism masochist /'mæsəkɪst/ noun 1. a person who takes sexual pleasure in being hurt or badly treated. Compare sadist 2. a person who enjoys doing something unpleasant or painful ○ He's just a masochist – he actually likes doing housework.

masochistic /,mæsə'kɪstɪk/ adj taking pleasure in being hurt or badly treated. Compare sadistic mason /'meɪs(ə)n/ noun a person who builds with stone ○ No one knows the names of the masons who built the cathedral.

Mason /'meɪs(ə)n/ noun a Freemason, a member of a secret society whose members help each other and protect each other masonry /'meɪsənri/ noun the stones used to make a building

masquerade /,mæskə'reɪd/ noun 1. an action which hides the truth ○ Her show of grief was a masquerade to hide her involvement in the murder. 2. a dance or party where people wear masks ○ The main event of the carnival season was a grand masquerade. ■ verb □ to masquerade as someone to pretend to be someone ○ The car thief was masquerading as a traffic warden.

② mass /mæs/ noun 1. a large number or large quantity of things ○ Masses of people went to the exhibition. ○ A mass of leaves blew onto the pavement. ○ I have a mass of letters or masses of letters to write. 2. a Catholic communion service ○ She's a strict Catholic and goes to mass every week. ■ verb to gather in large numbers ○ The rebel army is massing on the border. Synonym assemble ■ adj involving a large number of people ○ They found a mass grave on the hillside. ○ The group is organising a mass protest to parliament. Synonym general massacre /'mæsəkə/ noun the killing of a large number of people or animals ○ Witnesses to the massacre led reporters to a mass grave in the hillside. Synonym extermination ■ verb to kill many people or animals ○ The soldiers massacred hundreds of innocent civilians.

massage /'mæsæ:ʒ/ noun a rubbing of the body to relieve pain or to get someone to relax ○ She gave me a massage. ■ verb to rub someone's body to relieve pain or to get him or her to relax ○ He asked the nurse to massage his back.

masse /mæs/ ↗ en masse

masseur /mæ'sɜ:/ noun a man who massages people masseuse /mæ'sɜ:z/ noun a woman who massages people

② massive /'mæsɪv/ adj very large ○ He had a massive heart attack. ○ The company has massive losses. ○ A massive rock came hurtling down the mountainside towards them.

mass-market /mæs 'mɑ:kɪt/ adj made in large quantities for a wide market mass media /mæs 'mi:dɪə/ plural noun the means of passing information to a large number of people, e.g. newspapers, TV and radio mass murderer /mæs 'mɜ:d(ə)rə/ noun a killer of a large number of people at one time mass-produced /,mæs prə'dju:st/ adj manufactured in large quantities mass production /mæs prə'dækʃən/ noun the manufacturing of large quantities of products mass unemployment /'mæs ʌnɪm'plɔɪmənt/ noun a situation where large numbers of people are out of work

mast /mɑ:st/ noun 1. a tall pole on a ship which carries the sails ○ The gale was so strong that it snapped the ship's mast. 2. a flagpole, a tall pole on which large flags are flown. ♦ half-mast 3. a tall metal construction to carry an aerial ○ They have put up a television mast on top of the hill. 4. seeds of beech, and other trees ○ Beech mast is often used to feed pigs. (NOTE: no plural in this meaning) master /'ma:stə/ noun 1. a man who teaches in a school ○ Mr Smith is the maths master. 2. the person in control of a ship ○ The ship's doctor asked the master to radio for a helicopter. 3. a man who is the owner of an animal ○ The dog refuses to obey its master. 4. a skilled person ○ a master craftsman ○ He's a master of disguise. □ the old masters paintings by great painters of the past ○ The collection of old masters in the National Gallery is priceless. ■ adj controlling ○ Details of the master plan are known to only a few conspirators. ■ verb to become skilled at something ○ She has mastered the art of TV newsbroadcasting. ○ Although he passed his driving test some time ago, he still hasn't mastered the art of motorway driving.

master bedroom /'ma:stə 'bedru:m/ noun the main bedroom in a house

masterful /'ma:stfəl(ə)l/ adj 1. good at controlling people and giving orders ○ Her father is a masterful character and takes all the decisions in the household. 2. done in an expert way ○ He gave a masterful performance of the concerto. Synonym skilled master key /'ma:stə ki:/ noun the main key masterly /'ma:stəli/ adj done in an expert way

mastermind /'ma:stəmaɪnd/ noun a very clever person ○ a criminal mastermind ■ verb to be the brains behind a plan ○ The escape was masterminded by two convicted murderers. Synonym plan

Master of Arts /'ma:stə əv 'a:ts/ noun a person who holds a degree for further study done after a Bachelor of Arts degree. Abbr MA

Master of Ceremonies /'ma:stə əv 'serəmənɪz/ noun a person who introduces the speakers at a dinner, or at a prize-giving. Abbr MC masterpiece /'ma:stəpi:s/ noun a very fine painting, book, piece of music, etc.

master's degree /'ma:stəz di:gri:/ noun a degree for further study after a Bachelor of Arts degree master switch /'ma:stə switʃ/ noun a switch which controls all other switches mastery /'ma:st(ə)ri/ noun 1. the complete understanding of a subject or great skill at a game ○ The French side showed their complete mastery of the game. ○ Her mastery of Italian is well-known. 2. having control over someone or something masturbate /mæstəbeɪt/ verb to rub your own sex organs to excite them and get pleasure masturbation /,mæstə'bɛf(ə)n/ noun the practice of exciting your own sex organs by rubbing them

mat /mæt/ noun a small piece of carpet, etc., used as a floor covering ○ Wipe your shoes on the mat before you come in.

② match /mætʃ/ noun 1. a game between two teams or opponents ○ We watched the football match on TV. ○ He won the last two table tennis matches he played. 2. a small piece of wood or cardboard with a tip which catches fire when you rub it against a rough surface ○ He bought a packet of cigarettes and a box of matches. ○ She struck a match and lit a candle. 3. a thing or person which is equal □ she's met her match she has met someone who is as strong, powerful, etc., as she is 4. a thing which goes together with another □ they make a good match they go well together ■ verb 1. to be equal to something ○ Our sales match those of our rivals in the export market. 2. to fit or to go with something ○ The yellow wallpaper doesn't match the bright green carpet.

matchbox /'mætʃbɒks/ noun a small box with matches inside (NOTE: The plural is matchboxes.)

③ matching /'mætʃɪŋ/ adj which fits or goes with something matchless /'mætʃləs/ adj with no equal. Synonym peerless. Antonym ordinary matchstick /'mætʃstɪk/ noun a stick of wood which makes a match

④ mate /meɪt/ noun 1. one of a pair of people or animals, male or female, husband or wife 2. a friend or companion ○ He's gone down to the pub with his mates. ♦ soul mate

3. a workman's helper ○ a builder's mate 4. (in chess) a position where the king cannot move and the game ends ○ Mate in three moves! 5. a way of addressing someone ○ Hey, mate, come and look at this! ○ Sorry, mate, I can't help you! ■ verb 1. (of animals) to breed ○ A mule is the result of a donkey mating with a horse. 2. (in chess) to put your opponent's king in a position where he cannot move (NOTE: also, more formally, to checkmate)

① material /mə'tɪəriəl/ noun 1. a substance which can be used to make something ○ You can buy all the materials you need in the DIY shop. (NOTE: The plural is materials.) 2. cloth ○ I bought three metres of material to make a curtain. ○ What material is your coat made of? (NOTE: no plural) 3. facts or information ○ She's gathering material for a TV programme on drugs. (NOTE: no plural) ■ adj 1. referring to physical things or to money ○ The explosion caused a lot of material damage. ○ His success on TV has improved his material life. 2. important or relevant ○ If you have any material evidence please contact the police.

materialise /mə'tɪəriəlaɪz/ materialize
verb 1. to become real ○ His planned holiday never materialised. ○ She promised the staff an extra week's holiday but it never materialised. 2. to appear ○ A man on horseback suddenly materialised out of the mist. ○ After a couple of phone calls, the money we were owed duly materialised.

materialism /mə'tɪəriəlɪz(ə)m/ noun an interest only in physical things, especially money and property, not in spiritual ones materialist /mə'tɪəriəlɪst/ noun a person who believes in materialism materially /mə'tɪəriəlɪ/ adv in a material way. Synonym significantly. Antonym slightly maternal /mə'tɜ:n(ə)l/ adj 1. referring to a mother □ my maternal grandfather the father of my mother 2. like or typical of a mother ○ She has a very maternal attitude to her staff.

maternity /mə'tɜ:nɪti/ noun becoming a mother ○ She's in the maternity ward of the local hospital. Synonym motherhood maternity leave /mə'tɜ:nɪti li:v/ noun permission given to a woman to be away from work to have a baby mathematical /,mæθə'mætɪk(ə)l/ adj referring to mathematics mathematically /,mæθə'mætɪkli/ adv using mathematics mathematician /,mæθ(ə)mæ'tɪʃ(ə)n/ noun an expert at mathematics

① mathematics /mæθə'mætɪks/, maths /mæθs/ noun the science of numbers and measurements (NOTE: The US term is math.)

matinée /'mæt iné/ noun an afternoon performance of a play or film mating noun /'meɪtɪŋ/ (of animals) the process of finding partners and having sex ■ adj relating to mating matriarch /'meɪtrɪə:k/ noun a respected old woman. Synonym mother matriarchal /,meɪtrɪ'a:k(ə)l/ adj ruled by a matriarch; ruled by older women matriarchy /'meɪtrɪə:kɪ/ noun a system of rule by the eldest female of the ruling group matrimonial /,meɪtrɪ'məʊniəl/ adj referring to marriage (formal) ♦ marital matrimony /'mætrɪməni/ noun the state of being married. Antonym divorce

② matrix /'meɪtrɪks/ noun 1. a set of numbers or data items arranged in rows and columns 2. the conditions or environment in which something develops ○ The cultural matrix in which jazz music was developed. 3. a mould used to cast metal objects (NOTE: The plural is matrices /'meɪtrɪsɪ:z/.)

matt /mæt/, matte adj not shiny, with a dull surface matted /'mætid/ adj tangled

① matter /'mætəl noun 1. a problem or difficulty ○ What's the matter? □ there's something the matter with the engine there is something which makes the engine not work properly 2. a concern or business □ it's a matter for the police it is something which we should tell the police about 3. □ as a matter of fact to tell you the truth ○ I know Paris quite well, as a matter of fact I go there every month on business. □ as a matter of course in the usual way ○ The police checked his driving licence as a matter of course. 4. material ○ We put rotting vegetable matter on the garden as fertiliser. 5. □ no matter what whatever ○ No matter what time it is, call the doctor immediately the symptoms appear. □ no matter how however ○ No matter how hard he tried he couldn't ride a bike. ■ verb to be important ○ It doesn't matter if you're late. ○ His job matters a lot to him. ○ Does it matter if we sit by the window?

matter-of-fact /,mætər əv 'fækt/ adj practical, not showing any emotion matting /'meɪtɪŋ/ noun large mats, or strong material from which mats are made mattress /'mætrəs/ noun a thick pad forming the part of a bed that you lie on, made of a canvas case with various fillings mature /mə'tjuəl/ adj 1. older or adult ○ The park has many mature trees. ○ Only mature stags have a full set of antlers. 2. ripe ○ Mature cheese is normally quite strong. 3. which is reasonable, like an adult ○ She's very mature for her age. ○ That's not a very mature way to behave. ■ verb 1. to become mature ○ Whisky is left to mature for years. ○ He matured a lot during his year in Germany. ○ Girls are supposed to mature faster than boys. 2. to become due for payment ○ The policy will mature in 20 years' time.

mature student /mə,tjuə 'stju:d(ə)nt/ noun a student who is older than the usual age for students maturity /mə'tjuəriti/ noun 1. the state of being an adult or of doing things like an adult ○ He's only twelve, yet his painting already shows signs of considerable maturity. 2. the time when a bond becomes due to be paid ○ The bonds have reached maturity.

maudlin /'mɔ:dlin/ adj foolishly sentimental maul /mɔ:l/ verb 1. to attack or handle someone roughly ○ He was badly mauled by the tiger. 2. to criticise someone severely ○ The minister was mauled by the tabloid press. (NOTE: Do not confuse with mall.)

mausoleum /'mɔ:zə'lju:m/ noun a special building in which an important person is buried. Synonym tomb mauve /mɔ:uv/ adj light pinkish-purple ○ The waiters wear mauve shirts. ■ noun a light pinkish-purple colour ○ She had the dining room walls painted in mauve.

maverick /'mævərɪk/ noun a person who is unusual and does not fit into a normal pattern ○ She's a political maverick. ■ adj unusual, not fitting into the normal pattern ○ He is well-known for his maverick behaviour.

max /mæks/ abbr maximum maxim /'mæksɪm/ noun a wise saying maximise /'mæksɪmaɪz/, maximize verb to make something as large as possible. Antonym minimise

② maximum /'mæksɪməm/ adj the greatest possible ○ What is the maximum number of guests the hotel can take? ■ noun the greatest possible number or amount ○ Management is aiming to increase profitability to the maximum. □ fifteen at the maximum at most fifteen, not more than fifteen

① may /meɪ/ modal verb 1. it is possible ○ If you don't hurry you may miss the train. ○ Take your umbrella, they say it may rain. ○ Here we are sitting in the bar, and he may be waiting for us outside. 2. can, it is allowed ○ Guests may park in the hotel car park free of charge. ○ You may sit down if you want. 3. asking questions politely ○ May I ask you a question? ○ May we have breakfast early tomorrow as we need to leave the hotel before 8 o'clock? 4. showing a wish ○ May God bless you both! □ much good may it do you! I hope it does you a lot of good, though I doubt that it will

① May /meɪ/ noun the fifth month of the year, after April and before June ○ May 15 ○ Her birthday's in May. ○ Today is May 15th. ○ We went on holiday last May. (NOTE: May 15th or May 15: say 'the fifteenth of May' or 'May the fifteenth' or in US English: 'May fifteenth'.)

① maybe /'meɪbi/ adv possibly, perhaps ○ Maybe the next bus will be the one we want. ○ Maybe you should ask a policeman. ○ Maybe the weather forecast was right after all. Antonym definitely □ maybe not possibly not ○ Are you coming? – Maybe not.

mayday /'meɪdeɪ/ noun an international distress signal (NOTE: Do not confuse with May Day.)

May Day /'meɪ dei/ noun May 1st, celebrated as a festival of spring and in many European countries as a festival in honour of workers mayhem /'meɪhem/ noun wild confusion (informal). Synonym chaos mayonnaise /,meɪə'nais/ noun a sauce for cold dishes, made of oil, eggs and lemon juice or vinegar mayor /'meɪə/ noun a person who is chosen as the official head of a town, city or local council

COMMENT: Previously, a mayor was the head of the elected government of a town, and the head of the majority party. His responsibilities have now been taken over by the leader of the council, and in most towns the office of mayor is largely ceremonial. It is an honour often given to a long-serving or distinguished councillor. In some towns, such as London, the mayor is elected by popular vote. In the USA, mayors are elected by popular vote, and appoint their team to run the various departments in a city. Note also that 'Mayor' is used in English to apply to persons holding similar positions in other countries: the Mayor of Berlin; the Mayor of Paris; the Mayor of New York.

mayoress /meər'es/ noun 1. the wife of a mayor ○ The mayor and mayoress rode to the town hall in a horse-drawn carriage. 2. a woman mayor ○ The mayoress opened the hospital's new children's ward.

maze /meɪz/ noun 1. a network of puzzling paths in which you can get lost ○ We couldn't find our way out of the Hampton Court maze. ○ He led me along a maze of corridors. 2. a complicated network of things ○ We have to try to find our way through the maze of European regulations. (NOTE: Do not confuse with maize.)

MB abbr megabyte

MBA abbr Master of Business Administration

MC abbr master of ceremonies

③ MD /'em'di:/ noun a director who is in charge of a whole company. Full form managing director

① me /mi:/ pron used by the person who is speaking to talk about himself or herself ○ give me that book ○ I'm shouting as loud as I can – can't you hear me? ○ She's much taller than me. ○ Who is it? – It's me! ○ Can you hear me? ○ She's taller than me.

meadow /'medəʊ/ noun a large field of grass meagre /'mi:gə/ adj small, not enough (NOTE: The US spelling is meager.)

② meal /'mi:l/ noun 1. an occasion when people eat food at a special time; the food that is eaten ○ Most people have three meals a day – breakfast, lunch and dinner. ○ You sleep better if you only eat a light meal in the evening. ○ When they had finished their evening meal they watched TV. ○ You can have your meals in your room at a small extra charge. □ to make a meal of something to spend a lot of time and effort doing something without really doing it well (informal) ○ She made a meal of repainting the kitchen.

2. roughly ground flour. ♦ wholemeal

mealtime /'mi:ltaɪm/ noun a time when you usually eat

① mean /mi:n/ adj 1. nasty or unpleasant ○ He played a mean trick on his mother. ○ That was a mean thing to say. 2. not liking to spend money or to give something ○ Don't be mean – let me borrow your car. ○ She's very mean with her money. 3. average ○ The mean daytime temperature in summer is 20°. 4. good ○ He cooks a mean pasta. ○ That motorbike's a mean machine! (NOTE: meaner – meanest) ■ noun the average ○ Sales are higher than the mean for the first quarter. Antonym extremity ■ verb 1. to talk about ○ Did he mean me when he was talking about fat old men? ○ What do you mean when you say she's old-fashioned? 2. to show or represent something ○ His family means a lot to him. ○ When a red light comes on it means that you have to stop. ○ 'Zimmer' means 'room' in German. 3. □ to mean to do something to plan to do something ○ I meant to phone you but I forgot. □ to be meant to do something meander /'mi:aendə/ noun a bend in the course of a river ○ The path follows the meanders of the stream. ■ verb 1. to wind about ○ From the top of the hill you can see how the river meanders around the town. ○ The road meanders through several little villages. 2. to continue without any aim ○ The negotiations meandered on without any decision being reached.

① meaning /'mi:nɪŋ/ noun what something represents ○ If you want to find the meaning of the word, look it up in a dictionary. ○ The meaning of a red light is pretty clear to me.

meaningful /'mi:nɪŋf(ə)l/ adj full of meaning, significant meaningless /'mi:nɪŋləs/ adj not meaning anything. Synonym unimportant. Antonym significant meanness /'mi:nəns/ noun a dislike of giving things or of spending money. Synonym nastiness. Antonym generosity

② means /mi:nz/ noun 1. a way of doing something ○ Is there any means of sending the message to London this afternoon? ○ Do we have any means of copying all these documents quickly? ○ The bus is the cheapest means of getting round the town. □ by means of something using something ○ He got her money by means of a trick. 2. □ by all means of course ○ By all means use my phone if you want to. □ by no means not at all ○ She's by no means sure of getting the job. 3. money ○ They don't have the means to buy a flat in London. □ it is beyond my means I don't have enough money to buy it means test /'mi:nz test/ noun an inquiry to find out how much money someone has, to see whether he or she should qualify for a benefit or grant

③ meant /ment/ verb □ to be meant to do something should, ought to do something ○ We're meant to be at the station at 11 o'clock. ○ This medicine is not meant to be used by children. ○ Trains are meant to leave every half-hour. ♦ mean

② meantime /'mi:ntaɪm/ noun □ in the meantime meanwhile, during this time ○ We waited for her for hours in the rain, and in the meantime, she was happily sitting at home watching TV. ○ The new stadium will be finished by Easter but in the meantime we will still have to use the old one. ■ adv during this time (informal) ○ The little girl hid under the table – meantime, we were all looking for her in the garden.

② meanwhile /'mi:nwail/ adv during this time ○ She hid under the table – meanwhile, the footsteps were coming nearer.

measles /'mi:z(ə)lz/ noun a possibly dangerous children's disease which gives a red rash and a high temperature measly /'mi:zli/ adj (of an amount of money) very small measurable /'me3(ə)rəb(ə)l/ adj which can be measured

② measure /'meʒəl/ noun 1. a certain amount or size ○ There was a measure of truth in what she said. ○ We have no accurate measure of the pressure inside the volcano. □ a made-to-measure suit a suit which is made specially to fit someone ○ He only wears made-to-measure suits. 2. a device which shows the size or quantity of something 3. an action ○ The government has taken measures to reform the welfare system. ○ What measures are you planning to fight air pollution? □ as a precautionary measure as a precaution ○ As a precautionary measure we'd better lock the windows as well as the doors. ○ It's just a precautionary measure, but you can't be too careful when there's a possibility of fire. 4. an official action, especially a law passed by Parliament ○ a new government measure to combat crime

■ verb 1. to be of a certain size, length, quantity, etc. ○ a package which measures or a package measuring 10cm by 25cm ○ How much do you measure round your waist? ○ The table measures four foot long by three foot wide. 2. to find out the length or quantity of something ○ She measured the window for curtains. ○ He measured the size of the garden. 3. □ to measure your length on the floor to fall flat on your face measured /'meʒəd/ adj careful and controlled □ a measured response an answer or reaction which is carefully calculated ② measurement /'meʒəmənt/ noun 1. a quantity or size, found by measuring ○ He took the measurements of the room. ○ The piano won't go through the door – are you sure you took the right measurements? ○ The measurements of the box are 25cm x 20cm x 5cm. 2. the action of measuring ○ The measurement of the ozone hole is carried out by satellites.

measuring glass /'meʒ(ə)rɪŋ gla:s/, measuring jug /'meʒɪŋ dʒʌg/ noun a glass jar with quantities marked on it by lines

② meat /mi:t/ noun food from an animal or bird, not from a fish ○ Can I have some more meat, please? ○ Would you like meat or fish for your main course? ○ I like my meat very well cooked.

meat ball /'mi:t bɔ:l/ noun very small pieces of meat rolled into a ball and cooked meaty /'mi:tɪ/ adj 1. with a lot of meat ○ a meaty chop 2. with a lot of details or information ○ a meaty report mecca /'meka/ noun a place which attracts a large number of people ○ It's a mecca for motor-racing enthusiasts.

Mecca /'meka/ noun a town in Saudi Arabia, where Muhammad was born mechanic /mɪ'kænɪk/ noun a person who works on machines mechanical /mɪ'kænɪk(ə)l/ adj 1. referring to machines ○ Engineers are trying to fix a mechanical fault. 2. done automatically as if you were a machine ○ It's purely mechanical – I turn the light on when I come in.

mechanics /mɪ'kænɪks/ noun 1. the study of the effects of force and movement 2. the study of machinery ○ He is studying aircraft mechanics. ■ plural noun the way in which something is done or something is made to happen ○ He knows nothing about the mechanics of running a business.

mechanisation /,mekənaɪz'zeɪʃ(ə)n/, mechanization noun the process of mechanising. Synonym automation mechanise /'mekənaɪz/, mechanize verb to use machines in place of animals or workers. Synonym automate mechanism /'mekənɪz(ə)m/ noun 1. the working parts of a machine ○ If you take the back off the watch you can see the delicate mechanism. 2. a way in which something works ○ The mechanism for awarding government contracts.

medal /'med(ə)l/ noun a metal disc, usually attached to a ribbon, made to commemorate an important occasion or battle, and given to people who have performed well medallion /mə'dælɪən/ noun a round piece of metal worn round the neck on a chain as an ornament medallist /'med(ə)list/ noun a person who wins a medal in a competition (NOTE: The US spelling is medalist.)

meddle /'med(ə)l/ verb □ to meddle in or with something to interfere in something ○ Don't meddle in matters that don't concern you.

meddler /'medlə/ noun a person who likes to meddle. Synonym troublemaker

② media noun /'mi:dɪə/ 1. newspapers, TV and radio ○ The book attracted a lot of interest in the media. ♦ mass media 2. ♦ medium ■ adj relating to the mass media ○ The show has attracted a lot of media interest.

median¹ /'mi:dɪən/ adj in the middle (technical) ○ the median price for shares ■ noun a point which is in the middle or a line which goes through the middle ○ the median between two points median² /'mi:dɪən/, median strip /'mi:dɪən stri:p/ noun US a section of marked road surface, grass or bushes between the two sides of a major road (NOTE: The British term is central reservation.)

mediate /'mi:dɪeɪt/ verb to intervene to try to bring agreement between two opponents mediation /,mi:dɪ'eʃ(ə)n/ noun the process of trying to make two opponents agree. Synonym arbitration. Antonym provocation mediator /'mi:dɪəeɪtə/ noun a person who tries to make two opponents agree. Synonym go-between medic /'medɪk/ noun a doctor (informal)

② medical /'medɪk(ə)l/ adj referring to medicine ○ She's a medical student. ○ The Red Cross provided medical help. ■ noun the examination of someone by a doctor ○ You need to pass a medical to join the army. ○ After a routine medical, the new forward will be ready to play on Saturday. Synonym checkup

Medicare /'medɪkeə/ noun a system of public health insurance in the United States medicated /'medɪkeɪtɪd/ adj which contains a drug which will treat a condition. ♦ medicinal medication /'medɪ'keɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. drugs taken by a patient ○ Are you taking any medication? 2. treatment by giving drugs ○ The doctor prescribed a course of medication.

medicinal /mə'dɪs(ə)n/ adj 1. referring to medicine ○ He has a drink of whisky before he goes to bed for medicinal purposes. 2. which can heal or treat a disease ○ She made a drink from medicinal herbs.

② medicine /'med(ə)s(ə)n/ noun 1. a drug taken to treat a disease ○ If you have a cough you should take some cough medicine. ○ The chemist told me to take the medicine four times a day. ○ Some cough medicines make you feel sleepy. □ to have a taste of your own medicine to be treated in the same way as you have treated others (informal) ○ He made us fill in all those forms, let's give him a taste of his own medicine. 2. the study of diseases and how to cure or prevent them ○ He went to university to study medicine. (NOTE: no plural in this meaning)

③ medieval /'medi'evl(ə)n/ adj referring to the Middle Ages. Synonym old-fashioned. Antonym modern mediocre /'mi:dɪ'əkər/ adj ordinary, not particularly good. Synonym middling. Antonym excellent mediocrity /'mi:di:ə'pkrɪti/ noun 1. not being particularly good ○ The game was saved from mediocrity by a thrilling last ten minutes. (NOTE: no plural in this meaning) 2. a very ordinary person with no special qualities ○ She's the only talented minister in a government of mediocrities.

meditate /'mediteɪt/ verb 1. to remain in a calm, silent state, without thought ○ Don't disturb him – he's meditating. 2. □ to meditate on or about something to think deeply about something ○ They spent some time meditating on the meaning of life.

meditation /'medɪteɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. a silent, calm state, often as part of religious practice ○ She's deep in meditation. 2. a long deep process of thought ○ He sat in the corner of the library, lost in meditation.

Mediterranean /'medɪtə'renɪən/ noun □ the Mediterranean (Sea) the sea between Europe and Africa ○ We went for a cruise round the Mediterranean. ■ adj referring to the Mediterranean Sea ○ The Mediterranean climate is good for olives. ○ She has bought a villa on one of the Mediterranean islands.

④ medium /'mi:diəm/ adj middle, average ○ He is of medium height. ■ noun 1. the middle point 2. a type of paint or other materials used by an artist ○ He started to experiment with different mediums, such as poster paints. 3. the means of doing something, of communicating something ○ Television is the most popular medium of communication. ○ Deaf people can communicate through the medium of sign language. 4. a person who thinks he or she can get into contact with the dead (NOTE: The plural is media or mediums.) medium-sized /'mi:diəm ˈsaɪzɪd/ adj which is neither very large nor very small medium-term /'mi:diəm tɜ:m/ adj for a period of one or two years medium wave /'mi:diəm weɪv/ noun a radio frequency range between 200 and 1000 metres medley /'medli/ noun a mixture of different things, such as pieces of music meek /mi:k/ adj humble, always willing to do what other people want, feeling you are not important (NOTE: meeker – meekest) meekly /'mɪkli/ adv quietly or humbly

① meet /mi:t/ verb 1. to come together with someone ○ He met her at the railway station. ○ We'll meet for lunch before we go to the cinema. 2. to come together ○ Several streets meet at Piccadilly Circus. ○ If you draw a diagonal line from each corner of a square to the opposite corner, the two lines will meet in the centre. 3. to get to know someone ○ I've never met your sister – Come and meet her then! ○ Have you met our sales manager? – Yes, we have already met. 4. to pay for ○ The company will meet your expenses. ○ He was unable to meet his mortgage repayments. 5. to satisfy ○ Does the car now meet the standards set by the motor racing authorities? (NOTE: meeting – met /met/)

① meeting /'mi:tɪŋ/ noun 1. the action of coming together in a group ○ The next meeting of the club will be on Tuesday. ○ There were only four people at the committee meeting. □ to address a meeting to speak to a meeting □ to conduct a meeting to be chairman of a meeting ○ As he was going away on business, he asked his deputy to conduct the meeting. □ to close a meeting to end a meeting □ to hold a meeting to organise a meeting of a group of people ○ The meeting will be held in the committee room. □ to open a meeting to start a meeting. □ annual general meeting 2. a sports competition or series of races held over several days ○ Britain won a gold and three bronzes at the athletics meeting.

meeting place /'mi:tɪŋ pleɪs/ noun a place where you can meet someone

③ meet up /'mi:t ˈʌp/ verb (of several people) to come together

③ meet with /'mi:t wið/ verb 1. to find or to come up against a problem ○ The advancing soldiers met with stiff resistance. ○ She met with an accident on the escalator. 2. to have an accident ○ She met with an accident on the escalator. 3. usually US to meet someone ○ He met with the sales people in New York.

mega- /'mɛgə/ prefix 1. one million 2. very big ○ Only the megarich can afford that kind of house. ○ She's a Hollywood megastar.

megabyte /'mɛgəbait/ noun a unit of storage for a computer equal to 1,048,576 bytes. Abbr MB megahertz /'meɡə,hɜːts/ noun a unit equal to one million hertz megalomaniac /,meɡələʊ'meɪniæk/ adj a person who enjoys having power over other people megaphone /'megəfəʊn/ noun a metal trumpet which makes the voice sound louder melancholy /'melən(ə)li/ noun great sadness ○ There was an air of melancholy as the contents of the house were auctioned. Antonym cheerfulness ■ adj very sad ○ She's still feeling melancholy because her cat died. Antonym cheerful melanin /'melənɪn/ noun a substance that gives colour to skin, hair and eyes melanoma /,melə'nəʊmə/ noun a malignant type of skin tumour

melee /'meleɪ/ noun 1. a noisy confused fight 2. a confused mixture of people or things mellow /'meloʊ/ adj 1. which has matured and has a full taste ○ Burgundy produces some mellow red wines. 2. (of voices) soft, rich ○ Shakespeare's lines sound more beautiful when they are read in his lovely mellow voice. 3. calm and relaxed ○ After a couple of drinks she became quite mellow. (NOTE: mellower – mellowest) ■ verb 1. to become soft or rich ○ Time has mellowed the brick-work to a soft deep red. □ he has mellowed with age as he has got older, so he has become much less angry and unpleasant than he used to be 2. to become ripe, to mature ○ You should leave the wine to mellow for some years.

melodic /mə'lɒdɪk/ adj referring to a melody □ the melodic line of a piece of music the main tune of a piece of music melodious /mə'ləʊdɪəs/ adj full of pleasant musical sounds. Synonym tuneful melodrama /'meləʊdræmə/ noun a play or event that is full of excitement and violent emotions melodramatic /,melədrə'mætɪk/ adj full of violent and exaggerated emotions. Antonym low-key melody /'melədi/ noun a tune (NOTE: The plural is melodies.)

③ melon /'melən/ noun a large round fruit which grows on a creeping plant

③ melt /melt/ verb 1. to change from a solid to a liquid by heating ○ If the sun comes out your snowman will melt. ○ The heat of the sun made the road melt. ○ Glass will melt at very high temperatures. 2. □ to melt away to go gradually ○ The rioters melted away when the police appeared.

melt down /,melt 'daʊn/ verb to heat metal and make it into blocks so that it can be used again ○ They stole the rings and melted them down into gold bars.

meltdown /'meltdaʊn/ noun the collapse of a nuclear power station because of overheating (informal) melting point /'meltɪŋ pɔɪnt/ noun the temperature at which a solid becomes liquid melting pot /'meltɪŋ pot/ noun 1. a pot in which metal can be melted 2. a place where people of different origins come to live together

① member /'membər/ noun 1. a person who belongs to a group ○ The two boys went swimming while the other members of the family sat on the beach. ○ Three members of staff are away sick. 2. an organisation which belongs to a society ○ The member states of the EU. ○ The members of the United Nations.

③ Member of Parliament /,membər əv 'pɑːlɪəmənt/ noun a person elected to represent a constituency in Parliament (NOTE: often abbreviated to MP. The plural is MPs)

② membership /'membəʃɪp/ noun 1. the state of belonging to a group ○ I must remember to renew my membership. ○ Membership costs £50 a year. 2. all the members of a group ○ The membership voted to reject the proposal. ○ The club has a membership of five hundred.

③ membrane /'membrən/ noun 1. a thin layer of tissue which lines or covers part of the inside of the body ○ A membrane connecting the tongue to the bottom of the mouth. 2. a thin material ○ The metal is covered with a waterproof membrane.

memento /mə'mentəʊ/ noun a thing kept to remind you of something. Synonym souvenir (NOTE: The plural is mementoes.)

③ memo /'meməʊ/ noun a note or short message between people working in the same organisation. Synonym memorandum memoirs /'memwa:z/ plural noun an autobiographical work, written in a less formal way than a full autobiography ○ The general spent his retirement writing his memoirs.

memo pad /'meməʊ pæd/ noun same as notepad memorabilia /,mem(ə)rə'bɪliə/ noun things which used to belong to a famous person or organisation and are kept to remind you of them memorable /'mem(ə)rəb(ə)l/ adj which you cannot forget easily. Synonym unforgettable memorandum /memə'rændəm/ noun a short note (NOTE: often shortened to memo; The plural is memoranda.)

memorial /mɪ'ri:əriəl/ adj which reminds you of something or someone ■ noun a monument to remind you of something or someone ○ The mayor unveiled the memorial to the dead poet.

memorial service /mə,mo:rɪəl 'sɜ:vɪs/ noun a church service to remember someone who has died memorise /'meməraɪz/, memorize verb to learn something by heart

① memory /'mem(ə)ri/ noun 1. (in people) the ability to remember □ He recited the poem from memory. □ if my memory serves me right if I can remember it correctly. □ photographic 2. (in computers) the capacity for storing information □ This computer has a much larger memory than the old one. 3. □ in memory of to remind you of □ We are holding this church service in memory of the sailors who died.

③ men /men/ □ man

menace /'menɪs/ noun 1. someone or something which can harm people □ She's an absolute menace on the motorway. □ that little boy's a menace he's very naughty 2. a tone which threatens □ The menace in his voice made her shiver. ■ verb to threaten □ The members of the gang were menaced with imprisonment. □ Several regions are menaced by drought.

menacing /'menɪsɪŋ/ adj which threatens. Synonym threatening. Antonym reassuring □ those clouds look menacing those clouds might bring rain menacingly /'menɪsɪŋli/ adv in a threatening way

③ mend /mend/ verb to make something work which has a fault; to repair something which is broken or damaged □ I dropped my watch on the pavement, and I don't think it can be mended. □ She's trying to mend the washing machine. □ I tore my coat on the fence – can you mend it for me? ■ noun □ on the mend getting better □ She has been quite ill, but I'm glad to say now she's on the mend.

menial /'mi:nɪəl/ adj □ menial work, menial tasks boring and trivial jobs which are done by people who are not considered important □ Why do I always have to do the menial jobs? ■ noun a person who does the lowest type of work □ The manager sent some menials to clear up the mess.

meningitis /,menɪn'dʒaɪtɪs/ noun an inflammation of the membranes which surround the brain and spinal cord, where the patient has violent headaches, fever, and stiff neck muscles, and can become delirious menopause /'menəpə:z/ noun the time when a woman stops menstruating and can no longer have children menstrual /'menstruəl/ adj referring to menstruation menstrual cycle /'menstruəl ,sair(ə)l/ noun the period of about 28 days during which a woman ovulates and then menstruates menstruate /'menstrueɪt/ verb to bleed from the uterus during menstruation menstruation /,menstru'eɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the process of bleeding from the uterus which takes place in a woman each month. Also called period

③ menswear /'menzweə/ noun clothes for men (NOTE: no plural)

② mental /'ment(ə)l/ adj referring to the mind mental age /,ment(ə)l 'eɪdʒ/ noun a method of showing a person's mental development by giving the age when such a stage of development is usually reached mental arithmetic /,ment(ə)l ə-'rɪθmətɪk/ adj calculations which you do in your head mental cruelty /,ment(ə)l 'kru:əlti/ noun the act of being cruel to someone by what you say, rather than by what you do mental health /'ment(ə)l helθ/ noun the state of a person's mind in relation to what is considered normal □ a patient in poor mental health □ the mental health system mental illness /,ment(ə)l 'ɪlnəs/ noun illness which affects the mind mentality /men'tælti/ noun a way of thinking which is typical of someone or of a group. Synonym attitude mentally /'ment(ə)li/ adv concerning the brain menthol /'menθəl/ noun a substance which tastes and smells strongly of mint

① mention /'menʃən/ noun the act of referring to something □ There was no mention of the explosion in the morning papers. □ Just the mention of his name made her furious. ■ verb 1. to refer to something □ The press has not mentioned the accident. □ Can you mention to everyone that the date of the next meeting has been changed? 2. □ don't mention it was a pleasure (said when someone has thanked you) □ not to mention as well as, not forgetting □ It cost us £20 just to get into the exhibition, not to mention the expensive meal we had in the museum restaurant.

mentor /'mentɔ:/ noun a person who teaches, or helps younger people starting their careers

③ menu /'menju:/ noun 1. a list of food available in a restaurant □ The lunch menu changes every week. □ Some dishes are not on the menu, but are written on a blackboard. 2. a list of choices available on a computer program

menu bar /'menju: ba:/ noun a series of icons on a computer screen which are the choices you can choose from mercenary /'mɜ:s(ə)n(ə)ri/ adj interested in money ○ I don't want to sound mercenary, but how much did you pay for your ticket?

MEP abbr Member of the European Parliament (NOTE: The plural is MEPs.)

Synonym acquisitive. Antonym altruistic ■ noun a soldier who is paid to fight for a foreign country ○ He was one of a group of mercenaries hired to protect the president. ○ The national army was mainly formed of foreign mercenaries. (NOTE: The plural is mercenaries.)

③ merchandise /'mɜ:tʃəndəiz/ noun goods for sale (NOTE: no plural) merchandising /'mɜ:tʃɪn,dɑɪzɪŋ/ noun products such as toys and clothes which are related to a popular film, TV programme, sports team, or event merchant /'mɜ:tʃənt/ noun a businessman who buys and sells a particular product ○ a tobacco merchant ○ a wine merchant

③ merchant bank /'mɜ:tʃənt bæŋk/ noun a bank which lends money to companies, not to people merchant navy /'mɜ:tʃənt 'nɜ:vɪ/, merchant marine /'mɜ:tʃənt mə'ri:n/ noun a country's commercial ships merchant ship /'mɜ:tʃənt ſɪp/, merchant vessel /'mɜ:tʃənt 'ves(ə)l/ noun a ship which carries a commercial cargo merciful /'mɜ:sif(ə)l/ adj kind and forgiving, showing mercy ○ They decided to confess their crime and hope the king would be merciful.

mercifully /'mɜ:sif(ə)li/ adv luckily merciful release /,mɜ:sif(ə)l rɪ'li:s/ noun a fortunate end to suffering merciless /'mɜ:siləs/ adj showing no mercy. Synonym cruel. Antonym kind mercilessly /'mɜ:siləslɪ/ adv without showing any mercy mercurial /'mɜ:kjʊəriəl/ adj which changes frequently. Synonym changeable. Antonym consistent mercury /'mɜ:kjʊri/ noun a silver-coloured liquid metal used in thermometers

Mercury /'mɜ:kjʊri/ noun the planet nearest to the Sun in the solar system mercy /'mɜ:si/ noun 1. kindness towards unfortunate people ○ The parents of the little boy pleaded with the kidnappers for mercy. □ to have mercy on not to want to punish or harm someone 2. a gift of fate □ at the mercy of dependent on ○ Cricket games are always at the mercy of the weather. ○ The success of the garden party is very much at the mercy of the weather. □ we must be thankful for small mercies we must be grateful that everything has turned out relatively well so far ○ Despite lots of things going wrong, at least it didn't rain – we must be thankful for small mercies. □ left to the tender mercies of someone left to someone to deal with as badly as he likes ○ The courier went back to the hotel, leaving us to the tender mercies of the local guides.

mercy killing /'mɜ:si ,kɪlɪŋ/ noun the killing of a sick person to put an end to suffering

③ mere /mɪə/ adj simply, only □ he's a mere boy he's only a boy □ the mere sight of grass makes me sneeze simply seeing grass makes me sneeze

② merely /'mɪəli/ adv simply, only. Synonym just merge /mɜ:dʒ/ verb to join together with something merger /'mɜ:dʒə/ noun the joining together of two companies meridian /mɜ:ri'diən/ noun an imaginary line running from the North Pole to the South Pole at right angles to the equator (literary)

meringue /mə'ræŋ/ noun a sweet baked dessert made of egg whites and sugar

③ merit /'merɪt/ noun the quality of being good or excellent ○ There is some merit in what he says, but I can't agree with all of it. ○ This picture has no artistic merit whatsoever. □ to go into the merits of to examine the good and bad points of ○ The committee spent hours going into the merits of the various development plans. ■ verb to be worthy of or to deserve something ○ The plan merits further discussion. ○ Her essay only merited a 'B+'.

meritorious /,merɪ'tɔ:riəs/ adj which should be rewarded. Synonym commendable. Antonym despicable mermaid /'mɜ:meɪd/ noun an imaginary creature, half woman and half fish merrily /'merilɪ/ adv happily merriment /'merimənt/ noun fun. Synonym cheerfulness. Antonym misery

merry /'meri/ adj 1. happy and cheerful ○ I wish you a Merry Christmas. □ to make merry to have a good time ○ At harvest festivals the whole village would join in and make merry together. □ the more the merrier the more there are the happier everyone is ○ Invite anyone you like, the more the merrier! 2. slightly drunk ○ We all got a bit merry that evening. (NOTE: merrier – merriest) merry-go-round /'meri ɡəʊ ,raʊnd/ noun (in a fairground) a large machine, which turns round and plays music, usually with horses to sit on which move up and down. Also called roundabout (NOTE: The US term is carousel.)

mesh /mɛʃ/ noun 1. an arrangement of threads with spaces in between like a net ○ We put wire mesh round the chicken pen to keep foxes out. 2. the space between the threads of a net ○ The boats are supposed to use a net with a half-inch mesh. (NOTE: The plural is meshes). ■ verb (of gears) to link together with cogs on another wheel ○ For some reason the gears on my bike don't mesh together properly. Synonym interlock mesmerise /'mezməraɪz/, mesmerize verb to hold the attention of someone so that they don't move. Synonym hypnotise

③ mess /mes/ noun 1. dirt or disorder ○ The milk boiled over and made a mess on the stove. ○ We had to clear up the mess after the party. 2. □ to make a mess of something to do something badly ○ They made a mess of the repair job.

③ mess about /,mes ə'baʊt/ verb 1. to spend your spare time doing something without having planned what to do ○ He spends his weekends messsing about in the garden. 2. □ to mess someone about to treat someone badly (informal) ○ If you start messing me about, there'll be trouble. ○ The garage has messed me about so much I'm going to take my car somewhere else for servicing.

① message /'mesɪdʒ/ noun 1. information which is sent ○ I will leave a message with his secretary. ○ Can you give the director a message from his wife? ○ We got his message by e-mail. 2. a political or religious idea which a group is trying to pass on to the public ○ They preached a message of universal peace. ○ His message of hard work and simple living did not always find favour. 3. □ to get the message to understand (informal) ○ She finally got the message when he stood up and handed her her coat. □ to get the message across to someone to make someone understand something ○ We managed to get the message across, even though no one spoke English.

message board /'mesɪdʒ bɔ:d/ noun a public noticeboard on which messages can be left, such as at a conference, or in a hotel lobby messaging /'mesɪdʒɪŋ/ noun 1. a system for sending electronic messages to people by computer, telephone or pager 2. the process of sending a message using an electronic messaging system

③ mess around /,mes ə'raʊnd/ same as mess about

③ messenger /'mesɪndʒə/ noun a person who brings a message messiah /'mɪ'saɪə/ noun a person who is expected to come to make the world a better place. Synonym champion

Messiah /'mɪ'saɪə/ noun 1. Jesus Christ ○ For Christians, Christmas celebrates the birth of the Messiah. 2. a person whom the Jews expect will come to free them ○ The coming of the Messiah is prophesied in the Book of Isaiah.

messianic /,mesi'ænɪk/ adj referring to the Messiah

Messrs /'mesəz/ plural noun the plural form of Mr used mainly in the names of companies

③ mess up /,mes 'ʌp/ verb 1. to make dirty ○ You've messed up your brand new school uniform! ○ I hope it doesn't mess up your arrangements. 2. to ruin or to spoil ○ I'm sorry we can't come – I hope it doesn't mess up your arrangements.

③ messy /'mesi/ adj 1. dirty ○ Making pottery is a messy business. ○ Little children are always messy eaters. 2. unpleasant and disorganised ○ It was a long messy divorce case. (NOTE: messier – messiest)

③ met /met/ □ meet metabolic /,metə'bɒlɪk/ adj referring to metabolism metabolism /mə'tæbəlɪz(ə)m/ noun chemical processes which are continually taking place in organisms and which are essential to life

② metal /'met(ə)l/ noun a material, such as iron and copper, which can carry heat and electricity and is used for making things ○ a metal frying pan ○ These spoons are plastic but the knives are metal. ○ These chairs are very heavy – they must be made of metal.

metal fatigue /'met(ə)l fə,tɪg/ noun the wearing out of metal used in a construction metallic /me'tælɪk/ adj 1. like metal, referring to metal ○ Suddenly we heard a quiet metallic sound, like a chain being moved. 2. shining like metal ○ He has had his car resprayed with metallic paint.

metallic element /me'tælɪk 'elɪmənt/ noun a chemical element which is a metal metallic sheen /me'tælɪk ſi:n/ adj a shine such as you get on polished metal metalwork /'met(ə)l, wɜ:k/ noun 1. the art of making things with metal ○ His hobby is metalwork. ○ She goes to a metalwork class on Tuesday evenings. 2. pieces of metal which form part of something ○ The old car's metalwork gleamed after it was polished.

metalworker /'met(ə)l, wɜ:kə/ noun a person skilled in making objects out of metal metamorphosis /,metə'mɔ:fɪſɪs/ noun a change to something quite different, especially an insect's change of form. Synonym transformation (NOTE: The plural is metamorphoses /metə'mɔ:fɪſɪz:z/.)

metaphor /'metəfə/ noun a way of describing something by giving it the qualities of something else, as in 'our eagle-eyed readers soon spotted the mistake.' Compare simile. Synonym symbol metaphorical /,metə'fɒrɪk(ə)l/ adj like a metaphor. Antonym literal metaphorically /,metə'fɒrɪkli/ adv in a metaphorical way metaphysical /'metəfɪzɪk(ə)l/ adj referring to metaphysics metaphysics /'metəfɪzɪks/ noun a branch of philosophical study concerned with knowledge and the meaning of existence meteor /'mi:tɪə/ noun a solid body which enters the earth's atmosphere from outer space, usually burning up and shining brightly as it does so. Also called shooting star meteoric /'mi:tɪ'drɪk/ adj sudden, unexpected and very noticeable. Synonym dramatic. Antonym gradual meteorite /'mi:tɪəraɪt/ noun a piece of solid rock which falls from outer space onto the earth's surface meteorological /'mi:tɪərə'lɒdʒɪk(ə)l/ adj referring to meteorology, to the climate and weather

Meteorological Office /'mi:tɪərə'lɒdʒɪk(ə)l, 'ɒfɪs/, Met Office /met 'ɒfɪs/ noun the central government office which analyses weather reports and forecasts the weather meteorologist /'mi:tɪə'rɒlədʒɪst/ noun a scientist who studies climate and weather, and forecasts what the weather is going to be like meteorology /'mi:tɪə'rɒlədʒɪ/ noun the study of climate and weather mete out /'mi:t ə'ut/ verb to give a punishment

③ meter /'mi:tə/ noun 1. a device for counting how much time, water, gas, etc. has been used ○ He came to read the gas meter. 2. US spelling of metre ■ verb to measure with a meter ○ The quantity of water used is metered by the water company.

methadone /'meθədəʊn/ noun a synthetic painkilling drug, used as a substitute for heroin in the treatment of addiction

① method /'meθəd/ noun a way of doing something ○ We use the most up-to-date manufacturing methods. ○ What is the best method of payment?

methodical /'mɪθodɪk(ə)l/ adj 1. done carefully, in an orderly way ○ The police carried out a methodical search of the house room by room. 2. who works in a careful orderly way ○ No one is more methodical than she is, and even she can't find the documents.

methodically /mɪ'θodɪkli/ adv in an orderly way methodology /,meθə'dɒlədʒɪ/ noun methods used in a certain process or study meths /meθs/ noun same as methylated spirits methylated spirits /,meθəleɪtɪd 'spɪrits/ plural noun alcohol used for lighting or heating meticulous /mi'tɪkjʊləs/ adj being very careful about details. Antonym careless □ to be meticulous in doing something or about something to pay great attention to detail when you do something ○ He is very meticulous in sending off his tax return on time. ○ They were not very meticulous about their payments.

meticulously /mi'tɪkjʊləsli/ adv very carefully. Synonym thoroughly. Antonym carelessly

② metre /'mi:tə/ noun 1. a standard measurement of length, equal to approximately 39.4 inches □ ten square metres an area of 5 metres x 2 metres 2. a race over a certain distance ○ He holds the world record for the 1000 metres. (NOTE: [all senses] The US spelling is meter.)

metric /'metrɪk/ adj using the metre as a basic measurement metric ton /,metrɪk 'tən/ noun same as tonne metro /'metrəʊ/ noun (in some towns) an underground railway system metropolis /mi'tropəlɪs/ noun a large capital city (NOTE: The plural is metropoles.)

metropolitan /,metrə'pɒlɪt(ə)n/ adj referring to a large capital city ○ She spent her childhood in a little village and found it difficult to get used to the metropolitan bustle of central London.

mettle /'met(ə)l/ noun the strength of character which helps someone continue to fight. Synonym courage □ to put someone on their mettle to make someone try to do their best mew /mju:/ noun a soft cry which a kitten makes ■ verb to make a soft cry like a kitten ○ We could hear the kittens mewing in their box.

mews /mju:z/ plural noun 1. stables for horses 2. a row of stables which have been made into houses ○ She's bought a mews cottage near Marble Arch. ○ We live in the mews behind the big houses in the square.

Mexican /'mekسɪkən/ adj referring to Mexico ○ Mexican cooking is hot and spicy. ○ The Mexican football team looks like winning. ○ Have you seen the photos from our Mexican holiday? ■ noun a person from Mexico ○ Many Mexicans have emigrated to California.

Mexican wave /,mekسیکان 'weɪv/ noun an action when people watching an event stand up, raise their arms in turn, and then sit down, giving the impression of a wave running through the crowd mezzanine /'metsənɪn/ noun a floor between the ground floor and the first floor ○ The office is on the mezzanine.

mg abbr milligram

miaow /'mjaʊ/ noun a call made by a cat ○ We heard plaintive miaows coming from inside the cupboard. ■ verb to make a miaow ○ The cat was miaowing to be let in. (NOTE: [all senses] The US spelling is meow.)

③ mice /maɪs/ ♀ mouse

Mickey /'mɪkɪ/ noun □ to take the Mickey out of someone to make fun of someone ○ Stop taking the Mickey! (informal)

Mickey Mouse /,mɪkɪ 'maʊs/ noun a popular cartoon character in Disney films ■ adj small and inefficient (informal) ○ Some Mickey Mouse firm got the contract.

micro- /maɪkrəʊ/ prefix on a small scale microbe /'maɪkrəʊb/ noun a very small organism which can only be seen with a microscope. Synonym microorganism microchip /'maɪkrəʊtʃɪp/ noun a very small piece of silicon with electronic circuits on it microcosm /'maɪkrəʊkɒm/ noun a miniature version microfilm /'maɪkrəʊfɪlm/ noun a film on which something is photographed in very small scale ■ verb to make a very small-scale photograph of something ○ Send the old letters to be microfilmed.

microorganism /,maɪkrəʊ'ɔ:gənɪz(ə)m/ noun a very small organism which can only be seen with a microscope. Synonym microbe

③ microphone /'maɪkrəfəʊn/ noun 1. a device which you speak into to transmit sound through loudspeakers, through the radio, or to record on disk or tape ○ He had difficulty in making himself heard without a microphone. 2. a device for capturing sound and passing it to a listening device ○ There was a hidden microphone in the vase of flowers.

microprocessor /'maɪkrəʊ,prəʊsesə/ noun the central processing unit inside a microcomputer microscope /'maɪkrəskəʊp/ noun an instrument which enlarges things which are very small microscopic /,maɪkrə'skɒpɪk/ adj so small as to be visible only through a microscope. Synonym tiny. Antonym gigantic microwave /'maɪkrəweɪv/ noun a small oven which cooks very rapidly using very short electric waves ○ Put the dish in the microwave for three minutes. ■ verb to cook something in a microwave ○ You can microwave those potatoes. Synonym heat mid- /mɪd/ prefix middle ○ The factory is closed until mid-July. □ from mid-2006 from the middle of 2006

mid-air /,mɪd 'eə/ adj, adv in the air, flying ○ The two planes collided in mid-air. ○ A mid-air collision between the two planes.

③ midday /,mɪd'deɪ/ noun twelve o'clock in the middle of the day. Synonym noon

① middle /'mɪd(ə)l/ adj in the centre; half-way between two ends ○ They live in the middle house, the one with the green door. ■ noun 1. the centre ○ She was standing in the middle of the road, trying to cross. ○ Chad is a country in the middle of Africa. 2. (of time) halfway through ○ We were woken in the middle of the night by a dog barking. ○ We were just in the middle of eating our supper when they called. ○ His portable telephone rang in the middle of the meeting. ○ The house was built in the middle of the eighteenth century. 3. a waist ○ It's quite deep – the water comes up to my middle. ○ How much does he measure round his middle?

middle age /,mɪd(ə)l 'eɪdʒ/ noun a period of life when you are not very young and not very old, between 40 and 60 years old

③ middle-aged /,mɪd(ə)l 'eɪdʒɪd/ adj between approximately 40 and 60 years old

③ Middle Ages /'mɪd(ə)l 'eɪdzɪz/ plural noun the historical period before the Renaissance from about 1000 to 1500 AD (NOTE: The adjective referring to the Middle Ages is medieval.)

① middle class /,mɪd(ə)l 'kla:s/ noun a professional class between the upper class and the lower or working class middle ear /,mɪd(ə)l 'ɪə/ noun a space inside the ear beyond the eardrum

Middle England /,mɪd(ə)l 'ɪnglənd/ noun the section of English society which is regarded as socially traditional middle ground /'mɪd(ə)l graʊnd/ noun a position between extremes of opinion middleman /'mɪd(ə)l,mæn/ noun a businessman who buys from the manufacturer and sells to customers (NOTE: The plural is middlemen.)

middle management /,mɪd(ə)l 'mænɪdʒmənt/ noun departmental managers who are not as important as directors middle name /'mɪd(ə)l neɪm/ noun a second given name of someone middle-of-the-road /,mɪd(ə)l əv ðə 'rəʊd/ adj (in politics) of the centre, moderate middle school /'mɪd(ə)l sku:l/ noun a state school for children in the UK from age 8 to 13 middle-sized /,mɪd(ə)l 'saɪzɪd/ adj neither big nor small middling /'mɪd(ə)lɪŋ/ adj neither good nor bad; not very large or very small midfield /'mɪdfi:ld/ noun 1. the central section of a football pitch ○ The goalkeeper kicked the ball to midfield. 2. the players who play in the midfield \circ The midfield is the most important section of a football team.

midfielder /'mid,fɪeldə/ noun a member of a football team active in the central area of the playing field, often both in attack and defence midge /'midʒ/ noun a small flying insect that stings midget /'mɪdʒɪt/ noun a very short person (offensive) ■ adj smaller than the usual size

③ midnight /'midnait/ noun twelve o'clock at night \circ I must go to bed – it's after midnight. \circ We only reached the hotel at midnight. Antonym noon

midriff /'mɪdrɪf/ noun the front part of your body above the waist and below the chest

③ midst /midst/ noun middle □ in our midst among us \circ We have a spy in our midst.

midstream /,mid'stri:m/ adv, noun (in the) middle part of a river midsummer /,mid'sʌmə/ noun the middle of the summer. Antonym midwinter

Midsummer's Day /,mɪdsʌməz 'deɪ/ noun June 24th midterm /,mid'tɜ:m/ noun a point half-way through an academic term, or through a term of office \circ midterm elections \circ We have our midterm exam next week. Compare half-term midway /,mid'weɪ/ adv half-way \circ We arranged to meet them midway between London and Oxford. \circ The lights went out midway through the performance.

midweek /,mid'wi:k/ adj, adv in the middle of the week \circ If you travel midweek, the fares are higher than if you travel at the weekend.

midwife /'midwaɪf/ noun a professional nurse who helps a woman give birth, often at home (formal) (NOTE: The plural is midwives /'midwaɪvz/.)

midwifery /mid'wɪfəri/ noun the work of being a midwife midwinter /mid'wɪntə/ noun the middle of the winter. Antonym midsummer miffed /mɪfɪd/ adj feeling annoyed or offended

① might noun /maɪt/ a force \circ She pulled at it with all her might, and still could not move it. \circ All the might of the armed forces is displayed during the National Day parade.

■ modal verb 1. to be possible \circ Take an umbrella, it might rain. \circ If he isn't here, he might be waiting outside. \circ I might call in to see you tomorrow if I have time. \circ That was a stupid thing to do – you might have been killed! \circ They might win, but I wouldn't bet on it. 2. should have (done) \circ You might try and stay awake next time. □ he might have done something to help it would have been better if he had done something to help □ you might have told me I wish you had told me \circ You might have told me you'd invited her as well. 3. asking a question politely □ Might I have another cup of tea? (NOTE: The negative is might not, usually mightn't. Note also that might is always used with other verbs and is not followed by to.)

mightn't short form might not mighty /'mɪtɪ/ adj strong, powerful (literary) \circ With one mighty heave he lifted the sack onto the lorry. \circ All she could remember was getting a mighty blow on the head, and then everything went black. (NOTE: mightier – mightiest) ■ adv great \circ That's mighty kind of you. □ he's in a mighty hurry he's very impatient (informal) migraine /'mɪgraine, 'maigreɪn/ noun a sharp headache often associated with vomiting and seeing bright lights migrant /'maɪgrənt/ noun 1. a worker who moves from one job to another or from one country to another to look for work \circ The government is trying to prevent migrants coming into the country. 2. a bird which moves from one place to another with the seasons \circ The marshes are an ideal place to see the winter migrants. ■ adj who moves from one job to another or from one country to another \circ Migrant workers often do the jobs no one wants to do. \circ The exploitation of migrant farm workers. Synonym migratory. Antonym resident migrate /maɪ'greɪt/ verb to move from one place to another with the seasons. Synonym travel migration /maɪ'grɛʃ(ə)n/ noun the movement of people and animals, especially birds, from one country to another. Compare relocation migratory /'maɪgrət(ə)ri/ adj referring to migration mike /maɪk/ abbr microphone (informal)

③ mild /maɪld/ adj 1. not harsh, not too bad \circ There was some mild criticism, but generally the plan was welcomed. \circ He had a mild heart attack and was soon back to work again. 2. (of the weather) not severe \circ Winters in the south of the country are usually milder than in the north. 3. not strong-tasting \circ We'll choose the mildest curry on the menu. Antonym hot (NOTE: milder – mildest)

mildly /'maɪldli/ adj softly or kindly \circ The film was only mildly entertaining. □ to put it mildly not to say anything ruder

① mile noun /maɪl/ a measure of length, equal to 1,760 yards or 1.61 kilometres \circ He thinks nothing of cycling ten miles to work every day. \circ The car can't go any faster than sixty miles per hour. \circ The line of cars stretched for three miles from the road

works. □ the car was doing 100 miles an hour the car was travelling at 100 miles an hour ■ plural noun miles a long distance ○ She lives miles away from here. □ for miles within a wide area ○ There are no shops for miles around. □ to be miles away to be thinking about something else and not what is happening at present ○ She was miles away and jumped when he spoke. ■ adv miles a lot (informal) ○ This book is miles better than the last one I read. ○ The dress is miles too long.

mileage /'maɪlɪdʒ/ noun 1. the distance travelled in miles □ car with a low mileage a car which has travelled fewer miles than normal 2. □ to get more mileage out of something to take as much advantage as possible of something ○ Can we get any more mileage out of his appearance on TV?

mileometer /'maɪləmətər/ noun a device in a vehicle for recording the distance travelled milestone /'maɪlstən/ noun 1. an important point in time ○ This year marks an important milestone in the firm's history. ○ 1887 was a milestone in the history of road transport when Daimler patented the first internal combustion engine. 2. a stone by the side of a road, showing the distance in miles (old) ○ The milestone showed it was 17 miles to Bristol.

milieu /'mi:ljø:/ noun a society which surrounds someone militancy /'militənsi/ noun vigour in supporting a political party or a cause

militant /'militənt/ adj very active in supporting a cause or political party ○ He is on the militant wing of the party. Synonym confrontational. Antonym peaceable ■ noun 1. a person who is very active in supporting a cause or a political party ○ The party must keep its militants under control. 2. a person who supports a policy of using violence to achieve aims ○ A few militants in the march started throwing stones at the police.

① military /'milit(ə)rɪ/ adj referring to the armed forces ○ The two leaders discussed the possibility of military intervention. ○ Military spending has fallen over the past three years. Antonym civilian ■ noun □ the military the army ○ Faced with riots all over the country, the government called in the military.

military service /,milit(ə)ri 'sɜ:vɪs/ noun a period of time served in the armed forces militate /'militeɪt/ verb to have an active influence against something happening militia /mɪ'lɪtsə/ noun an emergency police force organised like an army

① milk /milk/ noun a white liquid produced by female mammals to feed their young, especially the liquid produced by cows ○ Do you want milk with your coffee? ○ Can we have two glasses of milk, please? ○ Don't forget to buy some milk, there's none in the fridge. ■ verb 1. to take milk from an animal ○ The cows are waiting to be milked. 2. to get as much advantage as possible from a situation ○ The newspapers milked the story for all it was worth.

milk chocolate /milk 'tʃɒklət/ noun pale brown chocolate made with milk milk float /'milk fləʊt/ noun a low electric truck for delivering milk milkman /'milkmən/ noun GB a man who brings milk to each house in the morning (NOTE: The plural is milkmen.)

milk shake /milk 'seɪk/ noun a drink made by beating milk with sweet liquid or fruit milk teeth /milk tɪ:θ/ plural noun a child's first twenty teeth, which are gradually replaced by permanent teeth milky /'mɪlkɪ/ adj 1. made with milk; containing milk ○ This coffee is too milky. 2. looking like milk ○ If you cut the plant, a milky fluid comes out.

Milky Way /,mɪlkɪ 'wei/ noun a band of light across the sky caused by the high concentration of stars in our galaxy (NOTE: milkiest – milkiest)

③ mill /mɪl/ noun 1. a small machine for grinding seeds into powder ○ There is a pepper mill on the table. 2. a large machine for grinding corn into flour ○ Corn is fed into the mill through a hopper. 3. a building which contains such a machine ○ After lunch the visitors were shown round the mill. 4. □ run-of-the-mill ordinary ○ It's very much a run-of-the-mill operation which any doctor can do. 5. a large factory □ to go through the mill, to be put through the mill to suffer a great deal (informal) millennial /mɪ'leniəl/ adj referring to a millennium millennium /mɪ'leniəm/ noun a period of a thousand years. Synonym epoch millet /'mɪlt/ noun a common cereal crop grown in many of the hot, dry regions of Africa and Asia, where it is a basic food (NOTE: no plural)

milli- /'mɪlɪ/ prefix one thousandth milligram /'milɪgræm/ noun one thousandth of a gram (NOTE: usually written mg after figures) millilitre /'mɪlɪ,li:tə/ noun a unit of measurement of liquid, equal to one thousandth of a litre (NOTE: usually written ml after figures. The US spelling is millimeter.)

④ millimetre /'mɪlɪmɪ:tə/ noun one thousandth of a metre (NOTE: usually written mm after figures: 35mm. The US spelling is millimeter.)

① million /'miljən/ noun the number 1,000,000 ○ The population of Great Britain is just over 58 million. ■ □ millions of a very large number of ○ Millions of trees are chopped down to make paper. ○ The country spends millions of dollars on imports of oil. ○ Millions of people spend their holidays in Italy.

③ millionaire /,miljə'nɛə/ noun a person who has more than a million pounds or a million dollars. Synonym tycoon. Antonym pauper (NOTE: To show the currency in which a person is a millionaire, say 'a dollar millionaire', 'a sterling millionaire', etc.)

① millionth /'miljənθ/, 1,000,000th adj, noun referring to a million millipede /'milipi:d/ noun a small creeping animal with a large number of legs millisecond /'mili,sekənd/ noun a unit of measurement of time, equal to one thousandth of a second mime /maɪm/ noun 1. gestures and facial expressions used in the theatre to tell a story or show emotions ○ a story told in mime 2. a story told in gestures ○ He did a mime of a man trying to open an umbrella in a high wind. 3. an actor who does not speak, but tells a story through gestures ○ Marcel Marceau, the famous French mime. ■ verb to tell a story or show emotions through gestures ○ He mimed getting into a car and driving off.

mimic /'mimɪk/ noun a person who imitates ○ A good mimic imitates a person's body language as well as their voice. ■ verb to imitate ○ He doesn't like it when people mimic the way he talks. (NOTE: mimicking – mimicked) mimicry /'mimikri/ noun the action of mimicking someone. Synonym imitation min abbr 1. minimum 2. minute

minaret /,minə'ret/ noun a tall tower which is part of a mosque

③ mince /mins/ noun meat which has been cut into very small pieces ○ Add the mince to the onions and fry till brown. ■ verb 1. to grind up meat or vegetables until they are in very small pieces 2. □ he didn't mince his words he said what he had to say in a straightforward way mincemeat /'minsmeɪt/ noun a mixture of suet, apples, spices and dried fruit, used to make mince pies □ to make mincemeat (out) of someone to defeat someone, to destroy someone completely ○ He made mincemeat of his opponent.

mince pie /mins 'paɪ/ noun a small pie filled with mincemeat, eaten at Christmas

① mind /maɪnd/ noun the part of the body which controls memory and reasoning ○ His mind always seems to be on other things. ○

I've forgotten her name – it just slipped my mind. ○ I think of her night and day – I just can't get her out of my mind. ○ My mind went blank as soon as I saw the exam paper.

□ what do you have in mind? what are you thinking of? ○ Let's do something unusual this weekend – what do you have in mind? □ she's got something on her mind she's worrying about something ○ She's not her usual cheery self today – I think she's got something on her mind. □ let's try to take his mind off his exams let's try to stop him worrying about the exams □ to make up your mind (to do something) to decide (to do something) ○ I can't make up my mind whether to take the afternoon off to do some shopping or stay in the office and work. ○ She couldn't make up her mind what clothes to wear to the wedding. □ to change your mind to decide to do something different ○ He was going to go by car but then changed his mind and went by bus. ○ He has decided to go on holiday next week and nothing will make him change his mind. □ to be in two minds about something not to be sure about something, to be undecided ○ I'm in two minds about his proposal. □ I've a good mind to do it myself I would very much like to do it myself □ he's not in his right mind he's mad ■ verb 1. to be careful, to watch out ○ Mind the steps – they're slippery! ○ Mind you get back early. ○ Mind the plate – it's hot! 2. to worry about ○ Don't mind me, I'm used to working with children. □ never mind don't worry ○ Never mind – you'll get another chance to enter the competition next year. 3. to look after something for someone, or while the owner is away ○ Who will be minding the house while you're on holiday? □ mind your own business! don't interfere with other people's affairs 4. to be bothered or annoyed by ○ Nobody will mind if you're late. ○ There aren't enough chairs, but I don't mind standing up. 5. asking politely ○ Do you mind if I open the window? □ would you mind shutting the door? please shut the door 6. □ wouldn't mind would rather like ○ I wouldn't mind a cup of coffee.

mind-blowing /maɪnd 'bləʊɪŋ/ adj extremely impressive, surprising or shocking mind-boggling /'maɪnd ,bɒglɪŋ/ adj large, complicated and difficult to understand (informal) minder /'maɪndə/ noun a person who protects someone (informal) □ bodyguard

mindful /'maɪndf(ə)l/ adj □ mindful of something remembering something, thinking about something ○ He is always mindful of his responsibilities as chairman. ○ You should be mindful of the risks you are taking.

mindless /'maɪndləs/ adj stupid, done without thinking mindset /'maɪndset/ noun a way of thinking, general attitude to things. Synonym attitude

① mine /maɪn/ pron belonging to me ○ That book is mine. ○ Can I borrow your bike, mine's been stolen. ○ She's a great friend of mine. ■ noun 1. a deep hole in the ground from which useful substances such as coal are taken out ○ The coal mine has stopped working after fifty years. ○ He has shares in an African gold mine. 2. □ he's a mine of information he is full of information 3. a type of bomb which is hidden under the ground or under water ○ The tank went over a mine and two soldiers were killed. ○ It will take years to clear all the mines left by the rebel army. ■ verb 1. to dig substances out of the ground ○ They mine gold in the south of the country. 2. to place mines in land or water ○ The entrance to the harbour has been mined.

minefield /'maɪnfi:ld/ noun 1. an area of land or sea where mines have been laid ○ Minefields lay along both sides of the road. 2. a difficult and dangerous situation ○ Trying to find your way round EU agriculture regulations is an absolute minefield. ○ The company got caught up in the minefield of government tax regulations.

miner /'maɪnə/ noun a person who works in a mine (NOTE: Do not confuse with minor.)

mineral /'mɪn(ə)rəl/ noun a substance, such as rock, which is dug out of the earth, or which is found in food ○ What is the mineral content of spinach? ○ The company hopes to discover valuable minerals in the mountains.

mineral water /'mɪn(ə)rəl ,wɔ:tə/ noun water from a spring minesweeper /'maɪnswi:pə/ noun a ship which specialises in removing mines placed under water mingle /'mɪngəl/ verb 1. to mix together ○ The flavours of chocolate and lemon mingle deliciously. 2. to mix, to join in a party ○ The host and hostess started to mingle with their guests. (NOTE: mingling – mingled) mini- /'mini/ adj, prefix very small miniature /'minɪtʃə/ noun 1. a very small model, portrait, painting or bottle ○ We went to an exhibition of Elizabethan miniatures. 2. □ in miniature reproduced on a very small scale ○ The Parliament in the colony is like Westminster in miniature. ○ In the model village, everything is in miniature. ■ adj very small ○ He has a miniature camera. Synonym small-scale. Antonym enormous minibar /'mini,ba:/ noun a refrigerator in a hotel room containing cold drinks minibus /'minibʌs/ noun a small bus holding about twelve passengers minicab /'mimi,kæb/ noun a car which a person drives as a taxi minimal /'mɪnɪm(ə)l/ adj very low or small, the smallest possible minimalism /'mɪnɪm(ə)l,ɪz(ə)m/ noun 1. a movement of abstract artists who produce paintings and sculptures that make use of basic colours and geometric shapes in impersonal arrangements. The movement started in New York in the 1960s. 2. a simple style in art, design or literature 3. a style in music with a simplicity of rhythm and tone minimalist /'mɪnɪməlist/ noun an artist who uses the simplest techniques to achieve his effects ○ The minimalist art of Japanese flower arranging.

minimise /'mɪnɪmaɪz/, minimize verb to reduce to the smallest amount; to make something seem very small

② minimum /'mɪnɪməm/ adj smallest possible ○ The minimum amount you can save is £25 per month. ○ The minimum age for drivers is 18. ■ noun the smallest possible amount ○ We try to keep expenditure to a minimum. ○ She does the bare minimum of study, just enough to pass her exams. Synonym least ▶ Antonym (all senses) maximum minimum wage /,mɪnɪməm 'weɪdʒ/ noun the lowest hourly wage which a company can legally pay its workers mining /'maɪnɪŋ/ noun 1. the action of taking coal and other minerals out of the land ○ We used a Welsh mining village as a base for climbing in the mountains. ○ The company is engaged in mining for diamonds or in diamond mining. 2. the process of placing mines underground or under water ○ The mining of the harbour was carried out by marines.

minion /'mɪnjən/ noun a low-grade assistant. Synonym follower. Antonym superior miniskirt /'mini,skɜ:t/ noun a skirt which is very short ① minister /'mɪnɪstə/ noun 1. the member of a government in charge of a department ○ The inquiry is to be headed by a former government minister. ○ He was the Minister of Defence in the previous government. 2. a Protestant clergyman ○ The minister gave a very moving sermon at the funeral. ■ verb (formal) □ to minister to someone's needs to take care of someone ○ Nurses went to the country to minister to the needs of the refugees.

ministerial /,mɪnɪ'stɪəriəl/ adj referring to a government minister. Synonym governmental ① ministry /'mɪnɪstri/ noun 1. a government department; offices of a government department ○ He works in the Ministry of Defence. (NOTE: The plural is ministries. In the UK and the USA, important ministries are also called departments: the Department of Work and Pensions, the Commerce Department.) 2. a government ○ the Conservative Ministry of 1951 (NOTE: You can also say administration in this sense: the Conservative Administration of 1951.) 3. the work of a priest □ to enter the ministry to become a priest mink /mɪŋk/ noun 1. a small animal whose fur is very valuable ○ Mink are now found in the wild in Britain. 2. a coat of mink fur ○ She wore her mink to the opera. (NOTE: no plural in this meaning: to show a plural say 'mink coats') minnow /'mɪnəʊ/ noun a very small freshwater fish. Synonym small fry

② minor /'maɪnər/ adj not very important ○ It was just a minor injury. ○ She has a minor role in the film. ○ He played a minor part in the revolution. ■ noun a person under the age of 18, who is not considered to be an adult ○ We are forbidden to serve alcohol to minors. Synonym juvenile. Antonym adult (NOTE: Do not confuse with miner.)

② minority /'maɪ'nɔːrɪtɪ/ noun 1. a number or quantity which is less than half of a total ○ Although the proposal was carried, a large minority of members voted against it. □ the men are in the minority there are more women than men 2. the period when a person is less than 18 years old ○ During the king's minority the country was ruled by his uncle.

minority government /'maɪ,nɔːrɪtɪ 'gʌvən(ə)nment/ noun a government with fewer members of parliament than the opposition

minster /'mɪnɪstə/ noun (usually in names) a large, important church

mint /mɪnt/ noun 1. a factory where coins are made ○ The mint is preparing to make the new coins. □ in mint condition perfect, in exactly the same condition as when it was made ○ He is offering a camera for sale in mint condition. □ a mint of money a great deal of money (informal) ○ The inventor of the zip must have made a mint of money. 2. a common herb used as flavouring 3. a small white sweet, tasting of peppermint ○ He always keeps a packet of mints in his pocket to suck when travelling. ■ verb to make coins ○ British coins are minted by the Royal Mint.

mint sauce /mɪnt 'sɔːs/ noun a sauce made of chopped mint, sugar and vinegar, served with lamb

② minus /'maɪnəs/ prep 1. less ○ Ten minus eight equals two ($10 - 8 = 2$). ○ Net salary is gross salary minus tax and National Insurance deductions. ○ It was minus 10 degrees (-10°) outside. 2. not with □ luckily they came minus children luckily they came without their children ■ noun a sign (-) meaning less minuscule /'mɪnɪskjuːl/ adj very small. Synonym tiny. Antonym gigantic minus sign /'maɪnəs sain/ noun a symbol, (-), used to show a negative quantity or subtraction

① minute noun /'mɪnɪt/ 1. one sixtieth part of an hour ○ There are sixty minutes in an hour, and sixty seconds in a minute. ○ The doctor can see you for ten minutes only. ○ The house is about ten minutes' walk or is a ten-minute walk from the office. □ six minutes to four 3.04 □ eight minutes past three 3.08 2. a very short space of time ○ I'll be ready in a minute. ○ Why don't you wait for a minute and see if the dentist is free? □ I won't be a minute I'll be very quick ○ I'm just going to pop into the bank – I won't be a minute. □ at any minute, any minute now very soon ○ I expect the train to arrive at any minute. □ the minute he arrived, she left she left as soon as he arrived ■ verb /'mɪnɪt/ to write the record of a meeting ○ My objection to the proposal has been minutes. ■ adj /'mɪnjuːt/ very small ○ A minute piece of dust must have got into the watch. □ in minute detail with all details carefully drawn or explained ○ I explained it all to you in the minutest detail, and you still got it wrong.

minute hand /'mɪnɪt hænd/ noun the long hand on a clock or watch which shows the minutes minutes /'mɪnɪts/ plural noun notes taken of what has been said at a meeting ○ Who volunteers to take the minutes of the meeting? ○ Copies of the minutes of the last meeting will be sent to all members of the committee.

minutiae /'mɪl'njuːʃiː/ plural noun very small details

miracle /'mɪrək(ə)l/ noun 1. a very lucky happening ○ It was a miracle she was not killed in the accident. 2. a marvellous event which happens apparently by the power of God ○ She went to the shrine and was cured – it must have been a miracle. 3. □ the miracles of modern medicine or of science the wonderful discoveries, new treatments etc.

miraculous /'mɪ'rækjʊləs/ adj wonderful, which cannot be explained. Antonym mundane miraculously /'mɪ'rækjʊləsli/ adv wonderfully, in a way which cannot be explained mirage /'mɪrɪəʒ/ noun an imaginary sight caused by hot air, such as an oasis seen in a desert. Synonym hallucination. Antonym reality

③ mirror /'mɪrə/ noun a piece of glass with a metal backing which reflects an image ○ They looked at themselves in the mirror. □ clean the bathroom mirror to clean the mirror in the bathroom ■ verb to be very similar to; to be the same as ○ The report mirrors the information given to the committee by local doctors. □ Her astonishment at the news mirrored mine.

mirror image /'mɪrər 'ɪmɪdʒ/ noun something that looks the same as something else except that it is the other way round, as in a mirror. Synonym double mirth /mɜːθ/ noun enjoyment, especially shown by laughter misadventure /,mɪsəd'ventʃə/ noun an unlucky accident □ death by misadventure accidental death □ The coroner's verdict was death by misadventure.

misapprehension /,mɪsæpri'henʃ(ə)n/ noun an incorrect understanding misbehave /,mɪsbe'hɪv/ verb to behave badly. Antonym behave misbehaviour /,mɪsbe'hɪvɪə/ noun bad behaviour (NOTE: The US spelling is misbehavior.)

misc. abbr miscellaneous miscalculate /mɪs'kælkjuleɪt/ verb to calculate wrongly miscalculation /mɪs,kælkjʊ'leɪʃ(ə)n/ noun a mistake in calculating. Synonym error miscarriage /'mɪskærɪdʒ/ noun the loss of a baby during pregnancy □ She had two miscarriages before having her first child.

miscarriage of justice /,mɪskærɪdʒ əv 'dʒæstɪs/ noun a wrong decision by a court, which can be changed on appeal miscarry /mɪs'kəri/ verb 1. (of a plan) to go wrong 2. to produce a baby which is not sufficiently developed to live □ She miscarried three months into her pregnancy.

miscellaneous /mɪsə'leɪniəs/ adj various or mixed, not all of the same sort. Antonym homogeneous miscellany /mɪ'seləni/ noun a collection of varied things, usually varied pieces of writing. Synonym assortment mischief /'mɪstʃif/ noun a naughty or wicked action □ to keep out of mischief to avoid doing anything naughty □ Be good, and try to keep out of mischief. □ to make mischief to make trouble for other people □ She's always trying to make mischief between me and the boss. □ he is always getting into mischief he's always doing something naughty mischiefous /'mɪstʃi'ves/ adj wicked or naughty misconception /,mɪskən'septʃən/ noun a mistaken idea. Synonym fallacy. Antonym fact misconduct /mɪs'kɒndʌkt/ noun a wrong action by a professional person or worker misconstrue /,mɪskən'strʊə/ verb to understand something wrongly. Synonym misinterpret miscount /mɪs'kaʊnt/ verb to count wrongly misdeed /mɪs'di:d/ noun a wicked action misdemeanour /,mɪsde'mi:nə/ noun a minor crime (NOTE: The US spelling is misdeemeanor.)

miser /'maɪzə/ noun a person who loves his money and refuses to spend it (disapproving)

miserable /'mɪz(ə)rəb(ə)l/ adj 1. sad, unhappy □ He's in a very miserable state of mind. □ Can't you do something to cheer her up? – She's very miserable since her boyfriend left her. 2. (of weather) bad or unpleasant □ What miserable weather – will it ever stop raining? 3. (of pay) very low □ She earns a miserable wage as a library assistant.

miserably /'mɪz(ə)rəbli/ adv sadly or unhappily miserly /'maɪzəli/ adj 1. not wanting to spend money □ He's very miserly with his money. 2. very small □ Her father gave her a miserly allowance. □ For pudding we were given a miserly amount of ice cream.

③ misery /'mɪzəri/ noun great unhappiness □ to put someone out of his misery not to keep someone waiting for something any longer □ Let's go and put the candidates out of their misery. □ to put an animal out of its misery to kill an animal because it is in pain misfire /mɪs'faɪə/ verb not to fire properly. Synonym go wrong □ the engine is misfiring the engine is not igniting the petrol at the right time □ his plan misfired his plan went wrong misfit /'mɪsfit/ noun a person who does not fit in with a group, who does not fit into society. Antonym conformist

③ misfortune /mɪs'fɔ:tʃən/ noun 1. bad luck □ It was his misfortune to be born in the year when his father was declared bankrupt. (NOTE: no plural) 2. a piece of bad luck □ Misfortunes never come singly.

misgiving /mɪs'gɪvɪŋ/ noun a doubt or fear that something will go wrong misguided /mɪs'gaɪdɪd/ adj badly advised; wrongly judged. Synonym mistaken. Antonym wise mishandle /mɪs'hænd(ə)l/ verb 1. to deal with a situation badly 2. to treat something roughly mishap /'mɪshæp/ noun a little accident mishmash /'mɪʃ,maʃ/ noun a confusing mixture misinform /,mɪsɪn'fɔ:rm/ verb to give someone the wrong information misinterpret /,mɪsɪn'tɜ:pɪt/ verb not to understand correctly. Synonym misconstrue misjudge /mɪs'dʒʌdʒ/ verb 1. to judge wrongly □ He misjudged the distance he had to jump and fell into the ditch. 2. to form a wrong opinion about someone or something ○ I thought he was lazy, but I obviously misjudged him.

mislay /'mis'leɪ/ verb to put something down and not to remember where it is (NOTE: mislaying – mislaid) mislead /'mis'li:d/ verb to give someone wrong information (NOTE: misleading – misled /'mis'led/) mismanage /'mis'mænɪdʒ/ verb to manage wrongly or badly mismanagement /'mis'mænɪdʒmənt/ noun bad organisation and management. Antonym efficiency mismatch noun /'mɪsmætʃ/ a badly matched pair ■ verb /'mɪs'mætʃ/ to match or pair people or things badly misnomer /'mɪs'nəʊmə/ noun a wrong name misogynist /'mɪsɒdʒənɪst/ noun a man who hates women misplace /'mɪs'pleɪs/ verb to lose something temporarily misplaced /,mɪs'pleɪst/ adj directed at the wrong person or thing misprint /'mɪsprɪnt/ noun a mistake in printing mispronounce /,mɪsprə'nauəns/ verb to pronounce a sound or word wrongly. Antonym articulate misquote /'mɪs'kwaʊt/ verb to quote someone or something incorrectly misread /'mɪs'ri:d/ verb 1. to read something incorrectly 2. to misinterpret something misrepresent /,mɪs'reprɪ'zent/ verb to report what someone thinks wrongly misrepresentation /,mɪs'reprɪzɛn'teɪʃn/ noun a wrong account

① miss /'mɪs/ verb 1. not to hit ○ He missed the target. ○ She tried to shoot the rabbit but missed. 2. not to see, hear or notice ○ We missed the road in the dark. ○ I missed the article about books in yesterday's evening paper. ○ I arrived late, so missed most of the discussion. ■ you didn't miss much the thing you did not see or hear, was not very good ■ he just missed being knocked down he was almost knocked down 3. not to catch ○ He tried to catch the ball but he missed it. ○ She missed the last bus and had to walk home. 4. to be sad because you do not do something any more, because someone is not there any more ○ Do you miss living by the sea? ○ I miss going on those long country walks. ○ You'll be missed if you go to work in another office. ○ We'll all miss Jack when he retires. ■ noun not having hit something ○ He hit the target twice and then had two misses. ■ let's give it a miss let's not go to see it missile /'mɪsɪl/ noun 1. an explosive rocket which can be guided to its target ○ They think the plane was brought down by an enemy missile. ○ They threw missiles at the police. 2. a thing which is thrown to try to hit someone ○ The students threw missiles at the police.

② Miss /'mɪs/ noun 1. the title given to a girl or woman who is not married ○ Have you met Miss Jones, our new sales manager? ○ The letter is addressed to Miss Anne Smith. (NOTE: used before a surname, or a first name and surname) 2. a way of addressing a teacher ○ Miss! John keeps hitting me.

③ missing /'mɪsɪŋ/ adj lost, which is not there ○ I'm looking for my missing car keys. ○ They found there was a lot of money missing. ○ The police searched everywhere for the missing children.

④ mission /'mɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. an aim or purpose for which someone is sent ○ The students were sent on a mission to find the best place to camp. ■ her mission in life is to help orphans her chosen task is to help orphans 2. a group of people sent somewhere with a particular aim ○ a United Nations peace mission ○ Several firms took part in a business mission to Japan. ○ A rescue mission was sent out into the mountains. 3. a place where diplomats work, an embassy or consulate ○ There were riots outside several diplomatic missions in the capital.

missionary /'mɪʃ(ə)n(ə)rɪ/ noun a person who tries to convert people to his or her religion ○ European missionaries tried to convert the inhabitants of the Pacific Islands. (NOTE: The plural is missionaries.) ■ adj referring to a missionary; like a missionary ○ He followed his calling and became a missionary doctor. ○ She showed missionary zeal in trying to get people to join her club.

mission statement /'mɪʃ(ə)n'steɪmənt/ noun a statement which gives the aims of an organisation

⑤ miss out /,mɪs 'aut/ verb to leave out, to forget to put in

⑥ miss out on /,mɪs 'aut ɒn/ verb not to enjoy something because you are not there misspell /'mɪs'spel/ verb to spell wrongly (NOTE: misspelled or misspelt) misspent youth /,mɪspɛnt 'ju:θ/ noun a youth which has been wasted mist /'mɪst/ noun a thin fog ○ Early morning mist covered the fields. ■ verb ■ to mist up to become covered with condensation ○ The steam in the bathroom had misted up the mirror. ○ Switch on the heated rear window to stop it misting up.

⑦ mistake /'mɪ'steɪk/ noun an act or thought which is wrong ○ She made a mistake in typing the address. ○ There are lots of mistakes in this book. ■ by mistake wrongly

○ They sent the wrong items by mistake. ○ By mistake she put my letter into an envelope for the chairman. ○ We took the wrong bus by mistake. ○ He put my coat on by mistake in the cloakroom. ■ verb to think wrongly ○ There's no mistaking him, with his red hair and purple anorak. □ I mistook him for his brother I thought he was his brother

② mistaken /'mi'steɪkən/ adj wrong. Antonym correct mistakenly /'mi'steɪkənlɪ/ adv by mistake mister /'mɪstə/ noun a way of addressing a man (= Mr.) ○ What's the time, mister?

mistletoe /'mɪs(ə)ltəʊ/ noun a green plant with small white berries, which grows on other plants, especially oaks or apple trees

③ mistook /'mi'stuk/ □ mistake

mistreat /'mɪs'tri:t/ verb to treat something badly or roughly mistress /'mɪstrəs/ noun 1. a woman who has a sexual relationship with a man without being married to him ○ She had engaged a detective to follow her husband and photograph him with his mistress. 2. a woman teacher ○ the geography mistress 3. a woman in charge of or who owns an animal ○ The dog chased after a rabbit but came back when his mistress whistled. □ she's her own mistress she is independent mistrust /'mɪs'trʌst/ noun not having any confidence ○ The occupying army aroused considerable mistrust in the local population. ■ verb not to trust someone, to be doubtful about someone ○ He's too charming, that's why I mistrust him. Synonym distrust misty /'misti/ adj 1. covered in mist ○ a misty autumn morning 2. not clear ○ A misty image appeared on the screen. (NOTE: mister – mistiest) misunderstand /,mɪ'sʌndə'stænd/ verb not to understand correctly (NOTE: misunderstanding – misunderstood /,mɪ'sʌndə'stud/) misunderstanding /,mɪ'sʌndə'stændɪŋ/ noun a situation where something has not been understood correctly misunderstood /,mɪ'sʌndə'stud/ adj not appreciated because people do not understand you. □ misunderstand

misuse noun /mɪs'ju:s/ a wrong use ○ The directors of the charity were accused of misuse of funds. ■ verb /mɪs'ju:z/ 1. to use something in a wrong way ○ She misused the money which she had been given to look after. ○ He felt misused when the company refused to help him. 2. to treat someone badly ○ He felt misused when the company refused to help him.

mite /maɪt/ noun 1. a tiny animal of the spider family which lives in soil or is a parasite on animals or plants ○ House mites can cause allergies. 2. a very small child ○ The poor little mite looks half-starved.

mitigate /'mɪtɪgeɪt/ verb to make less serious. Synonym alleviate mitigating /'mɪtɪgeɪtɪŋ/ adj □ mitigating circumstances mitigating factors things which make a crime less serious, or which can excuse something that has happened mitigation /,mɪtɪ'geɪʃ(ə)n/ noun a reduction of a sentence or of the seriousness of a crime mitre /'maɪtrə/ noun a tall pointed hat, worn by a bishop during religious ceremonies (NOTE: The US spelling is miter.)

mitt¹ /mit/ noun a padded glove worn by a baseball player

mitt² /'mɪt/, mittens /'mɪt(ə)n/ noun 1. a glove without separate fingers except for the thumb ○ She knitted a pair of woollen mittens for the baby. 2. a glove which covers the main part of the hand but leaves the fingers bare ○ It was so cold that he wore mittens when he went sketching.

② mix /mɪks/ noun a mixture of things together ○ There was an odd mix of people at the party. Synonym combination ■ verb 1. to blend or to mingle things together ○ She made the cake by mixing eggs and flour. ○ Oil and water do not mix. 2. to get along with other people ○ He finds it hard to mix with the other staff in the office.

② mixed /mɪkst/ adj made up of different things put together ○ The reaction to the proposal has been rather mixed – some people approve, but others disapprove. □ I have very mixed feelings about the project I like some things about the project but not others ○ in mixed company when both men and women are together ○ That's not the sort of joke you can tell in mixed company.

mixed blessing /mɪkst 'blesɪŋ/ noun something which can have advantages and disadvantages as well mixed doubles /mɪkst 'dʌb(ə)lz/ noun (in tennis) a doubles match where a man and woman play against another man and woman mixed grill /mɪkst 'grɪl/ noun a dish of different foods grilled together mixed-race /mɪkst 'reɪs/ adj having, coming from or involving different racial backgrounds mixed school /'mɪkst sku:l/ noun a school for both boys and girls mixed-up /,mɪkst 'ʌp/ adj confused in your mind mixer /'mɪksə/ noun a machine for mixing

③ mixture /'mɪkstʃə/ noun a blend of things mixed together ○ If the mixture is too thick, add some more water. ○ His latest paintings are a strange mixture of shapes and colours. Synonym combination

③ mix up /'miks ʌp/ verb 1. to think someone or something is someone or something else ○ I always mix her up with her sister. 2. □ to be mixed up in or with to be part of, involved in ○ He was mixed up in the bank scandal. ○ How did she get mixed up with those awful people?

mix-up /'miks ʌp/ noun a confusion. Synonym mistake

③ mm abbr millimetre

mnemonic /nɪ'mɒnɪk/ noun a word, sentence or little poem which helps you remember something moan /məʊn/ noun 1. a low wailing sound ○ The rescue team could hear moans from under the wreckage. ○ When she read the news she gave a loud moan. 2. the act of complaining about various things ○ The staff are having a moan about their pay. ■ verb 1. to make a low sound as if you are hurt ○ I could hear someone moaning in the bathroom. ○ They could hear someone moaning in the cellar. 2. to complain about something ○ They are moaning about working conditions. ○ Stop moaning, it will be your turn soon.

moat /məʊt/ noun a wide ditch with water in it, made as a protection round a castle or town mob /mɒb/ noun 1. an uncontrolled crowd of people ○ Mobs of looters ran through the streets. ○ An angry mob surged towards the palace gates. 2. □ the mob a criminal gang (informal) ○ New York police are trying to crack down on the mob's activities. ■ verb to surround with a wild crowd ○ As the stars arrived they were mobbed by teenage fans. (NOTE: mobbing – mobbed)

② mobile /'məʊbəl/ adj which can move □ she is not very mobile she can't walk easily ■ noun 1. a mobile phone ○ I'll call him on his mobile. ○ He gave me the number of his mobile. 2. an artistic construction using small pieces of metal, card etc., which when hung up move in the slightest draught ○ They bought a mobile of clowns to hang over the baby's cot.

mobile home /'məʊbəl ˈhəʊm/ noun US a large caravan in which people can live permanently, which is usually based in a special park (NOTE: Another US term is trailer.)

② mobile phone /'məʊbəl ˈfəʊn/ noun a small telephone which you can carry around mobilisation /məʊbɪlɪ'zeɪʃ(ə)n/, mobilization noun the bringing of people together, especially to join the armed forces in wartime

③ mobility /məʊ'biliti/ noun being able to move easily moccasins /'mɒkəsɪnz/ plural noun soft leather shoes without laces mocha /'mɒkə/ noun 1. a type of strong dark coffee 2. a coffee and chocolate flavouring used in baking mock /mɒk/ adj imitation, false ○ Her handbag was made of mock crocodile skin. ○ The house is built in mock medieval style. Synonym fake. Antonym genuine ■ verb to laugh at someone or something in an unkind way ○ Don't mock the singer – he's doing the best he can.

mockery /'mɒkəri/ noun 1. a thing which is only a bad imitation, which is of no use ○ The trial was a mockery of justice. □ to make a mockery of something to make something seem useless ○ The exam makes a mockery of the government's insistence on educational standards. 2. the action of laughing at someone or something in an unkind way ○ He could see the mockery in her eyes.

mocking /'mɒkɪŋ/ adj which laughs at someone or something in an unkind way. Synonym scornful. Antonym respectful mock-up /'mɒk ʌp/ noun a scale model of a new product for testing purposes. Synonym replica modal verb /'məʊd(ə)l və:b/ a verb such as 'can', which is used with another verb to express an idea such as possibility mod cons /'mɒd ˈkɒnz/ plural noun (informal) □ all mod cons many modern facilities such as central heating, a cooker, a fridge, a dishwasher, a telephone etc. ○ The flat is advertised to let with all mod cons.

③ mode /məʊd/ noun a way of doing something

① model /'mɒd(ə)l/ noun 1. a small version of something larger ○ The exhibition has a model of the new town hall. ○ He spends his time making model planes. 2. a person who wears new clothes to show them to customers ○ He used only top models to show his designs during the London Fashion Week. 3. a particular type of product produced at a particular time ○ This is this year's model. ○ He bought a 1979 model Mini. ■ verb 1. to make shapes in clay ○ He modelled a statue of the little girl. 2. to copy □ she modelled her way of working on that of her father she imitated her father's way of working 3. to wear newly designed clothes to show to customers ○ She is modelling the autumn collection by Dior. (NOTE: modelling – modelled. The US spelling is modeling – modeled.)

modelling /'mɒd(ə)lɪŋ/ noun 1. the job of being a fashion model ○ With your looks you could take up modelling as a career. 2. the process of making models (NOTE: [all senses] The US spelling is modeling.)

② modem /'məʊdəm/ noun a device which links a computer to the telephone lines, so as to send data. Full form modulator-demodulator moderate /'mɒd(ə)rət/ adj not excessive ○ She had moderate success in her exams. ○ The economy has ended a period of steady moderate growth. ○ The union's wage demands are really quite moderate. ■ noun /'mɒd(ə)rət/ a person whose political ideas are not very violent ○ After years of struggle the moderates have gained control of the party. ■ verb /'mɒdəreɪt/ to make or become less strong ○ They moderated their demands. ○ As the wind moderated, the waves became smaller. □ to moderate your language to be less rude or violent in what you say ○ She asked him to moderate his language because there were children present.

moderately /'mɒd(ə)rətlɪ/ adv 1. to a limited extent ○ He's not a millionaire but he's been moderately successful. ○ I'm moderately satisfied with the result. 2. □ moderately priced not very expensive □ moderately difficult not very difficult moderation /'mɒdə'reɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the fact of not being excessive. Synonym restraint. Antonym excess □ in moderation not too much, not excessively ○ Red wine is good for you, but only in moderation.

① modern /'mɒd(ə)n/ adj referring to the present time ○ It is a fairly modern invention – it was patented only in the 1980s. ○ You expect really modern offices to have automatic windows and air-conditioning systems.

modern-day /'mɒd(ə)n deɪ/ adj 1. at the present time ○ Modern-day living is becoming more and more stressful. 2. existing now, but very similar to somebody or something that existed in the past ○ The army needs a modern-day Napoleon to lead it. ○ He's a modern-day equivalent of a Victorian factory owner.

modernisation /,mɒdənəɪz'zeɪʃ(ə)n/, modernization noun the act of modernising. Synonym transformation modernise /'mɒdənəɪz/, modernize verb to make something up to date. Synonym update modernism /'mɒd(ə)nɪz(ə)m/ noun the use of modern ideas and methods in art, especially in the mid-twentieth century. Synonym innovation modernist /'mɒd(ə)nɪst/ noun a person who uses modern ideas and methods ○ The art world was divided into two groups – the modernists and the traditionalists. ■ adj referring to modernism ○ He has a collection of 20th century modernist art.

modernity /'mɒdɪ'nətɪ/ noun the quality or idea of being modern or up-to-date modern languages /,mɒd(ə)n 'læŋgwidʒɪz/ plural noun languages which are spoken today ○ She's studying German and Italian in the modern languages department.

modest /'mɒdɪst/ adj 1. not boasting ○ He was very modest about his gold medal. 2. not excessively expensive ○ The union's demands were really quite modest. ○ We had a modest meal in a local restaurant. □ a modest flat a flat which does not look expensive modestly /'mɒdɪstli/ adv in a modest way modesty /'mɒdɪsti/ noun 1. the quality of being modest ○ Modesty forbids me to mention all my other achievements. 2. the quality of not being excessive, being quite small ○ We think he stole some money from the petty cash box, but in view of the modesty of the sum involved, we won't report it to the police. 3. a reservation about showing parts of your body modicum /'mɒdɪkəm/ noun a fairly small amount

③ modification /,mɒdɪfɪ'keɪʃ(ə)n/ noun an alteration. Synonym change

modifier /'mɒdɪ'fایər/ noun 1. a person or thing that makes slight changes to something, especially to improve it 2. a word or phrase that affects the meaning of another, usually describing it or restricting its meaning. 'Pink' in the phrase 'the pink ribbon' and 'fire' in the compound 'fire alarm' are modifiers.

modify /'mɒdɪfaɪ/ verb 1. to change or to alter something to fit a different use ○ The management modified its wage proposals in the light of government guidelines. ○ The car will have to be modified if we want to sell it here. 2. (of adjectives and adverbs) to give a special qualification to a word ○ In the phrase 'very tired' 'very' modifies 'tired'.

modular /'mɒdʒuələr/ adj made of various modules

② module /'mɒdju:əl/ noun a part of a larger thing made up of various sections ○ The science course is made up of a series of modules. Synonym unit modus operandi /,məʊdəs ɒpə'rændɪ:/ noun a way of working. Synonym method modus vivendi /,məʊdəs vɪ'vendɪ:/ noun an informal way of working together, in spite of not agreeing (formal) mogul /'məʊg(ə)l/ noun the boss of a large business organisation, especially a film or a TV company. Synonym tycoon

mohair /'məʊheɪə/ noun a very soft wool from a type of goat

③ moist /'mɔɪst/ adj slightly wet. Synonym damp (NOTE: moister – moistest) moisten /'mɔɪs(ə)n/ verb to make slightly wet. Synonym dampen

③ moisture /'mɔɪstʃə/ noun small drops of water in the air or on a surface. Synonym damp (NOTE: no plural) moisturise /'mɔɪstʃəraɪz/, moisturize verb to rub a cream or liquid onto your skin to prevent it from being dry moisturiser /'mɔɪstʃəraɪzə/, moisturizer noun a cream or liquid which makes the skin less dry molar /'məʊlə/ noun a large back tooth used for grinding food molasses /mə'læsɪz/ noun a thick black syrup removed from sugar as it is being refined (NOTE: The usual British term is black treacle.)

③ mole /məʊl/ noun 1. a small mammal with soft dark grey fur, which lives under the ground ○ Moles are a menace when they make molehills all over my lawn. 2. a small dark spot on the skin ○ She has a little mole on her cheek. ○ The doctor removed a mole from the back of her hand. 3. a member of an organisation who is in the pay of the enemy ○ They planted a mole in our secret service. ○ There's a mole in the department who is leaking information to the press.

molecular /mə'lekjʊlə/ adj referring to molecules molecule /'mplɪkju:l/ noun the smallest unit in a substance that can exist by itself. Synonym particle molehill /'məʊlhɪl/ noun a little heap of earth pushed up by a mole when digging □ to make a mountain out of a molehill to make a fuss about something which is not serious ○ Stop making mountains out of molehills, the situation isn't as bad as all that.

molest /mə'lest/ verb to attack a child or a woman, especially in a sexual way molester /mə'lestə/ noun a person who molests someone mollify /'mplɪfaɪ/ verb to make someone less annoyed or less upset. Synonym pacify. Antonym enrage mollusc /'mɒləsk/ noun an animal with no backbone, but usually with a soft body and a shell, such as a snail or an oyster (NOTE: The US spelling is mollusk.)

mollycoddle /'mplɪ,kɒd(ə)l/ verb to treat someone in an overprotective and overindulgent way molten /'məʊltən/ adj which has become liquid with heat ○ molten lava

① mom /mɒm/ noun US a child's name for mother (informal) ○ His mom always waits for him outside school. (NOTE: The British term is mum or mummy.)

① moment /'məʊmənt/ noun 1. a very short time ○ Can you please wait a moment – the doctor is on the phone? ○ I only saw her for a moment. □ a moment ago just now ○ We only heard of it a moment ago. □ in a moment in a little while 2. □ at any moment very soon ○ I expect it to rain at any moment. □ at the moment now ○ I'm rather busy at the moment. □ at this moment in time at this particular point ○ At this moment in time, it is not possible for me to answer reporters' questions. □ for the moment for a little while ○ We won't take any action for the moment.

momentarily /'məʊmənt(ə)rəli/ adv for a short space of time momentary /'məʊmənt(ə)ri/ adj which only lasts for a short time. Synonym brief. Antonym interminable momentous /məʊ'mēntəs/ adj very important. Antonym insignificant momentum /məʊ'mēntəm/ noun a forward movement. Synonym impetus. Antonym brake □ to gain momentum, to gather momentum to go forward faster ○ The anti-war movement is gathering momentum. □ to lose momentum to go more slowly ○ When a spinning top loses momentum, it wobbles and finally falls over.

momma /'mɒmə/, mommy /'mɒmɪ/ noun US a child's name for mother (NOTE: The British term is mum or mummy.)

Mon. abbr Monday

monarch /'mɒnək/ noun the king or queen

monarchy /'mɒnəki/ noun 1. a system of government with a hereditary ruler such as a king or queen ○ There's a big debate about whether we should get rid of the monarchy and become a republic. 2. a country ruled by a monarch ○ All European countries with kings or queens are constitutional monarchies. (NOTE: The plural is monarchies.)

monastery /'mɒnəst(ə)ri/ noun a religious establishment where monks live; the buildings of such a place. Compare convent (NOTE: The plural is monasteries.)

monastic /mə'næstɪk/ adj referring to monasteries or monks

① Monday /'mʌndeɪ/ noun the first day of the working week, the day between Sunday and Tuesday ○ Some stores are shut on Mondays. ○ She had to go to the doctor last Monday. ○ The 15th is a Sunday, so the 16th must be a Monday.

③ monetary /'mʌnɪt(ə)ri/ adj referring to money or currency. Synonym financial

① money /'mʌni/ noun 1. coins or notes which are used for buying things ○ How much money have you got in the bank? ○ He doesn't earn very much money. ○ We spent more money last week than in the previous month. ○ We ran out of money in Spain and had to come home early. □ to have money to burn to have more money than you know what to do with (informal) ○ They spent thousands on their house – they simply have money to burn. □ they offered us our money back they offered to refund us what we had already paid. ♦ sense 2. the currency used in a country ○ I want to change my British pounds into Mexican money. 3. □ to make money to make a profit □ to get your money's worth to get value for what you pay □ it's money for old rope, it's money for jam it's a profit which is easy to make (informal) money belt /'mʌni 'bɛlt/ noun a belt with a purse attached, which is worn round the waist to prevent your money from being stolen moneybox /'mʌnɪbɒks/ noun a box that can be locked and in which you can keep money moneylender /'mʌni,lendə/ noun a person who lends money as a business. Synonym lender money market /'mʌni ,mɑ:kɪt/ noun a market for buying and selling short-term loans money order /'mʌni ,ɔ:də/ noun a document which can be used for passing money from one person to another through the post money supply /'mʌni sə,plai/ noun an amount of money which exists in circulation in a country mongrel /'mʌŋgrɛl/ adj, noun a dog of mixed breed □ They've bought a mongrel puppy.

③ monitor /'mɒnɪtə/ noun the screen of a computer, or a small television screen used for checking what is happening □ My computer has a colour monitor. □ A bank of monitors allows the police to see everything which happens in the shopping centre. □ Details of flight arrivals and departures are displayed on monitors around the airport. ■ verb to check or to watch over the progress of something □ Doctors are monitoring her heart condition. □ How do you monitor the performance of the sales staff?

monk /'mʌŋk/ noun a man who is a member of a religious group and lives in a monastery. Compare friar (NOTE: The equivalent women are nuns.)

monkey /'mʌŋki/ noun 1. a tropical mammal which lives in trees and normally has a long tail □ Monkeys ran up the trees looking for fruit. 2. a naughty little child (informal) □ Come here, you little monkey! ■ verb (old) □ to monkey around with something to play with something □ Stop monkeying around with that axe!

monkey business /'mʌŋki ,bɪznəs/ noun tricks, cheating monkey puzzle tree /'mʌŋki ,pʌz(ə)l trɪ:/ noun a type of tropical pine tree with spiky branches monkey wrench /'mʌŋki rents/ noun a large spanner with an adjustable grip monkish /'mʌŋkɪʃ/ adj like a monk mono /'mɒnəʊ/ prefix one only, single □ monogamy ■ adj reproducing sound through a single channel □ a mono recording Compare stereo monochrome /'mɒnəkroʊm/ adj appearing only in black, white or grey monocle /'mɒnək(ə)l/ noun an eye glass, a single lens worn to correct your sight in one eye monogamous /mə'nɒgəməs/ adj where a person has only one husband or wife monogamy /mə'nɒgəmɪ/ noun the system of marriage to only one person at a time. Antonym bigamy monogram /'mɒnəgræm/ noun the initials of a name linked together artistically monolingual /,mɒnəʊ'lɪŋgwəl/ adj 1. speaking only one language 2. written or made in only one language monolith /'mɒnəlɪθ/ noun 1. a tall rock standing by itself 2. something large, unchangeable and out-of-date, especially a long-established organisation monolithic /,mɒnə'lɪθɪk/ adj 1. built using very large stones or blocks of some other material 2. large, uniform in character, and slow to change monologue /'mɒnəlɒg/ noun a long speech by one actor or other person alone (NOTE: The US spelling is monolog.)

mononucleosis /,mɒnəʊnju:kli'əʊsɪs/ noun a condition where there is an unusual number of white blood cells in the body, giving sore throat, swellings and fever. Also called glandular fever monopolise /mə'nɒpləɪz/, monopolize verb 1. to create a monopoly in a particular area of business activity □ They managed to monopolise the market in oil. 2. to use something entirely for yourself □ Don't monopolise the computer – let some of the others have a go. □ to monopolise the conversation to do all the talking and not let anyone else speak monopoly /mə'nɒpəli/ noun a system where one person or company supplies all of a product in one area without any competition (NOTE: The plural is monopolies.)

monorail /'mɒnəʊ,reɪl/ noun a railway in which trains travel along a single rail

monosyllabic /,mɒnəʊsɪ'læbɪk/ adj 1. (of words) with only one syllable □ monosyllabic words such as 'hat' and 'cat' 2. using short simple words and not saying much □ In answer to the reporters' questions he gave a series of monosyllabic replies.

monosyllable /'mɒnəʊsɪlɪəb(ə)l/ noun a word which only has one syllable. Antonym polysyllable monotone /'mɒnətəʊn/ noun 1. a sound that stays at the same pitch without rising or falling 2. a series of sounds that stay at the same pitch without rising or falling 3. a lack of variety in colour, or some other quality ■ adj having little or no variety in pitch or colour, or some other quality monotonous /mə'nat(ə)nəs/ adj boring and never changing. Synonym routine. Antonym varied monotony /mə'nat(ə)nī/ noun a lack of variety, which leads to boredom monsoon /mən'su:n/ noun 1. a season of wind and rain in tropical countries ○ At last the monsoon brought relief after the hot dry summer. 2. a wind which blows in opposite directions according to the season, especially the wind blowing north from the Indian Ocean in the summer ○ They sailed north with the monsoon.

monster /'mɒnstə/ noun 1. a horrible, strange and frightening animal ○ The Loch Ness Monster is said to be a large dinosaur living in the bottom of Loch Ness in Scotland. ○ She drew a picture of a green monster with purple horns and huge teeth. 2. a cruel or wicked person ○ Her aunt was a monster who used to beat her with a stick. 3. a very large thing ○ Did you see their new boat – it's a monster! ■ adj very large ○ Look at the monster cabbage Dad's grown in the garden. ○ What a monster sandwich! Synonym huge monstrosity /mɒn'strositi/ noun a horrible, large, ugly thing. Synonym eyesore monstrous /'mɒnstrəs/ adj 1. huge, ugly, horrible ○ a monstrous sea serpent 2. extremely large ○ The students left behind a monstrous pile of dirty washing. 3. very shocking or unfair ○ That's an absolutely monstrous accusation.

① month /mʌnθ/ noun one of the twelve parts that a year is divided into ○ December is the last month of the year. ○ What day of the month is it today? ○ There was a lot of hot weather last month – in fact it was hot all month long. ○ She's taken a month's holiday to visit her parents in Australia. ○ We haven't had any homework for months.

② monthly /'mʌnθli/ adj, adv happening every month ○ He is paying for his car by monthly instalments. ○ My monthly salary cheque is late. ○ She gets paid monthly. ■ noun a magazine which is published each month ○ I buy all the computer monthlies. (NOTE: The plural is monthlies.)

monument /'mɒnju'mənt/ noun a stone, building, statue, etc., erected in memory of someone who is dead ○ They put up a monument to the people from the village who died in the war. □ The Monument a tall column erected in the City of London to commemorate the Great Fire of 1666 monumental /,mɒnju'ment(ə)l/ adj 1. very large and impressive ○ Brahms' monumental Fourth Symphony 2. very serious ○

He made a monumental error. 3. referring to a monument □ monumental mason a person who makes gravestones monumental arch /,mɒnju'mənt(ə)l 'a:tʃ/ noun a stone arch built to commemorate something such as a victory monumentally /,mɒnju'ment(ə)li/ adv 1. extremely 2. in a large, impressive style

moo /mu:/ noun the noise made by a cow ○ I heard a moo from behind the cowshed. ■ verb to make a noise like a cow ○ The cows were mooing because they wanted to be milked.

② mood /mu:d/ noun 1. a feeling in general ○ Wait until she's in a good mood and then ask her. ○ The boss is in a terrible mood this morning. ○ Her mood changed as soon as she opened the letter. ○ A mood of gloom fell over the office. 2. a fit of bad temper ○ Don't talk to the boss – he's in one of his moods.

moodily /'mu:dli/ adv in a moody way moodily /'mu:di/ adj often in a bad temper; changing quickly from being in a good mood to a bad one. Antonym predictable (NOTE: moodier – moodiest)

② moon /mu:n/ noun a body in the sky which goes round the earth and shines at night ○ The first man walked on the moon in 1969. ○ The moon is shining very brightly tonight. ○ There's no moon because it's cloudy. □ full moon the phase of the moon when it appears as a full circle ○ By the light of the full moon they could clearly make out figures moving on the hillside. □ new moon the beginning of a lunar phase, when the moon's face is not lit by the sun and it appears as only a thin crescent ○ The guerrillas waited for the new moon to make their attack. □ once in a blue moon very rarely (informal) ○ We only go to the theatre once in a blue moon. □ to be over the moon about something to be very happy and excited ○ She's over the moon about her exam results. ○ They're absolutely over the moon with their first baby.

moonbeam /'mu:nbi:m/ noun a ray of light from the moon

③ moonlight /'mʊnlait/ noun the light from the moon ○ We could see the path clearly in the moonlight. □ to do a moonlight flit to go away secretly leaving many unpaid bills (informal) ○ They had booked the hotel room for a week, but on the Thursday night they did a moonlight flit. ■ verb to do a second job, often in the evening, for cash not declared to the Inland Revenue, and separate from your regular job (informal) ○ He works full-time in a garage, and moonlights as a barman in a pub in the evenings. ○ The tax people are stepping up their investigations into people who moonlight.

moonlighting /'mu:nlaɪtɪŋ/ noun the activity of doing a second job, usually in the evening, separate from your regular job (informal) moonlit /'mu:nlɪt/ adj lit by light from the moon

③ moor /muər/ noun poor land covered with heather and grass and small shrubs ○ The horsemen galloped across the moor. ○ The Lake District is wild country, full of moors and forests. ■ verb to attach a boat to something ○ The boat was moored to the river bank. ○ He rowed up to the jetty and moored his boat with a piece of rope.

mooring /'muərɪŋ/ noun 1. a place where a boat, ship, or aircraft can be held still or tied up 2. a chain or rope used for holding still or tying up a boat, ship, or aircraft 3. something that gives a feeling of emotional or physical safety moorings /'muərɪŋz/ plural noun 1. a place where a boat is held still or tied up ○ The boat had been moved to new moorings. 2. the ropes used to attach a boat ○ We cast off our moorings and rowed out into the river.

moorland /'muələnd/ noun an area of land which is uncultivated and covered with grass and low shrubs such as heather moose /mu:s/ noun a large deer from North America (NOTE: The plural is moose.)

moot /mu:t/ adj □ moot point a question which is open to discussion ○ It's a moot point whether their action was justified. ■ verb to raise a question ○ The idea was first mooted in 1967. Synonym propose mop /mɒp/ noun a soft brush for washing dishes; a brush with a head made of soft string or foam rubber, used for washing floors ○ I'll just pass the mop over the kitchen floor. □ a mop of hair long and untidy hair ○ In spite of his torn clothes and mop of red hair he still looked a sweet little boy. ■ verb 1. to wash something with a mop ○ She was mopping the kitchen floor. 2. □ to mop your brow to wipe your forehead when you are hot and sweating ○ He stopped digging to mop his brow with his handkerchief.

mope /məʊp/ verb to sit miserably, thinking about how bad things are moped /'məʊpəd/ noun a two-wheeled cycle with a low-powered engine (NOTE: Do not confuse with the verb moped /'məʊpɪd/.)

④ mop up /,mɒp 'ʌp/ verb 1. to clear up spilled liquid ○ Use a cloth to mop up the water on the floor. ○ We spent days mopping up after the floods. 2. to overcome small groups of enemy fighters ○ It took our soldiers several days to mop up the last pockets of enemy resistance in the mountains.

moraine /mə'reɪn/ noun gravel and earth carried by a glacier and deposited in a valley as the glacier melts

② moral /'mɔ:rəl/ adj 1. referring to right and wrong behaviour ○ Judges have a moral obligation to be impartial. ○ He refused to join the army on moral grounds. 2. referring to good behaviour ○ She's a very moral person. ■ noun a lesson which you can find in a story ○ There must be a moral in this somewhere. ○ The moral of the story is that if you always tell lies, no one will believe you when you tell the truth.

③ morale /mɔ:rə:l/ noun a confident feeling moral guidance /,mɔ:rəl 'gaɪd(ə)ns/ noun advice as to what is right or wrong behaviour moralise /'mɔ:rəlaɪz/, moralize verb to draw a lesson from a story or event moralistic /,mɔ:rə'lɪstɪk/ adj attempting or intending to teach people the difference between right and wrong morality /mɔ:rəlɪtɪ/ noun a sense of moral standards (NOTE: no plural) morally /'mɔ:rəlɪ/ adv according to the principles of correct human behaviour morals /'mɔ:rəlz/ plural noun the way of behaving of society as a whole or of each individual moral support /,mɔ:rəl sə'pɔ:t/ noun encouragement and support intended to give someone more confidence morass /mə'ræs/ noun 1. an area which is very muddy, marshy or swampy ○ Heavy rain had turned the playing field into a morass. ○ The vehicle was sinking deeper and deeper into the morass. 2. problems or difficulties which prevent any progress ○ We were caught up in a morass of paperwork.

moratorium /,mɔ:rə'tɔ:rɪəm/ noun a temporary stop, such as to repayments of money owed (NOTE: The plural is moratoriums or moratoria.)

morbid /'mɔ:bɪd/ adj 1. showing an unhealthy interest in death or unpleasant things ○ Even as a little boy he showed a morbid curiosity in skeletons. ○ All this talk about death and decomposition seems distinctly morbid to me. 2. diseased, referring to disease ○ The X rays showed a morbid condition of the kidneys.

morbidly /'mɔ:bɪdli/ adv in a gloomy, morbid way

⑤ more /mɔ:s/ adj extra, which is added ○ Do you want any more tea? ○ There are many more trains on weekdays than on Sundays. Synonym additional. Antonym less ■ pron an extra thing or amount ○ Is there any more of that soup? ○ £300 for that suit – that's more than I can afford! ○ We've only got nine men, we need two more to make a football team. ■ adv 1. used with adjectives to make the comparative ○ The dog was more frightened than I was. ○ She is much more intelligent than her sister. ○ The dinner was even more unpleasant than I had thought it would be. 2. □ not...any more no longer ○ She doesn't write to me any more. ○ We don't go to France on holiday any more.

more and more /,mɔ:r ən 'mɔ:/ phrase 1. in greater numbers ○ More and more people are reading the magazine. 2. increasingly ○ Their calls for help were getting more and more desperate.

moreish /'mɔ:rɪʃ/ adj which makes you want to eat more (informal)

② moreover /mɔ:r'əʊvər/ adv in addition. Synonym furthermore morgue /mɔ:g/ noun a building where dead bodies are kept before being buried. Synonym mortuary moribund /'mrɪbʌnd/ adj ineffective and likely to come to an end soon (formal)

① morning /'mɔ:nɪŋ/ noun 1. the first part of the day, before 12 o'clock ○ Every morning he took his briefcase and went to the office. ○ Tomorrow morning we will be meeting our Japanese agents. ○ Have you read the morning paper? ○ If we want to be in Paris for lunch you have to get the early morning train. □ in the morning tomorrow morning ○ I'll see you in the morning. 2. □ four, five, six, etc., in the morning at 04.00, 05.00, 06.00 etc. (showing times) ○ I woke up at six in the morning.

morning dress /'mɔ:nɪŋ dres/, morning suit /'mɔ:nɪŋ sutl/ noun clothes for men consisting of a black tail coat, light grey waistcoat and striped black and grey trousers, worn by men at weddings morning sickness /'mɔ:nɪŋ ,sɪkñəs/ noun a feeling of wanting to be sick, felt by pregnant women in the mornings

Morocco /'mɑ:rɒkəʊl/ noun a country in North Africa (NOTE: capital: Rabat; people: Moroccans; language: Arabic; currency: dirham) moron /'mɔ:rən/ noun an extremely insulting name for a very stupid person (insult) moronic /mə'rɒnɪk/ adj very stupid (insult) morose /mə'rəʊs/ adj miserable and bad-tempered. Antonym cheery morphine /'mɔ:fɪn/ noun a drug made from opium, used to relieve pain morris dance /'mrɪs da:ns/ noun an old English dance, danced by men in white clothes with bells on their legs morsel /'mɔ:s(ə)l/ noun a small piece, particularly of food. Antonym chunk mortal /'mɔ:t(ə)l/ adj 1. which causes death ○ He suffered a mortal blow in the fight. 2. referring to death □ we are all mortal we are all going to die eventually 3. very great ○ He has a mortal fear of flying. ■ noun □ an ordinary mortal an ordinary human being ○ Olympic athletes can run at speeds which we ordinary mortals have no chance of reaching.

mortal enemy /,mɔ:t(ə)l 'enəmi/ noun an enemy who wants to kill you ③ mortality /mɔ:t'æltɪ/ noun the state of being a human, and knowing that all human beings must die ○ Having a heart attack makes you acutely aware of your own mortality.

mortality rate /mɔ:t'æltɪ reɪt/ noun the number of deaths as a percentage of the total population mortally /'mɔ:t(ə)li/ adv 1. ending in death ○ He was mortally wounded in battle. 2. very, extremely ○ He's mortally afraid of catching a disease when travelling.

mortal remains /,mɔ:t(ə)l rɪ'meɪnz/ plural noun a corpse mortar /'mɔ:tə/ noun 1. a cement mixture for holding together the bricks or stones used in building ○ The wall needs rebuilding – you can see how the mortar is crumbling away. ○ After the wall was built they pointed it with grey mortar. 2. a bowl for crushing things with a pestle ○ Crush the seeds with a mortar and pestle.

③ mortgage /'mɔ:gɪdʒ/ noun 1. an agreement by which someone lends money on the security of a property ○ He took out a mortgage on the house. ○ She bought a house with a £200,000 mortgage. 2. money lent on the security of a property ○ She is behind with her mortgage repayments. ■ verb to give a property as security for a loan ○ He mortgaged his house to set up his business. ○ Because his house was already mortgaged, he had to take out a second mortgage to pay for his car.

mortified /'mɔ:tifaid/ adj 1. feeling extreme embarrassment or shame 2. emotionally hurt and upset mortify /'mɔ:tifai/ verb to humiliate someone mortuary /'mɔ:tju:ri/ noun a place where dead bodies are kept before burial. Synonym morgue (NOTE: The plural is mortuaries.)

mosaic /məʊ'seɪɪk/ noun a picture made of tiny pieces of coloured stone, glass, etc., stuck to a wall or floor, etc. Synonym medley

③ Moslem /'mɒzləm/ □ Muslim

② mosque /mosk/ noun a building where Muslims meet for prayer

③ mosquito /'mɒ'ski:təʊ/ noun a small flying insect which sucks blood and gives an irritating bite mosquito net /mɒ'ski:təʊ/ noun a thin net spread over a bed to prevent mosquitoes from biting at night moss /mɒs/ noun a small green plant like fur, growing in compact low clumps in damp places on the ground or on stones (NOTE: The plural is mosses.)

① most /məʊst/ adj the largest number of ○ Most people go on holiday in the summer. ○ He spends most evenings watching TV. ○ Most apples are sweet. ■ pron a very large number or amount ○ Most of the work was done by my wife. ○ She spent most of the evening on the phone to her sister. ○ It rained for most of our holiday. ○ Most of the children in the group can ride bikes. □ to make the most of something to get as much profit or value from something as possible ○ You should make the most of the warm weather before the snows come. □ at the most no more than ○ There were twenty people at the most in the theatre. ■ adv 1. making the superlative ○ She's the most intelligent child in the class. ○ The most important thing if you are a sales representative is to be able to drive a car. 2. very ○ I find it most frustrating that the train service is so slow. ○ Most probably the plane will be held up by the fog. ○ Thank you, you are most kind. (NOTE: Most is used to form the superlative of adjectives which do not take the ending -est.)

② mostly /'məʊstli/ adv 1. usually, most often ○ We sometimes go to France for our holidays, but we mostly stay in Britain. 2. almost all ○ The staff are mostly women of about twenty.

MOT /'em əʊ 'ti:/ noun 1. in the United Kingdom, an annual test to check that a car or other vehicle is safe on the roads 2. an official document saying that a vehicle that has passed an MOT ■ verb to do an MOT on a vehicle motel /'məʊ'tel/ noun a hotel for car drivers which is near a main road and where there are plenty of parking spaces moth /mɒθ/ noun an insect with large wings that fold flat covering its back when it is not flying and which flies mainly at night motheaten /'mɒθi:t(ə)n/ adj full of holes made by moths; old and decrepit

① mother /'mʌðə/ noun 1. a woman who has children ○ He's twenty-two but still lives with his mother. ○ Her mother's a dentist. ○ Mother! there's someone asking for you on the telephone! 2. □ shall I be mother? shall I pour the tea? (informal) ○ John, will you be mother? ■ verb to look after someone or something very carefully ○ The new recruits will have to be mothered along until they get some experience.

motherboard /'mʌðəbɔ:d/ noun the main circuit board in a computer motherhood /'mʌðəhʊd/ noun the state of being a mother. Synonym maternity mother-in-law /'mʌðər ɪn lə:/ noun the mother of your wife or husband motherland /'mʌðəlænd/ noun the country of your ancestors, especially a country from which colonists have emigrated. Compare fatherland motherly /'mʌðəli/ adj maternal, like a mother

Mother Nature /,mʌðə 'neɪtʃə/ noun the forces of nature mother-of-pearl /,mʌðər əv 'pɛ:l/ noun a shiny substance found on the inside of oyster shells Mother's Day /'mʌðəz deɪ/ noun a day in the spring when mothers get presents or cards or flowers from their children. Also called Mothering Sunday mother tongue /'mʌðə tʌŋ/ noun the language which you spoke when you were a little child

③ motif /məʊ'ti:f/ noun a particular pattern which is repeated in a design or in a piece of music

④ motion /'məʊʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. the act of moving ○ The motion of the ship made him feel ill. □ in motion moving ○ Do not try to get on or off while the train is in motion. ○ Now that we have planning permission for the new sports hall, we can set things in motion to get the foundations laid. 2. a movement of part of the body ○ A slight motion of his head indicated to the auctioneer that he was making a bid. ○ She made a motion as if to get up, but in the end stayed in her seat. 3. □ to go through the motions to do something for the sake of appearances without believing in it ○ He's lost all interest in his job – he's just going through the motions. 4. a proposal which is to be put to the vote at a meeting ○ The motion was carried by 220 votes to 196. □ to second a motion to support the person who proposed the motion □ to table a motion to put forward a proposal for discussion by putting details of it on the table at a meeting ■ verb to make a movement with your hands which means something ○ He motioned us to our chairs. ○ She motioned to me to open the window. Synonym signal motionless /'məʊʃ(ə)n(ə)ləs/ adj not moving. Synonym stationary motion picture /,məʊʃ(ə)n 'pɪktʃə/ noun US a cinema film motions /'məʊʃ(ə)nɪz/ plural noun solid waste matter passed out of the body motivate /'məʊtɪ'veɪt/ verb to encourage someone to do something motivated /'məʊtɪ,vɪtɪd/ adj having enough interest or determination to do something motivation /,məʊtɪ'veɪʃ(ə)n/ noun encouragement or determination to do something motive /'məʊtɪv/ noun a reason for doing something ○ The police are trying to find a motive for the murder. Antonym deterrant motley /'mɒtlɪ/ adj of varied types or colours. Synonym assorted. Antonym uniform

② motor /'məʊtə/ noun 1. the part of a machine which makes it work ○ The model plane has a tiny electric motor. 2. a car ■ verb to travel in a car (formal or dated) ○ We motored down to Brighton.

motorbike /'məʊtəbaɪk/ noun a motorcycle, a two-wheeled cycle driven by a motor motorboat /'məʊtəbaʊt/ noun a boat driven by a motor motorcade /'məʊtəkeɪd/ noun US an official procession of cars. Synonym convoy motorcar /'məʊtəka:/ noun same as car (formal or dated) motorcycle /'məʊtəsəkɪl(ə)l/ noun a two-wheeled cycle driven by a motor motorcyclist /'məʊtəsəkɪlist/ noun a person who rides a motorcycle motoring /'məʊtərɪŋ/ (dated) noun the driving of a car ○ The costs of motoring or motoring costs seem to increase year by year. □ school of motoring a driving school ○ The costs of motoring or motoring costs seem to increase year by year. ■ adj referring to driving of cars ○ The motoring organisations are asking the government for a reduction in tax. ○ He was convicted of a motoring offence.

motorised /'məʊtəraɪzd/, motorized adj driven by, or working with the help of a motor

② motorist /'məʊtərist/ noun a person who drives a car. Synonym driver. Antonym passenger motor neurone disease /,məʊtə'njuərən ən,drɪzɪz/ noun an illness that affects the motor neurons, gradually affecting all the body's physical functions motor racing /,məʊtə 'reɪsɪŋ/ noun the sport of racing fast cars motor scooter /'məʊtə ,sku:tə/ noun same as scooter

motor vehicle /,məʊtə 'vi:rɪk(ə)l/ noun any road vehicle that works by means of an engine

② motorway /'məʊtəwei/ noun a fast road with several lanes and very few junctions, on which traffic can travel at high speeds (NOTE: The US term is expressway or freeway)

mottled /'mɒtlɪd/ adj marked with an uneven pattern of different colours

motto /'mɒtə/ noun 1. a short phrase which is used to sum up an attitude ○ 'Be Prepared' is the motto of the Scouts. 2. a piece of paper inside a Christmas cracker, with an amusing phrase or bad joke written on it ○ Every cracker contains a toy, a paper hat and a motto. (NOTE: The plural is mottos.)

③ mould /məuld/ noun 1. a type of soft earth 2. a hollow shape into which a liquid is poured, so that when the liquid becomes hard it takes that shape ○ Gold bars are made by pouring molten gold into moulds. 3. a grey fungus which looks like powder ○ Throw that bread away – it's got mould on it. ■ verb to shape something ○ She moulded a little dog out of clay. (NOTE: [all senses] The US spelling is mold.)

moulding /'məuldɪŋ/ noun a thing which has been moulded, especially plaster decorations on the ceiling of a room (NOTE: The US spelling is molding.)

mouldy /'məuldɪ/ adj covered with mould (NOTE: The US spelling is moldy.)

moult /məʊlt/ verb to lose feathers or hair at a certain period of the year (NOTE: The US spelling is molt.)

mound /maʊnd/ noun 1. a small hill ○ They built a mound of stones to mark the furthest point they reached. ○ The castle is built on top of a mound. ○ Stonehenge is surrounded by burial mounds. 2. a heap of things ○ There's a mound of letters waiting to be signed. □ mounds of a large quantity of something (informal) ○ There's mounds of washing to be done.

mount /maʊnt/ noun 1. a frame for a picture ○ He stuck the photograph into a mount and put it on his desk. 2. a horse, etc., on which a rider sits ○ He tried to make his mount jump the fence. 3. (usually in names) a mountain ○ Mount Kilimanjaro ○ Mount St Helens ■ verb 1. to climb on to something; to climb up something ○ They mounted their horses and rode off. ○ He mounted the stairs two at a time. ○ The car turned, mounted the pavement, and hit a wall. 2. to increase ○ Tension is mounting as the time for the football final approaches. 3. □ to mount guard over something to stand on guard to protect something ○ Soldiers are mounting guard over the parliament building to prevent attacks. ○ There were ten security men mounting guard over the president as he went for a walk in the town. 4. to set something in a frame or in a metal holder, etc. ○ Mount the photograph in a black frame. ○ The diamonds were mounted in silver. 5. to organise something ○ The unions are mounting a campaign to get the government to back down. ○ Our forces mounted a surprise attack on the enemy. ○ The British Museum is mounting an exhibition of drawings. ○ The coup was mounted by exiles living across the border.

② mountain /'maʊntɪn/ noun 1. a very high piece of land, rising much higher than the land which surrounds it ○ Everest is the highest mountain in the world. ○ Every weekend we go climbing in the Scottish mountains. ○ How far is it to the top of the mountain? 2. a large amount ○ There is a mountain of letters on the manager's desk.

mountain bike /'maʊntɪn bæk/ noun a strong bike with thick tyres, used for country cycling mountaineer /,maʊntɪ'nɪə/ noun a person who climbs mountains as a sport. Synonym climber mountaineering /,maʊntɪ'nɪərɪŋ/ noun the sport of climbing mountains mountain lion /'maʊntɪn laɪən/ noun a large brown wild cat of North and South America. Also called cougar, puma mountainous /'maʊntɪnəs/ adj 1. with many high mountains ○ It is a mountainous region, and very difficult for tanks and artillery. ○ Parts of Scotland are very mountainous. 2. very high ○ Mountainous waves crashed over the ship.

mountain rescue /,maʊntɪn 'reskju:/ noun a service which provides experienced climbers to help people in difficulties on mountains mountainside /'maʊntɪnsaɪd/ noun the side of a mountain mounted /'maʊntɪd/ adj riding on horseback □ mounted police policemen on horses ○ Mounted police were on hand to keep the crowds under control.

③ mounting /'maʊntɪŋ/ adj increasing. Synonym rising

③ mount up /,maʊnt 'ʌp/ verb to increase mourn /mɔ:n/ verb to feel very sad about someone or something. Synonym grieve. Antonym rejoice mourner /'mɔ:nə/ noun a person who mourns someone who has died mournful /'mɔ:nf(ə)l/ adj very sad. Antonym cheerful mourning /'mɔ:nɪŋ/ noun 1. a period of time when you grieve over the death of a person ○ The official period of mourning for the dead president was one week. 2. dark clothes worn as a mark of respect for someone who has died ○ Only the close family members wore mourning to the funeral. (NOTE: Do not confuse with morning.)

④ mouse /maʊs/ noun 1. a small animal with a long tail, often living in holes in the walls of houses ○ I saw a mouse sitting in the middle of the kitchen floor. ○ Our cat is good at catching mice. (NOTE: The plural is mice /maɪs/.) 2. a device which is held in the hand and moved across a flat surface, used to control a cursor on a computer monitor ○ You can cut, paste and copy using the mouse. ○ Using the mouse, move the cursor to the start button and click twice. ○ Click twice on the mouse to start the program.

mouse mat /maʊs mæt/, mouse pad /maʊs pæd/ noun a soft plastic mat on which you move a mouse around mousetrap /'maʊstræp/ noun a device for catching and killing mice mousse /mu:s/ noun a light food made of whipped eggs, cream and flavouring moustache /mə'stu:ʃ/ noun the hair grown on the upper lip (NOTE: The US spelling is mustache.)

① mouth noun /maʊθ/ 1. the opening in your face through which you take in food and drink, and which has your teeth and tongue inside ○ It's not polite to talk with your mouth full. ○ He snored because he slept with his mouth open. ○ The cat was carrying a mouse in its mouth. □ to make your mouth water to look so good that your mouth fills with saliva because you want to eat it or own it ○ Those cakes make my mouth water. ○ His new car made her mouth water. 2. a wide or round entrance ○ The mouth of the cave is hidden by bushes. ○ The train came out of the mouth of the tunnel. ○ New York is built on the mouth of the Hudson river. (NOTE: The plural is mouths /maʊdz/.) ■ verb /maʊð/ to speak without making any sound ○ I could see her mouthing something on the other side of the window.

mouthful /'maʊθfʊl/ noun 1. an amount which you can hold in your mouth ○ He took a mouthful of meat and chewed hard. ○ The baby took a mouthful and immediately spat it out. ○ She dived into the waves and got a mouthful of salt water. 2. a complicated word or phrase ○ I'll spell the name of the Welsh village for you – it's a bit of a mouthful.

mouth-organ /'maʊθ, ɔ:gən/ noun a small musical instrument which you play by blowing and moving across your mouth to get different notes. Also called harmonica mouthpiece /'maʊθpi:s/ noun 1. a part of a musical instrument which goes into the mouth ○ There is a reed attached to the mouthpiece of a clarinet. 2. the part of a telephone that you speak into ○ He put his hand over the mouthpiece so she couldn't hear what he was saying. 3. a person who speaks on behalf of someone, especially a political party ○ She acts as the mouthpiece for the party.

mouthwash /'maʊθwɒʃ/ noun an antiseptic solution used to treat infection in the mouth or bad breath. Synonym gargle mouth-watering /'maʊθ, wɔ:tərɪŋ/ adj which looks and smells so delicious that it makes your mouth water movable /'mu:vəb(ə)l/ adj 1. able to be moved 2. (of an event) happening on a different date each year

① move /mu:v/ noun 1. a change from one place to another ○ The police were watching every move he made. □ it's time to make a move we must leave □ on the move moving ○ After I've been on the move all day I just want to get home and go to bed. □ get a move on! hurry up! 2. an action done to achieve something ○ It was a clever move to get here early before the crowds arrive. □ what's the next move? what do we have to do next? □ who will make the first move? who will act first? 3. a change of house or office ○ Luckily, nothing got broken during our move. 4. changing the place of a piece in chess, etc. ○ It's your move – I've just moved my queen. ■ verb 1. to change the place of something ○ Move the chairs to the side of the room. ○ Who's moved my drink? ○ He moved his hand to show he had heard. 2. to change your position ○ Some animal was moving about outside the tent. ○ The only thing moving was the tip of the cat's tail. □ don't move! stand still 3. to leave your house, flat or office to go to another ○ He got a new job and they had to move. ○ They didn't like living in the country, so they moved back to London. ○ The company is moving office, from London Road to the centre of town. 4. to propose formally that a motion be accepted by a meeting ○ I move that the meeting should adjourn for ten minutes. 5. to make someone feel sad ○ The sound of the bagpipes moved her to tears. ○ We were all deeply moved by the ceremony.

③ move away /,mu:v ə'wei/ verb to change place to somewhere further away □ we're moving away from Oxford we are going to live in another town away from Oxford

③ move in /,mu:v 'ɪn/ verb 1. to put your possessions into a new house and start to live there ○ They only moved in last week. ○ They got married and moved in with her parents. 2. to come together as a group ○ The lions moved in for the kill. ○ When everything is ready the police will move in on the gang.

① movement /'mu:vment/ noun 1. moving, not being still ○ There was hardly any movement in the trees. ○ All you could see was a slight movement of the tiger's tail. 2. a mechanism ○ a clock movement 3. a group of people who are working towards the same aims ○ the movement for equal pay for women ○ He's a leading figure in the green movement. ○ She led the movement for the reunification of the country. 4. one of the sections of a symphony ○ They played the slow movement a little too fast.

③ move off /,mu:v 'ɒf/ verb to start moving

③ move on /,mu:v 'ɒn/ verb 1. to go forward ○ We stopped for a quick visit to the cathedral and then moved on to the next town. 2. to make people move ○ The police moved the crowd on. 3. to deal with the next item ○ We will now move on to item 10 on the agenda.

② movie /'mu:vɪ/ noun especially US a cinema film ○ We watch a movie most weekends.

movies /'mu:vɪz/ plural noun especially US the cinema ○ We go to the movies most weekends.

movie star /'mu:vɪ stɑ:/ noun especially US a very successful film actor. Synonym film star movie theater /'mu:vɪ ,θɪətə/ noun especially US a building where films are shown ② moving /'mu:vɪŋ/ adj 1. which is changing position ○ Make sure all the moving parts are clean. 2. which makes you feel sad ○ a moving ceremony ○ The funeral was very moving.

mow /məʊ/ verb to cut grass, hay, etc. (NOTE: mowing – mowed – has mown /məʊn/) mow down /,məʊ 'daʊn/ verb to kill mower /'məʊə/ noun a machine which cuts grass. Synonym lawnmower

① MP abbr member of parliament (NOTE: The plural is MPS.)

MP3 /,em pi: 'θri:/ noun 1. a computer file standard which you can use to get and play music from the Internet 2. a file which contains music in MP3 format mpg abbr miles per gallon mph abbr miles per hour

MPV /,em pi: 'vi:/ noun a car similar to a van, which usually has three rows of seats

① Mr /'mɪstə/ noun the title given to a man ○ Mr Jones is our new sales manager. ○ Here are Mr and Mrs Smith. ○ (at the beginning of a letter) Dear Mr Smith, . (NOTE: used before a surname, sometimes with both the Christian name and surname)

MRI abbr magnetic resonance imaging

Mr Right /,mɪstə 'raɪt/ noun the man who would be the right man to be someone's husband (informal) ○ She's still waiting for Mr Right to come along.

① Mrs /'mɪsɪz/ noun the title given to a married woman ○ Mrs Jones is our manager. ○ (at the beginning of a letter) Dear Mrs Jones,

(NOTE: used before a surname, sometimes with both the Christian name and surname)

① Ms /məz, mɪz/ noun (at the beginning of a letter) a way of referring to a woman without saying whether or not she is married (NOTE: Ms is used with a surname, sometimes with both the Christian name and surname.)

MS abbr manuscript (NOTE: The plural is MSS.)

MSc abbr master of science

Mt abbr mount ○ Mt St Helens

MTV /'em tɪ: 'vi:/ trademark a trademark for a satellite and cable television company that broadcasts pop music videos and news about the pop music business

① much /mʌtʃ/ adj a lot of ○ with much love from Aunt Mary ○ How much sugar do you need? ○ I never take much money with me when I go on holiday. ○ She eats too much meat. □ as much as the same quantity of something as ○ You haven't eaten as much fruit as she has. □ twice as much two times the quantity ○ He spends twice as much money as I do. ■ adv very; a lot ○ He's feeling much better today. ○ It's much less cold in the south of the country. ○ Does it matter very much? ○ Much as I like her, I don't want to share an office with her. □ as much as the same amount as ○ You haven't eaten as much as she has. □ much to my surprise to my great surprise ■ pron a lot ○ He didn't write much in his exam. ○ Much of the work has already been done. □ do you see much of him? do you see him often?

much-loved /,mʌtʃ 'laʊvd/ adj which someone or everyone loves very much much-maligned /,mʌtʃ ,mə'lainɪd/ adj frequently criticised ○ Their much-maligned extra rapid service is not as bad as all that.

muck /mʌk/ noun farmyard manure muck about /,mʌk ə'baut/, muck around /,mʌk ə'raʊnd/ verb to behave in a silly way, not carefully □ to muck about with something to play with something (informal) ○ He loved mucking about with chemicals until he caused a small explosion in the garden shed.

muck in /,mʌk 'ɪn/ verb to do work together (informal) muck out /,mʌk 'aut/ verb to clean manure and old straw from a stable muck up /,mʌk 'ʌp/ verb to ruin something (informal) mucky /'mʌki/ adj very dirty (informal) (NOTE: muckier – muckiest) mucous /'mju:kəs/ adj referring to mucus, covered in mucus mucus /'mju:kəs/ noun a slippery liquid secreted by mucous membranes inside the body, which protects the membranes. Synonym slime (NOTE: Do not confuse with mucous.)

③ mud /mʌd/ noun very wet earth muddle /'mʌd(ə)l/ noun a confused mess ○ The papers were lying all over the floor in a muddle. ○ She tried to put up the tent on her own but she got into a muddle. ○ There was some muddle over the tickets. Synonym disorder ■ verb to confuse, to mix up ○ Don't muddle the papers up – I've just put them in order. ○ Granny often muddles up our names. ○ I always muddle him with his brother – they are very alike.

muddled /'mʌd(ə)ld/ adj confused, not clear and not well organised muddle through /,mʌd(ə)l 'θru:/ verb to get through your work, to succeed in a confused way

③ muddy /'mʌdi/ adj full of mud; covered with mud (NOTE: muddier – muddiest)

mudflap /'mʌdflæp/ noun a flap hanging behind the wheel of a car to protect the body-work from damage by dirt or stones mudguard /'mʌdgɑ:d/ noun a strip of metal over the wheel on a bicycle to stop water or dirt from splashing (NOTE: The US term is fender.)

muesli /'mju:zli/ noun a breakfast food of flakes of cereal, dried fruit, etc., eaten with milk muffin /'mæfɪn/ noun a small round cake eaten warm with butter

muffle /'mʌf(ə)l/ verb 1. to wrap someone up in cloth for warmth ○ She muffled herself in a big woollen shawl. 2. to make a loud noise quieter ○ She wrapped a cloth around the hammer to muffle the sound of the blows.

muffled /'mʌf(ə)ld/ adj not as loud or clear as usual because the sound has been made quieter muffler /'mʌflə/ noun US apparatus to stop the noise of the exhaust of a car ○ The car is very noisy and needs a new muffler. (NOTE: The British term is silencer.)

③ mug /mʌg/ noun 1. a large china cup with a handle ○ She passed round mugs. 2. the contents of a mug ○ He drank a mug of cocoa. 3. a stupid person, person who is easily taken in ○ Some poor mugs actually lent him money. 4. a face (slang) ■ verb 1. to attack and rob someone in the street ○ She was mugged as she was looking for her car keys. ○ She's afraid of going out at night for fear of being mugged. ○ The gang specialises in mugging tourists. 2. □ to mug up on to study something very hard at the last minute (informal) ○ I'm mugging up on my maths – the exam's tomorrow morning.

③ mugger /'mʌgə/ noun a person who attacks and robs someone in the street. Synonym robber mugging /'mʌgɪŋ/ noun a robbery with violence in the street muggy /'mʌgi/ adj (of weather) warm and wet. Synonym humid mug shot /'mʌg ʃɒt/ noun a photograph of someone's face mule /mju:l/ noun 1. a cross between a donkey and a horse ○ He entered the town riding on a mule. □ as stubborn as a mule very obstinate ○ I can't get her to agree – she's as stubborn as a mule. 2. a light shoe with no back part at the heel mullah /'mʌlə/ noun a title of respect for a learned Muslim man mull over /,mʌl əʊvə/ verb to think about or consider something. Synonym ponder multi- /mʌlti/ prefix many multicoloured /,mʌlti'kʌləd/ adj with many colours (NOTE: The US spelling is multicolored.) multicultural /,mʌlti'kʌltʃərəl/ adj referring to several cultures together. Synonym diverse multigym /'mʌltɪ,dʒɪm/ noun a piece of exercise equipment with a range of weights multilateral /,mʌlti'læt(ə)rəl/ adj between several people or groups multimedia /'mʌlti,mi:dɪə/ noun a means of communication using several different media, such as sound, moving images, computer screens, etc. ○ The company gave a multimedia presentation to show off its new product range. ○ The pop concert was a spectacular multimedia event.

multimillionaire /,mʌltimiljə'nærɪ/ noun a person who has several million pounds or dollars multinational /,mʌlti'næʃ(ə)nəl/ adj referring to several different countries ○ The UN sent a multinational peacekeeping force with troops from several countries. Synonym international.

Antonym national ■ noun a company which operates in several different countries ○ Our business has been bought by one of the big multinationals. Synonym conglomerate

③ multiple /'mʌltɪp(ə)l/ adj involving many people or things ○ She was taken to hospital suffering from multiple injuries. Antonym few ■ noun 1. a number which contains another number several times exactly ○ Nine is a multiple of three. 2. one of several repeated groups of the same number of something □ sold in multiples of five you can buy five, ten, fifteen, etc. ○ Premium Bonds are available in multiples of £100.

multiple birth /,mʌltɪp(ə)l 'bɪ:θ/ noun a birth of more than one baby at the same time i.e. twins, triplets, etc.

multiple-choice /'mʌltɪp(ə)l tʃɔɪs/ adj (of an exam question) in which the task is to choose the correct answer from a list of usually 4 possible answers, marked A, B, C and D multiple sclerosis /,mʌltɪpl(ə)l sklə'rəʊsɪs/ noun a disease of the central nervous system which gets gradually worse, causing numbness in the limbs, progressive weakness and loss of movement multiplex /'mʌltɪpleks/ noun 1. a large cinema building containing several separate projection rooms 2. the sending of several different signals along one communications line ■ verb to send signals by multiplex multiplication /,mʌltɪplɪ'keɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the action of multiplying multiplicity /,mʌltɪ'plɪsəti/ noun a large variety of things

③ multiply /'mʌltɪplai/ verb 1. to calculate the result when several numbers are added together a certain number of times ○ Square measurements are calculated by multiplying length by width. ○ Ten multiplied by five gives fifty. 2. to grow fast ○ Insect pests multiply very rapidly. (NOTE: Multiply is usually shown by the multiplication sign x : $10 \times 4 = 40$; say 'ten multiplied by four equals forty' or 'ten times four is forty'.)

multi-purpose /,mʌlti 'pɜ:pəs/ adj having several different uses multiracial /,mʌlti'reɪʃ(ə)l/ adj referring to various races multi-storey /,mʌlti'stɔ:ri/ adj with several storeys (NOTE: The US spelling is multi-story.)

multitasking /'mʌlti,tɑ:skɪŋ/ noun the activity of doing two or more jobs at the same time multitude /'mʌltɪtju:d/ noun 1. a very large number 2. a crowd of people ○ He stood up to address the assembled multitude.

① mum /mʌm/ ◊ mummy

mumble /'mʌmbəl/ noun a way of speaking which is difficult to understand because it is not clear ○ Speaking in a mumble, he thanked everyone for being at the party. ■ verb to speak in a low voice which is not clear ○ He mumbled an excuse and left the room. ○ She mumbled something about the telephone and went to the back of the shop. Synonym mutter mumbo-jumbo /,mʌmbəʊ 'dʒʌmbəʊ/ noun 1. complicated and confusing language that is difficult to understand 2. language or practices that are regarded as unusual or strange

① mummy /'mʌmi/ noun 1. a child's name for mother ○ Tell your mum I want to see her. ○ Hello, John, is your mummy at home? ○ Mummy! can I have a biscuit? (NOTE: also often shortened to Mum. The US term is Mom or Mommy.) 2. a dead body which has been treated with chemicals to stop it decaying. ○ We went to see the Egyptian mummies in the British Museum. (NOTE: The plural is mummies.)

mumps /mʌmps/ noun an infectious disease, where you get swellings on the sides of your neck munch /mʌntʃ/ verb to chew noisily something that is crisp or dry, with a regular movement of your jaws mundane /mʌn'deɪn/ adj ordinary, not exciting. Synonym ordinary. Antonym exotic ② municipal /mju:nɪsɪp(ə)l/ adj referring to a town which has its own local government. Synonym civic municipality /mju:nɪsɪp'pælɪtɪ/ noun a town which governs itself. Synonym city (NOTE: The plural is municipalities.)

munitions /mju:nɪʃ(ə)nzl/ plural noun weapons and ammunition ○ She works in a munitions factory. Synonym weaponry mural /'mjuərəl/ adj referring to walls ○ mural decoration ■ noun a painting on a wall ○ The murals were painted by Giotto in the fourteenth century. ♦ fresco

② murder /'mɜ:dər/ noun 1. the act of deliberately killing someone ○ The murder was committed during the night. ○ She was accused of murder. ○ They denied the murder charge. Compare manslaughter 2. a difficult situation ○ It was sheer murder getting to work this morning. ■ verb to kill someone deliberately ○ He was accused of murdering a policeman.

② murderer /'mɜ:dərə/ noun a person who has committed a murder. Synonym killer murderess /'mɜ:dərəs/ noun a woman who has committed a murder (dated) murderous /'mɜ:dərəs/ adj likely to kill murky /'mɜ:kɪ/ adj dark and dirty (NOTE: murkier – murkiest)

murmur /'mɜ:mər/ noun a low sound of people talking, of water flowing, etc. ○ There was a murmur of voices in the hall. ■ verb to speak very quietly ○ She murmured something and closed her eyes.

② muscle /'mʌs(ə)l/ noun a part of the body which contracts to make other parts move ○ He has very powerful arm muscles. □ to strain a muscle, to pull a muscle to injure a muscle by using it too much ○ She strained a muscle in her back. ■ verb (informal) □ to muscle in on something to try to interfere with something ○ He's always trying to muscle in on our projects and get all the credit for them.

muscle tone /'mʌs(ə)l təʊn/ noun the normal slightly tense state of a healthy muscle muscular /'mʌskjʊlə/ adj 1. referring to muscles ○ She suffered from muscular pain

after working in the garden. 2. with big muscles ○ He has very muscular arms. ○ A couple of muscular bouncers stood at the door of the club.

muse /mju:z/ noun a woman who inspires poets, musicians, etc. (literary) ■ verb to think deeply ○ She spent hours musing about her youth. ○ He was sitting in his garden musing on the beauty of the autumn colours.

② museum /mju:zɪəm/ noun a building which you can visit to see a collection of valuable or rare objects ○ The museum has a rich collection of Italian paintings. ○ The Natural History Museum is always very popular with school parties who go to see the dinosaurs.

mush /mʌʃ/ noun 1. a soft, semi-liquid substance 2. over-emotional or soppy words or ideas 3. a hissing noise caused by radio interference 4. a person's face or mouth (old fashioned, slang) ■ verb to crush something to a soft, semi-liquid substance ■ interj a shouted instruction to dogs pulling a sled, telling them to move forwards

③ mushroom /'mʌʃru:m/ noun a round white or brown fungus which can be eaten ○ Do you want fried mushrooms with your steak? ○ She ordered a mushroom omelette. (NOTE: Fungi which are poisonous are called toadstools.) ■ verb to grow rapidly ○ Little houses mushroomed all along the coast.

mushy /'mʌʃi/ adj 1. soft and half-liquid ○ We had meat pie and mushy peas. 2. very sentimental

① music /'mju:zɪk/ noun 1. a sound made when you sing or play an instrument ○ Do you like Russian music? ○ She's taking music lessons. ○ Her music teacher says she plays the violin very well. 2. written signs which you read to play an instrument ○ Here's some music, see if you can play it on the piano. ○ He can play the piano by ear – he doesn't need any music. 3. □ to face the music to receive punishment (informal) ○ The manager fled abroad when the bank collapsed, but came back to face the music.

② musical /'mju:zɪk(ə)l/ adj 1. referring to music ○ Do you play any musical instrument? 2. loving music, being able to play musical instruments ○ His whole family is very musical – they all either sing or play in orchestras. ■ noun a play with songs and popular music ○ Musicals such as 'Cats' and 'Evita' have been playing for years.

musical chairs /,mju:zɪk(ə)l 'tʃeəz/ noun 1. a children's party game where people try to sit on chairs when the music stops, with one chair and one person less each time ○ After tea we all played musical chairs. 2. the continuous changing of jobs ○ The game of musical chairs which the Prime Minister has to play to keep the members of the coalition happy.

musical instrument /'mju:zɪk(ə)l/ 'instrumənt/ noun an instrument such as piano, trumpet, or violin, that a musician plays musically /'mju:zɪkli/ adv referring to music musician /mju'zɪʃ(ə)n/ noun a person who plays music professionally ○ A group of young musicians playing the street. ○ The actors applauded the group of musicians who had played during 'Twelfth Night'. Synonym performer

② Muslim /'muzlɪm/ adj following the religion of the prophet Muhammad ○ He comes from a strict Muslim family. ■ noun a person who follows the religion of the prophet Muhammad ○ Islam is the religion of Muslims. ○ He comes from a family of strict Muslims.

muslin /'mæzlɪn/ noun a very fine thin cotton cloth mussel /'mæs(ə)l/ noun a small shellfish, with a blue black shell (NOTE: Do not confuse with muscle.)

① must modal verb /məst, mæst/ 1. it is necessary that ○ You must go to bed before eleven, or your mother will be angry. ○ We mustn't be late or we'll miss the last bus. ○ You must hurry up if you want to see the TV programme. ○ Must you really go so soon?

(NOTE: the negative: mustn't, needn't. Note also the meanings: mustn't = not allowed; needn't = not necessary: we mustn't be late; you needn't hurry.) 2. it is very likely that ○ I must have left my briefcase on the train. ○ There is someone knocking at the door – it must be the postman. ○ You must be wet through after walking in the rain. (NOTE: The negative is can't; It can't be the doctor. The past tense is had to; I must go to the dentist. Yesterday I had to go to the dentist; negative: didn't have to. The perfect tense is must have; I must have left it on the train; negative: can't have; I can't have left it on the train. Note also that must is only used with other verbs and is not followed by to.)

■ noun /mæst/ something important ○ When in Florida, a trip to the Everglades is a must. Synonym necessity

mustang /'mæstæŋ/ noun a wild American horse

③ mustard /'mæstəd/ noun 1. a yellow paste made from mixing mustard powder and water, eaten with meat, especially ham and beef ○ Would you like some mustard on your beef sandwich? ○ English mustard is yellow and quite strong. 2. a plant whose seeds make mustard powder mustard gas /'mæstəd ɡæs/ noun poisonous gas which burns the skin muster /'mʌstə/ noun 1. a parade and inspection of soldiers ○ The colonel called a muster of the country militia. 2. □ to pass muster to be acceptable ○ I'm afraid your work just doesn't pass muster. ■ verb to gather something, or a number of things or people, together ○ He tried to muster all his supporters before the vote. ○ I find it difficult to muster enough energy to go for a walk after lunch.

muster station /'mʌstə ,steɪʃ(ə)n/ noun a place where passengers on a ship must gather in an emergency mustn't /'mʌst(ə)nt/ short form must not must've /'mæstəv/ short form must have musty /'mæsti/ adj smelling damp, rotten or stale; smelling old (NOTE: mustier – mustiest) mutability /,mju:tə'biliti/ noun the state of being likely to change mutant /'mju:t(ə)nt/ adj in which mutation has occurred ○ The mutant cells will affect the other normal cells. ■ noun an organism carrying a gene in which mutation has occurred ○ This plant appears to be a mutant.

mutate /'mju:tət/ verb to undergo a change in structure which changes a gene or chromosome mutation /'mju:t'eiʃ(ə)n/ noun a genetic change affecting the structure of a living thing mute /'mju:t/ adj 1. not speaking ○ A look of mute horror crossed her face. 2. which is not pronounced ○ In the word 'crumb' the letter 'b' is mute. ■ adv not speaking ○ She stood mute throughout all her trial. ■ noun

1. a person who cannot speak (old fashioned, slang) 2. a device used to soften the sound of a musical instrument ○ She fitted a mute into the mouth of the trumpet. ○ The last part of the piece is played with a mute on the violin.

■ verb to soften the sound of a musical instrument ○ The violins are muted before playing the final quiet passage.

muted /'mju:tɪd/ adj 1. quiet, not noisy ○ The press gave the proposal a muted welcome. ○ Criticism of the government's proposals has been muted. 2. not bright ○ I prefer muted colours for the sitting room.

mutilate /'mjʊtɪleɪt/ verb to damage something by cutting off part of it. Synonym maim mutilation /,mju:tɪ'læʃ(ə)n/ noun the act of cutting part of someone's body. Synonym disfigurement mutinous /'mju:tɪnəs/ adj likely to take part in a mutiny, likely not to obey. Synonym rebellious. Antonym obedient mutiny /'mju:tɪni/ noun a rebellion against someone in a position of authority such as the officers in the army or navy ○ The officers kept a lookout for any signs of mutiny among the crew. ■ verb to rebel against authority ○

The soldiers mutinied and captured the castle. ○ There is a possibility that some MPs will mutiny against the government.

mutter /'mʌtə/ noun a low indistinct way of speaking ○ Mutters could be heard coming from the back of the hall. ■ verb to mumble, to speak in a low and indistinct voice ○ Don't mutter, I can't understand you. ○ He muttered something about the telephone and went to the back of the shop.

muttering /'mʌt(ə)rɪŋ/ noun complaints, spoken indistinctly mutton /'mʌt(ə)n/ noun the meat of a sheep (NOTE: not very often used: lamb is generally used for all meat from sheep as well as lambs) mutual /'mju:tʃuəl/ adj referring to what is done by two people, countries, companies, etc., to each other. Synonym joint ○ our mutual friend the friend of both of us ○ by mutual agreement, by mutual consent with the agreement of both parties ○ By mutual agreement they have decided to sell the flat and split the money between them.

mutually /'mju:tʃuəli/ adv to two people; by two people muzzle /'mʌz(ə)l/ noun 1. the front part of an animal's head, especially the mouth, jaws and nose ○ She stroked the horse's long, silky muzzle. 2. a system of straps placed round the mouth of a dog to prevent it from biting ○ Our dog has to wear a muzzle when he's taken for a walk. 3. the mouth of a gun ○ She found herself looking down the muzzle of a gun. ○ The army was equipped with muzzle-loading rifles. ■ verb 1. to put a muzzle on a dog to prevent it biting ○ I always muzzle my dog when I walk him through the children's playground. 2. ○ to muzzle the press to stop newspapers from saying what they want ① my /maɪ/ adj 1. belonging to me ○ Is that my pen you're using? ○ Have you seen my glasses anywhere? ○ We went skiing and I broke my leg. 2. used in an exclamation ○ My word! ○ My goodness, just look at the time!

myopia /maɪ'əpiə/ noun short-sightedness, causing a person to be unable to see things which are far away myriad /'mɪriəd/ noun a very large number ○ There are myriads of islands in the mouth of the river. ○ The sky was bright with a myriad of stars. ■ adj very many ○ These are only a few of the myriad life forms found on a coral reef. Synonym countless ▶ Antonym (all senses) few

① myself /maɪ'self/ pron referring to me ○ I hurt myself climbing down the ladder. ○ It's true – I saw it myself. ○ I enjoyed myself a lot at the party. ○ all by myself all alone, with no one else ○ I built the house all by myself. ○ I don't like being all by myself in the house at night.

③ mysterious /mɪ'stɪəriəs/ adj which cannot be explained

mysteriously /mɪ'stɪəriəsli/ adv in a strange way which cannot be explained

③ mystery /'mɪst(ə)rɪ/ noun a thing which cannot be explained (old) ○ The police finally cleared up the mystery of the missing body. ○ It's a mystery how the box came to be hidden under her bed. (NOTE: The plural is mysteries.)

mystic /'mɪstɪk/ noun a person who attempts to achieve union with God through prayer, meditation, etc. ■ adj in contact with God ○ the mystic union between Christ and the Church. Synonym mystical mystical /'mɪstɪk(ə)l/ adj in contact with God by some process which cannot be understood. Synonym spiritual mysticism /'mɪstɪsɪz(ə)m/ noun a religion based on attempts to achieve union with God by prayer and meditation mystify /'mɪstɪfai/ verb to puzzle or bewilder someone mystique /mɪ'stɪ:k/ noun a mysterious atmosphere about a person or thing myth /mɪθ/ noun 1. an ancient story about gods ○ poems based on the myths of Greece and Rome 2. an untrue idea, but one which many people believe ○ It was many years before people could disprove the myth that the earth was flat. ○ The sales figures showed up the myth of their so-called super sales force.

mythical /'mɪθɪk(ə)l/ adj 1. referring to ancient tales of gods ○ The unicorn is a mythical animal. 2. untrue, which does not exist ○ He keeps talking about some mythical order from Japan.

mythological /,mɪθə'lɒdʒɪk(ə)l/ adj referring to mythology. Antonym factual mythology /mɪ'θɒlədʒi/ noun ancient folk stories from a particular source ○ The floor was covered with mosaics showing scenes from Greek mythology. ○ According to ancient Scandinavian mythology, he cut off the head of the dragon.

N

n /en/, N noun the fourteenth letter of the alphabet, between M and O N abbr north

nab /næb/ verb 1. to snatch something quickly (informal) ○ When we came down to the pool we found that the others had nabbed all the best seats. ○ Pass me that bottle before anyone else nabs it. 2. to arrest someone ○ The police nabbed him as he was coming out of the bank. (NOTE: nabbing – nabbed)

nadir /'neɪdɪər/ noun the very lowest point naff /næf/ adj attempting to be stylish, but instead appearing boring or silly nag /næg/ verb □ to nag someone, to nag at someone to ask someone over and over again for something or to do something ○ She was always nagging (at) him to buy a new car. ○ She's been nagging me for an ice cream all afternoon. ■ noun an old horse (insult) ○ I can't go riding on that nag.

nagging /'nægɪŋ/ adj that worries you over a long period of time. Synonym irritating □ nagging pain a dull, continuous throbbing pain ○ He had a nagging pain in his jaw.

③ nail /neɪl/ noun 1. a little metal spike ○ Hit the nail hard with the hammer. ○ You need a hammer to knock that nail in. □ to hit the nail on the head to judge something accurately (informal) 2. □ as hard as nails very hard, uncompromising ○ She's as hard as nails. 3. the hard part at the end of your fingers and toes ○ She painted her nails red. ○ He was cutting his nails. ■ verb to attach something with nails ○ He nailed the notice to the door.

nail-biting /neɪl 'baɪtɪŋ/ adj extremely exciting

nail down /,neɪl 'daʊn/ verb 1. to attach something flat with nails ○ They nailed down the floorboards or they nailed the floorboards down. 2. □ to nail someone down to make someone say what he or she is going to do ○ I'll try to nail him down over a date for the meeting.

nail file /'neɪl fail/ noun a flat stick covered with sandpaper, used to smooth your fingernails nail polish /neɪl 'polɪʃ/ noun same as nail varnish

nail varnish /'neɪl ,va:nɪʃ/ noun a liquid which is put on fingernails or toenails, and which dries quickly to form a hard, shiny surface naive /naɪ'ɪv/ adj innocent, lacking experience naively /naɪ'ɪvli/ adv in a naive way naivety /naɪ'ɪv(ə)ti/, naiveté /naɪ'ɪv(ə)te/ noun the quality of being naive naked /'neɪkɪd/ adj 1. with no clothes on ○ The little children were playing around in the river stark naked. ○ A naked man stood on the balcony. 2. without any covering ○ A naked electric bulb hung from the ceiling. □ invisible to the naked eye which cannot be seen without being magnified naked flame /'neɪkɪd fleɪm/ noun a flame which is burning without any protection round it

① name /neɪm/ noun 1. a special way of calling someone or something ○ Hello! My name's James. ○ What's the name of the shop next to the post office? □ I know him by name I have never met him, but I know who he is □ in the name of someone using someone's name ○ The table is booked in the name of 'Green'. □ in the name of the law using the authority given by the law ○ I arrest you in the name of the law. □ to put your name down for something to apply for something ○ She put her name down to join the club. □ under the name of using the name of ○ He wrote his novels under the name 'Saki'. ○ They checked into the hotel under the name of 'Smith'. □ to make a name for yourself to do something which makes you famous ○ He made a name for himself as a criminal lawyer. 2. □ Christian name a special name given to someone as a child after birth or at baptism ○ Her Christian name is Natasha. Synonym first name □ family name the name of a family, shared by all people in the family. Synonym surname ■ verb 1. to call someone or something by a name ○ They named him Nicholas. ○ They have a black cat named Jonah. □ to name someone after someone to give someone the same name as someone else ○ They named their son Peter after his grandfather. 2. to specify something ○ Can you name three British Prime Ministers? □ to name the day to fix the date for something, particularly a wedding 3. to appoint someone to a post ○ He was named ambassador to France.

name-dropping /'neɪm,drɒpɪŋ/ noun the practice of mentioning the names of famous people whom you know, with the intention of impressing those who are listening nameless /'neɪmləs/ adj 1. with no name 2. not to be mentioned because it is disgusting or frightening namely /'neɪmlɪ/ adv that is to say nameplate /'neɪmpleɪt/ noun a metal plate with the name of a person or firm carved on it namesake /'neɪmseɪk/ noun a person with the same name as another name tag /'neɪm tæg/ noun a label with a name printed on it naming and shaming /'neɪmɪŋ ən 'seɪmɪŋ/ noun the act of publishing the name of a person or an organisation that is not working correctly, in the hope that this will make them change their ways nan /næn/ noun a type of flat bread, often eaten with curry

nanny /'næni/ noun a person who is employed to look after small children in a family ○ She's training to be a nanny. ○ Our new nanny starts work tomorrow. ■ verb to look after someone or something very carefully and tell them what to do nanny goat /'næni ɡəʊt/ noun a female goat ○ a nanny goat and her two kids (NOTE: A male goat is a billy goat.)

nanny state /'næni stεɪt/ noun a state where the government looks after everyone and tells them what to do. Compare welfare state (NOTE: The plural is nannies.)

nap /næp/ noun 1. a short sleep ○ After lunch he always takes a little nap. 2. a smooth surface of cloth such as velvet ○ Just feel the nap on this cloth. 3. a tip as to which horse is likely to win a race ■ verb to sleep for a short period □ to catch someone napping to take someone by surprise ○ His sudden offer caught us all napping.

nappe /neɪp/ noun the back of the neck

napkin /'neɪpkn/ noun 1. a small square of cloth or paper provided for each person at a meal table, and may be used for cleaning fingers or mouth, or to protect clothes 2. a happy ○ The baby must have his napkin changed.

③ nappy /'næpi/ noun a cloth which is wrapped round a baby's bottom to absorb urine and faeces (NOTE: The plural is nappies. The US term is diaper.)

nappy rash /'næpi ræʃ/ noun a rash on a baby's bottom, caused by the baby having a wet nappy (NOTE: The US term is diaper rash.)

narcissism /'na:sɪsɪz(ə)m/ noun a tendency to admire yourself, especially your own appearance narcissus /na:'sɪsəs/ noun a flower similar to a daffodil, with white and orange flowers shaped like trumpets (NOTE: The plural is narcissi /na:'sɪsai/.)

narcotic /na:'kɒtɪk/ adj which makes you sleep or become unconscious ○ the narcotic side-effects of antihistamines ■ noun a pain-relieving drug which makes a patient sleep ○ The doctor put her to sleep with a powerful narcotic.

narcotics /na:'kɒtɪks/ plural noun dangerous illegal drugs which are sold by criminals narrate /nə'reɪt/ verb to tell a story narration /nə'reɪʃ(ə)n/ noun speaking or writing about things that have happened narrative /'nærətɪv/ noun a written story ○ He's writing a narrative about their journeys in South America. ■ adj describing an action ○ The narrative part of the book is very exciting. ○ He wrote a narrative poem about the war against Troy.

narrator /nə'reɪtə/ noun a person who tells a story. Synonym storyteller

② narrow /'nærəʊ/ adj not wide ○ Why is your bicycle seat so narrow? ○ We went down a narrow alleyway to the shop. (NOTE: narrower – narrowest) ■ verb 1. to make something less wide ○ He narrowed his eyes. 2. to become less wide ○ The road narrows suddenly, and there is hardly enough room for two cars to pass. 3. □ to narrow something down to to reduce something to ○ We have narrowed down our choice of restaurants to two.

narrow boat /'nærəʊ bəʊt/ noun a long thin boat used on canals narrow escape /,nærəʊ ɪ'skeɪp/ noun a situation where you just avoid some disaster narrowly /'nærəʊli/ adv only just narrow majority /,nærəʊ mə'dʒɔrəti/ noun a majority of only a few votes narrow-minded /,nærəʊ 'maɪndɪd/ adj not tolerant of others' views, not capable of seeing many points of view. Synonym bigoted. Antonym broad-minded

NASA /'næsə/ abbr National Aeronautical and Space Administration

nasal /'neɪz(ə)l/ adj 1. referring to the nose ○ She used nasal drops to try to cure her cold. 2. speaking as if through the nose ○ He speaks with a nasal accent. ■ noun a sound pronounced through the nose, like 'n' or 'm' in English (phonetics) nasal twang /'neɪz(ə)l twæŋ/ noun the accent made when you speak through your nose nastily /'nɑ:stɪlɪ/ adv in a nasty way nastiness /'nɑ:stɪnəs/ noun the quality of being nasty, or a nasty thing that happens. Synonym spite nasturtium /nɑ:'stɜ:f(ə)m/ noun a creeping plant with large orange or yellow flowers

② nasty /'nɑ:sti/ adj unpleasant □ to turn nasty to become unpleasant suddenly ○ When she couldn't pay, the manager turned quite nasty. □ a nasty piece of work an unpleasant person (informal)

② nation /'neɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. a country ○ Such a great nation as the USA has a duty to protect smaller countries from aggression. ○ The member nations of the EU. 2. the people living in a country ○ The Prime Minister spoke to the nation about the declaration of war.

① national adj /'næʃ(ə)nəl/ belonging to a country ○ This is in our national interest. ○ The story even appeared in the national newspapers. ○ We're going to see a new play at the National Theatre. ■ noun a person from a certain country ○ Two German nationals were arrested at the scene of the crime. Synonym resident. Antonym visitor national anthem /,næʃ(ə)nəl 'ænθəm/ noun a piece of music which is used to represent the nation officially, and is played at official ceremonies national costume /,næʃ(ə)nəl 'kɒstju:m/ noun the special clothes worn by people from a specific country or region national curriculum /,næʃ(ə)nəl kə'rɪkjuləm/ noun the subjects studied at school by all children aged between 5 and 16 in England and Wales (NOTE: The National curriculum is made up of three 'core' subjects – English, maths and science; and seven 'foundation' subjects – art, design and technology, geography, history, music, physical education, and a foreign language.)

national grid /,næʃ(ə)nəl 'grɪd/ noun the national electricity supply system

National Insurance /,næʃ(ə)nəl ɪn'ʃərəns/ noun a government-run insurance which provides for state medical care, unemployment payments, etc. nationalisation /,næʃ(ə)nələt'zeɪʃ(ə)n/, nationalization noun passing the ownership of a business from private individuals to ownership by the state (NOTE: Do not confuse with naturalisation.)

nationalise /'næʃ(ə)nəlaɪz/, nationalize verb to put a privately-owned industry under state ownership and control. Antonym privatise □ nationalized industry an industry which was once privately owned, but now belongs to the state ○ Workers in nationalised industries are to get a 3% pay rise.

nationalism /'næʃ(ə)nəlɪz(ə)m/ noun 1. the political opinion of wanting independence for your country ○ During the occupation, all feelings of nationalism had to be suppressed. 2. a feeling of great pride in your country, or a feeling that your country is better than others ○ Danish nationalism as shown by their football supporters.

nationalist /'næʃ(ə)nəlist/ noun a person who wants his or her country to be independent ○ a Welsh nationalist ○ The nationalists have not been invited to the negotiations. ■ adj wanting your country to be independent ○ There is a lot of nationalist feeling in the country.

nationalistic /,næʃ(ə)nə'listɪk/ adj strongly supporting your own country. Synonym patriotic. Antonym internationalist nationality /,næʃ(ə)nəlɪtɪ/ noun the status of being a citizen of a state ○ He is of German nationality. □ he has dual nationality he is a citizen of two countries at the same time nationally /'næʃ(ə)nəlɪ/ adv all over the country. Antonym locally national park /,næʃ(ə)nəl 'pɑ:k/ noun an area of land protected by the government for people to enjoy ○ The Peak District in Derbyshire is a national park. ○ We went camping in the national park.

national security /,næʃ(ə)nəl sɪ'kjuərətɪ/ noun the systems that are intended to protect a nation from danger national service /,næʃ(ə)nəl 'sɜ:vɪs/ noun in some countries, a period that citizens must spend working in their national armed forces nation-state /,neɪʃ(ə)n 'steɪt/ noun a country which is an independent political unit, formed of people with the same nationality and often the same language and traditions nationwide /'neɪʃ(ə)nwid/ adj all over the country ○ The union called for a nationwide strike. ○ We offer a nationwide delivery service. Antonym local ③ native /'neɪtɪv/ noun 1. a person born in a place ○ She's a native of Cornwall. 2. a flower, bird, etc., which has always been in a place ○ The robin is a native of the British Isles. 3. an original inhabitant of a country or region, usually before the arrival of Europeans (offensive) ■ adj belonging to a country ○ The tiger is native to India.

Native American /,neɪtɪv ə'merɪkən/ noun a member of any of the peoples who were living in North, Central, and South America before the arrival of Europeans native language /'neɪtɪv 'læŋgwɪdʒ/ native tongue /'neɪtɪv tʌŋ/ noun the language which you spoke when you were a little child

③ native speaker /,neɪtɪv 'spi:kə/ noun a person who speaks a language from childhood nativity /nə'trɪvɪtɪ/ noun □ the Nativity the birth of Jesus Christ (formal) nativity play /nə'trɪvɪtɪ pleɪ/ noun a play about the birth of Jesus, especially one performed by children

NATO /'neɪtəʊ/ abbr North Atlantic Treaty Organization

natter /'nætə/ (informal) noun a casual friendly talk □ Come round for coffee tomorrow and we can have a natter. □ verb to talk in a casual and friendly way □ They were nattering about their holidays and didn't see the bus go past. □ She spends too much time nattering on the phone to her boyfriend. ▶ Synonym (all senses) chat

① natural /'nætʃ(ə)rəl/ adj 1. ordinary, not unusual □ Her behaviour at the meeting was quite natural. □ It's only natural if you can't sleep the night before your exams. □ It's natural to worry about your first baby. 2. coming from nature, and not man-made □ Do you think the colour of her hair is natural? □ Yes, she's a natural blonde. □ The inquest decided that he died from natural causes.

natural gas /,nætʃ(ə)rəl 'gæs/ noun gas which is found in the earth and not made in a gasworks natural history /,nætʃ(ə)rəl 'hɪst(ə)ri/ noun the study of plants and animals naturalisation /,nætʃ(ə)rələz'zeɪʃ(ə)n/, naturalization noun the granting of the position of citizen to a foreigner (NOTE: Do not confuse with nationalisation.)

naturalist /'nætʃ(ə)rəlist/ noun a person who is interested in and studies natural history

① naturally /'nætʃ(ə)rəli/ adv 1. of course □ Naturally the top team beat the bottom team. □ Do you want to watch the game? – Naturally! 2. because of nature, not man-made □ She has naturally fair hair. □ She's naturally gifted for music. 3. in a normal way □ He behaved quite naturally at the office, so we were surprised when he was arrested for murder.

natural resources /,nætʃ(ə)rəl rɪ'sɔ:sɪz/ plural noun minerals, energy sources, etc., which can be used commercially, such as coal or water power □ Canada is a country which is very rich in natural resources.

natural wastage /,nætʃ(ə)rəl 'weɪstɪdʒ/ noun the process of losing employees because they resign or retire, not because they are made redundant or are sacked

① nature /'neɪtʃə/ noun 1. plants and animals □ We must try to protect nature and the environment. □ the laws of nature what happens in the world of plants and animals 2. the character of a person, thing, animal □ He has a very aggressive nature. 3. a sort, kind or class of thing □ Something of that nature must have happened.

nature reserve /'neɪtʃə rɪ:z:v/ noun an area of land where animals and plants are protected nature trail /'neɪtʃə træɪl/ noun a path through the countryside with signs to showing interesting features, such as plants, trees, birds or animals naturism /'neɪtʃərɪz(ə)m/ noun a belief in the physical and mental advantages of going about naked. Synonym nudist naturist /'neɪtʃərist/ adj, noun a person who believes in going about naked naughtily /'nɔ:tɪlɪ/ adv wickedly naughtiness /'nɔ:tɪnəs/ noun wickedness, bad behaviour. Synonym disobedience. Antonym obedience

③ naughty /'nɔ:ti/ adj (usually of a child) behaving badly, not being obedient. Synonym disobedient (NOTE: naughtier – naughtiest) nausea /'nɔ:ziə/ noun a feeling of sickness, a desire to vomit nauseate /'nɔ:zi:t/ verb to make someone feel sick or disgusted nauseating /'nɔ:zi:tɪŋ/ adj which makes you sick or disgusted (literary). Synonym disgusting. Antonym pleasant nauseous /'nɔ:ziəs/ adj US feeling sick, feeling about to vomit nautical /'næ:tɪk(ə)l/ adj referring to ships and the sea. Synonym maritime naval /'neɪv(ə)l/ adj referring to the navy nave /neɪv/ noun the main part of a church where the congregation sits navel /'neɪv(ə)l/ noun a depression in the middle of the abdomen, just below the waist, where the umbilical cord was detached after birth (NOTE: In children's language a navel is called a belly button or tummy button. Do not confuse with naval.)

navel orange /'neɪv(ə)l ,prɪndʒ/ noun a large seedless orange with a depression at one end like a navel navigable /'nævɪgəb(ə)l/ adj (of a river) deep enough for ships to sail in it

navigate /'nævɪgeɪt/ verb 1. to guide a ship or aircraft □ The pilot navigated the boat into the harbour. 2. to give directions to the driver of a car □ Can you navigate as far as Marble Arch? – I know my way from there.

③ navigation /nævɪ'geɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. the action of guiding and steering ○ In the sixteenth century, navigation was done by the stars. ○ Thanks to Jim's bad navigation we lost our way twice. 2. the movement of ships or aircraft ○ The canal is open to navigation again.

navigator /'nævɪgətə/ noun 1. a person who calculates the distances and direction taken by an aircraft or ship ○ The navigator estimates that we should reach the coast in about ten minutes. 2. a person who deals with the maps, signs and timing for a rally driver ○ The navigator warned me that there was a sharp right turn ahead.

③ navy /'neɪvɪ/ noun 1. a military force which fights battles at sea ○ He left school and joined the navy. ○ The navy has many ships. 2. a dark blue colour ○ She was dressed in navy. ■ adj □ navy (blue) of a dark blue colour ○ She was wearing a navy skirt. ○ He's bought a navy blue pullover.

Nazi /'na:tsi/ noun 1. a member or supporter of Adolf Hitler's fascist German National Socialist Party 2. an extremely insulting name for a very bossy or controlling person (insult)

NE abbr north east

① near /nɪər/ adv, prep, adj 1. close to, not far away from ○ Our house is near the post office. ○ Bring your chair nearer to the table. ○ He lives quite near or quite near here. ○ Which is the nearest chemist's? 2. soon, not far off in time ○ Her birthday is on December 21st – it's quite near to Christmas. ○ Can you phone again nearer the day and I'll see if I can find a few minutes to see you? (NOTE: nearer – nearest) ■ verb to get closer to, to approach ○ We're nearing the end of the year. Synonym approach nearby /nɪə'baɪ/ adv, adj not far away ○ He lives just nearby. ○ They met in a nearby restaurant.

nearest and dearest /,nɪərəst ən 'dɪərəst/ plural noun your close family

① nearly /'nɪli/ adv almost ○ He's nearly 18 – he'll be going to university next year. ○ The film lasted nearly three hours. ○ The book isn't nearly as good as the last one I read. ○ Hurry up, it's nearly time for breakfast. ○ We haven't got nearly enough time to get to London.

near miss /nɪə 'mɪs/ noun a situation where you almost hit something nearside /'nɪəsaɪd/ adj referring to the side of a car closer to the side of the road. Synonym passenger near-sighted /,nɪə 'saɪtɪd/ adj able to see close objects clearly, but not objects which are further away. Also called short-sighted

② neat /ni:t/ adj 1. tidy, without any mess ○ a blouse with a neat lace collar ○ Leave your bedroom neat and tidy. ○ Her handwriting is very neat. 2. alcohol without any water added ○ I prefer my whisky neat. (NOTE: The US term is straight) 3. mainly US clever ○ What a neat idea! (NOTE: neater – neatest) neatly /'ni:tli/ adv in a neat and tidy way neatness /'ni:tнsəs/ noun a tidy or clean appearance nebulous /'nebјuləs/ adj not clearly known or described. Synonym unclear. Antonym precise

① necessarily /,nesi'ærli/ adv which cannot be avoided ○ Going to Newcastle from here necessarily means changing trains twice. □ not necessarily possibly sometimes but not always ○ Taking the train isn't necessarily slower than going by plane.

① necessary /'nesi:s(ə)ri/ adj 1. which has to be done ○ It's absolutely necessary for taxes to be paid on time. ○ It is necessary to have a current passport if you are going abroad. 2. which you need to have ○ Are you sure all this equipment is really necessary? ○ Does she have the necessary qualifications for the job?

necessitate /nɪ'sesɪteɪt/ verb to make something necessary necessity /nə'sesɪtɪ/ noun an essential thing, or thing that is needed (NOTE: The plural is necessities.)

② neck /nek/ noun 1. a part which joins your head to your body ○ She was sitting in a draught and got a stiff neck. ○ The mayor wears a gold chain round his neck. 2. □ a pain in the neck a very annoying person or thing (informal) □ to breathe down someone's neck to watch what someone is doing and be ready to criticise ○ I wish he would stop breathing down my neck all the time. □ to stick your neck out to state your opinion, even though you admit it may be wrong ○ I'll stick my neck out and say that the government will lose the next election. □ to be up to your neck in work to have a lot of work to do ○ I'm up to my neck in work, so I can't take on any more. 3. the part of a piece of clothing which goes round your neck ○ He takes size 16 neck in shirts. 4. a narrow part ○ the neck of a bottle □ a neck of land a narrow piece of land between two pieces of water □ in this neck of the woods in this part of the country (informal) ○ Not many people live in this neck of the woods. ■ verb to kiss and cuddle in a sexual way (dated informal)

-necked /nekɪd/ suffix with a certain type of neck

③ necklace /'nekla:s/ noun a string of beads or stones, etc., worn round your neck neckline /nek'lain/ noun the line formed by the edge of an item of clothing where it goes around the neck nectar /'nektaɪ/ noun 1. a liquid produced by flowers to attract bees ○ Honey is made from the nectar collected by bees. 2. a very delicious-tasting drink ○ After a game of tennis this lemonade is absolute nectar.

③ necktie /'nektaɪ/ noun especially US a piece of coloured cloth worn knotted round the neck (NOTE: The British term is tie.)

nectarine /'nektrəɪn/ noun a fruit like a peach with a smooth skin née /neɪ/ adj (of a woman) with the former name of. Synonym formerly ① need /ni:d/ noun what is necessary or wanted ○ There's no need for you to wait – I can find my own way. □ in need requiring food and help ○ The Red Cross is bringing supplies to families in need. □ to be in need of to want something ○ They're in urgent need of medical supplies. ■ verb 1. to require something, or have to have something ○ We shall need some euros for our holiday in Spain. ○ Painting needs a lot of skill. ○ I need someone to help me with the cooking. 2. to want something ○ Does anyone need any more coffee? ■ modal verb to be necessary ○ Need you make so much noise in the bath? ○ Need you go now? ○ The living room needs painting or needs to be painted. ○ You don't need to come if you have a cold. ○ The police need to know who saw the accident.

needle /'ni:d(ə)l/ noun 1. a metal tool for sewing, like a long pin, with a hole at one end for the thread to go through ○ This needle hasn't got a very sharp point. ○ You must try to put the piece of wool through the hole in the needle. □ it's like looking for a needle in a haystack it's a hopeless task 2. a hand on a dial ○ He looked at the dial and saw the needle was pointing to zero. 3. the thin leaf of a pine tree ○ She had lots of pine needles stuck in her hair.

needless /'ni:dləs/ adj not necessary. Synonym unnecessary □ to cause someone needless worry to make someone worried when there is no cause ○ Don't send a police car to the house – we don't want to cause them needless worry. □ needless to say as you might expect ○ Needless to say, they can't pay for it themselves.

needlework /'ni:d(ə)lwɜ:k/ noun decorative sewing

③ needn't /'ni:dnt/ modal verb it is not necessary ○ She needn't come if she has a cold. ○ You needn't have made a cake – I'm not hungry. ○ She needn't make such a fuss about a little spider. (NOTE: Needn't is only used with other verbs and is not followed by to. Note also the difference in meanings: mustn't = not allowed; needn't = not necessary: We mustn't be late; You needn't hurry.)

needs /ni:dz/ plural noun what is basically needed

needy /'ni:di/ adj very poor ○ an organisation dedicated to helping needy people in Africa (NOTE: needier – neediest) ■ plural noun □ the needy poor people ○ He tried to help the needy as much as he could.

nefarious /nɪ'fearɪəs/ adj very wicked negate /nɪ'geɪt/ verb to cancel something out, to remove the effect of something (formal) negation /nɪ'geɪʃ(ə)n/ noun what is cancelled out or negated

② negative /'negatɪv/ noun 1. meaning 'no' ○ The answer was in the negative. 2. developed film with an image where the light parts are dark and dark parts light ○ Don't touch the negatives with your dirty fingers. ■ adj showing the absence of something ○ Her blood test was negative. □ a negative response an answer saying 'no'

neglect /nɪ'glekt/ noun a lack of care ○ The building has suffered from years of neglect. Synonym negligence (NOTE: no plural) ■ verb 1. to fail to look after someone or something properly ○ He neglected his three children. ○ The building had been neglected by its owners. 2. not to do something ○ She neglected to return her income tax form. ○ He neglected to tell the police that he had been involved in an accident.

neglected /nɪ'glektɪd/ adj not looked after neglectful /nɪ'glektf(ə)l/ adj not doing anything about something that is your responsibility. Synonym negligent négligée /'nɛglɪʒeɪ/, negligee noun a woman's light dressing gown negligence /'neglɪdʒəns/ noun a lack of proper care; not doing what you should do. Synonym neglect negligent /'neglɪdʒ(ə)nt/ adj showing negligence, not taking proper care negligible /'neglɪdʒib(ə)l/ adj very small, not worth bothering about. Synonym insignificant. Antonym significant □ not negligible quite large ○ The loss was not a negligible one.

negotiable /nɪ'gəʊʃiəb(ə)l/ adj 1. which can be changed or decided by discussions between the people involved ○ The salary for the job is negotiable. 2. which can be exchanged for cash 3. (of a path) which can be used ○ The route through the mountains is only negotiable during the summer.

③ negotiate /nɪ'gəʊʃieɪt/ verb 1. to discuss with someone ○ We are negotiating with the travel agent about a refund. 2. to make a commercial arrangement ○ The two parties negotiated the terms of the contract. 3. to go round something which is in the way ○ We had to negotiate several boulders in the road. ◎ The burglars managed to negotiate the alarm system successfully.

negotiating table /nɪ'gəʊʃɪeɪtɪŋ ,teɪb(ə)l/ noun a meeting between parties to negotiate

② negotiation /nɪ,gəʊʃi'eɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the process of discussing something ◎ The only answer to this conflict is peaceful negotiation. □ it is open to negotiation the terms can be negotiated negotiations /nɪ,gəʊʃi'eɪʃ(ə)nz/ plural noun discussions negotiator /nɪ'gəʊʃɪeɪtə/ noun a person who discusses neigh /neɪ/ noun a sound made by a horse ◎ The horse gave a loud neigh and galloped off. ■ verb to make the sound of a horse ◎ We could hear the horses neighing in the stables.

② neighbour /'neɪbə/ noun 1. a person who lives near you, who is sitting next to you, etc. ◎ Help yourself and then pass the plate on to your neighbour. ◎ He doesn't get on with his neighbours. □ the Swedes and the Norwegians are neighbours their countries are close together 2. another person (old) ◎ Love of your neighbour is one of the essentials of Christian doctrine. (NOTE: [all senses] The US spelling is neighbor.)

neighbourhood /'neɪbəhʊd/ noun a small area and the people who live in it ◎ This is a quiet neighbourhood – we don't like noisy parties. ◎ The doctor knows everyone in the neighbourhood. ◇ in the neighbourhood of 1. near ◎ There are three hotels in the neighbourhood of the Conference Centre. 2. approximately ◎ The sum involved is in the neighbourhood of £100,000. (NOTE: The US spelling is neighborhood.)

neighbouring /'neɪbərɪŋ/ adj which is close to you (NOTE: The US spelling is neighboring.)

neighbourly /'neɪbəlɪ/ adv friendly to the people near you ◎ It's very neighbourly of you to lend us your lawnmower. ◎ People in this street aren't very neighbourly. (NOTE: The US spelling is neighbory.)

② neither /'naɪðə, 'ni:ðə/ adj, pron not either of two people or things ◎ Neither car or neither of the cars passed the test. ◎ Neither sister is dark or neither of the sisters is dark. ■ adv not either ◎ He doesn't eat meat and neither does his wife. ◎ She isn't fat but neither is she really very thin. ■ conj □ neither...nor not one...and not the other ◎ The water is neither too hot nor too cold – it's just right. ◎ She's neither Chinese nor Japanese – she comes from Korea. ◎ Neither his mother nor his father is coming to the wedding.

neoclassical /,ni:əʊ'klæsɪk(ə)l/ adj in the ancient Greek and Roman style neologism /ni'plædʒɪz(ə)m/ noun a new word, one that has come into use very recently neon /'ni:ɒn/ noun an inert gas found in very small quantities in the atmosphere and used in illuminated signs

③ nephew /'nefju:/ noun the son of your sister or brother nepotism /'nepətɪz(ə)m/ noun the unfair practice of giving jobs to members of your own family rather than to people who deserve to have them nerd /nɜ:d/ noun a person who is very interested in technical things, especially computers, and who other people sometimes think is boring

③ nerve /nɜ:v/ noun 1. one of the fibres in your body which take messages to and from the brain ◎ Nerves are very delicate and easily damaged. 2. □ to be in a state of nerves to be tense and worried □ to get on someone's nerves to annoy someone ◎ That humming noise is really getting on my nerves. 3. over-confidence or rude behaviour ◎ He's got a nerve to ask for a day off, when he was away all last week. 4. being brave ◎ He wanted to try jumping with a parachute but at the last minute he lost his nerve. ■ verb □ to nerve yourself to get all your strength together ◎ He nerved himself against the meeting with the police. ◎ She nerved herself to take her driving test.

nerve centre /'nɜ:v ,sentə/ noun a point at which nerves come together nerve-racking /'nɜ:v rækɪŋ/ adj which is extremely frightening or worrying nerve-wracking /'nɜ:v 'rækɪŋ/ adj same as nerve-racking

③ nervous /'nɜ:vəs/ adj 1. referring to the nerves ◎ the nervous system 2. worried and easily frightened ◎ to be of a nervous disposition ◎ She gets nervous if she is alone in the house at night. ◎ He's nervous about driving in London.

nervous breakdown /,nɜ:vəs 'breɪkdaʊn/ noun a non-medical expression for a condition where a patient becomes so worried or upset that he or she is not able to do anything nervous energy /,nɜ:vəs 'enədʒi/ noun excited tense energy nervously /'nɜ:vəsli/ adv in a nervous way nervous system /'nɜ:vəs ,sistəm/ noun the system of nerves in the body, including the spinal cord and nerve centres nervy /'nɜ:vi/ adj feeling worried (informal). Antonym calm

④ nest /nest/ noun 1. a structure built by birds to lay their eggs in, also by some animals and insects ◎ an ants' nest ◎ The birds built their nests among the trees. ○ The blackbirds have laid three eggs in their nest. 2. □ nest of tables tables of different sizes which fit under each other ■ verb to build a nest and lay eggs ○ The swans are nesting by the river bank.

③ nest egg /'nest eg/ noun money which you have saved. Synonym savings nestle /'nes(ə)l/ verb 1. to sit somewhere comfortable and relax ○ The cat nestled down quietly in the cushions. ○ The children nestled round their mother as she read them a story. 2. to be in a safe and sheltered place ○ Their cottage nestles at the bottom of the valley. ○ A church nestling in the hills.

② net /net/ noun 1. a woven material with large holes ○ A long petticoat made of pink net. 2. a piece of this material used for a special purpose 3. same as Internet ■ verb to make a profit ○ We netted £3,000 on the deal. (NOTE: netting – netted) ■ adj after everything else has been considered ○ That figure is net, not gross. Synonym remaining netball /'netbɔ:l/ noun a team game similar to basketball, played by two teams of seven players, usually women, in which the aim is to score points by throwing the ball through a horizontal ring into a high net net curtains /net 'kɔ:t(ə)nz/ plural noun light curtains made of thin lacy material

net earnings /net 'ɛ:nɪŋz/ plural noun the money that someone earns after tax has been taken out net income /net 'ɪnkʌm/ noun same as net earnings

net salary /net 'sælərɪ/ noun same as net earnings

③ nett /net/ another spelling of net

netting /'netɪŋ/ noun a loosely woven material

③ nettle /'net(ə)l/ noun □ to grasp the nettle to deal with a problem quickly and firmly to settle it before it causes you any more trouble ○ No politician has dared grasp the nettle of sponsorship of sport. ■ verb to make someone annoyed (informal) ○ She was clearly nettled by his remarks. Synonym irritate

net weight /net 'weɪt/ noun a weight of goods without the packing material and container

③ network /'netwɜ:k/ noun 1. a system things such as roads or railways connecting different places ○ the British rail network ○ a satellite TV network ○ There is a network of tunnels under the castle. 2. a system of computers which are connected together ○ How does this network operate? ○ You can book at any of our hotels throughout the country using our computer network. 3. a group of people connected with each other ○

His rapidly developing network of contacts in government. ④ old boy network ■ verb to connect two or more computers to allow them to exchange information ○ Workstations are usually networked and share resources.

networking /'netwɜ:kiŋ/ noun 1. keeping in contact with people who are in the same profession as you and who may be able to help you ○ A conference is a good opportunity to do some networking. 2. broadcasting a TV programme over several stations at the same time ○ TV executives are always hoping to find popular programmes suitable for nationwide networking. 3. connecting two or more computers with each other neural /'nju:ərəl/ adj referring to a nerve or the nervous system neurology /'nju:rɒlədʒi/ noun the study of nerves and the illnesses which affect them neurosis /'nju:rəʊsɪs/ noun a mental state in which a patient thinks all the time about something in an excessive way and experiences strong emotions about it, such as fear of empty spaces. Synonym quirk (NOTE: The plural is neuroses /'nju:rəʊsɪz:/.)

neurotic /'nju:rɒtɪk/ adj worried or always thinking about something in an excessive way ○ She has a neurotic dislike of cats. ○ Don't get neurotic about the change in the firm's logo. Antonym rational ■ noun a person who has a neurosis ○ He's a neurotic who genuinely believes spiders will kill him.

neuter /'nju:tə/ adj (in grammar) neither masculine nor feminine in some languages, such as German and Latin ○ Strangely enough, the usual word for 'girl' in German is neuter. ■ verb to remove an animal's sex organs ○ We took our tomcat to the vet to have him neutered.

neutral /'nju:tɪəl/ adj 1. not in favour of one side or the other in a disagreement ○ The UN sent in neutral observers. ○ The arbitrator has to stay neutral. 2. refusing to take part in a war ○ During the war, Switzerland remained neutral. 3. with a light colour, such as beige or pale grey ○ Red walls, green upholstery and a neutral carpet. ■ noun 1. a country which does not take part in a war 2. a citizen of a neutral country ○ Only neutrals were admitted to the talks. 3. (of motor vehicles) not in gear ○ The car is in neutral.

neutralisation /,nju:tɪrlaɪz'zeɪʃ(ə)n/, neutralization noun a process of working against the harmful effects of something neutralise /'nju:tɪrlaɪz/, neutralize verb 1. to make an acid neutral ○ Acid in drainage water can be neutralised by limestone. 2. to work against the effect of something ○ We acted immediately to neutralise the threat from their navy. 3. to make a poison harmless

○ You need to act quickly to neutralise the effects of the snake bite.

neutrality /nju:træliti/ noun the fact of being neutral in a war neutron /nju:ttrən/ noun a neutral particle in the nucleus of an atom

① never /'nevə/ adv not at any time; not ever ○ We'll never forget that restaurant. ○ I've never bought anything in that shop although I've often been inside it. ○ He never eats meat. □ never mind! don't worry, don't bother about it □ well I never! how surprising! ○ Well I never – it's James!

never-ending /,nevər 'endɪŋ/ adj which seems as if it will never stop. Synonym endless

② nevertheless /,nevəðə'les/ adv although a particular situation exists ○ I know it is raining, but nevertheless I'd like to go for a walk along the beach. ○ She had a cold, but went to the meeting nevertheless.

① new /nju:/ adj 1. made very recently, never used before ○ Put some new paper in the printer. ○ This is the new model – it's just come out. 2. which arrived recently, fresh ○ There are two new secretaries in the office. 3. which has just been bought ○ Are your shoes new? ○ She bought herself a new motorbike. ○ He's trying to get his new computer to work. 4. completely different from what was before ○ We need someone with new ideas. ○ They put some new wallpaper in the bedroom. (NOTE: newer – newest)

New Age /nju: eɪdʒ/ adj of modern ideas about spiritual and medical matters ■ noun a style of music intended to make you feel calm new blood /nju: 'blʌd/ noun a person or persons who bring new ideas to an organisation newborn /nju:bɔ:n/ adj which has been born recently ○ The mother and her newborn baby survived the crash. ■ noun a newborn baby newcomer /nju:kʌmə/ noun a person who has just come to a place new face /nju: 'feɪs/ noun a person whom you have not seen before, who has not been part of something before newfangled /nju: 'fæŋgəld/ adj modern and complicated. Antonym old-fashioned new-found /nju: 'faʊnd/ adj that has been found recently

③ newly /'nju:li/ adv recently newly-weds /'nju:li wedz/ plural noun two people who have just got married new moon /nju: 'mu:n/ noun the beginning of a lunar phase, when the moon's face is not lit by the sun and it is seen as only a thin curved shape newness /'nju:nəs/ noun the fact of being recent or fresh; not having been used new potatoes /nju: pə'teɪtəuz/ plural noun the first young potatoes of a year's harvest

① news /nju:z/ noun spoken or written information about what has happened ○ What's the news of your sister? ○ She told me all the latest news about the office. ○ He was watching the 10 o'clock news on TV. ○ I don't want to hear any bad news. □ have you heard the news? have you heard what has happened? ○ Have you had any news about your pay rise? □ to break the news to someone to tell someone the bad news ○ He broke the news to his daughters. □ no news is good news if there is nothing new to mention, things must be going well news agency /'nju:z ,eɪdʒənsi/ noun an office which sends out information to newspapers and TV newsagent /'nju:zeɪdʒənt/ noun a person who sells newspapers (NOTE: Newsagent has no connection with news agency)

news bulletin /'nju:z ,bulɪtɪn/ noun 1. a short news broadcast on the current situation ○ The BBC broadcasts news bulletins every hour. 2. information on a situation that is changing ○ The hospital issued a daily news bulletin on the condition of the accident victims.

newscast /'nju:zka:st/ noun a news programme on radio or TV newscaster /'nju:zka:stə/ noun a person who reads the news on radio or TV

newscasting /'nju:zka:stɪŋ/ noun the job or practice of reading the news on radio or TV

③ news conference /'nju:z ,kɒnf(ə)rəns/ noun a meeting with journalists to give information about something and answer questions newsflash /'nju:zflæʃ/ noun a short piece of news broadcast at an unexpected time newsgroup /'nju:z,gru:p/ noun an Internet discussion group newsletter /'nju:zletə/ noun a printed sheet or small newspaper giving news about a company, a club or other organisation

① newspaper /'nju:zpeɪpə/ noun a publication consisting of loose folded sheets of paper, which usually comes out each day, with news of what has happened ○ He was so absorbed in his newspaper that he didn't notice that the toast had burnt. ○ We saw your picture in the local newspaper. ○ The newspapers are full of news of the election. □ a daily newspaper a newspaper which is published every day except Sunday newsprint /'nju:zprɪnt/ noun cheap paper used for newspapers and magazines (NOTE: no plural)

③ newsreader /'nju:zri:də/ noun a person who reads the news on radio or TV. Also called newscaster newsroom /'nju:zru:m/ noun a room in a newspaper office, TV or radio station where news reports are received and prepared for publishing or broadcasting newssheet /'nju:zʃɪ:t/ noun a simple newspaper usually with very few pages. Synonym newsletter newsstall /'nju:zstɔ:l/, newsstand /'nju:zstænd/ noun especially US a small shop or shelter selling books, newspapers and magazines (NOTE: Another British term is bookstall.)

news vendor /'nju:z ,vendə/ noun a person who sells newspapers in the street newsworthy /'nju:zvɜ:ði/ adj interesting enough to be in the newspapers or on radio or TV newt /'nju:t/ noun a little lizard-like animal, living in water new wave /'nju: wεv/ noun 1. a type of rock music that became popular after punk rock 2. a form of film-making which started in France during the 1950s with an emphasis on original methods and the individual styles of directors 3. an original movement in the arts

New World /,nju: 'wɜ:ld/ noun North and South America

② New Year /'nju: 'jɪə/ noun the first few days of the year □ Happy New Year! good wishes for the New Year □ to see the New Year in to stay awake until after midnight on 31st December to celebrate the beginning of the New Year

③ New Year's Day /,nju: jɪəz 'deɪ/ noun 1st January

③ New Year's Eve /,nju: jɪəz 'i:vv/ noun 31st December

New Year's resolution /,nju: jɪəz rezɒ'lju:ʃ(ə)n/ noun a plan to improve your way of living, decided on at the New Year, and usually given up soon afterwards

① New Zealander /'nju: 'zi:ləndə/ noun a person from New Zealand

① next /nekst/ adj, adv 1. coming after in time □ On Wednesday we go to Paris, and the next day we travel to Italy. □ First you put the eggs into a bowl and next you add some sugar. □ Don't forget to give me a call when you're next in town. □ Next week is the start of our holiday. □ The next time you go to the supermarket, can you get some coffee? 2. nearest in place □ The ball went over the fence into the next garden. □ She took the seat next to mine. □ it costs next to nothing

it doesn't cost very much ■ pron the thing or person following □ After two buses went past full, the next was almost empty. □ I'll be back from holiday the week after next. □ (asking the next person in the queue to come) Next, please!

③ next door /,nekst 'dɔ:/ adj, adv in the house next to this one □ Who lives next door to your mother? □ The shop is next door to a bank. □ Our next-door neighbours have gone on holiday, and we are looking after their cat. □ next-door neighbours the people who live in the house next to yours next of kin /,nekst əv 'kɪn/ noun your nearest relatives

NGO abbr non-governmental organisation (NOTE: The plural is NGOs.)

NHS abbr national health service nib /nɪb/ noun the point of a pen, from which the ink flows nibble /'nɪb(ə)l/ verb to take small bites □ She was nibbling a biscuit. □ The mice have nibbled into the flour sacks. Synonym chew nibbles /'nɪb(ə)lz/ plural noun little snacks, such as peanuts or crisps, served with drinks

① nice /nais/ adj 1. pleasant, enjoyable □ We had a nice time at the seaside. □ If the weather's nice let's have a picnic. □ The nicest thing about the town is that it is on the sea. 2. pleasant, polite □ That wasn't a very nice thing to say. □ Try and be nice to your grandfather. 3. slight □ He drew a very nice distinction between the two terms. (NOTE: nicer – nicest)

nice-looking /nais 'lɒkɪŋ/ adj attractive or pleasing to look at ③ nicely /'naisli/ adv 1. very well □ That will do nicely, thank you. 2. politely □ You can have a biscuit if you ask for it nicely.

niceness /'naisnəs/ noun the quality of being nice nicety /'naisəti/ noun a slight or exact detail

niche /ni:ʃ/ noun 1. a place which curves inwards in a wall □ There are statues in niches all round the garden. 2. □ to find your niche, to find a niche for yourself, to carve out a niche for yourself to find the right job or activity for yourself □ He found his niche working in an animal hospital.

nick /nɪk/ noun 1. a small cut in something □ He made a nick in the stick. 2. □ in the nick of time just in time (informal) 3. a prison □ He's been in the nick for the last year. 4. □ in good nick in good condition (slang) □ The car was in quite good nick so I bought it. ■ verb 1. to make a small cut in something □ He nicked his finger with a razor blade. 2. to steal □ A group of young lads who went around nicking things from the local shops. ○ Who's nicked my umbrella?

nickel /'nɪk(ə)l/ noun 1. a metallic element, used in making special metal alloys ○ nickel-plated handlebars ○ We use an alloy of copper and nickel. 2. US and Canada a 5-cent coin ○ Can you lend me a nickel?

nickname /'nɪkneɪm/ noun a short or informal name given to someone ○ Her real name's Henrietta, but everyone calls her by her nickname 'Bobbles'. ■ verb to give a nickname to ○ He was nicknamed 'Camel' because of his big nose.

nicotine /'nɪkətɪn/ noun a harmful substance in tobacco, also used for killing insects □ nicotine-stained fingers yellow fingers from smoking cigarettes

③ niece /ni:s/ noun the daughter of a brother or sister nifty /'nɪfti/ adj 1. good, quick, and clever at doing something or using something 2. very good or effective niggle /'nɪg(ə)l/ verb 1. to criticise someone or something in an annoying way 2. to be a cause of worry to somebody, especially in a small way over a long period of time ■ noun 1. a small or unimportant complaint, criticism, or disagreement 2. a small but continuing cause of worry niggling /'nɪg(ə)lɪŋ/ adj small and not very important nigh /naɪ/ adv near (old)

① night /naɪt/ noun 1. a part of the day when it is dark ○ It's dangerous to walk alone in the streets at night. ○ Burglars got into the office during the night. ○ He is on night duty three days a week. ○ They're planning to have a night out tomorrow. 2. a part of the day when it is dark and you sleep □ to have a bad night not to sleep well ○ We had a bad night – both the children have bad coughs. ♫ owl nightclub /'naɪtkləb/ noun a club which is only open at night nightdress /'naɪtdres/ noun a long loose dress which you wear in bed (NOTE: usually called a nightie) nightfall /'naɪtfɔ:l/ noun the time when night starts. Synonym dusk. Antonym daybreak nightgown /'naɪt,gaʊn/ noun a nightdress or nightshirt nightie /'naɪti/ noun a nightdress (informal) nightingale /'naɪtingeɪl/ noun a small singing bird which sings at night night life /'naɪt laɪf/ noun entertainment in a town at night nightly /'naɪtlɪ/ adv every night ○ Car thefts are a nightly occurrence around here.

nightmare /'naɪtmɛə/ noun 1. a very frightening dream ○ I had a nightmare that I was drowning. 2. an extremely unpleasant experience ○ The dinner party was a nightmare. ○ A nightmare journey across the desert.

night owl /'naɪt aʊl/ noun a person who likes to stay up late, and does not get up early in the morning (informal). Compare early bird night shift /'naɪt ʃɪft/ noun a period of work which is worked during the night nightshirt /'naɪt,ʃɜ:t/ noun a piece of clothing like a long loose shirt for wearing in bed night-time /'naɪt taɪm/ noun a period when it is night nightwatchman /naɪt'wɒtʃmən/ noun a man who guards a building at night

③ nil /nil/ noun nothing nimble /'nɪmbl/ adj able to move quickly. Synonym sprightly (NOTE: nimbler – nimblest) nimbly /'nɪmblɪ/ adv in an expert way

① nine /nain/ noun number 9 ○ She's nine (years old) tomorrow. ○ The shop opens at 9 o'clock. □ nine times out of ten very often. ♫ dressed

9/11 /,nain ɪ'lev(ə)n/ noun the events of 11 September 2001, when terrorists flew aircraft into the two towers of the World Trade Center in New York, destroying them and causing thousands of deaths

999 /,nain nam 'nain/ noun a telephone number to call the emergency services in Britain ○ The firemen came quickly when we called 999. ○ The ambulance answered the 999 call.

911 /,nain wan 'wʌn/ noun the telephone number used in the United States to call for police, fire, or ambulance emergency services

① nineteen /,nain'ti:n/ noun number 19 ○ He's nineteen (years old) tomorrow. □ the nineteen fifteen train the train leaving at 19.15 □ in the 1950s during the years 1950 to 1959 □ the nineteen hundreds (1900s) the years from 1900 to 1999

① nineteenth /nain'ti:nθ/, 19th adj, noun referring to 19 ○ It's his nineteenth birthday tomorrow. ○ The nineteenth of August or August the nineteenth (August 19th). □ the nineteenth century the period from 1800 to 1899

① ninetieth /'naɪntiəθ/, 90th adj, noun referring to 90

nine-to-five /,nain tə 'faɪv/ adj which exists or is needed every day, e.g. at an office job, especially between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m.

① ninety /'naɪnti/ noun number 90 ○ My old aunt will be ninety (years old) next week and her husband is ninety-two: they are both in their nineties. □ the (nineteen) nineties (1990s) the years from 1990 to 1999

① ninth /nainθ/, 9th adj, noun referring to 9
□ the ninth century the period from 800 to 899 AD

nip /nip/ noun 1. a short sharp bite □ The little dog gave him a nasty nip. 2. a small amount of alcohol □ We sell whisky at £1 per nip. 3. □ there's a nip in the air the air feels cold □ verb 1. to squeeze sharply □ We nipped off the end of the stalk to stop the plant growing any taller. □ The crab nipped his thumb as he picked it up. ↗ bud 2. to bite sharply □ The dog nipped the postman in the leg. 3. to go very quickly □ I'll just nip round to the newsagent's and get the evening paper. □ We'll nip down to the pub for a drink. (NOTE: nipping – nipped)

③ nipple /nip(ə)l/ noun 1. the darker part in the centre of a woman's breast, through which the milk passes □ She held the baby to her nipple. 2. a valve for greasing a machine □ a grease nipple

nippy /'nipɪ/ adj 1. cold □ Put on your coat, it's quite nippy outside. 2. which goes fast □ It's a nippy little car. (NOTE: nippier – nippiest) nirvana /nɪ'və:nə/ noun 1. a state of spiritual enlightenment in religions such as Hinduism, Buddhism and Jainism 2. a state of mind in which you feel extremely happy nit-picking /nit' ,pɪkɪŋ/ noun finding little things to criticise nitrate /'naitrət/ noun a chemical compound containing nitrogen and oxygen, existing in all plants

③ nitrogen /'naɪtrədʒən/ noun an important gas which is essential for life, and which forms most of the atmosphere nitty-gritty /nɪt'igrɪtɪ/ noun the basic details of an argument nitwit /'nɪtwɪt/ noun a stupid idiot (insult)

① no /nəʊ/ adj, adv 1. showing the opposite of 'yes' □ I asked my mother if we could borrow her car but she said 'no'. □ Do you want another cup of coffee? – No, thank you. 2. not any □ There's no milk left in the fridge. □ We live in a little village, and there's no post office for miles around. □ We had no reply to our fax. 3. □ no entry do not go in this way □ no exit do not go out this way □ no parking do not park □ no smoking do not smoke 4. not at all □ My new kitchen knife is no sharper than the old one. □ She no longer works here. □ I'm no good at maths.

③ no. /'nəmbəl/ abbr number nobility /nəʊ'biliti/ noun 1. all noble families, taken as a group □ The king invited members of the nobility to the meeting. □ The nobility fought hard to protect their privi- leges. 2. the quality of being extremely polite, being impressive and brave □ The nobility of his actions is not in doubt. (NOTE: no plural) noble /'nəʊb(ə)l/ noun a person of high rank □ The nobles forced the king to sign the treaty. Synonym aristocrat. Antonym commoner ■ adj 1. of high rank in society □ She comes from a noble family – her father is an earl. 2. extremely polite or impressive □ It was very noble of him to lend her his umbrella. □ She did it for the noblest of reasons.

nobleman /'nəʊb(ə)lmən/ noun a man of high rank. Synonym noble. Antonym commoner (NOTE: The plural is noblemen.)

noblewoman /'nəʊb(ə)lwomən/ noun a woman of high rank. Synonym noble. Antonym commoner (NOTE: The plural is noblewomen.)

① nobody /'nəʊbədɪ/ pron no one or no person □ There was nobody in the café. □ We met nobody on our way here. □ Nobody wants to do her job. □ You'll have to drive the bus – nobody else has a driving licence.

■ noun an unimportant person □ a committee packed with nobodies. Synonym nonentity

no claims bonus /nəʊ 'kleɪmz, bəʊnəs/ noun a reduced insurance premium because no claims have been made against the policy nocturnal /nɒk'tɜ:n(ə)l/ adj 1. referring to the night □ The nocturnal habits of the badger. 2. active at night □ nocturnal animals animals which are active at night, and sleep during the day

② nod /nɒd/ noun a little movement of the head up and down, meaning 'yes' □ He gave me a nod as I came in. □ it went through on the nod it was accepted without any discussion (informal) ■ verb 1. to move the head slightly up and down, meaning 'yes' □ When he asked her if she understood, she nodded (her head). □ He nodded to show his agreement. (NOTE: the opposite is to shake your head, meaning 'no'.) 2. to move the head slightly up and down, to mean 'hello' or 'goodbye' □ She nodded at me as I went past. 3. □ to nod off to go to sleep □ She was nodding off in front of the television.

③ node /nəʊd/ noun 1. a small mass of tissue; group of nerve cells 2. a point where two lines cross nodule /'nɒdju:l/ noun a small lump or swelling

Noel /nəʊ'el/ noun (in carols and on cards) Christmas no-go area /,nəʊ 'gəʊ ,gəriə/ noun an area of a town where ordinary people or the police cannot go

② noise /nɔɪz/ noun 1. a loud or unpleasant sound □ Don't make any noise – the guards might hear you. □ The workmen are making such a lot of noise that we can't use the tele- phone. 2. sound in general ○ The baby made a little gurgling noise. ○ Is there anything the matter with the washing machine – it's making a funny noise. ○ There was a noise of running water in the bathroom. ○ He woke up when he heard a noise in the kitchen.

noiseless /'nɔɪzləs/ adj making no noise. Synonym soundless. Antonym noisy noiselessly /'nɔɪzləsli/ adv making no noise noise pollution /'nɔɪz pə,lu:ʃ(ə)n/ noun spoiling people's enjoyment of the outdoors by making a lot of noise noisily /'nɔɪzilil/ adv making a lot of noise

③ noisy /'nɔɪzɪ/ adj which makes a lot of noise ○ A crowd of noisy little boys. ○ Unfortunately, the hotel overlooks a noisy cross-roads. ○ This lawn mower is noisier than our old one. (NOTE: noisier – noisiest) nomad /'nəʊməd/ noun a person who moves from place to place in a large area of land without settling in any one spot nomadic /nəʊ'mædɪk/ adj 1. referring to nomads ○ Nomadic herdsman wander across the plains with their cattle. 2. moving all the time ○ Families of diplomats lead a nomadic existence, moving from country to country.

no-man's-land /'nəʊ mænz ,lænd/ noun land between two countries or armies, which does not belong to either nominal /'nɒmɪn(ə)l/ adj 1. in name, not in fact ○ He's the nominal head of the company, but his secretary does all the work. ○ His appointment as director is entirely nominal – I will continue to be in charge. 2. involving a small amount of money ○ We pay a nominal fee. ○ The subscription is really nominal. ○ We make a nominal charge for our services.

nominally /'nɒmɪn(ə)li/ adv in name, not in fact nominate /'nɒmɪneɪt/ verb to suggest someone for a post

② nomination /'nɒmɪ'neɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. the action of nominating ○ Her nomination to the board of directors. 2. a name which has been suggested ○ There are three nominations for the post of secretary.

nominee /'nɒmɪ'nī:/ noun a person who has been suggested for something such as a job. Synonym candidate non- /nɒn/ prefix not non-aggression /nɒn ə'gresʃ(ə)n/ noun a government's policy of not attacking other countries non-alcoholic /,nɒn əlkə'hɒlɪk/ adj not containing alcohol

non-aligned /,nɒn ə'laɪnd/ adj which is not on the side of a specific country or political party non-aligned state /,nɒn ə'laɪnd 'steɪt/ noun a country which is not connected to one of the powerful countries in the world nonchalance /'nɒnʃ(ə)ləns/ noun the quality of being calm, not showing any excitement. Synonym indifference nonchalant /'nɒnʃ(ə)lənt/ adj not showing any excitement or worry about anything. Synonym casual. Antonym concerned non-combatant /nɒn 'kɒmbətənt/ noun 1. a person who is not in the armed forces during a war 2. a chaplain, medical officer, or other member of the armed forces who does not take part in battle non-committal /,nɒn kə'mɪtl/ adj not deciding on a definite course of action, not agreeing with either side in an argument nonconformist /,nɒnknə'fɔ:mrɪst/ adj, noun not following the usual social conventions ○ His nonconformist attitude to staff relations. Antonym conformist non-count /nɒn kaʊnt/ noun same as uncount noun nondescript /'nɒndɪskrɪpt/ adj very ordinary, without any special qualities

① none /nʌn/ pron 1. not any ○ How many dogs have you got? – None. ○ Can you buy some milk, we've none left in the fridge? ○ A little money is better than none at all. □ her health is none too good it is not very good 2. not one ○ None of my friends smokes. ○ None of the group can speak Chinese. ■ adv not at all (used with 'the' and comparative) ○ She seems none the better for her holiday. □ he was none the worse for his accident he was not at all hurt in the accident □ to be none the wiser to know no more about it than you did before ○ I read his report, and I'm still none the wiser. ○ His lengthy explanation left us none the wiser about how the system would work.

nonentity /nɒn'entɪti/ noun a person who is completely unimportant. Synonym nobody nonetheless /,nɒnθeə'les/ adv although a particular situation exists. Synonym however non-event /nɒn ɪ'vent/ noun an occasion or event which makes you feel disappointed because it is not as good as you expected nonexistent /,nɒnɪg'zɪstənt/ adj which does not exist, which is not real non-fiction /nɒn 'fɪkʃən/ noun books which are about real things, events or people, and are not stories (NOTE: no plural)

non-flammable /nɒn 'flæməb(ə)l/ adj which does not burn easily non-intervention /nɒn ,ɪntə'venʃ(ə)n/ noun a decision or policy to avoid becoming involved in disagreements between two other people or countries non-invasive /nɒn ɪn'veɪzɪv/ adj 1. which does not involve cutting open the patient's body 2. which does not spread throughout the body non-member /nɒn 'membə/ noun not a member of a particular organisation no-no /'nəʊ nəʊ/ noun a thing which is not allowed (informal) no-nonsense /nəʊ 'nɒnsəns/ adj sensible, serious and honest. Antonym airy-fairy non-payment /nɒn 'peɪmənt/ noun a failure to pay □ non-payment of a debt not paying money which is owed nonplussed /nɒn'plʌst/ adj confused non-profit /nɒn 'prɒfɪt/ adj not making a profit non-profit-making /nɒn 'prɒfɪt meɪkɪŋ/ adj which does make a profit, or is not allowed to make a profit (NOTE: The US term is non-profit.)

non-proliferation /nɒn prə,laɪfə'reɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the practice of limiting the production or spread of something, especially nuclear weapons or other weapons of mass destruction nonrefundable /nɒnref'fʌndəb(ə)l/ adj for which payment cannot be given back non-renewable /nɒn rɪ'nju:əb(ə)l/ adj 1. (of fuel or energy) which exists only in limited amounts 2. (of a contract) which cannot continue for a longer period than the original agreement non-resident /nɒn 'rezɪd(ə)nt/ adj who is not living in or not staying very long in a place □ The hotel restaurant is open to non-residents. □ noun a person who is not living in a place or not staying there very long

③ nonsense /'nɒnsəns/ noun silly ideas □ I'm too fat – nonsense! □ He talked a lot of nonsense. □ It's nonsense to expect people to pay money for that. (NOTE: no plural) nonsensical /nɒn'sensɪk(ə)l/ adj extremely foolish. Synonym ridiculous. Antonym sensible non sequitur /nɒn 'sekwɪtə/ noun a statement which appears to have no connection to what was said immediately before it non-smoker /nɒn 'sməʊkə/ noun a person who does not smoke non-smoking /nɒn 'sməʊkɪŋ/ adj where smoking is not allowed non-standard /nɒn 'stændəd/ adj not meeting the requirements of an accepted standard nonstarter /nɒn'stɑ:tə/ noun 1. a horse which is not ready to start at the beginning of a race 2. a project or plan which is never going to be accepted non-stick /nɒn 'stɪk/ adj with a surface which prevents food sticking to it

non-stop /nɒn 'stɒp/ adj which does not stop □ a non-stop train to Paris □ They took a non-stop flight to Australia. □ All our flights to Toronto are non-stop. □ adv without stopping □ The planes flies to Hong Kong non-stop. □ They worked non-stop to finish the job on time.

non-violent /nɒn 'vaɪələnt/ adj with no violence noodles /'nu:d(ə)lz/ plural noun long flat pieces of pasta □ I ordered spicy meatballs with noodles. □ We started with chicken noodle soup.

nook /nʊk/ noun a small hiding place □ in every nook and cranny in every little hole and corner □ We looked in every nook and cranny for the missing ring.

noon /nu:n/ noun twelve o'clock in the middle of the day. Synonym midday

① no one /'nəʊ wʌn/ pron no person □ You can go to the bathroom – there's no one there. □ We met no one we knew. □ No one here takes sugar in their tea. □ No one else has a driving licence so you'll have to be the driver.

noose /nu:s/ noun a circle in a piece of rope which becomes tight as you pull on it nope /nəʊp/ interj no □ Any luck? – Nope!

① nor /nɔ:/ conj and not □ I did not meet him that year nor in subsequent years. □ I never went there again, nor did my wife. □ I don't want to go – nor me! □ neither

Nordic /nɔ:dɪk/ adj referring to the people of Scandinavia

③ norm /nɔ:m/ noun the standard. Antonym exception □ to become the norm to become usual, what everybody does ① normal /'nɔ:m(ə)l/ adj usual or expected □ We hope to resume normal service as soon as possible. □ Look at the rain – it's just a normal British summer. □ What's the size of a normal swimming pool? □ At her age, it's only normal for her to want to go to parties. Synonym usual. Antonym abnormal normalcy /'nɔ:m(ə)lsi/ noun the normal state of things normalisation /,nɔ:məlɪz'eɪʃ(ə)n/, normalization noun making something normal again after it has been badly affected by something such as a war. Antonym deviation normalise /'nɔ:məlaɪz/, normalize verb to make normal again. Synonym regularise. Antonym destabilise normality /nɔ:'mælɪti/ noun the fact of being normal

① normally /'nɔ:m(ə)li/ adv usually □ The bus is normally late. □ She doesn't normally drink wine.

Norman /'nɔ:mən/ adj 1. referring to the people from Normandy who conquered England in 1066 ◎ After the Norman conquest, French became widely spoken in England. ◎ Norman architecture is heavy with round arches and thick pillars. 2. referring to Normandy, the northern part of France ■ noun a person from Normandy ◎ William the Conqueror and the Normans invaded England in 1066.

Norse /nɔ:s/ adj referring to ancient Norway or Scandinavia

① north /nɔ:θ/ noun a direction to your left when you are facing the direction where the sun rises ◎ There will be snow in the north of the country. ◎ It's cold when the wind blows from the north. ■ adj referring to the north ◎ We went on holiday to the north coast of Scotland. ◎ The north side of our house never gets any sun. ◎ When the north wind blows, you can expect snow. ■ adv towards the north ◎ They were travelling north at the time. ◎ Go north for three miles and then you'll see the road to London. ◎ Our office windows face north.

northbound /'nɔ:θbaʊnd/ adj travelling towards the north

③ north-east /,nɔ:θ 'i:st/ adv in a direction between north and east ◎ They were travelling north-east at the time. ◎ Go north-east for three miles and then you'll come to our village. ◎ Our office windows face north-east. ■ noun a part of country to the north and east ◎ The North-East of England will have snow showers. ◎ It's cold when the wind blows from the north-east.

north-easterly /nɔ:θ 'i:stəli/ adj 1. in or towards the north-east 2. (of wind direction) which blows from the north-east ■ noun a wind which blows from the north-east north-eastern /,nɔ:θ 'i:stən/ adj referring to the north-east northerly /'nɔ:ðəli/ adj in, to or from the north ◎ A strong northerly wind will bring snow. ■ noun a wind from the north ◎ The coast is battered by northerlies for most of the year.

② northern /'nɔ:ð(ə)n/ adj referring to the north ◎ Northern countries have more rain. ◎ They live in the northern part of the country.

northerner /'nɔ:ð(ə)nə/ noun a person who lives in or comes from the north northern hemisphere /,nɔ:ð(ə)n ,hemis'fiə/ noun the northern half of the Earth northernmost /'nɔ:ð(ə)n'məʊst/ adj which is furthest north

North Pole /'nɔ:θ 'pəʊl/ noun the furthest point at the north of the earth northward /nɔ:θwəd/ adj towards the north northwards /nɔ:θwədz/ adv towards the north

③ north-west /,nɔ:θ 'west/ adv in a direction between west and north ◎ They were travelling north-west at the time. ◎ Go north-west for a few miles and then you'll come to our house. ■ noun a part of the country to the north and west ◎ The North-West of England is wetter than the east coast. ◎ We can expect rain when the wind blows from the north-west. ◎ The old castle stood to the north-west of the cathedral.

north-westerly /nɔ:θ 'westəli/ adj 1. in or towards the north-west 2. (of wind direction) which blows from the north-west ■ noun a wind which blows from the north-west north-western /,nɔ:θ 'westən/ adj referring to the north-west

① Norwegian /nɔ:'wi:dʒən/ adj referring to Norway ◎ Ibsen was the most famous Norwegian author. ■ noun 1. a person from Norway ◎ The Norwegians have a very large fishing fleet. 2. the language spoken in Norway ◎ Norwegian is similar in many ways to Swedish.

① nose /nəʊz/ noun 1. a part of the head which you breathe through and smell with ◎ Dogs have wet noses. ◎ He has a cold, and his nose is red. ◎ She's got flu – her nose is running. ◎ Don't wipe your nose on your sleeve, use a tissue. □ to blow your nose to blow air through your nose into a handkerchief to remove liquid from your nose □ to speak through your nose to talk as if your nose is blocked, so that you say 'b' rather than 'm' and 'd' rather than 'n' □ to look down your nose at something to look at something as if you don't think it is very good ◎ She's got a degree and looks down her nose at the other secretaries. □ to pay through the nose for something to pay far more for something than you should ◎ He paid through the nose for his ticket to Hong Kong because it was the only seat left. □ under his very nose right in front of him ◎ I did it under his very nose and he didn't notice a thing. □ to turn your nose up at something to show that you do not feel something is good enough for you ◎ It's a marvellous deal, I don't see why you should turn your nose up at it. 2. the front part of a vehicle ◎ Cars were jammed nose to tail along the motorway. ◎ The plane crashed with its nose in the ground. ■ verb 1. □ to nose about, to nose around to look or to search in a place (informal) ◎ What are you doing nosing around in my papers? ◎ I don't like people nosing about in the office safe. 2. (of a boat) to go in gently ◎ The boat slowly nosed into the harbour.

nosebleed /'nəʊzblɪ:d/ noun blood coming from the nose

nosedive /'nəʊzdəv/ noun (of something flying) a steep movement downwards ■ verb to move down steeply and quickly ○ The birds nosedived towards the fish.

nostalgia /nɒ'stældʒɪə/ noun a sad feeling of wanting things to be the same as they were in the past nostalgic /nɒ'stældʒɪk/ adj referring to nostalgia. Synonym sentimental nostril /'nɒstrɪl/ noun one of two holes in your nose, which you breathe through ① not /nɒt/ adv used with verbs to show the negative ○ A service charge is not included. ○ It isn't there. ○ She can't come. ○ He didn't want any meat. ○ We couldn't go home because of the fog. ○ Don't you like coffee? □ not...either and not...also ○ She doesn't eat meat, and she doesn't eat fish either. ○ It wasn't hot, but it wasn't very cold either. (NOTE: not is often shortened to n't and joined onto an auxiliary verb, for example is not becomes isn't.) ◇ not exactly /nɒt ɪg'zæktli/ 1. not to the greatest possible extent ○ Was it a disaster? — Not exactly a disaster, but it didn't go very well. ○ It's not exactly the colour I wanted. 2. used for emphasising a negative ○ He's not exactly pleased at having to pay out so much money.

notable /'nəʊtəb(ə)l/ adj which is worth noticing ○ It was a notable achievement. ○ She was notable by her absence. ○ The town is notable for its currant cakes. Synonym noteworthy. Antonym insignificant ■ noun an important person ○ a meeting of local notables

③ notably /'nəʊtəbli/ adv 1. especially ○ Some Western countries, notably Canada and the United States, have a very high standard of living. 2. in a way that is easily noticed ○ The food was notably better than the last time we ate there.

notation /nəʊ'teɪʃ(ə)n/ noun a system of symbols used to show notes in music, or to show signs used in mathematics notch /nɒtʃ/ noun a small V-shaped cut ○ He cut two notches in the stick with his penknife. (NOTE: The plural is notches.) ■ verb 1. to mark with a notch ○ The stick was notched in several places. 2. □ to notch up to score, to make a number ○ She's notched up 25 years with the company. ○ He notched up twenty runs in twenty minutes.

① note /nəʊt/ noun 1. a few words in writing to remind yourself of something ○ She made a few notes before she gave her speech. ○ She made a note of what she needed to buy before she went to the supermarket. □ to take note of to pay attention to ○ We have to take note of public opinion. 2. a short message ○ She left a note for the managing director with his secretary. ○ He wrote me a note to say he couldn't come. 3. a piece of paper money ○ I tried to pay with a ten-pound note. (NOTE: The US term is bill.) 4. a musical sound or a written sign meaning a musical sound ○ He can't sing high notes. 5. a key on a piano ○ She played a tune, using only the black notes on the piano. 6. further explanations about a text ○ The notes are at the back of the book. ■ verb 1. to write down something in a few words ○ The policeman noted in his notebook all the details of the accident. 2. to take notice of ○ Please note that our prices were raised on January 1st.

notebook /'nəʊtbʊk/ noun 1. a small book for making notes ○ The policeman wrote down the details in his notebook. 2. a very small computer which you can carry around with you

③ noted /'nəʊtɪd/ adj famous. Synonym renowned

notepad /'nəʊtpæd/ noun 1. a block of paper for writing notes ○ I took a notepad to jot down any interesting points from the lecture. Also called memo pad 2. (in computing) a part of the screen used to store information even if the terminal is switched off ○ Use the notepad to make changes to your file.

③ notepaper /'nəʊtpεɪpər/ noun 1. a paper for writing letters ○ It must be an official order, it's written on the company's headed notepaper. ○ You'll find some notepaper in the hotel bedroom. 2. US paper for writing rough notes on (NOTE: no plural: some notepaper, a piece of notepaper) noteworthy /'nəʊt'wɜːði/ adj worth noticing because it is interesting or special. Antonym insignificant

① nothing /'nʌθɪŋ/ pron 1. not anything ○ There's nothing interesting on TV. ○ She said nothing about what she had seen. ○ There's nothing more we can do. □ nothing but the best only the best □ he's nothing like his father he is not at all like his father □ nothing much happened not very much happened □ he has nothing left in the bank no money left □ for nothing free, without having to pay ○ We're friends of the woman running the show and she got us in for nothing. 2. □ to think nothing of doing something to do something easily ○ He thinks nothing of cycling ten miles to work. □ to have nothing to do with not to be connected with, not to become involved in ○ I will have nothing to do with that gang. □ it's nothing to do with you it doesn't concern you □ nothing doing! I won't do it (informal)

② notice /'nəʊtɪs/ noun 1. a piece of writing giving information, usually put in a place where everyone can see it ○ He pinned up a notice about the staff tennis match. 2. an official warning that something has to be done, that something is going to happen ○ They gave us five minutes' notice to leave the of- fice. ○ If you want to resign, you have to give a month's notice. ○ The train times were changed without notice. □ until further notice until different instructions are given ○ You must pay £200 on the 30th of each month until further notice. □ at short notice with very little warning ○ It had to be done at short notice. ○ The bank manager will not see anyone at such short notice. 3. attention ○ It has been brought to my notice that students have been going into town at lunchtime. □ take no notice of what the policeman says pay no attention to what he says, don't worry about what he says ■ verb to see; to take note of ○ I wore one blue and one white sock all day and nobody noticed. ○ I didn't notice you had come in. ○ Did you notice if John was sitting next to Sarah?

③ noticeable /'nəʊtɪsəb(ə)l/ adj which is easily noticed. Synonym obvious. Antonym inconspicuous

noticeably /'nəʊtɪsəbli/ adv obviously, clearly noticeboard /'nəʊtɪsbɔ:d/ noun a board which is fixed to a wall, on which notices can be attached (NOTE: The US term is bulletin board.)

notifiable /'nəʊtɪfəb(ə)l/ adj which should be reported officially notification /,nəʊtɪfɪ'keɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the act of informing someone. Synonym announcement notify /'nəʊtɪfaɪ/ verb □ to notify someone of something to tell someone something formally ○ They were notified of the arrival of the shipment. ○ The local doctor notified the Health Service of the case of cholera.

③ notion /'nəʊʃ(ə)n/ noun an idea ○ She has this strange notion that she ought to be a TV star.

notional /'nəʊʃ(ə)n(ə)l/ adj assumed to be correct for the purposes of making a calculation notoriety /,nəʊtə'reɪəti/ noun a bad reputation. Synonym disrepute notorious /nəʊ'tɔ:riəs/ adj well known for something bad (archaic) notoriously /nəʊ'tɔ:riəsli/ adv in a notorious way. Synonym particularly notwithstanding /,nɒt'wɪð'stændɪŋ/ adv, prep although a particular situation exists ○ The case proceeded notwithstanding the objections of the defendant or the defendant's objections notwithstanding. (NOTE: It can be used before or after a noun.)

nougat /nu:gɑ:/ noun a type of white sweet made with nuts, honey and the white parts of eggs nought /nɔ:t/ noun a zero ○ One million can be written as '1m' or as one and six noughts. (NOTE: nought is more common in British English; in US English, zero is more usual.)

noughts and crosses /,nɔ:ts ən 'krɒsɪz/ noun a game where each player puts either a zero or a cross on a grid, the first to get three in a row is the winner (NOTE: The US term is tic-tac-toe.)

③ noun /naʊn/ noun (in grammar) a word which can be the subject or object of a verb and is used to refer to a person, thing or animal ○ Nouns such as 'brick' and 'elephant'. ○ In 'the cat caught a mouse', 'cat' and 'mouse' are both nouns.

noun phrase /naʊn freɪz/ noun a word or group of which is used in the same way as a noun, e.g. as the subject, object, or topic, in a sentence nourish /'nɔ:riʃ/ verb 1. to give food to someone ○ All the children look very well nourished. 2. to keep things such as ideas or hopes alive ○ The news nourished their hopes that their son might still be alive.

nourishing /'nɔ:riʃɪŋ/ adj which provides people, animals, or plants with the substances they need to live, grow and remain fit and healthy nourishment /'nɔ:riʃmənt/ noun 1. food which nourishes, such as proteins, fats or vitamins ○ As a result of poor nourishment they were all weak and underweight. ○ Is there enough nourishment in a diet that consists solely of salads? 2. food in general ○ She just lies in bed and refuses to take any nourishment. (NOTE: no plural)

③ novel /'nɒv(ə)l/ noun a long story with imaginary characters and events ○ 'Pickwick Papers' was Dickens' first major novel. ■ adj new ○ Being in New York is a novel experience for me.

novelist /'nɒv(ə)list/ noun a person who writes novels. Synonym writer

③ novelty /'nɒv(ə)lti/ noun 1. a new thing you have not experienced before ○ Flying in a plane is still a novelty for them. (NOTE: no plural) 2. the fact of being new ○ The novelty of the new job soon wore off. (NOTE: no plural) 3. an unusual little object, usually with no practical use ○ Small shops selling novelties and souvenirs. (NOTE: The plural in this meaning is novelties.)

① November /nəʊ'vember/ noun the eleventh month of the year, the month after October and before December ○ November 5 ○ Today is November 5th. ○ She was born in November. ○ We never go on holiday in November. (NOTE: November 5th or November 5: say 'November the fifth' or 'the fifth of November' or in US English: 'November fifth'.)

novice /'nɒvɪs/ noun 1. a person who is not experienced or skilful, e.g. in a job or sport. ○ He's still a novice at rowing. ○ We send novice sales staff out with an experienced rep to learn the ropes. 2. a person who is preparing to become a monk or nun ○ Sister Agnes is in charge of the novices.

① now /naʊ/ adv at this point in time ○ I can hear a train coming now. ○ Please can we go home now? ○ The flight is only two hours – he ought to be in Berlin by now. ○ Now's the best time for going skiing. ○ A week from now we'll be sitting on the beach. □ now and then from time to time, not continuously □ until now, up to now until this point in time ○ Until now, I've never had to see a doctor. ■ conj □ now that since, because ○ Now that I've got my driving licence, I can buy a car. ○ Now that you mention it, I do remember having a phone call from him last week. ■ interj 1. showing a warning ○ Now then, don't be rude to the teacher! ○ Come on now, work hard! ○ Now, now! Nobody wants to hear you crying. 2. attracting someone's attention ○ Now, everyone, let's begin the meeting.

② nowadays /'naʊdeɪz/ adv at the present time ○ Nowadays lots of people go to Spain on holiday. ○ The traffic is so bad nowadays that it takes us an hour to drive to Piccadilly Circus. Antonym formerly

① nowhere /'nəʊweə/ adv 1. not in or to any place ○ My wallet was nowhere to be found. ○ Where are you going? – Nowhere. ○ There is nowhere else for them to live. □ to get nowhere to be unsuccessful ○ I rang six shops to try and find a spare part, but got nowhere. □ to be getting nowhere not to have any success ○ I'm getting nowhere with my research. 2. □ nowhere near not at all ○ The work is nowhere near finished. ○ He has nowhere near done all his homework.

no-win situation /nəʊ win/ noun a situation in which you are likely to fail or suffer, whatever you do noxious /'nɒksʃəs/ adj harmful or poisonous nozzle /'nɒz(ə)l/ noun a fitting at the end of a pipe which controls the flow of liquid n/s abbr non smoker

nuance /'nju:əns/ noun a slight shade of meaning

③ nuclear /'nju:kliə/ adj referring to energy from atomic particles ○ a nuclear power station nuclear family /,nju:kliə 'fæm(ə)li/ noun a family consisting simply of parents and children. ♦ extended family

③ nuclear power /,nju:kliə 'paʊə/ noun electricity produced by a nuclear power station nuclear reactor /,nju:kliə ri'ækta/ noun a machine which creates heat and energy by starting and controlling atomic fission nuclear waste /,nju:kliə 'weɪst/ noun radioactive waste from a nuclear reactor

③ nucleus /'nju:kliəs/ noun 1. the central part of an atom, formed of neutrons and protons ○ Electrons orbit the nucleus of the atom. 2. the central body in a cell, containing DNA and RNA, and controlling the way that the cell works ○ First the nucleus divides, then the whole cell splits in two. 3. a centre around which something gathers ○ The six experienced players form the nucleus of the new team. (NOTE: The plural is nuclei /'nju:kliə/.)

nude /nju:d/ noun 1. a person who is not wearing any clothes ○ a portrait of a nude 2. a painting of a nude, often a woman ○ an exhibition of Manet's nudes 3. □ in the nude wearing no clothes ○ They went swimming in the nude. ■ adj wearing no clothes ○ Nude sunbathing is allowed on some beaches. ○ Would you be willing to appear nude on stage? Antonym clothed nudge /nʌdʒ/ noun a little push, usually with the elbow ○ She gave me a nudge to wake me up. Synonym prod ■ verb to give a little push, usually with the elbow ○ He nudged me when it was my turn to speak. □ to give someone a nudge to try to get someone to do something ○ He's late with his work – better give him a nudge.

nudism /'nju:daɪz(ə)m/ noun a belief in the physical and mental advantages of not wearing any clothes nudist /'nju:dist/ adj, noun a person who does not wear clothes nudity /'nju:dɪti/ noun nakedness (NOTE: no plural) nugget /'nʌgɪt/ noun 1. a lump of gold in its natural state 2. a little lump of food fried with others ○ chicken nuggets □ nugget of information a piece of useful information

③ nuisance /'nju:s(ə)ns/ noun a thing which annoys. Synonym irritation nuke /nju:k/ verb to attack with nuclear weapons ■ noun a nuclear weapon null /nʌl/ adj not valid □ null and void without legal effect ○ The contract was declared null and void.

nullify /'nʌlɪfaɪ/ verb 1. to make something no longer legal or official ○ This new amendment to the contract will nullify the conditions we have just agreed. ○ It nullified all our attempts at negotiation. 2. to make useless ○ His speech has nullified all our attempts at negotiation.

numb /nʌm/ adj which has no feeling ○ The tips of his fingers went numb. ○ His hands were numb with cold. ■ verb to remove feeling ○ The doctor gave him an injection to numb the pain. Synonym deaden

① number /'nʌmbə/ noun 1. a figure ○ 13 is not a lucky number. ○ They live on the opposite side of road at number 49. ○ Can you give me your telephone number? ○ A number 6 bus goes to Oxford Street. ○ Please quote your account number. 2. a quantity of people or things ○ The number of tickets sold was disappointing. ○ A large number of children or large numbers of children will be sitting the exam. ○ There were only a small number of people at the meeting. □ a number of times often ○ I've seen that film a number of times. □ any number of times very often ○ I've been to France any number of times. ○ She could take her driving test any number of times but she still wouldn't pass it. 3. an issue of a magazine or newspaper ○ We keep back numbers of magazines for six months and then throw them away. 4. a piece of music or a song ○ She played a selection of numbers by Noel Coward. ■ verb 1. to give something a number ○ The raffle tickets are numbered 1 to 1000. ○ I refer to our invoices numbered 234 and 235. ○ All the seats are clearly numbered. □ his days are numbered he has not much time left to live 2. to count ○ Visitors to the exhibition numbered several thousand. ○ He numbers among the most important writers of the 20th century.

number one /'nʌmbə 'wɒn/ adj most important ○ Pollution is the number one issue at the election. ■ noun 1. yourself, your own interests □ he always remembers to look after number one he always thinks of his own interests first 2. the most important thing or person ○ His latest single is number one in the charts. ○ She's number one in the organisation.

③ number plate /'nʌmbə pleɪt/ noun one of two signs fixed on the front and back of a vehicle which shows the official number of the vehicle (NOTE: The US term is license plate.)

numbing /'nʌmɪŋ/ adj 1. causing a lack of feeling in a part of the body 2. temporarily taking away somebody's ability to feel or think, e.g. as a result of shock numbness /'nʌmɪnəs/ noun having no feeling numeracy /'nju:m(ə)rəsɪ/ noun the ability to work with numbers numeral /'nju:m(ə)rəl/ noun a written sign representing a number numerate /'nju:m(ə)rət/ adj able to work with numbers numerically /nju:'merɪklɪ/ adv by numbers numerical superiority /nju:'merɪklɪ'spɪəri'brətɪ/ noun the fact of existing in greater amounts or numbers than others

③ numerous /'nju:m(ə)rəs/ adj very many ○ He has been fined for speeding on numerous occasions. Antonym few nun /nʌn/ noun a woman member of a religious order (NOTE: Do not confuse with none. Note: the equivalent men are monks.)

③ nurse /nɜ:sɪ/ noun a person who looks after sick people (woman or man) ○ She has a job as a nurse in the local hospital. ■ verb 1. to look after people who are ill ○ When she fell ill her daughter nursed her until she was better. 2. to be ill with something ○ He's sitting in bed nursing his cold. ○ She came back from her holiday nursing a broken arm. 3. □ to nurse a grudge to have a secret feeling of not liking someone, especially because of something which they did in the past ○ He has been nursing a grudge against his boss for the last six years.

nursery /'nɜ:sɪs(ə)ri/ noun 1. a school for very young children ○ My sister went to a nursery every day from the age of 18 months. 2. a place where young plants are grown and sold ○ Buy some plants from the nursery. (NOTE: The plural is nurseries.)

nursery rhyme /'nɜ:sɪs(ə)ri raim/ noun a little piece of poetry for children nursery school /'nɜ:sɪs(ə)ri sku:l/ noun a school for very small children, for children under five years old nursery slopes /'nɜ:sɪs(ə)ri sləʊps/ plural noun a gentle slope on a mountain where you learn to ski nursing /'nɜ:sɪŋ/ noun the profession of being a nurse ○ She decided to go in for nursing. ○ Have you considered nursing as a career? ■ adj referring to the job of looking after sick people

③ nursing home /'nɜ:sɪŋ həʊm/ noun a small private hospital nurture /'nɜ:tʃər/ verb to care for children, plants or ideas and encourage them to develop

③ nut /nʌt/ noun 1. the fruit of a tree, with a hard shell □ to crack nuts to break the shells of nuts to get at the fruit inside ○ He cracked the nuts with his teeth. 2. a metal ring which screws on a bolt to hold it tight ○ Screw the nut on tightly. □ the nuts and bolts of something the main details of something (informal) ○ You'll need to master the nuts and bolts of the stock market before going to work in the city. ♦ nuts nutcracker /'nʌt,krækə/ noun a bird that eats pine nuts nutmeg /'nʌtmeg/ noun a hard round seed of a tropical tree, grated and used as a flavouring in food nutrient /'nju:triənt/ noun a substance in food which encourages the growth of living things nutrition /nju:'trɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. the way in which food affects health ○ A scheme to improve nutrition in the poorer areas. 2. the study of food ○ We are studying nutrition as part of the food science course.

nutritional /nju:'trɪʃ(ə)nəl/ adj referring to nutrition. Synonym nutritious nutritionist /nju:'trɪʃ(ə)nɪst/ noun a person who is an expert in the study of nutrition and who advises people about what to eat in order to be healthy nutritious /nju:'trɪʃəs/ adj valuable as food

③ nuts /nəts/ adj crazy (informal) □ nuts about someone or something very keen on someone or something ○ He's nuts about old cars. □ to drive someone nuts to make someone crazy ○ I wish they'd turn the music down – it's driving me nuts.

nutshell /'nʌtʃəl/ noun the hard outside part of a nut. Synonym husk □ in a nutshell as concisely as possible ○ It's a long and complicated story, but, in a nutshell, he left his wife and set fire to the house.

nutter /'nʌtət/ noun a person who other people think is extremely strange or crazy (offensive informal) nutty /'nʌti/ adj 1. full of nuts ○ a nutty chocolate bar 2. crazy ○ He's a typical nutty professor. ○ I think it's a bit of a nutty idea myself. □ nutty about someone or something mad about someone or something ○ He's completely nutty about steam trains. □ she's as nutty as a fruitcake she's completely mad nuzzle /'nʌz(ə)l/ verb to press your nose up to

NW abbr north west

③ nylon /'nailən/ noun a type of strong artificial material used to make things such as clothing or sheets nymph /nɪmf/ noun 1. a young insect at the stage in its development between the larva and the adult ○ Dragonfly nymphs were skimming across the surface of the lake. 2. a goddess of woods and streams ○ In ancient time, nymphs were thought to live in lakes, rivers and woods.

nymphomaniac /,nɪmfə'meiniæk/ noun an offensive word for a woman who is always thinking about sex or wanting to have sex

O

o /əʊ/, O noun fifteenth letter of the alphabet, between N and P

③ oak /əʊk/ noun 1. a type of large tree which loses its leaves in winter ○ a forest of oak trees ○ Oaks produce thousands of acorns each year. 2. wood from this tree ○ an oak table

OAP abbr old age pensioner

oar /ɔ:/ noun a long wooden pole with a flat part at the end, used for moving a boat along □ to stick your oar in to get involved in a situation where you are not wanted (informal) oasis /əʊ'eɪsɪs/ noun 1. a place in the desert where there is water, and where plants grow ○ After crossing the desert for days they finally arrived at an oasis. 2. a quiet pleasant place which is different from everything else around it ○ Golden Square is an oasis of calm in the middle of London's West End. (NOTE: The plural is oases /əʊ'eɪsɪ:z/.)

③ oath /əʊθ/ noun 1. a serious legal promise that someone will say or write only what is true ○ All the members of the jury have to take an oath. ○ The lords swore an oath of allegiance to the king. □ he was on oath or under oath he had promised in court to say what was true ○ He was accused of lying to the court when he was under or on oath. 2. a swear word ○ As the police grabbed him, he let out a long string of oaths. (NOTE: The plural is oaths /əʊðz/.)

oatmeal /'əʊtmɪl/ noun small rough pieces of crushed oats, used especially to make porridge (NOTE: no plural: some oatmeal; two ounces of oatmeal)

③ oats /əʊts/ noun 1. a cereal plant which produces a grain used as food ○ The farmer has decided to grow oats in this field this year. 2. □ to sow your wild oats to behave in a wild way when young obdurate /'ɒbdjʊrət/ adj determined not to change your mind or to listen to other people's views obedience /ə'bɪ:dɪəns/ noun the fact of being obedient, doing what someone tells you to do. Synonym compliance. Antonym disobedience obedient /ə'bɪ:dɪənt/ adj doing what you are told to do. Synonym compliant. Antonym disobedient obediently /ə'bɪ:dɪəntli/ adv in an obedient way obese /əʊ'bɪ:s/ adj much too fat or too heavy. Synonym fat. Antonym underweight obesity /əʊ'bɪ:sɪtɪ/ noun the medical condition of being extremely fat

③ obey /ə'bey/ verb to do what someone tells you to do ○ If you can't obey orders you shouldn't be a policeman. ○ Everyone must obey the law. Antonym disobey

obituary /ə'bitʃuəri/ noun a written account of someone's life, published after his or her death. Synonym tribute

② object noun /'ɒbɒdʒɪkt/ 1. a thing ○ They thought they saw a strange object in the sky. 2. (in grammar) an aim ○ Their object is to take control of the radio station. 3. a noun, pronoun or phrase which follows directly from a verb or preposition ○ In the phrase 'the cat caught the mouse', the word 'mouse' is the object of the verb 'caught'. 4. □ money is no object money is not a problem ○ Money is no object to them – they're very wealthy. ■ verb /'əb'dʒɛkt/ to say why you refuse to agree ○ He objected that the pay was too low.

③ objection /'əb'dʒekʃən/ noun a reason for refusing to agree to ○ Do you have any objection to me smoking? ○ Any objections to the plan? □ to raise an objection to something to object to something ○ She raised several objections to the proposal.

objectionable /'əb'dʒekʃənəb(ə)l/ adj 1. which people do not approve of ○ He has some really objectionable habits. 2. (especially of person) very unpleasant

③ objective /'əb'dʒektɪv/ adj considering things from a general point of view and not from your own ○ You must be objective when planning the future of your business. Antonym subjective ■ noun an aim or an object which you are aiming at ○ Our long-term objective is to make the company financially sound. ○ The company has achieved its main objectives.

objectively /ə'b'dʒektɪvli/ adv in an objective way, without being influenced by your own feelings objectivity /,ɒb'dʒek'tɪvɪtɪ/ noun the fact of being objective. Synonym impartiality. Antonym subjectivity objector /ə'b'dʒektə/ noun a person who objects obligated /'ɒbliɡeɪtɪd/ adj under an obligation to somebody for a favour

④ obligation /'ɒbliɡeɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. legal debt □ to meet your obligations to pay your debts ○ He cannot meet his obligations. 2. the duty to do something ○ You have an obligation to attend the meeting. □ to be under an obligation to someone to feel morally obliged to help someone ○ She felt under an obligation to look after her friend's cat. □ two weeks' free trial without obligation the customer can try something at home for two weeks without having to buy it at the end of the trial obligatory /ə'blɪɡət(ə)ri/ adj which has to be done according to rules or laws

④ oblige /ə'blaɪdʒ/ verb 1. to force someone to do something ○ He was obliged to hand the money back. 2. □ to feel obliged to do something to feel it is your duty to do something ○ He felt obliged to study medicine at university because his father was a doctor. 3. to do something useful or helpful ○ He wanted to oblige you by weeding your garden for you. 4. □ to be obliged to someone to be grateful to someone for having done something (formal) ○ Thank you – I'm much obliged to you for your help. ○ I'd be obliged if you could shut the window.

obliging /ə'blaɪdʒɪŋ/ adj ready to help. Synonym helpful. Antonym unhelpful obligingly /ə'b'læɪdʒɪŋli/ adv in an obliging way oblique /ə'bli:k/ adj 1. not meeting something at a right angle 2. not direct, not mentioning or referring to something directly ○ The speech contained an oblique reference to the president's family problems.

oblique angle /ə'bli:k ˈæŋ(ə)l/ noun an angle which is not a right angle obliquely /ə'bli:kli/ adv in an oblique way obliterate /ə'blɪtəreɪt/ verb to destroy completely obliteration /ə'blɪtə'reɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the act of obliterating or of being obliterated. Synonym destruction oblivion /ə'blɪviən/ noun 1. the fact of being completely forgotten ○ After being famous during the war the town fell into complete oblivion. 2. the fact of not noticing what is going on around you ○ He sat there in a state of complete oblivion.

oblivious /ə'blɪviəs/ adj not noticing. Antonym conscious oblong /'ɒblɔŋ/ adj having four sides, with two pairs of equal sides, one pair being longer than the other ○ He pulled out an oblong folder full of papers. ■ noun a shape with two pairs of equal sides, one pair being longer than the other ○ The screen is an oblong, approximately 30cm by 40cm.

obnoxious /'ɒb'nɒkʃəs/ adj very unpleasant or very offensive. Synonym loathsome. Antonym delightful oboe /'əʊbəʊəl/ noun a woodwind instrument, with a smaller range than the clarinet obscene /'ɒb'si:n/ adj 1. containing words or ideas which are extremely offensive, especially in relation to sex ○ The obscene language in the film makes it unsuitable for children. ○ The novel was banned because it was thought to be obscene. 2. offensive to moral standards or normal feelings ○ He earns an obscene amount of money.

obscenely /'ɒb'si:nli/ adj in an obscene way ○ They discussed sex openly, but not obscenely. ○ She is obscenely rich.

obscenity /'ɒb'senɪti/ noun 1. the fact of being obscene ○ The artist narrowly escaped being prosecuted for obscenity. 2. an obscene word ○ He shouted obscenities at the judge as he was led away. (NOTE: The plural in this meaning is obscenities) 3. something which is obscene ○ She regards the mere existence of nuclear weapons as an obscenity.

obscure /'əb'skjuəəl/ adj 1. not clear ○ There are several obscure points in his letter. 2. not well-known ○ They always stay in some obscure village in the Alps which no one has ever heard of. ■ verb to hide, especially by covering ○ During a solar eclipse, the moon obscures the sun.

obscurely /'əb'skjuəəli/ adv in a way which is not clear obscenity /'əb'skjuərɪti/ noun the fact of being obscure, not being well-known obsequious /ə'b'si:kwiəs/ adj too keen to help or obey. Synonym servile. Antonym assertive observance /ə'b'zɜ:v(ə)ns/ noun 1. the action of obeying a law or rule ○ Professional players should set a good example by strict observance of the rules of the game. 2. following a custom or tradition ○ The observance of Christmas is very widespread.

observant /ə'b'zɜ:vənt/ adj who notices many details

④ observation /,ɒbzə'veɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. the action of observing ○ By careful observation, the police found out where the thieves had hidden the money. □ under observation being carefully watched ○ The patient will be kept under observation for a few days. 2. a remark ○ He made several observations about the government.

observatory /əb'zə:vətri/ noun a place from which stars and planets can be watched (NOTE: The plural is observatories.)

② observe /əb'zə:v/ verb 1. to follow or to obey something such as a law, rule or custom

○ His family observes all the Jewish festivals.

○ The local laws must be observed. 2. to watch or to look at ○ They observed the eclipse from the top of the mountain. 3. to notice ○ The police observed the car coming out of the garage. 4. to make a remark ○ I merely observed that the bus was late as usual.

observer /əb'zə:və/ noun a person who goes to an event and watches but does not take part. Synonym spectator. Antonym participant obsess /əb'ses/ verb to think about someone or something all the time, especially in a way that seems extreme to other people obsessed /əb'sest/ adj thinking about someone or something all the time in a way which seems extreme to other people obsession /əb'seʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. a fixed idea which you think about all the time ○ Making money is an obsession with him. 2. an idea or problem which worries you all the time, often connected with mental illness ○ She has an obsession with cleanliness.

obsessive /əb'sesiv/ adj showing an obsession. Synonym compulsive obsessively /əb'sesivli/ adv in an obsessive way obsolescence /,əbsoə'les(ə)ns/ noun going out of date because of developments in technology or changes in fashion □ built-in obsolescence, planned obsolescence making something in such a way that the current model will soon become obsolete and people will have to buy a newer one obsolescent /,əbsoə'les(ə)nt/ adj going out of use or out of fashion obsolete /'əbsoli:t/ adj no longer used obstacle /'əbstək(ə)l/ noun a thing which is in the way, which prevents someone going forward obstacle course /'əbstək(ə)l kɔ:s/ noun a place for training soldiers, in which various obstacles have to be passed obstetrician /,əbstə'trɪʃ(ə)n/ noun a doctor who is an expert in obstetrics obstetrics /əb'stretiks/ noun a branch of medicine dealing with pregnancy, childbirth and the period immediately after childbirth obstinacy /'əbstɪnəsɪ/ noun refusing to change your opinion or be persuaded by anyone. Antonym compliance obstinate /'əbstɪnət/ adj 1. determined not to change your mind or not to change your opinion or course of action, whatever other people say ○ She's such an obstinate person, that you can never make her change her mind. ○ Stop being so obstinate and do what I say! 2. difficult to remove ○ She tried to get rid of the obstinate red wine stain on the tablecloth.

obstinately /'əbstɪnətlɪ/ adv in an obstinate way obstreperous /əb'strepərəs/ adj behaving in a wild and uncontrolled way. Synonym disruptive. Antonym demure obstruct /əb'strʌkt/ verb 1. to stop something going through ○ The artery was obstructed by a blood clot. ○ A large black car was obstructing the entrance. Synonym block

2. to stop someone doing something ○ He was fined for obstructing the referee. ○ She was accused of obstructing the police in the course of their duties.

obstruction /əb'strʌkʃən/ noun 1. the act of obstructing ○ The fullback was penalised for obstruction. 2. a thing which gets in the way ○ His car broke down and caused an obstruction on the motorway.

obstructive /əb'strʌktɪv/ adj aiming to obstruct. Synonym disruptive. Antonym helpful

② obtain /əb'teɪn/ verb 1. to get ○ She obtained a copy of the will. ○ He obtained control of the business. 2. to be in existence, to have the force of law ○ This rule still obtains in cases involving the Inland Revenue.

obtainable /əb'teɪnəb(ə)l/ adj which can be obtained. Synonym available. Antonym unavailable obtrusive /əb'trʊ:sɪv/ adj which sticks out or which is in the way obtuse /əb'tju:s/ adj (of a person) dull and not understanding things very quickly ○ He's too obtuse to take a subtle hint, so you'll just have to tell him to move.

obtuse angle /əb'tju:s 'æŋgəl/ noun an angle of between 90° and 180° obverse /'əbvə:s/ noun a side of a coin with the head on it, the main side of a coin. Also called heads (NOTE: The opposite is the reverse or tails.)

② obvious /'əbviəs/ adj clear; easily seen ○ It's obvious that we will have to pay for the damage. ○ It was obvious to everyone that the shop was not making any money.

① obviously /'əbviəslɪ/ adv clearly ○ Obviously we will need to borrow various pieces of equipment.

① occasion /ə'keɪʒ(ə)n/ noun 1. □ a special occasion a special event such as a wedding ○ The baby's first birthday was a special occasion. ○ It's an extra-special occasion – she's one hundred years old today! 2. a happening; a time when something happens ○ It is an occasion for celebrations. □ on occasion from time to time ○ On occasion, we spend a weekend in the country.

③ occasional /ə'keɪʒ(ə)n(ə)l/ adj happening now and then, not very often ○ He was an occasional visitor to my parents' house. ○ We make the occasional trip to London. Synonym infrequent

② occasionally /ə'keɪʒ(ə)nəli/ adv sometimes, not very often ○ Occasionally he has to work late. ○ We occasionally go to the cinema.

occidental /,pksɪ'dent(ə)l/ adj referring to the west (formal). Antonym oriental occult /'ɒkəlt/ noun □ the occult supernatural magic ○ He started going to seances and dabbling in the occult. ○ She has always been interested in the occult. ■ adj referring to supernatural magic ○ He dabbles in occult practices.

occupancy /'ɒkjupənsi/ noun the act of moving into a property, such as a house, an office or a room in a hotel, either permanently or for a short stay. Synonym tenancy ③ occupant /'ɒkjupənt/ noun the person or company occupying a property. Synonym inhabitant

③ occupation /,ɒkjupə'sf(ə)n/ noun 1. the act of taking control of a place, or the fact of being in such a situation ○ The occupation of the country by enemy soldiers. 2. a job, position, employment ○ What is her occupation? ○ His main occupation is running a small engineering works. ○ My Sunday afternoon occupation is washing the car.

③ occupational /,ɒkju'peɪʃ(ə)nəl/ adj referring to a job

③ occupied /'ɒkjupaid/ adj 1. being used ○ All the rooms in the hotel are occupied. ○ All the toilets are occupied, so you'll have to wait. 2. □ occupied with busy with ○ She is always occupied with her family. ○ He is occupied with sorting out the mail.

occupier /'ɒkjupəər/ noun a person who lives in a particular house or flat

② occupy /'ɒkjupai/ verb 1. to live in or work in ○ They occupy the flat on the first floor. ○ The firm occupies offices in the centre of town. 2. to be busy with ○ Dealing with the office occupies most of my time. □ to occupy yourself with to be busy with ○ How does he occupy himself now he is retired? 3. to take control of a place by being inside it ○ Protesters occupied the TV station. 4. to hold a post ○ Who occupies the post of company secretary.

① occur /ə'kɜ:/ verb 1. to happen ○ When did the accident occur? 2. to come to your mind ○ Did it never occur to you that she was lying? □ it has just occurred to me I have just thought that 3. to exist ○ Iron ore occurs in several parts of the country. (NOTE: occurring – occurred)

③ occurrence /ə'kɑːrəns/ noun a happening □ it is a daily occurrence it happens every day

② ocean /'əʊʃ(ə)n/ noun a very large area of sea surrounding the large areas of land on the Earth ○ Ocean currents can be very treacherous. ○ Ocean liners used to dock here.

ocean-going /'əʊʃ(ə)n, ɡəʊnɪŋ/ adj which can sail on the open sea oceanic /,əʊʃi'ænɪk/ adj referring to an ocean. Synonym sea ochre /'əʊkəl/ noun 1. a yellowish-red natural material used for colouring ○ The cloth is dyed with yellow ochre. 2. a dull yellowish-red colour ○ The ochre of the wall of the houses in the village. ■ adj dull yellowish-red ○ The houses in the village have ochre walls. (NOTE: [all senses] The US spelling is ocher.)

① o'clock /ə'kloʊk/ adv used with numbers to show the time ○ Get up – it's 7 o'clock. ○ We never open the shop before 10 o'clock. ○ By 2 o'clock in the morning everyone was asleep. (NOTE: O'clock is only used for the exact hour, not for times which include minutes. It can also be omitted: We got home before eight. or We got home before eight o'clock.) octagon /'ɒktəgən/ noun a geometrical figure with eight sides octagonal /'ɒk'tægənl/ adj eight-sided octave /'ɒktəv/ noun (in music) the eight notes between the first and last notes of a scale

① October /ɒk'təʊbəl/ noun the tenth month of the year, between September and November ○ October 18 ○ Do you ever go on holiday in October? ○ Today is October 18th. ○ Last October we moved to London. (NOTE: October 18th or October 18: say 'October the eighteenth' or 'the eighteenth of October'; in US English: 'October eighteenth'.)

octogenarian /,ɒktəʊdʒə'nearɪən/ noun, adj (of a person) who is between 80 and 89 years old octopus /'ɒktəpəs/ noun a sea animal with eight long arms or tentacles. ♦ squid (NOTE: The plural is octopuses.)

ocular /'ɒkjʊələr/ adj 1. referring to the eyes or to sight ○ Opticians are trained to detect ocular imbalance. 2. which can be seen by the eyes ○ He refused to believe it without ocular proof.

OD /əʊ 'di:/ (informal) verb to take too much of a drug at one time, so that you become ill or die ■ noun a large amount of a drug taken at one time and causing illness or death

① odd /ɒd/ adj 1. unusual and not normal ○ It's odd that she can never remember how to get to their house. ○ He doesn't like chocolate – Really, how odd! 2. □ odd numbers numbers such as 17 or 33 which cannot be divided by two ○ The odd-numbered buildings or the buildings with odd numbers are on the opposite side of the street. 3. (of an amount) almost, not exact or accurate ○ She had twenty odd pairs of shoes in cardboard boxes. 4. one forming part of a group □ an odd shoe one shoe of a pair □ we have a few odd boxes left we have a few boxes left out of all the boxes we had oddball /'ɒdbɔ:l/ noun a person who behaves in an odd way (informal insult)

oddity /'ɒdɪtɪ/ noun 1. the state of being odd ○ I was struck by the oddity of the situation, sitting at the same table as my two former wives. 2. an unusual person or thing ○ This symphony is a bit of an oddity, it only has two movements.

odd job man /ɒd 'dʒɒb mæn/ noun a person who does small repairs or other simple jobs odd jobs /ɒd 'dʒɒbz/ plural noun small pieces of work, especially repairs, done in the house ○ He does odd jobs for us around the house.

oddly /'ɒdli/ adv in an odd way; for odd reasons □ oddly enough strangely, surprisingly ○ Oddly enough, we were just talking about him when he came in.

oddments /'ɒdmənts/ plural noun bits and pieces left over

① odds /ɒdz/ plural noun 1. the difference between the amount which can be won and the amount which has been bet ○ Odds of 10 to 1. 2. the fact of being likely to happen ○ The odds are against it. ○ The odds are that she'll get the job. □ against all the odds even though it seemed unlikely ○ Against all the odds, she passed her test easily. Compare evens ■ noun □ it makes no odds it makes no difference □ to be at odds with someone to disagree with someone all the time odds and ends /'ɒdz ən 'endz/ plural noun a group of various things that have no connection with each other odds-on /'ɒdz 'ɒn/ adj likely to happen (informal) ode /əʊd/ noun a long poem often addressed to a person or thing odious /'əʊdiəs/ adj very unpleasant. Synonym hateful. Antonym delightful odour /'əʊdər/ noun 1. a smell, scent ○ I think I can detect a faint odour of cheese. 2. □ to be in good or bad odour with someone to be in favour or out of favour with someone

○ She's not in very good odour with my parents. (NOTE: [all senses] The US spelling is odor.)

odourless /'əʊdələs/ adj which you cannot smell (NOTE: The US spelling is odorless.)

odyssey /'ɒdɪsɪ/ noun a long journey with many exciting or unusual events oesophagus /i:'sɒfəgəs/ noun the tube in your throat down which food and drink goes from the mouth to the stomach (NOTE: The US spelling is esophagus.)

oestrogen /'i:st्रədʒən/ noun a hormone produced in the ovaries which controls sexual development and the reproductive system (NOTE: The US spelling is estrogen.)

① of /əv, ɒv/ prep 1. showing a connection

○ She's the sister of the girl who you met at the party. ○ Where's the top of the jam jar? ○ What are the names of Henry VIII's wives? 2. showing a part or a quantity ○ a litre of orange juice ○ How much of the cloth do you need? ○ Today is the sixth of March. ○ There are four boys and two girls – six of them altogether. ○ Half of the staff are on holiday. 3. making a description ○ The school takes children of ten and over. ○ The town of Edinburgh is important for its festival. 4. showing position, material, cause ○ He lives in the north of the town. ○ The jumper is made of cotton. ○ She died of cancer. (NOTE: Of is often used after verbs or adjectives: to think of, to be fond of, to be tired of, to smell of, to be afraid of, etc.)

① of course /əv 'kɔ:s/ adv 1. used to say 'yes' or 'no' more strongly ○ Are you coming with us? – Of course I am! ○ Do you want to lose all your money? – Of course not! 2. naturally ○ He is rich, so of course he lives in a big house.

① off /ɒf/ adv, prep 1. showing movement or position away from a place ○ We're off to the shops. ○ The office is just off the main road. ○ They spent their holiday on an island off the coast of Wales. ○ The children got off the bus. ○ Take your boots off before you come into the house. 2. away from work ○ She took the week off. ○ It's my day off today. ○ Half the staff are off with flu. 3. not switched on ○ Switch the light off before you leave the office. ○ Is the TV off? 4. not liking food; not taking food or drink ○ I'm off alcohol for six months. ○ She's off shellfish because it gives her a rash. 5. □ the deal is off the deal is not going to happen ■ adj 1. switched off ○ Make sure the switch is in the OFF position. 2. not good to eat ○ I think this meat's a bit off. 3. (in a restaurant) not available ○ Chicken is off today. 4. not going to happen ○ She phoned to say the deal was off.

offal /'ɒf(ə)l/ noun organs such as the heart or liver of an animal used as food off and on /'ɒf ənd 'ɒn/ adv not continuously, with breaks in between. Antonym regularly off-balance /ɒf 'bæləns/ adv not standing steadily ○ The sudden movement of the bus threw her off-balance. □ to catch someone off-balance to say or do something to somebody which takes them by surprise ○ Her question caught him off-balance and he didn't know how to answer.

offbeat /'ɒf'bɪ:t/ adj unusual off-centre /ɒf 'sentə/ adj not at the centre of something (NOTE: The US spelling is off-center.)

off-chance /'ɒf tʃa:ns/ noun a slight possibility □ on the off-chance in case something happens

③ off-colour /'ɒf'kʌlə/ adj not well (NOTE: The US spelling is off-color.)
off-duty /ɒf 'dju:tɪ/ adj who is not on duty

③ offence /'ɒf'fens/ noun 1. the state of being offended □ to take offence at to be offended by ○ He took offence at being called a coward. ○ Don't take offence – I didn't really mean it. 2. a crime, an act which is against the law ○ He was charged with committing an offence. ○ Since it was his first offence, he was let off with a fine. (NOTE: [all senses] The US spelling is offense.)

offend /'ə'fend/ verb 1. to be or to go against public opinion or someone's feelings ○ He offended the whole village by the article he wrote in the paper. ○ That wallpaper offends my sense of taste. 2. to commit a crime ○ He was released from prison and immediately offended again.

offender /'ə'fendə/ noun a person who commits an offence against the law. Synonym criminal offending /ə'fendɪŋ/ adj which causes trouble or makes somebody angry (humorous) offensive /ə'fensɪv/ adj unpleasant, which offends ○ What an offensive smell! ○ The waiter was quite offensive. ■ noun 1. a military attack ○ The offensive was successful, and the enemy retreated. 2. □ to take the offensive, to go on the offensive to start to do something against someone ○ He took the offensive and demanded an explanation.

offensive weapon /ə,fensɪv 'wepən/ noun a weapon which can be used to attack someone

① offer /'ɒfə/ noun a thing which is suggested ○ He turned down her offer to drive him to the station. ○ She accepted his offer of a job in Paris. □ on offer which has been offered ○ There are several good holiday bargains on offer. ■ verb to say that you will give something or do something ○ She offered to drive him to the station. □ to offer someone a job to tell someone that he can have a job in your company ○ If they offer you the job, take it. □ He was offered a job, but he turned it down.

offering /'ɒf(ə)rɪŋ/ noun a thing which is offered; a present off-guard /ɒf 'gɑ:d/ adj not prepared and therefore surprised when something such as an attack happens offhand /ɒf'hænd/ adv immediately, without thinking carefully ○ I can't say offhand whether I'll be able to go. ■ adj in an unfriendly way, not being really polite ○ She gave a very offhand reply. ○ He was very offhand about it. (NOTE: also offhanded in this meaning)

① office /'ɒfɪs/ noun 1. a room or building where you carry on a business or where you organise something ○ I'll be working late at the office this evening. ○ Why is Miss Jones's office bigger than mine? ○ We bought some new office furniture. □ doctor's office US a room where a doctor sees his or her patients 2. a position or job ○ She holds the office of treasurer. 3. a government department office block /'ɒfɪs blk/ noun a large building containing many offices office hours /'ɒfɪs aʊəz/ plural noun the time when an office is open ○ Staff are not allowed to make private calls during office hours.

① officer /'ɒfɪsə/ noun 1. a person who holds an official position ○ The customs officer asked me to open my suitcase. 2. a person who is in charge of a group of other people in the armed forces ○ Ordinary soldiers must always salute officers.

② official /ə'fɪʃ(ə)l/ adj 1. referring to any organisation, especially one which is recognised as part of a government or some other authority ○ He left official papers in his car. ○ We had an official order from the local authority. ○ He represents an official body. 2. done or approved by someone in authority ○ She received an official letter of explanation. ○ The strike was made official by the union headquarters. ■ noun a person holding a recognised position ○ They were met by an official from the embassy. ○ I'll ask an official of the social services department to help you. Synonym bureaucrat officialdom /ə'fɪʃ(ə)ldəm/ noun government officials as a group, and their work (informal) (NOTE: no plural)

officialalese /ə'fɪʃ(ə)'liz/ noun official language, which is difficult to understand officially /ə'fɪʃ(ə)'li/ adv 1. in an official way ○ He has been officially named as a member of the British team. ○ She has been officially named as our representative at the meeting. 2. according to what is said in public ○ Officially, you are not supposed to go in through this door, but everyone does. □ Officially he knows nothing about the problem, but unofficially he has given us a lot of advice about it.

officious /'ɔ:fɪʃəs/ adj very ready to give advice or tell people what to do, especially when the advice is not wanted officiousness /'ɔ:fɪʃəsnəs/ noun being officious offing /'ɒfɪŋ/ noun □ in the offing coming soon, available soon □ There's a storm in the offing. □ He has a new book in the offing.

off-key /ɒf 'ki:/ adv above or below the correct musical pitch off-licence /'ɒf ,laɪs(ə)ns/ noun a shop which has a licence to sell alcoholic drinks to be taken away (NOTE: The US term is liquor store.) off-limits /ɒf 'lɪmɪts/ adj (of a place) where you are not allowed to go offline /ɒf'laɪn/ adj not connected to a computer off-peak /ɒf 'pi:k/ adj not at the most busy time □ Off-peak fares are considerably less expensive.

off-putting /,ɒf 'putɪŋ/ adj rather unpleasant or annoying off season /'ɒf ,sɪ:z(ə)n/ noun a time of year when there are fewer travellers, and when air fares and hotel prices are cheaper □ In February, British Airways was offering special off-season round the world fares. □ Tour operators try to get more people to travel during the off season. Also called low season.

Antonym high season ■ adj, adv in the off season □ special off-season round-the-world fares □ We travelled off-season, to take advantage of the low fares.

offset noun /'ɒfset/ a method of printing from a plate to a rubber surface and then to paper □ The book was printed by offset. ■ verb /'ɒf'set/ to balance one thing against another □ Losses in France more than offset our profits in the domestic market. (NOTE: offsetting – has offset) offshoot /'ɒfʃu:t/ noun something which branches from something else offshore /'ɒfʃɔ:/ adj 1. on the sea at a distance from the land □ We went to visit an offshore oil rig. 2. on an island which is a tax haven □ Offshore investments have produced a good rate of return.

offshore wind /,ɒf 'fɔ: wind/ noun a wind which blows from the coast towards the sea

③ off side /'ɒf 'saɪd/, offside /ɒf'saɪd/ noun the side of a car or other vehicle which is nearest the middle of the road offside /'ɒf'saɪd/ adv (in football) between the ball and the opposing team's goal □ The goal was disallowed because he was offside.

■ adj referring to the side of a car nearest to the middle of the road □ Your offside rear light isn't working.

③ offspring /'ɒfsprɪŋ/ noun 1. the young of an animal □ The mother deer produces her offspring in early spring. 2. a child or children □ Her offspring are all very musical. (NOTE: no plural)

offstage /ɒf'steɪdʒ/ adv 1. outside the area of a stage used for acting 2. not seen by the public

off-the-cuff /,ɒf 'θə 'kʌf/ adj, adv made without notes □ He was only asked to speak at the last minute, and for an off-the-cuff speech, it was excellent.

off-the-peg /ɒf 'θə 'peg/ adj, adv (of clothes) which are mass-produced, ready to fit any person of a certain size. Also called ready-to-wear. Antonym made-to-measure off-the-record /ɒf 'θi:/ adj (of a statement) said privately and not to be repeated as an official statement or to have the speaker's name published off-the-wall /,ɒf 'θə 'wɔ:l/ adj very unusual and strange (informal). Synonym bizarre off-white /,ɒf 'waɪt/ adj yellowish white, like the colour of cream

① often /'ɒf(ə)n/ adv many times, frequently □ I often have to go to town on business. □ Do you eat beef often? □ How often is there a bus to Richmond? Antonym seldom □ every so often from time to time □ We go to the cinema every so often.

ogle /'əʊg(ə)l/ verb to look at someone in a way that shows a sexual interest in them ogre /'əʊgrə/ noun 1. an imaginary person in children's stories, who is very large and cruel and eats people □ Puss in Boots knocked at the door of the ogre's castle. 2. a cruel, frightening person □ The staff say he is an ogre and don't like working for him.

① oh interj /əʊ/ showing surprise, interest or excitement ■ noun (especially in a telephone number or a date) zero

0800 number /,əʊ eɪt 'hʌndrəd ,nəməbə/ noun a telephone number that can be rung free of charge

② oil /ɔɪl/ noun 1. a liquid produced from plants which flows smoothly and is used in cooking 2. a thick mineral liquid found mainly underground and used as a fuel or to make something move smoothly □ The door squeaks – it needs some oil. □ Some of the beaches are covered with oil. □ The company is drilling for oil in the desert. ■ verb to put oil on or in something, especially in a machine or moving part to make it run more smoothly □ You should oil your bicycle chain.

oiled /ɔɪld/ adj covered in or treated with oil oilfield /'ɔɪlfɪld/ noun an area of rock under which oil lies and which can be drilled to take out oil oil paint /'ɔɪl peɪnt/ noun paint made with colours and oil oil painting /'ɔɪl ,peɪntɪŋ/ noun a picture painted in oil paints oil rig /'ɔɪl rɪg/ noun a structure for drilling for oil oils /'ɔɪlz/ plural noun oil paints oil slick /'ɔɪl slɪk/ noun a layer of oil which has spilled into the sea from a tanker or oil rig and which floats on the water oil tanker /'ɔɪl ,tæŋkə/ noun a large ship specially constructed for carrying oil oil well /'ɔɪl wel/ noun a hole in the ground from which oil is pumped oily /'ɔɪli/ adj 1. containing oil ○ Oily food makes me feel sick. ○ The tank was full of some oily liquid. 2. covered with oil ○ He used an old oily rag to clean his motorbike. 3. (of manner) too polite and insincere ○ I can't stand her oily manner. ○ He smiled an oily smile. (NOTE: oilier – oiliest) ointment /'ɔɪntmənt/ noun a smooth healing cream which you spread on the skin. Synonym gel

OK /əʊ'keɪ/, okay interj all right, yes ○ Would you like a coffee? – OK! ○ It's ten o'clock – OK, let's get going. ■ adj all right ○ He was off ill yesterday, but he seems to be OK now. ○ Is it OK for me to bring the dogs?

■ noun □ to give something the OK to approve something ○ The committee gave our plan the OK. ■ verb to approve something ○ The committee OK'd or okayed our plan. (NOTE: OK'd /'əʊ'keɪd/)

① old /əʊld/ adj 1. having had a long life ○ My uncle is an old man – he's eighty-four. ○ She lives in an old people's home. Antonym young 2. having existed for a long time ○ He collects old cars. ○ Play some old music, I don't like this modern stuff. ○ She's an old friend of mine. Antonym new 3. referring to something which has been used for a long time ○ Put on an old shirt if you're going to wash the car. ○ He got rid of his old car and bought a new one. Antonym new 4. with a certain age ○ He's six years old today. ○ How old are you? 5. used as a pleasant way of talking about someone ○ He's a sweet old man. ○ Come on, old thing, it's time to go home. (NOTE: older – oldest) old age /əʊld 'eɪdʒ/ noun a period of your life when you are old old age pension /,əʊld eɪdʒ 'pensən/ noun a government pension given to a person who is past retirement age old age pensioner /,əʊld eɪdʒ 'pensj(ə)nə/ noun a person who has retired and lives on a pension. Abbr OAP old boy network /'əʊld bɔɪ ,netwɜ:k/ noun an informal system where men who were at school together help each other get ahead in later life olden /'əʊld(ə)n/ adj referring to something in the distant past (archaic or literary). Antonym modern □ in olden days in the past (formal) old-fashioned /,əʊld 'fæʃ(ə)nəd/ adj not in fashion ○ She wore old-fashioned clothes. ○ Call me old-fashioned, but I don't approve of the way young people behave. ○ I prefer an old-fashioned corkscrew to this newfangled contraption. Synonym out of date

old flame /'əʊld 'fleɪm/ noun a former boyfriend or girlfriend old hand /'əʊld 'hænd/ noun a person who is very skilled and experienced at doing something old hat /'əʊld 'hæt/ adj old-fashioned or out of date (informal). Synonym outmoded oldie /'əʊldi/ noun an old-fashioned or out-of-date person or thing (informal) old master /'əʊld 'mæstə/ noun 1. a very famous old painter ○ They think the portrait may be by an Italian old master. 2. a painting by a very famous old painter ○ There are several old masters in the collection.

old school /'əʊld sku:l/ adj referring to a traditional way of doing things based on old-fashioned values old school tie /,əʊld sku:l 'taɪ/ noun a tie with a special design which shows which school you went to old-style /'əʊld staɪl/ adj of a kind that was common or typical in the past. Synonym traditional. Antonym modern old-time /'əʊld taɪm/ adj done in an old-fashioned way. Antonym modern old wives' tale /'əʊld 'waɪvz teɪl/ noun an old, and often silly, idea

Old World /'əʊld wɜ:ld/ noun □ the Old World Europe, Asia and Africa old-world /'əʊld wɜ:ld/ adj which recalls the good times in the past. Synonym outdated. Antonym modern olive /'ɒliv/ noun 1. a small black or green fruit from which oil is made for use in cooking ○ Olives are grown in Mediterranean countries like Spain, Greece and Italy. ○ Which do you prefer – green or black olives? 2. a tree which produces this fruit olive branch /'ɒliv bra:nʃ/ noun a sign of peace olive oil /,ɒliv 'ɔɪl/ noun an oil made from olives

Olympic /ə'lɪmpɪk/ adj referring to the Olympic Games ombudsman /'ɒmbudzmən/ noun an official who investigates complaints by the public against government departments or other large organisations (NOTE: The plural is ombudsmen.)

omelette /'ɒmlət/ noun a dish made of beaten eggs, cooked in a frying pan and folded over before serving, with various fillings inside (NOTE: The US spelling is omelet.)

omen /'əʊmən/ noun a thing that indicates what will happen in the future ominous /'ɒmɪnəs/ adj threatening bad results. Synonym threatening ominously /'ɒmɪnəslɪ/ adv in an ominous way

③ omission /əʊ'mɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. the act of omitting ○ We were surprised at the omission of his name from the list of candidates. 2. a thing which has been omitted ○ I can think of at least two obvious omissions from your list of famous playwrights: Shakespeare and Shaw!

omit /əʊ'mɪt/ verb 1. to leave something out ○ She omitted the date when typing the contract. 2. □ to omit to do something not to do something ○ He omitted to tell the police that he had lost the documents.

omnibus /'ɒmnɪbəs/ noun 1. a book which includes several books all together ○ An omnibus edition of Sherlock Holmes stories. 2. a radio or TV programme bringing several programmes together which were previously broadcast separately ○ Don't forget to listen to the omnibus edition on Saturday morning! 3. a bus or large vehicle which carries passengers (old) ○ Horse-drawn omnibuses started to run in London in 1829.

omnipotent /'ɒm'nɪpɔ:t(ə)nt/ adj all-powerful. Synonym almighty. Antonym powerless omniscient /'ɒm'nɪsɪənt/ adj referring to someone who knows everything omnivorous /'ɒm'nɪvɔ:r(ə)s/ adj referring to an animal which eats both plants and other animals

① on /ɒn/ prep 1. on the top or surface of something ○ Put the box down on the floor. ○ Flies can walk on the ceiling. 2. hanging from ○ Hang your coat on the hook. 3. showing movement or place ○ A crowd of children got on the train. ○ The picture's on page three. ○ The post office is on the left-hand side of the street. 4. part of ○ She's on the staff of the bank. ○ He's been on the committee for six years. 5. doing something ○ I have to go to Germany on business. ○ We're off on holiday tomorrow. 6. referring to a time, date or day ○ The shop is open on Sundays. ○ We went to see my mother on my birthday. □ on his or her arrival when he or she arrived 7. a means of travel ○ You can go there on foot – it only takes five minutes. ○ She came on her motorbike. 8. about ○ The committee produced a report on German industry. ○ She wrote a book on wild flowers. 9. using an instrument or machine ○ He played some music on the piano. ○ The song is available on CD. ○ He was on the telephone for most of the morning. ○ The film was on TV last night. 10. paid by someone ○ The drinks are on me. ■ adv 1. being worn ○ Have you all got your wellingtons on? ○ The central heating was off, so he kept his coat on in the house. 2. working ○ Have you put the kettle on? ○ The heating is on. ○ She left all the lights on. ○ She turned the engine on. ○ He switched the TV on. 3. being shown or played ○ What's on at the theatre this week? 4. continuing or not stopping ○ He didn't stop to say hello, but just walked on. ○ He went on playing the trumpet even though we asked him to stop. ○ Go on – I like to hear you play the piano. 5. showing time has passed ○ Later on that evening, the phone rang. □ from that time on after that moment ○ He almost drowned, and from that time on refused to go near water.

on-air /'ɒn 'eər/ adj needed, used for or occurring during broadcasting on radio or television on and off /,ɒn ənd 'ɒf/ adv not continuously but with breaks in between. Synonym occasionally. Antonym continuously on and on /,ɒn ənd 'ɒn/ adv without stopping

① once /wʌns/ adv 1. one time ○ Take the tablets once a day. ○ The magazine comes out once a month. ○ How many times did you go to the cinema last year? – only once. □ once in a while from time to time ○ It's nice to go to have an Indian meal once in a while. Synonym occasionally. Antonym often □ once and for all finally ○ I'll tell you once and for all 'stop talking!' ○ The government wants to eradicate poverty once and for all. 2. formerly, at a time in the past ○ Once, when it was snowing, the car skidded into a ditch. ○ He's someone I knew once when I worked in London. □ once upon a time (beginning fairy stories) at a certain time in the past ○ Once upon a time, there was a wicked witch. 3. □ all at once suddenly ○ All at once the phone rang. ■ conj as soon as ○ Once he starts talking you can't get him to stop. ○ Once we've moved house I'll give you a phone call. ◇ at once 1. immediately 2. at the same time once again /wʌns ə'geɪn/ adv another time oncoming /'ɒn'kʌmɪŋ/ adj coming towards you. Synonym approaching

① one /wʌn/ noun 1. number 1 ○ One plus one makes two. ○ Our grandson is one year old today. ○ His grandmother is a hundred and one. 2. a single item ○ Have a toffee – oh dear, there's only one left! □ last but one the one before the last ○ This is the last weekend but one before Christmas. □ one by one one after another ○ He ate all the chocolates one by one. ○ They came in one by one and sat in a row at the back of the hall. 3. □ to have a quick one to have a quick drink (informal) ○ Let's have a quick one before the meeting starts. □ to have one for the road to have a last drink before leaving the bar (informal) ○ Let's have one for the road. ■ pron a single thing ○ All the china plates were dirty so we made do with ○ Which hat do you like best – the black one or the red one? ○ One of the staff will help you carry the box to your car. ○ I've lost my map – have you got one? ○ Small cars use less petrol than big ones. ■ adj, pron you (formal) ○ One can't spend all the morning waiting to see the doctor, can one? ○ At his age, one isn't allowed to drive a car.

one another /wʌn ə'nʌðə/ adj, pron each other ○ We write to one another every week.

1471 /,wʌn fɔ: sev(ə)n/ wʌn/ a telephone number that you can use to find out who was the last person to telephone you one-man /wʌn 'mæn/ adj consisting of, designed for, featuring or performed, run or worked by only one person one-night stand /,wʌn nait 'stænd/ noun 1. a stop for a single performance of a play or by a pop group, before moving to another theatre the following night 2. a sexual relationship which lasts for only one night (informal) one-off /wʌn'ɒf/ adj which is done, happens or is made only once ○ It's a one-off bargain. ■ noun a one-off thing one-on-one /,wʌn ən 'wʌn/ adj US one-to-one one-person /wʌn 'pɜ:s(ə)n/ adj consisting of, designed for, featuring or performed, run or worked by only one person one-piece /'wʌn pi:s/ adj made of one piece of clothing onerous /'əʊnərəs/ adj needing a lot of effort. Synonym difficult. Antonym easy

③ oneself /wʌl'self/ pron referring to the person speaking as an indefinite subject one-sided /wʌn 'saɪdɪd/ adj dealing with or favouring one side only. Synonym biased one-time /'wʌn taɪm/ adj former one-to-one /,wʌn tə 'wʌn/ adj where one person has to deal with one other person only one-track mind /,wʌn træk 'maɪnd/ referring to a person who thinks too much about one thing ○ He has a one-track mind.

○ The two presidents had a one-to-one conversation. ○ She is taking a one-to-one Spanish conversation course.

12 /twelv/ noun a classification of films considered not suitable for people under 12

one-upmanship /wʌn 'ʌpmənʃɪp/ noun the practice of trying to do better than another person so as to appear superior to him or her

③ one-way /,wʌn 'wei/ adj going in one direction only one-way street /,wʌn weɪ 'stri:t/ noun a street where the traffic only goes in one direction one-way ticket /,wʌn weɪ 'tɪkɪt/ noun US a ticket for one journey from one place to another (NOTE: The British term is single.) one-woman /wʌn 'womən/ adj consisting of, designed for, featuring or performed, run or worked by only one person ongoing /'ɒngəʊɪŋ/ adj which is continuing

③ onion /'ənʃən/ noun a strong-smelling vegetable with a round white bulb online /'ɒnlайн/ adj, adv directly connected to a computer ○ You need to know the password to access the data online.

onlooker /'ɒnlʊkə/ noun a person who watches an event. Synonym bystander

① only /'ənəli/ adj without others of the same type ○ Don't break it – it's the only one I've got. ■ adv 1. with no one or nothing else ○ We've only got ten pounds between us. ○ Only an accountant can deal with this problem. ○ This lift is for staff only. 2. as recently as ○ We saw her only last week. ○ Only yesterday the bank phoned for information. ■ conj but, except ○ I like my mother-in-law very much, only I don't want to see her every day of the week. ◇ only just almost not ◇ only too very much

④ only child /,ənəli 'tʃaɪld/ noun son or daughter who has no other brothers or sisters

o.n.o. abbr or nearest offer on-off /ɒn 'ɒf/ adj something which keeps on starting and stopping onomatopoeia /,ɒnəmætə'pi:ə/ noun the making or using of words which imitate a sound onomatopoeic /,ɒnəmætə'pi:ik/ adj using onomatopoeia on-screen /,ɒn 'skri:n/ adj, adv on a computer screen rather than on paper ○ Most of our design work is done on-screen.

③ onset /'ɒnset/ noun beginning onshore /'ɒnʃɔ:/ adj towards the shore onslaught /'ɒnslɔ:t/ noun a sudden severe attack onstage /,ɒn'steɪdʒ/ adj, adv on the stage of a theatre and in view of an audience ○ The onstage action is fast and furious. ○ People started to laugh as soon as he walked onstage.

on-the-spot /,ɒn ðə 'spɒt/ adj done immediately or at the scene where something happens

① onto /'ɒntə, 'ɒntu, 'ɒntu:/ prep 1. on or to something ○ The speaker went up onto the platform. ○ The door opens directly onto the garden. ○ Turn the box onto its side. 2. □ to be onto something to have discovered something on top of /ɒn 'tɒpɒf/ prep 1. on ○ He put the book down on top of the others he had bought. 2. in addition to ○ On top of all my office work, I have to clean the house and look after the baby. 3. □ to feel on top of the world to feel marvellous and excited onus /'əʊnəs/ noun a responsibility for doing something difficult onward /'ɒnwəd/ adj further forward ○ Nothing can stop the onward march of computer technology. ■ adv further forward ○ He urged his men onward towards the enemy positions.

onward connection /'ɒnwəd kə'nekʃ(ə)n/ noun a train or plane which takes you on the next stage of your journey onwards /'ɒnwədz/ adv further forwards ooh! /u:/ interj showing surprise or shock (informal) oops! /u:ps/ interj showing surprise or that you are sorry (informal) ooze /u:z/ noun soft mud, especially at the bottom of a lake or the sea ○ The wreck lay buried in the ooze at the bottom of the lake. ■ verb (of liquid) to flow slowly ○ A black sticky liquid oozed from under the door. ○ A delicious cake oozing with cream.

op /ɒp/ noun a surgical operation (informal) opacity /əʊ'pæsɪtɪ/ noun the state of being opaque opal /'əʊp(ə)l/ noun a semi-precious white stone with changing colours opaque /əʊ'peɪk/ adj 1. which you cannot see through, but which does allow light through ○ The surface of the glass is treated to make it opaque. ○ Opaque black tights are the fashion this winter. 2. difficult to understand ○ The meaning of the document is completely opaque to me. ○ Her writings are notorious for being opaque to non-specialists.

OPEC /'əʊpek/ noun a group of countries who produce and export oil ○ The OPEC meeting will be held in Geneva.

① open /'əʊpən/ adj 1. not shut ○ The safe door is open. ○ Leave the window open – it's very hot in here. 2. functioning or happening and which you can go into ○ Is the supermarket open on Sundays? ○ The show is open from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. ○ The competition is open to anyone over the age of fifteen. 3. without anything to protect you or without barriers ○ We like walking in the open air. ○ The garden is open on three sides. 4. receptive to new ideas or future possibilities ○ I'd like to keep an open mind until the investigation is completed. ○ She is keeping her options open. 5. frank and honest ○ I will be open with you. □ with open arms in a friendly way ○ She was welcomed with open arms. ■ noun 1. a place outside which is not covered or hidden ○ Keep the plants in the greenhouse during the winter, but bring them out into the open in the summer. ○ The police investigation brought all sorts of offences out into the open. 2. a competition which anyone can enter provided he or she is good enough ○ He has qualified for the British Open. ■ verb 1. to make something open ○ Can you open the door for me, I'm trying to carry these heavy boxes? ○ Don't open the envelope until tomorrow. 2. to start doing something, to start a business ○ A new restaurant is going to open next door to us. ○ Most shops open early in the morning. 3. to make something begin officially ○ The new hotel was opened by the Minister of Tourism. ○ The exhibition will be formally opened by the mayor. ○ The chairman opened the meeting at 10.30.

open air /'əʊpən 'eə/ noun a place outside which is not covered or hidden ○ We keep the plants in the greenhouse during the winter, but bring them out into the open air in the summer.

open-air /'əʊpən eə/ adj in the open, not in a building. Synonym outside. Antonym indoor open day /'əʊpən deɪ/ noun a day when a building is open to the public open-door policy /'əʊpən 'dɔ: ,pɒlɪsɪ/ noun a trading policy where a country allows any person or goods to enter the country freely open-ended /'əʊpən 'endɪd/ adj with no fixed limit and with some items not specified

③ opener /'əʊp(ə)nə/ noun a device for opening open house /'əʊpən 'haʊs/ noun a situation when people are welcome to visit at any time

③ opening /'əʊp(ə)nɪŋ/ noun 1. the action of becoming open ○ The opening of the exhibition has been postponed. ○ The office opening times are 9.30 to 5.30. 2. a hole or space ○ The cows got out through an opening in the wall. 3. an opportunity, such as a job vacancy ○ We have openings for telephone sales staff.

opening hours /'əʊp(ə)nɪŋ əʊəz/ plural noun the times that a business such as a shop or bank is working and open to the public opening night /'əʊp(ə)nɪŋ 'naɪt/ noun the first evening performance when a new film or play is shown (NOTE: for a play also first night)

open invitation /'əʊpən 'ɪnvɪ'teɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. an invitation to visit someone or somewhere at any time 2. something which encourages someone to do something wrong or to commit a crime ○ Leaving the garage door open was an open invitation to car thieves.

open letter /'əʊpən 'letə/ noun a letter to someone, published as an article in a newspaper and not actually sent to the person it is addressed to openly /'əʊpənlɪ/ adv in a frank and open way. Synonym candidly. Antonym secretly

③ open market /'əʊpən 'mɑ:kɪt/ noun a market where anyone can buy or sell open-minded /'əʊpən 'maɪndɪd/ adj not having prejudices or fixed opinions and willing to listen to other people's ideas. Synonym unbiased. Antonym narrow-minded open-mouthed /'əʊpən 'maʊðɪd/ adj with the mouth open in surprise or shock openness /'əʊpənəs/ noun the state of being open

③ open on to /'əʊpən 'ɒn tu:/ verb to lead out on to or to look out on to something open-plan /'əʊpən 'plæn/ adj describing a building or an area of a building with no internal walls to divide it up ○ an open-plan school ○ open-plan offices open prison /'əʊpən 'prɪz(ə)n/ noun a prison with few restrictions open space /'əʊpən 'speɪs/ noun an area of land which has no buildings or trees on it open up /'əʊpən 'ʌp/ verb 1. to start working ○ A new bookshop has opened up next door. 2. to make available for use ○ We are opening up the park to visitors.

open verdict /'əʊpən 'vɜ:di:kɪt/ noun a verdict by a coroner's jury, which does not decide how a person died openwork /'əʊpənwɜ:k/ noun decoration on an object formed by patterns made from holes, e.g. like those on some types of shoe opera /'ɒp(ə)rə/ noun a performance on the stage with music, in which the words are sung and not spoken operable /'ɒp(ə)rəb(ə)l/ adj which can be made to work opera house /'ɒp(ə)rə haʊs/ noun a theatre in which operas are performed

② operate /'ɒpəreɪt/ verb 1. to make something work ○ He knows how to operate the machine. ○ She is learning how to operate the new telephone switchboard. 2. to do business ○ They operate in a different way from us. 3. to treat a patient by cutting open the body ○ She was operated on by Mr Jones. ○ The surgeon decided she would have to operate on the patient.

operatic /'ɒpə'rætɪk/ adj referring to opera

③ operating system /'ɒpəreɪtɪŋ 'sɪstəm/ noun basic software that controls the running of the hardware on a computer, and the management of data files, without the user having to operate it operating theatre /'ɒpəreɪtɪŋ 'θɪətə/ noun a special room in a hospital where surgeons carry out operations

① operation /'ɒpə'reɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. an organised action to achieve a specific goal ○ The rescue operation was successful. □ to come into operation to begin to be applied ○ The new schedules came into operation on June 1st. 2. a treatment when a surgeon cuts open the body ○ She's had three operations on her leg. ○ The operation lasted almost two hours.

operational /'ɒpə'reɪʃ(ə)nəl/ adj 1. referring to the working of something ○ The operational procedure is described in the manual.

2. ready for use ○ The new set-up will be fully operational by next year.

operative /'ɒp(ə)rətɪv/ adj working or in operation ■ noun a worker, especially one who operates a machine, etc. ○ The factory used to employ two hundred operatives.

③ operator /'ɒpəreɪtə/ noun 1. a person who works instruments, etc. ○ He's a computer operator. ○ She's a machine operator.

2. a person who works a telephone switchboard ○ Dial 0 for the operator. ○ You can place a call through or via the operator. 3. a person who organises things operetta /'ɒpə'retə/ noun an opera with an amusing story in which some words are spoken ophthalmic /'ɒfθælmɪk/ adj referring to the medical treatment of the eye ophthalmologist /'ɒfθæl'mɒlədʒɪst/ noun a doctor who treats diseases of the eye

① opinion /'ɒpɪnjən/ noun what someone thinks about something ○ Ask the lawyer for his opinion about the letter. ○ In my opinion, we should wait until the weather gets warmer before we go on holiday. ○ Tell me what in your opinion we should do.

opinionated /'ɒpɪnjəneɪtɪd/ adj with strong fixed opinions. Antonym open-minded

③ opinion poll /'ɒpɪnjən 'pəʊl/ noun asking a sample group of people questions, so as to get the probable opinion of the whole population opium /'əʊpiəm/ noun a drug made from a type of poppy, used in the preparation of codeine and heroin opossum /ə'ɒps(ə)m/ noun a small North American animal with black fur, which carries its young in a pouch

③ opponent /ə'pəʊnənt/ noun 1. a person or group which is against something ○ Oppo- nents of the planned motorway have occupied the site. 2. (in boxing, an election, etc.) a person who fights someone else ○ His opponent in the election is a local councillor. ○ He knocked out his last three opponents.

opportunity /'ɒpətju:n/ adj happening by chance at the right time. Antonym inopportune opportunism /,ɒpə'tju:nɪz(ə)m/ noun being an opportunist opportunist /,ɒpə'tju:nɪst/ noun a person who takes advantage of opportunities, especially at the expense of others. Synonym speculator opportunistic /,ɒpətju:'nɪstɪk/ adj trying to take advantage from an opportunity which is offered. Synonym unscrupulous

① opportunity /,ɒpə'tju:nɪtɪ/ noun a chance or circumstances which allow you to do something ○ When you were in London, did you have an opportunity to visit St Paul's Cathedral? ○ I'd like to take this opportunity to thank all members of staff for the work they have done over the past year.

③ oppose /ə'pəʊz/ verb 1. to put yourself against someone in an election ○ She is opposing him in the election. 2. to try to prevent something happening ○ Several groups oppose the new law.

opposing /ə'pəʊzɪŋ/ adj 1. playing, fighting or arguing against you ○ The players on the opposing side refused to shake hands with us. ○ He fouled a member of the opposing team. 2. which is the opposite ○ She holds quite opposing views to mine.

② opposite /'ɒpəzɪt/ prep on the other side of, facing ○ I work in the offices opposite the railway station. ○ She sat down opposite me. ■ adj which is on the other side ○ The shop's not on this side of the street – it's on the opposite side. ○ Her van hit a tree on the opposite side of the road. ○ Her van was hit by a lorry going in the opposite direction. ■ noun something which is completely different ○ 'Black' is the opposite of 'white.' ○ She's just the opposite of her brother – he's tall and thin, she's short and fat. ○ He likes to say one thing, and then do the opposite. Synonym contrary. Antonym same opposite number /,ɒpəzɪt 'nʌmbə/ noun a person who is in a similar job to yours in another company. Synonym counterpart

① opposition /,ɒpə'zɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. the action of opposing ○ There was a lot of opposition to the company's plans to demolish the church hall and build a supermarket. 2. (in politics) the party or group which opposes the government ○ The leader of the opposition rose to speak. ○ The party lost the election and is now in opposition.

oppress /ə'pres/ verb 1. to make people suffer, especially by harsh government ○ The barons oppressed the peasants. 2. to make someone feel shut in and depressed ○ The atmosphere in this office really oppresses me. ○ Playing in India for the first time, the members of the team felt oppressed by the heat.

oppressed /ə'prest/ adj treated in a cruel and unfair way

③ oppression /ə'preʃ(ə)n/ noun a cruel and unfair rule and control oppressive /ə'preſɪv/ adj 1. cruel, using oppression ○ *Under the general's oppressive regime, ordinary citizens were afraid to speak out against the government. 2. that makes people feel shut in and depressed ○ There's a very oppressive atmosphere in the office. ○ *I find the hot, humid July weather very oppressive.

oppressor /ə'preſər/ noun a person who oppresses others opt /ɒpt/ verb to decide in favour of something optic /'ɒptɪk/ adj referring to the eye or to sight

③ optical /'ɒptɪk(ə)l/ adj 1. referring to the eyes or to eyesight 2. referring to optics optical illusion /,ɒptɪk(ə)l ɪ'lū:z(ə)n/ noun a thing which appears different from what it really is because your eye does not recognise it ③ optician /ɒptɪ'sɪən/ noun a person who tests your eyesight, prescribes and sells glasses or contact lenses, etc.

optics /'ɒptɪks/ noun the study of sight and light rays optimal /'ɒptɪm(ə)l/ adj referring to the best or most desirable (formal) optimise /'ɒptɪ'maɪz/, optimize verb to make something work as efficiently as possible or to use something to its best advantage optimism /'ɒptɪmɪz(ə)m/ noun a belief or attitude that everything is as good as it can be or will work out for the best in the future. Antonym pessimism optimist /'ɒptɪmɪst/ noun a person who believes everything will work out for the best in the end. Antonym pessimist optimistic /,ɒptɪ'mɪstɪk/ adj a feeling that everything will work out for the best. Synonym hopeful. Antonym pessimistic optimum /'ɒptɪməm/ noun the best thing or amount ○ Twenty would be just enough, thirty would be the optimum we should aim for. ■ adj best ○ The market offers optimum conditions for sales. ○ What is the optimum speed for fuel consumption? Antonym worst

① option /'ɒpʃən/ noun 1. a choice, other possible action ○ One option would be to sell the house. ○ The tour offers several options as half-day visits. 2. an opportunity to buy or sell something within a certain time or at a certain price ○ We continue to hold an option on the sale.

optional /'ɒpʃ(ə)n(ə)l/ adj which may or may not be chosen. Antonym compulsory optional extra /'ɒpʃən(ə)l 'ekstrə/ noun an extra fitting which can be added to a car, but which are not provided in the basic model optometrist /'ɒptəmətrɪst/ noun a person who tests your eyesight, prescribes and sells glasses or contact lenses, etc. Also called optician

③ opt out /'ɒpt aut/ verb to decide not to take part in something ○ She decided to opt out of the pension scheme. ○ I think I'll opt out if you don't mind. ○ He opted out of the trip because he couldn't afford the price of a ticket.

opt-out /'ɒpt aut/ noun the action of opting out of something opulence /'ɒpjuləns/ noun great luxury or wealth opulent /'ɒpjulənt/ adj rich, luxurious or splendid. Antonym sparse opus /'əpʊs/ noun 1. an important piece of music which is given a number 2. a large work of art ○ The gallery isn't big enough to house his latest opus.

① or /ɔ:/ conj 1. linking alternatives or showing other things that can be done ○ You can come with us in the car or just take the bus. ○ Do you prefer tea or coffee? ○ Was he killed in an accident or was he murdered? ○ The film starts at 6.30 or 6.45, I can't remember which. 2. approximately ○ Five or six people came into the shop. ○ It costs three or four dollars. ◇ or else 1. or if not ○ Don't miss the bus, or else you'll have a long wait for the next one. ○ Put a coat on to go out, or else you'll catch cold. ○ We'd better get up early or else we'll miss the train. ○ You must have a ticket, or else you will be thrown off the train by the inspector. 2. otherwise ○ You'd better pay, or else.

oracle /'ɔ:ræk(ə)l/ noun (in Ancient Greece) a person who answered questions about the future

oral /'ɔ:rləl/ adj spoken, by speaking ○ There is an oral test as well as a written one. ■ noun an examination where you answer questions by speaking and not writing ○ He passed the written examination but failed the oral.

orally /'ɔ:rləli/ adv 1. by speaking ○ He replied orally to the written questions. 2. by the mouth ○ The medicine should be taken orally.

③ orange /'ɒrɪndʒ/ noun 1. a sweet, brightly coloured Mediterranean fruit ○ roast duck and orange sauce. ○ She had a glass of orange juice and a cup of coffee for breakfast. 2. the colour of an orange ○ She painted the bathroom a very bright orange. ■ adj of the colour of an orange ○ That orange tie is awful. ○ She wore a dark orange dress.

orangeade /'ɒrɪndʒ'eɪd/ noun a fizzy orange-flavoured drink orange squash /'ɒrɪndʒ 'skwɒʃ/ noun a drink made of concentrated orange juice and water oration /'ɔ:reɪʃ(ə)n/ noun a speech orator /'ɔ:rətəl/ noun 1. a person who speaks well in public ○ One of best orators in Parliament. 2. a person making a speech oratory /'ɔ:rətri/ noun the art of making formal public speeches orbit /'ɔ:bit/ noun 1. the curved path of something moving through space ○ The rocket will put the satellite into orbit round the earth. 2. an area of influence ○ Questions of discipline don't come into my orbit. ■ verb to move in an orbit round something ○ The satellite orbits the earth once every five hours. Synonym circle orbital /'ɔ:bit(ə)l/ adj 1. referring to the orbit of a planet or a satellite ○ The Earth has an orbital velocity round the Sun of about 30km per second. 2. that goes all the way around something, especially round a big city ○ an orbital motorway orchard /'ɔ:tʃəd/ noun a field of fruit trees orchestra /'ɔ:kistrə/ noun a large group of musicians who play together ○ the London Symphony Orchestra orchestral /'ɔ:kestrəl/ adj referring to an orchestra. Synonym instrumental orchestrate /'ɔ:kistreɪt/ verb 1. to arrange a piece of music for an orchestra ○ Mussorgsky's 'Pictures at an Exhibition' was orchestrated by Ravel. 2. to organise a demonstration ○ They orchestrated the protest marches in such a way as to get them on the TV news every evening.

orchestration /'ɔ:kɪ'streɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the arrangement of a piece of music for orchestra orchid /'ɔ:kɪd/ noun a plant with colourful showy flowers, which, in the wild, often grows on other plants ordain /'ɔ:dɪn/ verb 1. to make someone a priest or a member of the clergy in a formal ceremony ○ He was ordained in Canterbury Cathedral. 2. to order that something be done ○ The king ordained that all children over five had to be registered with the tax authorities. ○ Fate ordained that the children would never see their father again.

③ ordeal /'ɔ:dɪl/ noun a painful test or difficult time

① order /'ɔ:dəl/ noun 1. an instruction to someone to do something ○ He shouted orders to the workmen. ○ If you can't obey orders you can't be a soldier. 2. (of a customer) asking for something to be served or to be sent \circ We've had a large order for books from Russia. \circ She gave the waitress her order. 3. things ordered in a restaurant; goods ordered by a customer \circ The waiter brought him the wrong order. \circ Our order has been lost in the post. 4. a special way of organising things in a sequence \circ Put the invoices in order of their dates. 5. □ in order that so that \circ Cyclists should wear orange coats in order that drivers can see them in the dark. \square in order to so as to \circ She ran as fast as she could in order to catch the bus. \circ He looked under the car in order to see if there was an oil leak. 6. the obeying of rules or laws without unrest or violence \circ Problems of law and order are important to the local authorities. \circ The army entered the university campus and managed to restore order. 7. a whole group of monks or nuns \circ The Benedictines are one of the most important of the monastic orders. 8. a document which allows money to be sent through the post and paid to someone \blacksquare verb 1. to tell someone to do something \circ They ordered the protesters out of the building. \circ The doctor ordered him to take four weeks' holiday. 2. (of a customer) to ask for something to be served or to be sent \circ They ordered chicken and chips and some wine. \circ I've ordered a new computer for the office. \circ They ordered a Rolls Royce for the managing director.

③ order about /,ɔ:dər ə'baut/ verb to tell someone what to do all the time

orderly /'ɔ:dəli/ adj 1. tidy or well arranged \circ She keeps a really orderly office. \circ The papers were stacked in orderly piles. 2. well behaved \circ I want you all to cross the road in an orderly fashion. \circ The police praised the orderly rugby supporters. \blacksquare noun 1. a person who does general work 2. a soldier who does general work for an officer \circ An orderly appeared with a cup of coffee for the general. (NOTE: The plural is orderlies.)

ordinal /'ɔ:dn(ə)l/, ordinal number /'ɔ:dn(ə)l ˌnʌmbə/ noun a number indicating the position in a series (NOTE: Ordinary numbers such as one, two, three are called cardinal numbers.)

ordinarily /'ɔ:d(ə)n(ə)rili/ adv 1. normally or usually \circ Ordinarily we don't allow visitors in here. \circ It's not something we ordinarily do. 2. in a normal way \circ She was dressed quite ordinarily.

① ordinary /'ɔ:d(ə)n(ə)ri/ adj not special \circ I'll wear my ordinary suit to the wedding. \circ They lead a very ordinary life. \square out of the ordinary unusual or different \circ Their flat is quite out of the ordinary.

ordination /,ɔ:dn'nef(ə)n/ noun the act or ceremony of ordaining someone as a priest ordnance /'ɔ:dnəns/ noun 1. heavy guns \circ The army besieging the town directed their ordnance against the weakest part of the city walls. 2. military supplies ore /ɔ:rl/ noun a type of stone found in the earth from which metals are obtained. Synonym mineral (NOTE: Do not confuse with oar.)

oregano /,ɔ:ri'ga:nəʊ/ noun a herb used in cooking

③ organ /'ɔ:ge:n/ noun 1. a part of the body with a special function, such as the heart or liver \circ He was in a coma and some of his organs had stopped functioning. 2. a musical instrument which is often played in churches with one or more keyboards and many pipes through which air is pumped to make a sound \circ She played the organ at our wedding. \circ The organ played the 'Wedding March' as the bride and groom walked down the aisle. 3. an official newspaper \circ It is the organ of the book trade. \circ The appointments will be published in the official organs.

organic /'ɔ:gənɪk/ adj 1. referring to living things 2. cultivated naturally, without using any chemical fertilisers and pesticides \circ Organic vegetables are more expensive but may be better for you. 3. using only natural fertilisers and pesticides \circ an organic farm or farmer \circ organic farming organically /'ɔ:gənɪkli/ adv 1. in an organic way 2. referring to food which is grown or produced naturally, without any chemical fertilisers or pesticides \circ organically grown produce \circ organically produced fruit and vegetables organisation /,ɔ:gənə'seɪʃ(ə)n/, organization noun 1. the action of arranging something \circ The organisation of the meeting is done by the secretary. 2. an organised group or institution \circ He's chairman of an organisation which looks after blind people. \circ International relief organisations are sending supplies.

organisational /,ɔ:gənəl'zeɪʃ(ə)n(ə)l/, organizational adj referring to the way in which something is organised. Synonym structural organise /'ɔ:gənaɪz/, organize verb 1. to arrange something \circ She is responsible for organising the meeting. \circ We organised ourselves into two groups. \circ The company is organised in three sections. 2. to put into good order \circ We have put her in charge of organising the city archives.

organised /'ɔ:gənaɪzd/, organized adj 1. working efficiently and systematically 2. involving the systematic coordination of many different people or elements organised crime /,ɔ:gənaɪzd 'kraɪm/ noun criminal activity which is run as a business and involves lots of people. \spadesuit mafia organiser /'ɔ:gənaɪzə/, organizer noun 1. a person who arranges things 2. a little diary or looseleaf book, in which you enter your appointments, addresses, etc.

③ organism /'ɔ:gənɪz(ə)m/ noun a living thing organist /'ɔ:gənist/ noun a person who plays the organ orgasm /'ɔ:gæz(ə)m/ noun the climax of a sexual act, when a person experiences a moment of great excitement orgy /'ɔ:dʒi/ noun 1. an uncontrolled party with drinking, dancing and sexual activity ○ The celebrations rapidly became a drunken orgy. ○ Jenny's birthday party turned into an all-night orgy. 2. an uncontrolled activity ○ an orgy of spending (NOTE: The plural is orgies.)

orient /'ɔ:riənt/ verb same as orientate

Orient /'ɔ:riənt/ noun □ the Orient the countries of East Asia (dated and literary) oriental /,ɔ:ri'ənt(ə)l/ adj referring to the countries of East Asia (dated). Antonym occidental orientate /'ɔ:riənteɪt/ verb 1. to get yourself accustomed to a new place or ready for a new situation or job ○ She'll need time to orientate herself after her long trip abroad. 2. to put something in a certain direction ○ The house is orientated towards the west. (NOTE: [all senses] The preferred US term is orient.)

orientation /,ɔ:riən'teɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. the attitudes, views or aims of a person or organisation 2. the process of helping people to get to know a place, job or subject ○ All new students take an orientation course in their first week at college. 3. being placed along a particular line or facing in a particular direction ○ The church's orientation is north-south, instead of the more usual east-west.

orifice /'ɔ:rfɪs/ noun a hole or opening (formal) origami /,ɔ:ri'gu:mi/ noun the Japanese art of folding paper to make interesting shapes

② origin /'brɪdʒɪn/ noun where something or someone comes from ○ What is the origin of the word 'taboo'? ○ His family has French origins.

① original /'ɔ:rɪdʒən(ə)l/ adj 1. from the beginning ○ The original ideas for his paintings came from his own garden. 2. new and different ○ They solved the problem by using a very original method. ○ The planners have produced some very original ideas for the new town centre. 3. not a copy ○ They sent a copy of the original invoice. ○ He kept the original receipt for reference. □ noun a thing from which other things are copied ○ Send a copy of the will but keep the original. ○ The original was lost in the post but luckily I kept a copy. ○ She found that the old painting she had bought in a jumble sale was an original and not a copy.

originality /ɔ:rɪdʒɪ'nælɪti/ noun the fact of being original, new or different. Synonym innovation

② originally /'ɔ:rɪdʒən(ə)li/ adv in the beginning ○ Originally it was mine, but I gave it to my brother. ○ The family originally came from France in the 18th century. Antonym eventually originate /'ɔ:rɪdʒɪneɪt/ verb 1. to begin, to start from or to have a beginning ○ This strain of flu originated in Hong Kong. ○ His problems at work originated in his home life. 2. to make for the first time ○ They originated a new computer system. ○ We have originated a new style of computer keyboard.

originator /'ɔ:rɪdʒə,neɪtər/ noun someone who begins, creates or invents something

③ ornament /'ɔ:nəmənt/ noun a small thing used as decoration ○ There's a row of china ornaments on the mantelpiece. ■ verb /,ɔ:na'ment/ to add a decoration to something ○ The cake was ornamented with flowers in pink and green icing. Synonym adorn ornamental /,ɔ:nə'ment(ə)l/ adj 1. acting as an ornament ○ A box with ornamental carvings on its sides. 2. pretty rather than useful ○ The table is purely ornamental: it's far too small to use as a dining table. Synonym decorative ornamentation /,ɔ:nəmən'teɪʃ(ə)n/ noun ornaments added as decoration ornate /'ɔ:tneɪt/ adj with too much ornamentation. Synonym elaborate ornithologist /,ɔ:ni'θɒlədʒɪst/ noun a person who studies birds ornithology /,ɔ:ni'θɒlədʒi/ noun the study of birds orphan /'ɔ:f(ə)n/ noun a child whose parents are dead ○ She's an orphan – both her parents were killed in a car crash. ■ verb to make someone an orphan ○ Hundreds of children were orphaned during the war.

orphanage /'ɔ:f(ə)nɪdʒ/ noun a home where orphans are looked after. Synonym home orphaned /'ɔ:f(ə)nd/ adj (of a child) whose parents have died orthodox /'ɔ:θədɒks/ adj 1. holding the generally accepted beliefs of a religion or a philosophy ○ The Chancellor of the Exchequer is following orthodox financial principles. 2. observing traditional religious practices very strictly orthodoxy /'ɔ:θədɒksi/ noun 1. the generally accepted beliefs of a religion, a philosophy, etc. ○ The orthodoxy of some of the bishop's beliefs was questioned in the article. 2. an opinion that is generally accepted at a particular time ○ He challenged the orthodoxy of the scientific establishment.

orthography /ɔ:θogrəfi/ noun a correct spelling orthopaedic /,ɔ:θə'pi:dik/ adj referring to the treatment of bones and joints orthopaedics /,ɔ:θə'pi:diks/ noun a branch of medicine dealing with bones, etc.

OS abbr outsize

Oscar /'ɒskə/ trademark an Academy Award oscillate /'ɒsɪleɪt/ verb to swing from one side to the other oscillation /,ɒsɪ'leɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the act of oscillating osmosis /ɒz'məʊsɪs/ noun the movement of a solution from one part through a semi-permeable membrane to another part ostensible /'ɒstensib(ə)l/ adj which seems on the surface to be real, when in fact it is not ostensibly /'ɒstensiblɪ/ adv seeming to be real, when in fact it is not ostentation /,ɒstən'teɪʃ(ə)n/ noun showing off in a luxurious way, so as to impress ostentatious /,ɒstən'teɪʃəs/ adj looking showy and expensive, so as to impress. Synonym flashy ostentatiously /,ɒstən'teɪʃəsli/ adv in a showy and expensive way, so as to impress osteopathy /,ɒsti'ɒpəθi/ noun a treatment for some medical conditions that involves massaging and bending parts of the body osteoporosis /,ɒstiəpɔ:sɪ:'rəʊsɪs/ noun a condition where the bones become thin, porous and brittle, because of lack of calcium and lack of physical exercise ostracise /'ɒstrəsaɪz/, ostracize verb to refuse to talk to somebody or allow them to be part of a group ostracism /'ɒstrəsɪz(ə)m/ noun being rejected by a group or by society. Antonym inclusion ostrich /'ɒstrɪtʃ/ noun a very large bird which cannot fly but which can run fast, and is found in Africa (NOTE: The plural is ostriches.)

① other /'ʌðə/ adj, pron 1. a different person or thing ○ We went swimming while the other members of the group sat and watched. ○ I don't like chocolate cakes – can I have one of the others? ○ I'm fed up with that campsite – can't we go to some other place next year? 2. second one of two ○ He has two cars – one is red, and the other one is blue. ○ One of their daughters is fat, but the other is quite thin. 3. showing something which is not clear ○ She went to stay in some hotel or other in London. ○ He met some girl or other at the party. ○ I'm surprised to hear he's in hospital – I saw him only the other day and he looked perfectly well. 4. □ anything other anything else ○ In the evening we never do anything other than watch TV.

① otherwise /'ʌðəwaɪz/ adv 1. in other ways ○ Your little boy can be noisy sometimes, but otherwise he's an excellent pupil. 2. if not, or else ○ Are you sure you can't come on Tuesday? – Otherwise I'll have to give the tickets to someone else. 3. in a different way ○ He thinks we should move house, but I think otherwise.

OTT abbr over the top (informal) ○ Throwing the letter on the floor and stamping on it was a bit OTT.

otter /'ɒtə/ noun a small fish-eating mammal with webbed feet living mainly by rivers

ouch /aʊtʃ/ interj showing that you have been hurt ○ Ouch! That was my foot you trod on!

① ought /ɔ:t/ modal verb 1. it would be a good thing to ○ You ought to go swimming more often. ○ You ought to see the doctor if your cough doesn't get better. ○ He oughtn't to eat so much – he'll get fat. ○ The travel agent ought to have told you the hotel was full before you went on holiday. 2. it is probable that ○ She ought to pass her driving test easily. ○ He left his office at six, so he ought to be home by now. (NOTE: The negative is ought not, shortened to oughtn't. Note also that ought is always followed by to and a verb in the infinitive.)

oughtn't short form ought not

③ ounce /aʊns/ noun a measure of weight, equal to 28 grams (NOTE: usually written oz after figures: 3oz of butter, say 'three ounces of butter')

① our /aʊə/ adj which belongs to us ○ Our office is near the station. ○ Our cat is missing again. ○ Two of our children caught flu. (NOTE: Do not confuse with hour.)

① ours /aʊəz/ pron a thing or person that belongs to us ○ That house over there is ours. ○ Friends of ours told us that the restaurant was good. ○ Can we borrow your car, because ours is being serviced? (NOTE: Do not confuse with hours.)

① ourselves /aʊə'selvz/ pron 1. referring to us ○ We all organised ourselves into two teams. ○ We were enjoying ourselves when the police came. 2. □ all by ourselves with no one else; with no help from anyone else ○ We don't like being all by ourselves in the dark house. ○ We built the house all by ourselves.

oust /aʊst/ verb to force someone to leave a position

① out /aʊt/ adv 1. away from inside ○ How did the tiger get out of its cage? ○ She pulled out a box of matches. ○ Take the computer out of its packing case. 2. not at home ○ No one answered the phone – they must all be

out. 3. away from here ○ The tide is out. ○ The fishing boats left the harbour and are now out at sea. (NOTE: Out is often used with verbs: to jump out, to come out, to get out. out is often followed by of.) 4. wrong in calculating ○ The cash in the till was £10 out. 5. not in fashion ○ Long hair is out this year. 6. just appeared 7. (of fire or light) no longer burning ○ All the lights are out in the building, so I assume it's empty.

outback /'autbæk/ noun (in Australia) the areas away from centres of population. Synonym wilderness outbid /'aut'bɪd/ verb to bid higher than someone else outbox /'aut,bɒks/ noun US an out tray outbreak /'autbreɪk/ noun a sudden series of cases of an illness or unrest. Synonym eruption outbuildings /'autbɪldɪŋz/ plural noun buildings near to a main building outburst /'autbɜːst/ noun a sudden display of violent emotion outcast /'autkaːst/ noun a person who has been rejected by society, or driven away from a group. Synonym untouchable outclass /'aut'klaːs/ verb to be significantly better than other people at doing something

③ outcome /'autkʌm/ noun a result ○ The outcome of the match was in doubt until the final few minutes. ○ What was the outcome of the appeal? Synonym result outcrop /'autkrɒp/ noun a rock which sticks out of the surface of the ground outcry /'autkraɪ/ noun a loud protest from a number of people outdated /'aut'deɪtɪd/ adj old-fashioned. Synonym antiquated outdo /'aut'duː/ verb to do better than someone. Synonym exceed (NOTE: outdid /'aut'dɪd/ – outdone /'aut'dʌn/)

③ outdoor /'autdɔː/ adj in the open air. Synonym outside. Antonym indoor

③ outdoors /'autdɔːz/ adv in the open air, not inside a building ○ The ceremony is usually held outdoors. ○ Why don't we take our coffee outdoors and sit in the sun? ○ The concert will be held outdoors if the weather is good. Antonym indoors (NOTE: You can also say out of doors.) ■ noun the open air or the open countryside ○ The pictures of the snowcapped Rocky Mountains are a typical scene of the great American outdoors.

③ outer /'autə/ adj on the outside ○ Though the outer surface of the pie was hot, the inside was still cold. Synonym outside. Antonym inner outermost /'autəməʊst/ adj furthest out or furthest from the centre outer space /'autə 'speɪs/ noun the area beyond the Earth's atmosphere outfield /'autfɪld/ noun the part of a cricket pitch or baseball pitch furthest away from the players who are batting. Antonym infield

③ outfit /'autfɪt/ noun 1. a set of clothes, often for a particular purpose ○ She bought a new outfit for the wedding. ○ For the fancy dress party she wore a nurse's outfit. 2. an organisation ○ I want some really professional builders, not an outfit like my brother's. ○ She works for some local government outfit.

outflank /'autflæŋk/ verb to go round the side of an enemy outflow /'autfləʊ/ noun a quantity which flows out outgoing /'aut'gəʊɪŋ/ adj 1. referring to a phone call or post which is going out of a building ○ an outgoing call ○ He hurried to catch the outgoing post. 2. lively, who likes to be with others ○ He has a very outgoing personality. 3. referring to someone who is leaving a job ○ She proposed a vote of thanks to the outgoing chairman.

outgoings /'autgəʊɪŋz/ plural noun regular expenditure outgrow /'aut'grəʊ/ verb 1. to grow too big for clothes ○ She's already outgrown the dress I bought her for Christmas. 2. to change your behaviour as you grow up ○ We hoped they'd soon outgrow that sort of behaviour. (NOTE: outgrew – outgrown. You can also say to grow out of.)

outing /'autɪŋ/ noun a short trip. Synonym visit outlandish /'aut'lændɪʃ/ adj strange or different from the usual. Synonym unusual. Antonym usual outlast /'aut'laːst/ verb to exist longer than another person or thing or to be successful for longer than another thing outlaw /'autləʊ/ verb 1. to say that something is unlawful ○ The government has proposed a bill to outlaw drinking in public. 2. to declare someone to be beyond the protection of the law (dated) ○ The leader of the bandits was outlawed and fled into the mountains. ■ noun a person who has been outlawed (dated) ○ They read about Robin Hood, the famous English outlaw. Synonym runaway outlay /'autleɪ/ noun money spent. Synonym expenditure outlet /'autlət/ noun 1. a place where something can be sold or distributed ○ He owns a small number of clothing outlets in south-east London. 2. the means by which an idea or feeling can get out ○ He did weight-lifting as an outlet for his stress at work.

outline /'aʊtlain/ noun 1. a line showing the outer edge of something ○ He drew the outline of a car on the paper. 2. a broad description without giving much detail ○ She gave the meeting an outline of her proposals. ○ I don't have much time – just give me the outline of the story. ■ verb to make a broad description of a plan, etc. ○ He outlined the plan to the bank manager. ○ She outlined her proposals to the meeting. ■ adj as a broad description, without any details ○ The outline proposal was rejected. ○ The council gave outline planning permission for a new house.

outlive /'aʊtlɪv/ verb □ to outlive someone or something to live longer than someone or something ○ He outlived all his brothers and sisters. ○ She outlived her husband by twenty years. ○ Our old telephone system has outlived its usefulness.

outlook /'aʊtluk/ noun 1. a view of the world in general ○ His gloomy outlook on life shows in his novels. 2. a view of what will happen in the future ○ We think the outlook for the company is excellent. ○ The economic outlook is not good. ○ The outlook for tomorrow's weather is mainly sunny with some rain.

outlying /'aʊtlainɪŋ/ adj away from a town or city outmanoeuvre /'aʊtmə'nʊ:və/ verb to gain an advantage over someone by acting or working more cleverly (NOTE: The US spelling is outmaneuver.)

outmoded /'aʊt'məʊdɪd/ adj old-fashioned outnumber /'aʊt'nʌmbə/ verb to be greater in number than something

① out of /'aʊt ɒv/ prep 1. outside of ○ Get out of my way! ○ They went out of the room. 2. from among a total ○ She got 60 marks out of 100 for her exam. ○ One out of ten policemen is corrupt. 3. from ○ Her dress is made out of a piece of old silk. ○ He made a fortune out of buying and selling antiques. 4. no longer available ○ We're out of carrots today. ○ I'm out of change – can I borrow £5?

5. caused by ○ Reporting his mother to the police was just done out of spite. ○ He threw the plate on the floor out of sheer frustration.

① out of date /'aʊt əv 'deɪt/ adj 1. without recent information 2. no longer in fashion ○ Flared trousers are rather out of date. 3. no longer valid ○ I'm afraid your bus pass is out of date. ○ She tried to travel with an out-of-date ticket.

out of pocket /'aʊt əv 'pɒkɪt/ adj having lost money which you paid personally out of print /'aʊt əv 'prɪnt/ adj with no printed copies left out of the way /'aʊt əv ðə 'wei/ adj 1. not near any main town ○ They live in an out of the way village in the West Country. Synonym remote 2. □ nothing out of the way not unusual, not extraordinary

③ out of touch /'aʊt əv 'tʌtʃ/ adj 1. not having the most recent information about something ○ He seems out of touch with what's been happening in his department. 2. not communicating with somebody by letter or telephone ○ We've been out of touch with our relations in Canada for several years.

out-of-town /'aʊt əv 'taʊn/ adj not near to a town centre

③ out of work /'aʊt əv 'wɜ:k/ adv with no job ○ The recession has put millions out of work. ■ adj with no job ○ The company was set up by three out-of-work engineers. Synonym unemployed

out of your depth /'aʊt əv jɔ: 'deph/ adv 1. in deep water and not able to touch the bottom ○ She got out of her depth and had to be rescued by the lifeguards. 2. unable to understand ○ He's quite out of his depth in discussions about monetary theory.

out of your mind /'aʊt əv jə 'maɪnd/ adv mad or irrational outpace /'aʊt'peɪs/ verb to walk or go faster than someone outpatient /'aʊtpɛɪʃ(ə)nt/ noun a person who goes to a hospital for treatment, without staying there overnight outperform /'aʊtpə'fɔ:m/ verb to do something better or more quickly than somebody or something else. Synonym outdo outplay /'aʊt'pleɪ/ verb to play better than someone else outpost /'aʊtpəʊst/ noun a small town or small fort in a distant part of an occupied territory. Synonym garrison outpouring /'aʊt,pɔ:riŋ/ noun the sudden expression of a strong emotion or production of something in large amounts. Synonym flood ② output /'aʊtpʊt/ noun an amount which a firm, machine or person produces ○ The factory has doubled its output in the last six months.

outrage /'aʊt'reɪdʒ/ noun an offence or vigorous attack against moral standards ○ The terrorist attack on the market is an outrage. ○ I think the new tax on food is an outrage. ■ verb to shock, to be a cause of great indignation ○ His behaviour outraged his parents. Synonym infuriate. Antonym placate outrageous /'aʊt'reɪdʒəs/ adj causing indignation and shock. Synonym disgraceful. Antonym commendable outrageously /'aʊt'reɪdʒəsli/ adv in an outrageous way outreach /'aʊtri:tʃ/ adj referring to services provided outside an organisation's buildings outright /,aʊt'ræt/ adj complete ○ The play was an outright success. ○ She's the outright winner of the competition. ■ adv 1. openly ○ He told me outright that he didn't like me. 2. immediately ○ The van hit him and he was killed outright.

③ outset /'aʊtset/ noun the beginning. Synonym beginning

① outside /'aʊtsaɪd/ noun the outer surface or the part which is not inside ○ He polished the outside of his car. ○ The apple was red and shiny on the outside, but rotten inside. Synonym exterior. Antonym inside ■ adj which is on the outer surface ○ The outside walls of the house are brick. ■ adv not inside a building ○ It's beautiful and warm outside in the garden. ○ The dog's all wet – it must be raining outside. ■ prep in a position not inside ○ I left my umbrella outside the front door. ○ This is outside my field of research.

outside broadcast /,aʊt'saɪst/ noun a programme not done in the studio outside lane /,aʊt'saɪd leɪn/ noun a track nearest the centre of a road, used by the faster-moving vehicles

③ outsider /aʊt'saɪdə/ noun 1. a person who does not belong to a group ○ She has always been a bit of an outsider. 2. a horse which is not expected to win a race ○ The outsider won the race by a neck.

outskirts /'aʊtskɜːts/ plural noun the outer edges of a town or similar place. Synonym border outsmart /aʊt'smaɪt/ verb to trick someone by being cleverer. Synonym outwit outspoken /aʊt'spəʊkən/ adj speaking very frankly. Synonym frank. Antonym tactful

③ outstanding /aʊt'stændɪŋ/ adj 1. excellent or of a very high standard or quality ○ Her performance was outstanding. ○ an antique Chinese vase of outstanding quality 2. not yet paid ○ The invoice from the solicitor is still outstanding. ○ I have some outstanding bills to settle.

outstay /aʊt'steɪ/ verb □ to outstay your welcome to stay longer than your hosts thought you were going to stay outstretched /,aʊt'streɪʃt/ adj which is stretched out outstrip /aʊt'strɪp/ verb 1. to go faster than someone ○ They outstripped everybody else in their new boat. ○ She outstripped all the other competitors to win the race. 2. to do better than someone ○ Japanese firms have been outstripping their American rivals. (NOTE: outstripping – outstripped) out-tray /'aʊt treɪ/ noun a file or basket for outgoing letters (NOTE: The file for incoming letters is the in-tray and that for letters which are waiting for a decision is the pending tray.)

outvote /aʊt'vəʊt/ verb to defeat someone in a vote outward /'aʊtwəd/ adj, adv 1. towards the outside or away from the centre or starting point ○ The outward journey takes about six hours. 2. on the outside ○ His outward appearance belies his true character.

outward bound /,aʊtwəd 'baʊnd/ adj referring to an aeroplane or boat that is making a journey away from a place outwardly /'aʊtwədli/ adv as it seems on the outside outwards /'aʊtwədz/ adv towards the outside or away from the centre or starting point (NOTE: The US term is outward.)

③ outweigh /aʊt'wei/ verb to be more important than something. Synonym overshadow outwit /aʊt'wɪt/ verb to trick someone by being cleverer than they are. Synonym outsmart (NOTE: outwitting – outwitted) outworn /aʊt'wɔːn/ adj no longer useful. Synonym obsolete ova /'əʊvə/ plural of ovum

oval /'əʊv(ə)l/ noun a long rounded shape like an egg ○ He drew an oval on the paper. ■ adj with a long rounded shape like an egg ○ The pie was cooked in an oval bowl. ○ A rugby ball isn't round but oval.

ovarian /əʊ'veeəriən/ adj referring to the ovaries ovary /'əʊv(ə)ri/ noun one of two organs in a woman or female animal which produce ova or egg cells and secrete the female hormone oestrogen (NOTE: The plural is ovaries.)

ovation /əʊ'veeʃ(ə)n/ noun great applause. Synonym standing ovation

③ oven /'əv(ə)n/ noun a metal box with a door, which is heated for cooking ○ Don't put that plate in the oven – it's made of plastic. ○ Supper is cooking in the oven. ○ Can you look in the oven and see if the meat is cooked?

ovenproof /'əv(ə)n,pru:f/ adj which can be put into a hot oven without any danger of being cracked by the heat

① over /əʊvə/ prep 1. above or higher than ○ He put a blanket over the bed. ○ Planes fly over our house every minute. ○ The river rose over its banks. 2. on the other side or to the other side ○ Our office is just over the road from the bank. ○ He threw the ball over the wall. ○ The children ran over the road. 3.

from the top of \circ He fell over the cliff. \circ She looked over the edge of the balcony. 4. during \circ Over the last few weeks the weather has been cold and wet. \circ Let's discuss the problem over lunch. 5. more than \circ Children over 16 years old have to pay full price. \circ The car costs over £40,000. \circ We had to wait for over two hours. 6. by means of \circ I heard the news over the radio this morning. ■ adv 1. several times \circ He plays the same CD over and over again. 2. down from being upright \circ The bottle fell over and all the contents poured out. \circ She knocked over the plant pot. \circ He leaned over and picked up a pin from the floor. 3. more than \circ Children of 16 and over pay full price. \circ There are special prices for groups of 30 and over. 4. not used, left behind \circ Any food left over after the meal can be given to the poor. 5. thoroughly \circ Think it over and let me know what you decide. 6. across something like a road or a field \circ She's gone over to her friend's house. (NOTE: over is used after many verbs: to run over, to fall over, to come over, to look over.) ■ adj finished \circ Is the match over yet? \circ When the civil war was over everyone had more food to eat. ■ noun one of the sections of a cricket match, during which one bowler bowls six times over- /əʊvə/ prefix 1. extremely \circ overanxious 2. more than \circ the over-60s 3. too much \circ overworked \circ overdone

② overall /əʊvər'ɔ:l/ covering or taking in everything \circ The overall outlook for the country is good. \circ The overall impression was favourable. Synonym general ■ adv /əʊvər'ɔ:l/ taking in everything \circ Overall, her work has improved considerably. ■ noun /əʊvərɔ:l/ a light coat worn at work \circ He was wearing a white overall as he had just come out of the laboratory. \circ Put an overall over your clothes before you start painting.

overall majority /əʊvər'ɔ:l mə'dʒɔ:priti/ noun a majority over all other parties in Parliament taken together overalls /əʊvər'ɔ:lz/ plural noun a one-piece suit of trousers and top worn over normal clothes to keep them clean when you are working overbalance /əʊvə'bæləns/ verb to lose your balance overbearing /əʊvə'bɛərɪŋ/ adj trying to dominate others. Synonym arrogant. Antonym meek ③ overboard /əʊvəbɔ:d/ adv 1. into the water from the edge of a ship, etc. □ man overboard! someone has fallen into the water! 2. □ to go overboard for something to be enthusiastic about something (informal) \circ I don't go overboard for his paintings.

overcast /əʊvəkə:st/ adj (of the sky) dull and cloudy. Synonym gloomy overcharge /əʊvə'tʃa:dʒ/ verb to charge someone too much for something overcoat /əʊvəkə:t/ noun a thick outdoor coat which you wear over other clothes

④ overcome /əʊvə'kʌm/ verb 1. to gain victory over an enemy or problem \circ The army quickly overcame the invaders. \circ Do you think the drugs problem can ever be overcome? 2. to make someone helpless \circ She was overcome by fear. \circ Two people were overcome by smoke. (NOTE: overcame /əʊvə'keɪm/ – has overcome) overcompensate /əʊvə'kɒmpənseɪt/ verb to try to do more than you should to make up for something overcrowded /əʊvə'kraʊdɪd/ adj with too many people inside. Antonym deserted overcrowding /əʊvə'kraʊdɪŋ/ noun having too many people or things in a small area. Synonym congestion overdo /əʊvə'du:/ verb to do too much, work too hard or to use too much of something \circ They overdid the red velvet and made the sitting room look like a bar. \circ Don't overdo the exercises in the first few weeks. \circ The doctor says I've been overdoing it recently and need a rest. \circ He overdid it and strained his back.

overdone /əʊvə'dʌn/ adj 1. exaggerated \circ All right, it's a tragedy, but all that weeping and wailing was terribly overdone. 2. cooked too much \circ I complained because my steak was overdone. Antonym underdone overdose /əʊvədəʊs/ noun a dose of a drug which is more than normal \circ She went into a coma after an overdose of heroin. ■ verb □ to overdose on to take too much of a drug \circ It's perfectly possible to overdose on aspirin.

overdraft /əʊvədraf:t/ noun an amount of money which you can withdraw from your bank account with the bank's permission, which is more than there is in the account overdraw /əʊvə'drɔ:/ verb to take out more money from a bank account than there is in it (NOTE: overdrew /əʊvə'dru:/ – overdrawn /əʊvə'drɔ:n/) overdrawn /əʊvə'drɔ:n/ adj (of a bank account) from which more money has been taken than there is in it overdue /əʊvə'dju:/ adj 1. which has not been paid at the correct time \circ This invoice is overdue – please pay immediately. 2. which is late \circ Her library books were overdue so she had to pay a fine. \circ This visit to my mother is long overdue.

overeat /əʊvə'et/ verb to eat too much (NOTE: overate /əʊvə'et/ – overeaten) overeating /əʊvə'rɪ:tɪŋ/ noun eating too much food overestimate /'əʊvər'estɪmeɪt/ verb to think something is larger or worse than it really is overexert /'əʊvərɪg'zɜ:t/ verb □ to overexert yourself to work too hard ○ Don't overexert yourself! ○ He's in no danger of overexerting himself!

overexertion /'əʊvərɪg'zɜ:f(ə)n/ noun too much effort overflow verb /'əʊvə'fləʊ/ 1. to flow over the top of something ○ The river overflowed its banks. ○ The bath was so full it was overflowing. 2. to occupy more space ○ The crowd was so big that it overflowed into the street outside the meeting room. ■ noun /'əʊvəfləʊ/ 1. a liquid which has overflowed ○ This ditch takes away the overflow from the pond. 2. a pipe or hole which allows a liquid to flow out of a container that is too full ○ The overflow was blocked and water started coming through the ceiling. 3. an amount or number which will not fit a given space ○ The new towns were built to house the overflow population from the capital. ○ The stadium was full and the overflow watched the match on giant TV screens in the park next door.

overgrown /'əʊvə'grəʊn/ adj covered with plants and weeds because of not being looked after overhang noun /'əʊvəhæŋ/ a part which sticks out from something over a space ○ Getting past the rock overhang is the most difficult part of the climb. ○ We sheltered from the rain under the overhang of the roof. ■ verb /,əʊvə'hæŋ/ to stick out above something else ○ The upper storey of the house overhangs the street. (NOTE: overhanging – overhung)

overhaul verb /'əʊvə'haʊl/ 1. to examine something carefully and make changes so that it works better ○ We need to overhaul the company's union agreements. 2. to overtake another ship or car ○ From being last in the race he gradually moved up and in the end overhauled the leaders. ■ noun /'əʊvəhaʊl/ the act of examining and improving or repairing something ○ a long overdue overhaul of our safety procedures ○ My car's in the garage for a complete overhaul.

③ overhead /'əʊvə'hed/ adv above you ○ Look at that plane overhead. ○ Please stow your hand luggage in the lockers overhead. Antonym below

overhead expenses /,əʊvəhēd ɪk'spensɪz/ plural noun general expenses incurred by a business as a whole, such as salaries, heating and rent. Synonym costs overhead projector /,əʊvərhed prə'dʒektə/ noun a projector which projects a picture from a flat surface onto a screen

③ overheads /'əʊvəhēdз/ plural noun same as overhead expenses. synonym costs ○ We need to cut back on overheads. (NOTE: The US term is overhead.)

overhear /,əʊvə'hɪə/ verb to hear accidentally something which you are not meant to hear (NOTE: overheard /'əʊvə'hɜ:d/) overheat /,əʊvə'hit/ verb to get too hot overjoyed /,əʊvə'dʒɔɪd/ adj extremely happy. Synonym delighted. Antonym disappointed overkill /'əʊvəkɪl/ noun more of something than is wanted or appropriate overland /,əʊvə'lænd/ adv, adj by land ○ You can travel to India overland. ○ The overland route to South Africa takes you right through the heart of the African continent.

overlap /,əʊvə'læp/ verb to cover part of something else (NOTE: overlapping – overlapped) ■ noun /'əʊvəlæp/ an amount by which something overlaps ○ The overlap of the wallpaper was so small that no one noticed it.

overlay noun /'əʊvəleɪ/ a covering for the surface of something ○ They put an overlay of gold leaf on the statue. ■ verb /,əʊvə'leɪ/ to cover the surface of something with something ○ a stone floor overlaid with brilliantly coloured mosaics. Synonym cover overleaf /,əʊvə'lɪf/ adv referring to the other side of a page of a book or other publication overload /,əʊvə'ləud/ verb to put too heavy a load on something overlook /,əʊvə'lək/ verb 1. not to notice something ○ She overlooked several mistakes when she was correcting the exam papers. 2. to pretend not to notice something ○ In this instance the bank will overlook the delay in making payment. 3. to look out on to ○ My office overlooks the factory. ○ I want a room overlooking the hotel gardens, not the car park.

overly /'əʊvəli/ adv too much. Antonym slightly overnight /'əʊvə'nait/ adv for the whole night ○ We will stay overnight in France on our way to Italy. ○ Will the food stay fresh overnight? ■ adj lasting all night ○ They took an overnight flight back from China. ○ There are three sleeping cars on the overnight express.

overnight bag /'əʊvənait bæg/ noun a small suitcase which can carry just what you need to spend one night somewhere overpass /'əʊvəpɑ:s/ noun a road which crosses over the top of another road. Compare underpass overpower /,əʊvə'paʊə/ verb to control someone by force overpowering /əʊvər'paʊərɪŋ/ adj very strong ○ an overpowering smell of cheese overpriced /əʊvər'praɪst/ adj with a price which is too high. Antonym cheap overrated /əʊvər'reɪtɪd/ adj said to be better than it really is overreach /əʊvər'rɪtʃ/ verb □ to overreach yourself to fail in what you are trying to do because it is beyond your capabilities overreact /əʊvər'reækt/ verb to react to something with too much emotion or action

③ override /əʊvər'raɪd/ verb 1. to cancel an instruction ○ The chairman decided to override the committee's decision. 2. to be more important than other things ○ The group's safety overrides any other considerations. (NOTE: overrode /əʊvər'rəʊd/ – overridden /əʊvər'rɪd(ə)n/) overriding /əʊvər'reɪdɪŋ/ adj more important than all others

overrule /əʊvə'rulɪ/ verb 1. (in a meeting) not to allow a decision because you are more powerful than the person who took the decision ○ Mr Smith tried to object but his objection was overruled by the chairman. ○ The committee overruled the decision made by the secretary. 2. (of a higher court) to set a new precedent by deciding a case on a different principle from the one laid down by a lower court ○ The Supreme Court can overrule any other court in the USA.

overrun /əʊvə'rʌn/ verb 1. to go beyond a certain time limit ○ The meeting overran by thirty minutes. 2. to beat someone or occupy their territory very quickly ○ The enemy overran our coastal defences and began advancing inland. 3. □ to be overrun with something or someone to be filled with a crowd of people, animals or things ○ The city centre is overrun with tourists every summer.

③ overseas adv /əʊvə'si:z/ in a foreign country ○ He went to work overseas for some years. Synonym abroad ■ adj /əʊvəsi:z/ referring to foreign countries ○ Overseas sales are important for our company.

oversee /əʊvə'si:z/ verb to supervise something (NOTE: overseeing – oversaw – has overseen) overshadow /əʊvər'ʃædəʊ/ verb to make someone or something less conspicuous by being more brilliant yourself overshoot /əʊvər'su:t/ verb to go further than you are supposed to (NOTE: overshooting – overshoot) oversight /əʊvəsait/ noun a mistake made by not doing something because you forgot it or did not notice it oversimplification /əʊvəsimplifi'keɪʃ(ə)n/ noun making something appear too simple oversleep /əʊvə'sli:p/ verb to sleep longer than you meant to. Synonym sleep in (NOTE: overslept – has overslept) overspend /əʊvə'spend/ verb to spend more than you should (NOTE: overspending – overspent) overspill /əʊvəspɪl/ noun a population which moves from the centre of a town to an area outside overstate /əʊvə'steɪt/ verb to state something too strongly or with too much detail. Synonym exaggerate. Antonym understate overstay /əʊvə'steɪ/ verb to stay somewhere longer than you should. Synonym prolong overstep /əʊvə'stɛp/ verb to go further than you ought to (NOTE: overstepping – overstepped) overt /əʊ'vetɪ/ adj open and not hidden. Synonym obvious. Antonym covert overtake /əʊvə'teɪk/ verb to go past someone travelling in front of you (NOTE: overtaking – overtook – has overtaken) over-the-counter /əʊvər ðə 'kaʊntə/ adj referring to a medicine which can be bought without a prescription from a doctor over-the-top /əʊvər ðə 'tɒp/ adj excessive and exaggerated. Abbr OTT

overthrow noun /əʊvəθrəʊ/ the removal of a government or dictator from power ○ The revolution led to the overthrow of the dictator. ■ verb /əʊvə'θrəʊ/ to defeat ○ Do you think the rebels can overthrow the military government? ○ The former régime was overthrown and the President fled. Synonym conquer. Antonym uphold (NOTE: overthrow /əʊvə'θru:/ – overthrown)

③ overtime /'əʊvətɔɪm/ noun hours worked more than the usual working time ○ He worked six hours' overtime. ○ The overtime rate is one and a half times normal pay. ○ The basic wage is £110 a week, but you can expect to earn more than that with overtime. ■ adv more than normal hours of work ○ The staff had to work overtime when the hotel was full. ○ How much extra do I get for working overtime? Synonym energetically overtly /əʊ'vetli/ adv openly overtone /'əʊvətəʊn/ noun 1. a meaning or quality which is suggested and not stated openly or made obvious in something 2. a musical tone which is part of the harmonic series above a fundamental tone overtones /'əʊvətəʊnz/ plural noun the suggestion of something which is not directly stated overture /'əʊvətʃuə/ noun 1. a short piece of music played at the beginning of an opera or a concert ○ The orchestra played the over- ture to 'The Magic Flute'. 2. □ to make overtures to someone to try to begin negotiations with someone ○ The socialists made overtures to the communists with the aim of forming a left-wing alliance.

overturn /'əʊvər'tɜ:n/ verb 1. to make something fall over or to turn upside down ○ The baby accidentally overturned the goldfish bowl. ○ The fishing boat overturned in the storm. 2. to vote against a previous decision ○ The decision to raise subscriptions was overturned by the council.

overvalue /'əʊvə'velju:/ verb to give something a higher value than is right. Antonym undervalue

③ overview /'əʊvəvju:/ noun a general view of a subject overweight /'əʊvə'weɪt/ adj having too much weight, e.g. because of eating too much. Antonym underweight

③ overwhelm /'əʊvə'welm/ verb 1. to conquer someone or something completely ○ His enthusiasm overwhelms me. ○ The enemy was overwhelmed by our troops. 2. to have more of something than you can do or cope with ○ The new receptionist was overwhelmed by her job.

overwhelming /'əʊvə'welmɪŋ/ adj enormous ○ There was an overwhelming response to their appeal for money. ○ They got an overwhelming 'yes' vote.

overwork /'əʊvə'wɜ:k/ noun too much work ○ He is suffering from stress caused by overwork. ■ verb 1. to work too hard ○ You've been overworking, you should take a day off. 2. to make someone work too hard ○ He overworks the kitchen staff dreadfully. ○ Like everyone else in the company, I'm overworked and underpaid.

overworked /'əʊvə'wɜ:kt/ adj referring to someone who has too much work to do overwrite /'əʊvə'ræt/ verb 1. to delete computer data or a computer file and replace with other data or a file with the same name 2. to write in a style that is too elaborate overwrought /'əʊvə'rɔ:t/ adj very worried and emotional. Synonym tense. Antonym calm over-zealous /'əʊvər 'zeləs/ adj too enthusiastic or eager in doing something , ovulate /'ɒvjuleɪt/ verb (of a woman or female animal) to produce an egg inside the body ovulation /'ɒvju'leɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the release of an ovum into one of the Fallopian tubes ovum /'əʊvəm/ noun a female egg cell which can develop into an embryo inside the mother's body when fertilised (NOTE: The plural is ova /'əʊvə/.)

ow /au/ interj an expression of pain

② owe /əʊ/ verb 1. to be due to pay someone money ○ He still owes me the £50 he borrowed last month. 2. □ to owe something to something to have something because of something else ○ He owes his good health to taking a lot of exercise. 3. to feel that something should be done ○ He owes her an apology. ○ I owe my sister a letter.

③ owing to /'əʊɪŋ tu:/ prep because of

owl /aʊl/ noun a bird of prey which is mainly active at night

① own /əʊn/ adj belonging to you alone ○ I don't need to borrow a car – I have my own car. ○ He has his own hairdressing shop. Synonym personal ■ noun □ of my or his own belonging to me or to him alone ○ He has an office of his own. ○ I have a car of my own. ○ They got married and now have a house of their own. ■ verb to have or to possess something ○ I don't own a car. ○ There's no sense in owning two cars, since my wife doesn't drive. ○ Who owns this shop?

② owner /'əʊnər/ noun a person who owns something ○ The police are trying to find the owner of the stolen car. ○ Insurance is necessary for all house owners. Synonym proprietor

owner-occupier /'əʊnər 'ɒkjupeɪər/ noun a person who owns the house that he or she lives in (NOTE: The plural is owner-occupiers.)

③ ownership /'əʊnəʃɪp/ noun a situation where someone owns something. Synonym possession own goal /əʊn 'gəʊl/ noun 1. a goal scored against your own side by mistake ○ He tried to pass back to the goalkeeper and scored an own goal. 2. something that is intended to help you do something but has the opposite effect ○ Their attempts to show that the government was financially incompetent led to a spectacular own goal. (NOTE: The plural is own goals.)

③ own up /əʊn 'ʌp/, own up to /əʊn 'ʌp tu/ verb to say that you have done something wrong ox /ɒks/ noun male or female domestic cattle or a castrated bull used as a draught animal (NOTE: The plural is oxen /'ɒksən/.)

oxide /'ɒksaɪd/ noun a chemical compound formed of oxygen and another element oxtail /'ɒksteɪl/ noun the meat from the tail of a cow or bull used as food oxygen /'ɒksɪdʒən/ noun a common gas which is present in the air and is essential for plant and animal life oyster /'ɔ:stər/ noun a type of shellfish with two shells, highly valued as food

③ oz abbr ounce(s) (NOTE: say 'twelve ounces of flour', 'five ounces of butter')

ozone /'əʊzən/ noun a harmful form of oxygen, which is found in the atmosphere and which is poisonous to humans when concentrated ozone layer /'əʊzən ,leɪə/ noun a layer of ozone in the upper atmosphere, formed by the action of sunlight on oxygen, which acts as protection against harmful rays from the Sun p¹ /pi:/, P noun the sixteenth letter of the alphabet, between O and Q p² abbr pence ○ This book costs 99p. ○ You should get a 60p ticket from the machine. ○ I bought the children 50p ice creams each. ▶ penny pa /pa:/ noun a child's name for father (informal)

P

PA abbr personal assistant

p.a. abbr per annum

③ pace /peɪs/ noun 1. the distance covered by one step ○ Step three paces back. ○ Walk thirty paces to the north of the stone. 2. speed □ to keep pace with to keep up with ○ She kept pace with the leaders for the first three laps. ○ Wages haven't kept pace with inflation. □ to set the pace (of a runner, driver, horse, etc.) to go fast, showing how fast a race should be run ○ The German driver set the pace in his Ferrari. ■ verb 1. to walk ○ He paced backwards and forwards in front of the door. 2. to measure by walking ○ He paced out the distance between the tree and the house. 3. to set the pace for a runner ○ To help him train for the marathon she paced him on her bicycle.

pacemaker /'peɪsmekə/ noun an electronic device which is implanted in a patient's chest and which stimulates and regulates the heartbeat

③ pacific /pə'sifɪk/ adj preferring peace and calm

Pacific /pə'sifɪk/ noun same as Pacific Ocean pacification /,pæsifi'keɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the calming of people who are angry or in revolt

Pacific Ocean /pə,sifɪk 'əʊʃən/ noun the huge ocean between North America, South America, Asia and New Zealand

Pacific Rim /pə,sifɪk 'rɪm/ noun the countries round the edge of the Pacific Ocean, including South-East Asia, Japan, the Western States of the USA, South America, Australia and New Zealand pacifism /'pæsɪfɪz(ə)m/ noun opposition to war pacifist /'pæsɪfɪst/ adj supporting pacifism

○ The pacifist movement had many new members. ■ noun a person who supports pacifism ○ My father was a pacifist and refused to do military service.

pacify /'pæsɪfaɪ/ verb to make someone calm. Synonym calm. Antonym antagonise

② pack /pæk/ noun 1. a set of things put together in a box ○ He bought a pack of chewing gum. 2. a set of playing cards ○ a pack of cards ○ Shuffle the pack. (NOTE: The US term is deck of cards.) 3. a group of wild animals together ○ a pack of wild dogs 4. a group of people or things ○ They're a pack of fools. ○ He told us a pack of lies. 5. a bag which you can carry on your back ○ He carried his pack over his shoulder. 6. (in rugby) the group of forward players who form the scrum ■ verb 1. to put things into a suitcase ready for travelling ○ The taxi's arrived and she hasn't packed her suitcase yet. ○ I've finished packing, so we can start. ○ He packed his toothbrush at the bottom of the bag. □ to tell someone to pack his or her bags to tell someone to leave, or to sack someone (informal) ○ When he got home, she told him to pack his bags. □ to send someone packing to send someone away ○ When the boys started to throw stones at her cat she soon sent them packing. 2. to put things in containers ready for sending ○ The books are packed in boxes of twenty. ○ Fish are packed in ice. 3. to put a lot of people or things into something ○ How can you pack ten adults into one tent? ○ The streets are packed with Christmas shoppers. ○ The supermarket shelves are packed with fruit and vegetables.

② package /'pækɪdʒ/ noun 1. a parcel which has been wrapped up for sending ○ There was a package for you in the post. ○ We mailed the package to you yesterday. 2. a box or bag in which goods are sold ○ Instructions for use are printed on the package.

3. a combination of salary and other benefits offered with a job ○ offered me a good salary package ■ verb to put something into packages ○ The chocolates are packaged in silver paper.

package deal /'pækɪdʒ di:l/ noun an agreement where several different items are offered and must be decided on at the same time package holiday /'pækɪdʒ ˈhɒlɪdeɪ/ noun a holiday where everything including a hotel, food and travel is arranged and paid for before you leave package tour /'pækɪdʒ tuə/ noun a tour where everything including a hotel, food and travel is arranged and paid for before you leave

③ packaging /'pækɪdʒɪŋ/ noun 1. the wrapping of goods ○ The packaging is all done by machines. 2. paper, cardboard or plastic used to wrap goods ○ The boxes are sent in dust-proof packaging.

③ packed /pækɪt/ adj 1. full of people ○ The restaurant was packed and there were no free tables. 2. put in a container packed lunch /pækɪt ˈlʌntʃ/ noun sandwiches or other easily transportable food packed in a bag or box, and which you can eat for lunch packer /'pækə/ noun a person who packs goods

② packet /'pækɪt/ noun 1. a small bag, parcel or box ○ a packet of cigarettes ○ a packet of soup 2. a large amount of money ○ He made a packet on the deal.

pack ice /'pæk aɪs/ noun a mass of ice covering the sea

③ pack in /,pæk ˈɪn/ verb □ to pack it in to stop whatever you are doing (informal) ○ It's getting dark, let's pack it in for the day. ○ He packed in his job and bought a farm.

③ packing /'pækɪŋ/ noun 1. putting things into suitcases or bags ○ My wife's in the hotel room doing our packing. 2. material used to protect goods which are being packed ○ The goods are sealed in airtight packing.

packing case /'pækɪŋ keɪs/ noun a large wooden box for carrying items which can be easily broken

③ pack off /,pæk ˈɒf/ verb to send someone away (informal)

③ pack up /,pæk ˈʌp/ verb 1. to put things into a box before going away ○ They packed up all their equipment and left. 2. to stop working ○ I'll pack up now and finish the job tomorrow morning. 3. to break down ○ One of the plane's engines packed up when we were taking off.

pacifist /pækɪfɪst/ noun an agreement or treaty

③ pad /pæd/ noun 1. a soft cushion which protects ○ Put a pad of cotton on your knee. 2. a set of sheets of paper attached together 3. a soft part of the sole of an animal's foot ○ The poor cat has a prickle in one of her pads. 4. (in cricket) one of two protective guards for the batsman's or wicket-keeper's leg 5. a room or flat (informal) ○ I've got a little pad in the middle of Soho. ■ verb 1. to walk heavily and softly ○ The tiger was padding up and down in its cage. 2. to soften something hard by using soft material ○ The chairs should be padded to make them more comfortable. ▶ pad out (NOTE: padding – padded)

padded /'pædɪd/ adj with soft material in it padding /'pædɪŋ/ noun 1. a soft material which protects, used in dressmaking, or to make things like cushions or chairs ○ The tailor put some more padding in the shoulders of the jacket. ○ We put cotton wool under the bandage as padding. 2. words added to a speech or article to make it longer ○ The speech was over an hour long, but most of it was just padding. ○ Your essay has got too much padding in it. (NOTE: no plural) paddle /'pæd(ə)l/ noun 1. a short oar used to make a boat move through the water ○ Help, I've dropped my paddle in the river! 2. a walk in shallow water ○ The little children went for a paddle in the sea. ■ verb 1. to make a boat move forwards using a paddle ○ We stopped paddling and let the canoe drift with the current. 2. to walk about in very shallow water ○ They all took off their shoes and socks and paddled in the lake.

paddle steamer /'pæd(ə)l,sti:mə/ noun a boat driven by large wheels on each side paddling pool /'pæd(ə)lɪŋ pu:l/ noun a small shallow pool for little children paddock /'pædək/ noun 1. a small enclosed field, where horses can run 2. an area at a racecourse where racehorses parade before a race paddy field /'pædi fi:l/ noun 1. a field filled with water, in which rice is grown ○ Rice paddies are breeding grounds for mosquitoes. (NOTE: plural is paddies) 2. a fit of bad temper (dated) ○ He got into a paddy and threw his toys out of the pram.

padlock /'pædlɒk/ noun a small portable lock with a hook for locking things together ○ The gate is fastened with a padlock. ■ verb to lock something with a padlock ○ He padlocked his bicycle to the lamppost.

③ pad out /,pæd ˈaut/ verb to add text to a speech or article, just to make it longer paediatrician /,pi:dɪə'trɪʃ(ə)n/ noun a doctor who specialises in treating children paediatrics /,pi:dɪ'ætrɪks/ noun the study of children, their development and diseases pagan /'peɪgən/ adj believing in a form of religion which is not one of the main formal religions ○ The missionaries tried to ban pagan religious practices. ○ The explorers visited a pagan temple. ■ noun 1. a person who believes in a pagan religion ○ The kings of Britain were pagans until they were converted by Christian missionaries. 2. a person who does not believe in any religion or who does not go to church ○ Doesn't anybody want to go to church? – You're just a lot of pagans!

① page /peɪdʒ/ noun 1. a side of a sheet of paper used in a book, newspaper or magazine
 ○ It's a short book, it only has 64 pages. ○ The crossword is on the back page. ○ Start reading at page 34. ○ Look at the picture on page 6. (NOTE: With numbers the word the is left out: on the next page but on page 50.)
 2. a boy who is one of the bride's attendants at a wedding ○ Two little page boys followed the bride into the church. (NOTE: A girl who does the same is a bridesmaid.) 3. a young messenger in a hotel ■ verb to call someone by radio, over a loudspeaker, etc. ○ Mr Smith isn't in his office at the moment – I'll page him for you.

pageant /'pædʒənt/ noun a grand display of people in historical costumes. Synonym procession pageantry /'pædʒəntri/ noun grand ceremonies where people wear special costumes. Synonym spectacle pager /'peɪdʒə/ noun a small electronic device that makes a noise or displays a message when someone is trying to contact you pagoda /pə'gəʊdə/ noun a tall tower with several storeys, used as a temple, found in the Far East, e.g. in China, Korea and Japan

① paid /peɪd/ ○ pay

paid-up /,peɪd 'ʌp/ adj all the money owing having been paid pail /peɪl/ noun a bucket, a round container with a handle but no lid, used mainly for liquids (NOTE: Do not confuse with pale.)

② pain /peɪn/ noun 1. a feeling of being hurt ○ If you have a pain in your chest, you ought to see a doctor. ○ She had to take drugs because she could not stand the pain. ○ I get pains in my teeth when I eat ice cream. 2. □ to take pains over or to do something to take care to do something well ○ They took great pains over the organisation of the conference. ○ She took pains to make everyone feel at home. ■ verb to hurt someone ○ It pains me to have to do this, but we must report you to the police. Synonym sadden. Antonym hearten

pained /peɪnd/ adj annoyed or upset

③ painful /'peɪnf(ə)l/ adj which hurts, which causes pain ○ She got a painful blow on the back of the head. ○ I have very painful memories of my first school.

painfully /'peɪnf(ə)li/ adv 1. in a way which hurts ○ He twisted his ankle painfully. ○ I am painfully aware that most people are blaming me for the accident. 2. used for emphasising how difficult or unpleasant something is ○ So far, progress on building the dam has been painfully slow.

painkiller /'peɪnkɪlə/ noun a drug which stops someone feeling pain. Synonym analgesic painless /'peɪnləs/ adj which does not hurt. Synonym effortless painlessly /'peɪnləsli/ adv in a painless way painstaking /'peɪnsteɪkɪŋ/ adj 1. (of a person) working very carefully and thoroughly ○ She's a very painstaking worker. Antonym careless 2. (of work) careful and delicate ○ Cleaning a painting by Rembrandt is slow and painstaking work.

② paint /peɪnt/ noun a coloured liquid which you use to give something a colour or to make a picture ○ We gave the ceiling two coats of paint. ○ I need a two-litre tin of green paint. ○ The paint's coming off the front door. (NOTE: no plural in this meaning)

■ verb 1. to cover something with paint ○ We got a firm in to paint the house. ○ They painted their front door blue. ○ She painted her toenails bright red. 2. □ to paint yourself into a corner to get yourself into a situation that you cannot get out of (informal) □ to paint the town red to have a wild party in the town ○ After the exam results come out we are all going up to London to paint the town red. 3. to cover something with a liquid ○ The nurse painted his knee with antiseptic. 4. to make a picture of something using paint ○ She painted a picture of the village. ○ He's painting his mother. ○ The sky is not easy to paint.

paintbrush /'peɪntbrʌʃ/ noun a brush used to put paint on something (NOTE: The plural is paintbrushes.) painter /'peɪntə/ noun 1. a person who paints something such as a house ○ The painter is coming next week to paint the kitchen. 2. a person who paints pictures ○ He collects pictures by 19th-century French painters.

② painting /'peɪntɪŋ/ noun 1. the action of putting on paint ○ Painting and decorating is my trade 2. a picture done with paints ○ Do you like this painting of the old church?

paintwork /'peɪntwɜːk/ noun a surface which has been painted

② pair /peə/ noun 1. two things taken together ○ a pair of socks ○ a pair of gloves ○ She's bought a new pair of boots. □ these socks are a pair these socks go together 2. two things joined together to make a single one ○ He took a pair of binoculars with him when he went out walking. ○ I'm looking for a clean pair of trousers. ○ Where's my pair of green shorts? ○ This pair of scissors is blunt. 3. two rowers in a boat ○ The British pair won the silver medal. 4. (in the House of Commons) a Member of Parliament who has an agreement with a Member of Parliament from the opposite party not to vote if either is absent from Parliament ■ verb □ to pair up to join with another person to do something ○ Everyone paired up for the treasure hunt.

paisley /'peɪzli/ noun a pattern, especially on fabric, scarves and cushions, made of curved shapes like drops of water

Pakistani /,pa:ki'sta:ni/ adj referring to Pakistan ○ a Pakistani cricketer ■ noun a person from Pakistan ○ Our next-door neighbours are Pakistanis.

pal /pæl/ noun a friend (informal)

③ palace /'pælɪs/ noun a large building where a king, queen, president, etc., lives palatable /'pælətəb(ə)l/ adj nice to eat, tasting good palate /'pælət/ noun 1. the top part of the inside of the mouth ○ I burnt my palate with the hot soup. 2. being able to judge the quality of food or drink ○ A trained palate easily distinguishes different types of wine. (NOTE: Do not confuse with palette, pallet.)

palatial /pə'lɪəf(ə)l/ adj magnificent, like a palace. Synonym luxurious

② pale /peɪl/ adj 1. light-coloured ○ What colour is your hat? – It's a pale blue colour. 2. not looking healthy, with a white face ○ She's always pale and that worries me. ○ When she read the letter she went pale. (NOTE: paler – palest. Do not confuse with pail.) ■ verb 1. to become pale ○ The sky paled as dawn broke. 2. to become less important ○ My problems pale into insignificance compared to his.

palette /'pælət/ noun 1. a flat board on which an artist mixes his or her colours ○ She squeezed a blob of paint onto her palette. 2. a range of colours available, especially on a computer graphics program ○ You can create your own colours and add them to the palette. (NOTE: Do not confuse with palate, pallet.)

pall /pɔ:l/ noun 1. □ a pall of smoke a thick layer of smoke (formal) ○ A pall of smoke hung over the burning building. 2. a cloth put over a coffin □ to cast a pall over something to make something seem gloomy ○ The illness of the bride's father cast a pall over the wedding. ■ verb to become less interesting ○ Her bright chatter began to pall after a while.

pallet /'pælət/ noun a flat wooden frame on which goods can be stacked to be moved by a fork-lift truck (NOTE: The US term is skid. Do not confuse with palate or palette.)

palliative /'pæli:tɪv/ noun something done to try to help a situation, but which does not make it any better pallid /'pælɪd/ adj sickly pale pallor /'pælər/ noun paleness of the face palm /pa:m/ noun 1. the soft inside surface of your hand ○ She held out some crumbs in the palm of her hand and the birds came and ate them. 2. a tall tropical tree with long leaves ○ an oasis surrounded by date palms ○ The boy climbed a coconut palm and brought down a nut. Synonym palm tree palmist /'pɑ:mɪst/ noun a person who says what will happen in the future by looking at the lines on your palm palistry /'pɑ:mɪstri/ noun the practice of telling people what will happen in the future by looking at the lines on the palms of their hands palm off /,pɑ:m 'ɒf/ verb □ to palm something off on someone to give something worthless to someone hoping that he or she won't notice (informal) ○ We tried to palm off our old sofa onto my brother.

palm tree /pɑ:m tri:/ noun a tall tropical tree with long leaves. Synonym palm palpable /'pælpəb(ə)l/ adj which can be felt, which can be easily seen palpably /'pælpəbli/ adv in a palpable way palpitate /'pælpɪteɪt/ verb to beat very quickly. Synonym flutter palpitations /,pælpɪ'teɪf(ə)nz/ plural noun a rapid beating of the heart paltry /pɔ:ltri/ adj very small (NOTE: paltrier – paltriest) pampas /'pæmpəs/ noun grass-covered plains in South America pampas grass /'pæmpəs græ:s/ noun a type of tall ornamental grass pamper /'pæmpə/ verb to treat someone too well, by giving him or her too much food or making his or her life too comfortable

③ pamphlet /'pæmflet/ noun a small booklet giving information about something. Synonym leaflet

③ pan /pæn/ noun 1. a metal cooking container with a handle ○ Boil the potatoes in a pan of water. ○ She burnt her hand on the hot frying pan. 2. the bowl of a lavatory ■ verb 1. to criticise something ○ His latest film has been panned by the critics. 2. □ to pan for gold to sift mud in a stream hoping to find gold in it 3. to move a camera sideways to take in a wider view (NOTE: panning – panned)

panacea /,pænə'si:ə/ noun □ a (universal) panacea something which cures everything or which solves every problem ○ A tight monetary policy is not the universal panacea everyone thought it was.

panache /pə'næʃ/ noun a confident and showy way of doing things pancake /'pænkeɪk/ noun 1. a thin soft flat cake made of flour, milk and eggs, cooked in a frying pan ○ We ate pancakes and maple syrup for breakfast. 2. □ as flat as a pancake very flat ○ The country round Cambridge is as flat as a pancake.

panda /'pændə/ noun □ a (giant) panda a large black and white animal found in China, which looks like a bear pandemonium /,pændə'məʊniəm/ noun great uproar and confusion. Synonym chaos pander /'pændə/ verb □ to pander to something to try to satisfy something ○ The book panders to the low taste of the reading public.

p & p abbr postage and packing pane /peɪn/ noun a sheet of glass, e.g. in a window or door (NOTE: Do not confuse with pain.)

① panel /'pæn(ə)l/ noun 1. a flat rectangular piece which forms part of something ○ Unscrew the panel at the back of the washing machine. 2. a section of different coloured material ○ A pink skirt with white panels. 3. a group of people who answer questions or who judge a competition ○ She's on the panel that will interview candidates for the post. □ a panel of experts a group of people who give advice on a problem ■ verb to cover something with sheets of wood ○ He decided to panel the study in oak. ○ The room is panelled in walnut. (NOTE: panelling – panelled. The US spelling is paneling – paneled.) panel game /'pæn(ə)l geɪm/ noun a game on radio or TV where a group of people guess the answers to questions or give their opinions on subjects panelled /'pæn(ə)ld/ adj covered with panels panelling /'pæn(ə)lɪŋ/ noun sheets of wood, used especially to cover walls (NOTE: The US spelling is paneling.)

pang /pæŋ/ noun a sudden strong feeling. Synonym twinge

② panic /'pænɪk/ noun terror, great fear ○ The forecast of flooding caused panic in towns near the river. Synonym fear. Antonym calm ■ verb to become frightened ○ Don't panic, the fire engine is on its way. (NOTE: panicking – panicked)

panic button /'pænɪk ,bʌt(ə)n/ noun a hidden button which can be pressed by someone who feels threatened panic buying /'pænɪk ,baɪŋ/ noun a rush to buy something at any price because stocks may run out or because the price may rise panicky /'pænɪkɪ/ adj worried and anxious. Synonym frightened. Antonym calm panic-stricken /'pænɪk ,strikən/ adj mad with fright. Synonym terrified. Antonym calm panorama /,pænə'rəʊmə/ noun a view over a wide expanse of landscape panoramic /,pænə'ræmɪk/ adj looking out over a wide area pan out /,pæn 'aʊt/ verb to turn out, to succeed (informal) pansy /'pænsi/ noun 1. a small garden plant with large brightly coloured petals ○ She planted pansies in her window boxes. 2. a man who is weak like a woman ○ They called him a pansy because he thought rugby was a rough dirty game. (NOTE: The plural is pansies.)

pant /pænt/ verb to breathe fast panther /'pænθə/ noun a large black leopard from North America panties /'pæntiəz/ plural noun women's brief knickers ○ A pair of panties were left on the washing line. ○ She carries a spare pair of panties in her handbag.

pantomime /'pæntəmaim/ noun a funny Christmas play for children, with songs and dances on a traditional fairy-tale subject (informal) pantry /'pæntri/ noun a cool cupboard or small room for keeping food in ③ pants /pænts/ plural noun 1. GB briefs, shorts worn on the lower part of the body under other clothes ○ She was standing by the window in her bra and pants. ○ I put on clean pants and socks every morning. 2. US trousers ○ The waiter was wearing a black jacket and a pair of striped pants. ○ I need a belt to keep my pants up.

panty hose /'pænti həʊz/ noun US a piece of clothing made of thin material, covering your hips, and your legs and feet separately, worn especially by girls, women and dancers (NOTE: The British term is tights.)

papal /'peɪp(ə)l/ adj referring to the pope paparazzi /,pæpə'rætsi/ plural noun photographers who follow famous people to take pictures of them for newspapers ○ The paparazzi were lying in wait for the couple as they left the hotel. (NOTE: plural; the singular is paparazzo) papaya /pə'paɪə/ noun a green tropical fruit with yellow flesh. Also called pawpaw

① paper /'peɪpə/ noun 1. a thin piece of material which you write on, and which is used for wrapping or to make books, newspapers and magazines ○ He got a letter written on pink paper. ○ I need another piece of paper or sheet of paper to finish my letter. ○ There was a box of paper handkerchiefs by the bed. (NOTE: no plural for this meaning: some paper, a piece of paper, a sheet of paper) 2. a newspaper ○ I buy the paper to read on the train every morning. ○ My photo was on the front page of today's paper. ○ Our local paper comes out on Fridays. ○ The Sunday papers are so big that it takes me all day to read them. (NOTE: The plural is papers.) 3. □ on paper in theory ○ On paper the system is ideal, but no one has ever seen it working. 4. an exam ○ The English paper was very difficult. (NOTE: The plural is papers.) 5. a piece of writing on a specific subject ○ He wrote a paper on economics which was published in one of the learned journals. ○ She wrote a good history paper. Synonym essay (NOTE: The plural is papers.) ■ verb to cover the walls of a room with wallpaper ○ They papered the room in a pattern of red and blue flowers.

paperback /'peɪpəbæk/ noun a cheap book with a paper cover (NOTE: Another US term is pocketbook.)

paper boy /'peɪpə bɔɪ/ noun a boy whose job is to deliver newspapers to houses paperclip /'peɪpəklip/ noun a piece of bent wire for holding pieces of paper together paper girl /'peɪpər ɡɜːl/ noun a girl whose job is to deliver newspapers to houses paper round /'peɪpər raʊnd/ noun a group of streets or houses where one paper boy or girl delivers newspapers paperweight /'peɪpəwɛɪt/ noun a heavy block put on papers to prevent them from being blown away

③ paperwork /'peɪpəwɜːk/ noun office work (NOTE: no plural) papier mâché /,pæpɪər 'mæʃeɪ/ noun a mixture of wet paper, used especially to make models paprika /'pæprɪkə/ noun a red spice made from powdered sweet peppers

par /pɑːr/ noun 1. the fact of being equal □ to be on a par with something or someone to be equal to something or someone ○ It isn't really on a par with their previous performances. 2. □ to buy shares at par to buy shares at their face value □ the shares are below par the shares are less than their face value 3. (in golf) the number of strokes usually needed by a good golfer to hit the ball into the hole ○ He went round in five under par. □ par for the course what usually happens (informal) ○ Jack forgot my birthday again, but that's par for the course.

para /'pærəl/ noun same as paratrooper (informal) parable /'pærəb(ə)l/ noun a short story with a religious or moral point. Synonym allegory

③ paracetamol /,pærə'siːtəməl/ noun a common drug, used to stop symptoms, e.g. of flu, colds and headaches (NOTE: no plural: Take two paracetamol before breakfast.) parachute /'pærəʃuːt/ noun a large piece of thin material shaped like an umbrella, with cords attached, which allows you to float down slowly and safely from an aircraft ○ His parachute did not open and he was killed. ■ verb 1. to jump from an aircraft with a parachute ○ The pilot parachuted safely from the burning plane. 2. to drop something attached to a parachute ○ They parachuted supplies to the villages.

parachutist /'pærəʃuːtɪst/ noun a person who jumps from an aircraft with a parachute parade /pa'reɪd/ noun 1. a display of soldiers ○ A sergeant inspects the men before they go on parade. 2. a series of bands, decorated cars, etc., passing in a street ○ The parade was led by a brass band. ○ Independence Day is always celebrated with a military parade through the centre of the capital. 3. a wide street where people can walk up and down □ a parade of shops a series of shops side by side ■ verb to march past in rows ○ The soldiers paraded down the Mall to Buckingham Palace. ○ The winning horse paraded round with its rosette.

paradigm /'pærədaim/ noun an example which others can copy

paradise /'pærədaɪs/ noun 1. a wonderful place where good people are supposed to live after death ○ For a moment, I thought I must have died and gone to paradise. 2. any beautiful place or a place where you feel very happy ○ Their grandparents' farm was a paradise for the children.

paradox /'pærədɒks/ noun a thing which appears to contradict itself but may really be true. Synonym inconsistency (NOTE: The plural is paradoxes.)

paradoxical /,pærə'dɒksɪk(ə)l/ adj contradictory like a paradox. Synonym inconsistent paradoxically /,pærə'dɒksɪkli/ adv in a paradoxical way paraffin /'pærəfɪn/ noun a thin liquid used as a fuel, e.g. for lamps and heaters paragon /'pærəgən/ noun a perfect human being

③ paragraph /'pærəgraːf/ noun a section of several sentences of writing starting on a new line ○ to answer the first paragraph of your letter or paragraph one of your letter ○ Please refer to the paragraph headed 'Shipping Instructions'.

parakeet /'pærəkī:t/ noun a kind of small tropical parrot

③ parallel /'pærəlel/ adj (of lines) which are side by side and remain the same distance apart without ever touching ○ Draw two parallel lines three millimetres apart. ○ The road is parallel to or with the railway. Synonym similar. Antonym dissimilar ■ noun an imaginary line running round the Earth, linking points at an equal distance from the equator ○ The 49th parallel marks most of the border between Canada and the United States. ■ verb to be similar to something ○ The results of the general election parallel those in the local elections held last year.

parallelogram /pærə'leləgræm/ noun a shape with four sides in which each side is parallel to the one opposite

paralyse /'pærəlaɪz/ verb 1. to cause paralysis in someone 2. to make someone or something unable to move or function normally for a short time ○ The strike paralysed the country. (NOTE: [all senses] The US spelling is paralyze.)

paralysis /pə'ræləsɪs/ noun 1. a condition where the muscles of part of the body cannot move because of damage to the nerves 2. an inability to move or function normally paralytic /,pærə'lɪtɪk/ adj 1. paralysed in all or part of the body ○ a paralytic patient 2. so drunk you cannot stand up or move (informal) ○ This is the second time this week he's gone out and got absolutely paralytic.

paramedic /,pærə'medɪk/ noun a person who works in a medical profession linked to that of nurse or doctor, such as an ambulance driver or therapist

③ parameter /pə'ræmɪtə/ noun a value which shows the limits of something paramilitary /,pærə'milit(ə)rɪ/ adj organised in the same way as the army, but not a part of it ○ Members of paramilitary organisations were asked to surrender their arms. ■ noun a member of a paramilitary organisation ○ Paramilitaries supporting the President were blamed for the attack. ○ Paramilitaries set up road blocks on all the roads leading into the area. Synonym rebel (NOTE: The plural is paramilitaries.)

paramount /'pærəmaʊnt/ adj most important. Antonym minimal paranoia /,pærə'nɔɪə/ noun a mental disorder in which the patient imagines things, usually that he or she is being persecuted or attacked. Synonym fear paranoid /'pærənɔɪd/ adj suffering from a fixed delusion. Synonym suspicious parapet /'pærəpɪt/ noun a small wall at the edge of a bridge or balcony paraphernalia /,pærəfə'nɛrlɪə/ noun a mass of bits and pieces of equipment. Synonym things (NOTE: no plural) paraphrase /'pærəfreɪz/ verb to repeat what someone has said or written, using different words. Synonym rephrase paraplegic /,pærə'pli:dʒɪk/ adj paralysed in the part of the body below the waist parasite /'pærəsait/ noun 1. an animal or plant which lives on or inside another organism and draws nourishment from it ○ Many diseases are carried by parasites. 2. a person who does no useful work and gets money from others ○ He is a parasite on society.

parasitic /,pærə'sɪtɪk/ adj referring to parasites parasol /'pærəsɒl/ noun a light umbrella to protect you from the rays of the sun. Synonym sunshade paratrooper /'pærətrʊ:pə/ noun a soldier who is a parachutist (NOTE: often shortened to para) paratroops /'pærətrʊ:pz/ plural noun paratroopers ○ A small group of paratroops led the attack.

③ parcel /'pa:s(ə)l/ noun a package, e.g. one which is to be sent by post ○ The postman has brought a parcel for you. ○ The parcel was wrapped up in brown paper. ○ If you're going to the post office, can you post this parcel for me? ■ verb to wrap and tie something up to send by post ○ I parcelled the books up yesterday but I haven't posted them yet. Antonym unwrap (NOTE: parceling – parcelled. The US spelling is parceling – parcelled.) parcel out /'pa:s(ə)l 'aʊt/ verb to divide something up among several people. Synonym distribute parched /'pa:tʃt/ adj very dry due to lack of water parchment /'pɑ:tʃmənt/ noun 1. skins of animals which were treated and used for writing on ○ Monks wrote books by hand on parchment. 2. a high-quality thick cream-coloured writing paper

② pardon /'pa:d(ə)n/ noun 1. the act of forgiving someone ■ I beg your pardon! excuse me! forgive me! ○ I beg your pardon, I didn't hear what you said. ○ I do beg your pardon – I didn't know you were busy. 2. the act of legally forgiving an offence which someone has committed ○ The prisoners received a free pardon from the president. ■ verb 1. to forgive someone for having done something wrong ○ Pardon me for interrupting, but you're wanted on the phone. ○ Please pardon my rudeness in not answering your call earlier. 2. to forgive an offence which someone has committed and allow him or her to leave prison ○ Some political prisoners were pardoned and set free.

pare /peə/ verb 1. to take the skin or peel off something, e.g. a fruit or vegetable, with a knife ○ She took a sharp knife to pare the apple. ○ He pared a thin slice off the block of cheese. 2. to make something smaller by cutting off a small amount ○ He managed to pare three seconds off his previous best time. ■ to pare something to the bone to reduce something as much as possible ○ Margins have been pared to the bone to keep our prices low.

① parent /'peərənt/ noun 1. a father or mother 2. an organisation which owns or rules another ○ Our parent company is based in Switzerland.

parentage /'peərəntɪdʒ/ noun someone's origin. Synonym ancestry parental /pə'rentl/ adj referring to parents parentheses /pə'renθəsɪz/ plural noun printing symbol () which enclose words or characters and separate them from the rest of the text ○ She put the phrase in parentheses. Also called round brackets parenthesis /pə'renθəsɪs/ noun a phrase in the middle of a sentence which is placed in brackets or between dashes ○ He referred to it only in a brief parenthesis. (NOTE: The plural is parentheses.)

parenthetical /,pærən'θetɪk(ə)l/ adj added as a parenthesis parenthood /'peərənθʊd/ noun the state of being a parent parenting /'peərəntɪŋ/ noun the activity of looking after children. Synonym childcare parish /'pærɪʃ/ noun 1. an area served by a church ○ He's the vicar of a country parish. ○ They worship regularly in their local parish church. ○ Father Thomas is our parish priest. 2. an administrative district in a county with a church as its centre ○ He's going through the local parish records to try to establish when his family first came to the village.

parishioner /pə'rɪʃ(ə)nər/ noun a person who lives in or belongs to a parish parity /'pærɪti/ noun the fact of being equal, especially having the same rates of pay and conditions as others. Antonym disparity

① park /pɑ:k/ noun 1. an open space with grass and trees ○ Hyde Park and Regents Park are in the middle of London. ○ You can ride a bicycle across the park but cars are not allowed in. 2. □ car park an area where you can leave a car when you are not using it ○ He left his car in the hotel car park. ○ The office car park is full. ■ verb 1. to leave your car in a place while you are not using it ○ You can park your car in the street next to the hotel. ○ You mustn't park on a double yellow line. 2. □ to park yourself to put yourself in a place, especially where you are not wanted (informal) ○ He came and parked himself next to me.

parka /'pɑ:kə/ noun a warm waterproof jacket with a hood

③ parked /pɑ:kt/ adj (of a vehicle) left somewhere, e.g. in a car park or standing at the side of the road

② parking /'pɑ:kiŋ/ noun the action of leaving a car somewhere when you are not using it □ 'no parking' a sign showing that you must not park your car parking bay /'pɑ:kiŋ beɪ/ noun a place for one car in a car park parking lot /'pɑ:kiŋ lot/ noun US an area where you can leave a car when you are not using it (NOTE: The British term is car park.)

parking meter /'pɑ:kiŋ ,mi:tə/ noun a device into which you put money to pay for parking for a certain time parking ticket /'pɑ:kiŋ ,tɪkɪt/ noun a paper which you get when you leave a car parked wrongly, telling you that you will have to pay a fine

Parkinson's disease /'pɑ:kɪnsənz di:zɪ:z/ noun a disease which affects the parts of the brain which control movement, making the hands and legs shake parkland /'pɑ:klænd/ noun open land with grass and trees

② parliament /'pɑ:ləmənt/ noun a group of elected representatives who vote the laws of a country ○ Parliament has passed a law forbidding the sale of dangerous drugs.

parliamentarian /,pɑ:ləmən'teəriən/ noun a member of one of the Houses of Parliament

③ parliamentary /,pɑ:lə'ment(ə)ri/ adj referring to parliament. Synonym governmental

Parmesan /,pɑ:mi'zæn/ noun a type of hard Italian cheese that is often grated and sprinkled on pasta dishes parochial /pə'rəʊkiəl/ adj 1. referring to a parish ○ the parochial church council ○ The vicar takes his parochial duties very seriously. 2. restricted and narrow-minded ○ Her outlook is too parochial.

parody /'pærədi/ noun poetry, a play or a song which imitates someone to make fun ○ He wrote a parody of Wodehouse. (NOTE: The plural is parodies.) ■ verb to imitate someone in order to make fun ○ His writing style is very easy to parody.

parole /pə'rəʊl/ noun 1. the act of allowing a prisoner to leave prison for a short time, on condition that he or she behaves well ○ He was given a week's parole to visit his mother in hospital. 2. the act of allowing a prisoner who has behaved well to be released from prison early on condition that he or she continues to behave well outside prison ○ She will be eligible for parole in three weeks' time. ○ He was let out on parole and immediately offended again. ■ verb to let a prisoner out of prison on condition that he or she behaves well ○ After six months he was paroled.

paroxysm /'pærəksɪz(ə)m/ noun a wild fit, e.g. of anger (informal)

parrot /'pærət/ noun 1. a brightly coloured tropical bird with a large curved beak ○ He keeps a green parrot in a cage in his sitting room. 2. □ sick as a parrot very annoyed and upset (informal) ○ I put all my money on the favourite and he came in last – I was sick as a parrot. ■ verb to repeat words without really understanding them ○ He just parroted what the minister had said. Synonym mimic parry /'pa:ri/ verb 1. to try to prevent a blow from hitting you ○ He tried to parry the blows which rained down on his head. 2. to try to avoid giving an answer to a question ○ She skilfully parried the questions from the journalists.

parsimonious /,pa:sɪ'mənɪəs/ adj not liking to spend money parsimony /'pa:sɪməni/ noun the fact of being a miser. Antonym extravagance parsley /'pa:sli/ noun a green herb with flat or curly leaves, used in cooking parsnip /'pa:snɪp/ noun a plant with a thick white root which is eaten boiled or roasted as a vegetable and has a sweet taste parson /'pa:s(ə)n/ noun a member of the clergy who is in charge of a parish in the Church of England (dated) ♦ cleric, minister, priest, vicar parsonage /'pa:s(ə)nɪdʒ/ noun the house where a parson lives

① part /pa:t/ noun 1. a piece ○ Parts of the film were very good. ○ They live in the downstairs part of a large house. ○ They spend part of the year in France. 2. one of the pieces that make up a machine or other object ○ We couldn't use the washing machine as we were waiting for a new part. ♦ spare parts. Synonym component □ in part not completely ○ to contribute in part to the costs or to pay the costs in part 3. a character, e.g. in a play or film ○ He played the part of Hamlet. □ to play a part to be one of several people or things which do something ○ The guests played an important part in putting out the hotel fire. □ to take part in something to join in something ○ They all took part in the game. ○ Did he take part in the concert? ■ verb 1. to divide your hair into sections ○ He parts his hair on the right side. 2. to separate, to split up ○ They parted at the station. □ to part company to leave, to split up ○ We all set off together, but we parted company when we got to Italy. ♦ part with partake /pa:'teɪk/ verb □ to partake of to eat (formal) part exchange /,pa:t ɪks'tʃeɪndʒ/ noun giving an old product as part of the payment for a new one ③ partial /'pa:ʃ(ə)l/ adj 1. not complete ○ He got partial compensation for the damage to his house. ○ The treatment was only a partial success. 2. □ partial to something with a liking for something ○ Everyone knows he is partial to a slice of cheesecake. 3. biased ○ The judge was accused of being partial.

partiality /,pa:ʃi'æltɪ/ noun 1. the fact of being in favour of one person rather than someone else ○ Apart from a natural partiality to members of his own family, he treated everyone the same. 2. □ a partiality for something a great liking for something ○ His partiality for good French cooking is well known.

partially /'pa:ʃ(ə)li/ adv not completely. Synonym partly. Antonym completely partially sighted /,pa:ʃə'lɪ 'saɪtɪd/ adj not able to see very well

③ participant /pa:'tɪsɪpənt/ noun a person who takes part. Antonym observer

③ participate /pa:'tɪsɪpeɪt/ verb to take part in something

③ participation /pa:,tɪsɪ'peɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the act of taking part in something

③ participle /pa:'tɪsɪp(ə)l/ noun a word formed from a verb, used either to form compound tenses or as an adjective or noun. The present participle of 'to go' is 'going' and the past participle is 'gone'.

particle /'pa:tɪk(ə)l/ noun a very small piece

① particular /pə'tɪk(j)lər/ adj 1. special, referring to one thing or person and to no other ○ The photocopier only works with one particular type of paper. 2. □ in particular especially ○ Fragile goods, in particular glasses, need careful packing. 3. fussy ○ She's very particular about her food. ○ Give me any room you have available – I'm not particular.

① particularly /pə'tɪk(j)ləli/ adv specially ○ I particularly asked them not to walk on the lawn. ○ It's a particularly difficult problem. ○ He isn't particularly worried about the result.

particulars /pə'tɪk(j)ləz/ plural noun details ○ the sheet which gives particulars of the house for sale ○ The inspector asked for particulars of the missing car.

parting /'pɑ:tɪŋ/ noun 1. the act of leaving someone ○ Our final parting took place outside the railway station. 2. the line which marks where your hair is separated when you comb it ○ My parting is on the left side. ■ adj done when leaving a place or person ○ It was a parting gift from my brother before he went abroad.

parting shot /,pa:tɪŋ 'ʃɒt/ noun the last, often unpleasant, words spoken when leaving someone partisan /'pɑ:tɪz(ə)n/ adj 1. strongly supporting a certain point of view ○ His partisan views are obvious in the article. ○ She's too partisan to be trusted to make an objective assessment of the situation. 2. referring to local armed resistance against an occupying army ○ The invaders found themselves up against a partisan army. ■ noun 1. a person who supports a policy forcefully ○ She's a partisan of having more women Members of Parliament. 2. a member of a local armed resistance movement, fighting against an occupying army ○ The town was captured by partisans.

partition /pa:tiʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. a division of a country into separate parts ○ Did you agree with the partition of the country after the war? 2. a thin wall between two spaces, especially one splitting a large room into sections ○ We put a partition across the centre of the room to make two separate bedrooms for the boys. ■ verb 1. to divide a country ○ The country was partitioned in 1947 to form the new independent states of India and Pakistan. 2. □ to partition something off to divide something such as a room, especially by means of a partition ○ The open-plan office has been partitioned off into smaller areas.

② partly /pa:tlɪ/ adv not completely ○ The house is partly furnished. ○ I'm only partly satisfied with the result. ○ We're selling our house in London, partly because we need the money, but also because we want to move nearer to the sea. Synonym partially. Antonym wholly partner /'pa:tner/ noun 1. a person who works in a business and has a share in it with others ○ He became a partner in a firm of solicitors. 2. a person you live with, without necessarily being married ○ We invited him and his partner for drinks. 3. a person who plays games or dances with someone ○ Take your partners for the waltz. ○ Sally is my usual tennis partner. ■ verb to be the partner of someone ○ She was partnered by her sister in the doubles.

③ partnership /'pa:tnerʃɪp/ noun a business association between two or more people in which the risks and profits are shared according to a letter of agreement between the partners □ to go into partnership (with someone) to join with someone to form a partnership ○ He went into partnership with his brother to market his new invention. ○ They gave up their jobs and went into partnership.

③ part of speech /,part əv 'spi:tʃ/ noun a group of words which are classified according to grammatical use, e.g. nouns and verbs

partridge /'pa:trɪdʒ/ noun a small brown and grey wild bird, shot for sport and food

③ part-time /,pa:t 'taɪm/ adj, adv not for the whole working day or week ○ He is trying to find part-time work when the children are in school. ○ We are looking for part-time staff to keyboard data. ○ She works part-time in the local supermarket.

part-timer /pa:t 'taɪmə/ noun a person who works for part of a day or week

③ part with /'part wið/ verb to give or sell something to someone

① party /'pa:ti/ noun 1. a special occasion when several people meet, usually in someone's house ○ We're having a party on New Year's Eve. ○ Our family Christmas party was a disaster as usual. ○ She invited twenty friends to her birthday party. □ to gatecrash a party to get into a party without being invited ○ A group of students tried to gatecrash her party. 2. a group of people doing something together ○ parties of tourists walking round the gardens. ■ working party 3. an organisation of people with similar political opinions and aims ○ Which party does he belong to? ○ She's a member of the Labour Party. 4. a person or organisation which is involved in a legal dispute, a contract or a crime party political /,pa:ti pə'lɪtɪk(ə)l/ adj referring to or involving party politics

party politics /,pa:ti 'polɪtɪks/ noun the process of working to promote the interests of a political party, by taking power in a local or national government

① pass /pa:s/ noun 1. (in football, etc.) the act of sending the ball to another player ○ He sent a long pass across the field and Smith headed it into goal. 2. a low area where a road can cross between two mountain peaks ○ The Brenner Pass is closed by snow. ○ The road winds steeply up to the pass. 3. a season ticket on a bus or train ○ I left my bus pass at home, so I had to pay for a ticket. 4. a permit to go in or out regularly ○ You need a pass to enter the ministry offices. ○ All members of staff must show a pass. 5. □ to make a pass at someone to try to start a sexual relationship with someone ■ verb 1. to go past someone or something ○ If you walk towards the bank you will pass the office on your right. ○ I passed her on the stairs. ○ If you're passing the bookshop, can you pick up the book I ordered? 2. to move something towards someone ○ Can you pass me the salt, please? ○ He passed the ball back to the goalkeeper. 3. to be successful in a test or examination ○ He passed in English, but failed in French. ○ She passed her driving test first time! 4. to vote to approve something ○ Parliament has passed a law against the ownership of guns. ○ The proposal was passed by 10 votes to 3. 5. to make a substance leave the body as a waste product or in a waste product ○ His kidneys were affected and he passed blood in his urine. □ to pass water to make liquid waste leave the body. Synonym urinate passable /'pa:səb(ə)l/ adj 1. which you can travel along ○ The roads across the mountains have been cleared of snow and are passable again. 2. fairly good ○ He did a passable imitation of the prime minister.

② passage /'pæsɪdʒ/ noun 1. a corridor ○ She hurried along the passage. ○ There's an underground passage between the two railway stations. 2. a section of a text ○ She quoted passages from the Bible. ○ I photocopied a particularly interesting passage from the textbook. 3. the action of moving from one place to another ○ The attackers promised the garrison safe passage if they surrendered.

passageway /'pæsɪdʒweɪ/ noun a corridor

③ pass away /,pæs ə'weɪ/ verb to die (NOTE: also pass on)

② passenger /'pæsɪndʒə/ noun a person who is travelling, e.g. in a car, bus, train or plane, but who is not the driver or one of the crew ○ His car's quite big – it can take three passengers on the back seat. ○ The plane was carrying 104 passengers and a crew of ten. □ there was a dent on the passenger side there was a dent in the side of the car nearest to the kerb passer-by /,pæ:sə 'baɪ/ noun a person who is walking past. Synonym onlooker (NOTE: The plural is passers-by.)

③ passing /'pæ:sɪŋ/ adj 1. not permanent ○ It's just a passing fashion. 2. which is going past ○ The driver of a passing car saw the accident and called the police on his mobile phone.

③ passion /'pæʃ(ə)n/ noun a very strong emotion or enthusiasm ○ Her great passion is motor racing. ○ She has a passion for chocolate. ○ He didn't put enough passion into the love scene.

passionate /'pæʃ(ə)nət/ adj strongly emotional passionately /'pæʃ(ə)nətlɪ/ adv strongly passion fruit /'pæʃ(ə)n fru:t/ noun a climbing plant with purple juicy fruit passive /'pæsɪv/ adj allowing things to happen to you and not taking any action yourself ○ He wasn't one of the ringleaders, he only played a passive role in the coup. Synonym inert ■ noun the form of a verb which shows that the subject is being acted upon. Also called passive voice (NOTE: If you say 'the car hit him' the verb is active, but 'he was hit by the car' is passive.)

passively /'pæsɪvlɪ/ adv not offering any resistance, not doing anything positive passive resistance /,pæsɪv rɪ'zɪst(ə)ns/ noun the policy of protesting against something by refusing to do it, but not by using violence passive smoking /,pæsɪv 'sməʊkɪŋ/ noun the act of breathing in smoke from other people's cigarettes, when you do not smoke yourself pass key /'pæs ki:/ noun a main key, e.g. in a hotel, which opens several doors

③ pass off /,pæs 'ɒf/ verb 1. to take place ○ The meeting passed off without any problems. 2. □ to pass something off as something else to pretend that something is another thing in order to cheat ○ He passed the wine off as French. □ to pass yourself off as something to pretend to be something ○ He passed himself off as a rich banker from South America.

③ pass on /,pæs 'ɒn/ verb 1. to move something on to someone else ○ She passed on the information to her boss. 2. to die ○ My father passed on two years ago. (NOTE: also pass away in the same meaning)

③ pass out /,pæs 'aʊt/ verb to faint, to become unconscious for a short time

Passover /'pæ:səʊvə/ noun a Jewish spring festival which celebrates the release of Jews from captivity in Egypt

③ passport /'pæ:spɔ:t/ noun an official document allowing you to pass from one country to another ○ If you are going abroad you need to have a valid passport. ○ We had to show our passports at customs. ○ His passport is out of date.

③ pass round /,pæs 'raʊnd/ verb 1. to hand something to various people ○ She passed the box of chocolates round the table. ○ The steward passed round immigration forms. 2. □ to pass the hat round to ask for money (informal) ○ We don't have the funds to put on the school play this year, so we'll have to pass the hat round.

pass through /,pæs 'θru:/ verb to go through something. Synonym cross □ we're just passing through we are on our way to somewhere else □ to pass through customs to go through a customs checkpoint

③ pass up /,pæs 'ʌp/ verb not to make use of a chance or opportunity which is offered

③ password /'pæ:swɜ:dz/ noun a secret word which you need to know to be allowed to go into a military camp or to use a computer system

① past /pæ:st/ prep 1. later than, after ○ It's past the children's bedtime. ○ It's ten past nine (9.10) – we've missed the TV news. 2. from one side to the other in front of something ○ If you go past the bank, you'll see the shop on your left. ○ She walked past me without saying anything. ○ The car went past at at least 60 miles an hour. (NOTE: Past is used for times between o'clock and the half-hour: 3.05 = five past three; 3.15 = a quarter past three; 3.25 = twenty-five past three; 3.30 = half past three. For times after half past see to. Past is also used with many verbs: to go past, to drive past, to fly past, etc.) ■ adj which has passed ○ He has spent the past year working in France. ○ The time for talking is past – what we need is action. ■ noun 1. the time before now ○ In the past we always had an office party just before Christmas. 2. □ the past (tense) the form of a verb which shows that something happened before the present time ○ ‘Sang’ is the past (tense) of the verb ‘to sing’.

pasta /'pæstə/ noun an Italian food made of flour and water, cooked by boiling and eaten with oil or sauce (NOTE: no plural: some pasta, a bowl of pasta; note that pasta takes a singular verb: The pasta is very good here.)

paste /peɪst/ noun 1. a thin liquid glue ○ Spread the paste evenly over the back of the wallpaper. 2. soft food ○ The cake is covered with almond paste. ○ Mix the flour, eggs and milk to a smooth paste. ○ Add tomato paste to the soup. 3. a hard shining glass, used to make imitation jewellery ○ Those aren’t real diamonds, they’re just paste. ■ verb to glue something such as paper ○ She pasted a sheet of coloured paper over the front of the box. ○ He pasted the newspaper cuttings into his scrapbook. ♦ cut pastel /'pæst(ə)l/ noun 1. a coloured crayon like chalk ○ a portrait done in pastels □ pastel colours soft, light shades ○ The whole house was decorated in light pastel colours. 2. a picture done with coloured crayons like chalk ○ This pastel was used as a sketch for the finished painting.

pasteurisation /,pa:stʃəraɪ'zeɪʃ(ə)n/, pasteurization noun the action of pasteurising milk. Synonym sterilisation pasteurise /'pa:stʃəraɪz/, pasteurize verb to kill the germs in milk by heating it. Synonym sterilise pastiche /pæ'sti:ʃ/ noun something, e.g. a poem or a piece of music, which is deliberately done in the style of another artist pastille /'pæst(ə)l/ noun a small sweet made of fruit-flavoured jelly pastime /'pa:staim/ noun a hobby, something you do to pass your spare time. Synonym hobby pastor /'pa:stə/ noun a member of the Protestant clergy pastoral /'pa:st(ə)rəl/ adj 1. referring to country life ○ Virgil was famous for his pastoral poetry. 2. referring to guidance in connection with someone’s personal problems ○ There’s an important pastoral side to a teacher’s job.

past participle /pa:st 'pa:tɪsɪp(ə)l/ noun a word formed from a verb, used either to form a past tense or as an adjective. The past participle of ‘go’ is ‘gone’.

past perfect /pa:st 'pɔ:fɪkt/ noun the tense of a verb which is formed with ‘had’ plus the past participle, and which shows something that happened before something else. In the sentence ‘I had made breakfast before I had a shower’, ‘had made’ is in the past perfect.

③ pastry /'peɪstri/ noun a mixture of flour, fat and water, used to make pies ○ She was in the kitchen making pastry.

pasture /'pa:stʃər/ noun a grassy area where animals such as horses, cows and sheep can graze. Synonym meadow pasty noun /'pæsti/ a pastry folded round a filling of meat and vegetables. Synonym pie

■ adj /'peɪsti/ (of skin) white and unhealthy

pat /pæt/ noun 1. a little tap with the hand ○ I didn’t hit her – I just gave her a little pat. □ a pat on the back praise ○ The committee got a pat on the back for having organised the show so well. 2. □ a pat of butter a small round piece of butter ■ verb to give someone or something a pat ○ He patted his pocket to make sure that his wallet was still there. □ to pat someone on the back to praise someone

③ patch /pætʃ/ noun 1. a small piece of material used for covering up a hole ○ His mother sewed a patch over the hole in his trousers. □ not a patch on someone or something not nearly as good as someone or something (informal) ○ This year’s model isn’t a patch on the old one. 2. a small area of something ○ They built a shed on a patch of ground by the railway line. ○ There’s a patch of rust on the car door. ■ verb to repair something by attaching a piece of material over a hole ○ Her jeans are all mended and patched. ○ We patched the curtains with some material we had left over.

③ patch up /,pætʃ 'ʌp/ verb 1. to mend something with difficulty ○ The mechanics managed to patch up the engine. ○ The surgeon patched him up but warned him not to fight with knives again. 2. □ to patch up a quarrel to become more friendly again after quarrelling ○ They had a bitter argument, but patched up their quarrel in time for the party.

patchwork /'pætʃwɜ:k/ noun 1. a piece of needlework made by sewing small pieces of material together in patterns ○ All the women in the family came together to sew a patchwork quilt. 2. an area which looks like a patchwork quilt ○ a typical English landscape with a patchwork of small fields patchy /'pætʃi/ adj 1. not the same everywhere ○ If you don’t prepare the surface properly, the paint will look patchy. 2. sometimes good and sometimes not good ○ This year’s exam results have been patchy. 3. occurring in some places but not in others ○ There may be some patchy rain in the southwest. (NOTE: patchier – patchiest) pâté /'pætə/ noun a paste made of cooked meat or fish finely minced patella /pə'tɛlə/ noun the kneecap, the small bone at the front of the knee joint (technical)

patent /'peɪtənt, 'pætənt/ noun an official confirmation that you have the sole right to make or sell a new invention ◻ to take out a patent for a new type of light bulb ◻ They have applied for a patent for their new invention. Synonym copyright ■ adj covered by an official patent ■ verb ◻ to patent an invention to register an invention with the patent office to prevent other people from copying it patent leather /,peɪtənt 'leðə/ noun leather with an extremely shiny surface patently /'peɪntli/ adv obviously or clearly paternal /pə'tɜ:n(ə)l/ adj 1. referring to a father ◻ my paternal grandfather my father's father 2. like a father ◻ The younger employees disliked his paternal attitude. ◻ He kept a paternal eye on the young people working in his department. (NOTE: The equivalent adjective referring to a mother is maternal.)

paternity /pə'tɜ:nitɪ/ noun 1. the fact of being a father 2. the identity of a father ◻ The court had first to establish the child's paternity. Compare maternity paternity leave /pə'tɜ:nitɪ leɪv/ noun permission for a man to be away from work when his wife has a baby

② path /pæ:θ/ noun 1. a narrow track for walking ◻ There's a path across the field. ◻ Follow the path until you get to the sea. Also called footpath 2. ◻ a cycle or bicycle path a narrow lane for cycles by the side of a road 3. a direction in which something is moving or coming ◻ People in villages in the path of the hurricane were advised to get away as fast as possible. ◻ The school stands right in the path of the new motorway.

③ pathetic /pə'θetɪk/ adj 1. which makes you feel pity or contempt ◻ She looked so pathetic I hadn't the heart to scold her. 2. extremely bad ◻ He made a pathetic attempt at a joke. ◻ Her performance in the semi-final was absolutely pathetic.

pathetically /pə'θetɪkli/ adv in a pathetic way

pathological /,pæθə'lɒdʒɪk(ə)l/ adj 1. referring to a disease or which is caused by a disease ◻ a pathological condition 2. extreme or uncontrollable ◻ She has an almost pathological hatred of German men. ◻ to be a pathological liar to tell lies all the time pathologist /pə'θɒlədʒɪst/ noun 1. a doctor who specialises in the study of diseases and the changes in the body caused by disease ◻ A pathologist took samples for examination in the laboratory. 2. a doctor who examines dead bodies to find out the cause of death ◻ The pathologist found traces of poison in the corpse.

pathology /pə'θɒlədʒi/ noun the study of diseases and the changes in structure and function which diseases cause in the body pathos /'peɪθɒs/ noun a quality in something which makes you feel pity. Synonym sadness (NOTE: The adjective is pathetic.)

pathway /'pa:θweɪ/ noun a track for walking along

③ patience /'peɪs(ə)ns/ noun 1. the quality of being patient ◻ With a little patience, you'll soon learn how to ride a bike. ◻ I don't have the patience to wait that long. ◻ to try someone's patience to make someone impatient ◻ Looking after a class of thirty little children would try anyone's patience. 2. a card game for one person ◻ She sat by herself in her hotel room, playing patience.

④ patient /'peɪs(ə)nt/ adj 1. being able to wait a long time without getting annoyed ◻ You must be patient – you will get served in time. 2. careful and thorough ◻ Weeks of patient investigation by the police resulted in his arrest. ■ noun a sick person who is in hospital or who is being treated by a doctor, dentist, psychiatrist, etc. ◻ There are three other patients in the ward. ◻ The nurse is trying to take the patient's temperature.

⑤ patiently /'peɪsəntli/ adv without getting annoyed patina /'pætɪnə/ noun a green sheen on old bronze objects or a shine on old wooden furniture patio /'pætiəʊ/ noun a paved area outside a house or other building for sitting or eating (NOTE: The plural is patios.)

patriarch /'peɪtrɪə:k/ noun 1. the bishop of an Eastern church ◻ the Patriarch of Constantinople 2. a respected old man who is considered the head of a village or community ◻ We were taken to see an old man who was obviously the village patriarch. Compare matriarch patriarchal /,peɪtrɪ'ə:k(ə)l/ adj referring to a patriarchy patriarchy /'peɪtrɪə:ki/ noun a system of government by the eldest male of the ruling group patrician /pə'trɪʃ(ə)n/ adj referring to aristocrats ◻ The old East Coast patrician families lost influence when Texas and California became economically powerful. Synonym aristocratic ■ noun a member of an old aristocratic family ◻ The patricians lost influence when the Roman Republic was replaced by the Empire. Synonym aristocrat patriot /'pætriət/ noun a person who is proud of his or her country and is willing to defend it. Synonym nationalist patriotic /,pætri'ɒtɪk/ adj proud of your country and willing to defend it. Synonym nationalistic patriotism /'pætriətɪz(ə)m/ noun a feeling of great pride in your country. Synonym loyalty patrol /pə'trəʊl/ noun 1. the act of keeping guard by walking or driving up and down ○ They make regular patrols round the walls of the prison. ○ He was on patrol in the centre of town when he saw some youths running away from a bank. 2. a group of people keeping guard ○ Each time a patrol went past we hid behind a wall. ■ verb to keep guard on a place by walking or driving up and down ○ Armed security guards are patrolling the warehouse. Synonym guard (NOTE: patrolling – patrolled) patrol car /pə'trəʊl ku:/ noun a police car which drives up and down the streets patrolman /pə'trəʊlmən/ noun especially US a policeman on patrol (NOTE: The plural is patrolmen.)

③ patron /'peɪtrən/ noun 1. a person who protects or supports someone or something ○ She's a great patron of the arts. 2. a person who goes regularly to a place, e.g. a shop, hotel, restaurant or theatre ○ The car park is for the use of hotel patrons only.

patronage /'pætrənɪdʒ/ noun the practice of giving support or encouragement to someone, e.g. an artist patronise /'pætrənaɪz/, patronize verb 1. to act in a way which shows you think you are superior to someone ○ He thinks he can patronise us because we're younger than he is. 2. to go regularly to a place, e.g. a shop, public house or theatre ○ We believe it's important to patronise small local shops. ○ The restaurant is mainly patronised by local businesspeople. 3. to support or encourage someone such as an artist ○ King Charles I patronised several Flemish painters, especially Van Dyck.

patron saint /,peɪtrən 'seɪnt/ noun a saint who is believed to protect a particular group of people

patter /'pætə/ noun 1. a light tapping noise ○ the patter of raindrops on the roof ○ I heard a patter of feet in the corridor. 2. rapid talk by someone, e.g. a conjuror, salesman or trickster, to keep your attention ○ He kept up a continuous patter as he shuffled the cards. ■ verb to make a light tapping noise ○ The rain pattered on the windows.

① pattern /'pæt(ə)n/ noun 1. instructions which you follow to make something ○ She copied a pattern from a magazine to knit her son a pullover. 2. a design of something, e.g. lines or flowers, repeated again and again on cloth, wallpaper, etc. ○ She was wearing a coat with a pattern of black and white spots. ○ Do you like the pattern on our new carpet? 3. the general way in which something usually happens ○ a change in the usual weather pattern patterned /'pæt(ə)nd/ adj with a repeated pattern paucity /'pɔ:si:tɪ/ noun a lack of something. Synonym dearth (NOTE: no plural) paunch /pɔ:ntʃ/ noun a man's fat stomach (NOTE: The plural is paunches.)

pauper /'pɔ:pə/ noun a poor person. Antonym millionaire

③ pause /pɔ:z/ noun a short stop during a period of activity such as work ○ The exercise consists of running on the spot for ten minutes, with a short pause after each 100 steps. ○ He read his speech slowly, with plenty of pauses. ■ verb to rest for a short time

pave /peɪv/ verb 1. to cover a road or path, etc., with a hard surface ○ In the old town, the streets are paved with cobblestones. ○ There is a paved courtyard behind the restaurant. 2. □ to pave the way for something to prepare the way for something to happen ○ The election of the new president paves the way for a change of government.

③ pavement /'peɪvmənt/ noun 1. a hard path for walkers at the side of a road ○ Walk on the pavement, not in the road. ○ Look out! – the pavement is covered with ice. (NOTE: The US term is sidewalk.) 2. US a hard road surface (NOTE: The British term is road-way.)

pavement artist /'peɪvmənt ,a:tɪst/ noun an artist who draws pictures on the pavement with coloured chalks pavilion /pə'vɪlɪən/ noun 1. a small building for people playing sport to rest in between games ○ The rest of the team watched from the pavilion as he scored the winning run. 2. a separate building at a large exhibition ○ Have you seen the Canadian pavilion yet?

paving stone /'peɪvɪŋ stəʊn/ noun a large flat stone slab used for making paths and patios

③ paw /pɔ:/ noun 1. the hairy foot of an animal with claws ○ The bear held the fish in its paws. 2. a hand (informal) ○ Keep your paws off my food! ■ verb 1. to pat something with a foot ○ The horse pawed the ground impatiently. 2. to touch someone with the hands ○ He tried pawing the girls at the office party.

③ pawn /pɔ:n/ noun 1. the smallest piece on the chessboard ○ He took two of my pawns. ○ She sacrificed a pawn in order to put his king in check. 2. a person who is controlled by someone more powerful ○ He was just a pawn in the hands of powerful bankers. 3. □ in pawn left in exchange for money which has been borrowed ○ He left his watch in pawn for £20. ■ verb to leave an object in exchange for borrowing money: you claim back the object when you pay back the money. ○ I was so desperate that I pawned my mobile phone. ○ He was in a bad state – even his dinner jacket had been pawned. ○ She pawned her ring to get money for food. Synonym trade in pawnbroker /'pɔ:nbrəʊkə/ noun a person who lends money in exchange for valuables left with him or her pawnbroker's /'pɔ:nbrəʊkəz/, pawn-shop /'pɔ:nʃɒp/ noun a shop where goods can be pawned pawpaw /'pɔ:pɔ:/ same as papaya

① pay /peɪ/ noun wages or salary ○ They're on strike for more pay. ○ I can't afford luxuries on my miserable pay. □ holiday with pay holiday which an employee can take by contract and for which he or she is paid □ in the pay of a person or an organisation paid by a person or an organisation ○ He was accused of being in the pay of the enemy secret service. ■ verb 1. to give someone money for something ○ How much did you pay for your car? ○ We pay £100 a week in rent. ○ Please pay the waiter for your drinks. ○ She paid him £10 for his old bike. 2. to give money to someone for doing something ○ We pay secretaries £10 an hour. ○ I paid them one pound each for washing the car. ○ I'll pay you a pound to wash my car. (NOTE: You pay someone to wash the car before he or she washes it, but you pay someone for washing the car after he or she has washed it.) 3. □ to pay attention to someone or something to note and think about someone or something carefully ○ Pay attention to the following instructions. ○ to pay a visit to visit ○ We'll pay my mother a visit when we're in town. 4. to be worth while to someone ○ It would probably pay you to have the flat repainted. (NOTE: paying – paid /peɪd/) payable /'peɪəb(ə)l/ adj which must be paid □ to make a cheque payable to someone to write someone's name on a cheque, so that the money is put into his or her account ③ pay back /,peɪ 'bæk/ verb 1. to give someone money which you owe ○ He borrowed £10 last week and hasn't paid me back. 2. □ to pay someone back for something to take revenge on someone for having done something ○ That will pay them back for ruining our party, he said as he smashed their car window.

paycheque /'peɪ 'tʃek/ noun a regular salary cheque given to an employee (NOTE: The US spelling is paycheck.)

payday /'peɪdeɪ/ noun a day when employees get paid pay desk /'peɪ desk/ noun same as cash desk payee /'peɪ'i:/ noun a person who is paid money. Synonym recipient. Antonym payer payer /'peɪə/ noun a person who pays money to someone. Synonym spender. Antonym payee

③ pay in /,peɪ 'ɪn/ verb to put money into an account. Synonym deposit paying-in slip /,peɪɪŋ 'ɪn slip/ noun a form which is filled in when money is deposited in a bank account or building society account

① payment /'peɪmənt/ noun 1. the fact of giving money for something ○ I make regular monthly payments into her account. ○ She made a payment of £10,000 to the solicitor. 2. money paid ○ Did you receive any payment for the work? ○ If you fall behind with your payments, they will take the car back.

③ pay off /,peɪ 'ɒf/ verb 1. to finish paying money which is owed ○ He's aiming to pay off his mortgage in ten years. ○ She said she couldn't pay off the loan. 2. to pay all the money owed to someone and end his or her employment ○ When the company was taken over the factory was closed and all the workers were paid off. 3. to be successful ○ Their more cautious approach eventually paid off. ○ All that hard work paid off when she came top of her class.

pay-off /'peɪ df/ noun 1. money paid to finish paying something which is owed, such as money paid to a employee when his or her employment is ended ○ Each of the directors received a pay-off of twenty thousand pounds. 2. a benefit which is deserved ○ One of the pay-offs of a university degree is increased earning power.

③ pay out /,peɪ 'aut/ verb 1. to give money to someone ○ The insurance company paid out thousands of pounds to claimants after the storm. ○ We have paid out half our profits in dividends. 2. to unroll a rope ○ They paid out the rope gradually as I climbed down the cliff.

payphone /'peɪfəʊn/ noun a public phone in which you insert money to make a call pay rise /'peɪ raiz/ noun an increase in salary (NOTE: The US term is raise.)

payroll /'peɪrəʊl/ noun 1. the people employed by a company and paid by it ○ The company has 250 people on the payroll. 2. the total wages paid by a company pay slip /'peɪ slip/ noun a piece of paper showing the full amount of an employee's pay, and the money deducted as tax, pension and insurance contributions

③ pay up /,peɪ 'ap/ verb to pay all the money which you owe

③ PC abbr personal computer, police constable, politically correct

PE abbr physical education ○ a PE class

③ pea /pi:/ noun a climbing plant of which the round green seeds are eaten as vegetables ○ like two peas in a pod very similar ○ No one can tell the twins apart, they're like two peas in a pod.

② peace /pi:əs/ noun 1. the state of not being at war ○ The UN troops are trying to keep the peace in the area. ○ Both sides are hoping to reach a peace settlement. 2. a calm quiet state ○ Noisy motorcycles ruin the peace and quiet of the village.

peaceable /'pi:səb(ə)l/ adj liking peace, not wanting to quarrel peace dividend /'pi:s ,dɪ'vɪdənd/ noun money which becomes available for general government spending as defence spending is reduced following the ending of a war

③ peaceful /'pi:sf(ə)l/ adj 1. calm ○ We spent a peaceful afternoon by the river. 2. liking peace ○ The Swiss seem to be a very peaceful nation. □ to have a peaceful coexistence to live side by side without making war peacefully /'pi:sf(ə)li/ adv 1. calmly ○ The baby is sleeping peacefully in its cot. 2. without fighting, without making war ○ We hope the dispute can be settled peacefully.

peacekeeper /'pi:ski:pə/ noun a person who tries to maintain peace. Synonym intermediary peacekeeping /'pi:ski:pɪŋ/ noun the act of trying to keep peace in a region where there is a war peace process /'pi:s ,prə'ses/ noun negotiations, concessions and discussions which take place over a long time, with the aim of ending a state of war peacetime /'pi:staim/ noun a period when a country is not fighting in a war

③ peach /peɪtʃ/ noun 1. a sweet fruit with a large stone and velvety skin ○ We had peaches and cream for dessert. 2. a pink-yellow colour ○ They painted the bathroom a light peach.

peacock /'pi:kɒk/ noun 1. a large bird, of which the cock has an enormous tail with brilliant blue and green feathers ○ Peacocks were wandering about the palace garden. ○ They keep peacocks in their garden and they make a lot of noise. 2. a type of common brown butterfly with round purple spots on its wings peahen /'pi:hen/ noun a female peacock

③ peak /pi:k/ noun 1. the top of a mountain ○ Can you see that snow-covered peak in the distance? – It's Mont Blanc. 2. the highest point ○ The team has to reach a peak of fitness before the match. ○ The graph shows the peaks and troughs of pollution over the last month. 3. the front part of a cap, which juts out ○ He wore a white cap with a dark blue peak. □ verb to reach the highest point ○ Sales peaked in January. Synonym climax. Antonym dip (NOTE: Do not confuse with peek.)

peal /pi:l/ noun 1. a sudden loud noise ○ She could hear peals of laughter from the next room. ○ A peal of thunder woke me up.

2. the sound of bells ringing ○ Peals rang out from the church tower on Christmas morning.

3. a set of bells of different sizes, playing different notes ○ The church has a lovely peal of bells. □ verb 1. to ring loudly ○ The church bells pealed out as the couple came out into the sunlight. 2. to make a loud noise like bells ○ The audience pealed with laughter. (NOTE: Do not confuse with peel.)

peanut /'pi:nət/ noun a nut which grows in the ground in pods like a pea peanut butter /,pi:nət 'bə:tə/ noun a paste made from crushed peanuts peanuts /'pi:nəts/ plural noun a small amount of money ○ Why does he stay in that job, when he only earns peanuts? ○ She worked for peanuts in the family shop.

③ pear /peə/ noun a fruit like a long apple, with one end fatter than the other ○ When are pears in season?

③ pearl /pɜ:l/ noun a precious round white gem formed inside an oyster ○ She wore a string of pearls which her grandmother had given her.

pear-shaped /'peə ſeɪpt/ adj 1. shaped like a pear 2. □ to go pear-shaped to go wrong, not to work properly (informal) ○ Since the shop opened, everything seems to be going pear-shaped.

peasant /'pez(ə)nt/ noun a farm labourer or farmer living in a backward region peasantry /'pez(ə)ntri/ noun peasants seen as a group (NOTE: no plural) peat /pi:t/ noun wet soil in a bog, made from partly decayed mosses and other plants peat bog /'pɪ:t bog/ noun a soft wet area of land which is covered with peat pebble /'peb(ə)l/ noun a small round stone pebbly /'pebli/ adj covered with pebbles pecan /pi:kən, pi'kæn/ noun a sweet nut from a tree which grows in the south of the USA pecan pie /,pi:kən 'pai/ noun a pie made from corn syrup, cornflour and pecans peck /pek/ noun 1. a bite with a bird's beak

○ Be careful when you feed the parrot – he can give a nasty peck. 2. a little kiss ○ He gave her a peck on the cheek. □ verb 1. (of a bird) to bite with a beak ○ Hens were pecking around in the yard. 2. □ to peck at food to eat a little food, taking little bites ○ She's not feeling very well – she's pecking at her food.

pecking order /'pekiŋ ,ɔ:də/ noun an unwritten order of importance of people in a firm or office, or animals in a farm. Synonym hierarchy peckish /'pekiʃ/ adj slightly hungry (informal) Synonym hungry

③ peculiar /p'i'kjū:liə/ adj 1. odd or strange ○ It's peculiar that she refuses to have a TV in the house. ○ There's a peculiar smell coming from the kitchen. 2. □ peculiar to a place or person only found in one particular place or person (formal) ○ French fries with mayonnaise is a dish which is peculiar to Belgium.

peculiarity /p'i,kju:li'ærɪti/ noun an odd feature or detail which makes something different (NOTE: The plural is peculiarities.) peculiarly /p'i'kjū:liəli/ adv oddly or strangely pecuniary /p'i'kjū:nɪəri/ adj referring to money. Synonym monetary pedagogical /,pedə'gɒdʒɪk(ə)l/ adj referring to teaching. Synonym educational ③ pedal /'ped(ə)l/ noun 1. a lever worked by the foot ○ If you want to stop the car put your foot down on the brake pedal. 2. a flat rest which you press down on with your foot to make a bicycle go forwards ○ He stood up on the pedals to make the bike go up the hill.

■ verb to make a bicycle go by pushing on the pedals ○ He had to pedal hard to get up the hill. (NOTE: pedalling – pedalled. The US spelling is pedaling – pedaled.)

pedal bin /'ped(ə)l bɪn/ noun a container for rubbish which opens with a pedal pedant /'ped(ə)nt/ noun a person who insists on having every small detail correct. Synonym doctrinaire pedantic /p'i'dæntɪk/ adj worrying too much about small details pedantically /p'i'dæntɪkli/ adv in a pedantic way peddle /'ped(ə)l/ verb 1. to sell goods from door to door or in the street ○ He makes a living peddling cleaning products door to door. ○ She tried to peddle the information to various newspapers. 2. to sell illegal drugs ○ He was accused of peddling drugs. (NOTE: Do not confuse with pedal.)

peddler /'pedlə/ noun 1. a person who sells harmful goods ○ a peddler of pornography 2. US same as pedlar pedestal /'pedɪst(ə)l/ noun a base for a statue □ to put someone on a pedestal to treat someone as if he or she were very special or important, even if they have faults ○ He had always put his wife on a pedestal and was horrified to hear the stories about her which came out in court.

④ pedestrian /pə'destrɪən/ noun a person who walks in a street ○ Two pedestrians were also injured in the accident. Synonym walker ■ adj 1. referring to pedestrians ○ The street is open to pedestrian traffic only. 2. heavy, done without any imagination ○ She gave a terribly pedestrian performance as Juliet.

pedestrian crossing /pɪ,destriən 'krosɪŋ/ noun a place where pedestrians can cross a road (NOTE: Another US term is crosswalk.)

pedestrian precinct /pə,destriən 'prɪsɪŋkt/ shopping precinct /'ʃɒpɪŋ ,prɪsɪŋkt/ noun a part of a town which is closed to traffic so that people can walk about and shop pedicure /'pedɪkjʊə/ noun the act of looking after the feet □ to have a pedicure to have beauty treatment for your feet, including massage and cutting toenails ○ She went for a manicure and pedicure.

pedigree /'pedɪgrɪ:/ noun a table showing the ancestors of an animal bred by a breeder. Synonym lineage pedlar /'pedlə/ noun a person who goes from door to door, or stands in a street, trying to sell small articles pedometer /pe'dɒmɪtə/ noun an instrument which measures how far you have walked pee /pi:/ noun 1. waste water from the body (informal) ○ This drink's horrible, it tastes like pee! 2. the act of passing waste water from the body ○ I need to go for a pee. ○ He had a quick pee and then went back to the meeting. ■ verb to pass waste water from the body ○ The cat's peed all over my flowerbed.

peek /pi:k/ noun a quick look ○ He opened the fridge door and had a peek at the dessert. Antonym gaze (NOTE: Do not confuse with peak.) ■ verb to look at something quickly ○ She peeked through the window and saw there was no one in the kitchen. Synonym peep. Antonym stare peel /pi:l/ noun the outer skin of a fruit or a vegetable ○ Throw the banana peel into the rubbish bin. ○ This orange has got very thick peel. (NOTE: no plural. Do not confuse with peal.) ■ verb 1. to take the outer skin off a fruit or a vegetable ○ He was peeling a banana. ○ If the potatoes are very small you can boil them without peeling them. 2. to come off in layers ○ I sat in the sun yesterday and now my back is peeling.

peeler /pi:lə/ noun a special tool for peeling potatoes and other vegetables peelings /'pɪlɪŋz/ plural noun pieces of skin from vegetables or fruit that have been peeled peep /pi:p/ noun a quick look ○ He opened the fridge door and had a peep inside. ■ verb to look quickly and secretly at something ○

She peeped into the box. ○ We found him peeping through the keyhole.

peephole /'pi:phəʊl/ noun a small hole in a door which you can look through to see who is outside peer /piə/ noun 1. a member of the nobility ○ Peers sit in the House of Lords. 2. a person of the same rank or class as another ○ He's always trying to compete with his peers. ■ verb to look hard at something when you cannot see very well ○ She peered at the screen to see if she could read the figures.

Antonym glance

peerage /'piərɪdʒ/ noun 1. all peers taken as a group ○ The book lists all the members of the British peerage. 2. the position of being a peer ○ Three new peerages were created in the New Year's Honours List.

peeress /'piər'ɛs/ noun a woman peer (NOTE: The plural is peeresses.)

peer group /'piə ,gru:p/ noun a group of people of equal social status (NOTE: Do not confuse with pier.)

peerless /'piələs/ adj which has no equal. Synonym incomparable. Antonym commonplace peeved /pi:vəd/ adj annoyed and bothered. Antonym pleased peevish /'pi:vɪʃ/ adj bad-tempered, always complaining. Synonym irritable peg /peg/ noun a small wooden or metal stake or pin ○ The children hang their coats on pegs in the cloakroom. ○ They used no nails in building the roof – it is all held together with wooden pegs. ■ verb 1. to attach something with a peg ○ She pegged the washing out on the line. 2. to hold something such as prices stable ○ Prices will be pegged at the current rate for another year. (NOTE: pegging – pegged) pejorative /'pi:dʒɔ:rətɪv/ adj showing that you feel something is bad (formal) pelican /'pelɪkən/ noun a large water bird, which catches fish and keeps the fish in a bag of skin under its beak ○ The zoo keeper brought a bucket of fish to feed the pelicans.

pellet /'pelɪt/ noun 1. a small ball of lead, used in shotguns ○ There may still be pellets left in the pheasant so be careful when you eat it. 2. a small ball of something ○ The boys made bread pellets and threw them across the room. ○ The cattle feed comes in the form of pellets.

pelmet /'pelmɪt/ noun a decorative strip of something, e.g. wood or cloth, above a window, which hides the curtain fittings pelt /pelt/ noun 1. a skin of an animal with fur on it ○ The trappers sold the pelts at the trading post. 2. □ at full pelt going as fast as possible ○ He was running at full pelt down the street. ■ verb 1. □ to pelt someone with something to throw things at someone ○ The crowd pelted the speaker with rotten tomatoes. 2. to run very fast ○ I pelted after her to try to catch her up.

pelvic /'pelvɪk/ adj referring to the pelvis pelvis /'pelvɪs/ noun the group of bones and cartilage which forms a ring and connects the thigh bones to the spine (NOTE: The plural is pelvises.)

② pen /pen/ noun 1. an object for writing with, using ink ○ I've lost my red pen – can I borrow yours? ○ If you haven't got a pen you can always write in pencil. ♦ ballpoint pen

2. a fenced enclosure for animals such as sheep ○ They put the sheep in a pen overnight. ○ Somehow the goats managed to get out of their pen. ■ verb 1. to put animals such as sheep in a pen ○ The sheep were penned while waiting to be taken to the market. 2. □ to be penned in to be in a small space, closely surrounded by other things or people ○ She felt penned in, living in the same house as her husband's parents. 3. to write something with a pen ○ He penned a short letter to the local paper. (NOTE: penned – penned) penal /'pi:n(ə)l/ adj referring to punishment. Synonym punitive penal code /'pi:n(ə)l kəʊd/ noun a set of laws governing crime and its punishment penalise /'pi:nəlaɪz/, penalize verb to punish someone

③ penalty /'pen(ə)lti/ noun 1. a punishment ○ The maximum penalty for this offence is two years' imprisonment. ○ The coup failed and the leaders had to pay the penalty.

2. a punishment in sport, especially a kick at goal awarded to the opposite side in football ○ He was awarded a penalty kick. ○ They scored from a penalty. 3. a disadvantage ○ Being chased by photographers is one of the penalties of being rich and famous. (NOTE: The plural is penalties.)

③ penalty area /'pen(ə)lti ,eəriə/ noun (in football) the area in front of the goal where if a player breaks the rules the other team is given a free shot at the goal from a short distance away penance /'penəns/ noun punishment which someone accepts as a way of acknowledging a bad action

③ pence /pens/ plural of penny

penchant /'pənʃənt/ noun a special liking for something. Synonym predilection. Antonym antipathy

② pencil /'pensəl/ noun 1. an object for writing with, made of wood, with a strip of coloured material in the middle ○ I want a knife to sharpen my pencil with. 2. the substance in a pencil that marks the paper ○ Examination answers must be written in ink, not in pencil.

pencil in /'pensəl 'ɪn/ verb to make a possible arrangement for something expecting that it might have to be changed later ○ I'll pencil in the meeting for next Wednesday.

pencil sharpener /'pensəl ſə:pneɪ/ noun an instrument for sharpening pencils pendant /'pendənt/ noun a piece of jewellery which hangs from a chain round your neck pendent adj hanging down or hanging over something (formal)

pending /'pendɪŋ/ adj 1. which has not happened or been dealt with ○ A judgment is still pending in the fraud case. 2. which will happen or be dealt with soon ○ An official announcement is pending. ■ prep while waiting for something to happen (formal) ○ pending advice from our lawyers ○ He has been suspended on full pay, pending an inquiry.

pendulum /'pendjuləm/ noun 1. a weight on the end of a chain which swings from side to side, making a clock work ○ If you look in the clock case, you can see the pendulum swinging back and forth. 2. a trend from one extreme to another ○ A few years ago every household had two cars, now the pendulum has swung in the opposite direction and more people are using public transport.

penetrable /'penɪtrəb(ə)l/ adj which can be penetrated penetrate /'penɪtreɪt/ verb to go into or through something penetrating /'penɪtreɪtɪŋ/ adj deep and searching penetration /penɪ'treɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. the action of penetrating something ○ The tank's armour-plating resists penetration by machine-gun fire. ○ The leg is bruised but there is no penetration of the skin. ○ Our aim is complete penetration of the enemy's air defences. 2. the fact of being able to think deeply ○ It is a work of extraordinary penetration for such a young scholar.

penfriend /'penfrend/ noun someone, often in another country, whom you write to regularly without meeting him or her penguin /'pengwin/ noun a black and white bird found in the Antarctic, which swims well but cannot fly penicillin /'peni'si:lin/ noun a common antibiotic, made from a mould peninsula /pə'nɪnʃjulə/ noun a large piece of land which goes out into the sea peninsular /pə'nɪnʃjulə/ adj referring to a peninsula penis /'pi:nɪs/ noun the male organ used for passing urine and for sexual intercourse (NOTE: The plural is penises.)

penitence /'penɪt(ə)ns/ noun the fact of regretting something you have done. Synonym shame penitent /'penɪt(ə)nt/ adj being sorry for having done something wrong ○ If you are penitent, God will forgive you. Synonym repentant. Antonym unrepentant ■ noun a person who is sorry for having done something wrong ○ Penitents in white robes walked in procession to the cathedral.

penitentiary /,penɪ'tenʃəri/ noun US a prison (NOTE: The plural is penitentiaries.)

penknife /'pennəfɪ/ noun a small pocket knife which folds up (NOTE: The plural is penknives /'pennəvɪz/.)

pen name /'pen neɪm/ noun a name used by a writer which is not his or her own. Synonym pseudonym pennant /'penənt/ noun a long thin triangular flag penniless /'penɪləs/ adj with no money

① penny /'peni/ noun 1. the smallest British coin, one hundredth of a pound ○ It cost £4.99, so I paid with a five-pound note and got a penny change. ○ I came out without my purse and I haven't got a penny on me. (NOTE: The plural is pennies or pence.)

Pennies is used to refer to several coins, but pence refers to the price. In prices, pence is always written p and often said as /pi:/: This book only costs 60p: say 'sixty p' or 'sixty pence'. 2. □ the penny's dropped he's understood at last (informal) ○ It took ages for the penny to drop. □ to spend a penny to go to the toilet ○ Wait a moment, I want to spend a penny.

pen pal /'pen pæl/ noun US same as pen-friend (informal)

② pension /'penʃən/ noun money paid regularly, e.g. to someone who has retired from work, or to a widow ○ He has a good pension from his firm. ○ She finds a teacher's pension quite enough to live on. ■ verb □ to pension someone off to make someone stop working and live on a pension ○ They pensioned him off at the age of 55.

pensionable /'penʃənəb(ə)l/ adj referring to the right to have a pension □ pensionable age the age at which a pension begins to be paid

② pensioner /'penʃənə/ noun a person who gets a pension pensive /'pensɪv/ adj thoughtful pensively /'pensɪvli/ adv thoughtfully

pentagon /'pentəgən/ noun 1. a geometrical figure with five sides ○ He drew a pentagon on the blackboard. 2. □ the Pentagon the US Ministry of Defence ○ The Pentagon is considering sending more troops to the area.

pentathlon /pen'tæθlən/ noun an athletic competition in which competitors have to compete in five different sports penthouse /'penthaʊs/ noun a flat on the top floor of a high building pent-up /'pent ʌp/ adj held back by a barrier to have pent-up emotions to have strong emotions which are repressed penultimate /pə'nʌltɪmət/ adj next to last penurious /pə'njuərɪəs/ adj very poor (formal) penury /'penjʊrɪ/ noun 1. the fact of being extremely poor ○ He ended his days living in penury. ○ The job offered an escape from penury. 2. a great lack of something ○ The government is suffering from a penury of new ideas. (NOTE: no plural)

① people /'pi:p(ə)l/ noun 1. men, women or children taken as a group ○ There were at least twenty people waiting to see the doctor. ○ So many people wanted to see the film that there were queues every night. ○ A group of people from our office went to Paris by train. 2. the inhabitants of a country ○ The people of China are very hard-working. ○ Government by the people, for the people. ■ verb peopled with filled with inhabitants ○ The island was peopled with tribes from the mainland.

pep /'pep/ noun energy or liveliness (informal) ○ The dancers' performance had plenty of pep. ■ verb to pep someone up to make someone livelier and more energetic (informal) ○ You need a bit of brisk exercise to pep you up. ○ The whole team needs to be peppered up.

③ pepper /'pepə/ noun 1. a spice used in cooking, made from the whole seeds of a tropical climbing plant (black pepper) or from seeds with the outer layer removed (white pepper) ○ Add salt and pepper to taste. (NOTE: no plural in this meaning) 2. a hollow green, red or yellow fruit used as a vegetable ○ We had stuffed green peppers for lunch. (NOTE: The US term is bell pepper.)

■ verb to pepper someone or something with something to throw or shoot things at someone or something ○ They peppered the enemy with bullets. ○ The text is peppered with mistakes.

peppermill /'pepəmɪl/ noun a device which crushes dried pepper seeds

③ peppermint /'pepmɪnt/ noun 1. a herb which is grown to produce an oil used in sweets, drinks and toothpaste ○ I always use peppermint-flavoured toothpaste. 2. a sweet flavoured with peppermint ○ a bag of peppermints pepperpot /'pepəpɒt/ noun a little pot for holding pepper peppery /'pepəri/ adj 1. (of food) with a lot of pepper in it 2. very easily made angry ○ That was not the right thing to say to a peppery old naval officer like my father.

pep pill /'pep pil/ noun a drug used to give a feeling of being fit and energetic (informal dated) pep talk /'pep tɔ:k/ noun a talk designed to encourage people, e.g. to work hard or to win a match (informal)

① per /pɜ:/, pə/ prep 1. out of each twenty per thousand twenty out of every thousand

○ There are about six mistakes per thousand words. 2. for each ○ I can't cycle any faster than fifteen miles per hour. ○ Potatoes cost 10p per kilo. ○ We paid our secretaries £10 per hour.

per annum /pɜ: 'ænəm/ adv for each year per capita /pə 'kæpɪtə/ adj for each person ○ The per capita expenditure is rising every year.

③ perceive /pə'si:v/ verb 1. to notice something through the senses ○ The changes are so slight that they're almost impossible to perceive with the naked eye. ○ I perceived a worsening in his condition during the night. 2. to become aware of something ○ Some drugs are perceived as being a danger to health.

③ percentage /pə'sentɪdʒ/ noun a figure shown as a proportion of a hundred ○ A low percentage of the population voted. ○ What percentage of businesses are likely to be affected?

perceptible /pə'septɪb(ə)l/ adj which can be noticed by the senses, i.e. seen, heard, smelled, tasted or touched. Synonym noticeable. Antonym imperceptible

③ perception /pə'sepʃən/ noun the ability to notice or realise something perceptive /pə'septɪv/ adj showing that you understand something clearly. Synonym discerning. Antonym insensitive perch /pɜ:tʃ/ noun 1. a branch or ledge on which a bird can sit ○ The parrot flew down from his perch and landed on the back of my chair. (NOTE: The plural is perches.) 2. a type of small freshwater fish (NOTE: The plural is perch.) ■ verb 1. (of a bird) to sit ○ The parrot perched on a high branch. 2. (of a person or a building) to place someone or something high up ○ a castle perched high on the mountainside ○ She was sitting perched on a bar stool.

percolate /'pɜ:kəleɪt/ verb to filter through percolator /'pɜ:kəleɪtə/ noun a coffee pot where the water boils up and filters down through the ground coffee percussion /pə'kʌʃ(ə)n/ noun the percussion section, the percussion the section of an orchestra with instruments such as drums or cymbals that are played by hitting them with something such as a stick or hammer ○ You have just heard a piece with Rich

Nix on piano and Art Daley on percussion. ○ The work provides a lot of scope for the percussion section. ▶ brass, strings, wind peremptorily /pə'rempt(ə)rili/ adv in a peremptory way peremptory /pə'rempt(ə)ri/ adj expecting people to obey immediately (formal) perennial /pə'reniəl/ adj which continues from year to year ○ a perennial plant ○ It's a perennial question. ■ noun a plant which flowers every year without needing to be sown again ○ Most of the plants in this bed are perennials.

perennially /pə'reniəli/ adv always

② perfect adj /pə:fikt/ 1. which is good in every way ○ Your coat is a perfect fit. ○ Don't change anything – the room is perfect as it is. 2. completely suitable ○ She's the perfect secretary. ○ George would be perfect for the job of salesman. ○ I was in a perfect position to see what happened. 3. complete, total ○ I've never seen him before – he's a perfect stranger. ■ verb /pə'fekt/ to make something new and perfect ○ She perfected a process for speeding up the bottling system.

perfection /pə'fekʃən/ noun the state of being perfect □ to perfection perfectly ○ He timed his kick to perfection.

perfectionist /pə'fekʃənist/ noun a person who demands that everything has to be perfect

② perfectly /pə:fiktli/ adv very well perfidious /pə'fidɪəs/ adj not loyal (formal) Synonym disloyal perforate /pə:fəreɪt/ verb to make a hole in something, to pierce. Synonym puncture perforated /pə:fəreɪtɪd/ adj which has a hole or holes in it, especially with a line of small holes designed to make tearing easy perforation /,pə:ʃə'reɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. the action of making a hole in something 2. a small hole in something ○ the perforations on a sheet of stamps

② perform /pə:fɔ:m/ verb 1. to carry out an action ○ She performed a perfect dive. ○ It's the sort of task that can be performed by any computer. 2. to act in public ○ The group will perform at the arena next week. ○ The play will be performed in the village hall.

① performance /pə'fɔ:məns/ noun 1. the way in which someone or something works, e.g. how successful they are or how much they achieve ○ We're looking for ways to improve our performance. ○ After last night's miserable performance I don't think the team is likely to reach the semi-finals. 2. a public show ○ The next performance will start at 8 o'clock. ○ There are three performances a day during the summer.

③ performer /pə'fɔ:mə/ noun a person who gives a public show perfume /'pɜ:fju:m/ noun a liquid which has a nice smell and which is put on the skin perfumed /pɜ:fju:md/ adj which has a nice smell. Synonym scented perfunctorily /pə'fʌŋkt(ə)rili/ adv in a perfunctory way perfunctory /pə'fʌŋkt(ə)ri/ adj careless and very fast

① perhaps /pə'hæps/ adv possibly ○ Perhaps the train is late. ○ They're late – perhaps the snow's very deep. ○ Is it going to be fine? – Perhaps not, I can see clouds over there. Synonym maybe. Antonym definitely peril /'perɪl/ noun great danger. Antonym safety □ at your peril you risk everything if you do this ○ You disregard your doctor's advice at your peril. □ in peril facing a risk ○ The ship was on the rocks and the lives of the crew were in peril.

perilous /'perɪləs/ adj very dangerous perilously /'perɪləslɪ/ adv dangerously perimeter /pə'rɪmɪtə/ noun the outside edge of an enclosed area. Synonym boundary

① period /'pɪəriəd/ noun 1. a length of time

○ She swam under water for a short period. ○ The offer is open for a limited period only. ○ It was an unhappy period in her life.

2. the time during which a lesson is given in school ○ We have three periods of English on Thursdays. 3. US punctuation mark like a small dot, showing the end of a sentence or an abbreviation ○ When reading, you can take a breath at a period. (NOTE: The British term is full stop.) 4. meaning 'and that's all'

○ She doesn't like German food, period. (NOTE: also used in British English in this sense) 5. the loss of blood from a woman's womb which usually happens once a month

○ Some women experience abdominal pain during their periods. (NOTE: formally called menstruation)

periodic /,pɪəri'ɒdɪk/ adj repeated after a regular period of time periodical /,pɪəri'ɒdɪk(ə)l/ adj same as periodic ■ noun a magazine which appears regularly ○ He writes for several London periodicals.

periodically /,pɪəri'ɒdɪklɪ/ adv from time to time periodic table /,pɪərɪndɪk 'teɪb(ə)l/ noun a list of chemical elements arranged in order of their atomic numbers peripatetic /,perɪpə'tetɪk/ adj moving about from place to place. Synonym itinerant. Antonym settled peripatetic teacher /,perɪpə'tetɪk 'ti:tʃə/ noun a teacher who goes from school to school teaching a particular subject, rather than being based at one school peripheral /pə'rif(ə)rəl/ adj minor, not very important ○ The shop is peripheral to our main business. ○ Do all these peripheral activities take up too much of his time?

peripherals /pə'rif(ə)rəlz/ plural noun objects such as printers, which are attached to and controlled by a computer periphery /pə'rif(ə)ri/ noun an edge, not the centre. Synonym boundary periscope /'perɪskəp/ noun a long tube which allows someone in a submarine under water to look above the surface of the water perish /'perɪʃ/ verb 1. to die ○ The ship sank and twenty-five sailors perished. 2. to decay ○ The rubber has perished and the lid isn't airtight any more. 3. □ I'm perished I'm cold (informal) □ it's perishing in here it's very cold in here perishable /'perɪʃəb(ə)l/ adj which can go bad easily ○ Perishable food like pâté must be kept in a fridge.

perishables /'perɪʃəb(ə)lz/ plural noun perishable food perjure /'pɜ:dʒə/ verb □ to perjure yourself to tell lies in a court of law when you have sworn to tell the truth perjury /'pɜ:dʒəri/ noun a crime of telling lies in a court of law when you have sworn to tell the truth perk /pɜ:k/ noun something extra such as company cars or private health insurance given by a company to employees in addition to their salaries perk up /,pɜ:k 'ʌp/ verb to become more happy or more interested perm /pɜ:m/ noun 1. curls or a wave put into your hair artificially ○ She's had a perm and it's changed her appearance. 2. a combination of football teams on a football pools coupon ○ Selecting these games gives you twenty-four perms. ■ verb 1. to put a wave or curl into someone's hair ○ She's had her hair perm'd. 2. to choose several football teams in various combinations on a football pools coupon ○ He perm'd numbers 7, 10, 17, 23 and 28.

permanence /'pɜ:mənəns/ noun the state of being permanent

② permanent /'pɜ:mənənt/ adj lasting for ever, intended to last for ever ○ He has found a permanent job. ○ She is in permanent employment. ○ They are living with her parents temporarily – it's not a permanent arrangement.

permanently /'pɜ:mənəntli/ adv for ever; always permeable /'pɜ:miəb(ə)l/ adj which lets liquid pass through. Synonym porous permeate /'pɜ:miēt/ verb to move right through something permissible /pə'miſib(ə)l/ adj which can be allowed. Synonym allowable. Antonym unacceptable

② permission /pə'miſ(ə)n/ noun freedom which you are given to do something ○ You need permission from the boss to go into the storeroom. ○ He asked the manager's permission to take a day off. Synonym consent. Antonym embargo permissive /pə'miſiv/ adj allowing people a large amount of freedom in the way they behave, especially in sexual matters. Synonym tolerant

③ permit noun /pɜ:mit/ a paper which allows you to do something ○ You have to have a permit to sell ice cream from a van. ■ verb /pə'mit/ to allow something ○ This ticket permits three people to go into the exhibition. ○ Smoking is not permitted in underground stations. Synonym authorise. Antonym forbid (NOTE: permitting – permitted) permutation /,pɜ:mu'teɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the act of putting several things together in various combinations pernicious /pə'nɪʃəs/ adj 1. morally harmful 2. which may result in serious illness or death ○ She was diagnosed as having pernicious anaemia.

pernickety /pə'nɪkɪti/ adj tending to notice and criticise small details or faults which other people do not think are important (informal) perpendicular /,pɜ:pən'dɪkjʊlə/ adj 1. standing straight up, at right angles to a base ○ The y-axis is perpendicular to the x-axis. 2. a style of late medieval English church architecture, with tall pointed arches and large windows ○ There are many Perpendicular churches in East Anglia. ○ The nave is Norman and the chancel is Perpendicular. ■ noun a vertical line which stands at right angles to a base line ○ The Leaning Tower of Pisa is several degrees out of the perpendicular.

perpetrate /'pɜ:pɪtreɪt/ verb to commit a crime perpetrator /'pɜ:pɪtreɪtə/ noun a person who does something harmful or immoral, especially a person who commits a crime. Synonym culprit perpetual /pə'petʃuəl/ adj continuous, without any end. Antonym temporary perpetually /pə'petʃuəli/ adv always perpetuate /pə'petʃueɪt/ verb to make something continue perplex /pə'pleks/ verb to make someone confused perplexed /pə'plekst/ adj feeling confused. Synonym puzzled perplexing /pə'pleksɪŋ/ adj which perplexes. Synonym puzzling perplexity /pə'pleksiti/ noun a feeling of being confused or failing to understand something. Antonym comprehension per se /pə:z/ 'sei/ adv in itself (formal) persecute /'pɜ:sɪkju:t/ verb to treat someone badly on political or religious beliefs or because of their race persecution /,pɜ:sɪ'kju:tʃ(ə)n/ noun the act or practice of persecuting someone persecutor /'pɜ:sɪkju:tə/ noun a person who persecutes perseverance /,pɜ:sɪ'vɪərəns/ noun the act of persevering. Synonym persistence persevere /,pɜ:sɪ'vɪə/ verb synonym persist. antonym give up □ to persevere with or in something to continue doing something even if it is difficult □ If you persevere with your exercises you should lose weight.

persist /pə'sist/ verb to continue to exist □ to persist in doing something to continue doing something, even if you should not □ He will persist in singing while he works although we've told him many times to stop. □ She persists in refusing to see a doctor.

persistence /pə'sistəns/ noun a refusal to stop doing something

③ persistent /pə'sistənt/ adj continuing to do something, even though people want you to stop persistently /pə'sistəntli/ adv in a persistent way

① person /'pɜ:s(ə)n/ noun 1. a man or woman □ The police say a person or persons entered the house by the window. □ His father's a very interesting person. □ in person used to emphasise that someone is physically present □ Several celebrities were at the first night in person. 2. (in grammar) one of three forms of verb or pronoun □ first person singular I □ first person plural we □ second person singular, second person plural you persona /pə'səʊnə/ noun a person's character as seen by other people personable /'pɜ:s(ə)nəb(ə)l/ adj attractive, good-looking or having a pleasant character. Synonym amiable. Antonym disagreeable personage /'pɜ:s(ə)nɪdʒ/ noun an important person (formal)

① personal /'pɜ:s(ə)n(ə)l/ adj 1. belonging or referring to a particular person or people □ They lost all their personal property in the fire. 2. referring to someone's private life in an offensive way □ The attacks on the minister became increasingly personal.

personal best /,pɜ:s(ə)n(ə)l 'best/ noun the best that a person has achieved in a particular activity, e.g. the fastest they have run, though not necessarily a record for that activity personal computer /,pɜ:s(ə)n(ə)l kəm'pujtə/ noun a small computer used by a person at home. Abbr PC

personalise /'pɜ:s(ə)nəlaɪz/, personalize verb 1. to mark something to show that it belongs to a particular person □ Can you think of a way of personalising the gift? □ personalised briefcase a small case for carrying documents, which has the name of the owner on it 2. to refer to someone's personal life □ The article in the paper personalised the whole affair.

③ personality /,pɜ:sə'nælti/ noun 1. character □ He has a strange personality. □ she's got lots of personality she's a lively and interesting person. ♀ split 2. a famous person, especially a TV or radio star □ The new supermarket is going to be opened by a famous sporting personality.

personality cult /,pɜ:sə'nælti kəlt/ noun a way of making someone such as a political leader seem to be extremely important, almost as if they were a god

② personally /'pɜ:s(ə)n(ə)li/ adv 1. from your own point of view □ Personally, I think you're making a mistake. 2. in person □ He is sorry that he can't be here to accept the prize personally. 3. □ don't take it personally don't think it was meant to criticise you

personal organiser /,pɜ:s(ə)n(ə)l 'ɔ:ɡənائزəl/ noun a little computer or book in which you enter information which is important to you such as addresses or details of meetings, especially connected with your work personal pronoun /,pɜ:s(ə)n(ə)l 'prəʊnaʊn/ noun (in grammar) a pronoun which refers to a person, such as 'I', 'he', 'she', 'him', 'her', etc.

③ personal stereo /,pɜ:s(ə)n(ə)l 'stərɪəʊ/ noun a small stereo which you can carry around personal trainer /,pɜ:s(ə)n(ə)l 'treɪnə/ noun a person whose job is to help someone become fit, e.g. by teaching them a set of physical exercises and advising them what to eat persona non grata /pə'səʊnə nɒn 'grætə/ noun a foreign person, especially a diplomat, who is not acceptable to a government personification /pə'səʊnɪfɪ'keɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. a good example of a quality in a person □ For many people she was the personification of youthful innocence. □ Little children looked on him as the personification of wickedness. 2. (in a work of art) representing something such as an idea or belief in the form of a person □ the poet's personification of winter as an old man covered in snow and ice personify /pə'spnifai/ verb 1. to be a good example of something ○ He seemed to personify all that was best in American life. 2. to use a character in art to represent a quality ○ The artist personified the wind as a fat red-faced man, blowing hard.

③ personnel /pɜ:sə'nel/ noun staff, the people employed by a company

③ perspective /pɜ:spektɪv/ noun 1. (in art) a way of drawing objects or scenes, so that they appear to have depth or distance ○ He's got the perspective wrong – that's why the picture looks so odd. 2. a way of looking at something ○ A French politician's perspective on the problem will be completely different from mine. ○ She was looking at the situation from the perspective of a parent with two young children. □ to put things in perspective to show things in a balanced way ○ You must put the sales figures in perspective – they look bad, but they're much better than last year.

perspiration /pɜ:spə'reɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the drops of liquid which come to the surface of your skin when you are hot. Synonym sweat perspire /pɜ:spɪər/ verb to cause small drops of liquid to come to the surface of your skin because you are feeling hot. Synonym sweat

② persuade /pɜ:sweɪd/ verb to get someone to do what you want by explaining or asking ○ She managed to persuade the bank manager to give her a loan. ○ After ten hours of discussion, they persuaded him to leave.

③ persuasion /pɜ:sweɪz(ə)n/ noun 1. the act of persuading ○ It took a lot of persuasion on his part to get her to change her mind. ○ With a bit of gentle persuasion, he agreed to be chairman. 2. a firm, usually religious, belief ○ People of that persuasion refuse to do military service. ○ People of varying political persuasions have signed the petition.

persuasive /pɜ:sweɪsɪv/ adj which persuades. Synonym convincing. Antonym unconvincing persuasively /pɜ:sweɪsɪvlɪ/ adv in a persuasive way pert /pɜ:t/ adj 1. (of a young woman) too lively and confident 2. small with an attractive shape ○ a pert nose pertain /pə'teɪn/ verb □ to pertain to to refer to, to be connected with (formal) ○ If you have any information pertaining to this case, you are duty bound to reveal it.

pertinent /pɜ:tɪnənt/ adj which is relevant. Synonym relevant. Antonym irrelevant pertinently /pɜ:tɪnəntli/ adv in a pertinent way perturb /pɜ:tɜ:b/ verb to make someone feel worried or frightened perturbed /pə'tɜ:bd/ adj made to feel worried or frightened. Antonym composed perusal /pɜ:ru:z(ə)l/ noun an act of reading something carefully. Synonym examination peruse /pɜ:ru:z/ verb to read something carefully

Peruvian /pə'rʊ:vɪən/ adj referring to Peru

○ They visited ancient temples in the Peruvian mountains. ■ noun a person from Peru ○ The Peruvians are sending a delegation to the conference.

pervade /pə'veɪd/ verb to spread everywhere. Synonym permeate pervasive /pə'veɪsɪv/ adj found or seen everywhere. Synonym extensive. Antonym localised perversion /pə'vɜ:ʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. behaviour that is considered not natural and possibly immoral ○ sexual perversion 2. the act of changing something to make it bad or wrong ○ Her story is a perversion of the truth.

perversity /pə'vɜ:stɪtɪ/ noun the quality of being perverse. Synonym obstinacy pervert noun /pɜ:vɜ:t/ a person who commits sexual acts which are thought to be not natural or normal ○ a sexual pervert ■ verb /pɜ:vɜ:t/ 1. to change someone or something to make them evil ○ Does pornography pervert the minds of people who read or watch it? 2. □ to attempt to pervert the course of justice to try to influence the result of a trial, e.g. by giving wrong evidence or threatening the people who are involved ○ The officers could be charged with attempting to pervert the course of justice.

perverted /pɜ:vɜ:tɪd/ adj which has been made bad or wrong pessimism /'pesɪmɪz(ə)m/ noun the state of believing that only bad things will happen. Antonym optimism pessimist /'pesɪmɪst/ noun a person who thinks only bad things will happen. Synonym cynic. Antonym optimist pessimistic /'pesɪ'mɪstɪk/ adj believing that only bad things will happen. Synonym negative. Antonym optimistic pest /pest/ noun 1. a plant, animal or insect which causes problems ○ Many farmers look on rabbits as a pest. 2. a person who annoys ○ That little boy is an absolute pest – he won't stop whistling.

pester /'pestə/ verb to keep annoying someone or asking them for something □ to pester someone into doing something to keep asking or telling someone to do something until they do what you want ○ She pestered him into getting his hair cut.

pesticide /'pestɪsaɪd/ noun a poison to kill pests pestilence /'pestɪləns/ noun a very serious disease (archaic) pestilential /,pestɪ'lensʃəl/ adj very unpleasant pestle /'pest(ə)l/ noun a heavy tool with a smooth round head, which is used for crushing things in a special bowl called a mortar pet /pet/ noun an animal kept in the home to give pleasure ○ The family has several pets – two cats, a dog and a hamster. ■ adj 1. favourite ○ The weather is his pet topic of conversation. 2. (of a wild animal) which is kept as a pet ○ You can't keep a pet crocodile in the bath! ■ verb to hold and kiss someone in a sexual way ○ Couples were petting in the back seats of the cinema.

petal /'petl/ noun the colourful part of a flower peter out /,pɪ:tər 'aut/ verb to come to an end, to gradually stop petite /pə'ti:t/ adj (of a woman) small and delicate. Antonym big petition /pə'tɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. an official request, often signed by many people ○ She wanted me to sign a petition against the building of the new road. ○ We went to the town hall to hand the petition to the mayor. 2. a legal request ○ a divorce petition ■ verb to ask someone for something officially, to make an official request for something ○ They petitioned the town council for a new library. ○ He petitioned the government to provide a special pension. ○ She is petitioning for divorce. Synonym appeal petitioner /pə'tɪʃ(ə)nər/ noun a person who presents a petition. Synonym lobbyist pet name /pet 'neɪm/ noun a special name given to someone you like or love petrified /'petrifaið/ adj 1. changed to stone ○ You can find petrified trees at the bottom of the gorge. 2. unable to move because you are afraid ○ I thought he was going to shoot me, I was absolutely petrified.

petrify /'petrifai/ verb 1. to change something to stone ○ a petrifying spring 2. to make someone so afraid that he or she cannot move ○ The idea of appearing on stage absolutely petrifies me.

petrochemical /,petrəʊ'kemɪk(ə)l/ noun a chemical which comes from petroleum or natural gas ○ Petrochemicals have many industrial uses. ■ adj referring to production from petroleum or natural gas ○ a petrochemical plant

③ petrol /'petrəl/ noun a liquid used as a fuel for engines ○ This car doesn't use very much petrol. ○ The bus ran out of petrol on the motorway. ○ Petrol prices are lower at supermarkets. (NOTE: no plural: some petrol, a litre of petrol. The US term is gas or gasoline.)

petrol bomb /'petrəl bɒm/ noun a bomb made of a glass jar containing petrol, with a fuse which is lit just before the bomb is thrown ■ verb to attack or destroy something with a petrol bomb ○ The police station was petrol bombed last night.

petroleum /pə'traʊliəm/ noun raw mineral oil which comes from under the earth or sea

③ petrol station /'petrəl ,steɪʃ(ə)n/ noun a place where you can buy petrol for your car. Synonym filling station (NOTE: The US term is gas station.)

petticoat /'petɪkəʊt/ noun same as slip (dated) pettiness /'petɪnəs/ noun 1. the quality of treating unimportant things as if they are important 2. the fact of having a narrow point of view petty /'peti/ adj 1. unimportant ○ I haven't time to deal with petty points of detail. 2. with a narrow point of view ○ It was very petty of her to ask for her money back.

petty cash /,peti 'kæʃ/ noun small amounts of money in the form of coins or notes, in an office petulance /'petjuləns/ noun behaviour which shows that you are annoyed. Antonym affability petulant /'petjulənt/ adj feeling annoyed. Synonym sulky. Antonym affable pew /pjʊ:/ noun a long wooden seat in a church □ take a pew please sit down (informal) pH /pi: 'eɪtʃ/ noun a measure of the concentration of hydrogen ions in a solution, which shows how acid or alkaline it is phallic /'fælɪk/ adj shaped like a penis phallic symbol /,fælɪk 'sɪmb(ə)l/ noun an object which looks like a penis, and is intended to represent male sex phallus /'fæləs/ noun a penis (NOTE: The plural is phalluses.)

phantom /'fæntəm/ noun an imaginary creature thought to be the spirit of a dead person ○ Phantoms were supposed to have been seen in the churchyard at dead of night. Synonym ghost ■ adj 1. not real but imaginary, especially in a way which is frightening ○ She felt a phantom presence standing beside her. 2. who secretly does annoying or funny things (humorous) ○ The phantom eater of my biscuits has been at it again.

pharmaceutical /,fa:mə'sju:tɪk(ə)l/ adj referring to medicines pharmacist /fa:mə'sɪst/ noun a person who prepares and sells medicines. Also called chemist pharmacological /fə:məkə'lɒdʒɪk(ə)l/ adj referring to pharmacology pharmacologist /fə:mə'kɒlədʒɪst/ noun a person who studies pharmacology pharmacology /fə:mə'kɒlədʒɪ/ noun the study of drugs and medicines pharmacy /fə:məsɪ/ noun 1. a shop which makes and sells medicines ○ He runs the pharmacy in the High Street. Also called chemist's (NOTE: The plural is pharmacies.) 2. the study of medicines ○ She's studying pharmacy. ○ He has a diploma in pharmacy. (NOTE: no plural in this meaning) pharynx /'færɪŋks/ noun a passage at the back of the nose leading to the oesophagus (NOTE: The plural is pharynxes.)

② phase /feɪz/ noun a stage in the development of something ○ The project is now in its final phase. ○ It's a phase she's going through and hopefully she will grow out of it. ○ I'm sure dyeing his hair green is just a phase. ■ verb □ to phase something in, to phase something out to introduce or to remove something gradually ○ The new telephone system will be phased in over the next two months.

PhD /pi: eɪts 'di:/ noun an advanced degree from a university in an arts subject. Full form Doctor of Philosophy (NOTE: written after the name: Alec Smart PhD) peasant /'fez(ə)nt/ noun a large brightly coloured bird with a long tail, shot for sport and food phenomenal /fə'nɒmɪn(ə)l/ adj surprising phenomenally /fə'nɒmɪn(ə)li/ adv surprisingly

③ phenomenon /fə'nɒmɪnən/ noun something very surprising or unusual which happens and which people cannot explain □ natural phenomenon, phenomenon of nature a strange or unusual thing which happens naturally ○ Eruptions of volcanoes are natural phenomena.

phew /fju:/ interj showing surprise or showing pleasure that you have avoided something unpleasant philanthropic /,filənθ'ɒrɒpɪk/, philanthropical /,filənθ'ɒrɒpɪk(ə)l/ noun showing a caring attitude to human beings, especially by giving money to charity philanthropist /fɪ'lænθrəpɪst/ noun a person who does good things to help people philanthropy /fɪ'lænθrəpɪ/ noun a love of other people in general, shown especially by giving money to charity philately /fɪ'læt(ə)li/ noun the activity of stamp collecting -phile /faɪl/ suffix who likes philharmonic /,fila:'mɒnɪk/ adj liking music (NOTE: used mainly in the names of things such as orchestras and concert halls) philistine /'filistain/ adj not sympathetic to the arts ○ The concert of medieval church music was wasted on a philistine audience. ■ noun a person who is not sympathetic to the arts ○ He thinks people who don't appreciate modern jazz are simply philistines. Synonym barbarian philological /,filə'lɒdʒɪk(ə)l/ adj referring to philology philologist /fɪ'lɒlədʒɪst/ noun an expert in philology philology /fɪ'lɒlədʒɪ/ noun the study of language or of the history of languages philosopher /fɪ'lɒsəfə/ noun a person who studies the meaning of human existence; a person who teaches philosophy philosophical /,filə'sɒfɪk(ə)l/ adj 1. carefully calm in the face of problems ○ to take a philosophical attitude ○ It's best to be philosophical about it and not get too upset. 2. referring to philosophy ○ She was involved in a philosophical argument.

philosophically /,filə'sɒfɪkli/ adv calmly

③ philosophy /fɪ'lɒsəfi/ noun 1. the study of the meaning of human existence ○ He's studying philosophy. 2. a general way of thinking ○ My philosophy is that you should treat people as you would want them to treat you.

phlegm /flem/ noun 1. an unpleasant thick liquid substance which you get in the nose and throat when you have a cold ○ She sneezes a lot and coughs up phlegm from the throat. ○ The cough mixture should loosen the phlegm on your chest. 2. calm behaviour ○ He responded to the latest disaster with traditional British phlegm.

phlegmatic /fleg'mætɪk/ adj calm, not flustered. Synonym calm

-phobe /fəʊb/ suffix who does not like □ xenophobe a person who dislikes foreigners phobia /fəʊbiə/ noun extreme fear of a particular thing phoenix /'fi:nɪks/ noun a mythical bird, which is said to die in a fire and reappear from its ashes

① phone /fəʊn/ noun a telephone ○ If someone rings, can you answer the phone for me? ○ She lifted the phone and called the ambulance. □ by phone using the telephone ○ to place an order by phone ■ verb to speak to someone using a telephone ○ Your wife phoned when you were out. ○ Can you phone me at ten o'clock tomorrow evening? ○ I need to phone our office in New York. Synonym call □ to phone for something to make a phone call to ask for something ○ He phoned for a taxi. □ to phone about something to make a phone call to speak about something ○ He phoned about the message he had received.

③ phone book /'fəʊn bʊk/ noun a book which gives the names of people and businesses in a town in alphabetical order, with their addresses and phone numbers

③ phone booth /'fəʊn 'bu:θ/, phone box /'fəʊn bɒks/ noun a small glass shelter in a public place, containing a public telephone

③ phone call /'fəʊn kɔ:l/ noun a telephone call, speaking to someone by telephone

③ phonecard /'fəʊnka:d/ noun a plastic card which you use to pay for calls on a public telephone phone-in /'fəʊn in/ noun a radio show, where members of the public telephone a speaker to ask questions or put their points of view (NOTE: The plural is phone-ins.)

phoneme /'fəʊni:m/ noun a single speech sound that makes a word different from other words

③ phone number /'fəʊn ˌnʌmbə/ noun the number of one particular phone phonetic /fə'netɪk/ adj referring to spoken sounds phonetic alphabet /fə'netɪk 'ælfəbet/ noun a special series of characters which show phonemes phonetics /fə'netɪks/ noun 1. the study of the sounds of a language ○ Every linguist has to take a course in basic phonetics. 2. written signs which show how words are pronounced ○ Each word is followed by its phonetics which show you how the word should be pronounced.

phoney /'fəuni/ adj not real, not what it seems to be ○ He gave a phoney address in Paris. ○ She made a lot of phoney claims in her story in the newspaper. ■ noun a person who is not what he or she seems to be ○ He's just an old phoney – he doesn't have any experience of TV reporting at all.

phony /'fəuni/ □ phoney

phosphate /'fɒsfet/ noun the salt of phosphoric acid, which is an essential plant food formed naturally by the effects of the weather on rocks, and produced artificially to make a substance which encourages plants to grow phosphorescence /'fɒsfə'res(ə)ns/ noun the ability to shine in the dark without giving out heat phosphorescent /'fɒsfə'res(ə)nt/ adj which shines in the dark without giving out heat phosphorus /'fɒsf(ə)rəs/ noun a poisonous yellow element, which is essential to biological life, being present in bones and nerve tissue; it also burns easily

② photo /'fəʊtəʊ/ noun a photograph, a picture taken with a camera ○ Here's a photo of the village in the snow. ○ I've brought

some holiday photos to show you. (NOTE: The plural is photos.)

③ photocopier /'fəʊtəʊkɒpiə/ noun a machine which makes photocopies

③ photocopy /'fəʊtəʊkɒpi/ noun a copy of a document made by photographing it ○ She made six photocopies of the contract. ■ verb to copy something and make a print of it ○ Can you photocopy this letter, please?

photo-finish /,fəʊtəʊ 'fɪnɪʃ/ noun a result of a horse race where two horses finish close together, and a photograph is taken to see which was the winner photogenic /,fəʊtəʊ'dʒenɪk/ adj who looks well in photographs

② photograph /'fəʊtəgræf/ noun a picture taken with a camera ○ I've found an old black and white photograph of my parents' wedding. ○ She's trying to take a photograph of the cat. ○ He kept her photograph in his wallet. ○ You'll need two passport photographs to get your visa. ■ verb to take a picture with a camera ○ She was photographing the flowers in the public gardens. Synonym

photo

photographer /fə'tɒgræfə/ noun a person who takes photographs, especially as their job photographic /,fəʊtə'græfɪk/ adj referring to photography ○ photographic paper ○ All your photographic kit is still in the back of my car.

photographic memory /,fəʊtəgræfɪk 'mem(ə)rɪ/ noun the ability to remember things in exact detail, as if you were still seeing them

③ photography /fə'tɒgræfi/ noun the practice of taking pictures on sensitive film with a camera

photo opportunity /'fəʊtəʊ əpə-tju:nɪti/ noun an arranged situation where a famous person can be filmed or photographed by journalists

phrasal verb /'freɪz(ə)l 'vɜ:b/ noun a type of verb which has two or three parts, usually a verb and an adverb or preposition, which together have a meaning different from that of the main verb, such as 'dwell on', 'lift off' and 'put up with'

① phrase /freɪz/ noun 1. a short sentence or group of words ○ Try to translate the whole phrase, not just one word at a time. ○ I'm trying to remember a phrase from 'Hamlet'. □ to coin a phrase to say something which everyone says ○ It's a case of 'the pot calling the kettle black', to coin a phrase. 2. a group of notes in a piece of music ○ Do you recognise that little phrase from Mozart's 'The Magic Flute'? ■ verb to express something in words ○ I am trying to phrase my letter as politely as I can. Synonym express phrase book /'freɪz bʊk/ noun a book of translations of common expressions. Synonym glossary phraseology /,freɪzɪ'ɒlədʒɪ/ noun a way of expressing something in words by choosing words and phrases carefully phut /fʌt/ adv □ to go phut to stop working (informal) ○ Suddenly the television went phut and the screen went blank.

① physical /'fɪzɪk(ə)l/ adj 1. referring to physics or the laws of physics ○ A lump of lead can't float – it's a physical impossibility. 2. referring to the human body ○ The illness is mental rather than physical. ○ He has a strong physical attraction for her. Antonym spiritual physical education /,fɪzɪk(ə)l ,edʒʊ'keɪʃ(ə)n/ noun physical exercise taught as part of the school curriculum. Abbr PE

physical exercise /,fɪzɪk(ə)l ,eksə'saɪz/ noun exercise of the body

③ physically /'fɪzɪklɪ/ adv 1. referring to the body ○ She is physically handicapped, but manages to look after herself. ○ I find him physically very attractive. 2. referring to the laws of nature ○ It is physically impossible to get a piano into that little car.

physical science /,fɪzɪk(ə)l 'saɪəns/ noun a science that deals with subjects such as physics or chemistry, rather than with the science of living creatures physician /fɪ'zɪʃ(ə)n/ noun US a doctor physicist /'fɪzɪsɪst/ noun a person who studies physics

③ physics /'fɪzɪks/ noun the study of things such as heat, light and sound and the way in which they affect objects ○ She teaches physics at the local college. ○ It's a law of physics that things fall down to the ground and not up into the sky.

physio /'fɪzɪəʊ/ noun same as physiotherapist (informal) physiological /,fɪzɪə'lɒdʒɪk(ə)l/ adj referring to physiology physiologist /,fɪzɪ'ɒlədʒɪst/ noun a person who studies physiology physiology /,fɪzɪ'ɒlədʒɪ/ noun the study of the way in which living things work physiotherapist /,fɪzɪəʊ'θerəpɪst/ noun a trained expert who gives physiotherapy. Also called physio physiotherapy /,fɪzɪəʊ'θerəpɪ/ noun a treatment for problems with joints, muscles and nerves, e.g. by exercise, massage or heat treatment physique /fɪ'zi:k/ noun the shape of a person's body, especially the muscles. Synonym build pi /paɪ/ noun a Greek letter used in mathematics to indicate the quantity 3.14159. Symbol π

③ pianist /'pi:ənist/ noun a person who plays the piano, especially as their job

③ piano /pi'ænəʊ/ noun a large musical instrument with black and white keys which you press to make music ○ She's taking piano lessons. ○ She played the piano while her brother sang.

piazza /pi'ætsə/ noun a large open square pic /pɪk/ noun same as photograph (informal) (NOTE: The plural is pics or sometimes pix.)

piccalilli /,pɪk'ə'lili/ noun a spicy yellow sauce containing vegetables, such as cauliflower and onions piccolo /'pɪkələʊ/ noun a small wind instrument, like a little flute (NOTE: The plural is piccolos.)

piccy noun same as photograph (informal)

① pick /pɪk/ noun 1. something which you choose □ take your pick choose which one you want ○ We've got green, red and blue balloons – just take your pick! 2. a large heavy tool with a curved metal head with a sharp end that you lift up and bring down like an axe ○ They started breaking up the concrete path with picks and shovels. Also called pickaxe ■ verb 1. to choose something ○ The captain picks the football team. ○ She was picked to play the part of Hamlet's mother. ○ The Association has picked Paris for its next meeting. 2. to take fruit or flowers from plants ○ They've picked all the strawberries. ○ Don't pick the flowers in the public gardens. 3. to take away small pieces of something ○ She picked the bits of grass off her skirt. □ to pick your nose to clean the inside of your nose with your fingers ○ The TV showed him picking his nose while listening to the speech. □ to pick your teeth to poke between your teeth to remove little bits of food ○ He was picking his teeth with a match. □ to pick at your food to eat little bits as if you are not hungry ○ She's lost her appetite – she just picks at her food. 4. □ to pick someone's brains to ask someone for advice or information □ to pick someone's pocket to take something from someone's pocket without them noticing ○ I lost my purse – someone picked my pocket on the train! □ to pick a lock to open a lock with a piece of wire ○ He picked the lock of the car and drove off before I could stop him.

pickaxe /'pɪkəks/ noun a pick, a large heavy tool with a curved metal head with a sharp end that you lift up and bring down like an axe (NOTE: The US spelling is pickax.)

picker /'pɪkə/ noun a person whose job is to pick crops such as fruit or flowers picket /'pɪkɪt/ noun 1. a worker who refuses to go into work and stands at the gate of a factory to try to persuade other workers to not go to work, because of a disagreement with their employers ○ The pickets at the main gate tried to stop lorries from entering. 2. a group of pickets ○ They organised a picket of the factory. 3. a person who stands outside a place to protest against what is going on inside ○ Pickets stood outside the laboratory. 4. a pointed piece of wood ○ They put a picket fence round the field. ■ verb □ to picket a factory to put pickets at the gate of a factory to try to prevent workers from going to work ○ Groups of strikers picketed the factory.

picketing /'pikətɪŋ/ noun the action of putting people at the entrance of a factory to try to prevent workers going to work picket line /'pikɪt laɪn/ noun a line of pickets pickings /'pɪkɪŋz/ plural noun things left behind which people can pick up pickle /'pɪk(ə)l/ noun □ pickle, pickles a cold sauce consisting of small pieces of vegetables preserved in vinegar ○ a cheese and pickle sandwich ○ Do you want pickles with your meat pie? ■ verb to preserve vegetables in vinegar ○ She bought some small onions for pickling.

pick-me-up /'pɪk mi: ʌp/ noun something such as medicine or alcohol which you take to make you feel less tired (informal)

① pick on /'pɪk ɒn/ verb to choose someone to attack or criticise

① pick out /'pɪk 'aʊt/ verb to choose something or someone

③ pickpocket /'pɪkpɒkɪt/ noun a person who steals things from people's pockets. Synonym thief

① pick up /'pɪk 'ʌp/ verb 1. to lift something up which is lying on the surface of something ○ She dropped her handkerchief and he picked it up. ○ He bent down to pick up a pound coin which he saw on the pavement. ○ I picked up some holiday brochures at the travel agent's. 2. to learn something easily without being taught ○ She never took any piano lessons, she just picked it up. ○ He picked up some German when he was working in Germany. 3. to give someone a lift in a vehicle ○ The car will pick you up from the hotel. ○ Can you send a taxi to pick us up at seven o'clock? 4. to meet someone by chance and start a relationship with them ○ She's a girl he picked up in a bar. 5. to arrest someone ○ He was picked up by the police at the airport. 6. to improve, to get better ○ She's been in bed for weeks, but is beginning to pick up. ○ Business is picking up after the Christmas holiday. 7. □ to pick up speed to go faster ○ The truck began to pick up speed as it went down the hill.

① pick-up /'pɪk ʌp/ noun 1. a light van with an open back ○ They loaded all their gear into the back of a pick-up. 2. the act of collecting someone or something ○ The customer pick-up point is behind the store. ○ I've got several pick-ups to do before I can go home. 3. a person who has been picked up ○ She wasn't his regular girlfriend – probably just a pick-up.

picky /'pɪki/ adj hard to please

③ picnic /'pɪknɪk/ noun a meal eaten in the open air (informal) ○ If it's fine, let's go for a picnic. ○ They stopped by a wood, and had a picnic lunch. ■ verb to eat a picnic ○ People were picnicking on the bank of the river. (NOTE: picnicking – picnicked) picnicker /'pɪknɪkə/ noun a person who goes on a picnic pictorial /'pɪktɔ:rɪəl/ adj referring to pictures. Synonym graphic

① picture /'pɪktʃə/ noun 1. an image of someone or something, e.g. made by drawing, painting or taking a photograph ○ She drew a picture of the house. ○ The book has pages of pictures of wild animals. ○ She cut out the picture of the President from the magazine. 2. □ to put someone in the picture to give someone all the information about a problem (informal) ○ Let me put you in the picture. □ to get the picture to understand the problem ○ I get the picture – you want me to arrange for him to be disposed of. ■ verb to imagine something ○ It takes quite an effort to picture her in a bikini.

picture book /'pɪktʃə bʊk/ noun a book with mainly pictures and not much writing picture messaging /'pɪktʃə ,mesɪdʒɪŋ/ noun the use of a mobile phone to send images to another mobile phone or computer pictures /'pɪktʃəz/ plural noun same as cinema (dated) picturesque /,pɪktʃə'resk/ adj (of places) attractive, like in a picture pidgin /'pɪdʒɪn/ noun a language made from elements of several languages, used as a means of communication pidgin English noun a type of English used in the Pacific and Far East

② pie /paɪ/ noun meat or fruit cooked in a pastry case ○ For pudding, there's apple pie and ice cream. ○ If we're going on a picnic, I'll buy a big pork pie. □ to eat humble pie to say you are sorry for having made a mistake (informal) □ pie in the sky an imaginary perfect situation which you can never reach piebald /'paɪbɔ:l/ adj (of a horse) with areas of black and white colour on the skin ■ noun a horse of this type ○ He rode a piebald.

① piece /pi:s/ noun 1. a bit of something or one of a number of similar things ○ Would you like another piece of cake? ○ I need two pieces of black cloth. 2. □ to be a piece of cake to be very easy (informal) ○ That test was simple – a piece of cake! 3. a work of music ○ I will now play a piece by Beethoven. 4. one of the objects used in chess, but not usually a pawn ○ She's already lost three pieces, and I can't see how she can win. (NOTE: Piece is often used to show one item of something which has no plural: equipment: a piece of equipment; stone: a piece of stone; cheese: a piece of cheese; news: a piece of news; advice: a piece of advice.) ■ verb □ to piece together to put things together to form a whole ○ The police are trying to piece together the events which took place during the evening of the murder. piecemeal /'pi:sme:l/ adj, adv separately, done bit by bit ○ The work was carried out on a piecemeal basis. ○ They had bought all sorts of paintings piecemeal.

pieces /'pi:szɪz/ plural noun broken bits of something

piecework /'pi:swɜ:k/ noun a system by which you are paid for the amount of work done and not by the hour pie-chart /paɪ tʃɑ:t/ noun a diagram shaped like a circle with pieces cut out showing how something is divided up pied-à-terre /pɪ'eɪ da:t'reə/ noun a small flat, used by someone as a temporary place to live

③ pier /pɪə/ noun 1. a structure built from the land out into the sea, often with entertainments on it ○ If you go to Brighton, you must go on the pier. ○ We went for a stroll along the pier. ○ He spent his holiday fishing from the end of the pier. 2. one of the tall strong structures holding up a bridge ○ The boat collided with one of the piers of the railway bridge. (NOTE: Do not confuse with peer.) pierce /piəs/ verb to make a hole in something piercing /'piəsɪŋ/ adj 1. (of a sound) unpleasantly high and loud ○ They suddenly heard a piercing cry. ○ He let out a piercing yell. 2. very severe ○ You need to shelter from the piercing east wind. ○ They sat huddled together for protection against the piercing cold. 3. seeming to look through someone or something ○ He looked at her with his piercing blue eyes.

piety /'paɪəti/ noun having a great respect for religion and showing this in your behaviour

② pig /pɪg/ noun a pink or black farm animal with short legs which gives meat (NOTE: Fresh meat from a pig is called pork. Bacon, gammon and ham are types of smoked or cured meat from a pig.)

③ pigeon /'pidʒən/ noun a fat grey bird which is common in towns (informal) pigeonhole /'pidʒənhəʊl/ noun one of a series of small square spaces in shelves, used to put away things such as papers or letters ○

I looked in my pigeonhole to see if there were any messages for me. ■ verb 1. to file letters or papers, often as the best way to forget about them 2. to say that someone or something belongs to a particular group or class ○ As an artist he is not easy to pigeonhole.

pigeon-toed /,pidʒ(ə)n 'təud/ adj walking with the toes turning in piggyback /'pigibæk/ noun carrying someone on your back with his arms round your neck piggybank /'pigbæŋk/ noun a child's money box in the shape of a pig pigheaded /'pig'hedɪd/ adj determined to do things in a particular way, refusing to change your mind piglet /'piglət/ noun a little pig pigment /'pɪgmənt/ noun a substance which colours pigmentation /,pɪgmen'teɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the colouring of the skin pigmy /'pɪgmi/ noun another spelling of pygmy

pigsty /'pɪgstɪ/ noun 1. a little building where a pig is kept. Also called sty (NOTE: The plural is pigsties. The US term is pigpen.) 2. an untidy place (NOTE: The US term is pigpen.) □ like a pigsty dirty and in a mess ○ He left his room looking like a pigsty.

pigtail /'pɪgtail/ noun hair twisted into a plait, hanging down at the back of the head pike /pɑ:k/ noun 1. a large fish which lives in rivers and lakes (NOTE: The plural is pike.) 2. a weapon like a long spear (dated) pilaff /'pi:læf/ noun an Indian dish of meat or fish with rice

② pile /paɪl/ noun 1. a large mass of things ○ Look at that pile of washing. ○ The pile of plates crashed onto the floor. ○ The wind blew piles of dead leaves into the road. ○ He was carrying a great pile of books. 2. □ piles of a lot of (informal) ○ They brought piles of food with them. ○ There's no need to hurry, we've got piles of time. 3. a large post made of wood, metal or some other strong substance, pressed down into the earth to provide a support for something such as a building ○ They drove piles into the river bank to hold up the wharf. 4. the soft surface of some types of cloth, e.g. velvet, or of some types of carpet ○ Just feel the pile on these cushions. ○ We have put a thick pile carpet in the sitting room. ■ verb □ to pile, to pile up to put a lot of things into a pile ○ All the Christmas presents are piled under the tree. ○ Complaints are piling up about the service.

piles /paɪlz/ plural noun same as haemorrhoids pile-up /'pail ʌp/ noun a serious accident involving a series of vehicles which have crashed into each other (informal) Synonym crash pilfer /'pilfə/ verb to steal small objects or small amounts of money from the office or shop where you work pilfering /'pilfərɪŋ/ noun stealing small objects or amounts of money pilgrim /'pilgrɪm/ noun a person who goes to visit a holy place pilgrimage /'pilgrɪmɪdʒ/ noun 1. a journey to an important religious place for religious reasons ○ The church is organising a pilgrimage to Rome in April. ○ All Muslims should make the pilgrimage to Mecca at least once. 2. a journey to any important place, especially one connected with a famous person ○ Many tourists make the pilgrimage to Dickens' house in London.

③ pill /pɪl/ noun 1. medicine in solid form, usually in a small round shape ○ Take two pills before breakfast. 2. □ on the pill (of a woman) taking a course of pills to avoid becoming pregnant (informal) ○ If she's not on the pill, you must use a condom. ○ She went on the pill when she was seventeen.

pillage /'pɪldʒ/ noun the act of stealing goods, especially done by soldiers ○ In the Middle Ages, the country was devastated by bands of English soldiers who lived by pillage. ■ verb to damage buildings and steal goods from a place, especially in a war ○ The invaders pillaged the monastery buildings, then set fire to them. Synonym plunder pillar /'pɪlə/ noun a strong tall object which supports part of a building

③ pillar box /'pɪlə bɒks/ noun a round red metal container into which you can post letters. Synonym postbox

pillion /'pɪljən/ noun □ pillion seat a seat for a passenger behind the driver of a motorcycle ○ He came on his motorbike with his girlfriend on the pillion seat. □ pillion passenger a person riding on the pillion seat ○ The motorcyclist was badly hurt and his pillion passenger was killed. □ to ride pillion to ride on the pillion seat ○ She's got a spare crash helmet for anyone who rides pillion.

pillory /'pɪlərɪ/ noun in the past, a wooden stand with holes for the head and hands, where criminals were placed so that the public could throw things at them ■ verb to make someone appear foolish or silly in public ○ She was pilloried in the Sunday papers. Synonym ridicule

③ pillow /'pɪləʊ/ noun a rectangular bag full of soft material which you put your head on in bed pillow slip /'pɪləʊ slɪp/ noun a cloth bag to cover a pillow

③ pilot /'paɪlət/ noun 1. a person who flies a plane ○ He's training to be an airline pilot.

○ He's a helicopter pilot for an oil company.

2. a person who controls boats into or out of a harbour ○ Ships are not allowed into the harbour without a pilot. 3. a programme made or used as a test ○ a pilot for a new TV series ■ verb 1. to control something such as a boat or an aircraft ○ He safely piloted the ship into harbour. 2. to show someone the way to a place by taking them there ○ He piloted her through a maze of passageways to the meeting room.

pilot light /'paɪlət laɪt/ noun a little flame, which burns all the time in a piece of equipment such as a gas fire, and which lights the main part of the fire automatically when it is switched on pilot scheme /'paɪlət skɪ:m/ noun a small project which is done as a test to find out if something such as a business is likely to be successful pimento /'pɪ'mentəʊ/ noun a green or red fruit with a slightly hot taste used as a vegetable (NOTE: The plural is pimentos. The US spelling is pimiento.)

pimp /'pɪmp/ noun a man who makes money by finding customers for prostitutes ○ The pimps are supposed to protect the girls if customers turn nasty. ■ verb to work as a pimp ○ The police think he has been pimping in the West End.

pimple /'pɪmpl/ noun a small lump on the surface of the skin, containing pus. Synonym spot

pimply /'pɪmpli/ adj covered with pimples. Synonym spotty

③ pin /pɪn/ noun 1. a small thin sharp metal stick with a round head, used for fastening things such as pieces of cloth or paper together ○ She fastened the ribbons to her dress with a pin. 2. a thin wooden or metal bar used for fastening things together ○ After the accident, he had to have two pins inserted in his leg. ■ verb 1. to attach with a pin ○ She pinned up a notice about the meeting. ○ He pinned her photograph on the wall. ○ He pinned the calendar to the wall by his desk. 2. to force someone to stay in a place, either deliberately or because of an accident ○ Several people were pinned under the fallen roof. ○ The car pinned her against the wall.

(NOTE: pinning – pinned)

pinafore /'pɪnəfɔ:/ noun 1. a large apron covering the front part of your clothes ○ All the waitresses wear starched white pinafores.

2. a full dress worn to cover ordinary clothes when working pinball /'pɪn,bɔ:l/ noun an indoor game played on a sloping electronic table in which a player makes a ball move quickly past obstacles to score points pincers /'pɪnsəz/ plural noun 1. □ pair of pincers a tool for holding something tight, shaped like scissors ○ We pulled the nails out of the wood with a pair of pincers. 2. the front claws of a crab or lobster ○ A crab can give you a nasty nip with its pincers.

pinch /'pɪntʃ/ noun 1. squeezing tightly between finger and thumb ○ He gave her arm a pinch. 2. □ at a pinch if really necessary ○ At a pinch, we can manage with only one sales assistant. □ to feel the pinch to find you have less money than you need ○ We really started to feel the pinch when my father lost his job. 3. a small quantity of something held between finger and thumb ○ Add a pinch of salt to the boiling water. (NOTE: The plural is pinches.) ■ verb 1. to squeeze something tightly, using the finger and thumb ○ Ow! You're pinching me! 2. to steal something ○ Someone's pinched my pen!

pincushion /'pɪnkʊʃ(ə)n/ noun a round thick piece of soft material in which you can stick pins so as to keep them to hand

③ pin down /,pɪn 'daʊn/ verb □ to pin someone down to get someone to say what he or she really thinks, to get someone to make his or her mind up ○ I'm trying to pin the chairman down to make a decision. ○ She's very vague about dates – it's difficult to pin her down.

pine /paɪn/ noun 1. □ pine (tree) a type of evergreen tree with needle-shaped leaves ○ They planted a row of pines along the edge of the field. 2. wood from a pine tree ○ We've bought a pine table for the kitchen. ○ the pine cupboards in the children's bedroom. ■ verb □ to pine for something to feel sad because you do not have something any more ○ She's miserable because she's pining for her cat.

pineapple /'paɪnæp(ə)l/ noun a large sweet tropical fruit, shaped like a large pine cone with stiff prickly leaves on top pine cone /'paɪn kən/ noun the hard case containing the fruit of a pine tree ping /pɪŋ/ noun the noise made when something such as a small bell or a glass is hit ○ The glass went ping and cracked. ○ There was a ping as a stone hit the windscreen. ■ verb to make a ping ○ A little bell pings when the oven reaches the right temperature.

Ping Pong /'pɪŋ pɔŋ/ trademark same as table tennis pinion /'pɪnjən/ noun a wheel with small pieces sticking out around the edge, which makes other wheels move inside a machine ■ verb to tie up someone's arms tightly ○ The two men lay pinioned on the floor. Synonym hold down

② pink /pɪŋk/ adj 1. pale red or flesh coloured ○ She uses pink paper when she writes to her friends. 2. □ tickled pink feeling very pleased and happy (informal) ○ We were tickled pink to get our first letter from our little granddaughter. ■ noun 1. a pale red colour ○ The bright pink of the geraniums shows clearly across the garden. 2. a garden flower which has a sweet smell, like a small carnation ○ There was a bunch of pinks on the table.

pinkie /'pɪŋki/ noun the little finger (informal)

③ pin money /'pɪn ,mʌni/ noun money earned by someone for part-time work. Synonym pocket money pinnacle /'pɪnæk(ə)l/ noun 1. the highest point of someone's career ○ By becoming Lord Chief Justice he reached the pinnacle of his legal career. 2. the highest point of a pointed rock ○ A narrow ridge connected the two pinnacles. 3. a tall thin stone tower ○ looking down on the domes and pinnacles of the old Italian city

③ PIN number /'pɪn ,nʌmbə/ noun a secret number which you use with a bank card in order to take money out of a cashpoint. Full form personal identification number pinpoint /'pɪnpɔɪnt/ noun □ a pinpoint of light a very small spot of light ■ verb to show exactly where something is ○ We can pinpoint the ship's exact position by radar. Synonym locate pins and needles /,pɪnz ən 'ni:dlz/ noun a sharp feeling in a limb after it has been in an uncomfortable position for a time pinstripe /'pɪnstrɔɪp/ noun a thin light line on a dark cloth pinstripe suit /'pɪn,strɔɪp su:t/ noun a suit, usually a man's suit, made of dark cloth with a pinstripe in it

② pint /paɪnt/ noun a liquid measure, equal to 0.568 of a litre pin-up /'pɪn ʌp/ noun a picture of a person, especially one of a sexually attractive person or in which the person is wearing very few clothes pioneer /,paɪə'nɪər/ noun 1. a person who is among the first to try to do something ○ He was one of the pioneers of radar. ○ the pioneers in the field of laser surgery 2. a person who is among the first to discover or settle in a new land ○ The first pioneers settled in this valley in about 1860. ■ verb to be the first to do something ○ The company pioneered developments in the field of electronics. ○ She pioneered a new route across the Andes.

pioneering /,paɪə'nɪərɪŋ/ adj opening up a new area of activity

pious /'paɪəs/ adj 1. showing great respect for religion ○ A pious benefactor gave the money to build a new church. 2. □ a pious hope a hope for something that is unlikely to happen ○ Expecting the children to behave well was something of a pious hope.

piously /'paɪəsli/ adv in a pious way pip /pɪp/ noun 1. a small seed in some fruits ○ Take out all the pips when you cut up the grapefruit. (NOTE: Fruits such as apples, pears, oranges and lemons all have pips.)

2. a star on the shoulder showing an officer's rank ○ The three pips showed he was a captain. ■ verb to defeat someone (informal) ○ She pipped me for first place. Synonym beat
□ to pip someone at the post to beat someone at the last minute ○ He put on a final spurt and pipped me at the post.

② pipe /paɪp/ noun 1. a tube ○ He's clearing a blocked pipe in the kitchen. ○ The water came out of the hole in the pipe. ♦ drainpipe 2. a tube for smoking tobacco, with a bowl at one end in which the tobacco burns ■ verb 1. to squeeze soft food mixture through a small tube, so as to make attractive shapes ○ Duchesse potatoes are piped into spiral shapes and cooked. 2. to send water, gas, etc., along a pipe ○ Hot water is piped to each room from a central boiler.

pipe band /'paɪp bænd/ noun a band of musicians playing the bagpipes piped music /,paɪpt 'mju:zɪk/ noun recorded music played continuously in a public place such as a restaurant pipeline /'paɪplæɪn/ noun 1. a very large tube for carrying oil, natural gas, etc., over long distances ○ An oil pipeline crosses the desert. 2. □ in the pipeline being worked on, coming ○ The company has a series of new products in the pipeline. ○ She has two new novels in the pipeline.

piper /'paɪpə/ noun a person who plays the bagpipes piping /'paɪpɪŋ/ noun 1. tubes in general ○ The old lead piping was removed and replaced with plastic. □ a piece of piping a section of plastic or metal tube 2. a decoration like tubes on a cake or on a dress ○ a scarlet uniform with white piping piping hot /,paɪpɪŋ 'hɒt/ adv extremely hot ○ Porridge should be served piping hot.

piquancy /'pi:kənsɪ/ noun being piquant piquant /'pi:kənt/ adj 1. having a nice sharp flavour 2. interesting or funny in a sharp way pique /pi:k/ noun a strong feeling of being annoyed with someone ○ In a fit of pique she sent him back the ring. ■ verb 1. to make someone feel annoyed ○ She was really piqued to see her name in the newspaper. 2. to make someone want to find out about something piqued /pi:kɪd/ adj feeling annoyed or angry about something piracy /'paɪrəsɪ/ noun 1. the crime of attacking ships at sea and stealing what is in them ○ Piracy is on the increase in the South China Sea. 2. the illegal copying of things such as books, records or computer programs

○ The government is trying to stamp out video piracy.

piranha /pə'rɑ:nə/ noun a small tropical fish which attacks animals, including man

pirate /'paɪrət/ noun 1. a sailor who attacks ships and steals from them ○ Pirates attacked the ship. ○ Pirates buried treasure on the island hundreds of years ago. 2. a person who makes illegal copies of things such as books or videos ■ verb to make an illegal copy of something such as a book, disk or design ○ The designs for the new dress collection were pirated in the Far East. ○ I found a pirated copy of my book on sale in a street market.

pirouette /,pɪrʊ'et/ noun spinning round on one foot when dancing ■ verb to spin round on one foot

Pisces /'paɪsɪz/ noun one of the signs of the zodiac, shaped like fish, covering the period from 19th February to 20th March

piss /pɪs/ (offensive slang) noun 1. liquid waste from the body. Synonym urine □ to take the piss to make fun of someone ○ I thought he was taking the piss, but he was deadly serious. 2. the act of passing waste water from the body ○ I must go and have a piss. ■ verb to pass waste water from the body. Synonym urinate pissed /pɪst/ (offensive slang) adj drunk ○ He was too pissed to know what he was doing. □ pissed as a newt extremely drunk pissed off /,pɪst 'ɒf/ adj annoyed (offensive slang)

piss off /,pɪs 'ɒf/ (offensive slang) verb 1. to leave somewhere □ piss off! go away! 2. to annoy someone piste /'pɪst/ noun a track for skiing pistol /'pɪstəl/ noun a small gun which is held in the hand piston /'pɪstən/ noun (in an engine) a round flat piece of metal which moves up and down in a cylinder pit /pɪt/ noun 1. a deep dark hole in the ground ○ They dug a pit to bury the rubbish. 2. a mine where substances such as coal are dug out of the ground ○ My grandfather spent his whole life working down a pit. 3. US a hard stone inside a fruit ○ a date pit ♦ pitted 4. a hole in the floor of a garage where someone can stand to examine or repair the bottom part of a car 5. the back part of the ground floor of a theatre 6. the deepest part ○ He felt rising fear in the pit of his stomach. ■ verb 1. □ to pit your strength against someone to try to fight someone ○ The little country pitted her strength against her much larger neighbour. 2. to take the stone out of a fruit (NOTE: pitting – pitted)

③ pitch /pɪtʃ/ noun 1. the ground on which a game is played ○ I'll time you, if you run

round the football pitch. ○ The pitch is too wet to play on. ○ He dribbled the ball the whole length of the pitch and scored. (NOTE: The plural is pitches.) 2. being able to sing or play notes correctly ○ He's got perfect pitch. 3. a high point of a strong feeling such as anger or excitement ○ Excitement was at fever pitch. 4. a sticky black substance which comes from tar and is used on the outside surface of things such as boats or roofs to prevent water from coming through to the inside 5. the angle of a sloping roof ○ A roof with a steep pitch allows snow to slide off. ■ verb 1. to put up a tent ○ They pitched their tent in a field by the beach. 2. to throw a ball ○ I pitched him a high ball to see if he could catch it. 3. (of boat) to rock with the front and back going up and down ○ The little boat was pitching up and down on the waves. Compare roll pitched battle /,pitʃt 'bæt(ə)l/ noun a battle where the opposing sides stand and face each other. Synonym argument pitcher /'pitʃəl/ noun 1. a large container for liquids, with a handle and a specially shaped part on the top edge for pouring the liquid out ○ My aunt brought out a pitcher of lemonade. 2. a person who throws the ball in baseball ○ The Dodgers are without their regular pitcher this afternoon.

piteous /'pitɪəs/ adj which deserves pity pitfall /'pitfɔ:l/ noun a hidden danger pith /pɪθ/ noun 1. the soft part in the centre of a plant stem 2. a soft white substance under the skin of fruits such as lemons and oranges pithy /'pɪθi/ adj 1. full of serious meaning ○ He made some pithy remarks. 2. with a soft centre (NOTE: pithier – pithiest) pitable /'pitɪəb(ə)l/ adj which deserves pity (formal) pitiful /'pitif(ə)l/ adj 1. making you feel sorry for someone or something ○ The poor cat was in a pitiful state. 2. not at all good ○ His attempts at singing were pitiful.

pitifully /'pitif(ə)li/ adv 1. in a way which makes you feel sorry for someone ○ He moaned pitifully and kept asking for water. 2. extremely, in a way which is pitiful ○ The pension she has to live on is pitifully small. ○ Her little arms and legs were pitifully thin.

pitiless /'pitɪləs/ adj 1. not showing any pity ○ His voice was harsh and pitiless. 2. very severe ○ The pitiless wind blew across the ice floes.

pits /pɪts/ plural noun (at car races) the place where the cars get more fuel, are examined and repaired pitta bread /'pitə ,bred/ noun a type of flat bread pittance /'pit(ə)ns/ noun a very low amount that someone earns pitted /'pitɪd/ adj with the stones removed

③ pity /'piti/ noun 1. a feeling of sympathy for someone who is in a bad situation ○ Have you no pity for the homeless? □ to take pity on someone to feel sorry for someone ○ At last someone took pity on her and showed her how to work the machine. 2. □ it's a pity that it is sad that ○ It's a pity you weren't there to see it. ○ It's such a pity that the rain spoiled the picnic. □ it would be a pity to it would be a bad thing to ○ It would be a pity not to eat all this beautiful food. ■ verb to feel sympathy for someone ○ I pity his children. Antonym blame pivot /'pɪvət/ noun a point on which something turns pivotal /'pɪvətl(ə)l/ adj central, of great importance. Synonym essential. Antonym unimportant pivot on /'pɪvət ɒn/ verb 1. to turn on a point ○ The heavy door pivots on a metal point in the floor. 2. to depend on something ○ The whole process pivots on the accuracy of the measurements.

pixel /'pɪksəl/ noun a single point on a computer display pixie /'pɪksɪl/ noun a small imaginary person in children's stories. Synonym fairy

② pizza /'pi:tsəl/ noun an Italian food, consisting of a flat round piece of bread cooked with things such as cheese, tomatoes and onions on top placard /'plækə:d/ noun 1. a notice on a large piece of thin board ○ The protesters carried placards bearing anti-government slogans. 2. a large notice, picture or advertisement stuck on a wall ○ Placards appeared in shop windows announcing that the circus was coming to town. ■ verb to stick notices on a surface ○ They placarded every tree and lamppost in the street.

placate /plə'keɪt/ verb to calm someone, to make someone less angry. Antonym enrage

① place /pleɪs/ noun 1. where something is, or where something happens ○ Here's the place where we saw the cows. ○ Make sure you put the file back in the right place. □ all over the place everywhere ○ There were dead leaves lying all over the place. 2. a home ○ Would you like to come back to my place for a cup of coffee? 3. a seat ○ I'm keeping this place for my sister. ○ I'm sorry, but this place has been taken. □ to change places with someone to take each other's seat ○ If you can't see the screen, change places with me. 4. a space for one person at a table ○ Please set two places for lunch. 5. a position in a race ○ The British runners are in the first three places. 6. the page where you have stopped reading a book ○ I left a piece of paper in the book to mark my place. ○ I've lost my place and can't remember where I got to. 7. □ to take place to happen ○ The fight took place outside the football ground. ○ The film takes place in China. 8. a name given to a street in a town ○ They live in Regent Place. ■ verb 1. to put something somewhere ○ The waitress placed the teapot on the table. ○ Please place the envelope in the box. 2. to remember who someone is ○ His face seems familiar but I can't place him.

placebo /plə'si:bəʊ/ noun a pill which appears to be a drug, but has no medicine in it (NOTE: The plural is placebos.)

placemat /'pleɪsmæt/ noun a flat piece of thick cloth which a person's plate is put on placement /'pleɪsmənt/ noun the action of finding a job for someone placenta /plə'sentə/ noun a tissue that grows inside the womb when a baby is developing, and which supplies the oxygen and nutrients needed for the baby to grow place setting /'pleɪs ,setɪŋ/ noun a set of objects such as a knife, fork and spoon, plate and cup, which one person needs at a meal placid /'plæsɪd/ adj calm. Antonym excitable placidly /'plæsɪdli/ adv calmly placing /'pleɪsɪŋ/ noun the position of something in a list plagiarise /'pleɪdʒəraɪz/, plagiarize verb to copy the work of another author and pretend it is your own plagiarism /'pleɪdʒərɪz(ə)m/ noun copying another person's written work and passing it off as your own plague /'pleɪg/ noun 1. a serious infectious disease which people caught off fleas from rats ○ Thousands of people died in the Great Plague of London in 1665. □ to avoid someone like the plague to try not to meet someone ○ I avoid him like the plague because he's always asking if he can borrow money. 2. a great quantity of unpleasant things ○ We've had a plague of ants in the garden. ■ verb to annoy someone or cause them problems ○ We were plagued with wasps last summer. ○ She keeps plaguing me with silly questions.

plaice /'pleɪs/ noun a common flat sea fish (NOTE: The plural is plaice.)

plaid /plæd/ noun 1. a type of cloth which has a pattern of different coloured lines on it ○ He wore plaid trousers. 2. (in Scotland) a long piece of such cloth ○ The highlanders traditionally wore the plaid wrapped around their whole body.

① plain /pleɪn/ adj 1. easy to understand ○ The instructions are written in plain English. 2. obvious ○ It's perfectly plain what he wants. ○ We made it plain to them that this was our final offer. 3. simple and not complicated ○ We put plain wallpaper in the dining room. ○ The outside is decorated with leaves and flowers, but the inside is quite plain. 4. not attractive ○ His two daughters are rather plain. (NOTE: plainer – plainest) ■ noun a flat area of country ○ a broad plain bordered by mountains. Synonym prairie (NOTE: Do not confuse with plane.)

plain chocolate /'pleɪn 'tʃɒklət/ noun a dark bitter chocolate plainclothes /'pleɪnkloʊðz/ adj wearing ordinary clothes, not a uniform plain flour /'pleɪn 'flaʊə/ noun white flour with no baking powder in it plainly /'pleɪnlɪ/ adv 1. obviously ○ He's plainly bored by the French lesson. ○ Plainly, the plan is not working. 2. clearly ○ It is plainly visible from here. ○ The sounds of a violent argument could be heard plainly from behind the door. 3. in a simple way ○ She always dresses very plainly.

plainness /'pleɪnnes/ noun 1. the fact of being clear 2. the fact of being simple plain sailing /'pleɪn 'seɪlɪŋ/ noun easy progress

② plaintiff /'pleɪntɪf/ noun a person who starts a legal action against someone in the civil courts (dated). Antonym defendant (NOTE: This is an old term; it has now been replaced by claimant. The other party in an action is the defendant.)

plaintive /'pleɪntɪv/ adj (of sounds) sad and complaining. Synonym mournful. Antonym cheerful plait /plæt/ noun three long pieces of hair, woven together ○ She wears her hair in a plait or in plaits. Synonym braid ■ verb to form someone's hair into a plait ○ My mother used to plait my hair before I went to school in the morning.

① plan /plæn/ noun 1. an organised way of doing things ○ He made a plan to get up earlier in future. ○ She drew up plans for the village fête. □ according to plan in the way it was arranged ○ The party went off according to plan. 2. a drawing of the way something is arranged ○ Here are the plans for the kitchen. ○ The fire exits are shown on the plan of the office. ■ verb 1. to arrange how you are going to do something ○ She's busy planning her holiday in Greece. 2. to intend to do something ○ They are planning to move to London next month. ○ We weren't planning to go on holiday this year. ○ I plan to take the 5 o'clock flight to New York. 3. to arrange how to build something ○ She planned the bathroom herself. ○ A new town is being planned next to the airport. (NOTE: planning – planned)

② plane /pleɪn/ noun 1. an aircraft, a vehicle which flies ○ When is the next plane for

Glasgow? ○ How are you getting to Paris? – We're going by plane. ○ Don't panic, you've got plenty of time to catch your plane. ○ He was stuck in a traffic jam and missed his plane. 2. a tool with a sharp blade for making wood smooth ○ He smoothed off the rough edges with a plane. ■ verb to make wood smooth with a plane ○ He planed the top of the table.

plane-spotter /'pleɪn,spɒtə/ noun a person who collects details of the numbers and makes of planes planet /'plænɪt/ noun 1. one of the objects in space which move round the Sun ○ Is there life on any of the planets? ○ Earth is the third planet from the Sun. 2. the planet Earth ○ an environmental disaster which could affect the whole planet planetarium /,plænɪ'teəriəm/ noun a building with a high curved roof, where the stars and planets are shown using lights planetary /'plænɪt(ə)rɪ/ adj referring to the planets plane tree /'pleɪn tri:/ noun a large tree with wide leaves, often grown in towns (NOTE: Do not confuse with plain.)

plank /plæŋk/ noun a long flat piece of wood used in building. ♦ thick plankton /'plæŋktən/ plural noun very small animals and plants which live and move about slowly in the sea, and are the food of large animals

③ planner /'plænə/ noun a person who draws up plans ○ The planners made the car park too small.

① planning /'plænɪŋ/ noun the act or practice of making plans ○ The trip will need very careful planning. ○ The project is still in the planning stage.

① plant /plɑːnt/ noun 1. a living thing which grows in the ground and has leaves, a stem and roots ○ He planted a row of cabbage plants. ○ Sunflower plants grow very tall. 2. machinery ○ Investment in buildings and plant accounts for 90% of our setting up costs. 3. a large factory ○ They are planning to build a car plant near the river. ■ verb 1. to put a plant in the ground ○ We've planted two pear trees and a peach tree in the garden. 2. to put in a place ○ They phoned to say that a bomb had been planted in the High Street. 3. to put goods secretly in a place in order to make it look as if they were placed there illegally ○ The police were accused of planting the drugs in her car.

plantation /plɑːnɪ'teɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. an area of trees planted as a crop ○ a plantation of pines 2. a tropical farm growing a particular crop ○ a coffee plantation ○ a rubber plantation planter /'plɑːntə/ noun 1. a person in charge of a plantation ○ As a young man he went out to Ceylon as a tea planter. 2. a decorated container to hold plants in pots ○ A set of planters for indoor plants.

plant pot /'plaːnt pɒt/ noun a container for growing plants in plaque /plæk, plɑːk/ noun 1. a flat plate made of a hard substance such as stone or metal and with some writing on the surface ○ They put up a plaque to commemorate the soldiers who died. ○ The Princess unveiled a plaque commemorating her visit and the opening of the new library. 2. a substance which forms on the teeth ○ Use dental floss every morning to control plaque. (NOTE: no plural in this meaning) plasma /'plæzɪmə/ noun a thin yellow liquid which makes up the main part of blood plasma screen /'plæzɪmə skrɪːn/ noun a very thin television or computer screen which shows extremely clear images plaster /'plɑːstə/ noun 1. a mixture of powdery sand and lime which is mixed with water and is used for covering the walls of houses ○ The flat hasn't been decorated yet and there is still bare plaster in most of the rooms. 2. a white substance which becomes hard when it dries, used to cover a broken arm or leg and hold it in place ○ He had an accident skiing and now has his leg in plaster. ■ verb 1. to cover with plaster ○ They had to take off the old plaster and plaster the walls again. 2. to cover with a thick layer as if with plaster ○ She plastered her face with makeup.

plaster cast /'plɑːstə kɑːst/ noun 1. a hard covering of plaster put round a broken arm or leg 2. a shape made by covering something with plaster 3. a copy of an object made in plaster plastered /'plɑːstəd/ adj 1. covered with plaster ○ We painted the plastered walls pink. 2. covered with a substance, e.g. mud 3. very drunk ○ He got completely plastered at his brother's party.

② plastic /'plæstɪk/ noun 1. a synthetic material used to make many things ○ We take plastic plates when we go to the beach. ○ The supermarket gives you plastic bags to put your shopping in. ○ We cover our garden furniture with plastic sheeting when it rains. (NOTE: no plural: a bowl made of plastic) 2. □ plastic credit cards and charge cards (informal) ○ I don't have any cash with me, do you take plastic?

Plasticine /'plæstɪsɪ:n/ trademark a coloured substance like clay, which children form into shapes plasticity /plæ'stɪsɪtɪ/ noun the state of being plastic plastic surgery /,plæstɪk 'sɜːdʒəri/ noun a medical treatment to repair damaged parts of the body

② plate /pleɪt/ noun 1. a flat round dish for putting food on ○ Put one pie on each plate. ○ Pass all the plates down to the end of the table. 2. food which is served on a plate ○ They passed round plates of sandwiches. ○ She ate two plates of cold meat. 3. a flat piece of something such as metal or glass ○ The dentist has a brass plate on his door. 4. a page with a picture in a book ○ The book is illustrated with twenty colour plates. 5. objects made of copper with a thin layer of gold or silver put on using electricity ○ The spoons aren't sterling silver - they're just plate. 6. a piece of plastic with false teeth attached which fits into your mouth ■ verb to cover a metal object with a thin layer of gold or silver electrically ○ The metal cross is plated with gold.

plateau /'pletəʊ/ noun 1. an area of high flat land ○ the high plateau region of southern Argentina ○ The town lies on a plateau about 2000 feet above sea level. 2. the highest point that will be reached ○ House prices seem to have reached a plateau. (NOTE: The plural is plateaux /'plætəʊz/.)

-plated /pleɪtɪd/ suffix covered with a layer of metal ○ a copper-plated saucepan ○ Those forks are not silver, just silver-plated.

plateful /'pleɪtfʊl/ noun the quantity held by a plate plate glass /,pleɪt 'gla:s/ noun glass made in very large flat sheets, used for windows □ a plate glass window a very large window, such as in a shop platelet /'pleɪtlət/ noun a blood cell which helps blood to coagulate

③ platform /'plætfɔ:m/ noun 1. a high flat structure by the side of the railway lines at a station, to help passengers get on or off the trains easily ○ Crowds of people were waiting on the platform. ○ The train for Liverpool will leave from platform 10. ○ The next train at this platform is the Circle Line to Paddington. 2. a high wooden floor for speakers to speak from ○ The main speakers sat in a row on the platform. 3. US a programme of action promised by a political party at an election platform shoes /'plæt,fɔ:m ſu:z/ plural noun shoes with very thick soles platinum /'plætɪnəm/ noun a valuable metal which does not corrode, and is used in jewellery platinum blonde /'plætɪnəm blond/ noun a woman with very pale yellow hair platinum disc /,plætɪnəm 'disk/ noun a prize given to a pop singer or group when one of their records has sold more than two million copies platitude /'plætɪtju:d/ noun a remark considered to be ordinary and of little interest platonic /pla'tɒnɪk/ adj (of a relationship) which is not sexual platoon /plə'tu:n/ noun a small group of soldiers with a lieutenant in charge, part of a company platter /'plætə/ noun 1. a large flat serving plate ○ A huge joint of meat was carried in on a platter. 2. a large plate of prepared food, arranged in an attractive way ○ We ordered a seafood platter.

plaudits /'plɔ:di:ts/ plural noun nice things which you say to praise someone for their goodness or success plausible /'plɔ:zib(ə)l/ adj 1. which sounds as though it could be correct or true ○ He couldn't produce any plausible excuse to explain why he was in the warehouse. 2. good at telling lies so that people believe what you say ○ He sounds very plausible over the phone.

plausibly /'plɔ:ziblɪ/ adv in a plausible way

① play /pleɪ/ noun 1. a written text which is acted in a theatre or on TV ○ Did you see the play on TV last night? ○ We went to the National Theatre to see the new play. ○ Two of Shakespeare's plays are on the list for the English exam. 2. the activity of taking part in a game ○ Play will start at 3 o'clock. □ out of play not on the field ○ The ball was kicked out of play. 3. a way of enjoying yourself ○ They watched the children at play. ○ All right, you children, it's time for play. 4. □ it's child's play it is very easy ○ It's child's play if you've got the right tools for the job. 5. freedom to move about ○ There is too much play in the handle - you should tighten the screws. ■ verb 1. to take part in a game ○ He plays rugby for the university. ○ Do you play tennis? 2. (of a game) to happen in a particular place or at a particular time ○ The tennis match was played on the Centre Court. ○ Cricket isn't played in the winter. 3. to make music on a musical instrument or to put a recording on a machine such as a CD player ○ He can't play the violin very well. ○ Let me play you my new Bach CD. 4. to enjoy yourself ○ The boys were playing in the garden. ○ When you've finished your lesson you can go out to play. ○ He doesn't like playing with other children. 5. to act the part of a person in a film or play ○ Orson Welles played Harry Lime in 'The Third Man'. 6. to make water or light move in a particular direction or in a particular way, or when water or light moves like this ○ Fountains played as the guests strolled in the gardens.

③ play back /,pleɪ 'bæk/ verb to listen to something which you have just recorded playboy /'plaɪbɔ:/ noun a rich man who spends his time enjoying himself rather than working

Play-doh /'pleɪ dəʊ/ trademark a type of coloured plastic material like clay, which children form into shapes play down /,pleɪ 'daʊn/ verb to make something seem less important. Synonym minimise. Antonym accentuate

① player /'pleɪə/ noun 1. a person who plays a game ○ You only need two players for chess. ○ Rugby players have to be fit. ○ Four of the players in the opposing team are ill. 2. a person who plays a musical instrument ○ a famous horn player playful /'pleɪf(ə)l/ adj lively and enjoying playing playground /'pleɪgraʊnd/ noun a place, at a school or in a public area, where children can play playgroup /'pleɪgru:p/ noun a group of small children who play together, looked after by a teacher playhouse /'pleɪhaʊs/ noun 1. a theatre ○ There's a brand new play on at the playhouse. 2. a model house for children to play in. Also called Wendy house playing field /'pleɪɪŋ fi:d/ noun a large field where sports can be played playmate /'pleɪ,meɪt/ noun a child who regularly plays with another play off /,pleɪ 'ɒf/ verb ② to play someone off against someone to try to benefit by making two people compete against each other ○ Children try to get what they want by playing their parents off against each other.

playoff /'pleɪnɒf/ noun a game to decide the final result, played between two players or teams that have the same score playpen /'pleɪpɛn/ noun a structure in which a baby can be left to play safely playroom /'pleɪru:m/ noun a room in which children can play

③ plaything /'pleɪθɪŋ/ noun 1. something or someone that a person uses simply for his own pleasure ○ Luxury yachts are the playthings of the rich. 2. a toy for a child to play with (old) ○ I keep all the children's playthings in this cupboard.

playtime /'pleɪtaɪm/ noun a time in school when children can play. Synonym break play up /,pleɪ 'ʌp/ verb to cause trouble playwright /'pleɪraɪt/ noun a person who writes plays. Synonym dramatist plaza /'pla:zə/ noun a large open square in a town

Plc abbr public limited company plea /'pli:/ noun 1. an answer to a charge in court ○ He entered a plea of 'not guilty'. 2. a request ○ Her pleas for clemency were rejected.

plead /'pli:d/ verb 1. to answer a charge in a law court ○ He pleaded guilty to the charge of murder. 2. to give an excuse ○ She said she couldn't come, pleading pressure of work. 3. □ to plead with someone to try to change someone's mind by asking again and again ○ I pleaded with her not to go.

pleading /'plɪ:dɪŋ/ adj asking in a way that shows something is wanted very much ○ The dog sat next to me with a pleading look in his eyes. ■ noun 1. the action of asking for something in an emotional or desperate way ○ He finally gave in to her pleading. 2. the action of speaking in court on someone's behalf ○ In English courts, a solicitor prepares the case and a barrister does the actual pleading.

③ pleasant /'plez(ə)nt/ adj which pleases ○ What a pleasant garden! ○ How pleasant it is to sit here under the trees! □ he didn't bring the pleasantest of news he brought bad news pleasantly /'plez(ə)ntli/ adv in a pleasant way pleasantry /'plez(ə)ntri/ noun a joke or a pleasant remark. Antonym insult (NOTE: The plural is pleasantries.)

① please /'pli:z/ interj used to ask politely ○ Please sit down. ○ Can you close the window, please? ○ Can I have a ham sandwich, please? ○ Do you want some more tea? – Yes, please! Compare thank you ■ verb to make someone happy or satisfied ○ She's not difficult to please. □ please yourself do as you like ○ Shall I take the red one or the green one? – Please yourself.

② pleased /'pli:zd/ adj happy ○ We're very pleased with our new house. ○ I'm pleased to hear you're feeling better. ○ He wasn't pleased when he heard his exam results. ♦ punch. Synonym satisfied

③ pleasing /'pli:zɪŋ/ adj which pleases. Synonym agreeable. Antonym disagreeable

pleasurable /'plez(ə)rəb(ə)l/ adj pleasant, which gives pleasure. Synonym agreeable. Antonym disagreeable

② pleasure /'pleʒə/ noun a pleasant feeling ○ His greatest pleasure is sitting by the river. ○ It gives me great pleasure to be able to visit you today. □ with pleasure happily ○ I'll do the job with pleasure.

pleat /'pli:t/ noun a flat fold in a piece of clothing such as a skirt or in something such as a curtain ○ His shirt front was decorated with a row of small pleats. ■ verb to make neat folds in something such as a piece of clothing or a curtain ○ Pleating the skirt makes it hang better.

pleated /'pli:tɪd/ adj (of fabric) made with pleats plebeian /plə'bi:ən/ adj common or ordinary; belonging to the working class plebiscite /'plebɪsaɪt/ noun a type of vote, where the whole population of a town, region or country is asked to vote to decide a particular issue. Synonym referendum pledge /'pledʒ/ noun 1. a promise ○ They made a pledge to meet again next year, same time, same place. ○ The government never fulfilled its pledge to cut taxes. 2. □ to take the pledge to swear never to drink alcohol again 3. an object given to a lender when borrowing money, and which will be returned to the borrower when the money is paid back ○ Any pledges which have not been claimed after six months will be sold. ■ verb 1. to promise something formally ○ She pledged £50 to the charity. ○ Thousands of people have pledged their support for the scheme. 2. to give something as a pledge when borrowing money ○ She had to pledge her ring to buy food for the children.

plenary /'pli:nəri/ adj complete, covering everything (formal) plenary session /'pli:nəri ,sɛf(ə)n/ noun the part of a conference where all the people involved meet together plentiful /'plentɪf(ə)l/ adj in large quantities. Synonym abundant. Antonym scarce

① plenty /'plentɪ/ noun a large quantity ○ You've got plenty of time to catch the train. ○ Plenty of people complain about the bus service. ○ Have you got enough bread? – Yes, we've got plenty. (NOTE: no plural) plethora /'pleθərə/ noun □ a plethora of too many (formal) ○ There has been a plethora of books about the 'Titanic' following the success of the film.

pleurisy /'plɜ:risɪ/ noun a serious medical condition which affects the lungs, often caused by pneumonia pliers /'plaɪəz/ plural noun □ pair of pliers a tool shaped like scissors for squeezing, pulling or cutting wire ○ I need a pair of pliers to pull out these rusty nails.

③ plight /'plaɪt/ noun a bad situation or condition (dated) ○ You must pity the plight of the people made homeless by the war. ■ verb to promise something (dated) □ to plight your troth to make a serious promise to love and support the person you are going to marry plimsolls /'plɪmzlz/ plural noun light shoes with thin rubber bottoms, worn when doing sports such as gymnastics plinth /'plɪnθ/ noun a stand which supports an object such as a statue. Synonym pedestal

plod /'plɒd/ verb 1. to walk slowly and with heavy steps ○ The camels plodded across the desert. ○ He plodded round the department stores but didn't find anything he wanted. 2. □ to work steadily ○ The police plodded slowly through a list of people who had to be interviewed. (NOTE: plodding – plodded)

plonk /'plɒŋk/ noun cheap wine (informal) ○ I bought a bottle of Spanish plonk from the supermarket. ■ verb to put something down in a careless way ○ The waiter just plonked the plates down in front of us and went off. ○ A big fat man plonked himself down in the seat next to me and went to sleep.

plop /'plɒp/ noun the noise made by something falling into water ○ There was a little plop as the frog jumped into the lake. ■ verb 1. to make a noise like a stone falling into water 2. to sit down heavily; to put something down ○ She plopped herself down on the settee. ○ He plopped the letter into the pillar box. (NOTE: plopped)

plot /'plɒt/ noun 1. a small area of land, e.g. used for building or for growing vegetables ○ They own a plot of land next to the river. ○ The plot isn't big enough to build a house on.

2. the basic story of a book, play or film ○ The novel has a complicated plot. ○ I won't tell you the plot of the film so as not to spoil it for you. 3. a secret and evil plan ○ They hatched a plot to hold up the security van. ■ verb 1. to mark something on a map ○ We plotted a course to take us to the island. 2. to draw a graph ○ They plotted the rise in house prices on a graph. 3. to draw up a secret and evil plan ○ They plotted to assassinate the Prime Minister. (NOTE: plotting – plotted)

plotter /'plɒtə/ noun a person who makes secret and evil plans. Synonym schemer plough /'pləʊ/ noun a farm machine for turning over soil ○ The plough is pulled by a tractor. ■ verb 1. to turn over the soil ○ Some farmers still use horses to plough the fields. 2. to work slowly ○ He was there until midnight, ploughing through all the paperwork. (NOTE: [all verb senses] The US spelling is plow.)

ploughman's lunch noun a meal of bread, cheese and pickles plough on /'plau 'ɒn/ verb to continue with something difficult (informal) plow /'pləʊ/ noun, verb US spelling of plough ploy /'plɔɪ/ noun a clever trick

③ pluck /'plæk/ noun courage (dated) ○ It took a lot of pluck to leave home and go to Australia. Synonym courage. Antonym cowardice ■ verb 1. to pull out feathers from a bird ○ to pluck a chicken ○ Ask the butcher to pluck the pheasants for you. 2. to pick something such as flowers ○ She plucked an apple from the tree. 3. to pull and release the strings of a guitar or other musical instrument, to make a sound ○ He was idly plucking the strings of his guitar. 4. □ to pluck up courage to get ready to face a danger ○ He finally plucked up courage and asked to see the boss.

plucky /'plʌki/ adj brave. Synonym brave. Antonym cowardly (NOTE: pluckier – pluckiest)

③ plug /plʌg/ noun 1. a flat rubber disc which covers the hole for dirty water in a bath or sink ○ Can you call reception and tell them there's no plug in the bath? ○ She pulled out the plug and let the dirty water drain away. 2. a device with pins which go into an electric socket, and which allows the electric current to pass through ○ The vacuum cleaner is supplied with a plug. 3. □ (sparking) plug (in a car) a device which passes the electric spark through the petrol vapour ○ If the plugs are dirty, the engine won't start. ○ The garage put in a new set of sparking plugs. 4. a piece of publicity □ to give a plug to a new product to publicise a new product ○ During the radio interview, she got in a plug for her new film. ■ verb 1. to block up a hole ○ We plugged the leak in the bathroom. ○ He plugged his ears with cotton wool because he couldn't stand the noise. 2. to publicise something ○ They ran six commercials plugging holidays in Spain. ○ They paid the radio station to plug their new album. (NOTE: plugging – plugged) plug away at /,plʌg ə'wei ət/ verb to work hard doing something plughole /'plæghəʊl/ noun a hole in a bath or washbasin through which the dirty water runs away

③ plug in /,plʌg 'ɪn/ verb to push an electric plug into a socket and so attach a device to the electricity supply. Antonym unplug

③ plum /plʌm/ noun 1. a gold, red or purple fruit with a smooth skin and a large stone ○ She bought a pound of plums to make a pie. 2. □ to have a plum job to have an important well-paid job (informal) ○ He's landed a plum job with the BBC.

plumage /'plu:mɪdʒ/ noun feathers on a bird (NOTE: no plural)

plumb /plʌm/ verb 1. to measure the depth of water by using a plumb line ○ to plumb the ocean's depths □ to plumb the depths of something to reach the lowest point ○ Her mood changes all the time, plumbing the depths of despair one minute and wildly optimistic the next. 2. to try to understand something fully ○ Scientists are still trying to plumb the mysteries of the beginning of the universe. 3. □ to plumb something (in) to attach something to the water pipes in a building ○ I can't wash any clothes because the washing machine still hasn't been plumbed in. ■ adv exactly in a position ○ He hit the target plumb in the middle.

plumber /'plʌmə/ noun a person who installs or mends water pipes, radiators, etc.

plumbing /'plæmɪŋ/ noun a system of water pipes in a house plumb line /'plæm lɪn/ noun a string with a lead weight attached to see how deep water is, or if something is straight plume /'plu:m/ noun 1. a long feather, especially one worn in a hat ○ a hat with ostrich plumes 2. a long cloud of smoke from a factory chimney or volcano ○ A plume of smoke rose from the burning oil depot.

plummet /'plæmɪt/ verb to fall sharply

plump /plʌmp/ adj 1. (of a person) with an attractively fat or rounded body or body part ○ He's easy to spot, he's a short fair-haired boy with a plump red face. ○ Is she pregnant or is she just plumper than she was? (NOTE: plumper – plumpest) 2. full and round, not flat or wrinkled ○ plump fruit ○ a plump cushion ■ verb 1. □ to plump up cushions to shake squashed cushions until they are fat again 2. to drop yourself down heavily ○ He plumped himself down on the sofa.

plunder /'plændə/ noun booty, goods stolen, especially in wartime ○ The pirates returned from the voyage laden with plunder. (NOTE: no plural) ■ verb 1. to steal goods by force, especially in wartime ○ Many of the exhibits in the museum were plundered from foreign palaces and churches. 2. to take or use something that belongs to someone else for your own benefit ○ Half the ideas in his book were plundered from a book that came out in 1978.

plunge /plʌndʒ/ noun □ to take the plunge to decide suddenly to do something ○ I've decided to take the plunge and buy a satellite dish. ■ verb 1. to throw yourself into water ○ He plunged into the river to rescue the little boy. 2. to fall sharply ○ Share prices plunged on the news of the devaluation.

plunger /'plændʒə/ noun 1. a device which goes up and down in a cylinder ○ He pressed the plunger to set off the explosion. 2. a handle with a soft rubber cup at the end, used for clearing blocked pipes by suction ○ He tried to unblock the drain with a plunger.

pluperfect /'plu:pə:fekt/ noun same as past perfect

plural /'plu:ərəl/ adj, noun (in grammar) (which is) the form of a word showing that there is more than one ○ Does 'government' take a singular or plural verb? ○ What's the plural of 'mouse'? ○ The verb should be in the plural after 'programs'.

plurality /'plu:ə'rælti/ noun 1. US a larger number of votes than that received by any other candidate in an election ○ He received a plurality of the votes cast. 2. more than one of something ○ We are aiming to contact a plurality of social groups.

① plus /pləs/ prep 1. added to ○ His salary plus commission comes to more than £25,000. (NOTE: In calculations plus is usually shown by the sign $+ : 10 + 4 = 14$: say 'ten plus four equals fourteen.') 2. more than \square houses valued at £200,000 plus houses valued at over £200,000 \blacksquare adj favourable, good and profitable \circ Being able to drive is certainly a plus factor. \square on the plus side as a favourable point \circ The weather wasn't very good, but on the plus side, it didn't actually rain. \blacksquare noun a favourable sign, a good or favourable point \circ It's a definite plus that the hotel has room service.

plush /plʌʃ/ noun a soft cloth for furnishings, with a pile like velvet \circ curtains made of red plush \blacksquare adj luxurious (informal) \circ The car's got a very plush interior. \circ They always stay at the plushest hotel they can find. Synonym lush (NOTE: plusher – plushest) plus sign /plʌs sain/ noun a sign (+) meaning more than plutonium /plu: 'taʊnɪəm/ noun a radioactive element, also used to produce nuclear power ply /plaɪ/ noun 1. one thickness of wood in plywood \circ The table top is made of four-ply wood. 2. a strand of wool made up of a certain number of threads \circ three-ply wool \blacksquare verb 1. to go backwards and forwards \circ The little ferry plies between Birkenhead and Liverpool. 2. \square to ply someone with something to keep giving someone something to eat, drink, etc. \circ They plied the boys with drink and cigarettes, and then started asking them questions.

plywood /'plaɪwod/ noun a sheet of wood made of several thin layers of wood stuck together (NOTE: no plural)

PM abbr prime minister, post mortem

① p.m. /'pi: 'em/ adv in the afternoon, after midday \circ The exhibition is open from 10 a.m. to 5.30 p.m. \circ If you phone New York after 6 p.m. the calls are at a cheaper rate. (NOTE: The US spelling is P.M.)

PMS abbr premenstrual syndrome

PMT abbr premenstrual tension pneumatic /nu: 'mætɪk/ adj driven by compressed air pneumatic drill /nu: 'mætɪk 'drɪl/ noun a machine driven by compressed air, used for making holes, e.g. in cement or in road surfaces pneumonia /nu: 'məʊniə/ noun an illness caused by inflammation of a lung, where the lung becomes filled with fluid

② PO abbr post office

poach /pəʊtʃ/ verb 1. to cook food, e.g. eggs without their shells, or fish, in gently boiling water \circ Would you like your eggs boiled or poached? \circ They served lightly poached salmon as a first course. 2. to catch game, i.e. animals, birds or fish, illegally on someone else's land \circ The gamekeeper suspected that someone was poaching his rabbits. 3. to persuade an employee to leave his or her job and work for another employer \circ They poached our best salesman.

poacher /'pəʊtʃə/ noun a person who catches game illegally. Synonym thief

PO Box number /'pi: 'əʊ bɒks ,nʌmbr/ noun a reference number given for delivering mail to a post office, so as not to give the actual address of the person who will receive it

② pocket /'pɒkit/ noun 1. one of several little bags sewn into the inside of a piece of clothing such as a coat, in which you can keep things, e.g. money, handkerchief or keys \circ She looked in all her pockets but couldn't find her keys. \circ He was leaning against a fence with his hands in his pockets.

2. \square to be £25 in pocket to have made a profit of £25 \circ When we counted the takings we found we were over £100 in pocket. \square to be out of pocket having lost money which you paid personally \circ If you are out of pocket you can always get some cash from the accounts department. \circ Nobody paid my expenses, so I was £100 out of pocket at the end of the day. \square to be £25 out of pocket to have lost £25 \circ The lunch left him £25 out of pocket. 3. a hole with a small bag at each corner and side of a billiard table \circ The black ball stopped at the edge of the pocket. 4. a small patch or small group in a certain place \circ The country has been taken over, but there are still pockets of resistance in some mountain areas. \blacksquare verb to put something in your pocket, to keep something \circ At the end of the jumble sale, she pocketed all the money.

pocketbook /'pɒkitbuk/ noun a small bag which a woman carries to hold things, e.g. money, pens and handkerchief \circ My pocketbook was stolen and I'm left without any money. (NOTE: The British term is handbag.) pocket calculator /,pɒkit 'kælkjuleɪtə/ noun a small calculator which you can put in your pocket pocketful /'pɒkitfʊl/ noun an amount contained in a pocket

③ pocket money /'pɒkit 'mʌni/ noun money which parents give to their children each week pockmarked /'pɒkma:kt/ adj covered with round scars. Synonym pitted pod /pɒd/ noun 1. a long green tube in which peas or beans grow \circ Mangetout peas are eaten in their pods. 2. a glass cabin with seats for travellers \circ We all got into a pod on the London Eye.

podgy /'pɒdʒi/ adj quite fat (NOTE: podgier – podgiest) podiatrist /pəʊ'daɪətrɪst/ noun a person who looks after people's feet and treats diseases of the feet podium /'pəʊdiəm/ noun a small raised platform, e.g. for winning sportsmen or orchestral conductors, to stand on. Synonym dais

③ poem /'pəʊɪm/ noun a piece of writing, with words carefully chosen to sound attractive and convey themes and emotions, set out in lines usually of a regular length which sometimes end in words which rhyme ○ He wrote a long poem about an old sailor. ○ The poem about the First World War was set to music by Britten. Antonym prose

③ poet /'pəʊɪt/ noun a person who writes poems. Synonym writer poetically /pəʊ'etɪklɪ/ adv in a poetic way

③ poetry /'pəʊətri/ noun poems taken as a type of literature ○ Reading poetry makes me cry. ○ This is a good example of German poetry. Antonym prose (NOTE: no plural)

poignancy /'pɔɪnʃənsɪ/ noun sadness, conveying a feeling of deep emotion. Synonym pathos poignant /'pɔɪnʃənt/ adj making you sad poignantly /'pɔɪnʃəntli/ adv sadly, in a way which makes you sad

① point /pɔɪnt/ noun 1. a sharp end of something long ○ The point of my pencil has broken. ○ The stick has a very sharp point. 2. a particular place ○ The path led us for miles through the woods and in the end we came back to the point where we started from. ○ We had reached a point 2,000 m above sea level. 3. a particular moment in time ○ From that point on, things began to change. ○ At what point did you decide to resign? □ at that point at that moment ○ All the lights went off at that point. □ at this point in time at this particular moment ○ At this point in time, it is not possible for me to answer reporters' questions. □ on the point of doing something just about to do something ○ I was on the point of phoning you. 4. a meaning or reason ○ There's no point in asking them to pay – they haven't any money. ○ The main point of the meeting is to see how we can continue to run the centre without a grant. ○ What's the point of doing the same thing all over again? □ I see your point I see what you mean ○ I see your point, but there are other factors to be considered. ○ I can't see the point of doing that. 5. a score in a game ○ Their team scored three points. ○ In rugby, a try counts as five points. 6. a temperature ○ What's the boiling point of water?

■ verb 1. to aim a gun or your finger at something ○ The teacher is pointing at you. ○ It's rude to point at people. ○ Don't point that gun at me – it might go off. ○ The guide pointed to the map to show where we were. 2.

to put mortar between bricks in a completed wall, so as to make the surface smooth ○ After the wall was built they pointed it with grey mortar.

point-blank /,pɔɪnt 'blæŋk/ adj □ at point-blank range at very close range ○ He was shot at point-blank range. ■ adv sharply, directly and rudely ○ I told him point-blank that his work was no good.

② pointed /'pɔɪntɪd/ adj 1. sharpened to a sharp point ○ a pointed stick 2. sharp and critical ○ He made some very pointed remarks about the waitress.

pointedly /'pɔɪntɪdlɪ/ adv in a pointed way

pointer /'pɔɪntə/ noun 1. something which points ○ The pointer moved quickly around the dial. ○ He used a pointer to show us our positions on the wall map. 2. a piece of advice or information ○ She asked her teacher for some pointers to help her with her project. 3. a dog which is trained to point out game with its nose ○ The pointer suddenly stopped, staring at a clump of bushes.

pointless /'pɔɪntləs/ adj with no sense. Synonym useless. Antonym useful

① point of view /,pɔɪnt əv 'vju:/ noun a particular way of thinking about something. Synonym opinion

③ point out /,pɔɪnt 'aut/ verb 1. to show something ○ The tour guide will point out the main things to see in the town. ○ The report points out the mistakes made by the agency over the last few years. 2. to give a point of view ○ She pointed out that the children in her class were better behaved than in previous years.

points /'pɔɪnts/ plural noun movable rails which allow trains to cross from one line to another point up /,pɔɪnt 'ʌp/ verb to make something seem very obvious. Synonym emphasise poise /'pɔɪz/ noun balance, a graceful way of holding your head or of standing upright ○ She has the grace and poise of a ballet dancer. ■ verb □ to be poised to do something to be ready to do something ○ The army is poised to capture the city. ○ The tiger was poised to spring on the antelope.

③ poison /'pɔɪz(ə)n/ noun a substance which kills or makes you ill if it is swallowed or if it gets into the blood ○ There's enough poison in this bottle to kill the whole town. ○ Don't drink that – it's poison. ■ verb 1. to kill someone with poison ○ She was accused of poisoning her husband. 2. to put poison in something ○ He didn't know the wine was poisoned. ○ Chemicals from the factory are poisoning the river.

③ poisoning /'pɔɪz(ə)nɪŋ/ noun 1. the act of taking poison into your system 2. the act of using poison to kill or harm people ○ He was accused of the poisoning of several old ladies.

③ poisonous /'pɔɪz(ə)nəs/ adj which can kill or harm people or animals with poison

③ poke /pəʊk/ noun a jab with something sharp ○ He got a poke in the eye in the street from someone's umbrella. Synonym stab ■ verb 1. to push a person or an animal with your finger or with a stick ○ He poked the pig with his stick. 2. □ to poke fun at someone or something to laugh at someone or something ○ He poked fun at the maths teacher. ○ She poked fun at his odd hat.

poker /'pəʊkə/ noun 1. a long metal rod for stirring up a fire ○ She stirred the dying fire with the poker. 2. a card game in which the players gamble on the cards in their hands, at the same time trying to hide their position from the other players ○ They played poker until 3 o'clock in the morning. ○ He won £25 at poker.

poker-faced /'pəʊkə ,feɪst/ adj not showing any feeling. Antonym expressive poky /'pəʊkɪ/ adj cramped or small ○ They have a poky little flat in the centre of London.

③ polar /'pəʊlərə/ adj referring to the North Pole or the South Pole polar bear /,pəʊlər 'beə/ noun a big white bear which lives in the snow near the North Pole polarisation /,pəʊlərər'zeɪʃ(ə)n/, polarization noun 1. an attraction around two opposite poles 2. a division into groups polarise /'pəʊləraɪz/, polarize verb to divide people into two opposite groups. Synonym diverge. Antonym unite

Polaroid /'pəʊlərəɪd/ trademark a camera which produces photographs instantly

① pole /pəʊl/ noun 1. a long wooden or metal rod 2. one of the two opposing ends of a magnet □ they are poles apart they are very different, they will never come to an agreement 3. one of the points at each end of the Earth's axis

① Pole /pəʊl/ noun a person from Poland ○ Pope John Paul II is a Pole.

polemic /pə'lemlɪk/ noun 1. a fierce written or spoken attack 2. a style of making fierce attacks ○ His very effective use of polemic in his speeches.

polemical /pə'lemlɪk(ə)l/ adj controversial, likely to start an argument (formal)

③ pole position /,pəʊl pə'zɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the position of the first car at the start of a race. Antonym rear pole star /'pəʊl sta:/ noun a star which appears to be over the North Pole (literary) pole vault /'pəʊl vɔlt/ noun a sport where you have to jump over a high bar with the help of a long pole

① police /pə'li:s/ noun an organisation which controls traffic, tries to stop crime and tries to catch criminals ○ The police are looking for the driver of the car. ○ The police emergency number is 999. ○ Call the police – I've just seen someone drive off in my car. ■ verb to make sure that rules or laws are obeyed ○ We need more constables to police the area. ○ The problem is how to police the UN resolutions.

③ police constable /pə'li:s ,kʌnstəb(ə)l/ noun an ordinary member of the police (NOTE: also used as a title before a name: Police Constable John Smith; usually shortened to PC or WPC for women police constables: PC John Smith)

police force /pə'li:s fɔ:s/ noun the group of police in a certain area policeman /pə'li:smən/ noun a man who is an ordinary member of the police (NOTE: The plural is policemen.)

③ police officer /pə'li:s ,ɔ:fɪsə/ noun a member of the police force police state /pə'li:s steɪt/ noun a country whose government controls the freedom of the people through the police

③ police station /pə'li:s ,steɪʃ(ə)n/ noun a building with the offices of a particular local police force policewoman /pə'li:swomən/ noun a woman who is an ordinary member of the police (NOTE: The plural is policewomen.)

① policy /'pɒlɪsi/ noun 1. decisions on the general way of doing something ○ government policy on wages or government wages policy ○ It is not our policy to give details of employees over the phone. ○ People voted Labour because they liked their policies. 2. □ a comprehensive or an all-in policy an insurance which covers all risks □ to take out a policy to sign the contract for an insurance and start paying the premiums ○ She took out a house insurance policy.

policy-making /'pɒlɪsimeɪkɪŋ/ noun the process of deciding what the policies of a party or government should be ○ The committee reports to the Cabinet, but plays no part in actual policy-making. ■ adj which makes policy decisions ○ a policy-making committee polio /'pəʊliəʊl/ noun ○ She caught polio when she was ten years old.

poliomyelitis /,pəʊliəʊ,maɪə'laitɪs/ noun full form of polio

③ polish /'pɒlɪʃ/ noun 1. a substance used to make things shiny ○ Wash the car thoroughly before you put the polish on. □ floor polish wax used to make wooden floors shiny □ furniture polish wax used to make furniture shiny 2. a shiny surface ○ Look at the polish on this table. 3. the action of rubbing something to make it shiny ○ Give the table a polish before our friends arrive.

(NOTE: The plural is polishes.) ■ verb to rub something to make it shiny ○ He polished his shoes until they shone.

① Polish /'pɔliʃ/ adj referring to Poland ○ The Polish Army joined in the manoeuvres. ■ noun the language spoken in Poland ○ I know three words of Polish. ○ You will need an English-Polish phrasebook if you're visiting Warsaw.

polished /'poliʃt/ adj 1. shiny ○ Be careful, that polished floor is very slippery. 2. made perfect by practice ○ He gave a polished performance as Hamlet. 3. very polite, with sophisticated manners ○ She's a very polished young lady, who has obviously been taught how to speak in public.

③ polish off /,poliʃ 'ɒf/ verb 1. to finish off a job quickly ○ He polished off his essay in half an hour. 2. to eat a meal quickly ○ They polished off the scrambled eggs and then asked for baked beans.

③ polish up /,poliʃ 'ʌp/ verb to improve a skill

③ polite /pɔ'lait/ adj respectful, not rude ○ Sales staff should be polite to customers. (NOTE: politer – politest)

politely /pɔ'laitli/ adv in a respectful way politeness /pɔ'laitnəs/ noun good manners. Antonym rudeness

① political /pɔ'liti:k(ə)l/ adj referring to government or to party politics ○ I don't want to get involved in a political argument. ○ She gave up her political career when she had the children.

political asylum /pɔ'liti:k(ə)l ə'saɪləm/ noun the right to stay in another country and be protected by its government because for political reasons it would be dangerous for you to return to your own country political correctness /pɔ'liti:k(ə)l kə'rektnəs/ noun acting in an exaggerated way to avoid giving offence for racial, sexist or other reasons politically correct /pɔ'liti:kli kə'rekt/ adj done in an exaggerated way to avoid giving offence for racial, sexist or other reasons. Abbr PC political party /pɔ'liti:k(ə)l ,pa:ti/ noun an organised group of people who have the same beliefs about how a country should be governed. Compare party political political patronage /pɔ'liti:k(ə)l 'pa:tnerɪdʒ/ noun the right to give government posts or honours to people who have supported you political prisoner /pɔ'liti:k(ə)l 'priz(ə)nə/ noun a person kept in prison because he or she is an opponent of the political party in power political science /pə,liti:k(ə)l 'saɪəns/ noun the study of governments and their use of political power political scientist /pə,liti:k(ə)l 'saɪəntist/ noun a person who studies political science political suicide /pə,liti:k(ə)l 'su:saɪd/ noun an action which ends your political career

② politician /,pɒlɪ'ti:ʃn/ noun a person who works in politics, especially a Member of Parliament ○ Politicians from all parties have welcomed the report.

② politics /'pɒliti:kz/ plural noun the ideas and methods used in governing a country. ♦ party politics ■ noun the study of how countries are governed ○ He studied politics and economics at university.

polka /'pɒlkə/ noun a type of lively dance

③ poll /pəʊl/ noun 1. a vote or the act of voting ○ We are still waiting for the results of yesterday's poll. ○ A poll of factory workers showed that more than 50% supported the union's demands. 2. the number of votes cast in an election ○ The poll was lower than usual – only 35% of the voters bothered to vote. 3. □ to go to the polls to vote in an election ○ The people of France go to the polls next Sunday to elect a new president. ■ verb 1. to get a certain number of votes in an election ○ She polled more than ten thousand votes. 2. □ to poll a sample of the population to ask a sample group of people what they feel about something pollen /'pɒlən/ noun a yellow powder on the stamens of a flower which touches part of a female flower and so creates seeds pollen count /'pɒlən kaʊnt/ noun a number showing the amount of pollen in the air, which can cause hay fever pollinate /'pɒlinet/ verb to fertilise a plant with pollen. Synonym fertilise pollination /,pɒlɪ'neɪʃn/ noun the act of fertilising a plant with pollen. Synonym fertilisation polling /'pəʊlin/ noun the act of voting in an election polling booth /'pəʊlin bu:θ/ noun a small enclosed space in a polling station, where the voter goes to mark his or her ballot paper in private polling day /'pəʊlin deɪ/ noun a day when an election is held polling station /'pəʊlin ,steɪʃn/ noun a place where you vote in an election, usually in a public building such as a library or school polls /pəʊlz/ plural noun places where people vote in an election pollster /'pəʊlstə/ noun an expert in understanding what polls mean pollutant /pə'lju:t(ə)nt/ noun a substance which pollutes

③ pollute /pə'lju:t/ verb to make the environment dirty by discharging harmful substances into it polluted /pə'lju:tɪd/ adj made dirty

② pollution /pə'lju:ʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. the action of making the environment dirty ○ Pollution of the atmosphere has increased over the last 50 years. 2. dirty or harmful materials that are put into the environment ○ It took six months to clean up the oil pollution on the beaches. ○ The pollution in the centre of town is so bad that people have started wearing face masks.

polo /'pəʊləʊ/ noun a ball game in which two teams ride on ponies, trying to hit a small hard ball with clubs like long hammers ○ There's a polo match in the park this afternoon. ○ He plays polo every Saturday.

polo shirt /'pəʊləʊ ſɜ:t/ noun a shirt with short sleeves, a collar and three or four buttons at the neck poly- /'pɒli/ prefix several polyester /,pɒli'ɛſtə/ noun a type of synthetic fibre used especially to make clothing polygamous /pə'ligəməs/ adj referring to polygamy □ a polygamous society a social group in which the men are allowed to have more than one wife at a time polygamy /pə'ligəmi/ noun the custom of having several wives at the same time polyglot /'pɒlɪglɒt/ adj speaking or writing several languages (formal) ○ Our polyglot guide had to translate everything into three or four languages. ■ noun a person who speaks several languages ○ It's useful to have a polyglot on the staff.

polygon /'pɒlɪgən/ noun a geometrical figure with more than three sides polygonal /pə'ligənl/ adj with several sides polymer /'pɒlɪmə/ noun a natural or artificial chemical compound whose large molecules are made of smaller molecules combined in repeated groups polystyrene /,poli'staɪrən/ noun a light plastic used as a heat insulator or as packing material polysyllabic /,poliſi'laebɪk/ adj with several syllables polysyllable /'poliſiſəb(ə)l/ noun a word with several syllables. Antonym monosyllable polytechnic /,poli'teknɪk/ noun an educational establishment for school-leavers, giving degrees, especially in technical subjects, now replaced in Britain by universities polythene /'poliθi:n/ noun a type of strong transparent plastic used in thin sheets

polyunsaturated /,pɒliʌn'sætʃəreɪtɪd/ adj 1. which is capable of absorbing more hydrogen 2. (of fat) which is less likely to be converted into cholesterol in the body ○ Vegetable oils and fish oils are polyunsaturated.

polyurethane /,pɒli'juərɪθeɪn/ noun a type of plastic used in paints

Pom /'pɒm/ noun an English person (Australian slang) □ whingeing Poms English people who go to live in Australia and then complain about life there pomegranate /'pɒmigrænɪt/ noun a tropical fruit with many black seeds covered in juicy red flesh pomp /'pɒmp/ noun a splendid ceremony. Antonym understatement (NOTE: no plural) pomposity /'pɒm'pɒſitɪ/ noun the fact of being pompous pompous /'pɒmpu:s/ adj using very dignified language to make yourself sound more important (disapproving)

③ pond /'pɒnd/ noun a small lake. Synonym pool ponder /'pɒndə/ verb to think deeply about something ponderous /'pɒnd(ə)rəs/ adj 1. very heavy and slow-moving ○ She walked with ponderous steps across the stage. ○ He imitated the ponderous way of walking of a Japanese wrestler. 2. (of a style) heavy and dull ○ The piece is supposed to be brisk and light-hearted and this CD makes it sound ponderous and slow.

pong /pɒŋ/ (informal) noun an unpleasant smell ○ What's that terrible pong in here? Synonym stink ■ verb to make an unpleasant smell ○ This cheese doesn't half pong!

pontificate /pon'tɪft,keɪt/ verb to give your opinion on something in a way which suggests that you believe your opinion is the only right one (formal) pony /'pəuni/ noun a small horse (NOTE: The plural is ponies.)

ponytail /'pənɪteɪl/ noun a hairstyle where your hair is tied at the back and falls loosely poo /pu:/ noun faeces, solid waste matter passed from the body (informal; children's slang) poodle /'pu:d(ə)l/ noun a type of curly-haired dog, with its fur usually cut in a curious way pooh-pooh /pu: 'pu:/ verb to ridicule something. Antonym praise

② pool /pu:/ noun 1. a small lake ○ He dived in and swam across the mountain pool. ○ We looked for shrimps in the rock pools. 2. a large bath of water for swimming in ○ an outdoor pool ○ a heated pool ○ We have a little swimming pool in the garden. ○ He

swam two lengths of the pool. 3. an area of water or other liquid ○ She stared at the pool of blood on the floor. 4. a group in which people share facilities ○ We belong to a pool of people who baby-sit for one another. 5. a supply of something ready to be used ○ We can draw on a pool of unemployed talent. 6. a game rather like snooker, where you hit balls into pockets using a long stick called a 'cue' ○ We were playing pool in the bar. ■ verb □ to pool resources to group resources together ○ The only way we can afford it will be to pool our resources.

① poor /pɔ:/ adj 1. with little or no money ○ The family is very poor now that both parents have no work. ○ This is one of the poorest countries in Africa. 2. □ poor in something with very little of something ○ The soil in my garden is very poor in nutrients. 3. not very good ○ Vines can grow even in poor soil. ○ They were selling off poor quality vegetables at a cheap price. ○ She's been in poor health for some months. 4. showing you are sorry ○ Poor old you! – Having to stay at home and finish your homework while we go to the pictures. ○ My poor legs, after climbing up the mountain! (NOTE: poorer – poorest) poorly /'pɔ:li/ adv in quite a bad way ○ The offices are poorly laid out. ○ The job is very poorly paid. □ poorly paid staff staff with low wages ■ adj ill (informal) ○ She felt quite poorly and had to go home. ○ He was very poorly on Monday, but by the end of the week he was a little better. Synonym ill

③ pop /pɒp/ noun 1. a noise like a cork coming out of a bottle ○ There was a pop as she lit the gas. □ to go pop to make a noise like a cork coming out of a bottle ○ The car engine went pop and we stopped suddenly. ○ The balloon landed on the candles and went pop. 2. a fizzy drink ○ a bottle of pop 3. US a name for a father ○ I'll ask my Pop if we can borrow his ladder. ■ verb 1. to make a noise like 'pop' ○ Champagne corks were popping as the result was announced. 2. to go somewhere quickly ○ I'll just pop down to the town. ○ He popped into the chemist's. ○ I'm just popping round to Jane's. ○ I'd only popped out for a moment. 3. to put something somewhere quickly ○ Pop the pie in the microwave for three minutes. (NOTE: popping – popped) popcorn /'pɒpkɔ:n/ noun the seed of a type of maize plant which is heated until it bursts and is eaten as a snack

Pope /pəʊp/ noun the head of the Roman Catholic Church

pop group /'pɒp gru:p/ noun a group of singers and musicians who play pop songs poplar /'pɒplə/ noun a common tall and slender tree poplin /'pɒplɪn/ noun a strong cotton cloth used for making shirts

③ pop music /'pɒp ,mju:zɪk/ noun modern popular music poppadom /'pɒpədɒm/ noun a thin round crisp Indian pancake, fried or grilled

③ popper /'pɒpə/ noun a little metal fastener for clothes, in two parts which you press to attach together (NOTE: The US term is snap.)

poppy /'pɒpi/ noun a common red wild flower which often grows in fields (NOTE: The plural is poppies.)

populace /'pɒpjʊləs/ noun □ the populace the ordinary people (formal) ○ The rest of the populace envied the privileges of the rich.

① popular /'pɒpjʊlə/ adj 1. liked by a lot of people ○ The department store is popular with young mothers. ○ The South Coast is the most popular area for holidays. 2. referring to the mass of ordinary people ○ He was elected by popular vote. ○ It is a popular belief that it is unlucky to walk under a ladder.

popularise /'pɒpjʊləraɪz/, popularize verb to make something understood or liked by a lot of people popularity /,pɒpjʊ'lærɪtɪ/ noun the fact of being liked by a lot of people. Synonym admiration. Antonym infamy popularly /'pɒpjʊləli/ adv 1. by most people ○ She was popularly supposed to possess magic powers. 2. by the ordinary people ○ The plant popularly known as 'old man's beard' is in fact wild clematis.

populate /'pɒpjuleɪt/ verb 1. to go and live in an area ○ Settlers moved away from the coast and began to populate the interior. ○ The area is populated by peasant farmers. 2. to put people to live in an area ○ The king decided to populate the colony with retired soldiers.

populated /'pɒpjuleɪtɪd/ adj with a particular level of population

① population /,pɒpjʊ'leɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the number of people who live in a place ○ The population of the country is 60 million. ○ Paris has a population of over three million.

populist /'pɒpjʊlist/ adj believing that ordinary people should have more say in government ○ The movement was led by a young populist politician. ○ It was a rousing populist speech. Synonym mainstream. Antonym elitist ■ noun a person who believes that ordinary people should have more say in government ○ The populists in the party supported the lowering of the voting age.

populous /'pɒpjʊləs/ adj densely populated. Synonym crowded. Antonym desolate pop-up /'pɒp ʌp/ adj (of a book) with cut-out pictures that stand up when the book is opened ◎ a children's pop-up book pop-up menu /,pɒp ʌp 'menju:/ noun a list of possible actions shown on a computer screen when you press a key porcelain /'pɔ:s(ə)lin/ noun fine china porch /pɔ:tʃ/ noun 1. a sheltered area joined onto a doorway ◎ You weren't in when I called, so I left the parcel in the porch. 2. US a balcony at ground level around a house ◎ They like to sit out on the porch on summer evenings. (NOTE: The plural is porches.)

porcupine /'pɔ:kjupain/ noun an American rodent with long sharp spikes covering its body pore /pɔ:/ noun a tiny hole in the skin or in a leaf, through which moisture such as sweat passes ◎ I was sweating from every pore as I waited for the results of the test. ◎ Water evaporates from the pores of the leaves. ■ verb ◻ to pore over something to look very closely at something such as a book ◎ He spent days in the library poring over old documents.

pork /pɔ:k/ noun fresh meat from a pig, eaten cooked (NOTE: no plural. Note also that salted or smoked meat from a pig is ham or bacon.)

porn /pɔ:n/ noun pornography (informal) pornographic /,pɔ:nə'græfɪk/ adj obscene, aiming to arouse sexual excitement pornography /pɔ:n'ndgræfɪ/ noun books, films, etc., with obscene subject matter porous /'pɔ:rsəs/ adj which has many little holes in it, allowing water or air to seep through slowly. Synonym absorbent porpoise /'pɔ:pɪs/ noun a sea animal similar to a dolphin, which swims in groups (NOTE: A group of them is a school of porpoises.)

porridge /'pɔ:rdʒ/ noun oatmeal cooked in water or milk, eaten for breakfast (NOTE: no plural)

② port /pɔ:t/ noun 1. a harbour, or a town with a harbour ◎ a fishing port ◎ The ship is due in port on Tuesday. ◎ We left port at 12.00. ◻ to call at a port to stop at a port to load or unload cargo 2. on a ship or aircraft, the left side when looking forwards ◎ Passengers sitting on the port side of the plane can see Tower Bridge. ◎ The ship turned to port to avoid the iceberg. 3. an opening in a computer for plugging in an attachment ◎ a mouse port 4. a strong sweet wine from Portugal ◎ At the end of the meal the port was passed round. 5. an opening in a ship's side for a gun ◎ The galleon sank when her gun ports went below the surface of the sea.

③ portable /'pɔ:təb(ə)l/ adj which can be carried ◎ He used his portable computer on the plane. ◎ Portable phones won't work in the Underground. ■ noun a small computer which can be carried ◎ I keyboard all my orders on my portable.

portal /'pɔ:t(ə)l/ noun an imposing entrance gate (literary) portent /'pɔ:tənt/ noun a warning that something unpleasant is going to happen (literary)

porter /'pɔ:tə/ noun 1. a person who carries luggage for travellers at a railway station ◎ Find a porter to help us with all this luggage. 2. a person who does general work in a hospital, including moving the patients around ◎ The nurse asked a porter to fetch a wheelchair. 3. a doorkeeper in a building such as a hotel or a block of flats ◎ Ask the porter if there have been any messages for us.

③ portfolio /pɔ:t'fɔliəʊ/ noun 1. a large cardboard case for carrying something, e.g. drawings or designs ◎ He brought a portfolio of samples of his work. 2. ◻ a portfolio of shares all the shares owned by someone 3. a minister's position in a government ◻ she's taken over the defence portfolio she has become Minister of Defence porthole /'pɔ:θəʊl/ noun a round window in the side of a ship

portico /'pɔ:tɪkəʊ/ noun a roof supported by columns forming a porch in front of the entrance to a building (NOTE: The plural is porticoes or porticos.)

portion /'pɔ:ʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. a part ◎ This is only a small portion of the material we collected. ◎ Our carriage was in the rear portion of the train. 2. a serving of food, usually for one person ◎ The portions in that French restaurant are tiny. ◎ Ask the waiter if they serve children's portions. ■ verb ◻ to portion something out to share something out ◎ We portioned out the money between the four of us.

portly /'pɔ:tlɪ/ adj rather fat. Synonym overweight (NOTE: portlier – portliest) port of call /,pɔ:t əv 'kɔ:l/ noun a port at which a ship stops portrait /'pɔ:tɪtrɪt/ noun a painting or photograph of a person ◎ He has painted a portrait of the Queen. ◎ Old portraits of members of the family lined the walls of the dining room. Synonym picture portray /'pɔ:t'reɪ/ verb to paint or to describe a scene or a person. Synonym depict portrayal /pɔ:t'reɪəl/ noun the description of a scene or person

① Portuguese /,pɔ:tɪs'ju:gi:z/ adj referring to Portugal ◎ a Portuguese explorer ■ noun 1. a person from Portugal ◎ She married a Portuguese. ◻ the Portuguese people from Portugal 2. the language spoken in countries such as Portugal and Brazil ○ I don't know the word for it in Portuguese.

③ pose /pəʊz/ noun 1. a way of standing sitting or lying ○ She is painted standing in an elegant pose. ○ He struck a funny pose as I was taking the photo. 2. a way of behaving which is just a pretence ○ He'd like you to think he's an expert but it's just a pose. ■ verb 1. □ to pose for someone to stand or sit still while someone paints or photographs you ○ He posed for her in his uniform. 2. to pretend to be something ○ He got into the prison by posing as a doctor. 3. to set a problem or put a question ○ What to do with illegal immigrants poses a problem for the immigration services.

posh /pɒʃ/ adj 1. very smart ○ I decided I'd better wear my poshest frock to the wedding. ○ We ate in a really posh restaurant. 2. belonging to a high social class ○ He puts on a posh voice when he's talking on the phone. (NOTE: posher – poshest)

① position /pə'zɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. a place where someone or something is ○ From his position on the roof he can see the whole of the street. ○ The ship's last known position was 200 miles east of Bermuda. 2. a job ○ The sales manager has a key position in the firm. ○ He's going to apply for a position as manager. ○ We have several positions vacant. 3. a situation or state of affairs ○ What is the company's cash position? 4. □ to be in a position to do something to be able to do something ○ I am not in a position to answer your question at this point in time. ■ verb to put or place someone or something in a position ○ She positioned herself near the exit.

② positive /'pɒzɪtɪv/ adj 1. meaning 'yes' ○ a positive answer Antonym negative 2. certain or sure ○ I'm positive I put the key in my pocket. ○ Are you positive he said six o'clock? 3. plus, more than zero ○ a positive quantity Antonym negative 4. (in a test) showing that something is there ○ The cancer test was positive. Antonym negative ■ noun a photograph printed from a negative, where the light and dark appear as they are in nature positively /'pɒzɪtɪvli/ adv absolutely

posse /'pɒsɪ/ noun 1. especially US a group of armed men or police ○ The sheriff organised a posse to hunt down the outlaws. 2. a group of people ○ A posse of TV reporters followed them to their hotel.

③ possess /pə'zes/ verb 1. to own ○ They possess several farms in the south of the country. ○ He lost all he possessed in the fire. 2. to occupy someone's mind and influence their behaviour ○ She was possessed by fear when she realised the baby wasn't breathing. □ what possessed him to do it?

why on earth did he do it? 3. (of an evil spirit) to control someone in mind and body possessed /pə'zest/ adj controlled by an evil spirit □ like a man possessed like a madman ○ He was driving like a man possessed.

③ possession /pə'zeʃ(ə)n/ noun ownership ○ When he couldn't keep up the mortgage payments the bank took possession of the house. □ in someone's possession being held by someone ○ The jewellery came into my possession when my mother died.

possessions /pə'zeʃ(ə)nz/ plural noun things which you own possessive /pə'zesɪv/ adj treating someone or something as if he or she owns him, her or it ○ His girlfriend's very possessive and hates it when he goes out with his mates. ○ He gets very possessive about his gold pen and won't let anyone else use it.

possessive pronoun /pə'zesɪv prə'nəʊn/ noun (in grammar) a pronoun e.g. 'his' or 'my', which indicates possession ② possibility /,pɒs'ɪbɪlɪtɪ/ noun the fact of being likely to happen ○ Is there any possibility of getting a ticket to the show? ○ There is always the possibility that the plane will be early. ○ There is no possibility of the bank lending us any more money. □ the plan has possibilities the plan may well work

① possible /'pɒsɪb(ə)l/ adj 1. able to be done ○ She agreed the changes were possible. 2. able to be or happen but not certain ○ That field is a possible site for the factory. ○ It is possible that the plane has been delayed. 3. used with a superlative for emphasis ○ A bicycle is the cheapest possible way of getting round the town. □ as...as possible used for emphasis ○ Please do it as quickly as possible. ○ I want to go as far away as possible for my holiday. ○ They will need as much time as possible to finish the job.

① possibly /'pɒsɪblɪ/ adv 1. perhaps ○ The meeting will possibly finish late. ○ January had possibly the worst snowstorms we have ever seen. 2. used with 'can' or 'can't' to make a phrase stronger ○ You can't possibly eat twenty-two pancakes! ○ How can you possibly expect me to do all that work in one day?

① post /pəʊst/ noun 1. a long piece of wood or metal put in the ground ○ The fence is attached to concrete posts. ○ His shot hit the post. 2. a job ○ He applied for a post in the sales department. ○ We have three posts vacant. ○ They advertised the post in 'The Times'. 3. letters and parcels sent ○ The morning post comes around nine o'clock. ○ There were no cheques in this morning's post. ○ Has the post arrived yet? □ to open the post to open the envelopes and parcels which have arrived ○ She usually opens the post before the rest of the staff arrive. 4. the system of sending letters and parcels ○ It is easier to send the parcel by post than to deliver it by hand. 5. a place where a sentry is on duty ○ He was accused of having left his post. 6. a small settlement far from civilisation ○ He was sent to a little trading post in the north of Canada. 7. □ the last post a bugle call to commemorate the dead ■ verb 1. to send a letter or parcel ○ Don't forget to post your Christmas cards. ○ The letter should have arrived by now – we posted it ten days ago. □ to keep someone posted to keep someone informed ○ Please keep us posted about your holiday arrangements. 2. to send someone to another place, often overseas, to work ○ He was posted to an air base in East Anglia. ○ She has been posted overseas. (NOTE: Referring to the postal services, American English only uses mail where British English uses both mail and post.)

post- /'pəʊst/ prefix later than or after ○ post-Christmas sales ○ post-holiday gloom ③ postage /'pəʊstɪdʒ/ noun money which you pay to send something by post postage stamp /'pəʊstɪdʒ stæmp/ noun a piece of paper which you buy and stick on a letter or parcel to pay for it to be sent on by the post office

③ postal /'pəʊst(ə)l/ adj referring to the post postal ballot /'pəʊst(ə)l ,bælət/ noun an election where the votes are sent by post postal order /'pəʊst(ə)l ,ɔ:də/ noun a paper which you can buy for sending small amounts of money through the post postal vote /'pəʊst(ə)l vəʊt/ noun 1. same as postal ballot ○ The result of the postal vote will be known next week. 2. a vote which a voter sends in by post ○ I've applied to have a postal vote.

postbag /'pəʊstbæg/ noun letters sent, e.g. to a radio programme, TV show or MP

③ postbox /'pəʊstbɒks/ noun a box into which you can put letters, which will then be collected and sent on by the post office

③ postcard /'pəʊstka:d/ noun a piece of card often with a picture on one side, which you send to someone with a short message on it

③ postcode /'pəʊstkəud/ noun a system of letters or numbers to indicate a town or street in an address, to help with the sorting of mail (NOTE: The US term is zip code.)

postdate /,pəʊst'deɪt/ verb to put a date on a cheque which is later than the day on which you actually write it

③ poster /'pəʊstə/ noun a large notice, picture or advertisement stuck on a wall posternity /'pə'steritɪ/ noun the generations which will follow this one poster paints /'pəʊstə peɪnts/ plural noun water paints in bright colours, often used by children postgraduate /pəʊst'grædʒuət/ noun a person who has a first degree from a university and who is studying for a further degree ○ He's taking a postgraduate course in physics.

posthumous /'pɒstjʊməs/ adj after death. Synonym subsequent □ posthumous son or daughter a son or daughter born after his or her father's death posthumously /'pɒstjʊməsli/ adv after death

posting /'pəʊstɪŋ/ noun a new job with the same organisation, for which you have to move to a different country or district. Synonym placement

Post-it /'pəʊst it/ trademark a small piece of gummed coloured paper which you can write a note on and stick onto something postman /'pəʊstmæn/ noun a person who delivers letters to houses (NOTE: The plural is postmen. The US term is mailman.)

postmark /'pəʊstma:k/ noun a mark stamped on a letter to show when and where it was posted ○ a letter with a London postmark ○ You can see from the postmark that it was posted two weeks ago. Synonym date stamp ■ verb to stamp a letter with a postmark ○ The letter had been postmarked in New York. Synonym frank

post mortem /'pəʊst 'mɔ:təm/ adj after death; trying to find out the cause of death ○ a post-mortem examination ■ noun 1. the examination of a corpse to find out the cause of death ○ The post mortem revealed that she had been poisoned. 2. an examination of something which has happened ○ The government is carrying out a post mortem on the result of the elections. Abbr PM

postnatal /,pəʊst'neɪt(ə)l/ adj which happens after childbirth

post office /'pəʊst ,ɒfɪs/ noun a place which deals with the collection and delivery of letters and parcels postpaid /pəʊst'peɪd/ adj with postage paid by the sender postpone /pəʊs'pəʊn/ verb to put something back to a later date or time. Synonym delay. Antonym bring forward postponement /pəʊs'pəʊnment/ noun the act of putting something off until later. Synonym delay postulate /'pɒstjuleɪt/ (formal) noun a statement upon which a theory is based ○ The postulate that the Earth was round was in the end accepted as correct. ○ The postulate on which the argument is based is demonstrably false. ■ verb to suppose that something is true ○ He postulated that the Earth was round.

posture /'pɒstʃə/ noun a way of sitting or standing ○ She does exercises to improve her posture. Synonym bearing ■ verb to take up a particular position for effect ○ He was posturing in front of the cameras.

postwar /,pəʊst'wɔ:/ adj referring to the period after a war posy /'pəʊzɪ/ noun a small bunch of flowers (NOTE: The plural is posies.)

② pot /pɒt/ noun 1. a glass or china container, usually without a handle ○ The plant is too big – it needs a bigger pot. ○ She made ten pots of strawberry jam. ○ Can we have a pot of tea for two, please? ♦ teapot 2. □ pots of money lots of money (informal) ○ Ask him to pay – he's got pots of money. 3. marijuana, a drug made from hemp ○ He started smoking pot when he was at university. ■ verb 1. to put a plant into a pot ○ She potted the geraniums. 2. (in billiards) to send a ball into one of the pockets ○ He potted the black to win the match. (NOTE: potting – potted) potash /'pɒtæʃ/ noun potassium salts used as a fertiliser potassium /pə'tæsiəm/ noun soft metal found in rocks, essential to biological life

② potato /pə'teɪtəʊ/ noun a common white root vegetable which grows under the ground ○ boiled potatoes ○ mashed potatoes ○ roast potatoes ○ Do you want any more potatoes? ○ We're having roast lamb and potatoes for Sunday lunch. □ to look like a sack of potatoes to be badly dressed, with clothes bulging out ○ This dress makes me look like a sack of potatoes.

potato chips /pə'teɪtəʊ tʃips/ plural noun potatoes cut into sticks and fried in deep fat or oil potato crisps /pə'teɪtəʊ krisps/ plural noun thin slices of potato fried until they are hard, served as a snack with drinks (NOTE: The US term is chips.)

potato peeler /pə'teɪtəʊ ,pi:lə/ noun same as peeler potato skins /pə'teɪtəʊ skɪnz/ plural noun skins of potatoes, cooked until crisp and filled with cream cheese or other fillings potency /'pəʊt(ə)nſi/ noun strength. Antonym weakness potent /'pəʊt(ə)nt/ adj 1. which has a strong effect ○ Don't drink too much of that beer – it's terribly potent. ○ People don't realise how potent these drugs are. 2. powerful ○ This is a potent argument in favour of the ban on fox hunting.

② potential /pə'tenʃəl/ adj possible ○ He's a potential world champion. ○ The potential profits from the deal are enormous. □ a potential customer or winner a person who could be a customer or a winner ■ noun 1. the possibility of developing into something useful or valuable ○ The discovery has enormous potential. ○ She doesn't have much experience, but she has a lot of potential. ○ The whole area has great potential for economic growth. 2. (in physics) the difference in voltage between two parts of an electric circuit pothole /'pɒθəʊl/ noun 1. a hole in a road surface ○ The council still hasn't filled in the potholes in our street. 2. a deep hole in rock worn away by water ○ They were exploring a pothole in the Mendip Hills.

potholer /'pɒθəʊlə/ noun a person who goes potholing potholing /'pɒθəʊlin/ noun the sport of exploring potholes in rock potision /'pəʊʃ(ə)n/ noun a liquid mixture of medicine (dated) potluck /pɒt'lu:k/ noun □ to take potluck to take whatever comes, with no possibility of choosing anything different potshot /'pɒtʃɒt/ noun □ to take a potshot at someone to try to shoot someone without aiming properly (informal) potted /'pɒtid/ adj 1. which grows in a plant pot ○ a potted plant 2. which has been preserved in a pot ○ potted meat potter /'pɒtə/ noun a person who makes pots out of clay ○ a potter's wheel ○ The potter makes cups and bowls to sell in craft shops. ■ verb □ to potter about not to do anything in particular or to do little jobs here and there ○ He spent Saturday morning pottering about in the garden.

③ pottery /'pɒtəri/ noun 1. a workshop or factory where pots are made ○ There are several local potteries where you can buy dishes. ○ I bought this vase from the pottery where it was made. (NOTE: The plural in this meaning is potteries.) 2. objects, e.g. pots and plates, made of clay ○ There's a man in the market who sells local pottery. ○ She brought me some Spanish pottery as a present. 3. the art of making pots ○ She's taking a pottery course at college.

potty /'pɒti/ noun a small pot where a young child can urinate or defecate ■ adj mad (informal) Synonym foolish. Antonym sensible (NOTE: pottier – pottiest) pouch /pəʊtʃ/ noun 1. a small bag for carrying small objects such as coins ○ She carried the ring in a small leather pouch round her neck. 2. a bag in the skin in front of marsupials such as kangaroos, where the young are carried ○ The kangaroo carries its young in its pouch. (NOTE: The plural is pouches.)

poultry /'pəʊltri/ noun common farm birds such as ducks or hens, reared for eggs or to be eaten pounce /paʊns/ noun a sudden attack by jumping on something ○ In one quick pounce the cat caught the mouse. ■ verb □ to pounce on something to jump on something ○ The cat was waiting in the bushes, ready to pounce on any bird that came by. ○ He pounced on the mistake I'd made.

① pound /paʊnd/ noun 1. a measure of weight, equal to about 450 grams (NOTE: pound is usually written lb after figures: It weighs 26lbs.; Take 6lbs of sugar: say 'twenty-six pounds, six pounds'.) 2. the money used in Britain and several other countries ○ He tried to pay for his bus ticket with a £20 note (twenty-pound note). ○ He earns more than six pounds an hour. ○ The price of the car is over £50,000 (fifty thousand pounds). (NOTE: pound is usually written £ before figures: £20, £6,000: say 'twenty pounds, six thousand pounds'. With the word note, pound is singular: twenty pounds but a twenty-pound note.) 3. a place where illegally parked cars are taken ○ He had to go to the police pound to get his car back. Compare impound ■ verb 1. to smash something into little pieces ○ The ship was pounded to pieces by heavy waves. 2. to hit something hard ○ He pounded the table with his fist. 3. to run or walk heavily ○ The policeman pounded along after the bank robbers. ○ He pounded up the stairs. 4. (of someone's heart) to beat fast ○ Her heart was pounding as she opened the door.

pound sterling /paʊnd 'stɜːliŋ/ noun the official term for the British currency

② pour /pɔː/ verb 1. to make a liquid flow ○ The waiter poured water all over the table. ○ He poured the wine into the glasses. ○ She poured water down his neck as a joke. 2. to make something flow like a liquid ○ He poured the sand into the bag. 3. to flow out or down ○ Clouds of smoke poured out of the house. ○ There was a sudden bang and smoke poured out of the engine. 4. □ to pour with rain to rain very hard ○ It poured with rain all afternoon. □ it never rains but it pours troubles or problems never come one at a time, but several together (informal)

③ pour down /'pɔː daʊn/ verb to rain very hard

pout /paʊt/ noun a sulky expression in which your bottom lip sticks out ○ The smile turned into a pout when she realised she wasn't going to get her way. ■ verb to make a sulky expression with your lips ○ When she pouts she looks very sexy.

④ poverty /'pɒvəti/ noun 1. the fact of being poor ○ He lost all his money and died in poverty. ○ Poverty can drive people to crime. 2. □ the poverty of something the very small amount of something (formal) ○ The poverty of our resources means that we are dependent on outside funds.

poverty line /'pɒvəti laɪn/ noun an amount of money which you need to buy the basic necessities poverty-stricken /,pɒvəti 'strikən/ adj very poor, having very little money

POW abbr prisoner of war

powder /'paʊdə/ noun a substance like flour with very small dry grains ○ to grind something to powder ○ The drug is available in the form of a white powder. ■ verb to put face powder on something ○ She was powdering her cheeks. □ to powder your nose (of a woman) to go to the toilet ○ Can you wait a minute? — I'm just going to powder my nose.

powdered /'paʊdəd/ adj dried and made into powder. Synonym ground. Antonym whole powder puff /'paʊdə pʌf/ noun a small pad with which you put powder on your face powder room /'paʊdə ruːm/ noun a women's toilet in a public place, e.g. a restaurant or shop powdery /'paʊd(ə)ri/ adj fine and dry, like powder

① power /'paʊə/ noun 1. the ability to control people or happenings ○ He is the official leader, but his wife has all the real power. ○ I haven't the power or it isn't in my power to ban the demonstration. □ the full power of the law the full force of the law 2. a driving force ○ They use the power of the waves to generate electricity. ○ The engine is driven by steam power. 3. electricity used to drive machines or devices ○ Turn off the power before you try to repair the TV set. 4. political control ○ The socialists came to power in 1997. ○ During the period when he was in power the country's economy was ruined. 5. an important powerful country ○ China is one of the great powers. 6. (in mathematics) the number of times one number is multiplied by itself ○ 3 to the power 4 (NOTE: written 3⁴) ■ verb 1. □ to be powered by something or someone to be driven by something or someone ○ Powered by two Olympic oarsmen, the boat raced across the lake. 2. to move fast ○ With its huge outboard motor the boat powered through the water.

power base /'paʊə beɪs/ noun a group or area which supports a politician powerboat /'paʊəbət/ noun a boat which has a powerful engine, used for racing power cut /'paʊə kʌt/ noun same as power failure power drill /'paʊə drɪl/ noun a powerful electric drill

-powered /'paʊəd/ suffix driven or worked by a certain type of energy power failure /'paʊə ,feɪljə/ noun a breakdown in electricity supplies

② powerful /'paʊəf(ə)l/ adj 1. very strong ○ This model has a more powerful engine. ○ The treasurer is the most powerful person in the organisation. ○ The raft was swept away by the powerful current. ○ This is the most powerful personal computer on the market.
 2. which has a strong effect ○ The film is a powerful drama set in Russia.

powerhouse /'paʊəhaʊs/ noun a person, place or thing that is full of energy and very productive (informal) powerless /'paʊələs/ adj unable to do anything because of not having any power or authority. Synonym helpless power line /'paʊə laɪn/ noun a cable carrying electric current power of attorney /,paʊər əv ə'tɜːnəi/ noun a written document, which gives someone power to act on behalf of someone else power point /'paʊə pɔɪnt/ noun an electric socket in a wall power-sharing /'paʊə ,ʃərɪŋ/ noun the practice of sharing the powers and responsibilities of government between different parties (NOTE: no plural) power shower /'paʊə ,ʃaʊə/ noun a strong shower driven by an electric pump power station /'paʊə ,steɪʃ(ə)n/, power plant /'paʊə plɑːnt/ noun a factory where electricity is produced power steering /'paʊə ,stɪərɪŋ/ noun steering in a car, which is powered by the engine power tool /'paʊə tu:l/ noun a powerful electrical tool pp abbr pages

③ PR abbr public relations practicability /,præktɪkə'biliti/ noun the fact of being able to be put into practice. Synonym feasibility. Antonym impossibility practicable /'præktɪkəb(ə)l/ adj which can be done or can be put into practice. Synonym feasible

② practical /'præktɪk(ə)l/ adj 1. referring to practice and action rather than ideas ○ She needs some practical experience. ○ He passed the practical exam but failed the theory. ○ I need some practical advice on how to build a wall. 2. possible or sensible ○ It isn't practical to plug the computer into the same socket as the TV. ○ Has anyone got a more practical suggestion to make? ○ You need practical clothing for camping. ○ We must be practical and not try anything too ambitious. ■ noun an examination or test to show how well someone can work in practice practicality /,præktɪ'kælti/ noun 1. a way in which something works in practice ○ We haven't yet got down to discussing the practicalities of selling the shop. 2. a way in which something is practical or possible ○ I have doubts about the practicality of the scheme.

○ She passed the written test but failed the practical.

practical joke /,præktɪk(ə)l 'dʒuːk/ noun a trick played on someone to make other people laugh

② practically /'præktɪkli/ adv 1. almost ○ Practically all the students passed the test. ○ The summer is practically over. ○ His suit is such a dark grey it is practically black. 2. in a practical way ○ We must try to solve the problem practically.

① practice /'præktɪs/ noun 1. the act of actually doing something, as opposed to thinking about it or planning it □ to put something into practice to apply or use something ○ I hope soon to be able to put some of my ideas into practice. □ in practice when actually done ○ The plan seems very interesting, but what will it cost in practice? 2. a repeated exercise ○ You need more practice before you're ready to enter the competition. ○ He's at football practice this evening. ○ The cars make several practice runs before the race. □ out of practice not able to do something because of not having done it recently ○ I used to be able to play quite well, but I'm a bit out of practice. 3. □ medical or dental or legal practice a business of a doctor, dentist or lawyer ○ There are three doctors in this practice. ■ verb US spelling of practise

① practise /'præktɪs/ verb 1. to do repeated exercises ○ He's practising catching and throwing. 2. to carry on a job as a doctor, dentist or lawyer ○ He's officially retired but still practises part-time. (NOTE: [all senses] The US spelling is practice.)

practised /'præktɪst/ adj skilful at doing something because you have had a lot of practice (NOTE: The US spelling is practiced.)

③ practitioner /præk'tɪʃ(ə)nə/ noun a person who does a skilled job. Synonym doctor pragmatic /præg'mætɪk/ adj dealing with facts or practical matters, not concerned with theories. Antonym idealistic pragmatism /'prægmətɪz(ə)m/ noun the practice of adopting a practical approach to a problem. Antonym idealism prairie /'preəri/ noun an area of grass-covered plain in North America, mainly without trees, where most of the world's grain is produced praise /preɪz/ noun admiration, the fact of showing approval ○ The rescue team earned the praise of the survivors. □ to sing the praises of someone to praise someone all the time ○ She's always singing the praises of the new vicar. ■ verb to express strong approval of something or someone ○ The mayor praised the firemen for their efforts in putting out the fire.

praiseworthy /'preɪzɪwɜːði/ adj which should be praised. Synonym admirable. Antonym blameworthy pram /præm/ noun a light carriage for pushing a baby in (NOTE: The US term is baby carriage). In British English, for slightly older children who can sit up, it is also called a buggy or pushchair.)

prance /præns/ verb to jump about, to move fast and lightly. Synonym swagger prank /præŋk/ noun a trick □ to play a prank on someone to play a trick on someone ○ The students played a prank on their teacher.

prattle /'prætl/ verb to chatter a lot about things which aren't important prawn /prəʊn/ noun a shellfish like a large shrimp

③ pray /preɪ/ verb to speak to God, asking for something ○ Farmers prayed for rain. □ to pray for someone to ask God to protect someone ○ We pray for the children from the village, missing in the mountains. ■ adv please (dated) □ pray be seated please sit down pre- /pri:/ prefix before ○ the pre-Christmas rush ○ We have been invited for pre-lunch drinks.

③ prayer /preə/ noun the act of speaking to God ○ She says her prayers every night before going to bed. ○ They said prayers for the sick.

preach /pri:tʃ/ verb 1. to give a sermon in church ○ She preached to a packed congregation about the need for tolerance. □ to preach to the converted to try to convince people of something when they already know about it ○ It's a waste of time telling us about the advantages of using computers – you're just preaching to the converted. 2. to recommend or advise something ○ The government is preaching the wisdom of saving.

preacher /'pri:tʃə/ noun a person who gives a sermon in church preamble /pri'æmb(ə)l/ noun remarks made at the beginning of something, e.g. a speech or treaty. Synonym introduction precarious /pri'keəriəs/ adj not safe, likely to fall off or to fail precariously /pri'keəriəsli/ adv in an unsafe way

③ precaution /pri'kɔːʃ(ə)n/ noun care taken in advance to avoid something unpleasant. Synonym protection precautionary /pri'kɔːʃ(ə)n(ə)ri/ adj □ as a precautionary measure in order to avoid something unpleasant ○ We lock the doors at night as a precautionary measure.

③ precede /pri'si:d/ verb to take place before something precedence /'prezɪd(ə)ns/ noun □ to take precedence over someone or something to be more important than someone or something, when considered as part of a hierarchy ○ Presidents take precedence over prime ministers.

③ precedent /'prezɪd(ə)nt/ noun a thing which has happened before, and which can be a guide as to what should be done. Synonym example

③ preceding /pri'si:dɪŋ/ adj which comes before something. Synonym previous. Antonym following

③ precinct /'pri:sɪŋkt/ noun US an administrative district in a town ○ the 16th precinct (NOTE: The British term is ward.)

precious /'preʃəs/ adj 1. worth a lot of money 2. of great value to someone ○ All her precious photographs were saved from the fire. ○ The memories of that holiday are very precious to me. 3. which you don't think is valuable ○ She can't talk about anything except her precious boyfriend. ○ Do you think I'm interested in you and your precious car? ■ adv very ○ He has precious little money left to spend.

precious metal /,preʃəs 'met(ə)l/ noun a metal such as gold, which is worth a lot of money precious stone /,preʃəs 'stən/ noun a stone such as a diamond, which is rare and very valuable precipice /'preʃɪpɪs/ noun a high cliff on the side of a mountain, not usually near the sea precipitate verb /pri'sipɪteɪt/ 1. to make something happen suddenly ○ The assassination precipitated a political crisis. 2. to settle at the bottom of a liquid ○ The crystals precipitate at the bottom of the flask. 3. to make someone fall or drop suddenly ○ The pram tipped over, precipitating the baby into the ditch. ■ adj /pri'sipɪtət/ rushed or hurried (formal) ○ Their decision to marry seems a bit precipitate. ■ noun /pri'sipɪtət/ a substance which settles at the bottom of a liquid ○ The precipitate begins to form as soon as the reagent is added.

precipitation /pri,sɪpɪ'teɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. a quantity of rain, snow, etc., which falls on a certain place ○ The north-west of the country experienced higher precipitation than nor- mal. 2. a great hurry ○ They accused him of acting with too much precipitation.

precipitous /pri'sipitəs/ adj very steep précis /preɪ'sɪs/ noun a summary of the main points of a text ○ I made a précis of the report for my boss. Synonym summary (NOTE: The plural is précis /'preɪsɪz/.) ■ verb to make a summary of a text ○ Can you précis this report on global warming for me?

Synonym summarise

③ precise /pri'saɪs/ adj exact ○ We need to know the precise measurements of the box. ○ At that precise moment my father walked in. ○ Can you be more precise about what the men looked like?

② precisely /pri'saɪsli/ adv 1. exactly ○ The train arrived at 12.00 precisely. ○ I don't know precisely when it was, but it was about three months ago. ○ How, precisely, do you expect me to cope with all this work? 2. (showing agreement) quite correct ○ You felt he was making a mistake? – 'Precisely!'

precision /pri'sɪz(ə)n/ noun accuracy preclude /pri'klu:d/ verb to prevent something taking place (formal) Antonym permit precocious /pri'kɔ:səs/ adj (of a child) surprisingly advanced for its age preconceived /,pri:kən'si:vəd/ adj □ to have a preconceived idea about something or someone to have an idea about something or someone which is formed in advance preconception /,pri:kən'sepʃən/ noun an idea which is formed in advance, without the benefit of information or experience. Synonym prejudice precondition /,pri:kən'dɪʃ(ə)n/ noun a condition which is set in advance precursor /pri'kə:sə/ noun a thing which leads to something more important. Synonym forerunner. Antonym successor predate /,pri:dεɪt/ verb to come before something in time

③ predator /'predətə/ noun an animal which kills and eats other animals. Synonym marauder predatory /'predət(ə)ri/ adj 1. referring to a predator ○ Predatory animals such as foxes eat other animals and birds. ○ The cat's predatory instincts came out when she caught a mouse. 2. (of a business) which is trying to ruin another business predecease /,pri:di'si:s/ verb to die before someone else

③ predecessor /'pri:dɪsəsə/ noun a person who has held the same job, etc., before you. Synonym precursor. Antonym successor predestination /pri:desti'neɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the idea that the fate of everyone is decided in advance by God predestined /pri:'destɪnd/ adj whose fate has been decided in advance. Synonym fated predetermine /,pri:drɪ'tɜ:min/ verb to decide something in advance predicament /pri'dɪkəmənt/ noun trouble or a difficult situation. Synonym difficulty predicate noun /'predɪkət/ (in grammar) a statement about the subject ■ verb /'predɪkeɪt/ to base a supposition on something (formal)

③ predict /pri'dɪkt/ verb to foretell something or tell in advance what will happen ○ The weather forecasters have predicted rain. ○ He predicted correctly that the deal would not last. ○ Everything happened exactly as I had predicted. Synonym forecast predictable /pri'dɪktəbəl(ə)s/ adj which could be predicted predictably /pri'dɪktəbli/ adv in a way which could have been predicted prediction /pri'dɪkʃən/ noun an instance of foretelling something. Synonym forecast predilection /,pri:drɪ'lekʃən/ noun a special liking for something (formal) Synonym liking predispose /,pri:drɪ'spəʊz/ verb to make someone favour something in advance (formal) Synonym incline predisposition /,pri:dɪspə'zɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the fact of being predisposed. Synonym tendency predominant /pri'domɪnənt/ adj most striking or obvious. Synonym main. Antonym minor predominantly /pri'domɪnəntli/ adv mainly. Antonym partially predominate /pri'domɪneɪt/ verb to be more powerful than others preeminence /pri'eminəns/ noun the fact of being preeminent preminent /pri'eminənt/ adj excellent, much better than everything else pre-empt /pri:'empt/ verb to get an advantage over someone by doing something quickly before anyone else. Synonym fore-stall. Antonym react preen /pri:n/ verb (of a bird) to smooth its feathers □ to preen yourself to smarten yourself up prefabricated /pri:'fæbrɪkeɪtɪd/ adj (of a building) built from sections which are easy to put together preface /'prefəs/ noun the text at the beginning of a book, after the title page, in which the author introduces the book and thanks people for helping make it ○ She explains in a preface what motivated her to write the book. Compare foreword ■ verb to write or say something before the main part of the text ◇ He prefaced his article with a quotation from Dickens. Synonym prefix prefect /'pri:fekt/ noun 1. an older school pupil chosen to be in charge of others ◇ The prefects help to maintain discipline in the school. 2. a high official ◇ the Prefect of Police

② prefer /pri'fɜ:/ verb ◇ to prefer something to something to like one thing better than another ◇ I prefer butter to margarine. ◇ She prefers walking to going on the Underground. ◇ We went to the pub, but she preferred to stay at home and watch TV. ◇ I'd prefer not to go to Germany this summer.

preferable /'pref(ə)rb(ə)l/ adj which you would prefer. Synonym better. Antonym inferior preferably /'pref(ə)rbli/ adv if possible ③ preference /'pref(ə)rəns/ noun a liking for one thing more than another ◇ The receptionist asked him if he had any preference for a room with a view. ◇ The children all showed a marked preference for chocolate ice cream.

preferential /,prefə'renʃəl/ adj showing that one person or thing is preferred to another. Synonym special. Antonym disadvantageous

④ prefix /'pri:fiks/ noun a part of a word put in front of another to form a new word. Antonym suffix (NOTE: The plural is prefixes.)

pregnancy /'pregnənsi/ noun the state of being pregnant

⑤ pregnant /'pregnənt/ adj 1. carrying an unborn child ◇ Don't carry heavy weights when you're pregnant. ◇ She hasn't told her family yet that she's pregnant. ◇ We have a pregnant girl in our class. 2. ◇ a pregnant pause a pause while everyone waits for someone to say something ◇ Martha's extraordinary announcement was followed by a pregnant pause.

preheat /pri:'hi:t/ verb to make an oven hot before putting something to cook in it. Synonym heat. Antonym cool prehistoric /,pri:'hi:stɔrik/ adj belonging to the time before there was a written history prehistory /pri:'hist(ə)ri/ noun the time before written history started prejudge /pri:'dʒʌdʒ/ verb to judge something or someone without hearing all the facts prejudice /'predʒudɪs/ noun a usually unjust feeling against someone or a preference for one person or thing over another ◇ The committee was accused of prejudice against older candidates. ■ verb to make someone have less friendly feelings towards someone or something. Synonym influence prejudiced /'predʒudɪst/ adj unfairly biased against someone. Antonym tolerant prejudicial /,predʒu'dɪʃ(ə)l/ adj which could harm someone or something. Synonym harmful. Antonym helpful prelate /'prelət/ noun a person of high rank in the Catholic or Anglican Church. Synonym archbishop preliminaries /'pri'lɪmɪn(ə)rɪz/ plural noun things which have to be done before something can take place preliminary /'pri'lɪmɪn(ə)rɪ/ adj which goes before something ◇ The executive committee will hold a preliminary meeting the day before the conference opens. ◇ This is only the preliminary report – the main report will be published later. Synonym initial. Antonym closing ■ noun something which is done as a preparation for something else. Synonym beginning. Antonym finale prelude /'preljʊ:d/ noun 1. something which takes place before something more important ◇ Putting tanks near the border is a prelude to a full-scale invasion. 2. a short introductory piece of music on one theme ◇ a prelude by Bach

premarital /pri:'mærɪt(ə)l/ adj before marriage

premature /'premətʃə/ adj 1. which happens before the right time ◇ Celebrating victory before the votes have been counted is a little premature. ◇ This can be a cause of premature death. 2. (of a baby) born less than nine months after conception ◇ Little John was six weeks premature and only weighed three pounds when he was born.

prematurely /'premətʃuəli/ adv before the right time premeditated /pri:'mediteɪtɪd/ adj (of a crime) planned before it is committed premenstrual syndrome /pri:,menstruəl 'sɪndrəʊm/, premenstrual tension /pri:,menstruəl 'tenʃən/ noun pain and a feeling of being more emotional than usual, which some women have before their monthly period premier /'premiə/ noun a prime minister or head of government ◇ The French premier is visiting London. ■ adj first or most important ◇ The town advertises itself as Britain's premier holiday resort. Synonym best. Antonym worst première /'premiə/ noun the first performance of something, e.g. a film or a play premiership /'premiəʃp/ noun 1. the time when someone is prime minister ◇ The introduction of income tax was the most important event of his premiership. 2. a premier league, the group of top football clubs who play against each other ◇ a premiership match

③ premise /'premɪs/ noun an assumption, a thing which you assume to be true

③ premises /'premɪsɪz/ plural noun a building and the land it stands on ○ Smoking is not allowed on the premises. ○ There is a doctor on the premises at all times.

premium /'pri:miəm/ noun 1. an amount paid for an insurance policy ○ The house insurance premium has to be paid this month. ○ We pay a monthly premium of £5. 2. □ at a premium scarce, and therefore valuable ○ Fresh vegetables were at a premium during the winter months. □ to put a premium on something to show that something is useful or valuable ○ Employers put a premium on staff who can speak good English. 3. a bonus ○ They pay a premium for work completed ahead of schedule.

premonition /,premə'nɪʃ(ə)n/ noun a feeling that something is going to happen prenatal /pri:'neɪt(ə)l/ adj referring to pregnancy

③ preoccupation /pri:,ɒkju'peɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the only thing you think about preoccupied /pri'ɒkju:pəd/ adj worried and thinking only about one thing. Antonym carefree prep /prep/ noun 1. homework (informal) ○ The boys aren't allowed out until they've finished their prep. 2. the process of getting a patient ready for an operation ○ The prep is finished, so the patient can be taken to the operating theatre.

② preparation /,prepə'reɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. the action of getting ready ○ The preparations for the wedding went on for months. ○ We've completed our preparations and now we're ready to start. □ in preparation for something to get ready for something ○ She bought a hat in preparation for the wedding. 2. a substance which has been mixed ○ a chemical preparation preparatory /pri'pærət(ə)ri/ adj 1. which prepares someone for something ○ This is a preparatory course in Chinese for beginners. 2. □ preparatory to something before or leading up to something (formal) ○ He's undergoing training preparatory to taking up a managerial position.

preparatory school /pri'pærət(ə)ri skul:/ noun a private school for children up to the age of 13 (formal)

① prepare /pri'peə/ verb 1. to get something ready ○ We have prepared the hall for the school play. ○ I have some friends coming to dinner and I haven't prepared the meal. 2. to get ready for something ○ He is preparing for his exam. ○ You'd better prepare yourself for some bad news.

① prepared /pri'peəd/ adj 1. ready ○ Be prepared, you may get quite a shock. ○ Six people are coming to dinner and I've got a nothing prepared. 2. □ prepared to do something willing to do something ○ They are prepared to sell the house if necessary. □ prepared for something ready for something ○ She wasn't really prepared for her exam. ○ The country is prepared for an invasion.

preparedness /pri'peəridnəs/ noun the fact of being prepared for something. Synonym readiness preponderance /pri'pənd(ə)rəns/ noun a greater number of one type of people or things than any other in a group. Synonym majority

③ preposition /,prepo'zɪʃ(ə)n/ noun a word used with a noun or pronoun as its object to show place or time preposterous /pri'pəstərəs/ adj silly or absurd. Synonym outrageous. Antonym sensible prep school /'prep skul:/ noun a preparatory school (informal) prerequisite /pri'rekwi'zɪt/ noun a thing which you must have before you can do something. Synonym precondition prerogative /pri'rɒgətɪv/ noun a special right belonging to one person or group preschool /'pri:sku:l/ adj before normal school. Synonym young prescribe /pri'skraɪb/ verb 1. to order that something should be done ○ Three days' notice has been given, as prescribed by law. ○ We have to study two prescribed texts for our exam. 2. (of a doctor) to tell someone to use something ○ He prescribed a course of injections. ○ She prescribed some antibiotics.

③ prescription /pri'skri:pʃən/ noun an order written by a doctor to a pharmacist asking for a drug to be prepared and sold to a patient □ available on prescription available from a chemist only when prescribed by a doctor ○ This medicine is only available on prescription.

prescriptive /pri'skri:p'trɪv/ adj which prescribes something. Synonym narrow. Antonym lax ② presence /'prez(ə)ns/ noun 1. the fact of being present ○ The presence of both his wives in court was noted. ○ Your presence is requested at a meeting of the committee on June 23rd. □ in someone's presence when someone is near ○ She actually said that in my presence. ○ He slapped her face in the presence of witnesses. 2. an effect you have on other people ○ The general has a commanding presence.

presence of mind /,prez(ə)ns əv 'maɪnd/ noun common sense, calmness and the ability to act quickly

① present noun /'prez(ə)nt/ 1. a thing which you give to someone as a gift ○ I got a watch as a Christmas present. ○ How many birthday presents did you get? ○ The office gave her a present when she got married. 2. the time we are in now ○ The novel is set in the present. □ at present now ○ The hotel still has some vacancies at present. □ for the present for now ○ That will be enough for the present. 3. the form of a verb showing that the action is happening now ○ The present of the verb 'to go' is 'he goes' or 'he is going'. ■ adj /'prez(ə)n/tl/ 1. being there when something happens ○ How many people were present at the meeting? 2. at the time we are in now ○ What is his present address? ■ verb /'pri'zent/l/ 1. to give something formally to someone as a present ○ When he retired after thirty years, the firm presented him with a large clock. 2. to introduce a show on TV or radio ○ She's presenting a programme on gardening. 3. □ to present yourself to go to a place ○ He was asked to present himself at the police station the next morning.

presentable /'pri'zentəb(ə)l/ adj clean and tidy, suitable to appear in public ② presentation /,prez(ə)n'teɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. the act of giving something to someone ○ The chairman will make the presentation to the retiring sales manager. 2. the demonstration of a proposed plan ○ The distribution company made a presentation of the services they could offer.

③ present-day /,prez(ə)nt 'deɪ/ adj modern. Synonym contemporary. Antonym past

③ presenter /'pri'zenter/ noun a person who presents a TV or radio show. Synonym announcer

presently /'prez(ə)ntli/ adv 1. soon ○ I'll be there presently. ○ He'll be making a speech presently. 2. US now, at the present time ○ He's presently working for a chemical company. ○ She's presently in England. ○ What is presently being done to correct the problem?

present participle /,prez(ə)nt pa:tsip(ə)l/ noun a word formed by adding '-ing' to a verb, used either to form the present continuous tense, e.g. I am reading, or as an adjective or noun present perfect /,prez(ə)nt 'p3:fɪkt/ noun the simple past tense of a verb

③ preservation /,prezə'veɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the action of protecting preservative /'pri'zɜ:vətɪv/ noun a substance added to food to stop it from going bad. Synonym additive

③ preserve /'pri'zɜ:v/ verb 1. to look after something and keep it in the same state ○ Our committee aims to preserve the wildlife in our area. ○ The doctors' aim is to preserve the life of the unborn child. ○ The Inuit would like to preserve their own alphabet rather than use the Roman one. 2. to treat something so that it does not rot ○ Meat can be preserved in salt. ○ Freezing is a common method of preserving meat.

preshrunk /,pri:'ʃrʌŋk/ adj which has been shrunk in advance before being sold preside /'pri'zaid/ verb 1. □ to preside at or over a meeting to sit at the head of the table and be the chairman of a meeting ○ The meeting was held in the town hall, with the mayor presiding. ○ The deputy presided in the absence of the chairman who was ill. 2. to be in power during a certain period ○ He presided over a period of radical change.

presidency /'prezɪdənsi/ noun 1. the job of being president ○ He has been proposed as a candidate for the presidency. 2. the time when someone is president ○ during Britain's presidency of the European Union. ○ The Second World War ended during the Truman presidency.

① president /'prezɪd(ə)nt/ noun 1. the head of a republic ○ President Bush was elected in 2000. ○ The French president came on an official visit. (NOTE: also used as a title before a surname: President Wilson) 2. the chief member of a club ○ We're wondering who'll be the next president of the cricket club. ○ A. B. Smith was elected president of the sports club.

presidential /,prezɪ'denʃəl/ adj referring to a president

preside over /'pri'zaid ,əvər/ verb 1. to be president or chairman of something ○ She presides over one of the world's richest corporations. ○ She presided over the university appointments committee for several years. 2. to be in charge when something happens ○ He presided over a radical shake-up of the party's organisational structure.

① press /pres/ noun 1. newspapers taken as a group ○ The election wasn't reported in the British press. ○ There has been no mention of the problem in the press. (NOTE: no plural) 2. journalists and other people who work for newspapers, or on radio and TV ○ Everywhere she went she was followed by the press. ○ Press photographers were standing outside Number 10. (NOTE: no plural) 3. a machine which presses things ○ The car body is moulded from a metal sheet in a hydraulic press. (NOTE: The plural is presses.)

■ verb 1. to push or squeeze something ○ Press the button for first floor. ○ Everyone pressed round the film stars. 2. to iron something ○ His jacket needs to be pressed. 3. □ to press on or forward with to continue or to go ahead ○ In spite of the weather they pressed on with the preparations for the village fair.

press agent /'pres ,eɪdʒənt/ noun a person who organises dealings with the press for an organisation or important person press baron /'pres ,bærən/ noun an important newspaper owner (informal)

③ press conference /'pres ,kɒnf(ə)rəns/ noun a meeting where newspaper, radio and TV reporters are invited to hear news of a new product or a takeover bid, or to talk to a famous person. Synonym news conference press corps /'pres kɔ:/ noun all the journalists working in a certain place press cutting /'pres ,kʌtɪŋ/ noun a piece cut out from a newspaper with an article which is relevant to someone or something

③ pressed /prest/ adj □ we're pressed for time we are in a hurry □ I'd be hard pressed to do it it would be difficult for me to find time to do it

pressgang /'presgæŋ/ noun a group of people who forced men to join the Royal Navy (dated) ○ Without the pressgangs it would have been impossible to find crews for many ships in the 18th century. ■ verb □ to pressgang someone into doing something to force someone to do something ○ I was pressganged into helping her move house.

③ pressing /'presɪŋ/ adj urgent, which needs to be done quickly press office /'pres ,ɒfɪs/ noun an office in an organisation which is responsible for relations with the media press officer /'pres ,ɒfɪsə/ noun a person who works in a press office, in charge of an organisation's relations with the media

③ press release /'pres rɪ,li:z/ noun a sheet giving news about something which is sent to newspapers and TV and radio stations press-up /'pres ʌp/ noun an exercise where you lie on the floor and push yourself up with your arms (NOTE: The US term is push-up.)

① pressure /'pre:sə/ noun 1. something which forces you to do something ○ Pressure from farmers forced the minister to change his mind. □ to put pressure on someone to do something to try to force someone to do something ○ They put pressure on the government to build a new motorway. □ under pressure being forced to do something ○ He did it under pressure. ○ We're under pressure to agree to a postponement. 2. the force of something such as air which is pushing or squeezing ○ There is not enough pressure in your tyres. 3. stress caused by having a lot of responsibility ○ He gave up his job in the bank because he couldn't stand the pressure.

pressure cooker /'pre:sə ,kʊkə/ noun a type of pan with a tight-fitting lid, which cooks food rapidly under pressure

③ pressure group /'pre:sə gru:p/ noun a group of people who try to influence an organisation, e.g. the government or the local town council pressurise /'pre:səraɪz/, pressurize verb 1. to increase air pressure inside a plane so that it is the same as the pressure on earth 2. to force someone to do something ○ She was pressurised to change her mind.

pressurised /'pre:səraɪzd/, pressurized adj (of an aircraft) which is kept at a constant atmospheric pressure which is the same as the pressure on earth ③ prestige /pre'sti:ʒ/ noun importance, e.g. because of high quality or high value. Antonym notoriety □ prestige offices or flats expensive offices or flats in a good area of the town ○ Our offices are old and functional, not prestige offices like theirs.

prestigious /pre'stɪdʒəs/ adj which brings prestige. Antonym insignificant

① presumably /'pri:zju:məblɪ/ adv probably; as you think is true

③ presume /'pri:zju:m/ verb 1. to suppose or assume something ○ I presume this little bridge is safe for cars? ○ The jury has to presume he is innocent until he is proved guilty. ○ She is presumed to have fled to South America. 2. □ not to presume to do something not to do something because it would be rude to do it (formal) ○ I wouldn't presume to contradict her – she's the expert.

presumption /'pri:zʌmpʃən/ noun 1. a thing which is assumed to be correct ○ We are working on the presumption that what he has said is in fact true. □ presumption of innocence the practice of assuming that someone is innocent until a court has found him guilty 2. disrespectful behaviour, doing something when you have no right to do it ○ It's sheer presumption for her to suggest that she could do the job better than me.

presumptuous /'pri:zʌmptʃuəs/ adj rude or bold presuppose /'pri:sə'pəʊz/ verb to depend on something having already happened pretax /'pri:tæks/ adj before tax is paid

pretence /'pri:təns/ noun 1. the act of making someone believe something which is untrue, the action of pretending ○ He kept up the pretence of being in love with her while he was seeing another girl. ○ All this talk about his aristocratic connections is mere pretence or is just a pretence. ○ They made a pretence of being interested. 2. □ by false pretences by doing or saying something to cheat someone ○ He was sent to prison for obtaining money by false pretences. (NOTE: [all senses] The US spelling is pretense.)

② pretend /'pri:tənd/ verb to make someone believe you are something else, so as to trick them ○ He got into the house by pre- tending to be a telephone engineer. ○ She pretended she had flu and phoned to say she was having the day off.

pretender /pri'tendə/ noun a person who has claims to something, usually a person who claims to be king although this is not accepted by all the people pretension /pri'tenʃən/ noun 1. a doubtful claim (NOTE: often plural) 2. a way of behaving that suggests you are more important than you are pretentious /pri'tenʃəs/ adj claiming to be more important than you are. Synonym affected. Antonym down-to-earth pretext /pri:tekst/ noun an excuse for doing something which is not the real reason for doing it

② pretty /priti/ adj pleasant to look at ○ Her daughters are very pretty. ○ She is prettier than her mother. ○ What a pretty little house! Synonym attractive. Antonym unattractive (NOTE: prettier – prettiest). Usually pretty is used of things or girls, not of boys or men. ■ adv fairly (informal) ○ The patient's condition is pretty much the same as it was yesterday. ○ I'm pretty sure I'm right. ○ You did pretty well, considering it was the first time you had tried rock-climbing. Synonym rather

③ prevail /pri'veil/ verb □ to prevail upon someone to do something to persuade someone to do something (formal) ○ Can I prevail on you to make a speech?

prevailing /pri'veilɪŋ/ adj usual, common prevailing wind /pri'veilɪŋ 'wind/ noun a wind which usually blows from a certain direction

④ prevalence /'prevələns/ noun the fact being very common or widespread. Synonym occurrence prevalent /'prevələnt/ adj common, occurring frequently. Synonym predominant

① prevent /pri'vent/ verb 1. to stop something happening ○ We must try to prevent any more flooding. 2. □ to prevent someone or something from doing something to stop someone or something doing something ○ We can't do much to prevent the river from flooding. ○ The police prevented anyone from leaving the building.

④ prevention /pri'venʃən/ noun the process of stopping something from happening preventive detention /pri'ventɪv dɪ'tenʃən/ noun the practice of putting people in prison because they may cause a disturbance preventive medicine /pri'ventɪv 'med(ə)s(ə)n/ noun a medical action to prevent a disease from occurring preview /'pri:vi:ju:/ noun a private showing of a film or exhibition before it is open to the public

① previous /'pri:viəs/ adj 1. former, earlier ○ The letter was sent to my previous address. ○ The gang of workers arrived the previous night and started work first thing in the morning. ○ I had spent the previous day getting to know my way round the town. Synonym preceding. Antonym subsequent □ he could not accept the invitation because he had a previous engagement he could not accept the invitation because he had earlier accepted another invitation to go somewhere 2. □ previous to before ○ What job were you in, previous to this one?

① previously /'pri:viəsli/ adv before ○ This is my first train trip to Paris – previously I've always gone by plane. ○ The arrangements had been made six weeks previously. ○ At that time they were living in New York, and previously had lived in London.

pre-war /'pri: wɔ:/ adj existing or happening before a war prey /prei/ noun an animal eaten by another animal ○ Mice and small birds are the favourite prey of owls. Antonym hunter ■ verb □ to prey on or upon to attack animals and eat them ○ Here the sharks mainly prey on seals.

① price /prais/ noun money which you have to pay to buy something ○ The price of petrol is going up. ○ I don't want to pay such a high price for a hotel room. ○ There has been a sharp increase in house prices during the first six months of the year. □ to increase in price to become more expensive ■ verb to give something a price ○ The book is priced at £25. ○ That house won't sell – it is too highly priced. □ the company has priced itself out of the market the company has raised its prices so high that its products do not sell priceless /'praɪsləs/ adj 1. extremely valuable ○ His priceless collection of paintings was destroyed in the fire. ○ This ring is quite priceless. 2. very funny ○ Some of the things she said were absolutely priceless.

③ price tag /'praɪs tæg/ noun 1. a ticket with a price written on it ○ How much is this shirt? – The price tag has come off it. 2. a price at which something is for sale ○ car with a £50,000 price tag

price war /'praɪs wɔ:/, price-cutting war /'praɪs ,kætɪŋ wɔ:/ noun a competition between companies to get a larger market share by cutting prices pricey /'praɪsi/ adj expensive (informal) Synonym costly. Antonym cheap (NOTE: pricier – priciest) prick /prɪk/ verb 1. to jab something with something sharp ○ She pricked her finger when she was picking roses. ○ I pricked my finger on a pin and had to put a plaster on it. 2. □ to prick up your ears to listen attentively ○ When his name was mentioned I pricked up my ears.

prickle /'prɪk(ə)l/ noun a sharp point on a plant or animal prickly /'prɪkli/ adj 1. covered with prickles ○ a prickly holly bush ○ a prickly hedgehog 2. (of a person) who takes offence easily ○ Be careful what you say to her – she's very prickly.

prickly heat /,prɪkli 'hi:t/ noun a skin rash caused by a hot climate prickly pear /,prɪkli 'peə/ noun a type of cactus with fruit shaped like a red pear

③ pride /praɪd/ noun 1. a pleasure in your own ability or possessions ○ He takes great pride in his garden. 2. a very high opinion of yourself ○ His pride would not let him admit that he had made a mistake. □ 'pride goes before a fall' if you are very proud of yourself, you are likely to find yourself in trouble (saying) 3. a group of lions ■ verb □ to pride oneself on something to be extremely proud of something ○ She prides herself on her cakes.

③ priest /pri:tst/ noun a person who has been blessed to serve God, to carry out formal religious duties priestess /pri:stes/ noun a female priest in a non-Christian religion (NOTE: The plural is priestesses.) priesthood /'pri:sthod/ noun 1. □ the priesthood the position of a priest ○ At thirty he found he had a vocation for the priesthood. 2. all priests considered as a group ○ The priesthood refused to accept the government's decree.

prig /prɪg/ noun an exceedingly moral and proud person priggish /'prɪgɪʃ/ adj very moral and proud prim /prɪm/ adj very correct, very easily shocked (NOTE: primmer – primmest) prima ballerina /,prɪmə bæl'ərɪ:nə/ noun the main female dancer in a ballet company primacy /'praɪməsɪ/ noun being in first place, being most important (formal) prima donna /,pri:ma 'dɒnə/ noun 1. the main female singer in an opera company 2. a person who thinks he or she is extremely important and makes a fuss if things are not done in the way they want ○ He's a real prima donna when it comes to choosing flowers for his office.

prima facie /,prɪma 'feɪsɪ/ adj, adv Latin as things seem at first primeval /'praɪm(ə)vəl/ adj old, dating from the very earliest period or state

③ primarily /'praɪm(ə)rɪl/ adv mainly, mostly

② primary /'praɪmərɪ/ adj main, basic ○ Our primary concern is the safety of our passengers. ■ noun US a primary election ○ He won the New Hampshire primary. (NOTE: The plural is primaries.)

primary education /,praɪmərɪ edju'keɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the teaching of small children

② primary school /'praɪmərɪ sku:l/ noun a school for children up to the age of eleven (NOTE: The US term is elementary school.)

primate /'praɪmət/ noun an archbishop ○ The Archbishop of Canterbury is the Primate of all England.

prime /praɪm/ adj 1. most important ○ The prime suspect in the case is the dead woman's husband. ○ She is a prime target for any kidnapper. ○ This is a prime example of what is wrong with this country. 2. of the best quality ○ prime Scottish beef ■ noun a period when you are at your best ○ He was at or in his prime when he won the championship. Antonym nadir □ past your prime no longer at your best ○ At 35, she's past her prime as a tennis player. ■ verb 1. to get something prepared ○ The bomb had been primed and would have exploded in ten minutes. 2. to give wood or metal a first coat of special paint, before giving the top coat ○ The paint is coming off because the wood hadn't been primed properly. 3. to put water into a water pump or oil into a machine, so as to start it working 4. □ to prime someone to do something to prepare someone in advance to do something by giving them information, advice, etc. ○ She came primed with a few questions which would embarrass the speaker.

Prime Minister /praɪm 'minɪstə/ noun the head of the government in Britain and other countries ○ The Australian Prime Minister or the Prime Minister of Australia ○ She cut out the picture of the Prime Minister from the newspaper. ○ The Prime Minister will address the nation at 6 o'clock tonight.

prime number /'praɪm 'nʌmbə/ noun a number such as 2, 5, or 11 which can only be divided by itself or by 1 primer /'praɪmə/ noun 1. a special paint which is put on bare wood before giving the top coats 2. a book with simple instructions or that is an introduction to a subject. Synonym textbook primeval /'praɪm(ə)vəl/ adj 1. referring to the period at the beginning of the world's existence ○ the primeval forest 2. same as primal primitive /'primitɪv/ adj 1. referring to the very early stages in the development of something such as a plant or animal ○ primitive life forms 2. rough or crude ○ They live in a primitive hut in the woods. ○ The system is a bit primitive but it works.

primrose /'prɪmrəʊz/ noun a small pale yellow spring flower

③ prince /prɪns/ noun the son of a king or queen

princely /'prɪns(ə)li/ adj like a prince □ a princely sum a large sum of money ○ I started work at the princely sum of £10 a week. (NOTE: often used humorously to refer to a sum of money that you think is not large enough)

③ princess /prɪn'ses/ noun 1. the daughter of a king or queen ○ Once upon a time a beautiful princess lived in a castle by the edge of the forest. 2. the wife of a prince (NOTE: also used as a title before a name: Princess Sophia. The plural is princesses.)

② principal /'prɪnsɪp(ə)l/ adj most important ○ The country's principal products are paper and wood. ○ She played a principal role in setting up the organisation. Synonym

main ■ noun 1. the head of a school or college ○ The principal wants to see you in her office. 2. a main performer in a theatrical performance ○ The principals were quite good but the chorus was awful. 3. money on which interest is paid, capital which has been invested ○ Up to now you've been paying interest, but now you can start repaying some of the principal. (NOTE: Do not confuse with principle.)

principality /,prɪnsɪ'pælɪti/ noun 1. a country ruled by a prince ○ the Principality of Monaco (NOTE: The plural is principalities.) 2. □ the Principality Wales principally /'prɪnsɪp(ə)li/ adv mainly

① principle /'prɪnsɪp(ə)l/ noun 1. a general rule ○ the principles of nuclear physics ○ It is a principle in our system of justice that a person is innocent until he is proved guilty. □ in principle in agreement with the general rule ○ I agree in principle, but we need to discuss some of the details more thoroughly. ○ In principle, the results should be the same every time you do the experiment. 2. a personal sense of what is right ○ She's a woman of very strong principles. ○ It's against my principles to work on a Sunday. □ on principle because of what you believe ○ She refuses to eat meat on principle.

principled /'prɪnsɪp(ə)ld/ adj based or acting on firmly held moral principles

② print /prɪnt/ noun 1. a mark made on something ○ The print of a dinosaur's foot has been preserved in this rock. ○ The police examined the tyre prints left by the vehicle. 2. letters printed on a page ○ I can't read this book – the print is too small. □ the small print, the fine print the conditions on a contract, usually printed in very small letters ○ Don't forget to check the fine print before you sign the contract. 3. a picture or photograph which has been printed ○ The print is very blurred. ○ I'm going to have some more prints made of this photo. ■ verb 1. to mark letters or pictures on paper with a machine, and so produce a book, leaflet or newspaper etc. ○ The book is printed directly from a computer disk. ○ We had five hundred copies of the leaflet printed. 2. to write capital letters or letters which are not joined together ○ Print your name in the space below. 3. to reproduce an image ○ We printed the picture of the castle on our T-shirts.

printable /'prɪntəb(ə)l/ adj fit to be printed and published

③ printed /'prɪntɪd/ adj produced on paper using a printing press

printed circuit board /,prɪntɪd 'sɜ:kɪt bɔ:d/ noun a card with metal tracks printed or etched on it, which forms an electrical connection when other elements are fitted onto it. Abbr PCB printed matter /'prɪntɪd ,mætə/ noun paper with printing on it, such as leaflets, books, newspapers or magazines

③ printer /'prɪntər/ noun 1. a person or company that prints books, newspapers, etc. ○ The book has gone to the printer, and we should have copies next week. 2. a machine which prints

③ printing /'prɪntɪŋ/ noun 1. the art, business and process of printing books, newspapers, etc. ○ Errors may have crept into the text during printing. 2. a number of copies of a book printed at the same time ○ The book was published with a first printing of 5,000 copies. ○ The second printing has sold out and a third has been ordered.

printing press /'prɪntɪŋ pres/ noun a machine for printing books, newspapers, etc.

③ print out /,prɪnt 'aʊt/ verb to print information from a computer through a printer ○ She printed out three copies of the letter.

③ printout /'prɪntaʊt/ noun printed information from a computer

③ prior /'prɪər/ adj 1. before; previous ○ The house can be visited by prior arrangement with the owner. ○ I had to refuse her invitation because I had a prior engagement in London. □ without prior agreement without any agreement in advance 2. □ prior to before (formal) ○ They had left prior to my arrival. ■ noun the man who is head of a priory ○ The prior has been summoned to Rome.

prioritise /prɪ'ɔ:ri,taiz/, prioritize verb to rank things according to importance or urgency

② priority /'pri:tɪəri/ noun 1. a right to be first □ to have priority over something, to take priority over something to be more important than something, to need to be done first ○ People with serious injuries have priority over those with only cuts and bruises. □ to give something top priority to make something the most important item ○ We should give top priority to solving our own financial problems. ○ The President wants us to give the problem top priority. 2. a thing which has to be done first ○ Finding somewhere to stay the night was our main priority.

prise /'praɪz/ verb □ to prise something open to lift something open with force ○ He prised the lid open with a metal bar.

prism /'prɪz(ə)m/ noun a glass block, usually with a cross-section shaped like a triangle, which splits white light up into the colours of the rainbow

② prison /'prɪz(ə)n/ noun a building where people are kept when they are being punished for a crime ○ The judge sent him to prison for five years. ○ His father's in prison for burglary. (NOTE: Prison is often used without the article the.)

② prisoner /'prɪz(ə)nə/ noun a person who is in prison ○ The prisoners were taken away in a police van.

prisoner of war /'prɪz(ə)nə əv wɔ:/ noun a member of the armed forces captured by the enemy in time of war. Abbr POW pristine /'prɪstɪ:n/ adj fresh like new privacy /'prɪvəsi/ noun not being disturbed by other people

① private /'praɪvət/ adj 1. which belongs to one person, not to everyone ○ He flew there in his private jet. 2. which refers to one particular person and should be kept secret from others ○ You have no right to interfere in my private affairs. ○ This is a private discussion between me and my son. □ in private away from other people ○ She asked to see the teacher in private. ■ noun an ordinary soldier of the lowest rank (NOTE: can be used with the surname: Private Jones)

③ private detective /,praɪvət di'tektɪv/ noun a detective who is not part of a police force, and works for a fee private education /,praɪvət 'edju:kɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the practice of teaching in private schools, where the students pay fees private enterprise /,praɪvət 'entəprɪərs/ noun businesses that are owned and run by individuals or groups, not by the state private eye /,praɪvət 'aɪ/ noun a detective who is not a member of the police force and is employed by an ordinary person (informal) privately /'praɪvətlɪ/ adv 1. in private ○ I spoke to her privately about it. 2. not telling anyone ○ Privately, he thought she was a fool. 3. referring to private individuals ○ a privately owned railway private practice /,praɪvət 'præktɪs/ noun a doctor's or dentist's practice where the clients pay, as opposed to one which is part of the National Health Service private property /,praɪvət 'prəpəri/ noun property which belongs to a private person, not to the public private school /'praɪvət sku:l/ noun a school that is not run by the state and which the students have to pay to attend. Compare public school private secretary /,praɪvət 'sekrit(ə)ri/ noun someone who deals with an important person's correspondence and affairs private sector /'praɪvət 'sektə/ noun companies which are listed on the stock exchange or owned by individuals, and not by the government private view /,praɪvət 'vju:/ noun the showing of an exhibition to specially invited guests, before it is open to the public

③ privatisation /,praɪvə'taɪz(ə)n/, privatization noun the act of privatising privatise /'praɪvətaɪz/, privatize verb to return a nationalised industry to private ownership by selling shares in it on the stock exchange. Antonym nationalise privet /'privət/ noun a common shrub with small green or yellow leaves, used for garden hedges

③ privilege /'prɪvɪlɪdʒ/ noun a favour or right granted to some people but not to everyone privileged /'prɪvɪlɪdʒd/ adj who has a special advantage

Privy Councillor /,prɪvi 'kaʊnsələ/ noun a member of the Privy Council

② prize /'praɪz/ noun something given to a winner ○ He won first prize in the music competition. ○ He answered all the questions correctly and claimed the prize. ○ The prize was awarded jointly to the young British and Russian competitors. Synonym award ■ adj which has won a prize because of being of good quality ○ He showed a prize sheep at the agricultural show. ■ verb to value something highly ○ I prize his friendship particularly. Synonym treasure prizewinner /'praɪzwinə/ noun someone who has won a prize prizewinning /'praɪzwinɪŋ/ adj that has won a prize. Synonym award-winning. Antonym unsuccessful pro /'prəʊ/ prefix in favour of ○ the pro-European lobby ■ prep in favour of ○ She's very pro fox-hunting. ■ noun (informal) 1. a professional sportsperson, actor or musician 2. someone who does something very well because they have been doing it for a long time proactive /prəʊ'æktyv/ adj working by starting actions yourself, rather than reacting to what other people do. Antonym passive ③ probability /,prɒbə'bɪlɪtɪ/ noun the quality of being probable. Synonym likelihood □ in all probability very probably ○ In all probability they will get married at Easter.

probable /'prɒbəbəl/ adj likely

① probably /'prɒbəbli/ adv likely to happen ○ We're probably going to Spain for our holidays. ○ My father is probably going to retire next year. ○ Are you going to Spain as usual this year? – Very probably.

probate /'prəʊbeɪt/ noun the acceptance in law that a document such as a will is valid ③ probation /prə'beɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. a legal system for dealing with criminals where they are not sent to prison provided that they continue to behave well under the supervision of a probation officer ○ She was put on probation for one year or was put on one year's probation. 2. a period when a new employee is being tested before being given a permanent job □ on probation being tested ○ We are employing him on three months' probation. ○ She can't have a pay rise as she is still on probation.

probationary /prə'beɪʃ(ə)n(ə)ri/ adj referring to a time when a person is on probation probation officer /prə'beɪʃ(ə)n ,ɒfɪsə/ noun an official of the social services who supervises young people on probation

③ probe /prəʊb/ noun a thorough investigation ○ a police probe into organised crime ■ verb to examine something deeply ○ I don't want the police to start probing into my financial affairs. ○ The surgeon probed the wound to try to find the bullet. Synonym investigate

① problem /'prɒbləm/ noun 1. something or someone which causes difficulty □ to pose a problem to be something that is difficult to change or improve ○ What to do with truants poses a problem for the schools. □ to solve a problem to find an answer to a problem ○ The police are trying to solve the problem of how the thieves got into the house. ○ We have called in an expert to solve our computer problem. □ no problem fine, that will be easy 2. a question in a test ○ Half the students couldn't do all the problems in the maths test.

proboscis /prəʊ'bɒsɪs/ noun a long tube coming from the head of an animal, such as the trunk of an elephant or the sting of a mosquito (NOTE: The plural is proboscises.)

procedural /prə'si:dʒərəl/ adj referring to procedure. Synonym technical

② procedure /prə'si:dʒə/ noun 1. the way in which something ought to be carried out ○ To obtain permission to build a new house you need to follow the correct procedure. □ this procedure is very irregular this is not the correct way to do something 2. a medical treatment ○ a new procedure for treating cases of drug addiction

③ proceed /prə'si:d/ verb 1. to go further ○ He proceeded down the High Street towards the river. 2. to do something after something else ○ The students then proceeded to shout and throw bottles at passing cars. 3. □ to proceed with something to go on doing something ○ Shall we proceed with the committee meeting?

③ proceed against /prə'si:d ə,geɪnst/ verb to start a lawsuit against someone

② proceedings /prə'si:dɪŋz/ plural noun a report of what takes place at a meeting ○ the proceedings of the Archaeological Society

③ proceeds /'prəʊsesɪ:dz/ plural noun money which you receive when you sell something ○ She sold her house and invested the proceeds in a little shop. ○ All the proceeds of the village fair go to charity.

① process /'prəʊses/ noun 1. the method of making something ○ a new process for extracting oil from coal. ♦ peace process (NOTE: The plural is processes.) 2. □ in the process of doing something while doing something ○ She interrupted me while I was in the process of writing my report. ○ We were in the process of moving to London when I had the offer of a job in Australia. ■ verb 1. to manufacture goods from raw materials ○ The uranium has to be processed before it can be used in a nuclear reactor. 2. to deal with a claim or bill, etc. in the usual routine way ○ to process an insurance claim ○ Orders are processed in our warehouse. 3. to sort out information, especially using a computer ○ The computer processes the data and then prints it out. 4. /prə'ses/ to walk in a procession ○ The peers and peeresses processed into Westminster Abbey.

procession /prə'seʃ(ə)n/ noun a group of people walking in line, sometimes to music □ in procession in a line as part of a ceremony ○ The people who have received their degrees will walk in procession through the university grounds.

processor /'prəʊsesə/ noun 1. a machine that processes ○ Mix the ingredients in a food processor. 2. a computer which processes information

③ proclaim /prə'kleɪm/ verb to make an official statement in public proclamation /,prɒkla'meɪʃ(ə)n/ noun an official public statement proclivity /prəʊ'klɪvɪtɪ/ noun a natural tendency, usually to do something bad. Synonym liking procrastinate /prəʊ'kræstɪneɪt/ verb to delay, to postpone something until later procure /prə'kjʊər/ verb 1. to obtain something ○ Somehow he had managed to procure the equipment he needed without anyone knowing. ○ We need to procure a map of the area. 2. to arrange for a woman to provide sexual intercourse for money procurement /prə'kjʊəmənt/ noun the obtaining of equipment or supplies procurer /prə'kjʊərə/ noun a person who provides prostitutes for sex. Synonym buyer prod /prəd/ noun a poke ○ He gave the prod in the ribs. Synonym nudge □ to give someone a prod to nudge someone, to try to get someone to do something ○ He's late with his work – better give him a prod. ■ verb 1. to poke someone or something with a finger or stick ○ He prodded the pig with his stick. 2.

□ to prod someone into doing something to do something to persuade someone to take action ○ The group tried to prod the government into action or into taking some sort of action.

prodigal /'prədɪg(ə)l/ adj wasteful, especially of money. Antonym cautious prodigious /prə'dɪdʒəs/ adj 1. enormous, very powerful ○ The children ate a prodigious quantity of cakes. ○ He used his prodigious strength to lift up the trunk. 2. extraordinary ○ He's a prodigious writer of children's stories.

prodigiously /prə'dɪdʒəsli/ adv enormously prodigy /'prədɪdʒi/ noun 1. a remarkable person, usually a young person ○ By the age of ten he was already a mathematical prodigy. 2. an extraordinary action ○ The firemen performed prodigies of bravery. (NOTE: The plural is prodigies.)

① produce noun /prə'dju:s/ things grown on the land ○ vegetables and other garden produce Synonym crop (NOTE: Do not confuse with product.) ■ verb /prə'dju:s/ 1. to show or bring out something ○ The tax office asked him to produce the relevant documents. ○ He produced a bundle of notes from his inside pocket. ○ The factory produces cars and trucks. 2. to put on a play or film, etc. ○ She is producing 'Hamlet' for the local drama club. 3. to make ○ The factory produces cars and trucks. 4. to grow crops, to give birth to young ○ The region produces enough rice to supply the needs of the whole country. ○ Our cat has produced six kittens.

③ producer /prə'dju:sə/ noun 1. a company or country which makes or grows something ○ an important producer of steel ○ The company is a major car producer. 2. a person who is in overall charge, especially of the financing, of a film or play, but does not deal with the technical details. Compare director

① product /'prədʌkt/ noun 1. a thing which is manufactured ○ Germany is helping her industry to sell more products abroad. (NOTE: Do not confuse with produce.) 2. (in mathematics) a number which is the result when numbers are multiplied ○ The product of 4 times 10 is 40.

① production /prə'dʌkʃən/ noun 1. manufacturing ○ We are trying to step up production. ○ Production will probably be held up by the strike. 2. putting on a play or film ○ The film is currently in production at Teddington Studios. 3. a particular way of putting on a play ○ Have you seen the production of 'Henry V' at the Globe Theatre? 4. showing something □ on production of when something is shown ○ Goods bought can be exchanged only on production of the sales slip.

production line /prə'dʌkʃən laɪn/ noun a system of making a product, where each item such as a car moves slowly through the factory with new sections being added to it as it goes along productive /prə'dʌktɪv/ adj which produces results □ a productive meeting a useful meeting which should lead to an agreement ○ We had a very productive morning – all the remaining problems were ironed out.

productivity /,prəpdʌk'tɪvɪtɪ/ noun the rate of output, rate of production in a factory. Synonym output

Prof abbr professor ○ Prof Stanley Ridge
profane /prə'feɪn/ adj 1. not religious ○ sacred and profane art ○ using profane language 2. blasphemous, rude towards God or religion ○ She was accused of using profane language. ■ verb to treat something sacred with disrespect ○ How dare you profane the memory of your great father!

profanity /prə'fænɪti/ noun swearing, bad language. Synonym blasphemy (NOTE: The plural is profanities.)

profess /prə'fes/ verb to declare something professed /prə'fesɪd/ adj declared ③ profession /prə'fesʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. work which needs special training, skill or knowledge ○ the legal profession ○ the medical profession ○ the teaching profession ○ She is an accountant by profession. 2. the declaration of belief in something ○ a profession of faith

① professional /prə'feʃ(ə)n(ə)l/ adj 1. referring to a profession ○ He keeps his professional life and his private life completely separate. 2. expert or skilled ○ They did a very professional job in designing the new office. 3. (of sportsmen) who is paid to play ○ a professional footballer ■ noun 1. an expert ○ Don't try to deal with the problem yourself – get a professional in. 2. a sportsman who is paid to play ○ For many years, professionals were not allowed to compete in the Olympics. ○ He ran as an amateur for several years, then turned professional. 3. a sportsman who teaches others ○ a golf professional professionalism /prə'fesʃ(ə)nəlɪz(ə)m/ noun 1. being an expert, having skill ○ People admired the professionalism with which he dealt with the problem. 2. paying sportsmen to play ○ What effect will professionalism have on the game of rugby?

professionally /prə'fesʃ(ə)nəli/ adv 1. as a professional ○ Acting is her hobby, but she'd like to do it professionally. 2. by professionals ○ We had the house redecorated professionally.

professional misconduct /prə-fesʃ(ə)n(ə)l mis'kɒndʌkt/ noun behaviour by a member of a profession, such as a lawyer or accountant or doctor, which the body regulating that profession considers to be wrong professor /prə'fesə/ noun 1. the most senior teacher in a subject at a university ○ a professor of English ○ an economics professor 2. the title taken by some teachers of music and art ○ She goes to Professor Smith for piano lessons. (NOTE: used as a title before a name: Professor Smith) professorial /,prɒfə'sɔ:rɪəl/ adj referring to a professor professorship /prə'fesəʃɪp/ noun the position of professor at a university ○ He accepted a professorship in Canada.

proffer /'prɒfə/ verb to offer something proficiency /prə'fɪʃ(ə)nsi/ noun a skill in doing something. Antonym incompetence proficient /prə'fɪʃ(ə)nt/ adj skilful, able to do something well. Synonym capable □ to be proficient at or in something to be very capable of doing something well ○ I'm not very proficient at mental arithmetic. ○ By the summer I had become reasonably proficient in German.

③ profile /'prəʊfəl/ noun 1. a view of someone's head, seen from the side ○ a photograph showing her in profile 2. □ to keep or maintain a low profile to be quiet, not to be obvious ○ It would be better if you kept a low profile until all the fuss has died down. □ to keep or maintain a high profile to keep yourself in the view of the public ○ A politician needs to keep a high profile. ○ Advertising helps to maintain the company's high profile. 3. a short biography of a famous person in a newspaper ○ There's a profile of the Chancellor in the Sunday paper.

④ profit /'prɒfɪt/ noun money you gain from selling something which is more than the money you paid for it ○ The sale produced a good profit or a handsome profit. □ to make a profit to have more money as a result of a deal ○ We aim to make a quick profit. ○ We made a large profit when we sold our house. ○ If you don't make a profit you will soon be out of business. □ to show a profit to make a profit and put it in the company accounts ○ We are showing a small profit for the first quarter. □ to take your profit to sell shares at a higher price than you paid for them, rather than to keep them as an investment ■ verb □ to profit from to gain from (formal) ○ I profited from her advice.

⑤ profitability /,prɒfɪtə'biliti/ noun the fact of being able to produce a profit profitable /'prɒfɪtəb(ə)l/ adj likely to produce a profit profitably /'prɒfɪtəbli/ adv 1. at a profit ○ Make sure the money is profitably invested. 2. usefully ○ I spent the week very profitably doing research in the library.

profit margin /'prɒfit ,mæ:dʒɪn/ noun the percentage of money gained against money paid out profligate /'prɒflɪgət/ adj very extravagant (formal) proforma /prəʊ'fɔ:ma/ noun an invoice sent asking a purchaser to pay in advance before the goods are sent profound /prə'faʊnd/ adj very serious, very deep profoundly /prə'faʊndlɪ/ adv very seriously, completely. Synonym intensely profuse /'prə'fju:s/ adj abundant, excessive. Synonym plentiful. Antonym scanty profusion /prə'fju:ʒ(ə)n/ noun a very large quantity. Synonym abundance. Antonym dearth □ in profusion in large quantities ○ There are wild flowers in profusion in the countryside in early summer.

progeny /'prɒdʒəni/ noun children (NOTE: takes a plural verb) progesterone /prəʊ'dʒestərəʊn/ noun a sex hormone produced in the second part of the menstrual cycle which stimulates the formation of the placenta if an ovum is fertilised. Synthetic forms are also used as contraceptives. Compare testosterone prognosis /prɒg'nəʊsɪs/ noun an opinion of how something, such as a disease, will develop. Synonym forecast □ this cancer has a prognosis of about two years the patient will die within two years unless the cancer is stopped

⑤ program /'prəʊgræm/ noun instructions given to a computer ○ to load a program ○ to run a program ○ a graphics program ○ a word-processing program ■ verb to give instructions to a computer. ○ The computer is programmed to print labels.

① programme /'prəʊgræm/ noun 1. a TV or radio show ○ We watched a programme on life in the 17th century. ○ There's a football programme after the news. ○ I want to listen to the phone-in programme at 9.15. ○ There are no good television programmes tonight. 2. a paper in a theatre or at a sports event, which gives information about the show ○ The programme gives a list of the actors. ■ verb to arrange programmes on TV or radio ○ The new chat show is programmed to compete with the gardening programme on the other channel. (NOTE: [all verb senses] The US spelling is program.)

② programmer /'prəʊgræmə/ noun 1. a person who programs a computer ○ The programmers made a few alterations to our software. 2. a person who programmes TV or radio shows ○ Programmers are always trying to win audiences from other channels.

programming /'prəʊgræmɪŋ/ noun the process of creating computer programs programming language /'prəʊgræmɪŋ, læŋgwɪdʒ/ noun a system of signs and words used to program a computer

② progress noun /'prəʊgres/ 1. a movement forwards ○ We are making good progress towards finishing the house. (NOTE: no plural) 2. □ in progress which is happening or being done ○ The meeting is still in progress. ○ We still have a lot of work in progress. ■ verb /prəʊ'gres/ to advance ○ Work on the bypass is progressing slowly.

progress chaser /'prəʊgres, tʃeɪsə/ noun a person whose job is to check that work is being carried out on schedule or that orders are fulfilled on time progressive /prə'gresɪv/ adj 1. (of movement) in stages ○ I have noticed a progressive improvement in your work. 2. (of ideas) advanced ○ They elected a leader with progressive views on education.

③ progression /prəʊ'gref(ə)n/ noun an advance, a movement forwards

progressively /prəʊ'gresɪvlɪ/ adv by stages. Synonym increasingly. Antonym suddenly prohibit /prəʊ'hibit/ verb to say that something must not be done. Synonym forbid. Antonym permit prohibition /,prəʊ'l'bɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the act of forbidding something. Synonym ban. Antonym permission prohibitive /prəʊ'l'hitɪv/ adj so expensive that you cannot afford it. Antonym affordable

① project noun /'prɒdʒekt/ 1. a plan, scheme ○ We are working on a building project. ○ Her project is to write the history of her village. 2. work planned by students on their own ○ She asked her teacher for some pointers to help her with her project. ■ verb /prə'dʒekt/ 1. to plan something, to expect to do something ○ They are projecting to build a new science park near the university. 2. to send a picture onto a screen ○ The lecturer projected slides of his visit to the Arctic. 3. to forecast something from existing data ○ They projected sales of over £10m.

projected /prə'dʒektrɪd/ adj 1. which has been planned ○ We had to abandon our projected American trip. ○ This is the site of the projected factory. 2. which has been forecast ○ Here are the projected sales figures for next year.

projectile /prə'dʒektaɪl/ noun a thing which is thrown, or fired from a gun

③ projection /prə'dʒekʃən/ noun 1. a calculation of something which is forecast for the future ○ We have made a projection of the additional housing needed in this area by the year 2010. ○ Computer projections forecast an easy win for the government. 2. a thing which sticks out ○ She gashed her arm on a sharp projection of rock. 3. the action of projecting a picture onto a screen projector /prə'dʒektrə/ noun a machine which sends pictures onto a screen proletarian /prəʊlə'teəriən/ adj referring to the working class. Antonym aristocratic proletariat /prəʊlə'teəriət/ noun □ the proletariat the working class, especially manual and industrial workers and their families ○ In the nineteenth century, in most countries the peasantry still vastly outnumbered the proletariat. ○ The proletariat were considered incapable of organising themselves as a political force.

proliferate /prə'lifəreɪt/ verb to increase quickly in number (formal) proliferation /prə'lifə'reɪʃ(ə)n/ noun a rapid spread. Synonym propagation prolific /prə'lifɪk/ adj 1. producing many children, fruit or other offspring ○ Rabbits are notoriously prolific. 2. producing a lot of something ○ He's a prolific writer of travel guides.

prologue /'prɒlɒŋ/ noun 1. a piece spoken as the introduction of a play or poem ○ The prologue sets the scene and introduces the main characters. Compare epilogue 2. a preliminary event that leads on to something else ○ The discussions between Foreign Ministers are a prologue to the signing of a full-scale treaty. (NOTE: [all senses] The US spelling is prolog.)

prolong /prə'lɒŋ/ verb to make something longer. Synonym extend. Antonym curtail prolonged /prə'lɒnd/ adj lasting for a long time. Synonym lengthy prom /prɒm/ noun 1. a promenade ○ Let's go for a stroll along the prom. 2. US a school dance ○ They met at the High School prom.

promenade /,prɒmə'næd/ noun a walkway built along the side of the sea ○ We stood on the promenade and looked out to sea. ○ Our hotel was right on the promenade. ■ verb to walk about casually (formal) ○ We promenaded up and down the Champs Elysées.

prominence /'prɒmɪnəns/ noun 1. being important or famous ○ He first rose to prominence in the 1960s. 2. □ to give prominence to something to emphasise something ○ The newspapers gave too much prominence to that part of the speech. 3. a piece of land which stands out higher than the rest ○ The castle stands on a prominence overlooking a bend in the river.

prominent /'prɒmɪnənt/ adj 1. standing out, easily seen ○ She has a very prominent nose. 2. famous or important ○ a prominent trade union leader ○ They assassinated a prominent member of the ruling party.

prominently /'prɒmɪnəntli/ adv easily seen promiscuous /prə'mɪskjuəs/ adj who has sexual relations with many people. Synonym immoral

② promise /'prɒmɪs/ noun 1. the act of saying that you will definitely do something ○ But you made a promise not to tell anyone else and now you've told my mother! ○ I'll pay you back on Friday – that's a promise. □ to go back on a promise, to break a promise not to do what you said you would do ○ The management went back on its promise to increase salaries. ○ He broke his promise to take her to Mexico on holiday. □ to keep a promise to do what you said you would do ○ He says he will pay next week, but he never keeps his promises. ○ She kept her promise to write to him every day. ♀ lick 2. □ to show promise to make people feel that you will do well in the future ○ This year's students certainly show promise. ■ verb 1. to give your word that you will definitely do something ○ They promised to be back for supper. ○ You must promise to bring the computer back when you have finished with it. ○ He promised he would look into the problem. ○ She promised the staff an extra week's holiday but it never materialised. 2. to look as if something will happen ○ The meeting promises to be very interesting.

② promising /'prɒmɪsɪŋ/ adj 1. who is likely to succeed ○ She's the most promising candidate we have interviewed so far. 2. good, and likely to become much better ○ The results of the antibiotic have been very promising. ○ The economic situation looks much more promising than it did a year ago.

promontory /'prɒmənt(ə)ri/ noun a piece of high land jutting out into the sea (NOTE: The plural is promontories.)

② promote /prə'moʊt/ verb 1. to give someone a better job ○ He was promoted from salesman to sales manager. 2. to make sure that people know about a product or service, by advertising it ○ There are posters all over the place promoting the new night club. 3. to encourage something ○ The club's aim is to promote gardening.

③ promoter /prə'moʊtə/ noun □ a boxing promoter a person who organises boxing matches

③ promotion /prə'moʊʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. a move to a better job ○ He ruined his chances of promotion when he argued with the boss. 2. advertising of a new product ○ We're giving away small bottles of shampoo as a promotion.

promotional /prə'moʊʃ(ə)n(ə)l/ adj used in an advertising campaign. Synonym publicity prompt /prɒmpɪt/ adj done immediately ○ Thank you for your prompt reply. (NOTE: prompter – promptest) ■ verb 1. to suggest to someone that he should do something ○ It prompted him to write to the local paper.

2. to tell an actor words which he has forgotten ○ He had to be prompted in the middle of a long speech. ■ noun a message to a computer user, telling him to do something ○ The prompt came up on the screen telling me to insert the disk in drive A. Synonym stimulus prompter /'prɒmpɪtə/ noun a person who prompts an actor prompting /'prɒmpɪtɪŋ/ noun the action of persuading someone to do something. Synonym encouragement

③ promptly /'prɒmptlɪ/ adv immediately; rapidly promptness /'prɒmptnəs/ noun quickness promulgate /'prɒməlgeɪt/ verb to make a law known to the public prone /prəʊn/ adj 1. lying flat ○ They found her lying prone on the floor. 2. □ prone to likely to do something, likely to suffer from something ○ When you're tired you are prone to make mistakes. ○ He's prone to chest infections. □ accident-prone likely to have accidents often ○ The new waitress seems to be accident-prone.

prong /prɒŋ/ noun one of the sharp points of a fork

③ pronoun /'prəʊnaʊn/ noun a word used instead of a noun, such as 'I', 'you', 'he', 'she' and 'it' pronounce /prə'naʊns/ verb 1. to speak sounds which form a word ○ How do you pronounce 'Paris' in French? 2. to state something officially ○ He was pronounced dead on arrival at hospital. ○ The priest pronounced them man and wife.

pronounced /prə'naʊnst/ adj noticeable.
Synonym marked

pronouncement /prə'naʊnsmənt/ noun an official or formal statement pronunciation /prə,nʌnsi'ɛɪʃ(ə)n/ noun

a way of speaking words ○ What's the correct pronunciation of 'controversy'? ○ You should try to improve your pronunciation by taking lessons from native speakers.

② proof /pru:f/ noun 1. a thing which proves or which shows that something is true ○ The police have no proof that he committed the murder. 2. a sheet with text or pictures printed on it, for the publisher, author or designer to look at and make corrections ○ She has a pile of proofs to check. ○ He was looking at the first proofs of his latest etching. ■ adj □ proof against safe from, not affected by ○ After it has been treated, the wood is proof against insects and rot. ○ No one was proof against her charms.

-proof /pru:f/ suffix which prevents something getting in, getting out or harming ○ a dustproof cover ○ a soundproof studio proofread /'pru:fri:d/ verb to read proofs and make corrections to them (NOTE: proof-reading – proofread /'pru:fred/) proofreader /'pru:fri:də/ noun a person who reads proofs and corrects them prop /prɒp/ noun 1. a support or stick which holds something up ○ I used a piece of wood as a prop to keep the window open. 2. (in rugby) a forward in the front row of the scrum ○ He plays prop in the England pack. ■ verb to support something ○ He propped up the table with a pile of books. ○ She propped the door open with a brick. Synonym hold up (NOTE: propping – propped) propaganda /,prɒpə'gændə/ noun the spreading of false or biased information about something which you want the public to believe propagate /'prɒpəgeɪt/ verb 1. to produce new plants ○ I tried to propagate the plants by taking cuttings. 2. to spread ideas ○ It's a view being propagated by certain sections of the press.

propagation /,prɒpə'geɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the action of propagating a plant propel /prə'pel/ verb to push something forward (NOTE: propelling – propelled) propeller /prə'pelə/ noun a set of blades which turn very quickly to drive a boat or an aircraft propensity /prə'pensiti/ noun a tendency to do something

① proper /'prɒpə/ adj right and correct ○ She didn't put the sugar back into its proper place in the cupboard. ○ This is the proper way to use a knife and fork. ○ The parcel wasn't delivered because it didn't have the proper address.

① properly /'prɒpəli/ adv correctly ○ The accident happened because the garage hadn't fitted the wheel properly. ○ The parcel wasn't properly addressed. Antonym incorrectly

③ proper noun /,prɒpə 'naʊn/ noun a word which is the name of a place, a person, a building or a title, etc.

① property /'prɒpəti/ noun 1. a thing that belongs to someone ○ The furniture is the property of the landlord. ○ The hotel guests lost all their property in the fire. ○ The management is not responsible for property left in the restaurant. ♦ lost property office (NOTE: no plural) 2. buildings and land ○ The family owns property in West London. ○ A lot of industrial property was damaged in the war. (NOTE: no plural) 3. a building ○ We have several properties for sale in the centre of town. (NOTE: The plural is properties.)

property developer /'prɒpəti dɪ,veləpə/ noun a person who plans and builds property

prophecy /'prɒfɛsi/ noun 1. the practice of saying what will happen in the future ○ He had the gift of prophecy. 2. a thing which you say will happen in the future ○ None of his gloomy prophecies has come true. ○ She made a prophecy that they would be married within a month. (NOTE: The plural in this meaning is prophecies.)

prophesy /'prɒfəsai/ verb to say what will happen in the future. Synonym predict prophet /'prɒfɪt/ noun 1. a person who says what will happen in the future ○ The prophets of doom in the newspapers are forecasting the collapse of the economy. 2. a great religious leader ○ The Hebrew prophets foretold the coming of the Messiah. ○ New prophets arose from time to time in various parts of the Roman Empire. □ the Prophet Muhammad, the leader of the Muslims prophetic /prə'fetɪk/ adj which says what will happen in the future. Synonym visionary propitious /prə'pɪʃəs/ adj favourable (formal) proponent /prə'pəʊnənt/ noun a person who supports something. Synonym advocate

② proportion /prə'pɔ:ʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. a part of a whole ○ Only a small proportion of his income comes from his TV appearances. 2. a relationship between the amount of something and the amount of something else ○ Mix equal proportions of oil and vinegar. ○ What is the proportion of men to women on the committee? 3. □ in proportion to showing how something is related to something else ○ Our sales in Europe are tiny in proportion to those in the USA. ○ The payment is very high in proportion to the time worked. □ out of proportion to not in a proper relationship ○ His salary is totally out of proportion to the work he does.

proportional /prə'pɔ:ʃ(ə)n(ə)l/ adj which is directly related to something ○ The amount you get in interest is proportional to the amount invested.

proportional representation /prə'pɔ:ʃ(ə)n(ə)l, 'reprɪzən'teɪʃ(ə)n/ noun a system of voting where the votes cast for each party are more or less accurately reflected in the number of MPs each party has proportionate /prə'pɔ:ʃ(ə)nət/ adj which is in proportion proportionately /prə'pɔ:ʃ(ə)nətli/ adv in proportion

① proposal /prə'pəuz(ə)l/ noun 1. a plan which has been suggested ○ The committee made a proposal to rebuild the clubhouse. ○ His proposal was accepted by the committee. ○ She put forward a proposal but it was rejected. 2. □ proposal (of marriage) the act of asking someone to marry you ○ She thought he liked her, but she didn't expect a proposal.

② propose /prə'pəuz/ verb 1. to make a suggestion ○ I propose that we all go for a swim. 2. □ to propose to do something to say that you intend to do something ○ They propose to repay the loan at £20 a month.

③ proposed /prə'pəuzd/ adj which has been suggested proposer /prə'pəuzəl/ noun a person who proposes something proposition /prə'pɔ:zɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. a thing which has been proposed ○ The proposition is not very attractive. □ it will never be a commercial proposition it is not likely to make a profit 2. □ a tough proposition a problem which is difficult to solve proprietary /prə'praiət(ə)ri/ adj acting as though you own something ○ She cast proprietary glances over her boyfriend.

proprietary company /prə'praiət(ə)ri 'kʌmp(ə)nɪ/ noun US a company formed to invest in stock of other companies so as to control them proprietary medicine /prə'praiət(ə)ri 'med(ə)s(ə)n/ noun medicine which is sold under a brand name and manufactured by a particular company proprietor /prə'praiətə/ noun an owner proprietorial /prə'praiətə'ri:əl/ adj relating to ownership. Synonym possessive propriety /prə'praiəti/ noun correct behaviour in society props /prɒps/ plural noun articles used in the production of a play or film propulsion /prə'pʌlʃən/ noun the force of moving something forward pro rata /prəʊ 'rə:tə/ adv, adj in proportion prosaic /prəʊ'zeɪɪk/ adj ordinary and rather dull, not poetic or imaginative or romantic pros and cons /,prəʊz ən 'kɒnz/ plural noun the arguments for and against a case proscribe /prəʊ'eskraɪb/ verb to forbid something by law. Synonym ban. Antonym permit prose /prəʊz/ noun something written in ordinary language, not poetry. Antonym poetry prosecute /'prɒsɪkju:t/ verb to bring someone to court to answer a criminal charge

④ prosecution /,prɒsɪ'kju:ʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. the process of bringing someone to court to answer a criminal charge ○ He faces prosecution for fraud. 2. the lawyers who represent the party who brings a charge against someone ○ The costs of the case will be borne by the prosecution. ○ The prosecution argued that the money had been stolen.

prosecutor /'prɒsɪkju:tə/ noun a lawyer who prosecutes proselyte /'prɒsələt/ noun a person recently converted to a religion or to a political party

⑤ prospect noun /'prɒspekt/ a future possibility ○ There is no prospect of getting her to change her mind. ○ Faced with the grim prospect of two weeks at home he decided to go on holiday. □ to have something in prospect to expect something to happen ■ verb /prə'spekt/ to search for minerals ○ The team went into the desert to prospect for oil.

prospective /prə'spektɪv/ adj who or which may do something in the future. Synonym potential prospector /prə'spektə/ noun a person who searches for minerals prospects /'prɒspekts/ plural noun future possibilities in a job prospectus /prə'spektəs/ noun a document which gives information to attract customers. Synonym brochure (NOTE: The plural is prospectuses) prosper /'prɒspər/ verb to succeed; to become rich prosperity /prɒ'sperɪti/ noun being rich and successful. Antonym poverty □ in times of prosperity when people are rich prosperous /'prɒsp(ə)rəs/ adj wealthy, rich prostate /'prɒsteɪt/ noun a gland in men which produces a secretion in which sperm cells float (NOTE: Do not confuse with prostrate.) prostitute /'prɒstɪtju:t/ noun a woman who receives money for sexual intercourse prostitution /,prɒstɪ'tju:f(ə)n/ noun the practice of providing sexual intercourse in return for payment prostrate adj /'prɒstreɪt/ lying flat on your face ○ He was lying prostrate on the floor. (NOTE: Do not confuse with prostate.)

■ verb /prɒ'streɪt/ □ to prostrate oneself before someone to fall down in front of someone as a mark of respect or fear ○ Anyone who came into the Emperor's presence had to prostrate himself before the throne.

protagonist /prə'u'tægənɪst/ noun 1. the main character in a story ○ The protagonist is a Danish prince. 2. the leader of one side in a conflict ○ The two protagonists were finally persuaded to shake hands. 3. a supporter of a cause ○ He was a leading protagonist of the movement for electoral reform.

② protect /prə'tekt/ verb to keep someone or something safe from dirt or danger, etc. ○ The cover protects the machine against dust. ○ The injection is supposed to protect you against flu.

protected /prə'tektɪd/ adj (of species of animals or plants) classified as being in danger of extinction

② protection /prə'tekʃən/ noun shelter, the process of being protected ○ The trees give some protection from the rain. ○ The legislation offers no protection to part-time workers. ○ The injection gives some protection against cholera.

protectionism /prə'tekʃənɪz(ə)m/ noun a policy of discouraging imports from abroad in order to protect a country's own industry protectionist /prə'tekʃənist/ adj in favour of protectionism. Synonym protective ③ protective /prə'tektɪv/ adj who or which protects. Synonym defensive protector /prə'tektor/ noun 1. a person or country that protects ○ Parliament is supposed to be the protector of the people's rights. ○ She needed a protector, that's what attracted her to him. 2. a thing which protects ○ The machinists all wear ear protectors because the machines are so noisy.

protectorate /prə'tekt(ə)rət/ noun a country which is protected and usually controlled by another country. Synonym dominion protégé /'prɒtəʒeɪ/ noun a person, usually a young person, who is supported in artistic work with money or advice, by someone else

② protein /'prəʊti:n/ noun a compound which is an essential part of living cells; one of the elements in food which you need to keep your body working properly

③ protest noun /'prəʊtest/ 1. a statement that you object or disapprove of something ○ The new bypass went ahead despite the protests of the local inhabitants. ○ She resigned as a protest against the change in government policy. 2. □ in protest at showing that you do not approve of something ○ The staff occupied the offices in protest at their low pay. □ to do something under protest to do something, but say that you do not approve of it ■ verb /prə'test/ 1. □ to protest against something to say that you do not approve of something; to raise a violent objection to something ○ Everyone has protested against the increase in bus fares. 2. to insist that something is true, when others think it isn't ○ She went to prison still protesting her innocence.

③ Protestant /'prɒtɪstənt/ adj referring to the Christian Church which separated from the Catholic Church at the time of the Reformation ○ She belongs to a Protestant parish. ○ The Church of England is a Protestant Church. ■ noun a member of a Christian Church which separated from the Catholic Church at the time of the Reformation protestation /,prɒtɪ'steɪʃ(ə)n/ noun a strong or firm statement that something is true

③ protester /prə'testə/ noun a person who protests. Synonym activist. Antonym supporter

③ protocol /'prəʊtəkɒl/ noun 1. correct diplomatic behaviour ○ Diplomatic protocol dictates which ambassador sits next to the Queen. 2. a draft agreement ○ They drew up a protocol covering the points of agreement.

proton /'prəʊtɒn/ noun a particle with a positive charge found in the nucleus of an atom

③ prototype /'prəʊtətaɪp/ noun the first model of a new machine. Synonym example protracted /prə'træktd/ adj very lengthy.

Antonym brief

protractor /prə'træktər/ noun a device in the form of a semicircle of clear plastic, used for measuring angles in geometry protrude /prə'tru:d/ verb to stick out protrusion /prə'tru:ʒ(ə)n/ noun something which protrudes protuberance /prə'tju:b(ə)rəns/ noun a bump or swelling

② proud /prəud/ adj □ proud of something full of pride about something ○ You must be very proud of your children. ○ He is proud to have served in the navy. ♦ pride

proudly /'prəudli/ adv with pride

① prove /pru:v/ verb 1. to show that something is true ○ The police think he stole the car but they can't prove it. ○ I was determined to prove him wrong or that he was wrong. ◊ proof 2. □ to prove to be something to actually be something when it happens ◊ The weather for the holiday weekend proved to be even hotter than was expected. ◊ It's proving very difficult to persuade him to sell his house.

proven /'pru:vn(ə)n/ adj tested and shown to be correct. Synonym established proverb /'prɒvɜ:b/ noun a saying which teaches you something. Synonym maxim proverbial /prə've:biəl/ adj 1. as mentioned in a proverb ◊ She's the proverbial early bird that catches the worm. 2. well known ◊ the committee's proverbial slowness to take any decisions

① provide /prə'veaid/ verb to supply something ◊ Medical help was provided by the Red Cross. ◊ Our hosts provided us with a car and driver.

③ provide for /prə'veaid fɔ:/ verb □ to provide for someone to give enough money to feed and clothe someone ◊ He earns very little and finds it difficult to provide for a family of six children. ◊ Will your family be provided for when you die?

providence /'prɒvɪd(ə)ns/ noun a lucky force which protects you (literary) □ to tempt Providence to take a great risk ◊ It will be tempting providence to buy that car without having had it checked by a garage.

providential /,prɒvɪ'tenʃəl/ adj lucky (formal) provider /prə'veɪdə/ noun a person who provides material support for someone or something, especially a family

② province /'prɒvɪns/ noun 1. a large administrative division of a country ◊ the provinces of Canada 2. an area of knowledge or of responsibility ◊ That's not my province – you'll have to ask the finance manager.

provinces /'prɒvɪnsɪz/ plural noun parts of a country away from the capital

② provincial /prə'veɪnʃəl/ adj 1. referring to a province, to the provinces ◊ a provincial government 2. not very sophisticated ◊ They're very provincial down in that part of the world. ◊ He's too provincial to appreciate this kind of music. ■ noun a person from the provinces ◊ You provincials are out of touch with London fashion.

provincialism /prə'veɪnʃəlɪz(ə)m/ noun narrow-mindedness and lack of sophistication supposed to be found in provincial areas. Antonym worldliness

① provision /prə'veɪʒ(ə)n/ noun 1. the act of providing something ◊ The provision of medical services is the responsibility of local government. □ to make provision for to see that something is allowed for in the future ◊ We've made provision for the computer network to be expanded. ◊ There is no provision for or no provision has been made for car parking in the plans for the office block. 2. a condition in a contract ◊ It's a provision of the contract that the goods should be transported by air.

provisional /prə'veɪʒ(ə)n(ə)l/ adj 1. temporary ◊ A provisional government was set up by the army. 2. not final ◊ They faxed their provisional acceptance. ◊ We made a provisional booking over the phone.

provisionally /prə'veɪʒ(ə)nəli/ adv temporarily provisions /prə'veɪʒ(ə)nɪz/ plural noun food proviso /prə'veɪzəʊ/ noun a condition. Synonym stipulation (NOTE: The plural is provisos.)

provocation /,prɒvə'keɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the action of making someone annoyed provocative /prə'veɒkətɪv/ adj 1. likely to make someone annoyed ◊ His provocative remarks did not go down well with the management. 2. likely to make someone sexually excited ◊ In some countries it is considered provocative for women to wear short skirts.

provocatively /prɒ'veɒkətɪvli/ adv in a provocative way provoke /prə'veəʊk/ verb 1. to make someone angry ◊ She provoked him into throwing a brick through her front window. 2. to make a reaction take place ◊ His reply provoked an angry response from the crowd.

prow /prəu/ noun the front end of a boat (literary) prowess /'prəʊəs/ noun great skill

prowl /prəuəl/ noun □ on the prowl creeping about ◊ a tiger on the prowl in the jungle ■ verb to creep about quietly ◊ She thinks she saw someone prowling about in the undergrowth. ◊ The police are on the lookout for looters prowling around the deserted town.

prowler /'prəuələ/ noun a person who moves about an area looking for an opportunity to commit a criminal act proximity /prɒk'simɪtɪ/ noun the fact of being close to something proxy /'prɒksi/ noun 1. a document which gives someone the power to act on behalf of someone else ◊ If you are away from home on voting day, you can cast your vote by proxy. 2. a person who acts on behalf of someone else ◊ to act as a proxy for someone (NOTE: The plural is proxies.)

proxy vote /'prɒksi və:t/ noun a vote made by proxy prude /pru:d/ noun a prudish person prudence /'pru:dəns/ noun great care or caution prudent /'pru:dənt/ adj very careful and very cautious about avoiding risks. Synonym wise prudish /'pru:diʃ/ adj with strict principles and easily shocked. Synonym prim. Antonym relaxed prune /pru:n/ noun a dried plum ○ He had a bowl of stewed prunes for breakfast. ■ verb 1. to cut back a tree or shrub, to keep it in good shape ○ That bush is blocking the window – it needs pruning. 2. to reduce the size of something such as expenditure or parts of a book ○ We had to prune about half the text.

pry /pri/ verb 1. to look inquisitively into something ○ She accused the press of prying into her private life. 2. □ to pry something open US to lift something open with force ○ He pried the lid open.

PS noun an additional note at the end of a letter ○ Did you read the PS at the end of the letter? Full form post scriptum psalm /sa:ml/ noun a religious poem or song from the Bible pseudonym /'sju:dənɪm/ noun a false or invented name used by an author. Synonym alias psyche /'saiki/ noun the subconscious mind psychedelic /,saikə'delɪk/ adj 1. so full of bright moving colours that you become dizzy ○ He painted his car in psychedelic colours. 2. which makes you imagine sights and sounds ○ The drug has a psychedelic effect.

psychiatric /,saiki'ætrɪk/ adj referring to psychiatry psychiatrist /sa'kaiətrɪst/ noun a person who studies and treats mental disease psychiatry /sa'kaiətri/ noun the study of mental disease psychic /'saiκɪk/ adj referring to supernatural forces ○ He spends his time investigating reports of psychic phenomena. ○ She must be psychic if she can tell the result of the lottery in advance. ■ noun a person who claims to be in contact with supernatural forces or with dead people ○ They consulted a psychic to try find out what had happened to their daughter. Synonym clairvoyant psychoanalyse /,saikə'ænəlaɪz/, psychoanalyze verb to treat someone by psychoanalysis psychoanalysis /,saikə'ænæləsɪs/ noun a treatment of mental disorder where a specialist talks to patients and analyses their condition psychoanalyst /,saikə'æn(ə)list/ noun a doctor who is trained in psychoanalysis (NOTE: also shortened to analyst)

③ psychological /,sarks'laɪdʒɪk(ə)l/ adj referring to psychology ○ Her problems are mainly psychological. ○ This could have a very bad effect on the child's psychological development. Synonym mental

③ psychologist /saɪ'kɒlədʒɪst/ noun a person who studies the human mind

③ psychology /saɪ'kɒlədʒɪ/ noun the study of the human mind ○ She's taking a psychology course. ○ the psychology department in the university psychopath /'saɪkəpæθ/ noun a criminal who is dangerous and mentally unstable (technical) psychopathic /,saikə'pæθɪk/ adj mentally unstable in a dangerous way psychosis /saɪ'kəʊsɪs/ noun any serious mental disorder in which someone can no longer tell what is real (NOTE: The plural is psychoses /saɪ'kəʊsɪz/.)

psychosomatic /,saɪkəʊsə'mætɪk/ adj describing a physical illness that is caused by a mental problem psychotherapist /,saikə'θerəpɪst/ noun a person trained to give psychotherapy psychotherapy /,saikə'θerəpɪ/ noun a treatment of mental disorders by psychological methods, as when a psychotherapist talks to patients and encourages them to talk about their problems psychotic /saɪ'kɒtɪk/ adj referring to or experiencing psychosis

③ pt abbr pint

PTA abbr Parent-Teacher Association

③ PTO abbr 'please turn over', letters written at the bottom of a page, showing that there is something written on the other side

② pub /pʌb/ noun a public house, a place where you can buy beer and other alcoholic drinks, as well as snacks and meals ○ I happened to meet him at the pub. ○ We had a sandwich and some beer in the pub. ○ Don't tell your mother you've been to the pub.

pub crawl /'pʌb krɔ:l/ noun the practice of going from pub to pub having a drink in each one (informal) puberty /'pjju:bəti/ noun the time of life when childhood ends and adolescence and sexual maturity begin pub grub /'pʌb grʌb/ noun the sort of food you can get in a pub (informal) public /'pjʊbɪk/ adj referring to the area around the sexual organs public hair /,pjʊ:bɪk 'heə/ noun hair surrounding the sexual organs (NOTE: Do not confuse with public.)

① public /'pʌblɪk/ adj referring to the people in general ○ The crown jewels are on public display in the Tower of London. ○ It's in the public interest that the facts should be known. ■ noun 1. people in general ○ The public have the right to know what is going on. □ the travelling public people who travel frequently □ the great British public the British people (humorous) □ general public 2. □ in public in the open; in front of everyone ○ This is the first time he has appeared in public since his accident. ○ I dare you to repeat those remarks in public. □ to go public 1. to tell something to everyone ○ After the leaks to the press, the government finally went public on the proposal. 2. to sell shares in a private or nationalised company on the stock exchange ○ The plan is for the company to go public next year.

public-address system /,pʌblɪk ə'dres sɪstəm/ noun full form of PA

publican /'pʌblɪkən/ noun a person who manages a pub

② publication /,pʌblɪk'keɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. the process of making something public ○ The publication of the official figures has been delayed. 2. a book or newspaper which has been published ○ He asked the library for a list of gardening publications.

③ public conveniences /,pʌblɪk kən'veɪnɪənsɪz/ plural noun toilets for the general public public domain /,pʌblɪk dəʊ'mein/ noun property or information which belongs to and is available to the public public figure /,pʌblɪk 'fɪgə/ noun a well-known person such as an actor or politician

③ public holiday /,pʌblɪk 'hɒlɪdeɪ/ noun a day when most businesses and banks are closed

③ public house /,pʌblɪk 'haus/ noun a place where you can buy beer and other alcoholic drinks, as well as snacks and meals (informal) (NOTE: usually shortened to pub) publicise /'pʌblɪsaɪz/, publicize verb to attract people's attention to something; to make publicity for something publicist /'pʌblɪsɪst/ noun a person who attracts people's attention to something through advertising

② publicity /pʌ'blisɪti/ noun advertising which attracts people's attention to something ○ We're trying to get publicity for our school play. ○ The failure of the show was blamed on bad publicity.

publicity campaign /pʌ'blisɪti kæm'peɪn/ noun a period when planned publicity takes place publicly /'pʌblɪklɪ/ adv in public. Synonym openly. Antonym secretly

③ public opinion /,pʌblɪk ə'pɪnɪʃn/ noun what people in general think or feel about something public ownership /,pʌblɪk 'əʊnəsɪp/ noun a situation where an industry is owned by the state, or has been nationalised public school /,pʌblɪk 'sku:l/ noun 1. (in Britain) a private fee-paying secondary school which is not part of the state education system ○ Eton and Winchester are two famous British public schools. 2. (in the USA) a school which is paid for by public taxes ○ The state has decided to spend more money on its public school system. (NOTE: The British term is state school.)

public sector /'pʌblɪk ,sɛktə/ noun the nationalised industries and the civil service public service /,pʌblɪk 'sɜ:vɪs/ noun 1. the practice of working for the state 2. all government agencies and their personnel ○ He's hoping for a job in the public service.

public-service broadcasting /,pʌblɪk 'sɜ:vɪs 'brɔ:dka:stɪŋ/ noun a broadcasting service which is subsidised by the state

③ public transport /,pʌblɪk 'trænsپɔ:t/ noun transport such as buses and trains which can be used by everyone public works /,pʌblɪk 'wɜ:ks/ plural noun engineering and building work paid for by the government ○ The government has been forced to scrap several large public works projects. ○ The local authority is increasing its spending on public works.

① publish /'pʌblɪʃ/ verb 1. to make publicly known ○ The government has not published the figures yet. 2. to bring out a book or newspaper for sale ○ The company publishes six magazines for the business market. ○ We publish dictionaries for students.

publishable /'pʌblɪʃəb(ə)l/ adj suitable to be published

③ publisher /'pʌblɪʃə/ noun a person or company that produces books or newspapers for sale

③ publishing /'pʌblɪʃɪŋ/ noun the process of producing books or newspapers for sale publishing house /'pʌblɪʃɪŋ haus/ noun a firm which publishes books puck /pʌk/ noun a small hard rubber disk used in ice hockey pucker /'pʌkə/ noun a wrinkle or fold. Synonym gather ■ verb to wrinkle your forehead pud /pʊd/ noun same as pudding (informal)

③ pudding /'pʊdɪŋ/ noun 1. the sweet course at the end of a meal ○ I'll have ice cream for my pudding. Synonym dessert 2. a sweet food which has been cooked or boiled ○ There's too much sugar in this pudding. ○ He helped himself to some more pudding.

puddle /'pʊd(ə)l/ noun a small pool of water, such as a pool on the pavement left after rain puff /pʊf/ noun 1. a small breath of air or smoke ○ He took a puff on his cigarette. ○

Little puffs of smoke came out of the chimney.
2. □ out of puff having difficulty in breathing after running, etc. (informal) ○ After the race I was completely out of puff. ■ verb 1. to blow ○ White smoke was puffing out of the engine. ○ He sat in a corner, puffing on his pipe. 2. to breathe with difficulty ○ He was puffing and panting and he'd only run fifty yards.

puff out /pʌf 'aut/ verb 1. to make something swell by bringing in air ○ He puffed out his chest in pride. 2. □ to be puffed out to be tired and out of breath ○ Slow down a bit, I'm puffed out.

puff pastry /pʌf 'peɪstri/ noun a light sort of pastry puffy /'pʌfi/ adj swollen pugnacious /'pʌg'næʃəs/ adj ready to argue or fight

puke /pju:k/ verb □ to puke (up) to bring up partly digested food into your mouth (informal) ○ The baby puked (up) all over the carpet. □ to make someone (want to) puke to make someone feel angry and upset ○ All these stories about lottery millionaires make me puke.

① pull /pʊl/ verb 1. to move something towards you or after you ○ Pull the door to open it, don't push. ○ The truck was pulling a trailer. ○ She pulled some envelopes out of her bag. ○ These little boys spend their time pulling girls' hair. 2. □ to pull someone's leg to make someone believe something as a joke ○ Don't believe anything he says – he's just pulling your leg. 3. □ to pull a muscle to injure a muscle by using it too much ○ She's pulled a muscle in her back. ■ noun 1. an influence ○ She must have some pull over him. 2. a handle which has to be pulled ○ The beer pull has the name of the beer on it. 3. the deep inhaling of a cigarette ○ He lit a cigarette and took a long pull.

② pull down /,pʊl 'daʊn/ verb to knock down a building. Synonym demolish. Antonym build up pull-down menu /'pʊl daʊn ,menju:/ noun a menu which appears as a list on part of a computer screen pulley /'poli/ noun apparatus for lifting heavy weights with a rope that runs round several wheels. Synonym winch

③ pull in /,pʊl 'ɪn/, pull into /,pʊl 'ɪnto/ verb to drive close to the side of the road and stop

④ pull off /,pʊl 'ɒf/ verb 1. to take off a piece of clothing by pulling ○ He sat down and pulled off his dirty boots. 2. to do something successfully ○ He pulled off a big financial deal. ○ It will be marvellous if we can pull it off. 3. to drive off a road and stop ○ He pulled off the road and lit a cigarette.

⑤ pull out /,pʊl 'aut/ verb 1. to pull something out of something ○ They used a rope to pull the car out of the river. ○ finger 2. to drive a car away from the side of the road ○ He forgot to signal as he was pulling out. ○ Don't pull out into the main road until you can see that there is nothing coming. 3. to stop being part of a deal or agreement ○ Our Australian partners pulled out at the last moment.

⑥ pull over /,pʊl 'əʊvə/ verb to drive a car towards the side of the road ○ The police car signalled to him to pull over.

⑦ pullover /'pʊləʊvə/ noun a piece of clothing made of wool, which covers the top part of your body, and which you pull over your head to put it on

⑧ pull round /,pʊl 'raʊnd/, pull through /,pʊl 'θru:/ verb to recover from an illness

⑨ pull together /,pʊl tə'geðə/ verb □ to pull yourself together to become more calm ○ Although he was shocked by the news he soon pulled himself together.

⑩ pull up /,pʊl 'ʌp/ verb 1. to bring something closer ○ Pull your chair up to the window. 2. (of a vehicle) to stop ○ A car pulled up and the driver asked me if I wanted a lift. ○ He didn't manage to pull up in time and ran into the back of the car in front.

pulmonary /'pælmən(ə)rɪ/ adj referring to the lungs pulp /pʌlp/ noun a squashy mass ○ Cook the apples to a pulp. ○ If you don't do as I say I'll beat you to a pulp. (NOTE: no plural) ■ verb to crush something to a pulp ○ Waste paper can be pulped and recycled.

pulp fiction /pælp 'fɪkʃən/ noun cheap novels which are considered to be of poor quality pulpit /'pʊlpɪt/ noun the raised platform in a church where the priest preaches pulsar /'pɑlsər/ noun an invisible star which sends out radio signals pulsate /pʊl'seɪt/ verb to throb regularly pulsation /pʊl'seɪʃ(ə)n/ noun a regular throbbing

③ pulse /pʊls/ noun 1. a regular beat of your heart ○ The doctor took his pulse. ○ Her pulse is very weak. 2. the dried seed of peas or beans ○ Pulses are used a lot in Mexican cooking.

pulverise /'pɑlvəraɪz/, pulverize verb to crush something to powder puma /'pju:mə/ noun a large brown wild cat from North and South America. Also called cougar, mountain lion pummel /'pʌm(ə)l/ verb to hit something hard repeatedly

④ pump /pʌmp/ noun a machine for forcing liquids or air ■ verb 1. to force in something such as liquid or air with a pump ○

Your back tyre needs pumping up. ○ The heart pumps blood round the body. 2. to ask someone a lot of questions to try to get information (informal) ○ We pumped her after the interview to find out the sort of questions she had been asked.

pumpkin /'pʌmpkɪn/ noun a large round orange-coloured vegetable pun /pʌn/ noun a play with words which have several different meanings ○ He made an awful pun about 'ploughing on' with his book on agriculture. Synonym witticism ■ verb to make puns ○ He was punning on the two senses of 'hedge'. (NOTE: punning – punned)

③ punch /pʌntʃ/ noun 1. a blow with the fist ○ She landed two punches on his head. 2. a metal tool for making holes ○ The holes in the belt are made with a punch. (NOTE: The plural is punches.) 3. a drink made of wine or spirits and spices ○ He drank a bowl of rum punch. ■ verb 1. to hit someone with your fist ○ He punched me on the nose. 2. to make holes in something with a punch ○ The conductor punched my ticket.

Punch and Judy /,pʌntʃ ən 'dʒu:di/ noun a children's puppet show with the traditional characters of Punch, a man with a large hooked nose, his wife Judy and their dog □ as pleased as Punch very pleased ○ He's as pleased as Punch to be chosen to play for the school.

punchdrunk /'pʌntʃdrʌŋk/ adj 1. suffering from brain damage from being punched on the head too often ○ By the end of his career as a boxer he was obviously punchdrunk. 2. tired out and not able to think clearly ○ The delegates emerged punchdrunk from the all-night negotiating session.

punchline /'pʌntʃlain/ noun the last part of a joke, which is the part that makes you laugh punctual /'pʌŋktʃuəl/ adj on time punctuality /,pʌŋktʃu'æliti/ noun the practice of being on time, never being late. Synonym promptness punctually /'pʌŋktʃuəli/ adv on time

punctuate /'pʌŋktʃueɪt/ verb 1. to interrupt something ○ Their conversation was punctuated with long silences. 2. to add punctuation marks to a text ○ The sentence was not punctuated correctly.

punctuation /,pʌŋktʃu'eɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the practice of dividing up groups of words using special printed symbols puncture /'pʌŋktʃə/ noun a hole in a tyre ○ I've got a puncture in my back tyre. (NOTE: The US term is flat.) ■ verb to make a small hole in something ○ The tyre had been punctured by a nail.

pundit /'pʌndɪt/ noun an expert, especially in political matters pungent /'pʌndʒənt/ adj 1. with a strong taste or smell ○ The pungent odour of curry came from the kitchen. ○ a particularly pungent type of goat's cheese 2. (of comments) strong and sharp ○ She reserved her most pungent criticism for the way we performed the musical numbers.

punish /'pʌnɪʃ/ verb to make someone suffer because of something they have done ○ The children must be punished for stealing apples. ○ The simplest way to punish them will be to make them pay for the damage they caused. Synonym chastise. Antonym commend punishable /'pʌnɪʃəb(ə)l/ adj for which you can be punished. Synonym disciplinary punishing /'pʌnɪʃɪŋ/ adj exhausting, which makes you tired. Synonym gruelling

③ punishment /'pʌnɪʃmənt/ noun a treatment given to punish someone ○ As a punishment, you'll wash the kitchen floor.

punitive /'pju:nɪtɪv/ adj which aims to punish. Synonym disciplinary

③ punk /pʌŋk/ noun a person who dresses in unconventional clothes, has brightly coloured hair and pins through parts of the body punk rock /pʌŋk 'rɒk/ noun a type of loud music popular in the 1960s punnet /'pʌnɪt/ noun a small box made of plastic or thin pieces of wood, used to hold soft fruit. Synonym basket punt /pʌnt/ noun 1. a long flat-bottomed boat, pushed along with a pole ○ I took her out in a punt and we picnicked on the river.

2. the Irish pound, currency formerly used in the Republic of Ireland, now replaced by the euro 3. a bet ○ That horse is worth a punt. ■ verb 1. to push a punt with a pole ○ We went punting on the Cam at Cambridge. 2. to kick a ball which is in the air ○ He punted the ball into touch.

punter /'pʌntə/ noun 1. a person who gambles ○ Most of the punters had backed the favourite. ○ Punters lost thousands when the favourite fell at the last fence. 2. a person who uses a service ○ We have to keep the punters happy. 3. a person who pushes a punt along with a pole ○ Punters tended to stay close to the river bank.

puny /'pju:nɪ/ adj 1. weak and feeble ○ The puny body of the baby piglet. ○ Their puny efforts were totally unequal to the task. 2. very small ○ This year's pay rise is the puniest we've ever had. (NOTE: punier – puniest) pup /pʌp/ noun the young of certain animals, especially a young dog or seal ○ Our bitch has had pups. ○ They went out onto rocky islands looking for seal pups. ■ verb to have pups ○ She's likely to pup in the next couple of days. (NOTE: pupping – pupped) pupa /'pjʊ:pə/ noun a resting period in the life of an insect when it is covered with a hard case as it changes from a larva to a butterfly or moth. Also called chrysalis (NOTE: The plural is pupae.)

① pupil /'pjju:p(ə)l/ noun 1. a child at a school ○ There are twenty-five pupils in the class. ○ The piano teacher thinks she is her best pupil. 2. a black hole in the central part of the eye, through which the light passes ○ The pupil of the eye grows larger when there is less light.

puppet /'pʌpɪt/ noun a doll which moves, used to give a show puppeteer /,pʌpɪ'tɪə/ noun a person who gives a performance using puppets puppet show /'pʌpɪt ʃəʊ/ noun a show given using puppets

③ puppy /'pʌpi/ noun a baby dog ○ Our dog has had six puppies. (NOTE: The plural is puppies.)

puppy fat /'pʌpi fæt/ noun fat on the bodies of young children (informal)

③ purchase /'pɜ:tʃɪs/ noun 1. a thing bought ○ She had difficulty getting all her purchases into the car. □ to make a purchase to buy something ○ We didn't make many purchases on our trip to Oxford Street. 2. the ability to get a grip on something ○ I couldn't get any purchase on the smooth face of the rock. ○ It's difficult to get a purchase on a box as large as this one. (NOTE: no plural in this meaning) □ verb to buy something ○ They purchased their car in France and brought it back to the UK.

purchase price /'pɜ:tʃɪs præs/ noun a price paid for something (formal) purchaser /'pɜ:tʃɪsə/ noun a person who buys something. Synonym buyer purchase tax /'pɜ:tʃɪs tæks/ noun a tax paid on things which are bought purchasing power /'pɜ:tʃɪsɪŋ ,pəʊər/ noun a quantity that can be bought with a certain amount of money

② pure /'pjʊə/ adj 1. very clean; not mixed with other things ○ a bottle of pure water ○ a pure silk blouse ○ a pure mountain stream 2. with no faults ○ She led a pure life. 3. total, complete ○ This is pure nonsense. ○ It is pure extortion. ○ It is pure spite on his part. ○ It was by pure good luck that I happened to find it. (NOTE: purer – purest)

② purely /'pjʊəli/ adv only, solely ○ He's doing it purely for the money. ○ This is a purely educational visit.

purgatory /'pɜ:gət(ə)ri/ noun 1. a place where some people believe your soul will suffer temporarily after you die, before entering heaven ○ Masses were said for the souls in purgatory. 2. an experience which makes you suffer ○ It was sheer purgatory listening to her singing out of tune.

purge /'pɜ:dʒ/ noun the process of removing opponents and unacceptable people from a group ○ The party has begun a purge of right-wing elements. ■ verb 1. to remove something bad or harmful from your mind or body ○ I want you to purge your minds of any unhappy memories. ○ This special diet is designed to purge the toxins from your body. 2. to remove opponents or other unacceptable people from a group ○ The activists have purged the party of moderates or have purged the moderates from the party. 3. □ to purge your contempt, to purge a contempt of court to do something, such as make an apology, to show that you are sorry for the lack of respect you have shown to the court 4. to make a patient have a bowel movement ○ Old-fashioned doctors frequently purged their patients.

purification /,pjʊərifɪ'keɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the process of making something or someone pure purify /'pjʊərifای/ verb to make something or someone pure. Synonym cleanse. Antonym contaminate purist /'pjʊərist/ noun a person who insists that everything has to be done in the correct way. Synonym traditionalist puritan /'pjʊərɪt(ə)n/ noun a puritanical person puritanical /,pjʊərɪ'tænɪk(ə)l/ adj very strict concerning morals

③ purity /'pjʊəriti/ noun the quality of being pure purlin /pɜ:lɪn/ verb to steal (formal or humorous)

purple /'pɜ:p(ə)l/ adj blue-red in colour ○ The sky turned purple as night approached. ○ His face was purple with fury. ■ noun a blue-red colour ○ They painted their living room a deep purple.

purport noun /'pɜ:pɔ:t/ a general meaning (formal) ○ What was the purport of his remarks? ■ verb /pɔ:pɔ:t/ to claim something ○ He was purported to be a friend of the princess.

① purpose /'pɜ:pəs/ noun 1. an aim or plan ○ The purpose of the meeting is to plan the village fair. □ I need the invoice for tax purposes I need the invoice so that I can declare it to the tax authorities 2. □ on purpose in a way which was planned ○ Don't be cross – he didn't do it on purpose. Antonym by accident purpose-built /,pɜ:pə'bɪlt/ adj made specially for a purpose. Synonym tailor-made purposeful /'pɜ:pəsf(ə)l/ adj with a specific aim in view purposefully /'pɜ:pəsf(ə)li/ adv with a specific aim purposeless /'pɜ:pəsles/ adj without having any specific aim purposely /'pɜ:pəslɪ/ adv intentionally. Synonym deliberately. Antonym accidentally

purr /pɜ:/ noun 1. the noise made by a cat when pleased ○ The cat rubbed against my leg with a loud purr. 2. a low noise made by a powerful engine ○ the purr of the boat's engine ■ verb 1. (of a cat) to make a noise to show pleasure ○ He purrs when you tickle his stomach. 2. to speak in a low voice ○ 'Come up and see me some time', she purred in his ear. 3. (of an engine) to make a low noise as you travel along ○ We purred along at seventy miles an hour.

③ purse /pɜ:s/ noun 1. a small bag for carrying money ○ I know I had my purse in my pocket when I left home. ○ She put her ticket in her purse so that she wouldn't forget where it was. □ to control or hold the purse strings to control the money ○ As she's the only money-earner, she holds the purse strings in her family. 2. US a small bag which a woman carries to hold her money and other small objects ○ A robber snatched her purse in the street. (NOTE: The British term is handbag.) ■ verb □ to purse your lips to press your lips together to show you are annoyed

② pursue /pɜ:sju:/ verb 1. to chase someone or something ○ The police pursued the stolen car across London. ○ The guerrillas fled, hotly pursued by government troops. 2. to carry on a career, an activity ○ He pursued his career in the Foreign Office. ○ We intend to pursue a policy of reducing taxation.

pursuer /pɜ:sjuər/ noun a person who chases someone. Synonym follower pursuit /pɜ:sjʊt/ noun 1. a chase after someone ○ The pursuit lasted until the thieves were caught in an alleyway. □ in pursuit of looking for ○ We set off in pursuit of our friends who had just left the hotel. ○ The robbers left in a stolen car with the police in pursuit. □ in hot pursuit chasing someone actively ○ The rebels retreated into the mountains with the government forces in hot pursuit. 2. trying to find something, to do something ○ Her aim in life is the pursuit of pleasure. 3. an occupation or pastime (dated) ○ He spends his time in country pursuits like gardening and birdwatching.

pus /pʌs/ noun a yellow liquid formed in the body as a reaction to infection

① push /pʊʃ/ noun 1. the action of making something move forwards ○ He gave the pram a little push and sent it out into the road. ○ Can you give the car a push? – It won't start. 2. the action of attacking, of moving forward against someone ○ Our troops made a sudden push into enemy-held territory. ○ The company made a big push to get into European markets. 3. □ at a push with some difficulty (informal) ○ The cottage will sleep ten people at a push. 4. determination to do well (informal) ○ He doesn't have enough push to be a salesman. Synonym energy ■ verb 1. to make something move away from you or in front of you ○ We'll have to push the car to get it to start. ○ The piano is too heavy to lift, so we'll have to push it into the next room. ○ Did she fall down the stairs or was she pushed? 2. to press something with your finger ○ Push the right-hand button to start the computer. 3. □ I am pushed for time I haven't much time to spare (informal) ○ Let's have a snack because I'm pushed for time. 4. to sell drugs illegally ○ The police found him pushing drugs behind the railway station.

push back /,pʊʃ 'bæk/ verb to make something or someone go back by pushing pushbike /'pʊʃbaɪk/ noun same as bicycle (dated) pushbutton /'pʊʃbʌtn/ noun a switch which is operated by pushing ■ adj operated by a button which can be pushed ○ a pushbutton timer pushchair /'pʊʃfeɪl/ noun a light folding chair with wheels for pushing a child in. Also called buggy pusher /'pʊʃə/ noun a person who sells drugs illegally (slang) Synonym dealer

③ push off /,pʊʃ 'ɒf/ verb to start on a journey (informal) Synonym go away □ we really ought to push off now it's time for us to go □ push off! go away!

pushover /'pʊʃ,əʊvə/ noun 1. something that is easy to do 2. a person who is easily tricked push-up /'pʊʃ ʌp/ noun US an exercise where you lie on the floor and push yourself up with your arms (NOTE: The British term is press-up.)

pushy /'pʊʃi/ adj always trying to push yourself forward, trying too hard to achieve success (informal) Synonym assertive. Antonym retiring pussyfoot /'pʊsɪfʊt/ verb (informal) □ to pussyfoot about to be unable to decide what to do or how to do something ○ Stop pussyfooting about and make your mind up!

④ put /pʊt/ verb 1. to place something somewhere ○ Did you remember to put the milk in the fridge? ○ Where do you want me to put this book? 2. to say in words ○ If you put it like that, the proposal seems attractive. ○ Can I put a question to the speaker? 3. □ to put the shot to throw a heavy ball as a sport ○ He has put the shot further than any other athlete in our team.

③ put away /,put ə'wei/ verb to clear things away

① put back /,put 'baek/ verb to put something where it was before □ to put the clocks back to change the time on clocks back to one hour earlier at the beginning of winter ○ Did you remember to put the clocks back last night?

① put by /,put 'bai/ verb to save money

① put down /,put 'daun/ verb 1. to place something lower down onto a surface ○ He put his suitcase down on the floor beside him.

2. to write something down 3. to charge something ○ Put that book down on my account. 4. to let passengers get off ○ The taxi driver put me down outside the hotel.

5. to make a deposit ○ to put down money on a house 6. to kill a sick animal ○ The cat is very old, she'll have to be put down. 7. to defeat a group of people who make an attack against people in authority □ to put your foot down 1. to say firmly that something must be done ○ She put her foot down and told them to stop playing music all night. 2.

to make a car go faster ○ He put his foot down and we soon left the police car behind. ① put forward /,put 'fɔ:wəd/ verb 1. to suggest something ○ I put forward several suggestions for plays we might go to see. 2.

to change an arrangement to meet someone to a earlier time ○ Can we put forward the meeting from Thursday to Wednesday? 3. to change the time on a clock to a later one ○ You have to put the clocks forward by one hour in March.

① put in /,put 'in/ verb 1. to place something inside ○ I forgot to put in my pyjamas when I packed the case. 2. to fix something such as a system or a large piece of equipment in place so that it can be used ○ The first thing we have to do with the cottage is to put in central heating. 3. to do work ○ She put in three hours' overtime work yesterday evening. 4. □ to put in for to apply for ○ She put in for a job in the accounts department. ○ He has put in for a grant to study in Italy.

put into /,put 'intu/ verb 1. to place something inside something ○ She put the roast into the oven. 2. to go into a harbour ○ We put into Torquay for repairs. 3. (in a car) to move the gear lever into a particular position ○ She put the car into reverse.

① put off /,put 'ɒf/ verb 1. to arrange for something to take place later ○ We have put the meeting off until next month. 2. to take someone's attention so that he cannot do things properly ○ Stop making that strange noise, it's putting me off my work. 3. to say something to make someone decide not to do something ○ He told a story about cows that put me off my food. ○ I was going to see the film, but my brother said something which put me off.

① put on /,put 'ɒn/ verb 1. to place something on top of something, on a surface ○ Put the lid on the saucepan. ○ He put his hand on my arm. ○ Put the suitcases down on the floor. 2. to dress yourself ○ I put a clean shirt on before I went to the party. ○ Put your gloves on, it's cold outside. ○ Put on your wellies if you're going out in the rain. 3. to switch something on ○ Can you put the light on, it's getting dark? ○ Put on the kettle and we'll have some tea. 4. to add something ○ She has put on a lot of weight since I saw her last.

① put out /,pot 'aut/ verb 1. to place something outside ○ Did you remember to put the cat out? 2. to stretch out a part of your body, e.g. your hand or foot ○ She put out her hand to stop herself from falling. 3. to switch something off ○ He put the light out and went to bed. 4. □ to be put out to be annoyed (informal) ○ He was very put out because you didn't ask him to stay for dinner.

putrefy /'pjju:trifai/ verb to decay. Synonym rot putrid /'pjju:trid/ adj decayed; which smells extremely unpleasant

putt /pat/ noun a short shot on a green in golf ○ He sank a fifteen-foot putt to win the game. ■ verb to hit a short gentle shot on the green in golf ○ He putted much better than his opponent.

putter /'patə/ noun golf club for putting ○ He uses a special lightweight putter. ■ verb □ to putter around US not to do anything in particular, to do little jobs here and there ○ He likes to putter around in the yard at the weekend.

put through /,pot 'θru:/ verb 1. □ to put someone through to someone to connect them on the phone ○ Peter is out so I'll put you through to Simon. ○ I asked to speak to the accounts department and they put me through to sales. 2. to make someone experience something unpleasant ○ I don't want to be put through that treatment again.

putting green /'pætɪŋ grɪn/ noun 1. an area on a golf course where the ground is even and the grass is very short, allowing short shots to be made close to the hole 2. a small golf course where only short shots are needed putty /'ptɪ/ noun a soft substance which becomes hard after a time, used especially for fixing the glass in windows

① put up /,put 'ʌp/ verb 1. to attach something to a wall, to attach something high up ○ I've put up the photos of my family over my desk. ○ They are putting up Christmas deco- rations all along Regent Street. 2. to build something so that it is upright ○ They put up a wooden shed in their garden. 3. to lift something up ○ The gunman told us to put our hands up. 4. to increase something, to make something higher ○ The shop has put up all its prices by 5%. 5. to give someone a place to sleep in your house ○ They've missed the last train, can you put them up for the night?

① put up with /,put 'ʌp wɪθ/ verb to accept someone or something unpleasant

puzzle /'pʌz(ə)l/ noun 1. a game where you have to find the answer to a problem ○ I can't do today's crossword puzzle. 2. something you can't understand ○ It's a puzzle to me why they don't go to live in the country. ■ verb 1. to be difficult to understand ○ It puzzles me how the robbers managed to get away. 2. to find something difficult to understand ○ She puzzled over the crossword for hours.

puzzled /'pʌz(ə)ld/ adj confused, not understanding something. Antonym en-lightened puzzling /'pʌz(ə)lɪŋ/ adj which is difficult to understand and does not seem reasonable

PVC noun a strong plastic material, used in floor coverings, water pipes and clothing pygmy /'pɪgmi/ adj much smaller than usual ○ a pygmy breed of elephant

③ pyjamas /pə'dʒa:məz/ plural noun a light shirt and trousers which you wear in bed

○ I bought two pairs of pyjamas in the sale. ○ When fire broke out in the hotel, the guests ran into the street in their pyjamas. (NOTE: A pair of pyjamas means one shirt and one pair of trousers. The US spelling is pajamas.)

pylon /'paɪlən/ noun a tall metal tower for carrying electric wires ③ pyramid /'pɪrəmid/ noun a shape with a square base and four sides rising to meet at a point pyre /'paɪə/ noun a large fire which is burned as part of a ceremony pyromaniac /,paɪrəʊ'meɪniæk/ noun a person who cannot control their strong feeling of wanting to start fires pyrotechnics /,paɪrəʊ'teknɪks/ noun the art of making fireworks ○ They called in a pyrotechnics expert to set up the display. ■ plural noun 1. a firework display ○ The pyrotechnics lit up the night sky. 2. an occasion such as a performance in which someone shows a lot of skill ○ a piece of music notable for the pyrotechnics demanded from the percussion section ○ She is capable of amazing vocal pyrotechnics when reciting Shakespeare.

Pyrrhic victory /,pɪrɪk 'vɪkt(ə)ri/ noun a victory which costs too much or involves too many losses python /'paɪθ(ə)n/ noun a large snake which kills animals by crushing them

Q

q /kju:/, Q noun the seventeenth letter of the alphabet, between P and R

QC /,kju: 'si:/ noun a senior British barrister. Full form Queen's Counsel quack /kwæk/ noun 1. a sound made by a duck ○ I heard a quack in the reeds. 2. a bad doctor (disapproving) ○ I went to see the quack and he gave me some pills. ■ verb to make a noise like a duck ○ We could hear the ducks quacking on the lake.

quadrangle /'kwɔ:dreŋgəl/ noun 1. an open square surrounded by buildings in a school or college ○ Students crossed the quadrangle on their way to lectures. 2. a geometric figure with four sides quadrilateral /,kwɔ:dri'læt(ə)rəl/ noun a shape with four sides, such as a square, rectangle or parallelogram quadruped /'kwɔ:droped/ noun an animal with four legs quadruple /'kwɔ:drop(ə)l/ adj four times as much; in four parts ■ verb to multiply four times ○ Our profits have quadrupled in the last three years. Antonym decrease quadruplets /'kwɔ:droplets/ plural noun four babies born to a mother at the same time quads /kwɔ:dz/ same as quadruplets

quagmire /'kwægmɪər/ noun 1. an area of extremely wet ground, where you may be in danger of sinking or of becoming stuck ○ Be careful when you take the path across the quagmire. ○ After the rain, the football pitch was like a quagmire. 2. a situation which is very complicated ○ The project got bogged down in a quagmire of government restrictions.

quail /kweɪl/ noun a small brown game bird, like a very small partridge ○ Would you prefer white or red wine with your roast quail? ■ verb □ to quail at something to not want to do something, e.g. because you are afraid or because it is unpleasant ○ She quailed at the thought of having to do all the Christmas shopping.

quaint /kweɪnt/ adj attractive in a way which is strange or unusual quake /kweɪk/ noun an occasion when there is a violent shaking of the earth, caused by volcanic activity or movement of the Earth's crust (informal) ○ Thousands of buildings were flattened in the San Francisco quake of 1906. Synonym earthquake ■ verb 1. to shake ○ The explosion made the buildings quake. 2. □ to quake with something to shake because you have a strong feeling such as fear or because you are very cold ○ She was quaking with fear at the thought of going for an interview. ○ He was quaking in his boots at the idea of having to speak to an audience of specialists.

② qualification /,kwɔ:plfɪt'keɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. something necessary for a job, such as proof that you have completed a particular course of study ○ Does she have the right qualifications for the job? □ what are his qualifications? what type of degree or diploma does he have? 2. something which limits the meaning of a statement, or shows that you do not agree with something completely ○ I want to add one qualification to the agreement: if the goods are not delivered by the 30th of June, then the order will be cancelled. 3. being successful in a test or competition which takes you on to the next stage ○ She didn't reach the necessary standard for qualification.

③ qualified /'kwɔ:plfɪəd/ adj 1. with the right qualifications ○ She's a qualified doctor. □ highly qualified with very good results in examinations ○ All our staff are highly qualified. 2. not complete, with conditions attached ○ The committee gave its qualified approval. ○ The school fair was only a qualified success.

qualifier /'kwɔ:plfɪər/ noun 1. a person who qualifies in a sports competition ○ How many qualifiers were there from the first round? 2. a round of a sports competition which qualifies a team to go to the next round ○ They won their qualifier and went through to the semi-final.

② qualify /'kwɔ:plfai/ verb 1. □ to qualify as to study for and obtain a qualification which allows you to do a certain type of work ○ He has qualified as an engineer. ○ When I first qualified I worked as a solicitor. 2. to attach conditions to something ○ I must qualify the offer by saying that your proposals still have to be approved by the chairman. □ the auditors have qualified the accounts the auditors have found something in the accounts of the company which they do not agree with ◇ to qualify for 1. to be in the right position for, to have the right to have something ○ The project does not qualify for a government grant. 2. to pass a test or one section of a competition and so go on to the next stage ○ She qualified for round two of the competition.

qualitative /'kwɒlɪtətɪv/ adj referring to quality

① quality /'kwɒlɪti/ noun 1. how good something is ○ We want to measure the air quality in the centre of town. ○ There are several high-quality restaurants in the West End. 2. □ of quality of good quality ○ They served a meal of real quality. ○ The carpet is expensive because it is of very good quality. 3. something which is part of a person's character ○ She has many good qualities, but unfortunately is extremely lazy. ○ What qualities do you expect in a good salesman? (NOTE: The plural is qualities.) ■ adj of good quality ○ We aim to provide a quality service at low cost.

quality control /'kwɒlɪti kən,trəʊl/ noun checking a product to make sure that it is of the right standard quality controller /'kwɒlɪti kən,trəʊlə/ noun a person who carries out quality control quality of life /,kwɒlɪti əv 'laɪf/ noun the degree to which you have good health or have a happy life, e.g. if you live in a nice place, or if you have enough money for what you need qualm /'kwa:m/ noun a feeling of doubt or worry □ to have no qualms about something not to worry about something ○ He has no qualms about asking the bank to lend him money.

quandary /'kwɒndəri/ noun □ to be in a quandary not to be able to decide what to do ○ The family doctor was in a quandary when she found that the girl was pregnant and had not told her family. ○ We are still in something of a quandary about who to invite to our wedding.

quantifier /'kwɒntɪ,faɪə/ noun a word such as 'all' or 'some' that shows the range of things referred to quantify /'kwɒntɪfaɪ/ verb to measure something in quantities. Synonym calculate quantitative /'kwɒntɪtətɪv/ adj referring to quantity (formal)

② quantity /'kwɒntɪti/ noun an amount □ quantities of a large amount of ○ Quantities of explosives were found in the garage. ◇ a quantity of 1. a lot of ○ The police found a quantity of stolen jewels. 2. a certain amount of ○ A small quantity of illegal drugs was found in the car.

quantum leap /,kwɒntəm 'li:p/ noun a great movement forwards

quarantine /'kwɔ:rənti:n/ noun a period of time when an animal or a person, usually coming from another country, has to be kept apart from others to avoid the risk of passing on diseases ○ The animals were put in quarantine on arrival at the port. Synonym isolation ■ verb to put someone or an animal in quarantine ○ All the passengers and crew were quarantined and not allowed to leave the plane.

quarrel /'kwɔ:rəl/ noun an argument ○ They have had a quarrel and aren't speaking to each other. ○ I think the quarrel was over who was in charge of the cash desk. □ to pick a quarrel with someone to start an argument with someone ○ It was very embarrassing when my father picked a quarrel with the waiter over the bill. □ to patch up a quarrel to settle an argument ○ After several months of arguing they finally patched up their quarrel. □ to have no quarrel with someone or something not to have any reason to complain about someone or something ○ I have no quarrel with the idea of women priests. ■ verb 1. □ to quarrel about or over something to argue about something ○ They're always quarrelling over money. 2. to disagree with someone ○ I don't quarrel with your figures. (NOTE: quarrelling – quarrelled. The US spelling is quareling – quarreled.) quarrelsome /'kwɔ:rəls(ə)m/ adj always arguing, often getting into arguments. Synonym argumentative. Antonym agreeable quarry /'kwɔ:ri/ noun 1. a place where substances such as stone are dug out of the ground ○ If you hear an explosion, it is because they're blasting in the quarry. (NOTE: The plural is quarries in this meaning.) 2. an animal or person who is being hunted ○ Gunmen surrounded the building where the kidnappers were, but their quarry managed to escape. (NOTE: no plural in this meaning)

■ verb to dig stone out of the ground ○ The stone used to build the castle was quarried locally.

quart /'kwɔ:t/ noun a measure of liquid equal to two pints or one quarter of a gallon

① quarter /'kwɔ:tə/ noun 1. one of four parts, a fourth, 25% ○ She cut the pear into quarters. ○ The jar is only a quarter empty. ○ He paid only a quarter of the normal fare because he works for the airline. 2. □ three quarters three out of four parts, 75% ○ Three quarters of the offices are empty. ○ The bus was three quarters full. 3. US 25 cent coin ○ Do you have a quarter for the machine? 4. a period of three months □ fourth quarter, last quarter the period of three months from October to the end of the year 5. one of the four compass directions which come between north, east, south and west 6. an area ○ The fire started in the merchants' quarter of the town. 7. someone who may give help or information ○ We didn't expect any help from that quarter. ■ verb to arrange for soldiers to live in a place temporarily ○ The battalion was quartered in a village near the front line.

quarterback /'kwɔ:təba:k/ noun US a key player in American football who plays behind the forwards and directs the team's attacks

③ quarter-final /,kwɔ:tə 'fain(ə)l/ noun (in sport) one of four matches in a competition, in which the person or team which wins goes into the semi-finals

③ quarterly /'kwɔ:təli/ adj, adv which happens every three months ○ a quarterly payment ○ There is a quarterly charge for electricity. ○ We pay the rent quarterly or on a quarterly basis. ■ noun a magazine which appears every three months ○ He writes for one of the political quarterlies. (NOTE: The plural is quarterlies.)

quartermaster /'kwɔ:tə,ma:stə/ noun (in the army) an army officer in charge of stores of food and equipment

③ quarters /'kwɔ:təz/ plural noun 1. places where people live ○ When they come off duty the staff go back to their quarters. 2. ○ at close quarters close to, very near ○ I had seen her often on TV, but this was the first time I had seen her at close quarters.

quartet /kwo:t'et/ noun 1. four musicians playing together ○ She plays the cello in a string quartet. 2. a piece of music for four musicians ○ a Beethoven string quartet. 3. four people or four things ○ A quartet of British archaeologists discovered the tomb. ○ Have you read his quartet of novels about Egypt?

quartz /kwo:ts/ noun a hard mineral often found as crystals in rocks and which makes up the major part of sand quasar /'kweɪzə:/ noun a very distant object in the universe, similar to a star, which gives off very strong radiation quash /kwo:ʃ/ verb 1. to make a judgment or ruling no longer valid ○ The appeal court quashed the verdict. ○ He applied for judicial review to quash the order. 2. to make something end ○ The government moved quickly to quash rumours of a split in the Cabinet.

quaver /'kweɪvə/ noun 1. a musical note lasting half as long as a crotchet and a quarter as long as a minim (NOTE: The US term is eighth note.) 2. a tremble in the voice ○ There was a slight quaver in her voice as she answered the judge's question. ■ verb (of voice) to shake slightly ○ A quavering voice answered the telephone.

quay /ki:/ noun a place where ships tie up to load or unload (NOTE: Do not confuse with key.)

quayside /'kɪ:saɪd/ noun the edge of a quay queasy /'kwi:zi/ adj feeling sick

② queen /'kwi:n/ noun 1. the wife of a king ○ King Charles I's queen was the daughter of the king of France. 2. a woman who rules a country ○ The Queen sometimes lives in Windsor Castle. ○ Queen Victoria was queen for many years. 3. the second most important piece in chess, after the king ○ In three moves he had captured my queen. 4. (in playing cards) the card with the face of a woman, with a value between the king and jack ○ He had the queen of spades. (NOTE: Queen is spelt with a capital letter when used before a name or when referring to a particular person: Queen Elizabeth I.)

Queen's Counsel /,kwi:nəl/ noun a senior lawyer. Abbr QC

queer /'kwi:ə/ adj 1. unusual or strange (dated) ○ There's something very queer about the message. ○ Isn't it queer that she hasn't phoned back? ○ There's a queer smell in the kitchen. (NOTE: queerer – queerest) 2. homosexual (offensive unless used by people who are gay) 3. slightly ill (dated) ○ She felt queer and went home to go to bed. ■ noun a homosexual man (offensive unless used by people who are gay) ■ verb □ to queer the pitch for someone to upset someone's plans (dated) ○ His offer has queered the pitch for all the others.

quell /'kweɪl/ verb 1. to calm a situation in which there is a lot of noise and fighting ○ Extra police were drafted in to quell the disturbances. 2. to hold back feelings ○ She tried to quell her fears about the journey. ○ It was difficult to quell a feeling of resentment.

quench /'kwentʃ/ verb □ to quench your thirst to have a drink when you are thirsty ○ I expect you would like something to quench your thirst.

querulous /'kweruləs/ adj complaining in a bad-tempered way (literary) query /'kwi:ri/ noun a question ○ She had to answer a mass of queries about the tax form. (NOTE: The plural is queries.) ■ verb to doubt whether something is true; to ask a question about something ○ I would query whether these figures are correct. ○ The committee members queried the cost of the Christmas party.

③ quest /'kwest/ noun a search □ in quest of in search of, looking for ○ They set off in quest of shelter.

① question /'kwestʃən/ noun 1. a sentence which needs an answer ○ The teacher

couldn't answer the children's questions. ○ Some of the questions in the exam were too difficult. ○ The manager refused to answer questions from journalists about the fire. 2. a problem or matter ○ The question is, who do we appoint to run the shop when we're on holiday? ○ The main question is that of cost. ○ He raised the question of moving to a less expensive part of town. □ in question under discussion ○ Please keep to the matter in question. □ it is out of the question it cannot possibly be done ○ You cannot borrow any more money – it's out of the question. ○ It's out of the question for her to have any more time off. ■ verb 1. to ask questions ○ The police questioned the driver for four hours. 2. to suggest that something may be wrong ○ We all question how accurate the computer printout is.

questionable /'kwestʃənəb(ə)l/ adj which is not completely honest or straightforward. Synonym dubious. Antonym indisputable questioner /'kwestʃənər/ noun a person who asks questions. Synonym interviewer. Antonym interviewee questioning /'kwestʃ(ə)nɪŋ/ noun a situation in which someone is asked a lot of questions, especially formally or officially, or an instance of this question tag /'kwestʃ(ə)n tæg/ noun a short phrase at the end of a statement that changes it into a question. In English, examples are the phrases 'isn't it?' and 'have you?'

② question mark /'kwestʃən mə:k/ noun a sign (?) used in writing to show that a question is being asked. Synonym doubt □ there's a question mark over something it is not likely that something will happen or will be good enough ○ There's still a question mark over whether or not he can come. ○ There's a big question mark over the England goalkeeper.

③ questionnaire /kwestʃə'neə/ noun a printed list of questions given to people to answer, especially used in market research

③ queue /kju:/ noun 1. a line of people or things such as cars, waiting one behind the other for something ○ There was a queue of people waiting to get into the exhibition. ○ We joined the queue at the entrance to the stadium. □ to form a queue to stand in line ○ Please form a queue to the left of the door. ○ Queues formed at ticket offices when the news of cheap fares became known. □ to jump the queue to go in front of other people standing in a queue ○ Are you trying to jump the queue? – Go to the back! 2. a series of documents or telephone calls which are dealt with in order ○ Your call is being held in a queue and will be dealt with as soon as a member of staff is free. □ his order went to the end of the queue his order was dealt with last ■ verb □ to queue (up) to stand in a line waiting for something ○ We queued for hours to get the theatre tickets. ○ Queue here for the London sightseeing bus. (NOTE: queuing – queued) queuing system /'kju:ɪŋ ,sistəm/ noun a system where telephone calls are held and answered in turn quibble /'kwib(ə)l/ noun a minor argument ○ I have only a few quibbles about the style, but basically I like the book. Synonym objection ■ verb □ to quibble about something to argue about the details of something which is extremely unimportant ○ They spent hours quibbling about who should pay the bill.

quiche /ki:ʃ/ noun an open pastry case with a filling of food such as eggs or vegetables

① quick /kwɪk/ adj 1. fast ○ I'm trying to work out the quickest way to get to the Tower of London. ○ We had a quick lunch and then went off for a walk. ○ He is much quicker at calculating than I am. ○ I am not sure that going by air to Paris is quicker than taking the train. □ quick as a flash very quickly ○ I dropped my purse and quick as a flash a little boy picked it up. □ to be quick off the mark to do something very fast, faster than everyone else □ to be quick on the uptake to understand something very fast, faster than anyone else 2. □ she has a quick temper she becomes angry easily ■ adv fast (informal) ○ Come here quick, I want to show you something. □ noun the flesh under the nails on your fingers and toes quicken /'kwɪkən/ verb 1. to make something go faster ○ He quickened his steps as he neared the house. 2. to make more active, to become more active ○ The decision is bound to quicken racial tensions. ○ The interest of the public began to quicken as it came closer to the time for the festival.

quickie /'kwɪki/ noun 1. something which takes only a short time to deal with, e.g. a drink or question 2. a quick sex act (humorous) ■ adv referring to something that happens quickly ○ a quickie divorce

① quickly /'kwɪkli/ adv very fast, without taking much time ○ He ate his supper very quickly because he wanted to watch the match on TV. ○ The firemen came quickly when we called 999.

quicksilver /'kwɪksilvə/ noun mercury, silver-coloured liquid metal used in thermometers (archaic literary) □ like quicksilver very fast ○ The money seemed to disappear like quicksilver.

quick-witted /,kwɪk 'wɪtɪd/ adj who thinks very fast

② quid /kwɪd/ noun a pound sterling (informal) (NOTE: no plural) quid pro quo /,kwɪd prəʊ 'kwəʊ/ noun something done in return for something else

② quiet /'kwaɪət/ adj 1. without any noise

○ Can't you make the children keep quiet? – I'm trying to work. ○ The brochure said that the rooms were quiet, but ours looked out over a busy main road. ○ The children have gone out and the house is so quiet. □ quiet as a mouse very quiet ○ She sat in the corner, as quiet as a mouse, watching what was going on. 2. with no great excitement ○ We had a quiet holiday by the sea. ○ It's a quiet little village. ○ The hotel is in the quietest part of the town. 3. simple □ quiet wedding a wedding with few guests ○ We decided to have a quiet wedding – just our brothers and sisters.

□ quiet colour scheme the colours which are used for painting something such as the walls of a room, and which are not bright □ noun 1. calm and peace ○ All I want is a bit of peace and quiet. ○ The quiet of the Sunday afternoon was spoilt by aircraft noise. 2. □ on the quiet in secret ○ They got married last weekend on the quiet. □ verb to make someone calm ○ She tried to quiet the screaming child.

quieten /'kwaɪət(ə)n/ verb to make someone quiet, to calm someone down

③ quietly /'kwaɪətlɪ/ adv without making any noise ○ The burglar climbed quietly up to the window. ○ She shut the door quietly behind her.

quietness /'kwaɪətnəs/ noun calm and peace quiff /kwiʃ/ noun hair which stands up over your forehead

quill /kwiːl/ noun 1. a long feather, in the past a feather used as a pen ○ In the eighteenth century people wrote with quill pens. 2. one of the long sharp hairs on a porcupine ○ The porcupine raises its quills when it is attacked.

quilt /kwiːlt/ noun a thick cover for a bed. ♦ patchwork. Synonym duvet quilted /'kwiːltɪd/ adj made with thick material sewn between two layers of cloth quins /'kwɪnz/ plural noun same as quintuplets quintessence /'kwɪn'tes(ə)ns/ noun an essential part, a perfect example of something. Synonym essence quintessential /,kwɪn'tɪ'senʃəl/ adj which is a perfect example of something. Synonym typical. Antonym atypical quintet /kwin'tet/ noun 1. five musicians playing together ○ She plays the cello in a string quintet. 2. a piece of music for five musicians ○ A Mozart flute quintet quintuplets /'kwɪntjʊpləts/ plural noun five babies born to a mother at the same time. Also called quins quip /kwɪp/ noun a joke, clever remark ○ He made some sort of quip about her hairstyle. Synonym witticism □ verb to make a joke or a clever remark ○ 'Hey, big spender!' she quipped as she saw him staggering out of the supermarket laden with plastic bags. Synonym joke (NOTE: quipping – quipped) quirk /kwɜːk/ noun an unusual or strange thing □ quirk of fate a strange thing which happens ○ By a strange quirk of fate, he found himself in the same hotel room as he had been in with his girlfriend twenty years earlier.

quirky /'kwɜːki/ adj strange, unusual. Synonym idiosyncratic. Antonym normal

② quit /kwɪt/ verb 1. to leave something such as a job or a place and not return ○ When the boss criticised her, she quit. ○ I'm fed up with the office, I'm thinking of quitting. 2. US to stop doing something ○ Will you quit bothering me! ○ He quit smoking. ♦ quits (NOTE: quitting – quit or quitted)

① quite /kwaɪt/ adv 1. to some degree ○ It's quite a long play. ○ She's quite a good writer. ○ The book is quite amusing but I liked the TV play better. Synonym fairly 2. completely ○ You're quite mad to go walking in a snowstorm. ○ He's quite right. ○ I don't quite understand why you want to go China. □ not quite not completely ○ The work is not quite finished yet. ○ Have you eaten all the bread? – Not quite. 3. □ quite a few, quite a lot several, many ○ Quite a few people on the boat were sick. ○ Quite a lot of staff come to work by car.

③ quits /kwɪts/ adj even (informal) ♦ to call it quits (informal) 1. to say that you are even ○ Give me £2.50 and we'll call it quits. 2. to decide to stop doing something ○ It's getting late, let's call it quits and start again tomorrow morning.

quitter /'kwɪtə/ noun a person who gives up easily (informal)

quiver /'kwɪvə/ noun 1. a slight shake ○ The only sign of any emotion was a slight quiver in his hand as he signed the contract. ○ A quiver of excitement ran through the crowd. 2. a container for arrows ○ Robin Hood carried a quiver of arrows on his back. □ verb to shake slightly ○ The dog watched the snake, quivering with fear. ○ The children rushed to the Christmas tree, quivering with excitement. Synonym tremble

③ quiz /kwiːz/ noun a game where you are asked a series of questions ○ She got all the questions right in the quiz. ○ They organised a general knowledge quiz. (NOTE: The plural is quizzes) □ verb to ask someone questions ○ The police quizzed him for hours about the missing car.

quizmaster /'kwɪzma:stə/ noun a person who asks the questions on a quiz show or game show quiz show /'kwɪz ʃəʊ/ noun a TV or radio programme where people are asked a series of questions quizzical /'kwɪzɪk(ə)l/ adj showing that you think something is surprising or funny quoits /kɔ:ts/ noun a game where large rings are thrown over a stick set upright in the ground quorum /'kwɔ:rəm/ noun the number of people who have to be present at a meeting to make it official or legal □ to have a quorum to have enough people present for a meeting to go ahead quota /'kwɔ:tə/ noun a fixed amount of goods which can be supplied quotation /'kwɔ:u'teɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. the words of one person which are repeated by another person ○ The article ended with a quotation from one of Churchill's speeches.

2. a statement of the likely cost of work to be done ○ We asked for quotations for refitting the shop. ○ His quotation was much lower than all the others.

quotation marks /kwaʊ'teɪʃ(ə)n mɑ:ks/ plural noun printed or written marks (‘ ’) showing that a quotation starts or finishes

② quote /'kwɔ:t/ noun 1. a quotation ○ I need some good quotes from his speech to put into my report. 2. a statement of the cost of work to be done ○ We asked for quotes for refitting the kitchen. ○ In the end, we accepted the lowest quote. ■ verb 1. to use a particular number to refer to something ○ In reply please quote this number. ○ He replied, quoting the number of the invoice. 2. to repeat what someone has said or written ○ He started his speech by quoting lines from Shakespeare's 'Hamlet'. □ can I quote you on that? can I repeat what you have just said? ○ I think the fee will be £15,000, but don't quote me on that. 3. to show the beginning of a quotation when speaking ○ He didn't come to the office because he had, quote, 'hurt his back'. 4. to give a statement showing the cost for work to be done ○ He quoted £10,000 for the job. ○ Their prices are always quoted in dollars.

quotes /kwaʊts/ plural noun quotation marks (‘ ’) quotient /'kwɔ:uʃ(ə)nt/ noun the result when one number is divided by another

R

r /rə:/, R noun the eighteenth letter of the alphabet, between Q and S □ oysters can only be eaten when there is an 'R' in the month you are not supposed to eat oysters when the name of the month doesn't have an R in it, i.e. in May, June, July and August rabbi /'ræbə/ noun a Jewish religious leader or teacher (NOTE: also used as a title before a name: Rabbi Jonathan Sacks)

③ rabbit /'ræbɪt/ noun a common wild animal with grey fur, long ears and short white tail □ The rabbit ran down its hole. □ He tried to shoot the rabbit but missed. □ She keeps a pet rabbit in a cage. Synonym bunny □ verb (informal) □ to rabbit on about something to talk for a long time about something □ He was rabbitting on about his collection of toy soldiers.

rabbit warren /'ræbɪt ,wɔːrən/ noun 1. a series of underground tunnels where rabbits live □ There are many rabbit warrens in the park. 2. an area where there are a lot of narrow streets □ We got lost in the rabbit warren of old streets behind the market.

rabble /'ræb(ə)l/ noun a crowd, a large violent mass of people. Synonym mob rabid /'ræbɪd, 'reɪbɪd/ adj 1. referring to rabies, suffering from rabies □ He was bitten by a rabid dog. 2. extremely violent □ He's a rabid socialist. □ The government has been taken over by rabid nationalists.

rabies /'reɪbɪz/ noun a serious disease which can cause death and which is passed to humans by infected animals. Also called hydrophobia raccoon /rə'ku:n/ noun a type of small North American wild animal, with black and white bands of colour on its face

② race /reɪs/ noun 1. a competition to see which person, animal or vehicle is the fastest □ She was second in the 200 metres race. □ The bicycle race goes round the whole country. □ race against time to have difficulty in getting something finished on time □ They tried to block the hole in the sea wall but with the high tide rising it was a race against time.

④ boat race 2. one of the large groups into which people are divided, according to features such as the colour of their skin or hair □ The government is trying to stamp out discrimination on grounds of race. □ They are prejudiced against people of mixed race.

■ verb 1. to compete in a race □ I'll race you to see who gets to school first. 2. to run fast □ They saw the bus coming and raced to the bus stop. □ He snatched some watches from the shop window and then raced away down the street.

③ racecourse /'reɪskɔːs/ noun a grass-covered track where horse races are held racehorse /'reɪshɔːs/ noun a horse bred and trained especially to run in horse races racer /'reɪsəl noun 1. a person who is running in a race □ He's a well-known bicycle racer. □ All the racers came round the corner together. 2. something such as a special car, boat or horse used for racing □ He's bought a new racer.

race relations /reɪs ɪr'leɪʃ(ə)nz/ plural noun relations between different groups of races in the same country □ Race relations officers have been appointed in some police forces.

③ races /'reɪsɪz/ plural noun a series of horse races held during one single day, or over several days

③ racetrack /'reɪstræk/ noun a track where races are run racial /'reɪʃ(ə)l/ adj referring to different races. Synonym ethnic racialism /'reɪʃ(ə)lɪz(ə)m/ noun same as racism (dated) racialist /'reɪʃ(ə)lɪst/ adj, noun same as racist racially /'reɪʃ(ə)li/ adv in a racial way □ racially motivated done because of racial hate □ The arson attack on the house was racially motivated.

③ racing /'reɪsɪŋ/ noun competitions to see who is fastest racism /'reɪsɪz(ə)m/ noun the belief that a group of people are not as good as others because they are of a different race, and treating them differently racist /'reɪsɪst/ adj believing that some people are not as good as others because of race and treating them differently □ The murderer was thought to have been a racist attack.

■ noun a person who treats someone differ-ently because of race ○ He's an old racist and you won't change his views. ○ The former regime was full of racists.

③ rack /ræk/ noun 1. a frame for holding things, e.g. letters, tools or suitcases ○ He put the envelope in the letter rack on his desk. 2. □ to go to rack and ruin to get into a bad state ○ He spent all his time in the bar and let his business go to rack and ruin. ■ verb □ to rack your brains to think very hard ○ I'm racking my brains, trying to remember the name of the shop.

④ racket /'rækɪt/ noun 1. a light frame with tight strings, used for hitting the ball in games ○ She bought a new tennis racket at the start of the summer season. ○ She asked if she could borrow his badminton racket for the tournament. 2. a loud noise ○ Stop that racket at once! ○ The people next door make a terrible racket when they're having a party. 3. an illegal deal which makes a lot of money ○ Don't get involved in that racket, you'll pay a hefty fine if you get caught. ○ He runs a cut-price ticket racket.

racy /'reisi/ adj (of behaviour) slightly shocking

radar /'reɪdər/ noun a system for finding objects such as ships or aircraft, and working out where they are from radio signals which are reflected back from them as dots on a screen ○ The plane's radar picked up another plane coming too close.

radar trap /'reɪdər: træp/ noun a small piece of equipment by the side of a road which notes details of cars which are travelling too fast. Also called speed trap radial /'reɪdiəl/ adj 1. which comes out from a central point ○ The streets are arranged in a radial pattern around the roundabout. 2. referring to a radius radial tyres /,reɪdiəl 'taɪəz/ plural noun tyres which have wires inside them to make them strong and give a better hold on the road surface radiance /'reɪdiəns/ noun the quality of shining extremely brightly radiant /'reɪdiənt/ adj 1. shining extremely brightly ○ She came out of the church with a radiant smile. □ radiant with shining brightly with ○ He was radiant with joy as he read the results. 2. (of heat) which is sent out in the form of rays radiant heat /,reɪdiənt 'hi:t/ noun the heat which is sent out by something hot, e.g. a fire radiate /'reɪdɪeɪt/ verb 1. to send out rays or heat ○ The sun radiates heat. 2. to spread out from a central point ○ The paths radiated from the tree in the centre of the garden. ○ The pain can radiate down both arms and up into the neck and jaw.

radiation /,reɪdi'eɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the process of sending out rays or heat radiator /'reɪdɪeɪtər/ noun 1. a metal object, usually fixed to a wall, which is filled with hot water for heating a room ○ Turn the radiator down – it's boiling in here. ○ When we arrived at the hotel our room was cold, so we switched the radiators on. 2. a metal container filled with cold water for preventing a car engine from becoming too hot ○ The radiator overheated causing the car to break down.

③ radical /'rædɪk(ə)l/ adj 1. thorough or complete ○ The government has had a radical rethink about press freedom. ○ He pointed out the radical difference between the two parties' policies on education. 2. new and completely different ○ His more radical proposals were turned down by the committee. ■ noun a member of a radical party ○ Two Radicals voted against the government. Synonym extremist. Antonym conservative radicalism /'rædɪkəlɪz(ə)m/ noun the political ideas of a radical party. Synonym extremism

radically /'rædɪkli/ adv 1. in a completely different, radical way ○ The British political scene has changed radically over the last twelve months. 2. basically ○ We are radically opposed to lowering the age of consent.

radical party /,rædɪk(ə)l 'pa:ti/ noun a party which is in favour of making great and fast change in the way a country is governed ① radio /'reɪdiəʊ/ noun 1. a method of sending out and receiving messages using air waves ○ They got the news by radio. ○ We always listen to BBC radio when we're on holiday. 2. a machine which sends out and receives messages using air waves ○ Turn on the radio – it's time for the weather forecast. ○ I heard the news on the car radio. ○ Please, turn the radio down – I'm on the phone. ■ verb to send a message using a radio ○ They radioed for assistance.

③ radioactive /,reɪdiəʊ'æktyv/ adj (of a substance) which, as its nucleus breaks up, gives off energy in the form of radiation which can pass through other substances radioactivity /,reɪdiəʊ'æk'tɪvɪtɪ/ noun energy in the form of radiation from radioactive substances radiography /,reɪdi'ɒgrəfi/ noun the practice or process of making X-ray photographs radio ham /'reɪdiəʊ hæm/ noun a person who sends and receives radio messages for fun radio telescope /,reɪdiəʊ 'telɪskəp/ noun a telescope which uses radio waves to discover stars and other objects in the universe radiotherapy /'reidiəʊ'θerəpi/ noun treating a disease by using radioactive rays such as X-rays or gamma rays on the affected part of the body radish /'rædɪʃ/ noun a small red root vegetable, eaten raw in salads (NOTE: The plural is radishes.)

radium /'reidiəm/ noun a radioactive metal, used to treat certain diseases such as cancer

③ radius /'reidiəs/ noun 1. a line from the centre of a circle to the outside edge ○ We were all asked to measure the radius of the circle. 2. the distance in any direction from a particular central point ○ People within a radius of twenty miles heard the explosion. ○ The school accepts children living within a two-mile radius. 3. the shorter and outer of the two bones in the arm between the elbow and the wrist ○ They found he had fractured his radius. ♦ ulna radon /'reɪdɒn/ noun a natural inert radioactive gas, formed from the radioactive decay of radium

RAF abbr Royal Air Force

③ raffle /'ræf(ə)l/ noun a game where you buy a ticket with a number on it, in the hope of winning a prize ○ She won a bottle of perfume in a raffle. ■ verb to give a prize in a lottery ○ They raffled a car for charity.

raft /raʊft/ noun 1. a structure made of pieces of wood tied together to form a flat surface ○ They took their raft all the way down the Amazon. ○ Students held a raft race to raise money for charity. 2. many, a lot of ○ They had to answer a raft of questions about government policy.

rafter /'ra:fɪətə/ noun one of the long straight pieces of wood which hold up a roof. Synonym beam rag /ræg/ noun 1. a piece of torn cloth ○ He used an old oily rag to clean his motorbike. □ like a red rag to a bull making you very annoyed (informal) ○ Any mention of socialists is like a red rag to a bull to him. 2. a poor quality newspaper ○ I read about it in the local rag. ■ verb to play jokes on someone (dated) ○ He was ragged a lot at school. ○ The other girls ragged her about her rich boyfriend. Synonym tease rage /reɪdʒ/ noun 1. violent anger ○ He rushed up to the driver of the other car in a terrible rage. □ to fly into a rage to get very angry suddenly ○ When he phoned her she flew into a rage. ♦ road rage 2. □ it's all the rage, it's the latest rage it's very fashionable (informal) ○ It's all the rage to wear flared trousers again. ■ verb to be violent ○ The storm raged all night. Synonym fume ragged /'rægɪd/ adj 1. (of clothes) torn ○ The old photographs showed poor children standing in ragged clothes. 2. (of edge of paper or cloth) not straight ○ If you'd used scissors to cut the wrapping paper you wouldn't have made the edge all ragged.

raging /'reɪdʒɪŋ/ adj very violent or painful rags /rægz/ plural noun old torn clothes ragtime /'rægtaim/ noun a type of jazz music with a strong beat which is not regular raid /reɪd/ noun a sudden attack; a sudden visit by the police ○ Robbers carried out six raids on post offices during the night. ○ Police carried out a series of raids on addresses in London. ■ verb to make a sudden attack on a place ○ The police raided the club. ○ We caught the boys raiding the fridge.

raider /'reɪdə/ noun a person who takes part in a raid

② rail /reɪl/ noun 1. a straight metal or wooden bar ○ The pictures all hang from a picture rail. ○ Hold onto the rail as you go down the stairs. ○ There is a heated towel rail in the bathroom. 2. one of two parallel metal bars on which trains run ○ Don't try to cross the rails – it's dangerous. ○ In the autumn, trains can be delayed by leaves on the rails. 3. the railway, a system of travel using trains ○ Six million commuters travel to work by rail each day. ○ We ship all our goods by rail. ○ Rail travellers are complaining about rising fares. ○ Rail travel is cheaper than air travel. ■ verb □ to rail off to close an area with railings ○ Police railed off the entrance to the court.

railings /'reɪlɪŋz/ plural noun metal bars used as a fence

② railroad /'reɪlrəud/ noun US same as railway ■ verb to force something to happen (informal) ○ The government tried to railroad their plan through parliament.

② railway /'reilweɪ/ noun 1. a system of metal rails on which trains travel ○ The railway line crosses the river by a suspension bridge. 2. a way of travelling which uses trains to carry passengers and goods ○ The railway station is in the centre of town. ○ The French railway system has high-speed trains to all major cities. (NOTE: [all senses] The US term is railroad.)

railway carriage /'reilweɪ, kærɪdʒ/ noun a railway vehicle for passengers

③ railway line /'reilweɪ laɪn/ noun the rails on which trains run ○ Don't cross the railway line when a train might be coming.

① rain /reɪn/ noun drops of water which fall from the clouds ○ The ground is very dry – we've had no rain for days. ○ Yesterday we had 3cm of rain or 3cm of rain fell here yesterday. ○ If you have to go out in the rain take an umbrella. ○ All this rain will help the plants grow. □ driving rain rain which is blown straight towards you by the wind ○ They were forced to turn back because of the driving rain. ■ verb to fall as drops of water from the clouds ○ As soon as we sat down and took out the sandwiches it started to rain. ○ Look at the clouds, it's going to rain. □ to be raining cats and dogs to rain a lot (informal) ○ It rained cats and dogs all morning, but had cleared up by early afternoon.

rainbow /'reɪnbəʊ/ noun a shape like half a circle which shines with many colours in the sky when it is sunny and raining at the same time rain check /'reɪn tʃek/ noun US an agreement to do something later □ I'll take a rain check on that I will not accept your offer right now but I may accept it later ○ Thanks for the invitation, but I'll take a rain check on that as I need to do some studying tonight.

raincoat /'reɪnkoʊt/ noun a coat which keeps off water, which you wear when it is raining raindrop /'reɪndrɒp/ noun a drop of water which falls from a cloud rainfall /'reɪnfɔ:l/ noun the amount of rain which falls in a place over a certain period. Antonym sunshine rain forest /'reɪn,fɔ:rist/ noun a thick forest which grows in tropical regions where there is a lot of rain rain off /'reɪn 'ɒf/ verb □ to be rained off not to happen or to stop happening, because of rain ○ The cricket match was rained off.

rains /reɪnz/ plural noun (in tropical countries) the season when it rains rainstorm /'reɪnstɔ:ml/ noun a storm with a lot of rain. Synonym cloudburst rainwater /'reɪnwɔ:tə/ noun water which has fallen as rain

③ rainy /'reini/ adj when it rains □ to keep something for a rainy day to keep something in case you may need it later rainy season /'reini ,sɪz(ə)n/ noun a period of the year when it rains a lot. Compare dry season

① raise /reɪz/ noun US an increase in salary

○ She asked the boss for a raise. (NOTE: The British term is pay rise.) □ verb 1. to lift something, to make something higher ○ He picked up the flag and raised it over his head. ○ The newspaper headline says TAXES TO BE RAISED. ○ Air fares will be raised on June 1st. ○ When the shop raised its prices, it lost half of its customers. □ to raise your eyebrows to look surprised. ♀ voice 2. to mention a subject which could be discussed ○ No one raised the subject of politics. ○ The chairman tried to prevent the question of redundancies being raised. 3. to obtain money ○ The hospital is trying to raise £2m to finance its expansion programme. ○ Where will he raise the money from to start up his business? 4. to grow plants from seed ○ The new varieties are raised in special seedbeds. 5. to look after a child ○ She was raised by her aunt in Canada. (NOTE: Do not confuse with raze.)

raisin /'reɪz(ə)n/ noun a dried grape

rake /reɪk/ noun 1. a garden tool with a long handle and metal teeth, used for smoothing earth or for pulling dead leaves together ○ He took a rake and hoe to work on his allotment. □ as thin as a rake very thin ○ She's a model and is as thin as a rake. 2. the angle of a slope ○ The rake of the stage is quite steep. ■ verb 1. to smooth loose soil with a rake ○ She raked the flowerbed before sowing her seeds. 2. to pull dead leaves together with a rake ○ He raked the leaves from under the trees. 3. to move a camera or gun slowly sideways so that it covers a wide area ○ From their lookout post they were able to rake the whole square with machine-gun fire.

rake in /,reɪk 'ɪn/ verb to gather something together (informal) □ to rake in cash, to rake it in to make a lot of money ○ He expects to rake in more than half a million.

rake-off /'reɪk ɒf/ noun an illegal payment made for doing something (informal) Synonym bribe rake up /,reɪk 'ʌp/ verb 1. to pull dead leaves together with a rake ○ She raked the dead leaves up into a pile. 2. to bring together ○ We had difficulty in raking up the money to buy the house. 3. to bring back something unpleasant from the past ○ The newspapers tried to rake up the old scandal.

rally /'ræli/ noun 1. a large meeting of members of a group or political party ○ We are holding a rally to protest against the job cuts. 2. a competition where cars have to go through difficult country in a certain time ○ He won the Monte Carlo rally by 55 minutes. ○ The navigator has to deal with the maps, signs and timing for a rally driver. 3. a series of shots in tennis ○ It was a great final – full of powerful serves and exciting rallies. 4. a rise in price when it has previously been going downwards ○ Shares staged a rally on the Stock Exchange. (NOTE: The plural is rallies.) □ verb 1. to gather together □ to rally round to group together to support someone ○ When her husband was sent to prison her friends rallied round. 2. to get better for a time from an illness ○ He was very poorly on Monday, but by the end of the week he had rallied a little. 3. to rise in price, after previously going downwards ○ Shares rallied on the news of the latest government figures.

ram /ræm/ noun a male sheep ○ We keep the rams separate from the ewes. (NOTE: The female sheep is a ewe.) □ verb 1. to move or hammer something down hard ○ He rammed the post into the soil with a heavy hammer. ○ He shouted and rammed his fist on the table. 2. to crash into something such as another ship or car with a lot of force ○ The car rammed into the side of the lorry. ○ She swerved quickly to avoid ramming the oncoming car. 3. to push something hard ○ He rammed the envelope into his pocket. ○ She rushed into the house, shut the door, and rammed the bolt home. (NOTE: ramming – rammed)

RAM /ræm/ noun random access memory, computer memory that allows access to any part of the memory in any order without having to access the rest of memory

Ramadan /'ræmədæn/ noun a Muslim religious festival, the ninth month of the Muslim year, during which believers are not allowed to eat or drink during the day ramble /'ræmbəl/ noun a walk for pleasure in the countryside ○ We're going for a ramble through the beech woods. Synonym hike

■ verb 1. to go for a walk for pleasure in the countryside ○ We went rambling last weekend. 2. □ to ramble (on) to talk on and on in a confused way ○ He has a tendency to ramble, and his phone calls never last less than half an hour. ○ She went rambling on about her 'boy', and it wasn't until later that I realised she was talking about her cat.

rambler /'ræmblə/ noun 1. a person who goes for walks for pleasure in the countryside ○ A group of ramblers came into the pub. 2. a type of rose which climbs ○ We planted a pink rambler round the cottage door.

rambling /'ræmblɪŋ/ adj 1. long and confused ○ He made a rambling speech of thanks. 2. full of little streets or full of rooms which connect with each other in a confusing way ○ We got lost in a maze of rambling alleys down by the harbour. ○ We stayed in a rambling old inn in Suffolk. ■ noun the practice of walking for pleasure in the countryside ○ They had a rambling holiday in Yorkshire. ○ He lists his hobbies as reading and rambling.

ramifications /,ræmifi'keʃ(ə)nz/ plural noun complicated and unexpected results ○ No one has really thought about all the ramifications of European political union.

ramp /ræmp/ noun 1. a slightly sloping surface joining two different levels ○ You drive up the ramp and tip your rubbish into a hole in the ground. ○ They have built a ramp so that wheelchairs can get into the library. 2. a small curved shape across the surface of a road ○ Drive carefully – ramps ahead!

rampage /'ræmpēidʒ/ noun □ to go on the rampage to go about breaking things or creating a lot of noise and mess ○ After their team's defeat the fans went on the rampage around the town. ■ verb □ to rampage about to create a lot of mess and noise ○ She was rampaging about, throwing books and pictures all over the place.

rampant /'ræmpənt/ adj which exists over a large area and cannot be controlled ramparts /'ræmpa:ts/ plural noun tall walls which protect ○ We walked round the castle ramparts.

ramshackle /'ræmʃæk(ə)l/ adj badly damaged and falling to pieces. Synonym ricketty. Antonym sturdy ran /ræn/ □ run

ranch /ræ:ntʃ/ noun 1. (in North or South America) a farm where horses or cows are kept ○ The cowboys returned to the ranch each evening. ○ They left the city and bought a ranch in Colorado. 2. (in Australia) a farm where sheep are reared (NOTE: The plural is ranches.)

rancher /'ræ:ntʃə/ noun a person who owns or runs a ranch. Synonym farmer rancid /'rænsid/ adj (of food) with an unpleasant taste because it has decayed or is not fresh rancour /'ræŋkə/ noun an angry feeling against someone or something (NOTE: The US spelling is rancor.)

R&D abbr research and development random /'rændəm/ adj done without any planning. Synonym haphazard □ at random without choosing carefully ○ Pick any card at random.

random access memory /,rændəm 'ækses ,mem(ə)ri/ noun full form of RAM random check /,rændəm 'tsek/ noun a check on things taken from a group without choosing them in any particular order randomly /'rændəmli/ adv in a random way random sample /,rændəm 'sa:mpəl/ noun something taken for testing from among a number of similar things, without any obvious plan or pattern randy /'rændi/ adj very keen to have sex (informal) (NOTE: randier – randiest)

rang /ræŋ/ □ ring

① range /reindʒ/ noun 1. a series of buildings or mountains in line ○ There is a range of outbuildings next to the farmhouse which can be converted into holiday cottages. ○ They looked out at the vast mountain range from the plane window. 2. especially US a wide open pasture ○ The cattle were left to feed on the range during the summer. 3. a choice or series of things which are available ○ We offer a wide range of sizes. ○ We have a range of holidays at all prices. ○ I am looking for something in the £20–£30 price range. 4. a distance which you can go; a distance over which you can see or hear ○ The missile only has a range of 100 km. ○ The police said the man had been shot at close range. ○ The optician told her that her range of vision would be limited. 5. a large piece of kitchen equipment used for cooking food, usually with two or more ovens ○ The centrepiece of the kitchen was the magnificent new range. ♦ rifle range ■ verb □ to range from to spread from ○ The sizes range from small to extra large. ○ Holidays range in price from £150 to £350 per person. ○ The quality of this year's examination papers ranged from excellent to very poor.

ranger /'reɪndʒəl/ noun a person in charge of the management and protection of a forest, park or nature reserve

② rank /ræŋk/ noun 1. a row of soldiers ○ The soldiers kept rank as they advanced towards the enemy. 2. a position in society or in a service such as the army or police ○ What rank does he hold in the police force? ○ After ten years he had reached the rank of corporal. □ other ranks ordinary soldiers □ he rose from the ranks from being an ordinary soldier he became an officer ○ General Smith rose from the ranks. 3. □ the rank and file ordinary people ○ Rank-and-file union members voted against the proposal. ■ verb to be placed in order of importance ○ Shakespeare ranks among the greatest world authors. ○ As an artist he doesn't rank as highly as his sister. Synonym rate ■ adj 1. complete ○ The race was won by a rank outsider. 2. (of plants) growing tall and thick ○ Rank grass surrounded the marsh. 3. with an unpleasant smell ○ the rank smell of stale cigar smoke ranking /'ræŋkɪŋ/ noun a position in order of importance rankle /'ræŋk(ə)l/ verb to cause continuing bitter feelings ransack /'rænsæk/ verb to cause a lot of damage and mess while searching a place to find something ransom /'ræns(ə)m/ noun money paid to get back someone who is being held prisoner ○ The daughter of the banker was held by kidnappers who asked for a ransom of £1m. ■ verb to pay money so that someone is set free ○ She was ransomed by her family. □ to hold someone to ransom 1. to keep someone secretly until money is paid ○ The striking lorry drivers are holding the country to ransom. 2. to hold someone in such a way that they have to agree to what you ask ransom note /'ræns(ə)m nəʊt/ noun a message sent by someone who is holding another person prisoner and asking for money to be paid rant /'rænt/ verb to complain or shout loudly. Synonym rage rap /ræp/ noun 1. a short sharp hit ○ There was a rap on the door. 2. □ to take the rap to accept responsibility, to take the blame (informal) ○ Let me take the rap with the boss for having a long lunch break. 3. a form of African Caribbean music where the singer speaks words quickly over a strong beat, improvising as he or she goes along ○ The club played rap all evening. ■ verb 1. to give a sharp tap ○ Even though he rapped on the door with a stick, no one heard. □ to rap someone over the knuckles to criticise someone ○ He was rapped over the knuckles by the Prime Minister. 2. to sing rap music ○ Although he couldn't play the guitar or the drums he was great at rapping. (NOTE: rapping – rapped) rape /reɪp/ noun the offence of attacking a person and forcing them to have sex ○ There's been a dramatic increase in the number of rapes in this area over the past year. ○ He was in court, charged with rape. ■ verb to attack someone and force them to have sex ○ The girl was raped at the bus stop. ○ He was in court, charged with raping the student.

③ rapid /'ræpɪd/ adj fast ○ There has been a rapid rise in property prices this year. ○ The rapid change in the weather forced the yachts to turn for home. Synonym swift ■ noun □ to shoot rapids to sail down a fast-flowing river in a boat ○ One of her favourite pastimes is shooting rapids in her kayak.

rapidity /rə'pɪdɪti/ noun speed

④ rapidly /'ræpɪdlɪ/ adv quickly rapids /'ræpɪdz/ plural noun a place where a river runs fast over rocks ○ He took her whitewater rafting down the rapids.

rapist /'reɪpɪst/ noun a person who has raped someone rapper /'ræpəl/ noun a person who speaks words to rap music. Synonym singer rapport /ræ'pɔ:t/ noun an understanding, a close connection between two people or groups rapprochement /ræ'prɒʃmənt/ noun a situation where two states become more friendly after a period of not being at all friendly. Synonym reconciliation. Antonym hostility rapt /ræpt/ adj concentrating so much on something or someone that you do not notice what is around you □ with rapt attention with all your attention ○ The audience listened to the lecture with rapt attention.

rapture /'ræptʃə/ noun a state of great happiness or enthusiasm

② rare /reəl/ adj 1. unusual, not common ○ It's very rare to meet a foreigner who speaks perfect Chinese. ○ Experienced sales staff are rare these days. ○ The woodland is the habitat of a rare species of frog. 2. (of meat) which is very lightly cooked ○ How would you like your steak? – Rare, please! (NOTE: rarer – rarest)

② rarely /'reɪli/ adv not often, almost never ○ I rarely buy a Sunday newspaper. ○ He is rarely in his office on Friday afternoons.

Synonym seldom. Antonym often raring /'reərɪŋ/ adj (informal) □ raring to go very keen to go or to start doing something ○ The marathon starts in five minutes, and the crowd of runners are raring to go.

rarity /'rærɪti/ noun 1. the state of being rare
○ The rarity of the species means that it must be protected. 2. a rare thing ○ Hot sunny days are a rarity in November. ○ We get so few tourists that a coachload of them is a real rarity.

rascal /'ra:skəl/ noun a person, especially a child, who is badly behaved rash /ræʃ/ noun 1. a mass of red spots on your skin, which stays for a time and then disappears ○ He showed the rash to the doctor. ○ She had a rash on her arms. □ to break out in a rash to suddenly get a rash 2. a series of things that happen

○ There has been a rash of burglaries lately. (NOTE: The plural is rashes.) ■ adj not careful; done without thinking
○ It was a bit rash of him to suggest that he would pay for everyone. Synonym impetuous. Antonym sensible

(NOTE: rasher – rashest)

③ rasher /'ræʃə/ noun a thin piece of bacon rashly /'ræʃli/ adv without considering what might happen rasp /ræ:sp/ noun 1. a rough metal file ○ He used a steel rasp to smooth the surface of the table. 2. a harsh grating noise

○ The rasp of the saw on the metal sheet. ■ verb to make a grating noise
○ The steel bolt rasped as he slid it back. □ rasping cough or voice a cough or voice which has a dry harsh sound
○ The kidnapper spoke with a rasping voice. ○ The woman next to me in the waiting room had a rasping cough.

raspberry /'ra:zb(ə)rɪ/ noun 1. a common red soft fruit which grows on tall plants ○ They picked raspberries and ate them for tea. ○ Could I have some raspberries and cream, please? ○ We had scones with raspberry jam.

□ raspberry canes, raspberry bush plants formed of tall stems which bear this fruit
○ There are two rows of raspberry canes or raspberry bushes in the garden. 2. a rude noise made with the mouth to show that you think something is rubbish
○ Instead of replying, she blew him a raspberry. (NOTE: The plural is raspberries.)

Rastafarian /,ræstə'fɪəriən/ noun a member of an Afro-Caribbean religious group that considers the former emperor of Ethiopia, Haile Selassie, to be God rat /ræt/ noun a common grey rodent, larger than a mouse, which has a long tail and can carry disease ○ Rats live in the sewers in the city. ○ Bubonic plague is a disease which is transmitted to people by fleas from rats. □ like rats leaving a sinking ship when large numbers of people leave a company or an organisation because they think it is going to fail ○ Ministers are leaving the government like rats leaving a sinking ship. ■ verb □ to rat on someone to harm someone by telling their secrets (slang) ○ He ratted on his best friend.

ratchet /'rætʃɪt/ noun an object such as a wheel with teeth and a catch which prevents it from turning backwards. Synonym notch

① rate /reɪt/ noun 1. a number shown as a proportion of another 2. how frequently something is done
○ His heart was beating at a rate of only 59 per minute. 3. a level of payment
○ He immediately accepted the rate offered. ○ Before we discuss the project further, I would like to talk about the rates of payment. ○ Their rate of pay is lower than ours. 4. speed
○ At the rate he's going, he'll be there before us. ○ If you type at a steady rate of 70 words per minute you'll finish copying the text today. ■ verb to give a value to something ○ She's rated in the top 20 players. ○ I don't rate his chances of winning very highly.

① rather /'ræðə/ adv 1. fairly, to a slight degree
○ Their house is rather on the small side. ○ Her dress is a rather pretty shade of blue. 2. □ rather than instead of ○ Rather than wait for hours for a bus, we decided to walk home. ○ He tried to use his credit card rather than pay cash.

ratification /,rætɪfɪ'keɪʃ(ə)n/ noun official approval of something such as a rule, which then becomes official and must be obeyed. Antonym rejection ratify /'rætɪfaɪ/ verb to approve something officially rating /'reɪtɪŋ/ noun 1. the act or practice of giving a score or mark for something ○ What rating would you give that film? 2. (in the navy) an ordinary seaman

○ The new commander joined the navy 20 years ago as a rating.

③ ratio /'reɪʃiəʊ/ noun an amount of something in relation to another amount ○ the ratio of successes to failures ○ Our athletes beat theirs by a ratio of two to one (2:1). (NOTE: The plural is ratios.)

ration /'ræʃ(ə)n/ noun an amount of food or supplies allowed ○ The rations provided for the expedition were more than sufficient. ○ The prisoners had to survive on meagre rations. ■ verb to allow only a certain amount of food or supplies ○ Petrol may be rationed this winter. ○ During the war we were rationed to one ounce of cheese per person per week. Synonym restrict rational /'ræʃ(ə)n(ə)l/ adj sensible, based on reason rationale /ræʃə'na:l/ noun a set of reasons for which something is done. Synonym reasoning

rationalisation /,ræʃ(ə)nəlai'zeʃ(ə)n/, rationalization noun the act of rationalising, of making something more effective rationalise /'ræʃ(ə)nəlaɪz/, rationalize verb 1. to find a reason for actions which do not appear to be rational ○ He tried to rationalise what he had done. 2. to make something such as a system or a business work in a more effective way ○ The rail company is trying to rationalise its freight services.

rationally /'ræʃ(ə)n(ə)li/ adv in a reasonable way rationing /'ræʃ(ə)nɪŋ/ noun the system of allowing people only a small amount of food or supplies in wartime rat race /'ræt reɪs/ noun the bitter competition for success in the business world (informal) rattle /'ræt(ə)l/ noun 1. a toy which you hold in your hand and which makes a loud repeated noise when you shake it ○ The fans stood waving rattles and blowing whistles. ○ The baby threw the rattle out of the cot. 2. a harsh sound ○ He heard the rattle of a snake. ■ verb 1. to make a repeated harsh noise, like the sound of pieces of wood banging together ○ The wind made the windows rattle. 2. to upset someone ○ He didn't seem rattled by the news of the police investigation.

rattle off /,ræt(ə)l 'ɒf/ verb to say something very quickly rattlesnake /'ræt(ə)l,sneɪk/, rattler /'ræt(ə)lə/ noun a poisonous American snake which makes a rattling noise with its tail ratty /'ræti/ adj behaving in an angry way raucous /'rɔ:ksəs/ adj (of a sound) rough, harsh raunchy /'rɔ:ntʃi/ adj sexually exciting (informal) (NOTE: raunchier – raunchiest) ravage /'rævɪdʒ/ noun □ the ravages of damage caused by ○ The town will have to spend millions to repair the ravages of war. ○ You can try to withstand the ravages of time by dyeing your hair. ■ verb to damage or to destroy a place ○ The countryside had been ravaged by years of civil war.

rave /reɪv/ verb 1. to speak in an excited way ○ He ranted and raved until someone came to see what was the matter. 2. to be very enthusiastic about something ○ She raves about this little restaurant in the West End. ■ adj enthusiastic (informal) ○ The new musical had rave reviews. ■ noun a very large party for young people, with bright lights, loud music and usually drugs raven /'reɪv(ə)n/ noun a big black bird like a very large crow ravenous /'ræv(ə)nəs/ adj very hungry ravine /rə'veɪn/ noun a deep narrow valley

raving /'reɪvɪŋ/ adj, adv □ raving mad extremely annoyed or angry (informal) ○ You must be raving mad, that's far too expensive! ravioli /rævɪ'əli/ noun an Italian dish of small pasta squares filled with meat or cheese ravishing /'rævɪʃɪŋ/ adj very beautiful ravishingly /'rævɪʃɪŋli/ adv in a way which is extremely attractive

③ raw /rəʊ:/ adj 1. not cooked ○ Don't be silly – you can't eat raw potatoes! ○ We had a salad of raw cabbage and tomatoes. ○ Sushi is a Japanese dish of raw fish. ○ They served the meat almost raw. 2. which has not been treated in any way ○ We have a mass of raw data which has to be processed. 3. (of weather) cold and wet ○ a very raw winter's morning ○ The driving wind was cold and raw. 4. (on the skin) sensitive because the skin has been rubbed off ○ The blister left her skin red and raw. □ to touch a raw nerve to mention something which someone is sensitive about (informal) ○ His mention of the money they owed touched a raw nerve. 5. □ a raw deal unfair treatment (informal) ○ He got a raw deal from the government when they refused to pay him a pension. 6. without any experience ○ to train raw recruits

③ raw materials /rəʊ: mə'tɪəriəlz/ plural noun substances such as wool, wood or sand which are still in their natural state and have not yet been made into manufactured goods ray /reɪ/ noun 1. a beam of light or heat ○ A ray of sunshine hit the window pane and lit up the gloomy room. □ a ray of hope a small hopeful sign 2. a type of large flat sea fish ○ We had ray cooked in butter.

rayon /'reɪɒn/ noun an artificial material which looks like silk rage /reɪz/ verb □ to rage something to the ground to destroy something such as a building completely ○ The office block will be razed to the ground to make way for the new road. ○ Whole sections of the town were razed to the ground in the earthquake.

③ razor /'reɪzə/ noun an instrument with a very sharp blade for removing hair from the face or body razor blade /'reɪzə bleɪd/ noun a blade for a razor, which can be used several times before being thrown away

RC abbr Roman Catholic

③ Rd abbr road ○ Our address is 1 Cambridge Rd.

re /ri:/ prep concerning re- /ri:/ prefix again

① reach /ri:tʃ/ noun 1. how far you can stretch out your hand ○ Keep the medicine

bottle out of the reach of the children. 2. how far you can travel easily ○ The office is within easy reach of the railway station. ■ verb 1. to stretch out your hand to ○ She reached across the table and took some meat from my plate. ○ He's quite tall enough to reach the tool cupboard. ○ Can you reach me down the suitcase from the top shelf? 2. to arrive at a place ○ We were held up by fog and only reached home at midnight. ○ The plane reaches Hong Kong at midday. ○ We wrote to tell her we were coming to visit, but the letter never reached her. 3. to get to a certain level ○ The amount we owe the bank has reached £100,000. 4. to do something successfully □ to reach an agreement to agree ○ The two parties reached an agreement over the terms of the sale. □ to reach a decision to decide ○ The board has still not reached a decision about closing the factory. □ to reach someone to get in touch with someone on the phone ○ We had difficulty in reaching him.

③ react /ri'ækt/ verb 1. to do or to say something in response to words or an action ○ How will he react when we tell him the news? ○ When she heard the rumour she didn't react at all. □ to react against something to show opposition to something ○ The farmers reacted against the new law by blocking the roads with their tractors. □ to react to something to behave in a particular way as a result of something ○ How did he react to the news of her death? ○ He didn't react at all well to the injection. 2. □ to react with something (of a chemical) to change chemical composition because of a substance ○ Acids react with metals.

② reaction /ri'ækʃən/ noun 1. a thing done or said as a result of something else ○ His immediate reaction to the news was to burst into laughter. ○ There was a very negative reaction to the proposed building development. □ a natural reaction an expected way of behaving as a result of something such as a particular experience ○ Bursting into tears is a natural reaction when you pass your exams. □ what was his reaction to the news? what did he say or do when he heard the news? ○ What was his reaction when you told him you were leaving him? 2. a process of chemical change ○ A chemical reaction takes place when sulphuric acid is added.

reactionary /ri'ækʃən(ə)ri/ adj extremely conservative, opposed to any change ○ Reactionary elements in the government may try to block the president's plan. ■ noun a person who is extremely conservative, opposed to any changes ○ The proposals have run up against opposition from reactionaries in the armed forces. Antonym progressive (NOTE: The plural is reactionaries.) reactive /ri'æktyv/ adj 1. (of a chemical substance) which reacts easily with other substances 2. working by reacting to things which happen, rather than by starting a process yourself ○ They decided to adopt a reactive strategy. ○ His method of working is purely reactive. Antonym proactive

③ reactor /ri'ækta/ noun □ nuclear reactor a structure which creates heat and energy by starting and controlling atomic fission ○ A disaster could have happened if the nuclear reactor had exploded.

① read /ri:d/ verb 1. to look at and understand written words ○ She was reading a book when I saw her. ○ What are you reading at the moment? ○ We're reading about the general election. 2. to look at and understand written music ○ She can play the piano by ear, but can't read music. 3. to understand the meaning of data from something such as a computer disk or a piece of electronic equipment ○ Our PCs cannot read disks which are not compatible with our system. ○ The scanner at the cash desk reads the bar code on each product. 4. □ to read Braille to touch the Braille symbols with your fingers and understand their meaning 5. to speak the words of something which is written ○ The chairman read a message from the president during the meeting. ○ She read a bedtime story to the children last night. ○ Can you read the instructions on the medicine bottle? — The print is too small for me. 6. □ to read between the lines to understand a hidden meaning which is not immediately obvious ○ If you read between the lines of his letter you can tell that he is deeply unhappy. 7. to study a subject at university ○ He read mathematics at Cambridge. (NOTE: reading — read /red/) ■ noun 1. the action of looking at and understanding written words ○ I like to have a read in the train on my way to work. 2. a good book for reading ○ His latest novel will be a good holiday read. ○ You can't beat that book for a fantastic read. (NOTE: Do not confuse with reed.)

readable /'ri:dəb(ə)l/ adj 1. which can be read easily ○ His handwriting is barely readable. 2. which is a pleasure to read ○ It's a very readable story.

③ read aloud /ri:d ə'laud/, read out /ri:d 'aʊt/ verb to speak the words you are reading readress /,ri:d'res/ verb to put another address on an envelope or parcel

② reader /'ri:də/ noun 1. a person who reads, especially a person who reads regularly or who reads a particular newspaper or type of book ○ a message from the editor to all our readers ○ She's a great reader of science fiction. 2. a senior teacher at a university, a position between Professor and Senior Lecturer ○ He was a reader in English at

London University. 3. a school book to help children to learn to read ○ The teacher handed out the new readers to the class. ○ I remember one of my first readers – it was about pirates. 4. a piece of electronic equipment which understands data or symbols ○ a barcode reader readership /'ri:dəsɪp/ noun 1. all the people who regularly read a particular magazine or newspaper, or read the books of a particular writer ○ The paper is targeting a younger readership. 2. the position of reader in a university ○ He has been appointed to a readership in Chinese.

③ readily /'redɪli/ adv 1. easily and quickly ○ This product is readily available in most shops. 2. willingly ○ Is there anyone readily available to help me this weekend? ○ She came readily when I asked her to help me.

readiness /'redɪnəs/ noun being ready or willing ○ to hold something in readiness to keep something ready for use

④ reading /'ri:dɪŋ/ noun 1. the act of looking at and understanding written words ○ Reading and writing should be taught early. 2. material such as books which people read ○ This book is too difficult, it's not suitable reading for a child her age. 3. speaking from the words of something which is written ○ They gave a poetry reading in the bookshop. 4. a way of understanding a text ○ a new reading of 'Hamlet' 5. one of the stages of the discussion of a Bill in Parliament ○ The bill had its second reading in Parliament last night. 6. a level shown on a measuring instrument ○ the reading on the pressure gauge reading glasses /'ri:dɪŋ, gla:sɪz/ plural noun glasses that help you to read things which are close reading lamp /'ri:dɪŋ læmp/ noun a small light on a desk or beside a bed, for use when reading or writing reading room /'ri:dɪŋ ru:m/ noun a room in a library where people can read books or newspapers without taking them away from the library readjust /'ri:ə'dʒəst/ verb to adjust again read-out /'ri:d aut/ noun the data produced by electronic equipment, e.g. a computer, and which you can read or hear

⑤ ready /'redi/ adj 1. prepared for something ○ Hold on – I'll be ready in two minutes. ○ Are all the children ready to go to school? ○ Why isn't the coach here? – The group are all ready and waiting to go. ○ ready for anything prepared to do anything ○ Now that I've had some food, I'm ready for anything! 2. fit to be used or eaten ○ Don't sit down yet – the meal isn't ready. ○ Is my dry cleaning ready yet? 3. willing ○ She's always ready to help in the garden. 4. ○ ready cash, ready money cash which is immediately available (informal) ○ I won't be able to come out tonight as I'm a bit short of ready cash. ○ I always keep some ready cash handy in case of emergencies. ■ noun (informal) ○ at the ready prepared ○ They stood with guns at the ready. ◇ get ready 1. to prepare yourself for something ○ How long will it take you to get ready for the wedding? 2. to get something prepared ○ We need to get the dinner ready – the guests will be arriving in 30 minutes.

ready-made /'redi'meɪd/ adj which is mass-produced and ready to use. Synonym off-the-peg ready-to-wear /'redi tə'weə/ adj (of clothes) which are mass-produced, ready to fit any person of a certain size. Also called off-the-peg reaffirm /'ri:ə'fɜ:m/ verb to state something formally again. Synonym repeat. Antonym contradict reagent /'ri:eɪdʒənt/ noun a substance which is used to start a chemical reaction to show if another substance is present

① real /'ri:əl/ adj 1. not a copy, not artificial ○ Is that watch real gold? ○ That plastic apple looks very real or looks just like the real thing. ○ He has a real leather case. 2. used to emphasise ○ That car is a real bargain at £300. ○ Their little girl is going to be a real beauty. ○ Wasps can be a real problem on picnics. ○ There's a real danger that the shop will be closed. 3. which exists ○ Have you ever seen a real live tiger?

real estate /'ri:əl eɪstɪ/ noun land or buildings which are bought or sold real estate agent /'ri:əl eɪstɪ,eɪdʒənt/ noun US a person who sells property for customers (NOTE: The British term is estate agent.)

realignment /,ri:ə'læmənt/ noun 1. a change in relations between political parties or between states in an alliance ○ A realignment of the centre parties took place after the election. ○ a basic realignment of Caribbean states 2. changing a system so that different parts are in a different relationship to each other realisation /,ri:ələ'seɪʃ(ə)n/, realization noun 1. a gradual understanding ○ the chairman's realisation that he was going to be outvoted 2. making real ○ the realisation of a project the act of putting a project into action ○ How long will it take to bring the project to realisation? ○ The plan moved a stage nearer realisation when the contracts were signed. ○ By buying a house by the sea he achieved the realisation of his greatest ambition.

⑥ realise /'ri:əlaɪz/, realize verb 1. to get to a point where you understand clearly ○ He didn't realise what he was letting himself in

for when he said he would paint the house. ○ We soon realised we were on the wrong road. ○ When she went into the manager's office she did not realise she was going to be sacked. 2. to get money by selling something ○ The sale of his stamp collection realised £100,000. 3. to make something become real ○ After four years of hard work, the motor racing team realised their dream of winning the Grand Prix. ○ By buying a house by the sea he realised his greatest ambition. □ to realise a project or a plan to make a project or a plan happen ○ The plan took five years to realise.

③ realism /'riəlɪz(ə)m/ noun 1. behaviour which faces facts, accepting things as they are and not trying to change them or fight against them ○ My job is to try to bring some realism to their proposals. ○ With the arrival of the new managing director an air of realism has finally entered the company. 2. the fact or practice of showing things in writing or painting as they really are ○ He brought piles of sand and a deckchair into the studio to lend realism to the photos for the holiday brochure. ○ Realism dominated French painting in the latter part of the 19th century.

realist /'riəlist/ noun 1. a person who accepts life as it really is, and does not try to change it or fight it ○ He told me that he didn't believe in love at first sight as he was a realist. 2. an artist or writer who shows things as they really are ○ Realist painters were popular in the 19th century.

③ realistic /riə'listɪk/ adj 1. which looks as if it is real ○ These flowers look so realistic, I can't believe they're made of plastic. 2. accepting life as it really is ○ Let's be realistic – you'll never earn enough money to buy this house. ○ I'm just being realistic when I say that you should reconsider the offer.

realistically /riə'listɪkli/ adv in a realistic way

② reality /ri'æliti/ noun what is real and not imaginary ○ the grim realities of life in an industrial town ○ He worked hard, and his dreams of wealth soon became a reality. □ in reality in fact ○ She always told people she was poor, but in reality she was worth millions.

real life /'riəl 'laɪf/ noun the way that real people live and work, as opposed to life in a film or novel

① really /'riəli/ adv 1. in fact ○ The building really belongs to my father. 2. very ○ I'm really tired. 3. used to show surprise ○ She's not really French, is she? ○ She doesn't like apples – Really, how strange! ○ Did you really mean what you said?

③ realm /'relm/ noun 1. a kingdom, especially the United Kingdom ○ defence of the realm 2. an area of experience ○ It is quite within the realms of possibility.

real time /'riəl taɪm/ noun an action of a computer which takes place at the same time as the problem it is solving realtor /'riəltə/ noun US a person who sells property for customers (NOTE: The British term is estate agent.)

reality /'riəlti/ noun US real estate, land or buildings which are bought or sold real world /,riəl 'wɜːld/ noun the world as it exists, with all its faults, not an imaginary one. Synonym reality. Compare ivory tower

ream /riːm/ noun 1. a certain number of sheets of paper ○ For office paper or printing paper a ream is 500 sheets. 2. □ reams of a very large amount of things ○ We had reams of faxes from the tour operator.

reap /riːp/ verb 1. to cut a grain crop ○ In September everyone went to the farm to help reap the corn. 2. □ to reap the benefits to get benefit from something you have done or someone has done for you ○ His grandchildren will reap the benefits of all his work in setting up the family company.

reappear /,riː'pɪər/ verb to appear again. Synonym come back rear /riːər/ noun the part at the back ○ The rear of the car was damaged in the accident.

○ They sat towards the rear of the cinema. □ to bring up the rear to walk behind the others ○ The military band brought up the rear of the parade. ■ adj at the back ○ The children sat in the rear seats in the car. ○ He wound down the rear window. ■ verb 1. to breed animals or children ○ They rear horses on their farm. ○ They stopped rearing pigs because of the smell. 2. to rise up, to lift something up ○ A rhino suddenly reared up out of the long grass. ○ The walls of the castle reared up before them. ○ The spectre of inflation reared its ugly head. 3. (of a horse) to rise on its back legs ○ The terrified horse reared (up) and threw its rider.

reararm /riː'ə:m/ verb to get arms such as guns again rearrange /,riːə'reɪndʒ/ verb 1. to arrange something again ○ She rearranged the furniture so that the room looked quite different.

2. to change the time of a meeting ○ Can I rearrange my appointment for next week?

rear-view mirror /,riəvjuː'mirəl/ noun a mirror in the centre of the front of a car, so that the driver can see what is behind him without turning round

① reason /'riːz(ə)n/ noun 1. a thing which explains why something has happened ○ The airline gave no reason for the plane's late arrival. ○ The boss asked him for the reason why he was behind with his work. □ for some reason in a way which you cannot explain ○ For some reason (or other) the builders sent us two invoices. 2. the power of thought ○ He used reason to solve the mathematical problem. 3. the ability to make sensible judgments ○ She wouldn't listen to reason. □ it stands to reason it is reasonable ○ It stands to reason that he wants to join his father's firm. □ to see reason to see that someone's argument is right or reasonable ○ She was going to report her neighbours to the police, but in the end we got her to see reason. □ within reason to a sensible degree, in a sensible way ○ The children get £5 pocket money each week, and we let them spend it as they like, within reason. ■ verb 1. to think or to plan something carefully and sensibly ○ He reasoned that any work is better than no work, so he took the job. ○ If you take the time to reason it out, you'll find a solution to the problem. 2. □ to reason with someone to try to calm someone, to try to make someone change his mind ○ The policewoman tried to reason with the man who was holding a knife.

① reasonable /'ri:z(ə)nəb(ə)l/ adj 1. sensible ○ The manager of the shop was very reasonable when she tried to explain that she had left her credit cards at home. 2. not expensive ○ The hotel's charges are quite reasonable. ○ The restaurant offers good food at reasonable prices.

② reasonably /'ri:z(ə)nəbli/ adv 1. in a reasonable way ○ The meals are very reasonably priced. ○ Very reasonably, he asked for a check on the brakes of the car before buying it. 2. quite ○ It is reasonably easy.

reasoned /'ri:z(ə)nd/ adj carefully thought out. Synonym rational. Antonym illogical reasoning /'ri:z(ə)nɪŋ/ noun using your mind. Synonym analysis □ I don't follow your reasoning I can't see how you get to this result reassert /,ri:ə'sə:t/ verb to state something again, to make something obvious again reassess /,ri:ə'ses/ verb to consider something again. Synonym reconsider reassurance /,ri:ə'sjuərəns/ noun the act of reassuring someone. Synonym comfort reassure /,ri:ə'sjuə/ verb to make someone less afraid or less worried reassuring /,ri:ə'sjuərɪŋ/ adj which reassures, which makes you less worried. Synonym encouraging. Antonym discouraging rebate /'ri:beɪt/ noun 1. a reduction in the amount of money to be paid ○ We are offering a 10% rebate on selected goods. 2. money returned to someone because he has paid too much ○ He got a tax rebate at the end of the year.

rebel noun /'reb(ə)l/ a person who fights against a government or against those who are in authority ○ The rebels fled to the mountains after the army captured their headquarters. ○ He considers himself something of a rebel because he wears his hair in a ponytail. Synonym protester. Antonym loyalist ■ verb /'ri:bel/ to fight against someone or something ○ The peasants are rebelling against the king's men. ○ The class rebelled at the idea of doing extra homework. (NOTE: rebelling – rebelled) rebellion /'ri:beljən/ noun a fight against the government, against the people in authority. Synonym revolt rebellious /'ri:beljəs/ adj fighting against authority rebirth /'ri:bɪθ:θ/ noun being born again, starting again reboard /'ri:bɔ:d/ verb to go back onto a ship or plane or train or bus again reboot /'ri:bū:t/ verb to start a computer again reborn /'ri:bɔ:n/ adj which starts again rebound noun /'ri:baʊnd/ bouncing back

○ The rebound was so fast that he missed the ball altogether. ○ There was a rebound in Tokyo share prices yesterday. ■ verb /'ri:baʊnd/ 1. to move back after hitting something ○ The ball rebounded off the goalpost. 2. □ to rebound on to have a bad effect on ○ His attacks on local shopkeepers rebounded on him when they all voted against him in the elections.

rebuff /'ri'bʌf/ noun a sharp refusal of an offer ○ Her offer to baby-sit met with a rebuff. Synonym rejection ■ verb to refuse something sharply ○ They rebuffed all offers of help.

rebuild /'ri:bɪld/ verb to build again (NOTE: rebuilding – rebuilt /'ri:bɪlt/) rebuke /'ri:bju:k/ noun criticising someone for doing something ○ His attempts at forcing a vote earned him a quick rebuke from the chairman. Antonym compliment ■ verb to criticise someone sharply ○ She rebuked the MD for not doing enough for the shareholders. Synonym reprimand. Antonym praise rebut /'ri:bʌt/ verb to state that something such as an argument is not true (NOTE: rebutting – rebutted) rebuttal /'ri:bʌt(ə)l/ noun the act of rebutting something. Synonym refutation recalcitrant /'ri:kælsɪtrənt/ adj determined not to change your mind, behaving in a difficult way. Synonym unruly

② recall /'ri:kɔ:l/ noun the act of calling for something to come back or to be brought back ○ The recall of the faulty goods caused the manufacturers some serious problems. ○ The recall of the ambassador is expected any time now. □ recall of Parliament bringing MPs back to Parliament when they are on holiday, to discuss an important matter □ beyond recall gone and will never come back ○ Those days beyond recall when we were young! ■ verb 1. to remember something ○ I don't recall having met her before. ○ She couldn't recall any details of the accident. 2. (of a manufacturer) to ask for products to be returned because of possible faults ○ They recalled 10,000 washing machines because of a faulty electrical connection. ○ They have recalled all their 2001 models as there is a fault in the steering. 3. to tell a government official to come home from a foreign country ○ The United States recalled their ambassador after the military coup. 4. to ask Parliament to meet during a holiday period ○ In the light of the current crisis, the Prime Minister has asked for Parliament to be recalled or has recalled Parliament.

recant /rɪ'kænt/ verb to admit that your former beliefs were wrong recap /rɪ'kæp/ verb to state the main points of something again recapture /rɪ'keptʃə/ noun the act of getting possession of something again ○ The government forces are making the recapture of the capital from the rebels their main priority. ○ The recapture of the former Prime Minister's seat was an important win for the opposition party. ■ verb 1. to get someone or something again and to keep them in your possession ○ Our troops recaptured all the ground they had lost the previous day. ○ The police succeeded in recapturing all the escaped prisoners. 2. to take again a seat in an election ○ The opposition recaptured several seats which they had lost in the election four years earlier. 3. to have the same feelings again ○ If only one could recapture the innocence of youth!

③ recede /rɪ'si:d/ verb to go away or to move back □ receding hairline the condition in which a man's hair at the top of his forehead begins to fall out

② receipt /rɪ'si:t/ noun 1. the act of receiving ○ Invoices are payable within 30 days of receipt. ○ We would like you to confirm receipt of the goods. □ to acknowledge receipt of a letter to write to say that you have received a letter ○ We acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 15th. □ on receipt of when you receive ○ On receipt of the notification, they decided to appeal. 2. a paper showing that you have paid, that you have received something ○ Goods cannot be exchanged unless a sales receipt is shown. ○ Would you like a receipt for that shirt?

① receive /rɪ'si:v/ verb 1. to get something which has been sent ○ We received a parcel from the supplier this morning. ○ We only received our tickets the day before we were due to leave. ○ The staff have not received any wages for six months. □ 'received with thanks' words put on a bill to show that it has been paid □ to be on the receiving end of to have to suffer (informal) ○ He was on the receiving end of a lot of criticism. 2. to meet or to welcome a visitor ○ The group was received by the mayor. 3. to be given something ○ He received a blood transfusion.

③ receiver /rɪ'si:və/ noun 1. the part of a radio which receives broadcast programmes ○ Our radio receiver picked up your signal quite clearly. 2. an official put in charge of a bankrupt company ○ The court appointed a receiver for the company. ○ The company is in the hands of the receiver. 3. a part of a telephone which you hold to your ear and listen through ○ He shouted 'get stuffed!' and slammed down the receiver. 4. a person who accepts stolen goods ○ The receivers of the stolen jewellery were arrested and jailed.

receivership /rɪ'si:vəʃɪp/ noun being under the control of a receiver. Synonym bankruptcy □ the company went into receivership a receiver was given the job of looking after the business of the bankrupt company

① recent /rɪ:s(ə)nt/ adj new, which took place not very long ago ○ We will mail you our most recent catalogue. ○ The building is very recent – it was finished only last year.

① recently /rɪ:s(ə)ntli/ adv only a short time ago ○ I've seen him quite a lot recently. ○ They recently decided to move to Australia. Synonym lately

receptacle /rɪ'septək(ə)l/ noun a container

③ reception /rɪ'seփən/ noun 1. a welcome ○ The committee gave the proposal a favourable reception. ○ The critics gave the play a warm reception. ○ The minister had a rowdy reception at the meeting. 2. (at a hotel) the place where guests go when they arrive or leave, e.g. to obtain the key to their room ○ Let's meet at reception at 9.00 am tomorrow. 3. (at an office) a place where visitors go when they arrive and say who they have come to see ○ There's a parcel waiting for you in reception. 4. a big party held to welcome special guests ○ He hosted a reception for the prince. 5. the quality of the sound on a radio or the sound and picture of a TV broadcast ○ Perhaps you'd get better reception if you moved the aerial.

reception desk /rɪ'seփən desk/ noun a desk where visitors check in, e.g. in a hotel

③ receptionist /rɪ'seփənist/ noun a person in a place such as a hotel or doctor's office who meets visitors and answers the telephone receptive /rɪ'seփtɪv/ adj eager to listen □ to be receptive to to be eager to take in something such as a new idea ○ The management was not at all receptive to the employee's suggestions.

recess /rɪ'ses/ noun 1. an alcove or part of the wall of a room which is set back ○ The large stone urn stands in the recess by the doorway. 2. an official holiday of the law courts or parliament ○ The decision was taken when parliament was in recess. 3. US a recreation period at school ○ They had a game during the recess.

recesses /rɪ'sesɪz/ plural noun hidden inside parts which are difficult to reach

② recession /rɪ'seʃn/ noun a situation when a country's economy is doing badly. Synonym depression recessive gene /rɪ'sesɪv dʒi:n/ noun the less important of a pair of genes, where the characteristic is only passed on to the offspring if both parents have the gene recharge /rɪ:tʃa:dʒ/ verb to put an electric charge into something again rechargeable /rɪ:tʃa:dʒəb(ə)l/ adj which can be recharged

③ recipe /rɪ'se:pɪ/ noun 1. instructions for cooking food ○ I copied the recipe for leek soup from the newspaper. ○ You can buy postcards with recipes of local dishes. 2. an effective way to do something ○ There is no single recipe for success. □ it's a recipe for disaster it's certain to lead to disaster ○ The way the management is approaching the problem is a recipe for disaster.

recipient /rɪ'sipiənt/ noun a person who receives something. Antonym donor reciprocal /rɪ'siprək(ə)l/ adj which is done by two people, groups of people or by such things as countries or companies, to each other. Synonym mutual. Antonym one-sided ■ noun (in maths) the quantity produced when 1 is divided by a number ○ The reciprocal of 4 is ¼ (which equals 0.25).

reciprocate /rɪ'siprəkeɪt/ verb to do the same thing to someone in return for something he or she has done to you reciprocity /,resɪ'prɒsɪtɪ/ noun the principle that if one person or country does something to help another, the second will reciprocate. Antonym isolation recital /rɪ'saɪt(ə)l/ noun a performance of music by a musician or a small group of musicians recitation /,resɪ'teɪʃn/ noun the action of reciting something, usually from memory. Synonym recital recite /rɪ'saɪt/ verb to speak a poem or other piece of writing aloud in public reckless /'rekles/ adj risky or done without thinking. Synonym irresponsible. Antonym cautious recklessly /'reklesli/ adv in a reckless way. Synonym cautiously

② reckon /rekən/ verb 1. to calculate, or to estimate ○ We reckon the costs to be about £25,000. ○ We reckon we'll be there before lunch. 2. to think ○ I reckon we should have stayed at home. 3. □ to reckon on to count on or to depend on ○ We can reckon on the support of the Prime Minister. ○ Don't reckon on me to drive you to the airport.

reckoning /'rekənɪŋ/ noun a calculation

reclaim /rɪ'kleɪm/ verb 1. to claim something which you owned before ○ After he stopped paying the hire purchase instalments, the finance company tried to reclaim his car. ○ His car was towed away and he had to go to the pound to reclaim it. (NOTE: also claim back in this meaning) 2. to take land, such as a marsh or waste sites, and make it suitable for use ○ They reclaimed a whole stretch of land along the banks of the river. ○ The airport was built on reclaimed land in the bay.

recline /rɪ'klaine/ verb 1. to lie back ○ She reclined on the sofa and closed her eyes. 2. to make something lie further back ○ If you feel tired during the plane journey, recline your seat and try to sleep.

recluse /rɪ'klu:s/ noun a person who lives all alone and does not see anyone else. Synonym hermit recognisable /rekəgnəzəb(ə)l/ adj who can be recognised. Synonym familiar. Antonym unfamiliar

① recognise /rekəgnɪz/, recognize /rɪ'kognɪz/ 1. to know someone or something because you have seen him or her or it before ○ He'd changed so much since I last saw him that I hardly recognised him. ○ He didn't recognise his father's voice over the phone. ○ Do you recognise the handwriting on the letter? 2. to admit something ○ I recognise that we should have acted earlier. 3. to approve of something or someone officially ○ The language school has been recognised by the Ministry of Education. ○ She is recognised as an expert in the field of genetics. □ to recognise a government to say that a new government which has taken power in a country is the legal government of that country ○ Germany was one of the first countries to recognise Croatia as a new independent country. □ to recognise a trade union to agree that a trade union can officially represent workers in a factory 4. to show praise for something which has been done ○ They recognised her years of service.

③ recognised /rekəgnarzd/, recognized /rɪ'kognɪzɪd/ adj which has been approved officially. Antonym unknown □ recognition /,rekə'gnɪʃn/ noun recognising or acknowledging ○ In recognition of his services he was given a watch. □ he's changed beyond all recognition he has changed so much that I didn't recognise him recoil noun /'ri:kɔɪl/ the sudden movement backwards of a gun when it is fired ○ The recoil bruised my shoulder. ○ Watch out, this rifle has a powerful recoil. ■ verb /rɪ'kɔɪl/ 1. to move backwards suddenly ○ The gun recoils at least two metres after being fired. 2. to move away quickly from something unpleasant ○ When she saw the dead dog in the road she recoiled in disgust. 3. to feel strongly that something is unpleasant and want to avoid it ○ He recoiled from carrying out the captain's orders.

recollect /'rekə'lɛkt/ verb to remember something from the past recollection /,rekə'lekʃən/ noun remembering something from the past

② recommend /rekə'mend/ verb 1. to suggest that someone should do something ○ I would recommend you to talk to the bank manager. ○ The doctor recommended seeing an eye specialist. 2. to praise something or someone ○ She was highly recommended by her boss. ○ I certainly would not recommend Miss Smith for the job. ○ Can you recommend a good hotel in Amsterdam?

③ recommendation /,rekə'men-deɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. advice ○ My recommendation is that you shouldn't sign the contract. ○ He's staying in bed at the doctor's recommendation. 2. giving praise □ on your recommendation because you recommended it ○ We went to the film on your recommendation. ○ We appointed her on the recommendation of her boss.

recompense /'rekəm,pens/ verb to give compensation, payment or reward to someone or for something reconcile /'rekənsaɪl/ verb 1. □ to reconcile oneself to to accept ○ She seems reconciled to staying at home and looking after her mother. 2. to make two accounts agree ○ The accounts department is trying to reconcile the bank statements.

reconciliation /,rekənsil'i'eɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. the bringing together of two people to become friends again ○ Do you think a reconciliation is at all possible between the two brothers? 2. making two accounts agree ○ The reconciliation of the accounts may take a long time.

reconnaissance /rɪ'kɒnɪs(ə)ns/ noun a survey of enemy territory to get military information. Synonym investigation reconnoitre /reka'nɔɪta/ verb to make a survey of enemy territory to get military information, to make a reconnaissance (NOTE: The US spelling is reconnoiter.)

reconsider /,ri:kən'sɪdə/ verb to think something over again. Synonym reassess reconstitute /ri:'kɒnstitju:t/ verb to form something again as it was before reconstruct /,ri:kən'strʌkt/ verb 1. to construct something again ○ The centre of the town was reconstructed using old photographs. 2. to work out how a crime must have been committed by taking all the known facts and using actors to play the parts of the people involved ○ The police are trying to reconstruct the crime, in the hope that it will produce new evidence.

③ reconstruction /,ri:kən'strʌkʃən/ noun 1. the act of reconstructing, of building again ○ They're planning the reconstruction of the old fortress as a tourist attraction. ○ the economic reconstruction of the area after the earthquake 2. a thing reconstructed ○ This is not the original building, it's a modern reconstruction. 3. working out how a crime must have been committed by examining all known facts and using an actor to play the part of the victim, etc. ○ The police are hoping that the reconstruction of the crime will jog people's memories.

reconvene /,ri:kən'vei:n/ verb to meet again

① record noun /rekɔ:d/ 1. a success in sport which is better than any other ○ She holds the world record for the 100 metres. ○ He broke the world record or he set up a new world record at the last Olympics. ○ The college team is trying to set a new record for eating tins of beans. □ at record speed, in record time very fast ○ He finished the book in record time. 2. a success which is better than anything before ○ Last year was a record year for our shop. ○ Sales last year equalled our previous record. □ we broke our record for June we sold more than we have ever sold before in June 3. written evidence of something which has happened ○ We have no record of the sale. □ for the record, to keep the record straight so as to note something which has been done ○ For the record, we will not deal with this company again. □ he is on record as saying he is accurately reported as saying □ off the record in private and not to be made public ○ She spoke off the record about her marriage.

4. a description of what someone has done in the past ○ He has a record of dishonest dealings. 5. a flat round piece of usually black plastic on which sound is stored ○ She bought me an old Elvis Presley record for Christmas. ○ Burglars broke into his flat and stole his record collection. ■ verb /rɪ'kɔ:d/ 1. to report something or to make a note ○ First, I have to record the sales, then I'll post the parcels. 2. to fix sounds or images on a film or tape ○ The police recorded the whole conversation on a hidden tape-recorder. ○ This song has been badly recorded. 3. to show a level on an instrument □ Strong winds were recorded during the night.

record-breaking /'rekɔ:d ,breɪkɪŋ/ adj which breaks records

recorder /'ri'kɔ:də/ noun 1. an instrument which records sound □ My tape recorder doesn't work, so I can't record the concert.

2. a small wooden musical instrument which you play by blowing □ Like most children, I learnt to play the recorder at school. 3. a part-time judge record-holder /'rekɔ:d ,həuldə/ noun a person who holds a record

③ recording /'ri'kɔ:diŋ/ noun 1. the action of fixing sounds or images on tape or on disc □ the recording of a video □ Be on time – the recording session starts at 3pm. 2. music or speech which has been recorded □ Did you know there was a new recording of the concerto?

recount noun /'ri:kaʊnt/ the act of counting again, especially counting votes again □ The vote was very close, so the loser asked for a recount. □ After three recounts Edward Jones was declared the winner by eleven votes. ■ verb 1. /'ri:kaʊnt/ to tell a story □ He recounted his story to the police. 2. /'ri:kaʊnt/ to count something again □ All the votes had to be recounted.

recoup /'ri'ku:p/ verb □ to recoup your losses to get back money which you thought you had lost □ He's still trying to recoup his losses on the Stock Exchange. □ We expect to recoup our initial outlay within six months.

recourse /'ri'kɔ:s/ noun □ to have recourse to something to use something in an emergency (formal) □ In the end we had to have recourse to the life rafts. □ We hope to settle the dispute without recourse to the courts.

② recover /'ri'kʌvə/ verb 1. □ to recover from an illness to get well again after an illness □ She is still recovering from flu. 2. to get back something which has been lost or stolen □ You must work much harder if you want to recover the money you invested in your business. □ She's trying to recover damages from the driver of the car. 3. /'ri:kaʊə/ to put a new cover on a piece of furniture □ Instead of buying a new chair, I had the old one recovered.

③ recovery /'ri'kʌvərɪ/ noun 1. getting well again □ She made a quick recovery and is now back at work. 2. getting back something which has been lost or stolen □ The TV programme led to the recovery of all the stolen goods. □ We are aiming for the complete recovery of the money invested. 3. the upwards movement of the economy, of a company's shares □ The British economy staged a rapid recovery.

recovery vehicle /'ri'kʌvərɪvɪkjuːl/ noun a truck that goes to find vehicles which have broken down and brings them back to the garage for repair recreate /,ri:kri'eɪt/ verb to create something again

recreation noun 1. /,rekri'eɪʃn/ a pleasant activity for your spare time □ What is your favourite recreation? □ Doesn't she have any recreations other than going to bars in the evening? 2. /,ri:kri'eɪʃn/ creating again □ We have been given a grant to help pay for the recreation of the 19th-century flower garden.

recreational /,rekri'eɪʃn/ adj referring to recreation recreational vehicle /,rekri'eɪʃnəvɪkjuːl/ noun US a vehicle such as a camper van used for pleasure as opposed to business. Abbr RV recreation ground /,rekri'eɪʃngraʊnd/ noun a public area with playgrounds for children and sports fields for adults recrimination /'ri:krimi'neɪʃn/ noun blaming someone else for something. Synonym accusation. Antonym appeasement recruit /'ri:kru:t/ noun a new soldier or a new member of staff or member of a club □ Recruits are not allowed in the officers' mess. □ The club needs new recruits. ■ verb to encourage someone to join the army, a company or a club □ They have sent teams to universities to recruit new graduates. □ to recruit new staff to get new staff to join a company □ We are recruiting new staff for our new store.

③ recruitment /'ri:kru:tment/ noun the action of recruiting. Synonym staffing. Antonym dismissal □ the recruitment of new staff looking for new staff to join the company rectangle /'rektæŋgəl/ noun a shape with four sides and right angles at the corners, with two sets of opposing long and short sides rectangular /rek'tæŋgjʊlə/ adj like a rectangle, with two pairs of equal sides, one pair being longer than the other rectification /,rektafɪ'keɪʃn/ noun a correction of something which was wrong rectify /'rektafɪ/ verb to correct something rector /'rekta/ noun 1. a priest in charge of a parish □ He is rector of St Martin-in-the-Fields. 2. an official representative of the students at a Scottish university 3. (in USA, Scotland) the head of a school, college or university rectum /'rektaʊm/ noun the end part of the large intestine leading from the colon to the anus recuperate /rɪ'ku:pəreɪt/ verb to get better after an illness recuperation /rɪ'ku:pə'reɪʃ(ə)n/ noun getting better

③ recur /rɪ'kɜ:/ verb to happen again. Antonym cease (NOTE: recurring – recurred) recurrence /rɪ'kʌrəns/ noun the action of happening again. Antonym cessation recurrent /rɪ'kʌrənt/, recurring /rɪ'kɜ:riŋ/ adj which happens again ○ She has recurrent blackouts.

recycle /rɪ'saɪk(ə)l/ verb to process waste material so that it can be used again. Synonym reprocess. Antonym throw away recycled paper /rɪ'saɪk(ə)ld 'peɪpə/ noun paper made from waste paper

① red /red/ adj 1. coloured like the colour of blood ○ She turned bright red when we asked her what had happened to the money. ○ Don't start yet – the traffic lights are still red. 2. □ red hair hair which is a reddish-orange colour ○ All their children have red hair and freckles. ○ Red-haired girls often wear green clothes. ■ noun 1. a colour like the colour of blood ○ I would like a darker red for the door. ○ Don't start yet – the traffic lights are still on red. 2. □ in the red showing a loss ○ My bank account is in the red. ○ The company went into the red. 3. a red ball in billiards or snooker ○ He's potted a red. 4. a red wine ○ A glass of house red, please. 5. a communist or socialist red card /red 'kɑ:d/ noun a card displayed by the referee when dismissing a player for doing something against the rules

③ red carpet /red 'kɑ:pɪt/ noun a carpet put down when an important visitor comes

red channel /'red ,tʃæn(ə)l/ noun a way through customs for people with something to declare

Red Crescent /red 'krez(ə)nt/ noun an organisation which provides medical help, the equivalent of the Red Cross in Muslim countries

② Red Cross /red 'krɒs/ noun an international organisation which provides emergency medical help, and also relief to victims of disasters such as earthquakes and floods redcurrant /red'kʌrənt/ noun 1. a garden fruit in the form of little red berries ○ a jar of redcurrant jelly. ○ The redcurrants need more sugar – they're very sour. 2. the small bush this fruit grows on ○ I planted six redcurrants in the garden.

red deer /red 'di:ə/ noun the largest deer found in Britain redder /'red(ə)n/ verb 1. to become red ○ The trees stood out dark against the reddening evening sky. ○ His eyes were reddened from lack of sleep. 2. to go red in the face because you are ashamed or embarrassed ○ She reddened slightly as he gave her a kiss. Synonym blush reddish /'redɪʃ/ adj rather red redecorate /rɪ'dekəreɪt/ verb to decorate something again. Synonym revamp redeem /rɪ'dɪ:m/ verb 1. to make something better than it seemed to be at first ○ The playing by the orchestra was redeemed by the singing of the soprano and tenor. 2. to get back something which you have pledged in order to borrow money ○ After we were paid I redeemed the ring from the pawnbroker. 3. to get in exchange ○ You can redeem this gift coupon for a free lunch. 4. to sell something for a cash payment ○ Bondholders with mature bonds must redeem them within three months. 5. □ to redeem a promise to do what you promised (formal) ○ We are still hoping that the government will redeem all its election promises. 6. to save from sin ○ Christians believe that they will be redeemed by Jesus Christ.

redeeming feature /rɪ'dɪ:miŋ 'fi:tʃə/ noun something which makes something appear better than it seemed at first redefine /,rɪ:dɪ'fain/ verb to define something again

redemption /rɪ'dempʃən/ noun 1. the action of redeeming a debt ○ The bond is due for redemption. 2. being saved from sin □ to be beyond or past redemption to be so bad that it cannot be made better ○ I'm afraid those two boys are beyond redemption – they will have to be expelled from school. ○ My old jumper is beyond redemption, we'll just have to throw it away.

redeploy /,rɪ:dɪ'plɔɪ/ verb to use people or equipment in a different area or for a different activity redesign /,rɪ:dɪ'zain/ verb to design something again redevelop /,rɪ:dɪ'veləp/ verb to improve a run down area by renovating old buildings and building new ones redevelopment /,rɪ:dɪ'veləpmənt/ noun building new buildings in an area red-handed /red 'hændɪd/ adj in the act of committing a crime redhead /'redhed/ noun a person with red hair red herring /red 'herɪŋ/ noun a piece of information which is not important, and is given to someone to distract attention from what is really important. Synonym decoy ③ red hot /red 'hɒt/ adj 1. (of metal) so hot that it is red ○ The bar of steel is red hot when it comes out of the furnace. 2. very hot ○ Watch out – that pan is red hot!

redial /rɪ'daɪəl/ verb to dial a number on a telephone again redirect /ri:dai'rekt/ verb 1. to send a letter on to another address or a phone call to another number ○ We have asked the post office to redirect all our mail when we are away. ○ Phone calls can be redirected to our office number. ○ He redirected the email to his boss. 2. to use something in another way ○ We are trying to get him to redirect his energy towards some more constructive work.

rediscover /ri:dis'kʌvə/ verb to discover something again redistribute /ri:di'stribju:t/ verb to share something out again in a different way red-letter day /red 'letə dei/ noun an important day, which you will always remember red-light district /red 'laɪt ,dɪstrɪkt/ noun a part of a town where prostitutes work red meat /red 'mi:t/ noun meat such as lamb or beef which is red in colour before it is cooked redo /ri:'du:/ verb to do something again (NOTE: redoing – redid – has redone) redouble /ri:'dʌb(ə)l/ verb □ to redouble your efforts to try even harder than before

red pepper /red 'pepə/ noun 1. a ripe red fruit of a capsicum or pimento plant ○ We made some red pepper and avocado salad. 2. a hot red spice made from powdered pimento peppers ○ Don't put too much red pepper into the soup.

redraw /ri:'drəʊ/ verb to draw something again (NOTE: redrawing – redrawn) redress /ri:'dres/ noun compensation done to make up for something wrong ○ There is not much hope of getting any redress from his financial advisers. ■ verb to correct something or to compensate ○ They plan to redress the wrongs of society by taxing the rich. □ to redress the balance to make something fair again ○ Last year I gave my daughter some money, so this year I'll give the same amount to my son to redress the balance.

③ red tape /red 'teɪp/ noun official paperwork which takes a long time to complete (informal)

① reduce /ri:'djʊ:s/ verb 1. to make something smaller or less ○ The police are fighting to reduce traffic accidents. ○ Prices have been reduced by 15 per cent. ○ I'd like to reduce the size of the photograph so that we can use it as a Christmas card. □ to reduce staff to sack employees in order to have a smaller number of staff ○ Unfortunately, the best way to save money is to reduce staff.

□ to reduce weight to get thinner ○ She started a new diet in order to reduce weight. 2. □ to be reduced to to be forced to do something humiliating ○ They ran out of food and were reduced to eating roots and berries. □ she was reduced to tears it made her cry

② reduction /ri:'dʌkʃən/ noun the act of making something smaller in size or number ○ Price reductions start on 1st August. ○ The company was forced to make job reductions.

② redundancy /ri:'dʌndənsi/ noun being no longer employed, because the job is no longer needed. Synonym unemployment. Antonym employment □ voluntary redundancy a situation when an employee asks to be made redundant, usually in return for a large payment ○ So many nurses have taken voluntary redundancy that now the hospitals are short of staff.

② redundant /ri:'dʌndənt/ adj no longer needed, more than necessary □ to be made redundant to lose your job because you are not needed any more ○ Five employees were made redundant this week. ○ My son thinks he'll be made redundant, so he's already looking for another job.

redwood /'redwʊd/ noun a very tall conifer which grows on the West Coast of the United States reed /ri:d/ noun 1. a tall thick grass growing in wet places ○ Reeds grow by the edge of rivers or lakes. 2. a thin piece of wood or metal inside a musical instrument, which vibrates when you blow on it (NOTE: Do not confuse with read.)

③ reef /ri:f/ noun a long line of rocks just above or beneath the surface of the sea ○ The yacht hit a reef and sank. ○ The Great Barrier Reef is a coral reef off the north-east coast of Australia. Synonym ridge ■ verb □ to reef a sail to tie up a sail or part of a sail, to make the surface caught by the wind smaller reek /ri:k/ noun a strong smell ○ There was a reek of alcohol in the kitchen. Synonym stench ■ verb to smell strongly of something ○ He reeks of garlic.

reel /ri:l/ noun 1. a round object used for winding thread, wire or film round ○ She put a new reel of cotton on the sewing machine.

2. a Scottish dance ○ After the wedding breakfast, some of the guests started to dance Highland reels. ■ verb to stagger ○ Two men came out of the pub and went reeling down the street. ○ The punch on the face sent the boxer reeling. ○ The company is still reeling from its losses in the Far East.

re-elect /,ri:i'lekt/ verb to elect someone again re-election /,ri:i'lekʃən/ noun being re-elected reel in /ri:l 'in/ verb to pull in a line round a reel

③ reel off /ri:l 'ɒf/ verb to give a list of names or figures rapidly. Synonym recite re-enter /ri:'entə/ verb to enter something again re-entry /ri:'entri/ noun 1. the act of entering a place or joining an activity again 2. the entry into the Earth's atmosphere by a spacecraft or missile returning from space re-establish /,ri:ɪst'æblɪʃ/ verb to set something up again re-examine /,ri:ɪg'zæmɪn/ verb to examine something again. Synonym reconsider

② ref /ref/ noun 1. same as referee ○ Come on ref – that was a foul! 2. same as reference □ your ref: a way of referring to the number on the letter which you have received, when replying to it □ our ref: giving a reference number to a letter you are writing refectory /ri'fekt(ə)ri/ noun an eating hall in an institution like a monastery or a school. Synonym cafeteria

③ refer /ri'fɜ:/ verb 1. to mention something or someone ○ Do you think he was referring to me when he talked about clever managers? ○ The footnote refers you to page 24. 2. to look into something for information ○ He referred to his diary to see if he had a free afternoon. 3. to pass a problem to someone to decide ○ We have referred your complaint to our head office. ○ He was referred to an ear specialist by his GP. ○ See your GP first, and he or she will refer you to a consultant. (NOTE: referring – referred)

② referee /,refə'ri:/ noun 1. (in sports) a person who supervises a game, making sure that it is played according to the rules ○ When fighting broke out between the players, the referee stopped the match. ○ The referee sent several players off. 2. a person who gives a report on your character and ability ○ She gave the name of her former boss as a referee. ○ When applying please give the names of three referees. ■ verb to act as a referee in a sports match ○ There's no one to referee the match this afternoon.

① reference /'ref(ə)rəns/ noun 1. an act of mentioning something or someone ○ She made a reference to her brother-in-law. ○ The report made no reference to the bank. Synonym mention □ with reference to concerning, about ○ With reference to your letter of May 25th. 2. a direction for further information ○ There are bibliographic references at the back of the book. 3. a report on someone's character and ability ○ We ask all applicants to supply references. □ to take up references to get in touch with referees to see what they think of the person applying for a job ○ When she applied for the job we took up her references and found they were not as good as we had hoped. 4. a person who gives a report on your character and ability ○ He gave my name as a reference. ○ Please use me as a reference if you wish.

reference book /'ref(ə)rəns buk/ noun a book, such as a dictionary or an encyclopaedia, where you can look for information reference library /'ref(ə)rəns ,laɪbrəri/ noun a library with reference books, where readers can search for information but not take the books away from the library referendum /,refə'rendəm/ noun a vote where all the people of a country are asked to vote on a single question (NOTE: The plural is referenda or referendums.)

referral /ri'fɜ:rl/ noun passing a problem on to someone else for a decision refill noun /'rifɪl/ 1. a container with a fresh quantity of liquid ○ I must get a refill for my cigarette lighter. ○ Liquid soap is sold in handy refill packs. 2. another drink ○ Your glass is empty – can I get you a refill? ■ verb /ri'fɪl/ to fill something again ○ The waiter refilled our glasses. ○ We stopped twice to refill the car on the way to Scotland. Synonym replenish. Antonym empty refinance /,ri:'fainəns/ verb to extend a loan by replacing it with a new one refine /ri'fain/ verb 1. to make something more pure ○ Juice from sugar cane is refined by boiling. 2. to make something better ○ The process needs to be further refined before we can introduce it nationally. ○ The company needs to refine its sales techniques. □ to refine upon to make something even better ○ We hope to refine upon our existing production methods.

refined /ri'faind/ adj 1. which has been made pure ○ white refined sugar 2. very elegant and polite ○ In refined society, you don't slurp your soup.

refinement /ri'fainmənt/ noun 1. elegance ○ The drawing room of the old house gives an idea of the refinement of life in the 18th century. 2. improvement ○ The latest model has various refinements which the earlier models lacked. ○ This is a refinement of our previous word-processing program.

refinery /ri'fainəri/ noun a plant where a raw material, such as ore, oil or sugar is processed to remove impurities (NOTE: The plural is refineries.) refit noun /'ri:fɪt/ complete repairs ○ The liner has gone into dock for a refit. Synonym overhaul ■ verb /ri:'fɪt/ to fit out a shop, a factory, an office or a ship again ○ The shop is closed for refitting. ○ The MD has had his office refitted with dark blue furniture. (NOTE: refitting – refitted) reflate /ri:'fleɪt/ verb □ to reflate the economy to stimulate the economy by increasing the money supply or by reducing taxes ○ The government's attempts to reflate the economy have so far proved singularly unsuccessful.

reflation /ri:'fleɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the act of stimulating the economy by increasing the money supply or by reducing taxes. Synonym expansion. Antonym deflation reflective /ri'flektɪv/ adj 1. thoughtful ○ The poem was written when the poet was in a reflective mood. 2. which reflects ○ Cyclists should wear reflective armbands when cycling in the dark.

① reflect /ri'flekt/ verb 1. to send back light, heat or an image of something ○ The light reflected on the top of the car. ○ White surfaces reflect light better than dark ones. ○ a picture of snow-capped mountains reflected in a clear blue lake 2. to show something ○ Her expression reflected her feeling of happiness. 3. □ to reflect on something to think carefully about something ○ He reflected that this was the sixth time he had been arrested for speeding. ○ When you reflect on the events of the past few days, you realise the truth of the saying that 'pride goes before a fall'. □ to reflect badly on someone to show someone in a bad way ○ The news reflects badly on the way the manager runs his department.

reflector /ri'flektə/ noun apparatus which reflects reflex /'ri:fleks/ noun an automatic reaction to something ○ The doctor tested his reflexes by tapping on his knee with a little hammer. ○ By stopping the car when the little girl ran into the road she showed how good her reflexes were. (NOTE: The plural is reflexes.)

■ adj 1. which is automatic 2. which returns as a reflection reflex action /'ri:fleks ,ækʃən/ noun an automatic reaction to a stimulus, such as a sneeze after sniffing pepper reflex angle /'ri:fleks ,æŋgəl/ noun an angle of more than 180° reflex camera /'ri:fleks ,kæm(ə)rə/ noun a camera where the picture is reflected from the lens to the viewfinder exactly as it will appear on the photograph reflexive /ri'fleksɪv/ adj (in grammar) a verb or pronoun which refers back to the subject reflexive verb /ri'fleksɪv vɜ:b/ noun (in grammar) a transitive verb whose subject and object both refer to the same person or thing reflexology /ri:flek'sɒlədʒi/ noun a treatment to relieve tension by massaging the soles of the feet and toes to stimulate the nerves and increase the blood supply

② reform /ri'fɔ:m/ noun the act of changing something to make it better ○ The government is planning a series of reforms to the benefit system. ■ verb 1. to change something; to make something better ○ They want to reform the educational system. 2. to stop committing crimes or to change your habits to become good ○ After her time in prison she became a reformed character. ○ He used to drink a lot, but since he got married he has reformed.

reformation /,refə'meɪʃ(ə)n/ noun a great change for the better ○ the reformation of the prison system

Reformation /,refə'meɪʃ(ə)n/ noun a religious movement in 16th-century Europe which led to the setting up of the Protestant Church reformer /ri'fɔ:maɪə/ noun a person who tries to make something better. Antonym conservative reformist /ri'fɔ:miست/ adj in favour of making reforms ○ the reformist Prime Minister ■ noun a person who plans to make reforms ○ The reformists have done well in the elections.

refraction /ri'frækʃən/ noun the bending of light as it goes from one substance into another, such as into water

refrain /ri'freɪn/ noun lines which are repeated after each section of a song or poem ○ At the end of each verse, everyone joined in the refrain. Synonym chorus ■ verb □ to refrain from not to do something ○ Please refrain from smoking during dinner. ○ We must ask everyone to refrain from applauding until the signal is given.

refresh /ri'fres/ verb 1. to make fresh again ○ A coat of paint will refresh the room. □ this should refresh your memory this will help you remember something which you seem to have forgotten 2. to make someone less tired ○ After a good night's sleep she felt refreshed. □ to refresh yourself to do something to make yourself less tired ○ I need a drink to refresh myself before the second half.

refresher course /ri'freʃər kɔ:s/ noun a course of study to make you practise your skills again so as to improve them refreshing /ri'fresɪŋ/ adj 1. which makes fresh again ○ I had a refreshing drink of cold water. ○ A refreshing shower of rain cooled the air. 2. exciting and new ○ Our new offices are a refreshing change from the old building.

refreshments /ri'freʃmənts/ plural noun food and drink ○ Light refreshments will be served after the concert. ○ Refreshments are being offered in a tent on the lawn.

refrigerate /ri'frɪdʒəreɪt/ verb to keep food cold so that it will not go bad. Antonym heat

③ refrigerator /ri'frɪdʒəreɪtə/ noun an electrical kitchen apparatus which is for keeping food and drink cold ○ There's some cold orange juice in the refrigerator. ○ Milk will keep for several days in a refrigerator. ○

Each hotel bedroom has a small refrigerator with cold drinks. (NOTE: often called a fridge) refuel /ri:'fju:əl/ verb to put more fuel into a ship, plane, car or other vehicle. Synonym refill (NOTE: refuelling – refuelled. The US spelling is refueling – refueled.)

③ refuge /'refju:dʒ/ noun □ place of refuge a place of safety or shelter □ to seek refuge to try to find shelter ○ During the fighting, they sought refuge in the British embassy. □ to take refuge to shelter ○ When the tornado approached, they took refuge in the cellar. ○ We took refuge from the rain under a covered bus shelter.

③ refugee /refju:dʒi:/ noun a person who has left his country because of war or religious or political persecution

③ refund noun /'ri:fʌnd/ money paid back ○ She got a refund after she complained to the manager. Synonym repayment □ full refund, refund in full paying back all the money paid ○ He got a full refund when he complained about the service. ■ verb /'ri:fʌnd/ to pay money back ○ We will refund the cost of postage. ○ The tour company only refunded £100 of the £400 I had paid.

refurbish /ri:fɜ:bɪʃ/ verb to make something like new. Synonym renovate refurbishment /ri:fɜ:bɪʃmənt/ noun the act of making like new refusal /ri'fju:z(ə)l/ noun 1. saying that you do not accept something ○ His refusal to help was unexpected. ○ Did you accept? – No! I sent a letter of refusal. □ to meet with a flat refusal to be refused completely ○ His request met with a flat refusal. 2. □ to give someone first refusal of something to let someone have first choice of buying something when it is being sold ○ I asked him if I could have first refusal of his flat if ever he decided to sell it.

① refuse verb /ri'fju:z/ 1. to say that you will not do something ○ His father refused to lend him any more money. □ the car refused to start the car would not start 2. not to allow something to happen ○ He asked for permission to see his family, but it was refused. ■ noun /'refju:s/ rubbish and things which are not wanted ○ Please put all refuse in the bin. ○ Refuse collection on our road is on Thursdays. (NOTE: no plural) refutation /,refju:t'eiʃ(ə)n/ noun a proof that something is wrong. Synonym reputation refute /ri'fju:t/ verb 1. to prove that something is wrong ○ He has tried to refute Einstein's theory. 2. to show that something is untrue ○ He refuted her allegations completely.

regain /ri'geɪn/ verb to get something back which was lost □ to regain consciousness to become conscious again ○ She went into a coma and never regained consciousness.

regal /'ri:g(ə)l/ adj 1. referring to a king or queen ○ the regal splendour of the state opening of parliament 2. suitable for a king or queen ○ They offered us a truly regal banquet.

① regard /ri'ga:d/ noun 1. concern for someone or something □ with regard to relating to ○ With regard to your request for extra funds. 2. an opinion of someone ○ He is held in high regard by his staff. 3. □ regards best wishes ○ She sends her (kind) regards. ○ Please give my regards to your mother. ■ verb 1. □ to regard someone or something as to consider someone or something to be ○ The police are regarding the case as attempted murder. 2. to have an opinion about someone ○ She is highly regarded by the manager. 3. □ as regards relating to, concerning ○ As regards the cost of the trip, I'll let you know soon what the final figure is. ③ regarding /ri'ga:dɪŋ/ prep relating to, concerning ○ He left instructions regarding his possessions. ○ Regarding your offer, I think we will have to say no.

③ regardless /ri'ga:dləs/ adv without paying any attention to. Synonym anyway □ to carry on regardless to continue in spite of everything ○ Although the temperature was well over 40°, they carried on working regardless. □ regardless of in spite of ○ They drove through the war zone regardless of the danger. □ regardless of expense without thinking of how much it would cost regatta /ri'gætə/ noun a sporting event where rowing boats or sailing boats race regency /'ri:dʒənsi/ noun a period of government by a regent ○ During the regency the power was in the hands of the regent and his family.

Regency /'ri:dʒənsi/ noun (in British history) the period from 1810 to 1820 when the Prince of Wales was Prince Regent regenerate /ri'dʒenəreɪt/ verb 1. to start something up again ○ The TV programme has regenerated interest in South America. 2. to make something grow strong again ○ We hope to regenerate the area by offering grants to new industries. ○ After a fire a forest will regenerate itself very quickly. Synonym revive regent /'ri:dʒənt/ noun a person who governs in place of a king or queen who is a child or is ill reggae /'regeɪ/ noun a type of West Indian music regiment /'redʒɪmənt/ noun a group of soldiers, usually commanded by a colonel or lieutenant-colonel regimental /'redʒɪ'ment(ə)l/ adj belonging to a regiment regimented /'redʒɪ'mentɪd/ adj strictly organised or kept under strict discipline

① region /'ri:dʒən/ noun 1. a large administrative area ○ The South-West region is well known for its apples. □ the London region the area around London 2. □ in the region of about or approximately ○ He is earning a salary in the region of £25,000. ○ The house was sold for a price in the region of £200,000.

① regional /'ri:dʒ(ə)nəl/ adj referring to a region ○ The recession has not affected the whole country – it is only regional. ○ After the national news, here is the regional news for the South West. Synonym local. Antonym national

③ register /'redʒɪſtər/ noun 1. a list of names ○ I can't find your name in the register. ○ His name was struck off the register. 2. a book in which you sign your name ○ After the wedding, the bride and groom and witnesses all signed the register. ○ Please sign the hotel register when you check in. 3. (in printing) making sure that two images are printed correctly one on top of the other □ out of register when two images are not printed correctly ○ The red is out of register. 4. a level and style of language used by certain people or in certain situations ○ A dictionary will indicate if the register is 'formal' or 'informal' or 'slang'. ■ verb 1. to write a name officially in a list ○ If you don't register, we won't be able to get in touch with you. ○ Babies have to be registered with the registrar as soon as they are born. □ to register at a hotel to write your name and address when you arrive at a hotel ○ They registered at the hotel under the name of Macdonald. 2. to put a letter into the special care of the post office ○ She registered the letter. ○ He took the letter to the post office to get it registered. 3. to record a figure or amount or to show a feeling ○ Temperatures of over 50° were registered in the desert. ○ The amount of radioactivity was so small it didn't register on our monitor. ○ His face registered anger and pain. 4. to be noticed, to gain attention ○ I told him he was getting a big pay rise, but it didn't seem to register.

③ registered /'redʒɪſtəd/ adj which has been noted on an official list ○ a registered trademark register office /'redʒɪſtər,ɒfɪs/ noun same as registry office

③ registrar /'redʒɪ'strə/ noun 1. a person who keeps official records ○ the registrar of births, marriages and deaths ○ They were married by the registrar. 2. a person who keeps the records of a university ○ Applications for grants have to be sent to the regis- trar's office by July 1st. 3. a qualified doctor or surgeon in a hospital who supervises house doctors ○ She's a registrar at our local hospital.

③ registration /'redʒɪ'streɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the act of registering registration number /,redʒɪ'streɪʃ(ə)n, nəm'bər/ noun the official number of a car registration plate /,redʒɪ'streɪʃ(ə)n pleɪt/ noun same as number plate (NOTE: The US term is license plate)

③ registry /'redʒɪſtri/ noun a place where official records are kept registry office /'redʒɪſtri,ɒfɪs/ noun an office where records of births, marriages and deaths are kept and where you can be married in a civil ceremony regress /ri'gres/ verb to return to an earlier stage or condition regression /ri'greſ(ə)n/ noun going back to an earlier stage regret /ri'gret/ noun being sorry ○ I have absolutely no regrets about what we did. ○ She showed no regret for having made so much mess. □ much to someone's regret making someone very sorry ○ Much to my regret I will not be able to go to Chicago. ○ Much to the children's regret or much to the regret of the children, the ice cream van drove away. ■ verb to be sorry that something has happened ○ I regret to say that you were not successful. ○ I regret the trouble this has caused you. ○ We regret the delay in the arrival of our flight from Amsterdam. ○ We regret to inform you that the tour has been cancelled. (NOTE: regretting – regretted) regretful /ri'gretf(ə)l/ adj sorry or sad regrettable /ri'gretəb(ə)l/ adj which must be regretted. Antonym fortunate regroup /ri'gru:p/ verb to form groups again

② regular /'regjʊlər/ adj 1. done at the same time each day ○ His regular train is the 12.45. ○ The regular flight to Athens leaves at 06.00. □ regular customer a customer who always buys from the same shop ○ He's a regular customer, you don't need to ask for proof of identity. 2. standard ○ The regular price is £1.25, but we are offering them at 99p. □ regular size the ordinary size of goods, smaller than sizes like economy size or family size ○ Just buy a regular size packet, it will be enough for the two of us. 3. □ regular army permanent professional army □ regular officer professional officer □ regular soldier professional soldier, as opposed to a conscript ■ noun 1. a customer who always goes to the same shop or who drinks in the same pub ○ The regulars were very sorry when the old landlord retired. 2. a professional soldier ○ The base is manned by regulars from the Paratroop Regiment.

regular income /,regjʊlər 'ɪnkom/ noun income which comes in every week or month regularise /'regjʊləraɪz/, regularize verb to make an existing situation official. Synonym standardise regularity /,regju'lærɪti/ noun being regular ③ regularly /'regjʊləli/ adv in a regular way ○ She is regularly the first person to arrive at the office each morning.

regular noun /'regjʊlə naʊn/ noun (in grammar) a noun with a regular pattern of inflections regular verb /'regjʊlə vɜ:b/ noun (in grammar) a verb with a regular pattern of inflections regulate /'regju,leɪt/ verb 1. to adjust a machine so that it works in a certain way ○ The heater needs to be regulated to keep the temperature steady. ○ Turn this knob to regulate the volume. ○ Her heartbeat is regulated by the pacemaker. 2. to maintain something by law ○ Speed on the motorway is strictly regulated.

② regulation /,regju'leʃ(ə)n/ noun the act of regulating ○ The greenhouse is fitted with an automatic heat regulation system. ○ the regulation of the body's temperature by sweating regulation uniform /,regjuleʃ(ə)n 'ju:nɪfɔ:m/ noun a uniform worn according to regulations regulator /'regju,leɪtə/ noun 1. a person whose job it is to see that regulations are followed in an industry ○ The industry regulator makes sure that the rules are followed to the letter. 2. an instrument which regulates a machine ○ This lorry is fitted with a speed regulator.

rehab /'ri:hæb/ noun the process of curing someone of an addiction to drugs or alcohol rehabilitate /,ri:ə'biliteɪt/ verb 1. to train a disabled person or an ex-prisoner to lead a normal life and fit into society ○ Prisoners need special training in order to be rehabilitated. 2. to cure someone of an addiction to drugs or alcohol rehabilitation /,ri:ə'bili'teɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the act of rehabilitating rehash noun /'ri:hæʃ/ a book, article, or other work which is more or less the same as something written or made earlier ○ His speech was just a rehash of some old arguments and had nothing new in it. ■ verb /ri:hæʃ/ to bring out an old story, book, idea, or other work in more or less the same form as before ○ Her recent article just rehashed the same themes as her book. Synonym rework rehearsal /'ri:hɜ:s(ə)l/ noun a practice of a play or concert before the first public performance. ■ dress rehearsal rehearse /'ri:hɜ:s/ verb to practise a play or a concert before a public performance reheat /'ri:hɪ:t/ verb to heat something again rehouse /'ri:hauz/ verb to move somebody to other, often better, housing reign /reɪn/ noun a period when a king, queen or emperor rules ○ during the reign of Elizabeth I ■ verb 1. to rule ○ Queen Victoria reigned between 1837 and 1901. ○ She reigned during a period of great prosperity. 2. to be in existence ○ Chaos reigned when the town's electricity supply broke down. (NOTE: Do not confuse with rain, rein.)

reigning /'reɪnɪŋ/ adj 1. who is on the throne ○ the reigning monarch 2. ■ reigning champion a person who is champion until someone beats him ○ I don't think he has any chance of winning, as his opponent is the reigning heavyweight champion.

reign of terror /,reɪn əv 'terə/ noun a period when law and order have broken down and people live in a continual state of fear reimburse /,ri:ɪm'bɜ:s/ verb □ to reimburse someone for his or her expenses to pay someone back for money he or she has spent (formal) ○ You will be reimbursed for your expenses or your expenses will be reimbursed.

reimbursement /,ri:ɪm'bɜ:sment/ noun paying back money. Synonym repayment rein /reɪn/ noun 1. a strap which the rider holds to control a horse ○ She walked beside the horse holding the reins. ○ The rider pulled hard on the reins to try to make the horse stop. 2. □ to keep something on a tight rein to control something strictly ○ Unless you keep your expenses on a tight rein, you'll have problems. ■ verb □ to rein back or in to keep under control ○ The leader of the opposition tried to rein in his supporters who wanted to attack the President's palace.

reincarnation /,ri:ɪn'keɪ:ə'nɛɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. a person's soul born again in another body or animal after death ○ The ancient Egyptians believed that the owl was the reincarnation of the god Horus. 2. the reappearance of someone in another form ○ His latest reincarnation was as an insurance salesman.

reindeer /'reɪndɪə/ noun a type of deer which lives in the Arctic (NOTE: The plural is reindeer.)

③ reinforce /,ri:ɪn'fɔ:s/ verb to make something stronger or more solid reinforced concrete /,ri:ɪnfɔ:st 'kɒnjkri:t/ noun concrete strengthened with metal rods reinforcement /ri:ɪn'fɔ:sment/ noun the act of reinforcing ○ One of the walls needs reinforcement.

reinforcements /ri:ɪn'fɔ:smənts/ plural noun new soldiers to support others already fighting reinstate /ri:ɪn'steɪt/ verb to put someone back into a job from which he or she was dismissed reinstatement /ri:ɪn'steɪtmənt/ noun putting someone back into a job from which he or she was dismissed reinvent /ri:ɪn'vent/ verb to make something popular again after it has been out of fashion for a time reissue /ri:'ɪʃu:/ noun the issuing of something again ○ The reissue of the book in paperback is scheduled for next spring. ■ verb to issue something again ○ The company reissued its catalogue with a new price list. ○ The book was published as a hardback, then reissued as a paperback.

reiterate /ri:'ɪtəreɪt/ verb to say something again. Synonym repeat reiteration /ri:ɪtə'reɪʃn/ noun saying the same thing again

② reject noun /ri:dʒekt/ a thing which has been thrown away as not satisfactory ■ verb /ri:dʒekt/ 1. to refuse to accept something 2. to throw something away as not satisfactory 3. (in medicine) not to accept a transplanted organ ○ His body rejected the new heart.

③ rejection /ri:dʒekʃn/ noun a refusal to accept reject shop /ri:dʒekt ʃɒp/ noun a shop which specialises in the sale of rejects rejig /ri:dʒɪg/ verb to arrange something in a different way (informal) rejoice /ri:dʒɔɪs/ verb 1. to be very happy ○ We all rejoiced to hear the news that the baby had been found. 2. □ to rejoice in to be happy at ○ She rejoiced in the warm welcome that her family gave her. □ to rejoice in a name to have a curious name ○ The café rejoices in the name of 'The Snail and Banana'.

rejoin /ri:dʒɔɪn/ verb to join someone or something again (formal) rejuvenate /ri:dʒu:vneɪt/ verb 1. to make someone young again ○ She came back from the health farm completely rejuvenated. 2. to give something new vigour and strength ○ He hopes to rejuvenate the club by attracting younger members.

rekindle /ri:kɪnd(ə)l/ verb to start again or to make something happen again. Antonym kill relapse noun /ri:læps/ (of patient or disease) becoming worse after seeming to be getting better ○ He had a relapse and had to go back into hospital. Synonym deteriora- tion ■ verb /ri'læps/ 1. to become worse ○ He relapsed into a coma. 2. to get back into old bad habits ○ He promised he would cut down on his drinking but soon relapsed.

① relate /ri'leɪt/ verb 1. to be concerned with something ○ the regulations which relate to mooring in the harbour 2. □ to relate to someone to understand someone and be able to communicate with them ○ Do you find it difficult to relate to him? 3. to tell a story ○ It took him half an hour to relate what had happened.

① related /ri'leɪtɪd/ adj 1. belonging to the same family ○ Are you and Joan closely related? 2. linked ○ There are several related items on the agenda.

③ relating to /ri'leɪtɪŋ tu:/ prep referring to or connected with

① relation /ri'leɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. a member of a family ○ All my relations live in Canada. ○ Laura's no relation of mine, she's just a friend. 2. a link between two things ○ Is there any relation between his appointment as MD and the fact that his uncle owns the business? □ in relation to referring to, connected with ○ documents in relation to the sale relations /ri'leɪʃ(ə)nz/ plural noun links with other people ○ We try to maintain good relations with our customers. ○ Relations between the two countries have become tense.

① relationship /ri'leɪʃ(ə)nʃɪp/ noun 1. a link or connection ○ There is a proven relationship between smoking and lung cancer. ○ I have a good working relationship with her. 2. a close friendship, especially one in which two people are involved in a romantic or sexual way with each other ○ She decided to end the relationship when she found he had been seeing other women.

② relative /'relətɪv/ noun a person who is related to someone; a member of a family ○ We have several relatives living in Canada. ○ He has no living relatives. ■ adj compared to something else ○ Everything is relative – if you have ten cows you are rich in some African countries. □ relative poverty poverty compared with what really wealthy people have or with the wealth someone used to have ○ My old uncle lives in relative poverty.

relative clause /'relətɪv klɔ:z/ noun a subordinate clause that provides additional information about a person or thing and which is joined to the previous clause by words like 'which', 'who' or 'that'

② relatively /'relətɪvli/ adv more or less ○ The children have been relatively free from colds this winter. ○ We are dealing with a relatively new company.

relative pronoun /,relətɪv 'prəʊnaʊn/ noun a pronoun, such as 'who' or 'which', which connects two clauses relativity /rɪ'lə'tɪvɪtɪ/ noun (in physics) the relationship between objects, time, distance and speed □ Einstein's Theory of Relativity the theory that time, movement and space are relative and not absolute

③ relax /rɪ'læks/ verb 1. to rest from work or to be less tense ○ They spent the first week of their holiday relaxing on the beach. ○ Guests can relax in the bar before going to eat in the restaurant. ○ Just lie back and relax – the injection won't hurt. 2. to make something less strict ○ The club has voted to relax the rules about the admission of women members.

relaxation /rɪ:læk'seɪʃ(ə)n/ noun a rest from work

③ relaxed /rɪ'lækst/ adj not upset; calm ○ Even if he failed his test, he's still very relaxed about the whole thing.

③ relaxing /rɪ'lækſɪŋ/ adj which makes you less tense. Antonym harrowing relay noun /rɪ'leɪɪ/ a group of people working in turn with other groups ○ A shift is usually composed of groups of workers who work in relays. ○ All the work had been done by the time the next relay arrived. ■ verb /rɪ'leɪɪ, rɪ'leɪ/ 1. to pass on a message ○ She relayed the news to the other members of her family. ○ All messages are relayed through this office. 2. to pass on a TV or radio broadcast through a secondary station ○ The programmes are received in the capital and then relayed to TV stations round the country.

relay race /rɪ'leɪɪ reɪs/ noun a running race by teams in which one runner passes a baton to another who then runs on ② release /rɪ'li:s/ noun 1. setting free ○ the release of prisoners from jail ○ the release of hormones into the bloodstream 2. setting free from pain ○ His death was a merciful release. 3. □ press release sheet giving news about something which is sent to newspapers and TV and radio stations so that they can use the information in it ○ We issued a press release about the opening of the new shop. ■ verb 1. to set someone free or to unlock something ○ Six prisoners were released from prison. ○ The customs released the goods after we paid a fine. ○ We nursed the injured fox for a week and then released it in the woods. ○ The endocrine glands release hormones into the bloodstream. ○ Pull that lever to release the brakes. 2. to make public ○ The government has released figures about the number of people out of work.

relegate /rɪ'lægɪt/ verb 1. (in sports) to move a team down from a higher division to a lower one ○ They were relegated from the premier division. 2. to put someone into a worse position ○ On the arrival of the new manager, I was relegated to the accounts department.

relegation /rɪ'relɪgɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. (in sports) moving down from one division to a lower one ○ They only scored two points in their last ten games, and now face relegation. 2. moving into a worse position ○ With the arrival of a new manager I'm facing relegation to a less important job.

relent /rɪ'lent/ verb to be less strict; to decide to be less strict than before. Synonym give in relentless /rɪ'lentləs/ adj continuing without giving up relentlessly /rɪ'lentləsli/ adv continuing without stopping or with no pity

③ relevance /rɪ'reləv(ə)nəs/ noun being relevant. Antonym irrelevance

② relevant /rɪ'reləv(ə)nt/ adj which has to do with something being mentioned ○ Which is the relevant government department? ○ Can you give me the relevant papers? ○ Is this information at all relevant? Synonym pertinent reliability /rɪ'læɪə'bilitɪ/ noun being reliable reliable /rɪ'læɪəb(ə)l/ adj which can be relied on or which can be trusted ○ It is a very reliable car. ○ The sales manager is completely reliable. Synonym dependable. Antonym unreliable reliably /rɪ'læɪəblɪ/ adv in a way which can be trusted reliance /rɪ'læɪəns/ noun being reliant. Synonym dependence reliant /rɪ'læɪənt/ adj which relies on something relic /rɪ'lɪk/ noun 1. an object which has been left over from the past ○ That cap is a relic of my time as a naval cadet. 2. □ relics parts of the body or possessions of a holy person, such as the bones of a saint ○ The relics of the saint are kept in a gold casket in the cathedral.

② relief /rɪ'lɪf/ noun 1. reducing pain or stress ○ An aspirin should bring relief. ○ He breathed a sigh of relief when the police car went past without stopping. ○ What a relief to have finished my exams! 2. help ○ The Red Cross is organising relief for the flood victims. □ famine relief fund money collected to help victims of a famine 3. a person who takes over from another ○ A relief nurse will take over from you at one o'clock. ○ Your relief will be here in half an hour. □ relief shift a shift which comes to take the place of another shift ○ The relief shift is due in ten minutes. 4. a carving in which the details of design stand out □ in relief standing out or prominent ○ Braille consists of little dots in relief that can be read by touch.

relief map /rɪ'li:f mæp/ noun a map where height is shown by colour, so mountains are brown and plains are green relief road /rɪ'li:f rəʊd/ noun a road built to help reduce traffic congestion

③ relieve /rɪ'li:v/ verb 1. to make a pain or illness better ○ He took aspirins to relieve the pain. ○ Symptoms of hayfever can be relieved by taking antihistamines. 2. □ to relieve yourself to urinate or defecate (formal) ○ He stopped by the roadside to relieve himself. ○ People complained about drunken football fans relieving themselves in the street. 3. to make a bad situation better ○ It's an agency which tries to relieve famine. 4. to take over from someone ○ You can go and have something to eat – I'm here to relieve you. 5. to remove a difficult job from someone ○ Let me relieve you of some of these parcels. ○ This piece of equipment will relieve you of some of your work.

③ relieved /rɪ'li:vd/ adj glad to be rid of a problem. Antonym worried

② religion /rɪ'lɪdʒən/ noun 1. a belief in gods or in God ○ Does their religion help them to lead a good life? ○ It is against my religion to eat meat on Fridays. 2. a particular faith ○ the Greek Orthodox religion

② religious /rɪ'lɪdʒəs/ adj 1. referring to religion ○ There is a period of religious study every morning. 2. having a strong belief in God ○ She's very religious – she goes to church every day.

religiously /rə'lɪdʒəsli/ adv regularly and carefully, like a religious ritual relinquish /rə'lɪŋkwɪʃ/ verb to leave or to let go of something. Synonym give up. Antonym retain relish /'relɪʃ/ noun 1. spicy pickles or spicy sauce ○ Eat your sausages with mustard or relish. (NOTE: The plural in this meaning is relishes.) 2. enjoyment ○ She argued with him with great relish. ■ verb to enjoy something ○ I don't relish having to take my exam again. Antonym dislike relive /rɪ'lɪv/ verb to go through something again, especially in your mind relocate /rɪ:ləʊ'keɪt/ verb to move an office, factory or staff to a different place relocation /,rɪ:ləʊ'keɪʃ(ə)n/ noun moving to a different place reluctant /rɪ'ləktənt/ adj □ reluctant to not eager to, not willing to ○ He was reluctant to go into the water because it looked cold.

reluctantly /rɪ'ləktəntli/ adv not willingly

② rely on /rɪ'lai ɒn/ verb to depend on something

① remain /rɪ'meɪn/ verb 1. to stay ○ We expect it will remain fine for the rest of the week. ○ She remained behind at the office to finish her work. 2. to be left ○ Half the food remained uneaten and had to be thrown away. ○ After the accident not much remained of the car. 3. □ it remains to be seen we will find out later ○ How many people have survived the crash remains to be seen. ○ It remains to be seen whether she's ever going to be able to walk again.

③ remainder /rɪ'meɪndə/ noun what is left after everything or everyone else has gone ○ What shall we do for the remainder of the holidays? ○ After the bride and groom left, the remainder of the party stayed in the hotel to have supper. ■ verb to sell off new books cheaply ○ a shop full of piles of remaindered books remainders /rɪ'meɪndəz/ plural noun new books which are sold off cheaply because they are not selling well

① remaining /rɪ'meɪniŋ/ adj which is left

③ remains /rɪ'meɪnz/ plural noun 1. things left over or left behind ○ The remains of the evening meal were left on the table until the next morning. ○ We're trying to save the Roman remains from total obliteration by the construction company. 2. the body of a dead person ○ The emperor's remains were buried in the cathedral.

remake verb /rɪ:meɪk/ □ to have something remade to get someone to make something again ○ The kitchen units didn't fit, so we had to have them remade. ■ noun /rɪ:meɪk/ a new film with the same story as an old film ○ They're planning yet another remake of 'David Copperfield'.

remand /rɪ'ma:nd/ noun sending a prisoner away for a time when a case is adjourned to be heard at a later date □ prisoner on remand, remand prisoner prisoner who has been told to come back to the court at a later date ○ The court ordered the prisoner to be kept on remand. ○ A large proportion of the prisoners in this jail are remand prisoners. ■ verb 1. to send a prisoner away to reappear later to answer a case which has been adjourned □ he was remanded in custody or remanded on bail for two weeks he was sent to prison or allowed to go free on payment of bail while waiting to return to court two weeks later 2. US to send a case back to a lower court remand centre /rɪ'ma:nd ,səntə/ noun a prison where prisoners on remand are held

③ remark /rɪ'ma:k/ noun a comment ○ I heard his remark even if he spoke in a low voice. □ to make or pass remarks about to make sharp or rude comments about ○ She made some remarks about the dirty table-cloth. ■ verb to notice and comment on something ○ She remarked on the dirtiness of the café.

③ remarkable /rɪ'ma:kəb(ə)l/ adj very unusual ○ She's a remarkable woman. ○ It's remarkable that the bank has not asked us to pay back the money. Synonym extraordinary. Antonym ordinary remarkably /rɪ'ma:kəblɪ/ adv unusually remarry /rɪ:'mærɪ/ verb to marry again remedial /rɪ'mɪdɪəl/ adj which cures or which makes something better. Synonym corrective ③ remedy /'remədɪ/ noun 1. a thing which may cure ○ It's an old remedy for hayfever. 2. a solution to a problem ○ There's no easy remedy for their financial problems. (NOTE: The plural is remedies.) ■ verb to correct something, to make something better ○ Tell me what's wrong and I'll try to remedy it right away.

① remember /rɪ'membə/ verb 1. to bring back into your mind something which you have seen or heard before ○ Do you remember when we got lost in the fog? ○ My grandmother can remember seeing the first television programmes. ○ She remembered seeing it on the dining-room table. ○ She can't remember where she put her umbrella. ○ I don't remember having been in this hotel before. ○ I remember my grandmother very well. ○ It's strange that I can never remember my father's birthday. ○ Did you remember to switch off the kitchen light? (NOTE: You remember doing something which you did in the past; you remember to do something in the future.) 2. to ask someone to pass your good wishes to someone ○ Please remember me to your father when you see him next. 3. □ he remembered me in his will he left me something in his will remembrance /rɪ'membrəns/ noun memory

Remembrance Day /rɪ'membrəns deɪ/ noun November 11th, or the nearest Sunday, celebrating the end of the First World War and remembering the dead of both World Wars. Also called Armistice Day, Poppy Day

① remind /rɪ'maɪnd/ verb 1. to make someone remember something ○ Now that you've reminded me, I do remember seeing him last week. ○ Remind me to book the tickets for New York. ○ She reminded him that the meeting had to finish at 6.30. 2. □ to remind someone of to make someone think of something or someone ○ Do you know what this reminds me of? ○ She reminds me of her mother.

reminder /rɪ'maɪndə/ noun 1. a thing which reminds you of something ○ He tied a knot in his handkerchief as a reminder of what he had to do. ○ Keep this picture as a reminder of happier days. 2. a letter to remind a customer to do something ○ We had a reminder from the gas company that we hadn't paid the bill.

reminisce /,remɪ'nɪs/ verb to talk about memories of the past reminiscence /,remɪ'nɪs(ə)ns/ noun a memory of something from the past (formal) reminiscent /,remɪ'nɪs(ə)nt/ adj which reminds you of the past. Synonym suggestive remission /rɪ'mɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. a reduction of a prison sentence ○ He was sentenced to five years, but should only serve three with remission. ○ He earned remission for good behaviour. 2. a period when an illness is less severe ○ The cancer is in remission. 3. □ the remission of sins forgiving by God of sins which people have committed (formal) remit verb /rɪ'mɪt/ 1. to reduce a prison sentence ○ His prison sentence was remitted. 2. to send money (NOTE: remitting – remitted) ■ noun /rɪ'mɪt/ an area of responsibility given to someone ○ This department can do nothing with the case as it is not part of our remit or is beyond our remit. ○ He has been given the remit to deal with his father's affairs.

remittance /rɪ'mɪt(ə)ns/ noun money which is sent remnant /'remnənt/ noun a quantity or piece left over. Synonym remainder remonstrate /remən'streɪt/ verb (formal) □ to remonstrate with someone to reason with someone about something they have done remorse /rɪ'mɔ:s/ noun regret about something wrong which you have done remorseful /rɪ'mɔ:sf(ə)l/ adj full of remorse. Synonym regretful. Antonym unrepentant remorseless /rɪ'mɔ:sles/ adj 1. which cannot be stopped ○ The Green Belt is supposed to stop the remorseless advance of houses into the countryside. ○ There's nothing you can do to hold back the remorseless advance of old age. 2. cruel, showing no pity ○ A remorseless artillery bombardment pounded the town.

③ remote /rɪ'mo:t/ adj 1. far away ○ The hotel is situated in a remote mountain village. 2. slight, not very strong ○ There's a remote chance of finding a cure for his illness. ○ The possibility of him arriving on time is remote. ○ There is not the remotest likelihood of the plane taking off this morning because of the fog. 3. (of a person) who does not communicate very much ○ Their daughter is difficult to get to know, she seems so remote. (NOTE: remoter – remotest)

③ remote control /rɪ'mo:t kən'trəʊl/ noun a device which controls a model plane or a TV by radio signals

remotely /rɪ'məʊtli/ adv very slightly □ not remotely not at all ○ He wasn't remotely interested in what I had to say.

removable /rɪ'mu:vəb(ə)l/ adj designed so as to be easily taken off and put back on again. Synonym detachable

③ removal /rɪ'mu:v(ə)l/ noun 1. taking something or someone away ○ the removal of the ban on importing computers ○ Refuse collectors are responsible for the removal of household waste. ○ The opposition called for the removal of the Foreign Secretary. 2. moving to a new home, new office, etc.

removal van /rɪ'mu:v(ə)l væn/ noun a van which takes your furniture from one house to another ① remove /rɪ'mu:v/ verb to take something away ○ You can remove his name from the mailing list. ○ The waitress removed the dirty plates and brought us some tea.

removed /rɪ'mu:vd/ adj 1. distant from or different from 2. not closely related remover /rɪ'mu:və/ noun 1. a person who moves furniture from one house to another ○ We're moving house tomorrow – the removers will be here at 7.30 am. 2. a thing which removes remunerate /rɪ'mju:nəreɪt/ verb to pay someone for their work remuneration /rɪ'mju:nə'reɪʃ(ə)n/ noun payment for services done

③ renaissance /rɪ'neɪs(ə)ns/ noun a rebirth or a starting again ○ British cinema has undergone a renaissance in recent years.

Renaissance /rɪ'neɪs(ə)ns/ noun a period in late medieval Europe when a renewal of interest in the Greek and Roman civilisations led to a new artistic and intellectual movement renal /rɪ:n(ə)l/ adj referring to the kidneys rename /rɪ:'neɪm/ verb to give something a new name rend /rend/ verb to tear something to pieces

(literary) Antonym mend (NOTE: rending – rent)

③ render /'rendə/ verb 1. □ to render an account to send in an account or a statement of account ○ as per account rendered 2. to translate something ○ The text was badly rendered in Italian. 3. to provide help ○ services rendered to the country 4. □ to render down to melt solid meat fat by heating to produce pure fat 5. to cover a wall with a coating of plaster or cement 6. to make someone or something change into a particular state ○ She was rendered speechless by their letter. ○ The experts rendered the bomb safe.

rendering /'rend(ə)rɪŋ/ noun 1. a performance of a song, etc. ○ She was famous for her rendering of the popular wartime song. ○ The choir's rendering of the Beethoven Mass was criticised. 2. a mixture of cement and fine sand used to cover the outside of a house ○ The rendering is beginning to flake off and needs redoing.

rendezvous /rəndəvju:/ noun an appointment or meeting; a place where a meeting takes place ○ He arranged a rendezvous with her. ■ verb to arrange to meet, or to meet someone ○ You go north, and we'll go west and we'll all rendezvous at the camp at 16.00. (NOTE: rendezvoused /rəndəvju:d/) rendition /ren'dɪʃ(ə)n/ noun a performance of a song, etc.

renegade /'renɪgēd/ noun a person who leaves a religion, group or party and joins another. Antonym loyalist renege /rɪ'neɪg, rɪ'ni:g/ verb □ to renege on not to do something which you had promised to do (formal) ○ He reneged on his promise to pay half the costs. ○ I was furious when he reneged on the deal.

renew /rɪ'nju:/ verb 1. to start something again ○ Renew your efforts and don't lose hope. 2. to replace something old with something new ○ We need to renew the wiring in the kitchen. 3. to continue something for a further period of time ○ Don't forget to renew your insurance policy. □ to renew a subscription to pay a subscription for another year ○ I don't think I'll renew my subscription to the magazine.

renewable /rɪ'nju:ab(ə)l/ adj 1. which can be renewed ○ The season ticket is renewable for a further year. 2. which can be replaced, which can renew itself ○ renewable sources of energy such as solar power, and power from wind or water renewal /rɪ'nju:əl/ noun the act of renewing □ the subscription is up for renewal the subscription needs to be renewed renewed /rɪ'nju:d/ adj continuing with new energy, strength or enthusiasm renounce /rɪ'naʊns/ verb 1. to give up a right or a claim ○ She renounced her claim to the property. 2. to state publicly that you are going to stop believing in something or are not going to behave in a certain way ○ The government has renounced the use of force in dealing with international terrorists. ○ They called on the extremists to renounce violence.

renovate /renə'veɪt/ verb to make a building like new again. Antonym wear out renovation /,renə'veɪʃ(ə)n/ noun making a building like new again renown /rɪ'naʊn/ noun being famous. Synonym fame. Antonym obscenity renowned /rɪ'naʊnd/ adj 1. very famous ○ the renowned Italian conductor ○ Rome is renowned as the centre of Catholicism. 2. □ renowned for famous for something ○ She's renowned for being late. ○ a shop renowned for the quality of its products

② rent /rent/ noun 1. money paid to live in a flat or house or to use an office or car ○ Rents are high in the centre of the town. ○ The landlord asked me to pay three months' rent in advance. 2. a tear or hole in material ■ verb 1. to pay money to use a house, flat, office or car ○ He rents an office in the centre of town. ○ He rented a villa by the beach for three weeks. 2. □ to rent out to let someone use a house, office, flat, etc., for money ○ We rented (out) one floor of our building to an American company.

rental /'rent(ə)l/ noun rent, money paid to use a room, flat, office, car, etc.

renunciation /ri'nʌnsi'eiʃ(ə)n/ noun the giving up, especially of a claim (formal) reopen /ri:'əpən/ verb 1. to open again ○ The shop will reopen next week after a refit. 2. (of the police) to start to investigate a case again ○ The case has been reopened because a new witness has come forward.

reorganisation /ri:ɔ:gənai'zeiʃ(ə)n/, reorganization noun the act of reorganising. Synonym reform

reorganise /ri:'ɔ:gənaɪz/, reorganize verb to organise something in a new way. Synonym regroup

③ rep /rep/ noun 1. a salesman who visits clients, trying to sell them something ○ They have vacancies for reps in the north of the country. ○ We have a reps' meeting every three months. Also called representative 2. a theatre with a permanent group of actors who play a series of plays, changing them at regular intervals ○ The local rep is doing 'Henry V' this week. Also called repertory theatre

④ repair /ri'peə/ noun 1. mending something which is broken or has been damaged ○ His car is in the garage for repair. ○ The hotel is closed while they are carrying out repairs to the air-conditioning system. 2. □ to be in a good state of repair or in good repair to be in good condition ○ This car is still in a very good state of repair, I won't change it yet. ■ verb to mend something, to make something work which is broken or damaged ○ I dropped my watch on the pavement, and I don't think it can be repaired. ○ She's trying to repair the washing machine. ○ The photocopier is being repaired. Synonym mend. Antonym damage repairer /ri'peər/ noun a person who mends things repair shop /ri'peə ſhop/ noun a small factory where machines are repaired reparation /,repə'reiʃ(ə)n/ noun something which makes up for a wrong reparations /,repə'reiʃ(ə)nз/ plural noun money paid by a defeated enemy after a war to make up for destruction caused and wrongs committed repast /ri'pa:st/ noun a meal (literary) repatriate /ri:'pætriet/ verb to bring or to send someone back to their home country repatriation /ri:; pætri'eɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the action of repatriating repay /ri'peɪ/ verb 1. to pay back ○ I'll try to repay what I owe you next month. ○ Thank you for your help – I hope to be able to repay you one day. □ he repaid me in full he paid me back all the money he owed me 2. to be worth □ it will repay close scrutiny it would be worth looking at it carefully repayment /ri'peɪmənt/ noun paying back □ mortgage repayments the instalments paid back on a mortgage ○ He fell behind with his mortgage repayments. ○ My mortgage repayments have increased this month.

repeal /ri'pi:l/ noun officially ending a law, so that it is no longer valid ○ MPs are pressing for the repeal of the Immigration Act. ■ verb to end a law officially ○ The Bill seeks to repeal the existing legislation. Synonym cancelling. Antonym enact

② repeat /ri'pi:t/ verb to say something again ○ Could you repeat what you just said? ○ He repeated the address so that the policeman could write it down. ○ She kept on repeating that she wanted to go home. □ to repeat yourself to say the same thing over and over again ○ He's getting old – he keeps repeating himself. ■ adj □ repeat performance a performance which is done a second time ○ The play is being performed on Friday, and there will be a repeat performance on Saturday. ■ noun a TV or radio show which is broadcast again repeated /ri'pi:tɪd/ adj happening again and again

repeatedly /ri'pi:tɪdli/ adv again and again

repel /ri'pel/ verb 1. to drive back an attack ○ The army easily repelled the invaders. 2. to drive something away ○ The paint has an ingredient that repels water. ○ She sprayed the kitchen with a spray to repel flies. 3. to be so unpleasant that it drives people away ○ The taste repelled me so much that I could not finish my meal. (NOTE: repelling – repelled) repellent /ri'pelənt/ adj which drives people away, which repels (formal) ○ The colour of the bathroom is really repellent. ○ the repellent smell coming from the drains. Synonym disgusting. Antonym delightful repent /ri'pent/ verb to be very sorry for what you have done, or for what you have not done. Synonym regret repentance /ri'pentəns/ noun a great regret for something you have done repentant /ri'pentənt/ adj full of regret for what you have done. Synonym regretful. Antonym unrepentant repercussions /,ri:pə'kʌʃ(ə)nз/ plural noun a result or effect, usually unpleasant ○ The government decision on pensions will have widespread repercussions. ○ The BBC is trying to deal with the repercussions of the critical programme on India.

③ repertoire /'repɔ:twa:/ noun 1. the plays, songs or pieces of music which someone has learned ○ She has an extensive repertoire, covering most of the important soprano roles. 2. the works, such as plays or operas, which a theatre company has ready for performance ○ We have added two plays by Noel Coward to our repertoire. 3. the total number of things which a person can do ○ Our little daughter has added lying on the floor and screaming to her repertoire of things to annoy her parents.

repertory theatre /'repɔ:t(ə)ri ,θɪətə/ noun a theatre with a permanent group of actors who play a series of plays, changing them at regular intervals

③ repetition /,repɪ'tɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. the act of repeating, of saying the same thing again ○ The constant repetition of the song made sure we all knew it by heart. 2. a thing which is repeated ○ She simply gave a repetition of the arguments she had used at the previous meeting. ○ The police will try to prevent a repetition of the ugly scenes at the football ground.

repetitive /ri'petɪtɪv/ adj which is repeated very frequently and is boring repetitive strain injury /ri'petɪtɪv 'streɪn ,ɪndʒəri/ noun a pain in the arm felt by someone who performs the same movement many times, such as when operating a computer terminal or playing a musical instrument. Abbr RSI

rephrase /ri:'freɪz/ verb to say something again, but in a different way. Synonym restate

① replace /ri'pleɪs/ verb 1. to put something back where it was before ○ Please replace the books correctly on the shelves. 2. □ to replace something with something else to put something in the place of something else ○ We are replacing all our permanent staff with freelancers. ○ The washing machine needs replacing.

replaceable /ri'pleɪsəb(ə)l/ adj which can be replaced (NOTE: not replaceable means the same as irreplaceable)

③ replacement /ri'pleɪsment/ noun 1. replacing something with something else ○ The mechanics recommended the replacement of the hand pump with an electric model. ○ The republican movement would like to see the replacement of the king by a president. 2. a thing which is used to replace something ○ An electric motor was bought as a replacement for the old one. □ replacement parts spare parts of an engine used to replace parts which have worn out 3. a person who replaces someone ○ My assistant leaves us next week, so we are advertising for a replacement.

replay noun /'ri:pleɪ/ a match which is played again because the first match was a draw ○ They drew 2–2 so there will be a replay next week. ■ verb /ri:'pleɪ/ to play something again ○ He replayed the message on the answerphone several times, but still couldn't understand it. ○ The match will be replayed next week.

replenish /ri'pleniʃ/ verb to fill something up again. Synonym replace. Antonym deplete replete /ri'pli:t/ adj completely full replica /'repɪkə/ noun an exact copy. Antonym original replicate /'replɪkeɪt/ verb to copy something exactly. Synonym duplicate

② reply /ri'plaɪ/ noun 1. an answer ○ I asked him what he was doing but got no reply. ○ We wrote last week, but haven't had a reply yet. ○ Send a stamped addressed envelope for a reply. ○ We had six replies to our advertisement. 2. □ in reply as an answer ○ In reply to my letter, I received a fax two days later. ○ She just shook her head in reply and turned away. ■ verb to answer something ○ He never replies to my letters. ○ We wrote last week, but he hasn't replied yet. ○ He refused to reply to questions until his lawyer arrived.

① report /ri'pɔ:t/ noun 1. a description of what has happened or what will happen ○ We read the reports of the accident in the newspaper. ○ Can you confirm the report that the council is planning to sell the old town hall?

2. a loud noise made by a gun, etc. ■ verb 1. to tell someone what happened; to write a description of what happened ○ You must report the burglary to the police. ○ She reported that her wallet had been stolen from her bedroom. ○ The British press reported a plane crash in Africa. ○ She reported seeing the missing man in her shop. □ to report back to send a report back to the office or to someone in charge on what has happened ○ You must report back as soon as you find out what happened. ○ Go and visit our suppliers and report back to me on the situation. 2. to present yourself officially ○ to report for work ○ Candidates should report to the office at 9.00. 3. □ to report to someone to be responsible to someone, to be under someone ○ She reports directly to the managing director himself.

reportedly /rɪ'pɔ:tɪdli/ adv according to what has been reported. Synonym allegedly. Antonym actually reported speech /rɪ'pɔ:tɪd 'spi:tʃ/ noun same as indirect speech

③ reporter /rɪ'pɔ:tə/ noun a journalist who writes reports of events for a newspaper or for a TV news programme

③ reporting /rɪ'pɔ:tɪŋ/ noun the action of making a report of something in the press

repose /rɪ'pəʊz/ noun a calm and relaxed state (formal) ○ a state of repose ■ verb 1. to rest 2. to believe that you can depend on someone or something (formal) ○ I don't repose much confidence in his ability to solve the problem.

repository /rɪ'pɒzɪt(ə)rɪ/ noun a person or book which is a store of information, etc. ○ The old man is an invaluable repository of information and stories about Alaska during the Gold Rush. (NOTE: The plural is repositories.)

repossess /rɪ:pə'zes/ verb to take back an item which someone is buying under a hire-purchase agreement, or a house which someone is buying under a mortgage agreement, because the purchaser cannot continue the payments repossession /rɪ:pə'zeʃ(ə)n/ noun the action of repossessing reprehensible /rɪ'pri:hensib(ə)l/ adj which can be criticised. Synonym disgraceful. Antonym praiseworthy

① represent /rɪ'prɪ:zənt/ verb 1. to speak or act on behalf of someone or of a group of people ○ He asked his solicitor to represent him at the meeting. 2. to work for a company, showing goods or services to possible buyers ○ He represents an American car firm in Europe. 3. to indicate or to be a symbol of ○ The dark green on the map represents woods.

② representation /rɪ'prɪzən'teɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. the act of selling goods for a company ○ We can provide representation throughout Europe. 2. having someone to act on your behalf ○ The residents' association wants representation on the committee. 3. a way of showing something ○ The design on the Lebanese flag is a representation of a cedar tree.

representations /rɪ'prɪzən'teɪʃ(ə)nz/ plural noun complaints or protests

② representative /rɪ'prɪ:zəntətɪv/ adj typical ○ The sample isn't representative of the whole batch. ■ noun 1. a person who represents someone, who speaks on behalf of someone else ○ He asked his solicitor to act as his representative. ○ Representatives of the workforce have asked to meet the management. 2. a travelling salesman ○ They have vacancies for representatives in the north of the country. (NOTE: often called simply a rep) 3. □ the House of Representatives (in the United States) the lower house of Congress repress /rɪ'presa/ verb 1. to control a natural impulse ○ She had difficulty in repressing a smile. 2. to restrict people's freedom, etc. ○ The ordinary people have been repressed for so long that they do not know what it is to be free.

repressed /rɪ'prest/ adj suppressed repression /rɪ'preʃ(ə)n/ noun the use of force to keep people under control. Synonym suppression repressive /rɪ'presɪv/ adj severe, strict or using force to keep people under control

rerieve /rɪ'pri:v/ noun 1. temporarily stopping a sentence or order by a court ○ He was granted a last-minute reprieve. 2. saving something which was planned for demolition ○ This magnificent building was to be demolished, but the reprieve came just in time to save it. ■ verb 1. to stop a sentence or court order from being carried out ○ The ringleaders of the coup were sentenced to death and then reprieved. 2. to save something which was planned for demolition ○ The old church has been reprieved and will be converted into an arts centre.

reprimand /'reprɪma:nd/ noun a sharp criticism for doing something wrong ○ She received a severe reprimand and lost two weeks' pay. Synonym rebuke ■ verb to criticise someone severely for doing something wrong ○ The report reprimanded the directors for their negligence. Synonym chastise. Antonym praise reprint noun /rɪ:print/ 1. the printing of copies of a book again after a first printing ○ The mistake on the title page will be corrected in the reprint. 2. the reprinting of an out-of-print book, or of a very old book, now out of copyright ○ This is a facsimile reprint of a 17th-century copy of Shakespeare's plays. ■ verb /rɪ:print/ to print more copies of a document or book ○ The book is being reprinted. Synonym reissue reprisal /rɪ'praɪz(ə)l/ noun the punishment of someone in revenge for something. Synonym retaliation reprise /rɪ'pri:z/ noun playing a section or a theme from a piece of music again reproach /rɪ'prəutʃ/ noun 1. a thing which is a disgrace ○ The dirty state of the station is a constant reproach to the railway company. 2. blame, criticism ○ He took her comments as a reproach and was very upset. □ beyond reproach blameless □ term of reproach a term which criticises ■ verb □ to reproach someone for or with something to criticise someone for something or for having done something ○ He was reproached for his slowness in answering. ○ He reproached her with spending too much time on the telephone. □ to reproach yourself with something to criticise yourself for having done something ○ You behaved perfectly, you have absolutely nothing to reproach yourself with.

reprocess /ri:'prəʊses/ verb to process something again reprocessing /ri:'prəʊsesɪŋ/ noun the action of processing again

reproduce /ri:prə'dju:z/ verb 1. to copy something ○ His letters have been reproduced in the biography. ○ It is very difficult to reproduce the sound of an owl accurately. 2. to produce young ○ Some animals will not reproduce when in captivity.

③ reproduction /,ri:prə'dʌkʃən/ noun 1. a copy of a painting or other work of art 2. the action of reproducing □ the reproduction is bad on this CD the quality of the sound is bad on this CD 3. the production of young ○ The rate of reproduction of mice is incredible.

reproductive /,ri:prə'dʌktɪv/ adj referring to reproduction reproof /ri'pru:f/ noun blame or criticism. Antonym compliment reprove /ri'pru:v/ verb to criticise someone for doing something wrong. Synonym criticise. Antonym praise reptile /'reptail/ noun a cold-blooded animal with a skin covered with scales, which lays eggs reptilian /rep'tiliən/ adj like a reptile. Synonym cold-blooded ② republic /ri'pʌblɪk/ noun a system of government by elected representatives headed by an elected or nominated president ○ France is a republic while Spain is a monarchy.

republican /ri'pʌblɪkən/ adj referring to a republic ○ The republican movement would like to see the abolition of the monarchy. ■ noun a person who believes that a republic is the best form of government ○ Some republicans made speeches against the emperor.

③ Republican /ri'pʌblɪkən/ US adj referring to the Republican Party, one of the two main political parties in the USA ■ noun a member of the Republican Party, one of the two main political parties in the USA repudiate /ri'pju:dieɪt/ verb to reject or to refuse to accept something repudiation /ri,pju:di'eɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the action of repudiating repugnant /ri'pʌgnənt/ adj very unpleasant, offensive or unacceptable. Synonym repellent, revolting repulse /ri'pʌls/ verb to push back someone who is attacking repulsion /ri'pʌlʃən/ noun 1. a feeling of dislike ○ He looked at the plate of snails with repulsion. 2. (in physics) the act of pushing something away ○ Magnetic repulsion can be demonstrated by trying to join the negative ends of two magnets. Antonym attraction repulsive /ri'pʌlsɪv/ adj unpleasant, which makes you disgusted. Synonym disgusting reputable /'repjʊtəb(ə)l/ adj well thought of, with a good reputation. Antonym disreputable

③ reputation /,repju'teɪʃ(ə)n/ noun an opinion that people have of someone ○ He has a reputation for being difficult to deal with. ○ The cook has a reputation for often losing his temper. ○ His bad reputation won't help him find a suitable job.

repute /ri'pjue:t/ noun a reputation or general opinion (formal) □ I only know her by repute I have never met her, but I have heard or read about her reputed /ri'pjue:tɪd/ adj supposed, said to be. Antonym actual

② request /ri'kwest/ noun asking for something ○ Your request will be dealt with as soon as possible. □ on request if asked for ○ 'Catalogue available on request' ■ verb to ask for something politely ○ I am enclosing the leaflets you requested. ○ Guests are requested to leave their keys at reception. Antonym demand request stop /ri'kwest stop/ noun a bus stop where buses stop only if you signal to them requiem /'rekwiəm/ verb music written for a requiem mass ○ They played Verdi's Requiem at the concert.

Requiem Mass /,rekwiəm 'mæs/ noun a mass for all dead people, or for someone who has died recently

① require /ri'kwaɪə/ verb 1. to demand that someone should do something ○ We were required to go to the local police station. ○ You are required to fill in the forms in triplicate. 2. to need something ○ The disease requires careful nursing. ○ Writing the program requires a computer specialist.

② requirement /ri'kwaɪəmənt/ noun what is necessary ○ It is a requirement of the job that you should be able to drive.

requirements /ri'kwaɪəmənts/ plural noun things which are needed requisite /rekwɪzɪt/ adj necessary (formal) ○ Does he have the requisite government permits? ○ We need someone with the requisite skills to run the bar. Antonym optional ■ noun a thing which is necessary ○ Patience is a requisite for a happy marriage.

re-release /,ri: ri'lɪs/ verb to make a music recording or a film available again some time after it first came out re-route /ri: 'ru:t/ verb to send people or vehicles along a route which is different from the usual one rerun noun /'ri:rʌn/ 1. the second showing of a programme or film on TV ○ During the summer all the TV channels show reruns of old sitcoms. 2. a thing which happens again ○ We want to avoid a rerun of the trouble we had at the last meeting. ■ verb /ri:'rʌn/ to show a TV programme again ○ They seem to fill in their schedules by rerunning old Westerns. Synonym replay (NOTE: rerunning – reran – rerun) resale /'ri:seil/ noun the act of selling of something again

reschedule /ri:'sedʒu:l/ verb 1. to arrange an appointment again for a later time ○ My plane was delayed by fog, so I had to reschedule all my meetings. 2. □ to reschedule debts to arrange new repayment terms for debts ○ Some Third World countries have asked for their debts to be rescheduled.

rescind /ri'sind/ verb □ to rescind a contract or an agreement to annul or to cancel a contract or agreement ○ The committee rescinded its earlier resolution on the use of council premises. ○ Both parties agreed that the contract should not be rescinded without the agreement of the tenants.

rescue /'reskju:/ noun the action of saving ○ Mountain rescue requires well-trained people. ○ No one could swim well enough to go to her rescue. Antonym capture □ rescue party, rescue team or squad a group of people who are going to save someone ○ Rescue parties were sent out immediately after the avalanche. ■ verb to save someone from a dangerous situation ○ The lifeboat rescued the crew of the sinking ship. ○ The company nearly collapsed, but was rescued by the bank. ○ When the river flooded, the party of tourists had to be rescued by helicopter.

rescuer /'reskju:ə/ noun a person who rescues or tries to rescue someone. Antonym captor

① research /ri'sɜ:tʃ/ noun scientific study, which tries to find out facts ○ The company is carrying out research to find a cure for colds. ○ The research laboratory has come up with encouraging results. ○ Our researches proved that the letter was a forgery.

■ verb to study something, to try to find out facts ○ Research your subject thoroughly before you start writing about it. Synonym investigate researcher /ri'sɜ:tʃə/ noun a person who carries out research. Synonym investigator

③ resemblance /ri'zembəns/ noun the fact of looking like someone. Synonym similarity. Antonym difference

③ resemble /ri'zembəl/ verb to look like someone or something. Antonym differ resent /ri'zent/ verb to feel annoyed because of a real or imaginary hurt. Synonym begrieve resentful /ri'zentf(ə)l/ adj feeling anger or bitterness about something someone has done. Synonym angry resentment /ri'zentmənt/ noun anger or bitterness felt about something someone has done

③ reservation /,rezə'veɪʃn(ə)n/ noun 1. the act of booking something, e.g. a seat or table ○ I want to make a reservation on the train to Plymouth tomorrow evening. □ (room) reservations the department in a hotel which deals with bookings for rooms ○ Can you put me through to reservations? 2. doubt ○ I have no reservations whatsoever that I have made the right decision. ○ If you have any reservations about the contract, please let me know as soon as possible. 3. an area kept separate from other areas

③ reserve /ri'zɜ:v/ noun 1. an amount kept back in case it is needed in the future ○ Our reserves of coal were used up during the winter. □ in reserve waiting to be used ○ We're keeping the can of petrol in reserve. 2. (in sport) an extra player who can play if someone drops out of the team ○ One of the players was hurt so a reserve was called up. 3. the fact of being shy or of not being open about your feelings ○ He had to break down her reserve before he could get her to talk about her illness. ■ verb 1. to book a seat or a table ○ I want to reserve a table for four people. ○ Have you reserved? – If not, we have only two tables free. ○ Can you reserve two seats for me for the evening performance? 2. to keep something back for a special use, or to use later ○ Don't read this book now, reserve it for your holidays. ○ I'm reserving my right to change my mind. 3. □ to reserve judgment not to make up your mind about something until later ○ I'll reserve judgment until I've heard all the facts.

③ reserved /ri'zɜ:vd/ adj 1. booked ○ There are two reserved tables and one free one. ○ Is this seat reserved? 2. who does not reveal his or her thoughts and feelings ○ Clare is very reserved and doesn't talk much. ○ He's a very reserved man and does not mix with other members of staff.

reserves /ri'zɜ:vz/ plural noun 1. (in sport) a second football team made up of reserve players ○ He's playing in the reserves today. 2. soldiers who can be called on to go to war if they are needed reservist /ri'zɜ:vɪst/ noun a part-time soldier who is a member of the army reserves reservoir /'rezəvwa:/ noun 1. a large, usually artificial, lake where drinking water is kept for pumping to a city ○ There has been very little rain this year and the reservoirs are only half full. 2. a large collection of something kept ready ○ There is a huge reservoir of skilled labour waiting to be tapped.

reset /ri:'set/ verb to set something again ○ The local time is 12.15: please reset your watches. ○ His broken leg was set badly, and the doctors had to reset it.

resettle /ri:'set(ə)l/ verb to settle someone in another place. Synonym relocate resettlement /ri:'set(ə)lmənt/ noun an arrangement to settle someone in a new place. Synonym relocation reshape /ri:'seɪp/ verb to shape something again, to give something a different shape. Synonym redesign reshuffle /ri:'ʃaf(ə)l/ noun the act of changing positions, especially those of cabinet ministers ○ In the reshuffle, he was appointed Secretary of State for Education. Synonym reorganisation ■ verb 1. to shuffle cards again ○ He shuffled and reshuffled and then finally started to deal. 2. to change the positions of cabinet ministers ○ The President is expected to reshuffle his Cabinet soon.

reside /ri'zaɪd/ verb to live somewhere (formal)

③ residence /'rezɪd(ə)ns/ noun 1. a large house ○ They have a country residence where they spend their weekends. 2. the act of living in a place □ in residence living in a place ○ When the Queen is in residence, the royal flag flies over Buckingham Palace. □ artist or writer in residence an artist or writer who lives and works in a place, such as a university, for a time ○ She spent six months as artist in residence at Newcastle University.

residency /'rezɪd(ə)nsi/ noun the fact of being legally entitled to live in a country

② resident /'rezɪd(ə)nt/ adj who lives permanently in a place ○ There is a resident caretaker. ■ noun a person who lives in a place, e.g. a country or a hotel ○ You need an entry permit if you're not a resident of the country. ○ Only residents are allowed to park their cars here. Synonym occupant residual /ri'zidjuəl/ adj remaining after everything else has gone residue /'rezɪdjʊə/ noun 1. what is left of an estate after debts and bequests have been made ○ After paying various bequests the residue of his estate was split between his children. 2. what is left after a process has taken place ○ After the sugar has been refined the residue is used for cattle feed.

③ resign /ri'zɪn/ verb 1. to give up a job ○ He resigned with effect from July 1st. ○ She has resigned (her position) as finance director. 2. □ to resign yourself to something to accept something ○ I have to resign myself to never being rich. ○ He was still 20 metres behind his rival and resigned himself to coming in second.

③ resignation /,rezɪg'nейʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. the act of giving up a job ○ His resignation was accepted by the Prime Minister. ○ Have you written your letter of resignation? □ to tender or hand in your resignation to resign 2. accepting an unpleasant or unwanted situation ○ He looked at his exam results with resignation.

③ resigned /ri'zaind/ adj accepting something unpleasant. Antonym resistant □ resigned to something accepting that something unpleasant will happen ○ I'm resigned to living by myself for the rest of my life.

resignedly /ri'zaindli/ adv accepting something unpleasant without complaining resilient /ri'zilient/ adj 1. which easily returns to its original shape after being squashed ○ Cork is a surprisingly resilient material. 2. (of a person) who is strong or able to recover easily from a shock ○ She is a very resilient person, in spite of her age, and has gone back home from hospital to look after herself.

resin /'rezɪn/ noun 1. a sticky oil which comes from some types of pine tree ○ Amber is a yellow stone which is fossilised resin. 2. a solid or liquid organic compound, a polymer used in the making of plastic ○ He made some interesting table decorations with gold coins in blocks of transparent resin.

resinous /'rezɪnəs/ adj referring to resin

③ resist /ri'zɪst/ verb to fight against something, not to give in to something ○ He resisted all attempts to make him sell the house. ○ Bands of guerrillas resisted doggedly in the mountains. ○ They resisted the enemy attacks for two weeks.

② resistance /ri'zɪst(ə)ns/ noun 1. opposition to or fighting against something ○ Bands of guerrillas put up a dogged resistance in the mountains. ○ The refugees had no resistance to disease. ○ Skiers crouch down low to minimise wind resistance. ○ There was a lot of resistance to the new plan from the local residents. □ to take the line of least resistance to do the easiest thing 2. (in physics) a measure of the fall in voltage across a component with a current flowing through it ○ An electronic component that provides a known resistance is called a resistor.

resistant /ri'zɪst(ə)nt/ adj which resists something resistor /ri'zɪstə/ noun an electronic component that provides a known resistance resit /ri:'sɪt/ verb to take an examination again after having failed resolute /'rezəlju:t/ adj determined, having made up your mind. Synonym firm. Antonym irresolute

③ resolution /,rezə'lu:ʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. a decision to be taken at a meeting □ to put a resolution to a meeting to ask a meeting to vote on a proposal ○ The meeting passed or carried or adopted the resolution. ○ The meeting rejected the resolution or the resolution was defeated by ten votes to twenty. 2. the fact of being determined to do something ○ Her resolution to succeed is so strong that I am sure she will get through. 3. (of a TV or computer image) the clearness of a picture on a screen, calculated as the number of pixels per unit of area

③ resolve /rɪ'zɒlv/ noun determination, what you have firmly decided to do ○ The head teacher encouraged him in his resolve to go to university. Antonym indecision □ verb to firmly decide to do something ○ We all resolved to work harder.

resolved /rɪ'zɒlvd/ adj determined, having made up your mind. Antonym undecided resonance /'rez(ə)nəns/ noun a deep loud ringing tone resonant /'rez(ə)nənt/ adj 1. which sounds, rings or echoes loudly ○ He spoke in a deep resonant voice. 2. □ resonant with something full of something ○ The house is resonant with memories of our childhood.

resonate /'rezəneɪt/ verb to sound or ring out loudly. Synonym reverberate

③ resort /rɪ'zɔ:t/ noun 1. a place where people go on holiday ○ a famous Swiss ski resort ○ Crowds have been flocking to the resorts on the south coast. 2. □ as a or in the last resort when everything else fails ○ Having tried everything without success, he accepted her offer as a last resort. □ verb □ to resort to to use something in a difficult situation, when everything else has failed ○ In the end the police had to resort to using tear gas.

resounding /rɪ'zaʊndɪŋ/ adj 1. great or complete ○ The exhibition was a resounding success. 2. loud ○ a resounding bang

① resource /rɪ'zɔ:s/ noun 1. a source of supply for what is needed or used ○ financial resources ○ We have enough resources – financial or otherwise – to build a prototype rocket. 2. □ left to your own resources left to look after yourself ○ Their parents were away and the children were left to their own resources.

resourceful /rɪ'zɔ:sf(ə)l/ adj good at looking after yourself or at dealing with problems. Synonym ingenious

① respect /rɪ'spekt/ noun 1. admiration or regard for someone ○ He showed very little respect for his teacher. ○ No one deserves more respect than her mother. □ to command respect to be admired ○ Her TV docu- mentaries command respect. 2. □ with respect to something concerning something ○ I have nothing to say with respect to the new treatment. □ in some respects in some ways ○ In some respects, she doesn't act like a mature person. □ verb 1. to admire or honour someone or something ○ Everyone respected her decision to emigrate. 2. to show you care about something ○ Logging companies have been accused of not respecting the environment. 3. to do what is required by something ○ The landlord has not respected the terms of the contract.

respectability /rɪ'spektə'biliti/ noun the fact of being respectable. Synonym decency respectable /rɪ'spektəb(ə)l/ adj 1. considered by people to be good, proper and worthy of respect ○ She's marrying a very respectable young engineer. ○ I don't want to bring up my children here, it is not a respectable area. 2. fairly large ○ He made quite a respectable score.

respectably /rɪ'spektəbli/ adv properly

③ respected /rɪ'spektɪd/ adj admired by many people respectful /rɪ'spektf(ə)l/ adj full of respect. Antonym disrespectful respective /rɪ'spektɪv/ adj referring separately to each of the people just mentioned. Synonym own

③ respectively /rɪ'spektɪvlɪ/ adv in the order just mentioned respects /rɪ'spekteɪs/ plural noun polite good wishes respirator /rɪ'spəreɪtə/ noun a machine which is used in hospital to help patients to breathe when they cannot breathe by themselves respiratory /rɪ'spirət(ə)rɪ/ adj referring to breathing

respite /'respaɪt/ noun 1. a rest, a period when things are slightly better ○ The ceasefire provided a brief respite from the fighting. ○ There was no respite from the bitter cold. 2. □ without respite without stopping ○ Rescue teams worked without respite for three days in their search for survivors.

resplendent /rɪ'splendənt/ adj very splendid

② respond /rɪ'spɒnd/ verb 1. to give a reply ○ She shouted at him, but he didn't respond. 2. to show a reaction to something ○ I hope the public will respond to our new advertisement. ○ The government has responded to pressure from industry. □ to respond to treatment to begin to get better respondent /rɪ'spɒndənt/ noun 1. a person who answers a questionnaire ○ The majority of respondents ticked this box. 2. a person who answers a case in court, especially someone who is being sued for divorce ○ She was the respondent in the divorce case.

 ① response /rɪ'spɒns/ noun 1. an answer
 ○ There was no response to our call for help.
 □ in response to something as an answer to something ○ In response to the United Nations' request for aid, the government has sent blankets and tents. 2. an answer given by the congregation in church
 ○ The litany is a series of prayers with repeated responses.

responsibilities /rɪ'spɒnsɪ'bɪlɪtɪz/ plural noun duties

① responsibility /rɪ'spɒnsɪ'bɪlɪti/ noun
 1. the fact of being in a position in which you look after or deal with something
 ○ The management accepts no responsibility for customers' property. ○ There is no responsibility on his part for the poor results. ○ Who should take responsibility for the students' welfare? □ to take on a lot of responsibility to agree to be responsible for many things □ to have a position of responsibility to have a job in which important decisions have to be taken
 2. a thing which you are responsible for ① responsible /rɪ'spɒnsɪb(ə)l/ adj 1. □ responsible for something causing something
 ○ The fog was responsible for the accident. 2. looking after something, and so open to blame if it gets lost or damaged
 ○ He is not responsible for the restaurant next door to his hotel. ○ We hold customers responsible for all breakages. 3. □ responsible to someone being under the authority of someone ○ She's directly responsible to the head nurse. 4. (of a person) trustworthy ○ You can rely on him, he's very responsible.

responsibly /rɪ'spɒnsɪbɪli/ adv in a responsible way responsive /rɪ'spɒnsɪv/ adj 1. showing sympathy or reacting favourably to something ○ The management was not very responsive to the demands of the staff. 2. reacting to something ○ The cat is very responsive to being stroked. ○ His flu seems to be responsive to antibiotics.

respray verb /rɪ'spreɪ/ to spray something again
 ○ He has had his car resprayed with metallic paint. ■ noun /rɪ:spreɪ/ the action of respraying something ○ The car has had a respray.

① rest /rest/ noun 1. a period of being quiet and peaceful, being asleep or doing nothing
 ○ All you need is a good night's rest and you'll be fine again tomorrow. ○ We took a few minutes' rest and started running again. ○ I'm having a well-earned rest after working hard all week. □ to set someone's mind at rest to calm someone who is worried
 2. not moving
 ○ The ball finally came to rest two inches from the hole. 3. what is left ○ Here are the twins, but where are the rest of the children? ○ I drank most of the milk and the cat drank the rest. ○ Throw the rest of the food away – it will go bad. (NOTE: Rest takes a singular verb when it refers to a singular: Here's the rest of the milk; Where's the rest of the string? The rest of the money has been lost. It takes a plural verb when it refers to a plural: Here are the rest of the children; Where are the rest of the chairs? The rest of the books have been lost.) 4. a thing which supports something ○ She pulled up a stool as a rest for her foot. ■ verb 1. to be quiet and peaceful ○ Don't disturb your father – he's resting. ○ They ran for ten miles, rested for a few minutes, and then ran on again. 2. to lean something against something

 ○ She rested her bike against the wall. 3. □ to let something rest to stop discussing something (formal)
 ○ After advice from our solicitor, we decided to let the matter rest. 4. to remain looking for a time ○ Her eyes or gaze rested briefly on the clock. 5. □ (you may) rest assured you can be sure restart /rɪ'sta:t/ verb to start something again restate /ri:ɪ'steɪt/ verb to state something again. Synonym repeat

② restaurant /'rest(ə)rɒnt/ noun a place where you can buy and eat a meal
 ○ I don't want to stay at home tonight – let's go out to the Italian restaurant in the High Street. ○ She was waiting for me at the restaurant.

restaurant car /'rest(ə)rɒnt ka:/ noun the part of a train where you can eat full meals as opposed to snacks. Compare buffet car restaurateur /,rest(ə)rə'tɔ:/ noun a person who runs a restaurant rested /'restɪd/ adj feeling calm and relaxed after a rest restful /'restf(ə)l/ adj which makes you feel calm and relaxed. Synonym soothing restitution /,restɪ'tju:f(ə)n/ noun compensation, paying someone back restive /'restɪv/ adj not quiet, disturbed and difficult to control restless /'restləs/ adj agitated; always moving about. Antonym relaxed restlessly /'restləsli/ adv in a restless way restlessness /'restləsnes/ noun the fact of being restless. Antonym calmness rest on /'rest ɒn/ verb to be dependent on something

③ restoration /,restə'reɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. the act of repairing something or making something look like new again
 ○ The old castle is in need of extensive restoration. 2. giving back
 ○ The restoration of stolen goods to their rightful owners is essential.

restorative /rɪ'stɔ:rətɪv/ noun, adj (medicine) which makes you feel healthy or more energetic

③ restore /rɪ'stɔ:/ verb 1. to repair something, to make something like new again ○ The old house has been restored and is now open to the public. 2. to give back ○ After the war the castle was not restored to its rightful owners. 3. to make something exist again ○ To everyone's delight, the management decided to restore the bonus system.

restorer /rɪ'stɔ:rə/ noun a person who restores something such as old paintings restrain /rɪ'streɪn/ verb to prevent or try to stop someone doing something □ to restrain yourself to keep your temper under control ○ Next time, I won't restrain myself: I'll tell him exactly what I think of him.

restrained /rɪ'streɪnd/ adj controlled or calm. Antonym demonstrative restraint /rɪ'streɪnt/ noun control □ with great restraint without losing your temper ○ He was furious, but managed to talk with great restraint. □ lack of restraint the fact of giving people too much freedom ○ The lack of restraint in the school doesn't go down well with the parents.

③ restrict /rɪ'strɪkt/ verb to limit someone or something ○ You are restricted to two bottles per person. ○ The government is trying to restrict the flow of foreign workers coming into the country. Antonym loosen

③ restricted /rɪ'strɪktɪd/ adj limited □ a restricted area 1. an area where cars must obey a speed limit 2. a place where only certain people are allowed

② restriction /rɪ'strɪkʃn/ noun a limitation. Synonym limit restrictive /rɪ'strɪktɪv/ adj which limits □ restrictive (trade) practices arrangements between companies, e.g. to fix prices or to share the market, and so cut out other businesses restroom /'restru:m/ noun especially US a toilet or lavatory

③ restructure /rɪ'strʌktʃn/ verb to reorganise something, especially the financial basis of a company rest with /'rest wið/ verb to be the responsibility of someone ○ The onus of proof rests with the prosecution.

① result /rɪ'zalt/ noun 1. something which happens because of something else ○ What was the result of the police investigation? □ as a result of something because of something ○ As a result of a traffic jam, she missed her plane. 2. the final score in a game, the final marks in an exam, etc. ○ She isn't pleased with her exam results. ○ I had great fun making the rug but I'm only partly happy with the result. ○ He listened to the football results on the radio. □ verb □ to result from something to happen because of something which has been done ○ The increase in the company's debts resulted from the expansion programme. □ to result in something to produce something as an effect ○ The doubling of the sales force resulted in increased sales.

resultant /rɪ'zalɪnt/ adj which happens as a result. Synonym subsequent resulting /rɪ'zalɪnɪŋ/ adj which results. Synonym subsequent resume /rɪ'zju:m/ verb 1. to start, or start something again after stopping ○ The meeting resumed after a short break. ○ Normal train services will resume after the track has been repaired. ○ After the fire, the staff resumed work as normal. 2. to go back to a place ○ Resume your places.

③ résumé /'rezju;meɪ/ noun 1. a short summing-up of the main points of a discussion or of a book ○ I can't attend the meeting, but I would like a résumé of the discussion. ○ A brief résumé of the contents of the book is all I need. 2. US a summary of a person's life story with details of education and work experience ○ Attach a résumé to your application form. (NOTE: The British term is curriculum vitae or CV.)

resumption /rɪ'zʌmpʃn/ noun the act of starting again □ we expect an early resumption of negotiations we expect negotiations will start again soon resurface /ri:sɜ:fsɪs/ verb 1. to put a new surface on a road ○ No one can park on our street because they are resurfacing it today. 2. to come back to the surface again or appear again ○ The bird dived into the water and resurfaced several minutes later in a different part of the river. ○ He disappeared for a time, then resurfaced as managing director of a TV company.

resurgence /ri:sɜ:dʒəns/ noun a reappearance, the act of rising again. Synonym revival. Antonym disappearance resurrect /,reɪz'ərek/ verb 1. to bring something back to use ○ He resurrected his old plan for rebuilding the town centre. 2. to start something up again resurrection /,reɪz'ərekʃn/ noun 1. the act of bringing a dead person back to life ○ Easter is an important Christian festival celebrating Christ's death and resurrection. 2. the act of coming back into existence ○ Last month saw the resurrection of the civil war in the country.

resuscitate /rɪ'sasɪteɪt/ verb to make someone who appears to be dead start breathing again, and to restart the circulation of blood resuscitation /rɪ'sasɪ'teɪʃn/ noun the action of resuscitating someone retail /'ri:teɪl/ noun the business of selling small quantities of goods direct to the public ○ We specialise in the retail of ordinary household goods. ○ The goods in stock have a retail value of £10,000. □ retail outlet or shop a shop which sells goods direct to the customer ○ He buys wholesale and then sells to various retail outlets. ■ verb 1. to sell goods direct to customers who do not sell them again □ to retail at or for a certain price to sell for a certain price ○ These glasses retail at £5.95 for two. 2. to pass on gossip ○ She immediately retailed the story to her friends. ■ adv □ to buy wholesale and sell retail to buy goods in bulk at a wholesale discount and sell them in small quantities to the public. Compare wholesale retailer /'ri:teɪlə/ noun a shopkeeper who sells goods directly to the public. Compare wholesaler retailing /'ri:teɪlin/ noun the business of selling goods at full price to the public retail park /'ri:teɪl pa:k/ noun a specially built area of shops outside a town retail price /'ri:teɪl ,prais/ noun a price at which the retailer sells to the final customer

Retail Price Index /'ri:teɪl 'prais ,ɪndeks/, Retail Prices Index /,ri:teɪl 'praisɪz ,ɪndeks/ noun an index which shows how prices of consumer goods have increased or decreased over a period of time. Abbr RPI

② retain /ri'teɪn/ verb 1. to keep something
 ○ Please retain this invoice for tax purposes.
 ○ One book especially retained my attention – so I bought it. ○ He managed to retain his composure in spite of being constantly heckled. 2. □ to retain a lawyer to act for you to agree with a lawyer that he will act for you, and to pay him or her a fee in advance retainer /ri'teɪnə/ noun 1. money paid in advance to someone so that he or she will work for you, and not for someone else ○ We pay him a retainer of £1,000. 2. an old servant ○ The old duke and duchess ate in their dining hall, surrounded by elderly retainers.

retaining wall /ri'tenɪŋ wɔ:l/ noun a wall which holds back earth or the water in a reservoir retake noun /'ri:teɪk/ the act of shooting a scene of a film again ○ After four retakes the director decided that it was good enough to be screened. ■ verb /ri:teɪk/ 1. to capture something again ○ The fighting lasted all day, and in the evening we retook the positions we had lost that morning. 2. to shoot a scene of a film again ○ The director wasn't pleased and we had to retake the whole scene. (NOTE: retaking – retook – has retaken) retaliate /ri'tæli,eɪt/ verb to attack someone in revenge. Synonym hit back. Antonym forgive retaliation /ri,tæli,eɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the act of attacking someone for something he or she has done to you. Synonym reprisal. Antonym forgiveness □ in retaliation for something as a punishment in revenge for something ○ The pub was bombed in retaliation for attacks by the other side. ○ Prices were lowered in retaliation for their competitor's new low prices. ○ He cancelled his subscription in retaliation for the newspaper's racist attitude.

retard /ri'ta:d/ verb to make things slow or keep something back. Synonym delay retarded /ri'ta:rd/ adj not having developed mentally as far as others of the same age (offensive dated) retch /retʃ/ verb to try to vomit without bringing up anything from the stomach retention /ri'tenʃən/ noun 1. the act of keeping something ○ The committee voted for the retention of the existing system. 2. the act of holding something back ○ We are proposing the retention of 10% of salary to cover potential damage to the stock.

retentive /ri'tentɪv/ adj □ to have a retentive memory to have a memory which retains things well rethink /ri:θɪŋk/ noun □ to have a rethink to think again about a problem (informal) ○ We had a rethink and have decided to accept their offer. ■ verb to think again about or reconsider something ○ We should rethink the whole plan now that the council has refused planning permission. (NOTE: rethinking – rethought /ri:'θɔ:tɪ/) (NOTE: rethinking – rethought /ri:'θɔ:tɪ/) reticence /'retɪs(ə)ns/ noun the fact of being unwilling to talk about something reticent /'retɪs(ə)nt/ adj not willing to talk about something. Antonym talkative retina /'retɪnə/ noun an inside layer of the eye, which is sensitive to light retinue /'retɪnju:/ noun a group of people following an important person. Synonym entourage

② retire /ri'taɪə/ verb 1. to stop work and take a pension ○ He will retire from his job as manager next April. ○ When he retired, the firm presented him with a watch. ○ She's retiring this year. 2. to make an employee stop work and take a pension ○ They decided to retire all staff over 50. 3. to come to the end of an elected term of office ○ The treasurer retires from the committee after six years. 4. □ to retire for the night to go to bed (literary) ○ It was two o'clock in the morning and all the hotel guests had retired to their bedrooms for the night.

② retired /rɪ'taɪəd/ adj who has stopped work and draws a pension. Antonym working

② retirement /rɪ'taɪəmənt/ noun 1. the act of retiring from work ○ He was given a watch as a retirement present. ○ He claims that the pension he'll get on his retirement won't be sufficient. □ to take early retirement to leave work before the usual age ○ I enjoy my work and I don't want to take early retirement. 2. a period of life when you are retired ○ He spent his retirement in his house in France. ○ Most people look forward to their retirement.

retirement age /rɪ'taɪəmənt eɪdʒ/ noun the age at which people stop working retiring /rɪ'taɪrɪŋ/ adj shy, quiet and reserved. Synonym reticent retort /rɪ'tɔ:t/ noun 1. a sharp reply ○ 'I can look after myself perfectly well' was her retort. 2. a glass bottle with a long thin neck which is bent, used for heating liquids and collecting condensed vapour ■ verb to reply sharply (literary) ○ She retorted that she had plenty of money and didn't want any gifts from him.

retrace /rɪ'treɪs/ verb to go back to the origins of something □ to retrace your steps to go back over the same path again ○ She thought she had lost her watch while shopping, so she retraced her steps from shop to shop.

retract /rɪ'trækt/ verb 1. to pull back ○ The landing gear retracted after take-off. 2. to withdraw something which has been said ○ He refuses to retract a single word of his statement.

retrain /rɪ:'treɪn/ verb 1. to train someone for a new job, or to do the same job in a more modern way ○ He has been sent to retrain on the new model 747s. ○ The staff are sent to be retrained in selling skills. 2. to learn new skills ○ He retrained as a house decorator.

retraining /rɪ:'treɪnɪŋ/ noun the process of giving new training to someone retread /rɪ:tred/ noun a tyre which has had its surface renewed retreat /rɪ't्रɪt/ noun 1. the act of pulling back an army from a battle ○ The army's retreat was swift and unexpected. □ in retreat going back from a battle □ in full retreat going back fast ○ The army is in full retreat. □ to beat a retreat to go backwards (informal) ○ He went into the ladies' toilet by mistake and had to beat a hasty retreat. 2. a quiet place ○ They spent the weekend at their retreat in the Scottish hills. 3. a time spent in rest and religious thought in a monastery ○ He went on a retreat. ■ verb 1. to pull back from a battle ○ Napoleon retreated from Moscow in 1812. 2. to go to a quiet place ○

Monks retreat from the outside world. ○ Our dog retreats to his basket if we shout at him.

retrial /rɪ:trɪəl/ noun a second trial of a case when the first trial was not conducted properly or no verdict was reached retribution /,retɪ'brju:s(ə)n/ noun a well-deserved punishment □ to exact retribution for something to carry out punishment for something ○ They are planning to exact retribution for the attacks on their villages.

retrievable /rɪ'tri:vəb(ə)l/ adj which can be retrieved retrieval /rɪ'tri:v(ə)l/ noun the act of getting something back retrieval system /rɪ'tri:v(ə)l ,sɪstəm/ noun a system which allows information to be retrieved ③ retrieve /rɪ'tri:v/ verb 1. to get back something which was lost ○ He retrieved his umbrella from the lost property office. 2. to bring back something which has been stored in a computer ○ She retrieved the address files which she thought had been deleted.

retriever /rɪ'trɪvəl/ noun a type of dog trained to fetch dead birds which have been shot retroactive /,ret्रəʊ'æktrɪv/ adj which takes effect from a time in the past □ retroactive to last April which takes effect from last April ○ She had a pay increase retroactive to January 1st.

retrograde /'ret्रəʊgrədɪ/ adj backward (formal) □ a retrograde step an action which makes things worse than they were before retrospect /'ret्रəʊspekt/ noun □ in retrospect when you look back ○ In retrospect, our decision to make him finance director was quite wrong.

retrospective /,ret्रəʊ'spektɪv/ adj which goes back to a time in the past ○ She was awarded a retrospective pay increase. ○ The management offered an increase, retrospective to last January. ■ noun an exhibition of works of art covering the whole career of an artist ○ This has been the first Henry Moore retrospective for some years.

retry /rɪ'traɪ/ verb to have a retrial of a case which has already been tried once

① return /rɪ'tɜ:n/ noun 1. the act of going or coming back to a place ○ It snowed on the day of her return from Canada. ○ I'll come and see you on my return. 2. the action of going back to a former state ○ The government wants to encourage a return to old family traditions. 3. the act of giving or sending something back ○ He asked for the immediate return of the borrowed tools. □ to reply by return of post to reply by the next postal service back □ to sell something on sale or return to sell something and give the purchaser the right to return it if he or she does not sell or use it □ in return for something in exchange for something ○ He gave me the letter of introduction and I gave him a lunch in return. 4. the key on a keyboard which you press when you have finished keying something, or when you want to start a new line ○ To change directory, type C: and press return. 5. □ many happy returns of the day greetings said to someone on his or her birthday 6. an income from money invested ○ This account should bring in a quick return on your investment. 7. □ to make an income tax return to send a statement of income to the tax office ○ Your income tax return should be sent no later than 1st July. □ to fill in a VAT return to complete the form showing VAT receipts and expenditure ■ verb 1. to come back, to go back ○ When she returned from lunch she found two messages waiting for her. ○ When do you plan to return to Paris? 2. to give, to send something back ○ The letter was returned to the sender. 3. to elect an MP for a constituency ○ He was returned with an increased majority.

return fare /rɪ'tɜːn feɪə/ noun the fare for a journey from one place to another and back again returning officer /rɪ'tɜːnɪŋ ˈɒfɪsə/ noun an official who is responsible for an election in a constituency return match /rɪ'tɜːn mætʃ/ noun a match played between the same two teams again returns /rɪ'tɜːnz/ plural noun goods which a shop hasn't sold and which are sent back to the supplier return ticket /rɪ'tɜːn 'tɪkɪt/, return /rɪ'tɜːn/ noun a ticket for a journey from one place to another and back again (NOTE: The US term is round-trip ticket.)

reunification /rɪ:ju:nɪfɪ'keɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the act of joining again something which has been split. Compare unification. Synonym reunion reunion /rɪ:ju:njən/ noun a meeting of people who have not met for a long time reunite /rɪ:ju:nait/ verb to join people or things together again reuse /rɪ:ju:z/ verb to use again something which has already been used rev /rev/ noun an engine revolution (informal) ■ verb □ to rev (up) to make a car engine go quickly while the car is standing still (informal) ○ I could hear him revving (up) while he was waiting for me in the car.

revalue /rɪ:vælu:/ verb to value something again at a higher value than before revamp verb /rɪ:væmp/ to improve the appearance of something which is slightly old-fashioned ○ The whole image of the com- pany needs revamping. ■ noun /'rɪ:væmp/ a complete change of the appearance of something ○ Our headed notepaper has had a complete revamp. Synonym facelift

① reveal /rɪ'veɪl/ verb to show or mention something which was hidden ○ He revealed his ignorance about cars. ○ An unexpected fault was revealed during the test. ○ The X-ray revealed a brain tumour.

revealing /rɪ'veɪlɪŋ/ adj which shows something which is usually hidden □ a revealing dress or top a dress or top which shows parts of the body which are normally kept hidden revel /'rev(ə)l/ noun a celebration ■ verb to have a happy time (literary) □ to revel in something to take delight in something ○ They revelled in the clean air of the Scottish Highlands. ○ She's revelling in her new-found fame.

revelation /,revə'leɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. the act of showing or mentioning something which was secret ○ Her revelation that she had two children took everyone by surprise. 2. something which was a secret which now everyone knows ○ His singing was a revelation.

reveller /'rev(ə)lə/ noun a person who is having good time (NOTE: The US spelling is reveler.)

revels /'rev(ə)lz/ plural noun happy celebrations (dated)

revenge /'rɪ:vendʒ/ noun the act of punishing someone in return for harm he or she has caused you ○ They attacked the police station in revenge for the arrest of three members of the gang. ○ All the time he spent in prison, his only thought was of revenge. ○ He had his revenge in the end, when her car broke down and she had to phone for help. Synonym retaliation □ to get or take your revenge on someone to punish someone for something he or she has done to you ■ verb □ to revenge yourself on someone to punish someone for something he or she has done to you ○ She planned to revenge herself on the people who had treated her so badly. Compare avenge

② revenue /'revənju:/ noun 1. money which is received ○ His only source of revenue is his shop. 2. money received by a government in tax

reverberate /rɪ'vɜːbəreɪt/ verb to echo or to ring out loudly and repeatedly revere /rɪ'vɜːr/ verb to worship someone or to respect someone very highly. Synonym admire. Antonym despise reverence /'rev(ə)rəns/ noun great respect. Antonym contempt

Reverend /'rev(ə)rənd/ adj a title given to a member of the clergy ○ The Reverend John Spencer will be preaching tomorrow. (NOTE:

usually shortened to Rev: the Rev John Spencer reverent /'rev(ə)rənt/ adj showing respect reverie /'revəri/ noun a dream which you have during the day when you are not asleep. Synonym daydream reversal /'rɪ'vɜ:s(ə)l/ noun a change to the opposite □ to have a reversal of fortune to have a change of luck from good to bad or from bad to good

③ reverse /'rɪ'vɜ:s/ adj opposite ○ The reverse side of the carpet is made of foam rubber. ○ The conditions are printed on the reverse side of the invoice. Antonym same □ in reverse order backwards ○ They called out the names of the prizewinners in reverse order. ■ noun 1. the opposite ○ You're mistaken, the reverse is true. 2. the opposite side ○ Didn't you read what was on the reverse of the label? 3. a side of a coin which does not bear the head of a king, a queen, etc. ○ There is a thistle on the reverse of this coin. Also called tails 4. a car gear which makes you go backwards ○ Put the car into reverse and back very slowly into the garage. ○ The car's stuck in reverse! 5. a defeat in battle or in an election ○ The army suffered a catastrophic reverse. ○ The Conservatives suffered a series of reverses. ■ verb 1. to make something do the opposite ○ The page order was reversed by mistake. ○ Don't try to reverse the trend, go along with it. 2. to make a car go backwards ○ Reverse as far as you can, then go forwards. ○ Be careful not to reverse into that lamppost. 3. □ to reverse the charges (on the phone) to ask the person you are calling to pay for the call ○ My father told me to reverse the charges when I call him. 4. to change a legal decision to another, opposite, one ○ The judge's decision was reversed by the appeal court.

reversible /'rɪ'vɜ:sib(ə)l/ adj which can be worn with either side out reversing light /'rɪ'vɜ:sɪŋ ,laɪt/ noun a light on the back of a car which lights up when the car is put into reverse gear

③ revert /'rɪ'vɜ:t/ verb 1. to go back or come back to an earlier state □ to revert to type or form to go back to an original state ○ We thought he was becoming a quiet intellectual, then he reverted to form and went out drinking every night. 2. □ to revert to a subject to start talking about the subject again (formal) ○ I would like to revert to the subject of overdue payments. ○ The conversation reverted to the question of planning permission.

② review /'rɪ'vju:/ noun 1. written comments on something, e.g. a book, play or film, published in a newspaper or magazine ○ Did you read the review of her latest film in today's paper? ○ His book got some very good reviews. 2. a monthly or weekly magazine which contains articles of general interest ○ His first short story appeared in a Scottish literary review. 3. an examination of several things together ○ the company's annual review of each department's performance 4. a general inspection of the army, navy, etc. ○ A naval review will be held on the king's birthday. (NOTE: Do not confuse with revue.) ■ verb 1. to read a book, see a film, etc., and write comments about it in a newspaper or magazine ○ Her exhibition was reviewed in today's paper. ○ Whoever reviewed her latest book, obviously didn't like it. 2. to inspect someone or something, e.g. soldiers, sailors or ships ○ The general rode on horseback to review the troops. 3. to examine something in a general way ○ The bank will review our overdraft position at the end of the month. ○ Let's review the situation in the light of the new developments. 4. US to study a lesson again ○ You must review your geography before the exam. (NOTE: The British term is to revise.)

reviewer /'rɪ'vju:ə/ noun a person who writes comments on something, e.g. books, plays or films. Synonym critic

revile /'rɪ'veɪl/ verb to criticise someone or something harshly

② revise /'rɪ'veɪz/ verb 1. to study a lesson again ○ There isn't enough time to revise before the exam. ○ I'm revising for my history test. (NOTE: The US term is to review.) 2. to change something or make something correct ○ He is revising the speech he is due to give this evening. ○ These figures will have to be revised, there seems to be a mistake.

③ revision /'rɪ'vɪʒ(ə)n/ noun the action of revising something revisit /'rɪ'vɪzɪt/ verb to visit a place again revitalise /'rɪ:vɪ'taɪləz/, revitalize verb to make something more lively. Antonym wear out

③ revival /'rɪ'vɪv(ə)l/ noun the act of bringing something back into existence □ revival of interest in something a new interest in something ○ We've noticed a revival of interest in sports cars. □ revival of trade an increase in trade after a recession revive /'rɪ'vɪv/ verb 1. to recover, to get well again ○ After drinking some water he had revived enough to go on with the marathon. 2. to bring someone back to life again ○ The paramedics managed to revive her on the way to the hospital. 3. to make something popular again ○ It won't be easy to revive people's interest in old country crafts.

revoke /'rɪ'veək/ verb to cancel something, e.g. a right, agreement or permission revolt /'rɪ'veəlt/ noun a mass protest against authority ○ The government faces a revolt from its main supporters. Synonym rebel- lion ■ verb 1. to rise up against authority ○ The prisoners revolted against the harsh treatment they were receiving. 2. to disgust someone ○ It revolted me to see all that food being thrown away. (NOTE: In this meaning the noun is revulsion.)

revolting /ri'vɔ:ltɪŋ/ adj disgusting, which makes you feel ill. Antonym appealing

② revolution /,revə'lu:ʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. an armed rising against a government ○ The government soldiers shot the leaders of the revolution. ○ He led an unsuccessful revolution against the last president. ○ During the French Revolution many aristocrats were executed. 2. the act of turning around a central point ○ The engine turns at 5,000 revolutions a minute. 3. a change in the way things are done ○ a revolution in data processing revolutionary /,revə'lu:ʃ(ə)n(ə)rɪ/ adj 1. aiming to change things completely; very new ○ There is a revolutionary new treatment for cancer. 2. referring to a political revolution ○ His revolutionary ideas upset the voters. ■ noun a person who takes part in an uprising against a government ○ The captured revolutionaries were shot when the army took control. Synonym rebel revolutionise /,revə'lū:ʃənائز/, revolutionize verb to change something completely. Synonym transform

③ revolve /rɪ'vɒlv/ verb to turn round a fixed point. Synonym rotate revolver /rɪ'vɒlvə/ noun a small hand gun in which the chamber for cartridges turns after each shot is fired, so that another shot can be fired quickly revolving /rɪ'vɒlvɪŋ/ adj which turns round revolving doors /rɪ'vɒlvɪŋ 'dɔ:z/ plural noun doors which turn round a central pillar revue /rɪ'vju:/ noun a stage show with satirical sketches, songs, etc. (NOTE: Do not confuse with review.)

revulsion /rɪ'vʌlʃən/ noun disgust

④ reward /rɪ'wɔ:d/ noun money given to someone for work done or as a prize for finding something, or for information about something ○ When she took the purse she had found to the police station she got a £25 reward. ○ He is not interested in money – the Olympic gold medal will be reward enough.

■ verb to give someone something as a prize for finding something or for doing something ○ He was rewarded for finding the box of papers. ○ All her efforts were rewarded when she won first prize. Antonym penalise rewarding /rɪ'wɔ:dɪŋ/ adj which gives satisfaction. Synonym satisfying. Antonym disappointing rewind noun /ri:wɔ:nd/ the action of winding something back □ (fast) rewind a mechanism which makes something wind back very fast ○ My new camera has an automatic fast rewind. ■ verb /ri:'waɪnd/ to wind something back ○ After playing the cassette he rewound it. ○ The flex will rewind automatically when you press the red button. (NOTE: rewinding – rewound /ri:'waɪnd/) rewire /ri:'waɪə/ verb to put new electric cables in a building reword /ri:'wɔ:d/ verb to say or write something again using different words. Synonym rephrase rework /ri:'wɔ:k/ verb to work on something again. Synonym amend

⑤ rewrite noun /'ri:raɪt/ the act of rewriting something ○ The film script had been through several rewrites and the director still wasn't happy with it. Synonym revision ■ verb /ri:'raɪt/ to write something again in different words ○ She rewrote the essay, adding more references. (NOTE: rewrote – rewritten) rhapsody /'ræpsədi/ noun poetry, music or a song showing great excitement or passion rheostat /'ri:əstæt/ noun a device for making lights fade by cutting down the flow of electric current gradually rhesus factor /'ri:səs ,fæktə/ noun an antigen in red blood cells, which is an element in blood grouping rhesus monkey /'ri:səs ,mʌŋki/ noun a small monkey, often used in laboratories for scientific experiments rhesus negative /,ri:səs 'negətɪv/ noun a person who does not have the rhesus factor in his or her blood rhesus positive /,ri:səs 'pozɪtɪv/ noun a person who has the rhesus factor in his or her blood

⑥ rhetoric /'rɛtɔ:rɪk/ noun 1. the art of speaking in a way which is intended to make people change their minds ○ She came away from the meeting enthused by the Prime Minister's rhetoric. 2. a way of speaking that is insincere, without any real meaning ○ His speech was full of empty rhetoric. ○ All this rhetoric is getting us nowhere.

rhetorical /rɪ'tɔ:rɪk(ə)l/ adj referring to rhetoric rhetorical question /rɪ,tɔ:rɪk(ə)l 'kwestʃən/ noun a question which makes a statement, rather than expecting an answer rheumatic fever /ru:,mætɪk 'fi:və/ noun a disease of young people and children, in which the joints hurt and the patient becomes feverish rheumatics /ru:'mætɪks/ plural noun rheumatism (informal)

③ rheumatism /'ru:mətɪz(ə)m/ noun a disease which gives painful or stiff joints or muscles rhinoceros /raɪ'nɒs(ə)rəs/ noun a large Asiatic or African animal with a thick skin and one or two horns on its head. Also called rhino (NOTE: The plural is rhinoceroses.)

rhizome /raɪ'zəʊm/ noun a thick plant stem which lies on the surface or under the ground like a root and produces shoots rhododendron /,rəʊdə'dendrən/ noun a large evergreen shrub with clusters of huge pink, red or purple flowers rhomboid /'rɒmbɔɪd/ adj shaped like a rhombus or diamond ■ noun a four-sided shape with opposite sides equal in length and no right angles rhombus /'rɒmbəs/ noun a shape with four equal sides but with no right angles. Synonym diamond (NOTE: The plural is rhombuses.)

rhubarb /'ru:bɑ:b/ noun a plant of which the thick red leaf stalks are cooked and eaten as a dessert rhyme /raɪm/ noun 1. the way in which some words end in the same sound ○ Can you think of a rhyme for 'taught'? 2. □ without rhyme or reason with no explanation ○ He changes his mind all the time without rhyme or reason. 3. a little piece of poetry ○ The children tried to learn the rhyme by heart. ■ verb □ to rhyme with something to end with the same sound as another word ○ 'Mr' rhymes with 'sister'.

rhyming slang /,raɪmɪŋ 'slæŋ/ noun London slang where words are replaced by words or phrases which rhyme with them

COMMENT: In London rhyming slang, common words are replaced by other common words which rhyme with them. So 'apples and pears' takes the place of 'stairs': 'he fell down the apples and pears'. To make things more complicated, many of the rhymes are abbreviated, thus losing the part which actually rhymes. So 'butcher's hook' meant 'look', but is now abbreviated to simply 'butcher's': 'let's have a butcher's at it'; 'tit for tat' meant 'hat', but now is reduced simply to 'titfer': 'where's my titfer'?

rhythm /'rɪð(ə)m/ noun a strong regular beat in music or poetry ○ They stamped their feet to the rhythm of the music.

rhythmic /'rɪðmɪk/, rhythymical /'rɪðmɪk(ə)l/ adj with a regular beat rhythmically /'rɪðmɪklɪ/ adv in time to a rhythm rib /rib/ noun 1. one of 24 curved bones which protect your chest ○ He fell down while skiing and broke two ribs. 2. one of these same bones of an animal, cooked and eaten 3. a curved thick stone arch which helps to strengthen a vault 4. a thicker part in a leaf ribbed /'rɪbd/ adj (of knitting) with a pattern of raised lines ribbon /'rɪbən/ noun a long thin strip of material for tying things or used as decoration ribcage /'ribkeɪdʒ/ noun the ribs and the space enclosed by them ribonucleic acid /,raɪbəʊnju:,kli:ɪk 'æsɪd/ noun full form of RNA

rice /raɪs/ noun 1. a very common food, the seeds of a tropical plant ○ She only had a bowl of rice for her evening meal. ○ Cook the rice with some saffron to make it yellow. 2. a common food plant, grown mainly in Asian countries ○ Women were planting rice in the paddy fields. (NOTE: no plural: some rice, a bowl of rice, a spoonful of rice)

② rich /rɪtʃ/ adj 1. who has a lot of money ○ If only we were rich, then we could buy a bigger house. ○ He never spends anything, and so he gets richer and richer. 2. (of a colour) pleasantly strong and dark ○ She painted the kitchen door a rich red. 3. with many treasures ○ Our local museum has an unusually rich collection of watercolours. □ rich in something containing a lot of something ○ The area is rich in old churches. ○ The south of the country is rich in coal. ○ Yeast tablets are rich in vitamin B. 4. made with a lot of cream, butter or eggs ○ This cream cake is too rich for me. 5. fertile ○ The flat area near Cambridge has rich black soil. (NOTE: richer – richest) ■ plural noun □ the rich rich people ○ At that price, this model of car is only for the really rich.

riches /'ritʃɪz/ plural noun wealth ○ In spite of all their riches they are not a happy family.

richly /'ritʃli/ adv splendidly □ to richly deserve something to deserve something very much ○ He richly deserved his prison sentence. ○ She richly deserved her award as best actress.

Richter scale /'rɪktə skeɪl/ noun a scale of measurement of the force of an earthquake, with values rising from 0 to 10

rickety /'rɪkɪti/ adj wobbly, likely to fall down rickshaw /'rɪk,ʃə:/ noun a vehicle which people sit in and which is pulled by a person ricochet /'rɪkəʃət/ verb to bounce off a surface at an angle (NOTE: ricocheted /'rɪkəʃeɪd/)

① rid /rɪd/ verb □ to get rid of something to dispose of something or throw something away ○ Do you want to get rid of that old bookcase? ○ We have been told to get rid of twenty staff. ○ She doesn't seem able to get rid of her cold.

riddance /'rid(ə)ns/ noun □ good riddance! I am glad to get rid of it! ○ Our neighbours finally moved with all their screaming children – good riddance, I say!

ridden /'ridən/ □ ride

riddle /'rid(ə)l/ noun a puzzling question to which you have to find the answer ○ Here's a riddle for you: what's black and white and red all over? (NOTE: The answer is 'a book' if you say 'read' instead of 'red'.) ■ verb to make a lot of holes in something ○ They riddled the car with bullets.

riddled with /'rid(ə)ld wið/ adj 1. full of something ○ The chair is riddled with wood-worm. ○ Most of the animals on the farm are riddled with disease. 2. full of holes ○ The car was riddled with bullets.

① ride /raɪd/ noun 1. a pleasant trip, e.g. on a horse or a bike or in a car ○ Does anyone want to come for a bike ride? ○ Can I have a ride on your motorbike? ○ He took us all for a ride in his new car. ○ The station is only a short bus ride from the college. 2. □ to take someone for a ride to trick someone ○ Free beer? – There's no free beer, someone's been taking you for a ride! ○ The young recruit was really taken for a ride when the others told him that there was a party at the colonel's house and he believed them. 3. the action of travelling ○ You will enjoy the smoothness of the ride in the new four-wheel-drive model. ■ verb to go on a horse, on a bike, etc. ○ He rode his bike across the road without looking. ○ She's never ridden (on) an elephant. ○ My little sister is learning to ride, but she's frightened of big horses. (NOTE: rides – riding – rode /raʊd/ – has ridden /'ridən/) rider /'raɪdə/ noun 1. a person who rides ○ The rider of the black horse fell at the first fence. ○ Motorcycle riders must wear helmets. 2. an additional clause to a contract ridge /'ridʒ/ noun a long narrow raised part ridicule /'ridɪkju:l/ noun mocking, laughing at someone ○ She was afraid of the ridicule of her colleagues. □ to hold someone up to ridicule to laugh at someone ○ The press held the minister up to ridicule after he had been found lying on the pavement outside a bar. ■ verb to laugh at someone or something ○ She ridiculed his attempts at speaking Italian. Synonym belittle

② ridiculous /ri'dɪkju:ləs/ adj silly, which everyone should laugh at. Synonym ludicrous. Antonym sensible ridiculously /ri'dɪkju:ləsli/ adv in a ridiculous way riding /'raɪdɪŋ/ noun 1. the sport of going on horseback ○ He loves riding. ○ Let's go riding in the park. 2. (in Canada) a parliamentary constituency rife /raɪf/ adj 1. common ○ Crime is rife in some parts of the town. 2. □ rife with something full of something ○ The office is rife with rumours about the managing director.

riffraff /'rɪfræf/ noun ordinary people with bad habits (insult) (NOTE: no plural) rifle /'raɪf(ə)l/ noun a gun with a long barrel ○ The gunman was on a roof with a rifle. ○ He was shooting at a target with an air rifle. ■ verb to search for something, usually to steal it ○ The burglars rifled through the drawers of her desk. Synonym ransack rifle range /'raɪf(ə)l reɪndʒ/ noun a place where you practise shooting with rifles rift /rɪft/ noun 1. a disagreement ○ a rift between father and son 2. a long, narrow split or crack rig /rɪg/ noun a large articulated truck ○ He drives a 16-wheel rig. ■ verb to arrange a dishonest result (informal) ○ They were accused of rigging the election. ♦ rig up Synonym fix (NOTE: rigging – rigged) rigging /'rɪgɪŋ/ noun 1. the ropes on a ship ○ The rigging creaked in the storm. ○ Sailors ran up the rigging to wave to the crowds on the quayside. 2. the practice of arranging a vote to give a dishonest result ○ Vote rigging is very common here.

① right /raɪt/ adj 1. not wrong, correct ○ She didn't put the bottles back in the right place. ○ You're right – the Number 8 bus doesn't go to Marble Arch. ○ She gave the right answer every time. ○ He says the answer is 285. – Quite right! ○ Is the station clock right? ○ Is this the right train for Manchester? ♦ all right 2. not left, referring to the hand which most people use to write with ○ In England cars don't drive on the right side of the road. ○ The keys are in the top right drawer of my desk. ○ He was holding the suitcase in his right hand. 3. (in politics) referring to the conservatives ○ He's on the right wing of the party. ○ His politics are right of centre. 4. □ on the right side of forty less than forty years old (informal) ○ He's not that old – He's still on the right side of fifty. ■ noun 1. what is correct, not wrong ○ in the right correct, which should not be criticised ○ She was proved to be in the right. 2. the side opposite to the left ○ When driving in France remember to keep to the right. ○ When you get to the next crossroads, turn to the right. ○ Who was that girl sitting on the right of your father? ○ Go straight ahead, and take the second road on the right. 3. be legally entitled to do or to have something ○ The accused has the right to remain silent. ○ The manager has no right to read my letters. ○ The staff have a right to know why the shop is closing down. ♦ rights 4. □ the right (in politics) the political group supporting traditional values and rights ○ We support the right by campaigning for our local Conservative candidate. □ a swing to the right a movement of votes towards the right-wing candidates ■ adv 1. straight □ Instead of stopping at the crossroads, he drove right on across the main road. ○ To get to the police station, keep right on to the end of the road, and then turn left. ○ Go right along to the end of the corridor, you'll see my office in front of you. 2. □ right (away) immediately ○ They called the ambulance right after the accident. ○ The ambulance came right away. □ right now at this particular point in time ○ Right now, it is not possible for me to answer reporters' questions. 3. exactly ○ The pub is right at the end of the road. ○ The phone rang right in the middle of the TV programme. ○ She stood right in front of the TV and no one could see the screen. 4. correctly ○ She guessed the answer right. ○ Everything is going right for her. □ it serves you right you deserve what has happened to you (informal) 5. towards the right-hand side ○ To get to the station, turn right at the traffic lights. ○ Children should be taught to look right and left before crossing the road. ■ verb □ to right a wrong to correct something which is wrong ○ She campaigned to right the wrongs done to single mothers. ■ interj agreed, OK ○ Right, so we all meet again at 7 o'clock?

③ right angle /'raɪt ,æŋgəl/ noun an angle of 90° right-angled /'raɪt ,æŋgəld/ adj with an angle of 90° righteous /'raɪtʃəs/ adj seeing things from a moral point of view. Antonym sinful rightful /'raɪft(ə)l/ adj legally correct. Antonym unlawful □ the rightful owner of something the legal owner of something ○ She is the rightful owner of the property.

right-hand /'raɪt ,haɪnd/ adj on the right side □ a right-hand-drive car a car in which the driver sits on the right side of the car right-handed /'raɪt 'haɪndɪd/ adj using the right hand more often than the left for things like writing and eating. Antonym left-handed right-hander /'raɪt 'haɪndə/ noun 1. a blow with the right hand ○ He was knocked out with a powerful right-hander to the chin. 2. a person who is right-handed ○ Both bowlers are right-handers.

right-hand man /'raɪt hænd ,mæn/ noun the main assistant

Right Honourable /'raɪt 'ɒn(ə)rəb(ə)l/ noun the title given to Privy Councillors (NOTE: written before the name; often abbreviated to Rt Hon: the Rt Hon William Gladstone, MP)

rightly /'raɪtlɪ/ adv correctly right of abode /,raɪt əv ə'bəʊd/ noun the right to live in a country right of way /,raɪt əv 'wei/ noun a legal right to go across someone else's property

③ rights /raɪts/ plural noun 1. what you should be allowed to do or to have ○ They are working for women's rights or for the rights of women. ○ The rights of ordinary working people are being ignored. 2. a legal right to have something ○ He has the British rights to the invention. ○ She sold the American rights to an American publisher.

rights issue /'raɪts ,ɪʃu:/ noun an issue of new shares in a company which are offered to existing shareholders at a cheap price right-wing /,raɪt 'wɪŋ/ adj belonging to the conservative political parties. Antonym left-wing right-winger /'raɪt 'wɪŋə/ noun a person who is on the right politically. Synonym conservative. Antonym liberal rigid /'rɪdʒɪd/ adj stiff, inflexible, which doesn't bend rigidity /rɪ'dʒɪdɪtɪ/ noun the fact of being rigid rigidly /'rɪdʒɪdli/ adv stiffly rigmarole /'rɪgmə,rəʊl/ noun a process which is unnecessarily complicated rigorous /'rɪgərəs/ adj very thorough rigorously /'rɪgərəsli/ adv in a rigorous way rigour /'rɪgər/ noun the fact of being strict or severe ○ We will pursue the case with the full rigour of the law. (NOTE: The US spelling is rigor.)

rigours /'rɪgəz/ plural noun harshness of the climate (NOTE: The US spelling is rigors.)

③ rig up /'rɪg 'ʌp/ verb to arrange something or construct something quickly. Synonym improvise rite /raɪt/ verb to make someone angry or annoyed

③ rim /rɪm/ noun 1. the edge of something round, like a wheel or a cup ○ The rim of the glass is chipped. 2. a frame of spectacles ○ He wears glasses with steel rims.

-rimmed /'rɪmd/ suffix with a rim rind /raɪnd/ noun a skin on fruit, bacon or cheese. Synonym peel

① ring /rɪŋ/ noun 1. a round shape, e.g. of metal ○ She has a gold ring in her nose. ○ He wears a ring on his little finger. 2. a circle of people or things ○ The teacher asked the children to sit in a ring round her. 3. the noise of an electric bell ○ There was a ring at the door. 4. a phone call ○ Give me a ring tomorrow. 5. a space where a circus show takes place or where a boxing match is held ○ The clowns ran into the ring. ○ The ringmaster came into the ring with his top hat and whip.

6. □ to run rings around someone to do things better than someone (informal) ○ In the debate he ran rings round his opponent.
■ verb 1. to make a sound with a bell ○ The postman rang the doorbell. ○ At Easter, all the church bells were ringing. ○ If you ring your bicycle bell people will get out of the way. ○ Is that your phone ringing? 2. □ to ring a bell to remind someone of something ○ The name rings a bell. ○ Does the name Arbuthnot ring any bells? 3. to telephone someone ○ He rang me to say he would be late. ○ Don't ring tomorrow afternoon – the office will be closed. ○ Don't ring me, I'll ring you. (NOTE: ringing – rang /ræŋ/ – has rung /rʌŋ/) 4. to draw a ring round something ○ I have ringed the mistakes in red. 5. to surround a place ○ Rebel troops ringed the president's palace. (NOTE: ringing – ringed) ring back /,rɪŋ 'bæk/ verb to telephone someone after they have already telephoned you (informal) ring binder /'rɪŋ 'baɪndə/ noun a cover with rings in it which fit into special holes made in sheets of paper ringfence /'rɪŋfens/ verb to separate something from other things, so that it is not affected by them ringing /'rɪŋɪŋ/ noun a sound like that of bells ringleader /'rɪŋli:də/ noun a person who organises a revolt or some crime ringmaster /'rɪŋma:stə/ noun a person in charge of a circus performance

③ ring off /,rɪŋ 'ɒf/ verb to put down the phone. Synonym hang up

③ ring road /'rɪŋ rəʊd/ noun a road which goes right round a town

③ ring up /,rɪŋ 'ʌp/ verb to speak to someone using a telephone. Synonym call

③ rink /rɪŋk/ noun a large enclosed area, e.g. for ice skating, playing ice hockey or roller skating

rinse /rɪns/ noun 1. the act of washing something in clean water to get rid of soap ○ Give your shirt a good rinse. 2. a coloured liquid for rinsing hair ○ She used a black rinse in her hair. ■ verb to put things covered with soap or dirty things into clean water to remove the soap or the dirt ○ Rinse the dishes before putting them on the draining board to dry.

③ riot /'rɪət/ noun 1. wild disorder by a crowd of people ○ The riot was started by some university students. □ to run riot to get out of control ○ After the match, the supporters ran riot and the police had to intervene. ○ In her stories for children she lets her imagination run riot. □ to read someone the riot act to warn someone to stop doing something ○ I read her the riot act when I found she had been using the office telephone to call her mother in Australia. 2. a mixture of different colours ○ The place was decorated in a riot of colours. ○ The colour scheme is a riot of reds and greens. 3. something which is very amusing, e.g. a film or a play ○ The whole show was a riot, we never laughed so much.

■ verb to take part in a riot, or get out of control ○ Furious farmers rioted when they heard the decision of the Minister of Agriculture. Synonym mutiny

rioter /'rɪətə/ noun a person who takes part in a riot rioting /'rɪətɪŋ/ noun riots, outbreaks of civil disorder riotous /'rɪətəs/ adj disorderly, as in a riot riot police /'rɪət pə,li:s/ noun police specially trained and equipped to deal with rioters rip /rɪp/ noun a tear in cloth ○ He lost the race because of a rip in his sail. ■ verb 1. to tear something ○ I ripped my sleeve on a nail. ○ She ripped open the parcel to see what he had given her. ○ The old bathroom is being ripped out and new units put in. 2. to go through something violently ○ The tornado ripped through the town. 3. □ to let rip to start to complain or protest without any restraint (informal) ○ When he saw the bill for the meal he really let rip. □ to let something rip to let something go as fast as possible ○ As he came into the last lap he opened up the throttle and let it rip. ♦ rip off

RIP a Latin phrase meaning 'Rest in Peace', often written on tombstones ○ Thomas Hood RIP. Full form Requiescat in Pace

③ ripe /raɪp/ adj 1. ready to eat or to be harvested ○ Don't eat that apple – it isn't ripe yet. 2. □ the time is ripe to do something it is the right time to do something ○ The time is ripe to take steps to stop imports of the drug.

ripen /'raɪpən/ verb to become ripe rip off /'rɪp 'ɒf/ verb 1. to tear something off something else ○ It's the last day of the month so you can rip the page off the calendar. ○ Someone has ripped off the book's cover. 2. □ to rip someone off to cheat someone or to make someone pay too much (slang) ○ They were ripped off in the market.

rip-off /'rɪpɒf/ noun a bad deal (informal) ripple /'rɪp(ə)l/ noun a little wave ○ Even a little stone thrown into the water will make ripples. ○ In the desert, the wind creates ripples in the sand. ■ verb to make little waves ○ The lake is like a mirror, there is no wind to ripple the water. Synonym undulate

① rise /raɪz/ noun 1. a movement or slope upwards ○ There is a gentle rise until you get to the top of the hill. ○ Salaries are increasing to keep up with the rise in the cost of living. ○ The recent rise in interest rates has made mortgages more expensive. 2. □ to give rise to something to make something happen (formal) ○ The news gave rise to rumours about a coup. ■ verb 1. to go up ○ The sun always rises in the east. ○ The road rises steeply for a few miles. ○ Prices have been rising steadily all year. ○ If you open the oven door, the cake won't rise properly. □ to rise to the occasion to perform well because of a special occasion ○ My mother really rose to the occasion and provided a splendid meal. 2. to get up, to get out of bed or out of a chair ○ He always rises early. 3. to stop being in session ○ The court rose at one o'clock. (NOTE: rising – rose /rəʊz/ – has risen /'rɪz(ə)n/)

rising /'raɪzɪŋ/ adj which is moving upwards, which is increasing ○ The gliders took advantage of the rising currents of hot air. ○ The magazine is all about the new young rising film stars. ○ Rising interest rates will hurt young families. □ the rising generation the next generation which will follow the present one ■ prep □ to be rising fifty to be nearly fifty years old. ♦ damp ■ noun a rebellion or revolt ○ The government sent troops to put down the rising in the north.

Synonym uprising

rising damp /,raɪzɪŋ 'dæmp/ noun damp which enters the walls of houses and damages them (NOTE: no plural)

① risk /rɪsk/ noun 1. a possible bad result ○ There is not much risk of rain in August. ○ The risk of going blind is very remote. ○ There is a financial risk attached to this deal. ○ At the risk of looking foolish, I'm going to ask her to come out with me. 2. □ to run the risk of something to be in danger of something ○ They run the risk of being caught by the customs. ○ If you ask for a pay rise now, you run the risk of losing your job. □ to take a risk to do something which may make you lose money or suffer harm ○ He's so careful, he never takes any risks. ○ Drive slowly, we're in no hurry and there's no need to take any risks on the icy road. ■ verb to do something which may possibly harm you ○ The fireman risked his life to save her. ○ He risked all his savings on buying the bookshop.

risky /'rɪski/ adj which is dangerous (NOTE: riskier – riskiest) risotto /rɪ'zɒtəʊ/ noun an Italian dish of cooked rice with meat, fish or vegetables in it risqué /'rɪskéɪ/ adj slightly indecent rissole /'rɪsəl/ noun a fried ball of minced food, e.g. meat or fish rite /raɪt/ noun a religious ceremony ritual /'ritʃuəl/ adj referring to a religious ceremony ○ The tribe performed a ritual rain dance. ■ noun 1. a religious ceremony ○ the ritual of the mass 2. something which you do regularly in the same way ○ Every evening it's the same ritual: he puts the cat out and locks the door. ○ We don't follow any particular ritual on Christmas Day, we take the day as it comes.

rival /'rɪvɪl(ə)l/ adj who competes ○ Two rival companies are trying to win the contract. ○ Is this the rival product you were talking about? ○ Simon and I are friends but we play for rival teams. Synonym competing ■ noun a person or a company that competes ○ Do you know if he has any rivals? ○ We keep our prices low to undercut our biggest rival. ■ verb to compete with someone or something ○ It will not be easy to rival such a good product. (NOTE: rivalling – rivalled. The US spelling is rivaling – rivaled.)

rivalry /'rɪvɪl(ə)lɪ/ noun competition. Antonym cooperation

② river /'rɪvər/ noun a large mass of fresh water which runs across the land and goes into the sea or into a large lake ○ London is on the River Thames. ○ The river is very deep here, so it's dangerous to swim in it. (NOTE: With names of rivers, you usually say the River: the River Thames; the River Amazon; the River Nile.)

riverside /'rɪvəsайд/ adj on the banks of a river ○ Some riverside houses were flooded. ○ We took our friends to a riverside pub on the Thames.

rivet /'rɪvɪt/ noun a large metal pin which fastens metal plates together ○ The workers were driving rivets into the metal sheets with huge hammers. ■ verb 1. to fasten metal plates together ○ Workmen riveted the sheets of metal together. 2. to attract the attention of someone ○ The audience was riveted by his stories. ○ He sat riveted to the TV set. ○ Her eyes were riveted on the door, as if she expected someone to come in.

riveting /'rɪvɪtɪŋ/ adj which holds everyone's attention (informal) Synonym fascinating. Antonym boring

RNA /'a:en 'eɪ/ noun one of the acids in the nucleus of all living cells, which takes information from DNA and translates it into proteins. Full form ribonucleic acid. ♦ DNA

① road /rəʊd/ noun 1. a hard pathway used by vehicles, e.g. cars and lorries, to travel along ○ The road to York goes directly north from London. ○ Drivers must be careful because roads are icy. ○ Children are taught to look both ways before crossing the road. ○ Our office address is: 26 London Road. (NOTE: often used in names: London Road, York Road, etc., and usually written Rd: London Rd, etc.) 2. □ on the road travelling ○ As a salesman, he's on the road thirty weeks a year. ○ We were on the road for thirteen hours before we finally reached the hotel.

roadblock /'rəudblɒk/ noun a barrier put across a road by the police. Synonym barricade road haulage /rəud 'hɔ:lɪdʒ/ noun the moving of goods by road road hog /'rəud hɒg/ noun a person who drives fast and dangerously (informal) road map /'rəud mæp/ noun a map which shows the roads in a certain area

③ road rage /'rəud reɪdʒ/ noun a violent attack by a driver on another car or its driver, caused by anger at the way the other driver has been driving road safety /rəud 'seɪfti/ noun care taken by drivers on the roads to make sure that accidents do not happen roadshow /'rəʊdʃəʊ/ noun 1. a broadcast from a place away from the studio ○ the BBC holiday roadshow 2. an exhibition or performing group which goes from place to place ○ They took their roadshow round the Highlands of Scotland.

roadside /'rəʊdsaɪd/ noun the side of a road ○ We couldn't find a picnic area, so in the end we picnicked on the roadside. ○ They had a puncture so they stopped by the roadside to change the wheel. ■ adj by the side of a road ○ We had some coffee at a roadside café.

road sign /'rəud sain/ noun a panel by the side of a road, giving instructions or warnings

③ road tax /'rəud tæks/ noun a tax paid by owners of vehicles, e.g. cars and lorries, to the government for permission to drive their vehicles on the road

road user /'rəud ,ju:zə/ noun a person who uses a road roadway /'rəʊdweɪ/ noun a main surface of a road (NOTE: The US term is pavement.)

roadworks /'rəʊdwɜ:ks/ plural noun repairs to a road ○ It took longer than normal to get to Birmingham because of all the roadworks.

roadworthy /'rəudwɜ:ði/ adj in a fit state to be driven on a road roam /rəʊm/ verb to wander about a place without any particular destination roar /rɔ:/ noun a loud noise, e.g. of shouting or of an engine ○ The roar of the jet engines made it impossible for me to hear what she said. ○ You could hear the roar of the crowd at the football match several miles away. ■ verb to make a loud noise ○ He roared with laughter at the film. ○ The lion roared and then attacked.

③ roaring /'rɔ:riŋ/ adj noisy and fierce □ a roaring fire a big fire, with flames going up the chimney ○ We sat in front of a roaring fire and ate roasted chestnuts. □ a roaring success something that is extremely successful ○ Thousands of people came to the show, it was a roaring success. □ to do a roaring trade in something to sell something rapidly ○ The stand was doing a roaring trade selling home-made cakes and jam. ■ noun the sound of loud deep calls ○ The roaring of lions near the camp kept us awake.

③ roast /rəʊst/ verb to cook food over a fire or in an oven ○ If you want the meat thoroughly cooked, roast it for a longer period at a lower temperature. ○ You can either roast pigeons or cook them in a casserole. Synonym bake □ to roast chestnuts to cook chestnuts over red-hot charcoal ■ adj which has been roasted ○ What a lovely smell of roast meat! ○ We had roast chicken for dinner. ■ noun meat cooked in an oven ○ We always have a roast on Sundays.

roasting /'rəʊstɪŋ/ adj 1. used for roasting meat ○ Put the chicken in the roasting tin. 2. very hot ○ Let's go outside – it's roasting in here. ■ noun a sharp criticism (informal) ○ He'll get a roasting when his father hears about it.

roast potatoes /rəʊst po:tɪtəʊz/ plural noun potatoes baked in fat in an oven (NOTE: Although the verb has the forms roasting – roasted, when referring to meat, the adjective roast is used: roast meat, roast turkey, but roasted peanuts, roasted chestnuts.)

③ rob /rɒb/ verb to attack and steal from someone (NOTE: robbing – robbed)

③ robber /'rɒbə/ noun a person who attacks and steals from someone. Synonym thief robbery /'rɒbəri/ noun the act of attacking and stealing from someone (NOTE: The plural is robberies.)

robe /rəʊb/ noun a long loose garment for men or women ○ The professors came onto the platform in their academic robes. ○ The Arab sheikh rode up on a camel in his flowing robes. ■ verb □ to be robed in something to be dressed in a robe (formal) ○ The priests stood robed in white by the altar.

robin /'rɒbɪn/ noun a common small brown bird with a red breast

Robin Hood /'rɒbɪn 'hʊd/ noun a legendary medieval bandit, who fought against the power of the nobility and gave what he stole from them to poor people

③ robot /'rəʊbɒt/ noun a machine which is programmed to work like a person automatically robust /rəʊ'bʌst/ adj 1. strong or vigorous ○ This young tree is very robust and should survive the winter. ○ My grandmother is not very robust but she still manages to look after herself. 2. vigorous and determined ○ He gave some robust answers to the journalists' questions. ○ Our troops will give a robust response to any enemy attack.

robustly /rəʊ'bʌstli/ adv in a vigorous way

② rock /rɒk/ noun 1. a large stone or a large piece of stone ○ The ship was breaking up on the rocks. 2. a hard pink sweet shaped like a stick, often with the name of a town printed in it, bought mainly by tourists ○ a stick of Brighton rock 3. loud popular music with a strong rhythm ○ Rock (music) is the only music he listens to. ■ verb 1. to sway from side to side or make something sway from side to side ○ The little boat rocked in the wake of the ferry. ○ The explosion rocked the town. □ don't rock the boat don't do anything to disturb what has been arranged (informal) ○ Everything has been organised, so please don't rock the boat with any new suggestions. 2. to move from side to side, holding something ○ The baby is crying, I'll try to rock her to sleep.

③ rock bottom /rɒk 'bɒtəm/ noun the lowest point □ to sell at rock bottom prices to sell at the lowest prices possible ○ We can't give you a bigger discount – the prices quoted are rock bottom prices.

rocker /'rɒkə/ noun 1. a semicircular wooden piece which a rocking chair stands on ○ an old cradle with rockers ○ She tripped over the rocker and hurt her ankle. 2. □ to be off your rocker to be mad (slang) ○ He must be off his rocker to do something like that. 3. a type of electric switch which rocks ○ Use the rocker switch to switch off the motor.

rockery /'rɒkəri/ noun same as rock garden

rocket /'rɒkɪt/ noun 1. a type of firework which flies up into the sky ○ We stood in the square and watched the rockets lighting up the sky. 2. a type of bomb which is shot through space at an enemy ○ They fired a homemade rocket into the police station. 3. □ to give someone a rocket to criticise someone sharply (slang) ○ The manager gave him a rocket when he was late back from lunch. ○ She'll get a rocket from the boss if she comes in late again. 4. a type of green vegetable eaten in salads ■ verb to shoot upwards very fast ○ Prices have rocketed this summer.

rock garden /'rɒk ,gɑ:dən/ noun a small garden made of very large stones with plants growing between them or over them rocking chair /'rɒkɪŋ tʃeə/ noun a chair which rocks backwards and forwards on rockers rocking horse /'rɒkɪŋ hɔ:s/ noun a child's toy, a large wooden horse on rockers, which you sit on and rock backwards and forwards rock music /rɒk ,mju:zɪk/ noun loud popular music with a strong rhythm rocky /'rɒki/ adj 1. full of rocks and large stones ○ They followed a rocky path up the mountain. 2. difficult ○ The company has had a rocky year. ○ My brother and sister-in-law are going through a rocky patch at the moment. 3. not steady ○ My chair is a bit rocky. 4. □ the Rocky Mountains, the Rockies a range of high snow-capped mountains, running south from Canada into the western United States ○ The pictures of the Rocky Mountains covered in snow are a typical postcard scene. ○ We picked up two backpackers who were hitching a lift into the Rockies.

rod /rɒd/ noun 1. a long stick ○ You need something rigid like a metal rod to hold the tent upright. 2. □ with an iron rod or rod of iron very strictly, without allowing any weakness (informal) ○ The Secretary of State rules his department with an iron rod. ○ She's a tiny little woman but she rules the office with a rod of iron.

③ rode /rəʊd/ □ ride

rodent /'rəʊd(ə)nt/ noun an animal which chews and gnaws, such as a mouse or a rat rodeo /'rəʊdɪəʊ, rəʊ'deɪəʊ/ noun a display of skill by cowboys (NOTE: The plural is rodeos.)

roe /rəʊl/ noun the eggs of fish ○ They ate salmon roe on toast. (NOTE: Do not confuse with row.)

roe deer /'rəʊ dɪə/ noun a type of deer, much smaller than red deer or fallow deer, found in Europe and Asia rogue /rəʊg/ noun a wicked or dishonest person ○ That car dealer is a bit of a rogue – you really shouldn't trust him.

rogue elephant /rəʊg 'elɪfənt/ noun 1. an elephant driven out of the herd by the other elephants 2. a person who does not act in the same way as others ○ He's something of a rogue elephant – wild and unpredictable.

rogue state /rəʊg 'steɪt/ noun a country which is believed to be dangerous to others because it does not have a stable government and encourages terrorism

① role /rəʊl/ noun 1. a part played by someone in a play or film ○ He plays the role of the king. 2. a part played by someone in real life ○ He played an important role in getting the project off the ground. (NOTE: Do not confuse with roll.)

③ role model /'rəʊl ,mɒd(ə)l/ noun a person who should be taken as an example which others can copy role play /'rəʊl pleɪ/ noun an activity in which people each play the part of another person, as part of a training exercise

① roll /rəʊl/ noun 1. a tube of something which has been turned over and over on itself

○ a roll of fax paper ○ a roll of toilet paper or a toilet roll 2. a list of names □ to call the roll to read out the list of names to see if everyone is there. ♦ rollcall 3. a very small loaf of bread for one person, sometimes cut in half and used to make a sandwich ○ Will a tuna salad and a bread roll be enough for you? ○ The airline's continental breakfast was just a roll and a cup of coffee. 4. the action of rolling ○ It takes time to get used to the roll of the ship. ○ With a roll of her eyes and a shake of her head, she left the room. (NOTE: Do not confuse with role.) ■ verb 1. to make something go forwards by turning it over and over ○ He rolled the ball to the other player. 2. to go forwards by turning over and over ○ The ball rolled down the hill. ○ My pound coin has rolled under the piano. 3. to make something move on wheels or rollers ○ The table is fitted with wheels, just roll it into the room. ○ The patient was rolled into the operating theatre ten minutes ago. 4. to turn something flat over and over on itself ○ He rolled the poster into a tube. 5. to move from side to side ○ The ship rolled in the heavy seas. ○ She rolled her eyes and pointed at the door. Compare pitch 6. to flatten something by using a roller ○ Roll the pastry until it is quite thin. 7. □ to roll your r's when speaking the letter 'r', to make the tip of your tongue vibrate ○ Scots people often roll their r's.

rollcall /'rəʊlkɔ:l/ noun the act of reading a list of names

rolled-up /'rəʊld ʌp/ adj which has been rolled tightly

③ roller /'rəʊlə/ noun 1. a heavy round object which rolls, e.g. one used for making lawns or cricket pitches flat ○ The ground is so bumpy, you'll need a roller to flatten it. ○ They used the roller just before the match started. ♦ steamroller 2. a plastic tube used for rolling hair into curls ○ She came to the door in her dressing gown and rollers. 3. a Rolls Royce car (slang) ○ Hey, come for a ride in my new Roller! 4. a long large wave ○ The Atlantic rollers in Cornwall are ideal for surfers.

rollerblader /'rəʊləbleɪdə/ noun a person who goes on rollerblades

rollerblades /'rəʊləbleɪdz/ trademark roller skates with a single set of wheels placed in line on the sole of each skate rollerblading /'rəʊləbleɪdɪŋ/ noun the sport of going on rollerblades. Also called in-line skating roller coaster /'rəʊlə 'kəʊstə/ noun 1. a fairground railway which goes up and down steep slopes ○ We all went for a ride on the roller coaster. 2. a dangerous or risky series of events that cannot be controlled ○ The government had a roller coaster ride during its first weeks in office.

roller skate /'rəʊlə skeɪt/ noun a shoe with pairs of wheels side by side, on which you can glide along fast ○ I have some roller skates but I'd love to have rollerblades. ■ verb to glide on roller skates ○ I used to roller skate but I prefer rollerblading because it is so much faster.

roller skating /'rəʊlə ,skeɪtɪŋ/ noun the sport of going on roller skates rolling /'rəʊlɪŋ/ adj 1. □ rolling countryside countryside which is a mass of small hills 2. continuing from one period to another 3. □ to be rolling in it to have a lot of money (informal) ○ You've just got to see the inside of their house to see that they must be rolling in it.

rolling pin /'rəʊlɪŋ pɪn/ noun a wooden roller with handles, for flattening pastry rolling stock /'rəʊlɪŋ stɒk/ noun carriages, wagons and engines used on a railway rolling stone /,rəʊlɪŋ 'stəʊn/ noun a person who never lives long in one place roll of honour /,rəʊl əv 'ənə/ noun a list of people who have done something special, such as students who have won prizes or soldiers killed in battle

④ roll up /,rəʊl ʌp/ verb 1. to turn something flat over and over on itself until it is a tube ○ He rolled up the carpet or rolled the carpet up. ○ A hedgehog will roll up into a ball if you touch it. 2. to arrive ○ They just rolled up and asked if we could put them up for the night. ○ The bridegroom finally rolled up an hour late and said he'd had a puncture.

ROM /rɒm/ abbr read-only memory

Roman /'rəʊmən/ adj referring to Rome, the capital of Italy and of the ancient Roman Empire ○ a book about Roman emperors ■ noun

1. a person who lives or lived in Rome ○ The Romans invaded Britain in AD 43. 2. a printing type with straight letters ○ The book is set in Times Roman. Compare italic

Roman alphabet /,rəʊmən 'ælfəbet/ noun the alphabet with the letters A, B, C, D, etc., used in many European languages

Roman Catholic /,rəʊmən 'kæθətɪk/ adj referring to the Christian Church of which the Pope is the head ■ noun a person who belongs to the Christian Church of which the Pope is the head ○ When the Pope visited the country thousands of Roman Catholics attended mass.

romance /rəʊ'mæns/ noun 1. a love affair ○ She told us all about her holiday romance. ○ Their romance didn't last. 2. a love story ○ You'll enjoy this book if you like romances.

romance language /rəʊ'mæns ,læŋgwɪdʒ/ noun a European language, e.g.

French or Italian, which has developed from ancient Latin

Romanesque /rəʊmə'nesk/ adj, noun (of) an architectural style with round arches and vaults found in Europe in the early Middle Ages

Roman numeral /rəʊmən 'nju:mərəl/ noun a number belonging to the set written with the symbols I, V, X, L, C, D and M. Compare Arabic numeral romantic /rəʊ'mæntɪk/ adj 1. full of mystery and love ○ We had a romantic candlelit dinner, which I'll never forget. ○ The atmosphere on the ship was very romantic. 2. (of a literary or artistic style) which is very imaginative or is based on personal emotions ○ His style is too romantic for my liking. ○ The romantic period is not my favourite literary period.

romanticise /rəʊ'mæntɪsaiz/, romanticize verb to make something seem more exciting than it really is romanticism /rəʊ'mæntɪsiz(ə)m/ noun a romantic literary style. Synonym idealisation romantic novel /rəʊ,mæntɪk 'nɒv(ə)l/ noun a novel which is a love story

Romantics /rəʊ'mæntɪks/ plural noun writers writing at the beginning of the nineteenth century in a romantic style

Romany /rɒməni/ noun a member of a people originally from India, who travels from place to place rather than living in a permanent home romp /rɒmp/ noun the act of playing by children energetically and noisily ○ It was only a childish romp but it ended tragically. ■ verb 1. to play about energetically ○ She was romping with her friends on the sofa when her mother came in. 2. □ to romp home to win easily ○ Our local team romped home 6–2. ○ The favourite romped home by several lengths.

② roof /ru:f/ noun 1. a part of a building which covers it and protects it ○ The cat walked across the roof of the greenhouse. ○ She lives in a little cottage with a thatched roof. 2. the top of the inside of the mouth ○ I burnt the roof of my mouth drinking hot soup. 3. the top of a vehicle, e.g. a car, bus or lorry ○ We had to put the cases on the roof of the car.

roofing /ru:fɪŋ/ noun material which is used to make roofs roof rack /ru:f ræk/ noun a frame fixed to the roof of a car for carrying luggage roof terrace /ru:f ,terəs/ noun a flat paved area on the roof of a building rooftop /ru:ftɒp/ noun the top of a roof ○ The plane flew low over the rooftops of the village. ■ adj on the top of a roof ○ The prisoners staged a rooftop protest.

rook /ru:k/ noun 1. a large black bird ○ What is the difference between a rook and a crow? – Crows usually live in pairs, while rooks live in colonies. 2. (in chess) one of two pieces used in chess, shaped like a little castle tower ○ She took my last rook. Also called castle rookie /rəʊki/ noun a new recruit in the armed forces or in the police (informal)

① room /ru:m/ noun 1. a part of a building, divided from other parts by walls ○ The flat has six rooms, plus kitchen and bathroom. ○ We want an office with at least four rooms. 2. a bedroom in a hotel ○ Your room is 316 – here's your key. ○ His room is just opposite mine. □ a single or double room a room for one person or two people ○ I would like to book a single room for tomorrow night. 3. a space for something ○ The table is too big – it takes up a lot of room. ○ There isn't enough room in the car for six people. ○ We can't have a piano in our flat – there just isn't enough room. □ to make room for someone or something to squeeze up to give space for someone or something ○ There is no way we can make room for another passenger. □ there's room for improvement things could be improved ○ The system is better than it was, but there is still room for improvement.

room-mate /'ru:m meɪt/ noun a person who shares a room with you, especially at college room service /'ru:m ,s3:vis/ noun an arrangement in a hotel where food or drink can be served in a guest's bedroom roomy /'ru:mi/ adj with plenty of space inside. Synonym spacious. Antonym cramped (NOTE: roomier – roomiest) roost /ru:st/ noun a perch where a bird sleeps □ to rule the roost to be in charge or the boss ○ He's the MD, but it's his secretary who rules the roost in the firm. ■ verb 1. to perch asleep ○ Six chickens were roosting in the shed. 2. □ to come home to roost to reappear and have a bad effect ○ His mistakes in investing on the stock market have come home to roost.

rooster /'ru:stə/ noun especially US a male domestic chicken (NOTE: The usual British term is cockerel or cock)

② root /ru:t/ noun 1. a part of a plant which goes down into the ground, and which takes nourishment from the soil ○ I'm not surprised the plant died, it has hardly any roots.

□ to take root (of a cutting) to make roots ○ The cuttings died – none of them took root. 2. the part of a hair or a tooth which goes down into the skin ○ He pulled her hair out by the roots. 3. (in language) a word which is a base for other words ○ Many words are formed from Latin roots.

root about /'ru:t ə'baʊt/ verb to look for something under a lot of other things root crops /'ru:t krɒps/ plural noun vegetables which are grown for their roots which are eaten, e.g. carrots and turnips rooted /'ru:tɪd/ adj 1. as if with roots ○ rooted to the spot unable to move ○ She stood rooted to the spot as the lorry came towards her. 2. strongly felt ○ No one knows why she has a deeply rooted or deep-rooted fear of dogs.

② root up /'ru:t 'ʌp/, root out /'ru:t 'aʊt/ verb 1. to pull up a plant with its roots ○ I spent the morning rooting up weeds in the garden. 2. to remove something completely ○ The police are trying to root out corruption.

root vegetable /'ru:t 'vedʒtəb(ə)l/ noun a vegetable such as a carrot, of which you eat the root

② rope /rəʊp/ noun 1. a very thick cord ○ You'll need a rope to pull the car out of the ditch. ○ The burglar climbed down from the balcony on a rope. 2. □ to learn the ropes to learn how to do something ○ We send new salespeople out with an experienced rep to learn the ropes. □ it's money for old rope it's money which is easy to make (informal) ■ verb 1. to tie someone or something together with a rope ○ The climbers roped themselves together. ○ We roped the sofa onto the roof of the car. 2. □ to rope someone in to get someone to help or to join in ○ Rope in as many people as you can, we need all the help we can get. ○ She was roped in to deal with the children's tea.

ropy /'rəʊpi/ adj of bad quality; not healthy (informal) (NOTE: ropier – rosiest)

rosary /'rəʊzəri/ noun a string of beads which Catholics use to count out a set of prayers

③ rose /rəʊz/ noun 1. a common garden flower with a strong scent ○ He gave her a bunch of red roses. ○ These roses have a beautiful scent. 2. a common shrub with these strongly scented flowers ○ Wild roses were growing along the path. 3. a piece of metal or plastic with little holes in it, which is attached to the spout of a watering can, so that the water comes out in a spray □ adj pink ○ She wore a pale rose dress. □ to see through rose-coloured spectacles to see things as being very good when they are not (informal) □ verb □ rise rosé /'rəʊzəl/ noun a pink wine which gets its colour from the black grape skins being left only for a short time in the fermenting mixture rosemary /'rəʊzməri/ noun a bush herb with spiky green leaves, used in cooking rosette /rəʊ'zɛt/ noun a ribbon bunched to look like a flower, used as a decoration or as a badge roster /'rɒstəl/ noun a list of duties which have to be done and the people who have to do them. Synonym rota rostrum /'rɒstrəm/ noun a raised stand for a speaker rosy /'rəʊzi/ adj 1. bright pink and healthy ○ The children had rosy cheeks when they came in from their walk. 2. very favourable ○ Our future is looking rosier than it has done for years. (NOTE: rosier – rosiest) rot /rɒt/ noun decay ○ Once rot infects the roots, it will kill the plant quickly. □ the rot has set in things have begun to go badly wrong (informal) ○ We thought things were going well, but then the rot set in and the shop had to close. □ verb to decay, to go bad ○ The wooden fence is not very old but it has already started to rot. ♦ rotten. Synonym decompose (NOTE: rotting – rotted) rota /'rəʊtəl/ noun a roster, a list of duties which have to be done and the people who have to do them. Synonym roster rotary /'rəʊtəri/ adj which turns round rotate /rəʊ'teɪt/ verb to turn round or turn something round an axis like a wheel rotation /rəʊ'teɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. the act of turning something ○ the rotation of the Earth round the Sun 2. the act of taking turns □ rotation of crops, crop rotation a system of cultivation in which different crops are planted in consecutive growing seasons ○ Crop rotation reduces the effect of pests and diseases.

rote /rəʊt/ noun learning something by heart, often without understanding it rotor /'rəʊtəl/ noun machinery which rotates, such as the motor that drives the blades of a helicopter

③ rotten /rɒt(ə)n/ adj 1. decayed ○ The apple looked nice on the outside, but inside it was rotten. ○ Don't walk on that plank, I think it is rotten. 2. miserable ○ I had a rotten time at the party – no one would dance with me. ○ We had rotten weather on holiday. ♦ to feel rotten 1. to feel ill ○ Yesterday I felt slightly unwell, but today I feel really rotten. 2. to feel ashamed ○ I feel so rotten for having spoiled your party.

rottweiler /'rɒt,waɪləl/ noun a large powerful dog with a black smooth coat rotund /rəʊt'ʌnd/ adj round and fat. Synonym overweight rouge /ru:ʒ/ noun a pink cream or powder which you put on your face to give yourself more colour (dated)

② rough /rʌf/ adj 1. not smooth, uneven ○ Rub down any rough edges with sandpaper. 2. with a sharp unpleasant taste ○ This wine's

a bit rough – but what can you expect for £2.99? 3. approximate, not very accurate ○ I made some rough calculations on the back of an envelope. 4. not finished ○ He made a rough draft of the new design. 5. not gentle ○ Don't be rough when you're playing with the puppy. (NOTE: rougher – roughest) ■ noun 1. a design which has not been finished ○ She showed me some roughs for the new gardening magazine. 2. □ to take the rough with the smooth to accept that there are bad times as well as good times (informal) 3. a part of a golf course where the grass is not cut, along the sides of the long part that you hit the ball down ○ His ball went into the rough. ■ verb □ to rough it to live in uncomfortable conditions (informal) ○ The four-star hotels are all full, so we'll just have to rough it in a bed and breakfast. ■ adv □ to sleep rough to sleep in the open, on the pavement ○ Hundreds of young people were sleeping rough in doorways.

roughage /'raʊfɪdʒ/ noun dietary fibre, fibrous matter in food which cannot be digested and passes out of the body. Synonym bulk (NOTE: no plural)

③ rough and ready /,raʊf ən 'redi/ adj 1. approximate ○ The plan is a bit rough and ready, but it will give you a general idea of what we want. 2. not beautifully finished ○ I'm not too pleased with the work he did – it is a bit too rough and ready.

rough-and-tumble /,raʊf ən 'tʌmbəl/ noun a way of living that involves a lot of conflict. Synonym hurly-burly roughen /'raʊf(ə)n/ verb to make something rough or to become rough. Antonym soften

② roughly /'raʊflɪ/ adv 1. in a rough way ○ Don't play so roughly with the children. ○ The removal men threw the boxes of china roughly into the back of their van. 2. approximately, more or less ○ There were roughly one hundred people in the audience. ○ Ten euros make roughly six pounds. ○ The cost of building the new kitchen will be roughly £25,000.

roughshod /'raʊfʃɒd/ adv □ to ride roughshod over somebody or something to treat somebody with no justice or consideration, or disregard something completely roulette /ru:'let/ noun a game of chance where bets are made on the numbers in boxes on a flat rotating wheel where a small ball will lodge when the wheel stops turning

① round /raʊnd/ adj 1. with a shape like a circle ○ In Chinese restaurants, you usually sit at round tables. 2. with a shape like a globe ○ Soccer is played with a round ball, while a rugby ball is oval. ○ People used to believe that the Earth was flat, not round. 3. □ in round figures not totally accurate, but correct to the nearest 10 or 100 ○ Expect to pay £5,000 in round figures. ■ adv, prep 1. in a circular way or movement ○ The wheels of the lorry went round and round. ○ The Earth goes round the Sun. ○ He was the first person to sail round the world single-handed. ○ We all sat round the table chatting. ○ He ran down the street and disappeared round a corner. 2. towards the back ○ She turned round when he tapped her on the shoulder. ○ Don't look round when you're driving on the motorway. 3. from one person to another ○ They passed round some papers for everyone to sign. ○ Can you pass the plate of cakes round, please? □ enough to go round enough for everyone ○ There aren't enough glasses to go round. 4. in various places, here and there ○ They spent the afternoon going round the town. □ he doesn't live round here he doesn't live anywhere near here 5. completely □ all year round during the whole year ○ The park is open all year round. ■ noun 1. a regular route for delivering ○ The postman starts his round at 5am. 2. drinks bought by one person for a group of people ○ It's my turn to buy the next round. 3. a slice of bread or toast □ she made a round of sandwiches she made sandwiches from two slices of bread 4. a part of a competition ○ Those who answer all the questions correctly, go on to the next round. ○ He was knocked out in the first round. 5. a session of playing all the holes on a golf course ○ I think we have time for one more round before it gets dark. 6. a series of meetings ○ a round of pay negotiations 7. one bullet ○ The police fired several rounds into the crowd of students. ■ verb to go round something ○ He rounded the corner and saw a crowd in front of him. ○ The boat capsized as it was rounding the buoy.

③ roundabout /'raʊndəbaʊt/ noun 1. a place where several roads meet, and traffic has to move in a circle ○ When you get to the next roundabout, turn right. (NOTE: The US term is traffic circle.) 2. (in a children's playground) a heavy wheel which turns, and which children ride on ○ The children all ran to get on the roundabout. ○ A small child fell from the roundabout and hurt his leg badly. 3. (in a fairground) a large mechanical amusement machine, which turns round and plays music, usually with horses to sit on which move up and down. Also called merry-go-round (NOTE: The US term is carousel.) ■ adj not direct ○ The taxi took a very roundabout route to get to Trafalgar Square. Synonym indirect round brackets /raʊnd 'brækɪts/ plural noun the printing symbols () which enclose words or characters and separate them from the rest of the text. Also called parentheses

③ round down /'raʊnd 'daʊn/ verb to decrease something to the nearest full figure rounded /'raʊndɪd/ adj with a smooth or round shape. Synonym curved rounders /'raʊndəz/ noun a team game played with a bat and ball, where the batsman has to run round the pitch to score (NOTE: The game is similar to baseball.)

Roundhead /'raʊndhɛd/ noun a nickname for a follower of the parliamentary side in the English Civil War (NOTE: The followers of the King (Charles I) were called Cavaliers.)

roundly /'raʊndli/ adv strongly and clearly round on /'raʊnd ɒn/ verb to start to criticise someone suddenly

③ rounds /'raʊndz/ plural noun regular visits round table conference /,raʊnd ,teb(ə)l 'kɒnf(ə)rəns/ noun a discussion or conference where all the delegates are on equal terms round-the-clock /,raʊnd ðə 'klok/ adj throughout the day and night

③ round-the-world /,raʊnd ðə 'wɜːld/ adj which goes round the world, returning to the original departure point

③ round trip /'raʊnd triːp/ noun a journey from one place to another and back again □ how much is the round trip fare? how much is the fare for a journey from one place to another and back again?

③ round up /,raʊnd 'ʌp/ verb 1. to gather people or animals together □ The secret police rounded up about fifty suspects and took them off in vans. □ She rounded up the children and took them into the museum. □ The farmer is out in the fields rounding up his sheep. 2. to increase something to the nearest full figure □ The figures have been rounded up to the nearest dollar. □ I owed him £4.98 so I rounded it up to £5.00.

roundup /'raʊndʌp/ noun a summary

rouse /raʊz/ verb 1. to wake someone who is sleeping □ The shouts of the firemen roused the sleeping patients. 2. to get someone to act □ The difficulty will be to rouse the chairman into action. Compare arouse rousing /'raʊzɪŋ/ adj loud and noisy. Synonym stirring. Antonym soothing rout /raʊt/ noun the complete defeat of an army or a team □ The final match of the series ended in a rout for the home side. ■ verb 1. to defeat someone completely □ The enemy army was routed. 2. □ to rout someone or something out to pull someone or something out from where it was hidden □ We are trying to rout out any enemy snipers left hiding in the ruins.

② route /ruːt/ noun a way to be followed to get to a destination □ We still have to decide which route we will take. ■ verb to send someone or something along a specific route

○ The demonstration was routed along Pall Mall to St James' Park. Synonym direct route march /'ruːt mɑːtʃ/ noun a training march for soldiers

③ routine /ruː'tiːn/ noun 1. the normal regular way of doing things □ Children don't like their routine to be changed. □ A change of routine might do you good. □ Having a cup of coffee while reading the newspaper is part of his morning routine. 2. instructions which carry out a task as part of a computer program □ The routine copies the screen display onto a printer. □ The RETURN instruction at the end of the routine sends control back to the main program. 3. a sequence of dance steps □ The dancers were practising a very complicated routine. ■ adj normal or everyday □ He went to the doctor for a routine checkup. □ We're making a routine check of the central heating boiler.

routinely /ruː'tiːnlɪ/ adv in a routine way, done as a routine rove /rəʊv/ verb to wander about in a place roving /'rəʊvɪŋ/ adj going from place to place

② row noun 1. /rəʊ/ a line of things, side by side or one after the other □ He has a row of cabbages in the garden. □ They pulled down an old house to build a row of shops. □ I want two seats in the front row. 2. /raʊ/ a loud noise □ Stop making that dreadful row! 3. /raʊ/ a serious argument □ They had a row about who was responsible for the accident. ■ verb 1. /raʊ/ to make a boat go forwards by using oars □ She rowed across the lake. 2. /raʊ/ to argue □ They were rowing about who would pay the bill.

③ rowboat /'raʊbət/ noun US same as rowing boat rowdy /'raʊdi/ adj making a great deal of noise □ A rowdy party in the flat next door kept us all awake. □ The minister had a rowdy reception at the meeting. Synonym disorderly. Antonym restrained (NOTE: rowdier – rowdiest) ■ noun a rough person who makes a lot of noise (dated) □ Right-wing rowdies broke up the meeting. (NOTE: The plural is rowdies.)

rower /'rəʊər/ noun an oarsman, a person who rows

③ rowing /'rəʊɪŋ/ noun making a boat move by the use of oars rowing boat /'rəʊɪŋ bəʊt/ noun a small boat for rowing (NOTE: The US term is row-boat.)

① royal /'rɔɪəl/ adj referring to a king or queen □ the royal we ◊ we royal blue /,rɔɪəl 'bluː/ noun a deep blue colour

Royal Family /'rɔɪəl 'fæm(ə)li/ noun the family of a king or queen royalist /'rɔɪəlist/ noun a person supporting rule by a king or queen. Antonym republican royalty /'rɔɪəlti/ noun 1. members of a king's or queen's family ○ Please dress formally, there will be royalty present. (NOTE: no plural in this meaning) 2. money paid to the author of a book or an actor in a film as a percentage of sales ○ Do you receive royalties on the sales of your book? ○ All royalty cheques are paid direct to my account in Switzerland. (NOTE: The plural is royalties.)

rpm abbr revolutions per minute

RSI abbr repetitive strain injury

③ RSVP abbr letters printed on an invitation asking the person invited to reply. Full form répondez s'il vous plaît

RTF /rɔ:ti: 'ef/ noun a format for a computer file that will make it look the same on any computer screen. Full form rich text format

Rt Hon abbr Right Honourable (NOTE: written before a name: the Rt Hon William Gladstone, MP)

③ rub /rʌb/ verb to move something across the surface of something else ○ He rubbed his hands together to get them warm. ○ These new shoes have rubbed against my heel and given me a blister. ○ The cat rubbed herself against my legs. (NOTE: rubbing – rubbed)

■ noun the action of rubbing ○ She gave her shoes a quick rub to remove the dust. ○ He hit his head on the low ceiling, and gave it a rub.

rubber /'rʌbə/ noun 1. elastic material made from the sap of a tropical tree ○ Car tyres are made of rubber. ○ Many years ago, we visited a rubber plantation in Malaysia. 2. a piece of rubber used for removing pencil marks ○ He used a rubber to try to rub out what he had written. (NOTE: The US term is eraser) 3. especially US a condom, a rubber contraceptive sheath ○ Did he wear a rubber?

rubber band /,rʌbə 'bænd/ noun ◊ elastic band rubber stamp /,rʌbə 'stæmp/ noun a stamp made of rubber, with words or figures cut on it, which is used for stamping documents ○ We use this rubber stamp for marking letters as they are received. ■ verb to agree to something automatically without examining it ○ The committee simply rubber-stamped the proposal. (NOTE: written with a hyphen when used as a verb) rubbery /'rʌbəri/ adj with the texture of rubber rubbing /'rʌbɪŋ/ noun a copy made by placing paper on something and rubbing the paper with a coloured pencil or wax crayon

③ rubbish /'rʌbɪʃ/ noun 1. waste, things which are of no use and are thrown away ○ We had to step over heaps of rubbish to get to the restaurant. 2. worthless nonsense ○ Have you read his new book? – It's rubbish! ○ He's talking rubbish, don't listen to him. (NOTE: no plural. The US term is garbage or trash.)

rubbish bin /'rʌbɪʃ bɪn/ noun a container for putting rubbish in. Synonym dustbin rubble /'rʌb(ə)l/ noun small stones or broken bricks from damaged buildings, also used in making such things as paths. Synonym debris (NOTE: no plural) rubella /ru:'belə/ noun a usually mild disease which gives a red rash but which can affect an unborn child if caught by a pregnant woman. Also called German measles

③ rub in /,rʌb 'ɪn/ verb 1. to make an ointment or cream enter the skin by rubbing ○ She rubbed the ointment into her skin. 2. ◊ don't rub it in don't go on talking about something I regret (informal) ○ Yes, I know I made a mistake, but please, don't rub it in.

③ rub out /,rʌb 'aʊt/ verb to remove a pencil mark with a rubber. Synonym erase

③ rub up /,rʌb 'ʌp/ verb ◊ to rub someone up the wrong way to annoy someone (informal) ○ She's in a bad mood, someone must have rubbed her up the wrong way.

ruby /'ru:bi/ noun a red precious stone ○ a necklace of rubies and pearls (NOTE: The plural is rubies) ■ adj dark red ○ a glass of ruby red wine

ruck /rʌk/ noun 1. an ordinary crowd of people ○ He wants to get out of the ruck and become a manager. 2. (in rugby) a group of players who fight for the ball when it is on the ground ○ The big forward broke into the ruck. 3. a crease in a fabric rucksack /'ræksæk/ noun a large bag carried on the back when walking. Synonym backpack rudder /'rʌdə/ noun a flat vertical plate at the back of a boat or on the tail of an aircraft, used for steering ruddy /'rʌdi/ adj 1. red, fire-coloured ○ the little boys with their ruddy cheeks ○ A ruddy glow hung over the burning city. (NOTE: redder – reddest) 2. awful (informal) ○ That ruddy dog – he's put dirty paw marks all over the kitchen floor.

rude /ru:d/ adj not polite, likely to offend, trying to offend ○ Don't point at people – it's rude. ○ The teacher asked who had written rude words on the board. ○ He was rude to the teacher. (NOTE: ruder – rudest) rudely /'ru:dli/ adv in a rude way rudeness /'ru:dnes/ noun being rude. Antonym politeness rudimentary /,ru:di'ment(ə)ri/ adj basic; not fully developed. Synonym basic rudiments /'ru:dimənts/ plural noun simple basic facts. ○ He went on a short course so he's learnt the rudiments of sailing. Synonym basics rue /ru:/ noun a bitter herb (archaic) ■ verb to regret something. ○ I rue the day when I said I would help her.

rueful /'ru:f(ə)l/ adj sorry or regretful. Antonym cheerful ruefully /'ru:f(ə)li/ adv in a rueful way ruffian /'rafiən/ noun a violent man, usually a criminal (dated) Synonym thug

ruffle /'rʌf(ə)l/ noun material or lace gathered into a bunch and used as decoration on clothes or curtains, etc. ○ The curtains are edged with ruffles. ■ verb to disturb feathers or water or someone's hair. ○ The breeze ruffled the surface of the lake. ○ She ruffled his hair.

ruffled /'rʌf(ə)ld/ adj flustered, bothered rug /rʌg/ noun 1. a small carpet. ○ This beautiful rug comes from the Middle East. 2. a thick blanket, especially one used when travelling. ○ Put a rug over your knees if you're cold. ○ We spread rugs on the grass to have our picnic.

③ rugby /'rægbɪ/ noun □ rugby football a type of football played with an oval ball which is thrown as well as kicked. ○ When and where is the next rugby match?

rugby ball /'rægbɪ bɔ:s/ noun a type of oval ball used in the game of rugby rugged /'rægid/ adj 1. rough, rocky, uneven. ○ the rugged landscape of the Moon. 2. tough and sturdy. ○ At school, he rapidly developed a rugged independence.

rugger /'rægə/ noun rugby football (informal) Compare soccer

③ ruin /'ru:in/ noun 1. the complete loss of all your money. ○ He faces complete ruin. 2. the remains of an old building with no roof and fallen walls. ○ The house was a total ruin when I bought it. ■ verb 1. to spoil something completely. ○ Our holiday was ruined by the weather. 2. to bring a person or organisation to financial collapse. ○ The bank failure ruined a lot of businesses.

③ ruined /'ru:ind/ adj 1. in ruins. ○ Smoke rose from the ruined houses. 2. bankrupt, not able to pay your debts. ○ a ruined company director ruinous /'ru:inəs/ adj extremely expensive. ruinously /'ru:inəsli/ adv □ ruinously expensive so expensive as to make you bankrupt. ○ Hospital treatment in the USA can be ruinously expensive if you don't have health insurance. ○ We took my in-laws out for a ruinously expensive meal.

③ ruins /'ru:inlz/ plural noun the remains of old buildings with no roofs and fallen walls. □ in ruins destroyed. ○ The town was in ruins after the war. ○ After being arrested at the nightclub, his career was in ruins.

② rule /ru:l/ noun 1. a strict order of the way to behave. ○ There are no rules that forbid parking here at night. ○ According to the rules, your ticket must be paid for two weeks in advance. □ against the rules not as the rules say. ○ You can't hold the football in your hands – it's against the rules. 2. □ as a rule usually. ○ As a rule, we go to bed early during the week. 3. a government. ○ The country prospered under the rule of the generals. ■ verb 1. to govern or to control. ○ The president rules the country according to very old-fashioned principles. 2. to give an official or legal decision. ○ The judge ruled that the documents had to be brought to the court. 3. to draw a straight line using a ruler. □ ruled paper paper with lines on it rule of law /,ru:l əv 'lɔ:/ noun the principle that everyone, including the government, has to obey the laws of the land, and that no one shall be punished without a fair trial

② rule out /,ru:l 'aut/ verb to leave something out, not to consider something

③ ruler /'ru:lə/ noun 1. a person who governs. ○ A ruler should be fair. ○ He's the ruler of a small African state. 2. a long strip of wood or plastic with measurements marked on it, used for measuring and drawing straight lines. ○ You need a ruler to draw straight lines.

③ ruling /'ru:lin/ adj 1. in power, governing. 2. in operation at the moment. ○ We will invoice at ruling prices. ■ noun a legal decision made by a judge or other arbitrator. ○ The judge will give a ruling on the case next week. ○ According to the ruling of the court, the contract was illegal.

ruling party /,ru:lin 'pa:ti/ noun a party which forms the government

rum /rʌm/ noun an alcoholic drink made from the juice of sugar cane. ○ She had a glass of rum and pineapple juice. ■ adj odd or strange (dated informal). ○ We found ourselves in a very rum situation. Antonym usual rumble /'rʌmbəl/ noun a low rolling noise. ○ We were woken by the rumble of trains passing over the bridge. ○ There was a rumble of thunder in the distance. ■ verb 1. to make a low rolling noise. ○ Wooden carts full of stone rumbled past. ○ Thunder rumbled in the distance. ○ I'm so hungry my tummy's rumbling. 2. to find out that someone is trying to trick you. ○ He got away with it for a time but eventually we rumbled him.

rumbling /'ramblɪŋ/ noun a low rolling noise ○ the rumbling of the thunder in the distance rumblings /'ramblɪŋz/ plural noun murmuring by people showing that they are not happy ruminate /'ru:minet/ verb 1. (of a cow) to chew over food which has already been swallowed once 2. to think over a problem ○ He spent the weekend ruminating on what to do next.

rummage /'rʌmɪdʒ/ noun a session of searching about for something ○ We had a good rummage in the loft but couldn't find the book. ■ verb to search about for something ○ She rummaged in her drawer until she found the pair of gloves.

rumour /'ru:ma/ noun a story spread from one person to another but which may not be true ○ There's a rumour going around that John's getting married. ■ verb to spread a story ○ It was rumoured in the press that they were about to get divorced. (NOTE: [all senses] The US spelling is rumor.)

rumoured /'ru:məd/ adj spread by rumour (NOTE: The US spelling is rumored.)

rump /rʌmp/ noun 1. the back part of an animal 2. a small number of members of a party left after an election defeat ○ The rump of the party met after the election to decide what to do.

rumpled /'rʌmpəld/ adj creased or untidy rumpus /'rʌmpəs/ noun a noisy disorder. Synonym disturbance (NOTE: The plural is rumpuses.)

① run /rʌn/ noun 1. the act of going quickly on foot, usually as a sport ○ I always go for a run before breakfast. ○ You must be tired out after that long run. ○ She entered for the 10-mile run. □ on the run escaping from prison or hiding from the police ○ He was three weeks on the run before he was caught.

2. a short trip in a car ○ Let's go for a run down to the coast. 3. the act of making a machine work 4. a rush to buy something ○ The Post Office reported a run on the new stamps. 5. a regular route of a plane or bus, etc. ○ On this run, the bus does not go as far as the Post Office. ○ She's a stewardess on the London to New York run. 6. a score of 1 in cricket ○ He made 45 runs before he was out. 7. US a series of little holes in stockings or tights ○ I can't wear these stockings because there's a run in them. (NOTE: The British term is ladder.) 8. a period □ for three days on the run for three days one after another ○ She had a nosebleed for two days on the run. □ in the long run at a time in the future ○ In the long run, it will be cheaper to buy the tickets in bulk. ■ verb 1. to go quickly on foot ○ When she heard the telephone, she ran upstairs. ○ Children must be taught not to run across the road. ○ She's running in the 200-metre race. 2. (of buses, trains, etc.) to be operating ○ All underground trains are running late because of the accident. ○ This bus doesn't run on Sundays. 3. (of vehicles) to work ○ He left his car in the street with the engine running. ○ My car's not running very well at the moment. 4. to go, to last ○ The main street of the town runs north and south. ○ The film runs for three hours. 5. to direct or organise an organisation ○ He runs a chain of shoe shops. ○ I want someone to run the sales department for me when I'm away on holiday. ○ He runs the local youth club. ○ The country is run by the army. 6. to use a car regularly ○ We can't afford to run two cars. 7. to drive someone by car ○ Let me run you to the station. 8. to be in force ○ The lease has only six months more to run. 9. to amount to something ○ The costs ran into thousands of pounds. 10. □ to run a bath to fill a bath with water ○ Don't run a bath now, there is no hot water. 11. (of liquid) to flow, to move along smoothly ○ The river runs past our house. □ this colour won't run the colour will not stain other clothes if they are all washed together 12. □ to run in a family to be an inherited trait ○ Red hair runs in their family. 13. to publish a story in several editions of a newspaper ○ The paper is running an explosive story about the minister's wife. (NOTE: running – ran /ræn/ – has run)

run across /,rʌn ə'krɒs/ verb 1. to cross something quickly on foot ○ The little boy ran across the road after his ball. 2. to find or to meet someone by accident ○ I ran across it in a secondhand bookshop.

run after /'rʌn ,a:ftə/ verb to follow someone fast run away /,rʌn ə'wei/ verb 1. to escape, to go away fast ○ They were running away from the police. ○ She ran away from school when she was 16. ○ The youngsters ran away to Paris. 2. □ to run away with someone to go away from your family to live with someone or to marry someone ○ She ran away with her German teacher.

runaway /'rʌnəwei/ noun a person who has run away from home ○ The police are looking for the runaways. ■ adj which is out of control (informal) ○ The runaway train stopped at the bottom of the hill. □ it was a runaway success it was a great success ○ Her first exhibition was a runaway success.

① run down¹ /,rʌn 'daʊn/ verb 1. to go down something quickly on foot ○ She ran down the stairs two at a time. ○ Can you run down to the village and buy me some bread? 2. (of clock, machine) to stop working or go slower because of lack of power ○ The clock has run down – it needs a new battery. 3. to criticise someone ○ It's not fair to run him down when he's not there to defend himself. 4. to reduce the quantity of something ○ We're running down our stocks of coal before the summer. 5. to knock down with a vehicle ○ She was run down by a car which did not stop.

run down² /rʌn 'daʊn/ adj 1. unwell or tired ○ If you feel run down, ask the chemist for vitamins. 2. dilapidated, not looked after ○ He drives a run-down old car.

rundown /'rʌndən/ noun a summary ○ Give me a quick rundown on what happened at the meeting.

run for /'rʌn fɔ:/ verb 1. to go fast to try to catch someone or something ○ He ran for the bus but it left before he got to the stop. 2. to be a candidate for an office ○ He's running for president.

③ rung /rʌŋ/ noun one of the bars on a ladder ○ If you stand on the top rung you can climb onto the roof. ○ Put your foot on the bottom rung to hold the ladder steady. ■

verb ◊ ring

run-in /'rʌn ɪn/ noun an argument (informal)

③ run into /,rʌn 'ɪnto/ verb 1. to go into a place fast ○ She ran into the street, shouting 'Fire!'. 2. to go fast and hit something, usually in a vehicle ○ He didn't look where he was going and ran into an old lady. ○ The bus turned the corner too fast and ran into a parked van. 3. to amount to something ○ Costs have run into thousands of pounds. ○ Her income runs into five figures. 4. to find someone by chance ○ I ran into him again in a café on the South Bank. 5. to flow somewhere ○ The river runs into the sea.

③ runner /'rʌnə/ noun 1. a person or horse running in a race ○ My horse came in last of seven runners. ○ There are 30,000 runners in the London Marathon. 2. a shoot of a plant which makes roots where it touches the soil ○ Strawberry plants are propagated by the runners they produce. 3. a sharp blade of a skate or of a sledge ○ One of the runners of the sledge is damaged, so you can't use it.

runner bean /,rʌnə 'bi:n/ noun a type of climbing bean

③ runner-up /,rʌnər 'ʌp/ noun a person who comes after the winner in a race or competition (NOTE: The plural is runners-up)

③ running /'rʌnɪŋ/ adj 1. used for running ○ running shorts ○ running shoes 2. ◊ for three days running one day after another for three days ○ The company have made a profit for the sixth year running. ■ noun 1. ◊ to be in the running for to be a candidate for ○ Three candidates are in the running for the post of chairman. ◊ out of the running with no chance of doing something ○ She's out of the running for the job in the bookshop. 2.

the action of managing ○ I now leave the running of the firm to my daughter.

running battle /,rʌnɪŋ 'bæt(ə)/ noun 1. a fight which moves around from place to place 2. a disagreement that continues for a long time running commentary /,rʌnɪŋ 'kɒmənt(ə)rɪ/ noun a commentary on an action that is carried out while the action is taking place running costs /'rʌnɪŋ 'kɒsts/ plural noun the money spent regularly on operating a business running mate /'rʌnɪŋ meɪt/ noun a person such as a vice-president who stands for election with another more important candidate such as a president running total /,rʌnɪŋ 'tɔ:t(ə)/ noun a total which is carried from one column of figures to the next running water /,rʌnɪŋ 'wɔ:tə/ noun water which is available in a house through water mains and taps runny /'rʌni/ adj in liquid form ◊ he's got a runny nose his nose is dripping, perhaps because he has a cold

③ run off /,rʌn 'ɒf/ verb 1. to go away fast ○ He grabbed the watch and ran off down the street. 2. to print something using a machine ○ She ran off a few photocopies of the leaflet.

③ run off with /,rʌn 'ɒf wɪð/ verb 1. to go away with someone ○ He ran off with the girl next door and phoned his parents to say they had gone to Paris. 2. to steal something and go away ○ She ran off with our petty cash.

run-of-the-mill /,rʌn əv ðə 'mil/ adj ordinary. Synonym mediocre

① run on /'rʌn ɒn/ verb 1. to continue ○ The text runs on to the next page. ○ Does the play run on until very late? 2. to use something as a fuel ○ The machine runs on electricity.

① run out /,rʌn 'aut/ verb ◊ to run out of something to have nothing left of something ○ The car ran out of petrol on the motorway. ○ I must go to the supermarket – we're running out of butter.

① run over /,rʌn 'əʊvə/ verb 1. to knock someone down by hitting them with a vehicle ○ She was run over by a taxi. ○ The car ran over a dog. 2. to continue ○ The description of the accident runs over two pages.

runs /rʌnz/ noun a condition in which you pass solid waste from your body too frequently, and in a liquid form. Synonym diarrhoea

③ run through /'rʌn θru:/ verb 1. to read a list rapidly ○ Let's run through the agenda before the meeting starts to see if there are any problem areas. ○ She ran through the paragraph again to make sure she under- stood what it meant. 2. to use up something ○ We have run through our entire stock of wine in one weekend. 3. to repeat something ○ Just run through that scene again to see if you all know your lines.

① run up /rʌn 'ʌp/ verb 1. to go up something quickly on foot ○ She ran up the stairs carrying a thermometer. ○ The runners have to run up the mountain and back again. 2. □ to run up to someone to come closer to someone quickly on foot ○ He ran up to the policeman and asked him to call an ambulance. 3. to make debts go up quickly ○ The business was running up debts of thousands of pounds each week. 4. to sew something quickly ○ I can run up a cushion cover in less than an hour.

run-up /rʌn ʌp/ noun 1. a period leading up to some event ○ in the run-up to the election 2. (in sport) the run of an athlete before jumping or throwing ○ A long jumper uses his run-up to gather speed before jumping.

③ run up against /rʌn ʌp ə,genst/ verb to find your way blocked by something

③ runway /rʌn'wei/ noun a track on which planes land and take off at an airport

rupture /rʌptʃə/ noun 1. a hernia, a condition where an organ bulges through a hole or weakness in the wall which surrounds it ○ You'll give yourself a rupture, lifting that box! 2. a sudden disagreement which ends something such as a discussion ○ The rupture of the negotiations has ruined any chance of peace. 3. a break or burst ○ We are losing pressure – there must be a rupture in the pipeline. ■ verb to break or burst ○ A water main ruptured and the centre of town was flooded. □ to rupture yourself to give yourself a hernia ○ He ruptured himself lifting a heavy box.

② rural /'rʊərəl/ adj referring to the countryside ○ Rural roads are usually fairly narrow. ○ We live quite close to a town but the country round us still looks very rural.

russe /ru:z/ noun a clever trick

② rush /rʌʃ/ noun 1. a fast movement ○ There was a rush of hot air when they opened the door. ○ There has been a rush to change pounds to euros. ○ When the film ended there was a rush for the toilets. 2. a type of wild grass growing in water ○ Rushes grow along the shores of lakes and rivers. (NOTE: The plural in this meaning is rushes.) ■ verb 1. to hurry, to go forward fast ○ The ambulance rushed to the accident. ○ Crowds of shoppers rushed to the shops on the first day of the sales. □ don't rush me don't make me hurry ○ I need time to do this work, please don't rush me. 2. to attack someone suddenly ○ The army decided to rush the guerrillas' headquarters.

rushed /rʌʃt/ adj done very quickly. Synonym hurried. Antonym leisurely □ rushed off your feet very busy ○ The café was full and the waitresses were rushed off their feet. rushes /rʌʃɪz/ plural noun the first prints of a film which are shown before being edited ③ rush hour /'rʌʃ aʊə/ noun a time of day when traffic is bad and when trains are full rush into /rʌʃ 'intu:/ verb 1. to go into a place quickly ○ He rushed into the room waving a piece of paper. 2. to get into a situation too quickly, without really thinking ○ They rushed into an alliance with the socialists and regretted it immediately. ○ Don't rush into marriage if you're doubtful about your partner.

rush job /rʌʃ dʒɒb/ noun a job which has to be done fast (NOTE: no plural) rusk /rʌsk/ noun a hard sweet biscuit given to babies to chew on

Russian roulette /rʌʃ(ə)n ru:'let/ noun a game played with a revolver containing a single bullet: when the gun is fired, players do not know if they will be killed rust /rʌst/ noun a reddish-brown substance formed on iron and steel when left in damp air ○ There is a bit of rust on the bonnet of the car. Synonym corrosion ■ verb to form rust ○ Don't leave the hammer and screwdriver in the rain – they'll rust. Synonym corrode rustic /'rʌstɪk/ adj 1. of country style ○ They live in a little rustic cottage on the edge of a lake. 2. rough, not elegant ○ We bought a rustic bench and table for eating in the garden. ■ noun someone who lives in the countryside and is regarded as simple and not well educated (dated) ○ Three rustics sat on a bench outside the village pub.

rustle /'rʌs(ə)l/ noun the noise of dry leaves or pieces of paper rubbing together ○ Listen to the rustle of the dry leaves in the hedge. ■ verb to make a soft dry crackling noise ○ Her long skirt rustled as she sat down. ○ Don't rustle the newspaper when the radio is on, I can't hear it properly.

rustle up /,rʌs(ə)l 'ʌp/ verb to get something ready quickly (informal) rusty /'rʌsti/ adj 1. covered with rust ○ She tried to cut the string with a pair of rusty old scissors. ○ He has a rusty old fridge in his front garden. 2. out of practice ○ My German used to be good, but it is very rusty now. (NOTE: rustier – rustiest)

rut /rʌt/ noun 1. a deep track made in soft earth by the wheels of vehicles ○ The front wheel of the car was stuck in a deep rut. 2. □ to get into a rut to start to lead a dull life with no excitement (informal) ○ Go out, see friends, travel – don't allow yourself to get into a rut.

ruthless /'ru:θləs/ adj cruel, with no pity for anyone. Antonym merciful ruthlessly /'ru:θləsli/ adv in a ruthless way ruthlessness /'ru:θləsnəs/ noun cruelty, acting without pity

RV abbr recreational vehicle rye /raɪ/ noun 1. a type of dark brown cereal, used to make bread and American whiskey ○ They are harvesting the rye today. 2. rye whiskey or American whiskey; a glass of this whiskey ○ A large rye and soda, please. (NOTE: Do not confuse with wry.)

S

s /es/, S noun the nineteenth letter of the alphabet, between R and T

S abbr south

sabbatical /sə'bætɪk(ə)l/ noun leave granted to people such as teachers for study and travel after a period of work sabotage /'sæbətæ:ʒ/ noun malicious or deliberate destruction ○ Acts of sabotage were committed against the company's oil installations. Synonym disruption (NOTE: no plural) ■ verb to destroy something, to render something useless deliberately ○ He sabotaged the whole plan by passing the details to the police. Synonym disrupt saboteur /,sæbə'tʊər/ noun a person who commits sabotage. Synonym vandal sabre /'seɪbə/ noun a sword with a curved blade (NOTE: The US spelling is saber.)

sabre-rattling /,seɪbə 'rætlɪŋ/ noun an aggressive display or threat of force or military action (NOTE: The US spelling is saber-rattling.)

sac /sæk/ noun a part of an animal or plant shaped like a bag saccharin /'sækərɪn/ noun a substance used as a substitute for sugar sachet /'sæʃət/ noun a small plastic or paper bag containing something. Synonym envelope sack /sæk/ noun 1. a large bag made of strong cloth or paper, used for carrying heavy things ○ He hurt his back lifting up the sack of potatoes. 2. □ to get or to be given the sack to be dismissed from a job (informal) ○ You'll get the sack if you talk to people like that. 3. the complete destruction of a town ○ the sack of Rome by the barbarians 4. a bed □ to hit the sack to go to bed ○ Come on – it's time to hit the sack. ■ verb 1. to dismiss someone from a job ○ He was sacked because he was always late for work. 2. to destroy a town completely ○ The town was captured and sacked by the barbarians.

sacking /'sækɪŋ/ noun 1. dismissal from a job ○ The union protested against the sackings. (NOTE: The plural is sackings.) 2. coarse material from which sacks are made ○ Hemp is used to make ropes and sacking. (NOTE: no plural) 3. old sacks ○ There's a heap of sacking over there in the corner of the warehouse. (NOTE: no plural) sacrament /'sækərəmənt/ noun 1. a Christian religious ceremony ○ the sacrament of marriage 2. the consecrated bread and wine taken at Communion sacramental /,sækərə'ment(ə)l/ adj referring to the sacrament

sacred /'seɪkrɪd/ adj 1. associated with religion ○ The sacred texts were kept locked away. □ sacred to the memory of (on a gravestone) remembering someone who has died 2. holy ○ The hill is considered sacred by the local people. ○ Hindus believe that cattle are sacred. 3. respected ○ Nothing is sacred to a reporter chasing a good story. ○ She believed it was her sacred duty to look after his garden while he was away.

sacred cow /,seɪkrɪd 'kao/ noun a belief or idea which is not to be criticised sacrifice /'sækrifais/ noun 1. a thing which you give up to achieve something more important ○ He finally won the competition, but at great personal sacrifice. ○ She made many financial sacrifices to get her children through university. 2. making an offering to a god by killing an animal or person ○ He ordered the sacrifice of two lambs to please the gods. 3. an animal offered to a god ○ Cockerels, lambs and goats were all offered as sacrifices to their gods. ■ verb 1. to give something up ○ I have sacrificed my career to be able to stay at home and bring up my children. ○ She has sacrificed herself for the cause of animal welfare. 2. to offer something as a sacrifice ○ The priests sacrificed a goat to the goddess.

sacrificial /,sækri'fɪʃ(ə)l/ adj as a sacrifice

sacrilege /'sækri'lɪdʒ/ noun 1. using something sacred in a way which lacks respect 2. doing something which is not considered to be correct ○ He committed the sacrilege of serving sweet white wine with steak.

sacrilegious /,sækri'lɪdʒəs/ adj referring to sacrilege. Antonym pious sacrosanct /'sækrəsæŋkt/ adj not to be criticised or changed

② sad /sed/ adj 1. not happy, miserable ○ It's sad that he can't come to see us. ○ He's sad because the holidays have come to an end. ○ What a sad film – everyone was crying. ○ Reading his poems makes me sad. ○ It was sad to leave the house for the last time. ○ He felt sad watching the boat sail away. 2. boring, unfashionable ○ Only sad people collect stamps. (NOTE: sadder – saddest)

sadden /'sæd(ə)n/ verb to make someone unhappy. Synonym depress. Antonym cheer

saddle /'sæd(ə)l/ noun 1. a rider's seat on a bicycle or motorbike ○ She threw her leg across the saddle and settled herself behind him. ○ My old saddle was very comfortable but this new one is harder. 2. a rider's seat on a horse ○ He leapt into the saddle and rode away. □ in the saddle in command ○ She's in the saddle now – you have to do what she says. 3. a cut of meat from the back of an animal ○ saddle of lamb □ verb 1. to put a saddle on a horse ○ She quickly saddled her pony and rode off. 2. □ to saddle someone with something to give someone a difficult job or heavy responsibility ○ He got saddled with the job of sorting out the rubbish in the loft. ○ Don't saddle me with all your problems!

sadhu /'sa:dəu:/ noun in Hinduism, a holy man sadism /'seɪdɪz(ə)m/ noun getting pleasure from being cruel. Compare masochism sadist /'seɪdɪst/ noun a person who gets pleasure from being cruel. Compare masochist sadistic /sa'dɪstɪk/ adj referring to sadism. Compare masochistic. Synonym cruel. Antonym kind

sadly /'sædli/ adv unhappily sadness /'sædnəs/ noun a feeling of being very unhappy. Synonym unhappiness. Antonym happiness

s.a.e. abbr self-addressed envelope, stamped addressed envelope safari /sə'fə:ri/ noun an expedition to photograph or kill wild animals in Africa. Synonym trek safari park /sə'fə:ri park/ noun a park where large wild animals are free to run about, and visitors drive through in their cars to look at them

② safe /seif/ adj 1. not in danger, not likely to be hurt ○ In this cave, we should be safe from the thunderstorm. ○ All the children are safe, but the school was burnt down. ○ A building society account is a safe place for your money. ○ Is it safe to touch this snake? ○ It isn't safe for women to go into the centre of town alone at night. 2. □ in safe hands in no danger ○ The guide is very experienced, so we are in safe hands. □ safe and sound without being hurt or damaged ○ We all arrived at our destination, safe and sound. ○ The present reached me safe and sound,

thanks to the efficiency of the post office. 3. certain, which you can rely on ○ You will be fairly safe if you allow half an hour to get to Oxford Circus. □ to be on the safe side just in case, to be certain ○ It should only take an hour to get to the airport, but let's give ourselves an hour and a half, just to be on the safe side. ■ noun a strong box for keeping things such as documents, money or jewels in ○ Put your valuables in the hotel safe. ○ The burglars managed to open the safe.

safe area /seif 'eəriə/ noun a place which is specially protected, e.g. by the armed forces safe deposit box /seif dr'pozɪt bɒks/ noun a small box which you can rent to hold jewellery or documents in a bank's strongroom safeguard /'seɪfɡə:d/ noun protection ○ The metal fence is a safeguard against accidents. ○ There are no safeguards at the moment to prevent the same mistake being made. Antonym hazard □ verb to protect something ○ Our aim is to safeguard the interests of the widow and children.

safe haven /seif 'heɪv(ə)n/ noun a place which is safe from attack, where someone is protected from danger safe keeping /seif 'ki:pɪŋ/ noun the care of something in a safe place

② safely /'seifli/ adv 1. without being hurt ○ The rescue services succeeded in getting all the passengers safely off the burning train. ○ We were shown how to handle explosives safely. ○ 'Drive safely!' she said as she waved goodbye. 2. without being damaged ○ The cargo was unloaded safely from the sinking ship. 3. without making a mistake or having problems ○ Can we safely say that this is a genuine Picasso? ○ She got safely through the first part of her exams.

safe sex /seif 'seks/ noun having sex in a way that avoids transmission of a sexual disease, e.g. by using a condom and only having one sexual partner

② safety /'seifti/ noun 1. being safe ○ The police tried to ensure the safety of the public. ○ I am worried about the safety of air bags in cars. □ to take safety precautions or safety measures to act to make sure something is safe ○ Be sure to take proper safety precautions when handling explosives. 2. □ for safety to make something safe, to be safe ○ Put the money in the office safe for safety. ○ Keep a note of the numbers of your traveller's cheques for safety.

safety belt /'seifti belt/ noun a belt which you wear in a plane to stop you being hurt if there is an accident. Synonym seat belt safety curtain /'seifti ,kɔ:(ə)n/ noun a fireproof curtain in front of the stage in a theatre safety helmet /'seifiti ,helmit/ noun a solid hat worn by people such as construction workers

safety net /'seifiti net/ noun 1. a net stretched under someone such as a tightrope walker to catch him or her if he or she falls ○ He was killed when he walked the tightrope without a safety net. 2. something which protects you if things go wrong ○ He has a second job, which is a useful safety net if he is made redundant.

safety pin /'seifiti pin/ noun a pin whose point fits into a cover when it is fastened, and so can't hurt you safety regulations /'seifiti regju,leif(ə)nз/ plural noun rules to make a place of work safe for the workers safety valve /'seifiti vævl/ noun 1. a valve which allows liquid, gas or steam to escape if the pressure becomes too high ○ There was a loud hiss from the safety valve as steam escaped from the boiler. 2. a flap in the heart or other organ which opens and closes to allow liquid to pass in one direction only 3. an activity which allows people to get angry or excited without causing any harm ○ These meetings act as a safety valve for employees to complain about the management.

saffron /'sæfrən/ noun an orange-coloured powder made from crocus flowers, used in cooking to give colour and flavour to food ○ She made rice with saffron. ■ adj orange-coloured ○ the saffron robes of the Buddhist monks sag /sæg/ verb to sink or bend in the middle under weight or pressure. Synonym droop (NOTE: sagged) saga /'sæ:gə/ noun 1. an old story of heroic achievement or adventure, especially in Norway and Iceland ○ the sagas of ancient kings of Iceland 2. a long story ○ I don't want to hear her tell the saga of the accident all over again.

sage /'seɪdз/ noun 1. an aromatic herb with silvery-green leaves used in cookery □ sage and onions, sage and onion stuffing stuffing used especially with roast turkey or pork 2. an old wise man ○ The king invited sages to his castle to give him advice. ■ adj wise or discreet (literary) ○ She made some very sage remarks.

Sagittarius /,sædзi'teəriəs/ noun one of the signs of the Zodiac, shaped like an archer, covering the period from 22nd November to 21st December

③ said /sed/ □ say

② sail /seɪl/ noun 1. a piece of cloth which catches the wind and drives a boat along ○ The wind dropped so they lowered the sail and started to row. ○ They hoisted the sail and set out across the Channel. 2. □ to set sail to leave by boat ○ They set sail for

France. 3. a trip in a boat ○ They went for a sail down the Thames. (NOTE: Do not confuse with sale.) ■ verb 1. to travel on water ○ The ship was sailing towards the rocks. ○ We were sailing east. ○ He was the first person to sail across the Atlantic single-handed. ○ She's planning to sail round the world. 2. to travel in a sailing boat ○ He was the first person to sail alone across the Atlantic. ○ She's planning to sail round the world. 3. to leave harbour ○ The ferry sails at 12.00. 4. to travel smoothly ○ The car just sailed along the motorway. ○ It's maddening to see a bus sail past just when you're getting to the bus stop. □ to sail through something to pass an examination or test easily ○ He sailed through his driving test.

sailboard /'seɪlbɔ:d/ noun a board with a sail, used for travelling across water

③ sailboat /'seɪlbət/ noun US same as sailing boat

③ sailing /'seɪlɪŋ/ noun the departure of a ship ○ There are no sailings to France because of the strike. ○ There are three sailings every day to Dieppe.

sailing boat /'seɪlɪŋ bət/ noun a boat which uses mainly sails to travel sailor /'seɪlə/ noun 1. a seaman, a person who works on a ship ○ The sailors were washing down the deck of the ship. 2. □ she is a good sailor or bad sailor she is not liable or liable to be seasick ○ He doesn't worry about the water being rough – he's a good sailor.

saint /seɪnt/ noun 1. a person who led a very holy life, and is recognised by the Christian Church ○ There are more than 50 statues of saints on the west front of the cathedral. ○ St Peter was a fisherman. ○ Will Mother Teresa be made a saint? 2. a very good or devoted person ○ She has the patience of a saint and never shouts at the children. ○ He may be no saint in his personal life but he has the support of the voters. (NOTE: abbreviated with names to St /sɔ:nt/)

saintly /'seɪntli/ adj very good, like a saint. Antonym evil (NOTE: saintier – saintiest)

② sake noun 1. /seɪk/ □ for the sake of something, for something's sake for certain reasons or purposes, because of something ○ The muggers killed the old lady, just for the sake of £20. ○ For the sake of decency, she wrapped a towel round herself. ○ He's not really hungry, he's just eating for eating's sake. ○ They gave the children sweets, just for the sake of a little peace and quiet. □ for the sake of someone, for someone's sake because you want to help someone or to please someone, because you think someone needs something ○ Will you come to the party for my sake? ○ The president decided to resign for the sake of the country. □ for old times' sake in order to remember how good the old times were ○ Let's have a meal together for old times' sake. □ for heaven's sake, for goodness' sake used for showing you are annoyed, or that something is important ○ What are you screaming for? – It's only a little mouse, for heaven's sake. ○ For goodness' sake try to be quiet, we don't want the guards to hear us! 2. /'sə:kil/ a Japanese rice wine ○ We had a glass of sake with our meal.

salad /'sæləd/ noun a cold food, such as vegetables, often served raw and with cold meat ○ a chicken salad sandwich ○ We found some ham, tomatoes and lettuce in the fridge, and made ourselves a salad.

salad bar /'sæləd ba:/ noun a bar where customers help themselves to a wide variety of meat, fish or vegetable salads salad bowl /'sæləd bəʊl/ noun a special bowl for salad salad cream /'sæləd kri:m/ noun a ready-made creamy dressing for salads salad dressing /'sæləd ,dresɪŋ/ noun a sauce consisting of a mixture of oil, vinegar and herbs or spices, used on salad salad servers /'sæləd ,sɜ:vəz/ plural noun a spoon and fork for serving salad salami /sə'lɑ:mi/ noun a large dry Italian-style sausage eaten cold in thin slices

③ salaried /'sælərid/ adj paid a salary

③ salary /'sælərɪ/ noun payment for work, made to an employee with a contract of employment, especially in a professional or office job ○ She started work at a low salary, but soon went up the salary scale. ○ The company froze all salaries for a six-month period. ○ I expect a salary increase as from next month. Synonym income □ her basic salary is £20,000 her normal salary without extra payments is £20,000

COMMENT: In Britain and the USA, salaries are usually paid monthly but are quoted in annual terms. So you say 'her salary is £20,000', 'the job carries a salary of $50,000'. Although bonuses are paid, a regular extra month's salary at Christmas (the 'thirteenth month' in some European countries) is not common in Britain or the USA.

① sale /seɪl/ noun 1. the act of selling, the act of giving an item or doing a service in exchange for money ○ The sale of the house produced £200,000. ○ The shop only opened this morning and we've just made our first sale. 2. an occasion when things are sold at cheaper prices ○ There's a sale this week in the department store along the High Street. ○ I bought these plates for £1 in a sale. ○ The sale price is 50% of the normal price. 3. □ for sale ready to be sold ○ These items are not for sale to the general public. ○ The of- fice building is for sale at £1m. ○ I noticed there was a 'for sale' sign outside her house. □ to offer something for sale, to put something up for sale to announce that something is ready to be sold ○ They put the factory up for sale.

saleable /'seɪləb(ə)l/ adj easy to sell or capable of being sold saleroom /'seɪlru:m/ noun a room where an auction takes place

① sales /seɪlz/ plural noun 1. money which a business receives from selling things ○ The business has annual sales of over £250,000. ○ Sales have risen over the first quarter. 2. a time when many shops sell goods at low prices ○ The sales start on Saturday. ○ I bought these shirts in the January sales. ○ She bought the cups in the sales or at the sales.

③ sales assistant /'seɪlz ə,sɪstənt/ noun a person who sells goods to customers in a shop. Synonym salesperson sales drive /'seɪlz draɪv/ noun a vigorous effort to increase sales sales force /'seɪlz fo:s/ noun a group of salesmen

③ salesman /'seɪlzmən/ noun 1. a man who sells goods to customers in a shop ○ The salesman is going to show us the latest model. 2. a person who represents a company, selling its products or services to other companies (NOTE: The plural is salesmen.)

salesperson /'seɪlz,pɜ:s(ə)n/ noun a person who sells goods in a shop sales pitch /'seɪlz pitʃ/ noun a way of talking aimed at selling something

sales representative /'seɪlz rɪprɪzəntətɪv/, sales rep /'seɪlz rep/ noun a person who works for a company, showing goods or services for sale ○ We have six sales reps calling on accounts in central London.

sales slip /'seɪlz slɪp/ noun a piece of paper showing that an article was bought at a certain shop on a certain day sales tax /'seɪlz tæks/ noun a tax to be paid on each item sold

③ saleswoman /'seɪlzwomən/ noun a woman who sells goods to customers in a shop (NOTE: The plural is saleswomen /'seɪlzwɪmɪn/.)

salient /'seɪlɪənt/ noun a projecting part of a fortification or of a line of battle ○ The battle for the salient lasted several days. ■ adj most important ○ I asked her to write down the salient points of the talk. Synonym noticeable. Antonym minor saline /'seɪlnən/ adj containing salt. Synonym salty saliva /sə'laivə/ noun a fluid in the mouth, secreted by the salivary glands, which starts the process of digesting food. Synonym spittle salivate /'sæliviteit/ verb to produce saliva. Synonym drool yellow /'sæləʊl/ adj slightly yellow, unhealthy looking (NOTE: yellower – yellowest)

salmon /'sæmən/ noun a large fish with silver skin and pink flesh that lives in the sea, but swims up rivers to produce young in the winter ■ adj with a pink colour like salmon ○ We put a salmon wallpaper in the bathroom.

Salmonella /,sælmə'nɛlə/ noun a genus of bacteria in the intestines, which are usually acquired by eating contaminated food, and cause typhoid or paratyphoid fever, gastroenteritis or food poisoning □ he got salmonella poisoning he got an illness caused by eating food which was contaminated with Salmonella bacteria which develop in the intestines ○ Five people were taken to hospital with salmonella poisoning.

salon /'sælɒn/ noun a shop where people can have their hair cut or styled, or have beauty treatments saloon /sə'lū:n/ noun US a place where alcoholic drinks are sold (dated) ○ The conversation stopped when the stranger walked into the saloon.

saloon bar /sə'lū:n ba:/ noun a comfortable bar in a pub (dated) (NOTE: now usually called a lounge bar) saloon car /sə'lū:n ka:/ noun a car with two or four doors, which can carry four or five people salsa /'sælsə/ noun 1. a spicy sauce made with chopped vegetables, of Mexican origin 2. Latin American dance music combining jazz and rock ② salt /sɔ:lt/ noun 1. white crystals of sodium chloride, used to make food taste better or to stop roads from freezing □ to take something with a pinch of salt not to believe something entirely ○ You have to take everything she says with a pinch of salt. 2. □ he's the salt of the earth he's an ordinary good honest person ○ He's a wonderful man – the salt of the earth! ■ adj containing salt ○ The sea is made up only of salt water. ■ verb 1. to add salt to something ○ You forgot to salt the soup. 2. to spread salt on something ○ They were salting the streets during the night.

salt cellar /'sɔ:lt ,selə/ noun a small pot containing salt usually with a hole in the top so that it can be sprinkled on food (NOTE: The US term is salt shaker.)

salt marsh /'sɔ:lt ma:ʃ/ noun a wet land covered by the sea at high tide

③ salt water /'sɔ:lt 'wɔ:tə/ noun water which contains salt, such as sea water, as opposed to fresh water in rivers and lakes ○ She dived into the waves and got a mouthful of salt water. ○ You can float more easily in salt water than in a lake.

saltwater /'sɔ:ltwɔ:tə/ adj referring to water which contains salt salty /'sɔ:lti/ adj tasting of salt (NOTE: saltier – saltiest) salubrious /sə'lu:briəs/ adj healthy and pleasant to live in (formal) salutary /'sæljut(ə)ri/ adj which teaches. Synonym beneficial salute /'sɑ:lut/ noun 1. a movement to express respect or recognition, especially putting your right hand up to touch the side of your forehead ○ The officer returned the soldier's salute. □ to take the salute to be the person whom soldiers on parade salute ○ The general took the salute at the march past. 2. firing guns to mark an important occasion ○ The birthday of the Queen was marked with a 21-gun salute. ■ verb 1. to give a salute to someone ○ Ordinary soldiers must salute their officers. 2. to praise someone ○ We salute the brave firemen who saved the children.

salvage /'sælvɪdʒ/ noun 1. saving a ship or cargo from being destroyed 2. goods saved from something such as a wreck or a fire ○ a sale of flood salvage items 3. saving rubbish for use ○ a company specialising in the salvage of plastics from household waste ■ verb 1. to save something from a wreck or a fire ○ We are selling off a warehouse full of salvaged goods. ○ We managed to salvage the computer discs from the fire. 2. to save something from loss ○ The company is trying to salvage its reputation after the managing director was sent to prison for fraud. ○ The receiver managed to salvage something from the collapse of the company.

③ salvation /sæ'lveɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the action of saving a person's soul from sin

salve /sælv/ noun a healing ointment. Synonym lotion ■ verb □ to do something to save your conscience to do something because your conscience tells you to do it salvo /'sælvəʊ/ noun the simultaneous firing of several guns in a battle at sea or as a salute. Synonym barrage (NOTE: The plural is salvos or salvoes.)

④ same /seim/ adj, pron 1. being, looking, sounding, etc., exactly alike ○ These two beers taste the same. ○ You must get very bored doing the same work every day. ○ She was wearing the same dress as me. ○ This book is not the same size as that one. □ to stay the same not to change ○ The weather is expect to stay the same for the next few days. □ same again, please! please serve us the same drinks or food as before (informal) □ same here! I agree with you ○ I can't stand warm beer – Same here! 2. showing that two or more things are in fact one ○ They all live in the same street. ○ Should we all leave at the same time? ○ Our children go to the same school as theirs.

sameness /'seɪmənəs/ noun monotony, lack of variety, being always the same same-sex /'seɪm seksts/ adj attracted to people of the same sex

② sample /'sæmplə/ noun a specimen, a small part which is used to show what the whole is like ○ a sample of the cloth or a cloth sample ○ Try a sample of the local cheese. ○ He gave a blood sample. ○ We interviewed a sample of potential customers. Synonym example ■ verb 1. to test something, to try something by taking a small amount ○ Why don't you sample the wine before placing your order? 2. to ask a group of people questions to find out a general reaction ○ They sampled 2,000 people at random to test the new soap.

sampler /'sæmplə/ noun a piece of embroidered cloth, usually with letters, numbers and simple pictures, made to show your skill at sewing sanatorium /,sænə'tɔ:riəm/ noun a hospital for the treatment of invalids, especially people suffering from tuberculosis. Synonym clinic (NOTE: The plural is sanatoriums or sanatoria /,sænə'tɔ:riə/.)

sanctify /'sæŋktifai/ verb to make something holy. Synonym bless. Antonym desecrate sanctimonious /,sæŋktɪ'məʊniəs/ adj pretending to be holier than you are. Synonym self-righteous sanction /'sæŋkʃən/ noun 1. approval, permission ○ You will need the sanction of the local authorities before you can knock the house down. 2. □ they imposed economic sanctions they placed restrictions on trade with a country in order to try to influence its political development ■ verb to approve something ○ The committee sanctioned the expenditure of £1.2m on the development project. Synonym authorise. Antonym veto sanctity /'sæŋktɪtɪ/ noun holiness

sanctuary /'sæŋktʃuəri/ noun 1. a place of safety ○ The church became a sanctuary for illegal immigrants. ○ People escaping from the revolutionary troops sought sanctuary in the church. 2. a place for the protection of wild animals or birds ○ They established several bird sanctuaries near the sea. 3. a holy place ○ the ruins of the sanctuary of the goddess Athene 4. a part of a church where the high altar is placed ○ The priest turned towards the altar and stepped into the sanctuary. (NOTE: The plural is sanctuaries.)

② sand /sænd/ noun a mass of tiny bits of rock found on beaches and in the desert ○ a beach of fine white sand ○ the black sand beaches of the Northern coast of New Zealand ○ He kicked sand in my face. ■ verb 1. sand, sand down to rub something smooth ○ They sanded the floor before polishing it. 2. to spread sand on something ○ Trucks have been out all night sanding the motorways.

sandal /'sændəl/ noun a light shoe with an open top sandbag /'sændbæg/ noun a bag filled with sand and used as a protection sandbox /'sændbæŋk/ noun an area of sand in the sea or a river sand castle /'sænd ,kæsl(ə)l/ noun a little castle of sand made by children on a beach sand dune /'sænd djʊn/ noun an area of sand blown by the wind into small hills and ridges which have very little soil or vegetation sander /'sændəl/ noun a machine for sanding

sandpaper /'sændpeɪpə/ noun thick paper covered with sand used for smoothing rough surfaces ○ Use fine sandpaper if you want to get a very smooth finish. ■ verb to rub something smooth with sandpaper ○ He sanded the door before painting it.

sandpit /'sændpɪt/ noun a place in a garden, with sand where children can play sands /sændz/ plural noun an area of sandy beach sandstone /'sændstəʊn/ noun a type of reddish-brown rock, formed of tiny pieces of sand sandstorm /'sændstɔ:m/ noun a high wind in the desert, which carries large amounts of sand with it

② sandwich /'sænwɪdʒ/ noun a snack made with two slices of bread with meat, cheese, etc. and sometimes salad between them ○ She ordered a cheese sandwich and a cup of coffee. ○ What sort of sandwiches do you want to take for your lunch? ○ I didn't have a big meal – just a sandwich with some beer in the pub. ■ verb to put something between two others ○ I stood all the way home on the Underground, sandwiched between two fat men.

sandwich bar /'sænwɪdʒ ba:/ noun a small shop which mainly sells sandwiches sandwich course /'sænwɪdʒ kɔ:s/ noun an education course where students spend time working in an office or factory between periods of study at a college

③ sandy /'sændi/ adj covered with sand (NOTE: sandier – sandiest) sane /seɪn/ adj not mad (NOTE: saner – sanest)

③ sang /sæŋ/ □ sing

sanguine /'sæŋgwɪn/ adj confident, optimistic. Antonym pejorative sanitary /'sænɪtɪ(ə)ri/ adj referring to hygiene or to health. Synonym hygienic. Antonym insanitary sanitary towel /'sænɪtɪ(ə)ri ,taʊəl/, sanitary napkin /'sænɪtɪ(ə)ri ,næpkɪn/ noun a pad of absorbent cotton used by a woman to absorb blood during her period sanitation /,sænɪ'teɪʃ(ə)n/ noun being hygienic, especially referring to public hygiene and the removal of household waste and sewage sanitise /'sænɪ,taiz/, sanitize verb to make something less likely to offend people sanity /'sænɪti/ noun the state of being sane

③ sank /sæŋk/ □ sink

Santa Claus /,sæntə 'klo:z/ noun Father Christmas ○ The children whooped with delight when Santa Claus came in carrying a big sack full of toys.

sap /sæp/ noun the liquid which flows inside plants and trees ○ They cut a notch in the bark of the tree and the sap ran out. □ verb to make something weaker ○ His strength was sapped by the cold. (NOTE: sapping – sapped) sapling /'sæplɪŋ/ noun a young tree sapphire /'sæfərəɪəl/ noun a bright blue precious stone sarcasm /'sə:kæz(ə)m/ noun sharp unpleasant remarks which mean the opposite of what they say sarcastic /sə:'kæstɪk/ adj using sarcasm sarcastically /sə:'kæstɪkli/ adv in a sarcastic way sardine /sə:dɪn/ noun a small silvery fish which can be eaten fresh, or commonly bought in tins □ packed (together) like sardines standing or sitting very close together ○ In the rush hour we were packed like sardines on the Underground.

sardonic /sə:'dɒnɪk/ adj scornful, showing you feel superior to someone. Synonym mocking sari /'sə:ri/ noun a long piece of cloth, especially silk, which Indian women wear wrapped round their bodies sarong /sə'rɒŋ/ noun a cloth worn wrapped round the waist or under the arms by South East Asian men and women sash /sæʃ/ noun 1. an ornamental scarf or belt ○ In France, mayors wear a red, white and blue sash. 2. a wooden frame holding panes of glass

③ sat /sæt/ □ sit

SAT /sæt/ noun in the USA, a pre-college test (trademark of the College Entrance Ex- amination Board) Full form Scholastic Aptitude Test. □ SATs

Satan /'seɪt(ə)n/ noun the Devil satanic /sə'tænɪk/ adj referring to Satan satanism /'seɪt(ə)n,ɪz(ə)m/ noun the worship of Satan satchel /'sætʃəl/ noun a small leather or canvas bag carried on your shoulders, used mainly by schoolchildren satellite /'sætəlɪt/ noun 1. a device that orbits the Earth, receiving and transmitting signals, pictures and data ○ The signals are transmitted by satellite all round the world.

2. a body in space which goes round a planet ○ The Moon is the only satellite of the Earth.

satellite dish /'sætəlɪt dɪs/ noun an aerial, shaped like a large saucer, used to capture satellite broadcasts satellite television /,sæt(ə)lɪt 'telɪvɪʒ(ə)n/ noun television programmes broadcast using satellite technology satin /'sætɪn/ noun a silk material with a glossy surface ○ She bought some black satin to make a dress. ■ adj made of satin ○ She wore little red satin slippers.

satire /'sætərɪə/ noun 1. a way of attacking people in speaking or writing by making them seem ridiculous ○ his use of satire in his weekly political column 2. a piece of writing which criticises people by making them seem ridiculous ○ 'Gulliver's Travels' is a satire on 18th-century England.

satirical /sə'trɪk(ə)l/ adj making use of satire. Synonym mocking satirise /'sætəraɪz/, satirize verb to attack someone or something in a way which makes them seem ridiculous. Synonym mock satirist /'sætərɪst/ noun a person who writes or performs satires

③ satisfaction /,sætɪs'fækʃən/ noun 1. a good feeling; a sense of comfort or happiness ○ After finishing his meal he gave a deep sigh of satisfaction. ○ I get no satisfaction from telling you this – you're fired. 2. payment of money or goods to someone, who then agrees to stop a claim against you ○ They demanded satisfaction from the driver of the other car.

satisfactorily /,sætɪs'fækt(ə)rɪli/ adv in a satisfactory way satisfactory /,sætɪs'fækt(ə)ri/ adj quite good, which satisfies. Synonym acceptable. Antonym unsatisfactory

③ satisfied /'sætɪsfɪəd/ adj contented. Antonym dissatisfied □ satisfied customer a customer who has got what he wanted

② satisfy /'sætɪsfai/ verb 1. to make someone pleased with what he or she has purchased, or with the service he or she has received ○ The council's decision should satisfy most people. ○ Our aim is to satisfy our customers. 2. □ to satisfy a demand to fill a demand ○ We cannot produce enough to satisfy the demand for the product. □ to satisfy yourself to make sure of something ○ The buyer must satisfy himself that the car is in good condition. 3. to comply with conditions ○ The payments received so far do not satisfy the conditions attached to the contract.

③ satisfying /'sætɪsfaiɪŋ/ adj which satisfies

SATs /sæts/ noun in the UK, national tests taken at various ages during secondary school. Full form Standard Assessment Tests satsuma /sæt'su:mə/ noun a type of small orange, with peel which is easily removed saturate /'sætʃəreɪt/ verb to fill something with the maximum amount of a liquid or substance which can be absorbed saturated /'sætʃəreɪtɪd/ adj 1. as full of a liquid or other substance as can be absorbed ○ The ground is saturated and we can't start ploughing yet. ○ It is a marginal seat, and has been saturated with election posters. 2. containing an overwhelming amount of something ○ The media are saturated with scenes of violence. □ the market for home computers is saturated there are too many home computers available for the number of people who want to buy them saturated fat /,sætʃəreɪtɪd 'fæt/ noun butter and other types of animal fat, which contain the largest amount of hydrogen possible saturation /,sætʃə'reɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the act of filling something to the maximum amount possible saturation point /,sætʃə'reɪʃ(ə)n pɔɪnt/ noun a level at which no more of something can be absorbed ① Saturday /'sætədeɪ/ noun the sixth day of the week, the day between Friday and Sunday ○ We arranged to meet up on Saturday. ○ He works in a shop, so Saturday is a normal working day for him. ○ We go shopping in London most Saturdays. ○ Saturday is the Jewish day of rest. ○ Today is Saturday, November 15th. ○ The 15th is a Saturday, so the 16th must be a Sunday.

satyr /'sætɪər/ noun a classical god living in woods, with a human body, but with legs of a goat (NOTE: Do not confuse with satire.)

sauce /sɔ:s/ noun a liquid with a particular taste, poured over food (informal) ○ spaghetti with meat and tomato sauce ○ ice cream with chocolate sauce ○ We had chicken with a barbecue sauce. ○ The waitress put a bottle of tomato sauce on the table. ○ We had roast duck and orange sauce for dinner.

④ saucepans /'sɔ:spən/ noun a deep metal cooking pan with a lid and a long handle

③ saucer /'sɔ:sə/ noun a shallow dish which a cup stands in □ a saucer of milk milk put in a saucer, usually for a cat to drink saucily /'sɔ:sili/ adv cheekily saucy /'sɔ:sɪ/ adj cheeky. Synonym impudent (NOTE: saucier – sauciest) sauna /'sɔ:nə/ noun 1. a bath taken by sitting in a room filled with very hot steam ○ We all had a sauna and then went for a swim in the lake. 2. a room where you can have a very hot steam bath ○ There is a sauna in the basement of the hotel.

saunter /'sɔ:ntə/ noun a stroll, slow walk ○ We went for a saunter along the sea front. □ verb to walk slowly, to stroll ○ She sauntered into the bar and ordered a whisky.

③ sausage /'sɔ:sɪdʒ/ noun a tube of edible skin full of minced and seasoned meat sausage roll /,sɔ:sɪdʒ 'rəʊl/ noun a small roll of pastry with a piece of sausage or some sausagemeat inside sauté /'sɔ:tə/ adj fried quickly in a little fat ○ Do you want sauté potatoes or new potatoes with your fish? □ verb to fry something in a little fat ○ She sautéed some potatoes to go with the meat. (NOTE: sautéing – sautéed) savage /'sævɪdʒ/ adj very fierce or violent

○ The dog injured him in a savage attack. □ noun a person from a culture that is not considered civilised (dated offensive) ○ How could he turn into such a savage and attack her like that? □ verb to attack someone with teeth ○ He was savaged by an Alsatian.

savagely /'sævɪdʒli/ adv in a savage way savagery /'sævɪdʒ(ə)ri/ noun being savage. Synonym cruelty

savanna /sə'vænə/, savannah noun a dry grass-covered plain with few trees, usually referring to the grasslands of South America and Africa

① save /seɪv/ noun (in football) the act of stopping the ball from going into the net ○ The goalkeeper made a brilliant save, and the result was that the match was drawn. □ verb 1. to stop someone from being hurt or killed ○ The firefighters saved six people from the burning house. ○ How many passengers were saved when the ferry sank? □ she saved my life she helped me and prevented me from being killed 2. to stop something from being damaged ○ We managed to save most of the paintings from the fire. 3. to keep things such as money, food or other articles so that you can use them later ○ If you save £10 a week, you'll have £520 at the end of a year. ○ They save old pieces of bread to give to the ducks in the park. ○ He saves bits of string in case he may need them later. 4. not to waste something such as time or money ○ By walking to work, he saves £25 a week in bus fares. ○ She took the parcel her- self so as to save the cost of postage. ○ If you have your car serviced regularly it will save you a lot of expense in the future. ○ Going by air saves a lot of time. 5. to store data on a computer disk ○ Don't forget to save your files when you have finished working on them. 6. (in football) to stop an opponent from scoring ○ The goalkeeper saved two goals. ■ prep, conj except for ○ Everyone was there, save Richard, who was ill.

① save on /'seɪv ɒn/ verb not to waste something, to use less of something saver /'seɪvə/ noun 1. a person who saves money ○ All savers will receive a bonus this year. 2. a special offer or ticket which allows you to buy something at a lower price ○ Among this week's savers are baked beans at 50p. ○ Saver tickets are not valid on trains before 9.30.

① save up /,seɪv 'ʌp/ verb not to spend the money you get because you are keeping it for a special purpose

③ saving /'seɪvɪŋ/ noun using less ○ We are aiming for a 10% saving in fuel. Synonym economy ■ suffix which uses less ○ an energy-saving or labour-saving device a machine which saves energy or labour saving grace /'seɪvɪŋ greɪs/ noun a quality or feature which makes a situation less bad than it seemed ① savings /'seɪvɪŋz/ plural noun 1. money which you have saved ○ He put all his savings into a building society account. ○ She spent all her savings on a round-the-world trip. 2. money which you do not need to spend because of a price reduction ○ There are incredible savings on flights to Florida.

savings account /'seɪvɪŋz ə,kaʊnt/ noun a bank account where you can put money in regularly and which pays interest, often at a higher rate than a deposit account savings bank /'seɪvɪŋz bæŋk/ noun a bank where you can deposit money and receive interest on it saviour /'seɪvɪə/ noun 1. □ our Saviour Jesus Christ 2. a person who saves people ○ He was called the Saviour of the West. (NOTE: [all senses] The US spelling is savior.)

savour /'seɪvə/ noun 1. a characteristic pleasant taste ○ Some Greek soups have a savour of lemon. 2. a feeling of excitement and interest ○ Office life seems to have lost some of its savour for her. ■ verb 1. to appreciate or enjoy something ○ He ate slowly, savouring his meal. ○ The general stood at the top of the hill, savouring his victory. 2. □ to savour of to have a suggestion of something bad ○ The whole project savours of tax evasion to me. (NOTE: [all senses] The US spelling is savor.)

savoury /'sevəri/ adj 1. with a salty taste, or other taste which is not sweet ○ I don't particularly like sweets, I prefer savoury things. 2. □ not savoury unattractive and unpleasant ○ The bar doesn't have a very savoury reputation. ○ Seeing all those fat men in the sauna was not a very savoury sight. ■ noun a little salty snack ○ They served little savouries with the aperitifs. (NOTE: [all senses] The US spelling is savory.)

savvy /'sævɪ/ noun practical knowledge ■ adj well informed

saw /sɔ:/ noun a tool with a long metal blade with teeth along its edge, used for cutting ○ He was cutting logs with a saw. ○ My saw doesn't cut very well – it needs sharpening. ■ verb 1. to cut something with a saw ○ She was sawing wood. ○ They sawed the old tree into pieces. ○ You will need to saw that piece of wood in half. (NOTE: sawing – sawed – has sawn /sɔ:n/) 2. ♦ see sawdust /'sɔ:dʌst/ noun powder produced when you saw wood sawmill /'sɔ:mlɪl/ noun a factory where wood is cut into planks by machines saw-off shotgun /,sɔ:ɔf ɒf 'ʃɒtɡʌn/ noun a gun with the barrel cut short (NOTE: The US term is sawed-off shotgun.)

saw off /,sɔ: 'ɒf/ verb to cut something off with a saw sax /sæks/ noun a saxophone (informal) saxophone /'sæksfəʊn/ noun a large brass musical instrument with keys saxophonist /sæk'sɒfənɪst/ noun a saxophone player

① say /seɪ/ noun a right to speak about something ○ The children have no say in the matter. ○ She always wants to have the final say in an argument. ○ They will all expect to have their say in choosing the new leader. ■ verb

1. to speak words ○ I was just saying that we never see James any more. ○ What's she saying? – I don't know, I don't understand Dutch. ○ She says the fee is £3 per person. ○ Don't forget to say 'thank you' after the party. ○ The weather forecast said it was going to rain and it did. 2. to give information in writing ○ The letter says that we owe the bank £200. ○ The notice says that you are not allowed to walk on the grass. 3. to suggest something ○ Choose any number – (let's) say eighteen. ○ Let's have another meeting next week – shall we say Thursday? (NOTE: says /sez/ – saying – said /sed/ – has said ■ interj US to show surprise ○ Say! haven't we met someplace before?

③ saying /'seɪɪŋ/ noun a phrase which is often used to describe an aspect of everyday life. Synonym proverb □ as the saying goes as expressed by a traditional phrase ○ 'More haste, less speed' as the saying goes.

say-so /'sei səʊ/ noun permission (informal) Synonym authorisation. Antonym veto scab /skæb/ noun 1. a crust of dry blood which forms over a wound and protects it ○ The scab fell off where he had grazed his knee. 2. a worker who goes on working when there is a strike ○ We don't want scabs here.

scabbard /'skæbəd/ noun a sheath, a cover for a dagger or sword. Synonym sheath scaffold /'skæfəld/ noun a wooden platform on which an execution takes place scaffolding /'skæfəldɪŋ/ noun a construction of poles and planks which make a series of platforms for workmen to stand on while working (NOTE: no plural) scald /skɔːld/ verb to burn a part of the body with hot liquid or steam scalding /'skɔːldɪŋ/ adj very hot

② scale /skeɪl/ noun 1. a proportion used to show a large object in a smaller form ○ a map with a scale of 1 to 100,000 ○ a scale model of the new town centre development ○ The architect's design is drawn to scale. 2. a measuring system which is graded into various levels ○ The Richter scale is used to measure earthquakes. 3. □ large scale, small scale working with large or small amounts of things such as investment or staff □ to start in business on a small scale to start in business with a small staff, few products, little capital 4. a thin plate protecting the skin of fish and snakes ○ Don't forget to scrape the scales off the sardines before you grill them.

5. a series of musical notes arranged in a rising or falling order ○ She practises her scales every morning. ■ verb 1. to climb up something ○ Six climbers tried to scale the north face of the mountain. 2. □ to scale up, to scale down to increase or to reduce in proportion ○ Not enough students have passed the exam, so the marks will have to be scaled up. ○ The company is scaling down its operations in Bangkok.

③ scales /skeɪlz/ plural noun a weighing machine □ to tip the scales at to weigh a particular amount ○ He tipped the scales at 210lb.

scallop /'skɒləp/ noun a type of shellfish with a pair of semicircular flat shells ○ We had scallops fried in butter.

scalp /skælp/ noun the skin which covers the skull ○ He was taken to hospital with a scalp wound. ○ Rubbing the scalp will encourage your hair to grow. ■ verb 1. to cut off the scalp of an enemy ○ They killed the settlers and scalped them. 2. US to sell tickets at a very high price scalpel /'skælpəl/ noun a sharp pointed knife used in surgery scaly /'skeili/ adj covered in scales scam /skæm/ noun a case of fraud (slang) Synonym con

scamper /'skæmpə/ verb to run fast with little steps. Synonym scurry. Antonym dawdle scampi /'skæmpi/ plural noun large prawns (NOTE: can be followed by a singular or plural verb)

scan /skæn/ verb 1. to look very carefully at something all over ○ We scanned the horizon but no ships were to be seen. ○ He scanned the map to try to find Cambridge Road. 2. to pass a radar beam over an area ○ First they scanned the right side of the brain. 3. to pass X-rays through part of the body ○ The hospital has decided to re-examine all patients who have been scanned over the last year. 4. to examine a drawing or text and produce computer data from it electronically ○ They scanned the text of the book using a hand-held scanner. 5. to analyse a line of poetry to identify the rhythm ○ Some modern poetry is impossible to scan. 6. (of poetry) to fit a regular rhythm ○ The second line of the poem doesn't scan. (NOTE: scanning – scanned) ■ noun 1. the examination of part of the body by passing X-rays through the body and analysing the result in a computer ○ She went to have a scan after ten weeks of pregnancy. 2. a picture of part of the body shown on a screen, derived by computers from X-rays 3. the examination of an image or an object to obtain data ○ A heat scan will quickly show which component is overheating.

scandal /'skænd(ə)l/ noun 1. talking about wrong things someone is supposed to have done ○ Have you heard the latest scandal about him? 2. a wrong action that produces a general feeling of public anger ○ The government was brought down by the scandal of the emperor's diamonds. ○ It's a scandal that her parents never allowed her to go to university.

scandalise /'skændələz/, scandalize verb to make people angry by doing something which they think is wrong. Synonym horrify. Antonym impress scandalous /'skændələs/ adj which is shameful and wrong. Synonym shocking. Antonym admirable

Scandinavian /'skændɪ'nɛvɪən/ adj referring to Scandinavia ○ We often think of Scandinavian women as being tall with fair hair. □ he is studying Scandinavian languages at university he is studying languages such as Swedish, Danish, Finnish and Norwegian at university ■ noun a person from Scandinavia an electronic device that scans, especially a device that scans images or text and converts them to computer data. \circ We used a small hand-held scanner to get the photos onto our computer system.

④ scanner /'skænər/ noun 1. a machine which scans part of the body ○ The hospital has acquired the most up-to-date scanner. 2.

scant /skænt/ adj not enough. Synonym slight. Antonym extensive scantly /'skæntli/ adv \square scantly dressed with very few clothes on scanty /'skænti/ adj small, not big enough (NOTE: scantier – scantiest) scapegoat /'skeɪpgo:t/ noun a person who carries the blame for someone else scapula /'skæpʊlə/ noun a shoulderblade, one of the two large flat bones covering the top part of your back scar /skɑ:/ noun a mark left on the skin after a wound has healed. \circ He still has the scars of his operation. ■ verb 1. to leave a mark on the skin. \circ He was scarred for life as a result of the accident. 2. to leave a mark on the mind of someone. \circ The bullying she received at school has scarred her for ever. (NOTE: scarring – scarred) scarce /skɛ:s/ adj 1. not enough for the amount needed. \circ This happened at a period when food was scarce. \circ Good designers are getting scarce. 2. \square to make oneself scarce to hide, to keep out of someone's way (informal)

③ scarcely /'skeəsli/ adv almost not. Synonym barely. Antonym fully \square scarcely anyone almost no one. \circ Scarcely anyone bought tickets for the show.

scarcity /'skeəsiti/ noun a lack of something, the state of being scarce scare /skeə/ noun a fright. \circ What a scare you gave me – jumping out at me in the dark like that! Antonym reassurance ■ verb to frighten someone. \circ The thought of travelling alone across Africa scares me. \circ She was scared by the spider in the bathroom. Antonym reassure \square to scare the life out of someone to frighten someone completely (informal) \square to scare away to frighten something so that it goes away. \circ The cat has scared all the birds away from the garden.

scarecrow /'skeəkrəʊ/ noun a figure made to look like a person, dressed in old clothes, and put up in a field to frighten the birds

③ scared /skeəd/ adj frightened. \circ Don't be scared – the snake is harmless. \circ She was too scared to answer the door. \circ I'm scared at the idea of driving in London's rush-hour traffic. \circ She looked round with a scared expression. Antonym fearless \square scared stiff so frightened that you cannot move. \circ I was scared stiff when I saw the children playing at the top of the cliff.

scarf /skɑ:f/ noun 1. a long piece of cloth which is worn round your neck to keep yourself warm. \circ Take your scarf – it's snowing. 2. a square piece of cloth which can be worn over the head, especially of a woman. \circ Put a scarf over your head – it's windy outside. (NOTE: The plural is scarves /skɑ:vz/.)

scarlet /'skɑ:let/ adj brilliant red scarves /skɑ:vz/ \diamond scarf scary /'skeəri/ adj frightening (informal) Antonym reassuring (NOTE: scarier – scariest) scathing /'skeɪðɪŋ/ adj very critical. Synonym scornful. Antonym complimentary scatter /'skætə/ verb 1. to throw something in various places. \circ The crowd scattered flowers all over the path. 2. to run in different directions. \circ When the police arrived, the children scattered.

scatterbrain /'skætəbreɪn/ noun a person who often forgets things scatterbrained /'skætəbreɪnd/ adj often forgetting things. Synonym absent-minded

③ scattered /'skætəd/ adj spread out over a wide area

③ scattering /'skætərɪŋ/ noun a small quantity or number of things. Synonym handful scavenge /'skævɪndʒ/ verb 1. to feed on dead and decaying matter. \circ Vultures live by scavenging on the corpses of animals which have died in the desert. 2. to get food or other useful items from rubbish. \circ Children were scavenging for food in the heaps of rubbish round the city.

scavenger /'skævɪndʒə/ noun an animal which feeds on dead animals, dead plants or refuse left by other animals scenario /'sɪ:nə:rɪəʊ/ noun 1. a written draft of a film with details of things such as the plot, the characters and the scenes. \circ He wrote the scenario for 'Gone with the Wind'. 2. the general way in which you think something may happen. \circ The worst scenario would be if she wanted to come on holiday with us. (NOTE: The plural is scenarios.)

② scene /sɪ:n/ noun 1. a short part of a play or film. \circ Did you like the scene where he is trying to climb up the skyscraper? \circ It was one of the funniest scenes I have ever seen. 2.

\square behind the scenes without being obvious, without many people knowing. \circ She helped her mother a lot behind the scenes. 3. a place where something has happened. \circ The fire brigade were on the scene very quickly. \circ It took the ambulance ten minutes to get to the scene of the accident. \circ A photographer was at the scene to record the ceremony. 4. a general area in which something happens. \circ The British political scene has changed radically over the last twelve months. \circ He's king of the pop music scene. □ it's not my scene it's not the sort of thing I usually do or like 5. a view ○ He took a photo of the scene from the hotel window. 6. a display of angry emotion ○ She made a terrible scene when she discovered the truth. ○ I can't stand it when people make scenes.

scenery /'sɪnəri/ noun 1. the features of the countryside ○ the beautiful scenery of the Lake District 2. a painted cloth background used to imitate things such as real buildings, rooms and landscapes on the stage in a theatre ○ They lowered the scenery onto the stage. ○ In between the acts all the scenery has to be changed. (NOTE: no plural) scenic /'sɪnɪk/ adj referring to beautiful scenery. Synonym picturesque. Antonym unsightly

scent /sent/ noun 1. a pleasant smell of something which you can recognise ○ the scent of roses in the cottage garden 2. perfume ○ That new scent of yours makes me sneeze. 3. a smell □ on the scent of following a trail left by ○ The dogs followed, on the scent of the robbers. □ to put someone off the scent to give someone wrong information so as to mislead them ○ She tried to put the reporters off the scent by saying that her husband had gone into hospital. ■ verb 1. to give something a pleasant smell ○ The laundry cleaner is scented with pine. 2. to discover something by smelling ○ Dogs can scent rabbits in holes in the ground. 3. to begin to feel that something exists ○ The team raced forward, scenting victory. (NOTE: Do not confuse with cent, sent.) scented /'sentɪd/ adj with a pleasant scent. Synonym perfumed

sceptic /'skeptɪk/ noun 1. a person who doubts the truth of religion ○ In the area of religious belief, he is something of a sceptic. 2. a person who always doubts the truth of what he or she is told ○ I am a sceptic when it comes to astrology. (NOTE: [all senses] The US spelling is skeptic.)

③ sceptical /'skeptɪk(ə)l/ adj doubtful, who doubts (NOTE: The US spelling is skeptical.)

skeptically /'skeptɪkli/ adv doubtfully (NOTE: The US spelling is skeptically.)

scepticism /'skeptɪ,sɪz(ə)m/ noun doubt or uncertainty (NOTE: The US spelling is skepticism.)

sceptre /'septə/ noun a gold stick covered with precious stones, carried by an emperor, king or queen (NOTE: The US spelling is scepter.)

③ schedule /'sedʒu:əl/ noun 1. a timetable, a plan of times drawn up in advance ○ He has a busy schedule of appointments. ○ Her personal assistant tried to fit me into her schedule. □ to be ahead of schedule to be early ○ The building of the hotel was completed ahead of schedule. □ to be on schedule to be on time ○ The flight is on schedule. □ to be behind schedule to be late ○ I am sorry to say that we are three months behind schedule. 2. a list of times of departure and arrival of forms of transport such as trains, planes or coaches ○ The summer schedules have been published. 3. a programme or list of events ○ the schedule of events for the music festival 4. a list, especially of documents attached to a contract ○ the schedule of territories to which an insurance policy applies ○ Please find enclosed our schedule of charges. ■ verb 1. to put something on an official list ○ See the list of scheduled prices. ○ The house has been scheduled as an ancient monument. 2. to arrange the times for something ○ The building is scheduled for completion in May. ○ The flight is scheduled to arrive at six o'clock. ○ We have scheduled the meeting for Tuesday morning.

scheduled flight /'sedʒu:ld flæt/ noun a flight which is in the airline timetable scheduled service /,sedʒu:ld 'sɜ:vɪs/ noun a regular bus or train service schematic /'ski:mætɪk/ adj laid out like a diagram

① scheme /ski:m/ noun 1. a plan for making something work ○ She joined the company pension scheme. ○ He has thought up some scheme for making money very quickly. 2. an arrangement ○ the colour scheme in the living room ■ verb to plan something in secret ○ She spent most of her time in the office scheming against the finance department. ○ They have been scheming to buy the shop cheaply.

schemer /'ski:mə/ noun a person who plots. Synonym plotter schizophrenia /,skɪzəʊ'fri:niə/ noun a mental disorder where the patient withdraws from other people, has delusions and seems to lose contact with the real world schizophrenic /,skɪzəʊ'frenɪk/ noun, adj (a person) who is affected by schizophrenia scholar /'skɒlə/ noun 1. a learned person ○ He is a well-known scholar of medieval French history. 2. a student at school or university who has a scholarship ○ Because I was a scholar my parents didn't have to pay any fees.

scholarly /'skɒləli/ adj referring to serious study at a high level. Synonym learned. Antonym lowbrow scholarship /'skɒləʃɪp/ noun 1. money given to someone to help pay for the cost of his or her study ○ The college offers scholarships to attract the best students. ○ She got or won a scholarship to carry out research into causes of cancer. 2. a deep learning ○ The article shows sound scholarship. (NOTE: no plural in this meaning) scholastic /skə'læstɪk/ adj referring to schools or teaching methods. Synonym educational

Scholastic Aptitude Test /skə'læstɪk 'æptɪtju:d tɛst/ noun US full form of SAT

① school /sku:l/ noun 1. a place where students, usually children, are taught ○ Our little boy is four, so he'll be going to school this year. ○ Some children start school younger than that. ○ What did the children do at school today? ○ When he was sixteen, he left school and joined the army. ○ Which school did you go to? □ grammar school a school which selects children by an entrance examination. ♦ public school 2. a section of a college or university ○ The school of medicine is one of the largest in the country. ○ She's studying at law school. 3. a group of similar artists ○ painters who do not belong to the naturalist school. 4. a group of animals ○ a school of porpoises ■ verb to train someone ○ He was schooled in the art of tapping telephones.

school board /sku:l 'bɔ:d/ noun a committee which runs a local school system

③ schoolbook /'sku:lbʊk/ noun a book used when learning a subject at school

schoolboy /'sku:lbɔɪ/ noun a boy who goes to school

③ school bus /sku:l 'bʌs/ noun a bus which collects children from home in the morning, takes them to school and brings them back home in the afternoon schoolchild /'sku:l,tʃaɪld/ noun a child who goes to school schooldays /'sku:ldeɪz/ plural noun the time when you are at school schoolgirl /'sku:lgɜ:l/ noun a girl who goes to school schooling /'sku:lnɪŋ/ noun education at school level

③ school kid /'sku:l kɪd/ noun a child who is at school (informal) school leaver /'sku:l,li'verə/ noun a young person who has just left secondary school

③ schoolteacher /'sku:ltʃə:tʃə/ noun a person who teaches in a school school year /'sku:l 'jɪə/ noun (in Britain) a year starting in September and ending in July of the following year

① science /'saɪəns/ noun the study of natural physical things, based on observation and experiment ○ She took a science course or studied science. ○ We have a new science teacher this term. ○ He has a master's degree in marine science. ♦ social science

③ science fiction /,saɪəns 'fɪkʃən/ noun stories of life in the future, based on imaginary scientific developments

③ science park /'saɪəns pa:k/ noun an area outside a town which is set aside for scientific companies

② scientific /,saɪənt'fɪk/ adj referring to science ○ We employ hundreds of people in scientific research. ○ He's the director of a scientific institute. ○ She loved art and music and was never very scientific. Synonym technical scientifically /,saɪənt'fɪkli/ adv by using scientific experiments

② scientist /'saɪəntɪst/ noun a person who specialises in a science, often doing research ○ Scientists have not yet found a cure for the common cold. ○ Space scientists are examining the photographs of Mars.

sci-fi /'sai ,fai/ noun same as science fiction scintillating /'sɪntɪleɪtɪŋ/ adj sparkling

scissors /'sɪzəz/ plural noun a tool for cutting paper, cloth, etc., made of two blades attached in the middle, with handles with holes for the thumb and fingers ○ These scissors aren't very sharp. ○ Have you got a pair of scissors I can borrow?

scoff /skɒf/ verb 1. □ to scoff at something to make fun of something in a nasty way ○ He scoffed at her attempts at windsurfing. ○ The committee chairman scoffed at my idea for redeveloping the town centre. 2. to eat something greedily ○ The two boys rushed into the dining room and scoffed half the cakes.

scold /skəuld/ verb to speak to someone angrily. Synonym rebuke. Antonym praise

scone /skɒn/ noun a type of small round soft bread, sometimes with dried fruit in it, eaten with butter or cream and jam

scoop /sku:p/ noun 1. a deep round spoon with a short handle, for serving soft food such as ice cream ○ You must wash the scoop each time you use it. 2. a portion of soft food such as ice cream ○ I'll have one scoop of strawberry and one scoop of vanilla, please. 3. an exciting news story which a reporter is the first to find or which no other newspaper has reported ○ He came back from the visit to the footballer's girlfriend with a scoop. ■ verb 1. to cut something out with a scoop ○ He scooped out a helping of mashed potato.

□ to scoop out the inside of something to remove the inside of something with something such as a spoon ○ Scoop out the inside of a melon. 2. to lift something or someone up, as with a scoop ○ She scooped up the babies into her arms and ran upstairs. ○ He scooped all the newspapers off the floor. 3. □ to scoop a newspaper to report a news item before another paper does ○ They scooped their rivals with the story of the minister's girlfriend.

scooter /'sku:tə/ noun 1. a child's two-wheeled vehicle with a long steering handle, pushed along with one foot while the other foot is on the board 2. a small type of motorbike with a curving shield in front of the seat and a platform for the feet ○ She dodged through the traffic on her scooter.

③ scope /skə:p/ noun 1. the furthest area covered by observation or action ○ These matters are beyond the scope of our investigation. 2. an opportunity or possibility ○ We keep the children busy so there is no scope for them to get bored. □ there is scope for improvement it could be improved ○ There is considerable scope for expansion into the export market.

scorch /skɔ:tʃ/ verb 1. to burn something slightly or brown something ○ He accidentally scorched the tablecloth with the iron. 2. to make something very hot and dry ○ The sun has scorched the grass.

scorched /skɔ:tʃt/ adj slightly burnt or browned scorched-earth policy /,skɔ:tʃt 'ɛ:θ ,pɔ:lɪsi/ noun tactics in war where you destroy all resources before retreating and giving up land to the enemy scorching /skɔ:tʃɪŋ/ adj very hot, which scorches (informal)

② score /skɔ:/ noun 1. the number of goals or points made in a match ○ The final score in the rugby match was 22–10. ○ I didn't see the beginning of the match – what's the score? □ what's the score? what is the news? (informal) □ I know the score I know all the problems involved (informal) 2. twenty □ three score years and ten seventy years (literary) 3. □ scores of many ○ Scores of people stayed at home during the train strike. ○ I must have seen that film scores of times. 4. written music ○ He composed the score for the musical. 5. □ to settle old scores to take revenge for things that happened a long time ago □ verb 1. to make a goal or point in a match ○ They scored three goals in the first twenty minutes. ○ She scored sixty-five! 2. to arrange music for certain instruments ○ A piece scored for piano and three violins 3. to scratch a flat surface ○ Score the surface of the wood with a sharp knife so that the glue will hold better.

scoreboard /'skɔ:bɔ:d/ noun a large board on which the score in a game is shown as the game progresses. Synonym display scorer /'skɔ:rə/ noun 1. a person who scores a point, a goal, etc., in a game ○ With his hat trick he became the highest scorer in the league this season. 2. a person who writes down the scores in a game ○ We played Scrabble and I was the scorer.

scorn /skɔ:n/ noun a feeling of thinking that someone or something is not good enough ○ He heaped scorn on the committee's proposal. ○ The suggestion was greeted with scorn. Synonym contempt. Antonym admiration □ verb to refuse to accept an idea or a suggestion ○ Most young people in the office scorn the idea that smoking can be bad for your health. ○ She scorned his proposal of a lift.

scornful /'skɔ:nf(ə)l/ adj considering something not good enough. Synonym contemptuous. Antonym admiring scornfully /'skɔ:nf(ə)li/ adv in a scornful way

Scorpio /'skɔ:pɪəʊ/ noun one of the signs of the Zodiac, shaped like a scorpion, covering the period 23rd October to 21st November scorpion /'skɔ:pɪən/ noun a poisonous tropical animal which stings with its long curved tail

Scot /skɒt/ noun a person from Scotland

③ Scotch /skɒtʃ/ adj referring to Scotland □ noun 1. Scotch whisky ○ a bottle of Scotch 2. a glass of this drink ○ A large Scotch, please. (NOTE: The plural is Scotches.) □ verb to prove something wrong or put a stop to something ○ By appearing in public, the president scotched rumours of his death.

Scotch whisky /skɒtʃ 'wɪskɪ/ noun whisky made in Scotland scot-free /,skɒt 'fri:/ adj □ to get off scot-free to avoid being punished

Scotland Yard /,skɒtlənd 'ja:d/ noun the headquarters of the London Metropolitan Police, or the officers who work there ○ The local police were baffled so they called in Scotland Yard. ○ A spokesman for Scotland Yard said that a man was helping police with their enquiries. (NOTE: also called simply the Yard)

Scots /skɒts/ adj (of the people, laws, etc.) Scottish ○ 'Not proven' is a decision in Scots Law. □ noun a dialect of English spoken in Scotland ○ 'Auld Lang Syne' is one of Burns' poems in Scots.

Scotsman /'skɒtsmən/ noun a man from Scotland (NOTE: The plural is Scotsmen.)

Scotswoman /'skɒts,wʊmən/ noun a woman from Scotland (NOTE: The plural is Scotswomen /'skɒts,wɪmɪn/.)

① Scottish /'skɒtɪʃ/ adj referring to Scotland scoundrel /'skaʊndrəl/ noun a bad person, with no principles. Synonym rogue scour /'skəʊə/ verb 1. to clean something by scrubbing with a hard material ○ Her first job was scouring dirty pans in the restaurant. 2. to search everywhere in a place ○ We scoured the market and couldn't find any aubergines. ○ The police have been scouring the woods near the village where the little girl lived.

scourer /'skauərə/ noun a pad of steel wool, plastic thread or other hard material, used to clean pans, etc.

scourge /'skɜːdʒ/ noun a thing which causes suffering scouring pad /'skauərɪŋ ,pæd/ noun same as scourer

scout /'skaut/ noun a member of the Scout Association ○ Let Bill light the fire – he was a scout as a boy. ■ verb □ to scout (around) for something to look out for something ○ He goes to sales in the country, scouting for antiques.

Scouts /'skauts/ plural noun the Scout Association, an international organisation for young people scowl /'skoʊl/ noun an angry look made by wrinkling the forehead ○ He gave a scowl and went on eating. ■ verb to make a scowl ○ When she asked him for a rise the boss scowled. ○ He scowled at the little boy and then told him to run away. ▶ Antonym (all senses) smile

scrabble /'skræb(ə)l/ verb □ to scrabble (about) to search wildly with your fingers ○ They were scrabbling about in the dustbin, looking for the missing letter. ○ She scrabbled in her shopping bag for the receipt.

Scrabble /'skræb(ə)l/ trademark a game where you are given a series of letters and have to make words with them scraggy /'skrægi/ adj thin and bony (NOTE: scraggier – scraggiest) scram /'skræm/ interj go away!

scramble /'skræmbəl/ noun 1. a rush ○ There was a last-minute scramble for tickets. 2. a motorcycle race across rough country ○ We went to watch the scramble and got very cold and wet. ■ verb 1. to hurry, using your hands and knees if necessary ○ He scrambled over the wall. 2. to rush ○ Everyone was scrambling to get food. 3. to mix up a radio signal or telephone link so that it cannot be understood without a device for making it clear ○ Calls from the army chief of staff to the president are scrambled.

scrambled eggs /,skræmbəld 'egz/ plural noun eggs mixed together and stirred as they are cooked in butter

scrap /'skræp/ noun 1. a little piece ○ a scrap of paper ○ There isn't a scrap of evidence against him. ○ She is collecting scraps of cloth to make a quilt. 2. waste materials ○ to sell a car for scrap ○ The scrap value of the car is £200. 3. a fight ○ The football fans got into a scrap with local youths. ■ verb 1. to throw something away as useless ○ They had to scrap 10,000 faulty spare parts. 2. to give up or stop working on a plan ○ We've scrapped our plans to go to Greece. 3. to fight ○ They were scrapping over who should get the best bit of the chicken. (NOTE: scraping – scrapped) scrapbook /'skræpbuk/ noun a book with blank pages on which you can stick pictures or stories cut from newspapers or magazines scrape /'skreɪp/ noun an awkward situation which you get into by mistake ○ He's always getting into scrapes. ■ verb to scratch something with a hard object which is pulled across a surface ○ She scraped the paint off the door. ○ He fell off his bike and scraped his knee on the pavement.

③ scrape through /,skreɪp 'θru:/ verb to pass an examination with difficulty scrape together /,skreɪp tə'geðə/ verb to gather things together with difficulty scrap heap /'skræp hi:p/ noun a heap of rubbish (informal) scrappy /'skræpi/ adj made of bits and pieces; not joined up properly (informal) (NOTE: scrappier – scrappiest)

scraps /'skræps/ plural noun bits of waste food

③ scratch /'skrætʃ/ noun 1. a long wound on the skin ○ Put some antiseptic on the scratches on your arms. □ without a scratch with no injuries ○ He came out of the car crash without a scratch. 2. a long mark made by a sharp point ○ I will never be able to cover up the scratches on the car door. 3. □ to start from scratch to start something new without any preparation □ up to scratch of the right quality ○ The recording was not up to scratch. ■ verb 1. to make a long wound on the skin ○ His legs were scratched by the bushes along the path. □ to scratch the surface to deal with a problem superficially and not to get down to the details 2. to make a mark on something with a sharp point ○ I must touch up the car where it has been scratched. 3. to rub a part of the body which itches with your fingernails ○ He scratched his head as he wondered what to do next. ○ Stop scratching – it will make your rash worse! 4. to remove your name from a list of competitors ○ One of the players scratched at the last minute. ■ adj collected at the last minute ○ Our opponents were a scratch side from the nearby village.

scrawl /'skrɔːl/ noun bad careless handwriting ○ I can't read his scrawl. ■ verb to write something badly or carelessly ○ He scrawled a few notes on a bit of paper.

scrawny /'skrɔːni/ adj extremely thin scream /'skriːm/ noun 1. a loud cry of pain ○ He let out a scream of pain. ○ the screams of the victims of the fire 2. □ screams of laughter loud laughter 3. a funny person (informal) ○ She's an absolute scream when she starts talking about the office. ■ verb 1. to make loud cries ○ People on the third floor were screaming for help. ○ They screamed with pain. ○ She screamed at the class to stop singing. 2. □ to scream with laughter to laugh very loudly screech /skri:tʃ/ noun a piercing sound ○ I was woken up by the screech of the owl in the tree. ○ The car sped away with a screech of tyres. (NOTE: The plural is screeches.) ■ verb to make a piercing sound ○ The motor-bike raced up and screeched to a stop. ○ The police car screeched round the corner. Synonym shriek ▶ Antonym (all senses) whisper

② screen /skri:n/ noun 1. a flat panel which acts as protection against something, e.g. draughts, fire or noise ○ a screen decorated with flowers and birds ○ The hedge acts as a screen against the noise from the motorway. 2. a flat glass surface on which a picture is shown ○ a computer screen ○ a TV screen ○ I'll call the information up on the screen. 3. a flat white surface for projecting films or pictures ○ a cinema complex with four screens ○ We'll put up the screen on the stage. ■ verb 1. to protect someone or something from something, e.g. draughts, fire or noise ○ They planted a row of trees to screen the farm buildings. ○ Part of the room was screened off. ○ Put the umbrella up to screen us from the sun. 2. to show a film in a cinema or on TV ○ Tonight's film will be screened half an hour later than advertised. 3. to consider or investigate people, such as candidates for a job, before making a final choice ○ Applicants will be screened before being invited to an interview. □ to screen people for a disease to examine a lot of people to see if they have a disease ○ All women over 40 should be screened for cervical cancer.

③ screening /'skri:ning/ noun 1. the act of showing a film ○ This will be the first screening of the film outside Japan. 2. □ the screening of candidates the practice of examining candidates to see if they are suitable ○ Professor Mills will be in charge of the screening of applicants for the job. □ the screening of patients the practice of examining patients to see if they have an illness ○ Breast screening is important for women over 50.

screenplay /'skri:pleɪ/ noun a scenario, a written draft of a film with details, e.g., of plot, characters and scenes screen saver /skri:n 'seɪvə/ noun a computer program which protects the screen by making it go black or show a picture when the computer is out of use for a while screenwriter /'skri:nraɪtə/ noun a person who writes screenplays. Synonym script-writer screw /skru:/ noun 1. a metal pin with a winding groove round it, which you twist to make it go into a hard surface ○ I need some longer screws to go through this thick plank. ○ The plate was fixed to the door with brass screws. □ to have a screw loose to be slightly mad (informal) 2. a propeller of a ship ○ a twin-screw trawler ■ verb 1. to attach something with screws ○ The picture was screwed to the wall. 2. to attach something by twisting ○ He filled up the bottle and screwed on the top. ○ Screw the lid on tightly. □ he's got his head screwed on the right way he's very sensible (informal) screwdriver /'skru:draɪvə/ noun a tool with a long handle and special end which is used for turning screws screwed-up /,skru:d 'ʌp/ adj worried and unhappy screw-top jar /,skru: tɒp 'dʒɑ:/ noun a jar with a top which screws on and off scriwy /'skru:i/ adj mad (slang insult) (NOTE: scrivier – scriwest)

scribble /'skrib(ə)l/ noun 1. meaningless marks written by a child ○ The wallpaper was covered with scribbles. 2. bad writing ○ Please excuse my scribble – I'm rushing to get this in the post. ■ verb 1. to make marks which don't have any meaning ○ The kids have scribbled all over their bedroom walls. 2. to write something hurriedly and badly ○ She scribbled a few notes in the train.

script /skript/ noun 1. the written text of a film or play ○ The actors settled down with their scripts for the first reading. 2. a style or system of handwriting ○ The Germans used to write in Gothic script. 3. a written examination answer ○ At the end of the exam the invigilator gathered up all the scripts.

scripture /'skriptʃə/ noun 1. the Bible ○ According to Scripture or to the Scriptures, St Peter was a fisherman. 2. a holy writing ○ a passage translated from Buddhist scriptures ○ The story of Vishnu is set down in Hindu scripture.

scriptwriter /'skriptraɪtə/ noun a person who writes scripts for films or for TV or radio plays scroll /skrəʊl/ noun 1. a long piece of paper with writing on it, rolled up ○ Each graduate was presented with a scroll marking his or her achievement. 2. a curved shape, like a roll of paper ○ The wallpaper is decorated with little blue scrolls. ■ verb to move displayed text up or down the computer screen, one line at a time ○ She rapidly scrolled down until she came to the address she wanted.

scroll bar /'skrəʊl ba:/ noun a bar on a computer screen which is used to scroll up and down scrooge /'skru:dʒ/ noun a mean or miserly person (informal) scrotum /'skrəutəm/ noun a bag of skin hanging from behind the penis, containing the testicles scrounge /'skraʊndʒ/ verb to try to get something without paying for it (informal) scrounger /'skraʊndʒə/ noun a person who scrounges (informal) scrub /'skrʌb/ noun 1. an area of land with a few small bushes ○ They walked for miles through the scrub until they came to a river. 2. the action of scrubbing ○ After a game of rugby you will need a good scrub. ■ verb 1. to clean something by rubbing it with soap and a brush ○ a well-scrubbed kitchen table ○ Scrub your fingernails to get rid of the dirt. 2. to remove something that has been recorded on tape ○ Can you scrub the last five minutes of the recording? □ scrub that you can forget about that (informal) scrubbing brush /'skrʌbɪŋ brʌʃ/ noun a stiff brush with no handle, used especially for scrubbing floors

scruff /'skrʌf/ noun (informal) □ by the scruff of the neck holding someone or an animal by the skin at the back of the neck ○ The cat picked up her kittens by the scruff of the neck and took them to her basket. ○ The police officer grabbed him by the scruff of the neck and pushed him into the police van.

scruffy /'skrʌfɪ/ adj untidy or dirty (NOTE: scruffier – scruffiest) scrum /'skrʌm/ noun (in rugby) an arrangement in which the players of both teams crowd together with their heads down and try to get the ball scrumptious /'skrʌmpʃəs/ adj delicious (informal). Antonym revolting scrunch /'skrʌntʃ/ verb to squash or crush something with your hand scruple /'skru:p(ə)l/ noun □ to have scruples about doing something to have doubts about whether something is right, which prevent you from doing it ○ I have considerable scruples about giving money to that particular charity. ○ He had no scruples about copying other people's ideas. ■ verb □ not to scruple to do something not to hesitate to do something, even though it might have a bad effect (formal) ○ He didn't scruple to threaten the woman with a stick to get her to give him money.

scrupulous /'skru:pjuːləs/ adj very careful, very honest. Synonym conscientious scrutinise /'skru:tɪnaɪz/, scrutinize verb to examine something very carefully

③ scrutiny /'skru:tɪnɪ/ noun a careful examination of facts or a very close look at something □ it will repay close scrutiny it would be worth looking at it carefully □ not to stand close scrutiny not to be as good as it seems ○ The charity's work will not stand close scrutiny.

scuba diver /'sku:bə ,dərvə/ noun a person who goes scuba diving scuba diving /'sku:bə ,daɪvɪŋ/ noun the activity of swimming underwater, using breathing apparatus scuff /'skʌf/ verb to scratch the surface of something. Synonym scrape scuffle /'skʌf(ə)l/ noun a small fight ○ Scuffles broke out in the crowd. ■ verb to fight ○ After the game, fans scuffled with the police. ▶ Synonym (all senses) scrap scull /'skʌl/ noun one of a pair of small oars which are used to row a small boat ■ verb to row using two oars (NOTE: Do not confuse with skull.)

sculpt /'skʌlpɪt/ verb to carve a figure out of wood or stone or make it out of metal sculptor /'skʌlpɪtə/ noun a person who makes figures or shapes out of wood, metal or stone sculptress /'skʌlpɪtrəs/ noun a woman who makes figures or shapes out of wood, metal or stone

③ sculpture /'skʌlpɪtʃə/ noun a figure carved out of stone or wood or made out of metal scum /'skʌm/ noun 1. a layer of dirty foam on the surface of a liquid ○ As the liquid boils, a grey scum forms on the surface and should be removed. 2. people of the worst type (offensive) ○ Those muggers are just scum, I hope they get sent to prison. (NOTE: no plural) scupper /'skʌpə/ verb 1. to bring something to an end or ruin something (informal) ○ The newspaper article has scuppered his chances of becoming a judge. 2. to sink a ship on purpose by opening holes in the bottom to allow water to come in. Synonym scuttle ■ noun a hole in the top of the side of a ship to let water run off the deck (NOTE: usually plural)

scurry /'skʌri/ verb 1. to run fast, taking short steps. Synonym scuttle ○ When the owl appeared overhead, the little animals scurried to their holes. 2. to hurry ○ She was scurrying to her office with her bag of shopping. Synonym dash. Antonym saunter ■ noun fast movement ○ the scurry as the passengers try to get onto the train just before it leaves (NOTE: no plural) scurvy /'skɜ:vɪ/ noun a disease caused by lack of Vitamin C which is found in fresh fruit and vegetables

scuttle /'skʌt(ə)l/ verb 1. to run fast, taking short steps ○ She scuttled back to her office, afraid that she was late. Synonym scurry □ to scuttle off to run away fast ○ As soon as they saw the police officer in the distance, they all scuttled off down back streets. 2. to sink a ship on purpose by opening holes in the bottom to allow water to come in ○ The captain gave orders to scuttle the ship because he did not want her to be captured by the enemy. ■ noun a type of bucket for keeping coal in the house scythe /saɪð/ noun a farming implement with a long slightly curved blade attached to a handle with two short projecting hand grips, used for cutting long grass ■ verb to cut grass with a scythe

SE abbr south-east

① sea /sɪə/ noun 1. an area of salt water between continents or islands, but not as large as an ocean ○ Swimming in the sea is more exciting than swimming in a river. ○ The sea's too rough for the ferries to operate. ○ His friends own a house by the sea. ○ The North Sea separates Britain from Denmark and Germany. □ at sea travelling by ship ○ We were at sea for only five days. □ by sea using ships as a means of transport ○ When we moved to Australia we sent our furniture by sea. □ by sea mail sent by post abroad, using a ship, not by air □ to run away to sea to leave home to work as a sailor ○ When he was sixteen he ran away to sea. 2. a mass of things ○ I could see a sea of faces turned towards me.

sea change /sɪ: tʃeindʒ/ noun a very big change seafaring /'sɪ:fərɪŋ/ adj working or travelling on the sea

③ seafood /'sɪ:fʊ:d/ noun fish or shellfish which can be eaten seafront /'sɪ:f्रənt/ noun a road or wide path which runs beside the sea in a seaside town. Synonym waterfront seagoing /'sɪ:gəʊɪŋ/ adj which is made to be used on the sea seagull /'sɪ:gʌl/ noun a white sea bird. Synonym gull sea horse /'sɪ: hɔ:s/ noun a small fish that has a head which looks like a horse's head

③ seal /sɪ:l/ noun 1. a large animal with short fur, which eats fish, living mainly near to or in the sea 2. a piece of paper, metal or wax which is used to attach something to close it so that it cannot be opened ○ The customs officials attached their seal to the box. 3. a way in which something is closed ○ The screw top gives a tight seal. ■ verb 1. to close something tightly ○ a box carefully sealed with sticky tape □ a sealed envelope an envelope whose flap has been stuck down to close it ○ The information was sent in a sealed envelope. 2. to attach a seal to something or stamp something with a seal ○ The customs sealed the shipment.

sea legs /'sɪ: legz/ plural noun □ he's got his sea legs he is used to travelling by sea and doesn't get seasick (informal) sea level /'sɪ: ,lev(ə)l/ noun the level of the sea, taken as a point for measuring altitude sea lion /'sɪ: ,laɪən/ noun a large species of seal seal off /,sɪ:l 'ɒf/ verb to close a place off so as to prevent anyone getting inside seam /sɪ:m/ noun 1. a line where two pieces of material are attached together ○ She sewed the seams on the sewing machine. ○ He's got fatter, so can you let out a seam at the back of his coat? 2. □ to be bursting at the seams to be extremely full ○ The little town was bursting at the seams with thousands of football fans. 3. a layer of mineral beneath the earth's surface ○ The coal seams are two metres thick. ○ The gold seam was worked out some years ago. □ to come apart at the seams 1. to fall to pieces 2. to go wrong ○ His plans for a long holiday seem to be coming apart at the seams. (NOTE: Do not confuse with seem.) seaman /'sɪ:mən/ noun a man who works on a ship. Synonym sailor (NOTE: The plural is seamen. Do not confuse with semen.)

seamanship /'sɪ:mənʃɪp/ noun the art of sailing a ship seamless /'sɪ:mləs/ adj with no visible seams or joins seance /'seɪəns/ noun a meeting at which people try to communicate with dead people seaplane /'sɪ:pleɪn/ noun a plane with floats instead of wheels, which can land on water seaport /'sɪ:pɔ:t/ noun a town with a large harbour sear /sɪə/ verb to burn the surface of or scorch something

① search /sɜ:tʃ/ noun 1. the action of trying to find something ○ Our search of the flat revealed nothing. ○ They carried out a search for the missing children. ○ I did a quick search on the Internet for references to Proust. 2. the examination of records to make sure that a property belongs to the person who is trying to sell it ○ The solicitor's search revealed that part of the drive belonged to the neighbouring farm. (NOTE: The plural is searches.) ■ verb 1. to examine something or someone very carefully ○ The police searched the house from top to bottom but still couldn't find any weapons. ○ She was stopped and searched by customs. 2. □ to search for someone or something to try to find ○ The police searched for the missing children. ○ I searched the Internet for references to Ireland. □ to search through something to try to find something by looking through something carefully ○ She searched through her papers, trying to find the document.

search and replace /'sɜ:tʃ ənd rɪ'pleɪs/ noun the action of looking for words or phrases and replacing them automatically with other words or phrases

③ search engine /'sɜ:tʃ əndʒɪn/ noun a program which allows you to search for particular words or phrases on the Internet searcher /'sɜ:tʃə/ noun a person who searches searching /'sɜ:tʃɪŋ/ adj very detailed ○ a searching question searchlight /'sɜ:tʃlaɪt/ noun a powerful light used to try to see things, especially aircraft, at night search party /'sɜ:tʃ ə'pa:ti/ noun a group of people sent to look for someone search warrant /'sɜ:tʃ ə'wɔ:rənt/ noun an official document signed by a magistrate which allows police to go into a building and look for criminals, weapons or stolen goods searing /'sɪərɪŋ/ adj (of heat or pain) very strong seashell /'si:sel/ noun a shell of a shellfish which lives in the sea seashore /'si:ʃɔ:/ noun a sandy area along the edge of the sea. Synonym beach

③ seasick /'sɪsɪk/ adj ill because of the movement of a ship

seasickness /'si:sɪknəs/ noun sickness caused by the movement of a ship □ seasickness pills or tablets medicine taken to prevent seasickness

③ seaside /'si:dsaɪd/ noun an area near the sea where people go to have a holiday. Synonym beach ■ adj near the sea ○ a seaside resort

① season /'si:z(ə)n/ noun 1. one of four parts of a year ○ The four seasons are spring, summer, autumn and winter. ○ Spring is the season when the garden is full of flowers. 2. a part of the year when something usually happens ○ The tourist season is very long here – from March to September. ○ The football season lasts from September to May. ○ London is very crowded during the school holiday season. □ high season, low season □ in season (of food such as fruit) fresh and plentiful and easy to buy ○ Strawberries are cheaper in season. ○ Pears are in season just now. □ out of season more expensive because the growing season is over ○ Oysters are out of season in June. ■ verb 1. to add flavouring or spices to a dish ○ The meat is seasoned with paprika. 2. to dry wood until it is ready to be used ○ They made the windows with wood which had not been seasoned properly.

③ seasonal /'si:z(ə)n(ə)l/ adj 1. which only lasts for a season, usually the holiday season ○ Work on the island is only seasonal.

2. characteristic of a particular time of year ○ In December the supermarket shelves are stocked with Christmas decorations and other seasonal goods. ○ We can expect seasonal weather, with temperatures about average for the time of year.

seasoned /'si:z(ə)nd/ adj 1. (of food) which has had seasoning put on it to improve the flavour 2. who has had a lot of experience ○ a seasoned traveller seasoning /'si:z(ə)nɪŋ/ noun spices which are added to food

② season ticket /'si:z(ə)n ə'tɪkɪt/ noun a railway, bus or theatre ticket, which you can use for a whole year or a month at a time

① seat /si:t/ noun 1. a chair, something which you sit on ○ Bicycle seats are narrow. ○ He was sitting in the driver's seat. ○ Can we have two seats in the front row? ○ Our kitchen chairs have wooden seats. □ to take a seat to sit down ○ Please take a seat, the dentist will see you in a few minutes. □ to take your seat to sit down in as seat reserved for you, especially at the theatre ○ Please take your seats, the play is about to begin. 2. a place on a committee or a town council, in parliament, etc. ○ He lost his seat at the general election. 3. the part of a chair on which you sit ○ The seat of the chair needs to be recovered. 4. the part of trousers which covers your behind ■ verb to have enough seats for a number of people ○ The restaurant seats 75. ○ The bus seats sixty.

③ seat belt /'si:t bɛl/ noun a belt which you wear in a car or plane to stop you being hurt if there is an accident

③ seated /'si:tɪd/ adj sitting down seating /'si:tɪŋ/ noun seats for people seating capacity /'si:tɪŋ ə'pæsɪtɪ/ noun the number of seats, e.g. in a bus or cinema

③ seaweed /'si:wɪ:d/ noun a plant which grows in the sea (NOTE: no plural: some seaweed, a piece of seaweed) seaworthy /'si:wɜ:ði/ adj (of a boat) which is fit to go to sea sec noun a second (informal) secateurs /'sekətəz/ plural noun very strong scissors used in gardening ○ He pruned the roses with his secateurs. (NOTE: plural; for one item, say 'a pair of secateurs') secede /'sɪ:sɪd/ verb to break away from an organisation or a federation. Antonym affiliate secession /'sɪ:seʃ(ə)n/ noun the act of seceding secessionist /'sɪ:seʃ(ə)nɪst/ noun a person who is in favour of secession ■ adj

which has seceded or is proposing to secede ○ a secessionist state

secluded /sɪ'klu:dɪd/ adj quiet or away from crowds ○ We found a secluded spot by the river for our picnic.

seclusion /sɪ'klu:z(ə)n/ noun solitude. Synonym privacy

① second noun /'sekənd/ 1. one of sixty parts which make up a minute ○ I'll give you ten seconds to get out of my room. ○ They say the bomb will go off in twenty seconds. 2. a very short time ○ Please wait a second. ○ Wait here, I'll be back in a second. 3. something or someone that comes after the first thing or person ○ Today is the second of March or March the second (March 2nd). ○ The Great Fire of London took place when Charles the Second (Charles II) was king. (NOTE: In dates second is usually written 2nd or 2: August 2nd, 1932, 2 July, 1666 (American style is July 2, 1666), say 'the second of July' or 'July the second' (American style is 'July second'). With names of kings and queens second is usually written II: Queen Elizabeth II (say 'Queen Elizabeth the Second').) 4. the person who helps a boxer during a fight ○ seconds out an instruction to seconds to leave the boxing ring before a round begins ■ adj /'sekənd/ 1. coming after the first and before the third ○ That's the second time the telephone has rung while we're eating. ○ February is the second month of the year. ○ He came second in the race. ○ It's his second birthday next week. ○ B is the second letter in the alphabet. ○ Women's clothes are on the second floor. ○ the second century the period from 100 AD to 199 2. only one other is more (followed by a superlative) ○ This is the second longest bridge in the world. ○ He's the second highest paid member of staff. ■ verb 1. /'sekənd/ ○ to second a motion to be the first person to formally support a proposal put forward by someone else in a meeting ○ The motion was seconded by Mrs Smith. 2. /sɪ'kɒnd/ to lend a member of staff, e.g. to another company or a government department, for a fixed period of time ○ He was seconded to the Department of Trade for two years. ♦ secondment

② secondary /'sekənd(ə)ri/ adj 1. which comes second, after primary 2. ○ of secondary importance not so very important ○ The colour of the car is of secondary importance.

secondary education /,sekənd(ə)ri'edʒu'keɪʃ(ə)n/ noun education for children after the age of eleven or twelve secondary school /'sekənd(ə)ri sku:l/ noun a school for children after the age of eleven or twelve second best /,sekənd 'best/ noun something which is not as good as the best □ to come off second best to lose in a contest

③ second-class /,sekənd 'klɑ:s/ adj, adv 1. (of travel or hotels) less expensive and less comfortable than first-class ○ I find second-class hotels are perfectly adequate. ○ We always travel second-class because it is cheaper. 2. (of a postal service) less expensive and slower than first-class ○ A second-class letter is cheaper than a first-class. ○ Send it second-class if it is not urgent.

second cousin /,sekənd 'kʌzɪn(ə)n/ noun a child of your mother's or father's cousin seconder /'sekəndər/ noun a person who seconds a proposal second-generation /,sekənd 'dʒenə'reɪʃ(ə)n/ adj 1. referring to a person whose parents came from another country 2. referring to something, e.g. a computer system, which has developed from an earlier form second-guess /'sekənd ges/ verb to try to guess what someone will do second half /,sekənd 'ha:f/ noun 1. the second section of two parts, as of a football match ○ They scored three goals in the second half. 2. the second part of a financial year, from July to December ○ The figures for the second half are up on those for the first part of the year.

second hand /,sekənd 'hænd/ noun the long hand on a watch which turns round fast and shows the seconds ○ This watch does not have a second hand.

③ secondhand /,sekənd'hænd/ adj not new; which someone else has owned before ○ We've just bought a secondhand car. ■ adv □ to buy something secondhand to buy something which someone else has owned before ○ We bought this car secondhand.

③ second-in-command /,sekənd in 'kɔ:mand/ noun the chief officer who is under a commanding officer. Abbr 2iC second language /,sekənd 'læŋgwɪdʒ/ noun a language which you know but which is not the language you learned when you first started to speak

③ secondly /'sekəndli/ adv as the second item on a list. Compare firstly, thirdly secondment /sɪ'kɒndmənt/ noun the fact of being seconded to another job second nature /,sekənd 'nærɪʃə/ noun something which has been learned, but which is done so often that it has become an instinctive reaction second opinion /,sekənd ə'pinjən/ noun □ to ask for a second opinion to ask another doctor or specialist to examine you and give his or her opinion on your medical condition, usually because you are not satisfied with the advice of the first doctor ○ I wasn't convinced I needed the operation, so I asked for a second opinion.

second-rate /'sekənd 'reɪt/ adj not of very good quality. Compare first-rate, third-rate

③ seconds /'sekəndz/ plural noun 1. another helping of the same dish ○ Can I have seconds, please? 2. items which have been turned down as not being of top quality ○ The shop has a sale of seconds. ○ We bought our dinner plates as seconds.

second sight /'sekənd 'saɪt/ noun the ability to tell what will happen in the future

second thoughts /'sekənd 'θɔ:t̩z/ plural noun □ to have second thoughts about something to change your mind about something ○ Is she having second thoughts about getting married? □ on second thoughts having thought about it again ○ I said I didn't want any pudding, but on second thoughts, perhaps I will have some.

Second World War /'sekənd wɜ:ld 'wɔ:/: noun a war fought from 1939 to 1945 in Europe, Africa and Asia secrecy /'si:kre:sɪ/ noun the fact of being secret or keeping something secret

③ secret /'si:kret/ adj hidden, not known by other people ○ There is a secret door into the cellar. □ to keep something secret to make sure that no one knows about something ○ She kept his birth secret for twenty years. ■ noun 1. a thing which is not known or which is kept hidden ○ If I tell you a secret will you promise not to repeat it to anyone? □ are they in on the secret? do they know the secret? □ to keep a secret not to tell someone something which you know and no one else does ○ Can you keep a secret? 2. □ in secret without anyone knowing ○ They met in secret by the lake in the park. □ they make no secret of where the money came from everyone knows where the money came from □ what's the secret of something? how do you do something successfully? ○ What's the secret of making mayonnaise?

secret agent /'si:kret 'eɪdʒənt/ noun a spy

secretarial /'sekri:tərɪəl/ adj referring to the work of a secretary secretariat /'sekri:tərɪət/ noun an office with the job of running an organisation or government department, and the officials who work in it

① secretary /'sekretərɪ/ noun 1. a person who does work such as writing letters, answering the phone and filing documents for someone 2. an official who keeps the minutes and official documents of a committee or club ○ He was elected secretary of the committee or committee secretary. 3. a Secretary of State, a member of the government in charge of a department □ the Secretary for Education, the Education Secretary the head of the Department for Education and Skills

Secretary General /'sekritərɪ 'dʒenərəl/ noun the chief administrative officer of an international organisation (NOTE: The plural is Secretaries General.)

Secretary of State /'sekritərɪ əv 'steɪt/ noun 1. a member of the government in charge of a department 2. US a senior member of the government in charge of foreign affairs (NOTE: The British term is Foreign Secretary.)

secret ballot /'si:kret 'bælət/ noun an election where the voters vote in secret secrete /'si:kri:t/ verb 1. to produce a liquid substance such as an oil or a hormone ○ The gland secretes hormones. 2. to hide something ○ They found packets of drugs secreted under the floor of the car.

secretion /'si:kri:ʃn/ noun 1. the process by which something is produced by a gland ○ This gland stimulates the secretion of hormones. 2. a substance produced by a gland ○ Penguins use a secretion from glands near their tails to make their feathers waterproof.

secretive /'si:kretɪv/ adj liking to keep things secret

③ secretly /'si:kretli/ adv without anyone knowing. Antonym openly secret police /'si:kret pə'li:s/ noun a part of a police force which spies on members of the public secret service /'si:kret 'sɜ:vɪs/ noun a government department which spies on other countries sect /'sekt/ noun a religious group sectarian /'sek'teəriən/ adj referring to conflicts between religious groups sectarianism /'sek'teəriənɪz(ə)m/ noun the existence of religious groups which are violently opposed to each other ① section /'sekʃən/ noun 1. a part of something which, when joined to other parts, goes to make up a whole ○ the brass section of the orchestra ○ the financial section of the newspaper ○ He works in a completely different section of the organisation. 2. the act of cutting tissue in a surgical operation. ♦ caesarean 3. a diagram showing the inside of something as if cut open ○ The drawing shows a section through the main part of the engine. ♦ cross-section 4. a part of a legal document or Act of Parliament ○ We qualify for a grant under Section 23.

sectional /'sekʃənəl/ adj 1. built in sections ○ They used sectional building techniques to put up the block of flats quickly. 2. referring to the interests of certain groups of people ○ A pressure group inevitably puts forward a sectional point of view.

① sector /'sektə/ noun 1. a part of the economy or of the business organisation of a country ○ All sectors of industry suffered from the rise in the exchange rate. ○ Computer technology is a booming sector of the economy. 2. a part of a circle between two lines drawn from the centre to the outside edge ○ The circle had been divided into five sectors.

secular /'sekjʊələ/ adj not religious, not connected with religion. Antonym spiritual

② secure /sɪ'kjʊəl/ adj 1. safe against something such as attack or robbers ○ You need to keep your jewels secure against theft. ○ He made all the doors secure by fitting bolts to them. 2. firmly fixed ○ Don't step on that plank, it's not secure. □ to be in a secure job to have a job which you are sure to keep for a long time □ verb 1. to make something safe or attach something or someone firmly ○ Secure all the doors before the storm comes. ○ She secured herself to the rock with a strong rope. 2. to be successful in getting something important ○ He secured the backing of a big bank. 3. to get money by promising to give property or goods if you cannot pay back the money ○ to secure a loan securely /sɪ'kjʊəli/ adv in a secure way. Synonym firmly

③ securities /sɪ'kjʊəritɪz/ plural noun 1. investments in stocks and shares 2. certificates to show that someone owns stocks or shares

① security /sɪ'kjʊərɪti/ noun 1. safety, protection against criminals ○ There were worries about security during the prince's visit. ○ Security in this office is nil. ○ Security guards patrol the factory at night. 2. a thing given to someone who has lent you money and which is returned when the loan is repaid ○ He uses his house as security for a loan. ○ The bank lent him £20,000 without security. □ to stand security for someone to guarantee that if someone does not repay a loan, you will repay it for him or her security check /sɪ'kjʊərɪti tʃek/ noun a check to see that no one is carrying something dangerous or illegal such as a bomb

Security Council /sɪ'kjʊərɪti 'kaʊnsəl/ noun the 15-member ruling body of the United Nations, of which five permanent members have the power of veto security service /sɪ,kjʊərəti 'sɜ:vɪs/ noun a government service which looks after the security of the country

sedan /sɪ'dæn/ noun US a two- or four-door car with seating for four or five people (NOTE: The British term is saloon.)

sedate /sɪ'deɪt/ adj calm, solemn and dignified ○ They live in a sedate suburb. ○ The procession moved at a sedate pace through the town. □ verb to give someone a drug to make them calm or go to sleep ○ The patient became violent and had to be sedated.

sedately /sɪ'deɪtlɪ/ adv in a calm or serious way sedation /sɪ'deɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the act of calming a patient with a drug □ under sedation having been given a sedative ○ He was still under sedation and could not be seen by the police.

sedative /'sedətɪv/ noun a drug which acts on the nervous system to help a patient sleep or to relieve stress ○ I was prescribed sedatives by my doctor. Synonym tranquilliser □ adj which makes you calm or which makes you go to sleep ○ This herbal tea has a sedative effect.

sedentary /'sed(ə)nt(ə)rɪ/ adj which involves sitting down □ a sedentary occupation a job where you have to sit down most of the time ○ Keyboarding is a very sedentary occupation.

sediment /'sedɪmənt/ noun solid particles which fall to the bottom of a liquid sedition /sɪ'dɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the crime of doing acts, or speaking or publishing words, which bring the royal family or the government into contempt and which encourage civil disorder seditious /sɪ'dɪʃəs/ adj which encourages sedition. Synonym rebellious. Antonym loyal seduce /sɪ'dju:s/ verb 1. to persuade someone to have sex ○ She was seduced by her history teacher. 2. to persuade someone to do something which is perhaps wrong ○ He was seduced by the idea of earning a vast salary.

seduction /sɪ'dʌkʃən/ noun 1. the act of seducing someone ○ his seduction of the young girl 2. an attractive possibility ○ He was attracted by the seductions of life in the South of France. (NOTE: usually plural)

seductive /sɪ'dʌktɪv/ adj 1. sexually appealing 2. attractive

① see /sɪ:/ verb 1. to use your eyes to notice something ○ Can you see that tree in the distance? ○ They say eating carrots helps you to see in the dark. ○ We ran because we could see the bus coming. ○ I have never seen a badger before. 2. to watch a something such as a film ○ I don't want to go to the cinema this week, I've seen that film twice already. ○ We saw the football match on TV. 3. to go with someone to a place ○ I'll see her home. ○ My assistant will see you out. 4. to understand something ○ I can't see why they need to borrow so much money. ○ You must see that it's very important for everything to be ready on time. ○ Don't you see that they're trying to trick you? ○ I see – you want me to lend you some money. 5. to check to make sure that something happens ○ The baby-sitter will see that the children are in bed by nine o'clock. ○ Can you see if a cheque has arrived in the post? 6. to meet someone ○ We see her quite often. ○ She doesn't see much of him. ○ See you next week! ○ See you again soon! 7. to visit someone, e.g. a lawyer or doctor ○ If you have toothache you should see a dentist. ○ He went to see his bank manager to arrange a mortgage. 8. used to show a possibility ○ Will you be able to take a holiday this year? – We'll see! (NOTE: sees – seeing – saw /sɔ:/ – has seen /sɪ:n/) ■ noun an administrative area run by a bishop □ he was appointed to the see of Durham he was made Bishop of Durham □ the Holy See the Vatican, the office of the Pope

① seed /sɪ:d/ noun 1. a part of a plant which is formed after the flowers die and from which a new plant will grow ○ a packet of parsley seed ○ Sow the seeds in fine earth. ○ Can you eat pumpkin seeds? 2. □ to go to seed (of a plant) to become tall and produce flowers and seeds ○ The lettuces have gone to seed. □ he's gone to seed he doesn't look after himself properly, he doesn't look as well as he did before (informal) 3. (in tennis) a player selected as one of the best players in a tournament ○ She's the top women's seed. ○ The number one seed was beaten by an unseeded player. ■ verb 1. □ to seed itself (of a plant) to produce seed which falls onto the ground and grows ○ Primroses have seeded themselves all along the side of the motorway. 2. to choose the seeds in a tennis competition ○ He was seeded No. 5 or fifth. (NOTE: Do not confuse with cede.)

seedless /'sɪ:dləs/ adj (of fruit) with no seeds in it seedling /'sɪ:dlɪŋ/ noun a very young plant growing from a seed seedy /'sɪ:di/ adj 1. poor and dirty ○ The tour included three nights in a rather seedy hotel. 2. unwell (dated informal) ○ She won't be coming to work today as she's feeling rather seedy. (NOTE: seedier – seediest) see in /,sɪ: 'ɪn/ verb 1. to have a midnight party to celebrate something ○ We stayed up late to see the New Year in. 2. □ to see something in someone to be attracted by someone ○ I can't understand what she sees in him.

③ seeing /'sɪ:in/ noun the action of sensing with the eyes ○ Seeing is believing. ■ conj □ seeing that since ○ Seeing that everyone's here, let's begin?

① seek /sɪ:k/ verb 1. to look for someone or something ○ The police are seeking a group of teenagers who were in the area when the attack took place. □ to seek refuge to try to find shelter ○ During the fighting, they sought refuge in the British embassy. 2. to ask for something ○ They are seeking damages from the driver of the car. ○ She sought an interview with the minister. (NOTE: seeking – sought /sɔ:t/ – has sought) seeker /'sɪ:kə/ noun a person who looks for, asks for or is trying to get a particular thing ○ an attention seeker

① seem /sɪ:m/ verb to give the appearance of being ○ She seems to like it. or It seems that she likes her new job. ○ Everyone seemed to be having a good time at the party. ○ The new boss seems very nice. ○ It seems to me that the parcel has gone to the wrong house. ○ It seemed strange to us that no one answered the phone. Synonym appear (NOTE: Do not confuse with seam.)

seemingly /'sɪ:mɪŋli/ adv apparently seemly /'sɪ:mli/ adj decent or correct (formal). Synonym appropriate. Antonym unseemly

③ seen /sɪ:n/ □ see

see off /,sɪ: 'ɒf/ verb to go to the airport or station with someone who is leaving on a journey seep /sɪ:p/ verb (of a liquid) to flow slowly through a substance or out of a container seepage /'sɪ:pɪdʒ/ noun 1. the act of seeping 2. an amount of liquid which has seeped. Synonym leakage seer /sɪə/ noun a person who can see into the future (archaic) seesaw /'sɪ:sɔ:/ noun a plank with seats at each end, balanced in the middle, so that when one end goes down the other goes up ○ The seesaw won't work properly because you're heavier than me. ■ verb to go first one way then the other ○ The opinion polls seesawed between the two parties. Synonym alternate. Antonym stabilise seethe /sɪ:ð/ verb 1. to be very angry 2. to move about like boiling water seething /'sɪ:ðɪŋ/ adj 1. very angry ○ He was seething when he heard the news. 2. rapidly moving about like boiling water ○ He showed her the seething mass of worms in his bucket.

③ see through /,sɪ: 'θru:/ verb 1. to see from one side of something to the other ○ I can't see through the windscreen – it's so dirty. 2. to understand everything, not to be tricked by something ○ We quickly saw through their plan.

see-through /'sɪ: 'θru:/ adj which you can see through ○ see-through material see to /'sɪ: tu:/ verb to arrange something or make sure that something is done. Synonym deal with segment /'segmənt/ noun 1. a part of something, especially something which divides naturally into different parts ○ grapefruit segments ○ 30–40-year-olds are the most affluent segment of the population. 2. a part of a circle or sphere when a line is drawn across it segregate /'segrɪgeɪt/ verb to separate people into groups. Antonym integrate segregated /'segrɪgeɪtɪd/ adj separated into groups □ segregated schools schools which only take children of a certain religion or skin colour segregation /,segri'geɪʃ(ə)n/ noun a separation into different groups. Antonym integration seismic /'saɪzmɪk/ adj referring to earthquakes seismic shock /'saɪzmɪk ſɒk/, seismic wave /'saɪzmɪk weɪv/ noun a shock wave which spreads out from the centre of an earthquake

③ seize /sɪ:z/ verb 1. to grab something and hold it tight ○ She seized the bag of sweets in both hands and would not let go. □ to seize the opportunity to take advantage of the situation to do something ○ When the President's car slowed down, the man seized the opportunity and threw a grenade. 2. to take possession of something by force ○ The customs seized the shipment of books.

seize on /'sɪ:z ɒn/, seize upon /'sɪ:z ə,pn/ verb to take and use something seize up /,sɪ:z 'ʌp/ verb to stop working properly seizure /'sɪ:ʒə/ noun 1. the act of taking possession of something ○ The court ordered the seizure of the shipment of books. 2. a sudden contraction of the muscles, especially in a heart attack or an epileptic fit ○ A member of the audience has had a seizure. ○ She has epileptic seizures.

④ seldom /'seldəm/ adv not often. Antonym often (NOTE: The word order when seldom is at the beginning of a phrase is: you seldom hear or seldom do you hear.)

⑤ select /'slekt/ verb to choose something or someone carefully ○ She looked carefully at the shelves before selecting a book. ○ He was selected for the England squad. ○ Selected items are reduced by 25%. ■ adj 1. carefully chosen ○ a select group of players who have scored more than 100 goals in international football 2. available to only a few rich people ○ She went to a very select school in Switzerland. ○ They live in a very select area.

⑥ selection /'sɪ:lekʃən/ noun 1. a range ○ There is a huge selection of hats to choose from. 2. a thing which has or things which have been chosen ○ a selection of our product line ○ a selection of French cheeses 3.

the process of choosing something ○ the selection procedure

selection board /sɪ'lekʃən bɔ:d/, selection committee /sɪ'lekʃən kə,mi:tɪ/ noun a committee which chooses a candidate for a job

⑦ selective /sɪ'lektɪv/ adj choosing carefully between different possibilities

selector /sɪ'lektə/ noun a person who chooses people to play in a national team

⑧ self /self/ noun your own person or character ○ She was ill for some time, but now she's her old self again. ○ She's not her usual happy self today – I think she's got something on her mind. (NOTE: The plural is selves.)

⑨ self- /self/ prefix referring to yourself self-addressed envelope /'selfə'dreſt 'envələup/ noun an envelope with your own address on it. Abbr s.a.e.

self-adhesive /,self əd'hi:zɪv/ adj covered with a special glue which allows it to be stuck to a surface without being moistened self-assessment /self ə'sesmənt/ noun 1. the practice of assessing for yourself how well you have done something such as your work 2. calculating for yourself what you owe in tax self-assured /self ə'sʃʊ:d/ adj confident and sure of yourself self-awareness /self ə'weənəs/ noun the fact of having a clear and accurate knowledge of your own character self-catering /self 'keɪt(ə)rɪŋ/ noun the practice of doing the cooking for yourself self-centred /self 'sentəd/ adj thinking only about yourself and your own concerns. Synonym selfish. Antonym selfless (NOTE: The US spelling is self-centered.)

self-confessed /self kən'fesɪd/ adj who admits to being something self-confidence /self 'kɒnfɪdəns/ noun the fact of being self-confident self-confident /self 'kɒnfɪdənt/ adj sure that you are able to do something, sure that what you are doing is well done, etc. Antonym self-conscious self-conscious /self 'kɒnʃəns/ adj embarrassed because you feel you have certain faults. Antonym self-confident self-contained /,self kən'teind/ adj (of a flat or an office) which has its own entrance and kitchen, toilets, etc., and does not share any facilities with others self-control /,self kən'trəul/ noun the fact of keeping your feelings under control self-defence /,self dɪ'fens/ noun the act of defending yourself (NOTE: The US spelling is self-defense.)

self-destruct /,self dɪ'strʌkt/ verb to destroy itself self-destructive /self 'dɪ'stræktɪv/ adj doing things which are likely to cause yourself harm self-determination /'self dɪtɜ:mɪ'neɪʃ(ə)n/ noun a free choice by the people of a country as to how they should be governed. Synonym autonomy self-discipline /self 'dɪsə,plɪn/ noun the ability to control your behaviour and do what you should do self-effacing /self ɪ'fɛsɪŋ/ adj modest about your own achievements or good qualities self-employed /,self ɪm'plɔɪd/ adj working for yourself, not employed by a company ○ a self-employed accountant ○ He worked for a bank for ten years but now is self-employed. Synonym freelance. Antonym employed ■ plural noun □ the self-employed people who work for themselves

③ self-esteem /,self ɪ'stɪ:m/ noun a good opinion of yourself and your ability. Synonym self-respect self-evident /self 'evid(ə)nt/ adj obvious. Antonym unclear self-explanatory /,self ɪk'splænət(ə)ri/ adj which explains itself easily self-governing /self 'gʌvənɪŋ/ adj which governs itself. Synonym autonomous self-government /self 'gʌv(ə)nɪmənt/ noun the control of a country by its own government, free from foreign influence. Synonym autonomy self-help /self 'help/ noun the fact of using your own efforts to help yourself, without relying on other people or the government self-important /self ɪm'pɔ:t(ə)nt/ adj behaving as if you believe you are very important self-imposed /,self ɪm'pəʊzd/ adj chosen for yourself self-indulgent /self ɪn'dʌldʒ(ə)nt/ adj allowing yourself to do what you feel like without self-control self-inflicted /self ɪn'flɪktɪd/ adj caused by yourself self-interest /self 'intrəst/ noun working for your own benefit. Synonym selfishness

③ selfish /'selfɪʃ/ adj doing things only for yourself and not for other people. Synonym self-centred. Antonym selfless selfishly /'selfɪʃli/ adv done only for yourself selfishness /'selfɪʃnəs/ noun the fact of being selfish selfless /'selfləs/ adj not thinking of yourself, only of others. Synonym unselfish. Antonym selfish self-made /self meɪd/ adj rich and successful because of your own work, not because you inherited money or position self-pity /self 'pɪti/ noun pity for yourself self-portrait /self 'pɔ:tret/ noun a painting of the artist done by himself or herself self-preservation /self ,prezə'veɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the wish to protect yourself from harm self-reliance /,self rɪ'laiəns/ noun the fact of being self-reliant. Synonym independence. Antonym dependence self-reliant /,self rɪ'laiənt/ adj relying only on yourself to make decisions. Synonym independent. Antonym dependent self-respect /,self rɪ'spekt/ noun pride in yourself. Synonym self-esteem self-respecting /,self rɪ'spektɪŋ/ adj proud of yourself (humorous) ○ No self-respecting gardener would be pleased with such a brown lawn.

self-righteous /self 'raɪtʃəs/ adj feeling sure that you are doing what is right. Synonym sanctimonious self-rule /self ru:l/ noun the right of a country or a state to govern itself self-sacrifice /self 'sækrifəs/ noun the act of giving something up so that others can benefit self-satisfied /self 'sætɪsfɪd/ adj feeling very pleased with yourself or with your actions self-service /,self 'sɜ:vi:s/ adj (of a shop or restaurant) in which you take things yourself before paying for them, rather than being served by an assistant self-styled /,self 'staɪld/ adj with a title which you have given yourself self-sufficiency /,self sə'fɪʃ(ə)nsi/ noun the fact of being self-sufficient. Synonym independence. Antonym dependence self-sufficient /,self sə'fɪʃ(ə)nt/ adj able to provide everything for yourself. Synonym independent. Antonym dependent self-taught /self 'tɔ:t/ adj who has taught himself or herself a skill

① sell /sel/ verb 1. to give something to someone for money ○ He sold his house to my father. ○ We managed to sell the car for £500. ○ The shop sells vegetables but not meat. 2. to be sold ○ Those packs sell for £25 a dozen. ○ Her latest book is selling very well. (NOTE: selling – sold /səuld/) ■ noun the act of selling something □ to give a product the hard sell to make great efforts to persuade customers to buy a product □ to give a product the soft sell to persuade people to buy something, by encouraging and not forcing them to do so sell-by date /'sel拜 deɪt/ noun the date on a packet of food, which is the last date on which the food can be sold while it is guaranteed to be good seller /'selə/ noun 1. a person who sells something ○ There were a few postcard sellers

ers by the cathedral. 2. an item which sells ○ This book is a steady seller.

seller's market /'seləz 'ma:kɪt/ noun a situation where a person selling goods or a service can ask high prices because there is a large demand for the product. Compare buyer's market selling /'selɪŋ/ noun the action of selling something to someone ○ Selling secondhand cars is not an easy business these days. ■ suffix □ fast-selling items items which sell quickly. ♦ bestselling selling price /'selɪŋ praɪs/ noun a price at which someone is willing to sell something sell off /,sel 'ɒf/ verb to sell goods quickly and cheaply to get rid of them ○ At the end of the day the market traders sell off their fruit and vegetables very cheaply.

sell-off /'selɒf/ noun the act of selling something to private buyers

Sellotape /'seləuteɪp/ trademark a type of sticky tape ○ She put the books in a box and sealed it with Sellotape.

① sell out /,sel 'aʊt/ verb 1. to sell your business ○ He sold out to his partner and retired to the seaside. 2. to sell all the stock of an item ○ This item has sold out. ○ Have you got it in a size 12? – No, I'm afraid we're sold out. 3. to give in to a group of influential people ○ The environmental group has accused the government of selling out to the oil companies. ♦ sell out of sellout /'seləut/ noun 1. a betrayal of all your principles ○ They said his change of policy was a sellout to the forces of the right. ○ It's a sellout – the council should have stood up for our rights. 2. a performance of a play, film or concert for which all the tickets have been sold ○ The new musical is a sellout.

sell out of /,sel 'aʊt ov/ verb □ to sell out of an item to sell all the stock of an item ○ The shop has sold out of bread. ○ Have you got it in a size 12? – No, I'm afraid we've sold out of all the small sizes.

sell up /,sel 'ʌp/ verb to sell a business and all the stock semantic /sə'mæntɪk/ adj referring to the meanings of words and phrases semantics noun /sɪ'mæntɪks/ the study of the meanings of words and phrases ■ plural noun the practice of arguing about or raising objections to the meaning of something ○ His objections to the wording of the contract are pure semantics.

semblance /'sembləns/ noun an appearance semen /'si:mən/ noun a thick pale fluid containing spermatozoa, produced by the testes and ejaculated from the penis (NOTE: Do not confuse with seaman.)

semester /sɪ'mestə/ noun a term in a school or college year which only has two terms semi /'semi/ noun same as semi-detached semi- /'semi/ prefix partly semibreve /'semibri:v/ noun a musical note equivalent in length to two minimus semicircle /'semi,sɜ:k(ə)l/ noun half a circle semicircular /,semi'sɜ:kjʊlə/ adj shaped like half a circle

semicolon /,semi'kɔ:lən/ noun a punctuation mark (;) used to separate two parts of a sentence and also used to show a pause semiconductor /,semikən'da:kτə/ noun a material such as silicon which has conductive properties between those of a conductor such as a metal and those of an insulator semi-conscious /'semi'kɒnʃəs/ adj not fully conscious semi-detached /,semi dɪ'tæ:tɪt/ noun a semi-detached house

③ semi-final /,semi 'fain(ə)l/ noun one of the last two matches in a competition, the winners of which go into the final game seminal /'seminal/ adj 1. which acts as the starting point for something new ○ His book was a seminal work for future developments in the field of nuclear physics. 2. referring to semen ○ seminal fluid seminar /'seminər/ noun the meeting of a small group of university students to discuss a subject with a teacher seminary /'semɪnəri/ noun a college where people train to become priests semiquaver /'semikweɪvə/ noun a musical note lasting half as long as a quaver semitone /'semitən/ noun the smallest interval between notes in music, the interval between two keys on a piano senate /'senət/ noun 1. the upper house of the legislative body in some countries ○ She was first elected to the Senate in 2001. 2. a body which rules a university ○ Does Senate concern itself solely with administrative matters?

senator /'senətə/ noun a member of a senate (NOTE: written with a capital letter when used as a title: Senator Jackson)

① send /'send/ verb 1. to make someone or something go from one place to another ○ My mother sent me to the baker's to buy some bread. ○ I was sent home from school because I had a headache. ○ He sent the ball into the net. ○ The firm is sending him out to Australia for six months. 2. to use the postal services ○ The office sends 200 Christmas cards every year. ○ Send me a postcard when you get to Russia. ○ Send the letter airmail if you want it to arrive next week. ○ Send your donations to the following address. 3. to make someone act or feel in a certain way □ to send someone crazy, round the bend or up the wall to make someone extremely annoyed ○ The noise of the pneumatic drills outside the office is sending me up the wall.

send away for /,send ə'wei fɔ:/ verb to write and ask someone to send you something, usually something which you have seen in an advertisement send back /,send 'bæk/ verb to return something by post sender /'sendə/ noun a person who sends something, especially a letter ○ The letter was returned to the sender. □ 'return to sender' words on an envelope or parcel to show that it is to be sent back to the person who sent it send for /'send fɔ:/ verb to ask someone to come send in /,send 'in/ verb to send a letter to an organisation send off /,send 'ɒf/ verb 1. (in games) to tell someone to go off the field ○ The referee sent both players off. 2. to post something ○ He sent the postcard off without a stamp.

send-off /'send ɒf/ noun a party where you say goodbye to someone who is leaving on a long journey (informal) send off for /,send 'ɒf fɔ:/ same as send away for

send up /,send 'ʌp/ verb 1. to make something go up ○ They sent up an emergency flare. ○ The cold weather has sent up the price of vegetables. 2. to make jokes about someone (informal) ○ In one of his TV sketches, he sends up the Foreign Minister.

senile /'sɪnɪəl/ adj referring to someone whose is forgetful and confused because of old age senility /sə'nɪlti/ noun the medical condition of being senile

② senior /'sɪniə/ adj 1. older ○ the senior members of the tribe 2. more important, e.g. in rank ○ A sergeant is senior to a corporal. ○ My senior colleagues do not agree with me. ■ noun 1. an older person ○ He must be at least ten years your senior. 2. US a student in his or her fourth year or last year at school or college 3. the father in a family where the son has the same name ○ Harry Markovitz Senior senior citizen /,sɪniə 'sɪtɪz(ə)n/ noun an old person who does not work. Synonym pensioner seniority /,sɪni'ɒrɪti/ noun 1. the fact of being older or more important □ the professors were listed in order of seniority the professor who had been in the department the longest was put at the top of the list 2. the fact of being a member of a group longer than someone else ○ He has several years' seniority over me as a member of the club.

seniors /'sɪniəz/ plural noun the older children in a school senior school /'sɪniə sku:l/ noun same as secondary school (informal)

③ sensation /sen'seɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. a general feeling ○ I felt a curious sensation as if I had been in the room before. 2. a physical feeling ○ She had a burning sensation in her arm. 3. a thing or person that causes great excitement ○ The new ballet was the sensation of the season.

sensational /sen'seɪʃ(ə)nɒl/ adj 1. which causes great excitement ○ His sensational discovery shocked the world of archaeology. 2. very good ○ A sensational new film – don't miss it! ○ You look sensational in that outfit.

sensationalism /sen'seɪʃ(ə)nəlɪz(ə)m/ noun the practice of making things seem especially exciting or shocking, e.g. in newspaper reporting

① sense /sens/ noun 1. one of the five ways in which you notice something (sight, hearing, smell, taste, touch) ○ He may be 93, but he still has all his senses. ○ His senses had been dulled by the drugs he was taking. ○ Dogs have a good sense of smell. 2. a general feeling about something ○ She had a sense of being cut off from reality. ○ The police seemed to have no sense of urgency. 3. a meaning ○ He was using 'bear' in the sense of 'to carry'. 4. the fact of being sensible ○ At least someone showed some sense and tried to calm the situation. ○ She didn't have the sense to refuse. ○ I thought Patrick would have had more sense than that. □ to have more money than sense to have too much money and not know how to spend it wisely (informal) ○ Did you see what she bought? – She's got more money than sense! 5. □ in one sense, in a sense up to a point, partly ○ In a sense, he was right. □ in no sense in no way, not at all ○ She's in no sense to blame for what happened. ■ verb to be aware of or feel something ○ I could sense the feeling of hostility in the room.

senseless /'sensləs/ adj 1. stupid ○ a senseless attack on a little old lady ○ It's senseless to buy clothes you don't need, just because they are in the sales. 2. unconscious ○ He lay senseless on the ground.

③ sense of humour /,sens əv 'hju:mə/ noun an ability to find things funny and not be too serious senses /'sensɪz/ plural noun rational behaviour □ to take leave of your senses to go mad, to do something very strange ○ Has she taken leave of her senses? □ to come to your senses to become rational again ○ In the end he came to his senses and wrote a letter of apology.

sensibility /,sensɪ'bɪlɪtɪ/ noun the ability to respond to experiences with emotion (formal)

③ sensible /'sensib(ə)l/ adj 1. showing good judgement and wisdom ○ Staying indoors was the sensible thing to do. ○ Try and be sensible for once! 2. (of shoes) strong and comfortable for walking, rather than fashionable sensibly /'sensiblɪ/ adv in a sensible way sensitise /'sensɪtaɪz/, sensitize verb to make something sensitive to something such as light

③ sensitive /'sensɪtɪv/ adj 1. with keen feelings, easily upset ○ She's a very sensitive young woman. ○ Some actors are extremely sensitive to criticism. 2. controversial, which may provoke an argument ○ Human rights is a very sensitive issue at the moment. 3. which measures very accurately ○ a very sensitive light meter ○ We need a more sensitive thermometer. 4. which reacts to something ○ If you have very sensitive skin use plenty of suntan cream. ○ Flowers are sensitive to fluctuations in temperature and humidity.

④ sensitivity /,sensi'trɪtɪ/ noun sensitive feelings. Antonym indifference sensor /'sensər/ noun an electronic device that reacts to something such as heat, light or smoke sensory /'sensərɪ/ adj referring to the senses sensual /'sensjuəl/ adj referring to pleasures of the body, not of the mind sensuous /'sensjuəs/ adj which gives pleasure to the senses. Antonym ascetic

④ sent /sent/; ④ send

① sentence /'sentəns/ noun 1. words put together to make a complete statement, usually ending in full stop ○ I don't understand the second sentence in your letter. ○ Begin each sentence with a capital letter. 2. a judgement of a court ○ He was given a six-month prison sentence. ○ The judge passed sentence on the accused. Antonym acquittal ■ verb to give someone an official legal punishment ○ She was sentenced to three weeks in prison. ○ He was sentenced to death for murder. Antonym acquit sentiment /'sentɪmənt/ noun a general feeling ○ The government had to take public sentiment into account.

③ sentimental /,sentɪ'ment(ə)l/ adj showing emotions of love or pity, not reason □ to be of sentimental value to be valuable because of the memories attached to it, not because of its actual money value ○ The stolen watch was of great sentimental value.

sentimentality /,sentɪmən'tælɪtɪ/ noun

1. the fact of indulging in your emotions 2. playing on the emotions in literature or music sentimentally /sentɪ'ment(ə)li/ adv in a sentimental way; using your feelings not your reason sentiments /'sentɪmənts/ plural noun opinions sentry /'sentrɪ/, sentinel /'sentɪn(ə)l/ noun a soldier on duty, e.g. at a gate. Synonym guard (NOTE: The plural is sentries.)

sepal /'sep(ə)l/ noun a part of a plant like a green leaf under the petals of a flower separable /'sep(ə)rəb(ə)l/ adj able to be separated

② separate adj /'sep(ə)rət/ not together or attached ○ They are in separate rooms. ○ The house has one bathroom with a separate toilet. ○ The dogs were kept separate from the other pets. ○ Can you give us two separate invoices? □ to send something under separate cover to send something in a different envelope or parcel ■ verb /'sepəreɪt/ 1. to divide people or things ○ The personnel are separated into part-timers and full-time staff. ○ The teacher separated the class into two groups. 2. to keep people or things apart ○ The police tried to separate the two gangs. ○ Is it possible to separate religion and politics? 3. to break away from a partner and become independent ○ They are arguing all the time – it wouldn't surprise me if they were to separate. ○ The Baltic states separated from Russia.

separated /'sepəreɪtɪd/ adj not living together any more

② separately /'sep(ə)rətlɪ/ adv in a separate way, individually separates /'sep(ə)rəts/ plural noun pieces of women's clothing, such as skirts, blouses or jumpers, which can be worn in different combinations separation /,sepa'reɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. the act of dividing people or things ○ He favours the separation of the students into smaller groups. ○ The separation of the house into two flats will require planning permission. 2. the fact of living apart ○ A six-month separation of mother and child may have long-term effects. ○ After my parents' separation I lived with my father.

separatism /'sep(ə)rətrɪz(ə)m/ noun a belief that part of a country should become separate and independent from the rest separatist /'sep(ə)rətɪst/ adj referring to separatism ○ The separatist movement is gaining in popularity. ■ noun a person who believes that part of the country should become separate and independent ○ Basque separatists met the Spanish Prime Minister today.

Sept. abbr September

① September /sep'tembə/ noun the ninth month of the year, between August and October ○ September 3 o The weather is usually good in September. o Her birthday is in September. o Today is September 3rd. o We always try to take a short holiday in September. (NOTE: September 3rd or September 3: say 'September the third' or 'the third of September' or in US English 'September third'.)

septic /'septɪk/ adj (of a part of a body or a wound) infected with bacteria sepulchre /'seplʊkə/ noun a building containing a tomb or grave (NOTE: The US spelling is sepulcher.)

sequel /'si:kwəl/ noun 1. the continuation of something, such as a story or a play ○ The sequel will be screened tomorrow night. 2. a result, something which follows ○ The sequel to the discovery was that the driver of the truck was arrested.

② sequence /'si:kwəns/ noun 1. a series of things which happen or follow one after the other ○ The sequence of events which led to the accident. 2. □ in sequence in order of numbers ○ Make sure that the invoices are all in sequence according to their numbers. 3. a scene in a film ○ They showed some sequences from her latest film.

sequin /'si:kwɪn/ noun a small round shiny metal ornament, sewn onto clothes serenade /'sərə'neɪd/ noun a love song ○ He sang a serenade. ■ verb to sing a love song to someone ○ He serenaded her from the street below her window.

serene /sə'rɪən/ adj calm, not worried serenely /sə'rɪənlɪ/ adv calmly serenity /sə'renɪtɪ/ noun the fact of being calm

③ sergeant /'sə:dʒənt/ noun a non-commissioned officer in the army or the police, the rank above a corporal (NOTE: also used as a title before a surname: Sergeant Jones)

sergeant major /'sə:dʒənt 'meɪdʒə/ noun a non-commissioned officer of middle rank in the army and some other armed forces serial /'sɪəriəl/ adj in a series ○ Place the cards in serial order. Antonym random ■ noun a radio or TV play which is presented in several parts ○ an Australian police serial (NOTE: Do not confuse with cereal.)

serialise /'sɪəriəlaɪz/, serialize verb to make something such as a book into a serial serial killer /'sɪəriəl 'kɪlə/, serial murderer /'sɪəriəl 'mɜ:dərə/ noun a person who has committed several murders, one after the other serial number /'sɪəriəl ,nʌmbə/ noun a number that is given to something such as a piece of equipment or a bank note so that it can be identified

① series /'sɪəri:z/ noun 1. a group of things which come one after the other in order ○ We had a series of phone calls from the bank. 2. TV or radio programmes which are broadcast at the same time each week ○ There's a new wildlife series starting this week. (NOTE: The plural is series.)

① serious /'sɪəriəs/ adj 1. not funny; not joking ○ a very serious play ○ He's such a serious little boy. o Stop laughing – it's very serious. o He's very serious about the proposal. o The doctor's expression was very serious. 2. important and possibly dangerous ○ There was a serious accident on the motorway. o The storm caused serious damage. o There's no need to worry – it's nothing serious. 3. carefully planned ○ The management is making serious attempts to improve working conditions.

① seriously /'sɪəriəsli/ adv 1. in a serious way ○ She should laugh more – she mustn't always take things so seriously. 2. badly ○ The cargo was seriously damaged by water. o Her mother is seriously ill. 3. with a lot of thought ○ They seriously considered emigrating. o We are taking the threat from our competitors very seriously.

seriousness /'sɪ:riəsnes/ noun the fact of being serious

sermon /'sɜ:mən/ noun 1. a talk given by a priest in church ○ He gave a sermon about the need to love your neighbours. 2. a serious talk giving someone advice (informal) ○ We all have to listen to the head teacher's annual sermon about drugs.

serotonin /,sɪərə'təʊnɪn/ noun a chemical in your body which affects your moods and the sending of messages through your nerves serpent /'sɜ:pənt/ noun a snake (literary or dated) serrated /sə'reɪtɪd/ adj with V-shaped teeth along the edge. Synonym jagged

② servant /'sɜ:vənt/ noun a person who is paid to work for a family ○ They employ two servants in their London home. o Get it yourself – I'm not your servant!

① serve /sɜ:v/ verb 1. to give food or drink to someone ○ She served the soup in small bowls. o It's a buffet lunch – take a plate and serve yourself. o Has everyone been served? 2. to bring food or drink to someone at table ○ Which waitress is serving this table? 3. to go with a dish ○ Fish is served with a white sauce. o You usually serve red wine with meat. 4. to be enough food for a number of people ○ The packet contains enough to serve six. 5. to work as an official ○ He served in the army for ten years. 6. to help a customer, e.g. in a shop ○ Are you being served? ○ The manager served me himself. ○ Will you serve this lady next, please? 7. to provide a service for people or a place ○ The local bus serves the villages in the hills. ○ The aim of our organisation is to serve the local community. ○ This hospital serves the western side of the city. 8. (in games like tennis) to start the game by hitting the ball ○ She served two aces in a row. ○ He served first. 9. □ to serve as something to be useful as something ○ The tall hedge serves as a screen to cut out the noise from the motorway. ■ noun (in games like tennis) the action of hitting the ball first ○ She has a very powerful serve.

③ server /'sɜ:və/ noun 1. a dedicated computer or program which provides a function to a network 2. (in games like tennis) a person who is serving ○ The server stands behind the baseline. 3. a person who helps a priest at mass ○ The server held the book for the priest.

④ service /'sɜ:vɪs/ noun 1. a time when you work for a company or organisation or in the armed forces ○ Did he enjoy his service in the army? ○ She did six years' service in the police. ○ He was awarded a gold watch for his long service to the company. ○ He saw service in Northern Ireland.

□ length of service the number of years someone has worked 2. the act of serving or helping someone in a shop or restaurant ○ The food is good here, but the service is very slow. ○ The bill includes an extra 10% for service. ○ Is the service included? ○ The bill does not include service. 3. a regular check of a machine ○ The car has had its 20,000-kilometre service. 4. a group of people working together ○ the ambulance service □ the (armed) services the army, the navy and the air force ○ Have you thought about a career in the services? ○ Service families often have to travel abroad. 5. the provision of a facility which the public needs ○ Our train service to London is very bad. ○ The postal service is efficient. ○ The bus service is very irregular. ○ The hotel provides a laundry service. □ the rent includes services the rent includes the cost of water, gas and electricity 6. a favour, something done for someone ○ You would do me a great service if you could carry my suitcases for me. □ to be of service to someone to help someone (formal) ○ Can I be of service to anyone? 7. a religious ceremony ○ My mother never misses the nine o'clock service on Sundays. 8. (in games like tennis) the action of hitting the ball first ○ She has a very powerful service. 9. a set of china for a meal

■ verb to keep a machine in good working order ○ The car needs to be serviced every six months.

serviceable /'sɜ:vɪsəb(ə)l/ adj practical, which will be useful service area /'sɜ:vɪs ,eəriə/ noun a place next to a motorway where you can stop and buy petrol or get food service centre /'sɜ:vɪs ,sentə/ noun an office or workshop which specialises in keeping machines in good working order service charge /'sɜ:vɪs tʃɑ:dʒ/ noun a charge added to a bill in a restaurant to pay for service service industry /'sɜ:vɪs ,ɪndəstri/ noun an industry which does not make products, but offers a service, e.g. banking, insurance or transport serviceman /'sɜ:vɪsmən/ noun a male member of the army, navy or air force (NOTE: The plural is servicemen.)

⑤ services /'sɜ:vɪsɪz/ noun an area next to a motorway with a service station, restaurants and sometimes a hotel

⑥ service station /'sɜ:vɪs ,steɪʃ(ə)n/ noun a garage where you can buy petrol and have small repairs done to a car servicewoman /'sɜ:vɪswomən/ noun a woman member of the army, navy or air force (NOTE: The plural is servicewomen.)

servicing /'sɜ:vɪsɪŋ/ noun the action of repairing a machine serviette /'sɜ:vɪt̬/ noun a square piece of cloth or paper used to protect clothes and wipe your mouth at meals (NOTE: Although serviette is perfectly correct English, some people prefer to use the word napkin.)

servile /'sɜ:vɪl/ adj too willing to obey someone else. Synonym submissive servility /'sɜ:vɪlɪti/ noun behaviour that shows too much obedience to what someone else wants

⑦ serving /'sɜ:vɪŋ/ noun an amount of food served to one person servitude /'sɜ:vɪtju:d/ noun having to work hard for other people (formal) sesame /'sesəmi/ noun 1. a plant with small flat seeds that are used in cooking, sometimes scattered on top of bread or cakes, or to make oil 2. □ open sesame words, spoken by a magician, which are supposed to make something open magically ○ The boy said 'Open, sesame' and the rock rolled away to reveal a cave full of gold.

⑧ session /'ses(ə)n/ noun 1. the time when an activity is taking place ○ All these long sessions in front of the computer screen are ruining my eyesight. □ a practice session a time when someone, e.g. an athlete or a tennis player, practises 2. a meeting, e.g. of a committee or of parliament ○ The first session of the all-party talks will be held on Monday. □ opening or closing session the first or last part of a conference □ in session in the process of meeting ○ The committee has been in session for two hours.

① set /set/ noun 1. a group of things which go together, which are used together or which are sold together ○ He carries a set of tools in the back of his car. ○ The six chairs are sold as a set. 2. (in films) a place where a film is shot ○ She has to be on set at 7.00 a.m. ○ We went on a tour of the studios and watched a set being built. 3. (in games like tennis) one part of a match, consisting of several games ○ She won the set 7–5. ○ He lost the first two sets. ■ verb 1. to put something in a special place ○ She set the plate of biscuits down on the table next to her chair. □ to set the table to put the knives, forks, plates, glasses, cups, etc., in their right places on the table 2. to fix something ○ When we go to France we have to set our watches to French time. ○ The price of the new computer has been set at £500. 3. to fix a broken limb in position ○ The doctor set his broken arm. 4. (of broken bones) to heal ○ The broken wrist is setting very well. 5. to give work to someone or prepare a puzzle or competition for someone to do ○ The teacher has set us some homework for the weekend. ○ Who set this quiz? – It is very difficult. ○ He sets the crosswords in the local paper. □ this book has been set for the exam this book is on the list of books which have to be studied before the exam □ to set someone to work to give someone work to do ○ The children were set to work washing up. 6. to make something happen ○ He went to sleep smoking a cigarette and set the house on fire. ○ All the prisoners were set free. ○ I had been worried about her, but her letter set my mind at rest. 7. (of the sun, moon or a planet) to go down ○ The sun rises in the east and sets in the west. 8. to write music to go with words ○ The poem about cats was set to music. 9. to put a text into printed characters ○ The idioms in this dictionary have been set in bold. (NOTE: sets – setting – set – has set) ■ adj 1. fixed, which cannot be changed ○ Visits are only allowed at set times. 2. ready ○ We're all set for a swim. ○ My bags are packed and I'm all set to leave. ○ The government is set to introduce new anti-smoking laws. ○ Her latest novel is set to become the best-selling book of the year. □ 'on your marks, get set, go!' orders given to runners at the beginning of a race set about /set 'a'baut/ verb to start to do something. Synonym begin set aside /set a'said/ verb 1. to dismiss or reject something ○ The proposal was set aside by the committee. 2. to save something and keep it for future use ○ We set money aside every month for the children's holidays.

set back /set 'bæk/ verb 1. to delay something or make something late ○ The bad weather has set the harvest back by two weeks. 2. to place something further back ○ The house is set back from the road. 3. □ to set someone back to be a cost to someone (informal) ○ The meal set me back £100.

③ setback /'setbæk/ noun a problem which makes something late or stops something going ahead. Synonym hindrance. Antonym boost set book /set 'buk/ noun a book which is on the list of books which have to be studied for an exam set down /set 'daʊn/ verb 1. to let passengers get off ○ The bus set down several passengers and two others got on. 2. to put something in writing ○ The rules are set down in this booklet.

set in /'set 'ɪn/ verb to start and become permanent set menu /set 'menju:/ noun a menu which cannot be changed

① set off /set 'ɒf/ verb 1. to begin a trip ○ We're setting off for Germany tomorrow. ○ They all set off on a long walk after lunch. 2. to start something happening ○ They set off a bomb in the shopping centre. ○ If you touch the wire it will set off the alarm. ○ Being in the same room as a cat will set off my asthma.

set out /set 'aut/ verb 1. to begin a journey ○ The hunters set out to cross the mountains. ○ We have to set out early tomorrow. 2. to explain something clearly ○ We asked her to set out the details in her report. 3. to aim to do something ○ He set out to ruin the party.

set piece /set pi:s/ noun 1. an action which is carefully planned and carried out 2. a part of a work of art, e.g. a film or a play, which is very dramatic and very special set square /'set skweə/ noun an instrument to help you draw lines, shaped like a right-angled triangle settee /'se'ti:/ noun a sofa, a long seat with a soft back where several people can sit. Synonym sofa setter /'setə/ noun 1. a hunting dog trained to find game for hunters ○ He came into the park with two red setters. 2. a person who sets a puzzle or competition

② setting /'setɪŋ/ noun 1. the background for a story ○ The setting for the story is Hong Kong in 1935. 2. a silver or gold frame in which a precious stone is fixed ○ a diamond in a silver setting 3. a position at which a machine can be set ○ Set the microwave at its highest setting.

② settle /'set(ə)l/ verb 1. to arrange or agree something ○ Well, I'm glad everything's settled at last. ○ Have you settled the title for the new film yet? ○ It took six months of negotiation for the union and management to settle their differences. 2. to end a dispute 3. □ to settle a bill to pay a bill ○ Please settle this invoice without delay. ○ The insurance company refused to settle his claim for damages. 4. to go to live in a new country ○ They sold everything and settled in Canada. ○ The first pioneers settled in this valley in about 1860. 5. to place yourself in a comfortable position ○ She switched on the television and settled in her favourite armchair. 6. □ to settle money on someone to arrange for money to be passed to trustees to hold for someone in the future ○ They settled £2,000 a year on their new grandson. 7. to fall to the ground, or to the bottom of something, gently ○ Wait for the dust to settle. ○ A layer of mud settled at the bottom of the pond. ■ noun a long wooden bench with a back ○ They sat on a settle by the pub fire, smoking pipes.

settled /'set(ə)ld/ adj fixed or unchanging. Synonym established settle down /,set(ə)l 'dawn/ verb 1. to place yourself in a comfortable position ○ After dinner, she likes to settle down in a comfortable chair with a good book. 2. to change to a calmer way of life without many changes of house or much travelling ○ He has worked all over the world, and doesn't seem ready to settle down. ○ She had lots of boyfriends, and then got married and settled down in Surrey.

settle for /'set(ə)l fɔ:/ verb to choose or to decide on something which is not quite what you want settle in /,set(ə)l 'in/ verb to become accustomed to something new such as a house or job

② settlement /'set(ə)lmənt/ noun 1. the payment of a bill ○ This invoice has not been paid – can you arrange for immediate settlement? 2. an agreement in a dispute ○ In the end a settlement was reached between management and workers. 3. a place where a group of people come to live ○ a mining settlement in the hills

settle on /'set(ə)l ɒn/ verb 1. to decide on or choose something ○ After a lot of hesitation we finally settled on the red one. 2. (of an insect, etc.) to come to rest on something ○ If only the butterfly would settle on that flower I'd be able to take a picture of it.

③ settler /'set(ə)lə/ noun a person who goes to live in a new country settle up /,set(ə)l 'ʌp/ verb to pay a bill, to pay the total of what is owed set to /,set 'tu:/ verb to start to work hard (dated) set-to /'set tu:/ noun an argument or fight (informal). Synonym confrontation set-top box /,set tɒp 'bɒks/ noun a device shaped like a box, which is used to operate cable television set up /,set 'ʌp/ verb 1. to establish something ○ to set up a committee or a working party ○ A fund has been set up to receive donations from the public. ○ He set himself up as an estate agent. □ to set up a company to start a company legally □ to set up home or house to go somewhere to live in your own flat or house ○ They don't intend to set up house yet. 2. to deceive someone deliberately (informal) ○ We were set up by the police.

setup /'setʌp/ noun an organisation (informal)

① seven /'sev(ə)n/ noun number 7 ○ There are only seven children in his class. ○ She's seven (years old) next week. ○ The train is supposed to leave at seven (o'clock). □ the seven hundreds (700s) the years from 700 to 799 AD

① seventeen /,sev(ə)n'ti:n/ noun number 17 ○ He will be seventeen (years old) next month. ○ The train leaves at seventeen sixteen (17.16). □ the seventeen hundreds (1700s) the years from 1700 to 1799

① seventeenth adj, noun referring to 17 ○ Today is October the seventeenth or the seventeenth of October (October 17th). ○ Q is the seventeenth letter of the alphabet. ○ It's his seventeenth birthday next week. ○ He came seventeenth out of thirty. □ the seventeenth century the years from 1600 to 1699

① seventh /'sevənθ/ adj, noun referring to 7 ○ Henry the Seventh (Henry VII) ○ His office is on the seventh floor. ○ It's her seventh birthday on Saturday. ○ What is the seventh letter of the alphabet? ○ The seventh of July or July the seventh (July 7th). □ the seventh century the period from 600 to 699 AD ■ noun one part of seven equal parts

① seventy /'sev(ə)nti/ noun number 70 ○ She will be seventy (years old) on Tuesday. ○ That shirt cost him more than seventy dollars. □ she's in her seventies she is between 70 and 79 years old □ the (nineteen) seventies (1970s) the years from 1970 to 1979

sever /'sevər/ verb to cut off

① several /'sev(ə)rəl/ adj, pron more than a few, but not a lot ○ Several buildings were damaged in the storm. ○ We've met several times. ○ Several of the students are going to Italy. ○ Most of the guests left early but several stayed on till midnight.

② severe /'sevɪər/ adj 1. very strict ○ He was very severe with any child who did not behave. ○ Discipline in the school was severe. 2. having a very bad effect ○ The government imposed severe financial restrictions on importers. ○ The severe weather has closed several main roads.

 (NOTE: severer – severest)

③ severely /sɪ'vɪəli/ adv 1. strictly ○ She was severely punished for being late. 2. badly ○ a severely injured survivor ○ Train services have been severely affected by snow.
severity /sɪ'veriti/ noun the quality of being severe

③ sew /səʊ/ verb to attach, make or repair something by using a needle and thread (NOTE: Do not confuse with sow. Note also: sewing – sewed – sewn /səʊn/.)

sewage /'suɪdʒ/ noun waste water and other waste from toilets, carried away in pipes under the ground sewer /'suər/ noun a large pipe which takes waste water and refuse away from buildings

③ sewing /'səʊɪŋ/ noun things such as clothes which someone is in the process of sewing sewing machine /'səʊɪŋ mə,ʃi:n/ noun a machine which you use for sewing sewn /səʊn/ ○ sew

① sex /səks/ noun 1. one of two groups, male and female, into which animals and plants can be divided ○ They've had a baby, but I don't know what sex it is. ○ There is no discrimination on the grounds of sex, race and religion. □ the opposite sex people of the other sex to yours ○ He's very attractive to the opposite sex. 2. sexual activity ○ a film full of sex and violence ○ Sex was the last thing on her mind. □ to have sex with someone to perform a sexual act with someone sexagenarian /,səksədʒə'neəriən/ noun a person who is between sixty and sixty-nine years old sex appeal /'səks ə,pi:l/ noun the fact of being attractive to the opposite sex sex education /'səks edju'keɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the practice of teaching children about adult sexual relations sexism /'səksɪz(ə)m/ noun unfair treatment because of a person's sex sexist /'səksɪst/ adj unfair towards one of the sexes, especially women sex life /'səks laɪf/ noun the part of someone's life that involves their sexual relationships sex offender /'səks ə,fendə/ noun a person who commits a crime involving sexual activity sextant /'sekstənt/ noun an instrument formerly used to calculate the position of a ship by measuring angles between a star and the horizon

② sexual /'səksʃuəl/ adj referring to sex ○ Their relationship was never sexual. □ sexual partner a person you have sex with sexual harrassment /,səksʃuəl hə'ræsment/ noun actions such as touching someone or talking to them about sexual matters in an unpleasant way which makes them feel extremely uncomfortable and worried sexual intercourse /,səksʃuəl 'ɪntəkɔ:s/ noun the act in which a man puts his penis inside a woman's vagina

③ sexuality /,səksʃu'æliti/ noun sexual feelings or activity sexually /'səksʃuəli/ adv in a sexual way sexually transmitted disease /,səksʃuəli træns,mitɪd dɪ'zɪ:z/ noun a disease passed from one person to another by having sex. Also called sexually transmitted infection sexual orientation /,səksʃuəl ɔ:riən'teɪʃ(ə)n/ noun attraction to someone of the opposite sex, of the same sex or both sex worker /səks 'wɜ:kə/ noun a person who gets paid to have sex with people or who appears in pornographic films or photographs

② sexy /'səksɪ/ adj sexually attractive (NOTE: sexier – sexiest)

SGML noun a computer language which uses a system of codes to create files sh /ʃ/, shh interj used to ask for silence shabby /'fæbi/ adj 1. (of clothes) of poor quality or looking worn out ○ He wore a shabby coat with two buttons missing. 2. not kind or honest □ shabby trick an unkind act ○ That was a shabby trick to play on a poor old lady.

shack /ʃæk/ noun a rough wooden shelter ○ He lived for years in a little shack in the woods. Synonym hut ■ verb □ to shack up with someone to go to live with someone (slang) ○ They're shackled up together in a flat in Notting Hill Gate.

shackle /'fæk(ə)l/ verb to fasten someone to something or to another person with a chain ○ The prisoners were shackled together.

shackles /'fæk(ə)lz/ plural noun chains for fastening a prisoner ○ He wore shackles round his ankles. ○ She was desperate to escape from the shackles of her life in the vicarage.

shade /'seɪd/ noun 1. a variety of a particular colour ○ Her hat is a rather pretty shade of green. 2. a dark place which is not in the sun ○ Let's try and find some shade – it's too hot in the sun. ○ The sun's so hot that we'll have to sit in the shade. 3. □ to put someone in the shade to make someone seem less impressive ○ His acting puts the rest of the cast in the shade. 4. a cover put over the top part of a light ○ I don't like the bright orange shade you bought. ○ a brass table lamp with a red silk shade ■ verb to protect something from light of the sun ○ She shaded her eyes against the sun. ○ The old birch tree shades that corner of the garden.

shaded /'feɪdɪd/ adj 1. covered in shade ○ These plants will do well in a shaded part of the garden. 2. in a darker colour than the surrounding areas ○ The shaded part of the plan shows where the new office block will be built.

shades /'feɪdz/ plural noun sunglasses (informal) shading /'feɪdɪŋ/ noun 1. making part of a picture darker ○ The shading on the face was particularly fine. 2. making a drawing darker by drawing thin lines close together ○ On this chart, we use different types of shading to indicate different crops.

② shadow /'ʃædəʊ/ noun 1. a dark place behind an object where light is cut off by the object ○ In the evening, the trees cast long shadows across the lawn. ○ She saw his shadow move down the hall. ○ They rested for a while, in the shadow of a large tree. 2. a small amount ○ a shadow of suspicion ■ verb 1. to follow someone closely, but without being seen ○ The drug dealer was shadowed by two undercover policemen. 2. to be an Opposition MP covering a government department ○ She is shadowing the Health Secretary.

shadowy /'ʃædəʊi/ adj not easily seen or not well known (NOTE: shadowier – shadowiest)

shady /'ʃeidi/ adj 1. out of the light of the sun ○ At midday in Madrid, it's better to walk on the shady side of the street. 2. which provides a cool dark area ○ They drank beer sitting under a shady tree. 3. not honest ○ He made several shady deals. □ shady character a person who may be a criminal ③ shaft /ʃa:ft/ noun 1. the thin stick which is the main part of a weapon such as an arrow or a spear ○ He pulled on the shaft to get the javelin out of the ground. 2. the long handle of a tool such as a spade ○ The shaft of the spade was so old it snapped in two. 3. a thin beam of light ○ Tiny particles of dust were dancing in a shaft of sunlight. 4. a thin bar which connects parts of an engine ○ The shaft transmits power from the engine to the propeller. 5. a deep hole connecting one place to another ○ The ventilation shaft had become blocked.

shaggy /'ʃægi/ adj long and untidy. Synonym hairy shaggy dog story /'ʃægi 'dɒŋ, 'stɔ:ri/ noun a very long story with an unexpectedly silly ending (NOTE: shaggier – shaggiest)

④ shake /ʃeɪk/ verb 1. to move something from side to side or up and down ○ Shake the bottle before pouring. ○ The house shakes every time a train goes past. ○ His hand shook as he opened the envelope. □ to shake your head to move your head from side to side to mean 'no' ○ When I asked my dad if I could borrow the car he just shook his head. 2. to shock someone ○ His family was shaken by the news that he had been arrested. ○ The sight of it really shook me. (NOTE: shaking – shook /fʊk/ – has shaken) ■ noun 1. the action of moving rapidly up and down ○ If the tomato sauce won't come out, give the bottle a shake. 2. moving from side to side ○ He indicated 'no' with a shake of his head.

② shake hands /ʃeɪk 'hændz/ verb □ to shake hands, to shake someone's hand to greet someone by holding their right hand ○ He shook hands with me. ○ She refused to shake my hand. ○ The negotiators shook hands and sat down at the conference table. □ to shake hands on a deal to shake hands to show that a deal has been agreed. ♦ handshake

COMMENT: In Britain and the USA you shake hands with someone mainly in fairly formal circumstances, for example when you meet them for the first time or when you are saying goodbye to someone and do not expect to see them again soon. You do not usually shake hands with people you see every day.

shaken /'feɪkən/ adj very upset or frightened

③ shake off /'feɪk 'ɒf/ verb to get rid of something, usually something unpleasant shakeout /'feɪkəʊt/ noun a situation in which there is a reduction in the number of people or companies working in a particular business or organisation shakeup /'feɪkʌp/ noun a total reorganisation shaky /'feɪki/ adj 1. not very safe, not very reliable ○ Be careful, that ladder is a bit shaky. ○ The champion driver got off to a shaky start. ○ Your argument sounds a bit shaky to me. 2. feeling weak ○ He's still shaky after his operation. (NOTE: shakier – shakiest) shale /'feɪl/ noun a soft rock formed from clay, which splits easily into thin sheets

① shall /ʃəl, ʃæl/ modal verb 1. used to make the future tense ○ We shall be out on Saturday evening. ○ I shan't say anything – I shall keep my mouth shut! ○ Tomorrow we shan't be home until after 10 o'clock. 2. used to show a suggestion ○ Shall we open the windows? ○ Shall I give them a ring? (NOTE: shall is mainly used with I and we. The negative is shan't /ʃə:nt/. The past tense is should, should not usually shouldn't.)

shallot /ʃæ'lɒt/ noun a type of small onion

③ shallow /'fæləʊ/ adj 1. not far from top to bottom ○ Children were playing in the shallow end of the pool. ○ The river is so shallow in summer that you can walk across it. Antonym deep 2. without any serious meaning ○ It's a very shallow treatment of a serious subject. (NOTE: shallower – shallowest) shallows /'ʃæləʊz/ plural noun parts of a river or the sea where the water is shallow sham /ʃæm/ adj giving the appearance of being real ○ They set up a sham company to conceal their activities. Synonym fake ■ noun a person or thing which is false ○ Her claim to be a great pianist is just a sham. ○ The government's promises were just a sham. ■ verb to pretend ○ He lay still, shamming death, and the lion went away. Synonym fake (NOTE: shamming – shammed)

shamble /'ʃæmbəl/ verb to walk slowly and heavily ○ He shambled into the bar and ordered a beer. □ to shamble along to walk slowly or lazily along ○ They shambled along, enjoying the sunshine.

shambles /'ʃæmbəlz/ noun 1. a complete lack of organisation ○ The whole trip to Paris was a shambles – lost tickets, no hotel booking, everything that could go wrong did go wrong. 2. a mess ○ She stood at the door looking at the shambles after the office party. ○ Tidy up your bedroom – it is an absolute shambles.

shambolic /ʃæm'bɒlik/ adj completely without order (informal) Synonym dis-organised ② shame /ʃeɪm/ noun 1. feeling caused by having done something which you should not have done ○ To my shame, I did nothing to help. ○ She went bright red with shame. □ to die of shame to feel very ashamed ○ I could have died of shame! 2. □ what a shame, it's a shame how sad ○ What a shame you couldn't come to the party! ○ It's a shame your father isn't well – I'm sure he would have enjoyed the play. ○ It's a shame to have to go to the office on such a glorious day. □ shame on you! you should be ashamed of yourself ■ verb □ to shame someone into doing something to make someone do something because they feel ashamed ○ We hope to shame her into contributing to the party.

shamefaced /'ʃeɪm'feɪst/ adj embarrassed and showing that you are ashamed shameful /'ʃeɪmf(ə)l/ adj extremely immoral or dishonest, causing shame. Synonym disgraceful shameless /'ʃeɪmləs/ adj without shame

③ shampoo /'ʃæm'pu:/ noun 1. liquid soap for washing your hair or for washing things such as carpets or cars ○ There are sachets of shampoo in the bathroom. 2. the action of washing the hair ○ She went to the hairdresser's for a shampoo. ■ verb to wash something with shampoo ○ The hairdresser shampooed her hair, and then cut it. ○ They have a machine for shampooing carpets. (NOTE: shampooing – shampooed) shamrock /'ʃæmrɒk/ noun a small plant with leaves which are have three parts shandy /'ʃændi/ noun a cold drink made by mixing beer and lemonade (NOTE: The plural is shandies.)

shank /ʃæŋk/ noun 1. the straight central part of a tool 2. meat from the leg of an animal ○ I bought a piece of shank to make a stew.

③ shan't /ʃa:nt/ short form shall not shanty /'ʃænti/ noun a rough wooden shelter ○ The immigrants live in shanties round the outskirts of the city.

shanty town /'ʃænti taʊn/ noun a large group of huts belonging to poor people

② shape /seɪpl/ noun 1. the form of how something looks ○ A design in the shape of a letter S. ○ The old table was a funny shape. □ this pullover's beginning to lose its shape it is beginning to stretch 2. □ in good shape in good physical form ○ He's in good shape for the race. ○ She's in a very bad shape. □ to take shape to begin to look as it will do when finished ○ After all his hard work, the new garden is beginning to take shape. □ in any shape or form of any type ○ The boss does not tolerate criticism in any shape or form. ■ verb to make into a particular form ○ He shaped the pastry into the form of a little boat.

② shaped /seɪpt/ adj with a particular shape shapeless /'seɪpləs/ adj with no definite shape shapely /'seɪpli/ adj with an attractive shape shape up /,seɪp 'ʌp/ verb to result, to end up ○ Things are shaping up as we expected. ○ It's shaping up to be a fine day.

① share /ʃeə/ noun 1. a part of something that is divided between two or more people ○ Did he get his share of the prize? ○ Take your share of the cake and leave me the rest. ○ She should have paid her share of the food bill. ○ There's a lot of work to do, so everyone must do their share. □ to have a share in to take part in, to have a part of ○ All the staff should have a share in decisions about the company's future. ○ She has her share of the responsibility for the accident. 2. one of the many equal parts into which a company's capital is divided ○ He bought 2000 shares in Marks and Spencer. ○ Shares fell on the London Stock Exchange. (NOTE: The usual US term is stock.) ■ verb 1. share, share out to divide up something among several people ○ Let's share the bill. ○ In her will, her money was shared out among her sons. ○ They shared the pencils out amongst them. 2. to use something which someone else also uses ○ We share an office. ○ We shared a taxi to the airport.

shareholder /'ʃeəhəuldə/ noun a person who owns shares in a company shareholding /'ʃeəhəldɪŋ/ noun a group of shares in a company owned by one owner □ a majority shareholding, a minority shareholding a group of shares which are more or less than half the total ○ He acquired a minority shareholding in the company.

share-out /'ʃeər aut/ noun the process of dividing something among many people shareware /'ʃeə,weər/ noun computer software which you try for short period before deciding if you want to buy the right to use it sharia /ʃə'ri:ə/ noun Islamic religious law, based on the teaching of the Koran sharing /'ʃeərɪŋ/ noun dividing up something among several people

③ shark /ʃɑ:k/ noun a large dangerous fish which lives in the sea and can kill people ○ The lifeguards shouted when a shark was spotted in the water.

② sharp /ʃɑ:p/ adj 1. with an edge or point which can easily cut or pass through something ○ For injections, a needle has to have a very sharp point. ○ The beach is covered with sharp stones. ○ This knife is useless – it isn't sharp enough. 2. sudden and great ○ There was a sharp drop in interest rates. ○ The road makes a sharp right-hand bend. ○ He received a sharp blow on the back of his head. ○ We had a sharp frost last night. ○ It's cold, there's a sharp north wind. 3. bitter ○ Lemons have a very sharp taste. 4. quick to notice things ○ He has a sharp sense of justice. ○ She has a sharp eye for a bargain. ○ He's pretty sharp at spotting mistakes. 5. showing criticism or anger ○ He got a very sharp reply to his fax. 6. (in music) playing at a higher pitch than it should be ○ That violin sounds sharp. (NOTE: sharper – sharpest)

■ adv 1. exactly ○ The coach will leave the hotel at 7.30 sharp. 2. suddenly, at an angle ○ The road turned sharp right. ■ noun (in music) a pitch which is one semitone higher ○ They played Bach's Sonata in F sharp major. ○ He played D sharp instead of D flat.

sharpen /'ʃa:pən/ verb to make something sharp

③ sharply /'ʃa:pli/ adv 1. to a great degree ○ He felt his mother's death very sharply. 2. clearly ○ The two groups are sharply divided on this issue. 3. in a way that criticises ○ She spoke quite sharply to the poor old lady. 4. suddenly and to a large extent ○ The temperature fell sharply during the night. ○ The road turns sharply to the right.

sharp practice /'ʃa:p 'præktɪs/ noun a way of doing business which is not honest, but not illegal (dated) sharp tongue /'ʃa:p 'tʌŋ/ noun a tendency to criticise people

③ shatter /'ʃætə/ verb 1. to break into little pieces ○ He knocked the vase with his elbow and it shattered onto the floor. ○ The bomb shattered the windows of several houses. 2. to destroy, to upset violently ○ His hopes of going to university were shattered when he failed the exam. ○ A loud sneeze shattered the silence in the library.

shattered /'ʃætəd/ adj 1. very upset ○ She was shattered when the result of the court case was announced. 2. very tired (informal) ○ He looked shattered after the marathon.

shattering /'ʃæt(ə)rɪŋ/ adj which is very worrying, or which makes you very upset. Synonym devastating

③ shave /'ʃeɪv/ noun the act of cutting off the hair on your face with a razor ○ He went to have a shave at the barber's next to the hotel. □ a close shave a situation in which you only just manage to avoid having an accident or other unpleasant experience ■ verb 1. to cut off the hair on your face with a razor ○ He cut himself shaving. 2. to cut the hair on your head or on or a part of your body, very short ○ I didn't recognise him with his head shaved. 3. to cut a thin piece off something ○ You need to shave a bit more off to make the door fit the frame.

shaven /'ʃeɪv(ə)n/ adj shaved (formal) shaver /'ʃeɪvə/ noun an electrical tool used for cutting hair off your body shaving /'ʃeɪvɪŋ/ noun the act of cutting hair off your body, especially your face ○ Shaving only takes me a couple of minutes.

shaving cream /'ʃeɪvɪŋ kri:m/ noun a cream which you put on your face before shaving shavings /'ʃeɪvɪŋz/ plural noun small thin slices of something such as wood or cheese, cut off with a knife ○ They packed the china in a box of wood shavings.

shawl /ʃɔ:l/ noun a large square of warm material for wearing around the shoulders or head. Synonym wrap ① she /ʃi:/ pron referring to a female person, a female animal and sometimes to cars, ships and countries ○ She's my sister. ○ She and I are going on holiday to France together. ○ I'm angry with her – she's taken my motorbike. ○ She's a sweet little cat, but she's no good at catching mice. ○ The customs officers boarded the ship when she docked. (NOTE: When it is the object, she becomes her: She hit the ball or The ball hit her. When it follows the verb to be, she usually becomes her: Who's that? – It's her, the girl we met yesterday.)

sheaf /ʃi:f/ noun 1. a large pile of papers ○ He threw a sheaf of papers onto my desk and told me to sort them out. ○ The jury had to examine sheaves of evidence collected by the fraud squad. 2. a collection of the stems of plants such as wheat tied together after cutting. ○ They spent all day picking up sheaves and loading them on carts. (NOTE: The plural is sheaves /ʃi:vz/.)

shear /ʃiə/ verb 1. to cut the wool off sheep ○ The sheep have to be brought into the farmyard to be sheared. ○ The poor sheep look cold now they've been shorn. 2. to cut through something ○ The ferry sheared through the nets of the fishing boat. (NOTE: sheared or shorn /ʃɔ:n/. Do not confuse with sheer.)

shears /ʃiəz/ plural noun very large scissors, used for cutting plants or for cutting the wool off sheep ○ He's cutting the hedge with the shears.

sheath /ʃi:θ/ noun 1. a cover for a weapon such as a knife ○ Put your knife back in its sheath. 2. a thin rubber covering put over the penis before having sex, as a protection against infection and to prevent a woman from becoming pregnant (dated). Also called contraceptive sheath (NOTE: The plural is sheaths /ʃi:ðz/.)

sheathe /ʃi:ð/ verb to put something into its sheath □ to be sheathed in to be covered in something as a protection ○ The cables are sheathed in plastic.

sheath-knife /ʃi:θ naɪf/ noun a knife which is kept in a sheath (NOTE: The plural is sheath-knives.)

sheaves /ʃi:vz/ □ sheaf

③ shed /ʃed/ noun a small wooden building ○ They kept the mower in a shed at the bottom of the garden. ○ She's in the garden shed putting geraniums into pots. ■ verb 1. to lose something which you are carrying or wearing ○ In autumn, the trees shed their leaves as soon as the weather turns cold. ○ A lorry has shed its load of wood at the roundabout. ○ We shed our clothes and dived into the cool water. 2. to lose weight, to become lighter ○ He goes on a run every morning to try to shed some weight. ○ By stopping eating potatoes, she managed to shed three pounds. 3. to let something such as blood or tears flow ○ She shed tears of anger as she listened to the speech. ○ She shed tears when her hamster died. ○ Not one drop of blood was shed. 4. □ to shed light on something to make something clearer ○ Can anyone shed any light on what actually happened? ○ The finds in the cave shed a fascinating light on the prehistory of this region.

① she'd /ʃi:d/ short form she had, she would sheen /ʃi:n/ noun an extremely shiny surface

① sheep /ʃi:p/ noun a common farm animal, which gives wool and meat ○ a flock of sheep ○ The sheep are in the field.

sheepdog /'ʃi:pdog/ noun a dog trained and used to control sheep sheepish /'ʃi:pɪʃ/ adj embarrassed and showing that you are ashamed sheepskin /'ʃi:pskin/ noun the skin of a sheep, with the wool still on it, used to make something such as a coat or a floor covering sheep station /'ʃi:p ,steɪʃ(ə)n/ noun (in Australia) a very large farm for raising sheep sheer /ʃiə/ adj 1. complete ○ It was sheer heaven to get into a hot bath after skiing. ○ She was crying out of sheer frustration. ○ It's sheer madness to go out without a coat in this weather. 2. very steep ○ It was a sheer ten-metre drop to the beach below. ■ adv straight up or down ○ The cliff drops sheer to the beach below.

sheer off /,ʃiəf 'ɒf/ verb to move to the side, in a direction which is not straight ○ The car was speeding towards the tunnel but sheered off into the crowd instead.

① sheet /ʃeɪt/ noun 1. a large piece of thin cloth which is put on a bed, either to lie on or to cover you ○ She changed the sheets on the bed. 2. a large flat piece of something such as paper, metal, ice or plastic ○ Can you give me another sheet of paper? ♦ balance sheet sheeting /'ʃeɪtɪŋ/ noun thin material used for covering things sheet lightning /'ʃi:t ,laɪtnɪŋ/ noun lightning where you cannot see the flash, but the clouds are lit up by it sheila /'ʃi:lə/ noun (in Australia) a girl (informal)

② shelf /ʃelf/ noun a flat piece of wood attached to a wall or in a cupboard on which things can be put ○ He put up or built some shelves in the kitchen. ○ The shelves were packed with books. ○ Put that book back on the shelf. ○ Can you reach me down the box from the top shelf? ○ The plates are on the top shelf in the kitchen cupboard. □ on the shelf still not married (informal) ○ She thought she was on the shelf at thirty-five, and then Mr Right came along.

shelf life /'ʃelf laɪf/ noun the number of days or weeks that a product can be kept in a shop and still be good to use

③ shell /ʃel/ noun 1. the hard outside part covering some animals such as snails or tortoises ○ Snails are usually served in their shells. ○ The children spent hours collecting shells on the beach. 2. the hard outside part of an egg or a nut ○ I found a big piece of shell in my omelette. 3. the outside walls of a building ○ Only the shell of the building remained after the fire. 4. a metal tube which is fired from a gun and explodes when it hits something ○ A shell landed on the hospital.

■ verb to attack with shells ○ Anti-government forces shelled the capital.

③ she'll /ʃi:l/ short form she will

③ shellfish /'selfɪʃ/ noun sea animals such as crabs and oysters which have a hard outer covering and which you can eat. (NOTE: no singular: a plate of shellfish, a shellfish restaurant)

shellsuit /'felsu:t/ noun a one-piece suit or pair of matching trousers and top, in bright-coloured material ③ shelter /'felta/ noun 1. protection ○ We stood in the shelter of a tree waiting for the rain to stop. ○ On the mountain there was no shelter from the pouring rain. □ to take shelter to go somewhere for protection ○ When the gunmen started to shoot we all took shelter behind a wall. 2. a structure or building where you can go for protection ○ People ran to the air-raid shelters as soon as they heard the planes. ■ verb 1. to give someone protection ○ The school sheltered several families of refugees. 2. to go somewhere for protection ○ Sheep were sheltering from the snow beside the hedge.

sheltered /'felta:d/ adj protected from things such as wind, cold or danger sheltered housing /,felta:d 'haʊzɪŋ/ noun small flats provided for old or ill people, often with someone employed to give them help if they need it shelve /'selv/ verb 1. to put back to a later date ○ The project was shelved for lack of money. ○ Discussion of the problem has been shelved. 2. to slope down ○ The beach shelves gently so it is safe for little children.

③ shelves /'selvz/ noun □ shelf

shelving /'selvɪŋ/ noun 1. rows of shelves ○ I've installed metal shelving in the garden shed. 2. the act of delaying something such as a plan to do something ○ The shelving of the project has resulted in chaos.

shenanigans /ʃi'nænɪgənz/ plural noun behaviour that is dishonest or immoral, but often in a way that can be interesting or funny shepherd /'sepəd/ noun a man who looks after sheep ■ verb to take people somewhere moving them as a group ○ The children were shepherded into the building. ○ The police were shepherding the crowds away from the scene of the accident. Synonym usher shepherd's pie /,sepədz 'paɪ/ noun same as cottage pie sheriff /'serif/ noun 1. US an official in charge of justice in a particular part of a state ○ the sheriff of Orange County 2. (in Scotland) the main judge in a district sherry /'ʃeri/ noun 1. a type of strong wine, made in Spain ○ She brought two bottles of sherry back from Spain. 2. a glass of this wine ○ I'll have a dry sherry, please. ○ Two sherries and a port please. (NOTE: The plural sherries is used to mean types of sherry or glasses of sherry.) she's /ʃi:z/ short form she has, she is shh /ʃʃ/ interj another spelling of sh

② shield /'ʃɪld/ noun 1. a large plate held in one hand, carried by people such as police as a protection ○ The policemen covered behind their plastic shields. 2. a thing which protects from danger ○ You need a shield over your face when welding. ■ verb 1. to protect from danger ○ He tried to shield her from the wind. 2. to protect someone who has done something wrong ○ She's just shielding her father.

② shift /ʃɪft/ noun 1. a change of something such as position or direction ○ The company is taking advantage of a shift in the market towards higher priced goods. ○ There has been a shift of emphasis from confrontation to partnership. ○ I don't understand this shift in attitude. 2. a period of time during which one group of workers works before being replaced by another group ○ Which shift are you working today? ○ We work an eight-hour shift. 3. a loose dress ○ As it was so hot she wore only a light cotton shift. ■ verb 1. to change position or direction ○ We've shifted the television from the kitchen into the dining room. ○ The centre of attention shifted to Downing Street. □ to shift gears US to change from one gear to the next when driving a car □ to shift up to move to a higher gear when driving a car ○ Shift up to top gear when you get onto the expressway. □ to shift down to move to a lower gear when driving a car ○ Shift down when you come to the hill. 2. to sell (informal) ○ We shifted 20,000 Christmas trees in one week.

shifting /'ʃɪftɪŋ/ adj moving

shift key /'ʃift ki:/ noun the key which changes characters on a keyboard to capital letters shifty /'ʃɪfti/ adj not looking honest. Synonym suspicious

Shiite /'ʃi:aɪt/ noun a follower of the Shia branch of Islam shilling /'ʃɪlɪŋ/ noun 1. the currency used in Kenya and some other countries 2. an old British coin worth 5 new pence shimmer /'ʃɪmə/ noun a soft light which is not steady but seems to appear and disappear ○ I could see the shimmer of satin in the candlelight. ■ verb to shine softly with light in a way which is not steady ○ The lake shimmered in the moonlight.

shin /ʃɪn/ noun 1. the front part of your leg below the knee ○ He scraped his shin climbing over the wall. ○ They kicked him in the shins. □ shin of beef meat from the bottom part of the front legs of a cow light ○ the shine of polished tables 2. the action of rubbing something with a cloth to make it clean and bright ○ Give the brass doorknob a shine. ■ verb 1. to be bright with light ○ The sun is shining and they say it'll be hot today. ○ She polished the table until it shone. ○ The wine glasses shone in the light of the candles. ○ Why do cats' eyes shine in the dark? ○ The moon shone down on the waiting crowd. (NOTE: shining – shone /ʃən/) 2. to make light fall on something ○ He shone his torch into the cellar. (NOTE: shining – shone /ʃən/) 3. to rub something with a cloth to make it bright ○ She was shining the silver. ○ Don't forget to shine your shoes. (NOTE: shining – shined)

③ shine /ʃaɪn/ noun 1. the brightness of something or the way that something reflects

shingle /'ʃɪŋgəl/ noun 1. a mass of small stones on a beach ○ A shingle beach is quite hard to walk on in your bare feet. 2. a small flat piece of something such as wood which is fixed on a wall or roof as a covering ○ I must get up on the roof, some of the shingles need replacing.

shingles /'ʃɪŋgəlz/ noun a painful medical condition which causes a line of marks to form on the skin, usually mainly on the back or middle of the body, or on the face shining /'ʃaɪnɪŋ/ adj extremely bright □ a shining example of a very good example of ○ She's a shining example of how to get on in business.

Shinto /'ʃɪntəʊl/ noun a Japanese religion with many gods and spirits of the natural world

Shinto /'ʃɪntəʊl/ noun a Japanese religion with many gods and spirits of the natural world

shin up /'ʃɪn ʌp/ verb to climb up something quickly ○ The sailors shinned up the mast.

① ship /ʃɪp/ noun a large boat for carrying passengers and goods on the sea ○ She's a fine ship. ○ How many ships does the Royal Navy have? ○ The first time we went to the United States, we went by ship. (NOTE: A ship is often referred to as she or her.) ■ verb 1. to send goods or people somewhere, sometimes but not always on a ship ○ We ship goods all over the country. ○ The consignment of cars was shipped abroad last week. ○ We've shipped the children off to my sister's for two weeks. 2. to take water on board a ship accidentally ○ We shipped a lot of water during the storm. (NOTE: shipping – shipped) □ to jump ship 1. to leave the ship on which you are working and not come back 2. to leave a project or team to go to work for a competitor shipbuilder /'ʃɪpbɪldə/ noun a person or business that makes ships

② shipment /'ʃɪpmənt/ noun 1. the sending of goods ○ We make two shipments a week to France. 2. goods which are sent somewhere by ship or other means of transport ○ Two shipments were lost in the fire. ○ A shipment of computers was damaged.

shipper /'ʃɪpə/ noun a person or company that sends goods

③ shipping /'ʃɪpɪŋ/ noun 1. the sending of goods ○ Shipping by rail can often work out cheaper. 2. the cost of goods sent ○ Shipping is not included in the invoice. 3. ships ○ They attacked enemy shipping in the Channel.

shipping lane /'ʃɪpɪŋ leɪn/ noun a way across the sea which is regularly used by ships shipshape /'ʃɪpʃeɪp/ adj tidy and with everything in the right place. Antonym untidy shipwreck /'ʃɪprek/ noun an accident which sinks a ship shipwrecked /'ʃɪprekɪt/ adj having been on a ship which has sunk shipyard /'ʃɪpja:d/ noun a factory where ships are built shire /'ʃaɪə/ noun a county in the UK (NOTE: now used mainly in the names of counties e.g.: Berkshire, Hampshire)

shires /'ʃaɪəz/ plural noun farming country in the central part of England

shirk /ʃɜ:k/ verb to try not to do something, especially work. Synonym evade □ to shirk responsibility not to do something which you should do ○ She's very conscientious and never shirks her responsibilities.

① shirt /ʃɜ:t/ noun a light piece of clothing which you wear on the top part of the body ○ The teacher wore a blue suit and a white shirt. ○ When he came back from the trip he had a suitcase full of dirty shirts. ○ It's so hot that the workers in the fields have taken their shirts off. □ keep your shirt on! don't get angry (informal) shirtsleeves /'ʃɜ:tsli:vz/ plural noun □ in your shirtsleeves not wearing a jacket ○ He was sitting at his desk in his shirtsleeves.

shirty /'ʃɜ:tɪ/ adj angry (informal) shish kebab /,ʃɪʃ ki'bæb/ noun small pieces of meat and vegetables cooked on a skewer shit /ʃɪt/ (offensive) noun 1. solid waste matter from the body ○ I've stepped in some dog shit. Synonym faeces □ to scare the shit out of someone to frighten someone ○ He scares the shit out of me! 2. nonsense ○ I've never heard such shit in my life! ○ What a load of shit! 3. a very unpleasant person (offensive slang) ■ verb to pass solid waste matter from the body ○ All babies do is eat, shit and sleep. Synonym defecate (NOTE: shitting – shit or shat or shitted) shiver /'ʃɪvə/ noun the action of shaking because of feeling cold or frightened □ to

send shivers down someone's spine to make someone very afraid ○ The mere thought of grandfather driving along the motorway at his age sends shivers down my spine. ■ verb to shake with cold or fear ○ She shivered in the cold night air. ○ He was coughing and shivering, so the doctor told him to stay in bed.

shoal /ʃəʊl/ noun 1. a bank of sand under the water ○ The ship ran aground on a shoal. ○ The shoals are clearly marked on the chart of the harbour. 2. a group of fish swimming about ○ a shoal of herring 3. a large group of people or things, taken together ○ Shoals of tourists visited the ruins. ○ We had a shoal of complaints after our TV ad.

② shock /ʃɒk/ noun 1. a sudden unpleasant surprise ○ It gave me quite a shock when you walked in. ○ He's in for a nasty shock. □ in a state of shock reacting badly to a sudden unpleasant surprise ○ She was in a state of shock after hearing that her son had drowned. 2. a medical condition caused by low blood pressure after an illness or injury ○ Several of the passengers were treated for shock. ■ verb to give someone a sudden unpleasant surprise ○ The conditions in the hospital shocked the inspectors.

③ shocked /ʃɒkt/ adj having an unpleasant surprise

shocker /'ʃɒkə/ noun 1. a story, book or film involving a lot of violence ○ His latest shocker is available in paperback. 2. a shocking event ○ Finding that the value of our investments had halved was a real shocker.

④ shocking /'ʃɒkɪŋ/ adj very unpleasant, which gives a sudden surprise shockingly /'ʃɒkɪŋli/ adv in a shocking way shocking pink /,ʃɒkɪŋ 'pɪŋk/ adj very bright pink, which seems to shine shock-proof /'ʃɒk pru:f/ adj 1. not breaking easily 2. not easily shocked shock wave /'ʃɒk weɪv/ noun 1. a wave of high pressure which comes from something such as an explosion or earthquake ○ Three seconds after the explosion, the shock wave smashed the windows on our house. 2. feeling of shock after something has happened ○ The shock waves from the collapse of the government will be felt for some time.

shod /ʃɒd/ □ shoe

shoddily /'ʃɒdili/ adv in a shoddy way shoddy /'ʃɒdi/ adj badly done, badly made ○ The shoddy workmanship of these shoes. ○ They're selling off shoddy goods at cheap prices.

shoddy trick /'ʃɒdi trik/ noun an unkind act (NOTE: shoddier – shoddiest)

① shoe /ʃu:/ noun 1. a piece of clothing which is worn on your foot ○ She's bought a new pair of shoes. ○ He put his shoes on and went out. ○ Take your shoes off if your feet hurt. □ in someone's shoes in the situation someone is in ○ What would you do if you were in his shoes? ○ I wouldn't like to be in her shoes. 2. a piece of metal fixed under a horse's foot ○ The horse lost a shoe and couldn't continue the race. ■ verb to put a horseshoe on a horse ○ The blacksmith was shoeing my horse. ○ The horse needs to be shod. (NOTE: shoes – shoeing – shoed or shod /ʃɒd/) shoelace /'ʃu:leɪs/ noun a string for tying up shoes. Synonym lace shoestring /'ʃu:striŋ/ noun □ on a shoestring done with only a little money ○ We're trying to run this business on a shoestring. ○ They're living on a shoestring.

③ shone /ʃən/ □ shine

shoo /ʃu:/ interj go away! (used to small children, animals or birds) ○ Shoo! Go back to the pen! ■ verb to make an animal or a person go somewhere by waving your hands at them ○ She shooed her group of four-year-olds into the bus.

③ shook /ʃʊk/ □ shake

① shoot /ʃu:t/ verb 1. to fire a gun ○ Soldiers were shooting into the woods. 2. to hit or kill by firing a gun ○ One of the robbers was shot by a policeman when he tried to run away. ○ We went out hunting and shot two rabbits. 3. to go very fast ○ When the bell rang she shot down the stairs. ○ He started the engine and the car shot out of the garage. □ to shoot the rapids to travel in a light boat through water which is flowing very fast 4. to make a film ○ They're shooting a gangster film in our street. 5. to aim a ball at the goal ○ He shot, and the ball bounced off the post. (NOTE: shoots – shooting – shot /ʃɒt/) ■ noun a small new growth of a plant, growing from a seed or from a branch ○ One or two green shoots are already showing where I sowed my lettuces. ○ After pruning, the roses will send out a lot of strong new shoots.

shoot down /,ʃʊ:t 'daʊn/ verb to make an aircraft crash by hitting it with bullets from a gun

③ shooting /'ʃu:tɪŋ/ noun the action of shooting or killing with a gun shooting gallery /'ʃu:tɪŋ ,gæləri/ noun a small building at a fair, where you shoot at targets to win prizes shooting season /'ʃu:tɪŋ ,sɪ:z(ə)n/ noun a period of the year when you can shoot birds such as pheasants for sport shooting star /'ʃu:tɪŋ 'stɑ:/ noun a small rock which travels very fast through space and shines brightly. Synonym meteor shooting stick /'ʃu:tɪŋ stɪk/ noun a stick with a sharp point and a handle which opens out at the top to make a seat shoot-out /'ʃu:t əut/ noun a fight with guns

shoot up /'ʃu:t 'ʌp/ verb 1. to go up fast ○ Prices shot up during the strike. 2. to grow fast ○ These tomatoes have shot up since I planted them. ○ She used to be such a small child but she's really shot up in the last couple of years.

① shop /ʃɒp/ noun 1. a place where you can buy things ○ Quite a few shops are open on Sundays. ○ I never go to that shop – it's much too expensive. ○ The sweet shop is opposite the fire station. 2. a place where goods are made or repaired. Synonym workshop

3. □ to talk shop to talk about your business ○ The dinner party was dull – the men all sat in a corner talking shop. ■ verb to look for and buy things in shops ○ She's out shopping for his birthday present. ○ Mum's gone shopping in town. ○ They went shopping in Oxford Street. ○ Do you ever shop locally? (NOTE: shopping – shopped) shop around /'ʃɒp ə'raʊnd/ verb to go to various shops to find which one has the cheapest goods before you buy anything shop assistant /'ʃɒp ə,sɪstənt/ noun a person who serves the customers in a shop shopfloor /'ʃɒpflo:/ noun the working area in a factory shopfront /'ʃɒfrənt/ noun a part of a shop which faces the street, including the entrance and the windows shopkeeper /'ʃɒki:pə/ noun a person who owns a shop shoplifter /'ʃɒplɪftə/ noun a person who steals things from shops shoplifting /'ʃɒplɪftɪŋ/ noun stealing from shops

③ shopper /'ʃɒpə/ noun a person who buys things from shops

② shopping /'ʃɒpɪŋ/ noun 1. the activity of buying things in a shop ○ We do all our shopping at the weekend. ○ He's gone out to do the weekly shopping. 2. things which you have bought in a shop ○ Put all your shopping on the table. ○ She was carrying two baskets of shopping. (NOTE: no plural: some shopping, a lot of shopping) shopping arcade /'ʃɒpɪŋ a:kɪd/ noun a covered shopping street with a glass roof shopping bag /'ʃɒpɪŋ bæg/ noun a bag for carrying your shopping in shopping basket /'ʃɒpɪŋ ,bæ:skɪt/ noun a basket used for carrying shopping shopping cart /'ʃɒpɪŋ kɑ:t/ noun US a metal basket on wheels, used by shoppers to put their goods in as they go round a supermarket

③ shopping centre /'ʃɒpɪŋ ,sentə/ noun

1. a building with several different shops and restaurants, together with a car park ○ We must stop them from building any more out-of-town shopping centres. Synonym shopping mall 2. a part of town where the streets are closed to traffic so that people can walk about and shop. Synonym shopping precinct shopping list /'ʃɒpɪŋ list/ noun a list of things which you need to buy shopping mall /'ʃɒpɪŋ mɒl/ noun an enclosed covered shopping area with shops, restaurants, banks and other facilities shopping precinct /'ʃɒpɪŋ ,pri:sɪkt/ noun a part of town where the streets are closed to traffic so that people can walk about and shop shopping spree /'ʃɒpɪŋ spri:/ noun a happy time when you spend a lot of money buying things in shops shopping trolley /'ʃɒpɪŋ ,trɒli/ noun metal basket on wheels, used by shoppers to put their goods in as they go round a supermarket (NOTE: The US term is shopping cart) shop-soiled /'ʃɒp soɪld/ adj dirty because of having been on show in a shop shop steward /'ʃɒp 'stju:əd/ noun an elected trade union representative shop window /'ʃɒp 'wɪndəʊ/ noun a large window in a shop where goods are shown so that customers can see them shore /ʃɔ:/ noun land at the edge of the sea or a lake ○ She stood on the shore waving as the boat sailed away. □ to go on shore to go onto land from a ship ○ When we were on shore in Greece our cruise ship sailed without us. ♦ ashore shoreline /'ʃɔ:lɪn/ noun the area along the edge of the sea or a lake, where water meets land shore up /'ʃɔ: ʌp/ verb to hold up something which might fall down or fail ○ They had to put in metal beams to shore up the ceiling. ○ The army is trying to shore up the president's regime.

① short /ʃɔ:t/ adj 1. (of size or length) not long ○ Have you got a short piece of wire? 2. (of distance) not far ○ She only lives a short distance away. ○ The taxi driver wanted to take me through the high street, but I told him there was a shorter route. ○ The shortest way to the railway station is to go through the park. 3. (of time) not long, small ○ He phoned a short time ago. ○ We had a short holiday in June. ○ She managed to have a short sleep on the plane. 4. (of height) not tall ○ He is only 1m 40 – much shorter than his brother. 5. not as much as there should be ○ The delivery was three items short. □ when we counted the cash we were £10 short we had £10 less than we should have had □ short of with not enough ○ I can't offer you any tea as we're short of milk. ○ Can I pay later as I'm rather short of cash at the moment? □ to run short of to have less and less of ○ In the hot weather the pubs ran short of beer. ■ adv suddenly ○ I stopped short when I saw her walking towards me. □ short of without doing something ○ Short of sacking her, I don't know what we can do. ■ verb to short-circuit something ○ He switched on TV and shorted the whole house.

shortage /'ʃɔ:tɪdʒ/ noun a lack of something ○ a shortage of skilled staff. ○ During the war, there were food shortages. Synonym lack. Antonym excess shortbread /'ʃɔ:t'bred/ noun a thick sweet biscuit shortchange /'ʃɔ:t 'tʃeindʒ/ verb to cheat someone, especially by giving too little change

③ short-circuit /'ʃɔ:t 'sɜ:kɪt/ noun a bad connection in an electric circuit, making the electric current follow the wrong path ○ It was the worn cable which caused the short-circuit. ■ verb 1. to make a short-circuit ○ A faulty contact caused the system to short-circuit. 2. to get through something complicated by using a simple short cut ○ Is there any way of short-circuiting some of the administrative procedures?

shortcomings /'ʃɔ:t'kəmɪŋz/ plural noun faults

short cut /'ʃɔ:t 'kʌt/ noun 1. a way which is shorter than usual ○ We can take a short cut through the park. 2. a quicker way of doing something ○ There are no short cuts to learning Russian.

shorten /'ʃɔ:t(ə)n/ verb to make shorter. Synonym cut shortfall /'ʃɔ:t'fɔ:l/ noun an amount which is missing from a total. Synonym deficit. Antonym excess shorthand /'ʃɔ:θænd/ noun a quick way of writing using a system of signs □ to take shorthand to write using shorthand ○ He took the minutes of the meeting in shorthand. Compare longhand

short-handed /'ʃɔ:t 'hændɪd/ adj without enough staff. Synonym short-staffed shortlist /'ʃɔ:t'lɪst/ noun a list of some of the people who have applied for a job, and who have been chosen to come for an interview ○ He's on the shortlist for the job. ■ verb to include someone or someone's name on a list chosen from a larger one ○ Four candidates have been shortlisted. ○ If you are shortlisted you will be asked for an interview.

shortlived /'ʃɔ:t'lɪvd/ adj which does not last for a long time. Antonym longlived

③ shortly /'ʃɔ:tli/ adv soon short measure /'ʃɔ:t 'meʒə/ noun less than the correct amount short-range /'ʃɔ:t 'reɪndʒ/ adj which covers a short distance or a short time. Antonym long-range

③ shorts /'ʃɔ:ts/ plural noun short trousers for men or women, that stop above the knees ○ He was wearing a pair of green running shorts. ○ They won't let you into the church in shorts.

shortsighted /'ʃɔ:t'saɪtɪd/ adj 1. able to see close objects clearly, but not objects which are further away ○ I'm shortsighted and have to wear glasses. Antonym longsighted. Also called nearsighted 2. not thinking about what may happen in the future ○ It is very shortsighted of him to spend all the money on a new car. ○ The government has adopted a very shortsighted policy.

shortsightedness /'ʃɔ:t'saɪtɪdnəs/ noun the fact of being shortsighted short-sleeved /'ʃɔ:t 'sli:vd/ adj with short sleeves. ♦ long-sleeved short-staffed /'ʃɔ:t 'stɑ:ft/ adj without enough staff. Synonym short-handed short-stay /'ʃɔ:t stεɪ/ adj referring to a stay lasting a short time □ short stay hostel a place where people can stay for a few weeks or months, rather than years □ short-stay car park a car park where you can leave your car for a short time, usually not more than one day. Antonym long-stay

③ short story /'ʃɔ:t 'stɔ:rɪ/ noun a piece of fiction which is much shorter than a novel short-tempered /'ʃɔ:t 'tempəd/ adj who easily gets angry short-term /'ʃɔ:t 'tɜ:m/ adj for a short period only. Synonym temporary. Antonym long-term short wave /'ʃɔ:t weɪv/ noun a radio communications frequency below 60 metres.

♦ long wave, medium wave

① shot noun /ʃɒt/ 1. the action of shooting; the sound of shooting ○ The police fired two shots at the car. ○ Some shots were fired during the bank robbery. ○ A neighbour said she'd heard a shot. □ like a shot very rapidly ○ He heard a noise and was off like a shot. 2. an attempt ○ He passed the test at the first shot. □ to have a shot at something to try to do something (informal) ○ I'd like to have a shot at water-skiing. 3. an amount of a medicine put into your body with a needle ○ The doctor gave him a tetanus shot. Synonym injection 4. a small drink of alcohol ○ He poured himself a shot of whisky and sat down to wait. 5. a photograph ○ I took several shots of the inside of the house. 6. a large heavy ball thrown in a sports competition ○

How much does the shot weigh? □ to put the shot to throw a heavy ball in a competition. ♦ shot putter 7. a person who shoots well or badly ○ She's a first-class shot. ○ He's a hopeless shot. 8. a kick or hit to try to score a goal ○ He kicked but his shot was stopped by the goalkeeper. 9. ♦ shoot shotgun /'ʃɒtɡən/ noun a gun which fires small pellets shot putter /'ʃɒt ˈputər/ noun a person who puts the shot

① should /ʃʊd/ modal verb 1. used in giving advice or warnings, used to say what is the best thing to do ○ You should go to the doctor if your cough gets worse. ○ I should have been more careful. ○ She shouldn't eat so much if she's trying to lose weight. ○ Should I ask for more coffee? ○ Why should I clean up your mess? (NOTE: Ought to can be used instead of should.) 2. used to say what you expect to happen ○ If you leave now you should be there by 4 o'clock. ○ Their train should have arrived by now. ○ There shouldn't be any more problems now. (NOTE: Ought to can be used instead of should.) 3. used to show a possibility ○ If the President should die in office, the Vice-President automatically takes over. ○ I'll be in the next room should you need me. 4. same as would (dated) ○ We should like to offer you our congratulations. ○ If I had enough money I should like to buy a new car. 5. past tense of shall (NOTE: The negative is should not, usually shouldn't: Shall we go to an Indian restaurant? – I suggested we should go to an Indian restaurant.)

① shoulder /'ʃəuldər/ noun 1. the part of the body at the top of the arm ○ The policeman hurt me on the shoulder. ○ He fell and dislocated his shoulder. ○ Look over your shoulder, he's just behind you. 2. a piece of clothing which covers the part between the top of the arm and the neck ○ There's an ink mark on the shoulder of your shirt. ○ A captain has three pips on his shoulders. 3. a piece of meat from the top part of the front leg of an animal ○ We had a shoulder of lamb and new potatoes. ■ verb to accept something such as responsibility or blame ○ He had to shoulder all the responsibility for the company's collapse. ○ She was left to shoulder the blame for the accident. Synonym bear shoulder bag /'ʃəuldər bæg/ noun a bag which can be carried over the shoulder shoulder blade /'ʃəuldər bleɪd/ noun one of two large flat bones covering the top part of your back. Also called scapula shoulder-length /'ʃəuldər leŋθ/ adj. (of hair) reaching down to your shoulders from your head shoulder pads /'ʃəuldər pædz/ plural noun a pair of thick pieces of cloth put inside each shoulder of a coat, to make it look bigger shoulder to shoulder /'ʃəuldər tə, tu/ adv side by side shouldn't /'ʃud(ə)nt/ short form should not should've /'ʃudəv/ short form should have

② shout /ʃaʊt/ noun a loud cry ○ She gave a shout and dived into the water. ○ People came running when they heard the shouts of the children. Synonym yell ■ verb to make a loud cry, to speak very loudly ○ They stamped on the floor and shouted. ○ I had to shout to the waitress to get served. ○ They were shouting greetings to one another across the street. Synonym yell ▶ Antonym (all senses) whisper

③ shove /ʃəv/ noun a sudden push ○ She gave the car a shove and it rolled down the hill. ■ verb to push roughly ○ He shoved the papers into his pocket. ○ Stop shoving – there's no more room on the bus.

shovel /'ʃəv(ə)l/ noun a tool with a long handle and a wide flat part for picking up things such as earth or stones ○ The workmen picked up shovels and started to clear the pile of sand. ■ verb 1. to lift up with a shovel ○ They were shovelling sand into the truck. ○ He collapsed after shovelling snow from the path. 2. to put a large amount of food into your mouth ○ It wasn't very elegant, the way he was shovelling pasta into his mouth. (NOTE: shovelling – shovelled. The US spelling is shoveling – shoveled.) shove off /ʃəv 'ɒf/ verb (informal) 1. to leave ○ It's time we shoved off. 2. to go away ○ Shove off and let me finish my meal.

① show /ʃəʊ/ noun 1. an exhibition, things which are arranged for people to look at ○ The Hampton Court Flower Show opens tomorrow. ○ She has entered her two cats for the local cat show. □ on show arranged for everyone to see ○ Is there anything new on show in this year's exhibition? 2. something which is on at a theatre ○ 'Cats' is a wonderful show. ○ We're going to a show tonight. ○ The show starts at 7.30, so let's have dinner early. 3. something you do to make your intentions clear □ a show of hands a vote where people show how they vote by raising their hands ○ The motion was carried on a show of hands. 4. a planned activity or organisation ○ She's running the whole show by herself. ■ verb 1. to let someone see something ○ He wanted to show me his holiday photos. ○ She proudly showed me her new car. ○ You don't have to show your passport when you're travelling to Ireland. 2. to point something out to someone ○ Show me where the accident happened. ○ He asked me to show him the way to the railway station. ○ The salesman showed her how to work the photocopier. ○ My watch shows the date as well as the time. 3. to prove ○ The results show how right we were to invest in the USA. 4. to be seen, to be obvious ○ The repairs were badly done and it shows. ○ Her rash has almost disappeared and hardly shows at all. 5. □ to show signs of to have a feature or quality which can be seen ○ The wound doesn't show any signs of infection. □ to show someone the door to make someone leave (informal) ○ When we complained we were shown the door.

showbiz /'ʃəʊbɪz/ noun same as show business (informal)

show business /'ʃəʊ ,bɪznəs/ noun the business of providing entertainment for people showcase /'ʃəʊkeɪs/ noun 1. a cupboard with a glass front or top to arrange objects for sale ○ The thieves smashed the showcase and went off with a tray of rings. 2. an event which brings things such as new machines or vehicles to public attention ○ The computer show is a showcase for the latest developments in information technology.

showdown /'ʃəʊdaʊn/ noun a final argument which will solve a serious disagreement. Synonym confrontation

② shower /'ʃaʊə/ noun 1. a slight fall of rain or snow ○ In April there's usually a mixture of sunshine and showers. ○ There were snow showers this morning, but it is sunny again now. 2. a piece of equipment in a bathroom, usually fixed high up on the wall and which sends out water to wash your whole body 3. an occasion when you wash your body with a shower ○ She went up to her room and had a shower. ○ He has a cold shower every morning. ○ You can't take a shower now, there's no hot water. 4. US a party where presents are given to a woman who is about to get married or who has had a baby ○ We are holding a shower for Liliane next Saturday. 5. a group of people you consider unpleasant or inferior (informal) ■ verb

1. to wash yourself under a shower ○ He showered and went down to greet his guests.

2. to give large amounts of something to someone ○ She was showered with presents.

shower cap /'ʃaʊə kæp/ noun a close-fitting hat, usually made of plastic and worn to prevent your hair getting wet when taking a shower shower curtain /'ʃaʊə ,kɔ:t(ə)n/ noun a piece of material hanging around a shower shower room /'ʃaʊə ru:m/ noun a small bathroom with a shower in it showery /'ʃaʊəri/ adj when there is often light rain. Synonym rainy show flat /'ʃəʊ flæt/, show house /'ʃəʊ haʊs/ noun a new flat or house among a number of similar ones which a company is building with furniture and carpets, so that people can see how the other flats or houses will look when all the building is finished.

show in /,ʃəʊ 'ɪn/ verb to bring someone into a room or building showing /'ʃəʊɪŋ/ noun a result which shows how well or badly you are doing show-jumper /'ʃəʊ ,dʒʌmpə/ noun a horse or rider trained for show-jumping show-jumping /'ʃəʊ ,dʒʌmpɪŋ/ noun a sport in which horses with riders have to jump over different fences in a short time showman /'ʃəʊmən/ noun an entertainer, especially one who performs in very skilled and exciting way shown /ʃəʊn/ □ show

show off /,ʃəʊ 'ɒf/ verb 1. to show how much better than others you think you are ○ Don't watch her dancing about like that – she's just showing off. 2. to let a lot of people see something which you are proud of ○ He drove past with the radio on very loud, showing off his new car.

show-off /'ʃəʊ 'ɒf/ noun a person who shows off (informal)

③ show out /,ʃəʊ 'aut/ verb to take someone to the door when they are leaving

③ show over /'ʃəʊ 'əʊvə/ verb to lead a visitor round a place showpiece /'ʃəʊpi:s/ noun the most important object in a collection or an exhibition or of its type showroom /'ʃəʊru:m/ noun a room or shop where goods are arranged for sale show round /,ʃəʊ 'raʊnd/ same as show over

show up /,ʃəʊ 'ʌp/ verb 1. to come (informal) ○ We invited all our friends to the picnic but it rained and only five of them showed up. 2. to do something which shows other people to be worse than you ○ She dances so well that she shows us all up. 3. to be seen clearly ○ When I ride my bike at night I wear an orange jacket because it shows up clearly in the dark.

showy /'ʃəʊi/ adj which attracts attention because of its bright colours or shiny surface shrank /'fræŋk/ □ shrink

shrapnel /'fræpn(ə)l/ noun pieces of metal from a shell or bomb which has exploded (NOTE: no plural) shred /'fred/ noun 1. a long narrow piece torn off something ○ She tore his newspaper to shreds. ○ The curtains were on the floor in shreds. 2. a small amount ○ There's not a shred of evidence against him. 3. a long thin piece of a fruit or vegetables ○ Marmalade with shreds of orange peel in it. ■ verb 1. to tear or cut paper into long thin pieces, which can then be thrown away or used as packing material ○ They sent a pile of old invoices to be shredded. ○ She told the police that the manager had told her to shred all the documents in the file. 2. to cut into very thin pieces ○ Here's an attachment for shredding vegetables. ○ Add a cup of shredded carrot. (NOTE: shredding – shredded) shredder /'fredəl/ noun a machine for shredding paper shrew /'ʃru:/ noun 1. a little animal like a mouse with a long nose ○ Shrews form part of the diet of owls. 2. an unpleasant and angry woman who is always criticizing (old) ○ Shakespeare's play 'The Taming of the Shrew'.

shrewd /'ʃru:d/ adj clever or wise. Synonym astute. Antonym naive (NOTE: shrewder – shrewdest) shriek /'ʃri:k/ noun a loud shout in a high voice ○ We were worried when we heard shrieks from next door. ○ Shrieks of laughter came from the girls' changing room. Synonym screech ■ verb to make the sound of a shriek ○ She ran shrieking into the street. ○ The children were shrieking with laughter.

shrill /'ʃrɪl/ adj 1. which has a harsh high sound ○ The engine has started to make a shrill whistle when I change gear. 2. loud and complaining ○ The art gallery is making increasingly shrill complaints about lack of government funding. (NOTE: shrilier – shrillest) shrimp /'ʃrɪmp/ noun an almost transparent little shellfish with a tail

shrine /'ʃraɪn/ noun 1. a place which is connected with a holy person ○ Someone had put flowers at the roadside shrine. 2. a place where a holy person is buried ○ Pilgrims come to worship at the shrine. 3. a place which attracts a lot of visitors because it is famous for a particular reason ○ Twickenham is a shrine for all Rugby fans.

③ shrink /'ʃrɪŋk/ verb 1. to make smaller ○ The water must have been too hot – it's shrunk my shirt. 2. to get smaller ○ My shirt has shrunk in the wash. ○ The market for typewriters has shrunk almost to nothing. 3. to move back or away from someone or something ○ She shrank away as he touched her. ■ noun a doctor who treats people who have a mental illness (informal) ○ She's spent thousands on a shrink and she's no better at all. Synonym psychiatrist shrinkage /'ʃrɪŋkɪdʒ/ noun 1. the action of shrinking ○ I have noticed some shrinkage in the pullover after washing. 2. an amount by which something shrinks ○ a noticeable shrinkage in export orders 3. the fact of losing goods from a place such as a shop through having them stolen, especially by the people who work there ○ Shrinkage accounts for 1% of our revenue.

shrink from /'ʃrɪŋk frəm/ verb not to be willing to do something ○ She shrank from speaking to the boss about her suspicions.

shrink-wrapped /'ʃrɪŋk ,ræpt/ adj covered in a tight plastic cover for protection shrink-wrapping /'ʃrɪŋk ,ræpiŋ/ noun the action of covering something such as food or a book in a tight plastic cover shrivel /'ʃrɪv(ə)l/ verb to make the surface of something become dry and creased, or to become like this (NOTE: shrivelling – shrivelled. The US spelling is shriveling – shriveled.)

shroud /'ʃraʊd/ noun a long cloth covering a dead body ○ The corpse was wrapped in a white shroud. ■ verb to cover ○ Thick fog shrouded the town. ○ Clouds of smoke shrouded the factory.

shrouded /'ʃraʊdɪd/ adj □ shrouded in hidden by ○ The whole business of the loan is shrouded in mystery. ○ The valley was shrouded in mist.

shrub /'ʃrʌb/ noun a small plant with stiff stems. Synonym bush shrubbery /'ʃrʌbəri/ noun a part of a garden where shrubs grow

③ shrug /'ʃrʌg/ noun the action of moving your shoulders up and down as a way of showing that you are not sure about something or not interested in something ○ He just gave a shrug and walked on. ■ verb to make the movement of a shrug with your shoulders ○ When I asked him what he thought about it all, he just shrugged or shrugged his shoulders and walked off.

shrug off /,ʃrʌg 'ɒf/ verb to treat something as if it is not something to worry about. Synonym dismiss shrunk /'ʃrʌŋk/ □ shrink

shrunken /'ʃrʌŋkən/ adj wrinkled and dried up

③ shudder /'ʃʌðəl/ noun a shaking movement ○ The car gave a shudder and stopped. ○ She looked at the dead cat and gave a shudder. □ to send shudders down someone's spine to make someone very afraid ○ The thought of going to the dentist sent a shudder down my spine. ■ verb to shake violently with fear ○ The thought of eating worms makes me shudder. ○ She shuddered at the thought of spending Christmas with his parents. ○ I shudder to think how much money she spends on clothes each month.

shuffle /'ʃʌf(ə)l/ verb 1. to walk dragging your feet along the ground ○ He shuffled into the room in his slippers. 2. to mix the playing cards before starting a game ○ I think he must have done something to the cards when he was shuffling them.

shun /ʃʌn/ verb to avoid someone or something (NOTE: shunning – shunned) shunt /ʃʌnt/ verb 1. to put someone or something into a less important place ○ The carriages will be shunted into a siding. ○ He was shunted off to our office in Bordeaux. 2. to move a vehicle backwards and forwards ○ She shunted backwards and forwards until she was parked close to the pavement. 3. to move a person from place to place ○ They moved several times, and the children were shunted from school to school. ■ noun an accident where one car crashes into the back of the car in front of it ○ I had a little shunt on the motorway and the front bumper is bent.

shush /ʃʊʃ/ interj be quiet!

① shut /ʃʌt/ adj closed, not open ○ Some shops are shut on Sundays, but most big stores are open. ○ We tried to get into the museum but it was shut. ○ She lay with her eyes shut. ○ Come in – the door isn't shut! ■ verb 1. to close something which is open ○ Can you please shut the window – it's getting cold in here. ○ Here's your present – shut your eyes and guess what it is. 2. to close for business ○ In Germany, shops shut on Saturday afternoons. ○ The restaurant shuts at midnight. (NOTE: shutting – shut)

③ shut down /ʃʌt 'daʊn/ verb 1. to close completely ○ The factory shut down for the holiday weekend. 2. to switch off an electrical system ○ They had to shut down the nuclear power station because radiation levels were too high.

shutdown /'ʃʌt,daʊn/ noun the action of shutting down shut in /ʃʌt 'ɪn/ verb to lock inside. Synonym confine shut off /ʃʌt 'ɒf/ verb 1. to switch something off ○ Can you shut off the water while I mend the tap? 2. to stop access to ○ We can shut off the dining room with folding doors. ○ The palace is shut off from the road by a high wall.

shut out /ʃʌt 'aut/ verb 1. to lock outside ○ If the dog keeps on barking you'll have to shut him out. ○ I was shut out of the house because I'd left my keys inside. 2. to stop light getting inside; to stop people seeing a view ○ Those thick curtains should shut out the light from the children's room. ○ A high wall shuts out the view of the factory. 3. to stop thinking about something ○ Try to shut out the memory of the accident.

④ shutter /ʃʌtə/ noun 1. a folding wooden or metal cover for a window ○ Close the shutters if the sunlight is too bright. 2. the part of a camera which opens and closes very quickly to allow the light to go on to the film ○ He released the shutter and took the picture.

shuttle /'ʃʌt(ə)l/ noun 1. a means of transport which goes frequently from one place to another and back again ○ There's a shuttle from the hotel to the exhibition grounds. 2. a small object for holding thread, which takes the thread backwards and forwards when weaving or sewing with a machine ■ verb to go between two places frequently ○ Waiters were shuttling backwards and forwards from the kitchen to the dining room.

shuttlecock /'ʃʌt(ə)lkɒk/ noun a light little object with feathers stuck in it, which players hit over a net in badminton shuttle service /'ʃʌt(ə)l ,sɜːvɪs/ noun a bus or plane service which goes frequently between two places

① shut up /'ʃʌt 'ʌp/ verb 1. to close something inside ○ I hate being shut up indoors on a sunny day. 2. an impolite way of telling someone to stop making a noise ○ Tell those children to shut up – I'm trying to work. ○ Shut up! – we're tired of listening to your complaints. ○ Once he starts talking it's impossible to shut him up.

shy /ʃaɪ/ adj nervous and afraid to do something ○ He's so shy he sat in the back row and didn't speak to anyone. □ once bitten twice shy once you have had a bad experience you will not want to do it again ○ I'm not getting involved with him again – once bitten twice shy! □ to fight shy of doing something to avoid getting involved in something ■ verb (of a horse) to jump suddenly because it has been frightened ○ His horse shied at the noise of the gun.

Siamese /saiə'miːz/ adj referring to Siam, a former name for Thailand (dated)

Siamese cat /saiə'miːz 'kæt/ noun a type of cat with pale fawn fur, dark brown face and blue eyes

③ sibling /'sɪblɪŋ/ noun a brother or sister sibling rivalry /,sɪblɪŋ 'raɪv(ə)lri/ noun a situation in which there is a lot of argument or competition between brothers or sisters

sic /sɪk/ adv as it is written; used to show exactly what someone has written, even if they have made a mistake (NOTE: Do not confuse with sick.)

① sick /sɪk/ adj 1. ill, not well ○ He's been sick for months. ○ We have five staff off sick. 2. □ to be sick to bring up food from the stomach into the mouth ○ The last time I ate oysters I was sick all night. □ to feel sick to feel ill because you want to bring up food from the stomach ○ When I got up this morning I felt sick and went back to bed. ○ The greasy food made her feel sick. ♦ seasick 3. referring to something extremely unpleasant ○ sick humour ■ noun the contents of the stomach when they come out through the mouth (informal) Synonym vomit □ the sick people who are ill ○ Nurses were looking after the sick and the dying.

sicken /'sɪkən/ verb to make someone feel extremely upset ○ It sickens me to think of foxes being killed.

sickening /'sɪk(ə)nɪŋ/ adj which makes you upset or nervous ○ to be sickening for something to have the first signs of an illness (informal) ○ She's looking pale – she must be sickening for something.

sick leave /'sɪk li:v/ noun a period when an employee is away from work because of illness sickly /'sɪkli/ adj 1. not healthy ○ Your plants are looking rather sickly, do they need more fertiliser? ○ He turned a sickly yellow colour, and we rushed him to the doctor. 2. always slightly ill, never very well ○ As a child he was sickly, but is now strong and healthy. (NOTE: sicklier – sickliest)

② sickness /'sɪknəs/ noun 1. the feeling of wanting to bring up food from the stomach into the mouth 2. not being well ○ There is a lot of sickness about during the winter months. ♦ travel sickness

sick up /'sɪk 'ʌp/ verb to bring up food from your stomach into your mouth (informal). Synonym vomit

① side /saɪd/ noun 1. one of the four parts which with the top and bottom make a solid object such as a box ○ Stand the box upright – don't turn it onto its side. 2. one of the two parts which with the front and back make a building ○ The garage is attached to the side of the house. 3. one of the surfaces of a flat object ○ Please write on both sides of the paper. 4. one of two or more parts or edges of something ○ Our office is on the opposite side of the street to the bank. ○ London Airport is on the west side of the city. ○ The hitch-hikers were standing by the side of the road. ○ She sat to one side of the fireplace. 5. one of two parts separated by something ○ She jumped over the fence to get to the other side. ○ In England cars drive on the left-hand side of the road. 6. a sports team ○ The local side was beaten 2 – 0. 7. the part of the body between the top of the legs and the shoulder ○ I can't sleep when I'm lying on my right side. ○ The policemen stood by the prisoner's side. ○ They all stood side by side. 8. one of the sides of an animal, used as a piece of meat ○ a side of bacon 9. two people or groups of people who oppose each other ○ to be on or take someone's side to support someone in a battle or argument ○ Mum always takes your side! ○ Don't attack me – I'm on your side. ○ Whose side is he on? 10. one part of a family, either all the people related to your mother or all the people related to your father ○ On my mother's side everyone has blue eyes. ■ adj which is at the side

○ There is a side entrance to the shop. ○ Can you take that bucket round to the side door?

■ verb □ to side against someone to disagree with someone in an argument ○ I can't understand why they all are siding against me. □ to side with someone to agree with someone in an argument ○ Why do you always side with the boss? ◇ to look on the bright side to be hopeful about the future ○ You should look on the bright side – you'll have plenty of free time now you've lost your job. ◇ on the side separate from your normal work, and sometimes hidden from your employer (informal) ○ Her salary is very low, so the family lives on what she can make on the side. ◇ on the ~ side slightly ○ The car runs well but it's on the small side. ◇ the book is on the heavy side 1. the book is fairly heavy 2. the book is fairly difficult to read ◇ to take sides to say who you agree with ○ He refused to take sides in the argument.

sideboard /'saɪdbɔ:d/ noun a large piece of furniture made like a table with a cupboard underneath and used for storing objects such as plates, cups and glasses sideboards /'saɪdbɔ:dz/, sideburns /'saɪdbɜ:nz/ plural noun hair down the side of a man's face, in front of the ears side dish /'saɪd dɪʃ/ noun a small amount of a particular food served on a side plate

② side effect /'saɪd ɪ,fekt/ noun an effect produced by a medical treatment such as a drug, which is not the main effect intended sidekick /'saɪdkɪk/ noun someone who works as a helper for another person (informal). Synonym assistant sidelight /'saɪdlait/ noun 1. one of the small lights on each side of the front of a car ○ Switch your sidelights on – it's beginning to get dark. 2. a piece of information which you find out when you are not expecting to ○ The letters give some interesting sidelights on life in a Victorian household.

sideline /'saɪdlain/ noun 1. a business which you carry out in addition to your usual job ○ He runs a profitable sideline selling postcards to tourists. ■ verb to make sure that someone does not take part in something ○ He complained that he was being sidelined by the others on the committee.

sidelines /'saɪdlainz/ plural noun white lines along the edge of the playing area in sports such as tennis or football ○ to sit on the sidelines not to take part in something sidelong /'saɪdlɒŋ/ adj from one side. Synonym sideways □ sidelong glance a quick look at someone or something in a sideways direction ○ He gave a sidelong glance at the table full of food.

side plate /'saɪd pleɪt/ noun a small plate placed next to your dinner plate side road /'saɪd rəʊd/ noun a small road which leads off a larger road sideshow /'saɪdʃəʊ/ noun 1. a small stall with a game of skill at an event such as a fair ○ Among the sideshows were stalls selling candy floss and a shooting gallery. 2. an activity that is less important than another activity connected with it

○ The European Parliament is just a sideshow – the real decisions are taken by the Council of Ministers.

sidestep /'saɪdstep/ verb to avoid something unpleasant (informal) (NOTE: side-stepping – sidestepped) side street /'saɪd strɪt/ noun a small street which leads off a main street. Synonym alley sidetrack /'saɪdtræk/ verb to attract someone's attention away from a more important problem. Synonym distract

③ sidewalk /'saɪdwɔ:k/ noun US a hard path for people walking at the side of a road
○ A girl was roller-skating along the sidewalk. ○ We sat at a sidewalk café. (NOTE: The British term is pavement.)

sideways /'saɪdweɪz/ adv to the side or from the side ○ Crabs walk sideways. ○ Take a step sideways and you will be able to see the castle. ○ If you look at the post sideways you'll see how bent it is.

siding /'saɪdɪŋ/ noun a short piece of railway line where trains are kept when they are not being used sidle /'saɪd(ə)l/ verb to walk slowly in a way which shows you are slightly afraid or do not want to be noticed siege /'saɪ:dʒ/ noun an act of surrounding an enemy town or castle with an army to prevent supplies getting in, and so force the people inside to come out and stop fighting. Synonym blockade □ under siege surrounded by an enemy ○ The town is under siege.

siege mentality /'saɪ:dʒ men,tælɪti/ noun a feeling of being surrounded by enemies sienna /sɪ'enə/ noun □ raw sienna yellowish-brown colour siesta /'si:estə/ noun a rest period in the middle of the day, especially common in Mediterranean countries sieve /sɪv/ noun an object used in the kitchen, made of a frame with a metal or plastic net, used to pour through liquids or substances such as flour, in order to remove lumps or separate some of the parts ○ Put the flour through a sieve. ○ Boil the peas for a few minutes and put in a sieve to strain. □ he has a memory like a sieve he keeps forgetting things (informal) □ verb to pass a liquid or a substance such as flour through a sieve to remove lumps

○ She sieved the flour into a bowl. ○ Boil the peas for a few minutes and sieve them.

sift /sɪft/ verb to sieve something ○ We sifted the sand to see if there was gold in it. □ to sift through to examine carefully ○ The police sifted through the rubble to see if they could find traces of the bomb.

sigh /saɪ/ noun a long deep breath, showing an emotion or that you feel tired ○ She gave a deep sigh and put the phone down. ○ You could hear the sighs of relief from the audience when the heroine was saved. ■ verb to breathe with a sigh ○ He sighed and wrote out another cheque.

② sight /saɪt/ noun 1. one of the five senses, being able to see ○ My grandfather's sight isn't very good any more. □ to lose your sight to become blind ○ He lost his sight in the accident. 2. the fact of being able to see something ○ He can't stand the sight of blood. ○ We caught sight of an eagle up in the mountains. ○ She kept waving until the car disappeared from sight. ○ The fog cleared and the mountains came into sight. ○ They waved until the boat was out of sight. □ at first sight when you see something for the first time ○ At first sight I thought he was wearing a wig. ▶ second sight 3. something, especially something famous, which you ought to see ○ They went off on foot to see the sights of the town. ○ The guidebook lists the main tourist sights in Beijing. □ to do the sights to visit all the interesting parts of a place, which tourists usually go to see ○ We did the sights in Barcelona. 4. a person or place that is unusual or unpleasant □ to look a sight to look extremely untidy ○ She looks a sight in that old raincoat. ■ verb to see something a long way away ○ We often sight rare birds on the lake. ○ They sighted some wreckage from the boat. Synonym notice (NOTE: Do not confuse with cite, site.) sighted /'saɪtɪd/ adj able to see □ plural noun □ the sighted people who have the ability to see sighting /'saɪtɪŋ/ noun an occasion when you see someone or something sightless /'saɪtləs/ adj not able to see sights /saɪts/ plural noun the part of a gun which you look through to aim sightseeing /'saɪtsi:ɪŋ/ noun visiting the sights of a town as a tourist sightseer /'saɪtsi:ə/ noun a tourist who visits the sights of a town

① sign /saɪn/ noun 1. a movement of the hand which means something ○ He made a sign to us to sit down. 2. something such as a drawing or a notice which advertises something ○ The shop has a big sign outside it saying 'for sale'. ○ A 'no smoking' sign hung on the wall. 3. something which shows that something is happening or has happened ○ There is no sign of the rain stopping. ○ The economy is showing signs of improvement. ○

*The police can find no sign of how the burglars got into the office. ○ He should have arrived by now, but there's no sign of him. 4. a printed character ○ the pound sign (£) ○ the dollar sign ($) ○ the hash sign (#) □ Signs of the Zodiac ■ verb to write your name in a special way on a document to show that you have written it or that you have approved it ○ *Sign on the dotted line, please. ○ The letter is signed by the managing director. ○ A cheque is not valid if it has not been signed.

① signal /'sign(ə)l/ noun 1. a sign or movement which tells someone to do something ○ I'll give you a signal to start playing 'Happy Birthday'. 2. a device used to tell someone to do something ○ The signal was at red so the train had to stop. 3. an electronic sound heard on a radio receiver ○ We heard a faint signal coming from the mountains. ■ verb to make signs to tell someone to do something ○ The driver signalled to show that he was turning right. ○ She signalled to me that we were running out of time. (NOTE: signalling – signalled. The US spelling is signaling – signaled.) ■ adj extremely good or great (formal) ○ The conference was a signal success.

signatory /'signat(ə)ri/ noun a person who signs a contract (NOTE: The plural is signatories.)

signature /'signɪtʃə/ noun 1. a name written in a special way by someone to show that a document has been authorised or accepted ○ He found a pile of cheques on his desk waiting for his signature. ○ Her signature doesn't look like her name at all. ○ The shopkeeper looked very closely at her signature and compared it with the one on the credit card. 2. a section of a printed book, usually 16, 32 or 64 pages ○ Something has gone wrong with this copy of the book, the first signature is missing.

signature tune /'signɪtʃə tju:n/ noun a tune which is used to identify a radio or TV broadcast sign for /'sain fo:/ verb 1. to sign a document to show that you have received something ○ He signed for the parcel. 2. (of a footballer) to move to a new club ○ He signed for Chelsea yesterday.

② significance /'sig'nifikəns/ noun 1. meaning ○ What is the significance of your logo of a ship? 2. importance ○ There was no significance in the fact that her temperature was higher than usual. □ of great significance very important ○ The contents of the letter were of great significance. □ of little significance not very important ○ His remarks were of little significance.

① significant /'sig'nifikənt/ adj important, full of meaning ○ It is highly significant that everyone else was asked to the meeting, but not the finance director. ○ There has been a significant improvement in his condition.

② significantly /'sig'nifikəntli/ adv in a significant way

③ signify /'signifai/ verb 1. to indicate something ○ The letter seems to signify that they have accepted our terms. 2. to be important ○ It doesn't signify in the least. □ that signifies that seems reasonable (informal)

③ signing /'sainɪŋ/ noun 1. the action of putting your signature on a document ○ The signing of the peace treaty took place in the Palace of Versailles. 2. a footballer who has just moved to a new club ○ The only goal was by their new signing.

sign language /'sain ,længwidʒ/ noun signs made with the hands and fingers, used for communicating by people who are not able to hear or speak very well sign on /,sain 'ɒn/ verb 1. to start work ○ He signed on and started work immediately. 2. to start drawing unemployment benefit ○ She signed on after losing her job.

signpost /'saɪnpəʊst/ noun a post with signs showing directions to places ○ You should have turned right at that last signpost. ○ The signpost said it was 20 miles to Bristol. ■ verb to put signposts along a road to show directions ○ The way to the harbour is clearly signposted.

Signs of the Zodiac /,sainz əv ðə 'zəʊdiæk/ plural noun the twelve signs used in astrology, each connected to a group of stars and a period of the year

Sikh /sɪ:k/ adj, noun (referring to) members of a religious group founded in India ○ Do all Sikh men wear turbans? ○ Over 20% of the students in the college are Sikhs.

② silence /'saɪləns/ noun a situation which is quiet, without any noise ○ I love the silence of the countryside at night. ○ The crowd of tourists waited in silence. ○ The mayor held up his hand and asked for silence. ○ There was a sudden silence as she came in. ○ There will be a minute's silence at 11 o'clock. □ a conspiracy of silence a secret plan to say nothing about something which has happened ■ verb to stop someone saying or writing something ○ He tried to silence his critics by taking out an injunction. ○ She refused to be silenced and continued to write her articles about government corruption.

silencer /'saɪlənsə/ noun 1. an object attached to the exhaust of a car to reduce noise ○ The car is very noisy and needs a new silencer. (NOTE: The US term is muffler.) 2. an object attached to a gun to reduce the noise when it is fired ○ He was killed with a gun fitted with a silencer.

③ silent /'saɪlənt/ adj not talking, not making any noise ○ He kept silent for the whole meeting ○ She seems rather silent today. ○ a very silent and reserved young man ○ The house was cold and silent. ○ This new washing machine is almost silent. ○ They showed some old silent films.

silently /'sailəntli/ adv without any noise, without talking silent majority /'sailənt ˈmədʒoritə/ noun the majority of people in society when considered as a group who do not express their opinions or political views publicly silhouette /'siliuet/ noun 1. a black shape of a person or thing against a light background ○ We could see two silhouettes in the background, but couldn't make out who they were. 2. a picture made of the black outline of someone's head in profile ○ I bought an 18th century silhouette. ■ verb to stand out against a bright background ○ She stood silhouetted against the burning house.

silhouetted /'siliuetid/ adj standing out against a bright background silicon /'silkən/ noun a chemical element which is used in the electronics industry because of its semiconductor properties silicon chip /'silkən tʃip/ noun a small piece of silicon able to store data, used in a computer silicone /'silkəon/ noun a chemical compound of silicon used in making various oils or rubber silicone implant /'silkəon 'impla:nt/ noun a piece of silicone used in medical operations silk /silk/ noun 1. cloth made from fibres produced by insects ○ She was wearing a beautiful silk scarf. ○ I bought some blue silk to make a dress. 2. a Queen's Counsel (informal) □ to take silk to become a Queen's Counsel silken /'silkən/ adj soft and shiny like silk silky /'silkɪ/ adj soft and smooth like silk sill /sɪl/ noun a flat shelf below a window, either inside or outside. Synonym ledge silliness /'silinəs/ noun being silly

③ silly /'sili/ adj stupid, not thinking ○ Don't be silly – you can't go to the party dressed like that! ○ She asked a lot of silly questions. ○ Of all the silly newspaper articles that must be the silliest. (NOTE: sillier – silliest) silo /'sailəʊ/ noun 1. a large container for storing crops such as grain ○ They are building huge grain silos near the port. ○ The hay is stored in silos until it is needed. 2. a deep hole in the ground in which missiles are kept ○ The missiles were taken out of their silos and destroyed. (NOTE: The plural is silos.)

silt /silt/ noun soft mud which settles at the bottom of water ○ The silt was several inches deep in places.

silt up /,silt 'ʌp/ verb (of a harbour or river) to become full of silt, so that boats can no longer use it ○ The mouth of the river is gradually silting up.

③ silver /'silver/ noun 1. a precious white metal ○ Gold is worth more than silver. ○ How much is an ounce of silver worth? 2. coins made of white metal ○ He held out a handful of silver. 3. knives, forks and spoons or ornaments made of silver ○ She's in the kitchen polishing the silver. ○ Don't worry, all the silver is securely locked away. 4. a shiny white colour, like silver ○ The car has been resprayed in silver. ■ adj of a shiny white colour, like silver ○ The car has been resprayed with silver paint. ○ She wore silver sandals to match her handbag.

silver-haired /,silvə 'he:d/ adj with light grey hair silver medal /,silvə 'med(ə)l/ noun the prize given to someone who finishes in second place in a race or competition silverware /'silvə,weə/ noun silver objects, especially things such as knives and forks silver wedding /,silvə 'wedɪŋ/ noun an anniversary of 25 years of marriage silvery /'silvəri/ adj 1. shiny like silver ○ Her hair was silvery in the moonlight. 2. with a light ringing sound ○ The silvery sound of the temple bells.

SIM card /'sim ,ka:d/ noun a special type of plastic card put into a mobile phone, which contains the personal information relating to the person who owns the phone, including things such as their PIN number or stored phone numbers

① similar /'similər/ adj very much like someone or something but not exactly the same ○ Here is the old lampshade – do you have anything similar to replace it? ○ The two cars are very similar in appearance. ○ Our situation is rather similar to yours. Synonym alike. Antonym dissimilar

② similarity /,simil'reriti/ noun being similar. Synonym resemblance. Antonym difference (NOTE: The plural is similarities.)

③ similarly /'similəli/ adv in a similar way ○ All these infections must be treated similarly. ○ He always writes a nice thank you letter, and similarly so does his sister.

simile /'simili/ noun a comparison of one thing to another, using 'like' or 'as', e.g. 'as flat as a pancake.' Compare metaphor simmer /'simə/ verb 1. to cook by boiling gently ○ We left the soup to simmer gently. 2. □ to simmer down to become calmer after being very annoyed ○ Will you try to simmer down and listen to me, please?

④ simple /'simpəl/ adj 1. easy ○ The machine is very simple to use. ○ She described the accident in a few simple words. ○ It turned out to be a simple job to unscrew the door. ○ They say the new tax forms are simpler than the old ones. 2. ordinary, not very special, not complicated ○ They had a simple meal of bread and soup. ○ It's a very simple pattern of lines and squares. (NOTE: simpler – simplest) simple interest /'sɪmpəl 'ɪntrəst/ noun interest calculated on the original amount of money only, and not on interest added to it. Compare compound interest

③ simplicity /'sim'plɪsɪtɪ/ noun the quality of being simple simplification /'simplifi'keɪʃ(ə)n/ noun an act or process of making something simple. ▶ oversimplification

③ simplify /'simplifɪə/ verb to make something simple. Antonym complicate simpistic /'sim'plɪstɪk/ adj too simple, so simple as to seem foolish

① simply /'simpli/ adv 1. in a simple way ○ He described very simply how the accident had happened. ○ She always dresses very simply. 2. only ○ He did it simply to annoy everyone. ○ She gave a new look to the room simply by painting one wall red. 3. used for emphasis ○ Your garden is simply beautiful. ○ It's simply terrible – what shall we do?

simulate /'simjuleɪt/ verb to copy the way something behaves, or the way something happens

③ simulation /'simjʊ'lɛf(ə)n/ noun an operation in which a computer is made to copy a real life situation or a machine, showing how something works or will work in the future simulator /'simjuleɪtə/ noun a piece of equipment that simulates something else simultaneous /,sim(ə)l'teɪniəs/ adj happening at the same time as something else. Synonym concurrent □ simultaneous translation translation of a speech into another language done at the same time as a person is speaking simultaneously /,sim(ə)l'teɪniəslɪ/ adv at the same time. Synonym concurrently

② sin /sɪn/ noun 1. an evil action which goes against the rules of a religion ○ Greed is one of the seven deadly sins. □ to live in sin to live together without being married (dated) 2. something bad ○ It would be a sin to waste all that meat. □ verb to commit a sin, to do something evil ○ The priest told him he had sinned. Synonym transgress (NOTE: sinning – sinned)

① since /sɪns/ prep during the period after ○ She's been here since Monday. ○ We've been working non-stop since four o'clock – can't we have a rest? □ conj 1. during the period after ○ He has had trouble borrowing money ever since he was rude to the bank manager. ○ Since we got to the hotel, it has rained every day. 2. because ○ Since he's ill, you can't ask him to help you. ○ Since it's such a fine day, let's go for a walk. □ adv during the period until now ○ She phoned on Sunday and we haven't heard from her since. ○ He left England in 1990 and has lived abroad ever since.

③ sincere /sɪn'sɪər/ adj very honest and real

③ sincerely /sɪn'sɪəli/ adv really or definitely □ Yours sincerely, Sincerely yours words used as an ending to a letter addressed to a named person sincerity /sɪn'sɪrɪtɪ/ noun honesty. Antonym insincerity sine qua non /,sɪni kwa: 'nɒn/ noun something which is necessary, without which something else cannot succeed. Synonym prerequisite sinew /'sɪnju:/ noun one of the strong fibres in your body which hold together the bones at joints or attach muscles to bones □ to strain every sinew to work as hard as possible ○ Straining every sinew they pulled the boat up onto the shore.

sinewy /'sɪnjuɪ/ adj full of strength sinful /'sɪnf(ə)l/ adj immoral, evil

① sing /sɪŋ/ verb to make music with your voice ○ Please sing another song. ○ She was singing as she worked. ○ He always sings in the bath. ○ She sang a funny song about elephants. ○ The birds were singing in the garden. (NOTE: singing – sang /sæŋ/ – has sung /sʌŋ/) sing /sɪndʒ/ verb to burn the outside of something (NOTE: singeing)

③ singer /'sɪŋə/ noun a person who sings. ▶ vocalist

singing /'sɪŋɪŋ/ noun the action of making music with your voice. ▶ vocals

① single /'sɪŋ(ə)l/ adj 1. one alone ○ He handed her a single sheet of paper. ○ There wasn't a single person I knew at the party. ○ The single most important fact about him is that he has no money. □ every single each one ○ You will need every single penny you have to pay for the house. ○ Every single time I asked her out, she refused. 2. for one person only ○ Have you got a single room for two nights, please? ○ We prefer two single beds to a double bed. 3. not married ○ She's twenty-nine and still single. ○ Are there any single men on the course? 4. □ in single figures less than ten ○ Inflation was over 20% but now it is down to single figures. □ noun 1. a ticket for one journey ○ Two singles to Oxford Circus, please. 2. a record with one piece of music on it ○ The group's first single went into the top ten. 3. (in cricket) one run ○ He scored a single and won the match.

single cream /'sɪŋg(ə)l 'kri:m/ noun liquid cream which contains a small amount of fat single currency /'sɪŋg(ə)l 'kʌrənsi/ noun one system of money which is shared by several countries singledecker /'sɪŋg(ə)l 'dekeə/ noun a bus with only one floor single-handed /'sɪŋg(ə)l 'hændɪd/ adj. adv all by yourself ○ a single-handed yacht race ○ He sailed single-handed round the world. ○ I can't do all this work single-handed.

single market /'sɪŋg(ə)l 'ma:kɪt/ noun the EU countries considered as one large market, with no tariff barriers between member states single-minded /'sɪŋg(ə)l 'maɪndɪd/ adj. thinking only of one thing single-mindedly /'sɪŋg(ə)l 'maɪndɪdli/ adv with only one aim in mind single out /'sɪŋg(ə)l 'aʊt/ verb to notice or choose one person or thing among several. Synonym pick out single parent /'sɪŋg(ə)l 'peərənt/ noun one parent who is bringing up a child or children alone

① singles /'sɪŋg(ə)lz/ noun 1. a tennis game played between two people ○ the men's singles champion 2. people who are not married ○ They went to a singles bar.

single-sex school /'sɪŋg(ə)l sek'sku:l/ noun a school which takes either girls or boys, not both single spacing /'sɪŋg(ə)l 'speɪsɪŋ/ noun typing where there is no space showing between lines of text singlet /'singlət/ noun a sleeveless vest worn under a shirt, or when taking part in sports single ticket /'sɪŋg(ə)l 'tɪkɪt/ noun a ticket for a journey in one direction only. Also called one-way ticket, single single-track railway /'sɪŋg(ə)l træk 'reɪlweɪ/ noun a railway where trains go up and down the same rails, but with places where two trains can pass singly /'singgli/ adv one by one. Synonym individually singular /'singjʊlə/ adj 1. odd, strange ○ We found ourselves in a really singular position. 2. showing that there is only one thing or person ○ 'She' is a singular pronoun. ■ noun the form of a word showing that there is only one ○ 'Child' is the singular, and 'children' is the plural. ○ The singular of 'they have' is 'he or she has'. ○ The singular of 'bacteria' is 'bacterium'.

singularly /'singjʊləli/ adv 1. strangely 2. particularly sinister /'sɪnɪstə/ adj which looks evil, which suggests that something bad will happen. Synonym menacing

② sink /sɪŋk/ noun a fixed basin for washing things such as dishes in a kitchen ○ The sink was piled high with dirty dishes. ○ He was washing his hands at the kitchen sink. ■ verb 1. to go down to the bottom of something such as water or mud ○ The ferry sank in 30 m of water. ○ The paper boat floated for a few minutes, then sank. ○ You should tie a piece of lead to your fishing line to make it sink. 2. to make a boat go to the bottom of the water ○ An enemy shell sank the ship. 3. to fall suddenly ○ She was so upset that she just sank into an armchair and closed her eyes. ○ My heart sank when I heard the news. ○ House prices have sunk to an all-time low. 4. to invest money in something ○ He sank all his savings into a car-hire business. (NOTE: sinking – sank /sæŋk/ – sunk /sʌŋk/) sink in /,sɪŋk 'ɪn/ verb to become fixed in the mind. Synonym go in sinking feeling /'sɪŋkɪŋ, fi:lɪŋ/ noun a sudden feeling of disappointment you get when you realise that something has gone wrong sink unit /'sɪŋk ,ju:nɪt/ noun an arrangement of a cupboard, a sink, taps and waste pipes, forming a single piece of furniture sinner /'sɪnə/ noun someone who does something that is morally wrong sinuous /'sɪnuəs/ adj winding sinus /'saɪnəs/ noun an empty space inside the body, especially the spaces inside your head behind the cheekbone and nose (NOTE: The plural is sinuses.)

sip /sɪp/ noun the act of drinking a small amount ○ She took a sip of water, and went on with her speech. ■ verb to drink taking only a small amount of liquid at a time ○ The girl was sipping her drink quietly. Antonym gulp (NOTE: sipping – sipped) siphon /'saɪf(ə)n/ noun 1. a device for making fizzy water ○ The waiter gave him a glass of scotch and put the siphon on the bar next to him. Also called soda siphon 2. a bent tube to allow you to take liquid from one container to another placed at a lower level ○ Using a siphon he removed petrol from the car's tank. ■ verb to remove liquid by using a siphon ○ Petrol had been siphoned from the tanks of cars parked in the car park. □ to siphon money off to remove money from a source illegally (informal) ○ The firm's accountant managed to siphon off the profits into his private bank account.

③ sir /sɜ:/ noun 1. a polite way of referring to a man (usually used by someone serving in a shop or restaurant) ○ Would you like a drink with your lunch, sir? ○ Please come this way, sir. 2. a way of addressing a male teacher, in Britain ◻ Please sir, I forgot to bring my homework. 3. ◻ Dear Sir (in letters) a polite way of addressing a man you do not know 4. the title given to a baronet or knight

COMMENT: The title is always used with the man's Christian name, and, in formal address, with the surname as well: you can say 'good morning Sir George', but 'may I introduce Sir George Smith?'

③ siren /'saɪrən/ noun a device which makes a loud warning signal

① sister /'sistə/ noun 1. a girl or woman who has the same father and mother as someone else ◻ His three sisters all look alike. ◻ My younger sister Louise works in a bank. ◻ Do you have any sisters? 2. a senior female nurse in charge of a ward ◻ The sister told me my son was getting better. (NOTE: The male equivalent is charge nurse.) 3. the title given to a nun (NOTE: can be used with names as a title: Sister Jones, Sister Josephine) ■ adj with close links to another similar group or organisation ◻ cooperating with our sister society sister-in-law /'sistə in lɔ:/ noun 1. the wife of your brother (NOTE: The plural is sisters-in-law.) 2. the sister of your husband or wife ◻ My sister-in-law is always telling us funny stories about things my husband did when he was a little boy.

sisterly /'sistəlɪ/ adj, adv relating to or characteristic of a sister, especially in a kind or caring way

① sit /sɪt/ verb 1. to be resting with your bottom on something ◻ Mother was sitting in bed eating her breakfast. 2. to move into this position ◻ Could you please sit here? ◻ to sit for a picture to pose, to stand or sit still while someone paints or photographs you ◻ He sat for his portrait. ◻ He sat for her in his uniform. 3. to take a test ◻ She failed her English exam and had to sit it again. 4. (of Parliament, a council, etc.) to be meeting ◻ A light shines at the top of Big Ben when the House of Commons is sitting. 5. (of a bird) to rest ◻ The robin always comes and sits on the fence when I'm digging. 6. to look after children. Synonym baby-sit ◻ I'm looking for someone to sit for me tomorrow evening. (NOTE: sits – sitting – sat /sæt/ – has sat)

sit back /sɪt 'bæk/ verb 1. to rest your back against the back of a chair when sitting ◻ Just sit back and enjoy the film. 2. to do nothing ◻ He just sat back and watched everyone else do the work.

sit by /sɪt 'baɪ/ verb to do nothing to help sitcom /'sɪtkɒm/ noun a TV comedy series which always takes place in the same place, with the same characters, each week (informal). Full form situation comedy sit down /sɪt 'daʊn/ verb to sit on a seat sit-down /'sɪtdaʊn/ noun 1. a strike where the workers stay in their place of work and refuse to work or leave ◻ The factory has been occupied by workers staging a sit-down. 2. a short rest sitting on a chair (informal) ◻ I've been on my feet all day – I think I deserve a sit-down.

sit-down meal /sɪt daʊn 'meɪl/ noun a meal where you sit at a table sit-down strike /'sɪt daʊn ,straɪk/, sit-down protest /'sɪt daʊn ,prə'test/ noun a strike where the workers stay in their place of work and refuse to work or leave

② site /saɪt/ noun 1. a place where something is or will be ◻ This is the site for the new factory. 2. a place where something happened, where something once existed ◻ This was the site of the Battle of Hastings in 1066. ◻ They're trying to locate the site of the old Roman fort. ■ verb to be placed on a particular piece of land ◻ The hotel will be sited between the airport and the new exhibition centre.

sit-in /'sɪt in/ noun a protest where a place of work is occupied by people who refuse to leave until their questions or requests have been dealt with (NOTE: The plural is sit-ins.)

sit on /'sɪt ɒn/ verb 1. to be a member of a committee ◻ She sat on the local choral society committee for fifteen years. 2. to do nothing about something that should have been dealt with ◻ They sat on the report for three months.

sitter /'sɪtə/ noun 1. a person who looks after children in a house, while their parents are out ◻ We won't be able to go to the cinema because I can't find a sitter. Synonym baby-sitter 2. an easy chance to score a goal ◻ He missed a sitter in the final minutes of the game. 3. a person who poses, while someone paints or photographs him or her ◻ The sitter was his mother.

③ sitting /'sɪtɪŋ/ noun a time when a group of people eat together ◻ Take your seats for the second sitting.

④ sitting room /'sɪtɪŋ ruːm/ noun a comfortable room for sitting in. Synonym lounge sitting tenant /,sɪtɪŋ 'tenənt/ noun a person who is living in a property and paying rent for it when the property is sold situated /'sɪtʃueɪtɪd/ adj placed in a particular situation (formal)

① situation /,sɪtʃu'eɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. a position, the way in which something is placed ◻ What's your opinion of the company's present situation? ◻ I wonder how she got herself into this situation? 2. a place where something is ◻ The hotel is in a very pleasant situation by the sea. 3. a job (formal) ◻ I'm looking for a more permanent situation.

situation comedy /,sɪtʃueɪʃ(ə)n/ noun full form of sitcom /'kɒmədɪ/situations vacant /,sɪtʃueɪʃ(ə)nɒv/ 'veɪkənt/ noun a list of job vacancies in a newspaper

sit up /'sɪt ʌp/ verb 1. to sit with your back straight ○ Sit up straight! 2. to move from a lying to a sitting position ○ He's too weak to sit up. ○ He sat up in bed to eat his breakfast. 3. to delay going to bed or to go to bed later than usual ○ We sat up playing cards until 2 a.m.

sit-up /'sɪt ʌp/ noun an exercise where you lie on your back on the floor and then sit up keeping your legs on the floor (NOTE: The plural is sit-ups.)

① six /siks/ noun 1. the number 6 ○ He's six (years old). ○ We're having some people round for drinks at six (o'clock). ○ There are only six chocolates left in the box – who's eaten the rest? □ the six hundreds (600s) the years from 600 to 699 AD 2. (in cricket) a score of six runs for sending the ball over the boundary without it touching the ground ○ He scored a century, including four fours and two sixes.

six-pack /'siks pæk/ noun a pack containing six bottle or cans

① sixteen /,siks'ti:n/ noun the number 16 ○ He'll be sixteen next month. ○ The train leaves at seventeen sixteen (17.16). □ the sixteen hundreds (1600s) the years from 1600 to 1699

① sixteenth /siks'ti:nθ/ adj, noun referring to 16 ○ She came sixteenth in the race. ○ The sixteenth of July or July the sixteenth (July 16th). ○ Her sixteenth birthday is on Tuesday. □ the sixteenth century the years from 1500 to 1599

① sixth /siksθ/ adj referring to 6 ○ His office is on the sixth floor. ○ What is the sixth letter of the alphabet? ○ The sixth of August or August the sixth (August 6th). ○ Tomorrow is her sixth birthday. □ the sixth century the period from 500 to 599 AD ■ noun one part of six equal parts ○ Ten minutes is a sixth of an hour.

sixth form /'siksθ fɔ:m/ noun the final two years in a secondary school, with students between 16 and 18 years old sixth form college /,siksθ fɔ:m 'kɒlɪdʒ/ noun a college for students aged 16 and over, preparing them for exams that allow them to go to university sixth sense /siksθ 'sens/ noun the ability to feel that something has taken place or will take place, without using any of the five senses. Synonym intuition

① sixty /'sɪkssti/ noun the number 60 ○ She's sixty (years old). ○ The table cost more than sixty pounds (£60). □ she's in her sixties she's between 60 and 69 years old □ the

(nineteen) sixties (1960s) the years from 1960 to 1969

① size /saɪz/ noun the measurements of something, how big something is, or how many there are of something ○ Their garage is about the same size as our house. ○ The school has an Olympic size swimming pool. ○ He takes size ten in shoes. ○ What size collars do you take? ○ The size of the staff has doubled in the last two years.

sizeable /'saɪzəb(ə)l/ adj quite big size up /,saɪz 'ʌp/ verb to judge someone's qualities ○ She quickly sized him up.

sizzle /'sɪz(ə)l/ verb to make a sound like food cooking in oil or fat sizzling /'sɪzɪlɪŋ/ adj very hot (informal)

③ skate /skateɪt/ noun 1. a boot with sharp blades attached for sliding on ice or small wheels ○ a pair of skates □ to get or put your skates on to hurry (informal) ○ You'll have to get your skates on if you want to catch that train. ♦ ice skates, roller skates

2. a large flat fish with white flesh ○ I love sole but I've never eaten skate. (NOTE: The plural in this meaning is skate.) ■ verb to move wearing skates ○ She skated across the frozen lake. 2. □ to skate around something to try to avoid mentioning something ○ They skated around the subject of salaries.

skateboard /'skatebɔ:d/ noun a board with two pairs of wheels underneath, which you stand on to move about

③ skater /'sketər/ noun a person who goes on skates

③ skating /'sketɪŋ/ noun the sport of moving over a smooth surface on skates ○ We're going skating tomorrow.

skating rink /'sketɪŋ rɪŋk/ noun a special area for skating, or for playing games such as hockey on skates skeletal /'skelɪt(ə)l/ adj very thin, like a skeleton. Antonym obese

③ skeleton /'skelɪt(ə)n/ noun all the bones which make up a body ○ They found the skeleton of a rabbit in the garden shed. ○ He demonstrated joints using the skeleton in the biology lab. □ the skeleton in the cupboard an embarrassing secret that a family is trying to keep hidden skeleton key /,skelɪt(ə)n 'ki:/ noun a key which will fit several different doors in a building skeleton staff /'skelɪtn sta:f/ noun a few staff left to carry on with essential work while most of the workforce is away

③ sketch /sketʃ/ noun 1. a rough quick drawing ○ He made a sketch of the church. 2. a short comic situation on TV or radio or a short comic play ○ The show takes the form of a series of short sketches. (NOTE: The plural is sketches.) ■ verb to draw something quickly and roughly □ She was sketching the old church. ○ He sketched out his plan on the back of an envelope.

sketchbook /'sketʃbuk/ noun a book of drawing paper for sketching sketchmap /'sketʃmæp/ noun a rough map drawn by hand sketchpad /'sketʃpæd/ noun a pad of sheets of paper for sketching sketchy /'sketʃi/ adj not complete, not full. Synonym vague. Antonym detailed (NOTE: sketchier – sketchiest) skew /skju:/ noun □ on the skew not straight ■ verb to make information inaccurate or unbalanced ○ Not using a proper sample has skewed the results of the test. ○ Tax advantages were always skewed towards the highest earners.

skewed /skju:d/ adj unbalanced skewer /'skju:ə/ noun a long thin metal or wooden rod for putting through pieces of meat, fish or vegetables when cooking or grilling ○ She put some pieces of chicken and onion on the skewer. ■ verb to stick a long metal or wooden rod through something ○ He skewered bits of meat and green peppers and grilled them. ○ The fish was skewered on a stick. Synonym impale ski /ski:/ noun one of two long flat objects which are attached to your boots for sliding over snow ○ We always hire skis when we get to the ski resort. ○ Someone stole my new pair of skis. ■ verb to travel on skis ○ The mountain rescue team had to ski to the site of the avalanche. ○ We skied down to the bottom of the slope without falling. ○ She broke her arm skiing.

skid /skid/ noun a sideways slide in a vehicle ○ The car went into a skid and hit a lamp-post. ○ There were skid marks on the road. ■ verb to slide sideways in a vehicle suddenly because the wheels do not grip the surface ○ He skidded to a halt. ○ If you brake too hard on ice you're likely to skid. (NOTE: skidding – skidded) skier /'ski:ə/ noun a person who goes skiing skiff /skif/ noun a light rowing boat

③ skiing /'ski:n/ noun the sport of sliding on skis □ to go skiing to slide over snow on skis as a sport ○ We go skiing in Switzerland every winter.

skillful /'skilf(ə)l/ adj showing a lot of skill (NOTE: The US spelling is skillful.)

① skill /skil/ noun the ability to do something well ○ Portrait painting needs a lot of skill. ○ He acquired management skills through running his own business. ○ He's a craftsman of great skill.

① skilled /skild/ adj 1. being able to do something well, using a particular skill ○

She's a skilled therapist. ○ We need skilled programmers. 2. needing a particular skill ○ nursing and other skilled professions

skillet /'skilɪt/ noun US a frying pan skim /skim/ verb 1. to remove things floating on a liquid ○ Skim the soup to remove the fat on the surface. 2. to move quickly over the surface of something ○ Flies skimmed across the surface of the lake. 2. to read something quickly ○ Could you just skim it for mistakes? ○ I only had time to skim through the book on the train.

skimmed milk /skimd 'milk/ noun milk from which most of the fat has been removed (NOTE: The US term is skim milk.)

skimp /skimp/ verb not to give enough of something. Synonym stint. Antonym lavish skimp on /'skimp ɒn/ verb not to spend much money on something ○ They skimp on food.

skimpy /'skimpi/ adj small, not big enough (NOTE: skimpier – skimpiest)

① skin /skin/ noun 1. the outer surface of the body ○ The baby's skin is very smooth. □ to be just skin and bones to be extremely thin 2. an outer surface of a fruit or vegetable ○ This orange has a very thick skin. ○ You can cook these new potatoes with their skins on. 3. a thin layer on top of a liquid that has cooled down after being hot ○ I don't like the skin on the top of chocolate pudding. 4. □ to have a thick skin to be able to stand a lot of criticism (informal) ○ Luckily he has a thick skin or he would get very annoyed at what the tabloids say about him. □ by the skin of your teeth only just ○ He escaped from the enemy by the skin of his teeth. □ to jump out of your skin to be very frightened or surprised ○ The bang made her jump out of her skin. ■ verb to remove the skin from an animal or fish ○ Ask the fishmonger to skin the sole for you. (NOTE: skinning – skinned) skin-deep /,skin 'di:p/ adj on the surface, superficial skin-diver /'skin ,daɪvə/ noun a person who goes skin-diving skin-diving /'skin ,daɪvɪŋ/ noun the sport of swimming underwater using breathing apparatus skinhead /'skinhed/ noun a young man with very short hair or a shaved head, often considered as behaving in an aggressive manner

③ skinny /'skini/ adj very thin (NOTE: skinnier – skinniest) skint /skint/ adj with no money (informal) skin-tight /,skɪn 'taɪt/ adj fitting very closely to the body

① skip /skip/ verb 1. to run along partly hopping and partly jumping ○ The children skipped happily down the lane. 2. to jump over a rope which you turn over your head ○ The boys played football and the girls were skipping. 3. to miss part of something ○ She skipped the middle chapters and went on to read the end of the story. ○ I'm not hungry, I'll skip the pudding. (NOTE: skipping – skipped) ■ noun a large metal container for rubbish ○ The builders filled the skip with old bricks and stones.

③ skipper /'skɪpə/ noun 1. the captain of a ship ○ We reported to the skipper that there was water in the ship's engine room. 2. the captain of a team ○ He's the youngest skipper ever of the national rugby team. ■ verb to be the captain of a team (informal) ○ the youngest man ever to skipper the English rugby team skipping rope /'skɪpɪŋ rəʊp/ noun a rope which you jump over as you swing it over your head and under your feet (NOTE: Another US term is jump rope) skirmish /'skɜːmɪʃ/ noun a minor fight between opposite sides ○ There were several skirmishes between rival fans, but no serious fighting. (NOTE: The plural is skirmishes.) ■ verb to fight small battles with someone ○ The opposition was skirmishing with the government.

② skirt /skɜːt/ noun 1. a piece of clothing worn by women covering the lower part of the body from the waist down ○ She started wearing jeans to work, but was told to wear a skirt. 2. the lower part of a dress starting at the waist ■ verb 1. to go round ○ The main road skirts (round) the town. 2. not to treat thoroughly ○ He only skirted (round) the subject, and didn't deal with it in depth at all.

ski slope /'skiː sloop/ noun a specially prepared and marked slope for skiing down a mountain skive /skɪvə/ verb to avoid working (informal) skulk /skʌlk/ verb to creep about mysteriously because you are planning something wrong. Synonym lurk skull /skʌl/ noun the bones which are joined together to form the head (informal) skunk /skʌŋk/ noun a North American mammal with black and white fur, which sends out a liquid with a bad smell when it is attacked

① sky /skai/ noun a space above the earth which is blue during the day and where the moon and stars appear at night ○ What makes the sky blue? ○ It's going to be a beautiful day – there's not a cloud in the sky. ○ The wind carried the glider high up into the sky.

sky-blue /'skai 'bluː/ adj, noun (of) a bright light blue like the sky skydiving /'skai,daivɪŋ/ noun the sport of jumping out of a plane with a parachute sky-high /'skai 'hai/ adv very high □ to blow something sky-high to blow something up with explosives skylight /'skailɪt/ noun a window in a roof or ceiling skyline /'skailɪn/ noun the shape of buildings seen against the sky skyscraper /'skaiskrɪpə/ noun a very tall building slab /slæb/ noun a flat square or rectangular block of stone or concrete slack /slæk/ adj 1. not tight ○ The wind had dropped and the sails were slack. ○ The ropes are slack – pull on them to make them tight. Antonym taut 2. not busy ○ Business is slack at the end of the week. ○ January is always a slack period for us. 3. not working well ○ Slack workers will be penalised. (NOTE: slacker – slackest) ■ noun 1. a loose part of something such as a rope □ to take up the slack to tighten something up ○ If you pull on the rope it will take up the slack. ○ By reducing the numbers of staff, we will be able to take up some of the slack. 2. little pieces of coal ○ He threw some slack on the fire. ■ verb to be lazy, to do less work ○ Stop slacking, and get some work done!

slacken /'slækən/ verb 1. to loosen ○ As the rain started, she slackened the ropes round the tent. 2. to work less, to be less busy, to go slower ○ Trade slackened during January. ○ He slackened his pace as he turned the corner.

slacken off /,slæk 'ɒf/ verb to become less slack off /,slæk 'ɒf/ verb 1. to stop working (informal) ○ You can slack off now, as it's past six o'clock. 2. to become less ○ At last the rain started to slack off.

slacks /slæks/ noun trousers (dated) slag /slæg/ noun the waste material left after metal has been extracted from ore, or after coal has been mined slain /slɛɪn/ □ slay

slake /sleɪk/ verb □ to slake your thirst to drink to remove your thirst slalom /'slə:ləm/ noun a type of race where you have to zigzag fast between a series of posts slam /slæm/ verb 1. to bang a door shut ○ When he saw me, he slammed the door in my face. 2. to shut with a bang ○ The door slammed and I was locked out. 3. □ to slam on the brakes to apply the brakes fast when driving ○ He slammed on the brakes and just stopped in time to avoid an accident.

③ slander /'sla:ndə/ noun an untrue spoken statement which damages a person's reputation ○ to sue somebody for slander ○ What she said about me is slander. ■ verb to damage someone's reputation by saying untrue things about him or her ○ They slandered him at yesterday's meeting. Compare libel slanderous /'sla:nd(ə)rəs/ adj which could be slander

③ slang /'slæŋ/ noun popular words or phrases used by some groups of people, but which are not used in formal situations slanging match /'slæŋŋ mætʃ/ noun a bitter argument where two people call each other rude names slangy /'slæŋgi/ adj using popular language (informal) slant /'sla:nt/ noun 1. a slope ○ The garden is on a slant, which makes cutting the lawn difficult. □ on the slant sloping ○ The shelves were put up on the slant and had to be taken down. 2. a point of view ○ a TV programme with a teenage slant ○ We want to get a new slant on the problem. ■ verb 1. to slope ○ The path slants down the side of the hill. ○ The picture seems to be slanting to the right. 2. to show news or information in a biased way ○ The news was slanted to suit the government.

slanted /'sləntɪd/ adj 1. sloping 2. biased slanting /'sla:ntɪŋ/ adj which slopes slap /'slæp/ noun 1. a blow given with your hand flat ○ She gave him a slap in the face. □ a slap on the wrist a small punishment, a slight criticism ○ The department had a slap on the wrist from the inspectors, but nothing serious. 2. a friendly gesture ○ He congratulated her with a slap on the back. ■ verb 1. to hit someone or something with your hand flat ○ She slapped his face. 2. to tap someone or something as a friendly gesture ○ They all slapped him on the back to congratulate him. 3. to put something down flat on a surface ○ She slapped the notes down on the table. ○ They just slapped some paint on the wall to cover up the marks. (NOTE: slapping – slapped) ■ adv □ slap (bang) exactly in or into a particular position (informal) ○ He rode his bike slap into middle of the procession.

slapdash /'slæpdæʃ/ adj careless. Antonym meticulous slapstick /'slæpstɪk/ noun a rough comedy which involves such things as knocking people over and throwing water over them (NOTE: no plural) slap-up /'slæp ʌp/ adj (of a meal) good and expensive (informal)

slash /'slæʃ/ noun 1. a long cut with a knife ○ He had a nasty slash on his forearm. ○ She took a knife and made a slash across the painting. 2. a printing sign (/) used to show an alternative (NOTE: The plural is slashes.) ■ verb 1. to make a long cut with a knife ○ He slashed the painting with a kitchen knife. 2. to reduce a price or the number of something drastically ○ Prices have been slashed in all departments. ○ The management has slashed the number of staff.

slat /slæt/ noun a thin flat piece of wood

slate /'slɛɪt/ noun 1. a dark blue or grey stone which splits easily into thin sheets ○ Slate is used for making roofs. 2. a thin piece of this stone used to cover a roof ○ The slates were already piled up on the roof ready for fixing. 3. a list of candidates for a position ○ the Democratic slate in the state elections ■ verb to criticise someone or something sharply (informal) ○ The whole plan was slated by the chairman of the committee.

slaughter /'slɔ:tə/ noun 1. the killing of animals ○ These lambs will be ready for slaughter in a week or so. 2. the killing of many people ○ the wholesale slaughter of innocent civilians (NOTE: no plural) ■ verb 1. to kill animals for their meat 2. to kill many people or animals at the same time ○ Thousands of civilians were slaughtered by the advancing army.

slaughterhouse /'slɔ:təhaʊs/ noun a place where animals are killed for meat (dated). Synonym abattoir slave /'slɛiv/ noun a person who belongs to someone legally and works for him or her without pay ■ verb □ to slave (away) to work hard ○ Here am I slaving away over a hot stove, and you just sit and watch TV.

slavery /'slɛvəri/ noun 1. the state of being a slave ○ Girls were kidnapped and sold into slavery. 2. the buying and selling of slaves ○ In Britain, slavery was abolished in the 19th century.

slavish /'slɛvɪʃ/ adj without thinking or using any imagination slavishly /'slɛvɪʃli/ adv without thinking slay /'sleɪ/ verb to kill someone or something (formal or literary) (NOTE: slaying – slew /slu:/ – slain. Do not confuse with sleigh.)

sleaze /'sli:z/ noun behaviour which is disreputable sleazy /'sli:zi/ adj dirty or disreputable (NOTE: sleazier – sleaziest) sled /'sled/ noun US same as sledge sledge /'sledʒ/ noun a small vehicle with long pieces of wood or metal underneath, for sliding fast over snow ○ Children dragged their sledges to the top of the snow-covered hill. ■ verb to go on a sledge; to play at sliding on the snow on a sledge ○ The children were sledging down the hill. □ to go sledging to slide fast over snow on sledges as a game ○ We went sledging every day till the snow melted. (NOTE: [all senses] The US term is sled.)

sledgehammer /'sledʒhæmə/ noun a very large heavy hammer □ to use a sledge- hammer to crack a nut to use far too much effort in doing something sleek /sli:k/ adj 1. smooth, shiny and well-kept ○ An enormous sleek limousine drew up outside the hotel. ○ After dinner we walked across the sleek lawns to the river. 2. very confident, but not to be trusted ○ She gave us some sleek sales talk to try to get us interested in buying a mobile phone. ○ Sleek sales staff stood round the stand, handing out leaflets. (NOTE: sleeker – sleekest) ■ verb to make smooth ○ He sleeked back his hair.

① sleep /slip/ noun a rest usually at night with your eyes closed, when you are not conscious of what is happening ○ I need eight hours' sleep a night. ○ Try to get a good night's sleep – there's a lot of work to be done tomorrow. ○ He always has a short sleep after lunch. □ to go to sleep, to get to sleep to start sleeping ○ Don't make all that noise – Daddy's trying to get to sleep. ○ She put the light out and went to sleep. □ to send someone to sleep to make someone go to sleep ○ Her boring speeches would send anyone to sleep. □ to put someone to sleep to give someone an anaesthetic, before a medical operation □ to put an animal to sleep to kill an animal that is old or ill □ my foot has gone to sleep my foot has lost all feeling □ not to lose any sleep over something not to worry about something ○ It's such a tiny sum that I won't lose any sleep over it. ■ verb 1. to rest with your eyes closed not knowing what is happening around you ○ She never sleeps for more than six hours each night. ○ He slept through the whole of the TV news. ○ Don't make any noise – Daddy's trying to sleep. □ to sleep like a log to sleep very soundly (informal) ○ After his 12-mile walk he slept like a log. 2. □ a cottage that sleeps four a cottage with enough beds for four people sleep around /sli:p ə'raund/ verb to have sexual intercourse with various people (informal)

sleep deprivation /'slip deprɪ,veɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the practice of not allowing someone to have enough sleep sleepier /'sli:pə/ noun 1. a person who sleeps ○ Electrodes are attached to sleepers to record brain waves. □ he's a heavy sleeper he always sleeps deeply 2. a carriage on a train where passengers sleep on long journeys ○ The last two carriages of the train were sleepers. 3. an overnight train with sleeping cars ○ The Edinburgh sleeper leaves at 11.30 p.m. Synonym sleeping car 4. a heavy piece of wood on which rails are fixed ○ The track is closed because workmen are laying new sleepers.

sleep in /,sli:p 'in/ verb to sleep later than usual in the morning

③ sleeping /'sli:pɪŋ/ adj 1. who is asleep ○ The firemen picked up the sleeping children and carried them to safety. 2. referring to sleeping in bed □ we have to decide on the sleeping arrangements we have to decide how the bedrooms are going to be divided between guests ■ noun the state of being asleep or going to sleep ○ I'm always exhausted, so sleeping is never a problem for me.

Sleeping bag /'sli:pɪŋ bæg/ noun a comfortable warm bag for sleeping in, often used by campers

Sleeping car /'sli:pɪŋ ka:/ noun a carriage on a train with beds where passengers can sleep

Sleeping partner /,sli:pɪŋ 'pa:tner/ noun a partner who has a share in a business but does not work in it

Sleeping pill /'sli:pɪŋ pil/, sleeping tablet /'sli:pɪŋ ,tablət/ noun medicine which makes you go to sleep

Sleeping policeman /,sli:pɪŋ pə'li:smən/ noun a hump in the road to stop cars going too fast (informal) sleepless /'sli:ples/ adj with no sleep sleeplessness /'sli:plesnəs/ noun a lack of sleep, not being able to get to sleep. Synonym insomnia sleep off /,sli:p 'ɒf/ verb to get rid of an illness by sleeping sleep on /'sli:p ɒn/ verb □ to sleep on it to sleep, and make an important decision in the morning ○ Let me sleep on it, and I'll give you my answer tomorrow morning.

sleepover /'sli:p,əʊvə/ noun a child's party involving an overnight stay at somebody else's house sleepwalking /'sli:pwɔ:kɪŋ/ noun getting up and walking about even though you are still asleep

② sleepy /'sli:pɪ/ adj 1. feeling ready to go to sleep ○ The children had a busy day – they were very sleepy by 8 o'clock. ○ The injection will make you feel sleepy. ○ If you feel sleepy, don't try to drive the car. ○ Sitting in front of the TV made him sleepier and sleepier. 2. quiet and where nothing exciting happens ○ a sleepy little country town (NOTE: sleepier – sleepiest)

sleet /sli:t/ noun snow mixed with rain ○ The temperature fell and the rain turned to sleet. ■ verb □ it is sleetling it is snowing and raining at the same time ○ As she went out it began sleetling.

② sleeve /sli:v/ noun 1. the part of a piece of clothing which covers your arm ○ The sleeves on this shirt are too long. ○ He was wearing a blue shirt with short sleeves. □ to keep something up your sleeve to have a plan which you are keeping secret (informal)

□ to laugh up your sleeve to laugh in secret at something 2. a cardboard cover for a record ○ He designed some of the sleeves for the Rolling Stones.

-sleeved /slɪ:vɪd/ suffix making adjs having sleeves of a particular style sleeveless /'slɪ:vɛləs/ adj with no sleeves sleigh /sleɪ/ noun a large sledge pulled by horses or reindeer (NOTE: Do not confuse with slay.)

sleight of hand /,sleɪt əv 'hænd/ noun the quick movements of a conjurer when performing a card trick. Synonym dexterity slender /'slendər/ adj 1. long and thin ○ a slender stalk 2. tall and slim ○ a girl with a slender waist ○ She's wants to be slender, without being too skinny. 3. not large ○ The police held out only a slender hope that the killer would be caught. ○ The government won the vote by only the slenderest of margins. (NOTE: slenderer – slenderest)

slept /slept/ ○ sleep

slew /slu:/ ○ slay

② slice /sλɪs/ noun 1. a thin piece cut off something to eat ○ Can you cut some more slices of bread? ○ Have a slice of chocolate cake. ○ Would you like another slice of chicken? 2. (in sports) a way of hitting a ball, which makes it go in the wrong direction ■ verb 1. to cut into slices ○ She stood at the table slicing the joint for lunch. □ the best thing since sliced bread the most wonderful new invention in the world (informal) 2. to hit a ball so that it spins off to one side ○ He sliced the ball into the net.

sliced bread /sλaɪst 'breɪd/ noun a loaf of bread which has already been cut into slices before you buy it slick /sλɪk/ adj done in a clever way which tricks people ○ The politician was a very slick talker. ○ We didn't like his slick manner. (NOTE: slicker – slickest)

slid /slɪd/ ○ slide

③ slide /sλaɪd/ noun 1. a slippery metal or plastic structure for children to slide down ○ There are swings and a slide in the local playground. 2. a small piece of film which can be projected onto a screen ○ She put the screen up and showed us the slides of her last trip. ○ There will be a slide show in the village hall. 3. a steady fall ○ The government must act to stop the slide in the pound. 4. a clip which goes into the hair to hold it in place ○ She had two red slides in her hair. ■ verb 1. to move smoothly over a slippery surface ○ The drawer slides in and out easily. ○ The car slid to a stop. ○ The children were sliding on the ice when it broke. 2. to move something smoothly ○ He slid the money over the table. 3. to move down steadily ○ The pound slid after interest rates were lowered. (NOTE: sliding – slid /slɪd/)

sliding scale /,slɪdɪŋ 'skeɪl/ noun a system of marks or points which vary according to a scale

② slight /slɪt/ adj 1. (of people) small and thin ○ Their daughter's a slight young girl. 2. not very big ○ All you could see was a slight movement of the cat's tail. ○ There was a slight improvement in his condition during the night. ○ She wasn't the slightest bit nervous. (NOTE: slighter – slightest) ■ noun an insult ○ I treat that remark as a slight on our reputation. Synonym snub

① slightly /'slɪtlɪ/ adv to only a small extent ○ He was only slightly hurt in the car crash. ○ The American bank is offering a slightly better interest rate. ○ I only know him slightly. Synonym somewhat. Antonym considerably

② slim /slɪm/ adj 1. thin, not fat ○ a slim, fair-haired boy ○ How do you manage to stay so slim? ○ She looks slimmer in that dress. 2. narrow ○ a slim skirt ○ a slim gold bracelet 3. small ○ Their chances of survival in the snowstorm are slim. (NOTE: slimmer – slimmest) ■ verb to diet in order to become thin ○ She started slimming before her summer holidays. (NOTE: slimming – slimmed) slime /slaim/ noun a slippery substance, which covers surfaces slimmer /'slɪmər/ noun a person who is trying to lose weight slimming /'slɪmɪŋ/ noun the process of trying to lose weight, especially by eating less ■ adj 1. intended to help with losing weight ○ a slimming guide 2. making someone look slimmer ○ That dress is very slimming.

slimy /'slɪmi/ adj 1. unpleasantly slippery ○ Watch out, the rocks are slimy. ○ What's this slimy mess at the bottom of the fridge? 2. unpleasant, not to be trusted ○ I wouldn't trust him an inch, he's a particularly slimy individual. (NOTE: slimier – slimiest) sling /sλɪŋ/ noun 1. a triangular bandage attached round your neck, used to support an injured arm and prevent it from moving ○ He's going around with his arm in a sling. 2. an apparatus made of ropes and pulleys for lifting and carrying goods ○ They arranged a sling to lift the piano into the upstairs flat. 3. a type of leather loop, used for throwing stones ○ David threw a stone with his sling, and killed Goliath. ■ verb 1. to throw ○ Little boys were slingling snowballs at passing cars. ○ He slung his briefcase into the back of the car. 2. to hang something up or to throw something into a place where it hangs ○ They slung the electric cable between the posts. ○ She slung her bag over her shoulder. ○ He slung his jacket over the back of his chair. (NOTE: slinging – slung /sλʌŋ/) slink /slɪŋk/ verb to creep about in order to avoid being noticed (NOTE: slinking – slink /slɪŋk/)

② slip /slɪp/ noun 1. a mistake ○ He made a couple of slips in adding up the bill. □ a slip of the tongue a mistake in speaking 2. a small piece of paper ○ As she opened the book a small slip of paper fell out. ○ He handed her the green slip with the reference number on it. 3. a small person ○ She was just a slip of a girl. 4. women's underwear like a thin dress or skirt, worn under other clothes ○ She bought a black slip. 5. □ to give someone the slip to escape from someone ○ Somewhat the escaped prisoners managed to give the police the slip. ■ verb 1. to slide and fall by mistake ○ He slipped and dropped all his shopping. ○ He was using the electric saw when it hit something hard and slipped. 2. to slide out of something which is holding you tight ○ The dog slipped its lead and ran away. 3. to push something without being seen ○ The postman slipped the letters through the letter box. ○ He slipped the keys into his pocket. 4. to go down to a lower level ○ Profits slipped badly last year. ○ The pound slipped on the foreign exchanges. 5. to go quickly ○ I'll just slip down to the post office with this letter. (NOTE: slipping – slipped)

slip into /slip 'into/ verb to put on clothes quickly slip on /slip 'on/ verb 1. to slip because you step on something ○ He slipped on the wet leaves and broke his ankle. 2. to put clothes on quickly ○ She slipped on her dressing gown and ran into the street.

slip-on /slip 'on/ adj, noun a shoe which can be put on easily, and has no laces slipped disc /slɪpt 'disk/ noun a painful state where one of the discs in the spine has moved out of place slipper /'slɪpə/ noun a soft indoor shoe slippery /'slɪp(ə)ri/ adj so smooth that one can easily slip and fall slippery slope /'slɪpəri sləʊp/ noun a dangerous situation that can get very bad if it is not stopped slip road /'slip rəʊd/ noun a small road which leads to or from a motorway slipshod /'slɪpʃəd/ adj badly done, careless slip up /,slip 'ʌp/ verb to make a silly mistake (informal) slip-up /'slip ʌp/ noun a silly mistake (informal) Synonym blunder (NOTE: The plural is slip-ups.)

slipway /'slɪpwےɪ/ noun a smooth slope on which ships are built or repaired slit /slɪt/ noun a long cut or narrow opening ○ She peeped through a slit in the curtains. ■ verb to cut a slit ○ He slit open the envelope with a kitchen knife. ○ They robbed him of all his money and then slit his throat. (NOTE: slitting – slit) slither /'slɪðə/ verb 1. to slide about in various directions ○ Cars were slithering all over the place on the icy streets. 2. to move over a surface like a snake ○ He slithered under a bush to hide.

sliver /'slɪvə/ noun a long thin piece slob /slɒb/ noun a lazy, dirty person (insult) sllobber /'slɒbə/ verb to let saliva come out of your mouth slog /slog/ noun a difficult job ○ Building the wall was quite a slog. ○ It's a hard slog from here to the top of the mountain. ■ verb to walk with difficulty ○ They had to slog through miles of jungle to get to the temple slogan /'sləʊgən/ noun a phrase which is easy to remember and is used in publicity, e.g. for a product or for a political party slog at /'sləʊg ət/, slog away at /,sləʊg ə'wei ət/ verb to work hard at something difficult ○ He slogged away at his Latin and passed the exam.

slop /slop/ verb (of liquid) to spill (NOTE: slopping – slopped)

③ slope /sləʊp/ noun 1. a slanting surface or slanting piece of ground ○ The land rises in a gentle slope to the church. ○ They stopped halfway down the slope. 2. the angle at which something slopes ○ The hill has a slope of 1 in 10, so put the car in low gear. ■ verb to slant upwards or downwards ○ The path slopes upwards. Synonym incline sloping /'sləʊpɪŋ/ adj which slopes sloppy /'slɒpi/ adj 1. untidy ○ He's such a sloppy eater, he's made a mess all over his pullover. 2. loose and untidy ○ She was wearing a sloppy jumper. 3. badly done ○ They said her work was sloppy and had to be done again. 4. stupidly sentimental ○ She's a sloppy old dog, she's no good at guarding. ○ What a sloppy film! (NOTE: sloppier – sloppiest) slosh /slɒʃ/ verb 1. to splash ○ We sloshed through the mud to get to the cottage. 2. to hit someone or something (informal) ○ She suddenly sloshed him with her umbrella.

slot /slɒt/ noun 1. a long thin hole ○ A coin has got stuck in the slot of the parking meter. ○ Put the system disk into the slot on the front of your computer. 2. a set time available for doing something ○ The airline has asked for more takeoff and landing slots at the airport. ■ verb □ to slot into to fit into a slot ○ The car radio slots easily into the dashboard.

sloth /sloth/ noun 1. laziness 2. a South American mammal, similar to a bear, which moves very slowly slot machine /slɒt mə,ʃɪn/ noun 1. a machine for gambling 2. a machine which provides something such as drinks, food or cigarettes when you put a coin into a slot slouch /sləʊtʃ/ verb to stand or to sit in a bad position, with bent shoulders □ to slouch along to walk bending forwards slough /sləʊ/ noun a marshy place (literary) □ The guns were bogged down in the slough of the battlefield. □ verb (of a snake) to lose its skin □ A snake sloughs its skin each year.

slowly /'sləv(ə)nli/ adj untidy and dirty (offensive) Synonym careless

① slow /sləʊəl/ adj 1. needing a long time to do something □ Luckily, the car was only going at a slow speed. □ She is the slowest walker of the group. □ The company is very slow at answering my letters. □ Sales got off to a slow start but picked up later. 2. showing a time which is earlier than the right time □ The office clock is four minutes slow. 3. not quick to learn □ He's the slowest in the class, so he gets extra tuition. □ to be slow on the uptake not to understand something quickly (informal) □ verb to go slowly □ The procession slowed as it reached the cathedral. □ adv not fast □ to go slow (of workers) to protest by working slowly or driving slowly □ They are threatening to go slow if their demands are not met.

slowcoach /'sləʊkəʊtʃ/ noun a person who is slower than the others (informal) (NOTE: The US term is slowpoke.)

② slow down /,sləʊ 'daʊn/ verb 1. to go more slowly □ The van had to slow down as it came to the traffic lights. □ Please slow down, I can't keep up with you. 2. to make something go more slowly □ The snow slowed the traffic down on the motorway. 3. to work less hard □ You should slow down a bit – you're doing too much.

slowdown /'sləʊdaʊn/ noun a slowing down of business activity

② slowly /'sləʊli/ adv at a slow speed □ Luckily, the car was going very slowly when it hit the fence. □ The group walked slowly round the exhibition. □ Speak more slowly so that everyone can understand. Antonym quickly □ slowly but surely gradually slow motion /sləʊ 'mæʊʃ(ə)n/ noun showing a film at a slower speed than it was filmed at, so that the action seems to have slowed down sludge /slʌdʒ/ noun 1. soft muddy material in a liquid □ There's some black sludge at the bottom of the petrol tank. 2. the thick soft part of sewage slug /slʌg/ noun 1. a common garden animal like a snail with no shell □ Slugs have eaten all my lettuces. 2. a small bullet (informal) □ A slug from the rifle hit the wall above my head. □ verb to hit someone a heavy blow with your fist (informal) □ He slugged her and she fell to the ground. (NOTE: slugging – slugged) sluggish /'slʌgɪʃ/ adj 1. reacting slowly 2. slow-moving □ a sluggish stream. Antonym fast-flowing sluice /slu:s/ noun a gate which closes a channel for water, especially through a dam □ They opened the sluices to release the water behind the dam. □ verb to wash something with lots of water □ You'll have to sluice out the pig sty. □ She sluiced the dirty bucket under the tap.

slum /slʌm/ noun a crowded, dirty district inside a large town. □ shanty town slumber /'slʌmbəl/ (literary) noun sleep □ His peaceful slumbers were rudely disturbed by the telephone. □ verb to sleep □ The three little children were slumbering peacefully in their beds.

slump /slʌmp/ noun 1. a rapid fall □ There has been a slump in sales. 2. a period of economic collapse with high unemployment and loss of trade □ Economists argued about the reasons for the slump. □ the Slump the world economic crisis of 1929–33 □ verb 1. to lose value fast or reduce suddenly □ The pound slumped on the foreign exchange markets. 2. to sit or lie down clumsily or heavily □ He sat slumped on a chair doing his homework. □ At the end of the day, she just slumped down onto the sofa.

slung /slʌŋ/ □ sling

slur /slɜ:/ noun 1. an insult □ The report cast a slur on his integrity. 2. (in music) the action of running several musical notes together 3. a mark on a musical score to show that notes should run into each other □ verb 1. to speak words indistinctly □ You could tell he had been taking drugs by the way he slurred his words. 2. (in music) to play several notes without a break between them □ The series of notes should be slurred here. (NOTE: slurring – slurred) slurp /slɜ:p/ verb to drink and make a noise slush /slʌʃ/ noun 1. melting snow □ The snow has started to melt and the roads are covered with slush. 2. sentimental writing (informal) □ Her latest novel is just slush. (NOTE: no plural) slush fund /'slʌʃ fʌnd/ noun money kept secretly to give to people as bribes, to persuade them to do what you want slushy /'slʌʃi/ adj 1. covered with melting snow □ The path is slushy and slippery. 2. very sentimental (informal) □ She sits on the sofa all day reading slushy novels.

sly /sli/ adj cunning and slightly dishonest □ on the sly without anyone knowing □ She transferred all the money to her Swiss account on the sly.

slyly /'slalɪ/ adv in a sly way smack /smæk/ noun 1. an act of hitting someone, especially a child, with your hand flat ○ If you pull the cat's tail you'll get a smack. 2. a loud kiss (informal) ■ verb 1. to hit someone with your hand flat ○ She smacked the little girl for being rude. 2. to put something down noisily ○ She smacked the report down on the table and walked out of the room. □ to smack your lips to make a loud noise with your lips to show you are hungry or would like to have something ○ She smacked her lips as he mentioned dessert. 3. to show signs of something ○ The whole affair smacks of fraud. ■ adv straight, directly ○ The bus ran smack into a tree.

① small /smɔ:l/ adj 1. little ○ Small cars are more economical than large ones. ○ The house is too big for us, so we're selling it and buying a smaller one. ○ She only paid a small amount for that clock. ○ The guidebook isn't small enough to carry in your pocket. ○ These trousers are already too small for him. 2. young ○ Fireworks can frighten small children. 3. □ a small fortune a lot of money ○ Those shoes cost me a small fortune. ○ She earns a small fortune selling postcards. (NOTE: smaller – smallest) ■ noun □ the small of the back the middle part of the back below and between the shoulder blades ○ Something is tickling me in the small of my back.

small business /smɔ:l 'bɪznɪs/ noun a little company with a low turnover and few employees small businessman /smɔ:l 'bɪznɪsmæn/ noun a man who runs a small business small change /smɔ:l 'tʃeindʒ/ noun coins, especially ones with a low value small fry /'smɔ:l frə/ noun unimportant people (informal) smallholder /'smɔ:l'həʊldə/ noun a person who owns a smallholding smallholding /'smɔ:l'həʊldɪŋ/ noun a small farm, under 20 hectares in area, usually run as a family business small hours /smɔ:l 'aʊəz/ plural noun early in the morning small intestine /smɔ:l ɪn'testɪn/ noun the top section of the intestines, leading down from the stomach smallpox /'smɔ:l'pɒks/ noun formerly a very serious, usually fatal, contagious disease, with a severe rash which leaves many small scars on the skin small print /'smɔ:l print/ noun words printed in very small size, such as the conditions on the back of a contract small-scale /smɔ:l skeɪl/ adj working in a small way, with few staff and not much money □ a small-scale enterprise a small business. Compare large-scale small screen /smɔ:l 'skri:n/ noun television, as opposed to cinema (informal) small talk /'smɔ:l tɔ:k/ noun informal conversation small-time /'smɔ:l taim/ adj not very important and not very successful smarmy /'smɔ:mi/ adj polite but not sincere (informal)

② smart /smɑ:t/ adj 1. well-dressed or elegant ○ A smart young man asked me if he could use my mobile phone. ○ He looked very smart in his uniform. 2. clever ○ It was smart of her to note the car's number plate. ○ He's the smartest of the three brothers. 3. (of a blow) sharp ○ She gave a smart knock on the door. 4. rapid ○ The horse set off at a smart pace. □ look smart! hurry up! (informal) ■ verb to hurt with a burning feeling ○ The place where I burnt my hand is still smarting. ■ noun a sharp pain from a blow ○ He remembered the smart of the slap on his cheek.

smart card /'smɑ:t ka:d/ noun a credit card with a microchip, used for withdrawing money from cash machines or buying things smarten up /,smɑ:t(ə)n 'ʌp/ verb to make someone or something look tidier or more attractive □ to smarten yourself up to make yourself look smarter ○ You'd better smarten yourself up for the interview.

smartly /'smɑ:tli/ adv 1. in a smart way ○ a smartly dressed young man ○ He dresses very smartly. 2. with a sharp blow ○ She knocked smartly on the door and went in.

smash /smæʃ/ verb 1. to break into pieces ○ He dropped the plate and it smashed to pieces. 2. to break something to pieces ○ Demonstrators smashed the windows of police cars. 3. to break a record, to do better than a record ○ She smashed the world record. ○ Six records were smashed at the Olympics. 4. to go violently ○ The train smashed into the car. ○ The crowd smashed through the railings. 5. (in games like tennis) to play a fast stroke, sending the ball down to the ground (NOTE: smashing – smashed) ■ noun 1. the sound of something breaking into pieces ○ We could hear the smash of crockery from the restaurant. 2. a bad accident ○ Six people are feared killed in the train smash. 3. (in games like tennis) a fast stroke, sending the ball down to the ground smash hit /smæʃ 'hit/ noun a play, film or song which is very popular smashing /'smæʃɪŋ/ adj very good, fantastic (dated informal) Synonym wonderful. Antonym dreadful smash up /,smæʃ 'ʌp/ verb to break everything in a place. Synonym wreck smattering /'smæt(ə)rɪŋ/ noun a small amount smear /smiə/ noun 1. a dirty mark ○ Waiter, there's a lipstick smear on this cup!

2. a small amount of something put on glass for examining under a microscope 3. words about someone which are not true but which are meant to harm his or her reputation ○ The report about my wife was just a dirty smear.

■ verb 1. to spread something roughly over a surface ○ She smeared glue all over the piece of wood or she smeared the piece of wood with glue. ○ How did your shirt get smeared with paint? 2. to make dirty marks ○ He smeared the kitchen table with his dirty fingers. 3. to hurt someone's reputation by saying things which are not true ○ The report was just an attempt to smear her.

smear campaign /'smiə kæm,peɪn/ noun a campaign to discredit someone by spreading gossip about his or her private life smear test /'smiə test/ noun a test for cancer of the passage leading to a woman's womb

② smell /smel/ noun 1. one of the five senses, which you can feel through your nose ○ Animals have a better sense of smell than humans. ○ These dogs have a very keen sense of smell and can sniff out even a minute quantity of drugs. 2. something which you can sense with your nose ○ I love the smell of coffee coming from the restaurant. ○ He can't stand the smell of fried onions. ○ There's a smell of burning or there's a burning smell coming from the kitchen. ○ She noticed a smell of gas downstairs. 3. an unpleasant thing which you can sense with your nose ○ There's a smell or a funny smell or a nasty smell in the shed. ■ verb 1. to notice the smell of something ○ Can you smell gas? ○ Wild animals can smell humans. ○ My nose is blocked – I can't smell anything. □ to smell a rat to suspect that something wrong is happening (informal) ○ Why is he so generous all of a sudden? – I smell a rat! 2. to make a smell ○ I don't like cheese which smells too strong. ○ What's for dinner? – it smells very good! ○ There's something which smells funny in the bathroom. ○ It smelt of gas in the kitchen. 3. to bring your nose close to something to smell it ○ She bent down to smell the snowdrops. (NOTE: smelling – smelled or smelt /smelɪt/) smelly /'smeli/ adj which has a nasty smell. Antonym fragrant (NOTE: smellier – smelliest)

smelt /smelɪt/ □ smell

① smile /smail/ noun a way of showing that you are pleased, by turning your mouth up at the corners ○ The dentist gave me a friendly smile. ○ She had a big smile as she told them the good news. Antonym frown ■ verb to show that you are pleased by turning your mouth up at the corners ○ That girl has just smiled at me. ○ Everyone smile please – I'm taking a picture!

smiley face /'smaili (feɪs)/ noun a round face with a smile produced as a computer icon or as a sequence of characters, e.g. :-) means happy smirk /smɜ:k/ noun an unpleasant smile, showing that you think you are better than someone else ○ He brought his winning lottery ticket to the office and showed it to her with a smirk. ■ verb to give a smirk ○ She smirked as the other girls all heard they'd lost their jobs.

smock /smɒk/ noun a long loose overall worn over clothes to protect them smog /smɒg/ noun pollution of the atmosphere in towns, caused by warm damp air combined with waste gases from cars

② smoke /smoʊk/ noun 1. a white, grey or black product formed of small particles, given off by something that is burning ○ The restaurant was full of cigarette smoke. ○ Clouds of smoke were pouring out of the upstairs windows. ○ Two people died from inhaling toxic smoke. ○ Smoke detectors are fitted in all the rooms. 2. the time when you are smoking a cigarette ○ Cigarettes aren't allowed in the office, so everyone goes outside for a quick smoke. ○ I'm dying for a smoke! ■ verb 1. to give off smoke ○ Two days after the fire, the ruins of the factory were still smoking. □ the chimney smokes the fire sends smoke into the room instead of taking it up the chimney 2. to breathe in smoke from your cigarette, cigar or pipe ○ Everyone was smoking even though the signs said 'no smoking'. ○ She doesn't smoke much. ○ You shouldn't smoke if you want to play football. ○ I've never seen her smoking a cigar before. □ he smokes like a chimney he smokes a lot of cigarettes 3. to preserve food such as meat, fish, bacon or cheese by hanging it in the smoke from a fire ○ a factory where they smoke fish □ to go up in smoke 1. to be burnt ○ His entire art collection went up in smoke in the fire. 2. to fail, not to work ○ All her plans for buying a bigger house have gone up in smoke.

smoker /'smoʊkə/ noun a person who smokes □ he's a heavy smoker he smokes a lot of cigarettes ○ He was a heavy smoker all his life.

smokescreen /'smoʊk,skri:n/ noun something said or done to mislead somebody

② smoking /smoʊkɪŋ/ noun the action of smoking cigarettes, cigars or a pipe □ 'no smoking' do not smoke here ○ I always sit in the 'no smoking' part of the restaurant.

smoky /'sməʊki/ adj 1. full of smoke ○ a smoky bar 2. of the colour of smoke ○ The car windows are smoky grey.

② smooth /smu:ð/ adj 1. with no bumps, with no uneven surface ○ The smooth surface of a polished table. ○ The baby's skin is very smooth. ○ Velvet has a smooth side and a rough side. Antonym rough 2. with no jolts or sudden movements ○ Dirt in the fuel tank can disrupt the smooth running of the engine. ○ We had a very smooth ride. 3. too polite and attentive, in a way that makes you distrust someone (NOTE: smoother – smoothest) ■ verb 1. to make something smooth with a tool or with your hand ○ The edge of the table needs smoothing, it's still quite rough. ○ She smoothed the sheets and adjusted the pillows. □ to smooth the way for someone or something to make things easy for someone or something ○ The retiring president cut taxes to smooth the way for his successor. □ to smooth things over to settle an argument ○ After the quarrel, I called round at her house to try and smooth things over. 2. to spread something gently over a surface ○ Smooth the lotion over your face and let it dry.

smoothie /'smu:ði/ noun 1. a charming man who is good at persuading people to do what he wants 2. a drink made with milk, fruit, yoghurt or ice cream smoothly /'smu:ðli/ adv in a smooth way. Synonym easily smother /'smʌðə/ verb 1. to kill someone by stopping them from breathing ○ They took the kittens and smothered them. ○ Never put a pillow over someone's face – you may smother them! 2. to cover something completely ○ a chocolate cake simply smothered in cream ○ The firemen put out the fire by smothering it with foam. □ to smother someone with affection or love to show too much love towards someone, especially your children ○ As a child he was brought up by his aunts, who smothered him with affection. 3. □ to smother a yawn to hide the fact that you are yawning, so that people will not think you are bored smoulder /'smouldə/ verb 1. to burn slowly ○ The incense sticks smouldered in the entrance to the temple. 2. (of emotion) to be strong but hidden □ to be smouldering with rage to be extremely angry but try not to show it (NOTE: [all senses] The US spelling is smolder.)

SMS noun a system for sending text messages between mobile phones smudge /smʌdʒ/ noun a dirty mark ○ There is a smudge on the top corner of the photograph. ○ He had a smudge of lipstick on his cheek. ■ verb to make a dirty mark, such as by rubbing ink which is not dry ○

Don't touch the artwork until it's dry, otherwise you'll smudge it.

smug /smʌg/ adj satisfied with yourself (NOTE: smugger – smuggest) smuggle /smʌgl/ verb 1. to take goods into a country without declaring them to customs ○ They tried to smuggle cigarettes into the country. ○ We had to smuggle the spare parts over the border. 2. to take something into or out of a place illegally ○ The knives were smuggled into the prison by a someone visiting a prisoner. ○ We'll never know how they smuggled the letter out.

smuggler /smʌglə/ noun a person who smuggles smuggling /smʌglɪŋ/ noun taking goods illegally into a country smugly /'smʌgli/ adv in a smug way

smut /smʌt/ noun 1. a small piece of black dirt ○ She hung the sheets out to dry and they got covered with smuts. ○ I got a smut in my eye from standing close to the bonfire. 2. stories about sex, considered as unpleasant ○ The newspaper seems to be full of smut these days. (NOTE: no plural in this meaning) 3. a disease of plants, which covers the plants with black spots ○ You need to spray the wheat against smut. (NOTE: no plural in this meaning)

smutty /'smʌti/ adj referring unpleasantly to sex (NOTE: smuttier – smuttiest)

③ snack /snæk/ noun a light meal, a small amount of food ○ We didn't have time to stop for a proper lunch, so we just had a snack on the motorway. ■ verb to eat a snack ○ She never eats proper meals, she just snacks all the time.

④ snack bar /'snæk ba:/ noun a small simple restaurant where you can have a light meal snag /snæg/ noun 1. a little problem, a thing which prevents you from doing something ○ We've run into a snag: there are no flights to the island on Sundays. ○ The only snag is that he's not a very good driver. 2. a place where a piece of clothing has been caught on a sharp point ○ There's a snag in your jumper. 3. a sharp point sticking out of something ○ She tore her coat on a snag in the fence. ■ verb to catch and tear your clothes on a sharp point ○ She snagged her coat getting through the hedge. (NOTE: snagging – snagged) snail /sneɪl/ noun a common small animal that has a spiral-shaped shell on its back and moves very slowly □ at a snail's pace extremely slowly ○ Negotiations over the sale of the flat have been progressing at a snail's pace.

snail mail /'sneɪl meɪl/ noun mail sent using the postal system, rather than being sent electronically as email

③ snake /sneɪk/ noun a long thin animal which has no legs and moves along the ground by wriggling ○ Is this snake safe to handle? ■ verb to bend and twist ○ The Great Wall of China snakes over the mountains.

snakes and ladders /,sneɪks ən 'lædəz/ noun a children's board game, played with dice, in which landing on a ladder moves you forward and landing on a snake moves you back

③ snap /snæp/ noun 1. a photograph taken quickly without special equipment (informal) ○ She showed me an old black-and-white snap of the house. ○ He took a lot of snaps of his children. 2. a card game where you shout 'snap' if two similar cards are played at the same time ○ Do you want a game of snap? ○ They played snap all afternoon. ■ adj sudden ○ They carried out a snap check or a snap inspection of the passengers' luggage. ○ The government called a snap election. ■ verb 1. to break sharply with a dry noise ○ The branches snapped as he walked through the wood. 2. to move or be moved with a sudden sharp noise □ to snap your fingers to make a clicking noise with your middle finger and thumb ○ They sat snapping their fingers in time to the music. □ to snap into place to make a click when fitting together ○ Push gently on the surface until it snaps into place. □ to snap out of it to stop being depressed (informal) ○ He told her to snap out of it. 3. to say something in a sharp angry tone ○ He was tired and irritable, and snapped at the children. ○ The manager snapped at the shop assistant, but it wasn't her fault.

snap decision /snæp dr'sɪʒ(ə)n/ noun a decision taken hurriedly

snap fastener /'snæp, fæs(ə)nə/ noun a little metal fastener for clothes, in two parts which you press to attach together. Also called popper, press stud snappy /'snæpi/ adj 1. sharp and fashionable (dated informal) ○ She's wearing a very snappy outfit. 2. □ make it snappy!, look snappy! do it quickly! (informal) ○ Make it snappy, there's a policeman coming! 3. irritable, short-tempered ○ He tends to be snappy towards the end of the day. (NOTE: snappier – snappiest) snapshot /'snæpʃtɒf/ noun a photograph taken quickly without special equipment snap up /,sneɪp 'ʌp/ verb to buy quickly

snare /sneɪə/ noun 1. a trap for catching animals made with a loop of wire which is pulled tight ○ He caught a rabbit in the snare. 2. a trap ○ His offer of a well-paid job in Luxembourg was just a snare. ■ verb to catch with a snare ○ We snared three rabbits.

snarl /snɔ:l/ noun 1. an angry growl ○ As she opened the door of the cage she heard a snarl. 2. a tangle or knot ○ Her hair is so full of snarls that it is difficult to comb. ■ verb 1. to growl angrily ○ The leopard snarled as he approached its cage. ○ 'Take your money, and get out' he snarled. 2. snarl, snarl up to make something tangled ○ He managed to snarl up all the computer cables. 3. snarl, snarl up to block something, especially traffic ○ The traffic was snarled up from Hyde Park Corner to Marble Arch.

snarl-up /'sna:l ʌp/ noun a complicated traffic jam

snatch /sna:tʃ/ verb to grab something rapidly ○ He came beside her on his bike and snatched her handbag. ○ I didn't have time for a proper meal, but I snatched a sandwich. ○ She snatched a few hours' sleep in the transit lounge. ■ noun a little piece of something heard ○ In the evening, I heard snatches of song from across the lake. (NOTE: The plural is snatches.)

sneak /sni:k/ verb 1. to go quietly without being seen ○ She sneaked into the room. ○ The burglar sneaked up to the house, hidden by the trees. □ to sneak up on someone to creep up behind someone without being noticed 2. to tell an adult that another child has done something wrong (informal) ○ He promised not to sneak on me to my mum. ■ noun a person who tells an adult what another child has done (informal) ○ You promised not to say anything, you little sneak! Synonym informer sneakers /'sni:kəz/ plural noun US soft sports shoes with rubber soles ○ She came to work in sneakers.

sneaking /'sni:kɪŋ/ adj secret and not very certain sneaky /'sni:ki/ adj deceitful and secret. Synonym sly

sneer /'sniə/ noun a sarcastic, unpleasant smile ○ He held the whip in his hand and looked at her with a sneer. ■ verb to give someone a sarcastic smile or to speak in a contemptuous way ○ He sneered at her attempts to speak French. ○ You shouldn't sneer at her clothes – they're by the best designers and are very expensive.

sneeze /sni:z/ noun a reflex action to blow air suddenly out through your mouth and nose because of an irritation inside your nose ○ Coughs and sneezes spread diseases. ■ verb to make a sneeze ○ The smell of roses makes me sneeze. ○ He has hayfever and can't stop sneezing. □ it's not to be sneezed at you should not refuse it (informal) ○ It's a good offer and not to be sneezed at.

snicker /'snɪkə/ noun a quiet unpleasant laugh ○ I heard a little snicker behind my back. ■ verb to laugh quietly in an unpleasant way ○ They snickered as the teacher came into the room.

snide /snaid/ adj unkind, often in a clever or indirect way

sniff /snif/ noun the act of breathing in air through your nose ○ The dog gave a sniff at the plate before licking it. ○ He gave a little sniff and walked out of the shop. ■ verb 1. to breathe in air through your nose ○ He sniffed and said 'I can smell fish and chips'. ○ The customs inspection is very strict, a dog is taken round to sniff (at) each bag and suitcase. □ it's not to be sniffed at you should not refuse it (informal) ○ A free ticket with Air Canada is not to be sniffed at. □ to sniff something out to discover something by smelling ○ The dogs sniffed out drugs hidden in her bag. 2. to breathe in air through your nose when you have a cold ○ He's coughing and sniffing and should be in bed. 3. to breathe in vapour from solvent or glue ○ The police caught them sniffing glue.

sniffer dog /'snifə dɒg/ noun a dog which has been trained to smell things such as drugs sniffle /'snif(ə)l/ noun a noise made when you keep on sniffing, especially when you have a cold or have been crying ○ You could hear the sniffles from the girls at the back of the room. Synonym snuffle □ to have the sniffles to have a slight cold ■ verb to keep on sniffing because of a cold, or because you want to cry ○ He was sniffing and sneezing, and in the end I told him to go home early. ○ Stop sniffing! Blow your nose! Synonym snuffle snigger /'snɪgə/ noun a quiet unpleasant laugh ○ I heard a little snigger behind my back. ■ verb to laugh quietly in an unpleasant way ○ They sniggered as the teacher came into the room. □ to snigger at something to laugh unpleasantly at something ○ What are you sniggering at?

snip /snip/ noun a bargain, something much cheaper than usual (informal) ○ They are a snip at £50. ■ verb to cut something quickly with scissors ○ She snipped two inches off the hem of the dress. (NOTE: snipping – snipped) snipe /snʌp/ verb 1. to shoot at someone from a hiding place ○ Gunmen sniped at the soldiers from the rooftops. 2. to criticise someone continuously ○ The MPs kept sniping at the minister. ■ noun a large marsh bird with a long beak ○ We saw several snipe on the marshes. (NOTE: no plural) sniper /'snaipə/ noun a hidden soldier who shoots at the enemy sniper fire /'snaipə faiə/ noun gunfire from snipers snippet /'snɪpɪt/ noun a little bit of information snivel /'snɪv(ə)l/ verb to cry or complain in an annoying way snob /snɒb/ noun 1. a person who likes people who are of a higher social class than himself or herself ○ Don't ask him to your party, he's such a snob. 2. a person who thinks he or she knows much more about a particular thing or is better-educated than other people ○ an art snob ○ an intellectual snob snobbery /'snɒbəri/ noun the behaviour of being a snob snobbish /'snɒbɪʃ/ adj referring to a snob snog /snɒg/ verb to kiss and hug someone (slang) snooker /'snu:kə/ noun a game for two players, similar to billiards, played on a table with twenty-two balls of different colours snooker table /'snu:kə ,teɪb(ə)l/ noun a table on which snooker is played snoop /snu:p/ verb to investigate something or someone secretly (informal) snooze /snu:zəl/ (informal) noun a short sleep ○ I had a little snooze after lunch. Synonym doze ■ verb to sleep lightly for a short time ○ The dog was snoozing on the rug in front of the fire. Synonym doze snore /snɔ:/ noun a loud noise produced in the nose and throat when asleep ○ His snores kept her awake. ■ verb to make a snore ○ I can't get to sleep because my husband snores.

snoring /'snɔ:riŋ/ noun the action of snoring

snorkel /'snɔ:k(ə)l/ noun a tube which allows an underwater swimmer to breathe in air ○ She could still see Brian's snorkel on the surface of the water. ■ verb to swim with a snorkel ○ The water isn't clear so we can't snorkel here.

snorkelling /'snɔ:klɪŋ/ noun swimming with a snorkel □ to go snorkelling to go swimming with a snorkel for pleasure (NOTE: The US spelling is snorkeling.)

snort /snɔ:t/ noun 1. a noise made when you blow air through your nose ○ The horse gave a snort and reared up on its hind legs. ○ Judging by the snorts coming from the behind the newspaper, I think he has found something he doesn't agree with. 2. an amount of a powdered drug such as cocaine which you breathe through the nose ○ They had a snort or two during the evening. ■ verb 1. to make a loud noise blowing air out through the nose ○ The horses snorted and pawed the ground. 2. to take a powdered drug such as cocaine by breathing it in through the nose ○ She has been snorting cocaine for some years.

snot /snɒt/ noun mucus in the nose (offensive informal) snotty /'snɒti/ adj 1. covered with mucus (offensive informal) 2. looking down on others who you think are inferior (informal) ○ Don't be so snooty! I know how to do it, just as much as you do!

snout /snaut/ noun the nose and mouth of some animals such as pigs □ to have your snout in the trough to get rich on government money (informal) ○ All these officials have their snouts in the trough.

① snow /snəʊ/ noun water which falls as light white flakes of ice crystals in cold weather ○ Two metres of snow fell during the night. ○ The highest mountains are always covered with snow. ○ Children were out playing in the snow. ○ We went for a skiing holiday and there was hardly any snow. ■ verb to fall as snow ○ Look – it's started to snow! ○ It snowed all day, and the streets were blocked. ○ It hardly ever snows here in March. (NOTE: The verb snow is always used with the subject it.)

snowball /'snəʊbɔ:l/ noun a ball made with snow ○ They were throwing snowballs at passing cars. ○ I tried to make a snowball but the snow was too dry. ■ verb to get steadily bigger ○ The protests started slowly and then snowballed into mass demonstrations.

snowboarding /'snəʊbɔ:dɪŋ/ noun the sport of sliding down a snow-covered slope while standing on a board with both feet snowbound /'snəʊbaʊnd/ adj unable to go out or to travel because of snow. Synonym snowed in, snowed up snowcapped /'snəʊkæpt/ adj with the top covered with snow snowdrift /'snəʊdrɪft/ noun snow which has been blown into a heap by the wind snowdrop /'snəʊdrɒp/ noun a bulb with little white bell-shaped flowers in the early spring snowed in /'snəʊd 'ɪn/ adj blocked by snow and unable to travel snowed under /,snəʊd 'ʌndə/ adj overwhelmed snowed up /,snəʊd 'ʌp/ adj blocked by snow, so that you cannot travel snowfall /'snəʊfɔ:l/ noun the amount of snow which has fallen snowflake /'snəʊflæk/ noun a small piece of snow formed of a number of ice crystals snowman /'snəʊmæn/ noun a model of a man made of snow (NOTE: The plural is snowmen.)

snowmobile /'snəʊməbi:l/ noun a vehicle specially designed for driving on snow snowplough /'snəʊpləʊ/ noun a heavy vehicle with a plough on the front used to clear snow off roads and railway tracks (NOTE: The US spelling is snowplow.)

snowshoes /'snəʊʃu:z/ plural noun two frames shaped like tennis rackets with a light web, which are tied under your boots for walking on snow snowstorm /'snəʊstɔ:m/ noun a storm when the wind blows and snow falls. Synonym blizzard snow tyres /'snəʊ ,taɪəz/ plural noun special tyres with thick treads, used when driving on snow snow-white /,snəʊ 'waɪt/ adj pure white snowy /'snəʊi/ adj 1. with a lot of snow, covered with snow ○ I remember walking through the snowy streets to school. 2. when there is snow ○ This is the snowiest winter I can remember. (NOTE: snowier – snowiest)

snowy white /,snəʊi 'waɪt/ noun a pure white colour

snub /snʌb/ noun behaviour which shows you want to insult someone ○ Not shaking his hand was a deliberate snub. Synonym rebuff ■ verb to insult someone by refusing to speak to them or by not paying any attention to them ○ He snubbed all her attempts to be friendly. Synonym rebuff (NOTE: snubbing – snubbed) snub nose /snʌb 'nəʊz/ noun a small nose which is turned up at the end snuck /snʌk/ US □ sneak snuff /snʌf/ noun powdered tobacco which is sniffed into the nose ■ verb 1. to put out a candle ○ Before going to bed, remember to snuff the candles. 2. □ to snuff it to die (slang) ○ Just when he thought his father was going to make a fortune, the old man snuffed it.

snuffle /'snʌf(ə)l/ noun a loud sniff, especially when you have a cold ○ I could hear coughs and snuffles from the audience. Synonym sniffle ■ verb to sniff noisily ○ The pigs were snuffling about in the mud. Synonym sniffle snug /snʌg/ adj warm and comfortable (NOTE: snugger – snuggest)

snuggle /'snʌg(ə)l/ verb 1. to curl yourself up to be warm ○ They snuggled under their blankets. 2. □ to snuggle up to someone to curl up close to someone else to be warm ○ She snuggled up next to her mother.

① so /səʊ/ adv 1. showing how much ○ It's so cold that the lake is covered with ice. ○ We liked Greece so much that we're going there again on holiday next year. ○ The soup was so salty that I couldn't eat it. 2. very ○ She was so kind to us when we were children. ○ The film was not so boring after all. 3. also ○ She was late and so was I. ○ The children all caught flu, and so did their teacher. ○ I like apples – So do I. ○ He's a good cook and so is his wife. ○ The teacher will be late and so will everyone else. 4. showing that the answer is 'yes' ○ Does this train go to London? – I think so. ○ Was your car completely smashed? – I'm afraid so. ○ Will you be coming to the party? – I hope so! ○ Are they going to be at the meeting? – I suppose so. ■ conj 1. and this is the reason why ○ It was snowing hard so we couldn't go for a walk. ○ She's got flu so she can't come to the office. 2. so, so that in order that ○ People riding bikes should wear bright clothes so that drivers can see them easily. 3. used to avoid repeating an adjective ○ He's very bossy, and his wife is even more so. ○ so as (not) to in order (not) to ○ They had to run to the station so as not to miss the train. ○ so far until now ○ so there that's my opinion, and it's none of your business ○ so what what does it matter. ♦ so-so ③ soak /səʊk/ noun the action of lying in a bath for a long time ○ After a game of rugby it is good to have a soak in a hot bath. ■ verb 1. to put something in a liquid for a time ○ Dry beans should be soaked in cold water for 24 hours. 2. to get or to make very wet ○ I forgot my umbrella and got soaked. ○ The rain soaked the soil.

soaked /səʊkt/ adj very wet

soaking /'səʊkɪŋ/ adj, adv wet through ○ Don't let the dog into the kitchen – he's soaking or he's soaking wet.

soak up /,səʊk 'ʌp/ verb to take in liquid so-and-so /'səʊ ən səʊ/ noun 1. an unpleasant person 2. a person whose name is not mentioned ○ It's the usual story – Mrs So-and-so buys a green hat, and the next thing you know, everyone in the village wants green hats.

② soap /səʊp/ noun a substance which you wash with, made from oils and usually with a pleasant smell ○ There's no soap left in the bathroom. ○ I've put a new bar of soap in the kitchen. ○ There is a liquid soap dispenser in the gents' toilets. (NOTE: no plural in this meaning: some soap, a bar or a cake or a piece of soap) ■ verb to cover with soap ○ There's no need to soap yourself all over, just your legs and feet.

soapbox /'səʊpbɒks/ noun a box used by a politician to stand on when making an informal speech outdoors to passers-by soap opera /'səʊp ,ɒp(ə)rə/ noun a serial story on television about the daily lives of a set of characters soap powder /'səʊp ,paʊdə/ noun soap in the form of powder, used in washing machines or dishwashers. Synonym detergent soapy /'səʊpi/ adj full of soap

③ soar /sɔ:/ verb 1. to go up very quickly ○ Food prices soared during the cold weather. 2. to fly high up into the sky ○ The rocket went soaring into the night sky. 3. (of a bird) to glide high in the sky without beating its wings ○ We watched the gulls soaring on air currents beside the cliffs. (NOTE: Do not confuse with sore.)

soaring /'sɔ:rɪŋ/ adj rising rapidly

③ sob /sɒb/ noun a short breath like a hiccup, made by someone who is crying ○ You could hear the sobs as she lay on her bed. ○ He gave a sob, and put the phone down. ■ verb to cry, taking short breaths like hiccups ○ She lay sobbing on the bed. ○ The little girl sobbed herself to sleep. (NOTE: sobbing – sobbed)

③ sober /'səʊbə/ adj 1. not drunk ○ I wasn't drunk after the party – I was stone cold sober. 2. serious, not frivolous ○ The sober truth is that we can't afford it. ○ It was a very sober gathering, nobody laughed or made a joke. 3. dark with no bright colours ○ She was wearing a sober dark grey suit.

sobering /'səʊbərɪŋ/ adj which makes you think seriously

sober up /,səʊbər 'ʌp/ verb 1. to recover from being drunk ○ I'll talk to you again when you've sobered up a little. 2. to make someone sober again who has been drunk ○ We gave him several cups of black coffee to sober him up.

sobriety /səʊ'briəti/ noun 1. the state of not being drunk ○ Sobriety is unusual among his friends. 2. serious behaviour ○ We weren't suitably dressed for the sobriety of the occasion.

③ so-called /'səʊ kɔ:ld/ adj called by a wrong name soccer /'sɒkə/ noun a game played between two teams of eleven players with a round ball which can be kicked or hit with the head, but not carried. Compare rugger (NOTE: The game is called football in most countries, but is generally called soccer in the USA to distinguish it from American football.)

sociable /'səʊʃəb(ə)l/ adj friendly, liking the company of other people

① social /'səʊʃ(ə)l/ adj 1. referring to people as a group, to human society ○ Inequality leads to social conflict. ○ an area with very serious social problems 2. referring to friendly contact with other people ○ We are organising some social events for the visiting students. ○ Not being able to make conversation is a terrible social handicap. ■ noun a party for the members of an organisation ○ The sports club is holding a social next Saturday.

social democracy /,səʊʃ(ə)l di'mɒpkrəsi/ noun a belief that changes should be made to the structure of society to make it more egalitarian, with some state involvement in industry and welfare, without removing private capitalism social democrat /'səʊʃ(ə)l 'deməkræt/ noun a person who believes in social democracy

Social Democrat /'səʊʃ(ə)l 'deməkræt/ noun a person who supports or belongs to a party that believes in social democracy social exclusion /'səʊʃ(ə)l ɪk'sklju:ʒ(ə)n/ noun a situation in which some people feel left out of the rest of society because they are poor, lack useful skills or have disabilities socialise /'səʊʃələɪz/, socialize verb to meet people for friendly talk and activities

socialism /'səʊʃəlɪz(ə)m/ noun 1. the ideas and beliefs of socialists, that the means of production and distribution should belong to the people, that people should be cared for by the state and that all wealth should be shared equally ○ His book explains the principles of socialism. 2. a political system where the state is run on socialist principles ○ Under socialism, this factory was owned by the state.

socialist /'səʊʃəlist/ adj believing in socialism, being in favour of social change, wider sharing of wealth and of state-run industry and welfare ■ noun a person who believes in socialism ○ He's been a socialist all his life.

social life /'səʊʃ(ə)l laɪf/ noun activities involving being friendly with other people outside working hours, and doing such things as going to parties socially /'səʊʃ(ə)li/ adv 1. in a friendly way, outside work ○ I know her from work but I've never met her socially. ○ They get on very well socially. 2. with respect to other people or society ○ the socially unacceptable behaviour of football hooligans ○ These policies are socially divisive.

social order /'səʊʃ(ə)l 'ɔ:də/ noun the arrangement of society, and the classes within it social science /'səʊʃ(ə)l 'saɪəns/ noun the study of people and the society they live in, including such subjects as sociology, history and economics social sciences /'səʊʃ(ə)l 'saɪənsɪz/ plural noun academic studies referring to society and people such as anthropology, sociology and politics

③ social security /'səʊʃ(ə)l sɪ'kju:rɪtɪ/ noun money or help provided by the government to people who need it social services /'səʊʃ(ə)l 'sɜ:vɪsɪz/ plural noun government services to help people with family problems ○ The children are being looked after by social services.

social strata /'səʊʃ(ə)l 'stræ:tə/ noun different levels of society social system /'səʊʃ(ə)l ,sɪstəm/ noun the way in which a society is organised social work /'səʊʃ(ə)l wɜ:k/ noun work done to help people with family or financial problems social worker /'səʊʃ(ə)l ,wɜ:kə/ noun a person who works to help people with family or financial problems

① society /sə'saɪəti/ noun 1. a large group of people, usually all the people living in a country, considered as an organised community ○ a free and democratic society ○ a member of society ○ Society needs to be protected against these criminals. (NOTE: no plural) 2. a club or association of people who have the same interests ○ He belongs to the local drama society. ♦ building society (NOTE: The plural is societies.)

socio-economic /'səʊʃiə'ni:k/ adj referring to social and economic conditions socio-economic group /'səʊʃiə'ni:k ɪ:kə-nomi:k 'gru:p/ noun one of the groups in society divided according to income and position ○ They don't belong to any of the socio-economic groups as defined in this textbook.

sociological /səʊsi'ɒlɒdʒɪk(ə)l/ adj referring to people and society, and the way in which society changes sociologist /'səʊsi'ɒlɒdʒɪst/ noun a person who studies people and society and the way society changes sociology /'səʊsi'ɒlɒdʒi/ noun the study of social systems and how people live in society

③ sock /sɒk/ noun 1. a piece of clothing worn on your foot inside a shoe ○ He's almost ready – he only has to put on his socks and shoes. ○ I've just bought a pair of socks.

□ you'll need to wear football socks you'll need to wear special socks for playing football □ to pull your socks up to try to do better (informal) ○ He'll have to pull his socks up or he'll lose his job. 2. a punch ○ She gave him a sock in the jaw. ■ verb to hit someone hard (informal) ○ She socked the mugger on the jaw.

socket /'sɒkɪt/ noun 1. a set of holes into which an electric plug can be fitted ○ There is a socket on the wall that you can plug the vacuum cleaner into. ○ This plug doesn't fit that socket. 2. a hollow part in a bone, into which another bone fits sod /sɒd/ noun 1. an unpleasant or nasty man (insult) ○ Get away from me, you dirty sod! 2. a person who needs sympathy (slang) ○ The poor old sod has nowhere to live. 3. a piece of soil with grass growing on it ○ The mayor cut the first sod for the new town hall.

soda water /'səʊdə ,wɔ:tə/ noun water made fizzy by putting carbon dioxide into it sodden /'sɒd(ə)n/ adj wet through sodium /'səʊdiəm/ noun a soft white metal, which can catch fire, and is only found combined with other substances sodium bicarbonate /,səʊdiəm baɪ'ka:bənət/ noun baking soda sodium chloride /,səʊdiəm 'klorɔɪd/ noun salt

③ sofa /'səʊfə/ noun a long comfortable seat with a soft back. Synonym settee sofabed /'səʊfəbed/ noun a type of sofa which can be folded out to form a bed

① soft /sɒft/ adj 1. not hard, which moves easily when pressed ○ There are big soft armchairs in the lobby of the hotel. ○ I don't like soft seats in a car. ○ Do you like soft ice cream? 2. not loud ○ When she spoke, her voice was so soft that we could hardly hear her. ○ Soft music was playing in the background. 3. not bright ○ Soft lighting makes a room look warm. 4. □ soft on lenient towards ○ Judges were accused of being soft on crime. □ to have a soft spot for to like very much ○ She has a soft spot for the PE instructor. (NOTE: softer – softest) soft-boiled /,sɒft 'bɔɪld/ adj (of an egg) which has been cooked in boiling water for a short time so that the yolk is hot but still liquid soft copy /'sɒft 'kɔpi/ noun data stored on a computer, rather than being printed on paper softcover /'sɒftkʌvər/ noun a book bound in paper, as opposed to a hardcover edition. Synonym paperback soft currency /'sɒft 'kʌrənsi/ noun the currency of a country with a weak economy, which is cheap to buy and difficult to exchange for other currencies. Compare hard currency

③ soft drink /'sɒft drɪŋk/ noun a drink which is not alcoholic

soften /'sɒf(ə)n/ verb to make something soft, to become soft □ to soften someone up to make someone weaker before asking for something, or before launching an attack ○ Can you try and soften him up a bit before I ask to borrow the car? ○ Bombing raids were made to soften up the enemy defences.

soft fruit /'sɒft 'fru:t/ noun a small fruit such as currants, raspberries or strawberries which do not have hard skins soft furnishings /'sɒft 'fɜ:nɪʃɪŋz/ plural noun things such as curtains and cushions as opposed to tables and other pieces of furniture soft-hearted /,sɒft 'ha:tɪd/ adj not strict, too kind. Synonym sympathetic softie /'sɒfti/, softy /'sɒfti/ noun a person who is too kind and generous, and who can easily be persuaded to do what you want soft landing /sɒft 'lændɪŋ/ noun 1. a process by which something such as a plane or spacecraft lands in a gentle and controlled way 2. a way of fighting inflation, which does not cause unemployment or a fall in the standard of living ○ The government is still hoping for a soft landing in a year's time.

softly /'sɒftli/ adv 1. in a gentle way ○ I touched her arm softly. 2. quietly, not loudly ○ She spoke so softly that we couldn't hear what she said. ○ The burglars crept softly up the stairs. 3. not brightly ○ The lights were shining softly across the lawn.

soft palate /sɒft 'pælət/ noun the back part of the palate which leads to the uvula. Compare hard palate soft-spoken /sɒft 'spəkən/ adj having a quiet gentle voice

soft touch /,sɒft 'tʌtʃ/ noun a person who can be easily persuaded to do something for you

③ software /'sɒftweə/ noun computer programs which are put into a computer to make it work, as opposed to the machine itself ○ What word-processing software do you use? Compare hardware (NOTE: no plural)

soft water /sɒft 'wɔ:tə/ noun water with little calcium in it softwood /'sɒftwud/ noun 1. wood from pine trees and other conifers which can be cut easily ○ We used softwood panels for the walls of the study. 2. a fast-growing tree such as a pine or other conifer which produces softwood ○ the softwood forests of Finland Compare hardwood soggy /'sɒgɪ/ adj wet and soft (NOTE: sogier – soggiest)

① soil /'sɔɪl/ noun the earth in which plants grow ○ Put some soil in the plant pot and then sow your flower seeds. ○ This soil's too poor for growing fruit trees. ○ The farm has 150 hectares of rich black soil. ■ verb to make something dirty ○ His overalls were soiled by black oil and rust. ○ Use more washing powder if the clothes are heavily soiled. ♦ shop-soiled sojourn /'sɒdʒən/ (literary) noun a short stay ■ verb to stay somewhere for a short time solace /'sɒləs/ noun comfort □ to be a solace to someone to comfort someone ○ His daughter has been a considerable solace to him.

solar /'səʊlər/ adj referring to the sun (NOTE: The similar word referring to the moon is lunar and to the stars is stellar.)

solar eclipse /'səʊlə 1,klaɪps/ noun a situation when part or all of the sun disappears, because the moon passes between the earth and the sun solar energy /'səʊlə ,enədʒi/, solar power /'səʊlə ,paʊər/ noun electricity produced from the radiation of the sun solar panel /'səʊlə 'pæn(ə)l/ noun a group of special electric cells used to turn the sun's energy into electricity

③ solar system /'səʊlə ,sɪstəm/ noun the sun and the planets which orbit round it sold /səuld/ ◊ sell

① soldier /'səuldʒə/ noun a person serving in the army ◊ Here's a photograph of my father as a soldier. ◊ We were just in time to see the soldiers march past. ◊ Enemy soldiers blew up the bridge. ◊ The children are playing with their toy soldiers.

soldier on /,səuldʒər 'ɒn/ verb to continue doing something, in spite of difficulties ◊ Even though sales are down, we must soldier on. ◊ She's soldiering on with her preparations for the exam.

sold out /,səuld 'aʊt/ adj no longer in stock, because all the stock has been sold

③ sole /səʊl/ adj only; belonging to one person ◊ Their sole aim is to make money. ◊ She was the sole survivor from the crash. ◊ I have sole responsibility for what goes on in this office. ◊ he has the sole right to it he is the only person allowed to use it ■ noun 1. the underneath side of your foot ◊ He tickled the soles of her feet. 2. the main underneath part of a shoe, but not the heel ◊ These shoes need mending – I've got holes in both soles. 3. a flat white sea fish ◊ He ordered grilled sole. (NOTE: The two varieties of the fish found in Britain are Dover sole and lemon sole. The plural in this meaning is sole.) ■ verb to put a new sole on a shoe ◊ I want these shoes soled and heeled, please. (NOTE: Do not confuse with soul.)

solely /'səulli/ adv 1. only ◊ The machine was designed solely for that purpose. 2. without other people being involved ◊ He was solely to blame for what happened.

③ solemn /'sələm/ adj 1. serious and formal ◊ The doctor looked very solemn and shook his head. ◊ At the most solemn moment of the ceremony someone's mobile phone rang. 2. that should be treated as very serious and not to be broken ◊ He made a solemn promise never to smoke again. ◊ solemn and binding agreement agreement that is not legally binding, but which all parties are supposed to obey solemnise /'sələmnaɪz/, solemnize verb to perform a marriage or other religious ceremony solemnity /sə'lemnɪtɪ/ noun being serious solemnly /'sələmli/ adv in a solemn way sole trader /səʊl 'treɪdə/ noun a person who runs a business by himself but has not registered it as a company solicit /sə'lisɪt/ verb 1. to ask someone for something such as business or financial support (formal) ◊ to solicit orders to ask for orders, to try to get people to order goods 2. to offer sex to people ◊ Prostitutes were openly soliciting outside the station.

② solicitor /sə'lisɪtə/ noun a qualified lawyer who gives advice to members of the public and acts for them in legal matters

① solid /'splɪd/ adj 1. hard and not liquid ◊ a solid lump of fat ◊ She is allowed some solid food. 2. firm and strong ◊ Is the table solid enough to stand on? ◊ His wealth is built on a solid base of property and shares.

3. not hollow ◊ Cricket is played with a solid ball. 4. made only of one material ◊ The box is made of solid silver. 5. without stopping ◊ Negotiations went on for nine hours solid or nine solid hours. ■ noun 1. a hard substance which is not liquid ◊ Many solids melt when heated and become liquids. 2. a food, as opposed to a drink ◊ The baby is beginning to eat solids. 3. a three-dimensional shape ◊ Cones and cubes are solids.

solidarity /,sɒlɪ'dærɪti/ noun a general common interest with other people. Synonym unity solidify /sə'lɪdɪfaɪ/ verb to become solid. Synonym harden solidity /sə'lɪdɪti/ noun being solid solidly /'splɪdli/ adv in a firm way

solitary /'sɒlɪt(ə)ri/ adj 1. one only ◊ It was late November, and a solitary tourist was sitting in the waterfront café. ◊ I don't remember one solitary occasion when he helped with the washing up. Synonym single 2. being alone ◊ My sister lives a solitary life in the country.

solitary confinement /,sɒlɪt(ə)ri kən'fainmənt/ noun being kept alone in a cell, without being able to see or speak to other prisoners. Synonym isolation solitude /'sɒlɪtju:d/ noun the state of being alone solo /'səʊləʊəl/ noun a piece of music played or sung by one person alone ◊ She played a violin solo. (NOTE: The plural is solos.) ■ adj done by one person alone ◊ a piece for solo trumpet ◊ She gave a solo performance in the Albert Hall. ◊ He crashed on his first solo flight. ■ adv by one person alone ◊ He flew solo across the Atlantic. Synonym alone

soloist /'səʊləʊɪst/ noun a musician who plays a solo

solstice /'sɒlstɪs/ noun one of the two times of the year when the sun is at its furthest point north or south of the equator soluble /'sɒlju:b(ə)l/ adj 1. which can be dissolved ◊ a tablet of soluble aspirin ◊ The pill is soluble in water. 2. which can be solved ○ The problem is simply not soluble. ○ The difficulties are soluble, given a little money.

① solution /sə'lju:ʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. the action of solving a problem ○ The solution of the problem is taking longer than expected. 2. an answer to a problem ○ The programmer came up with a solution to the computer problem. ○ We think we have found a solution to the problem of where to stay on holiday. ○ The solutions to the quiz are at the back of the book. 3. a mixture of a solid substance dissolved in a liquid ○ Bathe your eye in a weak salt solution.

① solve /solv/ verb to find an answer to ○ The loan will solve some of his financial problems. ○ He tried to solve the riddle. Synonym resolve □ to solve a crime to find out who committed a crime solvency /'solv(ə)nsi/ noun being able to pay all your debts. Antonym insolvency solvent /'solv(ə)nt/ adj having enough money to pay debts ○ When he bought the company it was barely solvent. Antonym insolvent ■ noun 1. a liquid in which a solid substance can be dissolved 2. a strong glue used for sticking plastics solvent abuse /'solvənt ə'bju:s/ noun the dangerous practice of breathing in the gas from a type of glue. Also called glue sniffing sombre /'səmbə/ adj dark and gloomy (NOTE: The US spelling is somber.)

① some /səm, səm/ adj, pron 1. a certain number of ○ We've just picked some strawberries. ○ Some young drivers drive much too fast. ○ Some books were damaged in the fire. ○ Some days it was so hot that we just stayed by the swimming pool all day. ○ Can you cut some more slices of bread? ○ She bought some oranges and bananas. □ some of a few ○ Some of the students are ill. ○ Some of these apples are too green. 2. a certain amount ○ Can you buy some bread when you go to town? ○ Can I have some more coffee? ○ Her illness is of some concern to her family. 3. referring to a person or thing you cannot identify (followed by a singular noun) ○ Some man just knocked on the door and tried to sell me a magazine. ○ I read it in some book I borrowed from the library. ○ We saw it in some shop or other in Regent Street. 4. referring to a period of time or a distance ○ Don't wait for me, I may be some time. ○ Their house is some way away from the railway station. 5. wonderful ○ That was some party last night! (NOTE: some is used with plural nouns and with nouns which have no plural: some people, some apples, some bread.) ■ adv approximately ○ Some fifty people came to the meeting. ○ The house is some sixty years old.

① somebody /'səmbədi/ pron same as someone □ somebody else same as someone else

some day /'sʌm deɪ/ adv at some time in the future

① somehow /'sʌmhaʊ/ adv by some means, although you don't know how ○ Somehow we must get back home by 6 o'clock. ○ The work has to be done somehow.

① someone /'səmweɪn/ pron a person who cannot be or is not specified ○ Can someone answer the phone? □ somebody else some other person

③ someplace /'sʌmpleɪs/ adv US somewhere (informal) somersault /'səməsɔ:lt/ noun rolling over and over, head first ○ He did a couple of somersaults on the mat. ■ verb to roll over and over with your head first ○ The children somersaulted over the pole.

① something /'sʌmθɪŋ/ pron 1. a thing that cannot be or is not specified ○ There's something soft at the bottom of the bag. ○ Something's gone wrong with the TV. ○ Can I have something to drink, please? ○ There's something about her that I don't like. 2. an important thing ○ Come in and sit down, I've got something to tell you. 3. an approximate amount ○ It cost us something around fifty pounds. ○ Something like 20 per cent of the students can't spell. 4. a similar name or thing ○ He's called Nick or Dick, or something like that. ○ It's a fish or mollusc or something, anyway it lives in salt water.

sometime /'sʌmtaɪm/ adv at a particular time which is not specified ○ The accident happened sometime after midnight. ○ Let's meet sometime next week.

① sometimes /'sʌmtaɪmz/ adv on some occasions but not on others ○ Sometimes the car starts easily, and sometimes it won't start at all. ○ She sometimes comes to see us when she's in town on business. Synonym occasionally

② somewhat /'sʌmwət/ adv more than a little. Synonym rather

① somewhere /'sʌmweə/ adv 1. in or at a place which is not specified ○ I left my umbrella somewhere when I was in London. ○ Let's go somewhere else, this pub is full. ○ His parents live somewhere in Germany. (NOTE: An alternative US term is someplace: We can go someplace else.) 2. □ somewhere around, somewhere between, somewhere in the region of approximately ○ Somewhere between 50 and 60 people turned up for the meeting. ○ He has collected somewhere in the region of 25,000 books. □ somewhere else in some other place, in a different place somnolent /'sɒmnələnt/ adj (literary) 1. almost asleep ○ The museum was guarded by two somnolent caretakers. 2. which makes you feel sleepy ○ His speech had a somnolent effect on the audience.

① son /sʌn/ noun a male child of a father or mother ○ They have a large family – two sons and four daughters. ○ Her son has got married at last. ○ Their youngest son is in hospital.

sonar /'səʊnə:/ noun a device that uses sound waves to measure the depth of water or to find objects under water sonata /sə'na:tə/ noun a piece of music in three or four movements for one or more instruments, accompanied by an orchestra, piano, harpsichord, etc.

son et lumière /sɒn eɪ 'lu:mieə/ noun entertainment consisting of sound and lighting effects, shown in the open air at night. The setting is usually a castle, cathedral or similar historic building, and the lighting is complemented by voices of actors speaking as if they were the former inhabitants of the place.

① song /sɒŋ/ noun 1. words which are sung ○ She was singing a song in the bath. ○ The group's latest song has just come out on CD. ○ The soldiers marched along, singing a song. 2. □ for a song for very little money (informal) ○ She bought it for a song in a flea market. □ to make a great song and dance about something to make a great fuss about something ○ They made a terrible song and dance about having to wait for a taxi. 3. the musical sound made by some birds ○ I'm sure that's the song of a robin – look, he's over there!

songwriter /'sɒŋraɪtə/ noun a person who writes popular songs sonic /'sɒnɪk/ adj referring to sound that can be heard by the human ear sonic boom /,sɒnɪk 'bu:m/ noun a loud noise made by an aircraft travelling through the air at or faster than the speed of sound son-in-law /'sən ɪn lə:/ noun the husband of a daughter (NOTE: The plural is sons-in-law.)

sonnet /'sɒnɪt/ noun a poem with fourteen lines and one of several rhyming patterns sonny /'səni/ noun a way of addressing a boy (informal)

① soon /su:n/ adv 1. in a short time from now ○ Don't worry, we'll soon be in Oxford. ○ It will soon be time to go to bed. ○ The fire started soon after 11 o'clock. 2. quickly ○ How soon can you let me know? □ as soon as immediately ○ Please phone the office as soon as you get to the hotel. ○ As soon as I put the phone down it rang again. ○ The boss wants to see you as soon as possible.

② sooner /'su:nə/ adv earlier ○ Can't we meet any sooner than that? □ sooner or later at some time in the future ○ Sooner or later, they will realise that they need to save as much money as possible. ○ She drives so fast that sooner or later she'll have an accident. □ sooner rather than later quickly rather than taking a long time ○ It would be wise to reduce the staff sooner rather than later.

soot /sʊt/ noun a black deposit of carbon which rises in the smoke produced by burning coal, wood and oil and which collects on the inside surfaces of chimneys soothe /su:ð/ verb to make something less painful or to calm soothing /'su:ðɪŋ/ adj which relieves pain or which calms. Antonym irritating sop /sɒp/ noun 1. something given as a bribe to make someone keep quiet ○ The budget was just a sop to the left wing of the party. 2. a piece of bread dipped in liquid (old) □ verb to soak in liquid or to soak up a liquid (NOTE: sopping – sopped)

③ sophisticated /sə'fɪstɪkeɪtɪd/ adj 1. knowing a lot about the way people behave, and what is stylish or fashionable ○ They think smoking makes them look sophisticated. 2. cleverly designed and complicated ○ His office is full of the latest and most sophisticated computer equipment.

sophistication /sə'fɪstɪ'keɪʃ(ə)n/ noun

1. a cultured way of life ○ The sophistication of life in the later Roman Empire disappeared under the attacks of the barbarians. 2. advanced ideas behind the construction of a machine ○ The sophistication of some of these early surgical instruments seems astonishing nowadays.

sophomore /'sɒfəmɔ:/ noun 1. US a student in his or her second year at college 2. a tenth-grade high school student sopping /'sɒpɪŋ/ adj very wet soppy /'sɒpi/ adj silly and sentimental (informal) soprano /sə'pru:nəʊ/ noun 1. a woman with a high-pitched singing voice ○ The sopranos are too feeble – I can hardly hear them. (NOTE: The plural in this meaning is sopranos.) 2. a high-pitched woman's singing voice ○ She sings soprano in the local choir.

sorbet /'sɔ:beɪt/ noun a soft refreshing dessert made by freezing fruit juice to which the white of an egg is added (NOTE: The US term is sherbet.)

sorcerer /'sɔ:sərə/ noun (in fairy tales) a man who uses sorcery sorceress /'sɔ:sərəs/ noun (in fairy tales) a woman who uses sorcery sorcery /'sɔ:səri/ noun (in fairy tales) wicked magic. Synonym witchcraft sordid /'sɔ:dɪd/ adj unpleasant or dirty

① sore /sɔ:/ adj 1. rough and inflamed or painful ○ He can't play tennis because he has a sore elbow. □ sore throat an infected throat, which hurts when you swallow or speak ○ She's got a sore throat and has lost her voice. □ to stick out like a sore thumb to be easily seen because of being different (informal) 2. US angry (informal) ○ He's sore at her for telling the boss about him. (NOTE: sorer – sorest) ■ noun a small damaged area on the skin, often producing pus ○ He had sores on his back from lying in bed for a long time.

sorely /'sɔ:li/ adv very much (formal) Synonym deeply sorority /'sɔ:rɔriti/ noun US a student association for women. Compare fraternity (NOTE: The plural is sororities.)

sorrow /'sɔ:rəʊ/ noun sadness ○ To his great sorrow, his collection of books was lost in the fire. ○ He expressed his deep sorrow at her death. Synonym grief. Antonym joy ■ verb to be very sad because of something (literary or formal) ○ We sorrow at or over the suffering of the refugees.

sorrowful /'sɔ:rəʊf(ə)l/ adj very sad

① sorry /'sɔri/ adj feeling unhappy, ashamed or disappointed about something ○ I'm sorry I can't stay for dinner. ○ Everyone was sorry to hear you had been ill. □ not to be sorry to be quite happy □ we weren't sorry to see him go we were glad when he left □ to feel sorry for someone to be sympathetic about someone's problems ○ We all feel sorry for her – her family is always criticising her. □ to feel sorry for yourself to be miserable ○ He's feeling very sorry for himself – he's just been made redundant. □ to say sorry to tell someone you are ashamed of something you have or have not done ■ interj used to excuse yourself ○ He trod on my foot and didn't say sorry. Synonym apologise

① sort /sɔ:t/ noun 1. a type or kind ○ There were all sorts of people at the meeting. ○ I had an unpleasant sort of day at the office. ○ What sorts of ice cream have you got? ○ Do you like this sort of TV show? □ sort of rather, more or less (informal) ○ She was sort of expecting your phone call. ○ We're all feeling sort of upset. ■ verb 1. to arrange in order or groups ○ The apples are sorted according to size before being packed. ○ The votes are sorted then counted. 2. to put things in order ○ She is sorting index cards into alphabetical order.

sorite /'sɔ:tɪ/ noun 1. a sudden attack or bombing raid by aircraft ○ They made several sorties into enemy territory. 2. a sudden excursion ○ We decided to make a sortie into the old part of the town.

sorting office /'sɔ:tɪŋ ,ɒfɪs/ noun a department in a post office where letters are put in order according to their addresses sort out /,sɔ:t 'aʊt/ verb 1. to settle a problem ○ Did you sort out the hotel bill? 2. to put things in order or in groups ○ I must sort out the papers in this drawer. ○ Until they're sorted out, we shan't know which are our files and which are theirs. 3. to collect or select things of a particular kind from a mixed group of things ○ Sort out all the blue folders and bring them to me, please.

SOS /'es əʊ 'es/ noun 1. an international radio signal for showing that you need help in a boat or plane ○ They sent an SOS. 2. an urgent request for help from someone so-so /'səʊ 'səʊ/ adj, adv not very good or not very well ○ How are you today? – only so-so. ○ The results of the test were only so-so.

soufflé /'su:fleɪ/ noun 1. a light cooked dish, made from eggs beaten up with a savoury flavouring, eaten hot ○ a cheese soufflé 2. a cold dessert made from beaten eggs, whipped cream and gelatine ○ a lemon soufflé sought /sɔ:t/ ◊ seek sought-after /'sɔ:t ,aɪftə/ adj wanted by many people. Synonym desirable. Antonym unpopular

③ soul /səʊl/ noun 1. the spirit in a person, the part which is believed by some people to go on existing after a person dies ○ Do you believe your soul lives on when your body dies? ○ From the depths of his soul he longed to be free. 2. □ to be the life and soul of a party to make a party go well 3. a person ○ She didn't tell a soul what she was planning. (NOTE: Do not confuse with sole.) soul-destroying /'səʊl di,striːnɪŋ/ adj which is very dull, or does not allow you to use your mind properly. Antonym uplifting soulful /'səʊlf(ə)l/ adj with a lot of sad feeling soulfully /'səʊlf(ə)li/ adv in a soulful way soulless /'səʊləs/ adj very dull or inhuman soul mate /'səʊl meɪt/ noun a person with whom you have a similar feelings soul music /'səʊl ,mju:zɪk/ noun popular music which conveys deep feelings and which developed from blues and gospel soul-searching /'səʊl ,sɜ:tʃɪŋ/ noun an examination of your own motives or conscience

① sound /saʊnd/ noun a noise, something which you can hear ○ Sounds of music came from the street. ○ I thought I heard the sound of guns. ○ Please can you turn down the sound on the TV when I'm on the phone? ○ She crept out of her bedroom and we didn't hear a sound. □ the speed of sound the rate at which sound travels ○ Concorde flies faster than the speed of sound. □ I don't like the sound of that I do not think that is a very good idea ■ verb 1. to make a noise ○ Sound your horn when you come to a corner. ○ They sounded the alarm after two prisoners escaped. 2. to seem ○ It sounds as if he's made an unfortunate choice. ○ The book sounds interesting according to what I've heard. □ that sounds strange it seems strange to me ■ adj 1. in good condition and not damaged ○ Most of the walls of the house are sound. □ of sound mind able to be responsible for decisions 2. sensible and trustworthy ○ He gave us some very sound advice. 3. (of sleep) deep ○ I was awoken from a sound sleep by the ringing of the doorbell. (NOTE: sounder – soundest) ■ adv deeply ○ The children were sound asleep when the police came. □ to sound like 1. to be similar to the way someone talks ○ On the phone, he sounds just like John. 2. to think you can hear someone or something ○ That sounds like the taxi now. 3. to be typical of the way someone usually behaves ○ That sounds like my father! 4. to seem to be ○ That sounds like a good idea.

soundbite /'saundbaɪt/ noun a short phrase, usually spoken by a politician, especially made so as to be good to broadcast on radio or TV sound card /saund ka:d/ noun a circuit board that allows a computer to produce sound sound effects /'saund ɪ,feɪkts/ plural noun the artificial sounds used to give an impression of the real thing ○ All the sound effects for the film were produced electronically.

soundless /'saundləs/ adj which does not make any noise. Synonym silent. Antonym noisy soundly /'saundli/ adv deeply or thoroughly sound off /,saund 'ɒf/ verb to start talking loudly about something (informal) sound out /,saund 'aʊt/ verb to ask someone's opinion about something ○ I'll sound out the other members of the committee to see what they think. ○ Sound her out about joining.

soundproof /'saundpru:f/ adj which does not allow sound to pass through ○ The radio commentators sit in a soundproof cabin. ■ verb to make a building soundproof ○ All the bedrooms in the hotel are soundproofed.

soundtrack /'saundtræk/ noun the track of a film on which the sound is recorded

③ soup /su:p/ noun a liquid food which you eat hot from a bowl at the beginning of a meal, usually made from meat, fish or vegetables ○ *We have onion soup or mushroom soup today. ○ We started the meal with chicken soup. ○ Does anyone want soup? ○ A bowl of hot soup is always welcome on a cold day. □ If you're hungry, open a tin of soup. □ soup bowl or soup plate a special bowl or plate for serving soup souped-up /su:ppt 'ʌp/ adj (of a motor vehicle) with an engine which has been adapted to make it go faster (informal) soup kitchen /su:p 'kɪtʃən/ noun a place that serves free hot meals to people who have no money to buy food

③ sour /'sauə/ adj with a sharp bitter taste ○ Nobody likes sour milk. ○ If the grapefruit is too sour, add some sugar. (NOTE: sourer – sourest) ■ verb to make unpleasant ○ Relations between the two countries have been soured by the incident. □ to go sour 1. to take on a sharp taste ○ The cream has gone sour. 2. to become unpleasant ○ After a few weeks, the whole deal began to go sour.

① source /sɔ:s/ noun 1. a place where something comes from ○ I think the source of the infection is in one of your teeth. ○ The source of the river is in the mountains. ○ You must declare income from all sources to the tax office. □ at source (of tax on income) removed before the income is paid 2. a person or thing which is the cause of something ○ The children are a constant source of worry. ○ Polluted water is a possible source of cholera.

sourcing /'sɔ:sɪŋ/ noun the process of getting supplies from a specific place or supplier sour grapes /sauə 'greɪps/ noun a feeling of bitterness about something which you want but cannot have ① south /saʊθ/ noun 1. a direction facing towards the sun at midday ○ Look south from the mountain, and you will see the city in the distance. ○ The city is to the south of the river. ○ The wind is blowing from the south. 2. the part of a country to the south of the rest ○ The south of the country is warmer than the north. ○ She went to live in the south of England. ■ adj referring to the south ○ The south coast is popular for holidaymakers. ○ Cross to the south side of the river. □ south wind a wind which blows from the south ■ adv towards the south ○ Many birds fly south for the winter. ○ Go due south for two kilometres, and you will see the village on your left. ○ The river flows south into the Mediterranean.

southbound /'saʊθbaʊnd/ adj travelling towards the south
③ south-east /,saʊθ 'i:st/ adj, adv, noun a direction between south and east ○

South-East Asia is an important trading area. ○ The river runs south-east from here. ○ House prices are higher in the south-east than anywhere else in England.

south-easterly adj /sauθ 'i:stəli/ referring to a wind which blows from the south-east, or something which is in or towards the south-east ■ noun a wind blowing from the south east south-eastern /sauθ 'i:stən/ adj referring to the south-east or situated in the south-east southerly /sʌðəli/ adj 1. referring to a wind from the south, or something which is in or towards the south ○ I drove in a southerly direction with the sun shining full in my face. ■ noun a wind blowing from the south ③ southern /sʌð(ə)n/ adj of the south ○ The southern part of the country is warmer than the north.

southerner /sʌð(ə)nə/ noun a person who comes from or lives in the south southernmost /sʌð(ə)n'məʊst/ adj furthest south

South Pole /sauθ 'pəʊl/ noun the furthest point at the south of the earth southward /sauθwəd/ adj towards the south southwards /sauθwədz/ adv towards the south

③ south-west /sauθ 'west/ adj, adv, noun a direction between south and west ○ We need to head south-west for two miles. ○ Arizona is in the south-west of the United States.

south-westerly /sauθ 'westəli/ adj referring to a wind which blows from the south-west or something which is in or towards the south-west south-western /sauθ 'westən/ adj referring to the south-west or situated in the south-west souvenir /su:və'nɪə/ noun a thing bought to remind you of the place where you bought it. Synonym memento sovereign /'sɒvrɪn/ noun 1. a king or queen ○ The sovereign is not supposed to become involved in party politics. Synonym monarch 2. a former British gold coin worth one pound sovereign state /'sɒvrɪn 'steɪt/ noun a self-governing country

③ sovereignty /'sɒvrɪnti/ noun the total power of a government

Soviet /'səʊvɪət/ adj of the former Soviet Union its people, culture, or political system

③ sow verb /səʊ/ to put seeds into soil so that they germinate and become plants ○ Peas and beans should be sown in April. ○ Sow the seed thinly in fine soil. (NOTE: sow – sowed – has sown /səʊn/. Do not confuse with sew.) ■ noun /səʊ/ a mature female pig ○ Our sow has had eight piglets.

soya bean /'sɔɪə bi:n/ noun a bean from a plant used for food and oil (NOTE: The US term is soybean.)

spa /spa:/ noun 1. a place where mineral water comes out of the ground naturally and where people go to drink or bathe in it because of its medicinal properties ○ He spends two weeks every summer at a French spa. 2. an exercise and health centre in a hotel

① space /speɪs/ noun 1. an empty place between other things ○ There's a space to park your car over there. ○ Write your name and reference number in the space at the top of the paper. 2. an area which is available for something ○ His desk takes up too much space. 3. space, outer space the area beyond the earth's atmosphere ○ The first man in space was the Russian Yuri Gagarin. ○ This is a photograph of the earth taken from space. ○ Could someone be sending messages from outer space? ■ verb space, space out to arrange things at intervals, with gaps between them ○ Repayments can be spaced over a period of ten years. ○ Make sure the text is evenly spaced out on the page.

space bar /'speɪs ba:/ noun the long bar at the bottom of a keyboard which puts a single space into text space probe /'speɪs prəʊb/ noun a space-craft sent into space for scientific purposes space shuttle /'speɪs 'ʃtʌf(ə)l/ noun a type of plane which is launched by a rocket, flies in space and then returns eventually to earth so that it can be used for another trip space station /'speɪs 'steɪʃ(ə)n/ noun a satellite which orbits the earth in which people can live and carry out scientific experiments spacing /'speɪsɪŋ/ noun the amount of space between things, e.g. between characters or lines in printing spacious /'speɪsəs/ adj very large, with plenty of space. Synonym roomy. Antonym cramped ③ spade /speɪd/ noun 1. a tool with a wide square blade at the end of a long handle, used for digging or moving something such as soil or sand □ to do the spade work to do the uninteresting work before the main work is done ○ I get my assistant to do most of the spade work. □ to call a spade a spade to say exactly what you think without trying to hide your opinions by being polite ○ If she's not satisfied, she's not afraid to call a spade a spade. 2. a small spade, used by children ○ The children took their buckets and spades to the beach.

spades /speɪdz/ plural noun one of the black sets in a pack of cards (NOTE: The other black set is clubs; hearts and diamonds are red sets.)

spaghetti /spə'geti/ noun long thin strips of pasta, cooked and eaten with a sauce spam /spæm/ noun unwanted commercial e-mails

span /spæn/ noun 1. the width of wings or of an arch □ Each section of the bridge has a span of fifty feet. 2. a length of time □ over a span of five years or over a five-year span ■ verb to stretch across space or time □ Her career spanned thirty years. □ A stone bridge spans the river. (NOTE: spanning – spanned)

Spaniard /'spænjəd/ noun a person from Spain spaniel /'spænɪəl/ noun a type of dog with large ears that droop down

① Spanish /'spænɪʃ/ adj referring to Spain □ I want to change my pounds into Spanish money. ■ noun the language spoken in Spain and many countries of Latin America □ He's studying French and Spanish as part of his business course.

spank /spæŋk/ verb to hit a child's bottom as a punishment spanking /'spæŋkɪŋ/ adj very (dated) □ spanking new very new □ a spanking new sports car ■ noun the action of being spanked □ If I catch you again you'll get a spanking.

spanner /'spænər/ noun a metal tool with an opening which fits round a nut and which can be twisted to undo the nut or tighten it □ to throw a spanner in the works to stop things happening or to make things difficult by causing problems □ His illness threw a spanner in the works.

spar /spa:/ noun 1. the main beam running along the wing of an aircraft 2. a ship's mast or a wooden beam for holding the sails □ Two spars were broken in the gale. ■ verb to practise boxing with someone □ He sparred every morning before the fight. (NOTE: sparring – spared)

② spare /speər/ adj extra, not being used □ I always take a spare pair of shoes when I travel. ■ verb 1. asking someone if they can do without something □ Can you spare your assistant to help me for a day? □ Can you spare about five minutes to talk about the problem? □ If you have a moment to spare, can you clean the car? □ Can you spare 50p for a cup of tea? 2. not to show or give □ The driving test was awful, but I'll spare you the details. □ to be spared the embarrassment to avoid being embarrassed □ Luckily the restaurant took credit cards, so I was spared the embarrassment of asking my colleague to pay. 3. □ to spare someone or someone's life not to kill someone □ He pleaded with the soldiers to spare his life. □ No one was spared, all the inhabitants of the village were killed.

spare parts /speər 'pɑ:ts/ plural noun pieces used to put in place of broken parts of a car, etc.

spare ribs /speər 'ribz/ plural noun pork ribs cooked in a savoury sauce spare room /speər 'ru:m/ noun 1. an unused space □ The car is full, we have absolutely no spare room. 2. a bedroom which a family does not use □ We can put you up in the spare room.

spares /speəz/ plural noun spare parts or pieces used to mend broken parts of a car or other machine spare time /speər 'taɪm/ noun the time when you are not at work spare tyre /speər 'taɪə/ noun 1. an extra wheel and tyre carried in a car in case you have a puncture 2. a roll of fat round the waist □ He needs to cut down on his lunches, he's developed quite a spare tyre.

spare wheel /speər 'wi:l/ noun a fifth wheel carried in a car to replace one that has a puncture sparing /'speəriŋ/ adj limited □ to be sparing with something not to use very much of something □ Be sparing with the wine, we've only got three bottles.

sparsely /'speəriŋli/ adv using little spark /spa:k/ noun a little flash of fire or of light □ Sparks flew as the train went over the junction. ■ verb 1. to send out sparks or to make electric sparks 2. spark, spark off to make something start □ The proposed closure of the station sparked anger amongst travellers. □ The shooting of the teenager sparked off a riot.

sparkle /'spa:k(ə)l/ noun a bright light ■ verb 1. to shine brightly □ Her jewels sparkled in the light of the candles. □ His eyes sparkled when he heard the salary offered. 2. (of a person) to be lively □ She was sparkling with enthusiasm.

sparkler /'spa:klə/ noun a type of little firework which you can hold in your hand and which sends out bright sparks sparkling /'spa:klin/ adj 1. shining with little lights □ a necklace of sparkling diamonds 2. which has bubbles in it, which is fizzy □ a bottle of sparkling water □ sparkling wine wine which has little bubbles in it □ Champagne is a sparkling wine from France.

spark plug /'spark pləg/ noun a part of an engine which produces sparks that ignite the fuel sparky /'spa:ki/ adj bright and energetic. Synonym lively sparring partner /'spa:riŋ ,pa:tner/ noun 1. a person who a professional boxer practises with ○ He has a session with his sparring partner every morning. 2. a person with whom you often have discussions or arguments ○ They were old sparring partners from the time when they were MPs together.

sparrow /'spærəʊ/ noun a very common small brown and grey bird sparse /spa:s/ adj not thick or not in large quantities (NOTE: sparser – sparsest) sparingly /'spa:sli/ adv with very few; thinly spartan /'spɑ:t(ə)n/ adj 1. harsh or hard 2. uncomfortable ○ We were put up in a spartan hotel by the railway station.

spasm /'spæz(ə)m/ noun a sudden, usually painful, involuntary contraction of a muscle, such as when you have cramp spasmodic /'spæz'mɒdɪk/ adj happening from time to time. Antonym continuous spat /'spæt/ □ split

spate /'speɪt/ noun 1. a sudden rush of something ○ We had a spate of inquiries after our ad in 'the Times'. 2. □ river in spate a river in that is flooding spatial /'speɪʃ(ə)l/ adj referring to space spatter /'spætə/ verb to splash with little spots of liquid

spawn /spo:n/ noun a mass of eggs of a fish or a frog ○ The children could see the frog spawn floating on the surface of the pond. ■ verb 1. (of fish) to produce a mass of eggs ○ Salmon swim up the river to spawn. 2. to produce a mass of things ○ The meetings of the committee spawned a huge amount of documents.

① speak /spi:k/ verb 1. to say words ○ She spoke to me when the meeting was over. ○ He walked past me without speaking. ○ He was speaking to the postman when I saw him. ○ The manager wants to speak to you about sales in Africa. □ to speak your mind to say exactly what you think □ speak for yourself that's what you think, I don't agree ○ We both think the decision is crazy. – Speak for yourself! 2. to be able to say things in a particular language ○ We need someone who can speak Russian. ○ He speaks English with an American accent. ○ You will have to brush up your Japanese as my mother speaks hardly any English. 3. to make a speech ○ Do you know who is speaking at the conference? 4. □ so to speak as you might say ○ He's a very close friend, we're like brothers, so to speak.

② speaker /'spi:kə/ noun 1. a person who speaks ○ We need an Arabic speaker to help with the tour. □ he is a popular speaker many people come to hear him give speeches at meetings 2. a loudspeaker ○ One of the speakers doesn't work. ♦ loudspeaker 3. (in Parliament) a person who presides over a meeting of Parliament ○ The Speaker called on the Prime Minister to speak.

speaking /'spi:kɪŋ/ noun the action of talking □ she and I are not on speaking terms we have quarrelled and don't speak to each other any more speak out /,spi:k 'aʊt/ verb to make your opinions or feelings known strongly speak up /,spi:k 'ʌp/ verb 1. to speak louder; to say what you have to say in a louder voice ○ Can you speak up please – we can't hear you at the back! 2. to make your opinions known strongly ○ He's not afraid to speak up when he thinks someone's been unfairly treated. □ to speak up for to show your support for ○ He was the only person who spoke up for me at the inquiry.

spear /spi:ə/ noun a long pointed throwing stick, which formerly was used as a weapon

○ They kill fish with spears. ■ verb to push something sharp into something to catch it ○ Spearing fish is not easy. ○ She managed to spear a sausage on the barbecue with her fork. ○ They served little pieces of cheese speared on toothpicks. Synonym impale

spearhead /'spi:əhed/ noun the front part of a force of attackers ○ The spearhead of the attack was directed at the castle. ■ verb to be in the front of an attacking force ○ The minister has spearheaded the attack on the newspapers.

spec /spek/ noun (informal) □ to buy on spec without being sure of the value or condition ○ I just bought the old painting on spec – no one knew it was by Constable.

① special /'speʃ(ə)l/ adj 1. referring to something or someone who is not ordinary but has a particular importance or use ○ This is a very special day for us – it's our twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. ○ a report from our special correspondent in Hong Kong ○ He has a special pair of scissors for cutting metal. 2. □ nothing special very ordinary ○ There is nothing special about his new car. ○ Did anything happen at the meeting? – No, nothing special. ■ noun special, special of the day a dish prepared for the day and not listed in the printed menu ○ I'll have the special, please.

Special Branch /'speʃ(ə)l bra:nʃ/ noun a section of the British police dealing with terrorism, spies and crimes against the government special effects /,speʃ(ə)l ɪ'fektɪz/ plural noun the impression of something like a fire, a snowstorm or an earthquake, made artificially in a film or play ○ The special effects in the film were created by computers.

specialisation /,speʃəl'zeɪʃ(ə)n/, specialization noun 1. the study of a particular subject 2. a subject which you specialise in ③ specialise /'speʃəlaɪz/ specialize verb 1. to study one particular subject ○ At university, she specialised in marine biology. 2. to produce one thing in particular ○ The company specialises in electronic components.

③ specialised /'speʃələzɪd/ specialized adj which deals with one subject in particular. Antonym generalised □ specialised field an area of study which is very restricted □ specialised dictionary a dictionary referring to one subject only

③ specialist /'speʃəlist/ noun 1. a person who knows a lot about something ○ You should go to a tax specialist for advice. 2. a doctor who specialises in a certain branch of medicine ○ He was referred to a heart specialist. ■ adj specialised ○ Does he have any specialist knowledge of international currency transactions?

speciality /,speʃi'æləti/ noun 1. a thing you are very good at doing ○ The speciality of the restaurant is its fish soup. ○ Finding the right partners for people is my speciality. 2. a particular interest, knowledge or study ○ The company's speciality is computer programmes for schools. ○ His speciality is the history of Wales in the 15th century. (NOTE: [all senses] The US term is specialty.)

② especially /'speʃ(ə)li/ adv in particular or more than usual. Synonym especially, particularly. Antonym generally

special needs /,speʃ(ə)l 'ni:dz/ plural noun the needs of a person with mental or physical disabilities, which are different from the needs of most people ○ Children with special needs, such as blind or autistic children, require special schooling.

special offer /,speʃ(ə)l 'ɒfə/ noun goods put on sale at a specially low price specialty /'speʃ(ə)lti/ noun US same as speciality

③ species /'spi:ʃi:z/ noun a group of living things such as animals or plants which can breed with each other ○ Several species of butterfly are likely to become extinct.

① specific /'speʃɪfɪk/ adj referring precisely to something ○ Can you be more specific about what you're trying to achieve? ○ I gave specific instructions that I was not to be disturbed. ○ Is the money intended for a specific purpose?

① specifically /'speʃɪfɪkli/ adv particularly ○ I specifically said I didn't want a blue door. ○ The advertisement is specifically aimed at people over 50.

specification /,speʃɪfɪ'keɪʃ(ə)n/ noun detailed information about what is needed. Synonym requirement □ the work is not up to specification or does not meet our specifications the product is not made in the way which was detailed specifics /spə'sifɪks/ plural noun the particular details of something ○ The minister outlined the plan but refused to go into specifics.

③ specify /'speʃɪ,fai/ verb to give clear details of what is needed

specimen /'speʃɪmɪn/ noun 1. a sample of something taken as standard ○ The bank asked for a specimen signature for their records. 2. an example of a particular kind of creature or thing ○ He has some very rare specimens in his butterfly collection. ○ This is a fine specimen of this kind of fossil.

speck /spek/ noun a tiny spot speckle /'spek(ə)l/ noun a small spot of colour. Synonym fleck speckled /'spek(ə)ld/ adj covered with speckles. Synonym flecked □ a speckled hen a hen with black and white feathers spectacles /'spektək(ə)lz/ plural noun glass lenses worn in front of your eyes to correct vision ○ I can't remember where I put my spectacles. ○ He's worn spectacles since he was a child.

③ specs /speks/ plural noun same as spectacles (informal) ○ I can't see anything without my specs!

③ spectacle /'spektək(ə)l/ noun something very impressive to look at ○ The firework display is a spectacle not to be missed. ○ For sheer spectacle you can't beat a military parade.

② spectacular /spek'tækjʊlə/ adj very impressive to see or watch ○ The display was even more spectacular than last year. ○ She was very ill, but has made a spectacular recovery. ■ noun an impressive show ○ a firework spectacular on November 5th ○ a musical spectacular featuring over a hundred singers and dancers spectacularly /spek'tækjʊləli/ adv in a spectacular way. Synonym extremely spectator /spek'teɪtə/ noun a person who watches an event like a football match or a horse show. Antonym participant spectator sport /spek'teɪtə spɔ:t/ noun a sport such as football where there are thousands of spectators but only a few players spectre /'spektə/ noun 1. a ghost (literary) 2. an image of something which may cause problems in the future ○ The spectre of mass unemployment loomed over the country. (NOTE: [all senses] The US spelling is specter.)

③ spectrum /'spektrəm/ noun 1. a range of colours from red to violet as seen in a rainbow 2. a range of something ○ The bank tries to offer a wide spectrum of services.

③ speculate /'spekju:leɪt/ verb 1. to make guesses about something ○ We are all speculating about what's going to happen. 2. to take a risk in business which you hope will bring profit ◯ He made a lot of money by speculating on the Stock Exchange.

③ speculation /,spekju'leɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. trying to guess what will happen ◯ There's been a lot of speculation in the press about who might get the job. (NOTE: no plural in this meaning) 2. a risky deal which may produce a short-term profit ◯ She lost all her money in Stock Exchange speculations.

speculative /'spekjuլətɪv/ adj 1. made by guessing 2. bought because you think they will make a profit speculator /'spekjuleɪtə/ noun a person who buys shares, goods or houses in the hope that they will rise in price sped /sped/ ◊ speed

② speech /spitʃ/ noun 1. a formal talk given to an audience ◯ She made some notes before giving her speech. ◯ He wound up his speech with a story about his father. ◯ Who will be making the speech at the prize giving? 2. making intelligible sounds with the voice 3. spoken language ◯ This word is more often used in speech than in writing.

speech-impaired /spitʃ ɪm'peəd/ adj not able to speak speechless /'spitʃləs/ adj very angry or surprised

① speed /spɪ:d/ noun the rate at which something moves or is done ◯ The coach was travelling at a high speed when it crashed. ◯ Your car will use less petrol if you go at an even speed of 56 miles per hour. ◯ The speed with which they repaired the gas leak was incredible. ◯ The train travels at speeds of over 200 km per hour. ■ verb 1. to move quickly ◯ The ball sped across the ice. 2. to drive a vehicle faster than the speed limit (NOTE: speeding – sped /sped/ or speeded – has sped) speedboat /'spɪ:dbət/ noun a small fast motorboat speeding /'spɪ:dɪŋ/ noun the offence of driving a vehicle faster than the speed limit speed limit /'spɪ:d ,lɪmɪt/ noun the fastest speed at which vehicles are allowed to go legally speedometer /'spɪ:dɒmɪtə/ noun an instrument which shows how fast a vehicle is travelling speed trap /'spɪ:d træp/ noun a device by the side of a road which senses and notes details of vehicles which are travelling too fast. Synonym radar trap speed up /,spɪ:d 'ʌp/ verb 1. to go faster ◯ She speeded up because she was late. 2. to make something happen faster ◯ Can't we speed up production? ◯ We are aiming to speed up our delivery times.

speedway /'spi:dweɪ/ noun a track where motor cycle races are held speedy /'spi:di/ adj very fast (NOTE: speedier – speediest)

② spell /spel/ verb to write or say correctly the letters that make a word ◯ W-O-R-R-Y spells 'worry' ◯ How do you spell your surname? ◯ We spelt his name wrong on the envelope. ■ noun 1. a short period ◯ There was a spell of cold weather at the spring bank holiday. ◯ The warm spell will last until Thursday. 2. words which the person speaking hopes will have a magic effect ◯ The wicked witch cast a spell on the princess.

spellbinding /'spelbaindɪŋ/ adj referring to something which is so interesting it holds your attention completely. Synonym captivating spellbound /'spelbaʊnd/ adj so interested in something that it holds your attention completely spellcheck /'speltʃek/ verb to check the spelling of text, using a computer program spellchecker /'speltʃekə/ noun a computer program which checks the spelling of text and suggests corrections speller /'spelə/ noun a person who spells words ◯ a poor speller

② spelling /'spelɪŋ/ noun the correct way in which words are spelt spell out /,spel 'aʊt/ verb to explain very clearly ◯ Let me spell out the consequences of this course of action.

spelt /spelt/ ◊ spell

① spend /spend/ verb 1. to pay money ◯ I went shopping and spent a fortune. ◯ Why do we spend so much money on food? 2. to use time doing something ◯ He wants to spend more time with his family. ◯ She spent months arguing with the income tax people. ◯ Don't spend too long on your homework. ◯ Why don't you come and spend the weekend with us? (NOTE: spending – spent /spent/)

spender /'spendə/ noun a person who spends money spending /'spendɪŋ/ noun money spent. Synonym expenditure. Antonym earnings spending money /'spendɪŋ ,məni/ noun money for ordinary personal expenses spendthrift /'spendθrɪft/ noun a person who spends money fast. Antonym miser ■ adj spending money fast ◯ He must change his spendthrift habits.

spent /spent/ adj used ◊ spent fuel fuel which has been used in a nuclear reactor, which can be reprocessed ◯ Spent nuclear fuel is sent for reprocessing.

sperm /spɜ:m/ noun a male sex cell which fertilises female eggs ◯ Out of millions of sperm only one will fertilise an egg. (NOTE: The plural is sperm.)

spew /spju:/ verb to pour out ○ Gallons of toxic waste spewed into the river. ○ He spewed out a stream of racial abuse.

SPF /es pi: 'ef/ noun the amount of protection from the sun a sun cream or other sunscreen will give to your skin. Full form sun protection factor sphere /sfɪə/ noun 1. an object which is perfectly round like a ball ○ The earth is not quite a perfect sphere. 2. a general area ○ It's not a sphere of activity that we know very well. □ sphere of influence an area of the world where a strong country can influence smaller or weaker countries ○ Some Latin American countries fall within the USA's sphere of influence.

spherical /'sferɪk(ə)l/ adj shaped like a sphere, perfectly round sphinx /sfɪŋks/ noun in ancient Egyptian and Greek mythology, a creature with a lion's body and the head of a man spice /spaɪs/ noun 1. a substance made from the roots, flowers, seeds or leaves of plants, which is used to flavour food ○ Cloves, cinnamon and nutmeg are the main spices I use. ○ You need lots of spices for Indian cookery. 2. a thing which excites interest ○ I included a murder scene to add a bit of spice to the story. (NOTE: no plural in this meaning) spiced /spaɪst/ adj which has had spices added to it spice up /,spaɪs 'ʌp/ verb 1. to add spices to something ○ A pinch of mustard will spice up the sauce. 2. to make something more exciting or interesting ○ We need something to spice up the scene where the hero and heroine meet in the rain.

spick-and-span /,spɪk ən 'spæn/ adj very neat and clean spicy /'spaɪsɪ/ adj 1. with a lot of spices ○ He loves spicy Indian food. ○ Mexican cooking is hot and spicy. 2. including something which excites sexual interest (informal) ○ The paper published a spicy story about the MP and two girls. (NOTE: spicier – spiciest) spider /'spaɪdə/ noun a small animal with eight legs, which makes a web and eats insects spiderweb /'spaɪdəweb/ noun US a web made by a spider (NOTE: The British term is cobweb.)

spidery /'spaɪdəri/ adj referring to writing which is thin, untidy and irregular spike /spaɪk/ noun a sharply pointed piece of metal or wood ○ The wall was topped with a row of metal spikes. ■ verb to add drugs or alcohol to someone's food or drink ○ They spiked his drink but won't admit it.

spiked /spaɪkt/ adj with sharp points. Synonym spiky spikes /spaɪks/ plural noun running shoes with sharp points on the soles spiky /'spaɪki/ adj standing up in sharp points or ending in sharp points (NOTE: spikier – spikiest)

③ spill /spɪl/ verb 1. to pour a liquid or a powder out of a container by mistake ○ That glass is too full – you'll spill it. ○ He spilt soup down the front of his shirt. ○ She dropped the bag and some of the flour spilled out onto the floor. 2. □ to spill the beans to reveal a secret (informal) ■ noun the pouring of a liquid by accident ○ The authorities are trying to cope with the oil spill from the tanker.

③ spin /spɪn/ verb 1. to move round and round very fast ○ The earth is spinning in space. ○ The plane was spinning out of control. 2. to make something turn round and round ○ The washing machine spins the clothes to get the water out of them. ○ He spun the wheel to make sure it turned freely.

□ to spin a coin to make a coin turn round and round, so as to decide which team plays first in a competition by guessing which side of the coin will end up on top 3. to twist raw wool or cotton to form a thread 4. (of a spider) to make a web ○ The spider has spun a web between the two posts. (NOTE: spinning

– spun /spʌn/ ■ noun 1. the turning movement of a ball as it moves ○ He put so much spin on the ball that it bounced sideways. 2. the turning movement of a car out of control ○ He jammed on the brakes and the car went into a spin. □ in a flat spin in a complete state of confusion (informal) 3. □ to put a spin on something to give something a special meaning (informal) ○ The PR people have tried to put a positive spin on the sales figures. ▪ spin doctor 4. a short ride in a car ○ Let's go for a spin in my new car.

spinach /'spɪnɪðz/ noun an annual plant grown for its green leaves eaten raw as salad or cooked as a vegetable (NOTE: no plural: some spinach; a spoonful of spinach) spinal /'spɪn(ə)l/ noun referring to the spine ○ He suffered spinal injuries in the crash.

spinal column /'spɪn(ə)l ,kɒləm/ noun same as spine spinal cord /'spɪn(ə)l kɔ:d/ noun a part of the central nervous system which runs down the centre of the spine spinal nerves /'spɪn(ə)l nɜ:vz/ plural noun nerves leading from the spinal cord spindle /'spɪnd(ə)l/ noun 1. a central pin round which something turns ○ The spindle in the wheel broke. 2. a pin used for twisting thread in a spinning machine ○ She was spinning wool, and winding it round a spindle. 3.

a device which holds a disk in its central hole and spins it spindly /'spindli/ adj long, thin and weak. Antonym sturdy (NOTE: spindlier – spindliest) spin doctor /'spin ,dɒktə/ noun a person who explains news in a way that makes it flattering to the person or organisation employing him spine /spain/ noun 1. a series of bones linked together to form a flexible support from the base of the skull to the pelvis ○ He injured his spine playing rugby. Also called spinal column, backbone (NOTE: The bones in the spine are the vertebrae.) 2. a sharp part like a pin, on a plant, animal or fish ○ The porcupine has dangerous spines. ○ Did you know that lemon trees had spines? 3. the back edge of a bound book, usually with the title printed on it ○ The title and the author's name are printed on the front of the book and also on the spine.

spine-chiller /'spain ,tʃɪlə/ noun a film or story which makes you excited and very afraid. Synonym thriller spine-chilling /'spain ,tʃɪlin/ adj which makes you excited and very afraid. Synonym bloodcurdling spineless /'spainləs/ adj 1. who is weak and cowardly ○ He's so spineless – he should say what he thinks to the manager himself. 2. with no spine ○ Insects and molluscs are spineless.

spinner /'spɪnə/ noun 1. a person who spins thread 2. (in cricket) a bowler who spins the ball ○ The captain has taken off the fast bowlers and put on the spinners.

spinoff /'spɪnɒf/ noun a useful thing which comes from a process, but is not the main aim of the process spin out /,spɪn 'aʊt/ verb to make something last as long as possible spiny /'spaini/ adj covered with spines spiral /'spɪərəl/ noun 1. a shape which is twisted round and round like a spring ○ He drew a spiral on the sheet of paper. 2. a thing which turns, getting higher or lower all the time ○ Smoke was rising in spirals from the top of the chimney. ■ adj which twists round and round ○ A spiral staircase leads to the top of the tower. ■ verb 1. to move up or down in a spiral ○ The firework spiralled up into the air. ○ The leaves dropped off the tree and spiralled down to the ground. 2. to move rapidly upwards ○ Prices of imported goods are spiralling.

spiralling /'spɪərəlɪŋ/ adj rapidly increasing ○ spiralling inflation spire /'spɪər/ noun a pointed top of a church tower

spirit /'spɪrit/ noun 1. the mental attitude which controls how someone acts or responds to other people ○ She has a great spirit of fun. ○ He had an independent spirit.

2. energy and determination ○ I like her because she has got such spirit. ○ She fought her case with great spirit. ○ A good salesman needs to have the spirit of competition. 3. the real intention of something ○ That's not really in keeping with the spirit of the agreement. □ to enter into the spirit of to take part in something with enthusiasm ○ The managing director entered into the spirit of the party. 4. the part of a person that is said to still exist after death 5. a ghost of someone dead ○ the spirits of the dead □ evil spirit an imaginary being which is believed to harm people 6. alcohol (NOTE: usually plural) ■ verb to remove someone or something without it being noticed ○ They spirited her away before the photographers could get to her.

spirited /'spɪritɪd/ adj very lively spirit level /'spɪrit ,lev(ə)l/ noun a device for testing if something is level using a glass tube filled with liquid containing an air bubble spirits /'spɪrits/ plural noun 1. strong alcoholic drink like whisky or gin ○ The club is licensed to sell beers, wines and spirits. 2. mood ○ The news had an excellent effect on our spirits. ○ Their spirits sank when they realised they had no chance of winning. □ in high spirits in a very excited mood ○ She's been in high spirits since she passed her test.

spiritual /'spɪritʃʊəl/ adj referring to the spirit or the soul ○ to minister to someone's spiritual needs ○ The church's main task is to give spiritual advice and comfort to its members. Antonym physical spiritualism /'spɪritʃuə,lɪz(ə)m/ noun the belief in the possibility of communication with people who have died spirituality /,spɪritʃu'ælɪti/ noun being concerned with thought and beliefs, rather than with the body and the physical world spit /spit/ noun 1. a metal rod pushed through meat over a fire, which is turned so that the meat is evenly cooked ○ a spit-roasted lamb ○ They roasted pieces of lamb on spits. 2. a thin piece of land which goes out into the sea ○ The nature reserve is sited at the end of a spit of land. 3. the liquid which forms in your mouth (informal). Synonym saliva □ spit and polish strenuous cleaning (informal) □ the (dead) spit of an exact copy of ■ verb 1. to push liquid or food out of your mouth ○ He took a mouthful and immediately spat it out. 2. to send liquid out of the mouth to show contempt ○ He spat on or at the car as it drove away. 3. to rain a little ○ It isn't really raining – it's just spitting. (NOTE: spitting – spat /spæt/)

③ spite /spait/ noun 1. bad feeling ○ They sprayed his car with white paint out of spite. 2. □ in spite of although something happened or was done ○ In spite of all his meetings, he still found time to ring his wife. ○ We all enjoyed ourselves, in spite of the awful weather. ■ verb to annoy someone on purpose ○ He did it purely to spite his sister.

spiteful /'spaitf(ə)l/ adj full of nasty feelings against someone spitefully /'spaitf(ə)li/ adv in a spiteful way spitting image /,spitɪŋ 'ɪmɪdʒ/ noun someone who looks exactly like someone else (informal) ○ He's the spitting image of his father.

spittle /'spit(ə)l/ noun liquid which forms in your mouth (old). Synonym saliva splash /splæʃ/ noun 1. a sound when something falls into a liquid or when a liquid hits something hard ○ She fell into the pool with a loud splash. ○ Listen to the splash of the waves against the rocks. 2. a sudden show ○ The red flowers make a bright splash of colour in the front garden. 3. □ to make a splash to do something which attracts a lot of publicity (informal) ○ His new show made a splash on Broadway. ■ verb 1. (of liquid) to make a noise when something is dropped into it or when it hits something ○ I missed the ball and it splashed into the pool. ○ The rain splashed against the windows. 2. to make someone wet by sending liquid on to him ○ The car drove past through a puddle and splashed my trousers. 3. to move through water, making a noise ○ He splashed his way through the shallow water to the rocks. ○ The little children were splashing about in the paddling pool.

splash out /,splæʃ 'aʊt/ verb to spend a lot of money at one time splatter /'splætə/ verb to splash drops of liquid splay /spleɪ/ verb to spread fingers or legs apart spleen /spli:n/ noun 1. an organ in the top part of the abdominal cavity behind the stomach ○ The spleen cleans the blood and helps fight infection. 2. □ to vent your spleen on someone to get very angry with someone (formal) ○ He vented his spleen on his poor assistant.

splendid /'splendɪd/ adj which impresses. Synonym magnificent splendidly /'splendɪdlɪ/ adv in a splendid way. Synonym magnificently splendour /'splendə/ noun magnificence (NOTE: The US spelling is splendor.)

splice /splais/ verb to join two pieces of rope or film together splint /splɪnt/ noun a stiff bar tied to a broken part of the body to prevent the bone from moving splinter /'splɪntə/ noun a tiny thin piece of wood or metal which gets under the skin and irritates, causing infection ○ I got a splinter in my finger from cutting wood. ○ Can you try and get this splinter out of my thumb for me? ■ verb to split into thin pointed pieces ○ The wooden door splintered as the firemen hit it with hammers and axes.

splinter group /'splɪntə gru:p/ noun a group of people who have separated from a main group ○ The protesters are from a splinter group which broke away from the party some years ago.

② split /splat/ verb 1. to divide something into parts ○ He split the log into small pieces with an axe. □ to split the difference to agree on a figure which is half way between two figures suggested ○ You are offering £20 and he wants £40, so why don't you split the difference and settle on £30? 2. to divide or to come apart ○ My trousers were too tight – they split when I bent down. ○ After they lost the election, the party split into various factions. ■ noun 1. a division ○ They are trying to hide the split between the two factions of the party. 2. □ to do the splits to put yourself on the floor, with your legs spread in opposite directions ■ adj which has been broken in half □ to have a split personality a mental condition where you react from time to time in two totally different and opposing ways split ends /split 'endz/ plural noun a hair problem, when the end of each hair splits into different strands split infinitive /split in'finitɪv/ noun a supposed mistake in English, where it is considered wrong to put another word between the 'to' and the rest of the verb split-level /,split 'lev(ə)l/ adj with some rooms on different floors to others split peas /split 'pi:z/ plural noun dried peas split in half split second /split 'sekənd/ noun a very short space of time. Synonym instant □ for a split second for a very short moment ○ For a split second he didn't move. □ in a split second very rapidly ○ Everything happened in a split second.

splitting /'splɪtnɪŋ/ adj □ a splitting headache a very bad headache split up /,split 'ʌp/ verb 1. to divide ○ We must try to split up the class into groups of three or four. 2. to start to live apart ○ They had a row and split up.

splutter /'splætə/ verb 1. to speak rapidly, using very short phrases, especially when angry ○ 'what, what, what ... do you mean by that?' he spluttered in fury. 2. to make a hissing sound ◇ The wet logs were sputtering on the fire.

② spoil /spɔɪl/ verb 1. to ruin something which was good ◇ We had such bad weather that our camping holiday was spoilt. ◇ Half the contents of the warehouse were spoiled by floodwater. □ to spoil your appetite to make you not want to eat ◇ Don't eat so many crisps – they'll spoil your appetite for lunch. 2. to be too kind to someone, especially a child, so that he or she sometimes becomes badly behaved ◇ You'll spoil that child if you always give in to him. ◇ Grandparents are allowed to spoil their grandchildren a little. 3. □ to be spoiling for a fight to be eager to get into a fight ◇ The socialists were spoiling for a fight with the liberals. 4. to go bad ◇ If we don't eat this meat today it will spoil. (NOTE: spoiling – spoilt /spɔɪlt/ or spoiled) spoils /spɔɪlz/ plural noun 1. goods taken by soldiers from a defeated enemy ◇ Their spoils filled several train wagons. Synonym booty 2. things bought ◇ She came back from the jumble sale, laden with spoils.

spoilsport /spɔɪlspɔɪt/ noun a person who spoils other people's enjoyment. Synonym killjoy spoilt /spɔɪlt/ adj (of a child) who has been treated in a way which is too kind, and so is badly behaved spoke /spəuk/ noun a rod which connects the axle of a wheel to the rim ◇ The wheel wobbles because one of the spokes is bent. □ verb ↗ speak

spoken /spəʊkən/ ↗ speak

sponge /spɔndʒ/ noun 1. a sea animal with a skeleton which is full of holes ◇ Diving down into the Red Sea you could see sponges on the sea floor. 2. the dried soft skeleton of this sea animal, or a block of soft material full of small holes, which soaks up water and is used for washing ◇ Real sponges are very expensive. ◇ I use a large sponge to wash the car. □ to throw in the sponge to admit you have been beaten (informal) ◇ Don't throw in the sponge so soon, you've got several other chances. 3. a soft material full of small holes used to make things like cushions ◇ The sofa has sponge cushions. □ verb to wipe clean with a sponge ◇ He sponged the kitchen table.

sponge bag /spɔndʒ bæg/ noun a bag used to hold toiletries sponge cake /spɔndʒ keɪk/ noun a light soft cake

sponge on /'spɔndʒ ɒn/, sponge off /'spɔndʒ ɒf/ verb to live by begging for money from someone (informal) ◇ He has no proper job and lives by sponging off his wife's parents.

sponge pudding /spɔndʒ 'pʊdɪŋ/ noun a light soft pudding sponger /'spɔndʒə/ noun a person who does not work but asks for money from friends (informal) spongy /'spɔndʒi/ adj soft and full of holes sponsor /'spɒnəsə/ noun 1. a person or company that pays to financially help a sport, an exhibition or a music festival, in return for the right to advertise at sporting events, on sports clothes or programmes ◇ The company is the sponsor for premier division football. 2. company which pays part of the cost of making a TV or radio programme by advertising on the programme 3. a person who pays money to a charity when someone else walks, swims, or runs a certain distance ◇ He's taking part in the school cross-country and wants sponsors. 4. a person who takes responsibility for someone ◇ She acted as his sponsor when he applied for membership of the club. □ verb 1. to be a sponsor ◇ The company has sponsored the football match. ◇ Will you sponsor me if I apply to join the club? ◇ I sponsored her to take part in a marathon for charity. 2. to be the god-parent of a child and promise to help the child to lead a Christian life sponsored /'spɒnəsəd/ adj which has been sponsored by people or an organisation

③ sponsorship /'spɒnəsəʃɪp/ noun the action of sponsoring spontaneity /,spɒntə'nɛtɪ/ noun behaving in a natural way. Antonym constraint spontaneous /spɒn'teɪnɪəs/ adj which happens of its own accord, which is not forced or prepared in advance. Synonym impulsive spontaneously /spɒn'teɪnɪəslɪ/ adv in a spontaneous way spoof /spu:f/ noun an amusing imitation to trick someone spook /spu:k/ noun (informal) 1. a ghost ◇ a TV cartoon about spooks who haunted an office block 2. a spy ◇ The spooks planted bugs in the ambassador's car.

spooky /'spu:ki/ adj frightening and which makes you think there may be ghosts around (informal) (NOTE: spookier – spookiest) spool /spu:l/ noun a cylinder round which you wind something ② spoon /spu:n/ noun 1. a utensil with a handle at one end and a small bowl at the other, used for eating liquids and soft food, or for stirring food which is being cooked ◇ Use a spoon to eat your pudding. ◇ We need a big spoon to serve the soup. 2. an amount held in a spoon ◇ Add two spoons of sugar. □ verb to move something with a spoon ◇ She spooned jam onto her plate. ◇ They were spooning soup out into each bowl.

spoon-feed /'spu:n fi:d/ verb 1. to give someone food with a spoon 2. to teach students by giving them answers to questions and not allowing them to work by themselves 3. to provide everything for people so that they need do nothing to help themselves spoonful /'spu:fu:l/ noun an amount which a spoon can hold sporadic /spə'rædɪk/ adj which happens at irregular intervals spore /spo:/ noun a reproductive body of some plants and bacteria

① sport /spɔ:t/ noun a game or games involving physical activity and competition ○ Do you like watching sport on TV? ○ The world of sport is mourning the death of the racing driver. ○ The only sport I play is tennis. ○ She doesn't play any sport at all. □ good sport a person who doesn't mind being teased ○ He's a good sport. ■ verb to wear something proudly (informal) ○ He was sporting a red and orange tie.

sporting /'spɔ:tiŋ/ adj 1. referring to sport ○ a big sporting weekend on TV, with tennis matches, the World Cup and a golf tournament 2. pleasant and willing to help, especially when playing a sport ○ He's a very sporting chap.

sporting chance /,spɔ:tiŋ 'tʃa:ns/ noun a quite good chance that something will happen sportingly /'spɔ:tiŋli/ adv in a pleasant and helpful way sportive /'spɔ:tiv/ adj liking to play. Synonym playful sports car /'spɔ:ts ka:/ noun a fast open car sports centre /'spɔ:ts ,sentə/ noun a place where several different sports can be played sportsman /'spɔ:tsmən/ noun a man who plays a sport (NOTE: The plural is sports-men.)

sportsmanlike /'spɔ:tsmənlaik/ adj fair and polite sportsmanship /'spɔ:tsmənʃɪp/ noun fair and polite behaviour when playing sport sportswear /'spɔ:tsweə/ noun clothes worn to play sport (NOTE: no plural) sportswoman /'spɔ:ts,wu:mən/ noun a woman who plays a sport (NOTE: The plural is sportswomen.)

sporty /'spɔ:ti/ adj interested in sport and enjoying sport

① spot /spot/ noun 1. a particular place ○ This is the exact spot where Anne Boleyn was executed. □ on the spot at a particular place where something happens ○ I happened to be on the spot when the incident took place. ○ We had twenty policemen on the spot to make sure there was no trouble. 2. a coloured mark, usually round ○ Her dress has a pattern of white and red spots. ○ He wore a blue tie with white spots. □ to knock spots off someone to be easily better than someone (informal) ○ She sang a little song which knocked spots off all the others. 3. a small round mark or pimple on the skin ○ She suddenly came out in spots after eating fish. 4. a small amount (informal) ○ Would you like a spot of lunch? ○ We had a spot of luck. ○ He's had a spot of bother with the tax authorities. 5. a short period in a TV or radio programme ○ She had a spot on the breakfast news programme. 6. same as spotlight ■ verb to notice ○ The teacher didn't spot the mistake. ○ We spotted him in the crowd. (NOTE: spotting – spotted) spot check /'spɒt tʃek/ noun a check made suddenly and at random. Synonym inspection spotless /'spɒtləs/ adj very clean spotlight /'spɒtlait/ noun 1. a bright light which shines on one small area ○ She stood in the spotlights on the stage. 2. □ to turn the spotlight on something to draw attention to something ○ The TV programme turns the spotlight on the plight of refugees. ■ verb to draw attention to something clearly ○ We want to spotlight the dangers of riding bicycles without lights. Synonym highlight spot-on /'spɒt 'ɒn/ adj absolutely correct (informal) ○ His analysis of the situation was spot-on.

spotted /'spɒtid/ adj covered with spots spotty /'spɒti/ adj covered with pimples (NOTE: spottier – spottiest) spouse /spaus/ noun a husband or wife

spout /'spaut/ noun 1. a tube which projects out of a container, shaped specially for pouring liquid ○ You fill the kettle through the spout. ○ Cut here and pull out to form a spout. 2. a tube for sending rainwater away from the wall of a building ○ Water was gushing out of the spout. 3. □ up the spout lost or ruined (informal) ■ verb 1. to come out like a jet of water ○ Blood spouted out of his neck. 2. spout, spout on to go on speaking about something too much (informal) ○ She was spouting on about women's rights.

sprain /'sprain/ noun a condition where the ligaments in a joint are torn because of a sudden movement ○ He is walking with a stick because of an ankle sprain. ■ verb to tear the ligaments in a joint such as an ankle ○ He sprained his ankle jumping over the fence.

sprang /spræŋ/ □ spring

sprawl /sprɔ:l/ verb 1. to lie with your arms and legs spread out ○ He sprawled in his armchair and turned on the TV. ○ The boy on the bike hit her and sent her sprawling. 2. to spread out in an irregular way ○ The housing estates sprawl across the farmland to the east of the town.

③ spray /spreɪ/ noun 1. a mass of tiny drops of liquid ○ The waves crashed against the sea wall sending spray over the road. ○ An aerosol sends out a liquid in a fine spray. ○ She uses a nasal spray to clear her catarrh. 2. a little branch of a plant with flowers on it ○ The room was decorated with sprays of lilac. ■ verb to send out liquid in fine drops ○ He sprayed water all over the patio with the hose. ○ They sprayed the room with disinfectant.

④ spread /spred/ verb 1. to arrange over a wide area ○ Spread the paper flat on the table. 2. to move over a wide area ○ The fire started in the top floor and soon spread to the roof. ○ The cholera epidemic has spread to the main towns. 3. to cover with a layer of something ○ She spread a white cloth over the table. ○ He was spreading butter on a piece of bread. 4. □ to spread payments over several months to make payments over several months, not all at once ■ noun 1. the action of moving over a wide area ○ Doctors are trying to check the spread of the disease. 2. a range ○ There is a wide spread of abilities in the class. ○ She has a wide spread of interests. 3. an attractive mass of food ○ You should have seen the spread at her wedding reception! 4. a soft paste of meat, fish or cheese ○ As snacks, they offered us water biscuits with cheese spread.

spreadeagled /'spredɪ:g(ə)ld/ adj lying flat with arms and legs stretched out spread out /,spred 'aut/ verb 1. to arrange things over a wide area ○ She spread out the clothes on her bed. ○ He spread out the plans on the MD's desk. 2. to move away from others over a wide area ○ The rioters spread out across the square. ○ The policemen spread out to search the woods.

spreadsheet /'spredʃɪ:t/ noun 1. a computer program which allows calculations to be done in columns of figures ○ You can use a spreadsheet to do your household accounts. 2. a printout of columns of figures on wide computer stationery spree /spri:/ noun a short time of doing something enjoyable. Synonym jaunt □ to go on a spending or shopping spree to have a happy time spending money spring /sprɪŋ/ noun a little branch sprightly /'spraitli/ adj lively and energetic. Antonym lethargic (NOTE: springlier – springliest)

① spring /sprɪŋ/ noun 1. the season of the year between winter and summer ○ In spring all the trees start to grow new leaves. ○ We always go to Greece in the spring. ○ They started work last spring or in the spring of last year and they still haven't finished. 2. a wire which is twisted round and round and which goes back to its original shape after you have pulled it or pushed it ○ The mattress is so old the springs have burst through the cover. ○ There's a spring to keep the door shut. 3. a strong coil or disc of special metal which absorbs energy and allows a vehicle to travel smoothly over uneven surfaces ○ The springs in the car are starting to squeak. 4. a place where a stream of water rushes out of the ground ○ The town of Bath was built in Roman times around hot springs. 5. a quick jump into the air ○ A little spring and he had reached the window sill. ■ verb to move suddenly ○ Everyone sprang to life when the officer shouted. ○ The door sprang open without anyone touching it. □ to spring from to come suddenly from ○ Where on earth did you spring from?

springboard /'sprɪŋbɔ:d/ noun 1. a long flexible board used to dive or jump off 2. a thing used to help you start something ○ He bought a small company and used it as a springboard to enter the US market.

springbok /'sprɪŋbɒk/ noun a type of small deer found in Africa

Springboks /'sprɪŋbɒks/ plural noun the South African international rugby team spring-clean /,sprɪŋ 'kli:n/ verb to clean a house thoroughly ○ It took me a week to spring-clean the house. ■ noun the action of cleaning a house thoroughly ○ The house needs a complete spring-clean.

spring onion /sprɪŋ 'ənʃən/ noun a very small onion with long green leaves, used in salads and in cooking (NOTE: The US term is scallions) spring roll /sprɪŋ 'rəʊl/ noun a Chinese snack, made of vegetables or fish rolled in a light pancake and fried springtime /'sprɪntaɪm/ noun the time of year when it is spring. Synonym spring springy /'sprɪŋi/ adj 1. □ springy step quick, light and flexible step ○ She walked with a springy step into the room. 2. which is very soft to walk on ○ We walked across the springy lawn. (NOTE: springier – springiest) sprinkle /'sprɪŋkəl/ verb to scatter around sprinkler /'sprɪŋklə/ noun a device for sprinkling water sprinkling /'sprɪŋklɪŋ/ noun a small or thin scattering sprint /sprɪnt/ noun a fast run, especially at the end of a race ○ He must save some energy for the final sprint. ■ verb to run very fast over a short distance ○ I had to sprint to catch the bus. ○ She sprinted down the track.

sprinter /'sprɪntə/ noun a runner who runs in sprint races sprout /sprout/ noun a new shoot of a plant ○ The vine is covered with new sprouts. ■ verb to produce new shoots ○ Throw those old potatoes away, they're starting to sprout.

 ○ The bush had begun to sprout fresh green leaves.

spruce /spru:s/ noun a softwood tree growing in cold forests ○ a forest of spruce (NOTE: The plural is spruce or sometimes spruces.) ■ adj smart and clean ○ She looks spruce and elegant in her new uniform. Antonym scruffy ■ verb □ to spruce yourself up to make yourself neat and tidy ○ The soldiers spruced themselves up before the general arrived.

sprung /sprʌŋ/ □ spring spy /sprai/ adj agile and lively spud /spu:d/ noun a potato (informal) spun /spən/ □ spin

spur /spɜ:/ noun 1. a sharp metal point attached to the heel of a rider's boot which jabs the horse to make it go faster ○ The cowboy put on his spurs and went to saddle up his horse. 2. □ to win your spurs to show your qualities for the first time ○ It's a chance for this young player to win his spurs at international level. 3. a thing which stimulates ○ The letter from the university was the spur that encouraged him to work harder. 4. □ on the spur of the moment without being planned in advance ○ We decided on the spur of the moment to go to France. 5. a hill which leads from a higher mountain ○ The hill we climbed was a spur of the Rockies. 6. a minor road or railway line leading off a main one ○ A spur runs off from the road to the power station. ■ verb to urge someone on ○ The runners were spurred on by the shouts of the crowd. (NOTE: spurring – spurred) spurious /'spjuəriəs/ adj not based on facts. Synonym false spurn /spɜ:n/ verb to reject an offer scornfully spurt /spɜ:t/ noun 1. a strong jet of liquid ○ They tried to block the spurts of water coming out of the pipe. 2. a sudden sudden effort ○ He put on a spurt and won the race. ■ verb 1. □ to spurt out to come out in a strong jet ○ Oil spurted out of the burst pipe. 2. to run fast suddenly ○ He spurted past two runners and came in first.

sputter /'spatə/ verb to send out sparks or small drops spy /spaɪ/ noun a person who is paid to try to find out secret information about the enemy or a rival group ○ He was executed as a Russian spy. Synonym secret agent (NOTE: The plural is spies.) ■ verb to work as a spy □ to spy on someone to watch someone in secret, to find out what they are planning to do ○ We discovered that our neighbours had been spying on us. □ to spy for someone to find out secret information and pass it back to someone ○ He was accused of spying for the Americans.

spyhole /'spaɪ,həʊl/ noun a small hole in a door for looking through to see who is there spying /'spaɪɪŋ/ noun the activity of trying to find out information secretly

■ abbr square

squabble /'skwəb(ə)l/ noun an argument, especially about something unimportant ○ He got involved in a squabble between the taxi drivers over whose taxi he would take. ■ verb to argue ○ They spent the whole evening squabbling over money.

③ squad /skwəd/ noun 1. a small group of soldiers who perform duties together ○ Corporal, take your squad and guard the prisoners. 2. a department in the police service ○ He's the head of the drugs squad. ○ She's investigating on behalf of the fraud squad. 3. a group of players from whom a sports team will be chosen ○ The England squad for the World Cup has been selected.

squad car /'skwəd ku:/ noun a police car on patrol duty

③ squadron /'skwədrən/ noun a group of aircraft or of naval ships squalid /'skwəlid/ adj unpleasant or dirty squall /skwɔ:l/ noun a sudden gust of wind ○ A sudden squall capsized the boat. ■ verb to cry loudly ○ She came with her three squalling children.

squalor /'skwələ/ noun dirty conditions or surroundings squander /'skwəndə/ verb to waste money, energy or opportunity

① square /skwɛə/ noun 1. a shape with four equal sides and four right-angled corners ○ A chessboard is made up of black and white squares. ○ Graph paper is drawn with a series of small squares. □ back to square one to start again from the point you originally started from (informal) ○ The test plane crashed, so it's back to square one again. 2. an open space in a town, with big buildings all round ○ The hotel is in the main square of the town, opposite the town hall. ○ Red Square is in the middle of Moscow. 3. (in mathematics) the result when a number is multiplied by itself ○ 9 is the square of 3. ■ adj 1. shaped like a square, with four equal sides and four right-angled corners ○ You can't fit six people round a small square table. ○ An A4 piece of paper isn't square. □ a square peg in a round hole someone whose character does not allow them to fit easily into a particular situation 2. making a 90° angle ○ There's not one corner in the room that is square. 3. honest and fair ○ Are you being square with me? □ square deal honest treatment in business ○ They didn't get a square deal from the tax office. □ we're all square

we do not owe each other anything (informal)

4. multiplied by itself □ square metre (in mathematics) the area of one metre multiplied by one metre □ verb 1. to make something square 2. to pay someone what is owed or to pay someone a bribe ○ They had to square a couple of local officials before the deal went through. 3. □ to square it with someone to see that someone gives approval (informal) ○ Let me deal with it – I'll square it with the inspector. 4. (in mathematics) to multiply a number by itself ○ 3 squared is 9.

square brackets /skweə 'brækts/ plural noun printing symbols [] used to enclose certain types of text square dance /'skweə da:n:s/ noun a form of North American country dance, where sets of four couples dance forming a square square dancing /'skweə ,da:nsɪŋ/ noun the activity of doing a square dance squarely /'skweəli/ adv in a direct and straightforward way ○ He looked her squarely in the face. □ fairly and squarely directly, without any mistakes ○ They put the blame fairly and squarely on the bank.

square meal /skweə 'mi:l/ noun a large meal. Antonym snack square root /skweə 'ru:t/ noun a number which, multiplied by itself, will produce a particular number ○ 3 is the square root of 9. square yard /skweə 'jard/ noun a measurement of area that is one yard long on each side squash /skwəʃ/ verb to crush, to squeeze ○ Hundreds of commuters were squashed into the train. ○ He sat on my hat and squashed it flat. □ noun 1. a situation where a lot of people are crowded in a small space ○ It's rather a squash with twenty people in the room. 2. a drink made of concentrated fruit juice to which water is added ○ a glass of orange squash 3. a large vegetable similar to a marrow or pumpkin 4. a fast game for two players played in an enclosed court, with a small, squashy rubber ball and light, long-handled rackets ○ He plays squash to unwind after a day at the office. ○ Let's play a game of squash. (NOTE: no plural) squash court /'skwəʃ kɔ:t/ noun a court for playing squash squash racket /skwəʃ 'rækɪt/ noun a racket for playing squash squashy /'skwəʃi/ adj soft and easily flattened

③ squat /skwət/ verb 1. to crouch down, sitting on your heels ○ She squatted on the floor, trying to get the stains out of the carpet. 2. to occupy an empty unused house belonging to another person, without permission and without paying rent ○ She squatted for a time with other students from the college. (NOTE: squatting – squatted)

■ adj short and thick ○ A squat lady in her sixties sat next to me on the bus. ○ The table looks too squat and doesn't fit in here. Antonym slender (NOTE: squatter – squattest) ■ noun an empty house which people occupy illegally ○ The police raided the student squat.

squatter /'skwətə/ noun a person who squats in someone else's property or illegally on waste ground squawk /skwɔ:k/ noun a short harsh cry of a bird ○ There was a sudden squawk from the bushes, and a very angry pheasant ran out. ■ verb to make short harsh cries ○ The eagle brought back some food for her squawking chicks.

squeak /skwi:k/ noun a little high-pitched noise like that of a mouse or a rusty hinge ○ You can tell when someone comes into the garden by the squeak of the gate. □ narrow squeak a near miss, a narrow escape (informal) ○ We had a narrow squeak when a lorry just missed crashing into our car. ■ verb to make a squeak ○ That door squeaks – the hinges need oiling.

squeaky /'skwi:ki/ adj which squeaks ○ He spoke in a little squeaky voice. ○ These squeaky hinges need oiling.

squeaky clean /,skwi:ki 'kli:n/ noun 1. extremely clean ○ All the work surfaces have to be squeaky clean. 2. morally pure ○ The minister's squeaky clean image has been tarnished by the scandal.

squeal /skwi:l/ noun a loud high-pitched noise ○ Angry squeals came from the pigsty. ○ The children let out squeals of delight when they saw the presents under the Christmas tree. ○ The car turned the corner with a squeal of tyres. ■ verb 1. to make a loud high-pitched noise ○ She squealed when she heard she had won first prize. ○ As the car turned the corner its tyres squealed. 2. to give the police information about someone (informal) ○ He squealed on his partners.

squeamish /'skwi:mɪʃ/ adj likely to be upset by nasty things

③ squeeze /skwi:z/ noun 1. the act of pressing or crushing ○ I gave her hand a squeeze. 2. a situation where there is very little space to get into or through ○ You can get through the hole, but it's a tight squeeze. 3. an amount pushed out ○ He put a squeeze of toothpaste on his brush. □ a squeeze of lemon a few drops of lemon juice ■ verb 1. to press on something or to press or crush something like a fruit or a tube to get something out of it ○ She squeezed my arm gently. ○ He squeezed an orange to get the juice. ○ She squeezed some toothpaste out onto her brush. 2. to force into a small space ○ You can't squeeze six people into that little car. ○

More people tried to squeeze on the train even though it was full already. □ The cat managed to squeeze through the window.

squelch /skweltʃ/ noun a noise similar to that made when walking in a wet sticky substance ■ verb to make a wet sucking noise □ He squelched through the mud.

squid /skwid/ noun a sea animal with eight long arms or tentacles, smaller than an octopus (NOTE: The plural is squid.)

squiggle /skwig(ə)l/ noun a curvy, irregular line or mark squint /skwint/ noun 1. a state where your two eyes look in different directions □ He has a noticeable squint. 2. a look or glance □ Let's have a squint at that letter. ■ verb 1. to have eyes which look in different directions □ He squints badly, which makes it difficult to know who he is looking at. 2. to half-close your eyes to look at something □ He squinted through the keyhole but couldn't see anything.

squirm /skwɜːm/ verb 1. to wriggle about 2. to feel very embarrassed □ it makes me squirm it makes me very embarrassed squirrel /'skwɪrl/ noun a small red or grey wild animal with a large bushy tail which lives in trees and eats nuts □ The squirrel sat up on a branch nibbling a nut. □ Squirrels hoard nuts for the winter. ■ verb squirrel, squirrel away to keep something safely so that you can use it later squirt /skwɜːt/ noun 1. a thin jet of liquid □ Just put a squirt of washing-up liquid in the bowl. 2. an annoying or small unpleasant person (insult) □ That little squirt – you can beat him at tennis any day! ■ verb to send out a thin jet of liquid □ Don't squirt so much washing-up liquid into the bowl. □ She squeezed the tube hard and masses of toothpaste squirted out. Synonym spurt squish /skwɪʃ/ verb to press, squeeze or crush something soft (informal) squishy /'skwɪʃɪ/ adj soft, squashy and wet (informal) ssh /ʃ/ interj another spelling of sh

③ stab /stæb/ noun a deep wound made by the point of a knife □ He died of stab wounds. □ stab in the back an attack by someone who is thought to be loyal □ His speech was a stab in the back for the party leader. ■ verb to wound by jabbing with a sharp knife □ He was stabbed in the chest. □ to stab someone in the back to do something nasty to someone who thinks you are his friend □ She was stabbed in the back by people who owed their success to her.

stabbing /'stæbɪŋ/ adj referring to pain which comes in a series of short sharp feelings □ He had stabbing pains in his chest. ■ noun an attack where someone is stabbed

○ The stabbing of the young nurse shocked everyone.

stabilise /'steɪbəlaɪz/, stabilize verb 1. to make firm □ We need more weight on this side of the boat to stabilise it. □ The United Nations is sending in troops to try to stabilise the situation. 2. to become steady □ prices have stabilised

③ stability /stə'bɪlɪtɪ/ noun being stable or steady. Antonym instability

stabiliser /'steɪbɪlaɪzə/, stabilizer noun 1. small wheels attached to a child's bike to stop it falling over □ She says she can ride without stabilisers now. 2. a piece put on the hull of a ship to prevent it from rolling □ The crossing is much smoother in a ship fitted with stabilisers. 3. an artificial substance added to processed food to stop a mixture from changing ③ stable /'steɪb(ə)l/ adj 1. steady and which does not shake □ The ladder is not very stable, will you hold it for me? □ Put a book under one leg of the desk to keep it stable. Antonym unstable 2. which does not change □ The hospital said his condition was stable. Antonym unstable 3. (in chemistry) referring to a compound which does not change or decompose easily ■ noun a building for keeping a horse □ My horse is not in his stable, who's riding him?

stables /'steɪb(ə)lz/ plural noun a place where horses are kept for breeding or racing

stack /stæk/ noun a pile or heap of things one on top of the other □ a stack of books and papers □ a stack of, stacks of lots of (informal) □ I've got a stack of things to do today. □ You can charge the tourists what you like – they've got stacks of money. ■ verb 1. to pile things on top of each other □ The skis are stacked outside the chalet. □ She stacked up the dirty plates. □ The warehouse is stacked with boxes. 2. (of aircraft) to circle round waiting in turn for permission to land at a busy airport □ We have had aircraft stacking for over fifteen minutes on busy days.

③ stadium /'steɪdiəm/ noun a large building for sport, with seating arranged around a sports field (NOTE: The plural is stadiums or stadia.)

① staff /stɑːf/ noun 1. all the people who work in a company, school, college, or other organisation □ She's on the school staff. □ Only staff can use this lift. □ A quarter of our staff are ill. □ That firm pays its staff very badly. □ He joined the staff last Monday. □ Three members of staff are away sick. (NOTE: staff refers to a group of people and so is often followed by a verb in the plural.) □ clerical staff, office staff people who work in offices □ staff appraisal a report on how well a member of staff is working □ staff turnover the changes in staff in an organisation, with some leaving and new people coming 2. a long stick ○ They attacked the beggars and beat them with staffs. 3. a set of five lines on which music is written. Also called stave ■ verb to provide workers for an organisation ○ They are planning to staff the bar with part-timers. ○ The shop is staffed by idiots.

staffer /'sta:fə/ noun US a member of the permanent staff (informal) staffing /'sta:fɪŋ/ noun the process of providing workers for an organisation □ staffing levels the number of members of staff required in a department for it to work efficiently staff room /'sta:f ru:m/ noun a room for teachers in a school

stag /stæg/ noun 1. an adult male deer ○ Don't approach the stags in the autumn – they can be very dangerous. (NOTE: Female deer are does) 2. a person who buys a new issue of shares and sells them immediately to make a profit ■ verb □ to stag an issue to buy a new issue of shares not as an investment, but to sell immediately at a profit ① stage /steɪdʒ/ noun 1. a raised floor, especially where the actors perform in a theatre ○ The pop group came onto the stage and started to sing. 2. □ the stage the profession of actor ○ She is planning to go on the stage. ○ He has chosen the stage as a career. 3. one of several points of development ○ The first stage in the process is to grind the ore to powder. ○ The different stages of a production process □ the contract is still in the drafting stage the contract is still being drafted □ in stages in different steps ○ The company has agreed to repay the loan in stages. 4. a section of a long journey ○ Stage one of the tour takes us from Paris to Bordeaux. □ in easy stages not doing anything very difficult ○ We did the walk in easy stages. ○ The tour will cross India by easy stages. 5. each of the parts of a rocket ■ verb 1. to put on or arrange a play, a show, a musical or other performance or event ○ The exhibition is being staged in the college library. 2. to do or make something □ to stage a recovery to recover ○ She has staged a remarkable recovery after her accident.

stagecoach /'steɪdʒkəʊtʃ/ noun (in the 18th and 19th centuries) a horse-drawn passenger coach which used to run regularly along certain routes stage direction /'steɪdʒ dɪəkʃən/ noun a note in the script of a play showing what the actors have to do stage fright /'steɪdʒ frait/ noun nervousness which actors feel before going onto the stage stage-manage /steɪdʒ 'mænɪdʒ/ verb 1. to arrange something carefully so that it appears natural or easy 2. (in the theatre) to organise a performance stage manager /steɪdʒ 'mænɪdʒə/ noun a person who organises a performance of a play, opera or other performance stage whisper /steɪdʒ 'wɪspə/ noun a loud whisper which everyone can hear

stagger /'stægə/ verb 1. to walk unsteadily, almost falling down ○ She managed to stagger across the road and into the police station. ○ Three men staggered out of the pub. 2. to surprise someone enormously ○ I was staggered at the amount they charge for service. 3. to arrange something such as holidays or working hours, so that they do not all begin and end at the same time ○ We have to stagger the lunch hour so that there is always someone on the switchboard. ■ noun an unsteady movement when someone walks ○ He walked with a noticeable stagger.

staggered /'stægəd/ adj 1. shocked or very surprised at something 2. not in a consecutive sequence or in a straight line staggering /'stægərɪŋ/ adj very surprising. Synonym astounding stagnant /'stægnənt/ adj 1. (of water) which does not flow, which is not pure enough to drink ○ The marsh was full of stagnant pools of brown water. ○ Mosquitoes breed in stagnant water. 2. (of business) not active, not increasing ○ Turnover was stagnant for the first half of the year. ○ There is a danger of the economy becoming stagnant.

stagnate /stæg'niteit/ verb not to increase, not to make progress staid /steɪd/ adj serious and solemn. Synonym sedate. Antonym exciting

③ stain /steɪn/ noun 1. a mark which is difficult to remove, such as ink or blood ○ It is difficult to remove coffee stains from the tablecloth. ○ There was a round stain on the table where he had put his wine glass. 2. a liquid paint used to give a different colour to wood ○ We bought some dark green stain for the furniture in the conservatory. ■ verb 1. to make a mark of a different colour on something ○ If you eat those blueberries they will stain your teeth. ○ The tablecloth was stained with strawberry jam. ○ His shirt was stained with blood. 2. to colour something with a stain; to put a stain on a surface ○ The door will be stained light brown.

stained /steɪnd/ adj coloured with a liquid ○ He went to change his stained shirt. ■ suffix which has been coloured with a liquid ○ his ink-stained fingers ○ her blood-stained clothes stained glass /'steɪnd 'glæs/ noun glass which has been coloured, used for making church windows stainless steel /'steɪnləs/ noun a type of steel with a high percentage of chromium in it, which makes it less likely to rust ② stair /steər/ noun one step in a series of steps, going up or down inside a building ○ He was sitting on the bottom stair. □ stairs staircase /'steɪkəs/ noun a set of stairs which go from one floor in a building to another

② stairs /steəz/ plural noun steps which go up or down inside a building. Synonym staircase stairway /'steəwei/ noun a set of stairs which go from one floor inside or outside a building to another. Synonym staircase ③ stake /steɪk/ noun 1. a strong pointed piece of wood or metal, pushed into the ground to mark something, or to hold something up ○ They hammered stakes into the ground to put up a wire fence. ○ The apple trees are attached to stakes. 2. money which has been bet or invested ○ With a £5 stake he won £100. □ the stakes are high a lot of money could be won or lost □ he has a stake in the company he has invested money in the company □ at stake which may be lost if what you do fails ○ You must reply to the allegations in the paper, the reputation of the family is at stake! □ verb 1. to put sticks in the ground to mark an area ○ We staked out the area where the riding events were to take place. □ to stake your claim to something to say in public that you have the right to own something ○ As soon as we arrived at the hotel she staked her claim to the only room with a view of the sea. 2. to risk something ○ He staked his reputation on the libel action. ○ I'd stake my life on it, he's not guilty. ○ They had staked everything on the success of this product. □ to stake money on something to risk or bet money on something ○ She staked £10,000 on a throw of the dice.

stakeholder /'steɪkhəldər/ noun a person who has a stake in a business, such as a shareholder, an employee or a supplier, etc.

stalactite /'stælæktait/ noun a long pointed growth of mineral from the ceiling of a cave, formed by the continuous dripping of water which is rich in minerals stalagmite /'stælægmait/ noun a long pointed growth of mineral growing from the floor of a cave, formed by the continuous dripping of water from the end of a stalactite stale /steɪl/ adj old and unusable, no longer fresh (NOTE: staler – stalest) stalemate /'steɪlmēt/ noun 1. (in chess) a situation where neither player can make any move permitted by the rules, and so no one wins 2. a situation where neither side will compromise ○ The discussions have reached a stalemate. ○ Negotiations are con- tinuing to try to break the stalemate or to find a way out of the stalemate.

stalk /stɔ:k/ noun the stem of a plant which holds a leaf, a flower or a fruit ○ Roses with very long stalks are more expensive. ○ Cherries are often sold attached to stalks in pairs. □ verb 1. to walk stiffly, proudly or angrily ○ She stalked into the committee room. 2. to stay near and watch someone all the time, especially in a way that they find threatening ○ The hunters stalked the deer. ○ The photographers stalked the film star. ○ The TV presenter was being stalked by a local fan.

stalker /'stɔ:ka/ noun a person who follows people or animals

stall /stɔ:l/ noun 1. a small moveable stand in a market, where a trader displays and sells his goods ○ He has a flower stall at Waterloo Station. ○ We wandered round the market looking at the stalls. 2. a compartment for one animal in a building such as a stable ○ Each horse had its own stall with its name on it. □ verb 1. to put off answering a question or making a decision ○ Have they got genuine doubts about the plan or are they simply stalling? 2. (of a car engine) to stop unintentionally, often when trying to drive off without accelerating ○ If he takes his foot off the accelerator, the engine stalls. ○ The car stalled at the traffic lights and he couldn't restart it. 3. (of an aircraft) to go so slowly that the engine cuts out and the plane drops stallion /'stæljən/ noun an adult male horse, especially one kept for breeding stalls /stɔ:lz/ plural noun 1. seats on the ground floor in a theatre or cinema 2. □ choir stalls rows of seats for the choir in a church stalwart /'stɔ:lwət/ adj strong, vigorous or brave ○ a stalwart defence of basic human rights □ noun a person who works hard and is loyal ○ There was no one at the meeting except the stalwarts of the parish council.

stamen /'steimən/ noun the male part of a flower consisting of a stalk carrying pollen stamina /'stæmɪnə/ noun the strength to do something over a long period stammer /'stæmə/ verb to hesitate and repeat sounds when speaking ○ He stammers badly when making speeches. ○ She rushed into the police station and stammered out 'he's – he's – he's after me, he's got – got – a knife'. □ noun a speech problem that involves hesitating and repeating sounds when speaking ○ Because of his stammer he was shy and reserved at school. ▶ Synonym (all senses) stutter

① stamp /stæmp/ noun 1. a little piece of paper with a price printed on it which you stick on a letter to show that you have paid for it to be sent by post ○ You need a 27p stamp for that letter. ○ She forgot to put a stamp on the letter before she posted it. ○ He wants to show me his stamp collection. 2. a machine for making a mark on something ○ We have a stamp for marking letters when they come into the office. 3. a mark made on something ○ The invoice has the stamp 'received with thanks' on it. ○ The customs officer looked at the stamps in his passport. ■ verb 1. to stick a stamp on a letter or parcel ○ All the envelopes need to be sealed and stamped. 2. to mark something with a stamp ○ They stamped my passport when I entered the country. 3. to walk heavily, banging your feet on the ground ○ They stamped on the ants to kill them. ○ He was so angry that he stamped out of the room. 4. to make a noise by banging your feet on the ground ○ The audience stamped on the floor in time to the music.

stampede /stæm'pi:d/ noun an uncontrolled movement of many animals or people ○ After the film finished there was a stampede for the doors. ■ verb 1. to move in an uncontrolled way ○ The herd of buffalo stampeded down the valley. 2. □ to stampede someone into (doing) something to try to force someone into doing something ○ They tried to stampede us into voting for their proposal.

stamp out /,stæmp 'aut/ verb to stop something. Synonym eradicate stance /stæns/ noun 1. the position of someone when standing ○ His stance is so awkward I'm surprised he can even hit the ball. 2. a point of view or opinion ○ Her stance on environmental issues is surprising. ○ The party has adopted a new progressive stance on education.

① stand /stænd/ verb 1. to be upright on your feet, the opposite of sitting or lying down ○ She stood on a chair to reach the top shelf. ○ They were so tired they could hardly keep standing. ○ If there are no seats left, we'll have to stand. ○ Don't just stand there doing nothing – come and help us. 2. to be upright ○ Only a few houses were still standing after the earthquake. ○ The jar was standing in the middle of the table. 3. to get up from a seat ○ She stood and rushed to the door. 4. to put upright ○ Stand the bookcase over in the corner. ○ He stood the pot on the table. 5. to put up with ○ The office is filthy – I don't know how you can stand working here. ○ She can't stand all this noise. ○ He stopped going to French lessons because he couldn't stand the teacher. 6. to offer yourself as a candidate in an election ○ He has stood for parliament several times but has never been elected. □ to stand against someone to put yourself against someone in an election ○ She is standing against the leader in the election. 7. to pay for ○ He stood us all a round of drinks. (NOTE: standing – stood /stud/) ■ noun 1. the seats where you sit to watch sports in a stadium ○ The stands were full for the international. ○ We have tickets for the North Stand. 2. something which holds something up ○ The pot of flowers fell off its stand. 3. an attitude, especially in opposition to something ○ His stand against the party leader earned him a term in prison. ○ She was criticised for her stand on immigration. □ to take a stand on or against to express strong opinions about ○ They are taking a strong stand against corruption in the party.

③ standard /'stændəd/ noun 1. the level of quality something has ○ The standard of service in this restaurant is very high. ○ This piece of work is not up to your usual standard. 2. an excellent quality which is set as a target ○ This product does not meet our standards. ○ She has set a standard which it will be difficult to match. 3. a large official flag ○ The royal standard flies over Buckingham Palace. 4. a tree or bush grown with a tall trunk ○ Do you prefer an ordinary rosebush or a standard? ■ adj 1. usual ○ She joined on a standard contract. ○ You will need to follow the standard procedure to join the association. 2. generally accepted according to an agreed level of quality ○ a standard unit ○ a standard text book ○ standard English

Standard Assessment Tasks /,stændəd ə'sesmənt tɔ:ks:/ plural noun national tests taken at various ages in school in the UK. Abbr SATs

standardisation /,stændədər'zeɪʃ(ə)n/, standardization noun the process of making sure that everything fits a standard or is produced in the same way □ standardisation of products the practice of reducing a large number of different products to a few which have the same measurements, design and packaging standardise /'stændədəaɪz/, standardize verb to make everything follow the same standard standard lamp /'stændəd læmp/ noun a light on a tall pole standing on the floor of a room (NOTE: The US term is floor lamp) standard of living /,stændəd əv 'lɪvɪŋ/ noun the quality of a person's personal home life measured by such things as the amount of food or clothes bought or the size of the family car standard time /'stændəd taɪm/ noun a time which applies within a specific area of the world stand around /,stænd ə'raʊnd/ verb to stand and not do anything stand aside /,stænd ə'saɪd/ verb to step sideways stand back /'stænd 'bæk/ verb to take a step or two backwards stand by /'stænd 'baɪ/ verb 1. to refuse to change something you have said ○ I stand by what I said in my statement to the police. 2. to stand and watch, without getting involved ○ Several people just stood by and made no attempt to help. 3. to be ready ○ We have several fire engines standing by. 4. to give help ○ She stood by him while he was in prison.

standby /'stændbɪ/ noun a thing which is ready to be used if necessary ○ I always have bread in the freezer as a standby. □ good standby something which is good to have ready in case you need it ○ An oil lamp is a good standby in case there's a power failure. □ on standby waiting and ready to act if needed ○ We have a doctor on standby. ○ Army reservists have been put on standby.

standby ticket /'stændbɪ ,tɪkɪt/ noun a cheap ticket which you buy at an airport just before a plane takes off, allowing you to have a seat if there are any empty seats left at the last minute stand down /,stænd 'daʊn/ verb to agree not to stay in a position or not to stand for election. Synonym resign stand for /'stænd fɔ:/ verb 1. to have a meaning ○ What do the letters BBC stand for? 2. to be a candidate in an election ○ She's standing for parliament. 3. to accept ○ They will never stand for that. ○ I won't stand for any nonsense from the children.

stand-in /'stænd in/ noun a person who takes the place of someone else stand in for /,stænd 'ɪn fɔ:/ verb to take the place of someone standing /'stændɪŋ/ noun 1. the position of being upright on your feet ○ Standing all day at the exhibition is very tiring. 2. reputation ○ a hotel of good standing ○ His standing in the community has never been higher. 3. □ long-standing customers, customers of long standing people who have been our customers for many years ■ adj 1. upright, not lying or sitting ○ After the earthquake, the few buildings left standing needed to be repaired. 2. permanent ○ We have a standing agreement with our supplier to send back items we don't want.

standing army /,stændɪŋ 'a:mi/ noun a professional military force which exists in times of peace as well as war standing joke /'stændɪŋ dʒəʊk/ something that people often make jokes about ○ His style of dancing is a bit of a standing joke with us.

standing order /,stændɪŋ 'ɔ:daɪ/ noun an order written by a customer asking a bank to pay money regularly to an account, or to a company to send something regularly standing ovation /,stændɪŋ əʊ'veɪʃn/ noun applause at the end of a performance where all the audience stand up and clap and cheer standing room /'stændɪŋ ru:m/ noun enough space for people to stand but not to sit stand-off /'stænd ɒf/ noun a situation where two sides cannot agree and neither can win standoffish /stænd'ɒfɪʃ/ adj who does not make friends easily. Synonym distant. Antonym affable stand out /,stænd 'aʊt/ verb 1. to be easily seen ○ Their house stands out because it is painted pink. ○ Her red hair makes her stand out in a crowd. 2. to be very clear against a background ○ That picture would stand out better against a white wall. 3. to be much better than others ○ Two of the young musicians stood out for their interpretations of Bach.

stand over /,stænd 'əʊvə/ verb to be just behind someone and supervise what he or she is doing standpoint /'stændpɔɪnt/ noun a position from which you look at a problem. Synonym point of view standstill /'stændstɪl/ noun a situation where nothing moves. Synonym halt stand up /,stænd 'ʌp/ verb 1. to get up from sitting ○ When the teacher comes into the room all the children should stand up. ○ He stood up to offer his seat to the old lady. 2. to stand upright, to hold yourself upright ○ Stand up straight and face forward. 3. to put something in an upright position ○ Stand the books up on the shelf. ○ She stood her umbrella up by the door. 4. □ to stand someone up not to meet someone even though you had arranged to (informal) ○ We were going to have dinner together and he stood me up.

stand-up /'stænd ʌp/ adj 1. referring to a meal where you serve yourself and eat standing up ○ a stand-up buffet 2. referring to an argument that is noisy and fierce ○ a stand-up fight stand up for /,stænd 'ʌp fɔ:/ verb to try to defend someone or something in a difficult situation stand up to /,stænd 'ʌp tu:/ verb to oppose someone bravely ○ No one would stand up to the gang of bullies.

stank /stæŋk/ □ stink

stanza /'stænзə/ noun a section of a poem made up of a series of lines

staple /'steɪpl(ə)l/ noun 1. a piece of wire which is pushed through papers and bent over to hold them together ○ He used some scissors to take the staples out of the papers. 2. the main food in a diet ○ Rice is the staple of the Chinese diet. ■ adj main ■ verb to fasten papers together with a staple or with staples ○ Don't staple the cheque to the order form. □ to staple papers together to attach various papers with a staple or with staples ○ All these papers need to be stapled together and filed.

staple diet /'steipl(ə)t/ 'daɪət/ noun the main part of what you eat staple product /'steipl(ə)l 'prɒdʌkt/ noun the main product of a country or town stapler /'steiplə/ noun a device used to attach papers together with staples

③ star /stɑ:/ noun 1. a bright object which can be seen in the sky at night like a very distant bright light ○ On a clear night you can see thousands of stars. ○ The pole star shows the direction of the North Pole. 2. □ thank your lucky stars consider yourself very lucky (informal) ○ Thank your lucky stars that you were not on that train. 3. a shape that has several points like a star ○ Draw a big star and colour it red. 4. a printing symbol shaped like a star ○ A star next to a word refers you to the footnotes. Also called asterisk 5. a classification sign for hotels and restaurants ○ We stayed in a two-star hotel and found it perfectly comfortable. 6. a famous person who is very well known to the public ○ the Chelsea football star ○ Who is your favourite film star? ■ verb 1. to appear as a main character in a film or play ○ She starred in 'Gone with the Wind'. ○ He has a starring role in the new production of 'Guys and Dolls'. 2. to include a famous actor or actress ○ The film stars Bette Grable and John Wayne. 3. to mark a text with a star ○ Read the starred instructions carefully. (NOTE: starring – starred) starboard /'stʊ:bəd/ noun the right-hand side of a ship or aircraft when facing the front. Antonym port starch /stɑ:tʃ/ noun 1. the usual form in which carbohydrates exist in food, especially in bread, rice and potatoes ○ To get a balanced diet you need to eat both protein and starch. 2. a white powder mixed with water to make cloth stiff ■ verb to make cloth stiff with starch ○ She starched his shirt collars.

starchy /'stɑ:tʃi/ adj 1. (of food) which contains a lot of starch ○ Children eat too much starchy food. 2. very formal ○ His starchy manner put everyone off.

stardom /'stʊ:dəm/ noun the state of being a film star, a football star etc. Synonym fame. Antonym anonymity

② stare /steə/ verb 1. to look at someone or something for a long time ○ She stared sadly out of the window at the rain. 2. □ to stare someone in the face to be very obvious (informal) ○ He couldn't find the answer even if it was staring him in the face. ■ noun a long fixed look ○ He gave her a stare and walked on.

starfish /'stɑ:fɪʃ/ noun a flat sea animal, with five arms branching like a star from a central body (NOTE: The plural is starfish.)

staring /'steərɪŋ/ adj which looks steadily for a long time. □ stark

stark /stɑ:k/ adj 1. complete ○ He stared at the figures in stark disbelief. 2. bare and simple ○ a stark lunar landscape ○ the stark outline of the rocks (NOTE: starker – starkerest)

■ adv completely ○ I don't usually walk round the house stark naked. □ stark staring mad, stark raving mad completely mad ○ You must be stark staring mad even to think of swimming in the North Sea on Christmas Day.

starlet /'stɑ:leɪt/ noun a young film actress who hopes to become famous one day starlight /'stɑ:laɪt/ noun the light from the stars starling /'stɑ:liŋ/ noun a common dark European bird with a green gloss to its feathers starlit /'stɑ:lit/ adj lit by the light of the stars starry /'stɑ:ri/ adj covered with stars starry-eyed /'stɑ:ri əɪd/ adj unrealistically optimistic about your future life or career

Stars and Stripes /,stɑ:z ən 'strایپز/ noun the flag of the United States (NOTE: takes a singular or plural verb) star sign /'stɑ: sain/ noun the sign of the zodiac which marks your birth star-studded /'stɑ: 'stʌdɪd/ adj including many film or stage stars

① start /stɑ:t/ noun 1. the beginning of something ○ Building the house took only six months from start to finish. ○ Things went wrong from the start. ○ Let's forget all you've done up to now, and make a fresh start. □ for a start as the first point ○ For a start, tell me the exact time when you made the phone call. 2. leaving for a journey ○ We're planning on a 6 o'clock start. □ let's make an early start tomorrow let's leave early 3. a place where a race begins ○ The cars were lined up at the start. 4. being in advance of other competitors ○ We'll never catch them, they have three hours' start on us. ○ I'll give you four yards' start. 5. a sudden jump of surprise ○ She gave a start when he put his hand on her shoulder. ■ verb 1. to begin to do something ○ When you learn Russian, you have to start by learning the alphabet. ○ The babies all started to cry or all started crying at the same time. ○ He started to eat or he started eating his dinner before the rest of the family. ○ Take an umbrella – it's starting to rain. □ to start with first of all ○ We have lots to do but to start with we'll do the washing up. 2. to leave on a journey ○ We plan to start at 6 o'clock. 3. (of a machine) to begin to work ○ The car won't start – the battery must be flat. ○ The engine started beautifully. 4. to make a machine begin to work ○ I can't start the computer. ○ It is difficult to start a car in cold weather. 5. to make something begin to happen ○ He fired a gun to start the race. ○ The police think that the fire was started deliberately. 6. to jump with surprise ○ She started when she heard the bang.

starter /'stɑ:tə/ noun 1. a person who starts doing something ○ There were sixty starters in the race, but only twenty finished. 2. a person who organises the start of something ○ The starter fired his pistol and the race started. □ under starter's orders (of racers) ready to run just before the start 3. the first part of a meal ○ What do you all want as starters? ○ I don't want a starter – just the main course. □ for starters as the first thing to be done ○ We need to get the room cleaned for starters.

starting /'stɑ:tɪŋ/ adj at the beginning starting date /'stɑ:tɪŋ deɪt/ noun a date on which something begins starting grid /'stɑ:tɪŋ ɡrɪd/ noun lines marked on the track at the start of a car race starting gun /'stɑ:tɪŋ ɡʌn/ noun a gun fired to start a race starting pistol /'stɑ:tɪŋ ˈpɪstəl/ noun a small handgun which you fire to start a race starting point /'stɑ:tɪŋ pɔɪnt/ noun a place where something begins starting salary /'stɑ:tɪŋ ˈsælərɪ/ noun an amount of pay an employee gets when starting work with a company startle /'stɑ:t(ə)l/ verb to make someone suddenly surprised startling /'stɑ:t(ə)lɪŋ/ adj suddenly surprising start off /'stɑ:t ˈɒf/ verb 1. to begin ○ We'll start off with soup and then have a meat dish. 2. to leave on a journey ○ You can start off now, and I'll follow when I'm ready. start out /'stɑ:t ˈaʊt/ verb 1. to leave on a journey ○ She started out for home two hours ago, so I am surprised she hasn't arrived. 2. to begin ○ I'd like to start out by saying how pleased I am to be here.

start up /'stɑ:t ˈʌp/ verb 1. to make a business begin to work ○ She started up a restaurant, but it failed. 2. to make a machine start to work ○ He started up the tractor.

starvation /'stɑ:t'veɪʃ(ə)n/ noun illness through lack of food

③ starve /'stɑ:və/ verb 1. not to have enough food ○ Many people starved to death in the desert. 2. □ to starve someone of something not to give enough supplies to someone ○ The service is being starved of funds.

starving /'stɑ:vɪŋ/ adj who do not have enough to eat ○ Relief workers tried to bring supplies to the starving people. □ I'm starving I am very hungry (informal) ○ Isn't dinner ready yet, I'm absolutely starving!

stash /stæʃ/ verb 1. stash, stash away to store in a safe place ○ He has thousands of dollars stashed away in overseas bank accounts. 2. to put ○ Make sure you stash all items of hand luggage in the rack above your seat. ■ noun a hidden store of things ○ We found a stash of old love letters in a secret drawer.

① state /steɪt/ noun 1. the way something or someone is at a specific time ○ The children are in a state of excitement. ○ The students left the flat in a terrible state. ○ She's not in a fit state to receive visitors. 2. the government of a country ○ We all pay taxes to the state. ○ The state should pay for the upkeep of museums. 3. an independent country ○ The member states of the European Union. 4. one of the parts of a federal country ○ the State of Arizona ○ New South Wales has the largest population of all the Australian states. ■ adj referring to the state ■ verb to give information clearly ○ Please state your name and address. ○ It states in the instructions that you must not open the can near a flame. ○ The document states that all revenue has to be declared to the tax office. □ in a state 1. in a depressed, worried or upset condition ○ She's in such a state that I don't want to leave her alone. ○ He was in a terrible state after the phone call. 2. in a dirty or bad condition ○ Look at the state of your trousers. ○ They left our flat in a terrible state.

stated /'steɪtid/ adj made clear

State Department /'steɪt di,pa:tment/ noun a section of the US government dealing with foreign affairs (NOTE: In the UK, the equivalent is the Foreign Office; in most other countries it is the Foreign Ministry.)

state education /'steɪt edju'keɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the teaching of children in schools which belong to the state and in which the education is free statehood /'steɪthʊd/ noun the situation of being an independent state stateless /'steɪləs/ adj who is not a citizen of any country stately /'steɪtlɪ/ adj noble or dignified stately home /,steɪtlɪ 'həʊm/ noun a palace or large house, usually belonging to an aristocratic family

① statement /'steɪtmənt/ noun 1. something that is spoken or written publicly ○ She refused to issue a statement to the press. ○ a statement about or on the new procedures 2. a clearly written or spoken description of something that happened ○ She made a state- ment to the police. 3. a list of invoices and credits and debits sent by a supplier to a customer at the end of each month ○ I want to query something in last month's statement. □ monthly or quarterly statement a statement which is sent every month or every quarter state of affairs /,steɪt əv ə'feəz/ noun a general situation state of emergency /,steɪt əv ɪ-'mɛ:dʒən̩sɪ/ noun a time when the police or armed forces are in control of a country state of mind /,steɪt əv 'maɪnd/ noun a person's feelings at a particular time state-of-the-art /,steɪt əv ðɪ 'a:t/ adj technically as advanced as possible. Antonym antiquated state-owned /'steɪt ə:nd/ adj owned by the country or government and not by private individuals

States /'steɪts/ noun the United States of America (informal) state school /'steɪt sku:l/ noun a school which is funded by the state (NOTE: The US term is public school.)

stateside /'steɪtsaɪd/ adj, adv US in or to the United States of America statesman /'steɪtsmən/ noun an experienced political leader or representative of a country (NOTE: The plural is statesmen.)

statesmanlike /'steɪtsmənl̩aɪk/ adj wise and skilful, because of experience statesmanship /'steɪtsmənʃɪp/ noun 1. skill in the government of a country 2. the ability to be a wise and skilful state trooper /'steɪt 'tru:pə/ noun US a policeman from a state police force statewide /'steɪtwɪd/ adj US referring to the United States as a whole static /'stætɪk/ adj not changing, moving or growing ○ Sales have remained static for the last two months. ■ noun 1. electrical interference in the air which disturbs a radio signal 2. same as static electricity ○ When I touched the car door the static gave me a shock.

static electricity /,stætɪk ɪlek'trɪsɪt̩/ noun an electric charge that does not flow, as opposed to electricity which is flowing in a current

① station /'steɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. a place where trains stop and passengers get on or off ○ The train leaves the Central Station at 14.15. ○ This is a fast train – it doesn't stop at every station. ○ We'll try to get a sandwich at the station buffet. Also called railway station, train station 2. a large main building for a service ○ The fire station is just down the road from us. ○ He was arrested and taken to the local police station. ■ verb to place someone officially in a place ○ Soldiers were stationed in the frontier towns. ○

Police were stationed all along the route of the procession.

stationary /'steɪʃ(ə)n(ə)ri/ adj not moving, standing still. Synonym motionless (NOTE: Do not confuse with stationery.)

stationer /'steɪʃ(ə)nə/ noun a person who has a shop which sells stationery □ the stationer's a shop which sells stationery ○ Go to the stationer's and get me some envelopes.

stationery /'steɪʃ(ə)n(ə)ri/ noun materials used when writing, such as paper, envelopes, pens and ink (NOTE: no plural. Do not confuse with stationary.)

statistic /'stə'tɪstɪk/ noun a fact given in the form of numbers statistical /stə'tɪstɪk(ə)l/ adj referring to statistics statistician /,stætɪ'stɪʃ(ə)n/ noun a person who studies or analyses statistics

② statistics /stə'tɪstɪks/ plural noun facts given in the form of numbers ■ noun the study of facts in the form of numbers statue /'stætʃu:/ noun a figure of a person or animal made from a substance such as stone or metal statuette /,stætʃu'et/ noun a very small statue stature /'stætʃə/ noun 1. height ○ her imposing stature 2. importance ○ His stature in the party has never been greater.

② status /'steɪtəs/ noun 1. social importance when compared to other people ○ He has a low-status job on the Underground. ○ His status in the company has been rising steadily. □ loss of status becoming less important in a group 2. a general position status quo /,steɪtəs 'kwo:/ noun the state of things as they are now

status symbol /'steɪtəs ,sɪmbəl/ noun a thing which you use which shows that you are more important than someone else □ the chairman's car is a just status symbol the size of his car shows how important he or his company is

③ statute /'stætʃu:t/ noun a written law, established in an Act of Parliament statute book /'stætʃu:t bok/ noun a list of all the laws passed by Parliament which are still in force statutory /'stætʃu:t(ə)ri/ adj imposed by law staunch /stɔ:ntʃ/ adj firm ○ She's my staunchest friend. ○ They are staunch supporters of the Conservative party. Synonym loyal (NOTE: stauncher – staunchest) ■ verb to stop blood flowing ○ They tried to staunch the blood by putting ice on the wound. ○ They tied a bandage tightly round his arm in an attempt to staunch the flow of blood.

stave /steɪv/ noun 1. one of several curved pieces of wood which form the sides of a barrel 2. a set of five lines on which music is written. Also called staff stave in /,steɪv 'ɪn/ verb to make a hole from the outside to the inside of something ○ The little boat hit the rocks and one of its sides was staved in.

① stay /steɪ/ verb 1. not to change ○ The temperature stayed below zero all day. ○ In spite of the fire, he stayed calm. ○ I won't be able to stay awake until midnight. 2. to stop in a place ○ They came for lunch and stayed until after midnight. ○ I'm rather tired so I'll stay at home tomorrow. ○ He's ill and has to stay in bed. 3. to stop in a place as a visitor ○ They stayed two nights in Edinburgh on their tour of Scotland. ○ Where will you be staying when you're in New York? ○ My parents are staying at the Hotel London. ■ noun the time during which you live in a place ○ My sister's here for a short stay. ○ Did you enjoy your stay in London?

stay away /,steɪ ə'weɪ/ verb not to come or go to something stay in /,steɪ 'ɪn/ verb to stop at home instead of going out staying power /'steɪnɪŋ ,paʊə/ noun the energy to keep on doing something until the job is finished. Synonym stamina stay of execution /,steɪ əv eksɪ'kju:ʃ(ə)n/ noun a delay in putting a legal order into effect stay out /,steɪ 'aut/ verb to remain away from home stay put /,steɪ 'put/ verb to stay where you are and not move stay up /,steɪ 'ʌp/ verb not to go to bed

STD abbr sexually transmitted disease

stead /sted/ noun □ it stood him in good stead it was very useful to him ○ Being able to speak Japanese stood him in good stead.

steadfast /'stɛdfə:st/ adj firm, constant steadily /'stɛdli/ adv regularly or continuously. Synonym progressively. Antonym suddenly

③ steady /'stedi/ adj 1. firm, not moving or wobbling ○ You need a steady hand to draw a straight line without a ruler. ○ He put a piece of paper under the table leg to keep it steady. 2. continuing in a regular way ○ There is a steady demand for computers. ○ The car was doing a steady seventy miles an hour. ○ She hasn't got a steady boyfriend. (NOTE: steadier – stadiest) ■ interj 1. starting a race ○ Ready! Steady! Go! 2. □ steady on! be careful ○ Steady on! – You almost hit that car. ■ verb 1. to calm someone ○ She took a pill to steady her nerves. 2. to keep something firm ○ He put out his hand to steady the ladder.

steak /steɪk/ noun 1. a thick slice of beef ○ He ordered steak and chips. ○ I'm going to grill these steaks. 2. a thick slice cut across the body of a big fish ○ A grilled salmon steak for me, please! (NOTE: Do not confuse with stake.)

② steal /sti:l/ verb 1. to take and keep something which belongs to another person without permission ○ Someone tried to steal my handbag. ○ She owned up to having stolen the jewels. ○ Did the burglar steal all your CDs? – I'm afraid so. ○ He was arrested for stealing, but the judge let him off with a fine. 2. □ to steal a glance or look at to look at quickly and secretly at someone or something ○ While the boss wasn't looking she stole a glance at the papers on his desk. □ to steal the show or limelight to do better than a star actor ○ It was the little dog that stole the show. ♫ thunder 3. to move quietly ○ He stole into the cellar and tried to find the safe. □ to steal away to go away very quietly ○ He stole away under cover of darkness. □ to steal a march on someone to do something in a stealthy way before someone else can do it stealth /stelθ/ noun □ by stealth in a secret way, without anyone knowing ○ They tried to get into the government laboratory by stealth.

stealthily /'stelθli/ adv without anyone knowing or seeing. Synonym furtively stealthy /'stelθi/ adj without anyone knowing or seeing. Synonym furtive (NOTE: stealthier – stealthiest)

③ steam /stɪm/ noun 1. the vapour which comes off hot or boiling water ○ Clouds of steam were coming out of the kitchen. 2. □ to let off steam to get rid of energy or annoyance by doing something strenuous (informal) ○ We sent the children out to play football in the garden to let off steam. ■ verb 1. to send off steam ○ The kettle is steaming – the water must be boiling. 2. to cook over a pan of boiling water by allowing the steam to pass through holes in a container with food in it ○ How are you going to cook the fish? – I'll steam it. 3. to move by steam power ○ The ship steamed out of the harbour. 4. to go fast in a particular direction ○ We were steaming along at 70 miles an hour when we had a flat tyre.

steamer /'stɪ:mə/ noun 1. a pan with holes in the bottom which is placed over boiling water to cook food by steaming ○ The best way to cook vegetables is in a steamer. 2. a large ship powered by steam ○ We took the steamer from Cape Town to Mombasa.

steamroller /'stɪ:mrəʊlə/ noun a very heavy vehicle with a large cylinder as a front wheel, used to flatten new road surfaces ■ verb to force everyone to do what you want

○ They steamrollered the bill through Congress.

steamship /'sti:mʃɪp/ noun a large ship powered by steam steam up /,sti:m 'ʌp/ verb 1. to become covered with steam ○ My glasses got all steamed up when I went into the Palm House at Kew Gardens. 2. □ to get all steamed up about something to get angry about something (informal) ○ Don't get all steamed up – it's not a major crisis.

steamy /'sti:mɪ/ adj 1. hot and humid, as if full of steam ○ She chose a steamy summer day to visit London. 2. full of descriptions of sex ○ This is her steamiest novel yet. (NOTE: steamier – steamiest)

② steel /sti:l/ noun a strong metal made from iron and carbon ○ Steel knives are best for the kitchen. ○ The door is made of solid steel. ■ verb □ to steel yourself for something to get ready to do something which is going to be unpleasant ○ He steered himself for a very awkward interview with the police.

steel band /sti:l 'ba:nd/ noun a band which plays West Indian music on steel drums of different sizes which make different notes steel wool /sti:l 'wʊl/ noun a mass of very fine steel wire used to clean metal surfaces steelworks /sti:l, wɜ:ks/ noun a factory where steel is made steely /'sti:li/ adj 1. strongly determined 2. grey-blue

③ steep /sti:p/ adj 1. which rises or falls sharply ○ The car climbed the steep hill with some difficulty. ○ The steps up the church tower are steeper than our stairs at home. 2. very sharply increasing or falling ○ a steep increase in interest charges ○ a steep fall in share prices 3. excessively high ○ Their prices are a bit steep. (NOTE: steeper – steepest) ■ verb 1. to soak in a liquid ○ Leave the clothes to steep in soapy water to get the stains out. 2. to soak in a liquid to absorb its flavour ○ The venison must steep in the marinade for 24 hours. ○ We had pears steeped in red wine. 3. □ to be steeped in something to have a lot of something ○ Windsor Castle is steeped in history.

steeple /'sti:p(ə)l/ noun a church tower with a spire on top steeplechase /'sti:p(ə)ltʃeɪs/ noun 1. a race run across open country, over fences and hedges, etc. ○ Eighty runners have entered for the steeplechase. 2. a horse race on a grass track over fences and ditches ○ His horse won the Easter Steeplechase. Compare flat racing steeply /'sti:pli/ adv rising or falling very quickly steer /sti:r/ noun a castrated bull over one year old (informal) ■ verb 1. to make a vehicle go in a particular direction ○ She steered the car into a ditch. ○ The pilot steered the ship into harbour. 2. □ to steer clear of to avoid something ○ I steer clear of greasy food.

steering /'sti:rɪŋ/ noun the parts of a vehicle which control the direction in which it travels steering committee /'sti:rɪŋ kə'miti/ noun a small committee which manages the early stages of a project and checks on its progress, or which does the preparatory work for another body steering wheel /'sti:rɪŋ wi:l/ noun a wheel which is turned by the driver to make a vehicle go in a particular direction stellar /'stelər/ adj referring to stars stem /stem/ noun 1. the tall thin part of a plant which holds a leaf, a flower or a fruit ○ Trim the stems before you put the flowers in the vase. Synonym stalk 2. the main stalk of a plant or tree ○ A shrub with ivy growing up the stem. 3. a part of a wine glass like a column ○ Wine glasses with coloured stems. 4. the basic part of a word to which endings or prefixes are added 5. □ from stem to stern from the front of a boat to the back ○ The boat was packed from stem to stern with tourists. ■ verb to try to prevent something flowing or spreading ○ First, try to stem the flow of blood. ○ The police are trying to stem the rising tide of crime. (NOTE: stemming – stemmed) stem from /'stem frəm/ verb to be caused by ○ His health problems stem from an untreated viral infection.

stench /stentʃ/ noun an unpleasant strong smell. Synonym stink. Antonym fragrance stencil /'stensəl/ noun 1. a sheet of cardboard or metal with a pattern cut out of it, so that if it is placed on a surface and colour is passed over it, the pattern will appear on the surface ○ He used a stencil with electrical components on it to illustrate his project. 2. a design which is painted in this way ○ The bathroom is decorated with stencils of fish and shellfish. ■ verb to mark with a stencil ○ His name was stencilled on each piece of luggage. (NOTE: stencilling – stencilled. The US spelling is stenciling – stenciled) stenographer /stə'nɒgrəfə/ noun a person who can write spoken words fast in a special writing system

④ step /step/ noun 1. a movement of your foot when walking ○ I wonder when the baby will take his first steps. ○ Take a step sideways and you will be able to see the castle. □ to retrace your steps to go back the same way as you have just come ○ To find the Post Office, he had to retrace his steps to the tra-sic lights and then turn right. 2. □ to take one step forward and two steps back not to advance very quickly 3. a regular movement of feet at the same time as other people □ in step moving your feet at the same rate as everybody else ○ I tried to keep in step with him as we walked along. ○ The recruits can't even march in step. □ out of step moving your feet at a different rate from everyone else ○ One of the squad always gets out of step. □ in step with something at the same rate or speed as something ○ House prices have risen in step with salaries. □ out of step with something moving at a different rate or speed from something ○ Wages have got out of step with the rise in the cost of living. 4. a footstep, the sound made by a foot touching the ground ○ We heard soft steps outside our bedroom door. ○ I can always recognise your father's step. 5. one stair, which goes up or down ○ There are two steps down into the kitchen. ○ I counted 75 steps to the top of the tower. ○ Be careful, there's a step up into the bathroom. □ a pair of steps a stepladder 6. an action which is done or has to be done out of several ○ The first and most important step is to find out how much money we can spend. □ step by step gradually, a little at a time ○ It's better to introduce the changes step by step. ○ The book takes you step by step through French grammar. □ to take steps to to act to encourage or prevent something happening ○ We should take steps to encourage female applicants. ○ The museum must take steps to make sure that nothing else is stolen. □ verb to move forwards, backwards or sideways on foot ○ He stepped out in front of a bicycle and was knocked down. ○ She stepped off the bus into a puddle. ○ Don't step back, there's a child behind you. □ to step on the brakes to push the brake pedal hard (informal) □ to step on the gas US to drive faster ○ Step on the gas – we'll miss the train! □ step on it! hurry up! (informal) stepbrother /'stepbrʌðə/ noun the son of a stepfather or stepmother step-by-step /,step bai 'step/ adj gradual ○ a step-by-step process

stepchild /'step,tʃaɪld/ noun a stepdaughter or stepson stepdaughter /'stepdɔ:tə/ noun the daughter of a wife or husband from another marriage stepfather /'stepfa:ðə/ noun the husband of a mother, who is not a person's father step in /,step 'in/ verb 1. to enter ○ Please step in and see what we have to offer. 2. to do something in an area where you were not involved before ○ Everything was working fine until the manager stepped in. ○ Fortunately a teacher stepped in to break up the fight.

stepladder /'steplæðə/ noun a small ladder in two parts, hinged together, which is steady when opened up and does not need to lean on anything stepmother /'stepmʌðə/ noun the wife of a father, who is not a person's mother steppe /step/ noun the huge plains covering central Asia and Russia stepping-stone /'stepɪŋ stəʊn/ noun 1. one of a series of large stones placed to allow you to cross a stream ○ I lost my balance going over the stepping-stones. 2. a useful stage in your career ○ Working in head office is a useful stepping-stone to becoming a manager.

stepsister /'stepsɪstə/ noun the daughter of a stepfather or stepmother stepson /'stepsən/ noun the son of a wife or husband from another marriage

step up /,step 'ʌp/ verb 1. to walk onto something higher ○ He stepped up onto the platform. 2. to increase the quantity of something ○ The company wants to step up production to 2,000 units a day.

③ stereo abbr stereophonic ○ a stereo disk ■ noun /'steriəʊ/ a machine which reproduces sound through two different loudspeakers ○ I bought a new pair of speakers for my stereo. □ in stereo using two speakers to give an impression of depth of sound stereophonic /,steriə'fɔnɪk/ adj referring to sound which comes through from two different channels and loudspeakers. Synonym stereo stereotype /'steriətaɪp/ noun a pattern for a certain type of person stereotyped /'steriətaɪpt/ adj which fits certain patterns stereotyping /'steriətaɪpɪŋ/ noun the idea that people fit certain patterns

sterile /'sterɪəl/ adj 1. free from infectious organisms ○ She put a sterile dressing on the wound. 2. infertile, not able to produce offspring. Antonym fertile 3. not producing any useful results ○ They engaged in a sterile debate about human rights.

sterilisation /,stɪrɪlɪz'zeɪʃ(ə)n/, sterilization noun 1. the action of making something free from infectious organisms ○ Sterilisation of all surgical equipment is essential. 2. the action of making a person unable to produce children ○ Sterilisation was used to help reduce the expanding population.

sterilise /'stɪrɪlaɪz/, sterilize verb 1. to make something sterile by killing infectious organisms ○ Surgical instruments must be sterilised before used. ○ The soil needs to be sterilised before being used for greenhouse cultivation. 2. to make a person unable to have children ○ A vasectomy is a surgical operation to sterilise men.

sterility /stə'riti/ noun 1. being free from infectious organisms ○ It is essential to ensure the sterility of all equipment in the operating theatre. 2. being unable to produce offspring ○ Increased sterility has been found in men living near the nuclear site. Antonym fertility sterling /'stɜːlɪŋ/ noun British currency ○ The prices are quoted in sterling. ■ adj of a high standard (formal) ○ She has many sterling qualities. ○ This old coat has done sterling service over the years.

sterling silver /,stɜːlɪŋ 'sɪlvə/ noun silver of a standard high purity stern /stɜːn/ adj serious and strict ○ The judge addressed some stern words to the boys. (NOTE: sterner – sternest) ■ noun the back part of a ship ○ The stern of the ship was damaged. ♦ stem (NOTE: The front part is the bow.)

sternum /'stɜːnəm/ noun a bone in the centre of the front of the chest to which most of the ribs are attached (technical) Also called breastbone steroid /'stɪərɔɪd/ noun 1. one of several natural chemical compounds which affect the body and its functions 2. a synthetic chemical used to treat some disorders and also used by some athletes to improve their strength ○ The random sample of urine obtained from the athlete proved that he had been taking steroids. ○ She was banned from competing after tests showed that she had taken steroids.

stethoscope /'stɛθɔskəp/ noun an instrument with two earpieces connected to a tube and a metal disc, used by doctors to listen to sounds made inside the body by organs such as the heart or lungs stetson /'stetson/ trademark a tall cowboy hat with a wide brim

stevedore /'stɪvədɔːr/ noun a man who works in a harbour, loading and unloading ships. Also called docker (NOTE: The US term is longshoreman.)

stew /stjuː/ noun 1. a dish of meat and vegetables cooked together for a long time ○ This lamb stew is a French recipe. 2. □ in a stew feeling anxious because of being in an awkward situation (informal) ○ Having lost my wallet, I'm in a bit of a stew. ■ verb 1. to cook for a long time in liquid ○ Stew the apples until they are completely soft. 2. □ to stew in your own juice to suffer the bad effects of something you have done (informal) ○ Don't lend him any more money, leave him to stew in his own juice for a while.

steward /'stjuːd/ noun 1. a man who looks after passengers, and serves meals or drinks on a ship, aircraft, train or in a club ○ The steward served us tea on deck. 2. a person who organises public events such as races etc. ○ The stewards will inspect the course to see if the race can go ahead.

stewardess /,stjuːə'des/ noun a woman who looks after passengers and serves food and drinks on a ship or aircraft (dated) (NOTE: The plural is stewardesses.)

① stick /stɪk/ noun 1. a thin piece of wood ○ He jabbed a pointed stick into the hole. ○ I need a strong stick to tie this plant to. 2. a thin branch of a tree 3. anything long and thin ○ a stick of celery ○ a stick of chewing gum ■ verb 1. to attach with glue ○ Can you stick the pieces of the cup together again? ○ She stuck the stamp on the letter. ○ They stuck a poster on the door. 2. to be fixed or not to be able to move ○ The car was stuck in the mud. ○ The door sticks – you need to push it hard to open it. ○ The cake will stick if you don't grease the tin. ○ He was stuck in Italy without any money. 3. to push something into something ○ He stuck his hand into the hole. ○ She stuck her finger in the jam to taste it. ○ She stuck the ticket into her bag. ○ She stuck a needle into her finger. 4. to stay in a place ○ Stick close to your mother and you won't get lost. □ to stick together to stay together ○ If we stick together they should let us into the club. □ to stick to your guns to keep to your point of view even if everyone says you are wrong 5. to put up with ○ I don't know how she can stick working in that office. ○ I'm going, I can't stick it here any longer. (NOTE: sticking – stuck /stɪk/)

③ sticker /'stɪkə/ noun a small piece of paper or plastic which you can stick on something to show a price, as a decoration or to advertise something sticking plaster /'stɪkɪŋ ,plə:stə/ noun a small strip of cloth with gauze in the middle, which can be stuck to the skin to cover a wound (NOTE: The US term is a trademark: Band-Aid.)

sticking point /'stɪkɪŋ pɔɪnt/ noun a point where something stops and which prevents the discussion going forward. Synonym stumbling block stick-in-the-mud /'stɪk ɪn ðə ,mʌd/ noun an old-fashioned person who refuses to change his habits (informal) Synonym reactionary stickler /'stɪklə/ noun someone who insists on the correctness of details stick out /,stɪk 'aʊt/ verb 1. to push something out □ to stick your tongue out at someone to make a rude gesture by putting your tongue out of your mouth as far as it will go ○ That little girl stuck out her tongue at me! 2. to be further forward or extended away from something ○ Your wallet is sticking out of your pocket. ○ The balcony sticks out over the road. 3. □ to stick out a mile or like a sore thumb to be easily seen (informal) ○ Their house sticks out a mile because it is painted pink.

sticks /stɪks/ noun □ in the sticks in the depths of the country ○ Living in the sticks, they know nothing about what is happening in London.

stick up /stɪk 'ʌp/ verb 1. to be further up above a surface or to extend beyond a surface ○ The aerial sticks up above the roof of the car. 2. to attach something to something such as a wall or noticeboard for people to see ○ She stuck up a notice about the village fête. 3. □ stick 'em up! put your hands up! (informal)

③ sticky /'stɪki/ adj 1. covered with something which sticks like glue ○ My fingers are all sticky. ○ This stuff is terribly sticky – I can't get it off my fingers. 2. with glue on one side so that it sticks easily 3. difficult or embarrassing ○ I'm in a rather sticky situation here. □ he came to a sticky end something bad finally happened to him □ on a sticky wicket in a difficult situation ○ The poor man's on a very sticky wicket.

sticky label /'stɪki 'leɪb(ə)l/ noun a label with glue on one side which you can stick without wetting (NOTE: Labels with dry glue on them and which you have to wet, are called gummed labels.)

sticky tape /'stɪki teɪp/ noun a strip of plastic with glue on one side, used to stick things together

② stiff /stɪf/ adj 1. which does not move easily ○ The lock is very stiff – I can't turn the key. ○ I've got a stiff neck. ○ She was feeling stiff all over after running in the race. 2. with hard bristles ○ You need a stiff brush to get the mud off your shoes. 3. difficult ○ He had to take a stiff test before he qualified. 4. formal, not friendly ○ His attitude was very stiff towards her. 5. strong, not weak ○ They face stiff competition. ○ A stiff breeze was blowing across the bay. ○ He got a stiff reprimand from the boss. (NOTE: stiffer – stiffest)

stiff drink /stɪf 'drɪŋk/ noun an alcoholic drink with very little water added

stiffen /'stɪf(ə)n/ verb 1. to become or make stiff ○ As you get older, your joints stiffen. 2. to become cautious or unfriendly ○ She stiffened when she heard his voice. 3. (of wind) to become stronger ○ The boats raced across the bay as the breeze stiffened. 4. to make stronger ○ The TV broadcasts helped to stiffen resistance to the government's new measures.

stiffly /'stɪflɪ/ adv in a stiff way stiffness /'stɪfnəs/ noun 1. having muscle pains after doing exercise, or being unable to move easily because of damaged joints ○ Arthritis accompanied by a certain amount of stiffness in the joints. 2. the quality of being stiff ○ The stiffness of the material makes it unsuitable for a dress.

stifle /'stɪfl(ə)l/ verb 1. to make someone not able to breathe, not to be able to breathe because of heat or smoke ○ The firemen were almost stifled by the toxic gas. 2. to prevent something ○ The plan of the authorities is to stifle any protests before they start. □ to stifle a yawn to try to prevent yourself from yawning ○ He had difficulty in stifling a yawn.

stifling /'stɪfl(ə)lɪŋ/ adj 1. which makes it difficult to breathe ○ Stifling black smoke made them cough. 2. extremely hot ○ He stepped off the plane into the stifling heat of the Louisiana sunshine.

stigma /'stɪɡmə/ noun 1. a feeling of shame ○ The stigma attached to alcoholism makes people try to hide their drinking habits. Synonym disgrace 2. a part of the female organ of a flower that forms seeds after receiving pollen stigmatise /'stɪɡmətaɪz/, stigmatize verb to give someone or something a bad name. Synonym brand stile /stɪl/ noun steps which allow people, but not animals, to get over a wall or fence (NOTE: Do not confuse with style.)

stiletto /stɪ'lɛtəʊ/ noun a long thin dagger (NOTE: The plural is stilettos.)

stiletto heels /stɪ'lɛtəʊ hi:lz/ plural noun high thin heels on women's shoes

① still /stɪl/ adj 1. not moving ○ Stand still while I take the photo. ○ There was no wind, and the surface of the lake was completely still. 2. (of drinks) not fizzy ○ Can I have a glass of still mineral water, please? ■ adv 1. continuing until now; which continued until then ○ I thought he had left, but I see he's still there. ○ They came for lunch and were still sitting at the table at eight o'clock in the evening. ○ Weeks afterwards, they're still talking about the accident. 2. used with comparatives to emphasise ○ We've had a cold autumn, but they expect the winter will be colder still. □ still more even more ○ There were at least ten thousand people in the football stadium and still more queuing to get in. 3. in spite of everything ○ It wasn't sunny for the picnic – still, it didn't rain. ○ He still insisted on going on holiday even though he had broken his leg. ■ noun one picture from a moving film ○ The biography is illustrated with stills from some of her most famous films.

stillborn /'stɪlbɔ:n/ adj 1. (of a baby) which is born dead 2. (of an idea) which is never put into practice still life /stɪl 'laɪf/ noun a painting of objects such as fruit, bottles, flowers or food (NOTE: The plural is still lifes.)

stilted /'stiltɪd/ adj forced and unnatural. Synonym affected stilton /'stɪltən/ noun a soft rich white or white and blue cheese, with a strong flavour, named after the village of Stilton in Cambridgeshire stimulant /'stɪmju'lənt/ noun 1. a substance which makes the body function faster ○ Caffeine is a stimulant. 2. something which encourages more activity ○ Tax cuts should act as a stimulant to the economy.

stimulate /'stɪmju'lət/ verb to encourage someone or an organ to be more active stimulating /'stɪmju'lətɪŋ/ adj causing interest, excitement or enthusiasm stimulation /,stɪmju'lɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the action of being stimulated stimulus /'stɪmju'ləs/ noun an encouragement or incentive that leads to greater activity (NOTE: The plural is stimuli /'stɪmju'ləri/.)

sting /stɪŋ/ noun 1. a wound made by an insect or plant ○ Bee stings can be very painful. ○ Have you anything for wasp stings? 2. a tiny needle that is part of an insect or plant which injects poison into your skin ○ He pulled out the sting which had lodged in her arm. ■ verb 1. to wound with an insect's or plant's sting ○ I've been stung by a wasp. ○ She walked bare-legged through the wood and got stung by nettles. 2. to give a burning feeling ○ The antiseptic may sting a little at first.

sting for /'stɪŋ fɔ:/ verb to make someone pay a lot of money for something (informal) ○ He was stung for parking on a yellow line. ○ They stung me for £100.

stinging /'stɪŋɪŋ/ adj painfully sharp and piercing stinging nettle /'stɪŋɪŋ ,net(ə)l/ noun a common weed which stings when you touch it stingy /'stɪŋgɪ/ adj (informal) 1. not very generous 2. not large

③ stink /stɪŋk/ noun 1. a very nasty smell ○ There's a terrible stink in the kitchen. 2. □ to create or make or kick up or raise a stink about something to complain vigorously about something (informal) ○ The neighbours will kick up a stink if you damage their fence. ■ verb 1. to make a nasty smell ○ The office stinks of gas. 2. to seem to be dishonest (informal) ○ The whole affair stinks. (NOTE: stank /stæŋk/ – stunk /stʌŋk/) stinking /'stɪŋkɪŋ/ adj, adv very, or very bad (informal) ○ They're stinking rich. ○ I've got a stinking cold.

stint /stɪnt/ noun 1. a period of working ○ It's your turn to help now, I've done my stint. ○ She had a long stint as a sister in a London hospital. 2. □ without stint in large quantities, with no restriction (formal) ○ They gave their time to the project without stint. ■ verb □ not to stint to give a large amount (usually negative) ○ They didn't stint their help. ○ He didn't stint on expense when he had his office redecorated. □ not to stint yourself to allow yourself a large amount ○ Don't stint yourself – there's plenty of food for everyone.

stipend /'staɪpend/ noun the salary of a priest or a magistrate stipulate /'stɪpjuleɪt/ verb to insist, to make it a condition that. Synonym specify stipulation /,stɪpjʊ'lɪʃ(ə)n/ noun a condition in a contract

③ stir /stɪr/ verb 1. to move a liquid or powder or something which is cooking, to mix it up ○ He was stirring the sugar into his coffee. ○ Keep stirring the porridge, or it will stick to the bottom of the pan. 2. to move about ○ The baby slept peacefully without stirring. ○ I didn't stir from my desk all day.

3. □ to stir someone to do something to make someone feel that they ought to do something ○ We must try to stir the committee into action. ■ noun 1. the action of mixing the ingredients of something, or something which is cooking ○ Add the sugar and give the mixture a stir. ○ You should give the porridge an occasional stir. 2. excitement ○ The exhibition caused a stir in the art world.

stir-fry /'stɪ:3/ frat/ verb to cook vegetables or meat quickly in hot oil, while continuously stirring ○ Stir-fry the vegetables separately, not all together. ■ noun vegetables or meat cooked quickly in a little hot oil ○ We had a beef stir-fry. ○ She made a stir-fry of vegetables and bamboo shoots.

stirring /'stɪ:3rɪŋ/ adj exciting, encouraging. Synonym rousing stirrup /'stɪrəp/ noun a metal loop hanging from the saddle into which a rider puts his or her foot stir up /,stɪ:3r 'ʌp/ verb to encourage strong emotions or reactions ○ The fans came with the deliberate intention of stirring up trouble.

② stitch /stɪtʃ/ noun 1. a little loop of thread made with a needle in sewing or with knitting needles when knitting ○ She used very small stitches in her embroidery. ○ Very fine wool will give you more stitches than in the pattern. 2. clothes □ not a stitch to wear nothing suitable to wear ○ How can I go to the party – I haven't a stitch to wear. □ with not a stitch on completely naked ○ I can't come now, I haven't a stitch on. 3. a small loop of thread used by a surgeon to attach the sides of a wound together to help it to heal ○ She had three stitches in her arm. ○ Come back in ten days' time to have the stitches removed. 4. a sharp pain caused by cramp in the side of the body after you have been running ○ I can't go any further – I've got a stitch. 5. □ in stitches laughing out loud ○ His story about the school play had us all in stitches. ■ verb 1. to attach something with a needle and thread ○ She stitched the badge to his jacket. 2. to sew the sides of a wound together ○ After the operation, the surgeon stitched the wound. ○ His finger was cut off in an accident and the surgeon tried to stitch it back on.

② stock /stɒk/ noun 1. a supply of something kept to use when needed ○ I keep a good stock of printer paper at home. ○ Our stocks of food are running low. ○ The factory has large stocks of coal. 2. quantities of goods for sale (NOTE: The US term is inventory.) 3. □ in stock available in the shop or warehouse ○ We hold 2,000 items in stock. □ out of stock not available in the shop or warehouse ○ We are out of stock of this item or this item is out of stock. □ to take stock to count the items in a warehouse ○ They take stock every evening after the store closes. □ to take stock of a situation to assess how bad a situation is ○ We need to take stock of the situation and decide what to do next. 4. investments in a company, represented by shares 5. family and ancestors ○ He comes of old farming stock. 6. pedigree farm animals ○ Stock prices fell at the market last week. □ fat stock animals reared for meat. ♦ livestock 7. the plant on which a graft is made ○ He grafted the apple cutting onto the stock. 8. a liquid made from boiling bones in water, used as a base for soups and sauces ○ Fry the onions and pour in some chicken stock. 9. □ on the stocks being worked on ○ She's finished writing one book and now has another on the stocks. 10. the handle of a rifle ■ verb to keep goods for sale in a warehouse or shop ○ They don't stock this book. ○ We try to stock the most popular colours. ■ adj 1. standard □ stock argument an argument which is frequently used 2. usually kept in a store ○ stock items stockade /stɒk'keɪd/ noun a strong fence made of thick upright poles

stockbroker /'stɒkbrəʊkə/ noun a person who buys or sells shares for clients stock control /'stɒk kən,trəʊl/ noun making sure that enough stock is kept and that quantities and movements of stock are noted (NOTE: The US term is inventory control.)

Stock Exchange /'stɒk eks,tseɪndʒ/ noun a place where stocks and shares are bought and sold stockholder /'stɒkhaʊldə/ noun a person who holds shares in a company. Synonym investor stocking /'stɒkɪŋ/ noun a long light piece of women's clothing which covers all of a leg and foot □ in your stocking or stockinged feet without your shoes on ○ She is five foot three in her stocking feet.

stocking filler /'stɒkɪŋ ,fɪlə/ noun a little gift which can be put into a Christmas stocking stockist /'stɒkɪst/ noun a person or shop which stocks a certain product stock market /'stɒk ,ma:kɪt/ noun a place where shares are bought and sold. Also called stock exchange stockpile /'stɒkpail/ noun large supplies of something kept by a country or company for future use ○ the country's stockpile of weapons ■ verb to collect large supplies of something together in case you need them in the future ○ We started to stockpile raw materials in case there was a rail strike.

stocks and shares /'stɒks ən 'seəz/ plural noun shares in ordinary companies stocktaking /'stɒkteɪkɪŋ/ noun counting and listing the existing stock in a shop or business stock up /,stɒk 'ʌp/ verb to buy supplies for use in the future stocky /'stɒki/ adj with large shoulders, a strong body and short, strong legs. Antonym slight (NOTE: stockier – stockiest) stodge /'stɒdʒ/ noun a heavy filling food, such as a pudding stodgy /'stɒdʒi/ adj (of food) heavy and filling (NOTE: stodgier – stodgiest) stoic /'stəʊɪk/ noun a person who accepts problems or pain without complaining stoical /'stəʊɪk(ə)l/ adj accepting what happens without complaining stoically /'stəʊɪklɪ/ adv in a way which accepts problems or pain without complaining stoke /stəʊk/ verb to put wood or coal into a fire stole /stəʊl/ noun a wide light scarf worn around the shoulders ○ She wore a pale blue stole with her evening dress. Synonym shawl ■ verb ♦ steal stolen /'stəʊlən/ ♦ steal

stolid /'stɒlid/ adj serious, not easily excited. Synonym impassive. Antonym emotional

② stomach /'stʌmək/ noun 1. a part of the body shaped like a bag, into which food passes after being swallowed and where it continues to be digested ○ I don't want anything to eat – my stomach's upset or I have a stomach upset. ○ He has had stomach trouble for some time. □ his eyes were bigger than his stomach he took too much food and couldn't finish it 2. the area round the abdomen ○ He had been kicked in the stomach. ■ verb to put up with ○ They left the meeting because they couldn't stomach any more arguments. Synonym tolerate stomach ache /'stʌmək eɪk/ noun a pain in the abdomen stomach upset /'stʌmək ,ʌpset/ noun a slight infection of the stomach stomp /stɒmp/ verb to walk with heavy steps

① stone /stəʊn/ noun 1. a very hard material, found in the earth, used for building ○ All the houses in the town are built in the local grey stone. ○ The stone carvings in the old church date from the 15th century. ○ Stone floors can be very cold. (NOTE: no plural: some stone, a piece of stone, a block of stone) 2. a small piece of stone ○ The children were playing at throwing stones into the pond. ○ The beach isn't good for bathing as it's covered with very sharp stones. 3. a British measure of weight equal to 14 pounds or 6.35 kilograms ○ She's trying to lose weight and so far has lost a stone and a half. ○ He weighs twelve stone ten (i.e. 12 stone 10 pounds). (NOTE: no plural in this meaning: He weighs ten stone. In the USA, human body weight is always given only in pounds.) 4. a single hard seed inside a fruit ○ Count the cherry stones on the side of your plate. 5. a hard piece of mineral which forms inside your body, particularly in the kidneys, and causes pain ■ adv completely ○ stone cold very cold □ stone deaf completely deaf ■ verb □ to stone someone to death (as a punishment) to throw stones at someone and kill him or her stoned /stəʊnd/ adj 1. (of fruit) with the stone removed ○ We only buy stoned olives.

2. high on drugs (informal) ○ He was completely stoned when I met him.

stony /'stəni/ adj 1. made of lots of stones ○ They walked carefully across the stony beach. 2. showing no emotion ○ They sat with stony faces, listening to the accusation.

stood /stʊd/ □ stand

③ stool /stu:l/ noun a small seat with no back ○ When the little girl sat on the piano stool her feet didn't touch the floor. □ foot-stool □ to fall between two stools to have two possible ways of doing something and not to do either successfully ○ He tried to please both his wife and his friends and fell between two stools.

stoop /stu:p/ verb 1. to bend forward ○ She stooped and picked something up off the carpet. ○ I found him standing at the table, stooped over a spreadsheet. 2. to have a permanently bent back ○ He's only in his sixties and he already stoops. ■ noun a position where you are bent forwards ○ She has a stoop. ○ He walks with a stoop.

① stop /stɒp/ verb 1. not to move any more ○ The motorcycle didn't stop at the red lights. ○ This train stops at all stations to London Waterloo. 2. to make something not move any more ○ The policeman stopped the traffic to let the lorry back out of the garage. ○ Stop that boy! – he's stolen my purse. 3. not to do something any more ○ The office clock has stopped at 4.15. ○ At last it stopped raining and we could go out. ○ She spoke for two hours without stopping. ○ We all stopped work and went home. ○ The restaurant stops serving meals at midnight.

4. □ to stop someone or something (from) doing something to make someone or something not do something any more ○ The rain stopped us from having a picnic. ○ How can the police stop people stealing cars? ○ Can't you stop the children from making such a noise? ○ The plumber couldn't stop the tap dripping. 5. to stay at a place for a short time ○ Can you stop at the newsagent's on your way home and buy the evening paper? 6. □ to stop at nothing to do everything, whether good or bad, to succeed ○ He'll stop at nothing to get that job. □ to stop short of doing something to stop just in time to avoid doing something ○ He stopped short of admitting he was guilty. 7. to stay as a visitor in a place ○ They stopped for a few days in Paris. ○ I expect to stop in Rome for the weekend. 8. to prevent a business or bank activity taking place □ to stop an account to stop supplying a customer until he has paid what he owes □ to stop a cheque, to stop payment on a check to ask a bank not to pay a cheque that you have written □ to stop someone's wages to take money out of someone's wages as a punishment ○ We stopped £25 from his pay because he was late. ■ noun 1. the end of something, especially of movement ○ The police want to put a stop to car crimes. □ to come to a stop or a full stop to stop moving or continuing ○ The car rolled on without the driver, and finally came to a stop at the bottom of the hill. ○ All the building work came to a stop when the money ran out. 2. a place where you break a journey ○ We'll make a stop at the next service station. 3. a place where a bus or train lets passengers get on or off ○ We have been waiting at the bus stop for twenty minutes. ○ There are six stops between here and Marble Arch. 4. a knob which is pulled on an organ to use different pipes, so making different types of sound □ to pull out all the stops to make every effort (informal) ○ They pulled out all the stops to make sure the work was finished on time.

stop by /,stɒp 'baɪ/ verb to visit someone for a short time stopcock /'stɒpkɒk/ noun a tap which turns off the main supply of water stopgap /'stɒpgæp/ noun something used for a short time, while waiting for something better to be found stoplight /'stɒplait/ noun US a traffic light stop off /,stɒp 'ɒf/ verb to stop for a time in a place before going on with your journey. Synonym call stop over /,stɒp 'əʊvə/ verb to spend a night in a place on a long journey ○ We'll stop over in Rome on the flight to Hong Kong.

stopover /'stɒpəʊvə/ noun a short overnight stop on a long journey by air stoppage /'stɒpɪdʒ/ noun 1. the action of stopping something from moving ○ Deliveries will be late because of stoppages on the production line. 2. money taken from an employee's wages to pay for insurance and tax stopper /'stɒpə/ noun a piece of glass etc., put into the mouth of a bottle or jar to close it stop press /'stɒp 'pres/ noun, adj a last piece of news added to a newspaper before it is printed stop up /,stɒp 'ʌp/ verb 1. not to go to bed ○ We stopped up late to see the New Year in. ○ I'm going to stop up to watch the golf on TV. 2. to block something ○ He tried to stop up the hole in the pipe with some kind of cement.

stopwatch /'stɒpwɒtʃ/ noun a watch which can be started and stopped by pressing a button, used for timing races

③ storage /'stɔ:rɪdʒ/ noun 1. the act of keeping something in a store or warehouse ○ We put our furniture into storage. ○ We don't have enough storage space in this house. □ to put a plan into cold storage to postpone work on a plan, usually for a very long time 2. the cost of keeping things in store ○ Storage costs us 10% of the value of the items stored. 3. a facility for storing data in a computer ○ a hard disk with a storage capacity of 200Mb storage capacity /'stɔ:rɪdʒ kə,pæsɪtɪ/ noun the space available for storage storage facilities /'stɔ:rɪdʒ fə,silɪtɪz/ noun equipment and buildings suitable for storage

① store /stɔ:/ noun 1. a shop, usually a big shop ○ You can buy shoes in any of the big stores in town. ○ Does the store have a hairdressing salon? 2. supplies kept to use later ○ We keep a big store of coal for the winter. ○ They bought stores for their journey. 3. a place where goods are kept ○ The goods will be kept in store until they are needed. □ to be in store for someone, to have something in store for someone to be going to happen to someone ○ She's got a big surprise in store. ○ We didn't know what would be in store for us when we surrendered to the enemy. ■ verb 1. to keep food etc. to use later ○ We store (away) all our vegetables in the garden shed. 2. to put something in a warehouse for safe keeping ○ We stored our furniture while we were looking for a house to buy. 3. to keep something in a computer file ○ We store all our personnel records on computer.

store card /'stɔ: kɑ:d/ noun a credit card issued by a department store which can only be used for purchases within that store storefront /'stɔ:frænt/ noun US a part of a store which faces the street, including the entrance and the windows (NOTE: The British term is shopfront.)

storehouse /'stɔ:haʊs/ noun 1. a place where information is kept ○ The museum is a storehouse of expertise on ancient art. 2. a place where things are stored (old) ○ The Roman grain storehouses were burnt in the fire.

storeroom /'stɔ:ru:m/ noun a room where goods can be stored

③ storey /'stɔ:ri/ noun a whole floor in a building (NOTE: The US spelling is story.)

stork /stɔ:k/ noun a large white bird with long legs and a long thin red beak

② storm /stɔ:m/ noun a high wind and very bad weather ○ Several ships got into difficulties in the storm. ○ How many trees were blown down in last night's storm? ○ March and October are the worst months for storms.

□ received a storm of applause was cheered very loudly ■ verb 1. to rush about angrily ○ He stormed into the shop and demanded to see the manager. □ to storm off or out to go away or out in anger ○ She stormed out of the meeting and called her lawyer. 2. to attack suddenly and capture ○ Our troops stormed the enemy camp. ◇ by storm 1. in a sudden rush or attack ○ The soldiers took the enemy castle by storm. 2. in a whirl of excitement ○ The pop group has taken the town by storm.

◇ a storm in a teacup a lot of fuss about something which is not important (informal)

stormy /'stɔ:mi/ adj 1. when there are storms ○ They are forecasting stormy weather for the weekend. 2. involving a lot of argument and anger

① story /'stɔ:ri/ noun 1. a description that tells what really happened ○ She told her story to the journalist. □ it's a long story it is difficult to describe what happened 2. a description that tells things that did not really happen but are invented by someone ○ The book is the story of two children during the war. ○ She writes children's stories about animals. 3. something which is not true ○ Nobody will believe such stories. Synonym lie 4. US same as storey (NOTE: The plural is stories.)

storybook /'stɔ:ribʊk/ noun a book of children's stories ○ The library's choice of storybooks for the under fives is excellent. ■ adj as good and perfect as in a children's story ○ To her he seemed like a storybook prince.

storyline /'stɔ:ri�ain/ noun the plot of a novel or film etc.

storyteller /'stɔ:ritelə/ noun a person who tells a story

stout /staut/ adj 1. (of a person) quite fat ○ He has become much stouter and has difficulty going up stairs. 2. (of material) strong or thick ○ Take a few sheets of stout paper. ○ Find a stout branch to stand on. 3. brave ○ A few stout men held off the enemy attack. (NOTE: stouter – stoutest) ■ noun a strong dark-coloured beer ○ He was sitting quietly in the bar, drinking a glass of stout.

③ stove /stəʊv/ noun a piece of equipment for heating or cooking. Also called cooker stow /stəʊv/ verb to put away ○ He had stowed all the luggage in the boot of the car.

stow away /,stəʊ ə'wei/ verb 1. to put away ○ It's June – time you stowed away your skis. 2. to travel secretly on a ship or aircraft without paying the fare ○ They found two students stowing away in a lifeboat.

stowaway /'stəʊəwei/ noun a person who travels secretly on a ship or aircraft without paying straddle /'stræd(ə)l/ verb 1. to stand with legs apart, on either side of something ○ He straddled the ditch. 2. be on both sides of something ○ The town straddles the main highway to the north.

straggle /'stræg(ə)l/ verb 1. to move in various directions, not in an orderly fashion ○ After the flood went down a few people straggled back to their villages each day. 2. to grow or lie in various directions ○ Her hair was straggling over her face.

straggler /'stræglə/ noun a person or animal who comes after everyone else straggly /'stræglɪ/ adj untidy

① straight /streɪt/ adj 1. not curved ○ Edgware Road is a long straight street. ○ The line under the picture isn't straight. ○ She has straight black hair. ○ Stand up straight! 2. not sloping ○ Your tie isn't straight. ○ Is the picture straight? 3. clear and simple ○ I want you to give me a straight answer. 4. tidy ○ Can you get the room straight before the visitors arrive? 5. □ to get something straight to understand clearly the meaning of something ○ Before you start, let's get this straight – you are not going to be paid for the work. 6. heterosexual, not homosexual ○ He met up with two straight guys in Sydney. 7. □ to keep a straight face to stop yourself smiling ○ She had difficulty keeping a straight face as she watched the children's Christmas show. ■ adv 1. in a straight line, not curving ○ The road goes straight across the plain for two hundred kilometres. ○ She was sitting straight in front of you. □ to go straight on, to keep straight on to continue along this road without turning off it ○ Go straight on past the cross-roads and then turn left. ○ Keep straight on and you'll find the hospital just after the supermarket. 2. immediately, at once ○ Wait for me here – I'll come straight back. ○ If there is a problem, you should go straight to the manager. 3. without stopping or changing ○ She drank the milk straight out of the bottle. ○ The cat ran straight across the road in front of the car. ○ He looked me straight in the face. ○ The plane flies straight to Washington. 4. (of a drink) with no water or any other liquid added ○ He drinks his whisky straight. Also called neat 5. □ to go straight to stop committing crimes (informal) ○ After he left prison he went straight for six or seven months. ■ noun (on a racetrack) a part which is straight ○ The runners are coming into the final straight. ↓ home straight (NOTE: Do not confuse with straits.) straightaway /,streɪtə'wei/ adv at once. Synonym immediately. Antonym later straighten /'streɪt(ə)n/ verb to make straight straighten up /,streɪt(ə)n 'ʌp/ verb 1. to stand straight after bending ○ He straightened up and looked at me. 2. to make something tidy ○ I must straighten up my bedroom before I leave.

straight fight /streɪt faiṭ/ noun an election contest between two candidates only ③ straightforward /streɪt'fɔ:wəd/ adj 1. honest and frank ○ She gave a straightforward answer. 2. easy, not complicated ○ If you follow the instructions carefully, it's quite a straightforward job.

straight off /,streɪt 'ɔf/ adv immediately (informal) Antonym later straight out /,streɪt 'aut/ adv directly, without hesitating strain /streɪn/ noun 1. the force of pulling something tight ○ Can that small rope take the strain of the boat? 2. □ to put a strain on to make something more difficult ○ The strong pound will put a strain on our exports. ○ His drinking put a strain on their marriage. 3. a condition where a muscle has been stretched or torn by a sudden movement ○ She dropped out of the race with muscle strain. 4. nervous tension and stress ○ Can she stand the strain of working in that office? 5. music, part of a tune ○ They all sang to the strains of the accordion. 6. a variety, breed ○ They are trying to find a cure for a new strain of the flu virus. ○ He crossed two strains of rice to produce a variety which is resistant to disease. ■ verb 1. to injure part of your body by pulling too hard ○ He strained a muscle in his back or he strained his back. ○ The effort strained his heart. 2. to make great efforts to do something ○ They strained to lift the piano into the van. 3. to put pressure on something, to make something more difficult ○ The mortgage repayments will strain our budget. ○ The argument strained our relations. 4. to pour liquid through a sieve to separate solids from it ○ Boil the peas for ten minutes and then strain.

strained /streɪnd/ adj 1. which has been pulled or worked too hard ○ She had to leave the game with a strained calf muscle. 2. tense or unfriendly ○ Relations between them became strained. 3. forced, not natural ○ He gave a strained laugh, and said he felt fine.

strainer /streɪnə/ noun a kitchen utensil with metal or nylon mesh, used to separate solids from a liquid straitened /'streɪt(ə)nd/ adj □ straitened circumstances a difficult situation because of not having enough money ○ They were living in straitened circumstances.

straitjacket /'streɪtðzækɪt/ noun 1. a strong coat whose sleeves are tied behind the back to prevent a violent person from attacking people 2. something which prevents you from acting freely straits /streɪts/ plural noun 1. a passage of water between two larger areas of sea ○ The Straits of Gibraltar can be very rough. 2. money difficulties ○ After my father died the family was in dire straits.

strand /strænd/ noun one piece of hair or thread ○ Strands of hair kept blowing across her forehead. ■ verb to leave someone or something alone and helpless ○ Her handbag was stolen and she was stranded without any money. ○ The captain stranded the ship on a sandbank.

stranded /'strændɪd/ adj alone and unable to move

① strange /streɪndʒ/ adj 1. not usual ○ It's strange that no one spotted the mistake. ○ Something is the matter with the engine – it's making a strange noise. ○ She told some very strange stories about the firm she used to work for. ○ It felt strange to be sitting in the office on a Saturday afternoon. 2. which you have never seen before or where you have never been before ○ I find it difficult getting to sleep in a strange room. ○ We went to Korea and had lots of strange food to eat. (NOTE: stranger – strangest)

② strangely /'streɪndʒli/ adv in a strange way

③ stranger /'streɪndʒə/ noun 1. a person whom you have never met ○ I've never met him – he's a complete stranger to me. ○ Children are told not to accept lifts from strangers. □ you're quite a stranger I haven't seen you for a long time 2. a person in a place where he has never been before ○ I can't tell you how to get to the post office – I'm a stranger here myself.

strangle /'stræŋgəl/ verb 1. to kill by squeezing the throat so that someone cannot breathe or swallow ○ The marks on his neck showed that he had been strangled. 2. to slow the development of something ○ The company's expansion is being strangled by lack of funds.

stranglehold /'stræŋgəl,haʊld/ noun control which prevents you doing what you want to do strangler /'stræŋglə/ noun a person who kills someone by strangling them strangulation /,stræŋgju'leɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the act of squeezing someone's throat so that they cannot breathe or swallow strap /stræp/ noun a long flat piece of material used to attach something ○ Can you do up the strap of my rucksack for me? ○ I put a strap round my suitcase to make it more secure. ■ verb 1. to fasten something with a strap ○ He strapped on his rucksack. ○ The patient was strapped to a stretcher. ○ Make sure the baby is strapped into her seat. 2. to wrap a bandage tightly round a limb ○ She strapped up his ankle and told him to lie down. (NOTE: strapping – strapped) strapped /stræpt/ adj (informal) □ strapped for cash not having any money ○ Can you lend me a few pounds as I'm a bit strapped for cash at the moment?

strapping /'stræpɪŋ/ adj big and strong (informal) strata /'stræ:tə/ □ stratum stratagem /'strætədʒəm/ noun a clever plan, often to trick someone strategic /'strætɪdʒɪk/ adj 1. done with the intention of achieving a specific aim 2. attacking an enemy from a long distance ○ strategic weapons strategist /'strætədʒɪst/ noun someone who makes business, military or other plans ② strategy /'strætədʒi/ noun the planning of actions in advance ○ Their strategy is to note which of their rival's models sells best and then copy it. ○ The government has no long-term strategy for dealing with crime.

stratosphere /'strætəsfɪə/ noun a higher layer of the earth's atmosphere stratum /'stræ:təm/ noun a layer, especially of rock ○ As they dug down, they exposed several strata of rock. (NOTE: The plural is strata /'stræ:tə/.)

straw /strəʊ/ noun 1. dry stalks and leaves of crops left after the grain has been harvested ○ You've been lying on the ground – you've got bits of straw in your hair. ○ The tractor picked up bundles of straw and loaded them onto a truck. 2. a thin plastic tube for sucking up liquids ○ She was drinking orange juice through a straw. 3. □ that's the last straw I can't stand any more of this strawberry /'strɔ:b(ə)ri/ noun a common soft red summer fruit growing on low plants (NOTE: The plural is strawberries.)

straw poll /strɔ:pəl/ noun an informal test of opinion taken near an election day, to see how people intend to vote stray /streɪ/ noun an animal which is lost and far away from home ○ We have two female cats at home and they attract all the strays in the district. ■ adj 1. not where it should be ○ He was killed by a stray bullet from a sniper. 2. which is lost or without a home ○ We found a stray cat and brought it home. ■ verb to move away from the place where it should be ○ The sheep strayed onto the golf course. ○ The children had strayed too far and couldn't get back.

streak /stri:k/ noun 1. a line of colour ○ She's had blonde streaks put in her hair. 2. a particularly characteristic type of behaviour ○ She has a ruthless streak in her. ○ It's his mean streak which makes him not buy any Christmas cards. 3. a period when a series of things happens ○ I was on a winning streak, I won three times in a row. ○ I hope our unlucky streak is coming to an end. ■ streak of lightning a flash of lightning ■ a streak of luck a period when you are lucky ■ verb 1. to go very fast ○ The rocket streaked across the sky. 2. to run about naked at a public event (informal)

streaker /'stri:kə/ noun a person who runs naked at a public event (informal)

③ stream /stri:m/ noun 1. a small river ○ Can you jump across that stream? 2. things which pass continuously ○ Crossing the road is difficult because of the stream of traffic. ○ We had a stream of customers on the first day of the sale. ○ Streams of refugees tried to cross the border. 3. ■ to come on stream to start production ○ Output will be doubled when the new factory comes on stream. ■ verb to flow continuously ○ Blood was streaming down his face. ○ Cars streamed out of the park. ○ Children streamed across the square. ■ he has a streaming cold he has a cold where his nose is running all the time streamer /'stri:mə/ noun a long paper strip used for decoration streaming /'stri:minɪŋ/ noun the practice of placing pupils in groups according to their ability streamline /'stri:mlain/ verb 1. to design a car, plane or boat so that it can move easily through water or air ○ The body of the car was streamlined to make it faster. 2. to make something more efficient or more simple ○ We are trying to streamline the accounting system.

streamlined /'stri:mlaind/ adj 1. designed so as to be able to move faster ○ The car has been redesigned with a more stream- lined body. 2. efficient and rapid ○ They have a very streamlined production system. ○ The company introduced a more streamlined system of distribution.

① street /stri:t/ noun 1. a road in a town, usually with houses on each side ○ It is difficult to park in our street on Saturday mornings. ○ Her flat is on a noisy street. ○ The school is in the next street. 2. used with names ○ What's your office address? – 16 Cambridge Street. ○ Oxford Street, Bond Street and Regent Street are the main shopping areas in London. (NOTE: When used in names, street is usually written St: Oxford St.) 3. ■ the man or woman in the street an ordinary person, who represents what most people think ○ The government's message is not getting through to the man in the street.

streetcar /'stri:tka:/ noun US a form of public transport, with carriages running on rails laid in the street (NOTE: The British term is tram.)

streetlamp /'stri:tlaemp/, streetlight /'stri:tlaɪt/ noun an electric light on a tall pole, to light a street street map /'stri:t mæp/, street plan /'stri:t plæn/ noun a diagram showing streets with their names street vendor /'stri:t ,vendə/ noun a person who sells food or small items in the street streetwise /'stri:twaɪz/ adj able to deal with difficult and dangerous situations in a modern city

② strength /strenθ/ noun 1. being physically strong ○ She hasn't got the strength to lift it. ○ You should test the strength of the rope before you start climbing. 2. being strong, being at a high level ○ The strength of the demand for the new car is surprising. ○ The strength of the pound increases the possibility of higher inflation. 3. ■ in strength in large numbers ○ The police were there in strength. ■ at full strength with everyone present ○ The department had several posts vacant, but is back to full strength again. ■ in a show of strength to show how strong an army is ○ In a show of strength, the government sent an aircraft carrier to the area. ■ to go from strength to strength to get stronger and stronger ○ Under his leadership the party went from strength to strength. ■ on the strength of because of ○ They employed him on the strength of the references from his previous employer.

③ strengthen /'strenθ(ə)n/ verb 1. to make something stronger ○ The sea wall is being strengthened to prevent another flood. ○ This will only strengthen their determination to oppose the government. ○ We are planning to strengthen airport security. 2. to become stronger ○ The wind is strengthening from the south-west. Antonym weaken strenuous /'strenjuəs/ adj requiring effort

③ stress /stres/ noun 1. the force or pressure on something ○ Stresses inside the earth create earthquakes. 2. nervous strain caused by an outside influence ○ She has difficulty coping with the stress of the office. ○ People in positions of responsibility often have stress-related illnesses. 3. the loudness of your voice when you pronounce a word or syllable ○ In the word 'emphasis' the stress is on the first syllable. (NOTE: The plural is stresses.) ■ verb to put emphasis on something ○ I must stress the importance of keeping the plan secret. Synonym emphasise stressed /strest/ adj worried and tense. Synonym harassed. Antonym relaxed stressed out /,strest 'aut/ adj very worried and tense stressful /'stresf(ə)l/ adj (of a situation) which causes stress. Synonym demanding. Antonym relaxing stress mark /stres mark/ noun a mark showing which syllable of a word should be stressed

③ stretch /stretʃ/ verb 1. to spread out for a great distance ○ The line of cars stretched for three miles from the accident. ○ The queue stretched from the door of the cinema right round the corner. ○ White sandy beaches stretch as far as the eye can see. 2. to push out your arms or legs as far as they can ○ The cat woke up and stretched. ○ The monkey stretched out through the bars and grabbed the little boy's cap. □ to stretch your legs to go for a short walk after sitting for a long time (informal) ○ In the coffee break I went out into the garden to stretch my legs. 3. to pull out so that it becomes loose ○ Don't hang your jumper up like that – you will just stretch it. ○ These trousers are not supposed to stretch. □ he is not fully stretched his work is too easy and does not make him work as hard as he could ■ noun 1. a long piece of land, water or road ○ For long stretches of the Transsiberian Railway, all you see are trees. ○ Stretches of the river have been so polluted that bathing is dangerous. □ the final stretch, the home stretch the last stage of a race or journey ○ He was far ahead of the other runners when they came to the final stretch. 2. a long period of time ○ For long stretches we had nothing to do. □ at a stretch without a break ○ He played the piano for two hours at a stretch. 3. a time in prison ○ He did a stretch in Wormwood Scrubs. 4. the action of putting out your arms and legs as far as they will go ○ I love to lie in bed and have a good stretch before I get up. 5. the action of pulling something out ○ Give the sweater a stretch before you hang it up to dry. 6. □ by no stretch of the imagination no one can possibly believe that ○ By no stretch of the imagination can you expect him to win.

stretch back /,stretʃ 'bæk/ verb to go back over a long period stretcher /stretʃə/ noun a folding bed with handles, on which an injured person can be carried by two people stretch to /'stretʃ tu:/ verb to be enough for □ dinner won't stretch to seven there won't be enough food for seven people □ to stretch something or someone to the limit to be almost too much for ○ The new car is going to stretch my finances or stretch me to the limit.

stretchy /'stretʃi/ adj which stretches. Synonym elastic. Antonym rigid strew /stru:/ verb to scatter over a wide area (NOTE: strewing – strewed or strewn /stru:n/)

stricken /'striken/ adj, suffix affected by disease, emotion or a disaster ○ Half the class was stricken with flu. ○ They rushed rescuers to the stricken villages. ○ Panic-stricken children ran out of the school. ○ Relief workers are bringing food to drought-stricken areas.

③ strict /strikt/ adj 1. exact ○ The files are in strict alphabetical order. 2. which must be obeyed ○ I gave strict instructions that no one was to be allowed in. ○ The rules are very strict and any bad behaviour will be severely punished. 3. insisting that rules are obeyed ○ Our parents are very strict with us about staying up late. (NOTE: stricter – strictest)

③ strictly /'striktli/ adv in a strict way ○ All staff must follow strictly the procedures in the training manual. □ strictly confidential completely secret ○ What I am going to tell you is strictly confidential.

stride /straɪd/ noun a long step ○ In three strides he was across the room and out of the door. □ to make great strides to advance quickly ○ Researchers have made great strides in the treatment of asthma. □ to take something in your stride to deal with something easily ○ Other people always seem to have problems, but she just takes everything in her stride. ■ verb to walk with long steps ○ He strode into the room. ○ We could see him striding across the field to take shelter from the rain. (NOTE: striding – strode /straʊd/) strident /'straɪd(ə)nt/ adj unpleasantly loud and harsh strife /straɪf/ noun trouble between people

② strike /straɪk/ noun 1. the stopping of work by workers because of lack of agreement with management or because of orders from a trade union ○ They all voted in favour of a strike. ○ The danger of a strike was averted at the last minute. □ to take strike action to go on strike ○ The workers voted to take strike action. □ to come out on strike, to go on strike to stop work ○ The workers went on strike for more money. ○ The baggage handlers are on strike for higher pay. □ to call the workforce out on strike to tell the workers to stop work ○ The union called its members out on strike. 2. a military attack ○ They launched an air strike against the enemy positions. ■ verb 1. to stop working because of disagreement with management ○ The workers are striking in protest against bad working conditions. 2. to hit something hard ○ He struck her with a bottle. ○ She struck her head on the low door. ○ He struck a match and lit the fire. 3. (of a clock) to ring to mark an hour ○ The clock had just struck one when she heard a noise in the corridor. 4. to come to someone's mind ○ A thought just struck me. ○ It suddenly struck me that I had seen him somewhere before. □ it strikes me that I think that ○ It strikes me that we may be changing too much. 5. to surprise someone ○ He was struck by the poverty he saw everywhere. 6. to attack ○ The police are afraid the killer may strike again. ○ The illness struck without warning. □ to be struck down with flu to have a sudden attack of flu 7. to come to an agreement ○ We expect to strike a deal next week. ○ They struck a bargain and decided to share the costs. (NOTE: striking – struck /strʌk/) strike off /,straɪk 'ɒf/ verb to remove a name from a list because of bad behaviour. Synonym delete. Antonym include striker /'straɪkəl/ noun 1. a worker who is on strike ○ Strikers picketed the factory. 2. a football player whose main task is to score goals ○ His pass back to the goalkeeper was intercepted by the opposition striker who promptly scored.

strike up /'straɪk 'ʌp/ verb 1. to start playing a piece of music ○ The band struck up, and everyone settled in their seats. 2. □ to strike up an acquaintance with someone to start getting to know someone

③ striking /'straɪkɪŋ/ adj noticeable, unusual ○ She bears a striking resemblance to the Queen. ○ It is a very striking portrait of Winston Churchill. ◇ within striking distance quite close ○ The capital is within striking distance of the enemy guns.

strikingly /'straɪkɪŋli/ adv very noticeably ② string /striŋ/ noun 1. a strong thin fibre used for tying up things such as parcels ○ This string isn't strong enough to tie up that big parcel. ○ She bought a ball of string. ○ We've run out of string. (NOTE: no plural in this meaning: some string, a piece of string) 2. one of the long pieces of fibre or wire on a musical instrument which makes a note when you hit it ○ a guitar has six strings ○ He was playing the violin when one of the strings broke. 3. one of the strong pieces of fibre which form the flat part of a tennis racket ○ One of the strings has snapped. 4. a long series of things or events ○ She's been plagued with a string of illnesses. ○ I had a string of phone calls this morning.

string along /,strɪŋ ə'lon/ verb 1. to walk along in a line behind someone ○ The teachers walked in front and the children strung along behind. 2. to promise someone something to get him or her to agree to do what you want ○ He was just stringing her along – he never intended to marry her, but just wanted to get at her money.

stringed instrument /'strɪŋd ,ɪnstrʊmənt/ noun a musical instrument where the notes are played on strings stringent /'strɪndʒənt/ adj strict or severe. Antonym lax stringer /'strɪŋə/ noun a journalist who sends stories regularly to a newspaper, covering events in a particular town or country

③ strings /'strɪŋz/ plural noun 1. hidden conditions □ are there any strings attached? are there any hidden conditions? ○ The bank loaned us the money with no strings attached. □ to pull strings to use your influence to make something happen (informal) ○ Her father pulled strings to get her the job. 2. □ the strings the section of an orchestra consisting of instruments such as the violin or cello ○ The work provides a lot of scope for the strings. ♫ brass, percussion, wind 3. □ the strings the members of an orchestra who play instruments such as the violin or cello ○ The strings sit at the front of the orchestra, near the conductor.

string vest /'strɪŋ 'vest/ noun a piece of underwear worn on the top of the body, made of material woven like a net

stringy /'strɪŋi/ adj full of strong fibres

③ strip /striŋ/ noun 1. a long narrow piece of something ○ He tore the paper into strips. ○ Houses are to be built along the strip of land near the church. 2. the coloured clothes worn by a particular team of football players and their supporters ○ He was wearing the Arsenal strip. ■ verb 1. to take off your clothes ○ Strip to the waist for your chest X-ray. ○ He stripped down to his underpants. 2. to remove completely ○ The wind stripped the leaves off the trees. ○ First we have to strip the old paint off the cupboards. ○ He was stripped of his title following the scandal. (NOTE: stripping – stripped) strip cartoon /striŋ kɑ:t'ʊn/ noun a cartoon story made of a series of small drawings inside little boxes side by side. Also called comic strip stripe /straɪp/ noun 1. a long line of colour ○ He has an umbrella with red, white and blue stripes. 2. a piece of coloured cloth sewn to a soldier's jacket to show his rank ○ He has just got his sergeant's stripes.

striped /stræpt/ adj with lines of different colour strip lighting /strip 'lætɪŋ/ noun a type of lighting in the form of long round tubes stripper /'striptə/ noun a person who performs a striptease striptease /'stripti:z/ noun an entertainment where someone takes their clothes off piece by piece stripy /'straɪpi/ adj with lines of different colour strive /straɪv/ verb to try very hard to (NOTE: striving – stroved /straʊv/ – has striven /'strɪv(ə)n/) strode /strəud/ □ stride

③ stroke /strəʊk/ noun 1. a gentle touch with your hand ○ She gave the dog a stroke. 2. a serious medical condition in which someone suddenly becomes unconscious, caused by a blood clot in the brain ○ He was paralysed after his stroke. ○ She had a stroke and died. 3. a movement made with something such as a pen or brush which makes a line ○ She can draw a cartoon with just a few strokes of the pen. 4. the act of hitting something such as a ball ○ It took him three strokes to get the ball onto the green. □ to put someone off his stroke to take someone's attention away from what they are doing, so that they make a mistake ○ People kept on shouting while the minister was speaking and that put him off his stroke. 5. a sound made when hitting something such as a bell □ on the stroke of midnight when the clocks are striking twelve 6. □ stroke of luck piece of luck ○ I had a stroke of luck yesterday – I found my wallet which I thought I had lost. ○ It was a stroke of luck that you happened to come along at that moment. □ stroke of work action of working ○ He hasn't done a stroke of work all day. 7. a style of swimming ○ She won the 200m breast stroke. 8. (in a rowing boat) the person who sits at the back of the boat and controls how fast the others row. □ verb to run your hands gently over ○ She was stroking the cat as it sat in her lap. Synonym caress stroll /straʊl/ noun a short relaxing walk ○ We went for a stroll by the river after dinner. □ verb to walk slowly as a way of relaxing ○ People were strolling in the park. ○ On Sunday evenings, everyone strolls along the boulevard. ▶ Synonym (all senses) saunter stroller /'strəʊlə/ noun 1. US a light chair with wheels for pushing babies in (NOTE: The British term is pushchair) 2. a person who strolls along ○ Crowds of strollers were in the streets, looking at the shop windows.

① strong /strɒŋ/ adj 1. who has a lot of strength ○ I'm not strong enough to carry that box. 2. which has a lot of force or strength ○ The string broke – we need something stronger. ○ The wind was so strong that it blew some tiles off the roof. 3. having a powerful smell, taste or effect ○ I don't like strong cheese. ○ You need a cup of strong black coffee to wake you up. ○ There was a strong smell of gas in the kitchen. ▶ strength (NOTE: stronger – strongest) □ suffix used to show a number of people ○ A 50-strong party of marines landed on the beach. ○ a 20-strong group of shift workers □ adv □ going strong still very active, still working ○ She had a heart bypass ten years ago and is still going strong.

strong box /'strɒŋ bɒks/ noun a small heavy safe for keeping valuable objects such as documents or jewels strong currency /'strɒŋ 'kʌrənsi/ noun a currency which has a high value against other currencies strong drink /'strɒŋ 'drɪŋk/ noun alcohol

stronghold /'strɒŋhəʊld/ noun 1. a place such as a castle which is difficult for an enemy to defeat ○ The enemy stronghold finally surrendered. 2. a place which is famous for something ○ Rome is renowned as the stronghold of Catholicism. ○ The club is a stronghold of male chauvinism.

strongly /'strɒŋli/ adv in a strong way strong-minded /,strɒŋ 'maɪndɪd/ adj with clear ideas which are not easily changed strong point /'strɒŋ pɔɪnt/ noun a particular good skill or quality that someone has. Antonym weakness strongroom /'strɒŋru:m/ noun a special room in a bank where valuable objects such as documents, money or gold can be kept stroppy /'strɒpi/ adj behaving in a rude and angry way (informal) strove /straʊv/ □ strive struck /stræk/ □ strike

③ structural /'stræktʃ(ə)rəl/ adj referring to a structure structurally /'stræktʃərəli/ adv referring to the basic structure of something

② structure /'stræktʃə/ noun 1. the way in which things are organised ○ a career structure within a corporation ○ The company is reorganising its discount structure. 2. the way in which something is built ○ The structure of the bridge had been weakened by constant traffic. 3. a building □ verb to arrange according to a specific system ○ We've tried to structure the meeting so that there is plenty of time for discussion.

③ struggle /'strʌg(ə)l/ noun 1. a fight ○ After a short struggle the burglar was arrested. 2. a hard effort to do something because of difficulties ○ her constant struggle to bring up her children ○ their struggle against ill-health ○ Setting up a new company during a recession was always going to be a struggle. ■ verb 1. to fight with someone who attacks you ○ Two men were struggling on the floor. 2. to try hard to do something difficult ○ She's struggling with her maths homework. ○ She struggled to carry all the shopping to the car. □ to struggle to your feet to stand up with great difficulty ○ After the blast from the bomb she struggled to her feet and started running.

strum /strʌm/ verb to play a stringed instrument by running your fingers across the strings in an informal way (NOTE: strumming – strummed)

strut /strʌt/ noun a bar of something such as wood or metal which supports something ○ They pulled away the struts and the wall collapsed. ■ verb to walk in a proud and important way ○ She strutted across the stage to collect her prize. ○ He refused to accept their offer and strutted out of the room. Synonym swagger (NOTE: strutting – strutted)

stub /stʌb/ noun 1. a small piece left after something has been used ○ He walked along the gutter looking for cigarette stubs. 2. a piece of paper left after a cheque or a ticket has been torn out of a book ○ Look at your cheque stubs to see when you wrote the cheque. ■ verb □ to stub your toe on something to hurt your toe by hitting it against something ○ I stubbed my toe on a rock on the beach.

stubble /'stʌb(ə)l/ noun 1. short stems left in the ground after a crop such as wheat has been cut 2. short hairs which grow on a man's chin if he does not shave for several days ○ She told him to shave, as she didn't like his stubble.

stubbly /'stʌbli/ adj □ stubbly beard a mass of short rough hairs growing on a man's chin □ stubbly chin a man's chin covered with short rough hairs stubborn /'stʌbən/ adj 1. determined not to change your mind ○ He's so stubborn – he only does what he wants to do. 2. difficult to remove ○ To get rid of really stubborn stains you will need to use bleach. ► Synonym (all senses) obstinate stubbornly /'stʌbənlɪ/ adv in an obstinate way stubby /'stʌbi/ adj short and thick or thick-set stuck /stʌk/ □ stick stuck-up /'stʌk 'ʌp/ adj proud and thinking you are better than other people (informal) mal). Synonym snobbish. Antonym unassuming

③ stud /stʌd/ noun 1. a nail with a head that stands out above a surface ○ He had a pattern of studs on his belt. 2. a hard metal object such as a nail fixed to the bottom part of a boot ○ His boots have specially large studs. 3. a type of button with two heads for passing through two holes to fasten a shirt ○ I can't wear my dinner shirt – I've lost my dress studs. 4. a small piece of gold jewellery worn in the ear ○ She wears a stud in her nose. 5. a horse which is kept for breeding □ to put a horse out to stud to use a male horse for breeding 6. a young man who is extremely sexually attractive (informal)

studded /'stʌdɪd/ adj 1. which has a surface decorated with many nails or similar objects ○ a massive studded door 2. full of, covered with ○ The film has a star-studded cast. ○ The valley was studded with little cottages.

① student /'stju:d(ə)nt/ noun a person who is studying at a college, university or school ○ All the science students came to my lecture. ○ She's a brilliant student. ○ Two students had to sit the exam again.

student loan /,stju:d(ə)nt 'ləʊn/ noun an amount of money borrowed by a student to pay for things such as food or rent while they are studying at university students' union /,stju:d(ə)nts 'ju:njən/ noun 1. a building where university students meet to drink, eat and take part in social events 2. a group representing the students at a university studies /'stʌdɪz/ plural noun the activity of going to college or university

③ studio /'stju:dɪəʊ/ noun 1. a room where an artist paints ○ She uses this room as a studio because of the good light. 2. a place where photographers take photographs ○ A studio photograph of the bride and groom. 3. a place where things such as films or broadcasts are made ○ The TV series was made at Teddington Studios. ○ And now, back to the studio for the latest news and weather report. ○ They spent the whole day recording the piece in the studio. 4. a very small flat for one person, usually one room with a small kitchen and bathroom ○ You can rent a studio overlooking the sea for £300 a week in high season. (NOTE: The plural is studios.)

studio apartment /'stju:dɪəʊ ə'pa:tment/ noun an apartment with one main room, and a kitchen and bathroom studious /'stju:diəs/ adj enjoying study, spending a lot of time studying

② study /'stʌdi/ noun 1. the work of examining something carefully to learn more about it ○ The company asked the consultant to prepare a study into new production tech- niques. ○ The review has published studies on the new drug. □ to carry out a feasibility study on a project to examine the costs and possible profits to see if the project should be started 2. a room used for quiet work such as reading or writing ○ When he says he is going to his study to read, we suspect it means he's going to have a nap. ■ verb 1. to learn about a subject at college or university ○ He is studying medicine because he wants to be a doctor. ○ She's studying French and Spanish in the modern languages department. 2. to examine something carefully to learn more about it ○ We are studying the possibility of setting up an office in New York. ○ The government studied the committee's proposals for two months. ○ Doctors are studying the results of the screening programme. 3. to look at something carefully ○ She was studying the guidebook.

① stuff /stʌf/ noun 1. a substance, especially something unpleasant ○ You've got some black stuff stuck to your shoe. 2. equipment or possessions ○ Dump all your stuff in the living room. ○ Take all that stuff and put it in the dustbin. ○ All your photographic stuff is still in the back of my car. 3. information or ideas about something ○ She talked about the dangers of smoking and all that stuff about lung cancer. 4. □ to do your stuff to do what people want you to do or what you are good at (informal) ○ Come on, England, do your stuff! ○ Everyone must do their stuff quickly if we want the work to be finished tonight. □ to know your stuff to know your subject well, to be good at what you are doing ○ It was fascinating to listen to him, he really knows his stuff. ■ verb 1. to push something into something to fill it ○ He stuffed his pockets full of peppermints. ○ The banknotes were stuffed into a small plastic wallet. 2. to put small pieces of food such as bread, meat or herbs inside meat or vegetables before cooking them ○ We had roast veal stuffed with mushrooms. 3. □ to stuff yourself to eat a lot (informal) ○ They were stuffing themselves on chocolate pudding. 4. to fill the skin of a dead animal so that it looks alive ○ There was a stuffed tiger at the top of the staircase in the old castle. 5. □ get stuffed go away, stop annoying me (informal, rude) ○ You can tell the manager to go and get stuffed.

stuffed /stʌft/ adj 1. filled with stuffing or some other filling ○ They served stuffed vine leaves as a starter. 2. feeling completely full, especially after eating too much (informal) stuffiness /'stʌfinəs/ noun the fact of being stuffy stuffing /'stʌfɪŋ/ noun 1. a mixture of small pieces of food such as bread, fat, onions and herbs put inside a chicken, fish or vegetables before cooking them ○ I prepared the stuffing for the fish according to my mother's recipe. 2. a soft material used to fill things such as children's toys or chair seats ○ The stuffing's coming out of this cushion. 3. □ to knock the stuffing out of someone to make someone lose their confidence (informal) ○ When his wife ran away with his best friend it seemed to knock all the stuffing out of him.

stuffy /'stʌfi/ adj 1. without any fresh air ○ Can't you open a window, it's so stuffy in here? ○ I dislike commuting into town every day on stuffy underground trains. 2. dull and out of date ○ We want to change the stuffy image of the firm. 3. (of a nose) which is blocked with mucus ○ His stuffy nose is caused by an allergy. (NOTE: stuffier – stuffiest) stumble /'stʌmbl/ verb 1. to almost fall by hitting your foot against something ○ He stumbled as he tried to get down the stairs in the dark. 2. to walk in way that is not steady ○ He was stumbling around in the cellar, looking for the light switch. 3. □ to stumble across something to find something by accident ○ I stumbled across this letter which someone had hidden. 4. to make mistakes when reading ○ He managed to stumble through the reading test. ○ She read the TV news without stumbling over any of the foreign words.

stumbling block /'stʌmblɪŋ blɒk/ noun something which prevents you doing what you want to do. Synonym obstacle stump /stʌmp/ noun 1. a short piece of something left sticking up, such as the main stem of a tree that has been cut down ○ After cutting down the trees, we need to get rid of the stumps. 2. one of the three sticks placed in the ground as a target in cricket ○ The ball hit the stumps and the last man was out. □ stumps were drawn the game of cricket came to an end ■ verb 1. to walk along with heavy steps ○ He stumped angrily out of the shop. 2. to ask someone a difficult question which they cannot answer ○ The MD was stumped when the committee asked him how many hours the average packer worked. ○ Today's crossword has stumped me completely or has got me stumped.

stamp up /,stʌmp 'ʌp/ verb to pay money (informal) stumpy /'stʌmpi/ adj short and fat. Antonym lanky stun /stʌn/ verb 1. to make someone become unconscious with a blow to the head ○ The blow on the head stunned him. Synonym knock out 2. to shock someone completely ○ She was stunned when he told her that he was already married. (NOTE: stunning – stunned) stung /stʌŋ/ sting

stunk /stʌŋk/ stink

stunning /'stʌnɪŋ/ adj impressive, extremely beautiful. Synonym spectacular stunt /stʌnt/ noun a trick or dangerous act done to attract attention Climbing up the outside of the building was just a publicity stunt. He's so fit that he insists on doing all the stunts in his films himself. verb to prevent something from growing The trees on the top of the cliff are stunted by strong winds. The children's development was stunted by malnutrition and disease. Synonym inhibit stunt man /'stʌnt mæn/ noun a man who carries out dangerous acts in films in place of a film star stupendous /stju:'pɛndəs/ adj extremely unusual, very large or impressive

① stupid /'stju:pɪd/ adj 1. not very intelligent What a stupid man! 2. behaving in a way that is not sensible It was stupid of her not to wear a helmet when riding on her scooter. He made several stupid mistakes.

stupidity /stju:'pɪdɪtɪ/ noun being stupid stupidly /stju:pɪdli/ adv in a stupid way stupor /'stju:pər/ noun the state of being almost unconscious sturdy /'stɜːdɪ/ adj strong or full of energy (NOTE: sturdier – sturdiest) stutter /'stʌtə/ noun a speech problem where you repeat the sound at the beginning of a word several times He is taking therapy to try to cure his stutter. verb to repeat the same sounds when speaking He stuttered badly when making his speech ▶ Synonym (all senses) stammer

sty /staɪ/ noun a little building where a pig is kept. pigsty

① style /staɪl/ noun 1. a way of doing something, especially a way of designing, drawing or writing The room is decorated in Chinese style. The painting is in his usual style. That style was fashionable in the 1940s. 2. a fashionable way of doing things She always dresses with style. They live in grand style. hairstyle 3. a way someone behaves, thinks or lives It's not her style to forget an appointment. Their style of life wouldn't suit me. to have your hair styled to go to the hairdresser's to have your hair cut and set in a particular way styling /'staɪlin/ noun the way in which something is designed stylised /'staɪlaɪzd/, stylized adj drawn or designed in a fixed way that does not look natural. Synonym conventional stylish /'staɪlɪʃ/ adj attractive and fashionable stylist /'stɪlist/ noun a person who gives a style to something stylistic /'stɪlistɪk/ adj referring to style in art stylus /'stɪləs/ noun the needle of a record player suave /swaɪv/ adj extremely polite with very good manners, though often with an unpleasant character (NOTE: suaver – suavest) sub /sʌb/ abbr 1. submarine 2. subscription 3. substitute sub- /sʌb/ prefix below, under subcommittee /'sʌbkomɪtɪ/ noun a small committee which is set up by a main committee and deals with a specific matter subconscious /sʌb'kɒnʃəs/ adj referring to mental processes such as memory which people do not realise they have, but which can affect their actions Aggression serves a subconscious desire to do better than others. noun a part of your mind which has ideas or feelings which you do not realise are there Somewhere, deep in his subconscious, was a feeling of hatred for his family.

subconsciously /sʌb'kɒnʃəsli/ adv in a subconscious way subcontinent /sʌb'kɒntɪnənt/ noun a large mass of land which is a separate part of a continent subcontract noun /sʌb'kɒntrækt/ a contract between the main company managing a whole project and another firm who will do part of the work verb /,sʌbkən'trækt/ to agree with a company that they will do part of the work for a project The electrical work has been subcontracted to Smith Ltd.

subcontractor /'sʌbkən'træktə/ noun a company which has a contract to do work for the main company managing a project subculture /'sʌb,kʌltʃə/ noun a separate social group within a larger culture subdivide /,sʌbdi'veɪd/ verb to divide up something which has already been divided subdivision /'sʌbdi'veɪʒ(ə)n/ noun the division of something into smaller parts subdue /səb'dju:/ verb to defeat, to bring under control subdued /səb'dju:d/ adj 1. very quiet, not excited The audience was very subdued. 2. not bright The room has been painted in subdued colours. 3. not loud A subdued discussion was going on in a far corner of the restaurant.

subgroup /'sʌb,gru:p/ noun a small separate group within a larger group subheading /'sʌbhedɪŋ/ noun a heading used to divide something such as a long document into smaller sections

① subject noun /'sʌbdʒɪkt/ 1. the thing which you are talking about or writing about

○ He suddenly changed the subject of the conversation. ○ The newspaper has devoted a special issue to the subject of pollution. 2. the main person or thing which is shown in a piece of art such as a painting ○ The same subject is treated quite differently in the three paintings. 3. an area of knowledge which you are studying ○ Maths is his weakest subject. ○ You can take up to five subjects at 'A' Level. 4. □ to be the subject of to be the person or thing talked about or studied ○ The painter Chagall will be the subject of our lecture today. ○ Advertising costs are the subject of close examination by the auditors. 5. a noun or pronoun which comes before a verb and shows the person or thing that does the action expressed by the verb (grammar) ○ In the sentence 'the cat sat on the mat' the word 'cat' is the subject of the verb 'sat'. 6. a person who is from a country that has a king or queen ○ a British subject ■ verb /səb'dʒekt/ □ to subject someone to to make someone suffer something unpleasant ○ The guards subjected the prisoners to physical violence. ○ We were subjected to a barrage of questions by reporters. ■ adj /səbdʒɪkt/ under the control of an authority ◇ subject to 1. depending on something ○ We want you to go on a study tour to France, subject to getting your parents' permission. □ the contract is subject to government approval the contract will be legal only if it is approved by the government □ sale subject to contract a sale which is not legal until a proper contract has been signed □ offer subject to availability the offer depends on the goods which are available 2. affected by ○ The timetable is subject to change without notice. ○ These articles are subject to import tax. ○ After returning from the tropics he was subject to bouts of malaria.

subjection /səb'dʒekʃən/ noun the action or process of bringing a person or people under the control of someone else subjective /səb'dʒektɪv/ adj seen from your own point of view, and therefore possibly influenced by your feelings or beliefs. Synonym biased. Antonym objective subjectivity /səbdʒek'tɪvɪtɪ/ noun the fact of being subjective, of seeing things from your own point of view. Synonym bias. Antonym objectivity subject line /'səbdʒɪkt laɪn/ noun the part at the top of an e-mail where the subject of the message is written subject matter /'səbdʒɪkt ,mætə/ noun the subject dealt with in something such as a book or TV programme sub judice /səb 'dʒu:dɪsɪ/ adv being considered in a court of law, and therefore not to be mentioned in the press subjunctive /səb'dʒʌŋktɪv/ noun the form of a verb used to express something such as a doubt, suggestion or wish sublet /səb'let/ verb to let another person pay rent to live in part of a property you are paying rent for (NOTE: subletting – sublet) sublime /sə'blaɪm/ adj 1. impressive, beautiful ○ the sublime music of Beethoven's Ninth Symphony ○ the sublime sight of snow-capped mountains towering above the lake 2. complete ○ He showed sublime indifference to the demands of the staff. ■ noun □ from the sublime to the ridiculous from a very good thing to a very silly thing in comparison ○ To leave your Rolls Royce in the garage and go everywhere on a pushbike is really going from the sublime to the ridiculous.

submarine /'səbməri:n/ adj which is under the water ○ a submarine pipeline ■ noun a special type of ship which can travel under water ○ The submarine dived before she was spotted by enemy aircraft.

submerge /səb'mɜ:dʒ/ verb 1. to cover with something, especially with water ○ At high tide the rocks are completely submerged. 2. to go under water ○ The submarine submerged and disappeared from view. 3. □ to submerge yourself in something to become completely involved in a type of work to forget about other problems ○ After the death of her mother she submerged herself in her medical work.

submersion /səb'mɜ:sʃ(ə)n/ noun the fact of being submerged

submission /səb'mɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. the state of giving in or having to obey someone ○ Their plan was to starve the enemy into submission. (NOTE: no plural in this meaning) 2. a piece of evidence, a document or an argument used in court ○ In his submission, he stated that the council had always acted within the law.

submissive /səb'mɪsɪv/ adj (of a person) who obeys all orders, or who gives in easily. Antonym assertive

③ submit /səb'mɪt/ verb 1. □ to submit to to give in to ○ He definitely won't submit to blackmail. 2. to put something forward for someone to examine ○ You are requested to submit your proposal to the planning committee. ○ He submitted a claim to the insurers. ○ Reps are asked to submit their expenses claims once a month. 3. to state your case in court ○ The defence submitted that there was no case to answer. (NOTE: submitting – submitted) subordinate adj /sə'bɔ:dnɪt/ under the control of someone else; less important

subordinate to which is under the control of ○ The new arrangement will make our department subordinate to yours. ■ noun /sə-

'bɔ:dɪnət/ a person who is under the direction of someone else ○ His subordinates find him difficult to work with. Synonym assistant. Antonym boss ■ verb /sə'bɔ:dɪneɪt/ (formal) □ to subordinate something to something else to put something in a less important position than something else ○ We were taught to subordinate our personal feelings to the needs of the state.

subordinate clause /sə,bɔ:dɪnət 'klɔ:z/ noun a clause in a sentence which depends on the main clause subordination /sə,bɔ:di'neɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the act of subordinating

subpoena /sə'pi:nə/ noun a court order telling someone to appear in court ○ She has been served a subpoena to appear in court next month. ■ verb to order someone to appear in court ○ The finance director was subpoenaed by the prosecution. Synonym summon (NOTE: subpoenaed)

subscribe /səb'skraɪb/ verb 1. □ to subscribe to a magazine to pay in advance for a series of issues of a magazine 2. to give money to ○ He subscribes to several charities. 3. □ to subscribe to a view to agree with a view (formal) ○ I subscribe to the view that government expenditure should be reduced.

subscriber /səb'skrɪbə/ noun 1. a person who subscribes to a magazine ○ The extra issue is sent free to subscribers. ○ a subscriber to a magazine ○ a magazine subscriber 2. a person who pays regularly to use a service ○ Telephone subscribers who don't pay their bills have their phones cut off. 3. a person who has applied for shares in a new company ○ There were very few subscribers to the recent share issue.

subscription /səb'skri:pʃən/ noun 1. the amount of money which someone pays to a magazine for a series of issues ○ Did you remember to pay the subscription to the computer magazine? □ to take out a subscription to a magazine to start paying for a series of issues of a magazine □ to cancel a subscription to a magazine to stop paying for a magazine 2. money paid to a club for a year's membership ○ He forgot to renew his club subscription. 3. □ subscription to a new share issue the offering of new shares in a company for sale subsection /səb'sekʃ(ə)n/ noun a division of a section such as in a document subsequent /'səbsɪkwənt/ adj which comes later (formal). Synonym following. Antonym preceding subsequently /'səbsɪkwəntli/ adv happening later or following something which has already happened subservient /səb'sɜ:vɪənt/ adj 1. always giving in to others ○ Stand up for your rights

— you shouldn't be so subservient. 2. not as important as ○ Each state is subservient to the federation.

subset /'səb,seɪt/ noun a mathematical set whose elements are contained in another set subside /səb'saɪd/ verb 1. to go down, to become less loud or strong ○ After the rainstorms passed, the flood waters gradually subsided. ○ His anger subsided and he began to try to find out what had happened. ○ He waited for the noise to subside before going on with his speech. 2. (of a piece of ground or a building) to fall to a lower level ○ The office block is subsiding because it is built on clay. Synonym sink subsidence /'səbsɪd(ə)ns/ noun (of a piece of ground or a building) an act of sinking or falling to a lower level subsidiarity /səb,sɪdɪ'ærɪtɪ/ noun (in the European Union) the principle that decisions should be taken at the level of each individual government and not at the level of the European Commission subsidiary /səb'sɪdɪərɪ/ adj which is less important ○ They queried one or two subsidiary items in the estimate. ■ noun a company which is owned by a parent company ○ Most of the profit comes from subsidiaries in the Far East.

subsidise /'səbsɪdaɪz/, subsidize verb to help by giving money subsidy /'səbsɪdi/ noun money given to help pay for something which does not make a profit (NOTE: The plural is subsidies) subsist /səb'sɪst/ verb 1. to stay alive, to manage ○ Some people can subsist on very little food. 2. to continue to exist (formal) ○ Doubts subsist in my mind as to his true identity. ○ Some traces of the old dialect still subsist in the islands.

subsistence /səb'sɪstəns/ noun the smallest amount of things such as food and money which a person needs to live on □ to live at subsistence level to have only just enough money to live on ○ People living below subsistence level are eligible for government grants.

① substance /'səbstəns/ noun 1. a solid or liquid material, especially one used in chemistry ○ A secret substance is added to the product to give it its yellow colour. ○ Toxic substances got into the drinking water.

2. the truth behind an argument ○ There is no substance to the rumour that he was controlled by the mafia. ○ She brought documents to add substance to her claim. 3. □ a man of substance a rich man (formal) 4. a drug ○ He was found to have certain illegal substances in his suitcase.

substandard /səb'stændəd/ adj not up to the usual standard. Synonym inferior

② substantial /səb'stænʃəl/ adj 1. large, important ○ She was awarded substantial damages. ○ He received a substantial sum when he left the company. ○ A substantial amount of work remains to be done. 2. large, which satisfies ○ We had a substantial meal at the local pub. 3. solid, strong ○ This wall is too flimsy, we need something much more substantial.

substantially /səb'stænʃəli/ adv 1. mainly, mostly ○ Their forecast was substantially correct. 2. by a large amount ○ The cost of raw materials has risen substantially over the last year.

substantiate /səb'stænʃieit/ verb to prove that something which has been stated is true. Antonym disprove substantive /səb'stæntiv/ adj 1. real, which is serious 2. referring to a permanent military rank ○ He holds the substantive rank of colonel. ■ noun (in grammar) a noun ○ Some substantives such as 'child' and 'man' have irregular plural forms.

substitute /'səbstɪtju:t/ noun a person or thing that takes the place of someone or something else ○ This type of plastic can be used as a substitute for leather. ○ The substitute teacher was better than the teacher himself. ○ When the goalkeeper was injured they sent on a substitute. ■ verb □ to substitute something or someone for something or someone else to put something or someone in the place of something or someone else ○ He secretly substituted the fake diamond for the real one. □ to substitute for someone to replace someone ○ Who will be substituting for the sales manager when she's away on holiday?

substitution /,səb'stɪ'tju:ʃən/ noun the act of substituting someone or something for someone or something else subsume /səb'sju:m/ verb to include something in a larger group or set (formal) subterfuge /'səbtəfju:dʒ/ noun a trick or clever way of doing something subterranean /,səb'tə'reniən/ adj under the ground subtitle /'səbttaɪt(ə)l/ noun a translation of the words spoken in a film which are shown at the bottom of the screen subtitled /'səbttaɪt(ə)ld/ adj with subtitles subtle /'sət(ə)l/ adj 1. not obvious or easily seen ○ There's a subtle difference between the two political parties. 2. complicated or delicate ○ a sauce with a subtle taste of lemon ○ A subtler shade would be better than that bright colour. (NOTE: subtler – subtest) subtlety /'sət(ə)lti/ noun careful thought processes which are difficult to explain subtotal /'səb,təut(ə)l/ noun the total of one section of a set of numbers subtract /səb'trækt/ verb to take one number away from another (NOTE: subtracting is usually shown by the minus sign – : 10 – 4 = 6: say 'ten subtract four equals six') subtraction /səb'trækʃən/ noun the act of subtracting one number from another subtropical /səb'trɔpik(ə)l/ adj referring to the subtropics subtropics /səb'trɔpiks/ plural noun areas of the world between the tropics and the temperate zones suburb /'səbɜ:b/ noun an area on the edge of a town where there are houses and shops but not usually factories or other large industries suburban /'sə'bɜ:bən/ adj referring to the suburbs. Antonym central suburbia /sə'bɜ:biə/ noun the middle-class suburban districts around a city. Synonym suburbs suburbs /'səbɜ:bz/ plural noun the areas all round the edge of a town where a lot of people live subversion /səb'versiʃən/ noun secret acts against a government subversive /səb'versi:v/ adj acting secretly against the government or people in authority ○ The police are investigating subversive elements in the student organisations.

Synonym dissident. Antonym law-abiding

■ noun a person who acts secretly against the government ○ The police have arrested several known subversives. Synonym dissident subvert /səb'vert/ verb to make something such as a system fail, or to damage or destroy the existing political system. Synonym undermine subway /'səbweɪ/ noun 1. an underground passage along which people can walk, e.g. so that they do not have to cross a busy road ○ There's a subway from the bus station to the shopping centre. 2. US an underground railway system ○ the New York subway ○ It will be quicker to take the subway to Grand Central Station. (NOTE: The London equivalent is the tube or Underground.)

sub-zero /səb 'zɪərəʊl/ adj below zero degrees in temperature

① succeed /sək'si:d/ verb 1. to do well or to make a lot of profit ○ His business has succeeded more than he had expected. 2. □ to succeed in doing something to do what you have been trying to do ○ She succeeded in passing her driving test. ○ I succeeded in getting them to agree to my plan. 3. to manage to do something which is rather stupid (informal, humorous) ○ They succeeded in getting lost in the centre of London. 4. to follow after someone in a particular job or position because they have left the job ○ Mr Smith was succeeded as chairman by Mr Jones. □ to succeed to the throne to become king or queen ○ He succeeded to the throne when his grandfather died.

succeeding /sək'si:dɪŋ/ adj 1. following after someone in their job or position in society 2. obtaining something such as a title or some property when the person who previously held it dies

① success /sək'ses/ noun 1. achieving what you have been trying to do ○ She's been looking for a job in a library, but without any success so far. 2. doing something well ○ Her photo was in the newspapers after her Olympic success. ○ The new car has not had much success in the Japanese market. 3. somebody or something that succeeds ○ The launch of the new model was a great success. ○ He wasn't much of a success as a manager. ○ The cataract operation was a complete success. (NOTE: The plural is successes.)

① successful /sək'sesf(ə)l/ adj who or which does well ○ He's a successful business man. ○ She's very successful at hiding her real age. ○ Their selling trip to Germany proved successful.

① successfully /sək'sesf(ə)li/ adv achieving what was intended succession /sək'seʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. a series of the same type of thing ○ I had a succession of phone calls from my relatives. □ in succession one after the other ○ Three people in succession have asked me the same question. ○ He won the title five times in succession. 2. taking a property or a title from someone who has died ○ The question of the succession to the throne is often mentioned in the newspapers.

successive /sək'sesɪv/ adj which come one after the other. Synonym consecutive successively /sək'sesɪvli/ adv one coming after the other successor /sək'sesər/ noun a person who takes over from someone. Antonym predecessor success story /sək'ses, stɔ:ri/ noun a person or something such as an invention that has been a great success succinct /sək'sɪŋkt/ adj exact, not using many words. Synonym concise succulent /sək'julənt/ adj with a very pleasant taste, e.g. because of being full of juice ○ The succulent dinner was much appreciated. ○ They served each of us a succulent slice of roast chicken. Synonym juicy ■ noun a type of plant with thick fleshy leaves and stems ○ She has a collection of succulents in her conservatory.

succumb /sə'kʌm/ verb 1. to accept defeat 2. to die from an illness or injury succumb to /sə'kʌm tu:/ verb 1. to give in to, to be defeated ○ Whenever I pass a sweet shop I succumb to temptation and buy some chocolates. ○ The stronghold finally succumbed after it was bombed. ○ He succumbed to pressure from his family and took a holiday. 2. to die from ○ Cholera struck the refugee camps and thousands succumbed. ○ They rapidly succumbed to the rigours of the Siberian winter.

① such /sʌtʃ/ adj 1. of this sort ○ The police are looking for such things as drugs or stolen goods. □ no such not existing ○ There is no such day as April 31st. ○ Someone was asking for a Mr Simpson but there is no such person working here. 2. very; so much ○ There was such a crowd at the party that there weren't enough chairs to go round. ○ It's such a shame that she's ill and has to miss her sister's wedding. ■ pron this type of person or thing ○ She's very competent, and is thought of as such by the management. ○ The noise was such that it stopped me sleeping.

suchlike /'sʌtʃlaɪk/ adj, pron similar (people or things)

③ suck /sʌk/ verb 1. to hold something with your mouth and pull at it with your tongue ○ The baby didn't stop sucking his thumb until he was six. 2. to have something in your mouth which makes your mouth produce water ○ He bought a bag of sweets to suck in the car. 3. to pull liquid into your mouth by using the muscles in your mouth ○ She sucked the orange juice through a straw. ■ noun the action of sucking ○ He's had a lick of my ice cream and now he wants a suck of my ice lolly.

sucker /'sʌkə/ noun 1. a part of an animal which sticks to a surface by sucking ○ An octopus has rows of suckers on its arms. 2. a little plastic cup which sticks to a surface by suction ○ Some hooks can be glued to the wall, others stick with suckers. 3. a person who is easily tricked into doing something 4. a person who cannot resist something ○ He's a sucker for chocolate desserts. ○ He's a sucker for any pretty girl. 5. (of a plant) a shoot which comes from the bottom of the stem or from a root ○ You need to cut all those suckers off the roses.

suck up /,sʌk 'ʌp/ verb 1. to take in ○ The new vacuum cleaner sucks up dust very efficiently. 2. □ to suck up to someone to flatter someone so as to get good treatment (informal) ○ You should see the way he sucks up to the boss.

suction /'sʌkʃən/ noun the action of sucking out air, so that two surfaces stick together

② sudden /'sʌd(ə)n/ adj which happens very quickly or unexpectedly ○ The sudden change in the weather caught us unprepared.

○ The bus came to a sudden stop. ○ His decision to go to Canada was very sudden. □ all of a sudden suddenly, quickly, giving you a shock ○ All of a sudden the room went dark.

sudden death playoff /sʌd(ə)n deθ 'pleɪf/ noun the ending of a game in which the scores are level, when each player or side tries to score and the one who scores first wins

① suddenly /'sʌd(ə)nli/ adv quickly and giving you a shock ○ The car in front stopped suddenly and I ran into the back of it. ○ Suddenly the room went dark. ○ She suddenly realised it was already five o'clock. Synonym unexpectedly. Antonym gradually suddenness /'sʌd(ə)nəs/ noun the fact of being extremely fast or unexpected suds /sʌdz/ plural noun a mass of soap bubbles on the surface of water sue /sju:/ verb to take someone to court, to start a legal case against someone to get payment for the harm or damage they have caused suede /swi:d/ noun leather with a soft surface that looks like velvet suet /'su:it/ noun the hard fat from around an animal's kidneys, used in cooking

① suffer /'sʌfə/ verb 1. to be in a bad situation, to do badly ○ The harvest has suffered during the rainy weather. ○ Exports have suffered during the last six months. 2. to receive an injury ○ He suffered multiple injuries in the accident. 3. to feel pain ○ He didn't suffer at all, and was conscious until he died. 4. □ to suffer from something to have an illness or a fault ○ She suffers from arthritis. ○ The company's products suffer from bad design. ○ Our car suffers from a tendency to overheat.

sufferer /'sʌfərə/ noun a person who has a particular disease suffering /'sʌf(ə)rɪŋ/ noun pain felt over a long period of time □ to put an animal out of its suffering to kill an animal which is very ill. ♦ long-suffering suffice /sə'faɪs/ verb to be enough (formal) □ suffice it to say it is enough to say ○ Suffice it to say that we are not at all happy with the results.

sufficiency /sə'fɪʃ(ə)nsi/ noun enough of something. ♦ self-sufficiency

② sufficient /sə'fɪʃ(ə)nt/ adj as much as is needed ○ Does she have sufficient funds to pay for her trip? ○ There isn't sufficient room to put the big sofa in here. ○ Allow yourself sufficient time to get to the airport. ♦ self-sufficient. Synonym adequate. Antonym insufficient sufficiently /sə'fɪʃ(ə)ntli/ adv well enough suffix /'sʌfɪks/ noun a set of letters added to the end of a word to make another word. Compare prefix (NOTE: The plural is suffixes.)

suffocate /'sʌfəkeɪt/ verb 1. to make someone stop breathing by cutting off the supply of air, or to die from lack of air to breathe ○ She was accused of suffocating the baby. ○ The family suffocated in the smoke-filled room. 2. to be uncomfortable because of heat and lack of air (informal) ○ We're suffocating in this little room.

suffocating /'sʌfəkeɪtɪŋ/ adj 1. which makes breathing difficult ○ He stepped out of the plane into Delhi's suffocating heat. 2. extremely uncomfortable because of being too hot, crowded or too closely controlled ○ She found it difficult to work in the suffocating atmosphere of the head office.

suffocation /səfə'keɪʃ(ə)n/ noun making someone become unconscious by cutting off their supply of air. Also called asphyxia

suffrage /'sʌfrɪdʒ/ noun a right to vote in elections

② sugar /'sʊgə/ noun 1. a substance that you use to make food sweet ○ How much sugar do you take in your tea? ○ A spoonful of sugar will be enough. ○ Can you pass me the sugar, please? 2. a spoonful of sugar ○ How do you take your coffee? – milk and one sugar, please.

sugar beet /'sʊgə bi:t/ noun a root vegetable which is used for making sugar sugarcane /'sʊgəkeɪn/ noun a tall plant whose thick stems contain a sweet liquid substance from which sugar is made, grown in many tropical areas sugary /'sʊgəri/ adj 1. very sweet, containing a lot of sugar ○ Don't serve sugary drinks to children. 2. very sentimental ○ The film is a sugary story of adolescent love.

① suggest /sə'dʒest/ verb to mention an idea to see what other people think of it ○ The chairman suggested that the next meeting should be held in October. ○ Might I suggest a visit to the museum this afternoon? ○ What does he suggest we do in this case?

① suggestion /sə'dʒestʃən/ noun an idea that you mention for people to think about ○ We have asked for suggestions from passengers. ○ The company acted upon your suggestion. ○ Whose suggestion was it that we should go out in a boat? ○ I bought those shares at the stockbroker's suggestion.

suggestive /sə'dʒestɪv/ adj 1. □ suggestive of which suggests ○ The music is suggestive of a calm evening in the country. 2. which suggests sex ○ He sang some very suggestive songs.

suicidal /su:ɪ'l said(ə)l/ adj 1. wanting to kill yourself ○ He has suicidal tendencies. ○ After her son's death she became suicidal. 2.

very dangerous ○ He had a suicidal habit of driving at high speed along little country roads.

suicide /su:isaid/ noun 1. the act of killing yourself ○ Whether her death was murder or suicide is not yet known. □ to commit suicide to kill yourself ○ He killed his two children and then committed suicide. □ attempted suicide, suicide attempt an act of trying to kill yourself, but not succeeding ○ She is still in hospital after her suicide attempt. 2. a person who has killed himself suicide note /su:isaid nəʊt/ noun a letter left by someone who has committed suicide

② suit /su:t/ noun 1. a set of pieces of clothing made of the same cloth and worn together, such as a jacket and trousers or skirt ○ A dark grey suit will be just right for the interview. ○ The pale blue suit she was wearing was very chic. 2. one of the four sets of cards with the same symbol in a pack of cards ○ Clubs and spades are the two black suits and hearts and diamonds are the two red suits. 3. □ to follow suit to do what everyone else does ○ She jumped into the pool and everyone else followed suit. 4. a lawsuit, legal action or claim ■ verb 1. to look good when worn by someone ○ Green usually suits people with red hair. ○ That hat doesn't suit her. 2. to be convenient ○ He'll only do it when it suits him to do it. ○ Thursday at 11 o'clock will suit me fine. □ suit yourself do what you want suitability /su:tə'biliti/ noun the degree to which someone or something is suitable

② suitable /su:təb(ə)l/ adj which fits or which is convenient ○ I'm looking for a suitable present. ○ We advertised the job again because there were no suitable candidates. ○ A blue dress would be more suitable for an interview. Synonym appropriate. Antonym unsuitable suitably /su:təbli/ adv in a convenient or fitting way

③ suitcase /su:tkeɪs/ noun a box with a handle which you carry your clothes in when you are travelling □ to live out of a suitcase to travel so frequently that you do not spend much time at home (informal) suite /swi:t/ noun 1. a set of rooms, especially expensive rooms ○ Their offices are in a suite of rooms on the eleventh floor. ○ They booked a suite at the Savoy Hotel. □ VIP suite a suite at an airport or in a hotel which is intended for very rich or famous people 2. a set of pieces of furniture 3. several short pieces of music played together as one item ○ the 'Planets Suite' by Gustav Holst (NOTE: Do not confuse with sweet.) suited /su:tɪd/ adj suitable suitor /'su:tə/ noun a person who wants to marry a girl (old)

sulk /salk/ noun □ a sulk, the sulks a period when you behave in a way which shows you are annoyed, often by refusing to speak to anyone ○ She had a fit of the sulks and refused to talk to anyone. ○ I don't mind if she goes into a sulk, but she has to learn to do as she's told. ■ verb to show you are annoyed by not saying anything ○ They're sulking because we didn't invite them.

sulky /'salki/ adj showing that you are annoyed (NOTE: sulkier – sulkiest) sullen /'sʌlən/ adj silent and sulky sulphur /'sʌlfə/ noun a non-metallic element, which is usually found in the form of yellow powder, and smells of rotten eggs (NOTE: The US or technical spelling is sulfur.)

sulphur dioxide /,sʌlfə daɪ'ɒksaɪd/ noun a colourless gas which has a strong unpleasant smell and causes serious air pollution (NOTE: The US or technical spelling is sulfur dioxide.)

sulphurous /'sʌlfərəs/ adj full of or containing sulphur (NOTE: The US or technical spelling is sulfurous.)

sultan /'sʌltən/ noun a Muslim prince sultana /'sʌltə:nə/ noun a type of pale seedless raisin sultry /'sʌlt्रi/ adj 1. (of weather) hot and making you feel uncomfortably sticky ○ A massive thunderstorm brought the sultry weather to an end. 2. attractive in a dark and passionate way ○ Her sultry good looks attracted the eye of her boss. (NOTE: sultrier – sultriest)

② sum /sʌm/ noun 1. a quantity of money ○ He only paid a small sum for the car. ○ A large sum of money was stolen from his safe. ○ We are owed the sum of £500. 2. a simple problem in arithmetic ○ She tried to do the sum in her head. 3. the total of two or more numbers added together ○ The sum of all four sides will give you the perimeter of the field.

summarily /'sʌmərili/ adv immediately and without discussion or attention to the usual way of doing things

③ summarise /'sʌməraɪz/, summarize verb to make a short account of what has happened or what has been said. Synonym précis

② summary /'sʌməri/ noun a short description of what has been said or written, or of what happened, without giving all the details ○ She gave a summary of what happened at the meeting. ○ Here's a summary of the book in case you don't have time to read it. ○ It is 7.30 and here is a summary of the news. Synonym précis (NOTE: The plural is summaries.) ■ adj which happens immediately ○ He was given a summary trial. (NOTE: Do not confuse with summary.)

① summer /'sʌmə/ noun the hottest time of the year, the season between spring and autumn ○ Next summer we are going to Greece. ○ The summer in Australia coincides with our winter here in England. ○ I haven't any summer clothes – it's never hot enough here.

summer camp /'sʌmə kæmp/ noun a place where children go for a holiday without their parents in the summer, usually in the country summer holiday /,sʌmə 'holɪdeɪ/ noun a holiday which you have in the summer (NOTE: The US term is summer vacation.)

summerhouse /'sʌməhaʊs/ noun a small building in a garden, where people can sit when it is warm summer school /'sʌmə sku:l/ noun classes held at a school, college or university during the summer holiday summer solstice /,sʌmə 'splstɪs/ noun 21st June, the longest day in the northern hemisphere, when the sun is at its furthest point south of the equator summertime /'sʌmətaɪm/ noun the time of year when it is summer

Summer Time /'sʌmə taɪm/ noun a system where the clocks are set forward one hour in March to take advantage of the longer period of daylight summery /'sʌməri/ adj like the summer, which is suitable for the summer (NOTE: Do not confuse with summary.)

summing-up /,sʌmɪŋ 'ʌp/ noun a speech by the judge at the end of a trial, where he goes over all the evidence and arguments, and points out important points of law to the jury

③ summit /'sʌmit/ noun 1. the top of a mountain ○ It took us three hour's hard climbing to reach the summit. 2. same as summit meeting

summit meeting /,sʌmit 'mi:tɪŋ/, summit conference /,sʌmit 'kɒnf(ə)rəns/ noun a meeting where heads of state discuss international issues summon /'sʌmən/ verb 1. to tell people to come to a meeting (formal) ○ The president summoned a meeting of the supreme council. ○ She was summoned to appear before the committee. 2. □ to summon up courage to force yourself to be brave enough to do something ○ He summoned up enough courage to do his first solo flight. □ to summon up strength to manage to have enough strength to do something ○ He summoned up all his strength and climbed the last few metres to the top.

summons /'sʌmənz/ noun 1. an official order to go to see someone ○ He received a summons to see the president. 2. an official order or document telling someone to appear in court to be tried for a criminal offence or to defend a civil action ○ He threw away the summons and went on holiday to Spain. □ to serve a summons on someone to give someone a summons officially ■ verb to order someone to appear in court ○ He was summonsed as a witness at the magistrates' court.

sumo /'su:məʊ/ noun a Japanese style of wrestling, where two very large wrestlers try to throw each other out of a ring sumptuous /'sʌmptʃuəs/ adj very expensive or impressive. Synonym costly sum total /sʌm 'tət(ə)l/ noun the total amount of something which may not be as much as you want. Synonym whole sum up /,sʌm 'ʌp/ verb 1. to make a summary of what has been said ○ I'd just like to sum up what has been said so far. ○ Can you sum up the most important points in the speech for me? 2. (of a judge) to speak at the end of a trial and go over all the evidence and arguments for the benefit of the jury ○ I was surprised the judge did not mention that when he summed up. (NOTE: summing – summed)

① sun /sʌn/ noun 1. a very bright star round which the earth travels and which gives light and heat ○ The sun was just rising when I got up. ○ I'll try taking a photograph now that the sun's come out. ○ Don't stare at the eclipse of the sun, even with sunglasses. 2. the light from the sun ○ I'd prefer a table out of the sun. ○ We're sitting in the shade because the sun's too hot. ○ She spent her whole holiday just sitting in the sun. □ everything under the sun everything possible ○ We talked about everything under the sun. ■ verb □ to sun yourself to sit in the sun and get warm ○ The cat was sunning herself on the window sill.

sunbathe /'sʌnbɛθ/ verb to lie in the sun to get your skin brown sunbather /'sʌnbɛθə/ noun a person who lies in the sun sunbathing /'sʌnbɛθɪŋ/ noun the practice of lying in the sun to get your skin brown sunbed /'sʌn,bed/ noun 1. a piece of equipment which you use to make your skin look brown by means of ultraviolet light 2. same as sunlounger sunburn /'sʌnbɜ:n/ noun damage to the skin caused by being in the sun for too long sunburnt /'sʌnbɜ:nt/ adj (of the skin) damaged or made red by the sun suncream /'sʌnkrɪ:m/ noun a cream which you put on your skin to prevent it being sunburnt sundae /'sændə/ noun a sweet dish of ice cream, cream, fruit and nuts and a sweet sauce

① Sunday /'sændə/ noun the seventh day of the week, the day between Saturday and Monday ○ Last Sunday we went on a picnic. ○ Most shops are now open on Sundays. ○ Can we fix a lunch for next Sunday? ○ The 15th is a Saturday, so the 16th must be a Sunday. ○ Today is Sunday, November 19th. □ in your Sunday best wearing your best clothes ○ All the children came in their Sunday best.

Sunday school /'sændə sku:l/ noun classes held on a Sunday, where children are taught about the Christian religion sundial /'sændəəl/ noun a type of outdoor clock with a central piece whose shadow points to the time when the sun shines on it sundown /'sændəən/ noun the time when the sun goes down in the evening. Synonym sunset. Antonym sunrise sun-dried /'sændraɪd/ adj which has been dried in the sun to preserve it sundries /'sændrɪz/ plural noun small articles or small objects not listed in detail sundry /'sændri/ adj various ○ The tourists made sundry purchases in the market. □ sundry items a lot of different small objects. Synonym various ■ noun □ all and sundry everyone ○ He told all and sundry about his operation.

sunflower /'sænflaʊə/ noun a very large yellow flower on a very tall stem sung /sæŋ/ □ sing

③ sunglasses /'sæŋglə:sɪz/ plural noun dark glasses worn to protect your eyes from the sun ○ I always wear sunglasses when I'm driving.

sunhat /'sænhat/ noun a hat worn to protect your head from the sun sunk /sæŋk/ □ sink

sunken /'sæŋkən/ adj 1. which is under the surface of water ○ The boat must have hit a sunken log. ○ The channel is blocked by sunken wrecks. 2. lower than the area around ○ a sunken garden

sunlamp /'sænlæmp/ noun a type of light which gives off ultraviolet rays like those of the sun, used to make your skin brown sunlight /'sænlait/ noun the light which comes from the sun (NOTE: no plural) sunlit /'sænlɪt/ adj bright with the light of the sun

Sunni /'səni/ noun 1. one of the main branches of Islam 2. a member of the Sunni branch of Islam sunny /'səni/ adj 1. with the sun shining ○ Another sunny day! ○ They forecast that it will be sunny this afternoon. 2. where the sun often shines ○ We live on the sunny side of the street. ○ Their sitting room is bright and sunny, but the dining room is dark. 3. □ sunny side up US (of an egg) cooked in hot fat on one side only without being turned over, so you can see the yolk (informal) sunrise /'sənraɪz/ noun the time when the sun comes up in the morning. Synonym dawn. Antonym sunset sunroof /'sənru:f/ noun a part of the roof of a car which opens to let in light and air sunscreen /'sənskrɪ:n/ noun a cream which you put on your skin to prevent sunburn sunset /'sənset/ noun the time when the sun goes down in the evening. Synonym sundown. Antonym sunrise sunshade /'sənseɪd/ noun a light umbrella to protect you from the sun. Synonym parasol sunshine /'sənfain/ noun a pleasant light from the sun (NOTE: no plural) sunstroke /'sənstrəʊk/ noun a serious medical condition caused by spending too much time in hot sun suntan /'səntæn/ noun the brown colour of skin caused by sunlight suntanned /'səntænd/ adj brown from having been exposed to the sun sun visor /'sən ,vaɪzə/ noun a little screen which folds down in front of a car driver, to keep the sun out of his eyes sun worshipper /'sən ,wɜ:pɪpə/ noun a person who loves sunbathing super /'su:pə/ adj very good (dated) superb /su:pɜ:b/ adj extremely good. Synonym excellent. Antonym abysmal superbly /su:pɜ:bli/ adv in a superb way supercharger /'su:pətʃə:dʒə/ noun an apparatus on a car engine for increasing the power supercilious /,su:pə'siliəs/ adj looking down on other people, considering other people as not good enough. Synonym arrogant supercomputer /,su:pəkəm'pjʊ:tə/ noun a high-speed computer

③ superficial /,su:pə'fɪʃ(ə)l/ adj 1. which affects only the top surface ○ The damage was only superficial. ○ She suffered a few superficial grazes but nothing serious. 2. dealing only with the most obvious and simple matters ○ I can't answer your question because I only have a very superficial knowledge of the subject. 3. not serious ○ He's very superficial, you can't have a serious conversation with him.

superficially /,su:pə'fɪʃ(ə)li/ adv in a superficial way superfluous /su:pɜ:fluəs/ adj which is more than is needed; not necessary, not needed. Synonym extra. Antonym basic □ superfluous hair hair which is growing in places where it is not thought to be beautiful ○ You can get a cream for removing superfluous hair.

superhuman /su:pə'hju:mən/ adj beyond what humans are usually able to do, or having unusually great abilities superimpose /su:pərɪm'pəʊz/ verb 1. to place on top of something else ○ They tried to superimpose a new level of management on top of the old one. 2. to lay one picture over another so that they are both visible; to print one thing on top of another ○ If you superimpose one picture on the other you get the impression of a ghost in the room.

superintend /su:pərɪn'tend/ verb to be in charge of work, to watch carefully, to see that work is well done. Synonym supervise superintendent /su:pərɪn'tendənt/ noun a person who is responsible for work, or for a place ○ Go and see the building superintendent if a pipe is leaking.

superior /su:pɪəriər/ adj 1. of very high quality ○ He gave her a very superior box of chocolates. Antonym inferior □ superior to better than ○ Our products are vastly superior to theirs. ○ Their distribution service is much superior to ours. 2. in a higher rank ○ Soldiers should always salute superior officers. □ superior to someone of a higher rank than someone ○ She is superior to him in the office hierarchy. 3. thinking you are better than other people ○ He gives himself such superior airs. ■ noun a person in a higher rank ○ Each manager is responsible to his superior.

superiority /su:pɪəri'brɪti/ noun being more important, more intelligent, better than someone else ○ The superiority of the Brazilians in the World Cup was obvious. ○ He gives the impression of effortless superiority.

superlative /su:pə'lətɪv/ adj extremely good ○ He's a superlative goalkeeper. Synonym excellent ■ noun the form of an adjective or adverb showing the highest level when compared with another ○ 'Biggest' is the superlative of 'big.' ○ Put a few superlatives in the ad to emphasise the superiority of the product.

COMMENT: Superlatives are usually formed by adding the suffix -est to the adjective: 'quickest' from 'quick', for example. In the case of long adjectives, they are formed by putting 'most' in front of the adjective: 'most comfortable', 'most expensive', and so on. Some superlatives are irregular, such as 'worst' and 'best'. You can also form superlatives by adding phrases like 'as possible' (as big as possible).

superman /su:pəmæn/ noun a man who has superhuman strength, power or ability (NOTE: The plural is supermen.)

supermarket /'su:pəmɑ:kɪt/ noun a large store selling mainly food and household goods, where customers serve themselves and pay at a checkout ○ We've got no tea left, can you buy some from the supermarket? ○ We do all our shopping in the local supermarket.

supermodel /'su:pəmɒd(ə)l/ noun a famous fashion model who earns a lot of money supernatural /,su:pə'nætʃ(ə)rəl/ adj which cannot be explained by the laws of nature ○ He believes in supernatural occurrences like ghosts. ■ noun □ the supernatural things which happen which cannot be explained by the laws of nature ○ You can't dismiss the supernatural completely.

superpower /'su:pəpaʊər/ noun an extremely powerful country with great economic strength and large armed forces supersede /,su:pə'si:d/ verb to take the place of something which has become old and no longer useful. Antonym precede supersonic /,su:pə'sɔnɪk/ adj going faster than the speed of sound superstar /'su:pəstɑ:/ noun an extremely famous film actor or other performer superstition /,su:pə'stɪʃ(ə)n/ noun a belief in magic and that some things are lucky and others unlucky superstitious /,su:pə'stɪʃəs/ adj believing in magic and the supernatural. Antonym rational superstore /'su:pəstɔ:/ noun a very large self-service store selling a wide range of goods or selling a variety of things of the same type

③ supervise /'su:pəvaɪz/ verb to watch carefully, to see that work is well done. Synonym oversee

② supervision /,su:pə'veɪʒ(ə)n/ noun the act of supervising

③ supervisor /'su:pəvaɪzər/ noun a person who supervises someone's work or a university teacher who supervises a student's thesis supervisory /'su:pəvaɪzərɪ/ adj in charge of other people's work or activities □ in a supervisory capacity or role as a supervisor supper /'sə:pə/ noun the meal which you eat in the evening □ to have supper to eat an evening meal ○ We'll have supper on the terrace. ○ We usually have supper at about 7 o'clock. ○ Come and have some supper with us tomorrow evening. ♦ See note at dinner supplant /sə'plænt/ verb to take the place of someone or something. Synonym oust supple /'sæp(ə)l/ adj who or which bends easily supplement noun /'sæplɪmənt/ 1. a thing which is in addition, especially an additional amount ○ The company gives him £200 per month as a supplement to his pension. ○ You need to take a vitamin supplement every morning. ○ Look in the supplement at the back of the book. 2. a magazine which is part of a newspaper ○ I read his article in the Sunday supplement. 3. an additional section at the back of a book ○ Look in the supplement at the back of the book. ■ verb /'sʌplɪmənt/ to add to ○ We will supplement the ordinary staff with six part-timers during the Christmas rush. Antonym deduct supplementary /,səplɪ'm(ə)ri/ adj in addition to what is already there. Synonym extra supplier /sə'plaɪə/ noun a person, company or country that supplies something. Antonym consumer supplies /sə'plaɪz/ plural noun things such as food and equipment which are needed for a particular activity ○ medical supplies

① supply /sə'plaɪ/ noun 1. a store of something which is needed ○ We have two weeks' supply of coal. □ in short supply not available in large enough quantities to meet people's needs ○ Fresh vegetables are in short supply during the winter. □ the law of supply and demand general rule that the amount of something which is available is connected to the amount wanted by people who are likely to buy it 2. something which is needed, such as goods, products or services ○ The electricity supply has failed again. ○ They signed a contract for the supply of computer equipment. ○ Rebel forces have cut off the town's water supply. ■ verb to provide something which is needed ○ Details of addresses and phone numbers can be supplied by the store staff. ○ He was asked to supply a blood sample. ○ She was asked to supply the names of two referees. ○ They have signed a contract to supply online information. □ to supply someone with something or supply something to someone to provide someone with what they need ○ The local farm supplies the college with milk and cheese. ○ He supplies cheese to the hotel.

① support /sə'pɔ:t/ noun 1. an object or structure which stops something from falling ○ They had to build wooden supports to hold up the wall. 2. something which helps keep something else in place ○ The bandage provides some support for the knee. 3. an act of encouraging and helping someone, or of agreeing with their plans ○ The chairman has the support of the committee. ○ She spoke in support of our plan. 4. help in the form of money ○ We have had no financial support from the bank. ■ verb 1. to hold something up to stop it falling down ○ The roof is supported on ten huge pillars. 2. to provide money to help someone or something ○ We hope the banks will support us during the expansion period. 3. to encourage someone or something ○ Which football team do you support? ○ She hopes the other members of the committee will support her. 4. to accept something ○ The public will not support another price increase. 5. to keep a computer system or program working ○ The main computer system supports six workstations.

② supporter /sə'pɔ:tə/ noun a person who encourages someone or something ○ It sounds a good idea to me – I'm surprised it hasn't attracted more supporters. Synonym follower. Antonym detractor support group /sə'pɔ:t gru:p/ noun a group of people who meet to discuss their problems and help one another supporting /sə'pɔ:tɪŋ/ adj having a small part in a film, play, or programme as opposed to being the main star supportive /sə'pɔ:tɪv/ adj who supports, helps or encourages. Synonym helpful. Antonym unhelpful

① suppose /sə'pəʊz/ verb 1. to think something is likely to be true or to happen ○ Where is the secretary? – I suppose she's going to be late as usual. ○ I suppose you've heard the news? ○ What do you suppose they're talking about? ○ Will you be coming to the meeting this evening? – I suppose I'll have to. ○ I don't suppose many people will come. 2. (showing doubt) what happens if? ○ Suppose it rains tomorrow, do you still want to go for a walk? ○ He's very late – suppose he's had an accident? ○ Suppose I win the lottery! □ I suppose so used to give a doubtful 'yes' ○ Please can I go to the party? – Oh, I suppose so. □ supposed to be 1. should, ought to ○ The children were supposed to be in bed. ○ How I am supposed to know where he is? 2. believed to be ○ He's supposed to be a good dentist. ○ The film is supposed to be awful.

supposed /sə'pəʊzd/ adj accepted as true but not definitely true supposedly /sə'pəʊzɪdli/ adv as we suppose. Synonym allegedly. Antonym actually supposing /sə'pəʊzɪŋ/ conj what happens if?

supposition /,səpə'zɪʃ(ə)n/ noun something which is thought to be true or correct, but cannot be proved suppress /sə'pres/ verb 1. to limit something such as a person's freedom ○ The rebellion was ruthlessly suppressed and its leaders executed. 2. to stop something being made public ○ All opposition newspapers have been suppressed. ○ They tried to suppress the evidence but it had already got into the newspapers. 3. to stop yourself showing what you really feel ○ She suppressed her feeling of annoyance and tried to look happy.

 ○ He couldn't suppress a smile.

suppression /sə'preʃ(ə)n/ noun the act of suppressing supremacy /su'preməsē/ noun the position of being the strongest power supreme /su'pri:m/ adj greatest, in the highest position ○ Her dog was supreme champion. ○ It meant one last supreme effort, but they did it.

Supreme Court /su'pri:m kɔ:t/ noun the highest court in a country supremely /su'pri:mlē/ adv to the greatest degree. Synonym extremely supremo /su'pri:məu/ noun a person in charge of a very large organisation (informal) surcharge /sɜ:tʃə:dʒ/ noun an extra charge on goods ○ There is a 10% surcharge on goods that are delivered. ■ verb to charge an extra amount ○ We have been surcharged because of a fall in the exchange rate.

① sure /ʃʊər/ adj 1. certain, without any doubt ○ Is he sure he can borrow his mother's car? ○ I'm sure I left my wallet in my coat pocket. ○ It's sure to be cold in Russia in December. ○ Make sure or be sure that your computer is switched off before you leave. 2. which is definitely true or will definitely happen ○ It's a sure remedy for hayfever. 3. ○ sure of yourself confident that what you do is right ○ He's only just starting in business, so he's still not very sure of himself. ■ adv 1. mainly US meaning yes ○ Can I borrow your car? – sure, go ahead! ○ I need someone to help with this computer program – sure, I can do it. 2. US as emphasis ○ He sure was mad when he saw what they'd done to his car. 3. ○ for sure certainly ○ They said the book would arrive on Thursday for sure. ○ I don't know which day it came for sure. ○ (and) that's for sure used for emphasising a statement ○ She'll never agree to come, and that's for sure.

sure-footed /ʃʊ:t'fʊtd/ adj 1. unlikely to trip or fall 2. confident and not likely to make mistakes

① surely /ʃʊərlē/ adv 1. of course, certainly (used mostly in questions where a certain answer is expected) ○ Surely they can't expect us to work on Sundays? ○ But surely their office is in London, not Oxford? ○ They'll surely complain about the amount of work they have to do. 2. carefully surety /ʃʊərətē/ noun 1. a person who takes the responsibility that someone will do something 2. money paid as a guarantee that someone will appear in court surf /sɜ:f/ noun a mass of white foam coming onto a beach on large waves ○ The surf is too rough for children to bathe. (NOTE: Do not confuse with serf.) ■ verb 1. to ride on large waves coming onto a beach on a surf-board ○ I'd like to be able to surf. ○ It's too dangerous to go surfing today. 2. ○ to surf the Internet, to surf the Net to spend time looking at a lot of websites, looking at the pages in no particular order

① surface /'sɜ:fɪs/ noun 1. the top part of something ○ When it rains, water collects on the surface of the road. ○ The surface of the water was completely still. ○ He stayed a long time under water before coming back to the surface. ○ Dinosaurs disappeared from the surface of the earth millions of years ago. Antonym inside 2. the way someone or something appears to be ○ He seemed calm but under the surface he was furious. ■ verb 1. to come up to the surface ○ The captain gave orders for the submarine to surface. 2. to cover the surface of something such as a road or floor with hard material ○ We've had the drive surfaced with asphalt. ○ The kitchen floor is supposed to be surfaced with non-slip material. 3. to appear openly ○ His fear of failure has surfaced again. 4. to wake up (informal) ○ If you haven't surfaced by 8.30, I'll come and wake you up.

surface mail /'sɜ:fɪs meɪl/ noun post which is sent by road, rail or sea and not by air. Compare airmail surfboard /'sɜ:fbo:d/ noun a long board made especially for standing on to ride on top of large waves coming onto a beach surfeit /'sɜ:fit/ noun too much. Synonym excess. Antonym deficit surfer /'sɜ:fə/ noun a person who surfs surfing /'sɜ:fɪŋ/ noun 1. to ride waves on a surfboard as a sport or for fun 2. to keep switching from channel to channel on a television or from site to site on the Internet in no particular order surge /sɜ:dʒ/ noun 1. a sudden increase in the quantity of something ○ The fine weather has brought a surge of interest in camping. ○ The TV commercials generated a surge of orders. 2. a sudden rising up of water ○ The surge of the sea between the rocks. 3. a sudden increase in electrical power ○ Power surges can burn out computer systems. 4. a sudden strong feeling of an emotion ○ He felt a sudden surge of anger at the thought of having been cheated. ■ verb 1. to rise suddenly ○ The waves surged up onto the rocks. 2. to move in a mass ○ The crowd surged (forward) onto the football pitch. ○ The fans surged around the pop star's car.

surgeon /'sɜ:dʒən/ noun a doctor who is an expert in performing medical operations

surger /'sɜ:dʒər/ noun 1. a treatment of disease which requires an operation to cut into or remove part of the body ○ She had surgery to straighten her nose. ○ The patient will need surgery to remove the scars left by the accident. (NOTE: no plural in this meaning) 2. a room where a doctor or dentist sees and examines patients ○ I phoned the doctor's surgery to make an appointment. (NOTE: The US term is doctor's office.) 3. a time when an MP receives visitors who ask him or her to solve their problems ○ Instead of writing to your MP why don't you go to one of her surgeries? (NOTE: The plural is surgeries.)

surgical /sɜːdʒɪk(ə)l/ adj referring to surgery surly /sɜːli/ adj extremely unfriendly. Synonym gruff. Antonym friendly (NOTE: surlier – suriest) surmise /sə'maɪz/ verb to make a guess about something surmount /sə'maʊnt/ verb 1. to overcome an obstacle ○ It took us some time to surmount the obstacles in our path. 2. to be on top of ○ The summit is surmounted by an observatory.

③ surname /sɜː'nneɪm/ noun the name of someone's family, shared by all people in the family. Compare first name surpass /sə'pɑːs/ verb to do better than. Synonym exceed surplus /sɜːpləs/ adj more than enough ○ Surplus butter is on sale in the shops. ○ We are holding a sale of surplus stock. Synonym extra. Antonym essential □ surplus to requirements more than is needed ○ These copper pipes are surplus to our requirements. ■ noun more goods than are needed ○ a surplus of graduates. Synonym excess. Antonym shortfall (NOTE: The plural is surpluses.)

② surprise /sə'praɪz/ noun 1. the feeling when something happens which you did not expect to happen ○ To his great surprise, a lot of people bought his book. ○ He expressed surprise when I told him I'd lost my job. ○ What a surprise to find that we were at school together! □ to take someone by surprise to shock someone by saying or doing something which they did not expect ○ Her question took him by surprise and he didn't know how to answer. 2. an unexpected event ○ They baked a cake for her birthday as a surprise. ○ What a surprise to see you again after so long! ■ adj which is unexpected ○ a surprise fall in the value of the dollar ○ They gave a surprise party for the retiring college principal. ■ verb 1. to make someone surprised ○ It wouldn't surprise me if it rained. ○ What surprises me is that she left without saying goodbye. 2. to find someone unexpectedly ○ She surprised the two boys smoking in the yard.

② surprised /sə'praɪzd/ adj feeling or showing surprise ○ She was surprised to see her former boyfriend at the party. ○ We were surprised to hear that he's got a good job. Synonym astonished ③ surprising /sə'praɪzɪŋ/ adj which you do not expect ○ There was a surprising end to the story. ○ Wasn't it surprising to see the two sisters together again? ○ It's hardly surprising she doesn't want to meet you again after what you said. Synonym astonishing. Antonym expected surprisingly /sə'praɪzɪŋli/ adv in a way which surprises surreal /sə'riəl/ adj extremely unusual, as if in a dream surrealism /sə'riəlɪz(ə)m/ noun a movement in art in the 1920s where artists tried to show real things in an unusual way, as if existing in dreams surrealist /sə'riəlist/ adj following the principles of surrealism ○ The surrealist movement was important in the 1920s. ■ noun an artist following the principles of surrealism ○ Dali and other surrealists surrender /sə'rendər/ noun 1. giving in to an enemy because you have lost ○ the surrender of the enemy generals 2. the giving up of an official document such as a ticket or insurance policy before the period it covers has come to an end or because someone in authority asks for it ■ verb 1. to give in to an enemy because you have lost ○ Our troops were surrounded by the enemy and were forced to surrender. 2. to give up an official document such as a ticket or insurance policy to someone in authority before the period it covers has come to an end or because someone in authority asks for it ○ He was asked to surrender his passport to the police.

surreptitious /sə'rep'tɪʃəs/ adj secret. Synonym furtive surreptitiously /sə'rep'tɪʃəslɪ/ adv secretly. Synonym furtively surrogate /sə'rægət/ noun a person who acts in place of someone or a thing that takes the place of something else. Synonym substitute surrogate mother /sə'rægət 'mʌðə/ noun a woman who becomes pregnant and has a baby for a woman who is not able to do this herself, ② surround /sə'raʊnd/ verb to be all round someone or something ○ The Minister has surrounded himself with a group of yes-men. ○ Floodwater has surrounded the village.

surrounded /sə'raʊndɪd/ adj with something all around surrounding /sə'raʊndɪŋ/ adj which is all round a place

③ surroundings /sə'raʊndɪŋz/ plural noun the area around a person or place ○ The surroundings of the hotel are very peaceful.

○ She found herself in very unpleasant surroundings. Synonym environs surveillance /sə'veiləns/ noun a careful watch over someone or something surveillance camera /sə'veiləns, kæm(ə)rə/ noun a camera, often fixed to the side of a building, which automatically takes photographs of what happens in the area, especially used to see if a crime has been committed

③ survey noun 1. a general report on a subject; a way of finding out about something by asking people questions 2. the careful examination of a building to see if it is in good enough condition 3. the accurate measurement of land, so as to produce a plan or map

■ verb 1. to ask people questions to get information about something ○ Roughly half the people we surveyed were in favour of the scheme. ○ They're surveying the site. 2. to look at something so that you see all of it ○ He surveyed the crowd in the square. 3. to measure land in order to produce a plan or map ○ They're surveying the area where the new runway will be built. 4. to look at something so that you see all of it ○ He stood on the balcony surveying the crowd in the square.

surveying /sə'veiŋ/ noun the job or practice of taking accurate measurements of things such as land heights, distances, roads or buildings in order to produce accurate plans or maps surveyor /sə'veɪə/ noun 1. a person who examines buildings to see if they are in good condition 2. a person who surveys land

③ survival /sə'veɪv(ə)l/ noun the state of continuing to exist ○ The survival of the crew depended on the supplies carried in the life-boat. ○ The survival rate of newborn babies has started to fall. Antonym death □ the survival of the fittest the principle that only the strongest or most suitable animals or plants are likely to survive long enough to be able to produce new young animals or plants

② survive /sə'veɪv/ verb 1. to continue to be alive after an experience such as accident, attack or serious illness ○ It was such a terrible crash, it was miracle that anyone survived. ○ The President has survived two assassination attempts this year. ○ He survived a massive heart attack. ○ Not all the litter of piglets survived more than a few days. 2. to continue to exist ○ It is one of the three surviving examples of his work. 3. to live longer than someone else ○ He survived his wife by ten years. ○ He is survived by his only son.

surviving /sə'veɪvɪŋ/ adj remaining alive or continuing to exist after others have died or no longer exist ○ She had no surviving relatives.

survivor /sə'veɪvə/ noun a person who is still alive after an experience such as an accident, attack or serious illness susceptibilities /sə,septɪ'bilitɪz/ plural noun feelings which may be hurt susceptibility /sə,septɪ'bilitɪ/ noun the fact of being susceptible to something ○ Her susceptibility to infection means that she cannot go to any place where there are crowds.

susceptible /sə'spektɪb(ə)l/ adj 1. likely to catch a disease ○ She is susceptible to colds and throat infections. 2. easily influenced ○ He's very susceptible to pretty women. 3. able to be dealt with in a particular way □ susceptible of proof which can be proved (formal) sushi /su:fi/ noun small cakes of rice mixed with fish or vegetables and wrapped in seaweed

② suspect adj /'saspekt/ 1. which is not reliable ○ The figures for exports look a bit suspect to me. Synonym suspicious. Antonym trustworthy 2. which might be dangerous. Synonym suspicious □ suspect package a parcel which might contain a bomb ■ noun /'saspekt/ a person who is thought to have committed a crime ○ The police arrested several suspects for questioning. ■ verb /sə'spekt/ 1. □ to suspect someone of doing something to think that someone may have done something wrong ○ I suspect him of being involved in the robbery. ○ They were wrongly suspected of taking bribes. 2. to think that something is likely ○ I suspect it's going to be more difficult than we thought at first. ○ We suspected all along that something was wrong.

suspected /sə'spektɪd/ adj which is thought to be

suspend /sə'pend/ verb 1. to hang something ○ The ham is suspended over a smoky fire for some time, which gives it a particular taste. 2. to stop something for a time ○ Work on the construction project has been suspended. ○ Sailings have been suspended until the weather gets better. 3. to stop someone from doing something such as working ○ He has been suspended on full pay while investigations are continuing.

suspender /sə'spendə/ noun a narrow band of material that can stretch, which you use for holding up stockings suspender belt /sə'spendər belt/ noun a piece of underwear in the form of a belt with long, narrow bands attached to it, used for holding up a woman's stockings suspenders /sə'spendəz/ plural noun US long narrow bands of material which go over your shoulders to hold up your trousers ○ He wore bright red suspenders with his jeans. (NOTE: The British term is braces.)

suspense /sə'spens/ noun nervous excitement experienced while waiting for something to happen or for someone to do something suspension /sə'spenshən/ noun 1. a system of springs which supports a car and helps it to move smoothly ○ Hydraulic suspension gives you a very smooth ride. 2. the action of hanging from something 3. the action of stopping something for a time ○ suspension of payments by the bank ○ There has been a temporary suspension of deliveries.

suspension bridge /sə'spenshən brɪdʒ/ noun a bridge which hangs from strong ropes, chains or wires attached to tall towers ③ suspicion /sə'spɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. a feeling that something is wrong, or that someone has committed a crime ○ His actions immediately aroused suspicion on the part of the police. ○ The bank regards his business deals with considerable suspicion. ○ They were arrested on suspicion of exporting stolen goods. □ under suspicion being suspected of a crime ○ Several government ministers are under suspicion after the publication of the diaries. 2. a general feeling that something is going to happen ○ I have a suspicion that he's coming to see me because he wants to borrow some money. ○ Her suspicions proved to be correct when she saw the wedding announced in the paper.

③ suspicious /sə'spɪʃəs/ adj 1. which seems to be wrong, dangerous or connected with a crime ○ The police found a suspicious package on the station platform. ○ We became suspicious when we realised we hadn't seen him for three days. 2. □ suspicious of not trusting ○ I'm suspicious of people who tell me they know a way of getting rich quickly.

suspiciously /sə'spɪʃəslɪ/ adv 1. in a suspicious way ○ He was behaving very suspiciously and the bank staff called the police. 2. as if you suspect something is wrong ○ She glanced suspiciously at the waiter.

suss /sʌs/ verb to discover or understand something such as somebody's reason for doing something, a situation or the correct way to use something (informal) suss out /,sʌs 'aʊt/ verb to discover something (informal)

③ sustain /sə'steɪn/ verb 1. to make something continue ○ How long can this level of activity be sustained? 2. to receive an injury (formal) ○ He sustained severe head injuries. 3. to give you strength ○ You need a good breakfast to sustain you through the day. 4. to support something ○ Will the roof sustain the weight of the snow?

sustainable /sə'steɪnəb(ə)l/ adj which does not damage natural resources and which leaves the environment in good condition sustained /sə'steɪnd/ adj which continues for a long time. Antonym temporary sustaining /sə'steɪnɪŋ/ adj 1. which will support something ○ a sustaining wall 2. which will feed you well and prevent you from feeling hungry ○ a bowl of sustaining soup sustenance /'səstənəns/ noun food. □ means of sustenance a way of keeping someone alive or of keeping strong ○ By the time they were found, their only means of sustenance was berries they found on bushes.

SW abbr south-west

swab /swæb/ noun 1. a thick piece of soft cloth, often attached to a small stick, used for cleaning a cut in your body or for taking samples of infection for analysis 2. a sample of infection taken for analysis ○ The swabs from his mouth were sent away to the laboratory. 3. a cloth for wiping floors clear of water ■ verb 1. to take a sample with a swab 2. to clean or apply something to a part of the body with a swab 3. to clean the floor with a swab ○ Sailors swabbed down the decks. (NOTE: swabbing – swabbed) swagger /'swægə/ noun a proud way of walking, where you swing your shoulders as you walk ○ The crowd of youths walked past with a swagger. ■ verb to walk in a proud way, swinging your shoulders ○ He swaggered into the office, showing off his new suntan. Synonym strut

Swahili /swa:'hi:li/ noun the Bantu language of the Swahili people

③ swallow /'swɒləʊ/ verb 1. to make food or liquid pass down your throat from your mouth to the stomach ○ He swallowed his beer and ran back to the office. ○ She swallowed hard and knocked on the door to the interview room. Synonym gulp 2. to accept something (informal) □ hard to swallow hard to accept ○ He finds being made redundant hard to swallow. ■ noun a common bird with pointed wings and tail, which flies fast ○ There are several swallows' nests under the eaves of the roof.

swallow up /,swɒləʊ 'ʌp/ verb to make something disappear inside swam /swæm/ □ swim

swamp /swɒmp/ noun an area of permanently wet land and the plants that grow in it ○ You can't build on that land – it's a swamp. Synonym wetland ■ verb 1. to cover something with water ○ The waves nearly swamped our little boat. 2. □ swamped with having so much, that it is impossible to deal with it all ○ The office was swamped with work. ○ The switchboard has been swamped with calls.

swan /swɒn/ noun a large white water bird with a long curved neck ○ There are swans on the Thames near Windsor.

swank /swæŋk/ (informal) noun 1. showing that you think a lot of yourself 2. a person who shows off verb to show that you think a lot of yourself swanky /'swæŋki/ adj having an expensive and impressive appearance (informal) swan off /'swən 'df/, swan around /'swən ə'raund/ verb to travel about in a lazy way, not doing any work (informal) ○ Instead of going to university he spent a year swanning around the Pacific islands.

swansong /'swənsoŋ/ noun a last performance or appearance

③ swap /swɒp/, swop /swɒp/ noun an exchange of one thing for another ○ I'll do a swap with you – one of my CDs for your T-shirt. verb to exchange something for something else ○ Can I swap my tickets for next Friday's show? ○ Let's swap places, so that I can talk to Susan. ○ After every game the players swapped jerseys with the other team. they swapped jobs each of them took the other's job swarm /swɔ:m/ noun a large group of insects flying around together ○ A swarm of flies buzzed around the meat. verb 1. to move about in various directions ○ Police were swarming all over the presidential palace. ○ Oxford Street was swarming with shoppers. 2. (of bees) to move as a large group, looking for a place to nest ○ It's the time of year when bees swarm.

swarthy /'swɔ:ði/ adj with a dark skin (NOTE: swarthier – swarthiest) swat /swɒt/ noun an object with a long handle and a flat part at the end for killing insects such as flies verb to hit and kill a fly (NOTE: swatting – swatted)

swathe /sweɪð/ noun 1. a long wide band of land, grass or trees ○ Great swathes of forest were destroyed in the fire. 2. to cut a swathe through something to destroy a lot of something ○ By working hard, they managed to cut a swathe through the outstanding work. ○ Cholera has cut a swathe through the refugee population. verb to wrap someone up ○ The baby was swathed in blankets. ○ She went to the rugby match swathed in jumpers and scarves.

sway /swεi/ verb 1. to move gracefully from side to side ○ The crowd swayed in time to the music. ○ The palm trees swayed in the breeze. 2. to have an influence on ○ The committee was swayed by a letter from the president. noun to hold sway over someone to hold power over someone ○ He held sway in Russia for several years.

swear /swεə/ verb 1. to make a serious public promise ○ He swore he wouldn't touch alcohol again. ○ The witnesses swore to tell the truth. to swear someone to secrecy to make someone swear not to tell a secret ○ He was sworn to secrecy. 2. to take an oath to swear someone in to make an official take an oath ○ He was sworn in as governor. 3. I could have sworn I was completely sure (informal) ○ I could have sworn I put my keys in my coat pocket. 4. to shout offensive or rude words ○ They were shouting and swearing at the police. ○ Don't let me catch you swearing again! he swears like a trooper he swears all the time, using extremely bad language swear by /'swεər baɪ/ verb to believe completely in something (informal) ○ He swears by Chinese herbal medicine.

swearing /'swεərɪŋ/ noun the action of shouting offensive or rude words swear word /'swεə wɜ:d/ noun an offensive or rude word, which most people think should not be spoken sweat /swεt/ noun drops of salt liquid which come through your skin when you are hot or when you are afraid ○ After working in the vineyard he was drenched with sweat. ○ He broke out into a cold sweat when they called his name. verb to produce sweat ○ He ran up the hill, sweating and red in the face.

sweatband /'swεtba:nd/ noun a narrow band of soft material worn round your head or wrist to stop sweat running down, e.g. when you are playing tennis sweater /'swεtə/ noun a knitted pullover with long sleeves sweatshirt /'swεtʃɜ:t/ noun a thick cotton shirt with long sleeves sweatshop /'swεtʃɒp/ noun a small factory where people work for long hours and get paid very little money sweaty /'swεti/ adj feeling slightly wet with sweat swede /swi:d/ noun a common vegetable with a round root and yellow flesh, used mainly in soups and stews (NOTE: The US term is rutabaga)

Swede /swi:d/ noun a person from Sweden

③ sweep /swi:p/ verb 1. to clear up dust and dirt from the floor with a brush ○ Have you swept the kitchen floor yet? 2. to sweep the board to win completely ○ The British team swept the board in the Grand Prix. 3. to clean a chimney with a brush ○ We must get the chimney swept before we start having fires again. 4. to move rapidly ○ She swept into the room with a glass of champagne in her hand. ○ The party swept to power in the general election. ○ A feeling of anger swept through the crowd. to sweep past to go past quickly ○ The motorcade swept past. ○ She swept past without saying a word. 5. to follow a curve ○ The motorway sweeps round the mountain. ○ The road sweeps down to the harbour. to make a clean sweep of something 1. to clear something away completely ○ He made a clean sweep of all the old files. 2. to win everything ○ They made a clean sweep at the local government elections. ■ noun 1. the act of clearing up dirt and dust with a brush ○ I'll just give the hall floor a sweep. 2. a person who cleans chimneys ○ Sweeps are always busy in the autumn, cleaning chimneys ready for the winter. 3. a wide area ○ The green sweep of the lawn running down to the lake. 4. a wide movement of your arm ○ With a sweep of his arm he knocked all the glasses off the table.

sweep away /'swi:p ə'wei/ verb to carry something away very quickly ○ The river flooded and swept away part of the village.

sweeper /'swi:pə/ noun a person or machine that sweeps a place sweeping /'swi:pɪŋ/ adj which affects many things or people sweeping generalisation /,swi:pɪŋ 'steɪmənt/, sweeping statement noun a statement which may be partly true but has no facts to support it sweepstake /'swi:psteɪk/ noun a form of gambling on a horse race where each person bets on a certain horse, and the holder of the winning ticket takes all the money which has been bet

② sweet /'swi:t/ adj 1. tasting like sugar, and neither sour nor bitter ○ These apples are sweeter than those green ones. □ to have a sweet tooth to like sweet food ○ He's very fond of puddings – he's got a real sweet tooth! 2. charming, pleasant ○ He sent me such a sweet birthday card. ○ It was sweet of her to send me flowers. ○ What a sweet little girl! ○ How sweet of you to help me with my luggage! (NOTE: sweeter – sweetest) ■ noun 1. a small piece of sweet food, made with sugar ○ She bought some sweets to eat in the cinema. ○ He likes to suck sweets when he is driving. 2. the last course in a meal, sweet food eaten at the end of a meal ○ What's on the menu for sweet? ○ I'm afraid I haven't made a sweet. ○ I won't have any sweet, thank you, just some coffee. 3. used to someone you love (old) ○ Yes, my sweet, I'll be with you in a minute. (NOTE: Do not confuse with suite.) sweet and sour /'swi:t ən 'sauə/ adj made with a sauce containing sugar and vinegar sweet chestnut /'swi:t 'tʃesnət/ noun a chestnut from a sweet chestnut tree, which produces edible fruit sweetcorn /'swi:t kɔ:n/ noun the large yellow seeds of a type of maize, eaten cooked sweeten /'swi:t(ə)n/ verb to make something sweet ○ Use honey to sweeten your cereal instead of sugar.

sweetener /'swi:t(ə)nə/ noun 1. an artificial substance such as saccharin added to food to make it sweet 2. a bribe ○ She was accused of taking sweeteners from building contractors.

sweeten up /,swi:t(ə)n ə'p/ verb to give someone money or a present to make sure they help you (informal) ○ They decided to sweeten up the inspector by taking him out for a meal.

sweetheart /'swi:θa:t/ noun 1. a way of addressing someone you love ○ Look, sweetheart, I can't lend you any more money. 2. a boyfriend or girlfriend (old) ○ They were sweethearts when they were at school or They were childhood sweethearts.

sweetie /'swi:ti/ noun 1. a sweet (informal) ○ The children were all given bags of sweeties. 2. a lovely thing or person ○ I must send her carer a birthday card, she's such a sweetie.

sweetly /'swi:tlɪ/ adv in a sweet way sweet pea /'swi:t 'pi:/ noun a climbing plant of the pea family, with scented pink, white or red flowers sweet pepper /'swi:t 'pepə/ noun a red, yellow or green vegetable, eaten raw in salads, fried, or baked in the oven sweet potato /'swi:t pə'teɪtəʊ/ noun a vegetable like a long red potato with sweet yellow flesh sweet-smelling /,swi:t 'smelɪŋ/ adj with a pleasant smell. Synonym aromatic. Antonym smelly sweet trolley /'swi:t ,trɒli/ noun a trolley with different sweet dishes, brought to your table in a restaurant for you to choose from swell /swel/ verb to get bigger, to make bigger ○ More and more people arrived to swell the crowd outside the palace gates. □ to swell (up) to become larger or to increase in size ○ She was bitten by an insect and her hand swelled (up). ■ noun the movement of large waves in the open sea ○ The boat rose and fell with the swell. ○ There's a heavy swell running.

swelling /'swelɪŋ/ noun a condition where fluid forms in part of the body, making that part swell up swelter /'swelə/ verb to be very hot sweltering /'swel(ə)rɪŋ/ adj very hot swept /swɛpt/ □ sweep

swerve /swɜ:v/ noun a sudden movement to one side ○ He made a swerve to the right to get past the defender. ■ verb to move suddenly to one side ○ They think the car swerved to the left and hit a wall. ○ She had to swerve to avoid the bicycle.

swift /swif^t/ adj rapid ○ Their phone call brought a swift response from the police. Synonym quick (NOTE: swifter – swiftest) ■ noun a little bird like a swallow but with shorter wings and tail swiftly /'swif^tli/ adv rapidly

swig /swig^l/ (informal) noun a mouthful of liquid ○ He took a swig from the bottle of water. ■ verb to drink something in large mouthfuls ○ They stopped and swigged water from a bottle. (NOTE: swigging – swigged) swill /swil^l/ noun the action of washing a floor with a lot of water ■ verb 1. to wash a floor with a lot of water 2. to drink a lot of alcohol ○ swilling pints of beer

② swim /swim^l/ noun the action of moving in the water, using your arms and legs to push you along ○ What about a swim before breakfast? ○ It's too cold for a swim. ■ verb 1. to move in the water using your arms and legs to push you along ○ She can't swim, but she's taking swimming lessons. ○ She swam across the English Channel. ○ Salmon swim upstream to get to their spawning grounds. 2. □ my head is swimming I feel dizzy ○ My head was swimming after working at the computer all day.

swimmer /'swimə/ noun a person who is swimming

② swimming /swimɪŋ/ noun the action of swimming swimming costume /'swimɪŋ, ˌkɒstju:m/ noun a piece of clothing worn by women or girls when swimming swimming pool /'swimɪŋ pu:l/ noun a large pool for swimming swimming trunks /'swimɪŋ trʌŋks/ plural noun short trousers worn by men and boys when swimming swimsuit /'swimsu:t/ noun a one-piece swimming costume for women and girls swindle /'swind(ə)l/ noun an illegal deal in which someone is cheated out of money ○ She was caught up in some swindle involving imported cars. Synonym fraud ■ verb to get money from someone by a trick ○ She said she had been swindled by the bank. ○ He swindled the old lady out of £10,000. Synonym cheat swindler /'swindlə/ noun a person who swindles someone. Synonym cheat swine /swaɪn/ noun 1. pigs (old) (NOTE: no plural) 2. an unpleasant man (insult) ○ He's a swine – he keeps us working all day long and pays us peanuts. ○ You rotten swine!

② swing /swɪŋ/ noun 1. a movement of your arm forwards and backwards □ to take a swing at someone to try to hit someone ○ Someone took a swing at him with a stick. 2. a change in opinion which can be measured

○ There was a swing of 10% to the socialists in the elections. 3. □ to go with a swing to go very well, to be very enjoyable ○ The party went with a swing. □ to get into the swing of things to enjoy being involved ○ He'd never been to a night club before but soon got into the swing of things. □ in full swing going very well ○ When we arrived the party was in full swing. 4. a seat held by two ropes or chains, to sit on and move backwards and forwards, usually outdoors ○ She sat on the swing and ate an apple. ■ verb 1. to move from side to side or forwards and backwards, while hanging from a central point ○ She picked up the baby and swung him round and round. ○ He swung up and down on the garden swing. ○ A window swung open and a man looked out. 2. to change direction or opinion ○ The car swung off the road into the hotel car park. ○ The voters swung to the right in Sunday's elections. ○ He swung round to face the crowd. 3. to move with a swing ○ They were swinging the bags one after the other into the rubbish van. ○ He swung his suitcase up onto the rack. (NOTE: swinging – swung /swʌŋ/) swing door /swɪŋ 'dɔ:/ noun a door which opens in either direction when you push it swingeing /'swindʒɪŋ/ adj harsh, heavy swinging /'swɪŋɪŋ/ adj exciting, fashionably modern (dated) swipe /swaɪp/ verb 1. to steal (informal) ○ Someone's swiped my umbrella. 2. to pass a credit card or charge card through a machine that reads its details ○ The cashier swiped my card through the machine. 3. to hit someone or something or try to hit someone or something ○ He took a newspaper and tried to swipe the wasp. ■ noun a punch ○ He took a swipe at the man who tried to steal his wallet.

swipe card /'swaɪp kɑ:d/ noun a credit card or charge card which can be read by an electronic machine swirl /swɜ:l/ noun a twisting movement ○ Swirls of smoke came out of the chimney. ■ verb to move with a twisting motion ○ Clouds of smoke were swirling round the factory. Synonym whirl

swish /swɪʃ/ adj smart and expensive (informal) ○ He took me to dinner in a very swish restaurant. ■ noun 1. the soft rustling sound of a dress or of dead leaves. Synonym rustle 2. a quick movement with a quiet sound ○ With a swish of his brush, he swept the broken glass into a heap. ■ verb to move making a regular quiet sound ○ We sat by the motorway, listening to the cars swishing past.

Swiss /swɪs/ adj referring to Switzerland ○ We eat a lot of Swiss cheese. ○ The Swiss banking system protects the identity of its customers. ■ noun a person from Switzerland □ the Swiss people from Switzerland ○ The Swiss celebrate their national day on August 1st.

② switch /swɪtʃ/ noun 1. a small device that you push up or down to stop or start an electrical device ○ The switch to turn off the electricity is in the cupboard. ○ There is a light switch by the bed. 2. a sudden change in opinion ○ a switch in government policy (NOTE: The plural is switches.) ■ verb 1. to do something different suddenly ○ We decided to switch from gas to electricity. 2. to change or exchange something ○ Let's switch places. ○ He switched flights in Montreal and went on to Calgary. ○ The job was switched from our British factory to the States.

switchboard /'swɪtʃbɔ:d/ noun a central point in a telephone system, where all internal and external lines meet switchboard operator /'swɪtʃbɔ:d ɒpəreɪtə/ noun a person who works the central telephone switchboard by connecting incoming and outgoing calls to various lines switched-on /'swɪtʃt 'bɒn/ adj knowing all that is happening (informal)

switch off /,swɪtʃ 'ɒf/ verb 1. to make an electrical device stop ○ Don't forget to switch off the TV before you go to bed. ○ She forgot to switch her car lights off or switch off her car lights. ○ The kettle switches itself off automatically when it boils. 2. to stop listening to what someone is saying (informal) ○ If you talk too slowly, everyone starts to switch off. ○ I just switched off once the discussion started getting too technical.

switch on /,swɪtʃ 'ɒn/ verb to make an electrical device start ○ Can you switch the radio on – it's time for the evening news. ○ When you put the light on in the bathroom, the fan switches itself on automatically.

switch over to /,swɪtʃ 'əʊvə tu:/ verb to change to something different swivel /'swɪv(ə)l/ noun a joint between two parts which allows each to turn separately ○ The monitor is mounted on a swivel, so that you can turn it in any direction. ■ verb to turn around a point ○ Swivel your chair to face the monitor. ○ He swivelled round in his chair and looked out of the window. (NOTE: swivelling – swivelled. The US spelling is swiveling – swiveled.)

swivel chair /'swɪv(ə)l tʃeə/ noun a chair which is designed so that the seat can turn while the legs remain stationary

③ swollen /'swəʊlən/ adj much bigger than usual. ♦ swell. Synonym distended

swollen-headed /,swəʊlən 'hedɪd/ adj thinking you are much better than all the others. Synonym conceited swoop /swu:p/ noun 1. a sudden downwards movement 2. a sudden military or police attack ○ Several gang leaders were arrested in police swoops on bars in the city centre. □ at or in one fell swoop in a sudden move, all at once ○ By pressing these keys I could make your data disappear in one fell swoop. ■ verb 1. to come down rapidly ○ The planes swooped (down) low over the enemy camp. 2. to make a sudden attack sword /sɔ:d/ noun a weapon with a handle and a long sharp blade swordfish /'sɔ:dfɪʃ/ noun a fish with a long pointed upper jaw like a sword swore /swɔ:/ ♦ swear

sworn /swɔ:n/ adj under oath □ they are sworn enemies they will always be enemies.

♦ swear

swot /swɒt/ verb to study hard ■ noun a person who you dislike because they study very hard swum /swʌm/ ♦ swim

swung /swʌŋ/ ♦ swing

sycamore /'sɪkəmɔ:/ noun a large tree of the maple family syllabic /sɪləbɪk/ suffix referring to syllables

③ syllable /'sɪləb(ə)l/ noun a whole word or part of a word which has one single sound.

♦ monosyllable

syllabus /'sɪləbəs/ noun a list of subjects to be studied (NOTE: The plural is syllabuses.)

③ symbol /'sɪmbəl/ noun a sign, letter, picture or shape which means something or shows something ○ They use a bear as their advertising symbol. ○ The crown was the symbol of the empire. ○ The olive branch is a symbol of peace. ○ Pb is the chemical symbol for lead. (NOTE: Do not confuse with cymbol.)

symbolise /'sɪmbəlaɪz/, symbolize verb to be a symbol of something symbolism /'sɪmbəlɪz(ə)m/ noun 1. using symbols to express things such as feelings ○ The symbolism of chopping down the orchard as the old man watched was obvious. 2. a movement in literature and art in the 19th century in which feelings were not expressed in a straightforward way symmetrical /sɪ'metrik(ə)l/ adj with two sides exactly the same

③ symmetry /'sɪmətri/ noun a state where two sides of something are exactly the same

③ sympathetic /,simpə'θetɪk/ adj showing that you understand someone's problems sympathetically /,simpə'θetɪkli/ adv in a sympathetic way sympathise /'simpəθaɪz/, sympathize verb 1. to show that you understand someone's problems ○ I sympathise with you, my husband snores too. ○ I get back pains, and I sympathise with all fellow sufferers. 2. to agree with or support someone or something sympathiser /'sɪmpəθaɪzə/ noun a person who agrees in general with the policies of a group, without being a member of it sympathy /'sɪmpəθi/ noun 1. a feeling of understanding for someone else's problems, or after someone's death ○ We received many messages of sympathy when my wife died. ○ He had no sympathy for his secretary who complained of being overworked. 2. agreement with or support for someone or something ○ I have a good deal of sympathy with the idea. □ to come out on strike in sympathy to stop work to show that you agree with another group of workers who are on strike ○ The postal workers went on strike and the telephone engineers came out in sympathy.

symphony /'sɪmfəni/ noun a long piece of music in several parts, called 'movements', played by a full orchestra (NOTE: The plural is symphonies.)

symphony orchestra /'sɪmfəni, ɔ:kistrə/ noun a large orchestra which has enough musicians to be able to play symphonies (NOTE: usually used in titles: the London Symphony Orchestra) symposium /sɪm'pəuziəm/ noun a meeting organised to discuss a specialised subject. Synonym conference (NOTE: The plural is symposia.)

③ symptom /'sɪmptəm/ noun 1. a change in the body, showing that a disease is present ○ He has all the symptoms of measles. 2. a visible sign which shows that something is happening ○ Rubbish everywhere on the pavements is a symptom of the economic crisis facing the borough.

symptomatic /,sɪmptə'mætɪk/ adj showing that something exists (formal) □ symptomatic of which is evidence of ○ The rash is symptomatic of measles. ○ Her rudeness is symptomatic of unease among the staff.

synagogue /'sinægɒg/ noun a building where people of the Jewish faith pray and study their religion sync /sɪŋk/ noun (informal) □ in sync synchronised □ out of sync not synchronised synchronise /'sɪŋkrənaɪz/, synchronise verb 1. to adjust watches to the same time ○ Synchronise your watches to the town hall clock. 2. to arrange things so that they happen at the same time syncopated /'sɪŋkəpətɪd/ adj (in music) with a beat which is not usually stressed and so changes the rhythm syndicate noun /'sɪndɪkət/ a group of people or companies working together to make money ○ a German finance syndicate ■ verb /'sɪndɪkeɪt/ to produce something such as an article or a cartoon, which is then published in several newspapers or magazines ○ His cartoon strip is syndicated across the US. ○ She writes a syndicated column on personal finance.

syndrome /'sɪndrəʊm/ noun 1. a group of symptoms which, taken together, show that a particular disease is present ○ Their daughter has Down's syndrome. 2. a general feeling or way of approaching a situation ○ It's an example of the 'let's go home early on Friday afternoon' syndrome.

③ synonym /'sɪnənɪm/ noun a word which means nearly the same as another word. Antonym antonym synonymous /sɪ'nɒnɪməs/ adj meaning the same synopsis /sɪ'nɒpɪsɪs/ noun a short text, giving the basic details of something (NOTE: The plural is synopses.)

syntactically /sɪn'tæktɪkli/ adv in relation to syntax

③ syntax /'sɪntæks/ noun the grammatical rules for putting words together into phrases. Synonym grammar (NOTE: no plural)

③ synthesis /'sɪnθəsɪs/ noun producing something by combining a number of smaller elements (NOTE: The plural is syntheses.)

synthesise /'sɪnθəsaɪz/, synthesise verb 1. to produce something by combining a number of smaller elements 2. to make a chemical compound artificially from its separate components ○ The body cannot synthesise some amino acids and has to absorb them from food.

synthesiser /'sɪnθəsaɪzə/ noun an electronic device which can make musical sounds similar to different musical instruments ○ The group use a guitar, drums and a synthesiser.

synthetic /sɪnθetɪk/ adj made from artificial materials ○ The coat she was wearing was made of synthetic fur. ■ noun an artificial or man-made material ○ He used synthetics to create clinging elegant dresses.

syphilis /sɪfəlɪs/ noun a serious sexually transmitted disease syphon /'saɪf(ə)n/ noun another spelling of siphon

syringe /sɪ'rɪndʒ/ noun a surgical instrument made of a tube with a plunger which slides down inside it, forcing the contents out through a needle to give an injection ○ I close my eyes when I see the dentist's syringe ready. ■ verb to wash something out using a syringe ○ She had her ears syringed.

syrup /'sɪrəp/ noun a sweet liquid ○ To make syrup, dissolve sugar in a cup of boiling water.

syrupy /'sɪrəpɪ/ adj 1. very sweet, containing a lot of sugar ○ Syrupy drinks are bad for your teeth. 2. very sentimental ○ The film is a syrupy story of adolescent love.

① system /'sistəm/ noun 1. a group of things which work together ○ the system of motorways or the motorway system ○ the London underground railway system 2. the body as a whole ○ Amputation of a limb gives a serious shock to the system. 3. a way in which things are organised ○ I've got my own system for dealing with invoices.

systematic /,sistə'mætɪk/ adj well-organised. Antonym disorganised systematically /,sistə'mætɪkli/ adv in a systematic way systematise /'sistəmætaɪz/, systematize verb to arrange into a systematic order systemic /sɪ'sti:mk/ adj which affects a whole body or system systems analyst /'sistəmz ,ænəlɪst/ noun a person who examines computer systems

T

t /ti:/, T noun the twentieth letter of the alphabet, between S and U □ to dot the i's and cross the t's to settle the final details of an agreement ta /ta:/ interj thank you (informal) tab /tæb/ noun 1. a small piece of paper or cloth which sticks out from a surface, used, e.g., for pulling open a box ○ Pull the tab up to lift the cover off the box. 2. a piece of metal which you pull to open a drinks can ○ The tab of the beer can came off when I tried to open it. 3. a little coloured marker attached to index cards so that they can be found easily ○ Write the first three letters of the addressee on the tab. 4. □ to pick up the tab to pay the bill (informal) ○ I'll take you all out to lunch – the company will pick up the tab. □ to keep tabs on someone to keep watch on someone ○ I'm not too happy about the performance of our new representative in the Far East – you had better keep tabs on him for a while. 5. the tab key on a keyboard tabby /'tæbi/ noun a cat with brown or orange stripes

tab key /'tæb ki:/ noun a key on a keyboard which you press to jump forward to a set place on the line

① table /'teɪb(ə)l/ noun 1. a piece of furniture with a flat top and legs, used to eat or work at ○ We had breakfast sitting round the kitchen table. ○ He asked for a table by the window. ○ She says she booked a table for six people for 12.30. □ to lay the table, to set the table to put knives, forks, spoons, plates, etc., on a table ready for a meal ○ Can someone set the table please, the food's almost ready. ○ The table was laid for six. □ to clear the table to take away the dirty knives, forks, spoons, plates, etc., after a meal ○ The waitress cleared a table for us and we sat down.

2. a list of figures, facts, or information set out in columns ■ verb to suggest at a meeting something you would like to discuss ○ The report of the finance committee was tabled. Synonym propose □ to table a motion to put forward a proposal for discussion tableau /'tæbləʊ/ noun a scene where actors represent a historic occasion without moving. Synonym display (NOTE: The plural is tableaux /'tæbləʊ, 'tæbləʊz/.)

tablecloth /'teɪb(ə)lkloθ/ noun a cloth which covers a table during a meal table lamp /'teɪb(ə)l laemp/ noun a lamp on a table

table-mat /'teɪb(ə)lmæt/ noun a mat put on the surface of a table, so that hot plates will not damage it tablespoon /'teɪb(ə)lspu:n/ noun 1. a large spoon for serving food at table 2. an amount held in a tablespoon ○ Add two tablespoons of sugar.

tablespoonful /'teɪb(ə)lspu:nfol/ noun an amount held in a tablespoon tablet /'tæblət/ noun a small round pill taken as medicine ○ Take two tablets before meals.

table tennis /'teɪb(ə)l 'tenɪs/ noun a game similar to tennis, but played on a large table with a net across the centre, with small round bats and a very light white ball. Also called ping-pong tabloid /'tæblɔɪd/ noun a newspaper with a small page size, usually containing a lot of information about famous people, and not much serious news (NOTE: Large format newspapers are called broadsheets.)

taboo /tə'bu:/ adj not talked about because of being rude or embarrassing ○ Talking about pay rises is taboo in this office. ○ Money used to be a taboo subject at home. ■ noun a custom which forbids something ○ There is a taboo against eating pork in the Muslim religion. Synonym ban tabular /'tæbjʊlər/ adj arranged in a table. Synonym flat tabulate /'tæbjuleɪt/ verb to arrange numbers in a table tabulation /,tæbju'leɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the arrangement of numbers in a table tabulator /'tæbjuleɪtə/ noun the key on a keyboard which you press to jump forward to a set place on the line (NOTE: usually referred to as the tab key) tacit /'tæsɪt/ adj (of e.g. an agreement) which is understood but not actually said. Synonym unspoken taciturn /'tæsɪtɜ:n/ adj not saying much and seeming to be unfriendly. Antonym talkative tack /tæk/ noun 1. a small nail with a wide head □ to get down to brass tacks to start discussing the real problem (informal) 2. (in sewing) a loose stitch used to hold cloth in place when making clothes, which can be removed later ○ She put in a row of tacks to show where the pockets were to go. 3. a movement of a sailing boat in a certain direction as it sails against the wind □ to change tack to start doing something different ○ Originally he offered to pay all the costs of the party and then changed tack and asked everyone to pay for themselves. ■ verb 1. to nail something down using tacks ○ He tacked down the edge of the carpet. 2. to make a loose stitch which will be taken out later ○ She tacked up the hem of her skirt. 3. (in a sailing ship) to change direction so that wind blows the sails from the other side ○ The yacht had to keep tacking because the wind was blowing away from the harbour. □ they were tacking up the river they sailed up the river changing direction all the time because the wind was against them

③ tackle /tæk(ə)l/ verb 1. to try to deal with a problem or job ○ You can't tackle a job like changing the central heating system on your own. ○ You start cleaning the dining room and I'll tackle the washing up. 2. to grab someone in order to stop them from doing something ○ He tried to tackle the burglar himself. 3. (in football, etc.) to try to get the ball from an opposing player ○ He was tackled before he could score. ■ noun 1. equipment ○ He brought his fishing tackle with him. 2. (in football, etc.) trying to take the ball from an opposing player

tack on /,tæk 'ɒn/ verb to add something at the end

tacky /'tæki/ adj 1. sticky ○ Don't touch that paint, it's still tacky. 2. looking cheap and of bad quality ○ The decorations were expensive, but they just look tacky. (NOTE: tackier – tackiest) taco /'tækəʊ/ noun a Mexican savoury pastry that is filled with meat and vegetables, and cooked until it is hard tact /tækt/ noun being careful not to offend people, being careful to say the right thing. Synonym diplomacy tactful /'tæktf(ə)l/ adj showing tact. Synonym diplomatic. Antonym tactless tactfully /'tæktf(ə)li/ adv in a tactful way tactic /'tæktɪk/ noun 1. a way of doing something so as to get an advantage (often plural) ○ His tactic is to wait until near closing time, when the supermarket reduces the price of bread. 2. a way of fighting a war ○ Guerrilla tactics were successful against the advancing army.

tactical /'tæktɪk(ə)l/ adj referring to tactics ○ Cutting all our prices was a clever tactical move. ○ The decision was taken for tactical reasons.

tactical error /,tæktɪk(ə)l 'erə/ noun a mistake which will affect your future plans tactical weapon /,tæktɪk(ə)l 'wepən/ noun a weapon which is used at a relatively short range tactician /tæk'tɪʃ(ə)n/ noun a person who is an expert at tactics. Synonym strategist tactile /'tæktɪl/ adj involving the sense of touch tactless /'tæktləs/ adj offensive, not always intentionally. Synonym insensitive. Antonym tactful tactlessly /'tæktləsli/ adv in a tactless way tadpole /'tædpəʊl/ noun a frog in its first stage after hatching, when it has a body and tail taffeta /'tæfɪtə/ noun a stiff shiny material often used to make women's clothes

tag /tæg/ noun 1. a label or a piece of paper or plastic attached to something to show e.g. a price, contents, or someone's name and address 2. a children's game where the first child has to try to touch another one who then chases the others in turn ○ They were playing tag in the school playground. ■ verb 1. to attach a label to something ○ These coats need to be tagged before you put them on the racks. ○ We tag birds so that we can study their migration routes. 2. □ to tag along behind someone to follow close behind someone (informal) ○ Whenever we go out for a walk my sister insists on tagging along.

t'ai chi /tai 'tʃi/ noun a Chinese form of very slow physical exercise aimed at assisting relaxation and improving balance

② tail /teɪl/ noun 1. a long thin part at the end of the body of an animal or bird, which can move ○ All you could see was a slight movement of the cat's tail. ○ The dog rushed up to him, wagging its tail. □ to turn tail to turn round and run away ○ As soon as they heard the dog barking, the burglars turned tail and ran off. 2. an end or back part of something ○ The tail of the queue stretched round the corner and into the next street. ○ I prefer to sit near the tail of the aircraft. 3. □ tails the side of a coin without the head of a king, etc., on it □ heads or tails throwing a coin in the air to see which side comes down on top ○ Let's toss heads or tails for the bill!

4. a long back part of a coat or shirt ○ He tucked the tail of his shirt back into his trousers. 5. □ tails men's evening dress, a black coat with a long tail, black trousers and a white bow tie ○ All the men wore tails to the ball. ■ verb to follow close behind someone (informal) ○ The police tailed the lorry from the harbour to the warehouse.

tail away /,teɪl ə'wei/ same as tail off

tailback /'teɪlbæk/ noun a long line of cars that is moving very slowly, or not moving at all. Synonym traffic jam tailboard /'teɪlbɔ:d/ noun a hinged board at the back of a lorry which can be let down to load or unload the contents tail end /,teɪl 'end/ noun the last part or the back part of something tail fin /'teɪl fin/ noun a vertical fin on the tail of a plane which helps the steering tailgate /'teɪlgейt/ noun US a door at the back of a car, that opens to give access to the storage space ○ He had difficulty shutting the tailgate over the box.

tailgating /'teɪlgeɪtɪŋ/ noun US the act of following closely behind another car tail light /'teɪl laɪt/ noun a back light of a vehicle tail off /,teɪl 'ɒf/ verb to become fainter or less. Synonym fade. Antonym build up tailor /'teɪlə/ noun a person who makes clothes for men ○ He gets all his clothes made by a tailor in Oxford Street. ■ verb 1. to make clothes which fit closely 2. to adapt something to fit a particular need ○ The payments can be tailored to suit your requirements. ○ This course is tailored to the needs of women going back to work.

tailored /'teɪləd/ adj 1. made to fit closely ○ a tailored jacket 2. adapted for a particular purpose ○ tailored training courses

tailor-made /,teɪlə 'meɪd/ adj made to fit certain needs tailpipe /'teɪlpɪp/ noun US the tube at the back of a motor vehicle from which gases produced by the engine are sent out into the air (NOTE: The British term is exhaust pipe.)

tailplane /'teɪlpleɪn/ noun a horizontal wing forming part of the tail of an aircraft tailspin /'teɪlspɪn/ noun a dive by an aircraft which turns round and round tail wind /'teɪl wind/ noun a wind blowing from behind which makes an aircraft, vehicle or runner go faster. Compare headwind taint /teɪnt/ noun a trace of something bad ○ We need a new finance director who is totally free of the taint of corruption. ■ verb 1. to damage something ○ His political reputation has been permanently tainted by the scandal. 2. to make something rotten ○ tainted food food which has become rotten by touching other rotten food

① take /teɪk/ verb 1. to lift and move something ○ She took the pot of jam down from the shelf. ○ The waiter took the tablecloth off the table. 2. to carry something to another place ○ Can you take this cheque to the bank for me, please? 3. to go with someone or something to another place ○ He's taking the children to school. ○ They took the car to the garage. ○ We took a taxi to the hotel. 4. to steal something ○ Someone's taken my watch. 5. to go away with something which someone else was using ○ Someone has taken the newspaper I was reading. ○ Who's taken my cup of coffee? 6. to use or occupy something ○ Sorry, all these seats are taken.

□ to take your seats to sit down ○ Please take your seats, the play is about to start. 7. to do a test ○ You must go to bed early because you'll be taking your exams tomorrow morning. ○ She had to take her driving test three times before she finally passed. 8. to eat or to drink something on a regular basis ○ Do you take sugar in your tea? ○ How do you take your coffee – black or white? ○ Take the medicine three times a day after meals. 9. to accept something ○ If they offer you the job, take it immediately. 10. to do certain actions ○ We took our holiday in September this year. ○ She's taking a shower after going to the beach. ○ She took a photograph or took a picture of the Tower of London. ○ She needs to take a rest. □ to take action to do something ○ You must take immediate action if you want to stop shoplifting. □ to take a call to answer the telephone ○ I was out of the office so my colleague took the call. □ to take the chair to be chairman of a meeting ○ In the absence of the chairperson, her deputy took the chair. □ to take dictation to write down everything that someone is saying in special writing □ to take place to happen ○ The reception will take place on Saturday. □ to take stock to count the items in a warehouse □ to take stock of a situation to examine the state of things before deciding what to do ○ When we had taken stock of the situation, we decided the best thing to do was to sell the house. 11. to need a certain amount of time or number of people ○ It took three strong men to move the piano. ○ They took two days or it took them two days to get to London. ○ When he wants to watch a TV programme it never seems to take him long to finish his homework. 12. to accept or to hold something ○ The ticket machine takes 10p and 20p coins. ○ The lift can take up to six passengers. 13. to be successful, to have effect □ the kidney transplant has taken the transplant has been successful □ the cuttings have taken the cuttings have sprouted roots (NOTE: taking – took /tʊk/ – has taken) ■ noun 1. money received in a shop ○ Today's take was less than yesterday's. 2. a scene which has been filmed ○ The actors had a break between takes.

take after /'teɪk ,a:ftə/ verb to look like a parent or relative. Synonym resemble take away /,teɪk ə'weɪ/ verb 1. to remove something or someone ○ Take those scissors away from little Nicky – he could cut himself.

○ The ambulance came and took her away. ○ The police took away piles of documents from the office. 2. to subtract one number from another (NOTE: Take away is usually shown by the sign – : $10 - 4 = 6$: say ‘ten take away four equals six.’) takeaway /'teɪkəweɪ/ noun, adj 1. a shop where you can buy cooked food to eat somewhere else ○ There's an Indian takeaway round the corner. ○ We had a Chinese takeaway. 2. a hot meal which you buy in a shop and eat somewhere else ○ We had a takeaway Chinese meal. (NOTE: The US term is takeout.)

take back /,teɪk 'bæk/ verb 1. to go back with something ○ If the trousers are too short you can take them back to the shop. 2. to accept something which someone has brought back ○ I took my trousers to the shop where I had bought them, but they wouldn't take them back because I didn't have a receipt. 3. to withdraw something which has been said, and apologise for it ○ I take it all back – they're a marvellous team.

take down /,teɪk 'daʊn/ verb 1. to reach up and bring something down ○ I took the jar down from the shelf. 2. to bring something down which had been put up ○ On January 6th we take down the Christmas decorations. ○ They have finished the roof and are taking down the scaffolding. 3. to write down ○ The policeman took down his name and address.

take-home pay /'teɪk həʊm ,peɪ/ noun an amount of money you actually receive in wages after things such as tax and national insurance have been deducted take in /,teɪk 'ɪn/ verb 1. to bring inside something which was outside ○ In October they took in the lemon trees from the gardens. 2. to understand something ○ I don't think she took in anything of what you said.

3. to deceive someone ○ Thousands of people were taken in by the advertisement. 4. to make a piece of clothing smaller ○ Can you take these trousers in? – They're much too loose round the waist. Antonym let out take into /'teɪk ,ɪntʊ/ verb to take inside taken /'teɪkən/ the past participle of take taken with /'teɪkən wið/ adj attracted by

take off /,teɪk 'ɒf/ verb 1. to remove something, especially your clothes ○ He took off all his clothes or he took all his clothes off. ○ Take your dirty boots off before you come into the kitchen. ♦ hat 2. to remove or to deduct an amount ○ He took £25 off the price.

3. (of a plane) to leave the ground ○ The plane took off at 4.30. 4. to start to rise fast ○ Sales took off after the TV commercials. 5. □ she took the day off she decided not to work for the day 6. to imitate someone in a funny way ○ He likes to make everyone laugh by taking off the head teacher.

takeoff /'teɪkɒf/ noun 1. (of an aircraft) the act of leaving the ground ○ The takeoff was without any problems. ○ I always ask for a seat by the window, so that I can watch the takeoff. 2. an amusing imitation of someone ○ He did a wonderful takeoff of the head teacher.

take on /,teɪk 'ɒn/ verb 1. to agree to do a job ○ She's taken on a part-time job in addition to the one she's already got. 2. to agree to have someone as a worker ○ The shop has taken on four trainees. ○ We need to take on more staff to cope with the work. 3. to fight someone ○ It seems he is taking on the whole government.

take out /,teɪk 'aʊt/ verb 1. to pull something out ○ He took out a gun and waved it around. ○ The dentist had to take my tooth out. 2. to invite someone to go out ○ I'm taking all the office staff out for a drink. 3. □ to take out a patent for an invention to apply for and receive a patent □ to take out insurance against theft to pay a premium to an insurance company, so that if a theft takes place the company will pay compensation □ to take out £50 to remove £50 in cash from a bank account

takeout /'teɪkəut/ noun US a hot meal which you buy to eat back home (NOTE: The British term is takeaway.)

take over /,teɪk 'əʊvə/ verb 1. to start to do something in place of someone else ○ The Socialists took over from the Conservatives. ○ Miss Black took over from Mr Jones on May 1st. ○ Thanks for looking after the switchboard for me – I'll take over from you now. ○ When our history teacher was ill, the English teacher had to take over his classes. 2. to buy a business by offering to buy most of its shares ○ The company was taken over by a big group last month.

takeover /'teɪkəʊvə/ noun 1. the buying of a controlling interest in a business by buying more than 50% of the shares ○ The takeover may mean that a lot of people will lose their jobs. □ to make a takeover bid for a company to offer to buy most of the shares in a company 2. occupying a country and removing the government ○ Many people were killed during the military takeover.

takeover bid /'teɪkəʊvə bɪd/ noun an attempt to take over a company by offering to buy most of its shares taker /'teɪkə/ noun 1. a person who wants to buy or take something ○ At that price, I'm not surprised there were no takers for the painting. ○ Any takers for this last piece of chocolate cake? 2. a person who takes someone or something ○ The hostage-takers asked for a huge ransom. ○ Drug-takers are being targeted by the government publicity campaign.

take to /'teɪk tu:/ verb 1. to start to do something as a habit ○ He's taken to looking under his bed every night to make sure no one is hiding there. ○ She's recently taken to wearing trousers to work. □ he took to drink he started to drink alcohol regularly 2. to start to like someone ○ She took to her boss right away.

take up /,teɪk 'ʌp/ verb 1. to occupy or to fill a space ○ This settee takes up too much room. ○ Being in charge of the staff sports club takes up too much of my time. 2. to remove something which was down ○ You will need to take up the rugs if you want to polish the floor. 3. to start to do a certain activity ○ She was over fifty when she took up long-distance running. 4. □ to take someone up on something to accept an offer made by someone ○ He asked me if I wanted two tickets to Wimbledon and I took him up on his offer. 5. to make something such as a skirt or dress shorter ○ Can you take up the hem of this coat?

takings /'teɪkɪŋz/ plural noun cash received in a shop or business ○ The day's takings were stolen from the cash desk. ○ This week's takings were less than last week's. Synonym earnings. Antonym expenditure

talcum powder /'tælkəm ,paʊdə/ noun soft scented powder, used to soften the skin or reduce rubbing

③ tale /teɪl/ noun 1. a story (literary) ○ A tale of princesses and wicked fairies. 2. □ to tell tales to tell someone such as a parent or teacher that someone has done something wrong

③ talent /'tælənt/ noun 1. a natural ability or skill ○ She has a talent for getting customers to spend money. 2. people with natural ability ○ The club is always on the lookout for fresh talent.

talent contest /,tælənt kən'test/ noun a competition to find new performers talented /'tæləntɪd/ adj with a lot of talent. Synonym gifted talisman /'tælɪzmən/ noun an object believed to give protection to somebody carrying or wearing it

① talk /tɔ:k/ noun 1. a conversation, a discussion ○ We had a little talk, and she agreed with what the committee had decided. ○ I had a long talk with my father about what I should study at university. 2. a lecture about a subject ○ He gave a short talk about the history of the town. 3. a general rumour ○ There has been talk of a change of government. ■ verb 1. to say things, to speak ○ I didn't understand what he was talking about. ○ We must talk to the neighbours about their noisy dog – it kept me awake again last night.

2. to give information about something ○ The suspect refuses to talk.

talkative /'tɔ:kətɪv/ adj who likes to talk a lot or to gossip. Synonym chatty. Antonym reticent talker /'tɔ:kə/ noun a person who talks a lot talking shop /'tɔ:kiŋ ʃɒp/ noun a place where things are talked about, but where no action is ever taken (informal) talk-ing-to /'tɔ:kiŋ tu:/ noun an occasion when you angrily criticise someone's behaviour (informal) Synonym dressing-down talk into /'tɔ:k ,ɪntu:/ verb □ to talk someone into doing something to persuade someone to do something ○ The salesman talked us into buying a new car.

talk of /'tɔ:k ɒv/ verb to mention something that you may be planning to do talk over /,tɔ:k 'əʊvə/ verb to discuss talk round /,tɔ:k 'raʊnd/ verb to persuade someone to change their mind talks /tɔ:ks/ plural noun negotiations talk show /'tɔ:k ʃəʊ/ noun a chat show, a TV show where famous people talk to the host

② tall /tɔ:l/ adj high, usually higher than normal ○ The bank building is the tallest building in London. ○ Can you see those tall trees over there? ○ He's the tallest boy in his class. ○ How tall are you? – I'm 1 metre 68 centimetres. ○ His brother is over six feet tall. (NOTE: taller – tallest. Tall is used with people and thin things like trees or skyscrapers; for things which are a long way above the ground use high: high clouds, a high mountain.) tall order /'tɔ:l 'ɔ:də/ noun a difficult thing to ask someone to do (informal) tall story /'tɔ:l 'stɔ:ri/ noun an unbelievable story (informal) tally /'tæli/ noun a note, account or score ○ What's the tally in the race so far? – We've had two crashes and four retirements through mechanical failure. ○ The scorer keeps a tally of the runs scored. ○ Did you keep a tally of all your expenses? ■ verb to agree ○ The totals in the two columns don't tally. ○ The figures in my notebook tally with the computer figures.

Talmud /'tælmud/ noun a book containing a collection of Jewish writings talon /'tælən/ noun the big claw of a bird of prey tambourine /,tæmbə'rei:n/ noun a small drum with metal discs attached to the rim, so that they jangle when it is hit tame /teɪm/ adj 1. which is not wild, which is used to people ○ Don't be afraid of that fox – he's perfectly tame. 2. not very exciting ○ The film is a lot tamer than the book. ■ verb to make a wild animal tame ○ They tame wild elephants so that they can use them for work in the forests.

tamper /'tæmpə/ verb 1 to tamper with to meddle with something ○ Someone has been tampering with the weighing machine. ○ I hope no one tampered with the test sample.

tampon /'tæmpɒn/ noun 1. a tube of absorbent material placed inside the vagina to soak up menstrual blood ○ I need to buy a packet of tampons from the chemist. 2. a pad of absorbent material used in operations to soak up blood ○ The surgeon put a tampon into the wound to absorb some of the blood.

tan /tæn/ adj brownish-yellow ○ He was wearing tan shoes. ■ noun 1. a brownish-yellow colour ○ Have you got the same shoes, but in tan? 2. a brownish-yellow colour of the skin after being in the sun ○ She got a tan from spending each day on the beach. ▶ suntan ■ verb 1. to get brown from being in the sun ○ She tans easily – just half an hour in the sun and she's quite brown. 2. to treat animal skin to make leather (NOTE: tanning – tanned) tandem /'tændəm/ noun 1. a bicycle for two people ○ I'm sure that's the second time today we've passed that couple on their tandem. 2. □ in tandem together, in pairs ○ They worked in tandem for many years.

tandoori /tæn'duəri/ noun 1. a method of Indian cooking where the food is usually marinated in yoghurt and spices, then cooked in a traditional clay oven 2. food cooked in this way tang /tæŋ/ noun a sharp taste or smell tangent /'tændʒənt/ noun 1. a line which touches a curve without cutting through it ○ The line AB forms a tangent to the circle at the point P. 2. □ to fly or go off at a tangent, to go off on a tangent US to start talking about something quite different ○ He suddenly flew off at a tangent and started talking about his car. ○ She went off at a tangent almost from the beginning of the discussion.

tangerine /'tændʒə'rɪn/ noun a kind of small orange with soft skin which peels easily tangible /'tændʒəb(ə)l/ adj which is real or noticeable tangible assets /'tændʒəb(ə)l 'æsəts/ plural noun assets which are visible, such as property, jewels or machines tangle /'tæŋgəl/ noun a mass of something such as threads, string or hair, all mixed together ○ The tangle of shrubs in the back garden needs clearing. □ in a tangle all mixed up ○ All my wool is in a tangle. ■ verb 1. to get things mixed together in knots ○ Her hair is so tangled that it's impossible to comb. 2. □ to tangle with someone to get into an argument with someone ○ Tourists are advised not to tangle with the local football supporters.

tangled /'tæŋgəld/ adj twisted in an untidy way tango /'tæŋgəʊ/ noun a South American dance for two people, where you glide sideways (NOTE: The plural is tangos.)

tangy /'tæŋgi/ adj with a sharp taste or smell

② tank /tæŋk/ noun 1. a large container for liquids ○ How much oil is left in the tank? 2. an armoured vehicle with caterpillar tracks and powerful guns ○ Tanks rolled along the main streets of the town.

tankard /'tæŋkəd/ noun a large mug for drinking beer tanker /'tæŋkə/ noun a ship or lorry for carrying liquids, especially oil tanned /tænd/ adj brown from having been exposed to the sun

Tannoy /'tænɔɪ/ trademark a trademark for a public loudspeaker system ○ The tannoy gave details of special offers in the fruit department. ○ They warned over the tannoy that train services would be delayed.

tantalise /'tæntəlaɪz/, tantalize verb to tease someone by offering them something which they can't have tantalising /'tæntəlaɪzɪŋ/, tantalizing adj which makes you want something tantamount /'tæntəmaʊnt/ adj □ to be tantamount to to be the equivalent of in a negative way ○ It was tantamount to a declaration of war.

tantrum /'tantrəm/ noun a sudden attack of uncontrollable bad temper. Synonym outburst

Taoiseach /'ti:ʃək/ noun (in the Republic of Ireland) the Prime Minister

③ tap /tæp/ noun 1. a device with a knob which, when you twist it, lets liquid or gas come out ○ He washed his hands under the tap in the kitchen. □ on tap available when you need it ○ We should have all this information on tap. □ to turn a tap on to allow water to run □ she turned on the hot tap she turned on the tap which produces hot water □ to turn a tap off to stop water running ○ She forgot to turn the gas tap off. 2. a little knock ○ As a signal, he gave three taps on the door.

■ verb 1. to hit something gently ○ She tapped him on the knee with her finger. ○ A policeman tapped him on the shoulder and arrested him. 2. to attach a secret listening device to a telephone line ○ The police tapped his phone because they thought he was a spy. 3. to take liquid out of something ○ They tap the rubber trees in the plantations. ○ He's going down to the cellar to tap a new barrel of beer. 4. to take energy or resources and use them ○ The resources of Northern Siberia have not yet been tapped.

Compare untapped (NOTE: tapping – tapped) tap-dancer /'tæp ,da:nəsə/ noun a person who does tap-dancing tap-dancing /'tæp ,də:nɪŋ/ noun a style of dancing in which the dancer wears special shoes with metal heels and toes which make a loud tapping sound

② tape /teɪp/ noun 1. a long narrow strip e.g. of cloth or plastic ○ She stitched tape along the bottom of the hem to stop it fraying. 2. same as magnetic tape □ on tape recorded on magnetic tape ○ We have the whole conversation on tape. ■ verb 1. to record something on tape or on video ○ The whole conversation was taped by the police. ○ I didn't see the programme because I was at work, but I've taped it. 2. to attach something with sticky tape ○ She taped up the box before taking it to the post office. ♦ videotape

tape deck /'teɪp dek/ noun a part of a stereo system, which plays tapes tape measure /'teɪp ,meʒə/ noun a measuring tape, a long strip marked in centimetres or inches, used for measuring taper /'teɪpə/ noun a long thin candle, made of a wick covered with a thin layer of wax ○ If you have a lot of candles to light, use a taper rather than wasting matches. ■ verb 1. to make something thinner at the end ○ You will need to taper the piece of wood to make it fit into the hole. 2. to become thinner at the end ○ Her new shoes taper to a point. □ to taper off to become less thick, strong, large, etc. ○ The fuss about the minister's wife seems to have tapered off.

tape-recorder /'teɪp rɪ,kɔ:də/ noun a machine which is used to record sounds on magnetic tape and which can play back what has been recorded tapestry /'tæpɪstri/ noun 1. a thick woven cloth with a picture or design, usually hung on walls or used to cover chairs ○ The walls were hung with tapestries. 2. □ the rich tapestry of life life in all its varied forms (humorous) ○ Being made manager one week and being switched back to your old job the next is all part of the rich tapestry of life in this office.

tap water /'tæp ,wɔ:tə/ noun water which comes through pipes into a building

tar /tɑ:/ noun 1. a thick hard black substance which comes from coal and is melted to make road surfaces ○ They were spreading tar and sand on the road. ○ They spread a coating of tar on the roof to waterproof it. 2. a similar black oily substance which comes from burning tobacco ○ cigarettes with low tar content or low tar cigarettes ■ verb to cover with melted tar ○ a special machine for tarring roads (NOTE: tarring – tarred) tarantula /tə'ræntjʊlə/ noun a large mildly poisonous tropical spider tardy /'tɑ:di/ adj late. Antonym punctual (NOTE: tardier – tardiest)

② target /'tɑ:git/ noun 1. an object which you aim at e.g. with a gun ○ His last shot missed the target altogether. ○ She hit the target three times in all. 2. a goal which you try to reach □ to set targets to fix quantities of work which employees have to produce □ to meet a target to produce the quantity of goods or sales which is expected ○ We need to set targets for our sales staff to meet. □ to miss a target not to produce the amount of goods or sales which is expected ○ The factory missed its production targets again this year. ■ verb to aim at customers or possible markets ○ The advertising campaign is targeting the student market.

tariff /'tærɪf/ noun 1. a tax to be paid for importing or exporting goods □ to impose a tariff on something to make a tax payable when you buy something □ to lift tariff barriers to reduce import taxes 2. a list of prices for things such as electricity, gas or water ○ The new winter tariff will be introduced next week.

Tarmac trademark a trademark for a hard road surface made of tar mixed with small stones ○ The sun was so hot, the Tarmac was starting to melt. ■ noun /'tɑ:mæk/ the areas of an airport covered with Tarmac, especially a runway ○ The snow ploughs were working flat out to clear the snow from the Tarmac.

tarnish /'ta:nɪʃ/ verb 1. (of metal) to become discoloured ○ Silver tarnishes easily on contact with the air. 2. to ruin a reputation ○ The sex scandal has irreparably tarnished his reputation as a politician.

tarot /'tærəʊ/ noun a special set of cards with pictures on them, such as the Emperor, the Pope, the Hanged Man and the Fool, used in telling fortunes tarpon /tɑ:'pɔ:lin/ noun a piece of thick waterproof canvas, used to cover things left outside tart /tɑ:t/ noun 1. a small pie with a sweet filling ○ an apple tart 2. a prostitute (offensive) ■ adj 1. bitter, sour ○ These apples are very tart. 2. sharp and sarcastic ○ He gave her a tart reply. (NOTE: tarter – tarpest) ■ verb □ to tart something up to make something look smarter, but in a tasteless way (informal) ○ The new management has tarted up the restaurant and increased all the prices.

tartan /'tɑ:t(ə)n/ noun 1. a cloth woven into a special pattern for one of the Scottish clans ○ She wore a tartan kilt. ○ a tartan rug 2. a distinctive pattern in such a cloth, worn by members of a Scottish clan ○ My Scottish grandmother gave me a rug with the Mackay tartan on it or a Mackay tartan rug.

① task /tɑ:sk/ noun 1. a job of work which has to be done ○ There are many tasks which need to be done in the garden. ○ He had the unpleasant task of telling his mother about it.

2. □ to take someone to task for to criticise someone for something ○ She took him to task for not cleaning the bathroom.

taskbar /'tɑ:sk,ba:/ noun a display on a computer screen with symbols showing which programs are open and operating task force /'tɑ:sk fo:s/ noun a special group of people chosen to carry out a difficult task tassel /'tæs(ə)l/ noun a group of threads tied together to form a ball, with the ends hanging free

② taste /tɛst/ noun 1. one of the five senses, by which you can tell differences of flavour between things you eat, using your tongue ○ I've got a cold, so I've lost all sense of taste. 2. a flavour of something that you eat or drink ○ The pudding has a funny or strange taste. ○ Do you like the taste of garlic? ○ This milk shake has no taste at all. 3. being able to appreciate things that are beautiful ○ My taste in music is quite different from hers. ○ I don't share his taste for bright green shirts. ○ She showed great taste in furnishing her dining room. □ to someone's taste what someone likes ○ Modern jazz is not to everyone's taste. □ she has very expensive tastes she likes buying expensive things 4. an experience of something that you are not used to ○ This is a taste of what the country will be like under the new ruler. □ he's had a taste of prison he has been in prison once ■ verb 1. to notice the taste of something with your tongue ○ Can you taste the onions in this soup? ○ She's got a cold so she can't taste anything. 2. to have a certain taste ○ This cake tastes of soap. ○ What is this green stuff? – It tastes like cabbage. ○ The pudding tastes very good. 3. to try food or drink to see if you like it ○ Would you like to taste the wine? ○ She asked if she could taste the cheese before buying it.

taste buds /'tɛst bʌdz/ plural noun areas on your tongue which enable you to tell differences in flavour tasteful /'tɛstf(ə)l/ adj showing good taste. Synonym discerning tasteless /'tɛstləs/ adj 1. with no special flavour ○ Chicken can be quite tasteless unless you add herbs to it. 2. showing bad taste ○ a restaurant with tasteless decorations ○ She made a tasteless remark about her mother's dress.

taster /'tɛstə/ noun 1. a person whose job is to taste food to test its quality ○ He likes his job as a food taster with a big supermarket.

ket. 2. a short experience of something so you can decide if you like it ○ a weekend taster course learning yoga tasty /'te:sti/ adj with a specially pleasant taste. Synonym delicious (NOTE: tastier – tastiest) ta-ta /tæ':ta:/ interj goodbye (informal) tattered /'tæ:təd/ adj torn and old tatters □ in tatters 1. torn ○ His shirt was in tatters. 2. wearing old torn clothes ○ The children were in tatters.

tattoo /tæ:t'u:/ noun 1. a decoration on skin made by pricking with a needle and putting colour into the wound ○ She has a little tattoo of a rose on her left shoulder. 2. a military parade ○ Crowds went to see the tattoo last night. ■ verb to make decorations on someone's skin by pricking it and putting colour into the wound ○ She has had a little rose tattooed on her left shoulder.

tatty /'tæ:ti/ adj worn out, in bad condition

③ taught /tɔ:t/ □ teach

taunt /tɔ:nt/ noun a sarcastic jeering ○ She disregarded the taunts of the crowd. Synonym insult ■ verb to jeer at someone sarcastically ○ He taunted the minister with or about his financial problems. Synonym mock ▶ Antonym (all senses) compliment

Taurus /'tɔ:rəs/ noun one of the signs of the Zodiac, shaped like a bull, covering the period 20th April to 20th May taut /tɔ:t/ adj stretched tight tauton /'tɔ:t(ə)n/ verb 1. to stretch tight ○ You must taunt the canvas on the frame before you start to paint. 2. to become tight ○ The ropes tautened as they became wet.

tautology /tɔ:t'ɒlədʒi/ noun using different words which mean the same thing in the same sentence tavern /'tæv(ə)n/ noun a public house, a place where people can go to drink alcohol (archaic) Synonym inn tawdry /'tɔ:drɪ/ adj cheap and in bad taste. Antonym tasteful (NOTE: tawdrier – tawdriest)

tawny /'tɔ:ni/ adj orange brown (NOTE: tawnier – tawniest)

① tax /tæks/ noun 1. money taken by the government from things such as people's incomes and sales, to pay for government services ○ The government is planning to introduce a tax on food. ○ You must pay your tax on the correct date. ○ The newspaper headline says 'TAXES TO GO UP'. 2. □ exclusive of tax not including tax □ inclusive of tax including tax ○ All prices are shown inclusive of value added tax. ■ verb 1. to put a tax on something or someone ○ Income is taxed at 25%. 2. to pay tax on something ○ He had forgotten to tax his car. ○ The car is for sale, taxed till next April. 3. to demand a great deal ○ Moving all this furniture taxed her strength. 4. □ to tax someone with something to accuse someone of doing something (formal) ○ She taxed him with neglecting her.

taxable /'tæksəb(ə)l/ adj which you have to pay tax on

③ taxation /tæk'seɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the action of imposing taxes

tax evasion /'tæks ɪ'veɪʒ(ə)n/ noun illegally trying not to pay tax

③ taxis /'tæksɪs/ noun a car which you can hire with a driver ○ Can you call a taxi to take me to the airport? ○ Why aren't there any taxis at the station today? ○ There are no buses on Sunday afternoons, so we had to take a taxi to the party. (NOTE: also often called a cab and sometimes taxicab) ■ verb (of an aircraft) to go slowly along the ground before taking off or after landing ○ The aircraft taxied out onto the runway.

taxicab /'tæksɪkæb/ □ taxis taxis driver /'tæksi 'draɪvə/ noun a person who drives a taxi taxing /'tæksɪŋ/ adj making you use a lot of energy taxi rank /'tæksi ræŋk/ noun a place in the street where taxis can wait taxpayer /'tækspeɪə/ noun a person who pays tax, especially income tax tax return /'tæks rɪ,tɜ:n/ noun a form to be filled in to inform the tax office of your earnings and allowances

TB abbr tuberculosis ○ Outbreaks of TB have started to reappear in Europe.

① tea /ti:/ noun 1. a drink made from hot water which has been poured onto the dried leaves of a tropical plant ○ Can I have another cup of tea or some more tea? ○ I don't like tea – can I have coffee instead? 2. a cup of tea ○ Can we have two teas and two cakes, please? 3. the dried leaves of a tropical plant used to make a warm drink ○ We've run out of tea, can you put it on your shopping list? ○ Put a spoonful of tea into the pot and add boiling water. 4. dried leaves or flowers of other plants, used to make a drink ○ I'll have a cup of peppermint tea. 5. a meal eaten in the late afternoon or early evening ○ The children have had their tea.

teabag /'ti:bæg/, tea bag noun a small paper bag with tea leaves in it which you put into the pot with hot water tea break /'ti: breɪk/ noun a rest period at work, when you can have a drink

① teach /tɪ:tʃ/ verb 1. to give lessons, to show someone how to do something ○ She taught me how to dance. ○ He teaches maths in the local school. ○ She taught herself to type. ○ Who taught her to swim? 2. □ to teach someone a lesson to punish someone for doing something wrong (informal) ○ I locked up her bike – it will teach her a lesson for going out when she should be doing her homework. □ that'll teach you that will be a punishment for you ○ That'll teach you not to forget to do the washing up.

① teacher /'tɪ:tʃə/ noun a person who teaches, especially in a school ○ Mr Jones is our maths teacher. ○ The French teacher is ill today. ○ He trained as a primary school teacher. □ pet. Synonym instructor

① teaching /'tɪ:tʃɪŋ/ noun the work of being a teacher or of giving lessons ○ The report praised the high standard of teaching at the college. ○ He was working in a bank, but has decided to go into teaching instead. □ the teaching profession all teachers, taken as a group ○ The teaching profession is often blamed by parents if their children do badly at school.

teachings /'tɪ:tʃɪŋz/ plural noun political or moral ideas which are taught teacloth /'ti:kloθ/ noun a cloth which you use for drying things that have been washed, such as plates and dishes teacup /'ti:kæp/ noun a cup for drinking tea out of □ a storm in a teacup a lot of fuss about something which is not important (informal) teak /ti:k/ noun 1. the hard wood of a tropical tree, which is resistant to water, and is used for making things such as outdoor furniture ○ We bought some teak furniture for the patio. ○ The table is solid teak. 2. the large tropical tree which produces this wood ○ the teak forests of Indonesia

① team /ti:m/ noun 1. a group of people who play a game together ○ There are eleven people in a football team and fifteen in a rugby team. ○ He's a fan of the local football team. ○ Our college team played badly last Saturday. 2. a group of people who work together ○ They make a very effective team. ○ In this job you have to be able to work as a member of a team. ■ verb □ to team up with someone to join someone in order to work together ○ I teamed up with George to tackle the German project.

team-mate /ti:mmeɪt/ noun someone in the same team as you team spirit /ti:m 'spɪrɪt/ noun a feeling of loyalty to the team on the part of those who play or work together teamwork /ti:mwɜ:k/ noun working together as a group. Synonym cooperation teapot /'ti:pɒt/ noun a pot which is used for making tea in

② tear noun 1. /tɪə/ a drop of salt water which forms in your eye when you cry ○ Tears were running down her cheeks. □ in tears crying ○ All the family were in tears. □ she burst into tears she suddenly started crying 2. /tɪə/ a place where something has a hole in it from being torn ○ Can you mend the tear in my jeans? ▶ wear and tear ■ verb/təʊə/ 1. to make a hole in something by pulling ○ He tore his trousers climbing over the fence. ○ My anorak is torn – can it be mended? 2. to pull something into pieces ○ He tore the letter in half. ○ She tore up old newspapers to pack the cups and saucers. □ that's torn it that has ruined what we were planning, that has spoilt everything (informal) ○ That's torn it – there's a policeman coming! 3. to go very fast ○ He tore across the platform, but just missed his train. ○ She grabbed the dress and tore out of the shop. (NOTE: tearing – tore /tɔ:/ - torn /tɔ:n/) tear apart /,teər ə'pa:t/ verb to pull something to pieces

tear down /,teə 'daʊn/ verb 1. to knock something down ○ They tore down the old town hall and replaced it with a supermarket. 2. to remove a piece of paper or cloth which is hanging up ○ The crowd tore down the pictures of the president. ○ The police tore down the opposition party's election posters.

tearful /'tɪəf(ə)l/ adj sad, crying tear gas /'tɪə gæs/ noun gas which makes your eyes burn, used by police to control crowds tease /ti:z/ verb to say or do something to annoy someone on purpose ○ He teased her about her thick glasses. ○ Stop teasing that poor cat. ■ noun a person who teases people ○ He's such a tease. Synonym joker teaspoon /'ti:spu:n/ noun 1. a small spoon for stirring tea or other liquid ○ Can you bring me a teaspoon, please? 2. the amount contained in a teaspoon ○ I take one teaspoon of sugar in my coffee.

teat /ti:t/ noun 1. a rubber cap on a baby's feeding bottle through which the baby sucks milk ○ The baby's bottle and teat should be sterilised before each feed. (NOTE: Another US term is nipple.) 2. a nipple on a cow's udder through which the calf drinks milk ○ A cow is milked by squeezing and pulling on the teats.

tea towel /'ti: ,tauəl/ noun a cloth which you use for drying plates and dishes tech /tek/ noun a technical college, a further education college for older students and adults (informal) techie /'teki/ noun a person who understands the more technical aspects of things such as computers (informal)

② technical /'tekni:k(ə)l/ adj referring to industrial processes or practical work ○ Don't bother with the technical details of how the machine works, just tell me what it does. ○ The instructions are too technical for the ordinary person to understand.

technicality /,tekni'kæliti/ noun a little, usually unimportant, detail which relates to something

③ technically /'tekni:kli/ adv 1. in a technical way ○ It's technically possible to make a light bulb that would never wear out. 2. □ technically (speaking) according to the exact meaning or rules ○ Technically, he isn't a member of the club because he hasn't paid this year's subscription.

technician /tek'nɪʃ(ə)n/ noun a person who is a specialist in a particular area of industry or science

① technique /tek'nɪ:k/ noun a way of doing something ○ He developed a new technique for processing steel. ○ She has a specially effective technique for dealing with complaints from customers. Synonym method techno /'teknoʊ/ noun a type of fast dance music using electronic instruments

③ technological /,tekno'lɒdʒɪk(ə)l/ adj referring to technology. Synonym technical

① technology /tek'nɒlədʒi/ noun the use or study of industrial or scientific skills ○ We already have the technology to produce such a machine. ○ The government has promised increased investment in science and technology. □ the introduction of new technology putting new electronic equipment into a business or industry. ▶ high technology, information technology teddy bear /'tedi 'beə/ noun 1. a child's toy bear ○ The little boy was clutching his old teddy bear. (NOTE: The plural is teddies.)

tedious /'ti:diəs/ adj boring. Antonym interesting tediously /'ti:diəsli/ adv in a tedious way tedium /'ti:diəm/ noun boredom, being bored tee /ti:/ noun 1. a raised grass area on a golf course where the ball is placed when you begin to play each hole ○ He is walking towards the sixteenth tee. 2. a little peg which is pushed into ground, on which the golf ball is placed to start playing a hole ○ The ground is so hard I can hardly stick my tee in. ■ verb □ to tee off to hit the ball from a tee ○ At what time do we tee off?

teem /ti:m/ verb 1. to be full of something ○ In spring the rivers are teeming with salmon. ○ Oxford Street was teeming with shoppers. 2. □ it's teeming (down) it's pouring with rain (informal) teen /ti:n/ noun an informal word for a teenager teenage /'ti:nɪdʒ/ adj referring to young people aged between 13 and 19 ○ the teenage years ○ The teenage market for their records is enormous.

teenaged adj aged between 13 and 19 ○ He has two teenaged daughters. (NOTE: only used before a noun)

③ teenager /'ti:nɪdʒə/ noun a young person aged between 13 and 19 ○ Most of the people who come to the club are teenagers. Synonym adolescent teens /'ti:nz/ plural noun the age between 13 and 19. Synonym adolescence teeny /'ti:nɪ/ adj very small (informal) Synonym tiny. Antonym enormous teeny-bopper /'ti:nɪ bɒpə/ noun a teenage girl pop fan (informal) teeny-weeny /'ti:nɪ 'wi:nɪ/ adj extremely small (informal)

③ teeshirt /'ti:ʃɜ:t/, T-shirt noun a light shirt with no buttons or collar, usually with short sleeves teeter /'ti:tə/ verb to wobble, to be very unstable. Synonym totter

② teeth /'ti:θ/ ♀ tooth

teethe /'ti:θ/ verb (of a baby) to have the first teeth starting to grow ○ The baby wakes up at night because he is teething.

teething problems /'ti:θɪŋ ,prɒbləmz/, teething troubles /'ti:θɪŋ ,trʌb(ə)lz/ plural noun problems which happen when a new process or system is being introduced ○ We are experiencing some teething problems with the new software system.

teetotal /'ti:tɔ:təl/ adj who never drinks alcohol teetotaller /ti:tɔ:tələ/ noun a person who never drinks alcohol (NOTE: The US spelling is teetotaler.)

TEFL abbr teaching of English as a foreign language

Teflon /'teflən/ trademark a trademark for a non-stick surface used on cooking pans tel abbr telephone

tele- /'telɪ/ prefix over a distance telecommunications /'telɪkəmju:nɪ'keɪʃ(ə)nz/ plural noun a communication system using e.g. telephone, radio, TV, satellites ○ Thanks to modern telecommunications, the information can be sent to our office in Japan in seconds. (NOTE: also shortened to telecoms /'telɪkɒmz/) telecommuter /'telɪkəmju:tə/ noun a person who works from home, using email and telephone as their main means of communicating with the company they work for teleconference /'telɪ,kɒnf(ə)rəns/ noun a meeting held by people in different places using telephone and television telegram /'telɪgræm/ noun a message sent by telegraph telegraph /'telɪgra:f/ noun a system of sending messages along wires ○ The order telling him to return home was sent by telegraph. ■ verb to send someone a message by telegraph ○ They telegraphed him to tell him to return immediately. ○ Can you telegraph the money to our office in Australia?

telegraph pole /'telɪgra:f pəʊl/ noun a pole which holds up a telephone line telemarketing /'telɪ,ma:kɪtɪŋ/ noun the activity of selling goods and services by telephone telepathic /,telɪ'pæθɪk/ adj 1. referring to telepathy ○ She said she could receive telepathic messages from members of the audience. 2. appearing to know what other people are thinking ○ How did you know I like yellow roses – You must be telepathic!

telepathy /tə'lepəθi/ noun sending thoughts or mental images from one person to another without using the senses

① telephone /'telɪfən/ noun a machine which you use to speak to someone who is some distance away ○ I was in the garden when you called, but by the time I got to the house the telephone had stopped ringing. ○ She lifted the telephone and called the ambulance. □ to answer the telephone to lift the receiver when the phone rings and listen to what the caller is saying ○ Can't someone answer the telephone – it's been ringing and ringing. □ by telephone using the telephone ○ He booked his plane ticket by telephone. ○ She reserved a table by telephone. ■ verb to call someone using a telephone ○ Your wife telephoned when you were out. ○ Can you telephone me at ten o'clock tomorrow evening? ○ I need to telephone our office in New York. (NOTE: Telephone is often shortened to phone: phone call, phone book, but not in the expressions telephone switchboard, telephone operator, telephone exchange.) telephone box /'telɪfən bɒks/ noun a shelter with windows round it containing a public telephone (NOTE: often shortened to phone box)

telephone directory /'telɪfən daɪ,rekɪt(ə)ri/ noun a book which lists names of people and businesses in alphabetical order with their phone numbers and addresses telephone exchange /'telɪfən ɪks,tʃeɪndʒ/ noun a central telephone switchboard telephone number /'telɪfən ,nʌmbə/ noun the number of a particular telephone (NOTE: often shortened to phone number) telesales /'telɪ,seɪlz/ noun same as telemarketing telescope /'telɪskəp/ noun a tube with a series of lenses for looking at objects which are very far away ○ With a telescope you can see the ships very clearly. ○ He discovered a comet using the telescope in his back garden. ■ verb to push the ends of something together, so that one piece slides into another ○

In the crash, several of the carriages of the express train were telescoped.

telescopic /telɪskɒpɪk/ adj 1. referring to a telescope ○ A sniper's rifle has telescopic sights. 2. with parts which slide together like a telescope ○ The radio has a telescopic aerial. ○ A telescopic umbrella should be small enough to fit into your bag.

televise /telɪvaɪz/ verb to broadcast something by television □ the show is being televised live the show is being broadcast as it takes place, and not recorded and broadcast later

① television /telɪ'veɪʒ(ə)n/ noun 1. sound and pictures which are sent through the air or along cables and appear on a special machine ○ We don't watch television every night – some nights we go to the pub. ○ Is there any football on television tonight? ○ Saturday evening television programmes are never very interesting. ○ He stayed in his room all evening, watching television. 2. a piece of electrical equipment which shows television pictures ○ We can't watch anything – our television has broken down. ○ Switch off the television – that programme's stupid. ○ When my husband comes home in the evening he just pours himself a beer, turns on the television and goes to sleep. (NOTE: Television is often written or spoken as TV /'ti:vi:z/.)

teleworker /'telɪwɜ:kə/ noun a person who works from home, using telephone and email as their principal way of communicating with the company they work for

① tell /tel/ verb 1. to communicate something to someone, e.g. a story or a joke ○ She told me a long story about how she got lost in London. ○ I don't think they are telling the truth. 2. to give information to someone ○ The policeman told them how to get to the post office. ○ He told the police that he had seen the accident take place. ○ Don't tell my mother you saw me at the pub. ○ Nobody told us about the picnic. 3. □ to tell someone what to do to give someone instructions ○ The teacher told the children to stand in a line. ○ Give a shout to tell us when to start. 4. to notice something ○ He can't tell the difference between butter and margarine. ○ You can tell he is embarrassed when his face goes red. 5. □ to tell the time to be able to read the time from a clock ○ He's only three, but he can already tell the time. (NOTE: telling – told) teller /'telər/ noun 1. a clerk in a bank who takes in money or pays it out to customers ○ The teller told me that I couldn't cash the cheque. 2. a member of parliament who counts votes in the House of Commons telling /'telɪŋ/ adj which has a certain effect tellingly /'telɪŋli/ adv in a telling way

③ tell off /tel 'ɒf/ verb to speak to someone angrily about something wrong he or she has done (informal) Synonym reprimand telltale /'telteɪl/ adj which shows something. Synonym revealing telly /'telɪ/ noun a television (informal) temerity /'tə'merɪtɪ/ noun audacity; daring to do something. Antonym reticence

temp /temp/ noun ○ We have two temps working in the office this week. ■ verb to work as a temp ○ She has done some temping jobs. ○ I'm temping for the moment until I can find something permanent.

temper /'tempər/ noun 1. the state of becoming angry ○ You have to learn to control your temper. ○ He has a violent temper. ○ She got into a temper. 2. a particular mood or state of mind ○ What sort of temper is the boss in this morning? □ he lost his temper he became very angry □ she tried to keep her temper she tried to stay calm and not get angry ■ verb 1. □ to temper something (with something) to make something have a less harsh effect (formal) ○ We try to temper the strict prison regime with sports and other recreational activities. 2. to make a metal hard by heating and cooling ○ a tempered steel blade temperament /'temprəmənt/ noun the nature of a person temperamental /,temprə'ment(ə)l/ adj

1. likely to have bad moods, likely to be in a bad temper for no particular reason ○ The chef has a reputation for being temperamental. 2. likely to break down (humorous) ○ Our washing machine's a bit temperamental.

temperate /'temp(ə)rət/ adj 1. which is neither very hot nor very cold ○ The temperate forests of northern Europe have been badly affected by acid rain. 2. sober, not given to drinking much alcohol ○ He's a man of temperate habits and would be ideally suited to the post of church caretaker.

② temperature /'tempɪrətʃə/ noun 1. heat measured in degrees ○ The temperature of water in the swimming pool is 25°. ○ Temperatures in the Arctic can be very low. ○ I can't start the car when the temperature is below zero. ○ Put the thermometer in the patient's mouth – I want to take her temperature. 2. an illness where your body is hotter than normal ○ She's off work with a temperature. ○ The doctor says he's got a temperature and has to stay in bed.

-tempered /'tempəd/ suffix having a certain temper tempest /'tempɪst/ noun a big storm (literary) Antonym calm □ a tempest in a teacup US a lot of fuss about something which is not important (informal) tempestuous /'tem'pestjuəs/ adj with strong emotions being displayed template /'tem,pleɪt/ noun something that is used as a pattern to make other similar things temple /'tempəl/ noun 1. a building for worship, usually Hindu or Buddhist, or ancient Greek or Roman ○ We visited the Greek temples on the islands. 2. the flat part of the side of the head between the top of the ear and the eye ○ He had a bruise on his right temple.

tempo /'tempəʊ/ noun 1. a rhythm or the beat of music ○ The tempo of the band speeded up as midnight approached. 2. the speed at which something happens ○ He found it difficult to keep up with the tempo of life in the City. (NOTE: The plural is tempos, or tempi /'tempi:/ for music.)

temporarily /,temp(ə)'rərəli/ adv for a short time only

② temporary /'temp(ə)rərɪ/ adj which is not permanent, only lasting a short time ○ She has a temporary job with a construction company. ○ This arrangement is only temporary. Antonym permanent □ I'm looking for temporary employment I'm looking for work which does not last for more than a few months

③ tempt /'tempt/ verb 1. to try to persuade someone to do something, especially something pleasant or wrong ○ Can I tempt you to have another cream cake? ○ They tried to tempt him to leave his job and work for them. 2. □ to be tempted to do something to feel like doing something ○ He was tempted to send the food back to the kitchen. ○ I am tempted to accept their offer.

temptation /temp'teɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. the state of being tempted 2. something which attracts people ○ Putting chocolates near the cash desk is just a temptation for little children.

tempting /'temptɪŋ/ adj which attracts. Synonym alluring

① ten /ten/ noun the number 10 ○ In the market they're selling ten oranges for two dollars. ○ She's ten (years old) next week. ○ The next plane for Paris leaves at 10 (o'clock) in the evening. ■ □ ten to one very likely (informal) ○ Ten to one he finds out about the payment. ■ noun a £10 note ○ He gave me two twenties and a ten.

tenable /'tenəb(ə)l/ adj which can be held or supported. Antonym untenable tenacious /'tɪ'nɛʃəs/ adj 1. holding on tightly to something, determined to have your own way ○ We have to deal with several very tenacious tenants. 2. holding on to an idea tightly ○ her tenacious belief in socialist principles tenaciously /'tɪ'nɛʃəsli/ adv in a tenacious way tenacity /tɪ'næsɪti/ noun being determined to do something tenancy /'tenənsi/ noun a period during which a tenant has an agreement to rent a property. Synonym occupancy tenant /'tenənt/ noun a person or company that rents e.g. a room, a flat, a house, an office or land, in which to live or work

① tend /tend/ verb 1. to look after something ○ His job is to tend the flower beds in front of the town hall. 2. □ to tend to do something to be likely to do something ○ She tends to lose her temper very easily.

③ tendency /'tendənsi/ noun the way in which someone or something is likely to act ○ The photocopier has a tendency to break down if you try to do too many copies at the same time. ○ He has an unfortunate tendency to sit in a corner and go to sleep at parties.

tender /'tendər/ adj 1. (of food) easy to cut or chew ○ a plate of tender young beans ○ The meat was so tender, you hardly needed a knife to cut it. 2. delicate, easily damaged ○ The baby has very tender skin. 3. showing love ○ The plants need a lot of tender loving care. 4. which cannot stand frost ○ Keep tender seedlings in the greenhouse until June. 5. painful when touched □ you've touched him on a tender spot you have mentioned something which he gets very upset about (informal) ■ noun 1. an offer to do something at a certain price □ to put in or submit a tender for a job to offer to do work at a certain price 2. a boat which brings supplies to a large ship 3. a coal wagon attached to a steam engine ■ verb 1. □ to tender for a job to offer to do work at a certain price ○ The company is tendering for a construction job in Saudi Arabia. □ to tender one's resignation to inform one's employer of one's wish to leave one's job, formally, in writing ○ The employee has tendered his resignation. 2. to offer money ○ Please tender the correct fare.

tenderhearted /,tendə'hæ:tɪd/ adj kind to others tenderly /'tendəli/ adv gently; with kindness tendon /'tendən/ noun a piece of strong tissue which attaches a muscle to a bone tenement /'tenəmənt/ noun a large old building which is divided into flats tenet /'tenɪt/ noun a basic principle or belief tender /'tenər/ noun a ten pound note (informal) tennis /'tenɪs/ noun a game for two or four players who use rackets to hit a ball over a net ○ He's joined the local tennis club. ○ Would you like a game of tennis? ○ I won the last two tennis matches I played. ○ Tennis players have to be fit.

tenor /'tenə/ noun 1. a man who sings with the highest male voice ○ The tenors start the song, followed by the sopranos. 2. a general mood or attitude ○ We were upset by the threatening tenor of his speech. 3. the general way of doing something ○ the dangerous tenor of life in the refugee camps ■ adj with a high pitch, similar to that of a tenor ○ He plays the tenor saxophone. ○ He has a pleasant tenor voice.

ten-pin bowling /'ten pin 'bəʊliŋ/ noun a game where you roll a large ball and try to knock down ten targets, shaped like bottles
② tense /tens/ adj nervous and worried ○ I always get tense before going to an interview. ○ The atmosphere in the hall was tense as everyone waited for the result of the vote. (NOTE: tenser – tensest) ■ noun the form of a verb which shows the time when the action takes place ■ verb to become nervous and worried ○ He tensed suddenly, as he heard a footprint outside.

② tension /'tenʃən/ noun 1. a state of nervous anxiety ○ Tension built up as we waited for the result. 2. a state of hostility between countries or races ○ There is tension in the area caused by fighting between tribes. 3. the state of being tight ○ You need to adjust the tension in your tennis racket. 4. voltage ○ high-tension cables tent /tent/ noun a shelter made of cloth, held up by poles and attached to the ground with ropes □ to pitch a tent to put up a tent ○ We pitched our tent in a field by a little mountain stream.

tentacle /'tentək(ə)l/ noun a long arm with suckers, such as that of an octopus tentative /'tentətɪv/ adj 1. which has been suggested but not accepted 2. done in an uncertain way because you are not sure what will happen □ I made a tentative proposal I made a proposal in order to find out what the response would be ○ We put forward a tentative proposal for the committee to consider.

tentatively /'tentətɪvli/ adv in a tentative way tenterhooks /'tentəhɔks/ plural noun □ on tenterhooks impatiently waiting, anxious and uncertain

① tenth /tenθ/ adj, noun referring to 10 ○ The tenth of April or April the tenth (April 10th). ○ That's the tenth phone call I've had this morning. ○ We spend a tenth of our income on food. □ the tenth century the period from 900 to 999 tenuous /'tenjuəs/ adj not strong, very slight. Antonym convincing tenure /'tenjə/ noun 1. a right to hold property or a position ○ Freehold farmers have tenure of their land. 2. a period when you hold an office ○ during his tenure as honorary secretary 3. (in a college or university) a right to hold a job permanently ○ He's on a contract but hopes to get tenure next year.

tepid /'tepid/ adj 1. slightly warm ○ There was no hot water left so my bath was only tepid. ○ There's only a bit of coffee left in your mug and it's probably tepid. 2. not very enthusiastic ○ His tepid reaction to my great plan disappointed me. Synonym lukewarm tequila /tʃi'ki:lə/ noun a strong Mexican alcoholic drink

① term /tɜ:m/ noun 1. an official length of time ○ His term as President was marked by a lot of disagreement. ○ She was sent to prison for a term of three years. □ in the long term for a long period from now □ in the short term for a short period from now ○ In the long term, this investment should be very profitable. 2. one of the parts of a school or university year ○ A school year has three terms: autumn, spring and summer. ○ Cricket is played during the summer term only, and football in both the autumn and spring terms. ○ The autumn term ends on December 15th. ○ Next term I'll be starting to learn the piano. 3. a word or phrase which has a particular meaning ○ He used several technical terms which I didn't understand. ○ Some people use 'darling' as a term of affection. 4. ♀ terms ■ verb to refer to something by a specific word ○ You say it is acceptable behaviour – I would term it a disgrace.

terminal /tɜ:min(ə)l/ adj 1. in the last period of a fatal illness ○ He has terminal cancer. 2. at the end ○ a terminal leaf ■ noun 1. a building at an airport where planes arrive or depart ○ The flight leaves from Terminal 4. 2. a building where you end a journey terminally /tɜ:min(ə)li/ adv at the end of something □ terminally ill in the last stages of an illness before death. Synonym fatally terminate /tɜ:mineɪt/ verb to finish something, to end something. Synonym end termination /tɜ:mi'neɪʃ(ə)n/ noun bringing something to an end (formal) Synonym end terminological /tɜ:minə'lɒdʒɪk(ə)l/ adj referring to specialist terms

③ terminology /tɜ:mi'nɒlədʒi/ noun specialist words or phrases used in a particular field. Synonym terms terminus /tɜ:minəs/ noun 1. a station at the end of a railway line ○ Waterloo Station is the terminus for Eurostar trains from Paris and Brussels. 2. the place at the end of a journey by bus or coach ○ We got off two stops before the terminus. (NOTE: The plural is termini /tɜ:minɪ/.)

termite /tɜ:maɪt/ noun a tropical white insect, like a large ant, which eats wood term of abuse /tɜ:m əv ə'bju:s/ noun a rude word

① terms /tɜːmz/ plural noun 1. conditions which are agreed before something else is done ○ We bought the shop on very favourable terms. ○ What are the terms of the agreement? □ to come to terms to reach an agreement ○ When it became obvious that neither side would win, they came to terms. □ to come to terms with something to accept that something has happened and cannot be changed ○ It took him some time to come to terms with the fact that he would never walk again. 2. a way of getting on with someone ○ They're on bad terms with the people next door. ○ The company is on good terms with all its suppliers. □ they're not on speaking terms they refuse to talk to each other □ in terms of 1. expressed as ○ How much is 5% per month in terms of an annual percentage rate? □ we are talking in terms of a salary plus bonuses the job is offered with a salary plus bonuses 2. as regards terms of reference /,tɜːmz əv 'ref(ə)rəns/ plural noun areas which a committee has to examine or discuss ③ terrace /'terəs/ noun 1. a flat area with a stone or tiled floor, which is raised above another area ○ The guests had drinks on the terrace before going in to dinner. 2. a row of similar houses connected together ○ They live in an early 19th-century terrace in Islington. 3. a flat field cut out of the side of a hill ○ Farmers make terraces for their rice paddies.

terraced /'terəst/ adj made into a flat raised area ○ The sides of the valley are terraced to form small rice fields.

terraces /'terəsɪz/ plural noun rows of wide steps in a sports stadium on which the spectators stand terracing /'terəsɪŋ/ noun the act of building earth terraces on the side of a mountain, to create small flat fields terracotta /,terə'kɒtə/ noun 1. a red clay used to make little statues, pots and tiles ○ Terracotta flowerpots can crack in very cold weather. 2. a dull red brown colour ○ She brightened up her fence by painting it in blue and terracotta. 3. a statue made of red clay ○ a display of Greek terracottas terrain /tə'reɪn/ noun a particular type of land surface terrestrial /tə'restrɪəl/ adj 1. referring to the planet Earth □ terrestrial TV (channels) TV channels which use cable or radio links, but not satellites. Compare lunar, solar, stellar 2. (of an animal or plant) which lives on land, not in water ○ Mice and rats are terrestrial animals. (NOTE: Animals and plants that live in water are aquatic.)

① terrible /'terib(ə)l/ adj 1. very bad ○ We shouldn't have come to this party – the music's terrible. ○ There was a terrible storm last night. 2. frightening ○ It must have been terrible to be in the car which plunged into the river.

② terribly /'teriblɪ/ adv 1. very ○ I'm terribly sorry to have kept you waiting. ○ The situation is terribly serious. Synonym extremely. Antonym slightly 2. in a very bad way ○ The peasant farmers suffered terribly from drought.

terrier /'teriə/ noun a small dog, originally one used in hunting

③ terrific /tə'rɪfɪk/ adj 1. wonderful ○ We had a terrific time at the party. 2. very big or loud ○ There was a terrific bang and the whole building collapsed.

terrifically /tə'rɪfɪklɪ/ adv extremely. Synonym very. Antonym slightly terrified /'terifɪəd/ adj very frightened terrify /'terifɪəf/ verb to make someone very frightened. Antonym comfort terrifying /'terifɪŋ/ adj very frightening. Antonym reassuring territorial /,terɪ'tɔːriəl/ adj referring to territory territorial waters /,terɪ'tɔːriəl 'wɔːtəz/ plural noun sea waters near the coast of a country, which are part of that country and which are governed by the laws of that country terrorism /'terorɪz(ə)m/ noun a policy of using violence in a political cause ○ Acts of terrorism continued during the whole summer. ○ The government has said that it will not give in to terrorism. Synonym intimidation terrorist /'terorɪst/ noun a person who practises terrorism ○ Terrorists hijacked a plane and told the pilot to fly to Rome. ■ adj referring to terrorism ○ Terrorist attacks have increased over the last few weeks.

② territory /'terɪt(ə)ri/ noun 1. a large stretch of land ○ *They occupied all the territory on the east bank of the river. 2. land which belongs to a country ○ *A group of soldiers had wandered into enemy territory. 3. an area visited by a salesperson ○ *His territory covers all the north of the country. 4. an area which an animal or bird thinks belongs only to it ○ Animals often fight to defend their territories. (NOTE: The plural is territories.)

③ terror /'terə/ noun 1. great fear ○ They live in constant terror of racist attacks. □ a reign of terror a period when law and order have broken down and people live in a continuous state of fear 2. a naughty child ○ Their daughter's a little terror. 3. □ a terror for something very insistent on something (informal) ○ The new manager is a terror for hygiene in the shop.

terse /tɜ:s/ adj concise, short, using few words tertiary /'tɜ:ʃəri/ adj 1. referring to a third stage, especially to the level of education after the secondary ○ She's studying at the local tertiary college. 2. □ tertiary sector or industry the section of the economy which provides services such as banking or insurance

Terylene /'terəli:n/ trademark a type of man-made thread

TESOL abbr Teaching of English to Speakers of Other Languages

① test /test/ noun 1. an examination to see if you know something ○ We had an English test yesterday. ○ She passed her driving test. 2. an examination to see if something is working well ○ The doctor will have to do a blood test. ○ It is a good test of the car's ability to brake fast. 3. ○ England lost the third test against Pakistan. ■ verb 1. to find out how well someone can do something, etc. ○ The teacher tested my spoken German. 2. to examine someone or something to see if everything is working well ○ We need to test your reactions to noise and bright lights. ○ He has to have his eyes tested. ○ She tested her new car in the snow.

testament /'testəmənt/ noun □ last will and testament a document written by someone which says what they want to happen to their property after they die ○ This is the last will and testament of the late James Smith.

test case /'test keɪs/ noun a court case in which the decision will establish a principle which other cases can follow test-drive /'test dræv/ verb to drive a car before buying it to see if it works well. Synonym try out tester /'testər/ noun 1. a person who tests something 2. a small sample of something such as makeup testes /'testi:z/ □ testis testicle /'testɪk(ə)l/ noun one of the two male sex glands which produce sperm. Also called testis testicular /te'stɪkjʊlə/ adj referring to the testicles testify /'testifai/ verb to give evidence in court testimonial /,testɪ'məʊniəl/ noun 1. a written report about someone's character or ability ○ She asked her boss if he would give her a testimonial. 2. a written document praising someone's good qualities, often one which is presented at a ceremony ○ At a function in the Town Hall, the mayor presented testimonials to six members of the staff. □ to attend a testimonial dinner to go to a dinner organised to give a present to someone ○ The mayor was guest of honour at the testimonial dinner for six retiring council workers.

testimony /'testɪməni/ noun a statement given in court about what happened testing /'testɪŋ/ adj which is difficult to deal with ○ This has been a testing time for the whole family. ○ In the second interview they will ask you more testing questions. Synonym challenging. Antonym easy ■ noun the act of examining something to see if it works well ○ During the testing of the engine several defects were corrected.

testis /'testɪs/ noun a testicle (NOTE: The plural is testes /'testi:z/.)

testosterone /te'stɒstərəʊn/ noun a male sex hormone. Compare progesterone test run /'test rʌn/ noun a trial made on a machine test tube /'test tju:b/ noun a small glass tube, open at the top and with a rounded bottom, used in laboratories to hold liquids during experiments ○ Position the base of the test tube over the flame.

test tube baby /'test tju:b ,beɪbɪ/ noun a baby which develops after the mother's eggs have been removed, fertilised with the father's sperm in a laboratory, and replaced in the mother's womb to continue developing normally (informal) tetanus /'tet(ə)nəs/ noun a serious disease caused by infection of a wound by bacteria in the soil, which affects the spinal cord and causes the jaw muscles to stiffen. Also called lockjaw tête-à-tête /,tet æ 'tet/ noun a private conversation between two people tether /'teðəl/ noun 1. a rope which attaches an animal to a post ○ The horse had slipped its tether and was galloping away down the street. 2. □ to be at the end of your tether to be unable to stand any more, to have lost all patience ○ He was at the end of his tether and resigned after just one month in the job. ■ verb to attach an animal to a post with a rope ○ He tethered his horse to a post.

① text /tekst/ noun 1. the main written section of a book, not the notes, index or pictures ○ It's a book for little children, with lots of pictures and very little text. 2. the original words of a speech ○ the text of the Gettysburg Address ■ verb to send a text message to someone textbook /'tekstbʊk/ noun a book which students use to learn about the subject they are studying textile /'tekstail/ noun cloth. Synonym fabric text message /'tekst ,mesɪdʒ/ noun a message sent by telephone, using short forms of words, which appear on the screen of a mobile phone text messaging /'tekst ,mesidʒɪŋ/ noun the action of sending text messages text processing /'tekst ,prəʊsesɪŋ/ noun the process of using a computer to produce, check and change things, e.g. documents, reports and letters textual /'tekstʃuəl/ adj referring to a text. Synonym written texture /'tekstʃə/ noun 1. the way in which the surface of a material can be felt ○ the soft texture of velvet 2. the way a substance is formed ○ This bread has a light texture. ○ the heavy texture of clay soil textured /'tekstʃəd/ adj with a certain texture

Thai /tai/ adj referring to Thailand ○ If you're fond of Thai food let's go to a Thai restaurant. ■ noun 1. an inhabitant of Thailand ○ Thais are famous for their hot, spicy cooking. ○ The two economics students are Thais. 2. the language spoken in Thailand ○ If you're posted to Bangkok, you'll have to learn Thai.

① than /ðən, ðæn/ conj used to indicate a comparison ○ It's hotter this week than it was last week. ■ prep used to link two parts of a comparison ○ His car is bigger than mine. ○ She was born in London, so she knows it better than any other town. ○ You can't get more than four people into this lift. ○ It's less than five kilometres to the nearest station.

① thank /θæŋk/ verb 1. to say or do something that shows you are grateful to someone for doing something for you ○ She thanked the policeman for helping her to cross the street. ○ Don't forget to thank Aunt Ann for her present. 2. □ thank goodness! or God! or heavens! expressions used to show relief ○ Thank goodness it didn't rain for the school sports day! ○ Thank God the ambulance turned up quickly!

thankful /'θæŋkf(ə)l/ adj glad because a worry has gone away. ♦ mercy. Synonym grateful thankfully /'θæŋkf(ə)li/ adv showing that you are glad that a worry has gone away thankless /'θæŋkləs/ adj for which no one will thank you. Antonym rewarding

① thanks /θæŋks/ noun a word showing that you are grateful ○ We sent our thanks for the gift. ○ We did our best to help but got no thanks for it. ○ The committee passed a vote of thanks to the school for having organised the meeting. ○ Many thanks for your letter of the 15th. Synonym gratitude. Antonym ingratitude ■ interj showing you are grateful ○ Do you want some more tea? – No thanks. I've had two cups already. ○ Anyone want a lift to the station? – Thanks, it's a long walk from here.

thanksgiving /'θæŋks,gɪvɪŋ/ noun a religious occasion where thanks are given to God, often for someone who has recently died

Thanksgiving /'θæŋks,gɪvɪŋ/ noun an American festival, celebrating the first harvest of the Pilgrims who settled in the United States, on the fourth Thursday in November

① thanks to /'θæŋks tu:/ prep because of, as a result of

① thank you /'θæŋk ju:/ interj showing that you are grateful ○ Thank you very much for your letter of the 15th. ○ Did you remember to say thank you to your grandmother for the present? ○ Would you like another piece of cake? – No thank you, I've had enough. ■ noun words or an action such as applause, to show you are grateful ○ Let's say a big thank you to the people who organised the show. □ a thank-you letter or note letter or note written to thank someone for something

① that /ðæt/ adj used to show something or someone that is further away or in the past ○ Can you see that white house on the corner over there? ○ Do you remember the name of that awful hotel in Brighton? Compare this (NOTE: The plural is those.) ■ pron something or someone that is further away ○ That's the book I was talking about. ○ Do you know who that is sitting at the next table? ○ Is that the one? – Yes, that's it. Compare this (NOTE: The plural is those.) ■ relative pron used to give more information about someone or something just mentioned ○ Where is the parcel that she sent you yesterday? ○ Can you see the man that sold you the ticket? ○ There's the suitcase that you left on the train! (NOTE: When it is the object of a relative clause that can sometimes be left out: Where's the letter he sent you? Here's the box you left in the bedroom. When it is the subject, that can be replaced by which or who: a house that has red windows or a house which has red windows; the man that stole the car or the man who stole the car.)

■ conj used after verbs like 'say' or 'think' and adjectives like 'glad' or 'disappointed', and after 'so' or 'such' ○ The restaurant was so expensive that we could only afford one dish. ○ It rained so hard that the street was like a river. ○ We had such a lot of work that we didn't have any lunch. ○ There was such a long queue that we didn't bother waiting. ○ They told me that the manager was out. ○ I don't think they knew that we were coming. ○ I'm glad that the weather turned out fine. (NOTE: That is often left out: He didn't know we were coming; It's so hot in here we all want a drink of water.) ■ adv so, to such an extent ○ You must remember him, it's not all that long ago that we had a drink with him. ○ His new car is not really that big.

thatched /θætʃt/ adj covered with a straw roof

thaw /θɔ:/ noun a time of warm weather which makes snow and ice melt ○ The thaw came early this year. ■ verb 1. to melt ○ The ice is thawing on the village pond. 2. to unfreeze something which is frozen ○ Thaw the turkey for 12 hours. ○ Can you thaw those raspberries? 3. to become less formal ○ After a period of tension, relations between the two countries have begun to thaw.

① the /ðə:/; before a vowel /ði/ article 1. meaning something in particular, as opposed to 'a' ○ Where's the book you brought back from the library? ○ That's the cat from next door. ○ The town centre has been made into a pedestrian zone. 2. used with something of which only one exists, in particular in geographical names ○ an expedition to the Arctic ○ A spacecraft landed on the moon. ○ The sun came up over the hills. 3. meaning a group of people or a thing in general, such as dates ○ There's nothing interesting on the television tonight. ○ She refuses to use the telephone. ○ The streets are crowded at lunchtime. ○ Many people were out of work during the 1990s. ○ Both sisters play the flute. ○ born on the 31st of January 4. /ði:/ meaning something special such as a date ○ It's the shop for men's clothes. ○ She's the doctor for children's diseases. ○ That's not the Charlie Chaplin, is it? 5. used to compare ○ The more he eats the thinner he seems to get. ○ The sooner you do it the better. ○ This is by far the shortest way to London. ○ She's the tallest person in the office. 6. showing quantity or speed ○ We sell tomatoes by the kilo.

② theatre /'θɪətə/ noun a building in which plays are shown ○ I'm trying to get tickets for the theatre tonight. ○ What is the play at the local theatre this week? ○ We'll have dinner early and then go to the theatre. (NOTE: The US spelling is theater.) ◇ the theatre 1. the art of presenting plays on the stage ○ I like the theatre better than the cinema. 2. the business of presenting plays on the stage ○ She wants to work in the theatre as a designer.

theatrical /θi'ætrɪk(ə)l/ adj 1. referring to the theatre ○ She had a distinguished theatrical career before going into films. 2. exaggerated, dramatic and not natural ○ Throwing the letter on the floor and stamping on it was a bit theatrical.

theft /θeft/ noun 1. the practice of stealing ○ We have brought in security cameras to protect the hotel against theft. ○ The shops are trying to stop theft by members of the public. 2. an act of stealing ○ Thefts in supermarkets have increased enormously.

① their /ðeə/ adj 1. belonging to them ○ After the film, we went to their house for supper. 2. referring to them ○ The family were eating their dinner when the fire broke out. (NOTE: Do not confuse with there, they're.)

② theirs /ðeəz/ pron the one that belongs to them ○ Which car is theirs – the Ford? ○ She's a friend of theirs. ○ The girls wanted to borrow my car – theirs wouldn't start.

① them /ðəm, ðem/ pron 1. referring to people or things that have been mentioned before ○ Do you like cream cakes? – No, I don't like them very much. ○ There's a group of people waiting outside. – Tell them to come in. ○ She saw her friends and asked them to help her. 2. referring to a singular, used instead of 'him or her' ○ If someone phones, ask them to call back later.

thematic /θɪ:mætɪk/ adj referring to themes

② theme /θi:m/ noun 1. the main subject of a book or article ○ The theme of the book is how to deal with illness in the family. 2. the main idea ○ The theme of the exhibition is 'Europe in the twenty-first century'. 3. the main tune in a piece of music ○ The theme comes again at the end of the symphony.

theme park /'θi:m pa:k/ noun an amusement park based on a single theme such as a medieval castle theme tune /θi:m tju:n/, theme song /θi:m sɒŋ/ noun a tune or song played several times in a film or TV serial by which you can recognise it

① themselves /ðəm'selvz/ pron 1. referring to the same people or things that are the subject of the verb ○ Cats always spend a lot of time cleaning themselves. ○ It's no use going to the surgery – the doctors are all ill themselves. 2. □ by themselves all alone ○ The girls were all by themselves in the tent. ○ They did it all by themselves. 3. used to emphasise ○ The children themselves said the film was rubbish.

① then /ðen/ adv 1. at that time in the past or future ○ He had been very busy up till then. ○ Ever since then I've refused to eat oysters. ○ We're having a party next week. – What pity! I'll be in Scotland then. 2. after that, next ○ We all sat down, and then after a few minutes the waiter brought us the menu. ○ It was a busy trip – he went to Greece, then to Italy and finally to Spain. 3. and so, therefore ○ If there isn't any fish on the menu, then we'll have to have omelettes. ○ Then he was already at home when you phoned? ■ adj who or which existed at a certain time in the past ○ The then head teacher was a man called Jones.

thence /ðens/ adv 1. from that place, from there 2. so, therefore theology /θi'ɒlədʒi/ noun the study of religion and the belief in God. Synonym divinity theorem /'θiərəm/ noun a statement which can be proved in mathematics. Synonym proposition theoretical /θiə'retɪk(ə)l/ adj 1. referring to theories ○ a theoretical study of the universe 2. not proved in practice ○ She has the theoretical power to dismiss any of the staff.

theoretically /θiə'retɪklɪ/ adv in theory, but not in practice theorise /'θiəraɪz/, theorize verb to make up a theory about something theorist /'θiərɪst/ noun a person who develops theories

① theory /'θiəri/ noun 1. an explanation of something which has not been proved but which you believe is true ○ I have a theory which explains why the police never found the murder weapon. 2. a careful scientific explanation of why something happens ○ Galileo put forward the theory that the earth turns round the sun. □ the theory of evolution a theory, developed by Charles Darwin, that species evolve by a process of natural selection 3. a statement of general principles which may not apply in practice ○ In theory the treatment should work, but no one has ever tried it. (NOTE: The plural is theories.) therapeutic /'θeraʊ'pjutɪkl/ adj which is given in order to cure a disease or disorder therapist /'θerəpɪst/ noun a person who is specially trained to give therapy. Synonym psychoanalyst therapy /'θerəpi/ noun the treatment of a patient to help cure a disease or condition

① there /ðeəl/ adv 1. in that place ○ Is that black van still there parked outside the house? ○ Where have you put the tea? – There, on the kitchen counter. 2. to that place ○ We haven't been to the British Museum yet. – Let's go there tomorrow. ○ Have you ever been to China? – Yes, I went there last month. 3. used when giving something to someone ○ There you are: two fish and chips and a pot of tea. (NOTE: Do not confuse with their, they're.) □ interj 1. showing pity ○ There, there, don't get upset. ○ There, sit down for a little while and you'll soon feel better. 2. showing a feeling ○ There, what did I say? The plane's late. ○ There, you've broken it! 3. making a decision ○ If you don't want to come with me, I'll go all by myself, so there! □ pron used usually before the verb 'to be' when the real subject follows the verb ○ There's a little door leading onto the patio. ○ There's someone at the door asking for you. ○ There are some pages missing in my newspaper. ○ Were there a lot of people at the cinema? ○ There seems to have been a lot of rain during the night.

thereabouts /'ðeərə'bauts/ adv 1. near that place ○ They live in Glasgow or thereabouts. 2. about that number ○ They owe us £250 or thereabouts.

thereafter /'ðeər'ə:ftə/ adv after that. Antonym previously thereby /ðeə'bəi/ adv by doing that

① therefore /'ðeəfə:/ adv for this reason ○ I therefore have decided not to grant his request. ○ They have reduced their prices, therefore we should reduce ours if we want to stay competitive. Synonym consequently therein /ðeər'ɪn/ adv in that thermal /'θɜːm(ə)l/ adj referring to heat ■ noun a rising current of warm air ○ Hang-gliders rose into the air on thermals.

thermometer /θɜː'mɒmɪtə/ noun an instrument for measuring temperature thermostat /'θɜːməstæt/ noun an instrument which controls heating according to a set temperature thesaurus /'θiːsɔːrəs/ noun a book with words collected into groups of similar meaning (NOTE: The plural is thesauruses or sometimes thesauri /θeə'sɔːrəi/.)

① these /ðiːz/ ♀ this

thesis /'θiːsɪs/ noun 1. a long piece of written research prepared by a candidate for a higher university degree ○ She is writing her thesis on the place of women in Spanish literature. 2. a particular point of view ○ His thesis is that, the lower the income tax rate, the more people will spend. (NOTE: The plural is theses /'θiːsiːz/.)

① they /ðeɪ/ pron 1. referring to people or things ○ Where do you keep the spoons? – They're in the right-hand drawer. ○ Who are those people in uniform? – They're traffic wardens. ○ The children played in the sun and they all got sunburnt. 2. referring to people in general ○ They say it's going to be fine this weekend. 3. referring to a singular, used instead of 'he or she' after a word such as 'someone' ○ If someone else joins the queue, they'll just have to wait. (NOTE: When it is the object, them is used instead of they: We gave it to them; The police beat them with sticks; also when it follows the verb to be: Who's that? – It's them!) they'd /ðeɪd/ short form they had, they would they'll /ðeɪl/ short form they will they're /ðeɪəl/ short form they are (NOTE: Do not confuse with their, there.) they've /ðeɪv/ short form they have ② thick /θɪk/ adj 1. bigger than usual when measured from side to side, not thin ○ He cut a slice of bread which was so thick it wouldn't go into the toaster. ○ The walls of the castle are three metres thick. ○ Some oranges have very thick skins. ○ He took a piece of thick rope. 2. close together ○ They tried to make their way through thick jungle. ○ The field was covered with thick grass. □ through thick and thin together, even when things are going badly (informal) ○ She stuck with him through thick and thin. □ they're as thick as thieves (of two people) they are great friends, they share each other's secrets 3. (of a liquid) which cannot flow easily ○ If the paint is too thick add some water. ○ A bowl of thick soup is just what we need on a cold day like this. 4. which you cannot see through easily ○ Thick fog had closed the airport. 5. stupid, not very intelligent (informal) ○ He's a bit thick or as thick as two (short) planks. □ it's a bit thick it's not very fair ○ It's a bit thick, having to work on Saturdays when everyone else has the day off. ■ adv thickly, in a thick way ○ Put the plaster on thick so that it covers up the cracks. □ to lay it on thick to praise someone excessively (informal) ○ It was laying it on a bit thick to say that she plays the violin like Menuhin. □ thick and fast rapidly and often ○ The faxes came in thick and fast. ■ noun □ in the thick of something in the most active part of something ○ in the thick of negotiations thicken /'θɪkən/ verb 1. to make something thick ○ Thicken the sauce with cornflour. 2. to become thick ○ The custard will thicken when you heat it.

thicket /'θɪkit/ noun a small wood of trees and bushes growing close together. Synonym copse thickly /'θɪkli/ adv in a thick layer □ thickly wooded with a lot of trees close together ○ thickly wooded valleys thickness /'θɪknes/ noun 1. the state of being thick or the extent to which something is thick 2. a layer of something thickset /'θɪk'set/ adj 1. short and stocky ○ Her father is a solid thickset man. 2. (of a hedge) planted with bushes close together ○ The garden is surrounded by a thickset hedge of holly and yew.

thick-skinned /'θɪk 'skɪnd/ adj 1. with a thick skin ○ A rhinoceros is very thick-skinned. 2. able to stand a lot of criticism ○ Luckily he's a thick-skinned individual or he would be very upset at what the tabloids say about him.

thief /θi:f/ noun a person who steals. ♀ thick. Synonym robber (NOTE: The plural is thieves /'θi:vz/.)

thigh /θai/ noun the part at the top of the leg between your knee and your hip thimble /'θɪmbl(ə)/ noun a small cup worn to protect the end of your finger when sewing ② thin /θi:n/ adj 1. not fat ○ The table has very thin legs. ○ He's too thin – he should eat more. □ as thin as a rake very thin ○ She's a supermodel and is as thin as a rake. 2. not thick ○ a plate of thin sandwiches ○ The book is printed on very thin paper. ○ The parcel was sent in a thin cardboard box. 3. not placed or growing close together ○ The hill was covered with thin grass. ○ The audience is a bit thin tonight. 4. (of a liquid) which flows easily, which has too much water ○ All we had for lunch was a bowl of thin soup. ○ Add water to make the paint thinner. 5. which you can see through ○ They hung thin curtains in the windows. ○ A thin mist covered the valley. 6. (of an argument or excuse) weak or poor ○ His argument is a bit thin. (NOTE: thinner – thinnest) ■ adv thinly ○ Don't spread the butter too thin. ■ verb 1. to make something more liquid ○ If you want to thin the soup just add some water. 2. to become fewer ○ The crowds began to thin by evening. 3. □ to thin out to make plants grow less close together ○ These lettuces need to be thinned out.

① thing /θɪŋ/ noun 1. something which is not living, which is not a plant or animal ○ Can you see that black thing in the pan of soup? ○ What do you use that big blue thing for? 2. a usually kind way of talking to or about a person or animal ○ You silly thing! ○ The lady in the sweet shop is a dear old thing. 3. something in general ○ They all just sat there and didn't say a thing. ○ The first thing to do is to call an ambulance. ○ That was a stupid thing to do! □ a good thing something lucky ○ It's a good thing there was no police officer on duty at the door. □ first thing in the morning as soon as you get up ○ First thing in the morning, he does his exercises. □ last thing at night just before you go to bed 4. a problem or worry ○ It never stops, it's just one thing after another. 5. □ to have a thing about something to have strong feelings about something (informal) ○ He has a thing about spiders. ○ She's got a thing about men with beards.

① things /θɪŋz/ plural noun 1. clothes or equipment ○ Did you bring your tennis things? ○ She left her painting things in the car. 2. a general situation ○ Things aren't going well at the office. ○ He always takes things too seriously.

thingy /θɪŋi/ noun something whose name you don't know or can't remember

① think /θɪŋk/ verb 1. to use your mind ○ We never think about what people might say, we always do what we think is right. □ to think twice to consider very carefully ○ Think twice before you sign that contract. ○ I'd think twice about spending all the money you've saved. 2. to have an opinion ○ I think London is a nicer town to live in than Frankfurt. ○ Everyone thinks we're mad to go on holiday in December. ○ The weather forecasters think it's going to rain. ○ The gang is thought to be based in Spain. 3. to make a plan to do something ○ We're thinking we might open an office in New York. (NOTE: thinking – thought /θɔ:t/)

■ noun (informal) a period when you think, the act of thinking ○ Let me have a little think and I'll tell you what we should do. ○ Have a think about what I've just said. ○ We really need to have another think about the plan. □ to have another think coming to have to change your plans ○ If he thinks he's going to tell me how to do my job, he's got another think coming.

think about /'θɪŋk ə,baut/ verb 1. to have someone or something in your mind ○ I was just thinking about you when you phoned. ○ All she thinks about is food. 2. to consider a plan in your mind ○ Have you ever thought about writing children's books? 3. to have an opinion about something ○ What do you think about the government's plans to increase taxes?

think back /'θɪŋk 'bæk/ verb to remember something in the past thinker /'θɪŋkə/ noun a person who thinks. Synonym philosopher thinking /'θɪŋkɪŋ/ noun the process of reasoning about something □ to my way of thinking my opinion is ○ To my way of thinking, it shouldn't be allowed.

think of /'θɪŋk ov/ verb 1. to consider a plan in your mind ○ We are thinking of going to Greece on holiday. 2. to remember something ○ Now I think of it, he was at the party last week. 3. to have an opinion about something ○ What do you think of the government's plans to increase taxes? ○ I didn't think much of the play. ○ She asked him what he thought of her idea. □ to tell someone what you think of something to criticise something ○ He went up to her and told her exactly what he thought of her stupid idea. □ to think highly of someone to have a high opinion of someone □ to think nothing of doing something to consider something normal or easy ○ She thinks nothing of working ten hours a day. □ think nothing of it! (as a response to an apology) please don't bother to thank me for it □ to think better of something to change your mind about something ○ He was going to pay the whole cost himself, and then thought better of it.

think out /'θɪŋk 'aʊt/ verb to consider something carefully in all its details think over /'θɪŋk 'əʊvə/ verb to consider a plan or proposal very carefully think tank /'θɪŋk tæŋk/ noun a group of advisers who are appointed to discuss important problems and suggest how they should be solved think through /'θɪŋk 'oru:/ verb to consider something carefully in all its details think up /,θɪŋk 'ʌp/ verb to invent a plan or new idea thinly /'θɪnli/ adv not thickly thinning /'θɪnɪŋ/ adj which is getting thinner

① third /θɜ:d/ adj referring to three ○ She came third in the race. ○ The cake shop is the third shop on the right. ○ It will be her third birthday next Friday. ○ Her birthday is on the third of March or March the third (March 3rd). □ the third century the period from 200 to 299 A.D. ■ noun one part out of three equal parts ○ A third of the airline's planes are jumbos. ○ Two-thirds of the staff are part-timers.

thirdly /'θɜ:dlɪ/ adv as the third item on a list. Compare firstly, secondly third party /,θɜ:d 'pɑ:tɪ/ noun any person other than the two main parties involved in a contract or a civil case third person /θɜ:d 'pɜ:(s)ən/ noun □ in the third person from the point of view of someone other than the speaker or the person being spoken to, using the pronouns 'he', 'she', 'it' or 'they' ○ This novel is written in the third person.

third-rate /,θɜ:d'reɪt/ adj quite bad. Compare first-rate, second-rate

Third World /,θɜ:d 'wɜ:ld/ noun the countries of Africa, Asia and South America which do not have highly developed industries and where people are generally poor thirst /θɜ:st/ noun 1. a feeling of wanting to drink ○ Digging the garden has given me such a thirst! ○ They ran to the mountain stream to quench their thirst. 2. a feeling of wanting something ○ He studied at night to satisfy his thirst for knowledge. ■ verb □ to thirst after or for something to want something strongly (formal) ○ He thirsts after excitement.

① thirsty /θɜ:sti/ adj feeling that you want to drink ○ It's so hot here that it makes me thirsty. □ are you thirsty? would you like a drink? □ to be thirsty work to require hard work which makes you thirsty ○ Moving all this furniture is thirsty work.

① thirteen /,θɜ:t'ti:n/ noun the number 13 ○ He's only thirteen (years old), but he can drive a car. ○ She'll be thirteen next Monday. □ the thirteen hundreds (1300s) the period from 1300 to 1399 thirteenth /θɜ:t'ti:nθ/ adj, noun referring to 13 ○ The thirteenth of September or September the thirteenth (September 13th). ○ It's her thirteenth birthday on Monday. □ Friday the thirteenth (Friday 13th) day which many people think is unlucky □ the thirteenth century the period from 1200 to 1299

① thirty /'θɜ:ti/ noun the number 30 ○ He's thirty (years old). ○ She must have more than thirty pairs of shoes. □ they are both in their thirties they are both aged between 30 and 39 years old □ the (nineteen-) thirties (1930s) the period from 1930 to 1939

① this /ðɪs/ adj, pron used to show something which is nearer or in the present, in contrast to something else ○ This is the shop I was telling you about. ○ I prefer these earrings to those ones. ○ I saw him on the train this morning. ○ My mother is coming for tea this afternoon. ○ I expect to hear from him this week. (NOTE: The plural is these.) ■ adv so much ○ I knew you were going to be late, but I didn't expect you to be this late.

thistle /'θɪsləs/ noun a large wild plant with prickly leaves and purple flowers

THNQ abbr thank you

thong /'θɒŋ/ noun a rubber sandal held on by a strap between the toes. Also called flip flop

③ thorn /θɔ:n/ noun 1. a sharp spine on a prickly plant ○ Most roses have thorns. 2. □ a thorn in someone's flesh a constant annoyance to someone ○ She's been a thorn in the management's flesh ever since she joined the company.

thorny /'θɔ:ni/ adj 1. covered with thorns ○ We planted thorny bushes round the garden to deter burglars. 2. (of a problem) difficult to solve ○ Trying to solve the thorny racial problems in some East European countries is very difficult. (NOTE: thornier – thorniest)

③ thorough /'θʌrəʊ/ adj 1. careful and detailed ○ The police have carried out a thorough search of the woods. 2. total ○ They made a thorough mess of it. ○ It was a thorough waste of time. 3. careful and accurate ○ He is very thorough in his work.

thoroughbred /'θʌrəbred/ noun a horse of high quality whose parents and other relatives are all known thoroughfare /'θʌrəfeə/ noun a main road through a town, usually where there is a lot of traffic □ 'no thoroughfare' a sign showing that the public cannot use a certain road ○ I hadn't seen the 'no thoroughfare' sign and found myself in the garden of the town hall.

thoroughgoing /,θʌrə'gəʊɪŋ/ adj complete and careful thoroughly /'θʌrəli/ adv 1. in a complete and careful way ○ We searched the garden thoroughly but couldn't find his red ball. 2. totally ○ I'm thoroughly fed up with the whole business.

① those /ðəuz/ □ that

① though /ðəʊ/ adv, conj 1. in spite of the fact (that) ○ Though tired, she still kept on running. ○ We don't employ a computer programmer, though many companies do. □ odd though it may seem although it may seem odd □ even though in spite of the fact that ○ He didn't wear a coat, even though it was snowing. 2. □ as though as if ○ His voice sounded strange over the telephone, as though he was standing in a cave. ○ That shirt doesn't look as though it has been ironed. ○ It looks as though there is no one in. 3. but ○ It is unlikely though possible.

① thought /θɔ:t/ noun 1. an idea which you have when thinking ○ He had an awful thought – suppose they had left the bathroom taps running? 2. the process of thinking ○ He sat deep in thought by the window. □ after much thought after thinking a lot about something 3. an opinion ○ He expressed his thoughts on the subject in a letter to the newspaper. 4. □ to have second thoughts about something to change your mind about something ○ I think she's beginning to have second thoughts about accepting the job. □ on second thoughts having thought about it again ○ I asked for coffee, but on second thoughts I think I'll have tea. ■ verb □ think thoughtful /'θɔ:tf(ə)li/ adj 1. thinking deeply ○ He looked thoughtful, and I wondered if there was something wrong. 2. being sensitive to what other people want ○ It was very thoughtful of you to come to see me in hospital.

thoughtfully /'θɔ:tf(ə)li/ adv in a considerate way thoughtless /'θɔ:tləs/ adj without thinking about other people thoughtlessly /'θɔ:tləsli/ adv in a thoughtless way

① thousand /'θaʊz(ə)nd/ noun the number 1,000 ○ We paid two hundred thousand pounds for the house (£200,000). ○ Thousands of people had their holidays spoilt by the storm. □ thousands of a large number of (informal) ○ Thousands of people lost money in the scheme.

thousanthd /'θaʊz(ə)ndθ/ adj referring to 1,000 ■ noun one part out of a thousand thrash /θræʃ/ verb 1. to beat someone severely ○ His father caught him stealing and thrashed him. 2. to beat another team decisively ○ Our team thrashed the visitors 7–0.

thrashing /'θræʃɪŋ/ noun 1. a severe beating 2. an easy defeat in a game

thrash out /θræʃ 'aut/ verb 1. to try to hit wildly in all directions ○ He thrashed out at the youths with his stick. 2. to discuss something until a solution is found ○ We sat down with the management and thrashed out a compromise. ○ They spent all day thrashing out a solution to the problem.

thread /θred/ noun 1. a long strand of cotton, silk, or other fibre ○ A spider spins a thread to make its web. ○ Wait a moment, there's a white thread showing on your coat. 2. □ to lose the thread of the conversation to miss what the conversation is about 3. a ridge going round and round a screw or the inside of a nut ○ It's difficult to tighten the nut because the thread is very worn. ■ verb 1. to put a piece of cotton through the eye of a needle ○ My eyesight is getting so bad, I can't even thread a needle. 2. to make something go through a hole ○ Put the reel on the projector and then thread the end of the film through this aperture. 3. to put beads on a thread ○ to thread a necklace 4. □ to thread your way somewhere to go carefully between things ○ She threaded her way through the piles of boxes. ○ We threaded our way through the crowds of Christmas shoppers.

threadbare /'θredbeə/ adj very worn

② threat /θret/ noun 1. a warning to someone that you are going to do something unpleasant, especially if he or she does not do what you want ○ Her former husband had been making threats against her and the children. ○ The police took the threat to the Prime Minister very seriously. ○ Do you think they will carry out their threat to bomb the capital if we don't surrender? 2. a person or thing which may cause harm ○ Defective cars are a threat to other road users.

② threaten /θret(ə)n/ verb 1. to warn that you are going to do something unpleasant, especially if someone doesn't do what you want ○ She threatened to go to the police. ○ The teacher threatened her with punishment. 2. to be likely to have a bad effect on something ○ The collapse of the stock market threatened the stability of the currency.

threatening /θretnɪŋ/ adj suggesting that something unpleasant will happen

① three /θri:/ noun the number 3 ○ She's only three (years old), so she can't read yet. ○ Come and see me at three (o'clock). ○ Three men walked into the bank and pulled out guns. (NOTE: three (3) but third (3rd))

3-D /,θri: 'di:/ noun vision in three dimensions ■ adj same as three-dimensional

three-dimensional /θri: daɪ'menʃ(ə)nəl/, three-D /'θri: 'di:/ adj (of a picture) which has depth as well as length and breadth three-piece /θri: pi:s/ adj with three parts three-quarter /θri: 'kwo:tə/ adj covering three quarters of a whole □ a three-quarter length coat a coat which comes to above the knee

③ three-quarters /θri: 'kwo:təz/ plural noun three fourths, 75% □ three-quarters of an hour forty-five minutes ○ We had to wait an hour and three-quarters. ■ adv 75%, three fourths ○ The bottle was three-quarters full.

threshold /'θrefθəuld/ noun 1. a bar across the floor of a doorway ○ She stopped at the threshold and looked back into the room. 2. a point where something begins ○ She's on the threshold of a great career in teaching. 3. a point at which you start to react □ to have a very low boredom threshold to get bored easily

① threw /θru:/ □ throw (NOTE: Do not confuse with through.)

thrifty /'θrɪfti/ adj careful with money. Synonym frugal (NOTE: thriftier – thriftest) thrill /θrɪl/ noun a feeling of great excitement ○ It gave me a thrill to see you all again after so many years. ○ I experienced the thrill of sailing near to a waterfall. Synonym adventure ■ verb to make someone very excited ○ We were thrilled to get your letter.

thriller /'θrɪlə/ noun an exciting work of art, e.g. a crime novel or a film. Synonym whodunit thrilling /'θrɪlin/ adj which makes you very excited. Synonym exciting. Antonym boring

③ thrive /θraɪv/ verb to grow well and be strong ○ a thriving community

② throat /θrəʊt/ noun 1. the tube which goes from the back of your mouth down the inside of your neck ○ I've got a sore throat. ○ She got a fish bone stuck in her throat. □ to clear your throat to give a little cough ○ He cleared his throat and started to speak. □ to have a lump in your throat to feel unable to speak because you are so upset or so happy ○ She had a lump in her throat as she saw her little girl dance across the stage. 2. your neck, especially the front part ○ He put his hands round her throat and pressed hard.

throb /θrɒb/ noun the beating of something, e.g. the heart, a drum or a machine ○ The steady throb of the engine could be heard somewhere deep down in the ship. ■ verb 1. to beat fast ○ She stopped running, and stood still with her heart throbbed. ○ The engine started to throb more regularly and the great ship started to move. 2. to have a pain which comes regularly like a heartbeat ○ When I woke up I had a sore throat and my head was throbbing. (NOTE: throbbing – throbbed) throbbing /'θrɒbɪŋ/ adj which comes again and again like a heartbeat ○ The next morning he had a throbbing headache. ○ She has a throbbing pain behind her left eye. ■ noun a pain which comes again and again like a heartbeat ○ There is a continual throbbing in my right ear.

throes /θrəʊz/ plural noun □ in the throes of something in the middle of something ○ He can't do anything – he's in the throes of getting a divorce. ○ The country is in the throes of a general election.

thrombosis /θrɒm'bəʊsɪs/ noun blood clotting which blocks an artery or vein throne /θrəʊn/ noun a chair on which a king or queen sits during ceremonies □ to succeed to the throne to become king or queen ○ He succeeded to the throne when his grandfather died. □ to give up the throne to resign from being king or queen ○ He gave up the throne and retired to live in the country.

throng /θrɒŋ/ noun a great crowd of people (literary) ○ The stars had difficulty making their way through the throng of fans outside the cinema. Antonym few ■ verb to crowd together ○ The children thronged round the TV star. ○ The shopping precinct was thronged with shoppers in the days before Christmas.

throttle /θrɒtl/ noun a valve on a pipe in an engine, which allows variable quantities of fuel to pass into an engine ○ He had to retire from the race when his throttle jammed. □ to open up the throttle to make the engine go faster ○ Open the throttle right up and let's see how fast the boat can go. □ at full throttle as fast as possible ○ He had the engine going at full throttle. ■ verb to strangle someone by squeezing the neck, and preventing him or her breathing ○ I could throttle him sometimes when he gives me that sort of answer.

① through /θru:/ prep 1. across the inside of something; going in at one side and coming out of the other ○ The bullet went straight through the door. ○ She looked through the open door. ○ Cold air is coming in through the hole in the wall. ○ The street goes straight through the centre of the town. ○ She pushed the needle through the ball of wool. 2. during a period of time ○ They insisted on talking all through the film. ○ Snow accumulated through the winter. 3. by ○ We sent the parcel through the ordinary mail. ○ We heard of his wedding through the newspaper. 4. caused by ○ We marked him as absent through illness. ○ We missed the deadline through her forgetting to mark it in her diary. 5. US up to and including □ Monday through Friday from Monday to Friday inclusive ■ adv 1. going in at one side and coming out of the other side ○ Someone left the gate open and all the sheep got through. 2. speaking by telephone ○ I can't get through to New York. ○ Can you put me through to Simon? 3. □ to see something through to make sure that something is finished ■ adj 1. not stopping □ through traffic traffic which is going through a town and doesn't stop ○ Through traffic is being diverted to the bypass. 2. □ through with something finished using something, not wanting something any more ○ Are you through with the newspaper? ○ She's through with her boyfriend.

② throughout /θru'au't/ prep, adv everywhere, all through ○ Throughout the country floods are causing problems on the roads. ○ Heavy snow fell throughout the night.

throughput /'θru:pot/ noun an amount of work done or goods produced during a certain period throughway /'θru:wei/ noun US □ thruway

① throw /θrəʊ/ verb 1. to send something through the air ○ How far can he throw a cricket ball? ○ They were throwing stones through car windows. ○ She threw the letter into the wastepaper basket. ○ He was thrown into the air by the blast from the bomb. 2. □ to throw a party to organise a party ○ They threw a reception for the prize winners. 3. to shock someone ○ At first, what the boss said threw me. 4. to make a clay pot on a wheel (NOTE: throwing – threw /θru:/ – has thrown /θrəʊn/) ■ noun 1. the act of throwing ○ Her javelin throw beat the world record. ○ He hurt his back after a throw from his horse. 2. □ only a stone's throw from a place very near a place ○ The hotel is only a stone's throw from the beach. 3. a piece of material which you put over a chair or use as a carpet ○ She gave me a piece of old Chinese silk as a throw to cover the sofa.

throw away /θrəʊ ə'weɪ/ verb to get rid of something which you don't need any more throwback /θrəʊ,bæk/ noun a person or thing that seems to belong to a time in the past throw in /θrəʊ 'ɪn/ verb to add something extra as a bargain ○ When we bought our new oven, they threw in a set of saucepans as a free gift.

throw-in /θrəʊ ɪn/ noun (in football) the act of throwing the ball back into play from the touchline

① thrown /θrəʊn/ □ throw (NOTE: Do not confuse with throne.)

throw off /θrəʊ 'ɒf/ verb 1. to remove something quickly ○ She threw off the bed-clothes and ran out of the room. 2. to recover from an illness ○ She's had a cough for several days, and can't throw it off.

throw out /θrəʊ 'aʊt/ verb 1. to push someone outside ○ When they started to fight, they were thrown out of the restaurant. 2. to get rid of something which you don't need ○ I'm throwing out this old office desk. 3. to refuse to accept something ○ The proposal was thrown out by the planning committee.

throw up /θrəʊ 'ʌp/ verb 1. to be sick, to bring up partly digested food from the stomach into the mouth (informal) ○ The cat threw up all over the sofa. 2. to give up something ○ She's thrown up her job and gone to live in Australia. 3. □ to throw up your arms to lift your arms rapidly ○ She threw her arms up in horror.

thru /θru:/ prep, adv, adj US same as through thrush /θrʌʃ/ noun a common brown bird with brown spots on its light-coloured breast (NOTE: The plural is thrushes.)

thrust /θrʌst/ noun 1. a force which pushes someone or something ○ The thrust of the engines pushed him back in his seat. 2. the act of pushing something ○ He was killed with a thrust of his opponent's sword. ■ verb 1. to push something somewhere suddenly and hard ○ He thrust the newspaper into his pocket. ○ She thrust the documents into her briefcase. 2. □ to thrust yourself on someone to force someone to accept you as a guest or companion (formal) thruway /'θrʊ:weɪ/ noun US a fast main road (NOTE: also spelt throughway) thud /θʌd/ noun a dull, heavy noise ○ His head hit the ground with a sickening thud. ○ They could hear the thud of gunfire in the distance. ■ verb to make a dull noise ○ A stone thudded into the wall behind him. (NOTE: thudding – thudded) thug /θʌg/ noun a violent person

③ thumb /θʌm/ noun 1. a short thick digit which is slightly apart from the other four fingers on each hand ○ The baby was sucking its thumb. ○ How she cried when she hit her thumb with the hammer! 2. □ my fingers are all thumbs I am awkward when trying to do something with my hands ○ Can you help me untie this knot, my fingers are all thumbs! ■ verb □ to thumb a lift to ask a car driver or lorry driver to take you as a passenger, usually by signalling with the thumb while holding a sign with your destination written on it ○ Her car broke down and she thumbed a lift from a passing motorist.

thumbnail /'θʌm,neɪl/ noun the nail on your thumb thumbnail sketch /,θʌmneɪl 'sketʃ/ noun a little drawing or description of something or someone, giving just a few details thumbs down /θʌms 'daʊn/ noun a gesture to show you disapprove thumbs up /,θʌms 'ʌp/ noun a gesture to show that you approve or that things are all right thumbtack /θʌmtæk/ noun US a pin with a large flat head, used for pinning papers to a wall or a surface (NOTE: The British term is drawing pin)

③ thump /θʌmp/ noun 1. a dull noise ○ There was a thump from upstairs as if someone had fallen out of bed. 2. a punch, a heavy blow with the fist ○ She was so annoyed she gave him a good thump on the arm. ■ verb 1. to hit someone hard with your fist ○ He rushed up to the policeman and started thumping him on the chest. ○ She thumped him on the back when he choked. 2. to make a dull noise ○ How can we possibly get to sleep with the music thumping away next door? ○ I was very frightened and I could feel my heart thumping furiously.

thumping /'θʌmpɪŋ/ adj very large (informal) thunder /'θʌndə/ noun 1. a loud noise in the air following a flash of lightning ○ a tropical storm accompanied by thunder and lightning ○ He was woken by the sound of thunder. 2. a loud noise ○ the thunder of horses' hooves on the paving stones ○ He took his bow to a thunder of applause. □ to steal someone's thunder to spoil what someone is planning to do by doing it first, and so getting applauded for it (informal) ■ verb 1. to make a loud noise in the air following lightning ○ It thundered during the night. 2. to make a loud rumbling noise ○ Lorries thundered past on the motorway all night. 3. to speak in a very loud voice ○ 'Shut up,' he thundered to the little boy in the back row.

thunderbolt /'θʌndəbəʊlt/ noun 1. a flash of lightning and thunder 2. a sudden unpleasant surprise thunderclap /'θʌndəklæp/ noun a sudden loud noise made by thunder thundercloud /'θʌndəklaʊd/ noun a large black cloud which brings rain and a thunderstorm thunderous /'θʌndərəs/ adj making a very loud noise, often of applause. Synonym deafening thunderstorm /'θʌndəstɔ:m/ noun a storm with rain, thunder and lightning thunderstruck /'θʌndəstrʌk/ adj very surprised. Synonym incredulous thundery /'θʌndəri/ adj (of weather) when thunder is likely

Thurs. abbr Thursday

① Thursday /'θɜ:zdeɪ/ noun the day between Wednesday and Friday, the fourth day of the week ○ Last Thursday was Christmas Day. ○ Shall we arrange to meet next Thursday? ○ Today is Thursday, April 14th. ○ The club meets on Thursdays or every Thursday. ○ The 15th is a Wednesday, so the 16th must be a Thursday.

② thus /ðʌs/ adv 1. in this way ○ The two pieces fit together thus. ○ She is only fifteen, and thus cannot vote. 2. as a result ○ She is only fifteen, and thus is not eligible for the over-sixteens competition.

thwart /θwɔ:t/ verb to prevent someone doing something ○ He was thwarted by the police in his attempt to get into the building. ○ His career move was thwarted by the new manager. Synonym frustrate. Antonym aid

■ noun a seat across a rowing boat, for a rower to sit on ○ They sat side-by-side on the thwart and each took an oar.

thyme /taɪm/ noun a common herb used as flavouring tiara /tɪ'aɪə/ noun a small jewelled crown tibia /'tɪbiə/ noun one of the two large bones between your knee and ankle tic /tɪk/ noun a twitch of the muscles, usually in the face, which cannot be controlled. Synonym twitch tick /tɪk/ noun 1. a sound made every second by a clock ○ The only sound we could hear in the room was the tick of the grandfather clock. 2. a mark written to show that something is correct ○ Put a tick in the box marked 'R'. (NOTE: The US term is check.)

3. a short moment (informal) ○ Wait a tick, my shoelace has come undone. ○ Wait there, I'll be with you in a tick. 4. credit (informal) ○ All the furniture in the house was bought on tick. 5. a small insect which lives on the skin and sucks blood ○ Sheep can be affected by ticks. ■ verb 1. to mark something with a tick to show that you approve ○ Tick the box marked 'R' if you require a receipt. (NOTE: The US term is check.) 2. to make a regular little noise like a clock ○ All you could hear was the clock ticking in the corner of the library. ○ Watch out! That parcel's ticking! □ what makes someone tick the thing that is the reason for what someone does (informal) ○ I've been trying to find out what makes her tick.

① ticket /'tɪkɪt/ noun 1. a piece of paper or card which allows you to travel ○ They won't let you get onto Eurostar without a ticket. ○ We've lost our plane tickets – how can we get to Chicago? 2. a piece of paper which allows you to go into a place, e.g. a cinema or an exhibition ○ Can I have three tickets for the 8.30 show please? ○ We tried several theatres but there were no tickets left anywhere. 3. a label, a piece of paper which shows something ○ Keep the ticket in case you want to change the trousers later. 4. US a party's list of candidates for election to political office ○ He ran for governor on the Republican ticket.

ticket collector /'tɪkɪt kə,lektə/ noun an official who takes tickets from passengers on a train ticket tout /'tɪkɪt ,taʊt/ noun a person who sells tickets at high prices to people in the street ticke /tɪk(ə)/ noun an irritated spot which makes you cough ○ I've got a nasty tickle in my throat. ■ verb to touch someone in a sensitive part of the body in order to make him or her laugh ○ She tickled his toes and made him laugh.

ticklish /'tɪklɪʃ/ adj 1. easily tickled ○ She's very ticklish, you've just got to wave your finger at her and she starts to giggle. 2.

tricky, not easy to deal with ○ We're in rather a ticklish situation.

tick off /,tɪk 'ɒf/ verb 1. to mark something with a tick ○ She ticked off the names on the list. 2. □ to tick someone off to say that you are annoyed with someone (informal) ○ The policeman ticked them off for running across the road in front of a bus.

tick over /,tɪk 'əʊvə/ verb □ to be ticking over to go on working in the usual way ○ Make sure the office keeps ticking over while the boss is on holiday.

tick-tack-toe /,tɪk tæk 'təʊ/, tic-tac-toe noun US a game where each player puts either a zero or a cross on a grid, the first to get three in a row being the winner (NOTE: The British term is noughts and crosses.)

tidal /'taɪd(ə)/ adj referring to the tide ○ The river below the lock is tidal. □ a tidal stretch of a river a part of a river near its mouth where the movement of the tides is noticeable ○ The tidal stretch of the Thames reaches over 40 miles from the sea to Teddington Lock.

tidal wave /'taɪd(ə)w/ noun US a huge wave in the sea, caused by an underwater earthquake and not by the tide. Also called tsunami titbit /'tɪdbɪt/ noun US same as titbit tiddly-winks /'tɪdli wɪŋks/ noun a game where small discs have to be flicked into a little cup tide /taɪd/ noun 1. the regular rising and falling movement of the sea ○ The tide came in and cut off the children on the rocks. ○ The tide is out – we can walk across the sand.

□ the tide has turned the tide has started to go up or down 2. □ the tide of public opinion the general trend of feeling among the public ■ verb □ to tide someone over to help someone get through a difficult period by lending money ○ Can you lend me £50 to tide me over until pay day?

tidily /'taɪdɪlɪ/ adv in a tidy way tidiness /'taɪdɪnəs/ noun the fact of being tidy. Synonym neatness

③ tidy /'taɪdɪ/ adj 1. neat, in order ○ I want your room to be completely tidy before you go out. ○ She put her clothes in a tidy pile. Antonym untidy 2. quite a large amount or sum ○ When he dies his children will inherit a tidy sum. (NOTE: tidier – tidiest) ■ verb □ to tidy up to make everything completely tidy ○ Mother asked us to help her tidy up after the party.

④ tie /taɪ/ noun 1. a long piece of coloured cloth which men wear round their necks under the collar of their shirts ○ He's wearing a blue tie with red stripes. ○ They won't let you into the restaurant if you haven't got a tie on. 2. a result in a competition or election where both sides have the same score ○ The result was a tie and the vote had to be taken again. □ there was a tie for second place two people were equal second 3. a thing which prevents you from doing what you want to do □ The big house has become something of a tie to my parents. ■ verb 1. to attach something with string, rope or twine □ The parcel was tied with a little piece of string. □ He tied his horse to the post. □ The burglars tied his hands behind his back. 2. to have the same score as another team in a competition □ They tied for second place. 3. to make a knot □ He tied a knot in his handkerchief to remind him. (NOTE: tying – tied) tiebreaker /'tai,breɪks/ noun a way of deciding the winner of a game or a competition, e.g. by asking an extra question tie down /,tai 'daʊn/ verb 1. to attach something to the floor, to the ground, etc. 2. to make someone accept certain conditions tie-in /'tai in/ noun something such as a book which is brought out in connection with a successful film or television programme tier /tɪə/ noun 1. one of a series of steps, usually a row of seats in a theatre □ They sat on the topmost tier of seats. 2. □ a wedding cake with two tiers a cake made of two separate cakes balanced one on top of the other □ They ordered a four-tiered wedding cake.

tie up /,tai 'ʌp/ verb 1. to put string or rope round something □ The parcel was tied up with thick string. □ You should tie that dog up or it will bite someone. 2. □ to be tied up to be busy □ I'm rather tied up at the moment – can we try to meet next week some time? 3. to buy something, so that the money is not available for other purposes □ All his fortune is tied up in property.

tiff /tɪf/ noun a small argument or quarrel (informal). Synonym quarrel tiger /'taɪgə/ noun a large wild animal of the cat family living mainly in India and China; it is yellow in colour, with black stripes (NOTE: The female is a tigress.)

② tight /taɪt/ adj 1. fitting too closely □ These shoes hurt – they're too tight. 2. packed close together □ a tight fit a situation where there is not enough space to fit □ We can get one more person into the taxi but it will be a tight fit. □ a tight schedule a schedule where many meetings are very close together □ The doctor has a very tight schedule today and cannot fit in any more appointments. 3. □ money is tight there is not very much money available 4. holding firmly □ Keep a tight hold of the bag, we don't want it stolen. 5. drunk (informal, dated) □ He got rather tight at the Christmas party. (NOTE: tighter – tightest) ■ adv 1. firmly and securely □ Make sure the windows are shut tight. □ The chair was pushed tight against the wall. 2. □ to hold tight to hold something firmly □ Hold tight – we're about to take off. □ to sit tight to stay where you are (informal) □ Sit tight, and someone will come to help you.

tighten /'taɪt(ə)n/ verb to make tight or become tight. Antonym loosen □ to tighten your belt to be ready to spend less □ The government warned that we must tighten our belts.

tighten up on /,taɪt(ə)n 'ʌp ən/ verb to control something more carefully tight-fisted /,taɪt 'fɪstɪd/ adj miserly, not wanting to spend money tightfitting /,taɪt'fɪtɪŋ/ adj which fits the body tightly tight-knit /taɪt nɪt/ adj (of a group of people) who are good friends together tight-lipped /taɪt 'lɪpt/ adj not prepared to comment on a subject

② tightly /'taɪtli/ adv in a tight way

tightrope /'taɪtrəʊp/ noun a rope stretched between two poles on which someone can walk or perform tricks □ to walk a tightrope 1. to walk on a tightrope 2. to go carefully in a difficult situation □ The government has to walk a tightrope between pleasing the unions and pleasing the employer.

tights /taɪts/ plural noun a piece of clothing made of thin material, covering your hips, and your legs and feet separately, worn especially by girls, women and dancers □ Look – you've got a hole in your tights! (NOTE: no singular: for one item say 'a pair of tights'. The US term is party hose.)

tigress /'taɪgrɛs/ noun a female tiger (NOTE: The plural is tigresses.)

titka /'tɪkə/ noun a type of Indian cooking done in a hot clay oven with red curry sauce tile /taɪl/ noun 1. a flat piece of baked clay used as a covering for floors, walls or roofs □ The floor is covered with red tiles. □ We are putting white tiles on the bathroom walls. 2. a similar piece of another kind of material used to cover floors or walls □ They put cork tiles on the walls. ■ verb to cover the surface of a roof, a floor or a wall with tiles □ a white-tiled bathroom □ They have tiled the kitchen with red floor tiles.

① till /tɪl/ prep, conj until, up to the time when □ I don't expect him to be home till after nine o'clock. □ They worked from morning till night to finish the job. □ We worked till the sun went down. ■ noun a drawer for keeping cash in a shop □ There was not much money in the till at the end of the day. Synonym cash register ■ verb to plough and cultivate soil, to make it ready for growing crops □ In some parts of the world farmers are still using oxen to till the land.

tiller /'tɪlə/ noun a handle which is attached to a rudder and so steers a boat tilt /tɪlt/ noun 1. a sloping or slanting position ○ The table has a noticeable tilt. 2. □ (at) full tilt at full speed ○ He was going full tilt when he tripped over. ○ The car ran full tilt into a lamppost. ■ verb 1. to slope ○ The shelf is tilting to the right. ○ You'll have to change places – the boat is tilting. 2. to put something in a sloping position ○ He tilted the barrel over to get the last drops of beer out.

③ timber /'tɪmbə/ noun wood cut ready for building ○ These trees are being grown to provide timber for houses. (NOTE: no plural: for one item say a piece of timber. The US term is lumber.)

timbre /'tæmbə/ noun the quality of the sound of something, e.g. a voice or a musical instrument

① time /taɪm/ noun 1. a particular point in the day shown in hours and minutes ○ What time is it or what's the time? ○ Can you tell me the time please? ○ The time is exactly four thirty. ○ Departure times are delayed by up to fifteen minutes because of the volume of traffic. □ to tell the time to read the time on a clock or watch ○ She's only three so she can't tell the time yet. 2. the hour at which something usually happens ○ The closing time for the office is 5.30. ○ It's must be nearly time for dinner – I'm hungry. ○ Is it time for the children to go to bed? 3. an amount of hours, days, weeks, months or years ○ There's no need to hurry – we've got plenty of time. ○ Do you have time for a cup of coffee? ○ He spent all that time watching the TV. ○ If the fire alarm rings, don't waste time putting clothes on – run out of the hotel fast. 4. a certain period ○ We haven't been to France for a long time. ○ We had a letter from my mother a short time ago. □ in ... time after a particular period from now ○ We're going on holiday in four weeks' time. □ to take time to need a certain amount of time ○ It didn't take you much time to get dressed. ○ Don't hurry me, I like to take my time. □ there's no time to be lost we must hurry □ to make up for lost time to do things rapidly because time has been wasted □ your time's up the amount of time allocated to you is over ○ Bring back your boat, your time's up. □ to do time to serve a prison sentence (informal) ○ He's doing time for theft. 5. the system of hours on the clock 6. a particular moment when something happens ○ They didn't hear anything as they were asleep at the time. ○ By the time the ambulance arrived the man had died. ○ You can't do two things at the same time. □ for the time being temporarily ○ For the time being I'm staying at my mother's while I'm waiting for my flat to be redecorated. □ at times on some occasions ○ At times I think he's quite mad. □ at all times always ○ Passengers should keep hold of their baggage at all times. □ next time the following moment when something happens ○ Next time, try to be nice to your mother. ♦ sometimes 7. a period when things are pleasant or bad ○ Everyone had a good time at the party. ○ We had an awful time on holiday – the hotel was dreadful, and it rained solidly for ten days. 8. one of several moments or periods when something happens ○ I've seen that James Bond film on TV four times already. ○ That's the last time I'll ask them to play cards. ○ Next time you come, bring your swimming things. □ time after time, time and again repeatedly, again and again ○ I've told her time after time not to do it. 9. □ times multiplied by ○ Six times twenty is one hundred and twenty. ○ This book is three times as expensive as that one. ○ She's a hundred times more efficient than the old secretary. 10. the rhythm of a piece of music ○ It's difficult keeping time in a modern piece like this. ○ He tapped his foot in time to the music. ■ verb 1. to count something in hours, minutes and seconds ○ I timed him as he ran round the track. ○ Don't forget to time the eggs – they have to cook for only three minutes. 2. to choose the right moment ○ She timed her holiday right – it was the hottest week of the year.

time bomb /'taɪm bɒm/ noun 1. a bomb with a clock attached, which can be set to explode at a certain time ○ They said that they had left a time bomb in the railway station. 2. a difficult situation which will happen in the future ○ The rapid increase in the world's population is a time bomb for future governments.

time-consuming /'taɪm kən,sju:rmɪŋ/ adj which takes a lot of time to do

time difference /'taɪm ,dɪf(ə)rəns/ noun the difference in time between one time zone and another time frame /'taɪm freɪm/ noun the period of time during which something should take place timeless /'taɪmləs/ adj which is not affected by time. Synonym eternal. Antonym ephemeral time limit /'taɪm ,lɪmɪt/ noun a point in time by which something should be done timely /'taɪmli/ adj which happens at the right moment. Synonym opportune time off /'taɪm 'ɒf/ noun time away from work or school time out /,taɪm 'aʊt/ noun □ to take time out from something to take a rest from some activity ○ She took time out from her work to come and say hello to the visitors.

timepiece /'taimpɪ:s/ noun a watch or clock (old) timer /'taɪmə/ noun 1. a device which times things ○ The timer buzzed to show that the five minutes were up. 2. a time-switch ○ I set the timer so that the oven came on at six o'clock. ○ Don't forget to change the central heating timer when the clocks are put back. ○ The police found explosives and timers in the garage.

timescale /'taɪmsekəl/ noun the period of time during which something should be completed timeshare /'taɪmʃeə/ noun a property which you own together with other people, each having the right to use it for a period each year time-sharing /'taɪm ,ʃeərɪŋ/ noun 1. owning a property together with other people, with the right to use it for a period each year 2. sharing a computer system with different users using different terminals

timeshare

time-switch /'taɪm swɪtʃ/ noun a switch which can be set to do something, e.g. switch electricity on or off, start a machine or switch off a light, at a particular time

timetable /'taɪmteɪb(ə)l/ noun a printed list which shows the times of something, e.g. classes in school or trains leaving ○ We have two English lessons on the timetable today. ○ According to the timetable, there should be a train to London at 10.22. ■ verb to schedule, to arrange the times for something ○ You are timetabled to speak at 4.30.

time trial /'taɪm ,traɪəl/ noun the act of testing competitors by timing each one over a track, especially in car and bicycle races time zone /'taɪm zo:n/ noun one of 24 areas in the world in which the same standard time is used timid /'tɪmɪd/ adj afraid to do something. Antonym bold timidity /'tɪ'mɪdɪtɪ/ noun the fact of being timid. Antonym boldness timidly /'tɪmɪd(ə)li/ adv in a timid way timing /'taɪmɪŋ/ noun the act of arranging the time at which something happens timpani /'tɪmpəni/ noun a set of kettle-drums in an orchestra

③ tin /tɪn/ noun 1. a silver-coloured soft metal ○ Bronze is a mixture of copper and tin. ○ There have been tin mines in Cornwall since Roman times. 2. a metal container in which food or another substance is sold and can be kept for a long time ○ I'm lazy – I'll just open a tin of soup. ○ She bought three tins of cat food. ○ We'll need three tins of white paint for the ceiling. (NOTE: in British English also called can, especially for drinks. The US term is can.) 3. any metal box ○ Keep the biscuits in a tin or they'll go soft. ○ She puts her spare coins into a tin by the telephone.

tin can /tɪn 'kæn/ noun a round metal box in which food or drink is sold and can be kept for a long time tinfoil /'tɪnfɔɪl/ noun a thin sheet of aluminium, used to cover food tinge /'tɪndʒ/ noun a slight colour or feeling of something ○ She has blonde hair with tinges of red. ○ The fabric is red with a blue tinge. ○ There was a slight tinge of sadness in the air as they left the house for the last time. Synonym hint ■ verb to give a slight colour or taste to something ○ The setting sun tinged everything orange. ○ Her mother's ill health tinged her last trip home with sadness. Synonym tint tinged /'tɪndʒd/ adj □ tinged with with a little of ○ She said goodbye in a voice tinged with sadness. ○ A yellow-peach tinged with pink.

tingle /'tɪŋgəl/ noun a sharp prickling feeling ○ It didn't hurt, I just felt a tingle in my leg. ○ We felt a tingle of excitement as we queued for the roller coaster. ■ verb 1. to have a sharp prickling feeling ○ 'Are your fingers tingling?' asked the doctor. ○ It will tingle when I put the antiseptic on your cut. 2. □ to tingle with excitement to be very excited ○ The children are tingling with excitement as Christmas approaches.

tinker /'tɪŋkə/ verb □ to tinker with something to try to make something work better, but not very successfully ○ He spent Saturday morning tinkering with his car. ○ The government are just tinkering with the economy when they should be taking strong action. ■ noun a mender of saucepans who travels from place to place (old) tinkle /'tɪŋkəl/ noun 1. a noise like the ringing of a little bell ○ the gentle tinkle of cow bells on alpine pastures 2. a telephone call (informal) ○ I'll give you a tinkle when we've sorted out the details. ■ verb to make a little ringing noise ○ The little bell tinkled as she went into the shop.

tinned /'tɪnd/ adj preserved and sold in a tin tin opener /'tɪn ,əʊp(ə)nə/ noun a device for opening tins of food (NOTE: The US term is can opener.)

tinsel /'tɪnsəl/ noun thin strips of glittering metal used as Christmas decorations (NOTE: no plural) tint /tɪnt/ noun 1. a slight shade of colour ○ A rosy tint in the eastern sky was the first sign of dawn. ○ Do you prefer this blue with a tint of grey in it? 2. a dye used to colour your hair ○ Her hair is such a dull colour – she should put a tint in it. ■ verb to give something a slight shade of colour ○ tinted glass ○ Windows of aircraft are tinted to re- duce the glare from the sun. ○ He was wearing tinted spectacles. ○ How much would it cost to have my hair tinted? Synonym dye ② tiny /'tami/ adj very small ○ Can I have just a tiny bit more pudding? ○ The spot is so tiny you can hardly see it. ○ She lives in a tiny village in the Welsh mountains. Synonym minute. Antonym enormous (NOTE: tinier – tiest)

② tip /tip/ noun 1. the end of something long ○ She reads Braille by touching the page with the tips of her fingers. ○ He poked the pig with the tip of his walking stick. □ it's on the tip of my tongue I'll remember it in a moment, I'm trying hard to remember it (informal) □ it's the tip of the iceberg it's only a small obvious part of something bigger and usually unpleasant ○ Those errors in the accounts were just the tip of the iceberg – the staff had been stealing money and stock for years. 2. money given to someone who has provided a service ○ The taxi driver was annoyed because I only gave him a 20p tip. ○ The service hasn't been very good – should we leave a tip for the waiter? ○ The staff are not allowed to accept tips. 3. advice on something which could be profitable ○ He gave me a tip about a horse which was likely to win. ○ She gave me a tip about a cheap restaurant just round the corner from the hotel. 4. a place where household rubbish is taken to be thrown away ○ I must take these bags of rubbish to the tip. 5. a dirty or untidy place (informal) ○ Just look at your bedroom – it's a tip! ■ verb 1. to pour something out ○ He picked up the box and tipped the contents out onto the floor. ○ She tipped all the food out of the bag. 2. to give money to someone who has helped you ○ I tipped the waiter £1. ○ Should we tip the driver? 3. to predict that something may happen, especially who will win ○ He's tipped to win the election. ○ Which horse are you tipping in the next race? (NOTE: tipping – tipped) tip off /'tip 'ɒf/ verb to warn someone about something (informal) ○ We think he tipped the burglars off that the police were outside.

tip-off /'tip 'ɒf/ noun a piece of useful information, given secretly (informal) tip over /'tip 'əʊvə/ verb 1. to lean and fall over ○ The lorry tipped over in the wind. ○ My cup tipped over and all the coffee spilled on to the tablecloth. 2. to make something lean so that it falls over ○ The wind was so strong that it tipped over the caravan.

Tipp-Ex /'tip eks/ trademark a white substance used to blot out mistakes in typing or writing tipple /'tip(ə)l/ noun an alcoholic drink (informal) ■ verb to drink alcohol regularly tipsy /'tipsi/ adj rather drunk

tiptoe /'tiptəʊ/ noun □ on tiptoe on your toes, with your heels in the air ○ By standing on tiptoe he could just see into the window. ○ He crept past the sleeping dog on tiptoe. ■ verb to walk quietly on tiptoe ○ She tiptoed into the room and looked at the baby.

tip up /'tip 'ʌp/ verb 1. to lean and fall over ○ The cup tipped up and all the tea went into the saucer. 2. to turn something over so that the contents fall out ○ He tipped up the bottle to see if there was any tomato sauce left inside.

trirade /'trɪ'reɪd/ noun a long speech attacking something. Synonym outburst tire /'taɪər/ noun US spelling of tyre ■ verb 1. to become tired ○ He is getting old and tired easily. 2. to make someone become tired ○ We went for a long cycle ride to tire the children out. □ to tire of to lose interest in something ○ The children soon tired of playing with their toy soldiers.

① tired /'taɪəd/ adj 1. feeling sleepy ○ I'm tired – I think I'll go to bed. ○ If you feel tired, lie down on my bed. 2. feeling that you need rest ○ We're all tired after a long day at the office. 3. □ to be (sick and) tired of something to be bored and annoyed with something, to have had enough of something ○ I'm sick and tired of waiting for the doctor. □ to get tired of something to become bored with something ○ They're getting tired of always having to do all the washing up. ○ Can't we do something else – I'm getting tired of visiting museums.

tired out /'taɪəd 'aʊt/ adj feeling very sleepy or needing a rest. Synonym exhausted. Antonym energetic tireless /'taɪələs/ adj full of energy, never needing to rest. Antonym weary tiresome /'taɪəs(ə)m/ adj annoying. Synonym exhausting

③ tissue /'tɪʃu:/ noun 1. a soft paper handkerchief ○ There is a box of tissues beside the bed. 2. groups of cells which form an animal or plant ○ animal tissue grown in a laboratory ○ They took a sample of tissue from the lung.

tissue paper /'tɪʃu: ,peɪpə/ noun thin soft paper used for wrapping glass and other delicate objects tit /tɪt/ noun 1. a type of common small bird, usually with blue and yellow or black plumage ○ Several varieties of tit come to our bird table to feed. ○ We haven't had blue tits in the garden for a long time. 2. a woman's breast (vulgar) titan /'taɪt(ə)n/ noun a very large or very important person. Synonym giant. Antonym nobody titanic /tai'tænɪk/ adj very large or important. Synonym colossal. Antonym insignificant titanium /tai'teɪniəm/ noun a light grey metal which does not rust, used in making aircraft and satellites titbit /'titbit/ noun a special little piece of food or of gossip (NOTE: The US spelling is tidbit.)

titchy /'titʃi/ adj very small (informal) Synonym tiny. Antonym massive tit for tat /,tit fə 'tæt/ noun the practice of paying back a blow with another blow. Synonym retaliation titillate /'titileɪt/ verb to excite someone

① title /'taɪt(ə)l/ noun 1. the name of something, e.g. a book, play, painting or film ○ He's almost finished the play but hasn't found a title for it yet. 2. a word such as Dr, Mr, Professor, Lord, Sir or Lady put in front of a name to show an honour or a qualification 3. (in sport) the official position of champion ○ What are his chances of retaining the Formula One title for a second year running? 4. a right to own a property ○ He holds the title to the property.

titled /'taɪt(ə)ld/ adj with a title, e.g. Lady or Sir, put in front of your name title deeds /'taɪt(ə)l di:dz/ plural noun a document showing who is the owner of a property title page /'taɪt(ə)l peɪdʒ/ noun a page at the beginning of a book, which gives the title, the name of the author and the name of the publisher title role /'taɪt(ə)l rəʊl/ noun the part in a play or film which gives the name to the play or film titter /'tɪtə/ noun a little laugh ■ verb to give a little laugh

T-junction /'tɪ: ,dʒʌŋkʃən/ noun a junction where one road joins another at right angles

TNT abbr trinitrotoluene

① to prep /tə, tu, tu:/ 1. showing direction or place ○ They went to the police station. ○ Do you know the way to the beach? ○ The river is to the north of the town. ○ Everyone take one step to the right, please. 2. showing a period of time ○ The office is open from 9.30 to 5.30, Monday to Friday. ○ She slept from 11.30 to 8.30 the following morning. 3. showing time in minutes before an hour ○ Get up – it's five to seven (6.55). ○ The train leaves at a quarter to eight (7.45). (NOTE: To is used for times between the half hour and o'clock: 3.35 = twenty-five to four; 3.45 = a quarter to four; 3.55 = five minutes to four. For times after the hour see past.) 4. showing a person or animal that receives something ○ Take the book to the librarian. ○

Pass the salt to your grandfather. ○ You must be kind to cats. 5. showing connection ○ They lost by twelve to nine. ○ There are four keys to the office. ○ In this class there are 28 children to one teacher. 6. showing that you are comparing ○ Do you prefer butter to margarine? ○ You can't compare tinned pineapple to fresh fruit. ■ used before a verb to show purpose ○ Did you remember to switch off the light? ○ The burglar tried to run away. ○ She agreed to go to work in Australia. ○ They all decided to go home early. ■ adv /tə, tu, tu:/ □ to come to to become conscious again ○ When he came to, he was lying on the floor of the church.

toad /təʊd/ noun an animal like a large frog, which lives mainly on land ○ Toads have to cross the road to get to their pond.

toadstool /'təʊdstu:l/ noun a small fungus shaped like an umbrella, but usually not edible, and sometimes poisonous (NOTE: White edible fungi are called mushrooms.)

to and fro /,tu: ən 'froʊ/ adv backwards and forwards

toast /təʊst/ noun 1. slices of bread which have been heated at a high temperature until they are brown ○ Can you make some more toast? ○ She asked for scrambled eggs on toast. □ brown or white toast toast made from brown bread or white bread ○ I always have a piece of brown toast and marmalade for breakfast. ♦ warm 2. □ to drink a toast to someone to take a drink and wish someone success ○ Let's drink a toast to the bride and groom! ○ We all drank a toast to the future success of the company. ■ verb 1. to heat baked food such as bread in a toaster or under a grill, until it is brown ○ We had toasted teacakes. 2. to wish someone success and drink at the same time ○ They all toasted the happy couple in champagne.

toaster /'təʊstə/ noun an electric device for toasting bread tobacco /tə'bækəʊ/ noun the dried leaves of a plant used to make cigarettes and cigars, and for smoking in pipes (NOTE: no plural) tobacconist /tə'bækənɪst/ noun a person who sells tobacco, cigars and cigarettes toboggan /tə'bɒgən/ noun a sledge made of a long flat piece of wood curved upwards at the front, designed for sliding downhill on snow or ice ○ The children pulled their toboggans to the hill. Synonym sleigh ■ verb to slide on a toboggan ○ They tobogganed down the hill.

tobogganing /tə'bɒgənɪŋ/ noun the sport of sliding on toboggans

① today /tə'deɪ/ noun 1. this day ○ Today's her sixth birthday. ○ What's the date today? ○ There's a story in today's newspaper about a burglary in our road. 2. this present time ○ The young people of today have far more money than I had when I was their age. ■ adv on this day ○ He said he wanted to see me today, but he hasn't come yet. □ today week, a week today in exactly seven days' time ○ A week today, we'll be sitting on the beach.

toddle /'tɒd(ə)l/ verb 1. (of a little child) to walk unsteadily ○ The little girl toddled across the pavement and into the road. 2. to walk ○ I'll just toddle down to the post office. ③ toddler /'tɒdlə/ noun a child who has just learnt to walk to-do /tə 'du:/ noun excitement, confusion, bother (informal) Synonym fuss

to-do list /tə 'dəʊ lɪst/ noun a list of the things you must do, usually in a specific period of time

③ toe /təʊ/ noun 1. one of the five parts like fingers at the end of the foot ○ She trod on my toe and didn't say she was sorry. □ the big toe the largest of the five toes □ the little toe the smallest of the five toes □ to keep someone on their toes to keep someone ready or alert ○ My job is to make sure the staff are always on their toes. 2. the end part of a shoe or a sock ○ There's a hole in the toe of my sock. ■ verb □ to toe the line to do what you are told to do ○ He was sacked because he refused to toe the line.

TOEFL /'təʊf(ə)l/ trademark Test of English as a Foreign Language toehold /'təʊhəʊld/ noun 1. a place where you can put the toe of your boot when climbing ○ He hung in the air at the end of a rope, trying to get a toehold. 2. a small position on which you can build ○ They gained a toehold in the Spanish market.

TOEIC /'təʊɪk/ trademark Test of English for International Communication toenail /'təʊneɪl/ noun a nail covering the end of a toe toff /tɒf/ noun a rich, aristocratic person (dated informal). Synonym aristocrat toffee /'tɒfɪ/ noun a sticky sweet made by cooking sugar and butter tofu /'təʊfu:/ noun bean curd, a soft white paste made from soya beans

① together /tə'geðə/ adv 1. doing something with someone else or in a group ○ Tell the children to stay together or they'll get lost. ○ If you're going to the cinema, and we're planning to go too, why don't we all go together? 2. joined with something else or with each other ○ Tie the sticks together with string. ○ Do you think you can stick the pieces of the cup together again? ○ If you add all the figures together, you'll get the total sales. ○ We've had three sandwiches and three beers – how much does that come to all together? 3. □ together with as well as ○ The ice together with the wind made climbing dangerous. 4. at the same time ○ Don't wash those two shirts together. Compare altogether togetherness /tə'geðənəs/ noun a feeling of friendliness and closeness with a person or people you know well toggle /'tɒgl(ə)l/ noun a short piece of wood attached to a coat with string, used in place of a button ○ A duffel coat has toggles not buttons. ■ verb (in computers) to change between two states ○ The symbol can be toggled on and off the display.

toil /tɔɪl/ noun hard work (old or literary) ○ a life of endless toil Antonym relaxation ■ verb to work hard ○ They toiled for months to try to improve the conditions of the workers. ○ She was toiling away at a hot stove.

② toilet /'tɔɪlət/ noun 1. a bowl with a seat on which you sit to get rid of waste matter from your body ○ There is a shower and toilet in the bathroom. □ to flush a toilet to press a handle to make water flow through the toilet bowl to clear it ○ Don't forget to flush the toilet. 2. a room with a toilet bowl in it ○ The ladies' toilet is at the end of the corridor. ○ The gents' toilets are downstairs and to the right. ○ There's a public toilet at the railway station. □ to go to the toilet 1. to use a toilet to remove waste matter from the body ○ The children all want to go to the toilet at the same time. 2. to remove waste matter from the body ○ Mum! The cat's been to the toilet on the sitting room carpet.

toilet bag /'tɔɪlət bæg/ noun same as sponge bag toilet paper /'tɔɪlət ,peɪpə/ noun soft paper for wiping your bottom after going to the toilet toiletries /'tɔɪlətrɪz/ plural noun things, e.g. soap, cream and perfume, which are used in washing the body or making yourself smell nice toilet roll /'tɔɪlət rəʊl/ noun a roll of toilet paper toilet water /'tɔɪlət ,wɔ:tə/ noun a type of light perfume. Synonym cologne

token /'təʊkən/ noun 1. a thing which is a sign or symbol of something ○ Please accept this small gift as a token of our gratitude. □ by the same token in the same way ○ You have every right to complain about him, but, by the same token, you mustn't get upset if he complains about you. □ to make a token charge to make a small charge which does not cover the real costs □ to make a token gesture to make a small and insignificant action done to show that you are intending to deal with a problem ○ The motion criticising the government was simply a token gesture by the opposition parties. □ to make a token payment to make a small payment to show that a payment is being made □ to hold a to- ken strike to hold a short strike to show that the workers want to make a complaint about something □ a token woman or black a woman or black person appointed to a position, e.g. on a committee, in an attempt to show that there is no sexual or racial discrimination 2. a piece of paper or card, which is used in the place of money ○ You can use these tokens to pay for meals. □ book token or flower token a card which is bought in a shop and given as a present: it can only be exchanged for books or flowers 3. a plastic or metal disc, which is used instead of money ○ She put a token into the slot machine.

① told /təuld/ □ tell

tolerable /'tələbə(r)əbəl/ adj 1. bearable ○ The noise in the ironworks was barely tolerable. Antonym intolerable 2. fairly good ○ We had a tolerable meal in the hotel restaurant.

tolerably /'tələbə(r)əbli/ adv in a fairly good way □ a tolerably good film quite a good film tolerance /'tələrəns/ noun 1. the practice of tolerating something, such as unpleasant behaviour ○ The police showed great tolerance faced with a crowd of youths throwing bottles and stones. 2. the practice of allowing something to exist which you do not agree with ○ tolerance of other people's views. Antonym intolerance 3. the ability of the body to stand the effect of a drug or a poison ○ He has been taking the drug for so long that he has developed a tolerance to it. 4. an amount by which something can vary from a particular size ○ The specifications allow for a tolerance of 0.005mm.

tolerant /'tələrənt/ adj who shows tolerance. Antonym intolerant

tolerate /'tələreɪt/ verb 1. to allow something which you do not like to happen without complaining about it ○ She does not tolerate singing in the classroom. 2. to allow something which you do not agree with to exist ○ Opposition parties are not tolerated in that country. ○ He is not known for tolerating people with opposing views to his. 3. to accept the effect of a drug or a poison ○ The body can tolerate small amounts of poison.

toleration /,tələ'reɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the practice of allowing something which you do not agree with to exist. Antonym prejudice toll /təl/ noun 1. a payment for using a service, usually a road, bridge or ferry ○ You have to pay a toll to cross the bridge. ○ There's an office at the bridge where the man collects the tolls. 2. the number of people hurt, of buildings damaged, etc. □ to take a toll of something to destroy or damage something ○ The storm took a heavy toll of ships in the harbour. ○ The wind took its toll of trees in the park. 3. the solemn ringing of a bell ○ The toll of the great bell could be heard across the marshes. ■ verb to ring a bell slowly, as for a funeral ○ The bell was tolling as the coffin arrived at the church.

toll bridge /'tələ brɪdʒ/ noun a bridge where you have to pay a toll to cross toll free /,tələl 'fri:/ adj, adv US without having to pay the charge for a long-distance telephone call tom /təm/ noun a male cat

③ tomato /tə'ma:təʊ/ noun 1. a small round red fruit used in salads and cooking ○ Tomatoes cost 30p per kilo. ○ We had a salad of raw cabbage and tomatoes. ○ Someone in the crowd threw a tomato at the speaker on the platform. □ tomato sauce or ketchup sauce made with tomatoes and flavourings ○ Do you want tomato sauce with your fish and chips? 2. a tomato plant, a plant which produces tomatoes ○ He planted six tomatoes in his back garden. (NOTE: The plural is tomatoes.)

③ tomb /tu:mbl/ noun a grave, sometimes one with an underground vault tomboy /'tombɔɪ/ noun a girl who enjoys playing boys' games

tombstone /'tu:mstəʊn/ noun a large stone placed on a grave with the name of the dead person written on it. Synonym headstone tomcat /'təmktæt/ noun a male cat tome /təm/ noun a large book

① tomorrow /tə'mɒrəʊ/ adv referring to the day after today ○ Are you free for lunch tomorrow? ○ I mustn't forget I have a dentist's appointment tomorrow morning. ○ We are going to an Italian restaurant tomorrow evening. ■ noun the day after today ○ Today's Monday, so tomorrow must be Tuesday. ○ Tomorrow is our tenth wedding anniversary. □ the day after tomorrow two days after today ○ We're going to Paris the day after tomorrow.

③ ton /tən/ noun 1. a measure of weight equal to 2240 pounds ○ a ship carrying 1000 tons of coal 2. □ it weighs a ton it is very heavy (informal) ○ Your suitcase weighs a ton, what have you got in it? □ tons of something lots of something (informal) ○ I've tons of work to do. ○ She had tons of cards on her 21st birthday.

② tone /tən/ noun 1. a way of saying something, or of writing something, which shows a particular feeling ○ His tone of voice showed he was angry. ○ She said hello in a friendly tone of voice. ○ You could tell from the tone of his letter that he was annoyed. 2. (on the phone) a special noise which indicates something ○ Please speak after the tone. 3. a slight difference in colour ○ *She prefers pastel tones like pale pink or pale blue. 4. the general spirit of a place ○ *Having all those rusty old fridges and cookers in their front garden lowers the tone of the neighbourhood. 5. (in music) the difference in pitch between five pairs of notes, which together with the semitones go to make an octave ■ verb □ to tone in with something to fit in well or to harmonise with something ○ The colour of the carpet tones in well with the curtains.

tone deaf /təʊn 'def/ adj (in music) not able to recognise the differences between musical notes tone down /təʊn 'dawn/ verb to make something less offensive. Synonym dilute toner /təʊnə/ noun 1. a black powder, like dry ink, used in photocopiers and laser printers ○ The printer has run out of toner. 2. a substance used on your skin to make it look nicer or smoother (NOTE: no plural)

tone up /təʊn 'ʌp/ verb to make your body firmer or fitter tongs /tɒŋz/ plural noun □ (a pair of) tongs a device for picking things up, with small claws on the end of two arms which you can move together ○ She picked up the burning log with the tongs and put it back on the fire.

② tongue /tʌŋ/ noun 1. the long muscular organ in your mouth, which can move and is used for tasting, swallowing and speaking ○ The soup was so hot it burnt my tongue. □ to say something with your tongue in your cheek, to say something tongue in cheek to say something which you do not mean seriously 2. a similar part in an animal, used for food ○ We had tongue and salad. 3. a way of speaking ○ She can have a sharp tongue when she wants to. 4. a language 5. a long loose piece of leather under the laces in a shoe tongue-and-groove /tʌŋ ən 'gru:v/ noun a type of board with a projecting tongue along one edge which fits into a corresponding groove along the edge of the next board, often used to create panelling tongue-in-cheek /tʌŋ ɪn 'tʃi:k/ adj not meant seriously tongue-tied /tʌŋ taid/ adj so shy as to be unable to say anything. Synonym speechless. Antonym talkative tongue-twister /tʌŋ ,twɪstə/ noun a phrase like 'red lorry, yellow lorry,' which is difficult to say quickly tonic /'tɒnɪk/ noun something which makes you stronger ○ He's taking a course of iron tonic tablets. ○ Going on holiday will be a tonic for you.

tonic water /'tɒnɪk ,wɔ:tə/ noun fizzy water made with quinine, used as a cooling drink

① tonight /tə'nait/ adv, noun the night or the evening of today ○ I can't stop – we're getting ready for tonight's party. ○ I'll be at home from eight o'clock tonight. ○ I don't suppose there's anything interesting on TV tonight.

tonnage /'tʌnɪdʒ/ noun a space for cargo in a ship, measured in tons

③ tonne /tʌn/ noun a metric ton, a weight of 1,000 kilograms tonsil /'tɒns(ə)l/ noun one of two soft lumps of tissue at the back of the throat tonsillitis /'tɒnsɪ'laitɪs/ noun an inflammation of the tonsils

① too /tu:/ adv 1. more than necessary ○ There are too many people to fit into the lift. ○ I think we bought too much bread. ○ It's too hot for us to sit in the sun. 2. (often at the end of a clause) also ○ She had some coffee and I had some too. ○ She comes from Scotland too.

① took /tu:k/ □ take

② tool /tu:l/ noun an instrument which you hold in your hand to do specific work, such as a hammer or a spade ○ a set of tools for mending the car toolbar /'tu:l,ba:/ noun a line of icons on a computer screen which you click on to get the computer to do certain things tool shed /tu:l sed/ noun a small wooden shed in a garden where tools are kept toot /tu:t/ noun a short sound made by a horn ○ As he went past us he gave a toot on his horn. ■ verb to blow a horn sharply ○ She tooted as she turned the corner.

② tooth /tu:θ/ noun 1. one of a set of hard white objects in the mouth which you use to bite or chew food ○ Children must learn to clean their teeth twice a day. ○ I'll have to see the dentist – one of my back teeth hurts. ○ The dentist took one of her teeth out. 2. □ to have a sweet tooth to like sweet food ○ He's very fond of puddings – he's got a real sweet tooth! ○ Don't put the chocolates next to her – she's got a very sweet tooth. □ long in the tooth old ○ She's getting a bit long in the tooth for scuba diving. 3. one of the row of pointed pieces on a saw, comb or a zip ○ Throw that comb away, half its teeth are broken. (NOTE: The plural is teeth /tɪ:θ/.)

toothache /'tu:θeɪk/ noun a pain in a tooth (NOTE: no plural) toothbrush /'tu:θbrʌʃ/ noun a small brush which you use to clean your teeth (NOTE: The plural is toothbrushes.)

toothpaste /'tu:θpeɪst/ noun a soft substance which you spread on a toothbrush and then use to clean your teeth (NOTE: no plural: some toothpaste, a tube of toothpaste) toothpick /'tu:θpɪk/ noun a little pointed piece of wood, used for cleaning between the teeth

① top /tɒp/ noun 1. the highest place or highest point of something ○ Manchester United are still at the top of the league table. ○ He climbed to the top of the stairs and sat down. ○ The blackbird is sitting on the top of the apple tree. ○ There is a roof garden on top of the hotel. ○ Look at the photograph at the top of page four. □ at the top of her voice in a very loud voice □ from top to bottom completely 2. the flat upper surface of something ○ Do not put coffee cups on top of the computer. ○ The desk has a black top. ○ a birthday cake with sugar and fruit on top 3. a cover for a jar or a bottle ○ Take the top off the jar, and see what's inside. ○ She forgot to screw the top back on the bottle. 4. being best position in a contest or a profession ○ She came top in the competition. 5. a child's toy which turns very rapidly on a point ○ When a spinning top loses momentum, it wobbles and finally falls over. 6. a piece of clothing covering the upper part of the body ○ She wore jeans and a yellow top. ■ adj 1. in the highest place ○ The restaurant is on the top floor of the building. ○ Jams and marmalades are on the top shelf. 2. best ○ She's one of the world's top tennis players. ■ verb 1. to put something on top ○ cheesecake topped with whipped cream 2. to do better than ○ I don't think anyone else will top his score. □ to top it all on top of everything else (informal) ○ To top it all, a pipe burst in the bathroom and the whole house was flooded. (NOTE: topping – topped)

topaz /'təʊpæz/ noun a usually yellow precious stone top brass /'tɒp 'bra:s/ noun directors or high-ranking officers top-class /'tɒp 'kla:s/ adj of the highest class. Synonym best top-down /'tɒp 'daʊn/ adj working from general things to more specific ones top hat /'tɒp 'hæt/ noun a tall cylindrical hat with a narrow brim which is worn by a man on formal occasions top-heavy /'tɒp 'hevi/ adj with the top part heavier than the bottom, and so likely to fall over

② topic /'tɒpɪk/ noun the subject of a discussion or conversation ○ Can we move on to another topic? □ to bring up a topic to start to discuss something ○ She brought up the topic of where to go on holiday.

③ topical /'tɒpɪk(ə)l/ adj interesting at the present time topless /'tɒpləs/ adj not wearing any clothes on the top part of your body top-level /'tɒp 'lev(ə)l/ adj involving the most important people topmost /'tɒpməʊst/ adj highest or nearest the top topography /tə'pɒgrəfi/ noun the study or description of the physical features of a place and its rivers, mountains, and valleys topping /'tɒpɪŋ/ noun things such as cream or melted cheese, put on the top of food such as cakes, pizzas, or ice cream topple /'tɒp(ə)l/ verb 1. to fall down ○ He lost his balance and toppled forwards. 2. to make a government or dictator lose power ○ The government was toppled after three days of street fighting.

topple over /,tɒp(ə)l 'əʊvə/ verb to fall down top secret /,tɒp 'si:kret/ adj absolutely secret topsy-turvy /,tɒpsi 'tɜ:vɪ/ adj in disorder or all upside down. Synonym confused top up /,tɒp 'ʌp/ verb to add liquid to fill completely something which is half empty top-up /'tɒp ʌp/ noun the liquid which you add to a half-empty cup or glass to make it full again

Torah /'tɔ:ra/ noun the first five books of the Jewish bible

③ torch /tɔ:tʃ/ noun 1. a small portable electric lamp ○ Take a torch if you're going into the cave. ○ I always carry a small torch in the car. (NOTE: The US term is flashlight) 2. a flaming light, carried in the hand

○ The demonstrators marched through the streets carrying torches. (NOTE: The plural is torches.) ■ verb to set fire to something on purpose ○ The rioters torched the police station. Synonym burn down torchlight /'tɔ:tʃlaɪt/ noun the light from a torch. Synonym beam

④ tore /tɔ:/ □ tear

torment noun /tɔ:ment/ extreme pain ○ the torment of parents who are separated from their children □ in torment in great pain ○ After days in torment with his back pain, he finally went to see the doctor. ■ verb /tɔ:'ment/ to make someone suffer ○ The old couple were tormented by their neighbours' children and in the end moved to a different street. ○ He was constantly tormented by doubt. Synonym annoy. Antonym comfort tormentor /tɔ:'mentər/ noun a person who torments a person or an animal. Synonym oppressor

④ torn /tɔ:n/ □ tear tornado /tɔ:'neɪdəʊ/ noun a violent storm with a whirlwind (NOTE: The plural is tornadoes) torpedo /tɔ:'pi:dəʊ/ noun a missile like a shell which travels under the water ○ The submarine fired a torpedo. ○ The ship was hit by three torpedoes and sank immediately. (NOTE: The plural is torpedoes.) ■ verb 1.

to sink a ship using a torpedo ◇ The ship was torpedoed by an enemy submarine. 2. to ruin someone's plans ◇ His grandiose scheme for a leisure complex was torpedoed by the council planning department.

torpor /'tɔ:pə/ noun being half-asleep and slow to react. Synonym inactivity. Antonym excitement torrent /'trɔ:tənt/ noun 1. a fast rushing stream ◇ To get to the farm we had to cross a mountain torrent. 2. a fast flow ◇ The rain came down in torrents. 3. ◇ a torrent of abuse a large number of insults which are spoken rapidly ◇ She let out a torrent of abuse.

torrential /tɔ:reñsəl/ adj like a torrent torrid /'trɔ:rid/ adj 1. very hot ◇ the torrid tropical afternoon 2. intensely sexual ◇ A tale of torrid romance and intrigue.

torso /'tɔ:səʊ/ noun the main part of the body, not including the head, arms and legs (NOTE: The plural is torsoes.)

tortilla /tɔ:ti:ə/ noun 1. a type of Spanish omelette, often made with potato and onion 2. a round, flat bread made of corn or wheat flour ◇ Tortillas are part of Mexican food.

tortoise /'tɔ:təs/ noun a reptile covered with a hard shell, which moves very slowly on land and can live to be very old (NOTE: British English uses the word turtle for similar animals which live in water; American English uses turtle for both.)

tortoiseshell /'tɔ:təsəl/ adj, noun speckled brown material from the shell of a turtle used for making objects like combs and frames for glasses tortoiseshell cat /,tɔ:təsəl 'kæt/ noun a brown, yellow, white and black cat

tortuous /'tɔ:tʃuəs/ adj 1. which twists and turns ◇ Because of the roadworks we have to take a long and tortuous route back home. 2. very complicated ◇ I won't start explaining the tortuous procedure we had to go through to recover our money.

torture /'tɔ:tʃə/ noun 1. making someone suffer pain as a punishment or to make them reveal a secret ◇ They accused the police of using torture to get information about the plot. 2. extreme mental or physical pain. Synonym agony ◇ verb to inflict mental or physical pain on someone ◇ The soldiers tortured their prisoners. ◇ was tortured with doubts. Synonym torment

Tory /'tɔ:ri/ adj referring to the Conservative party ◇ a Tory government ◇ the last Tory Prime Minister ◇ noun a member of the Conservative party ◇ The Tories have recently elected a new leader. (NOTE: The plural is Tories.)

③ toss /tɔ:s/ noun 1. the act of throwing something into the air ◇ to win the toss (in sport) to guess correctly which side of the coin comes down on top and so have first choice or play first 2. a sharp movement up and down of the head ◇ With a toss of its head, the horse galloped off. ■ verb 1. to throw something up into the air ◇ He tried to toss the pancake and it fell on the kitchen floor. ◇ She tossed me her car keys. ◇ to toss a coin to throw a coin to decide something according to which side is on top when it comes down ◇ We tossed a coin and I had to do the washing up. ◇ let's toss for it let's throw a coin in the air and the person who guesses right starts to play first or has first choice 2. to move something about ◇ The waves tossed the little boat up and down. ◇ the horse tossed its head the horse made a sharp movement of the head ◇ to toss a salad to mix a salad ◇ to toss and turn to move about in bed, not able to sleep toss up /,tɔ:s 'ʌp/ verb to throw a coin to see which side is on top when it comes down toss-up /'tɔ:s ʌp/ noun 1. a situation where either of two things is possible ◇ it's a toss-up who's going to win either of them can win ◇ Chelsea and Arsenal are both on top form, so it's a toss-up which side will win. 2. throwing a coin in the air to guess which side comes down on top and so deciding which team starts first ◇ The two captains stood with the referee in the centre circle for the toss-up.

tot /tɔ:t/ noun 1. a little child ◇ She took the tot by the hand and led him back into the house. ◇ There are special classes where they teach tiny tots to swim. 2. a small glass of alcohol ◇ A tot of whisky before dinner won't do you any harm.

① total /'tɔ:t(ə)l/ adj complete or whole ◇ The expedition was a total failure. ◇ Their total losses come to over £400,000. ■ noun the whole amount ◇ The total comes to more than £1,000. ■ verb to add up to ◇ The bill totalled £600. ◇ He was declared bankrupt, with debts totalling more than £1m. (NOTE: totalling – totalled. The US spelling is totaling – totaled.)

totalitarian /tɔ:u,tæli'teəriən/ adj having total power and not allowing any opposition or personal freedom. Synonym authoritarian. Antonym democratic totalitarianism /tɔ:u,tæli'teəriəniz(ə)m/ noun a political system where the state has total power over the citizens

① totally /'tɔ:t(ə)li/ adv completely ◇ The house was totally destroyed in the fire. ◇ I had totally forgotten that I had promised to be there. ◇ He disagrees totally with what the first speaker said. Antonym partly

totter /'tɔ:tə/ noun 1. to walk unsteadily or to wobble ◇ I cannot bear to look at her tottering along in those platform shoes. ◇ The old lady manages to totter over to the bakery to get some fresh bread every day. 2. to be in a weak condition and likely to collapse ○ The company is tottering and we wonder how long it will survive. ○ The IMF has proposed ways of improving the country's tottering economy.

tot up /'tɒt 'ʌp/ verb to add up (NOTE: totting – totted)

① touch /tʌtʃ/ noun 1. one of the five senses, the sense of feeling with the fingers ○ The sense of touch is very acute in blind people. 2. contact, the passing of news and information □ to get in touch with someone to contact someone ○ I'll try to get in touch with you next week. □ to lose touch with someone to lose contact with someone ○ They used to live next door, but we've lost touch with them now that they've moved to London. □ to put someone in touch with someone to arrange for someone to have contact with someone ○ The bank put us in touch with a local lawyer. □ to stay in touch with someone to keep contact with someone ○ We met in Hong Kong thirty years ago but we have still kept in touch. 3. a gentle physical contact ○ I felt a light touch on my hand. 4. a very small amount ○ He added a few touches of paint to the picture. ○ There's a touch of frost in the air this morning. □ a touch of indigestion a slight attack of indigestion □ finishing touches final work to make something perfect ○ We're just putting the finishing touches to the exhibition before we open tomorrow morning. 5. a special style ○ She added an artistic touch to the meal. (NOTE: plural in meanings 3 and 4 is touches) ■ verb 1. to feel with your fingers ○ The policeman touched him on the shoulder. ○ Don't touch that cake – it's for your mother. 2. to be so close to something that you press against it ○ His feet don't touch the floor when he sits on a big chair. ○ There is a mark on the wall where the sofa touches it. 3. to eat or drink ○ I never touch coffee. ○ We never touch food which has not been washed. 4. to make someone feel sad or sympathetic ○ His sad song touched all the people in the church. 5. □ to touch someone for to try and get someone to give you money (informal) ○ How much did he touch you for?

touch-and-go /'tɒtʃ ən 'gəʊ/ adj possible that anything can happen touch down /'tɒtʃ 'daʊn/ verb 1. to land ○ The plane touched down at 13.20. 2. to score a try in rugby, by touching the ground behind the opponents' line with the ball ○ He touched down behind the posts.

touchdown /'tɒtʃdaʊn/ noun 1. the landing of a plane or spacecraft ○ The plane veered across the runway as one of its tyres burst on touchdown. 2. (in rugby) scoring a try by touching the ground behind the opponents' line with the ball ○ He burst through for a touchdown between the posts. 3. US scoring a goal in American football by taking the ball over the opponents' line ○ He completed a pass for the winning touchdown.

touched /'tɒtʃt/ adj grateful, pleased with touching /'tɒtʃɪŋ/ adj which affects the emotions touchline /'tɒtʃlaɪn/ noun a white line along the side of a football field touch on /'ækət ən/, touch upon /'tɒtʃ ə,pən/ verb to mention briefly touch screen /'tɒtʃ skrɪn/ noun a computer screen which you operate by touching displayed options with your finger touchstone /'tɒtʃ,stəʊn/ noun something which is an excellent example and is a standard by which to judge other things touch up /'tɒtʃ 'ʌp/ verb to add a small amount of paint to a surface touchy /'tɒtʃi/ adj 1. easily offended ○ Don't mention his red hair – he's very touchy about it. 2. which is likely to cause offence ○ Don't mention his divorce – it's a very touchy subject at the moment.

② tough /tʌf/ adj 1. difficult to chew or to cut ○ My steak's a bit tough – how's yours?

□ this meat is as tough as old boots it is extremely tough (informal) 2. difficult ○ The exam is extremely tough. Antonym easy 3. strict ○ The police are getting tough on drunk drivers. 4. able to deal with difficult or violent situations 5. unfortunate ○ It's tough that you can't come to the party. ○ Having three little children to look after is tough on the parents. □ tough luck! hard luck!

tough cookie /,tʌf 'kʊki/ noun a tough person (informal)

toughen /'tʌf(ə)n/ verb 1. to make tough or harder ○ Cooking the meat too much will simply toughen it. □ toughened glass specially strengthened glass ○ Toughened glass is used for shop windows. 2. to make more strict or severe ○ The aim is to toughen university entrance requirements.

toughen up /,tʌf(ə)n 'ʌp/ verb to make someone tougher, stronger or harder toupee /'tu:pə/ noun artificial hair worn to cover a bald area on a man's head

② tour /tuə/ noun 1. a holiday journey to various places coming back eventually to the place you started from ○ There are so many tours to choose from – I can't decide which one to go on. ○ She gave us a tour round the old castle. 2. a journey on business to various places coming back eventually to the place you started from ○ He is leading a group of businessmen on a tour of Italian factories. 3. a journey round various places where you perform or speak ○ The pop group is on an American tour. ○ The Prime Minister went on a tour of the North East. ■ verb 1. to go on holiday, visiting various places ○ They toured the south of France. 2. to visit various places to perform or speak ○ The opera company toured Eastern Europe last year.

tourism /'tuərɪz(ə)m/ noun the business of providing travel, accommodation, food and entertainment for tourists

③ tourist /'tuərɪst/ noun a person who goes on holiday to visit places away from their home ○ The tourists were talking German. ○ There were parties of tourists visiting all the churches. ○ Trafalgar Square is always full of tourists.

tourist class /'tuərɪst kla:s/ noun a type of seating in an aircraft which is cheaper than first class tourist trap /'tuərɪst træp/ noun a place which charges tourists too much tourist visa /'tuərɪst ,vi:zə/ noun a visa which allows a person to visit a country for a short time on holiday tournament /'tuənəmənt/ noun a sporting competition with many games where competitors who lose drop out until only one is left. Synonym contest tourniquet /'tɔ:nikeɪt/ noun a tight bandage put round an arm or leg to stop bleeding tour operator /'tu:ər ,ɒpəreɪtə/ noun a travel agency which organises and sells package holidays or tours tousled /'taʊz(ə)ld/ adj referring to hair or fur which is messy or tangled tout /taʊt/ verb 1. to praise something in the hope that people will believe you ○ The book was touted as a masterpiece. 2. □ to tout for business or custom to try to find new customers ○ As soon as we left the airport building we were surrounded by taxi drivers touting for business.

tow /təʊ/ noun the action of pulling something ○ We got a tractor to give us a tow to the nearest garage. (NOTE: Do not confuse with toe.) ■ verb to pull a car or a ship which cannot move by itself ○ The motorways were crowded with cars towing caravans. ○ They towed the ship into port.

① towards /tə'wɔ:dz/ prep 1. in the direction of ○ The crowd ran towards the police station. ○ The bus was travelling south, towards London. ○ The ship sailed straight towards the rocks. 2. near in time ○ Do you have any free time towards the end of the month? ○ The exhibition will be held towards the middle of October. 3. as part of the money to pay for something ○ He gave me £100 towards the cost of the hotel. 4. in relation to ○ She always behaved very kindly towards her father. (NOTE: [all senses] The US term is toward.) towel /'təʊəl/ noun a large piece of soft cloth for drying ○ There's only one towel in the bathroom. ○ After washing her hair, she wound the towel round her head. ○ I'll get some fresh towels. □ to throw in the towel to give up, not to continue a contest towelling /'təʊəlɪŋ/ noun an absorbent type of soft cloth used mainly for making towels (NOTE: The US spelling is toweling.)

towel rail /'təʊəl reɪl/ noun a bar of metal or wood in a bathroom on which you can hang a towel

③ tower /'taʊə/ noun a tall construction ○ The castle has thick walls and four square towers. ■ verb □ to tower over to rise very high above ○ He towers over his wife who is very small.

tower block /'taʊə blok/ noun a very tall block of flats towering /'taʊərɪŋ/ adj 1. very tall ○ towering cliffs 2. □ towering rage very great rage ○ When he read the letter he went into a towering rage.

Tower of London /,taʊə əv 'lændən/ noun a castle in London, built by William the Conqueror

① town /taʊn/ noun 1. a place, larger than a village, where people live and work, with houses, shops, offices, factories and other buildings ○ There's no shop in our village, so we do our shopping in the nearest town. ○ They moved their office to the centre of town. □ to go to town on something to spend a lot of money or time on something (informal) ○ She really went to town on buying furniture for the new house. □ to paint the town red to go out drinking and going to parties in town (informal) 2. the people living in a town ○ The whole town refused to pay the tax.

③ town centre /,taʊn 'sentə/ noun the central part of a town, where main shops, banks and places of interest are situated (NOTE: The US term is downtown.)

town hall /,taʊn 'hɔ:l/ noun the main building in a town, where the town council meets, and where many of the council departments are town house /'taʊn haʊs/ noun 1. a house in a town belonging to someone who also has a house in the country ○ He has a castle in Northumberland, and a town house in London. 2. an expensive modern terraced house ○ They're building a row of town houses behind the police station.

township /'taʊnʃɪp/ noun 1. (in the USA and Canada) a local administrative area formed of a small town and the area round it 2. (formerly, in South Africa) an urban area where black people live townspeople /'taʊnzpi:p(ə)/ plural noun people who live in a town toxaemia /tɒk'si:mɪə/ noun blood poisoning, a condition caused by bacteria in the blood (NOTE: The US spelling is toxemia.)

toxic /tɒksɪk/ adj harmful. Synonym poisonous. Antonym harmless toxic waste /tɒksɪk 'weɪst/ noun waste which is poisonous or harmful to the environment toxin /tɒksɪn/ noun a poisonous substance produced inside the body by germs. Synonym poison

② toy /tɔɪ/ noun a thing for children to play with ○ We gave him a box of toy soldiers for Christmas. ○ The children's toys are all over the sitting room floor. ○ She won't let me play with any of her toys. ■ verb ◇ to toy with something 1. to deal with or consider something or someone casually ○ I'm toying with the idea of selling my house. ○ After several broken promises, she realised he was just toying with her. 2. to push food about as though you were eating but without eating much of it ○ She had no appetite and only toyed with her meat.

toy boy /tɔɪ bɔɪ/ noun a younger man who is the companion of an older woman (offensive) toyshop /tɔɪʃɒp/ noun a shop which sells toys

③ trace /treɪs/ noun 1. something which shows that something existed ○ The police found traces of blood in the kitchen. □ without trace leaving nothing behind ○ The car seems to have vanished without trace. 2. a very small amount ○ There was a trace of powder on his coat. ○ She showed no trace of anger. ■ verb 1. to follow an animal's tracks ○ We traced the badger back to its hole. 2. to find where someone or something is ○ They couldn't trace the letter. ○ The police traced him to Dover. 3. to copy a drawing or other image by placing a sheet of transparent paper over it and drawing on it ○ She traced the map and put it into her project on the history of the village.

trace element /'treɪs ,elɪmənt/ noun a chemical element which a plant or animal needs to grow properly, but only in very small amounts trachea /trə'ki:ə/ noun the main air passage which runs from the larynx to the lungs, where it divides (technical) Also called windpipe

② track /træk/ noun 1. a rough path ○ We followed a track through the forest. □ off the beaten track in a place which is not normally visited by many people □ you're on the right track you're working the right way in order to succeed, you're doing the right thing ○ We haven't solved the problem yet, but we're certainly on the right track. □ you're on the wrong track you're working in the wrong way 2. a path for races 3. a line of parallel rails for trains ○ The trains will be late because of repairs to the track. □ to have a one-track mind to think about only one thing or to have only one thing which interests you (informal) 4. one of the sections on a disk ○ One of the tracks from their disk has been released as a single. ■ verb to follow someone or an animal ○ The hunters tracked the bear through the forest. ○ The police tracked the gang to a flat in south London. ▪ tracks trackball /'træk,bɔ:l/ noun a ball used instead of a computer mouse to control the cursor on a computer screen

track down /,træk 'daʊn/ verb □ to track someone down to follow and catch someone, e.g. a criminal ○ Did you track down your old boss? □ to track something down to manage to find something or someone ○ I finally tracked down that file which you were looking for.

track record /'træk ,rekɔ:d/ noun the success or failure of someone or a business in the past tracks /træksts/ plural noun a series of footprints left by an animal or marks left by things like wheels □ to make tracks for to go towards ○ They made tracks for the nearest hotel.

③ tracksuit /'træksu:t/ noun a pair of matching trousers and top, in warm material, worn when practising sports tract /trækt/ noun 1. a large area of land ○ Whole tracts of forest have been contaminated by acid rain. 2. a short pamphlet, usually on a religious subject ○ Someone pushed a tract on the dangers of alcohol through our letterbox. 3. a system of organs and tubes in the body which are linked together ○ The respiratory tract takes air into the lungs.

traction /'trækʃən/ noun 1. pulling a broken leg or other part of the body with weights and pulleys so as to straighten it ○ After we have set the bone, the leg will require traction. □ in traction having a broken limb attached and pulled so that it becomes straight ○ She was in traction for several weeks. 2. (of a tyre) the gripping power between a tyre and the road surface ○ These tyres are so old they have no traction at all on ice. 3. the force of pulling tractor /'træktə/ noun a heavy vehicle with large back wheels, used for work on farms

① trade /treɪd/ noun 1. the business of buying and selling ○ Britain's trade with the rest of Europe is up by 10%. □ to do a good trade in a range of products to sell a large number of a range of products □ to do a roaring trade to sell a lot very fast ○ The ice cream sellers have been doing a roaring trade during the hot weather. 2. people or companies that deal in the same type of product or service ○ He is in the secondhand car trade. ■ verb 1. to buy and sell, to carry on a business ○ The company has stopped trading. ○ They trade in furs. 2. to exchange something for something ○ I'll trade the car for your motorbike.

trade deficit /'treɪd ,defɪsɪt/ noun the difference between the value of a country's exports and the value of its imports trade fair /'treɪd feɪə/ noun an occasion when manufacturers and producers exhibit their products and services to try to sell them trade in /,treɪd 'ɪn/ verb to give in an old item, such as a car or washing-machine, as part of the payment for a new one. Synonym exchange trade off /,treɪd 'ɒf/ verb to balance one thing against another to get a final result ○ We needed to trade off the disadvantages of staying where we are against the cost of moving to new premises.

trade-off /'treɪd 'ɒf/ noun exchanging one thing for another as part of a deal. Synonym compromise trade on /'treɪd ɒn/ verb to exploit or to use something to your advantage trade price /'treɪd præs/ noun a special wholesale price paid by a retailer to a wholesaler or manufacturer trader /'treɪdə/ noun a person who does business. Synonym dealer tradesman /'treɪdzmən/ noun a person who runs a shop (dated) (NOTE: The plural is tradesmen.)

trade unionist /,treɪd 'ju:njənist/ noun a member of a trade union trading /'treɪdɪŋ/ noun the business of buying and selling trading estate /'treɪdɪŋ ɪ,steɪt/ noun a group of warehouses and factories built together

② tradition /trə'dɪʃ(ə)n/ noun beliefs, customs and stories which are passed from one generation to the next ○ It's a family tradition for the eldest son to take over the business. ○ According to local tradition, two murderers were hanged at the crossroads. Antonym innovation

① traditional /trə'dɪʃ(ə)n(ə)l/ adj according to tradition ○ On Easter Day it is traditional to give chocolate eggs to the children. ○ Villagers still wear their traditional costumes on Sundays. Synonym usual traditionalist /trə'dɪʃ(ə)nəlist/ noun a person who does things in a traditional way. Synonym conservative. Antonym progressive traditionally /trə'dɪʃ(ə)nəli/ adv according to tradition. Synonym usually. Antonym occasionally

① traffic /'træfɪk/ noun 1. cars, lorries, buses and other vehicles which are travelling on a street or road ○ I leave the office early on Fridays because there is so much traffic leaving London. ○ The lights turned green and the traffic moved forward. ○ Rush-hour traffic is worse on Fridays. 2. an illegal trade ○ the South American drugs traffic (NOTE: no plural: some traffic; a lot of traffic) ■ verb to deal in drugs, weapons, etc., illegally ○ He made a fortune trafficking in cocaine. (NOTE: trafficking – trafficked) traffic-calming /,træfɪk 'kə:min/ noun □ traffic-calming measures ways used to make traffic less or slower, such as imposing speed limits, building humps in roads, etc.

traffic circle /'træfɪk ,sɜ:k(ə)l/ noun US a place where several roads meet, and traffic has to move in a circle round a central area (NOTE: The British term is roundabout.)

traffic island /'træfɪk ,aɪlənd/ noun a small piece of pavement in the centre of the road where pedestrians can safely stand traffic jam /'træfɪk dʒæm/ noun a situation where cars, lorries, buses and other vehicles cannot move forward on a road because there is too much traffic, because there has been an accident or because of roadworks. Synonym tailback trafficker /'træfɪkə/ noun □ drugs trafficker a person who deals illegally in drugs ○ The customs stopped him because they suspected he was a drugs trafficker.

③ traffic lights /'træfɪk laɪts/ plural noun red, green and amber lights for making the traffic stop and start ○ To get to the police station, you have to turn left at the next traffic lights. ○ He drove across the junction when the traffic lights were red. (NOTE: often shortened to lights) traffic offence /'træfɪk ə,fens/ noun an offence committed by drivers of vehicles traffic police /'træfɪk pə,li:s/ noun a branch of the police force dealing with traffic on roads traffic warden /'træfɪk ,wɔ:dən/ noun a person whose job it is to see that cars are legally parked, and to give parking tickets to those which are parked illegally

③ tragedy /'trædʒədi/ noun 1. a serious play, film or novel which ends sadly ○ Shakespeare's tragedy 'King Lear' is playing at the National Theatre. 2. a very unhappy event ○ Tragedy struck the family when their mother was killed in a car crash. (NOTE: The plural is tragedies.)

④ tragic /'trædʒɪk/ adj 1. very sad ○ a tragic accident on the motorway 2. referring to a tragedy ○ one of the greatest tragic actors

tragically /'trædʒɪkli/ adv very sadly

③ trail /treɪl/ noun 1. tracks left by an animal or by a criminal ○ We followed the trail of the bear through the forest. ○ The burglars left in a red sports car, and a police car was soon on their trail. 2. a path or track ○ Keep to the trail otherwise you will get lost. □ mountain trail a path through mountains 3. something that follows behind ○ The car left a trail of blue smoke. ○ The dogs followed the trail of drops of blood to a warehouse. ○ The storm left a trail of destruction across the south of the country. ■ verb 1. to follow the tracks left by an animal or a person ○ The police trailed the group across Europe. 2. □ to trail behind to follow slowly after someone ○ She came third, trailing a long way behind the first two runners. ○ The little children trailed behind the older ones. 3. to let something drag behind ○ She stormed out, trailing her coat on the floor behind her.

trailer /'treɪlə/ noun 1. a small goods vehicle pulled behind a car ○ We carried all our camping gear in the trailer. 2. parts of a full-length film shown as an advertisement for it ○ We saw the trailer last week, and it put me off the film.

trailer park /'treɪlə park/ noun a place where trailers are kept, usually permanently. Also called mobile home (NOTE: The British term is caravan.)

① train /treɪn/ noun 1. an engine pulling a group of coaches on the railway ○ To get to Glasgow, you have to change trains at Crewe. ○ The train to Paris leaves from platform 1. ○ Hundreds of people go to work every day by train. ○ The next train to London will be in two minutes. □ suburban train a train which goes from the centre of a town to the suburbs 2. a series of things, one after the other ○ The police are trying to piece together the train of events which led to the accident. □ train of thought a series of thoughts, one after the other ○ My wife asked me to help with the baby, thus breaking my train of thought. 3. a part of a dress which hangs down on to the ground at the back ○ The bride's train was held by four little pages. ■ verb 1. to teach someone or an animal how to do something ○ She's being trained to be a bus driver. ○ Guide dogs are trained to lead blind people. 2. to make a plant grow in a certain way ○ We've trained the clematis up the wall. 3. to become fit by practising for a sport ○ He's training for the 100 metres. ○ She's training for the Olympics. 4. to point a rifle or a telescope at something ○ The ship sailed south, with her guns trained onto the shore.

trained /treɪnd/ adj who has been through a course of training trainee /treɪ'nɪ: / noun a person who is being trained. Synonym apprentice

③ trainer /'treɪnə/ noun 1. a person who trains an athlete ○ His trainer says he's in peak condition for the fight. 2. a small aircraft in which pilots learn to fly trainers /'treɪnəz/ plural noun light sports shoes ○ She needs a new pair of trainers for school. ○ He comes to work every morning in trainers.

① training /'treɪnɪŋ/ noun 1. being taught a skill or being trained ○ The shop is closed on Tuesday mornings for staff training. ○ There is a ten-week training period for new staff. 2. practising for a sport □ to be in training to practise for a sport ○ She's in training for the Olympics.

tripse /treɪps/ verb to walk about in a heavy, tired way (informal) Synonym trudge ③ trait /treɪt/ noun a particular characteristic of someone traitor /'treɪtə/ noun a person who betrays his or her country, especially by giving secret information to the enemy. Antonym loyalist traitorous /'treɪt(ə)ras/ adj like a traitor (literary). Synonym disloyal. Antonym loyal trajectory /trə'dʒekt(ə)ri/ noun the curving movement of something which has been thrown or shot through the air. Synonym route tram /træm/ noun an electric public transport vehicle, which runs on rails laid in the street (NOTE: The US term is streetcar.)

tramcar /'træmka:/ noun a single carriage in a tram tramlines /'træmlainz/ plural noun 1. the rails in a street along which a tram runs ○ Don't stand on the tramlines – a tram may come round the corner. 2. the two side lines on a tennis court ○ He sent a passing shot down the tramlines.

tramp /træmp/ noun 1. a noise of heavy feet hitting the ground ○ The streets were filled with the tramp of marching soldiers. 2. a long walk ○ We went for a tramp along the cliffs last Sunday. 3. a person who has nowhere to live and walks from place to place looking for work or begging for food or money ○ The farmer was surprised to find a tramp asleep in one of his barns. (NOTE: The US term is hobo.) ■ verb 1. to walk with heavy feet ○ They tramped through the snow to get to the camp. ○ You could hear soldiers tramping through the streets at night. ○ All day long, we had the workmen tramping through the house with their dirty boots. 2. to walk for a long distance ○ They tramped for miles before they came to a little inn.

trample /'træmp(ə)l/ verb □ to trample on something 1. to crush something by walking on it ○ They trampled on the enemy flag and then burnt it. 2. to crush something violently ○ Several children were trampled to death in the riot. ○ The government has trampled on the rights of the ordinary citizen.

trampoline /'træmpəlɪn/ noun a large sheet of elastic material stretched across a frame, which you can bounce or jump on tramway /'træmwei/ noun the rails on which a tram runs trance /'træns/ noun a state when you are not alert but not asleep, and do not notice what is going on around you tranquil /'trænkwil/ adj calm or peaceful tranquillise /'trænkwilaɪz/, tranquillize verb to make someone calm by giving them drugs. Synonym sedate (NOTE: The US spelling is tranquilize.)

tranquilliser /'trænkwilaɪzəl/ noun a drug which makes a person calm down (NOTE: The US spelling is tranquilizer.)

tranquillity /'træn'kwiliti/ noun being calm or peaceful (NOTE: The US spelling is tranquility.)

transact /'træn'zækt/ verb □ to transact business to carry out a piece of business ○ He has been banned from transacting business on the Stock Exchange. ○ The council will meet next week to transact the following business.

transaction /'træn'zækʃən/ noun a piece of business. Synonym deal transatlantic /,trænzət'leɪntɪk/ adj 1. across the Atlantic ○ Transatlantic flights take about six hours depending on the wind. ○ Prices for transatlantic phone calls have been reduced. 2. on the other side of the Atlantic ○ our transatlantic trading partners transcend /'træn'send/ verb to go better or further than something or to be much more important than something transcendent /'træn'sendənt/ adj very great (formal) transcendental /,trænsen'dent(ə)l/ adj which rises above the level of ordinary thought or reasoning transcontinental /,trænzkən'tnənt(ə)l/ adj across a continent

transcribe /'træn'skraɪb/ verb 1. to write out the text of something which is heard ○ His speech was transcribed from the radio tape. ○ The sound of each word has been transcribed into phonetic characters. 2. to rewrite a piece of music for a different instrument than the one for which it was originally written ○ The piece was originally written for the violin and then transcribed for piano.

transcript /'trænskript/ noun a written record of something which has been noted in shorthand, or text of what was said on a radio programme, at a meeting, etc.

transcription /'træn'skripfʃən/ noun words which have been transcribed

② transfer noun 1. the action of moving something or someone to a new place ○ I've applied for a transfer to our London branch.

□ on the transfer list on the list of footballers who can go to work for other teams 2. changing to another form of transport 3. a decoration which is taken off a piece of paper and is stuck on to a surface ○ She has little transfers of flowers and animals on her arms.

■ verb 1. to move something or someone to another place ○ The money will be transferred directly to your bank account. ○ She transferred her passport from her handbag to her jacket pocket. ○ He's been transferred to our New York office. 2. to change from one type of travel to another ○ When you get to London airport, you have to transfer onto an internal flight. (NOTE: transferring – transferred) transferable /træns'fɜːrb(ə)l/ adj which can be transferred □ transferable skills skills which you can use in several different types of job □ this ticket is not transferable this ticket cannot be given or lent to anyone else to use transfix /træns'fɪks/ verb to prevent someone from moving because of a shock transfixed /træns'fɪkst/ adj prevented from moving because of a shock

③ transform /træns'fɔːm/ verb to change the appearance of someone or something completely. Synonym alter

③ transformation /,trænsfə'meɪʃ(ə)n/ noun a complete change of appearance. Synonym alteration transformer /træns'fɔːmər/ noun a device for changing the voltage of an alternating current transgenic /trænz'dʒenɪk/ adj referring to an animal or plant with genes from a different species transgress /trænz'gres/ verb to go against a rule. Synonym misbehave. Antonym behave transgression /trænz'gref(ə)n/ noun the act of transgressing. Synonym wrongdoing transient /'trænziənt/ adj which will not last ○ Fame for most pop groups is very transient. Synonym fleeting. Antonym permanent transistor /'træn'zɪstər/ noun a device made of semi-conductors which can control the flow of electric current in a circuit transit /'trænsit/ noun the movement of passengers or goods on the way to a destination. Synonym transportation □ in transit in the process of being moved from one place to another ○ The police seized the goods when they were in transit between London and Manchester.

transition /træn'zɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the process of moving from one situation to another transitional /træn'zɪʃ(ə)nəl/ adj referring to transition □ transitional government temporary government between two different regimes ○ The commander-in-chief of the army has been appointed head of the transitional government.

transit lounge /'trænsɪt laundʒ/ noun a waiting room in an airport where passengers wait for connecting flights transitory /'trænsɪt(ə)ri/ adj which does not last for long. Synonym fleeting. Antonym permanent transit passengers /'trænsɪt ,peɪsɪndʒəz/ plural noun travellers who are changing from one aircraft to another transit visa /'trænsɪt ,vi:zə/ noun a visa which allows someone to spend a short time in one country while travelling to another country translate /træns'leɪt/ verb to put written or spoken words into another language ○ Can you translate what he said? ○ He asked his secretary to translate the letter from the German agent. ○ She translates mainly from Spanish into English, not from English into Spanish.

translation /træns'leɪʃ(ə)n/ noun text which has been translated ○ I read Tolstoy's 'War and Peace' in translation. ○ She passed the translation of the letter to the accounts department.

translator /træns'leɪtə/ noun a person who translates translucent /træns'lju:s(ə)nt/ adj which light can pass through, but which you cannot see through clearly transmission /trænz'mɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. passing of disease from one person to another ○ Patients must be isolated to prevent transmission of the disease to the general public. 2. a radio or TV broadcast ○ We interrupt this transmission to bring you a news flash. 3. (in a car) a series of moving parts which pass the power from the engine through the gearbox and clutch to the axles ○ There's a strange noise coming from the transmission.

transmit /trænz'mɪt/ verb 1. to pass a disease from one person to another ○ The disease was transmitted to all the people he came into contact with. ○ The disease is transmitted by fleas. 2. to send out a programme or a message by radio or TV ○ The message was transmitted to the ship by radio. (NOTE: transmitting – transmitted) transmitter /trænz'mɪtə/ noun apparatus for sending out radio or TV signals transparency /træns'peərənsi/ noun 1. the quality of being transparent ○ The transparency of the water allows you to see the coral reefs. 2. being clear when making decisions, and being open to the public about official actions ○ The government insists on the importance of transparency in all its actions. 3. a photograph which is printed on transparent film so that it can be projected on to a screen ○ Transparency is another name for 'slide'. ○ Do you want to have prints or transparencies? (NOTE: The plural in this meaning is transparencies) transparent /træns'pærənt/ adj 1. which you can see through ○ The meat is wrapped in transparent plastic film. 2. which is completely obvious ○ His explanation was a transparent lie. 3. clear and open about official actions ○ The government insists on the importance all its actions being transparent.

transpire /træn'spaɪə/ verb 1. to become obvious ○ It transpired that she had never seen the letter. 2. (of a plant) to lose water through the surface of a leaf ○ In tropical rainforests, up to 75% of rainfall will transpire into the atmosphere.

transplant noun /'trænspla:nt/ 1. the act of taking an organ such as the heart, or tissue such as a piece of skin, and grafting it onto a patient to replace an organ or tissue which is diseased or damaged ○ He had a heart transplant. ○ The kidney transplant was rejected.

2. an organ or piece of tissue which is transplanted ■ verb /,træns'pla:nt/ 1. to move a plant from one place to another ○ You should not transplant trees in the summer. 2. to graft an organ or piece of tissue onto a patient to replace an organ or tissue which is diseased or damaged ○ They transplanted a kidney from his brother.

② transport noun /'trænspɔ:t/ the movement of goods or people in vehicles ○ Air transport is the quickest way to travel from one country to another. ○ Rail transport costs are getting lower. ○ What means of transport will you use to get to the hotel? ■ verb /'træns'pɔ:t/ to move goods or people from one place to another in a vehicle ○ The company transports millions of tons of goods by rail each year. ○ The visitors will be transported to the factory by helicopter. Synonym convey

③ transportation /,trænspɔ:t'eɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the action or means of moving goods or people ○ The company will provide transportation to the airport. Synonym transport transpose /træns'pəʊz/ verb to make two things change places transverse /,trænz've:s/ adj lying across something transvestite /trænz'vestɪt/ noun a person who wears the clothes of the opposite sex. ♀ drag

④ trap /træp/ noun 1. a device to catch an animal ○ We have a mouse in the kitchen so we will put down a trap. 2. a way of catching a person by surprise or tricking them 3. an impolite word for a mouth □ keep your trap shut! don't say anything 4. a bend in a waste pipe which is filled with water, and so stops unpleasant smells coming back up the pipe from the sewer ■ verb to catch or hold ○ Several people were trapped in the wreckage of the plane. ○ He was trapped on video as he tried to burgle the bank. (NOTE: trapping – trapped) trap door /'træp dɔ:/ noun a door in a floor or in a ceiling. Synonym hatch trapeze /'træp'i:z/ noun a bar which hangs like a swing from ropes high up in a circus tent, used by acrobats trapezium /'træp'i:ziəm/ noun 1. GB a flat four-sided geometric shape, where two of the sides are parallel and the other two sides are not (NOTE: The US term is trapezoid). 2. US a flat four-sided geometric shape, where none of the sides are parallel (NOTE: The British term is trapezoid) trapezoid /'træpɪzɔɪd/ ◊ trapezium

trapped /'træpt/ adj in an awkward situation and unable to move trappings /'træpɪŋz/ plural noun ornaments, clothes and ceremonies which are associated with a particular position ○ At the end of his time as mayor, he had to give up the chain, the chauffeur-driven car and all the other trappings of office. ○ Enjoy all the trappings of power while you can – they won't last for ever.

trash /'træʃ/ noun 1. US useless things ○ Throw out all that trash from her bedroom. (NOTE: The British term is rubbish). 2. something of bad quality, e.g. a newspaper ■ verb 1. to smash up ○ someone trashed the telephones 2. to ruin someone's reputation ○ She wrote an article trashing the pop singer.

trashcan /'træʃkæn/ noun US a large plastic or metal container for household rubbish (informal) Also called garbage can (NOTE: The British term is dustbin) trashy /'træʃi/ adj of bad quality trauma /'trɔ:mə/ noun a mental shock caused by a sudden unpleasant experience, which was not expected to take place traumatic /'trɔ:mætɪk/ adj which gives a sharp and unpleasant shock. Synonym shocking traumatise /'trɔ:mətaɪz/, traumatize verb to shock someone ◊ travel /'træv(ə)l/ noun the action of moving from one country or place to another ○ Air travel is the only really fast method of going from one country to another. ■ verb to move from one country or place to another ○ He travels fifty miles by car to go to work every day. ○ He has travelled across the United States several times on his motorbike. ○ The bullet must have travelled several metres before it hit the wall. Synonym journey (NOTE: travelling – travelled). The US spelling is traveling – traveled.)

travel agency /'træv(ə)l ə'gɪənsi/ noun an office which arranges tickets and accommodation for travellers travel agent /'træv(ə)l ə'gent/ noun a person or company that arranges tickets and accommodation for its customers travel insurance /'træv(ə)l ɪn'sʊərəns/ noun insurance taken out by a traveller against accident, loss of luggage, and illness traveller /'træv(ə)lə/ noun 1. a person who travels ○ travellers on the 9 o'clock train to London ○ Travellers to France are experiencing delays because of the dock strike. 2. a person who has no fixed home and who travels around the country ○ The fields were full of hippies and travellers. 3. a salesman, especially one who travels long distances (dated) (NOTE: [all senses] The US spelling is traveler.)

traveller's cheque /'træv(ə)ləz tʃek/ noun a cheque which you buy at a bank before you travel and which you can then use in a foreign country (NOTE: The US spelling is traveler's check.)

travelling /'træv(ə)lɪŋ/ adj who travels (NOTE: The US spelling is traveling.) travelling companion /'træv(ə)lɪŋ kəm'pænɪən/ noun a person who travels with someone travelling expenses /'træv(ə)lɪŋ ek'spensɪz/ noun money spent on travelling and hotels for business purposes travels /'træv(ə)lz/ plural noun long journeys abroad travel sickness /'træv(ə)l ˌsɪknəs/ noun sickness caused by the movement of a car, aircraft, bus or train (NOTE: no plural in this meaning) ◊ travel sickness pills pills taken to prevent travel sickness traverse /'trævəs/ verb to go across. Synonym cross travesty /'trævəstɪ/ noun a ridiculous or poor imitation ○ It's a travesty of the truth. Synonym charade ■ verb to imitate something in a ridiculous way trawl /'trɔ:l/ noun a long net shaped like a bag, pulled behind a trawler to catch fish ○ A trawl is used for fishing in deep waters. ■ verb 1. ◊ to trawl through something for something to search through something for something ○ He spent hours trawling through boxes of files until he came to the letter he was looking for. 2. to fish with a trawl ○ They went trawling for herring.

trawler /'trɔ:lə/ noun a fishing boat which pulls a net behind it tray /treɪ/ noun 1. a flat board for carrying food, and things like glasses, cups and saucers ○ He had his lunch on a tray in his bedroom. ○ She bumped into a waitress who was carrying a tray of glasses. 2. a flat open container on a desk for documents which have to be dealt with ○ There was a pile of letters in my tray when I returned to work.

treacherous /'tretʃərəs/ adj 1. dangerous ○ There are treacherous reefs just offshore. ○ Black ice is making the roads very treacherous. 2. not to be trusted ○ He was shot by a treacherous bodyguard. ○ His treacherous behaviour led to the downfall of the minister.

treachery /'tretʃəri/ noun the act of betraying or of being a traitor to your country, friends, etc. Synonym deceit. Antonym loyalty (NOTE: no plural: for the plural say acts of treachery) treacle /'tri:k(ə)l/ noun a thick dark-brown liquid produced when sugar is being refined ○ You can use treacle in Christmas cakes and Christmas puddings. (NOTE: The US term is molasses.)

tread /tred/ noun 1. the top part of a stair or step which you stand on ○ The carpet on the bottom tread is loose. ○ Metal treads are noisy. 2. a pattern of lines cut into the surface of a tyre ○ You need to change your tyres – the tread's worn. 3. a way of walking ○ He walked up to the door with a firm tread. ■ verb to step or to walk ○ She trod on my toe and didn't say she was sorry. ○ Watch where you're treading – there's broken glass on the floor. □ to tread on someone's toes to offend someone □ to tread water to move your legs in water as if walking, so as to keep upright treadmill /'tredmɪl/ noun 1. a device turned by animals as they walk around a circular path or inside a large wheel ○ Our pet hamster often uses the treadmill in his cage. 2. dull work which has to be done every day ○ His wife complains that her life is a boring treadmill of cooking, cleaning and washing. 3. an exercise machine with a moving belt on which you walk or jog without actually moving forward ○ After ten minutes on the treadmill I'm ready for the jacuzzi.

treason /'trɪz(ə)n/ noun the crime of betraying your country, by giving your country's secrets to the enemy or by helping the enemy during wartime. Synonym sedition. Antonym patriotism treasure /'treʒə/ noun 1. jewels, gold, or other valuable things ○ They are diving in the Caribbean looking for pirates' treasure. ○ the treasures in the British Museum □ buried treasure gold, silver or jewels which someone has hidden. ♦ treasures 2. a person who is very useful or important to you ■ verb to value something ○ I treasure the calm life of the fishing village where I live. ○ She treasures her three cats and wouldn't part with them for anything. Synonym cherish treasure hunt /'treʒə hant/ noun a game where clues lead you from place to place until you come to a hidden prize treasurer /'treʒərə/ noun 1. a person who looks after the money of a club, society or other organisation ○ Please send your subscriptions to the treasurer by May 1st. 2. (in Australia) the minister of finance treasures /'treʒəz/ plural noun valuable things in a museum

① treat /tri:t/ noun a special thing which gives pleasure ○ It's always a treat to sit down quietly at home after a hard day in the shop. □ a treat in store a special pleasant experience in the future ○ If you've never seen this film before you've got a treat in store. □ this is our treat we are paying the bill ■ verb 1. to deal with someone or something ○ She was badly treated by her uncle. ○ If you treat the staff well they will work well. ○ He didn't treat my suggestion seriously. 2. □ to treat someone to something to give someone a special meal or outing as a gift ○ Come along – I'll treat you all to ice creams! 3. to give medical help to a sick or injured person ○ After the accident some of the passengers had to be treated in hospital for cuts and bruises. ○ She is being treated for rheumatism. 4. to process in some way to make safe or to protect ○ Sewage is treated in the council sewage works. ○ The wood has been treated to make it resistant to rot.

treatise /'tri:tɪz/ noun a long piece of formal writing on a specialised subject. Synonym dissertation

① treatment /'tri:tment/ noun 1. a way of behaving towards something or someone ○ The report criticised the treatment of prisoners in the jail. ○ What sort of treatment did you get at school? ○ We got VIP treatment when we visited China. 2. a way of looking after a sick or injured person ○ He is having a course of heat treatment. ○ The treatment for skin cancer is very painful.

treaty /'trɪti/ noun 1. a written legal agreement between two or more countries ○ The treaty was signed in 1845. ○ Countries are negotiating a treaty to ban nuclear weapons. 2. a legal agreement between individual persons □ to sell a house by private treaty to sell by an agreement between the seller and the purchaser, and not by auction treble /'treb(ə)l/ noun 1. a boy's high-pitched soprano voice ○ The treble solo rose above the sound of the basses. 2. a boy who sings with a soprano voice ○ The tenors start the hymn, followed by the trebles. 3. a high-pitched musical instrument ○ The school has six recorders: two bass, two tenors and two trebles. 4. a thing which gives three times as many points ○ He hit the inner ring on the dart board and scored a treble. ■ adj 1. referring to a high-pitched voice or music ○ The treble part of the piece is to be sung by boy sopranos. ♦ clef 2. three times as large ○ Their garden is treble the size of ours. ■ adv three times as much ○ A dart in the inner ring counts treble. ■ verb to increase by three times ○ The council is planning to treble the amount it spends on education. ○ The value of our house has trebled in the last fifteen years.

treble clef /'treb(ə)l 'klef/ noun a musical sign showing that the notes are in a high range ① tree /tri:/ noun a very large plant, with a thick trunk, branches and leaves ○ The cat climbed up an apple tree and couldn't get down. ○ In autumn, the leaves on the trees in the park turn brown and red. ○ He was sheltering under a tree and was struck by lightning.

treetops /'tri:tɔps/ plural noun the tops of trees trek /trek/ noun a long hard journey ○ It's quite a trek to the centre of town from here. ■ verb to make a long hard journey ○ They trekked across the desert in search of water. Synonym hike (NOTE: trekking – trekked) trellis /'trelɪs/ noun a frame of criss-crossed pieces of light wood, used for plants to climb up. Synonym lattice tremble /'trembl/ noun a shaking movement ○ There was a tremble in her voice. ■ verb to shake because you are cold or afraid, or worried by something ○ She was trembling with cold. ○ I tremble at the thought of how much the meal will cost. Synonym shiver

② tremendous /'tri'mendəs/ adj 1. very big ○ There was a tremendous explosion and all the lights went out. ○ There's tremendous excitement here in Trafalgar Square as we wait for the election result. 2. wonderful ○ It would be absolutely tremendous if you won. ○ Her birthday party was tremendous fun. Synonym enormous tremendously /'tri'mendəsli/ adv greatly or extremely. Synonym very. Antonym slightly tremor /'treməl/ noun a slight shaking ○ They noticed a tremor in her hands.

trench /'trentʃ/ noun 1. a long narrow ditch ○ They dug trenches for drainage round the camp. ○ He fought in the trenches during the First World War. 2. a deep valley at the bottom of an ocean ○ At more than 10,000m deep, the Mariana Trench in the Pacific is the deepest place on the surface of the Earth. (NOTE: The plural is trenches.)

trend /'trend/ noun a general tendency ○ There is a trend away from old-established food stores. ○ The government studies economic trends to decide whether to raise taxes or not.

trendsetter /'trendsetəl/ noun a person who sets the fashion. Synonym innovator trendy /'trendi/ (informal) adj very fashionable ○ She's always wearing the trendiest clothes. ○ It's trendy nowadays to care about the environment. (NOTE: trendier – trendiest) ■ noun a person who follows the latest fashion ○ It's the restaurant all the trendies go to. (NOTE: The plural is trendies.)

trepidation /,treprɪ'deɪʃ(ə)n/ noun nervous worry. Synonym fear. Antonym equanimity trespass /'trespəs/ noun going onto someone's land or property without permission ○ The farmer accused him of trespass. ■ verb □ to trespass on property to go onto property without the owner's permission ○ The farmer accused him of trespassing on his land.

trespasser /'trespəsə/ noun a person who trespasses on someone else's land. Synonym intruder

② trial /'traɪəl/ noun 1. a court case held before a judge ○ The trial will be heard next week. □ to stand trial, to be on trial to appear in court ○ She stood trial, accused of murder. ○ He's on trial for theft. 2. the act of testing something ○ The new model is undergoing its final trials. □ on trial being tested to see if it is acceptable ○ The system is still on trial. □ trial and error testing and rejecting various things until you find the one which works, so learning from mistakes ○ We found out the best way of working was simply by trial and error. 3. a game played to select the best players for a team ○ Trials to select the England Rugby team will be held this weekend.

trial period /,traɪəl 'pɪəriəd/ noun time when a customer can test a product before buying it trial run /,traɪəl 'rʌn/ noun a test of something which is new to see how good it is ③ triangle /'traiæŋgəl/ noun 1. a shape with three sides and three angles ○ The end of the roof is shaped like a triangle. 2. a percussion instrument made of a metal rod bent into the shape of a triangle which you play by hitting it with a little metal bar ○ Playing the triangle is not as easy as it looks.

triangular /'trai'æŋgjʊlə/ adj shaped like a triangle triathlon /'trai'æθlən/ noun an Olympic endurance sport in which competitors must complete a 1,500-metre swim, then cycle 40 kilometres and finally run 10,000 metres tribal /'traɪb(ə)l/ adj referring to tribes.

Synonym ethnic tribe /'traɪb/ noun 1. a group of people with the same race, language and customs ○ She went into the jungle to study the jungle tribes. 2. a large family group ○ They came with all their tribe of children.

tribunal /'trai'bju:n(ə)l/ noun a specialist court outside the main judicial system which examines special problems and makes judgements tributary /'trɪbjut(ə)ri/ noun 1. a stream or river which flows into a larger river ○ The Mole is one of the tributaries of the Thames. 2. a person who pays tribute to a ruler ○ Tributaries came to the emperor with their gifts. (NOTE: The plural is tributaries.) ■ adj who pays tribute to a ruler (formal) ○ Envoy from tributary states came to the emperor with their gifts.

tribute /'tribju:t/ noun 1. words or gifts to show respect to someone, especially someone who has died ○ Tributes to the dead president have been received from all over the world. 2. □ to pay tribute to to praise ○ Speaker after speaker paid tribute to her work for charity.

tribute band /'tribju:t bænd/ noun a musical group that tries to look and sound like and performs songs and music made popular by a famous predecessor

② trick /trɪk/ noun 1. a clever act to deceive or confuse someone ○ The recorded sound of barking is just a trick to make burglars think there is a dog in the house. □ to play a trick on someone to deceive or confuse someone ○ He played a mean trick on his sister. ○ My memory seems to be playing tricks on me. □ that should do the trick that should do what we want to be done (informal) ○ 'There, that should do the trick' he said as he tightened the last nut. 2. a round of a card game ○ She trumped his ace and won the trick. ♦ hat trick ■ adj which deceives ○ Trick photography makes a tiny insect look like a giant monster. Synonym fake ■ verb to deceive someone ○ We've been tricked, there's nothing in the box. □ to trick someone into doing something to make someone do something which they did not mean to do by means of a trick ○ He tricked the old lady into giving him all her money. □ to trick someone out of something to get someone to lose something by a trick ○ She tricked the bank out of £100,000.

trickery /'trɪkərɪ/ noun deceiving by using tricks

trickle /'trɪk(ə)l/ noun 1. a small flow of water, or other liquid such as blood ○ In the summer the stream dries up to a trickle. 2. a small amount of something like letters or information ○ A trickle of applications came in after our advertisement. ■ verb 1. to flow gently ○ Water trickled out of the cave. 2. to come in small numbers ○ Orders still came trickling in two months after the ad appeared on TV.

trick or treat /,trɪk ə: 'trɪ:t/ noun a children's game at Halloween, where children dress up and visit houses asking for fruit, sweets or other treats otherwise they will do something naughty trick question /'trɪk 'kwestʃən/ noun a question which is intended to deceive people trickster /'trɪkstər/ noun someone who cheats people

③ tricky /'trɪki/ adj 1. difficult to do ○ Getting the wire through the little hole is quite tricky. 2. who cannot be trusted ○ He's a tricky individual. (NOTE: trickier – trickiest) tricycle /'trɪsɪkl(ə)l/ noun a vehicle like a bicycle with three wheels, two at the back and one at the front (NOTE: often called a trike)

tried /traɪd/, tries /traɪz/ □ try trifle /'trɪfl(ə)l/ noun 1. a pudding made of cake or biscuits with jelly, jam, fruit, sherry and cream ○ Do you want chocolate pudding or trifle for dessert? 2. a small thing which is not important (literary) ○ The president does not bother himself with trifles. 3. □ a trifle a little (formal) ○ She was a trifle bothered by the letter. ■ verb □ to trifle with someone not to treat someone seriously ○ I wouldn't trifle with that gang if I were you. ○ He's a dangerous opponent and certainly not someone to be trifled with.

trifling /'trɪflɪŋ/ adj unimportant. Synonym trivial. Antonym significant trigger /'trɪgər/ noun a little lever which you pull to fire a gun ○ He pointed the gun at her and pulled the trigger. ■ verb □ to trigger something (off) to start something happening ○ The police are afraid the demonstration may trigger off a full-scale riot. ○ The explosion was triggered by a spark.

trike /'trɪk/ noun same as tricycle (informal) trill /trɪl/ noun 1. a warbling song like a bird 2. (in music) two notes rapidly repeated ■ verb to sing like a bird. Synonym warble trillion /'trɪljən/ noun one million millions (informal) (NOTE: British English now has the same meaning as American English; formerly in British English it meant one million million millions, and it is still sometimes used with this meaning.)

trilogy /'trɪlədʒi/ noun a novel or play in three separate parts which are linked together (NOTE: The plural is trilogies.)

trim /trim/ noun 1. being fit ○ He's in very good trim after a week at the health farm. 2. the cutting of your hair, a plant, etc. ○ He went to the barber's for a trim. ○ Can you give my beard a trim, please? 3. a decoration on a car, a piece of clothing, etc. ○ The car is white with a dark blue trim. ■ verb 1. tidy, cut short ○ She always keeps her hedges trim. 2. slim and fit ○ He keeps himself trim by going for a long walk every day. (NOTE: trimmer – trimmest) ■ verb 1. to cut something to make it tidy ○ Ask the hairdresser to trim your beard. 2. to cut back; to reduce ○ to trim expenditure 3. to decorate ○ She wore a white blazer trimmed with blue. (NOTE: trimming – trimmed) trimmer /'triməl/ noun a device which trims trimmings /'trimiŋz/ plural noun 1. an ornament such as braid or lace, added to decorate something ○ She wore a white blazer with blue trimmings. 2. the usual sauces and vegetables which go with a dish ○ roast turkey with all the trimmings

trinket /'trɪŋkit/ noun a cheap ornament

trio /'triəʊl/ noun 1. a group of three people, especially a group of three musicians 2. a piece of music for three instruments ○ Mozart's trio for piano, clarinet and viola (NOTE: The plural is trios.)

② trip /trɪp/ noun 1. a short journey ○ Our trip to Paris was cancelled. ○ We're going on a trip to the seaside. 2. a sensation experienced after taking drugs (slang) ○ She had a bad trip. ■ verb to catch your foot in something so that you stagger and fall down ○ She tripped as she was coming out of the kitchen with a tray of food. (NOTE: tripping – tripped) tripartite /'trai'pə:tait/ adj with three parts or between three countries triple /'trɪp(ə)l/ adj with three parts ○ He had a triple heart bypass. ○ The three brothers are marrying three sisters in a triple wedding. ■ verb to become three times as large; to make something three times as large ○ Output has tripled over the last year. ○ We've tripled the number of visitors to the museum since we reduced the entrance fee. Synonym treble. Antonym reduce triplicate /'trɪplɪkət/ noun □ in triplicate with an original and two copies ○ All these forms have to be filled in in triplicate.

tripod /'traiɒpdəl/ noun a stand with three legs trip over /'trɪp 'əvər/ verb 1. to catch your foot in something so that you stagger and fall ○ She was running away from him when she tripped over and fell down. 2. □ to trip over something to catch your foot in something so that you stagger and fall ○ She tripped over the wire and fell down the stairs.

trip up /'trɪp 'ʌp/ verb 1. □ to trip someone up to make someone fall down ○ She put her foot out and deliberately tripped the waiter up. 2. to make a silly mistake ○ We tripped up badly in not inviting her to the party. □ to trip someone up to force someone to make a mistake ○ He tried to trip me up by asking a question on a completely different subject.

trite /'trɪt/ adj very ordinary and unexciting or used too often. Synonym commonplace

③ triumph /'trɪəmf/ noun a great victory or great achievement ○ They scored a triumph in their game against the French. ○ The bridge is a triumph of modern engineering. □ in triumph celebrating a great victory ○ After the battle the army entered the city in triumph. ■ verb 1. to win a victory or to achieve something ○ She triumphed in the 800 metres. 2. □ to triumph over something to be successful in spite of difficulties which could have stopped you ○ He triumphed over his disabilities to become world champion. □ to triumph over someone to win a victory over someone ○ Our local team triumphed over their old rivals.

triumphant /'trɪ'ʌmfənt/ adj victorious or happy because you have won triumphantly /'trɪ'ʌmfəntli/ adv in a triumphant way trivia /'trɪviəl/ noun details which are not important trivial /'trɪviəl/ adj not important. Synonym unimportant. Antonym crucial trivialise /'trɪviəlaɪz/, trivialize verb to make something trivial. Synonym play down triviality /'trɪvi'ælti/ noun 1. being unimportant ○ The triviality of her complaint meant that it was passed to a junior clerk to deal with. 2. an unimportant detail ○ I don't have time to deal with trivialities.

trod /trɒd/, trodden /'trɒd(ə)n/ □ tread

③ trolley /'trɒli/ noun 1. a small cart on wheels ○ They put the piano onto a trolley to move it out of the house. 2. US a tram trombone /'trɒm'bɔːn/ noun a brass musical instrument like a large trumpet, where different notes are made by sliding a tube in or out

② troop /tru:p/ noun a large group of people ○ She took a troop of schoolchildren to visit the museum. □ troops (NOTE: Do not confuse with troupe.) ■ verb to go all together in a group ○ After the play the whole cast trooped off to the local restaurant. ○ All the students trooped into the hall. ■ adj referring to soldiers troops /tru:ps/ plural noun soldiers ○ Enemy troops occupied the town.

trophy /'trəʊfi/ noun 1. a prize given for winning a competition ○ His mantelpiece is full of trophies which he won at golf. ○ Our team carried off the trophy for the third year in a row. 2. a reminder of victory in a battle ○ They kept the enemy flags as trophies. (NOTE: The plural is trophies.)

tropic /'trəʊpɪk/ noun □ Tropic of Cancer the parallel running round the earth at latitude 23°28N □ Tropic of Capricorn the parallel running round the earth at latitude 23°28S

② tropical /'trəʊpɪk(ə)l/ adj 1. referring to hot countries ○ In tropical countries it is always hot. □ tropical storm a violent storm occurring in the tropics 2. □ tropical fish brightly coloured little fish coming from hot countries ○ I'm going to the library to find out how to look after tropical fish.

③ trot /trot/ noun 1. the action of running with short regular steps, like a horse does ○ Let's start today's exercises with a short trot round the football field. □ at a trot running steadily ○ Every morning he runs round the block of flats at a gentle trot. □ to break into a trot to start to run ○ As the children turned the corner and saw the ice-cream van, they broke into a trot. 2. □ on the trot one after the other (informal) ○ If we have to play six matches on the trot, we're bound to lose the last one because we'll be too tired. ○ It is a scandal how junior hospital doctors are sometimes kept working for over sixteen hours on the trot. □ to be on the trot to work without stopping (informal) ○ It's 5pm and she's been on the trot since 6 o'clock this morning – she must be dead tired. ■ verb 1. to run with short regular steps ○ We've got no butter left, so I'll trot off to the shop to buy some. ○ She trotted down the path to meet us. 2. □ to trot out to say the same thing again (informal) ○ I'm tired of hearing the government trot out the same old excuse time and time again. ○ She trotted out the stock argument about higher salaries leading to fewer jobs.

① trouble /'trəʊb(ə)l/ noun 1. problems or worries ○ The trouble with old cars is that sometimes they don't start. ○ The children were no trouble at all. ○ We are having some computer trouble or some trouble with the computer. □ it's asking for trouble it is likely to cause problems ○ If you don't take out insurance, it's just asking for trouble. □ it's no trouble it is easy to do, it won't cause any problems ○ Looking after your cat is no trouble – I like animals. 2. □ to get into trouble to start to have problems with someone in authority ○ He and his friends got into trouble with the police. ■ verb 1. to cause inconvenience ○ Can I trouble you for a light? ○ I'm sorry to have to trouble you with this, but I don't know how to switch my computer off. 2. to make someone worried ○ I can see that there's something troubling him but I don't know what it is. 3. to make an extra effort to do something □ not to trouble to do something to make no effort to do something ○ He didn't even trouble to thank us for our gift. ○ They didn't trouble to tell us they were going to cut down the tree. □ to get someone into trouble 1. to make someone be accused of doing something wrong ○ She got her best friend into trouble. 2. to make someone pregnant troubled /'trəʊb(ə)ld/ adj 1. where there are problems ○ He comes from a troubled family background. ○ We live in troubled times. 2. worried ○ He has a troubled look on his face. ○ They seem troubled but I don't know why.

troublemaker /'trəʊb(ə)lmkeɪkə/ noun a person who causes problems for other people troubleshooter /'trəʊb(ə)lsu:tə/ noun a person who you ask to sort out problems for you troubleshooting /'trəʊb(ə)lsu:tɪŋ/ noun sorting out problems, in business or in technology troublesome /'trəʊb(ə)ls(ə)m/ adj which causes trouble or which is annoying trouble spot /'trəʊb(ə)l spɒt/ noun a place where trouble, especially political unrest or violence, occurs trough /trɒf/ noun 1. a long narrow open container for food or water for farm animals ○ The pigs were so greedy for their food, some of them even got into the trough. □ to have your snout in the trough to get rich on government money (informal) ○ All these European officials have their snouts in the trough. 2. a low point between two high points on a graph ○ The graph shows the peaks and troughs of pollution over the last month. 3. a low point in an economic cycle ○ The government is trying to get the economy out of its current trough. 4. an area of low pressure with cold air in it ○ A trough of low pressure is approaching from the west. 5. a low part of the sea between two waves ○ The waves were so high that the boat seemed to disappear in the troughs.

trounce /trəʊns/ verb to defeat completely troupe /tru:p/ noun a group of actors or other performers who perform together. Synonym company (NOTE: Do not confuse with troop.)

② trousers /'traʊzəz/ plural noun clothes which cover your body from the waist down, each leg separately ○ He tore his trousers climbing over the fence. ○ She was wearing a red jumper and grey trousers. ○ He bought two pairs of trousers in the sale. □ who wears the trousers in that family? who makes the decisions in the family? (informal) trout /traut/ noun a type of edible freshwater fish trowel /'trəʊəl/ noun a hand tool, like a large spoon, used in gardening truancy /'tru:ənsi/ noun the action of not going to school when you should truant /'tru:ənt/ noun □ to play truant not to go to school when you should ○ They didn't go to school, but played truant and went fishing instead.

truce /tru:s/ noun agreement between two armies or enemies to stop fighting for a time. Synonym ceasefire

② truck /træk/ noun a goods vehicle for carrying heavy loads (informal) ○ Trucks thundered past the house all night. ○ They loaded the truck with bricks. (NOTE: Another British term is lorry.) ■ verb to transport something in a truck ○ They trucked supplies to the refugees in the mountains.

③ truck driver /'træk ,draɪvə/, trucker /'trækə/ noun a person who drives a truck (NOTE: Another British term is lorry driver.)

truckload /'trækləud/ noun an amount carried in a truck (NOTE: Another British term is lorryload.)

trudge /trʌdʒ/ noun a long and tiring walk ○ It was a long trudge back to camp through the mud. Synonym slog ■ verb to walk slowly with heavy footsteps ○ The defeated army trudged back through the snow. ○ He missed the bus and had to trudge to the village to get some milk.

① true /tru:/ adj 1. correct or right ○ What he says is simply not true. ○ It's quite true that she comes from Scotland. ○ Is it true that he's been married twice? ♦ truth 2. faithful or firm ○ an expression of true love ○ She's a true friend. □ true to life very realistic 3. correctly adjusted 4. adjusted so that it is level ○ You must make sure the panels are perfectly true before you start fitting them. □ out of true not level ■ adv correctly □ to come true to happen as was predicted ○ Her forecast of bad storms came true. □ the wheel wasn't running true wasn't turning straight true north /tru: 'nɔ:θ/ noun north towards the North Pole, and not the magnetic north truffle /'trʌf(ə)l/ noun 1. a type of round black edible fungus found under the earth near trees ○ Specially trained pigs are trained to sniff out the best truffles. 2. a soft sweet made of chocolate, often flavoured with rum ○ We bought our hosts a bottle of wine and a box of chocolate truffles.

③ truly /'tru:li/ adv 1. really ○ He truly believes that was what happened. ○ I'm truly grateful for all your help. ○ Do you love me, really and truly? 2. □ Yours truly, Truly yours US words written at the end of a slightly formal letter trump /trʌmp/ noun 1. (in card games) a suit which is chosen to have a higher value than the other suits ○ Hearts are trumps. ○ She wondered if she should play a trump. 2. □ to turn up trumps to be very generous or helpful (informal) ○ When my car wouldn't start, my neighbour turned up trumps and gave me a lift to the station. ■ verb □ to trump a card to play a card of the suit which is trumps, and so win ○ She trumped his ace and won the trick.

trump card /'trʌmp kɑ:d/ noun an advantage which is kept ready for use in an emergency trumped-up charge /,trʌmpt əp 'tʃɑ:dʒ/ noun a charge which is based on false information, or on information which has been invented trumpet /'trʌmpɪt/ noun 1. a brass musical instrument with three pistons which are worked by pressing down on keys ○ He plays the trumpet in the school orchestra. ○ She practises the trumpet in the evenings. 2. □ to blow your own trumpet to boast about what you have done (informal) ○ He's always blowing his own trumpet.

truncated /trʌn'keɪtid/ adj cut off or shortened (formal) truncheon /'trʌntʃən/ noun a short, thick stick used by policemen as a weapon □ to draw your truncheon to pull your truncheon out of its holder, ready for use ○ The police drew their truncheons as they came close to the barricade.

trundle /'trʌnd(ə)l/ verb to push or roll along something heavy or to move in a heavy way

③ trunk /trʌŋk/ noun 1. the thick stem of a tree ○ Ivy was climbing up the trunk of the oak tree. 2. an elephant's long nose 3. the main part of a person's body 4. a large box for storing or sending clothes ○ They sent a trunk of clothes in advance to the new house. 5. US a space at the back of a car, where you put luggage ○ They stowed the boxes in the trunk. (NOTE: The British term is boot.) trunk road /'trʌŋk rəʊd/ noun a main road trunks /trʌŋks/ plural noun shorts worn by a man when swimming truss /trʌs/ noun 1. a bundle of straw or fruit ○ a truss of tomatoes 2. a beam holding up a bridge or a roof 3. a belt to support a hernia (NOTE: The plural is trusses.) ■ verb 1. to tie up straw into bundles 2. □ to truss up to tie up ○ The prisoners were trussed up.

① trust /trʌst/ noun 1. a belief that something will work well or that someone will do something ○ Don't put too much trust in his navigating skills. □ to take something on trust to take something without looking to see if it is all right ○ We took his statement on trust. 2. a legal arrangement to pass valuables or money to someone to look after ○ He left his property in trust for his grandchildren. 3. a company which manages money for its clients ■ verb 1. to be sure of someone, to be confident that someone is reliable ○ You can trust his instructions – he knows a lot about computers. ○ I wouldn't trust him farther than I could kick him. 2. □ trust you to it is typical of you to (informal) ○ Trust him to be late! ○ Trust them to forget to bring the food! 3. to hope or to believe ○ I trust she will not get lost. 4. □ to trust someone with something to give something to someone to look after ○ Can she be trusted with all that cash?

trustee /trʌ'sti:/ noun a person who administers a trust or who directs a charity or other public institution trust fund /'trast fʌnd/ noun an investment fund which is managed on behalf of another person trustworthiness /'træstwɜːðɪnəs/ noun being trustworthy. Synonym honesty. Antonym dishonesty trustworthy /'træstwɜːði/ adj who can be depended upon. Synonym dependable rusty /'ræsti/ adj dependable

① truth /truːθ/ noun being true; a true story ○ Do you think he is telling the truth? ○ The police are trying to work out the truth about what happened. ○ I don't think there is any truth in his story. ♦ home truths. Synonym fact truthful /'truːθf(ə)l/ adj 1. who always tells the truth ○ She's a very truthful child. 2. giving true facts ○ To be truthful, I'm not quite sure where we are. ○ The young man gave a truthful account of what happened.

truthfully /'truːθf(ə)li/ adv in a truthful way. Synonym honestly. Antonym dishonestly

① try /trai/ noun 1. an attempt, making an effort to do something ○ She's going to have a try at water skiing. ○ He had two tries before he passed his driving test. □ let's give it a try let's see if it works 2. a goal scored in rugby ○ They scored two tries. (NOTE: The plural is tries). ■ verb 1. to make an effort to do something ○ The burglar tried to climb up the tree. ○ Don't try to ride a motorbike if you've never ridden one before. ○ Why don't you try to get a ticket yourself? 2. to test or to see if something is good ○ You must try one of my mother's cakes. ○ I tried the new toothpaste and I didn't like the taste. ○ Have you ever tried eating cheese with fruit? 3. to hear a civil or criminal case in court ○ The case will be tried by a judge and jury. (NOTE: trying – tried) trying /'traɪŋ/ adj annoying and difficult to deal with. Antonym soothing try on /,trai 'ɒn/ verb 1. to put on a piece of clothing to see if it fits ○ You must try the trousers on before you buy them. ○ Did you try on the shoes at the shop? 2. □ to try it on to try to trick someone (informal) ○ Don't believe him – he's just trying it on.

try out /,trai 'aʊt/ verb to test something, to see if it is good tsp. abbr teaspoon

tub /tʌb/ noun 1. a round wooden container ○ There's a tub of daffodils by their front door. 2. a small, round cardboard box for ice cream ○ Girls went round the audience during the interval, selling small tubs of ice cream. ○ Our kids prefer ice cream cones to tubs. 3. a bath ○ The children splashed so much in the tub that the bathroom floor was awash. 4. an old ship ○ The tramp steamer was a rusty old tub which was ready to be scrapped.

tuba /'tjuːbə/ noun a large bass brass instrument tubby /'tʌbi/ adj short and fat (informal) Antonym skinny (NOTE: tubbier – tubbiest)

② tube /tjuːb/ noun 1. a long pipe for carrying liquids or gas ○ He was lying in a hospital bed with tubes coming out of his nose and mouth. ○ Air flows down this tube to the face mask. 2. a soft container with a screw top, which contains substances like handcream or toothpaste ○ I forgot to pack a tube of toothpaste. ○ I need a tube of glue to mend the cup. ○ She bought a tube of mustard. 3. (in London) the underground railway system ○ It's quicker to take the tube to Oxford Circus than to go by bus. ○ You'll have to go by bus because there's a tube strike. (NOTE: The US term is subway). 4. (in Australia) a can of beer tuber /'tjuːbə/ noun a fat part of an underground root or stem which has buds from which new shoots grow tubing /'tjuːbɪŋ/ noun tubes in general (NOTE: no plural) tubular /'tjuːbjuːlə/ adj 1. shaped like a tube ○ She wore a tubular pink skirt. 2. made of tubes ○ The house is furnished with tubular steel chairs from the 1930s.

TUC abbr Trades Union Congress

tuck /tʌk/ noun a little fold in a piece of cloth ○ I put a tuck in the shirt to make it fit better round the waist. ■ verb to put into a narrow or small place ○ The shop is tucked away down a little lane. ○ I offered him a £10 note, which he tucked away into his shirt pocket.

tucker /'tʌkə/ noun (in Australia) food (informal) tuck in /tʌk 'ɪn/ verb 1. to fold something around and push the ends in ○ She tucked the blanket in around the baby or she tucked the baby in. ○ He tucked his trousers into his boots. 2. to start eating enthusiastically ○ Come on, the food's ready, everyone can tuck in. ○ After our long walk we all tucked in to a huge lunch.

tuck shop /tʌk ʃɒp/ noun a shop attached to a school, selling sweets, chocolate and drinks (dated) tuck up /tʌk 'ʌp/ verb □ to tuck someone up in bed to push the edge of the bedclothes around someone to keep them warm ○ By eight o'clock the children were all tucked up in bed.

Tudor /'tju:də/ adj referring to the time of Henry VII, Henry VIII, Edward VI, Mary I and Elizabeth I in the later fifteenth century and the sixteenth centuries (NOTE: Although, strictly speaking, Elizabeth I was a Tudor monarch, the adjective used to refer to her period is usually Elizabethan.)

Tues. abbr Tuesday

① Tuesday /'tju:zdeɪ/ noun the second day of the week, the day between Monday and Wednesday ○ I saw him in the office last Tuesday. ○ The club always meets on Tuesdays. ○ Shall we meet next Tuesday evening? ○ Today is Tuesday, April 30th. ○ The 15th is a Monday, so the 16th must be a Tuesday. ○ We went to the cinema last Tuesday.

tuft /taʊft/ noun a small bunch of something like grass or feathers. Synonym clump tug /tʌg/ noun 1. a sudden pull ○ He felt a tug on the line – he had caught a fish! 2. a powerful boat which pulls other boats ○ Two tugs helped the liner get into the harbour. ■ verb to pull hard ○ He tugged on the rope and a bell rang. (NOTE: tugging – tugged) tugboat /'tʌgbət/ noun a powerful boat which pulls other boats

tug-of-war /,tʌg əv 'wɔ:/ noun 1. a competition in which two teams pull against each other on a rope ○ There will be a tug-of-war between teams from the two village pubs. 2. bitter struggle between two sides ○ After the divorce the children were caught in a tug-of-war between their parents.

③ tuition /tju:ɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the teaching of students tulip /'tju:lip/ noun a common spring bulb with flowers in brilliant colours, shaped like cups tumble /'tʌmbəl/ verb to fall ○ He tumbled down the stairs head first. ○ She arrived home late after the party and just tumbled into bed. ■ noun a fall ○ She took a tumble on the ski slopes.

tumbler /'tʌmblə/ noun a glass with a flat base and straight sides, used for serving drinks tummy /'tʌmi/ noun the stomach (informal; children's language) (NOTE: The plural is tummies.)

tummy ache /'tʌmi eɪk/ noun a pain in the stomach (informal) tummy button /'tʌmi ,bʌt(ə)n/ noun the round place in the middle of the abdomen, just below the waist, where the umbilical cord was detached after birth (informal) Synonym navel tumour /'tju:mə/ noun an unusual swelling or growth of new cells in the body (NOTE: The US spelling is tumor.)

tumult /'tju:mʌlt/ noun the loud, excited noise of a crowd of people. Synonym uproar tumultuous /tju:'mʌltʃuəs/ adj noisy and excited tuna /'tju:nə/ noun a very large sea fish used for food (NOTE: The plural is tuna.)

③ tune /tju:n/ noun 1. a series of musical notes which have a recognisable pattern ○ He wrote some of the tunes for the musical. ○ She walked away whistling a little tune. 2. □ to change your tune to change your way of thinking ○ He used to say that managers had an easy life, but when he was promoted he soon changed his tune. □ to the tune of £100 at least £100 (informal) ○ We are paying rent to the tune of £500 a week. ■ verb 1. to adjust a musical instrument so that it plays at the correct pitch ○ The man has come to tune the piano. 2. to adjust a radio to a particular station ○ He keeps the radio tuned to Radio 4. 3. to adjust an engine so that it works as efficiently as possible ○ You'd use less petrol if you had the engine properly tuned.

tuneful /'tju:nf(ə)l/ adj full of pleasant tunes. Synonym melodic tune in /,tju:n 'ɪn/ verb to adjust a radio so that it takes broadcasts from a particular station tunic /'tju:nɪk/ noun 1. a long loose shirt ○ She was wearing a matching tunic and skirt. 2. a short uniform jacket worn by soldiers, policemen and others ○ The guardsmen spent hours polishing the buttons on their tunics.

Tunisian /'tju:nɪzɪən/ adj referring to Tunisia ○ Over 99% of the Tunisian population is Muslim. ■ noun a person from Tunisia ○ Many Tunisians speak French as well as Arabic.

③ tunnel /'tʌn(ə)l/ noun a long passage under the ground ○ The Channel Tunnel links Britain to France. ○ The road round Lake Lucerne goes through six tunnels. ○ They are digging a new tunnel for the underground railway. ○ Taking the tunnel through the Alps is quicker than driving up the roads

over the mountains. ■ verb to dig a long passage underground ○ They decided to tunnel under the hill rather than build the road round it. Synonym excavate (NOTE: tunneling – tunnelled. The US spelling is tunneling – tunneled.)

tunnel vision /'tʌn(ə)l 'vɪʒ(ə)n/ noun 1. seeing only the area immediately in front of the eye 2. having the tendency to concentrate on only one aspect of a problem turban /'tɜ:bən/ noun a long piece of cloth worn wrapped round your head turbine /'tɜ:bain/ noun a machine which produces power from the action of water, gas or steam turning a wheel with blades which runs a generator turbocharger /'tɜ:bəʊtʃə:dʒər/, turbo /'tɜ:bəʊ/ noun a gas turbine which turns at a very high speed and is powered by the gases from a car's exhaust, increasing the power of the engine turbulence /'tɜ:bjuləns/ noun a disturbance in air or water currents turbulent /'tɜ:bjulənt/ adj 1. which is moving violently ○ Watch out for turbulent water near the rocks. 2. likely to have riots or civil war ○ It was a turbulent period in the country's history.

turd /tɜ:d/ noun a lump of excreta

turf /tɜ:f/ noun 1. an area of grass which is mown and looked after ○ After the rain, the dry springy turf suddenly turned wet and sticky underfoot. 2. a piece of grass and soil which can be planted to form a lawn ○ Make sure the ground is flat before laying the strips of turf. ○ It is quicker to lay turfs than to sow grass seed. 3. (in Ireland) a block of peat for burning (NOTE: plural for 2 and 3 is turfs or turves /tɜ:vz/) 4. □ the turf the world of horse-racing ○ Enthusiasts of the turf are flocking to Epsom for the Derby. ■ verb 1. to make a lawn by putting turfs on flat soil ○ Spring is the best time of year to turf a lawn. 2. □ to turf someone out to throw someone out (informal) ○ He was turfed out of the restaurant for refusing to wear a tie. ○ We turfed out our old office furniture.

turf accountant /'tɜ:f ə,kaʊntənt/ noun a person who takes bets on the result of races. Synonym bookmaker

Turk /tɜ:k/ noun a person from Turkey ○ Many Turks travel to Germany in search of work.

③ turkey /'tɜ:ki/ noun a large farm bird, similar to a chicken but much bigger, often eaten at Christmas ○ We had roast turkey and potatoes. ○ Who's going to carve the turkey?

Turkish /'tɜ:kiʃ/ adj referring to Turkey, a country in the eastern Mediterranean ○ The Turkish flag is red with a white crescent and star. ■ noun the language spoken in Turkey

○ I couldn't understand what they were saying since they were speaking Turkish.

Turkish delight /,tɜ:kiʃ dr'lait/ noun a sweet substance made of jelly, flavoured with scented water and containing chopped nuts turmoil /'tɜ:moɪl/ noun a state of disorder and confusion. Synonym chaos

① turn /tɜ:n/ noun 1. a movement in a circle

○ He gave the bottle top a couple of turns. ○ Don't forget to give the key an extra turn to double-lock the door. 2. a change of direction, especially of a vehicle ○ The bus made a sudden turn to the left. ♦ U-turn 3. a road which leaves another road ○ Take the next turn on the right. 4. the chance to do something in order, one after the other ○ You have to wait for your turn to see the doctor. ○ It's my turn on the piano now. ○ Let me go now. — No, it's my turn next. □ in turn one after the other in order ○ Each of the children will sing a song in turn. □ out of turn not in the correct order ○ People don't like it if you go out of turn. 5. □ to take turns, to take it in turns to do something one after the other, to help each other ○ They took it in turns to push the car or they took turns to push the car. 6. a performance in a show ○ Their juggling act is one of the most popular turns of the evening. 7. □ to do a good turn to do something to help □ one good turn deserves another if you do something to help someone they should do something to help you 8. a slight illness or an attack of dizziness ○ She had one of her turns. ○ He had a bad turn at the office. □ you gave me a turn you gave me a shock ■ verb 1. to go round in a circle ○ The wheels of the train started to turn slowly. ○ Be careful – the blades of the lawnmower go on turning for a few seconds after the engine has been switched off. 2. to make something go round ○ Turn the handle to the right to open the safe. 3. to change direction, to go in another direction ○ Turn left at the next traffic lights. ○ The car turned the corner too fast and hit a lamppost. ○ The path turns to the right after the pub. □ the tide has turned the tide has started to go up or down 4. to move your head or body so that you face in another direction ○ Can everyone turn to look at the camera, please. 5. to change into something different ○ Leaves turn red or brown in the autumn. ○ When he was fifty, his hair turned grey. 6. to go past a certain time ○ It's turned nine o'clock, and they still haven't come home. □ she's turned sixty she is more than 60 years old 7. to find a page in a book ○ Please turn to page 65.

turnaround /'tɜ:nəraʊnd/ noun same as turnround turn aside /,tɜ:n ə'saɪd/ verb to move to one side

turn away /tɜːn e'wei/ verb 1. to send people away ○ The restaurant is full, so we have had to turn people away. 2. to turn so as not to face someone ○ He turned away because he didn't want to be photographed.

turn back /tɜːn 'bæk/ verb 1. to turn round and go back in the opposite direction 2. to tell someone to go back ○ The police tried to turn back the people who had no tickets. ◇ to turn the clocks back 1. to change the time on clocks to one hour earlier 2. to try to go back to a previous period turn down /tɜːn 'daʊn/ verb 1. to refuse something which is offered ○ He was offered a job in Australia, but turned it down. ○ She has turned down a job or turned a job down in the town hall. 2. to make less noisy, less strong ○ Can you turn down the radio – I'm trying to work. ○ Turn down the gas or turn the gas down – the soup will burn. 3. to fold back a sheet on a bed, so that the pillow is uncovered turn in /tɜːn 'ɪn/ verb 1. to take someone or something to someone in authority ○ Everyone was asked to turn in their guns. ○ He caught the thief and turned him in to the police. ◇ to turn yourself in to give yourself up to the police 2. to go to bed ○ It's after eleven o'clock – time to turn in!

③ turning /'tɜːnɪŋ/ noun a road which goes away from another road

turning point /'tɜːnɪŋ pɔɪnt/ noun the time when an important or decisive change takes place. Synonym crossroads turn into /tɜːn 'ɪnto/ verb 1. to change to become something different ○ The witch turned the prince into a frog. ○ We are planning to turn this room into a museum. 2. to change direction and go into something ○ We went down the main road for a short way and then turned into a little lane on the left.

turnip /'tɜːnɪp/ noun a common vegetable, with a round white root turn off /tɜːn 'ɒf/ verb 1. to switch off ○ Don't forget to turn the TV off when you go to bed. ○ Turn off the lights or turn the lights off – father's going to show his holiday films. 2. to leave a road you are travelling on ○ You can turn off the High Street into one of the car parks. ○ When you get to the next crossroads turn off the main road and go down a little path towards the river.

turn on /tɜːn 'ɒn/ verb 1. to switch on ○ Can you turn the light on or turn on the light – it's too dark to read. ○ Turn on the TV or turn the TV on – it's time for the news. 2. to attack someone suddenly ○ The dog suddenly turned on the girl. ○ The newspapers suddenly turned on the prime minister.

turn out /tɜːn 'aʊt/ verb 1. to force someone to go out ○ They were turned out of their house when they couldn't pay the rent. 2. to produce or make ○ The factory turns out more than 10,000 cars a week. 3. to switch off ○ Please turn out all the lights or turn all the lights out before you go up to bed. 4. to happen in the end ○ We got talking, and it turned out that she was at school with my brother. ○ The party didn't start very well, but everything turned out all right in the end. 5. to come out ○ The whole town turned out to watch the cycle race.

turnout /'tɜːnauτ/ noun a crowd of people who come to a show or a meeting ○ The football match attracted only a small turnout. ○ There was a record turnout for the flower show.

turn over /tɜːn 'əʊvə/ verb 1. to roll over ○ The lorry went round the corner too fast and turned over. ○ Their boat turned over in the storm. 2. to show the other side ○ He turned over the burger to see if it was done. 3. ◇ turn over the page, turn the page over to turn the page of a book ○ She turned over two pages together. 4. to have a certain amount of sales ○ We turn over about three million pounds per annum.

④ turnover /'tɜːnəʊvə/ noun 1. the amount of sales of goods or services by a business ○ Our turnover is rising each year. 2. a type of small sweet pie made with pastry containing a fruit filling ○ an apple turnover

turn round /tɜːn 'raʊnd/ verb to move your head or body so that you face in another direction turnround /'tɜːnraʊnd/ noun the process of receiving orders and sending out goods (NOTE: The US term is turnaround.)

turnstile /'tɜːnstail/ noun a little revolving gate which has a counter to record the number of people going through it turntable /'tɜːntaɪb(ə)l/ noun 1. a flat part of a record player which turns with the record on it ○ I don't think the turntable is aligned correctly – the records seem to turn at the wrong speed. 2. a flat turning platform with rails on it, which allows a railway engine to be turned round to face a different direction ○ There is a turntable at the end of the line so that the engines can turn round.

turn up /tɜːn 'ʌp/ verb 1. to arrive ○ The food was spoiled because half the guests didn't turn up until nine o'clock. ○ He turned up unexpectedly just as I was leaving the office.

2. to be found ○ The police searched everywhere, and the little girl finally turned up in Edinburgh. ○ The keys turned up in my trouser pocket. 3. to make louder, stronger ○ Can you turn up the radio or turn the radio up – I can't hear it. ○ Turn up the gas or turn the gas up, the potatoes aren't cooked yet. 4. to unfold ○ To keep warm he turned up his coat collar.

turnup /'tɜ:nʌp/ noun a folded part at the bottom of each leg of a pair of trousers (NOTE: The US term is cuff.)

turquoise /'tɜ:kwɔɪz/ noun a blue-green precious stone ○ Her earrings are made of turquoise. ○ She was wearing a turquoise ring. ■ adj blue-green ○ I bought a pale turquoise silk dress to go to the wedding. ○ From the top of the cliff the sea looked turquoise in the sunshine.

turret /'tɜ:tɪt/ noun 1. a small tower ○ From here, you can see the castle's pointed turrets. 2. a small armoured structure with a gun inside, on a ship or tank ○ The turret of the tank swung round until the barrel of the gun was pointing directly at the president's palace.

turtle /'tɜ:t(ə)l/ noun a sea animal with a hard shell, similar to a tortoise ○ Turtles come up onto the beach to lay their eggs. □ to turn turtle to turn over ○ The raft turned turtle and threw us all into the water. ○ A big wave caught us sideways and we turned turtle.

turtleneck pullover /,tɜ:t(ə)l,nek'pʊləvər/ noun a pullover with a high rolled neck tusk /tʌsk/ noun the long tooth of some animals such as elephants and walruses

tussle /'tʌs(ə)l/ noun a fight or argument ○ He got into a tussle with his friend over the motorbike. ○ After a short tussle with the manager she got a refund. Synonym brawl ■ verb to fight or to struggle ○ They tussled with the administration over payment of expenses.

tutor /'tju:tə/ noun a teacher, especially a person who teaches only one student or a small group of students ○ His first job was as private tutor to some German children. ■ verb to teach a small group of students ○ She earns extra money by tutoring foreign students in English.

tutorial /'ju:tɔ:riəl/ noun a teaching session between a tutor and one or more students tut-tut /'tʌt 'tʌt/ noun a sound made with your tongue to show you disapprove ■ verb to make disapproving sounds (NOTE: tut-tutting – tut-tutted)

tuxedo /tʌk'si:dəʊ/ noun US a man's formal black or white jacket, worn with a bow tie (NOTE: The British term is dinner jacket.)

TV /'ti:/ noun 1. a television ○ They watch TV every night. ○ The TV news is usually at nine o'clock. ○ Some children's TV programmes are very dull. ○ The daughter of a friend of mine was on TV last night. 2. a television set ○ He's bought a portable TV. ○ Our TV is broken so we had to listen to the radio instead. ○ We have a TV in our bedroom.

twang /'twæŋ/ noun a sound made as when the string of a musical instrument or a taut wire is pulled and released ○ You could hear the twang of his guitar. ○ There was a loud twang as the cable snapped. ■ verb to make a twang ○ He was twanging away at his guitar. Synonym reverberate tweak /'twi:k/ verb 1. to pinch and pull with your finger and thumb ○ She tweaked his nose. 2. to adjust something carefully ○ With a little tweaking we got the graphics right.

tweed /'twi:d/ noun a usually rough woollen cloth made with strands of different coloured wool tweet /'twi:t/ noun a little sound made by a small bird ■ verb to make a little sound like a bird. Synonym chirp tweezers /'twi:zəz/ plural noun little metal pincers for pulling out a hair or splinter ○ She pulled the hair out with her tweezers.

① twelfth /'twelfθ/ adj, noun referring to 12 ○ He came twelfth out of two hundred in the competition. ○ Today is the twelfth of August or August the twelfth (August 12th). ○ It's her twelfth birthday next week. □ the twelfth century the period from 1100 to 1199

① twelve /'twelv/ noun the number 12 ○ She's twelve (years old) tomorrow. ○ Come round for a cup of coffee at twelve o'clock. ○ There are twelve months in a year. □ the twelve hundreds the period from 1200 to 1299

① twentieth /'twentɪθ/ adj, noun referring to 20 ○ She was twentieth out of twenty in the race. ○ Today is the twentieth of June or June the twentieth (June 20th). ○ It's her twentieth birthday on Wednesday. □ the twentieth century the period from 1900 to 1999

① twenty /'twenti/ noun the number 20 ○ She's twenty (years old) next week. □ he's in his twenties he is between 20 and 29 years old □ the (nineteen) twenties (1920s) the years from 1920 to 1929 (NOTE: twenty-one (21), twenty-two (22), etc., but twenty-first (21st), twenty-second (22nd), etc.) twenty-first /'twenti fɜ:st/ adj, noun referring to 21 □ the twentieth century the period from 2000 to 2099

twenty/twenty vision /'twenti 'vɪz(ə)n/, 20/20 vision noun perfect eyesight

③ twice /'twais/ adv two times ○ Turn it off – I've seen that programme twice already. ○ Twice two is four, twice four is eight. ○ I'm fifteen, she's thirty, so she's twice as old as I am.

twiddle /'twɪd(ə)l/ verb 1. to twist something aimlessly ○ She twiddled the knobs, hoping to find a German radio station. 2. □ to twiddle your thumbs holding your hands together, to turn your thumbs round and round as a sign of not having anything to do ○ Why should we pay them wages when they just sit there twiddling their thumbs?

twig /twɪg/ noun a little branch of a tree or bush ○ There is a bud at the end of each twig. ○ The blackbird made its nest of twigs and leaves. ■ verb to understand at last (informal) ○ It took ages for him to twig what had happened. ○ At last she twigged.

twilight /'twɔ:lɪ:t/ noun a time when the light is weak, between sunset and night. Synonym dusk

twill /twɪl/ noun a thick cloth woven in diagonal lines

③ twin /twɪn/ adj, noun one of two babies born at the same time to the same mother ○ he and his twin brother ○ She's expecting twins. ■ verb □ to twin one town with another town to arrange a special relationship between a town in one country and a similar town in another country, to encourage international understanding ○ Richmond is twinned with Fontainebleau.

twin beds /,twin 'bedz/ plural noun two single beds placed in a bedroom twine /'twain/ noun a strong rough string ○ He tied the roses to the wall with thick twine. ■ verb to wind around ○ She twined her arms round him. Synonym coil twinge /'twɪndʒ/ noun a short sharp pain. Synonym pang □ to experience a twinge of anxiety to worry for a moment ○ She felt a twinge of anxiety as she stood at the top of the ski slope.

twinkle /'twɪŋkəl/ noun a little glitter ○ There was a twinkle in his eyes as he gave her the present. Synonym sparkle ■ verb (of stars or eyes) to shine with a little moving light ○ His eyes twinkled as he showed the children the sweets he had bought. ○ We could see the lights of the harbour twinkling in the distance.

twin room /,twin 'ru:m/ noun a room for two people with two beds twirl /'twɜ:l/ noun 1. the movement of making something spin ○ The model on the catwalk gave a twirl of her skirt. ○ Start it moving by giving the wheel a twirl. 2. a curly shape ○ The pattern was full of twists and twirls. ■ verb 1. to spin round ○ Models twirled round on the catwalk. 2. to twist something round in your hand ○ I wish I could twirl a baton like the cheerleader.

③ twist /twɪst/ noun 1. a thing which has been twisted ○ Put a twist of lemon (peel) in the drink. ○ the twists and turns of the road through the mountains ○ It is difficult to fol- low the twists and turns of government policy. 2. a different way of telling a story ○ He put a new twist on the story about the princess. ■ verb 1. to turn in different directions ○ The path twisted between the fields. 2. to wind something round something ○ She twisted the string round a piece of stick. □ to twist someone round your little finger to make someone do what you want (informal) 3. to bend a joint in the wrong way ○ She twisted her ankle running to catch the bus. □ to twist someone's arm to put pressure on someone to persuade them to do what you want (informal) ○ I had to twist his arm to get him to lend me his car.

twisted /'twɪstɪd/ adj 1. severely out of shape 2. unkind or cruel twister /'twɪstəl/ noun US a tornado, whirlwind twitch /'twɪtʃl/ noun a sudden little movement of a muscle in the face or hands. Synonym tic ■ verb to make small movements of the muscles. Synonym jerk twitcher /'twɪtʃəl/ noun a fanatical bird-watcher (informal) twitter /'twɪtl/ noun little calls made by birds □ she was all of a twitter she was very excited ■ verb to make little sounds like birds ○ The little birds were twittering in their cage.

① two /tu:/ noun the number 2 ○ There are only two peppermints left in the box. ○ His son's only two (years old), so he can't read yet. ○ She didn't come home until after two (o'clock). □ one or two some, a few ○ Only one or two people came to the exhibition. □ to put two and two together to draw a conclusion from something ○ They put two and two together and decided she must be pregnant.

2 /tu:/ prep to (informal)

2.1 /,tu:'wʌn/ noun an upper second class university degree

2.2 /,tu:'tu:/ noun a lower second class university degree two-bit /'tu: bit/ bit /'bɪt/ adj US second-rate (informal) two-dimensional /,tu: daɪ'menʃən(ə)l/ adj with two dimensions, flat twofold /'tu:fəʊld/ adv, adj twice as much

24/7 /,twenti fɔ: 'sev(ə)n/ adv without ever stopping, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week two-legged /,tu: 'legɪd/ adj with two legs

20/20 vision /,twenti twenti 'vɪz(ə)n/ noun perfect eyesight two-piece /'tu: pi:s/ adj made of two pieces two-time /'tu: taɪm/ verb (informal) □ to two-time someone to be unfaithful to your spouse or lover ○ You dirty two-timing rat!

tycoon /taɪ'ku:n/ noun a very rich businessman. Synonym magnate

① type /taɪp/ noun 1. a sort or kind ○ This type of bank account pays 10% interest. ○ What type of accommodation are you looking for? 2. characters used in printing ○ The chapter headings are in bold type. (NOTE: no plural in this meaning) ■ verb to write with a computer or typewriter ○ Please type your letters – your writing's so bad I can't read it. ○ She only typed two lines and made six mistakes. Synonym key typecast /'taɪpka:st/ verb to give an actor the same sort of part to play all the time. Synonym stereotype (NOTE: typecasting – has typecast)

③ typed /taɪpt/ adj written on a computer or typewriter typeface /'taɪpfə:s/ noun a set of printed characters which have been designed with a certain style and have a certain name typewriter /'taɪprɪ:tə/ noun a machine which prints letters or figures on a piece of paper when keys are pressed typewritten /'taɪprɪ:t(ə)n/ adj which has been written with a computer or typewriter typhoid fever /,taɪfɔɪd 'fi:və/ noun a serious and possibly fatal disease caused by infected food or water typhoon /taɪ'fʊ:n/ noun a violent tropical storm in the Far East (NOTE: In the Caribbean it is called a hurricane.)

typhus /'taɪfə:s/ noun a serious fever, where the virus is carried by fleas and lice

② typical /'tɪpɪk(ə)l/ adj having the usual qualities of a particular group or occasion ○ Describe a typical day at school. ○ He's definitely not a typical bank manager. □ that's typical of him that's what he always does ○ It's typical of them to be late.

nately not a typical bank manager. □ that's typical of him that's what he always does ○ It's typical of them to be late.

② typically /'tɪpɪkli/ adv in a typical way typify /'tɪpɪfaɪ/ verb to be a good example of something. Synonym characterise typing /'taɪpɪŋ/ noun the action of writing letters with a typewriter typist /'taɪpɪst/ noun a person whose job is to type letters on a typewriter typographic /,taɪpə'græfɪk/, typographical /,taɪpə'græfɪk(ə)l/ adj referring to typography typography /taɪ'pɒgrəfi/ noun 1. arranging the text on a printed page in a pleasing way or in a way which best conveys the meaning ○ I like the typography of this magazine – it makes it very easy to read. 2. the study of the design of typefaces ○ As part of his printing course he has to learn about typography.

tyrannical /tɪ'rænɪk(ə)l/ adj cruel and unjust tyranny /'tɪrəni/ noun 1. the use of force and fear to rule a country ○ To arrest so many protesting students was an act of tyranny. 2. an unfair strict control over someone ○ the tyranny of the hospital manager over the nursing staff tyrant /'tairənt/ noun a ruler who rules by force and fear. Synonym oppressor

① tyre /'taɪə/ noun a ring made of rubber which is put round a wheel ○ Check the pressure in the tyres before starting a journey. ○ They used an old tyre to make a seat for the garden swing. (NOTE: The US spelling is tire.)

U

u /ju:/, U noun the twenty-first letter of the alphabet, between T and V

U-bend /'ju: bendl/ noun a bend in a pipe shaped like a U ubiquitous /ju: 'bikwɪtəs/ adj which is or which seems to be everywhere udder /'ʌdə/ noun a gland which produces milk, a bag which hangs under the body of a cow or female goat

UFO /ju: ef 'əʊ, 'jurfəʊ/ abbr unidentified flying object

ugh /ʊx/ interj showing a feeling that something is unpleasant ugliness /'ʌglɪnəs/ noun the state of being ugly ugly /'ʌgli/ adj 1. not beautiful, not pleasant to look at ○ What an ugly pattern! ○ The part of the town round the railway station is even uglier than the rest. □ ugly as sin very ugly

2. □ in an ugly mood in a dangerous mood uh huh /ʌ 'hʌ/ interj showing that you agree or that you are listening uh-oh /ʌ 'əʊ/ interj used as the written form of an exclamation made to express worry or a warning

Ukrainian /ju: 'kreɪnɪən/ adj referring to the Ukraine ○ Ukrainian exports to Germany ■ noun 1. a person from the Ukraine ○ A party of Ukrainians visited our stand at the exhibition. 2. the language spoken in the Ukraine ○ If you're going to the Ukraine, you will need an English-Ukrainian phrase book.

ulcer /'ʌlsə/ noun an open sore on or inside the body ulcerous /'ʌlsərəs/ adj referring to ulcers ulna /'ʌlnə/ noun the inside bone of the two bones of the forearm between the elbow and the wrist. □ radius ulterior motive /ʌl'tiəriə 'məʊtɪv/ noun a hidden reason for doing something which will give you an advantage

③ ultimate /'ʌltɪmət/ adj last, final ○ This is the ultimate game in the series. ■ noun the most valuable or desirable thing ○ Our first-class cabins are the ultimate in travelling luxury.

④ ultimately /'ʌltɪmətlɪ/ adv in the end. Antonym initially ultimatum /,ʌltɪ'meɪtəm/ noun a final demand, proposal sent to someone stating that unless he does something within a period of time, action will be taken ultra- /'ʌltrə/ prefix more than normal, excessively ultrasonic /,ʌltrə'sɒnɪk/ adj relating to frequencies above the range of human hearing ultrasound /'ʌltrəsaʊnd/ noun a very high frequency sound wave, used to detect objects in the body or under water um interj /əm/ showing that you are not sure what to say ○ Um, perhaps it's – no I don't know the answer. ■ verb /əm/ □ to um and ah to hesitate about what to do (informal) ○ I can't stand all this umming and aahing – why can't they make their minds up?

umbilical /ʌm'bɪlɪk(ə)l/ adj referring to the navel umbilical cord /ʌm'bɪlɪk(ə)l kɔ:d/ noun a cord which links the foetus to the placenta inside the womb umbrage /'ʌmbrɪdʒ/ noun □ take umbrage to be offended by someone

③ umbrella /ʌm'brelə/ noun a round frame covered with cloth which you hold over your head to keep off the rain ○ Can I borrow your umbrella? ○ As it was starting to rain, he opened his umbrella. ○ The wind blew my umbrella inside out.

umbrella organisation /ʌm'brelə ,ɔ:gənaɪzɪʃ(ə)n/ noun a large organisation which includes several other smaller ones umpire /'ʌmpaɪə/ noun a person who acts as a judge in a game to see that the game is played according to the rules ○ The umpire ruled that the ball was out. ○ He was disqualified for shouting at the umpire. ■ verb to act as umpire ○ He umpired the match very fairly.

umpteen /,ʌmp'ti:n/ adj a large number (informal) ○ I've been to France umpteen times. ○ There are umpteen forms to fill in. Synonym countless umpteenth /,ʌmp'ti:nθ/ adj the latest in a long series (informal)

UN abbr United Nations ○ UN peacekeeping forces are in the area. ○ The British Ambassador to the UN spoke in the debate.

unabashed /ʌnə'bæʃt/ adj not showing any shame or embarrassment unabated /ʌnə'biteitd/ adj just as forceful as previously

② unable /ʌn'ebɪt(ə)l/ adj not able to do something ○ I regret that I am unable to accept your suggestion. ○ She was unable to come to the meeting. Antonym able (NOTE: be unable to is a rather formal way of saying can't.)

unabridged /ʌnə'bri:dʒd/ adj complete and not shortened or summarised unacceptable /ʌnək'zeptəb(ə)l/ adj which you cannot allow because it is too bad. Synonym intolerable. Antonym acceptable unaccompanied /ʌnə'kʌmpəni:d/ adj, adv 1. alone, without anyone else 2. singing or playing alone, without other musical instruments or voices unaccompanied baggage /ʌnə,kʌmpəni:d 'bægɪdʒ/ noun cases which are sent by air, with no passenger travelling with them unaccountable /ʌnə'kaʊntəb(ə)l/ adj which cannot be explained. Synonym inexplicable unaccounted for /ʌnə'kaʊntɪd fɔ:/ adj missing unaccustomed /ʌnə'kʌstəmd/ adj not accustomed unaffected /ʌnə'fektɪd/ adj 1. □ unaffected by not affected by ○ He seemed totally unaffected by the publicity about his marriage. ○ Some of the plants were killed by the frost, but these were quite unaffected. 2. sincere or natural ○ She's totally unaffected, and genuinely interested in our work.

unaided /ʌn'εɪdɪd/ adj without help ○ His accident was three months ago, and yesterday he managed to walk for the first time unaided.

unalike /ʌnə'lаɪk/ adj not at all similar unambiguous /ʌnəm'bi:gjuəs/ adj clear, not ambiguous. Synonym unmistakable. Antonym vague unanimity /ju:nə'nimiti/ noun the state of being unanimous unanimous /ju:nə'niməs/ adj with everyone agreeing unanimously /ju:nə'nimiməsl/ adv with everyone agreeing unannounced /ʌnə'nɑ:nst/ adj which has not been announced ○ They arrived totally unannounced. Synonym unexpected unanswered /ʌn'ɑ:nsd/ adj which has not had an answer unappetising /ʌn'æpɪtaɪzɪŋ/, unappetizing adj which does not look very good to eat. Synonym unattractive. Antonym appetising unarmed /ʌn'ɑ:md/ adj with no weapons. Antonym armed unarmed combat /ʌn,ɑ:md ,kɒm'bæt/ noun the fighting of an enemy without using weapons unashamed /ʌnə'seɪmd/ adj not ashamed. Antonym ashamed unashamedly /ʌnə'seɪmdli/ adv without any sense of shame or embarrassment unasked /ʌn'ɑ:skt/ adj 1. without having been asked ○ Our unasked questions would always remain so now. 2. providing something such as help which has not been asked for unassailable /ʌnə'seɪləb(ə)l/ adj 1. impossible to beat or challenge ○ her unassailable lead achieved in the first minute of the race 2. impossible to criticise or attack ○ unassailable arguments ○ unassailable castle walls unassisted /ʌnə'sistɪd/ adj performed without help unassuming /ʌnə'sju:min/ adj quiet or modest. Antonym arrogant unattached /ʌnə'tætʃt/ adj not married, or not in a sexual relationship with anyone. Synonym free. Antonym attached unattainable /ʌnə'teɪnəb(ə)l/ adj impossible to achieve or reach unattended /ʌnə'tendɪd/ adj not looked after unattractive /ʌnə'træktrɪv/ adj not attractive unauthorised /ʌn'ɔ:θəraɪzd/, unauthorized adj which has not been permitted. Synonym illegal unavailable /ʌnə'veiləb(ə)l/ adj not available unavoidable /ʌnə'vɔɪdəb(ə)l/ adj which cannot be avoided. Synonym inevitable. Antonym avoidable unaware /ʌnə'weə/ adj □ unaware of, unaware that not knowing ○ He said he was unaware of any rule forbidding animals in the restaurant. ○ She walked out of the shop with her boyfriend, unaware that the photographers were waiting outside.

unawares /ʌnə'weəz/ adv without being expected □ to catch someone unawares to catch someone by surprise ○ The TV cameras caught her unawares as she slept through the reception. ○ The security cameras caught him unawares as he was putting a packet in the rubbish bin.

unbalanced /ʌn'bælənst/ adj □ (mentally) unbalanced erratic or slightly mad ○ I think her husband is a bit unbalanced.

unbearable /ʌn'beərəb(ə)l/ adj which you cannot stand. Synonym intolerable unbearably /ʌn'beərəblɪ/ adv impossible to bear unbeatable /ʌn'bi:təb(ə)l/ adj which cannot be beaten. Synonym invincible. Antonym vulnerable unbeaten /ʌn'bi:t(ə)n/ adj which has not been defeated

③ unbelievable /ʌn'bri'li:vəb(ə)l/ adj incredible, which is difficult to believe unbelievably /,ʌn'bri'li:vəblɪ/ adv incredibly, extremely unbeliever /,ʌn'bri'li:vər/ noun a person who does not believe in God. Antonym believer unbend /ʌn'bend/ verb to stop being stiff and start behaving naturally. Synonym relax (NOTE: unbent) unbending /ʌn'bendɪŋ/ adj not flexible in opinions or attitudes unbiased /ʌn'baɪəst/ adj without any bias. Synonym impartial unblemished /ʌn'blemɪʃt/ adj not spoilt by mistakes or faults unblinking /ʌn'blɪŋkɪŋ/ adj without blinking (literary) unblock /ʌn'blɒk/ verb to remove something that is stopping something from flowing unborn /ʌn'bɔ:n/ adj not yet born unbreakable /ʌn'breɪkəb(ə)l/ adj which cannot be broken. Synonym indestructible unbridled /ʌn'braɪld/ adj which is not controlled. Synonym unrestrained unbroken /ʌn'brəʊkən/ adj which has not been broken. Synonym continuous. Antonym intermittent unbutton /ʌn'bʌt(ə)n/ verb to undo buttons. Antonym fasten uncalled-for /ʌn'kɔ:ləd fɔ:/ adj not deserved. Antonym justifiable uncanny /ʌn'kæni/ adj mysterious, which seems unnatural. Synonym erie uncaring /ʌn'keərɪŋ/ adj without having any sympathy unceasing /ʌn'si:sɪŋ/ adj which never stops. Synonym constant. Antonym sporadic unceremonious /,ʌn'serɪ'�ənɪəs/ adj not dignified; not polite unceremoniously /,ʌn'serɪ'�ənɪəslɪ/ adv in an undignified way uncertain /ʌn'sɜ:t(ə)n/ adj 1. not sure ○ She is uncertain as to whether her father will come to stay. ○ Their plans are still uncertain. ○ He's uncertain about what to do next.

2. □ in no uncertain terms rudely ○ He told him in no uncertain terms what he could do with his offer. 3. which will probably change for the worse ○ She faces an uncertain future.

③ uncertainty /ʌn'sɜ:t(ə)nti/ noun the state of being uncertain or doubtful. Synonym doubt unchallenged /ʌn'tʃælɪndʒd/ adj without a challenge □ to let something go or pass unchallenged to let something be said or written without questioning it ○ If we let this ruling pass unchallenged we will regret it later.

unchanged /ʌn'tʃeɪndʒd/ adj not changed, without any changes. Synonym unaffected. Antonym affected unchanging /ʌn'tʃeɪndʒɪŋ/ adj always remaining the same uncharacteristic /ʌn,kærɪktə'rɪstɪk/ adj odd, not in character. Synonym unusual. Antonym typical uncharitable /ʌn'tʃærɪtəb(ə)l/ adj unkind uncharted /ʌn'tʃɑ:tɪd/ adj not marked on a map unchecked /ʌn'tʃekɪt/ adj without having been checked. Antonym restricted uncivilised /ʌn'sivilaɪzɪd/, uncivilized /ʌn'sivilaɪzɪd/ not civilised; barbarous unclaimed /ʌn'kleɪmd/ adj not collected by the owner or winner unclassified /ʌn'klæsɪfaɪd/ adj not secret but available for examination by anyone

③ uncle /'ʌŋk(ə)l/ noun a brother of your father or mother; husband of an aunt ○ He was brought up by his uncle in Scotland. ○ We had a surprise visitor last night – old Uncle Charles.

unclear /ʌn'klɪər/ adj not clear

Uncle Sam /,ʌŋk(ə)l 'sæm/ noun a person symbolising the United States, usually shown with a waistcoat made of the American flag, and a top hat uncluttered /ʌn'klʌtəd/ adj not having an excessive amount of objects or details and therefore appearing tidy and clear uncomfortable /ʌn'kʌmftəb(ə)l/ adj 1. not comfortable, not soft and relaxing ○ What a very uncomfortable bed! ○ Plastic seats are very uncomfortable in hot weather.

2. □ to feel uncomfortable about to feel worried about ○ I still feel uncomfortable about asking her to carry all that cash to the bank.

uncomfortably /ʌn'kʌmftəbli/ adv in an uncomfortable way uncommon /ʌn'kɒmən/ adj strange or unusual (NOTE: uncommoner – uncommonest) uncommunicative /,ʌn'kə'�mju:nɪkətɪv/ adj not willing to say much uncomplicated /ʌn'kɒmplɪkɪtɪd/ adj not complicated. Antonym complex uncompromising /ʌn'kɒmprə'maɪzɪŋ/ adj unwilling to give in or to change your ideas. Synonym inflexible unconcerned /,ʌn'kən'sɜ:nd/ adj not worried, not bothered. Synonym indifferent

- unconditional /ʌn'kən'dɪʃ(ə)nəl/ adj with no conditions attached
- unconditionally /ʌn'kən'dɪʃ(ə)n(ə)li/ adv without any conditions
- unconfirmed /ʌn'kən'fɜːmɪd/ adj which has not been confirmed
- unconnected /ʌn'kən'nektɪd/ adj not related or connected to anything else or each other
- unconscious /ʌn'kənʃəs/ adj not conscious, not aware of what is happening ○ He was found unconscious in the street. ○ She was unconscious for two days after the accident. □ unconscious of something not realising something ○ He was quite unconscious of how funny he looked. ■ noun □ the unconscious the part of the mind which stores thoughts, memories or feelings which you are not conscious of, but which influence what you do
- unconsciously /ʌn'kənʃəsli/ adv without realising
- unconstitutional /ʌn'kənʃtɪn'ʃuːl/ adj which is against a country's constitution, which is not allowed by the rules of a club or society. Synonym illegal. Antonym lawful
- uncontrollable /ʌn'kən'trəʊləb(ə)l/ adj which cannot be controlled
- uncontrolled /ʌn'kən'trəʊld/ adj which has not been controlled. Synonym unrestrained. Antonym restrained
- unconventional /ʌn'kən'venʃ(ə)n(ə)l/ adj not usual. Synonym eccentric. Antonym conventional
- unconvinced /ʌn'kən'venst/ adj not convinced. Antonym convinced
- unconvincing /ʌn'kən'vensɪŋ/ adj which does not convince. Antonym persuasive
- uncooked /ʌn'kʊkt/ adj not cooked. Antonym cooked
- uncooperative /ʌn'kəʊ'ɒp(ə)rətɪv/ adj not cooperative. Synonym unhelpful. Antonym amenable
- uncoordinated /ʌn'kəʊ'ɔːdɪneɪtɪd/ adj (of movements) not well-controlled or graceful
- uncork /ʌn'kɔːk/ verb to remove the cork from a bottle
- uncountable /ʌn'kaʊntəb(ə)l/ adj describing a noun that does not refer to a single object
- uncouth /ʌn'kuːθ/ adj with bad manners. Synonym rude. Antonym polite
- uncover /ʌn'kʌvə/ verb 1. to take a cover off something ○ Leaving the pots of jam uncovered will simply attract wasps. 2. to find something which was hidden ○ They uncovered a secret store of gold coins. ○ The police have uncovered a series of secret financial deals.

- uncritical /ʌn'kritɪk(ə)l/ adj not discriminating
- uncultivated /ʌn'kʌltɪvətɪd/ adj not used for the growing of crops
- uncut /ʌn'kʌt/ adj complete and not having been abridged
- undamaged /ʌn'dæmɪdʒd/ adj not harmed physically or psychologically
- undaunted /ʌn'dɔːntɪd/ adj bold. Synonym fearless. Antonym scared
- undecided /ʌndɪ'saɪdɪd/ adj not having decided
- undeclared /ʌndɪ'kleəd/ adj not told to customs or tax authorities
- undefeated /ʌndɪ'fiːtɪd/ adj not yet beaten by an opponent, especially in a battle or contest
- undefended /ʌndɪ'fendɪd/ adj not protected against attack
- undemanding /ʌndɪ'maːndɪŋ/ adj 1. not needing much physical or mental effort 2. easy to please or satisfy
- undemocratic /ʌndemə'trəktɪk/ adj not democratic. Antonym democratic
- undeniable /ʌndɪ'naiəb(ə)l/ adj which cannot be denied, which is quite clearly true. Antonym questionable
- undeniably /ʌndɪ'naiəbli/ adv in an undeniable way, in a way which is quite clearly true
- ① under /'ʌndə/ prep 1. in or to a place where something else is on top or above ○ We all hid under the table. ○ My pen rolled under the sofa. 2. less than a number ○ No one wanted the old table – it was sold for under £10. ○ It took under two weeks to sell the house. ○ The train goes to Paris in under three hours. ○ Under half of the members turned up for the meeting. 3. younger than ○ She's a managing director and she's still under thirty. 4. according to ○ Under the terms of the agreement, the goods should be delivered in October. 5. controlled by a ruler ○ The country enjoyed a period of peace under the rule of the British governors. ■ adv in a lower place □ to go under to fail, to go bankrupt ○ The company went under during the recession.
- underage /'ʌndər'eɪdʒ/ adj younger than the legal age
- underarm /'ʌndər,ə:m/ noun the area under the shoulder joint
- undercarriage /'ʌndəkærɪdʒ/ noun the landing gear of an aircraft, the aircraft's wheels and their supports
- undercharge /'ʌndə'stʃa:dʒ/ verb to charge less than the correct price
- underclass /'ʌndəklɑːs/ noun the lowest class in society
- underclothes /'ʌndəkləʊðz/, under-clothing /'ʌndə,k्लəʊðɪŋ/ noun underwear, the clothes which are worn next to the skin, under other clothes undercover /ʌndə'kʌvər/ adj acting in disguise ○ Two undercover policemen were sent to the night club to monitor the sale of drugs. Synonym secret ■ adv in secret ○ He was working undercover for the British government at the time.

undercurrent /ʌndəkərənt/ noun 1. a current of water under the surface ○ There are strong undercurrents in this part of the river. 2. hidden feelings ○ There is an undercurrent of antagonism to management in the factory.

undercut /ʌndə'kʌt/ verb to sell more cheaply than someone. Synonym undermine (NOTE: undercutting – undercut) underdeveloped /ʌndə'develəpt/ adj not developed; not industrially advanced. Synonym immature underdog /ʌndədɒg/ noun the person or team that is weaker, that is going to lose. Synonym loser underdone /ʌndə'dʌn/ adj not cooked enough, or not overcooked underestimate noun /ʌndə'restɪmət/ an estimate which is less than the actual figure ○ The figure of £50,000 was a considerable underestimate. ■ verb /ʌndə'restɪmɪt/ to think that something is smaller or not as bad as it really is ○ He underestimated the amount of time needed to finish the work. ○ Don't underestimate the intelligence of the average voter. Synonym undervalue. Antonym overestimate underfund /ʌndə'fʌnd/ verb to provide too little money to enable something to happen or operate satisfactorily undergarment /ʌndə'gɔ:mənt/ noun a piece of clothing worn next to the skin, under other clothes (old) undergo /ʌndə'gəʊ/ verb to suffer, to have something happen to you. Synonym experience (NOTE: underwent /ʌndə'went/ – undergone /ʌndə'gɔ:n/) undergraduate /ʌndə'grædʒuət/ noun a student at university who is studying for his or her first degree

③ underground adv /ʌndə'graʊnd/ 1. under the ground ○ The ordinary railway line goes underground for a short distance. ○ Worms live all their life underground. ○ If power cables were placed underground they would be less of an eyesore. 2. □ to go underground to go into hiding ○ They had to go underground for a time until the police called off their search. ■ adj /'ʌndəgraʊnd/ 1. under the ground ○ There's an underground passage to the tower. ○ The hotel has an underground car park. 2. secret, hidden ○ He was a member of an underground terrorist organisation in the 1970s. ■ noun /-

'ʌndəgraʊnd/ a railway in a town, which runs under the ground ○ Thousands of people use the underground to go to work. ○ Take the underground to go to Oxford Circus. ○ It's usually quicker to get to Waterloo by underground. (NOTE: The London Underground is often called the Tube. In the United States, an underground railway is called a subway.)

undergrowth /'ʌndəgrəʊθ/ noun plants which grow thickly under large trees underhand /ʌndə'hænd/ adj not honest. Synonym deceitful underlie /ʌndə'laɪ/ verb to be beneath, to be the basic cause of something (NOTE: underlying – underlay /ʌndə'leɪ/ – has underlain) underline /ʌndə'laɪn/ verb 1. to write a line under a word or figure ○ He wrote the title and then underlined it in red. 2. to emphasise ○ This just underlines the urgent need for more medical supplies. ○ I want to underline the fact that we need an experienced sales force.

③ underlying /ʌndə'laɪɪŋ/ adj which is the reason for everything. Synonym fundamental undermanned /ʌndə'mænd/ adj with not enough staff undermine /ʌndə'maɪn/ verb to make weaker. Synonym weaken. Antonym bolster

② underneath /ʌndə'nɪ:θ/ prep under ○ She wore a long green jumper underneath her mac. ○ Can you lie down and see if my pen is underneath the sofa? ■ adv under ○ He put the box of books down on the kitchen table and my sandwiches were underneath! ■ noun the part which is below or covered by something ○ The underneath of the car is showing signs of rust.

undernourished /ʌndə'nɔ:rɪʃt/ adj not having enough to eat. Antonym well-fed underpaid /ʌndə'peɪd/ adj not paid a suitable amount of money underpants /'ʌndəpænts/ plural noun men's short underwear for the part of the body from the waist to the top of the legs ○ The doctor told him to strip down to his underpants. ○ His wife gave him a pair of bright red white and blue underpants for his birthday.

underpass /'ʌndəpɑ:s/ noun a road which is built under another. Compare underpass underpin /ʌndə'pin/ verb to support (NOTE: underpinning – underpinned) underpinning /'ʌndəpɪnɪŋ/ noun supporting from underneath. Synonym foundation underprivileged /ʌndə'prɪvɪlɪdʒd/ adj not having the same opportunities as other people. Synonym disadvantaged. Antonym well-off underrate /ʌndə'reɪt/ verb to value something less than you ought. Synonym undervalue underrated /ʌndə'reɪtɪd/ adj deserving to be valued more

③ underscore /ʌndə'skɔ:/ verb to emphasise. Antonym ignore undersea /ʌndə'si:/ adj relating to the area below the surface of the sea

③ undershirt /ʌndəʃɜ:t/ noun US a light piece of underclothing for the top half of the body (NOTE: The British term is vest.)

underside /ʌndəsайд/ noun a side that is underneath. Synonym base undersigned /ʌndə'saɪnd/ noun the person or persons who have signed a letter (formal) understaffed /ʌndə'sta:fɪt/ adj operating with too few workers

① understand /ʌndə'stænd/ verb 1. to know what something means ○ Don't try to talk English to Mr Yoshida – he doesn't understand it. □ to make yourself understood to explain what you want, even if you don't speak the language ○ I hardly speak any Japanese, but I managed to make myself understood. 2. to have information, to think something is true because someone has told you so ○ We understand that they're getting married next month. ○ It was understood that the group would meet at the pub. 3. to have sympathy for someone ○ She's a good teacher – she really understands children. 4. to know why something happens or how something works ○ I can easily understand why his wife left him. ○ I still don't understand how to operate the new laser printer. (NOTE: understanding – understood /ʌndə'stud/) understandable /ʌndə'stændəb(ə)l/ adj normal, which is easy to understand. Synonym comprehensible. Antonym incomprehensible understandably /ʌndə'stændəbli/ adv in a way which you can understand

③ understanding /ʌndə'stændɪŋ/ noun 1. the ability to understand something ○ My understanding of how the Internet works is severely limited. 2. sympathy for someone else and their problems ○ The boss showed no understanding when she told him about her financial difficulties. ○ The aim is to promote understanding between the two countries. 3. a private agreement ○ We reached an understanding with the lawyers. ○ The understanding was that we would all go to the office after lunch. 4. □ on the understanding that on condition that, provided that ○ We accept the terms of the treaty, on the understanding that it has to be passed by Par- liament. ■ adj sympathetic ○ His understanding attitude was much appreciated. Antonym unsympathetic understate /ʌndə'steɪt/ verb to make something seem less important than it really is. Synonym play down. Antonym exaggerate understated /ʌndə'steɪtɪd/ adj which makes something seem less strong than it really is. Antonym exaggerated understatement /ʌndə'steɪtmənt/ noun a statement which does not tell the facts forcefully enough. Antonym exaggeration

① understood /ʌndə'stud/ □ understand

understudy /ʌndəstʌdi/ noun an actor who learns a part in the play so as to be able to act it if the usual actor cannot perform ○ The understudy had to take over last night when the male lead fell and broke his arm. Synonym substitute ■ verb to be the understudy for an actor ○ Who is understudying Judi Dench? ○ He is understudying Hamlet.

③ undertake /ʌndə'teɪk/ verb 1. to agree to do something ○ He has undertaken to pay her £100 a week for twelve weeks. 2. to do something ○ They undertook a survey of the market on our behalf. (NOTE: undertook /ʌndə'tuk/ – has undertaken) undertaker /ʌndəteɪkə/ noun a person who organises funerals (NOTE: Another US term is mortician.)

③ undertaking /ʌndəteɪkɪŋ/ noun 1. a business ○ The Post Office must be considered as a commercial undertaking, not as a public service. 2. a promise ○ She gave him an undertaking that she would continue to work for a further six months. ○ They have given us a written undertaking that they will not play loud music after ten o'clock at night. 3. a large-scale job □ it was quite an undertaking it was a very difficult job undertone /ʌndətəʊn/ noun 1. a quiet voice 2. a hidden feeling undertook /ʌndə'tuk/ □ undertake underused /ʌndə'ju:zd/ adj not used enough undervalue /ʌndə'velju:/ verb to value at less than the true rate undervalued /ʌndə'velju:d/ adj not valued highly enough underwater /ʌndə'wɔ:tə/ adj below the surface of the water ○ How long can you stay underwater? ○ He dived and swam underwater for several seconds. ○ She goes on holiday to the Red Sea to do underwater photography.

under way /ʌndə 'wei/ adv in progress ○ The show finally got under way after a lot of delays.

③ underwear /'ʌndəweər/ noun clothes worn next to your skin under other clothes (NOTE: no plural) underweight /'ʌndə'weɪt/ adj not heavy enough, which weighs less than usual. Antonym overweight

③ underwent /'ʌndə'went/ ◊ undergo underworld /'ʌndəwɜːld/ noun 1. (in mythology) a place inhabited by the dead ◯ Orpheus went down into the Underworld to search for his wife. 2. the world of criminals ◯ The police superintendent is an expert on London's underworld gangs.

undeserved /'ʌndɪ'zɜːvd/ adj received, but not deserved undesirable /'ʌndɪ'zaiərəb(ə)l/ adj 1. not wanted ◯ It's highly undesirable that they should build a factory in the national park. 2. not pleasant ◯ Taking the medicine produces no undesirable effects. ■ noun a person who is not wanted, who is considered a bad influence ◯ We are tightening the immigration law to keep undesirables out of the country.

undetected /'ʌndɪ'tektɪd/ adj not noticed or discovered undeterred /'ʌndɪ'tɜːd/ adj not put off by difficulties undeveloped /'ʌndɪ'vɛləpt/ adj which has not been developed

③ undid /'ʌndɪd/ ◊ undo

undies /'ʌndɪz/ plural noun underwear, especially women's underwear (informal) ◯ I've just washed my undies, I hope they'll be dry by the morning.

undignified /'ʌn'dɪgnɪfaɪd/ adj appearing foolish or making the person involved appear foolish undisclosed /'ʌndɪs'kləʊzd/ adj which has not been told to anyone. Synonym secret. Antonym known undiscovered /'ʌndɪ'skʌvəd/ adj not yet found or widely known about undisguised /'ʌndɪs'gaɪzd/ adj expressed fully, clearly and openly undisputed /'ʌndɪ'spuːtɪd/ adj which no one disputes. Antonym questionable undisturbed /'ʌndɪ'stɜːbd/ adj without being disturbed undivided /'ʌndɪ'veɪdɪd/ adj concentrating on one thing

③ undo /'ʌn'duː/ verb 1. to unfasten something which is tied or buttoned ◯ The first thing he did on getting home was to undo his tie. ◯ Undo your top button if your collar is too tight. 2. to upset the good effect of something ◯ His off-the-cuff remarks undid all the good work done to increase racial cooperation. (NOTE: undid /'ʌndɪd/ – has undone /'ʌn'dʌn/) undoing /'ʌn'duːɪŋ/ noun a person's ruin. Synonym downfall. Antonym making undone /'ʌn'dʌn/ adj 1. unfastened 2. not completed ◯ Some of work was left undone.

③ undoubted /'ʌn'daʊtɪd/ adj certain, true. Antonym doubtful undoubtedly /'ʌn'daʊtɪdli/ adv certainly undress /'ʌn'dres/ verb to take your clothes off undressed /'ʌn'drest/ adj naked, or not wearing much clothing undue /'ʌn'djuː/ adj excessive, too much.

Synonym unwarranted. Antonym justified undulate /'ʌndʒəleɪt/ verb to rise and fall like waves unduly /'ʌn'djuːli/ adv excessively, too much. Antonym justifiably undying /'ʌn'daɪŋ/ adj which lasts for ever. Synonym unending unearned income /,ʌnɜːnd 'ɪn'kʌm/ adj income from investments, rents etc., as opposed to wages or salary unearth /'ʌn'ɜːθəl/ verb to dig up; to discover unearthly /'ʌn'ɜːθli/ adj 1. wild and strange ◯ Unearthly shrieks came from the empty church. 2. much too early ◯ I had to get up at some unearthly hour to catch the plane to Milan.

unease /'ʌn'iːz/ noun feeling uncomfortable and worried. Antonym calm uneasily /'ʌn'iːzli/ adv in an uneasy way uneasy /'ʌn'iːzi/ adj nervous and worried. Synonym anxious. Antonym calm (NOTE: uneasier – uneasiest) uneatable /'ʌn'iːtəb(ə)l/ adj which cannot be eaten uneconomic /,ʌniːkə'nmɒmɪk/ adj which is not economic, which does not make a profit uneducated /'ʌn'edʒʊkeɪtɪd/ adj not well educated unemotional /,ʌnɪ'meəf(ə)n(ə)l/ adj showing very little or no feeling

② unemployed /,ʌnɪm'plɔɪd/ adj without a job ◯ The government is encouraging unemployed teenagers to apply for training grants. Antonym employed ■ plural noun ◯ the unemployed people with no jobs ◯ The government is offering special grants to help the unemployed.

② unemployment /,ʌnɪm'plɔɪmənt/ noun a lack of work ◯ The unemployment figures or the figures for unemployment are rising. Antonym employment unemployment benefit /,ʌnɪm'plɔɪmənt, 'benɪfɪt/ noun money paid by the government to someone who is unemployed unending /'ʌn'endɪŋ/ adj which is going on for ever, with no end. Synonym endless.

Antonym finite

unenthusiastic /,ʌnɪnθjuːzɪ'æstɪk/ adj showing no enthusiasm, interest, or excitement about something unenviable /ʌn'enviəb(ə)l/ adj difficult or unpleasant unequal /ʌn'i:kwəl/ adj 1. not equal ○ The management was accused of applying unequal conditions to male and female employees. 2. □ unequal to not good enough, not strong enough for ○ Their feeble efforts were totally unequal to the task.

unequalled /ʌn'i:kwəld/ adj which has no equal. Antonym ordinary unequivocal /ʌn'i:kwɪvək(ə)l/ adj which cannot be misunderstood. Synonym clear unerring /ʌn'ɜ:riŋ/ adj always accurate unethical /ʌn'eθɪk(ə)l/ adj not according to agreed standards of moral conduct uneven /ʌn'i:v(ə)n/ adj not smooth, not flat unevenly /ʌn'i:v(ə)nli/ adv not evenly uneventful /ʌn'i:ventf(ə)l/ adj with no particularly exciting events. Antonym exciting unexceptional /ʌnɪk'sepʃ(ə)nəl/ adj not very different, special or unusual unexciting /ʌnɪk'saɪtɪŋ/ adj ordinary or dull and boring unexpected /ʌnɪk'spektɪd/ adj which is surprising and not what was expected ○ We had an unexpected visit from the police. ○ His failure was quite unexpected. Synonym unforeseen. Antonym expected unexpectedly /ʌnɪk'spektɪdli/ adv in an unexpected way unexplained /ʌnɪk'spleɪnd/ adj which has not been explained. Synonym mysterious. Antonym apparent unexplored /ʌnɪk'splɔ:rd/ adj 1. not visited before 2. not yet investigated, studied or discussed unfailing /ʌn'feɪlɪŋ/ adj which never changes, which is always there. Synonym reliable. Antonym erratic ③ unfair /ʌn'fəəl/ adj not right, not fair ○ It's unfair to expect her to do all the housework while her sisters don't lift a finger to help.

unfair dismissal /ʌnfeəsɪs'mɪs(ə)l/ noun the process of removing a person from his job for reasons which do not appear to be reasonable unfaithful /ʌn'feɪθf(ə)l/ adj having sex with someone who is not your husband or wife. Synonym disloyal unfamiliar /ʌnfeə'miljə/ adj not knowing at all well unfashionable /ʌn'fæʃ(ə)nəb(ə)l/ adj not fashionable. Antonym trendy unfasten /ʌn'fæs(ə)n/ verb to undo a belt, tie or button etc. which is fastened. Antonym fasten unfathomable /ʌn'fæðəməb(ə)l/ adj too difficult to understand unfavourable /ʌn'fəʊvəb(ə)rəb(ə)l/ adj not favourable (NOTE: The US spelling is unfavorable) unfazed /ʌn'feɪzd/ adj not disturbed or put off unfeasible /ʌn'fi:zib(ə)l/ adj impractical as a goal, or not easy to do unfeeling /ʌn'fi:liŋ/ adj not caring or sympathetic unfinished /ʌn'finɪʃt/ adj which has not been finished. Antonym finished unfit /ʌn'fɪt/ adj 1. not fit, not in good physical condition ○ I used to play a lot of tennis but I've got unfit during the winter. ○ He's so unfit, he goes red in the face if he simply bends down to pick something up off the floor. 2. □ unfit for not suitable for ○ He was classed as unfit for service in the police force. □ unfit for human consumption not good enough to be eaten by people ○ The meat was found to be unfit for human consumption. □ unfit for human habitation not of good enough standard for people to live in ○ The house has been condemned as unfit for human habitation. ○ The old houses were declared unfit for human habitation and pulled down.

unflattering /ʌn'flæt(ə)rɪŋ/ adj showing someone or something in an uncomplimentary or unfavourable way unfold /ʌn'fəʊld/ verb 1. to spread out something which is folded, such as a newspaper ○ She unfolded the tablecloth and put it on the table. 2. (of a story) to become clear ○ As the full extent of the disaster unfolded, so it became clear that the emergency services could not cope.

unforeseeable /ʌn'fə:sɪ:b(ə)l/ adj which could not be foreseen. Synonym unexpected. Antonym predictable unforeseen /ʌn'fə:sɪ:n/ adj not foreseen, not anticipated. Synonym unexpected. Antonym expected unforgettable /ʌn'fə'getəb(ə)l/ adj which cannot be forgotten. Synonym memorable unforgivable /ʌn'fə'gɪvəb(ə)l/ adj impossible to forgive unforgiving /ʌn'fə'gɪvɪŋ/ adj not willing to forgive unforthcoming /ʌn'fə:tθ'kʌmɪŋ/ adj not willing talk much or to reveal information

③ unfortunate /ʌn'fə:tʃt(ə)nət/ adj 1. which is not lucky ○ He made some rather unfortunate purchases on the stock exchange. 2. which makes you sad ○ It was very unfortunate that she couldn't come to see us. 3. embarrassing ○ He made some very unfortunate friendships when he was in the army. ○ She made some unfortunate remarks about the bride's feet.

① unfortunately /ʌn'fə:tʃ(ə)nətlɪ/ adv which you wish was not true ○ Unfortunately the train arrived so late that she missed the meeting.

unfounded /ʌn'faʊndɪd/ adj without any basis in truth. Synonym groundless. Antonym proven unfriendly /ʌn'frendli/ adj not acting like a friend (NOTE: unfriendlier – unfriendliest) unfulfilled /ʌnfʊl'fɪld/ adj which has not been carried out unfurl /ʌn'fɜ:l/ verb 1. to unroll like a flag 2. to develop gradually ○ We watched fascinated by the events which unfurled on our TV screens.

unfurnished /ʌn'fɜ:nɪʃt/ adj with no furniture. Antonym furnished ungainly /ʌn'geɪnlɪ/ adj moving without grace ungodly /ʌn'gɒdlɪ/ adj unpleasant or inconvenient □ an ungodly hour a very early or late time ○ He rang me at some ungodly hour.

ungracious /ʌn'greɪʃəs/ adj not well-mannered ungrammatical /ʌŋgrə'mætɪk(ə)l/ adj using incorrect grammar ungrateful /ʌn'greɪtf(ə)l/ adj not grateful unguarded /ʌn'gɑ:rdɪd/ adj careless □ in an unguarded moment without thinking about the consequences unhappily /ʌn'hæplɪ/ adv in a sad way. Synonym unfortunately. Antonym luckily unhappiness /ʌn'hæpinəs/ noun the state of being unhappy. Synonym sadness. Antonym happiness

③ unhappy /ʌn'hæpi/ adj sad, not happy ○ He's unhappy in his job because his boss is always criticising him. ○ She looked very unhappy when she came out of the hospital. ○ The children had an unhappy childhood. (NOTE: unhappier – unhappiest)

unharmed /ʌn'ha:md/ adj not harmed, not hurt

unhealthy /ʌn'heɪlθɪ/ adj 1. not healthy ○ I thought her face was an unhealthy colour. 2. which does not make you healthy ○ The office is very unhealthy, and most of the staff seem to be ill all the time. ○ Sitting around smoking and not doing any sport is very unhealthy. ○ Their children have a very unhealthy diet. 3. unnatural ○ She has an unhealthy interest in dead bodies. (NOTE: unhealthier – unhealthiest) unheard /ʌn'hɜ:d/ adj 1. not heard by anyone 2. not allowed to be heard unheard of /ʌn'hɜ:dɒf/ adv strange or odd unhelpful /ʌn'helpf(ə)l/ adj not helpful unhurried /ʌn'hʌrid/ adj done in a quiet, relaxed way unhurt /ʌn'hɜ:t/ adj not hurt. Antonym hurt unicorn /'ju:nɪkɔ:n/ noun an imaginary animal, a white horse with one long, straight horn growing from the centre of its head unidentified /ʌn'ɪdəntɪfaɪd/ adj which you do not recognise, which you cannot identify. Synonym nameless. Antonym known unification /ju:mɪfɪ'keɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the act of joining two countries together to form one. Compare reunification. Synonym amalgamation. Antonym split

③ uniform /'ju:nɪfɔ:m/ noun special clothes worn by all members of an organisation or group ○ He went to the fancy dress party dressed in a policeman's uniform. ○ Who are those people in French army uniform? ○ What colour is her school uniform?

○ The holiday camp staff all wear yellow uniforms. □ in uniform wearing a uniform ○ The policeman was not in uniform at the time. ■ adj all the same, never changing ○ The supermarket wants vegetables of uniform size and colour.

uniformed /'ju:nɪfɔ:md/ adj wearing a uniform uniformed staff /'ju:nɪfɔ:md stu:f/ noun staff such as hotel porters and railway workers, who wear uniforms uniformity /ju:nɪfɔ:mti/ noun the quality of being uniform unify /'ju:nɪfaɪ/ verb to join separate countries or groups together to form a single one. Synonym unite unilateral /,ju:nɪ'læt(ə)rəl/ adj done by one side only, not taken jointly. Synonym one-sided. Antonym joint unilaterally /,ju:nɪ'læt(ə)rəli/ adv in a unilateral way unimaginable /,ʌnɪ'mædʒɪnəb(ə)l/ adj which cannot be imagined. Synonym inconceivable. Antonym conceivable unimaginative /,ʌnɪ'mædʒɪnətɪv/ adj not good at thinking of new or interesting ideas, plans, or situations unimportant /,ʌnɪm'pɔ:t(ə)nt/ adj not important. Synonym inconsequential unimpressed /,ʌnɪm'prest/ adj not impressed. Antonym enthusiastic uninformative /,ʌnɪn'fɔ:mətɪv/ adj not providing much information uninformed /,ʌnɪn'fɔ:md/ adj without enough knowledge. Synonym ignorant. Antonym informed uninhabitable /,ʌnɪn'hæbɪtəb(ə)l/ adj not suitable to be lived in uninhabited /,ʌnɪn'hæbɪtɪd/ adj with no one living there. Synonym unoccupied uninhibited /ʌnɪn'hibitɪd/ adj able to express yourself freely, able to do what you want to do uninitiated /ʌnɪ'nɪʃeɪtɪd/ adj □ the uninitiated people who do not have specialist knowledge of something ○ To the uninitiated, computer jargon seems difficult to understand.

uninspired /ʌnɪn'spɪərd/ adj lacking a sense of originality unintelligent /ʌnɪn'telɪdʒənt/ adj showing a lack of intelligence unintelligible /ʌnɪn'telɪdʒɪb(ə)l/ adj which cannot be understood. Synonym incomprehensible. Antonym intelligible unintended /ʌnɪn'tendɪd/ adj not planned or wanted unintentional /ʌnɪn'tenʃ(ə)n(ə)l/ adj which is not intended. Synonym accidental. Antonym intentional uninterested /ʌn'ɪntrəstɪd/ adj not having any interest in something. Synonym indifferent. Antonym concerned uninterrupted /ʌnɪntə'rpɪtɪd/ adj continuous, with no breaks. Synonym continuous. Antonym sporadic uninviting /ʌnɪn'veɪtɪŋ/ adj not attractive or pleasant

① union /ju:njən/ noun 1. □ (trade) union an organisation which represents workers who are its members in discussions with employers about wages and conditions of employment ○ The staff are all members of a union or they are (trade) union members. ○ The union called a meeting to discuss the company's takeover by a German company. 2. the state of being joined together ○ We support the union of these various groups under one umbrella organisation. 3. a group of countries or independent states which are linked into a federation ○ The union between England and Scotland is over 300 years old. 4. the United States of America ○ The President will give his State of the Union message in January. 5. marriage ○ Their union will be celebrated on 1st November.

unionism /ju:njənɪz(ə)m/ noun a belief in the principle of trade unions unionist /ju:njənist/ noun a member of a trade union ○ All her family were trade unionists.

Unionist /ju:njənist/ noun a member of a party which wants to preserve the union between Great Britain and Northern Ireland

③ Union Jack /ju:njən 'dʒæk/ noun the national flag of the United Kingdom ○ The Union Jack was flying over the embassy. ○ The streets were decorated with Union Jacks. Also called Union Flag

② unique /ju:nɪk/ adj different to everything else, the only one that exists ○ The stamp is unique, and so is worth a great deal.

○ He's studying the unique vegetation of the island. Synonym sole uniqueness /ju:nɪkнəs/ noun the state of being unique. Synonym individuality unisex /'ju:nɪsɛks/ adj which can be used by both men and women unison /'ju:nɪs(ə)n/ noun □ in unison 1. doing something all together ○ The children all shouted 'yes, please' in unison. 2. in total agreement ○ Unions and employers must learn to work in unison.

③ unit /'ju:nit/ noun 1. one part of something larger ○ If you pass three units of the course you can move to the next level. 2. one piece of furniture, such as a cupboard or set of shelves which can be matched with others ○ The kitchen is designed as a basic set of units with more units which can be added later. 3. the amount used to measure something ○ Kilos and pounds are units of weight. 4. a specialised section of a hospital ○ She is in the intensive care unit. ○ The burns unit was full after the plane accident. 5. a single number less than ten ○ 63 has six tens and three units.

unitary /'ju:nit(ə)ri/ adj referring to a single unit

③ unite /ju:nait/ verb to join together into a single body

③ united /ju:naitɪd/ adj joined together as a whole ○ Relief workers from various countries worked as a united team. ○ They were united in their desire to improve their working conditions. Synonym joint. Antonym separated

① United Nations /ju:naitɪd 'neɪʃnz/ noun an international organisation including almost all sovereign states in the world, where member states are represented at meetings. Abbr UN unit trust /'ju:nit trəst/ noun an organisation which takes money from small investors and invests it in stocks and shares under a trust deed, the investment being in the form of units or shares in the trust (NOTE: The US term is mutual fund.)

③ unity /'ju:niti/ noun being one whole. Antonym disarray

③ universal /,ju:nɪl've:s(ə)l/ adj which is understood or experienced by everyone in the world ○ There is a universal hope for peace in the region. Synonym worldwide. Antonym local universally /,ju:nɪl've:s(ə)li/ adv everywhere; by everyone

③ universe /'ju:nɪvɜ:s/ noun all space and everything that exists in it, including the earth, the planets and the stars. Synonym cosmos

① university /ju:nɪ'vesɪtɪ/ noun the highest level of educational institution, which gives degrees to successful students, and where a wide range of specialised subjects are taught ○ You need to do well at school to be able to go to university. ○ My sister is at university. (NOTE: The plural is universities.)

unjust /ʌn'dʒʌst/ adj not fair. Synonym unfair. Antonym just unjustified /ʌn'dʒʌstfɪəd/ adj 1. which is not justified ○ Her criticism of the minister was completely unjustified. 2. (in printing) not justified, without an even edge to the text ○ We left the right-hand edge unjustified.

unkempt /ʌn'kempt/ adj not looked after, especially referring to things which need cutting unkind /ʌn'kaɪnd/ adj cruel ○ It was unkind of him to keep talking about her weight. Synonym nasty. Antonym kind (NOTE: unkinder - unkindest) unknowingly /ʌn'nəʊɪŋli/ adv without realising the truth

② unknown /ʌn'nəʊn/ adj not known ○ She was killed by an unknown attacker. ○ The college received money from an unknown benefactor.

unknown quantity /ʌn'nəʊn 'kwɒntɪti/ noun a person or thing you know nothing about unlawful /ʌn'lɔ:f(ə)l/ adj which is against the law. Synonym illegal. Antonym lawful unleash /ʌn'li:ʃ/ verb 1. to allow a violent force to become free ○ The government's decision unleashed a wave of protests throughout the country. 2. to let a dog go free after it was attached by a leash ○ As soon as the security guards heard the siren they unleashed the dogs.

① unless /ən'les/ conj if not, except if ○ Unless we hear from you within ten days, we will start legal action. ○ I think they don't want to see us, unless of course they're ill.

unlicensed /ʌn'laɪs(ə)nst/ adj without an official licence, especially an official licence to sell alcohol

③ unlike /ʌn'laɪk/ adj, prep 1. totally different from ○ He's quite unlike his brother. 2. not normal, not typical ○ it is unlike him to be rude he is not usually rude unlimited /ʌn'limɪtɪd/ adj with no limits. Synonym limitless. Antonym limited unlimited mileage /ʌn'limɪtɪd 'maɪlɪdʒ/ noun an allowance with a hired car, where the driver is not charged for the number of miles driven unload /ʌn'ləud/ verb to remove a load from a vehicle. Synonym unpack ③ unlock /ʌn'lɒk/ verb to open something which was locked unluckily /ʌn'lʌkili/ adv with bad luck unlucky /ʌn'lʌki/ adj not lucky, which brings bad luck (NOTE: unluckier - unluckiest) unmanageable /ʌn'mænɪdʒəb(ə)l/ adj very difficult or impossible to deal with unmanned /ʌn'maɪnd/ adj not manned, with no crew unmarked /ʌn'ma:kɪt/ adj with no mark on it which could identify it. Synonym spotless. Antonym marked unmarried /ʌn'mærɪd/ adj not married. Antonym married unmask /ʌn'ma:sk/ verb 1. to remove someone's mask 2. to show someone as they really are. Synonym expose unmentionable /ʌn'menʃənəb(ə)l/ adj which you must not talk about because it is so indecent, unpleasant etc.

② unlikely /ʌn'lɑ:kli/ adj 1. not likely ○ It's unlikely that many people will come to the show. 2. which is probably not true ○ He trotted out some unlikely excuse about how his train ticket had been eaten by the dog.

unmistakable /ʌn'mɪ'steɪkəb(ə)l/ adj which is easily recognised and cannot be mistaken. Synonym obvious. Antonym ambiguous unmitigated /ʌn'mɪtɪgeɪtɪd/ adj total or complete unmoved /ʌn'mu:vd/ adj not touched or not affected. Synonym indifferent. Antonym touched unnamed /ʌn'neɪmd/ adj who has not been named. Synonym unidentified unnatural /ʌn'nætʃ(ə)rəl/ adj 1. which is not as it is in nature ○ His face was an unnatural blue colour. 2. which does not follow the usual pattern ○ It seems unnatural that he should take his father to court. ○ Their behaviour seemed unnatural to me.

unnecessarily /ʌn'nesəs(ə)rɪl/ adv uselessly; for no good reason unnecessary /ʌn'nesəs(ə)rɪl/ adj which is not needed, which does not have to be done ○ It is unnecessary for you to wear a suit to the party. ○ She makes a lot of unnecessary phone calls. Synonym needless unnerve /ʌn'nɜ:v/ verb to make someone lose his nerve or his courage. Synonym alarm. Antonym calm unnerving /ʌn'nɜ:vɪŋ/ adj which frightens you. Synonym frightening. Antonym comforting unnoticed /ʌn'nəʊtɪst/ adj 1. not noticed ○ The bomb lay unnoticed by the door of the supermarket. 2. without anyone noticing ○ The whole affair passed unnoticed by the press.

unobserved /ʌnəb'zɜ:vəd/ adj not seen by anyone unobtainable /ʌnəb'teɪnəb(ə)l/ adj which cannot be obtained. Synonym unavailable. Antonym available unobtrusive /ʌnəb'trʊ:sɪv/ adj not obvious; not easily noticed. Synonym inconspicuous. Antonym conspicuous unoccupied /ʌn'əkju:pəd/ adj empty, not occupied unofficial /ʌnə'fɪʃ(ə)l/ adj not approved by an administration or by people in power. Synonym unauthorised unofficially /ʌnə'fɪʃəli/ adv in an unofficial way unopposed /ʌnə'pəuzd/ adj, adv having no opposition unorthodox /ʌn'ɔ:θədɒks/ adj not usual. Synonym unconventional unpack /ʌn'pæk/ verb to take things out of cases in which they were transported. Synonym unload unpaid /ʌn'peɪd/ adj 1. (of a person) who is not paid a salary ○ He works as unpaid secretary for the sports club. 2. (of a bill) which has not been settled ○ Piles of unpaid bills littered his desk.

unpalatable /ʌn'pælətəb(ə)l/ adj unpleasant to consider or accept ○ She had to face some unpalatable facts.

unparalleled /ʌn'pærəleld/ adj with no parallel or no equal. Antonym mediocre unplanned /ʌn'plænd/ adj not intended to happen unpleasant /ʌn'plez(ə)nt/ adj not nice, not pleasant ○ There's a very unpleasant smell in the kitchen. ○ The boss is a very unpleasant man and shouts at his secretary all the time. ○ Try not to be unpleasant to the waitress. ○ The meat has an unpleasant taste.

unplug /ʌn'plæg/ verb to remove a plug from a socket (NOTE: unplugging – unplugged) unpopular /ʌn'pɒpjʊlər/ adj not liked by many people unpopularity /ʌn'pɒpjju'lærɪti/ noun not being liked (NOTE: no plural) unprecedented /ʌn'prezɪdəntɪd/ adj which has never happened before, or with such force. Synonym unparalleled. Antonym ordinary unpredictable /ʌn'prɪ'diktəb(ə)l/ adj which cannot be predicted or forecast. Synonym random. Antonym predictable unprepared /ʌn'prɪ'peəd/ adj not ready ○ unprepared to do something not willing to do something ○ The students are unprepared to pay the increased tuition fees.

unpretentious /ʌn'prɪ'tenʃəs/ adj not showing off. Antonym pretentious unprincipled /ʌn'prɪnsɪp(ə)ld/ adj without any moral standards. Synonym dishonest unprintable /ʌn'prɪntəb(ə)l/ adj so rude that you cannot print it. Antonym inoffensive unproductive /ʌnprə'dʌktɪv/ adj 1. (of a discussion) which does not produce any result ○ The debate was quite unproductive. 2. (of land) which does not produce any crops ○ Their land had become unproductive and they'd stopped farming it.

unprofessional /ʌnprə'fes(ə)n(ə)l/ adj not according to professional standards unprofitable /ʌn'prɒfɪtəb(ə)l/ adj 1. which does not make a profit ○ The international show was unprofitable, and had to be subsidised by the government. 2. which does not bring any advantage ○ She made an unprofitable visit to her lawyer.

unprotected /ʌnprə'tekted/ adj which is not protected unprotected sex /ʌnprə'tekted sek/s/ noun sexual intercourse without using a condom unprovoked /ʌnprə'vəukt/ adj not caused by words or actions that might produce anger or resentment unpublished /ʌn'pʌblɪst/ adj which has not been published unqualified /ʌn'kwɒlfɪəd/ adj 1. who has not passed the examinations to qualify for a profession ○ The hospital is said to be employing unqualified nursing staff. 2. total or complete ○ The school sports day was an unqualified success.

unquestionable /ʌn'kwestʃənəb(ə)l/ adj which is certain, not doubtful. Synonym indisputable. Antonym arguable unravel /ʌn'ræv(ə)l/ verb 1. to disentangle something knotted ○ We spent hours trying to unravel the ball of string. 2. (of knitting or woven material) to become undone ○ Don't cut that bit of wool or the jumper will unravel. 3. to come to pieces ○ His elaborate plan began to unravel. 4. to solve a mystery ○ No one has ever been able to unravel the mystery of her disappearance. (NOTE: unravelling – unravelled. The US spelling is unraveling – unraveled.)

unreal /ʌn'rel/ adj not like the real world unrealistic /ʌn'relɪstɪk/ adj not taking into account the true facts of a situation. Synonym impractical unreasonable /ʌn'rɪ:z(ə)nəb(ə)l/ adj not reasonable, unfair unrecognisable /ʌn'rekəg'narɪzəb(ə)l/ adj impossible to recognise unrelated /ʌn'rel'ateɪd/ adj 1. not related, with no connection ○ Two unrelated incidents occurred during the night. ○ The sudden increase in temperature is quite unrelated to her heart condition. 2. not belonging to the same family ○ They have the same surname, but as far as I know are unrelated.

unrelenting /ʌn'relentɪŋ/ adj which never stops or weakens. Antonym yielding unreliable /ʌn'rɪ'laiəb(ə)l/ adj which cannot be relied on unremarkable /ʌn'rɪ'mɑ:kəb(ə)l/ adj not worthy of special notice or attention because of being ordinary or common unremitting /ʌn'rɪ'mɪtɪŋ/ adj never ending. Synonym constant. Antonym intermittent unrepentant /ʌn'rɪ'pentənt/ adj with no regrets for what you have done. Antonym remorseful unrepresentative /ʌn'reprɪ'zentətɪv/ adj not typical of a particular kind or class unrequited /ʌn'rɪ'kwaɪtɪd/ adj not returned or felt by another person unreserved /ʌn'rɪ'zɜ:vɪd/ adj given without conditions unresolved /ʌn'rɪ'zɒlvɪd/ adj which has not been solved. Antonym settled unresponsive /ʌn'rɪ'spɒnsɪv/ adj reacting very little or not at all unrest /ʌn'rest/ noun a situation where people protest to try to get political or industrial change (NOTE: no plural) unrestrained /ʌn'rɪ'streɪnd/ adj which is not controlled. Synonym uncontrolled. Antonym restrained unrestricted /ʌn'rɪ'strɪktɪd/ adj without any restrictions. Antonym restricted unrewarding /ʌn'rɪ'wɔ:dɪŋ/ adj not providing any satisfaction or pleasure unrivalled /ʌn'rāɪv(ə)ld/ adj having no equal unroll /ʌn'rəʊl/ verb to undo something which is rolled up unruffled /ʌn'rʌf(ə)ld/ adj not anxious. Synonym calm. Antonym flustered unruly /ʌn'rū:li/ adj wild, with no discipline. Synonym boisterous (NOTE: unrulier – unruliest) unsafe /ʌn'seif/ adj □ to feel unsafe to feel you are in danger ○ She doesn't like to be alone at night, she says she feels unsafe.

unsaid /ʌn'sed/ adj □ it would have been better to have left it unsaid it would have been better not to say it unsatisfactory /ʌnsætɪs'fækt(ə)ri/ adj not satisfactory. Synonym inadequate. Antonym acceptable unsatisfied /ʌn'sætɪsfɪəd/ adj not satisfied. Antonym pleased unsavoury /ʌn'seɪvəri/ adj not pleasant (NOTE: The US spelling is unsavory.) unscathed /ʌn'skeɪð/ adj not harmed. Synonym unharmed unscrew /ʌn'skrʊ:/ verb 1. to open by twisting a top which screws on ○ The top of this bottle opens by unscrewing so you don't need a bottle opener. 2. to unfasten by taking out screws ○ My screwdriver is much too big to unscrew the back of the TV.

unscrupulous /ʌn'skrʊ:pjʊləs/ adj not worrying too much about honesty. Synonym dishonest

③ unsealed /'ʌnzi:lɪd/ adj which is not closed with a seal unseat /ʌn'si:t/ verb 1. to make an MP lose his seat in an election ○ She only needs a small swing to have a good chance of unseating him. 2. to make someone fall off a horse ○ He was unseated as he tried to jump the fence.

unseemly /ʌn'si:mlɪ/ adj offensive or rude. Synonym inappropriate. Antonym proper unseen /ʌn'si:n/ adj not seen, invisible. Synonym hidden. Antonym noticeable unselfish /ʌn'selfɪʃ/ adj thinking only of other people. Synonym selfless. Antonym selfish unsettle /ʌn'set(ə)l/ verb to cause someone anxiety. Synonym worry. Antonym soothe unsettled /ʌn'set(ə)ld/ adj 1. (of weather) which changes often ○ Unsettled weather is forecast for the next few days. 2. not calm ○ The present unsettled market shows no sign of becoming more stable.

unsettling /ʌn'set(ə)lɪŋ/ adj which makes you nervous and worried. Antonym soothing unshakable /ʌn'ʃeɪkəb(ə)l/ adj certain whatever happens unshaven /ʌn'ʃeɪvən/ adj without having shaved unightly /ʌn'saɪtlɪ/ adj ugly, unpleasant to see. Synonym unattractive unskilled /ʌn'skɪld/ adj 1. without any particular skill. Antonym trained 2. needing no skill ○ Some of these unskilled jobs pay very bad wages.

unskilled staff /ʌn'skɪld sta:f/ noun employees who have no particular skills, and do general work such as cleaning, taking the post to the post offices etc.

unsociable /ʌn'səʊʃəb(ə)l/ adj not friendly, not wanting to meet other people. Synonym unfriendly. Antonym friendly unsold /ʌn'səʊld/ adj not sold unsolicited /ʌnsə'lɪsɪtɪd/ adj given, sent or received without being asked for unsolved /ʌn'sɒlvɪd/ adj which has not been solved. Synonym unexplained. Antonym resolved unsophisticated /ʌnsə'fɪstɪkeɪtɪd/ adj simple; not sophisticated unsound /ʌn'saʊnd/ adj 1. □ of unsound mind mad 2. not based on fact or logic ○ His reasoning is unsound.

unspeakable /ʌn'spi:kəb(ə)l/ adj extremely unpleasant unspecified /ʌn'spesɪfaɪd/ adj which has not been specified. Antonym specific unspoiled /ʌn'spoɪlt/, unspoilt adj not made unattractive by development unspoken /ʌn'spəʊkən/ adj which is not said. Synonym tacit unstable /ʌn'steɪb(ə)l/ adj 1. not stable ○ They put scaffolding round the chimney because it had become unstable. ○ The weather can be very unstable in August. ○ We have to take account of the very unstable exchange rate. 2. likely to change suddenly ○ The economic situation has become very unstable. ○ Neighbouring states were worried that the unstable military regime could be overthrown. 3. with a mental state that is likely to change quickly ○ The patient is mentally unstable.

unsteady /ʌn'stедi/ adj not steady; wobbly unstoppable /ʌn'stɒpəb(ə)l/ adj which cannot be stopped. Synonym irresistible. Antonym avoidable unsubscribe /ʌnsəb'skraɪb/ verb to ask not to receive something any longer unsubstantiated /ʌnsəb'stænʃfɪətɪd/ adj not having any supporting evidence

③ unsuccessful /ʌnsəb'sesf(ə)l/ adj which does not succeed. Synonym ineffective. Antonym successful unsuitable /ʌn'su:təb(ə)l/ adj not suitable. Synonym inappropriate. Antonym appropriate unsung /'ʌnsʌŋ/ adj not praised or valued unsure /ʌn'sʊər/ adj 1. not sure ○ She was unsure whether to go to work or to stay at home. ○ I'm unsure as to which route is the quickest. 2. □ unsure of yourself lacking self-confidence ○ He's still very unsure of himself, but he'll get more confident as time goes by.

unsurprising /ʌnsə'praɪzɪŋ/ adj which is not at all surprising. Synonym predictable. Antonym surprising unsuspecting /ʌnsə'spektɪŋ/ adj who does not realise something, especially the presence of danger. Antonym wary unsustainable /ʌnsə'steɪnəb(ə)l/ adj impossible to continue or maintain unswerving /ʌn'swɜ:vɪŋ/ adj which does not change unsympathetic /ʌnsɪm'pæθetɪk/ adj not sympathetic. Antonym caring untangle /ʌn'tæŋ(ə)l/ verb 1. to separate and free from tangles 2. to make simpler and clearer untapped /ʌn'tæpt/ adj not yet exploited. Synonym unused. Antonym used untenable /ʌn'tenəb(ə)l/ adj which cannot be defended. Synonym indefensible unthinkable /ʌn'θɪŋkəb(ə)l/ adj 1. which cannot be considered or thought of ○ It would be unthinkable not to celebrate Christmas with the children. ○ Going to live in a foreign country was unthinkable only a few years ago. 2. □ to think the unthinkable to consider plans which go totally against what is normal practice untidy /ʌn'taɪdɪ/ adj not tidy (NOTE: untidier – untidiest)

untie /ʌn'taɪ/ verb to unfasten something which is tied with a knot

① until /ʌn'tɪl/ conj up to the time when ○ She was perfectly well until she ate the strawberries. ○ He blew his whistle until the police came. ■ prep, conj up to the time when ○ I don't expect to be back until after ten o'clock. ○ Until yesterday, I felt very well. Synonym till untimely /ʌn'taɪmli/ adj 1. occurring sooner than expected 2. occurring at a bad or inconvenient time untold /ʌn'təʊld/ adj 1. which has not been told ○ His story was to remain untold for years, until we discovered the old diary. 2. very large; so large that it cannot be counted ○ The lottery offers people the possibility of untold wealth. ○ The new treatment should help untold numbers of asthma sufferers.

untouchable /ʌn'tʌtʃəb(ə)l/ adj which cannot be touched or affected ○ The President's son is quite untouchable by the police. Antonym ordinary ■ noun a person from the lowest caste in the old Indian social system (offensive) untouched /ʌn'tʌtʃt/ adj 1. not touched ○ One small area of the forest was untouched by the fire. ○ She left the meat untouched on her plate. 2. not influenced by ○ We discovered a beautiful part of the countryside still untouched by the 21st century.

untoward /ʌntə'wə:d/ adj disturbing and unexpected untrained /ʌn'treɪnd/ adj without any training in a specific skill untreated /ʌn'tri:tɪd/ adj 1. not treated medically ○ If left untreated, the disease can be fatal. 2. which has not been processed ○ The council dumps untreated sewage into the sea. ○ They used untreated wood for the fence and it rotted very quickly.

untried /ʌn'traɪd/ adj not tested or tried before untrue /ʌn'tru:/ adj not true, false untrustworthy /ʌn'trʌstwɜːði/ adj impossible to be trusted or not deserving trust untruth /ʌn'truːθ/ noun something that is not true untutored /ʌn'tjuːtəd/ adj not having been taught. Antonym educated unused /ʌn'juːzd/ adj 1. which has not been used before ○ We found a packet of unused stamps in his desk drawer. 2. □ unused to not accustomed to ○ She's quite unused to committee work. ○ Getting up early is something he's unused to.

② unusual /ʌn'juːʒuəl/ adj strange, not normal ○ It is unusual to have rain at this time of year. ○ She chose a very unusual colour scheme for her sitting room.

③ unusually /ʌn'juːʒuəli/ adv strangely, abnormally

unveil /ʌn'veɪl/ verb 1. to take a cover off something, to open it formally ○ The statue was unveiled by the mayor. 2. to reveal details of a new plan etc. ○ The committee will unveil its proposals next week.

unwanted /ʌn'wɒntɪd/ adj which is not wanted unwarranted /ʌn'wɒrəntɪd/ adj which is not justified. Antonym justified unwary /ʌn'weərɪ/ adj failing to be alert and careful unwavering /ʌn'weɪvərɪŋ/ adj confident and firm in purpose unwelcome /ʌn'welkəm/ adj which is not welcome. Synonym unwanted. Antonym welcome

③ unwell /ʌn'wel/ adj sick, not well. Synonym ill. Antonym well (NOTE: not used before a noun: the baby was unwell but a sick baby) unwieldy /ʌn'wiːldi/ adj large and awkward. Antonym manageable unwilling /ʌn'wɪlɪŋ/ adj not wanting to do something. Antonym willing unwind /ʌn'waɪnd/ verb 1. to undo something which has been wound ○ Pull to unwind the flex – it will rewind automatically when you press the red button. 2. to relax ○ Gardening at the weekend helps him to unwind. (NOTE: unwinding – unwound /ʌn'waʊnd/) unwise /ʌn'waɪz/ adj rash or imprudent; not wise. Synonym foolish. Antonym prudent unwisely /ʌn'waɪzli/ adv rashly, in a foolish way unwitting /ʌn'wɪtɪŋ/ adj not knowing or intending unwittingly /ʌn'wɪtɪŋli/ adv without knowing or intending unworkable /ʌn'wɜːkəb(ə)l/ adj which will not work unworthy /ʌn'wɜːði/ adj not deserving unwound /ʌn'waʊnd/ □ unwind unwrap /ʌn'ræp/ verb to take the wrapping off something. Antonym wrap (NOTE: unwrapping – unwrapped) unzip /ʌn'zɪp/ verb to undo a zip fastener (NOTE: unzipping – unzipped)

① up /ʌp/ adv 1. in or to a high place ○ Put your hands up above your head. ○ What's the cat doing up there on the cupboard? (NOTE: up is often used after verbs: to keep up, to turn up.) 2. to a higher position ○ His temperature went up suddenly. ○ The price of petrol seems to go up every week. 3. not in bed ○ The children were still up when they should have been in bed. ○ They stayed up all night watching films on TV. ○ He got up at six because he had an early train to catch. ○ It's past eight o'clock – you should be up by now. 4. towards the north ○ I'll be going up to Scotland next week. 5. in London ○ Give me a call next time you're up in town. ○ I'm up in London next week for a meeting. 6. completely, entirely ○ The puddles dried up quickly in the sun. 7. □ the road is up the road is being repaired 8. happening in an unpleasant or dangerous way ○ Something's up – the engine has stopped! □ what's up? what's the matter? □ what's up with him? what is the matter with him? ○ What's up with the cat? – It won't eat anything. ■ prep

1. in or to a high place ○ They ran up the stairs. ○ She doesn't like going up ladders. 2. along ○ Go up the street to the traffic lights and then turn right. ○ The house is about two hundred metres up the road. ■ verb 1. to raise prices etc. ○ They upped their offer to £1000. 2. to stand up, to get up ○ She upped and left him when she heard he had been seen with her best friend. (NOTE: upping – upped) ■ noun □ the ups and downs of life in the army the good and bad times in army life

③ up-and-coming /,ʌp ən 'kʌmɪŋ/ adj becoming fashionable and likely to succeed

③ up and down /,ʌp ən 'daʊn/ prep, adv in one direction, then in the opposite direction ○ The policeman was walking up and down in front of the bank. ○ She looked up and down the street but couldn't see her little boy. ■ noun □ ups and downs the times of good luck and bad luck ○ His book describes the ups and downs of life in a circus.

③ up and running /,ʌp ən 'rʌnɪŋ/ adv working

upbeat /'ʌpbɪ:t/ adj feeling optimistic and happy (informal) ○ The conference ended on a very upbeat note. ○ We're all very upbeat about the potential sales of the new model. ■ noun the beat of a conductor's baton at the end of a bar ► Antonym (all senses) downbeat

③ upbringing /'ʌpbriŋɪŋ/ noun the way a child is brought up upcoming /'ʌp'kʌmɪŋ/ adj approaching soon, forthcoming update noun /'ʌpdeɪt/ the latest information ○ The manager gave us an update on the latest sales figures. ■ verb /'ʌp'deɪt/ to add the latest information to something so that it is quite up-to-date ○ She was asked to update the telephone list. ○ The figures are updated annually. ○ They have updated their guide-book to Greece to include current prices.

upend /'ʌp'end/ verb to turn something over on its end

③ up for /'ʌp fɔ:/ prep 1. ready for ○ My house insurance is up for renewal. 2. □ up for sale on sale, going to be sold ○ He's put his flat up for sale.

③ up front /'ʌp 'frʌnt/ adv in advance □ money up front payment in advance ○ They are asking for £100,000 up front before they will consider the deal. ○ We had to put money up front before we could get them to sign the deal.

upgrade verb /'ʌp'greɪd/ 1. to improve the quality or performance of something such as a computer ○ She has upgraded her computer. 2. to put someone into a more important job ○ His job has been upgraded to senior manager. ■ noun /'ʌpgrɛɪd/ software or equipment that will make a computer system more powerful or up to date upheaval /'ʌph'i:v(ə)l/ noun a great change

uphill adj /'ʌphɪl/ going upwards; difficult ○ From here the road is uphill all the way to the house. ○ He faces an uphill struggle to get elected. ■ adv /'ʌp'hi:l/ upwards ○ At my age, I can't walk uphill very far without stopping to get my breath back.

uphold /'ʌphəuld/ verb 1. □ to uphold the law to make sure that laws are obeyed 2. to reject an appeal and support an earlier judgement ○ The appeal court upheld the decision of the lower court. (NOTE: upholding – upheld /'ʌp'held/) upholsterer /'ʌphəulstərəl/ noun a person who covers furniture with cloth or leather upholstery /'ʌp'haʊlst(ə)rɪ/ noun 1. the work of covering furniture such as chairs with padded seats and covers ○ He has an upholstery shop, repairing old chairs and sofas. 2. covers for chairs; padded seats and cushions ○ The upholstery matches the colour scheme in the sitting-room.

upkeep /'ʌpki:p/ noun 1. the cost and process of keeping property such as a house, garden or car in good order ○ We're forced to sell the house because its upkeep is so expensive. ○ I'm responsible for the upkeep of the garden. 2. the cost of paying for children's clothes, food, etc. ○ Their father is supposed to pay for their upkeep. ○ How much are you getting from your ex-husband for the upkeep of the children? (NOTE: no plural) upland /'ʌplənd/ noun a mountainous area of a country ○ Heather is common in upland areas. Synonym moorland. Antonym lowland uplift /'ʌplɪft/ noun a sudden optimistic feeling uplifting /'ʌp'lɪftɪŋ/ adj which makes you feel in a better mood. Synonym inspiring. Antonym depressing upload /'ʌp,ləʊd/ verb to send information or programs from your computer to a larger system, e.g. over the Internet. Antonym download up-market /'ʌp 'ma:kɪt/ adj more expensive, appealing to the wealthy section of the market. Antonym down-market

① upon /'ʌpɒn/ prep 1. on ○ The church was built upon a grassy hill. 2. imminent, likely to happen soon ○ The summer holidays will soon be upon us again.

② upper /'ʌpə/ adj 1. higher or further up ○ The upper slopes of the mountain are covered in snow. ○ He had a rash on his right upper arm. 2. more important □ the upper forms (in a school) classes with older pupils ■ noun the top part of a shoe ○ a pair of shoes with leather uppers and man-made soles upper case /'ʌpə keɪs/ noun (in printing) capital letters. Antonym lower case upper-class /'ʌpə 'kla:s/ adj referring to the highest class in society ○ He speaks with an upper-class accent. ○ She comes from a very upper-class family. Synonym aristocratic upper hand /'ʌpə hænd/ noun a more powerful position than someone else. Synonym advantage uppermost /'ʌpəməʊst/ adj 1. highest ○ The birds are nesting in the uppermost branches of the apple tree. 2. most important ○ Which plan has the uppermost significance for you? □ what is uppermost in your mind the subject you think about most ○ When I see these youngsters taking their exams, I wonder what is uppermost in their minds. ■ adv in the top position ○ Carry the box with this side uppermost. ○ Which side of the painting should be uppermost?

③ upright /'ʌprɪt/ adj standing straight up, vertical ○ He got dizzy as soon as he stood upright. ○ Put the backs of your seats into the upright position for landing. ○ She picked up the vase and placed it upright on the table. ■ noun 1. a vertical post ○ The goalkeeper was leaning against one of the uprights. 2. a piano with a vertical body. Compare grand uprising /'ʌprəzɪŋ/ noun a rebellion or revolt. Synonym rebellion upriver /'ʌp'rɪvə/ adv, adj (moving) towards the source of a river, against the flow of the current uproar /'ʌprɔ:/ noun 1. a loud noise. Antonym quiet 2. angry criticism by a lot of people ○ There was an uproar over the increase in fares.

uproarious /'ʌprɔ:rɪəs/ adj noisy with laughter. Synonym hilarious uproariously /'ʌprɔ:rɪəsli/ adv noisily

uproot /'ʌprʊt/ verb 1. to pull a plant out of the ground with its roots ○ Everywhere you could see trees uprooted by the storm. 2. to make a family move to a totally new area ○ Families were uprooted from their homes and taken to camps many miles away.

② upset adj /'ʌp'set/ 1. very worried, unhappy, anxious ○ His parents get upset if he comes home late. 2. slightly ill ○ She is in bed with an upset stomach. ■ noun /'ʌpset/ 1. a slight illness 2. an unexpected defeat ○ There was a major upset in the tennis tournament when the number three seed was beaten in the first round. ■ verb /p'set/ 1. to knock something over ○ He upset all the coffee cups. 2. to make someone worried or unhappy ○ Don't upset your mother by telling her you're planning to go to live in Russia.

upsetting /'ʌp'setɪŋ/ adj which causes you to feel worried, unhappy or anxious upshot /'ʌpʃɒt/ noun a result upside /'ʌpsaɪd/ noun the positive side of a situation. Antonym downside

③ upside down /'ʌpsaɪd 'daʊn/ adv 1. with the top underneath ○ Don't turn the box upside down – all the papers will fall out. ○ The car shot off the road and ended up upside down in a ditch. ○ Bats were hanging upside down from the branches. 2. in disorder ○ While he was out someone had ransacked his room, turning the place upside down.

upstage /'ʌp'steɪdʒ/ adv to or at the back of the stage ○ The hero moves upstage and hides behind a tree. Antonym downstage ■ verb to take attention away from someone who should be more important ○ In last night's performance, the prima ballerina was completely upstaged by the youngest dancer. Synonym outdo

② upstairs /'ʌp'steəz/ adv on or to the upper part of something, e.g. a building or bus ○ She ran upstairs with the letter. ○ I left my glasses upstairs. ○ Let's go upstairs onto the top deck – you can see London much better. ■ adj on the upper floors of a building ○ We have an upstairs kitchen. ○ We let the one of the upstairs offices to an accountant. ■ noun the upper floors of a building ○ The upstairs of the house needs decorating.

upstanding /'ʌp'stændɪŋ/ adj strong and honest. Antonym degenerate upstart /'ʌpsta:t/ noun an inexperienced person who has just started a job and feels he knows everything about it. Synonym nobody upstate /'ʌpstɛɪt/ adj US in the northern part of a state upstream /'ʌp'stri:m/ adv, adj (moving) towards the source of a river, against the flow of the current ○ The ship was sailing upstream from the Atlantic towards the Great Lakes. ○ The river has been polluted somewhere upstream.

upsurge /'ʌpsɜ:z:dʒ/ noun a sudden increase. Antonym decrease uptake /'ʌpteɪk/ noun □ slow or quick on the uptake slow or quick to understand uptight /'ʌp'taɪt/ adj nervous and angry (informal). Synonym tense. Antonym calm

② up to /'ʌp tu:/ prep 1. as many as ○ The lift will take up to six people. 2. □ what are you up to these days? what are you doing these days? 3. capable of doing something ○ It's a very demanding job and I wonder if she's up to it.

② up to date /'ʌp tə 'deɪt/, up-to-date adv with the latest information ○ I keep myself up to date on the political situation by reading the newspaper every day. ■ adj modern, with very recent information ○ I don't have an up-to-date timetable.

up-to-the-minute /'ʌp tə ðə 'minɪt/ adj very recent uptown /'ʌptaʊn/ adv US in or to the outer residential parts of a town upturn /'ʌptɜ:n/ noun a movement towards higher sales or profits. Synonym improvement upturned /'ʌptɜ:nd/ adj pointing upwards ○ an upturned collar

③ upward /'ʌpwəd/ adj moving towards a higher level ○ The spacecraft's engines generate enormous upward thrust. ■ adv US same as upwards

③ upwards /'ʌpwədз/ adv 1. towards the top ○ The path went upwards for a mile then levelled off. 2. □ upwards of more than ○ Upwards of a thousand people answered the advertisement. (NOTE: [all senses] The US term is upward.)

uranium /ju'reniəm/ noun a radioactive metal used in producing atomic energy

② urban /'z:bən/ adj 1. referring to towns ○ They enjoy an urban lifestyle. 2. living in towns ○ The urban fox has become a menace in parts of London.

urbane /z:'beɪn/ adj having an easy relaxed manner urbanisation /'ɜ:bənərɪ'zeɪʃ(ə)n/, urbanization noun the act of urbanising an area.

Synonym development

urban sprawl /'ɜ:bən 'sprɔ:l/ noun an area covered by an irregular spread of houses built over what formerly was countryside. Synonym urbanisation ③ urge /'ɜ:dʒ/ noun a strong wish to do something ○ She felt an urge to punch him on the nose. Synonym need ■ verb 1. to advise someone strongly to do something ○ He urged her to do what her father said. ○ I would urge you to vote for the proposal. ○ Our lawyer urged us to be careful and avoid breaking the law. 2. □ to urge someone on to encourage someone to do better or to do more ○ The runners were urged on by their supporters.

urgency /'ɜ:dʒənsi/ noun the fact of being very important or needing to be done quickly □ there's no great urgency there's no need to rush

③ urgent /'ɜ:dʒənt/ adj which is important and needs to be done quickly ○ He had an urgent message to go to the police station. ○ She had an urgent operation. ○ The leader of the council called an urgent meeting. ○ This parcel is urgent and needs to get there tomorrow.

urgently /'ɜ:dʒəntli/ adv needed immediately

urinal /'ju:rɪn(ə)l/ noun 1. a place where men can go to pass waste liquid from the body ○ There's a public urinal at the corner of the street. 2. a bowl to catch waste liquid passed from the body by men ○ The men's room is very modern, with stainless steel urinals.

urinate /'ju:ərɪneɪt/ verb to pass waste liquid from the body urination /'ju:ərɪ'neɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the act of passing urine out of the body urine /'ju:ərɪn/ noun a yellowish liquid which is passed out of the body, containing water and waste matter

URL abbr Uniform Resource Locator

urn /ɜ:n/ noun a very large vase

① us /ʌs, ʌs/ object pron 1. meaning me and other people ○ Mother gave us each 50p to buy ice cream. ○ Who's there? – It's us! ○ The company did well last year – the management have given us a bonus. 2. □ let us or let's have a go let me have a go (referring to me alone)

usable /'ju:zəb(ə)l/ adj which can be used ③ usage /'ju:sɪdʒ/ noun 1. a custom; a way of doing things ○ It still is the usage in France to shake hands when you meet someone. 2. a way of using a word ○ It is a technical term that is now in common usage. ○ The book clearly explains common legal terms and their usage. 3. the way something is used ○ The shampoo is for normal usage. ○ With constant usage, you can expect the machine to need replacing every two years.

① use noun /ju:s/ 1. a purpose, usefulness ○ Can you find any use for this piece of cloth? 2. the fact of being used ○ The coffee machine has been in daily use for years. 3. the possibility of using something ○ Room 51 has no bathroom, but you have the use of the bathroom next door. ○ The lounge is for the use of the hotel guests. ○ Don't worry, he'll soon recover the use of his arm. ○ I have the use of a computer. 4. the fact of being useful ○ He kept the old chair, thinking it might be of use some day. ○ What's the use of telling the children to shut up – they never do what I say. ○ It's no use just waiting and hoping that someone will give you a job. 5. □ to make use of something to use something ○ He didn't make use of his phrase book once. ○ You should make more use of your bicycle.

■ verb /ju:z/ 1. to take something such as a tool and do something with it ○ Did you use a sewing machine to make your curtains? ○ The car's worth quite a lot of money – it's hardly been used. ○ Do you know how to use a computer? ○ Can I use this knife for cutting meat? 2. to take a service ○ Guests used the fire escape to get out of the building. ○ She used the money she had saved to pay for a trip to Greece. ○ I don't use the underground much because I can walk to the office. ○ We use second-class mail for all our correspondence. 3. to take a substance and do something with it ○ Don't use the tap water for drinking. ○ Does this car use much petrol? ○ Turn down the heating – we're using too much gas. 4. to take advantage of someone ○ He works every evening until late – I think they're just using him.

① used /ju:zd/ adj which is not new ○ a shop selling used clothes ○ a used-car salesman

① used to /'ju:zə tu:/ showing that something happened often or regularly in the past ○ Didn't she use ○ There used to be lots of small shops in the village until the supermarket was built. ○ When we were children, we used to go to France every year for our holidays. ○ The police think he used to live in London. ○ He used not to smoke a pipe. (NOTE: The forms used in the negative and questions: He used to work in London, He didn't use to work in London or He used not to work in London, Didn't he use to work in London?)

① useful /'ju:sf(ə)l/ adj who or which can help you do something ○ I find these scissors very useful for opening letters. ○ She's a very useful person to have in the office. □ to make yourself useful to do something to help usefulness /'ju:sf(ə)lnəs/ noun how useful something is

③ useless /'ju:sləs/ adj which is not useful □ she's useless at numbers she is no good at mathematics

③ user /'ju:zə/ noun a person who uses a tool or a service ○ We have mailed the users of our equipment about the possible design fault. □ road users people, e.g. motorists and cyclists, who uses the road user-friendly /,ju:zə 'frendli/ adj easy to use without special training. Synonym accessible username /'ju:zə,neɪm/ noun a name which you use when operating a computer program user's guide /'ju:zəz gaɪd/, user's handbook /'ju:zəz ,haɪndbʊk/ noun a book showing someone how to use something ① use up /,ju:z ʌp/ verb to use all of something. Synonym expend usher /'ʌʃə/ noun a man who shows people to their seats in a cinema or at a wedding usherette /,ʌʃə'ret/ noun a woman who shows people to their seats in a cinema (dated) usher in /'ʌʃə in/ verb 1. to bring someone in ○ They were ushered into the chairman's office. 2. to be the beginning of ○ The end of the war ushered in a period of great prosperity.

② usual /'ju:ʒuəl/ adj 1. which is done or used often ○ She took her usual bus to the office. ○ We'll meet at the usual time, usual place. ○ His usual practice is to get up at 6.30 and run round the park. ○ The usual hours of work are from 9.30 to 5.30. 2. □ as usual as is normal, in the usual way ○ The post was late today as usual. ○ As usual, it rained for the school sports day. □ business as usual everything still working in the usual way in spite of difficulties ○ Although their warehouse burnt down within 24 hours it was business as usual. ■ noun a drink or food which someone has most often in a restaurant, pub or café ○ A pint of the usual, please. ○ Will you have your usual, sir?

① usually /'ju:ʒuəli/ adv very often. Synonym normally. Antonym exceptionally usurp /ju:'zɜ:p/ verb to take and use a right which is not yours, especially to take the throne from a king usurper /ju:'zɜ:pə/ noun a person who usurps power uterus /'ju:t(ə)rəs/ noun the hollow organ in a woman's body where a fertilised egg is lodged and an unborn baby is carried (technical). Synonym womb utilisation /,ju:tɪlɪz'eɪʃ(ə)n/, utilization noun the act of making use of something utilise /'ju:tɪlaɪz/, utilize verb to make use of something utilitarian /ju:tɪlɪ'teəriən/ adj used for a practical purpose and not for decoration. Antonym useless utility /ju:tɪlɪti/ noun how useful something is utility room /ju:tɪlɪti ru:m/ noun a room in a house where you put such machines as the washing machine and the freezer utmost /'ʌtməst/ adj the greatest that can be ○ It is of utmost importance that the police be kept informed. ○ The situation is of the utmost urgency. ■ noun the greatest action possible ○ They did their utmost to save the children from the fire.

utopia /ju:təʊpiə/ noun an imaginary perfect world utopian /ju:təʊpiən/ adj very perfect, but not at all practical. Synonym ideal utter /'ʌtə/ adj complete or total ○ The exhibition was an utter waste of time. ○ He's an utter fool. Synonym absolute ■ verb to speak; to make a sound ○ She only uttered a few words during the whole evening.

③ utterance /'ʌt(ə)rəns/ noun something which is said utterly /'ʌtəli/ adv completely

③ U-turn /'ju:tɜ:n/ noun 1. the act of turning round to go back in the opposite direction

○ The police car did or made a U-turn and went back to the hotel. ○ U-turns are not allowed on motorways. 2. a complete change in policy. Synonym about-turn □ to do a U-turn to change policy completely ○ The papers were surprised at the government's U-turn on defence expenditure. ○ The government has done a complete U-turn on pensioners' rights. ○ The council did a U-turn and passed the development plan for the town centre.

uvula /'ju:vjʊlə/ noun a piece of soft tissue which hangs down at the back of the mouth

V

v¹ /vi:/, V noun the twenty-second letter of the alphabet, between U and W v² /'vɜ:səs, vi:/ abbr versus

V noun the Roman numeral for five or fifth ○ King George V ■ abbr volt

③ vacancy /'veɪkənsi/ noun 1. a job which is not filled ○ We have vacancies in several departments. ○ We advertised a vacancy for a receptionist in the local paper. 2. an empty place such as a room ○ All the hotels had signs saying 'No vacancies'. 3. the fact of not showing any emotion

③ vacant /'veɪkənt/ adj 1. empty, available for you to use ○ There are six rooms vacant in the new wing of the hotel. ○ Is the toilet vacant yet? □ with vacant possession empty, with no one living in it ○ The house is for sale with vacant possession. 2. (of someone's expression) not showing any interest or liveliness ○ He sat with a vacant expression on his face.

vacate /və'keɪt/ verb to leave something empty □ to vacate the premises to leave a building so that it is empty ○ The staff had to vacate the premises as soon as the fire alarm went off.

② vacation /və'keɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. especially US a holiday ○ The family went on vacation in Canada. 2. a period when the universities and law courts are closed ○ I'm spending my vacation working on a vineyard in Italy. □ to take a vacation job (of a student) to take a job during the vacation to earn money to help pay for the costs of a university or college course ■ verb US to take a holiday ○ They are vacationing in Mexico.

vaccinate /'veksɪneɪt/ verb □ to vaccinate someone against a disease to use a vaccine to give a person immunisation against a specific disease ○ She was vaccinated against smallpox as a child. ○ Make sure you are vaccinated before you travel to Africa.

vaccination /,væksɪ'nɛʃ(ə)n/ noun the action of vaccinating someone vaccine /'veksɪn/ noun a substance which contains the germs of a disease and which is injected into a patient to prevent him or her from catching the disease vacuum /'vækjuəm/ noun 1. a space which is completely empty of all matter, including air ○ The experiment has to be carried out in a vacuum. 2. □ to create a vacuum to empty a space completely 3. US same as vacuum cleaner ■ verb to clean a carpet or a room using a vacuum cleaner ○ She vacuums the hall every day. ○ I must vacuum the living room before my mother arrives.

③ vacuum cleaner /'vækjuəm ˈkli:nə/ noun a machine which cleans by sucking up dust vacuum flask /'vækjuəm flæsk/ noun a type of bottle which keeps liquids hot or cold (NOTE: also commonly called by a trade name, thermos) vagaries /'veɪgərɪz/ plural noun strange unpredictable behaviour (formal) ○ the vagaries of the English summer ○ Investors are nervous about the vagaries of the stock market.

vagina /və'dʒaɪnə/ noun a passage in a female body connecting the uterus to the vulva and through which a baby is born vaginal /və'dʒaɪnl/ adj referring to the vagina vagrant /'veɪgrənt/ noun a tramp, a person who travels from place to place with no home or work. Antonym resident

③ vague /veɪg/ adj not clear, with no precise details □ she hadn't the vaguest idea what to do she had no idea at all about what to do vaguely /'veɪgli/ adv 1. more or less ○ There's something vaguely dishonest about the affair. 2. in a vague way ○ They were talking vaguely about going to Tunisia on holiday.

vain /veɪn/ adj 1. which does not succeed ○ She went to the pub in the vain hope of finding him there. 2. □ in vain without any success ○ We waited in vain for a bus and had to walk home. □ he did not die in vain his death had an immense moral effect on people 3. very proud of your appearance, clothes, achievements, etc. ○ He's very vain, and is always combing his hair. (NOTE: vainer – vainest. Do not confuse with vein.) vainly /'veɪnlɪ/ adv without any success valentine /'væləntaɪn/ noun 1. □ valentine (card) a card sent to someone you love on Valentine's Day ○ He sent her a valentine. 2. the person you say you love particularly (old) ○ He asked her to be his valentine.

Valentine's Day /'væləntaɪnz deɪ/ noun 14th February, a day when people send cards and flowers to loved ones valet /'vælɪt/ noun 1. a servant who looks after a man's clothes 2. a person who parks your car at a restaurant or hotel valiant /'væliənt/ adj brave. Synonym brave. Antonym cowardly valiantly /'væliəntli/ adv bravely

③ valid /'vælid/ adj 1. which is acceptable because it is true ○ That is not a valid argument or excuse. ○ She made several valid points in her speech. 2. which can be lawfully used for a time ○ Travellers must have a valid ticket before boarding the train. ○ I have a season ticket which is valid for one year. ○ He was carrying a valid passport.

validate /'vælɪdeɪt/ verb 1. to check to see if something is correct ○ The document has to be validated by the bank. 2. to make something valid ○ The ticket has to be stamped to validate it. 3. to certify officially that something is acceptable ○ The new course has not yet been validated by the academic board.

validation /,vælɪ'deɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the act of certifying that something is acceptable validity /væ'lɪdɪti/ noun 1. the truth of something ○ The police questioned the validity of her confession. 2. the fact of being valid ○ a period of validity the length of time for which a ticket or document can be used lawfully ○ My visa for China has a thirty-day period of validity.

③ valley /'væli/ noun a long piece of low land through which a river runs ○ Fog forms in the valleys at night. ○ A lot of computer companies are based in the Thames Valley. Antonym hill valour /'vælə/ noun courage, especially in wartime (NOTE: The US spelling is valor.)

③ valuable /'væljuəb(ə)l/ adj 1. worth a lot of money ○ Be careful, that glass is valuable! ○ The burglars stole everything that was valuable. 2. useful or helpful ○ She gave me some very valuable advice.

valuables /'væljuəb(ə)lz/ plural noun items which are worth a lot of money ○ You can deposit valuables in the hotel safe.

③ valuation /,vælju'eɪʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. an estimate of the worth of something ○ A £350 valuation for this ring is much too low. 2. the act of estimating the worth of something ○ At the end of a financial year, we have to do a stock valuation. ○ We asked for a valuation of the property or for a property valuation.

① value /'vælju:/ noun 1. an amount of money which something is worth ○ the fall in the value of the yen ○ He imported goods to the value of £500. ○ Items of value can be deposited in the hotel safe overnight. □ to rise in value to become worth more □ to fall in value to become worth less ○ Houses have fallen in value in some parts of the country. □ good value (for money) a bargain, something which is worth the price paid for it ○ That restaurant gives value for money. ○ Holidays in Italy are good value because of the exchange rate. 2. a quantity shown as a number ○ What is the pressure value at the moment? 3. □ of practical value useful ○ The gadget is of no practical value at all. ■ verb 1. to estimate the value of something in money ○ The jewels have been valued at £5000. 2. to consider something as being valuable ○ She values her friendship with him.

① value added tax /,vælju: ædɪd 'tæks/ noun a tax on goods and services, added as a percentage to the invoiced sales price. ♦ road tax. Abbr VAT valueless /'vælju:ləs/ adj which has no value. Synonym inconsequential valuer /'væljuə/ noun a person who estimates the value of property values /'vælju:z/ plural noun principles, important things in life ○ He's a believer in traditional family values.

valve /'vælv/ noun 1. a device in a tube in a machine which allows air or liquid to pass through in one direction only 2. a flap in the heart or other organ which opens and closes to allow liquid to pass in one direction only vampire /'væmpaɪə/ noun an evil person who supposedly sucks blood from his or her victims

③ van /væn/ noun a covered goods vehicle ○ A delivery van ran into the back of my car. ○ Our van will call this afternoon to pick up the goods.

vandal /'vænd(ə)l/ noun a person who takes pleasure in destroying property, especially public property. Synonym criminal vandalise /'vændəlaɪz/ vandalize verb to destroy property for no reason at all vandalism /'vændə,lɪz(ə)m/ noun the meaningless destruction of property. Synonym damage vanguard /'vængə:d/ noun 1. the front part of an army ○ The vanguard should reach the capital within a few days. 2. □ in the vanguard in the front of a movement ○ We are in the vanguard of the operations to control drug smuggling.

vanilla /və'nɪlə/ noun a flavouring made from the seed pods of a tropical plant vanish /'vænɪʃ/ verb to disappear suddenly ○ The magician made the rabbit vanish. □ to vanish into thin air to disappear completely vanishing point /'vænɪʃɪŋ pɔɪnt/ noun 1. a point in a picture where lines appear to meet at the horizon 2. a point where something disappears completely ○ Profits have fallen to vanishing point.

○ All the money the depositors had put into the bank simply vanished into thin air.

vanity /'vænɪtɪ/ noun 1. the fact of being excessively proud of your appearance, feeling that you are very handsome or beautiful □ to tickle your vanity to make you amused and proud ○ Her constant phone calls rather tickled his vanity. 2. uselessness ○ the vanity of all human possessions vanquish /'væŋkwɪʃ/ verb to defeat a person or an army (literary). Synonym defeat vantage point /'væntɪdʒ pɔɪnt/ noun a place from which you can see well vaporisation /,veɪpərəz'zeɪʃ(ə)n/, vaporization noun the process of changing into vapour vaporise /'veɪpəraɪz/, vaporize verb to change a solid or liquid into vapour vapour /'veɪpər/ noun a substance in the form of a gas, usually caused by heating (NOTE: The US spelling is vapor.)

vapour trail /'veɪpər trےɪl/ noun a line of white vapour left in the sky by an aircraft variable /'veəriəb(ə)l/ adj which may change frequently ○ The weather forecast is for variable winds. ○ The weather can be very variable on the coast. ■ noun a thing which varies ○ We have to take a great many variables into account.

variance /'veəriəns/ noun the amount of difference between two things □ to be at variance with something not to agree or to be slightly different from something ○ The actual sales are at variance with the sales reported by the reps.

variant /'veəriənt/ noun the spelling of a word or name which is slightly different. Synonym variation

② variation /,veəri'eiʃ(ə)n/ noun a change from one state or level to another ○ The variation in colour or the colour variation is because the cloth has been dyed by hand. ○ There is a noticeable variation in temperature in the desert regions. ○ The chart shows the variations in price over a period of six months.

varicose veins /,værɪkəs 'veɪnz/ plural noun veins, especially in the leg, which have become twisted and swollen

② varied /'veərɪd/ adj made up of different sorts and kinds. Synonym heterogeneous. Antonym homogeneous variegated /'veəriəgeɪtɪd/ adj marked in contrasting colours. Synonym spotted. Antonym uniform variegation /,veəri'geɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the state of being variegated

① variety /və'rɪətɪ/ noun 1. differences ○ Her new job, unlike the old one, doesn't lack variety. □ a variety of things or people a lot of different sorts of things or people ○ She's had a variety of boyfriends. ○ We had a variety of visitors at the office today. ○ We couldn't go on holiday this year for a variety of reasons. □ variety is the spice of life if you meet lots of different people, visit lots of different places, etc., then this makes your life exciting 2. a different type of plant or animal in the same species ○ Do you have this new variety of rose? ○ Is this a new variety of potato? 3. a type of entertainment which includes several different short performances by different types of entertainer such as singers, conjurers and ventriloquists (NOTE: The US term is vaudeville.)

① various /'veəriəs/ adj different ○ The shop sells goods from various countries. ○ I'll be out of the office today – I have to see various suppliers.

variously /'veəriəsli/ adv in different ways

varnish /'værnɪʃ/ noun 1. a liquid which when painted on something gives it a shiny surface ○ He applied two coats of varnish to the door. 2. a shiny surface made by painting it with varnish ○ Be careful with that knife – you'll scratch the varnish. ■ verb to paint something with a liquid varnish, to give a shiny surface to something ○ Can you varnish our front door?

② vary /'veəri/ verb 1. to change what you do often ○ It will help your digestion if you vary your diet. 2. to be different ○ Prices of flats vary from a few thousand pounds to millions.

③ vase /və:z/ noun a container used for cut flowers, or simply for decoration

vasectomy /və'sektəmɪ/ noun a surgical operation to sterilise a man

② vast /vɑ:st/ adj enormous, very large ○ The moor was so vast – it stretched as far as the eye could see. ○ A vast tanker suddenly appeared out of the fog. Synonym massive vastly /'vɑ:stli/ adv very much. Antonym slightly

vat /væt/ noun a large container for liquids

① VAT /,vi: ei 'ti:/, væt/ abbr value added tax ○ VAT is an indirect tax. ○ The invoice includes VAT at 17.5%. ○ Hotels and restaurants have to charge VAT like any other business. ○ In Britain there is no VAT on books.

vault /vɔ:lt/ noun 1. an arched stone ceiling ○ The 11th-century vault of the chapel in the Tower of London. 2. □ vault or vaults an underground room for keeping valuables safe ○ The documents are kept in the bank vaults. 3. an underground room for burying people ○ She is buried in the family vault. 4. a high jump □ pole vault a leap over a high bar, using a pole to swing you up ○ He won the pole vault for the first time. ■ verb to jump over something by putting one hand on it to steady yourself or by using a pole ○ He vaulted over the fence and ran across the garden.

VCR abbr video cassette recorder

VD abbr venereal disease (dated)

VDU abbr visual display unit

've /əv/ short form have veal /vi:l/ noun meat from a calf

veer /vɪə/ verb 1. to turn in a direction suddenly ○ The car suddenly veered to the right and crashed through a wall. ○ She veered away off the main road into a little lane. 2. to change plans or ideas ○ The government seems to be veering towards the left. 3. (of the wind) to change direction ○ The wind suddenly veered to the south.

veg /vedʒ/ noun vegetables (informal) □ meat and two veg a traditional lunch with roast meat served with two sorts of vegetables vegan /'vi:gən/ noun a person who does not eat meat, dairy produce, eggs or fish, but only eats vegetables and fruit

③ vegetable /'vedʒtəb(ə)l/ noun a plant grown to be eaten, but not usually sweet ○ We grow potatoes, carrots and other sorts of vegetables in the garden. ○ The soup of the day is vegetable soup. ○ Green vegetables are a good source of dietary fibre.

vegetable oil /'vedʒtəb(ə)l ɔ:l/ noun oil which is extracted from plants

vegetarian /'vedʒt'ɪ:tɪən/ noun a person who eats only fruit, vegetables, bread, eggs, etc., but does not eat meat, and usually not fish ○ Our children are all vegetarians. □ to be a strict vegetarian not to eat any animal products, including eggs and milk ■ adj not eating meat ○ a vegetarian dish ○ He is on a vegetarian diet. ○ She asked for the vegetarian menu.

vegetate /'vedʒ:tɪ:tɪ/ verb to live like a vegetable, not moving or doing anything vegetation /,vedʒt'ɪ:tʃn(ə)n/ noun plants (NOTE: no plural) veggie /'vedʒi/ noun (informal) 1. a vegetarian 2. a vegetable vehement /'vi:əmənt/ adj forceful. Antonym apathetic vehemently /'vi:əməntli/ adv very strongly, forcefully

② vehicle /'vɪ:k(ə)l/ noun a machine which carries passengers or goods, e.g. a car, lorry or bus ○ a three-wheeled vehicle ○ Goods vehicles can park at the back of the building.

vehicular /vɪ'hɪkju:lə/ adj referring to vehicles veil /veɪl/ noun 1. a light cloth which can cover a woman's head or face ○ At the funeral she wore a hat with a black veil. ○ The bride lifted her veil as she came out of the church. □ to take the veil to become a nun ○ She took the veil when she was twenty-three.

2. □ to draw a veil over something not to mention something which is wrong or unpleasant ○ I think we had better draw a veil over her attempts to pass her driving test. 3. something which stops you seeing or understanding ○ A veil of mist lay over the valley. ○ A veil of secrecy has prevented us finding out what really happened. ■ verb to cover something, as if with a veil ○ The moon was veiled by clouds. ○ The whole affair is veiled in mystery.

veiled /veɪld/ adj partly hidden vein /veɪn/ noun 1. a small tube in the body which takes blood from the tissues back to the heart ○ The veins in her legs are swollen.

2. a mood shown in speaking or writing ○ He went on in the same vein for twenty minutes.

□ in poetic vein feeling poetic 3. a thin tube forming part of the structure of a leaf ○ The veins are easily seen if you hold the leaf up to the light. 4. a thin layer of mineral in rock ○ They struck a vein of gold. (NOTE: Do not confuse with vain.)

Velcro /'velkrəʊ/ trademark a material with stiff fibres which cling tight when pressed together ○ Her sandals have Velcro straps. ○ The rucksack fastens with Velcro.

velocity /'və:l'sitɪ/ noun speed velvet /'velvɪt/ noun a cloth made from silk, with a soft pile surface on one side velvety /'velvɪti/ adj soft and smooth like velvet vendetta /ven'detə/ noun a private quarrel between families or persons vendor /'vendə/ noun a person who sells a property (formal) ○ The vendor's solicitor is trying to get the purchaser to hurry up.

veneer /və'nɪə/ noun 1. a thin layer of expensive wood glued to the surface of ordinary wood ○ The table has a mahogany veneer. 2. □ a veneer of something a thin layer of something which hides your real feelings ○ His veneer of politeness soon disappeared as the old lady asked more and more questions. ■ verb to cover wood with a veneer ○ The table is veneered in oak.

venerable /'ven(ə)rəb(ə)l/ adj very old and likely to be respected. Antonym disreputable venerate /'venə'reɪt/ verb to respect someone or something greatly. Synonym revere. Antonym disrespect veneration /,venə'reɪʃn(ə)n/ noun great respect. Synonym worship. Antonym disdain □ to hold someone or something in veneration to respect someone or something greatly venereal disease /vɪ'nɪərɪəl dɪ,zi:z/ noun a disease transmitted during sexual intercourse (dated). Abbr VD venetian blind /və,ni:ʃ(ə)n 'blaind/ noun a blind to shut out light, made of horizontal strips, e.g. of plastic or wood, which can be opened or shut or raised and lowered by pulling a string vengeance /'vendʒəns/ noun 1. harm caused to someone in return for harm he or she has caused you ○ He has vowed to exact vengeance for the wrong done to his family. ○ She is seeking vengeance for the killing of her child. 2. □ with a vengeance very strongly (informal) ○ The rain came down again with a vengeance.

○ The people hold their president in veneration.

vengeful /'vendʒf(ə)l/ adj eager to have revenge on someone. Synonym vindictive. Antonym merciful venison /'venɪs(ə)n/ noun meat from a deer (NOTE: no plural) venom /'venəm/ noun 1. poison, e.g. from the bite of a snake ○ The venom of certain snakes may cause paralysis. 2. bitter hatred ○ The venom in her reply was obvious.

venomous /'venəməs/ adj 1. with poison in its bite ○ This snake is particularly venomous. ○ She was bitten by a venomous spider. 2. showing bitter hatred ○ She gave him a venomous look. ○ His venomous letter was printed in the newspaper.

venous /'vi:nəs/ adj referring to veins in the body vent /vent/ noun 1. a hole through which air or gas can escape ○ The gas heater is connected to a vent in the wall. 2. □ to give vent to an emotion to let an emotion come out ○ When the crowd heard the news they gave vent to their feelings. 3. a slit in the back of a coat or jacket allowing you to sit down more easily ○ He always wears jackets with double vents. □ verb □ to vent your anger on someone to make someone the target of your anger ○ He vented his anger on the poor ticket collector.

ventilate /'ventileɪt/ verb 1. to allow fresh air to come into a place ○ The freshly painted kitchen needs to be ventilated for several hours. ○ Children tend to fall asleep in poorly ventilated classrooms. 2. to discuss a question openly ○ They thoroughly ventilated their worries regarding money.

ventilation /'ventɪleɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the process of bringing fresh air into a place ventilator /'ventɪleɪtə/ noun 1. a machine which pumps in fresh air ○ You need to install ventilators in this kitchen. 2. an opening which allows fresh air to come into a building ○ There is a little ventilator in the wall of the bathroom. 3. a machine which pumps air into the lungs of a person who has difficulty in breathing ○ The newborn baby was put on a ventilator.

ventriloquist /ven'trɪləkwɪst/ noun a person who can make his or her voice appear to come from another place venture /'ventʃə/ noun a business or commercial deal which involves risk ○ The venture failed and all the partners lost money. ○ She has started a new venture – a computer shop. □ verb 1. to say something timidly or cautiously ○ 'I'll do it if no-one else will,' she ventured... ○ They ventured warily into the cave. 2. to say something, even though other people may criticise you for saying it ○ At last he ventured to say that the whole thing was a failure.

venture capital /,ventʃəl 'kæpɪt(ə)l/ noun money which you invest in a new business when there is a high risk of failure venue /'venju:/ noun an agreed place where an event such as a meeting will be held verandah /və'rændə/ noun a covered terrace along the side of a house

③ verb /vɜ:b/ noun (in grammar) a word which shows an action, being or feeling, such as 'to hit' or 'to thank' ○ In the sentence 'She hit him with her fist' the word 'hit' is a verb.

verbal /'vɜ:b(ə)l/ adj 1. spoken; not written down ○ a verbal agreement ○ The head teacher gave the boys a verbal warning. 2. referring to a verb ○ When you say 'to X-ray' the noun has taken a verbal form.

verbal noun /,vɜ:b(ə)l 'naʊn/ noun a gerund, a noun formed from the present participle of a verb (NOTE: In English, gerunds are formed from the '-ing' form of verbs, as in Cycling is good exercise; Choral singing is very popular in Wales.) verbatim /,vɜ:beɪtɪm/ adj using exactly the same words ○ a verbatim account ○ That was what she said, verbatim.

verbose /vɜ:'bəʊs/ adj using more words than necessary. Synonym wordy. Antonym taciturn verdict /'vɜ:dikt/ noun 1. the decision of a magistrate or jury ○ The jury returned a guilty verdict after one hour. □ to come to or reach a verdict to decide whether the accused is guilty or not 2. an opinion, what you think about something ○ She gave her verdict on the soup.

verdigris /'vɜ:diɡrɪs/ noun a green mould on something such as copper, caused by damp. Synonym patina verge /'vɜ:dʒ/ noun 1. a border of grass along the side of a road ○ You can park on the verge outside the house. ○ Wild flowers were growing all along the motorway verges. 2. the edge □ on the verge of something near to something ○ The company is on the verge of bankruptcy. ○ She was on the verge of a nervous breakdown. ■ verb □ to verge on something to be close to something ○ His sharp comments about her clothes verged on rudeness.

verifiable /'verifiəb(ə)l/ adj which can be verified. Antonym moot verification /verifi'keɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the action of verifying something. Synonym confirmation. Antonym contradiction verify /'verifai/ verb to check to see if documents or a statement are correct. Synonym confirm. Antonym disprove veritable /'veritəb(ə)l/ adj true or real. Synonym absolute vermillion /və'miliən/ adj, noun bright orange-red (NOTE: The US spelling is vermillion.)

vermin /'vɜ:min/ noun animals or insects, e.g. mice, fleas or cockroaches, which eat crops, bring disease into houses, live on other animals, etc. (NOTE: no plural) vernacular /və'nækjʊlə/ adj, noun 1. (referring to) the local spoken language of a country or region 2. (referring to) the usual local building style of a country or region ernal /'vɜ:n(ə)l/ adj referring to the spring (formal) versatile /'vɜ:sətaiəl/ adj 1. good at doing various things equally well 2. (of a machine, material, etc.) which is suitable for various uses ○ The car is extremely versatile: it can be used on rough mountain tracks, but is equally suitable for town use.

versatility /,vɜ:sə'tɪlɪti/ noun the fact of being good at doing various things equally well verse /vɜ:s/ noun 1. a group of lines which form a part of a song or poem ○ We sang all the verses of the National Anthem. ○ She read the first verse to the class. 2. poetry, writing which has a certain rhythm and sometimes rhymes ○ He published a small book of verse. Compare prose (NOTE: no plural in this meaning) 3. one short sentence from the Bible, each of which has a number ○ The reading in church was some verses from St John's Gospel. □ to give or quote chapter and verse for something to say exactly where to find a piece of information versed /vɜ:st/ adj □ to be well versed in something to know a lot about something or be skilled at doing something ○ She's well versed in British law.

① version /'vɜ:sʃ(ə)n/ noun 1. a description of what happened as seen by one person ○ The victim told her version of events to the jury. 2. a type of something, e.g. a work of art or model of car ○ This is the film version of the novel. ○ He bought the cheapest version available. 3. a translation ○ Here is the Chinese version of the book.

versus /'vɜ:səs/ prep (in a sports match or a civil court case) against (NOTE: usually written v, sometimes also vs: Manchester United v Arsenal; Smith vs the Inland Revenue) vertebra /'vɜ:tɪbrə/ noun one of the 24 bones which form the vertebral column or backbone (NOTE: The plural is vertebrae /'vɜ:tɪbrəi/.)

vertebrate /'vɜ:tɪbrət/ noun an animal which has a backbone ○ Fish are vertebrates but worms are invertebrates. ■ adj with a backbone ○ Can you name any other vertebrate animals besides birds and fish? ▶ Antonym (all senses) invertebrate vertical /'vɜ:tɪk(ə)l/ adj standing or rising straight up ○ He drew a few vertical lines to represent trees. ○ We looked at the vertical cliff and wondered how to climb it. Antonym horizontal ■ noun □ the vertical the position of something pointing straight up and down ○ The ship was listing several degrees from the vertical.

vertigo /'vɜ:tɪgəʊ/ noun 1. dizziness or loss of balance where everything seems to rush round you ○ Some ear conditions may cause vertigo. 2. a feeling of dizziness felt when high up, especially inside a tall building ○ He refuses to sit near the window – he suffers from vertigo.

verve /vɜ:v/ noun enthusiasm, a feeling of liveliness. Synonym vitality. Antonym lethargy

① very /'veri/ adv used to make an adjective or adverb stronger ○ It's very hot in the car – why don't you open a window? ○ Can you see that very tall pine tree over there? ○ The time seemed to go very quickly when we were on holiday. ■ □ not very many not a lot of ○ There weren't very many visitors at the exhibition. □ very much greatly ○ I don't like chocolate very much. ○ Thank you very much for your cheque. ○ It's very much hotter today than it was yesterday. □ very much the same almost the same □ very well OK, agreed ○ Very well, then, we'll meet you at the post office. Synonym extremely ■ adj 1. exactly the right one ○ She's the very person you want to talk to. 2. used to make a noun stronger ○ He did his very best to get tickets. ○ The scene takes place at the very beginning of the book.

vessel /'ves(ə)l/ noun 1. a container for liquid ○ Archaeologists think it was a form of ancient drinking vessel. 2. a ship ○ Vessels from all countries crowded into the harbour.

vest /vest/ noun 1. a light piece of under-clothing for the top half of the body ○ He wears a thick vest in winter. ○ If you don't have a clean vest, wear a T-shirt instead.

(NOTE: The US term is undershirt.) 2. US a short coat with buttons and without any sleeves, which is worn over a shirt and under a jacket ◻ He wore a pale gray vest with a black jacket. (NOTE: The British term is waistcoat.)

vested interest /'vestid/ noun a special interest in keeping an existing state of affairs vestibule /'vestibju:l/ noun an entrance hall to a large building vestige /'vestidʒ/ noun remains

③ vet /vet/ noun a veterinary surgeon (informal) ◻ We have to take the cat to the vet. ◻ The vet has a surgery in the High Street. ■ verb to check someone or something carefully to see if they are suitable ◻ All candidates have to be vetted by the managing director. (NOTE: vetting – vetted)

veteran /'vet(ə)rən/ noun 1. a member of the armed forces who has fought in a war ◻ The veterans visited war graves on the 50th anniversary of the battle. 2. a person who has a lot of experience ◻ He is a veteran of many takeover bids. ■ adj who has a lot of experience ◻ She's a veteran war correspondent. ◻ The veteran American film director died this week.

veterinarian /'vet(ə)rɪ'nærɪən/ noun US same as veterinary surgeon

③ veterinary /'vet(ə)rənəri/ adj referring to the treatment of sick animals veterinary surgeon /'vet(ə)rɪnəri, sɜ:dʒən/ noun a doctor who specialises in treating animals (NOTE: always shortened to vet when speaking) veto /'vi:təʊ/ noun a ban or order not to allow something to become law, even if it has been passed by a parliament ■ verb to forbid something ◻ The proposal was vetoed by the president. ◻ The council has vetoed all plans to hold protest marches in the centre of town.

vex /veks/ verb to make someone annoyed (dated; old) vexation /vek'seɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the fact of being annoyed. Synonym annoyance vexatious /vek'seɪʃəs/ adj done to annoy someone. Synonym annoying vexed question /vekst 'kwestʃən/ noun a question which is often discussed but which is difficult to solve

VHF abbr very high frequency

VHS abbr video home system

② via /'viə/ prep through ◻ We drove to London via Windsor. ◻ We are sending the payment via our office in London. ◻ The shipment is going via the Suez Canal.

viable /'vaiəb(ə)l/ adj 1. able to work in practice ◻ The project is certainly viable. ◻ It is no longer viable to extract tin from these mines. ◻ not commercially viable not likely to make a profit ◻ If we follow his proposals, the project will certainly not be commercially viable. 2. (of a foetus) which can survive if born ◻ A foetus is viable after about 28 weeks of pregnancy.

viaduct /'vaiədʌkt/ noun a long bridge carrying a road or railway across a valley vibe /vaɪb/ noun a particular kind of feeling which you connect with a certain place or person (informal) vibrant /'vaɪbrənt/ adj 1. (of a person) full of energy ◻ A teacher with a vibrant personality. 2. bright ◻ My husband likes vibrant blues and greens while I prefer much more subdued colours.

vibrate /vaɪ'bret/ verb to move slightly, but rapidly and continuously

③ vibration /vaɪ'breɪʃ(ə)n/ noun a rapid and continuous movement vicar /'vɪkər/ noun (in the Church of England) a priest in charge of a parish vicarage /'vɪk(ə)rɪdʒ/ noun a house of a vicar vicarious /vɪ'keəriəs/ adj (of pleasure) experienced because of something someone else does

③ vice /vایs/ noun 1. a wicked way of living, especially involving sex 2. a particular type of wickedness ◻ Gluttony is a vice. 3. a bad habit ◻ I have all the usual vices – I smoke, I drink, I drive too fast. 4. a tool that screws tight to hold something, so that a workman can work on it (NOTE: The US spelling is vise.)

vice- /vایs/ prefix a person who is second in rank to someone vice-president /vایs 'prezɪd(ə)nt/ noun 1. the deputy to a president 2. US one of the executive directors of a company vice squad /'vایs skwɔd/ noun a police department dealing with such crimes as prostitution vice versa /,vایsɪ 'vɜ:sə/ adv the other way from what has just been mentioned vicinity /'və'sɪnɪtɪ/ noun 1. an area around something ◻ The police are searching the vicinity of the lake. 2. ◻ in the vicinity nearby ◻ Were there any suspicious characters in the vicinity? ◻ in the vicinity of something near something ◻ The body was found in the vicinity of the church. ◻ The price paid was somewhere in the vicinity of £200,000.

③ vicious /'vɪʃəs/ adj cruel and wicked ◻ a vicious attack on an elderly lady

vicious circle /,vɪʃəs 'sɜ:k(ə)l/ noun a situation in which by trying to solve one problem you find yourself in another which is worse than the first

② victim /'vɪktɪm/ noun a person who is attacked, who is in an accident ◻ The victims of the train crash were taken to the local hospital. ○ She was the victim of a brutal attack outside her front door. ○ Earthquake victims were housed in tents.

victimisation /'viktɪmɪz'zeɪʃ(ə)n/, victimization noun the action of victimising someone. Synonym persecution victimise /'viktɪmaɪz/, victimize verb to treat someone more unfairly than others. Synonym persecute victor /'viktər/ noun a person who wins a fight, game or battle. Antonym loser

Victorian /vikt'ɔ:rɪən/ adj referring to the reign of Queen Victoria (1837–1901) ○ They live in a Victorian house. ■ noun a person living at the time of Queen Victoria ○ He wrote the biography of several eminent Victorians.

victorious /vikt'ɔ:rɪəs/ adj having won a game or a battle

② victory /'vikt(ə)rɪ/ noun the fact of winning something, e.g. a battle, a fight or a game ○ the American victory in the Olympics ○ They won a clear victory in the general election. ○ The guerrillas won a victory over the government troops. Synonym conquest. Antonym defeat

① video /'vɪdiəʊ/ noun 1. an electronic system which records, stores and reproduces pictures and sound ○ Using video, it is possible to show students the mistakes they have made and get them to correct them. 2. text, film or graphics which can be viewed on a television or monitor 3. a machine which records TV programmes ○ Don't forget to set the video for 8 p.m. before you go out. 4. a magnetic tape on which you can record TV programmes or films for playing back on a television set ○ She bought a box of blank videos. ■ verb to record pictures, a TV programme or a film on magnetic tape ○ I didn't see the programme because I was at work, but I've videoed it. Synonym videotape videocamera /'vɪdiəʊ,kæm(ə)rə/ noun a special camera for filming onto videotape videocassette /'vɪdiəʊkə'set/ noun a small cassette containing a videotape videocassette recorder /,vɪdiəʊkə'set rɪ,kə:də/ noun a device attached to a TV set, which can be programmed to record TV programmes on videotape and play them back at another time. Abbr VCR video game /'vɪdiəʊ geɪm/ noun an electronic game which you play on a television or computer screen videophone /'vɪdiəʊ,fəʊn/ noun a telephone with a screen where you can see the person you are speaking to video pirates /'vɪdiəʊ 'paɪrəts/ plural noun people who organise the illegal copying of videos to make a profit videorecorder /'vɪdiəʊrɪ,kɔ:də/ noun same as videocassette recorder videotape /'vɪdiəʊteɪp/ noun a magnetic tape on which pictures and sound can be recorded for playing back on a television set ■ verb same as video vie /vɪə/ verb □ to vie with someone to rival or try to beat someone ○ They vied with the German team for the gold medal. ○ The best students are vying for the scholarship.

① view /vju:/ noun 1. what you can see from a certain place ○ You can get a good view of the sea from the church tower. ○ We asked for a room with a sea view and were given one looking out over the bus depot. 2. a photograph or picture ○ Here is a view of our house taken last year. 3. a way of thinking about something ○ In his view, the government ought to act now. □ to take a dim view of something not to think very highly of something ○ He takes a dim view of members of staff turning up late for work. 4. □ in view of something because of something ○ In view of the stormy weather, we decided not to go sailing. □ with a view to doing something with the aim of doing something (formal) ○ They bought the shop with a view to converting it into a restaurant. □ on view exhibited for people to look at ○ The final-year students' work is on view in the college art gallery. ■ verb 1. to watch something ○ The Queen viewed the procession from a special stand. 2. to consider something ○ He views the change of government as a disaster for the country.

② viewer /'vju:ər/ noun 1. a person who watches TV ○ The programme attracted ten million viewers. 2. a small device through which you can look at colour slides ○ She bought a little viewer to look at her slides.

viewfinder /'vju:faində/ noun a small window in a camera through which you look when taking a picture, and which shows the exact picture you are about to take viewing /'vju:ɪŋ/ noun 1. the act of inspecting something such as a house which you are thinking of buying 2. the act of watching television viewpoint /'vju:pɔɪnt/ noun a point of view, a particular way of thinking about things vigil /'vɪdʒɪl/ noun 1. the act of keeping awake or on guard all night ○ Nurses kept vigil by her bedside. 2. the quiet remembrance of someone or something, held at night ○ They are holding a candlelit vigil for children missing in the war.

vigilance /'vɪdʒɪləns/ noun the fact of being on your guard to look out for crimes vigilant /'vɪdʒɪlənt/ adj on guard. Synonym watchful vigilante /'vɪdʒɪləntɪ/ noun a person who is a member of group which tries to enforce law and order in their area, especially when the police seem to find it impossible to do so vigorous /'vɪgərəs/ adj very energetic or strong. Antonym feeble vigorously /'vɪgərəslɪ/ adv in a vigorous way vigour /'vɪgər/ noun energy (NOTE: The US spelling is vigor.)

vile /vail/ adj extremely unpleasant or bad villify /'vɪlɪ,faɪ/ verb to criticise someone, especially unfairly (formal) villa /'vɪlə/ noun 1. a large country or seaside house, usually in a warm country ○ He is staying in a villa on the Mediterranean. ○ They are renting a villa in Greece for August. 2. a smart suburban house ○ South London is full of streets of Victorian villas.

① village /'vɪlɪdʒ/ noun a small group of houses in the country, like a little town, often with a church, and usually some shops ○ They live in a little village in the Swiss Alps. ○ The village shop sells just about everything we need. Synonym hamlet village green /'vɪlɪdʒ gri:n/ noun a public grassy area in the middle of a village

③ villager /'vɪlɪdʒə/ noun a person who lives in a village

③ villain /'vɪlən/ noun 1. a wicked character in a work of art, e.g. a film or novel ○ He plays the villain in the pantomime. Antonym hero 2. a criminal ○ The villains must be caught.

villainous /'vɪlənəs/ adj wicked (literary) villainy /'vɪləni/ noun wicked behaviour. Synonym wickedness. Antonym goodness vindicate /'vɪndɪkeɪt/ verb to justify; to show that someone was right vindication /'vɪndɪ'keɪʃ(ə)n/ noun a justification, proof that someone was right vindictive /'vɪn'diktɪv/ adj wanting to take revenge; spiteful vine /vain/ noun a climbing plant which produces grapes. ♦ grapevine. Synonym climber vinegar /'vɪnɪgə/ noun a liquid with a sour taste, made from wine or cider, used in cooking and for pickling vinegary /'vɪnɪg(ə)ri/ adj tasting like vinegar vineyard /'vɪnjdə/ noun an area planted with vines for making wine

③ vintage noun /'vɪntɪdʒ/ 1. a fine wine made in a particular year ○ a vintage wine ○ 1995 was a very good vintage. ○ What vintage is it? – It's a 1968. 2. a year when something was made ■ adj of typical high quality of a certain person ○ The film is vintage Laurel and Hardy.

vintage car /'vɪntɪdʒ ka:/ noun a car made between 1917 and 1930 vinyl /'vain(ə)l/ noun a type of strong plastic sheet which can be made to look like other materials such as leather or tiles viola /vi'əʊlə/ noun 1. a small pansy-like garden flower 2. a stringed instrument slightly larger than a violin ○ She plays the viola in the city orchestra.

violate /'vɪəleɪt/ verb 1. to break a rule, to go against the law ○ The council has violated the planning regulations. ○ The rebels violated the conditions of the peace treaty. 2. to treat something or someone without respect ○ to violate the sanctity of a church

③ violation /'vɪəl'eɪʃ(ə)n/ noun the action of violating something or someone

② violence /'vɪələns/ noun 1. action which is intended to hurt someone ○ Acts of violence must be punished. 2. great force ○ The violence of her reaction surprised everyone.

② violent /'vɪələnt/ adj 1. very strong ○ The discussion led to a violent argument. ○ A violent snowstorm blew all night. 2. very severe ○ He had a violent headache. 3. who commits acts of violence ○ Her husband was a very violent man. 4. □ a violent death a death caused by an act of violence ○ She died a violent death.

③ violently /'vɪələntli/ adv 1. roughly, with force ○ This horse threw him violently onto the ground. ○ She hurled the bottle violently across the table. 2. strongly, with great feeling ○ She violently rejected the accusations made against her. ○ He reacted violently to the injection. ○ The oysters made her violently sick.

violet /'vɪələt/ noun 1. a small wild plant with bluish-purple flowers which have a strong scent ○ We picked a bunch of violets in the woods. 2. □ no shrinking violet not a shy or timid person (informal) ○ She's certainly no shrinking violet! 3. a bluish-purple colour ○ Her lips turned violet as she gasped for breath.

③ violin /vɪə'lɪn/ noun a stringed instrument played with a bow, smaller than the viola

③ VIP abbr very important person □ the VIP lounge a special room at an airport for important travellers viper /'vɪpə/ noun a small European poisonous snake. Also called adder viral /'vɪərəl/ adj caused by or referring to a virus

virgin /'vɪʒ:dʒɪn/ noun 1. a person who has never had sex ○ She was a virgin until she was married. 2. □ the Virgin (in Christian religion) the mother of Jesus Christ ○ An icon of the Virgin hung beside the altar. ■ adj untouched by humans, in its natural state ○ virgin land ○ Virgin rainforest is being cleared at the rate of 1,000 hectares per month. ○ We walked over fields of virgin snow.

virginal /'vɜ:gɪnl(ə)l/ adj pure, like a virgin virginity /və'dʒɪnɪtɪ/ noun the fact of being a virgin □ to lose your virginity to have sexual intercourse for the first time

Virgo /'vɜ:gəʊ/ noun one of the signs of the Zodiac, shaped like a girl, covering the period 23rd August to 22nd September virile /'vɪrɪl/ adj with strong male characteristics virility /və'rɪlɪtɪ/ noun manliness; the fact of being virile

③ virtual /'vɜ:tʃuəl/ adj 1. near ○ The company has a virtual monopoly of French wine imports. ○ His grandfather has become a virtual recluse. 2. generated using a computer, so that it simulates something real

② virtually /'vɜ:tʃuəli/ adv almost ○ These shirts have been reduced so much that we're virtually giving them away. ○ It's virtually impossible to get tickets for the concert.

virtual reality /,vɜ:tʃuəl rɪ'ælɪtɪ/ noun the simulation of a real-life scene or real events on a computer

③ virtue /'vɜ:tʃu:əl/ noun 1. a particular goodness of character, a good quality ○ Honesty is his principal virtue. 2. a special thing which gives you an advantage ○ The virtue of the train link to France is that you arrive right in the centre of Paris. 3. □ by virtue of something as a result of something (formal) ○ He's eligible for British citizenship by virtue of his father who was born in Newcastle.

virtuoso /,vɜ:tʃu'əʊsəʊl/ noun a person who is skilled in an art, especially one who can play a musical instrument extremely well (NOTE: The plural is virtuosos or virtuosi /'vɜ:tʃu'əʊsɪ:/) virtuous /'vɜ:tʃuəs/ adj 1. very good or honest ○ She was a virtuous old lady who never said a bad word against her neighbours. 2. feeling satisfied because you think that you have done something good ○ There is nothing virtuous about going to the office on Saturday morning – we do it as a matter of course. ○ She said she felt virtuous doing her exercises first thing in the morning. ○ I won't have any pudding – I'll be virtuous.

virulent /'vɪrulənt/ adj 1. (of a form of a disease or an organism) strongly active ○ The new flu virus is said to be particularly virulent. ○ He contracted a virulent form of the disease. 2. very harsh ○ The newspaper carried a virulent attack on the Foreign Minister.

virus /'vaɪrəs/ noun 1. an organism which can only develop in other cells and often destroys them, causing disease ○ Scientists have isolated a new flu virus. ○ Shingles is caused by the same virus as chickenpox. 2. a hidden routine placed in a computer program, which corrupts or destroys files ○ You must check the program for viruses. (NOTE: The plural is viruses.)

visa /'vɪ:zə/ noun a special stamp on a passport allowing you to enter a country □ a multiple-entry visa a visa allowing someone to enter a country many times vis-à-vis /,vɪ:z ə 'vɪ:/ prep in relation to viscous /'vɪskəs/ adj thick and slow-moving. Antonym runny visibility /,vɪzɪ'bɪlɪtɪ/ noun an ability to see clearly □ good visibility an ability for things to be seen at long distances because the air is clear ○ The visibility is so good you can see the tower of the castle at least twenty kilometres away. □ poor visibility a situation in which things cannot be seen clearly, e.g. because of fog, rain or smoke ○ Drivers are recommended to drive slowly because of poor visibility.

③ visible /'vɪzɪb(ə)l/ adj which can be seen visibly /'vɪzɪbɪli/ adv in a way which everyone can see

② vision /'vɪʒ(ə)n/ noun 1. eyesight, your ability to see ○ After the age of 50, the vision of many people begins to fail. □ field of vision the area which you can see over clearly 2. what you can see from where you are ○ From the driver's seat you have excellent all-round vision. 3. an ability to look and plan ahead ○ Her vision of a free and prosperous society. ○ We need a man of vision as college principal. 4. a thing which you imagine ○ He had visions of himself stuck in London with no passport and no money. ○ She had visions of him being arrested for drug smuggling. 5. a ghost; a strange sight ○ She saw a shadow-like vision walking along the castle walls. □ tunnel vision 1. the condition of seeing only the area immediately in front of the eye 2. the fact of having the tendency to concentrate on only one aspect of a problem

visionary /'vɪʒ(ə)n(ə)ri/ adj idealistic, with original ideas ○ His visionary designs influenced a whole generation. ■ noun a person whose plans are idealistic and original ○ As a biologist he was a pioneer and a visionary. (NOTE: The plural is visionaries.)

① visit /'vɪzɪt/ noun a short stay with someone or in a town or a country ○ They had a visit from the police. ○ We will be making a short visit to London next week. ○ The manager is on a business visit to China. □ to pay a visit to a place or person to go and see a place or a person ○ While we're in town, let's

pay a visit to the local museum. ○ We will pay my sister a visit on her birthday. ♦ flying visit ■ verb to stay a short time with someone or in a town or country ○ I am on my way to visit my sister in hospital. ○ They are away visiting friends in the north of the country. ○ The group of tourists are going to visit the glass factory. ○ He spent a week in Scotland, visiting museums in Edinburgh and Glasgow. visitation /'vizi'teɪʃ(ə)n/ noun an instance of someone believing that he or she has seen a spirit

② visitor /'vɪzɪtə/ noun a person who comes to visit ○ How many visitors come to the museum each year? ○ We had a surprise visitor yesterday – the bank manager!

visor /'vaɪzə/ noun a part of a helmet, which is hinged and can drop down to cover and protect the eyes ○ He lifted his visor to talk to the policeman.

vista /'vistə/ noun a wide view

③ visual /'vɪʒʊəl/ adj referring to seeing visual aid /'vɪʒʊəl eɪd/ noun something, e.g. a picture or a chart, that you use to explain something to people visual arts /'vɪʒʊəl 'arts/ plural noun arts, e.g. painting and sculpture, which can be seen, as opposed to music, which is listened to visual display unit /'vɪʒʊəl di'splaɪ ,ju:nɪt/ noun a computer screen. Abbr VDU visualise /'vɪʒʊə,laɪz/, visualize verb to have a picture of something in your mind. Synonym imagine visually /'vɪʒʊəli/ adv considered in a way which can be seen visually-impaired /'vɪʒʊəli ɪm'peəd/ noun whose eyesight is not perfect

② vital /'vaitl/ adj 1. very important ○ It is vital that the murderer should be caught. ○ Oxygen is vital to human life. 2. vigorous or energetic ○ His vital energy comes out in his paintings.

vitality /'vai'tæltɪ/ noun great energy. Synonym liveliness. Antonym lethargy vitally /'vait(ə)li/ adv in a very important way. Synonym extremely vital organs /'vait(ə)l 'ɔ:gɔ:nz/ plural noun the most important organs in the body, e.g. the heart, lungs and brain, without which a human being cannot live vital statistics /'vait(ə)l stə'tistɪks/ plural noun 1. official statistics concerning births, marriages and deaths in a certain area ○ a government publication with vital statistics about the changing population 2. the measurements of a woman's bust, waist and hips (informal, as a joke) ○ Her vital statistics are in all the tabloid newspapers.

vitamin /'vɪtəmɪn/ noun an essential substance which is not synthesised by the body but is found in food and is needed for growth and health vitriolic /'vɪtri'ɔ:lkɪk/ adj very violent or rude. Synonym spiteful. Antonym kind vivacious /'vɪvɪʃəs/ adj full of life or excitement. Antonym languid vivid /'vɪvɪd/ adj 1. very bright ○ vivid yellow sunflowers ○ the vivid colours of the Mediterranean beach 2. very lively or life-like ○ She has a vivid imagination. ○ The play is a vivid portrayal of country life. ○ I had a really vivid dream last night. ○ She gave a vivid account of her experiences at the hands of the kidnappers.

vividly /'vɪvɪdlɪ/ adv in a vivid way vivisection /'vɪvɪ'sekʃən/ noun the practice of operating on live animals for the purpose of scientific research vixen /'vɪksən/ noun a female fox

V-neck /'vi: nek/ noun a piece of clothing, e.g. a dress, or a pullover, with a neck shaped like a V vocab /'vəʊkæb/ noun vocabulary (informal) vocabulary /'vəʊ'kæbjʊləri/ noun 1. words used by a person or group of persons ○ Reading stories to little children helps them expand their vocabulary. ○ She reads a lot of French newspapers to improve her vocabulary. ○ The dictionary will give you some of the specialist legal vocabulary you will need in your job. 2. a printed list of words ○ There is a German-English vocabulary at the back of the book. (NOTE: The plural is vocabularies.)

vocal /'vəʊk(ə)l/ adj 1. referring to the voice ○ Singers need to do vocal exercises daily. 2. protesting loudly ○ The protesters were very vocal at the demonstration.

vocal cords /'vəʊk(ə)l kɔ:dz/ plural noun folds in the larynx which are brought together to make sounds when air passes between them vocalist /'vəʊkəlist/ noun a singer, especially in a pop group. Antonym instrumentalist. Synonym singer vocals /'vəʊk(ə)lz/ plural noun the part of a piece of pop music that is sung vocation /'vəʊ'keɪʃ(ə)n/ noun work which you feel you have been called to do or for which you have a special talent □ she missed her vocation she should be in another job for which she is better suited ○ I think she missed her vocation – she would have been an excellent doctor.

vocational /'vəʊ'keɪʃ(ə)n(ə)l/ adj referring to a vocation. Synonym occupational vociferous /'vəʊ'sifərəs/ adj shouting loudly vociferously /'vəʊ'sifərəsli/ adv loudly

vodka /'vɒdkə/ noun 1. a strong, colourless alcohol made from grain or potatoes, originally in Russia and Poland ○ We talked over a glass of vodka. 2. a glass of this alcohol ○ Two vodka and tonics, please. ○ A couple of vodkas, please.

vogue /'vɒg/ noun the fashion □ in vogue fashionable ○ This year, black is back in vogue again.

① voice /vɔɪs/ noun 1. a sound made when you speak or sing ○ I didn't recognise his voice over the telephone. ○ The chairman spoke for a few minutes in a low voice. 2. □ to lose your voice not to be able to speak ○ She's got a sore throat and has lost her voice. □ to raise your voice to start to shout □ at the top of your voice very loudly ○ He suddenly said 'Look at that funny hat' at the top of his voice. ■ verb to tell what you think ○ She voiced her objections to the plan.

voice-activated /vɔɪs 'æktɪvɪtɪd/ adj (of a piece of equipment) operated by the sound of your voice voice box /'vɔɪs bɒks/ noun the larynx, the upper part of the windpipe, where sounds are made by the voice voice mail /'vɔɪsmeɪl/ noun a type of telephone answering system, where messages can be left for a person

void /vɔɪd/ adj 1. invalid, which cannot be used lawfully ○ After the revelations of cheating, the competition was declared void. □ null and void no longer valid ○ The contract was declared null and void. 2. □ to be void of something to lack something completely ○ The sentence is void of any meaning. ■ noun emptiness ○ He tried to fill the void in his life caused by the death of his wife. ○ She stood on the bridge for a few minutes, looking down into the void. ■ verb 1. to mark a document to show that it cannot be used lawfully ○ The airline voided the ticket and issued a new one. 2. □ to void a contract to make a contract invalid ○ Their action had the effect of voiding the contract.

volatile /'vɒlətɪəl/ adj 1. which can easily change into gas at normal temperatures (of a substance) ○ canisters of highly volatile liquid petroleum gas. 2. changing your mind or mood frequently ○ The voters are very volatile. 3. not stable, likely to move up or down sharply ○ a volatile stock market

vol-au-vent /'vɒl əʊ ,vɒn/ noun a small pastry case with a savoury mixture inside volcanic /'vɒl'kænɪk/ adj referring to volcanoes volcano /'vɒl'keɪnəʊ/ noun a mountain which lava, ash and gas may flow out of from time to time (NOTE: The plural is volcanoes.)

vole /'vəʊl/ noun a small animal, like a mouse, but with a shorter tail volition /və'lɪʃ(ə)n/ noun a wish or will. Antonym coercion □ of your own volition because you want to do it, and not because you have been told to volley /'vɒli/ noun 1. a series of shots fired at the same time ○ The police fired a volley into the crowd. ○ Volleys of gunfire could be heard in the distance. 2. (in sport) the act of hitting the ball before it touches the ground ○ He managed to return a very difficult volley. ■ verb (in sport) to hit the ball before it touches the ground ○ He volleyed to win the match. Synonym lob volleyball /'vɒlibɔ:l/ noun an Olympic sport played on a rectangular court between two teams of six, in which a large inflated ball is hit over a high net with the hands, and the object is to prevent the ball touching the floor of the court volt /vəʊlt/ noun the standard unit of for measuring electric force. Abbr V voltage /'vɔɪltɪdʒ/ noun an electric force expressed in volts

COMMENT: The voltage in many countries (USA, Canada, Japan, etc.) is 110V. In Europe, South-East Asia and Africa, voltage is usually 220V or 240V. You sometimes need a transformer to get electrical appliances to work in different countries.

volatile /'vɒljʊb(ə)l/ adj who talks a lot or very quickly. Synonym talkative. Antonym taciturn volubly /'vɒljubli/ adv talking very quickly

② volume /'vɒlju:m/ noun 1. one book, especially one in a series ○ Have you read the third volume of his history of medieval Europe? 2. the capacity, the amount which is contained inside something ○ What is the volume of this barrel? 3. the amount of something ○ The volume of traffic on the motorway was far more than usual. 4. the amount of sound ○ She turned down the volume on the radio. ○ He drives with the car radio on at full volume.

voluminous /və'lju:minəs/ adj large; which takes up a lot of space. Synonym big voluntarily /'vɒlənt(ə)rɪlɪ/ adv willingly. Antonym reluctantly

③ voluntary /'vɒlənt(ə)ri/ adj 1. done because you want to do it, and without being paid ○ Many retired people do voluntary work. □ a voluntary organisation an organisation which does not receive funding from the government but relies on contributions from the public or from business. ♦ VSO 2. done willingly, without being forced ○ He made a voluntary contribution to the fund.

volunteer /,vɒlən'tɪə/ noun 1. a person who offers to do something without being paid or being forced to do it ○ The school re- lies on volunteers to help with the sports day. ○ The information desk is manned by volunteers. 2. a soldier who has joined the army willingly, without being forced ○ The volunteers had two weeks' intensive training and then were sent to the front line. ■ verb 1. to offer to do something without being paid or being forced to do it ○ He volunteered to collect the entrance tickets. ○ Will anyone volunteer for the job of washing up? 2. to join the armed services because you want to, without being forced ○ He volunteered for the Royal Navy. 3. to give information without being forced to do so ○ She volunteered a statement to the police.

voluptuous /və'luptʃuəs/ adj evoking sensual pleasure vomit /'vɒmɪt/ noun partly digested food which has been brought up into the mouth from the stomach ○ There was vomit all over the bathroom floor. ○ He choked on his own vomit. Synonym sick ■ verb to bring up partly digested food into your mouth ○ He vomited last night and now has a high temperature. ○ She vomited her breakfast.

voodoo /'vudu:/ noun witchcraft practised in the West Indies voracious /və'reɪʃəs/ adj 1. that eats a lot 2. very enthusiastic ○ a voracious reader

vortex /'vɔ:tɛks/ noun a flow of a liquid or a gas which is turning round and round very fast in a whirlpool or whirlwind (NOTE: The plural is vortices /'vɔ:tɪsɪz/.)

① vote /vəʊt/ noun 1. the act of marking a paper, holding up your hand, etc., to show your opinion or who you want to be elected ○ How many votes did you get? ○ There were only ten votes against the plan. □ to take a vote on a proposal, to put a proposal to the vote to ask people present at a meeting to say if they agree or do not agree with a proposal □ to cast a vote to vote ○ The number of votes cast in the election was 125,458. 2. the act of voting □ a vote of no confidence a vote to show disapproval of a person or an organisation such as the government ○ They passed a vote of no confidence in the chairman. 3. the right to vote in elections ○ Only in 1928 were women given the vote. 4. the number of votes made by a group of voters ○ No one knows where the youth vote will go. ■ verb to mark a paper, to hold up your hand, etc., to show your opinion or who you want to be elected ○ Fifty per cent of the people voted in the election. ○ We all voted to go on strike. □ to vote for or against a proposal to say that you agree or do not agree with a proposal ○ Twenty people actually voted for the proposal to demolish the old church.

vote of censure /,vəʊt əv 'senʃəs/ noun a vote on a motion criticising a person or an organisation such as the government (NOTE: no plural)

③ vote of thanks /,vəʊt əv 'θæŋks/ noun a situation where someone has done something and is thanked officially by the whole committee voter /'vəʊtə/ noun a person who votes or who has the right to vote. Synonym elector vote-rigging /'vəʊt rɪgɪŋ/ noun the practice of arranging a vote to give a dishonest result

③ voucher /'vauʃə/ noun a paper which is given instead of money. Synonym coupon vouch for /'vauʃ fɔ:/ verb to guarantee that something is true or that someone will behave well vow /vəʊ/ noun a solemn promise ○ He made a vow to go on a pilgrimage to Jerusalem. ○ She vowed to have her revenge but she died before she could keep her vow. ■ verb to make a solemn promise to do something ○ He vowed to pay the money back.

vowel /'vauəl/ noun one of the five letters, a, e, i, o and u, which represent sounds made without using the teeth, tongue or lips. (NOTE: The letters representing sounds which are not vowels are consonants. Note also that in some languages 'y' is a vowel.)

voyage /'vɔɪɪdʒ/ noun a long journey, especially by ship or spacecraft ○ the voyages of Sir Francis Drake ■ verb to make a long journey

③ vs abbr versus

VSO abbr Voluntary Service Overseas

vulgar /'vʌlgə/ adj 1. rude or indecent ○ Don't use that sort of vulgar language in front of the children. ○ He made a vulgar gesture at the police officer. 2. not in good taste ○ His pink Rolls Royce is particularly vulgar.

vulgarity /vʌl'gærɪti/ noun the fact of being vulgar or of not being in good taste vulnerability /,vʌln(ə)rə'biliti/ noun the fact of being vulnerable. Synonym susceptibility

③ vulnerable /'vʌln(ə)rəb(ə)l/ adj who or which can easily be hurt. Synonym susceptible. Antonym invincible vulture /'vʌltʃə/ noun 1. a large bird that mainly eats dead animals ○ Vultures live by scavenging on the bodies of animals which have died. ○ Scavengers like vultures wait in the trees near where the lions are hunting. 2. a greedy person ○ When she died, all the relatives descended on her flat like vultures.

vulva /'vʌlvə/ noun the external sexual organs of a woman

W

w /'dʌb(ə)lju:/, W noun the twenty-third letter of the alphabet, between V and X

W abbr watt, west

wacky /'wækɪ/ adj crazy or silly (informal).
Synonym silly. Antonym conventional (NOTE: wackier – wackiest) wad /wɒd/ noun 1. a thick piece of soft material ○ The nurse put a sterile wad on the sore. 2. a thick pile of banknotes or papers ○ He had a wad of banknotes in his hand. ○ The hole was blocked with a wad of old papers. 3. a thick sandwich wadding /'wædɪŋ/ noun material used to cover a wound or to wrap delicate objects (NOTE: no plural)

waddle /'wɒd(ə)l/ verb to walk swaying from side to side like a duck wade /weɪd/ verb 1. to walk through water ○ The explorers had to wade across a river. 2. □ to wade into someone to attack someone fiercely ○ In his article he waded into the government. □ to wade through a technical journal to read through a boring technical journal wafer /'weɪfə/ noun a thin sweet biscuit eaten with ice cream ○ A cup of vanilla and chocolate ice cream, with a wafer in it.

wafer-thin /,weɪfə 'θɪn/ adj very thin waffle /'wɒf(ə)l/ noun 1. a type of crisp pancake cooked in an iron mould and eaten with syrup ○ We bought waffles at the stall in the fairground. ○ Waffles are very popular in Belgium. 2. unnecessary or muddled speaking or writing (informal) ○ You don't need to read the article, it is just waffle. ○ Don't tell me you listened to all his waffle! (NOTE: no plural in this meaning) □ verb to talk too much without saying anything clearly (informal) ○ What are you waffling on about? ○ If someone mentions the word 'ecology', our lecturer will waffle on for 20 minutes. Synonym go on waft /wɔ:ft/ noun a gentle smell ○ When I opened the box, a waft of spices reminded me of the Far East. Synonym puff □ verb to carry something gently through the air ○ The delicious smell of strawberry jam wafted through the window to where I was sitting. Synonym drift wag /wæg/ verb 1. to move something from side to side or up and down ○ The dog ran up to him, wagging its tail. ○ The grandmother wagged her finger at the little boy who was picking the flowers. 2. □ tongues are wagging people are talking about something they do not approve of (informal) ○ You can imagine that her being seen with him set tongues wagging in the village. ■ noun 1. a movement from side to side or up and down 2. a person who likes making jokes or facetious remarks (old) ○ He's a bit of a wag and likes to make silly jokes during lectures.

wage-earner /'weɪdʒə 'z:nə/ noun a person who is paid a wage wager /'weɪdʒə/ noun money which you promise to pay if something you expect to happen does not take place ○ She made a wager that the government would lose the election. Synonym bet ■ verb to bet ○ I'll wager that they will arrive late.

waggle /'wæg(ə)l/ verb to move from side to side quickly. Synonym wiggle wagon /'wægən/ noun 1. a railway truck used for carrying heavy loads ○ The container wagons are leaving the freight terminal. 2. □ on the wagon not drinking alcohol (informal) ○ He's been on the wagon for the last three months. 3. a heavy cart pulled by horses or oxen (old) (NOTE: Another British spelling is waggon) waif /'weɪf/ noun 1. a person, especially a child, who is thin and does not look healthy 2. a child who has no home wail /'weɪl/ noun a high-pitched sad cry ○ The wails of the mourners at the funeral. (NOTE: Do not confuse with whale.) ■ verb to make a high-pitched mournful cry ○ At the news, she just sat down and wailed.

③ waist /'weɪst/ noun 1. the narrower part of the body between the bottom of the chest and the hips ○ She measures 32 inches round the waist or has a 32-inch waist. 2. the part of a piece of clothing, e.g. a skirt, trousers or dress, that goes round the middle of your body ○ The waist of these trousers is too small for me. (NOTE: Do not confuse with waste.)

waistband /'weɪs(t),bænd/ noun a band of fabric on a piece of clothing, e.g. a skirt, trousers or dress, that goes round the middle of your body

③ waistcoat /'weɪstkəʊt/ noun a short coat with buttons and without any sleeves, which is worn over a shirt and under a jacket (NOTE: The US term is vest.)

waistline /'weɪstlайн/ noun a measurement around your waist, showing how fat you are □ he has to watch his waistline he's trying not to get fat

① wait /weɪt/ verb 1. to stay where you are, and not do anything until something happens or someone comes ○ We gave our order half an hour ago, but are still waiting. ○ Wait here while I call an ambulance. ○ They had been waiting for half an hour in the rain before the bus finally arrived. ○ Wait a minute, my shoelace is undone. ○ Don't wait for me, I'll be late. □ I can't wait to do something I'm very eager to do something ○ I can't wait to see what happens. 2. □ to keep someone waiting to make someone wait because you are late ○ The boss doesn't like being kept waiting. ○ Sorry to have kept you waiting! ■ noun the time spent waiting until something happens or arrives ○ You've just missed the bus – you will have a very long wait for the next one. Synonym delay □ to lie in wait for someone to hide and wait for someone to come so as to attack him or her ○ The lions were lying in wait near the waterhole.

waiter /'weɪtə/ noun a man who brings food and drink to customers in a restaurant

③ waiting list /'weɪtɪŋ list/ noun a list of people waiting for a service or medical treatment

③ waiting room /'weɪtɪŋ ru:m/ noun a room where you wait, e.g. at a doctor's, dentist's or railway station waitress /'weɪtrəs/ noun a woman who brings food and drink to customers in a restaurant. ▶ waiter (NOTE: The plural is waitresses.)

③ wait up /,weɪt 'ʌp/ verb not to go to bed because you are waiting for someone waive /weɪv/ verb to give up a right or a claim. Antonym retain (NOTE: Do not confuse with wave.) waiver /'weɪvə/ noun a document showing that someone is willing to give up a right or claim (NOTE: Do not confuse with waver.)

② wake /weɪk/ verb 1. to stop someone's sleep ○ The telephone woke her or she was woken by the telephone. ○ I banged on her door, but I can't wake her. ○ He asked to be woken at 7.00. 2. to stop sleeping ○ He woke suddenly, feeling drops of water falling on his head. (NOTE: waking – woke /wəʊk/ – has woken) ■ noun 1. white waves following a boat as it goes through the water ○ The ferry's wake rocked the little boat. 2. □ in the wake of something following or immediately after something ○ The management has to decide what to do in the wake of the sales director's resignation. 3. a meeting of people after a funeral wakeful /'weɪkf(ə)l/ adj not at all sleepy, not wanting to sleep waken /'weɪkən/ verb to make someone wake up

② wake up /,weɪk 'ʌp/ verb 1. to stop someone's sleep ○ He was woken up by the sound of the dog barking. 2. to stop sleeping ○ She woke up in the middle of the night, thinking she had heard a noise. ○ Come on, wake up! It's past ten o'clock. ○ He woke up to find water coming through the roof of the tent. 3. □ to wake up to something to realise something ○ When is he going to wake up to the fact that he is never going to be promoted?

wake-up call /'weɪk'ʌp ,kɔ:l/ noun a phone call from the hotel switchboard to wake a guest up waking /'weɪkɪŋ/ adj awake, not asleep

① walk /wɔ:k/ verb 1. to go on foot ○ The baby is ten months old, and is just starting to walk. ○ She was walking along the high street on her way to the bank. ○ The marchers walked across Westminster Bridge. ○ The visitors walked round the factory. □ to walk someone home to go with someone who is walking home ○ It was getting late, so I walked her home. 2. to take an animal for a walk ○ He's gone to walk the dog in the fields. ○ She walks her dog every morning. ■ noun 1. a usually pleasant journey on foot ○ Let's all go for a walk in the park. 2. the act of going on foot ○ It's only a short walk to the beach. ○ It's only five minutes' walk from the office to the bank or the bank is only a five minutes' walk from the office. 3. a path where you can walk ○ We hiked along one of the long-distance walks in the hills. 4. an organised route for walking ○ We went on a walk round Dickens' London. ○ Are you coming on the sponsored walk for refugees? 5. a way of walking ○ He has the walk of an old man, even though he's not 50 yet.

③ walk about /,wɔ:k ə'baʊt/ verb to walk in various directions walkabout /'wɔ:kəbaʊt/ noun an informal walk among a crowd, by an important person (informal)

③ walker /'wɔ:ksə/ noun a person who goes walking for pleasure and exercise. Synonym hiker walkie-talkie /,wɔ:ki 'tɔ:kɪ/ noun a portable two-way radio walk-in /'wɔ:k in/ adj big enough for you to walk into

③ walking /'wɔ:kiŋ/ noun going on foot as a relaxation, e.g. along paths or up mountains walking frame /'wɔ:kɪŋ freɪm/ noun a metal frame used by someone who has difficulty walking, to help him or her move about walking shoes /'wɔ:kɪŋ ſu:ſ/ plural noun heavy shoes, suitable for walking long distances walking stick /'wɔ:kɪŋ ſtɪk/ noun a strong wooden or metal stick with a handle used as a support when walking walk into /'wɔ:k intu:/ verb to enter on foot

Walkman /'wɔ:kmen/ trademark for a small portable cassette player which you can carry around with you and which has headphones for you to listen to music with ○ The chap next to me in the Underground had his Walkman on full blast. ○ He likes to listen to rock music on his Walkman.

③ walk off /,wɔ:k 'ɒf/ verb 1. to go away on foot ○ She walked off and left him holding the shopping. ○ The builders walked off the site because they said it was too dangerous.

2. □ to walk off your dinner to go for a walk after your dinner, as a form of exercise

③ walk off with /,wɔ:k 'ɒf wið/ verb 1. to win ○ She walked off with first prize. 2. to steal ○ The burglar walked off with all my silver cups.

walk of life /,wɔ:k əv 'laɪf/ noun someone's job or social position walk on /,wɔ:k 'ɒn/ verb to continue walking

① walk out /,wɔ:k 'aʊt/ verb 1. to go out on foot ○ She walked out of the house and down the street. 2. to go out angrily ○ He walked out of the restaurant, saying that the service was too slow. 3. (of workers) to go on strike, to stop working and leave your office or factory ○ The office staff walked out in protest. 4. □ to walk out on someone to leave someone suddenly ○ She walked out on her husband and went to live with her mother. ○ Our sales manager walked out on us just as we were starting our autumn sales campaign.

walkout /'wɔ:kaut/ noun a strike by workers walkover /'wɔ:kəʊvə/ noun an easy victory (informal)

① walk up /,wɔ:k 'ʌp/ verb 1. to climb on foot ○ I never take the lift – I always walk up the three flights of stairs to my office. 2. □ to walk up to someone to go up to someone on foot ○ She walked up to me and asked if I needed any help.

walkway /'wɔ:kweɪ/ noun an outdoor path where you can walk between buildings, usually raised above ground level

① wall /wɔ:l/ noun 1. a structure made from things such as bricks or stones, built up to make one of the sides of a building, of a room or to surround a space ○ The walls of the restaurant are decorated with pictures of film stars. ○ There's a clock on the wall behind my desk. ○ He got into the house by climbing over the garden wall. ○ The garden is surrounded by an old stone wall. 2. □ to drive or send someone up the wall to make someone very annoyed (informal) ○ The noise of the pneumatic drills outside the office is sending me up the wall.

wallaby /'wɔ:ləbi/ noun 1. an Australian animal like a small kangaroo 2. the Wallabies, the Australian international rugby team walled /wɔ:ld/ adj surrounded with walls wallet /'wɔ:lt/ noun a small flat leather case for credit cards and banknotes, carried in your pocket (NOTE: Another US term is bill-fold.)

wallop /'wɔ:ləp/ verb to hit someone or something very hard wallow /'wɔ:ləʊ/ verb 1. (of animals) to roll around in mud ○ When I hear of animals wallowing in mud, I immediately think of hippos. 2. (of a person) to take a lot of pleasure in doing something ○ He positively wallows in gossip about media people. ○ It's time she stopped wallowing in self-pity.

wallpaper /'wɔ:lpeɪpə/ noun paper with different patterns on it, covering the walls of a room ○ The wallpaper was light green to match the carpet. ■ verb to stick wallpaper on walls ○ She spent the weekend wallpapering the dining room.

① Wall Street /'wɔ:l stri:t/ noun 1. a street in New York where the Stock Exchange is, the American finance centre in New York ○ He walked along Wall Street, looking for the company's offices. 2. an American finance centre in New York ○ Wall Street reacted cautiously to the interest rise. (NOTE: Here the name of the street is used to mean the American financial markets in general.)

wall-to-wall /,wɔ:l tə 'wɔ:l/ adj covering the floor of a room completely (informal) wall unit /'wɔ:l „ju:nɪt/ noun one of a set of cupboards which are attached to a wall wall up /,wɔ:l 'ʌp/ verb to block something such as a door or an entrance with a wall wally /'wɔ:li/ noun an offensive word that deliberately insults somebody's intelligence walnut /'wɔ:lnat/ noun 1. a hard round nut with a shell which has a lot of folds on its surface ○ He cracked the walnuts with the nutcrackers. ○ A scoop of maple and walnut ice cream. 2. a tree on which walnuts grow ○ The walnuts or walnut trees have produced a huge crop this year. 3. wood from a walnut tree ○ The beautifully dark walnut panelling in my office.

walrus /'wɔ:ləs/ noun an animal which looks like a large seal, with two long tusks pointing downwards (NOTE: The plural is walruses.)

waltz /wɔ:ls/ noun 1. a slow dance in which a man and woman turn around together as they move forward ○ The next dance is a waltz, so I'll ask her to dance. 2. music suitable for such a dance ○ Listen, the orchestra is playing a waltz. ○ The 'Blue Danube' is one of Strauss' most famous waltzes. (NOTE: The plural is waltzes.) ■ verb 1. to dance a waltz ○ Couples were waltzing elegantly around the ballroom. 2. to do something smoothly or happily ○ She waltzed into the bank and said she wanted to withdraw $200,000 in cash. ○ He waltzed off with first prize.

wan /wən/ adj pale, looking ill

wand /wənd/ noun a short thin stick used by a fairy or magician to make things happen by magic

③ wander /'wəndə/ verb 1. to walk around without any particular aim ○ They wandered round the town in the rain. □ to wander away, to wander off to walk away from where you should be ○ Two of the party wandered off into the market. 2. to stop thinking about the current problem and think about something else ○ Sorry – my mind was wandering, thinking about the garden. □ he is old and his mind is wandering he no longer thinks clearly wanderer /'wənd(ə)rə/ noun a person who wanders from place to place, with no permanent home wanderings /'wənd(ə)rɪŋz/ plural noun long journeys, visiting various places (literary) wane /weɪn/ noun □ the moon is on the wane the moon appears to be getting smaller □ his influence is on the wane his influence is becoming less effective ■ verb to appear smaller; to become less effective ○ His influence over his family is waning. ○ He takes vitamin tablets to boost his waning energy.

wangle /'wæŋgəl/ verb to get something by a trick (informal) wanna /'wənə/ short form want to wannabe /'wənəbəl/ noun a person who would like to be something or someone different (informal). Synonym hopeful

① want /wənt/ verb 1. to hope that you will do something, that something will happen, that you will get something ○ She wants a new car for her birthday. ○ Where do you want to go for your holidays? ○ He wants to be a teacher. ○ Do you want any more tea? 2. to ask someone to do something ○ The manager wants me to go and see him. ○ I want those windows painted. 3. to need ○ With five children, what they want is a bigger house. ○ You want to take some rest. □ the kitchen ceiling wants painting it ought to be painted 4. □ to want for to need, to lack ○ They didn't want for medical care. 5. to look for someone ○ The bank manager has disappeared and is wanted by the police. ■ noun 1. a lack of something ○ A want of funds has hindered the development programme. □ in want of something needing something ○ The kitchen is in want of a good clean. ○ He looks as though he's in want of a good meal. □ for want of something better as something better is not available ○ For want of something better to do we went to the cinema. 2. a strong wish to have something ○ Their greatest want is for new clothes. □ to draw up a wants list to make a list of things which you need wanted /'wɔ:ntɪd/ adj searched for by the police, usually because of a crime wanting /'wɔ:ntɪŋ/ adj lacking a necessary feature or quality wanton /'wɔ:ntən/ adj in a way which is uncontrolled or without reason wants /wɔ:ntz/ plural noun things needed

① war /wɔ:l/ noun 1. fighting between countries ○ Millions of soldiers and civilians were killed during the war. ○ In 1914 Britain was at war with Germany or Britain and Germany were at war. □ to declare war on to state formally that a war has begun 2. a strong action against something ○ The police have declared war on the drug dealers. 3. an argument between companies warble /'wɔ:b(ə)l/ noun the pleasant song of a bird, with repeated high and low sounds ■ verb to sing with a high note war crime /wɔ:kraɪm/ noun a crime committed during a war which is against international agreements on the rules of war

③ ward /wɔ:d/ noun 1. a room or set of rooms in a hospital, with beds for patients ○ The children's ward is at the end of the corridor. ○ She was taken into the accident and emergency ward. 2. one of the areas that a town is divided into for purposes of local government 3. a young person protected by a guardian or a court □ ward of court young child who is under the protection of the High Court ○ The High Court declared the girl a ward of court. ■ verb (old) □ to ward something off to keep something away ○ They keep a flock of geese in the warehouse to ward off thieves.

③ warden /'wɔ:d(ə)n/ noun 1. a person in charge of a place such as an institution, an old people's home or a students' hostel ○ Ask the warden if we can visit on Sundays. 2. a person who looks after or guards something warder /'wɔ:də/, wardress /'wɔ:drəs/ noun a prison officer, a person who guards prisoners (old)

wardrobe /'wɔ:dribʊb/ noun 1. a fixed or moveable tall cupboard in which you hang your clothes ○ He moved the wardrobe from the landing into the bedroom. 2. clothes ○ She bought a whole new wardrobe for her holiday. 3. all the clothes which an organisation such as a theatre company owns and uses ware /weə/ suffix goods made of a certain material or for a special purpose ○ You'll find the kitchenware department on the third floor. ○ This is a new product for cleaning silverware.

warehouse /'weəhaʊs/ noun a large building where goods are stored ○ Our goods are dispatched from the central warehouse to shops all over the country. ■ verb to store goods in a warehouse ○ They have offered to warehouse for us on a temporary basis.

wares /weəz/ plural noun things that have been made and are for sale warfare /'wɔ:feə/ noun fighting a war, especially the method of fighting war game /wɔ: ɡeɪm/ noun a military exercise warhead /'wɔ:hed/ noun the top end of a missile which explodes when it hits something warlike /'wɔ:laɪk/ adj preparing to fight warlord /'wɔ:lɔ:d/ noun a military leader who rules parts of a country

② warm /wɔ:m/ adj 1. fairly hot ○ The temperature is below freezing outside but it's nice and warm in the office. ○ The children tried to keep warm by playing football. ○ Are you warm enough, or do you want another blanket? ○ This coat is not very warm. ○ The winter sun can be quite warm in February. □

warm as toast nice and warm (informal) ○ It may be snowy outside, but we're as warm as toast in our little cottage. 2. pleasant and friendly ○ We had a warm welcome from our friends. ○ She has a really warm personality. 3. □ you're getting warm (in a game) you're near to getting the right answer 4. (of colour) which looks warm, like red or orange (NOTE: warmer – warmest) ■ verb 1. to make hotter ○ Come and warm your hands by the fire. ○ I'll warm some soup. ○ The greenhouse effect has the result of warming the general temperature of the earth's atmosphere. 2. to become interested in something, to start to like someone ○ She never really warmed to the subject of her thesis. ○ I think everyone is warming to the new boss. ■ noun a place where it is warm ○ I'm not going out for a walk – I'm staying here in the warm.

warm-blooded /'wɔ:m 'blʌðɪd/ adj (of an animal) with warm blood. Antonym cold-blooded war memorial /'wɔ: mi'mɔ:riəl/ noun a structure built to remember soldiers who died in a war warm-hearted /'wɔ:m 'ha:tɪd/ adj friendly and kind. Synonym kindly

③ warming /'wɔ:mɪŋ/ noun making warmer warmly /'wɔ:mli/ adv in a warm way

warmth /'wɔ:mθ/ noun 1. the fact of being or feeling warm ○ It was cold and rainy outside, and he looked forward to the warmth of his home. 2. enthusiasm for something ○ The management's lack of warmth for the project.

③ warm up /,wɔ:m 'ʌp/ verb 1. to make hotter ○ A cup of coffee will soon warm you up. ○ I'll just warm up some soup for supper. 2. to practise or exercise ○ The orchestra is just warming up before the concert.

② warn /wɔ:n/ verb 1. to inform someone of a possible danger ○ We were warned to boil all drinking water. ○ Children are warned not to play on the frozen lake. ○ The group was warned to look out for pickpockets. ○ The guide warned us that there might be snakes in the ruins. 2. to inform someone that something is likely to happen ○ The railway has warned that there will be a strike tomorrow. ○ The weather forecast warned of storms in the English Channel. (NOTE: You warn someone of something, or that something may happen.)

② warning /'wɔ:nɪŋ/ noun 1. news about a possible danger ○ He shouted a warning to the children. ○ The government issued a warning about travelling in some countries in the area. ○ Each packet of cigarettes has a government health warning printed on it. 2. a written or spoken notice to an employee telling them that they will be punished or forced to leave their job if they do not stop behaving in a certain way ○ When he was late for the third time this week, he got a written warning. 3. □ without warning unexpectedly ○ The car in front braked without warning and I couldn't stop in time. ■ adj which informs about a danger ○ Red warning flags are raised if the sea is dangerous. ○ Warning notices were put up round the building site. Synonym cautionary

Warn off /,wɔ:n 'ɒf/ verb □ to warn someone off something to advise someone not to do something ○ Two men came to see him and warned him off going to the police. ○ They hope that this tragedy will warn other adolescents off drugs.

war of attrition /,wɔ: ə'trɪʃ(ə)n/ noun a war where you try to wear down the enemy warp /wɔ:p/ noun 1. twisting out of shape of a piece of wood or metal ○ Put the two planks together, and the warp in one of them is obvious. 2. the fibres which run along the length of a piece of woven material ○ The warp of the fabric consists of a red thread. ■ verb 1. to twist out of shape ○ Cycling across potholes can warp your front wheel. ○ If you leave the planks out in the rain they will warp. 2. to have a bad effect on someone's mind or character ○ The beatings he had from his father seem to have warped his mind.

warpath /'wɔ:pəθ/ noun □ to be on the warpath to be annoyed and want to fight someone (informal) ○ Keep out of the way – the head teacher's on the warpath!

warped /'wɔ:pɪt/ adj strange and twisted warplane /'wɔ:pɪpleɪn/ noun an armed plane used for fighting or dropping bombs warrant /'wɔ:rənt/ noun an official document from a court giving someone permission to do something ○ The magistrate issued a warrant for her arrest. □ verb 1. to state definitely that something is of good quality and that it will work properly ○ All the spare parts are warranted for six months. 2. to be a good reason for ○ Our sales in France do not warrant six trips a year to Paris by the director.

warranty /'wɔ:rənti/ noun a legal document which promises that goods you buy will work properly or that an object is of good quality. Synonym guarantee (NOTE: The plural is warranties.)

warren /'wɔ:rən/ noun ○ rabbit warren warring /'wɔ:riŋ/ adj at war. Synonym belligerent. Antonym friendly warrior /'wɔ:rɪə/ noun a person who fights in battle. Synonym soldier warship /'wɔ:sɪp/ noun an armed ship which is used for fighting, not for carrying passengers or goods wart /'wɔ:t/ noun a small hard lump on the skin, which is not harmful □ warts and all with all faults shown (informal) ○ His book is a warts-and-all description of life with the former Prime Minister.

wartime /'wɔ:taim/ noun a time of war war-torn /'wɔ: tɔ:n/ adj (of a country or area) very badly affected by war wary /'wɛərɪ/ adj careful because of possible problems. Synonym watchful. Antonym careless (NOTE: warier – wariest)

③ was /wəz, wɒz/ ○ be

① wash /wɒʃ/ noun 1. the action of cleaning, using water ○ The car needs a wash. ○ He's in the bathroom, having a quick wash. 2. □ to do a wash to wash some clothes in a washing machine ○ I'll do a wash this morning. □ to come out in the wash to lose colour ○ All the colour of my pyjamas came out in the wash. □ it will all come out in the wash everything will work out correctly, although various mistakes have been made (informal) ○ Don't worry too much about the mistakes in your report – it'll all come out in the wash. 3. the wake of a ship, the waves made by a ship moving through water ○ The little boat rocked in the wash of the ferry. 4. a mixture of paint and water ○ They started to put a pale yellow wash on the front of the house. □ mouthwash □ verb 1. to clean using water ○ Cooks should always wash their hands before touching food! ○ I must wash the car before we go to the wedding. ○ The moment I had washed the windows it started to rain. ○ His football shirt needs washing. □ linen 2. □ to wash your hands of someone or something to refuse to be responsible for something ○ She's washed her hands of her son since he was put in prison for drugs dealing. ○ He's washed his hands of the whole affair. 3. to flow against something ○ The waves washed against the steps leading to the quay. 4. □ to be washed overboard to be pulled off a boat by waves ○ He was washed overboard during the night. □ in the wash 1. in the process of being washed ○ All my T-shirts are in the wash. 2. in a pile of things waiting to be washed washable /'wɒʃəb(ə)l/ adj (of clothing) which can be washed in water, as opposed to being dry-cleaned

① wash away /,wɒʃ ə'weɪ/ verb to remove with water

③ washbasin /'wɒʃbeɪs(ə)n/ noun a container, with taps, for holding water for washing the hands and face, usually attached to the wall of a bathroom washcloth /'wɒʃklɒθ/ noun US a small square of cloth for washing the face or body (NOTE: The British term is facecloth or flannel.)

① wash down /,wɒʃ 'daʊn/ verb 1. to wash with a large amount of water ○ They washed down the van with buckets of water. ○ The sailors were washing down the deck. 2. to have a drink with food ○ He had a pizza washed down by a glass of beer.

washed out /,wɒʃt 'aʊt/ adj □ to look washed out to look pale and tired out (informal) ○ After the interview she looked completely washed out.

washed-up /,wɒʃd 'ʌp/ adj having failed and not likely to be successful again washer /'wɒʃə/ noun 1. a rubber ring inside a pipe which prevents liquid escaping from a joint ○ The tap is leaking, and I think the washer needs replacing. 2. a metal ring under a nut or bolt ○ Put a washer on the bolt to make it screw tight.

② washing /'wɒʃɪŋ/ noun 1. clothes which have been washed, or which are ready to be washed ○ Put the washing in the washing machine. ○ She hung out the washing to dry. □ to do the washing to wash dirty clothes ○ I'm not doing the washing today. 2. the action of washing washing line /'wɒʃɪŋ laɪn/ noun a long piece of rope fixed between two poles or hooks and used for hanging washing on to dry

② washing machine /'wɔʃɪŋ maʃɪn/ noun a machine for washing clothes (NOTE: A machine for washing plates and cutlery is a dishwasher.)

washing powder /'wɔʃɪŋ 'paʊdə/, soap powder /'səʊp ,paʊdə/ noun soap in powder form, used in washing machines or dishwashers (NOTE: no plural)

② washing up /,wɔʃɪŋ 'ʌp/ noun 1. the activity of washing all the objects which have been used in preparing and eating a meal ○ Can someone help with the washing up? ○ It took us hours to do the washing up after the party. ○ Use this little brush for the washing up. 2. things such as dirty dishes and glasses waiting to be cleaned ○ There is a pile of washing up waiting to be put into the dishwasher.

washing-up liquid /,wɔʃɪŋ ʌp 'lɪkwid/ noun a liquid detergent used for washing dirty dishes

① wash off /,wɔʃ 'ɒf/ verb to take off by washing

washout /'wɔʃfəʊt/ noun 1. a failure because of rain ○ The village fete was a complete washout. 2. a failure ○ No one turned up for the memorial service – it was a washout.

washroom /'wɔʃru:m/ noun US a toilet washstand /'wɔʃstænd/ noun a table for a bowl and jug of water to stand on in a bedroom (old)

① wash up /,wɔʃ 'ʌp/ verb 1. to clean objects such as dirty cups, plates, knives and forks with water ○ It took us hours to wash up after the party. ○ My brother's washing up, while I'm sitting watching the TV. 2. (of the sea) to bring something up onto the beach ○ It's interesting to walk along the shore to see what has been washed up onto the beach during the night. 3. US to wash your face and hands ○ He went into the bathroom to wash up.

① wasn't /'wɔznt/ ◊ be

③ wasp /'wɔsp/ noun an insect which has black and yellow bands of colour round its body and which can sting

wastage /'weɪstɪdʒ/ noun 1. the act of wasting ○ There is an enormous wastage of natural resources. 2. an amount lost by being wasted ○ Allow 10% extra material for wastage.

② waste /'weɪst/ noun 1. an unnecessary use of time or money ○ It is a waste of time asking the boss for a rise. ○ That computer is a waste of money – there are plenty of cheaper models. 2. rubbish, things which are no use and are thrown away ○ Put all your waste in the rubbish bin. ○ The dustmen col- lect household waste once a week. ■ verb to use more of something than you need ○ They wasted so much food at the reception and had to throw it away. ○ Don't waste time putting your shoes on – jump out of the window now. ○ We turned off all the heating so as not to waste energy. ◻ waste not, want not if you don't waste anything, you will never lack things when you really need them (old saying) ■ adj 1. useless, ready to be thrown away ○ We have heaps of waste paper to take to the dump. ○ Waste products should not be dumped in the sea. 2. (of land) not used for growing crops or for building on ◻ to lay waste to destroy the crops and buildings in an area during a war, so that the land cannot be used again waste away /,weɪst ə'wei/ verb to become much thinner, to lose weight. Synonym wither waste bin /'weɪst bin/ noun a container for putting rubbish in wasted /'weɪstɪd/ adj 1. useless 2. (of a person's body) extremely thin and weak 3. under the influence of drink or drugs (informal) waste disposal unit /'weɪst dɪ'spəʊz(ə)lju:mɪt/ noun a machine attached to a sink which crushes up waste and sends it down the drain wasteful /'weɪstf(ə)l/ adj which wastes a lot. Synonym extravagant waste ground /'weɪst graʊnd/ noun an area of land which is not used for any purpose wasteland /'weɪstlænd/ noun land which is not used for anything

③ wastepaper basket /'weɪsp(ə)'peɪpərba:skɪt/ noun a small box or basket where useless papers can be put (NOTE: The US term is wastebasket.)

waste pipe /'weɪst paɪp/ noun a pipe which takes used or dirty water to the drains (NOTE: no plural. Do not confuse with waist.)

① watch /'wɔtʃ/ noun 1. an object like a little clock which you wear on your wrist ○ She looked at her watch impatiently. ○ What time is it? – my watch has stopped. (NOTE: The plural in this meaning is watches) 2. looking at something carefully ○ Visitors should be on the watch for pickpockets. ○ Keep a watch on the potatoes to make sure they don't burn. (NOTE: no plural) 3. a period when a soldier or sailor is on duty ○ The men on the night watch didn't see anything unusual. (NOTE: The plural is watches) ■ verb 1. to look at and notice something ○ Did you watch the TV news last night? ○ We went to the sports ground to watch the football match. ○ Everyone was watching the children dancing. 2. to look at something carefully to make sure that nothing happens ◇ Watch the saucepan – I don't want the potatoes to burn. ◇ Can you watch the baby while I'm at the hairdresser's? 3. to be careful about something ◇ watch your language make sure you are not rude ◇ watch your step be careful not to do anything wrong watchdog /'wɒtʃdɒg/ noun 1. a dog used to guard a house or other buildings ◇ Alsatians are often used as watchdogs. 2. a person or committee that examines things such as public spending or public morals ◇ The report of the watchdog committee on water pricing.

watchful /'wɒtʃf(ə)l/ adj very careful. Synonym observant watchman /'wɒtʃmən/ noun a person who guards a building, usually when it is empty. Also called nightwatchman (NOTE: The plural is watchmen.)

① watch out /'wɒtʃ 'aʊt/ verb 1. to be careful ◇ Watch out! there's a car coming! 2. ◇ to watch out for to be careful to avoid ◇ You have to watch out for children playing in the road. ◇ Watch out for pickpockets!

watchword /'wɒtʃ, wɜːd/ noun a word or phrase which shows someone's attitude towards life in general or towards a particular subject or situation

① water /'wɔːtə/ noun 1. a common liquid which falls as rain and forms rivers, lakes and seas. It makes up a large part of the bodies of living creatures, and is used for drinking and in cooking; also in industrial processes. ◇ Can we have three glasses of water please? ◇ Cook the vegetables in boiling water. ◇ Is the tap water safe to drink? ◇ You are advised to drink only bottled water. ◇ The water temperature is 60°. (NOTE: no plural: some water, a drop of water) 2. ◇ to spend money like water to spend large amounts of money ◇ When they were furnishing the house they just spent money like water. ◇ it's all water under the bridge a long time has passed and the situation has changed completely (informal) ◇ like water off a duck's back having no effect at all ◇ He was told off several times for being late, but it was like water off a duck's back. 3. a mass of water forming something such as a lake, river or sea ◇ They live right on the water's edge. ◇ Living surrounded by water, they became good sailors. (NOTE: no plural for meanings 1, 2 and 3) 4. waters ◇ in international waters, outside territorial waters in that part of the sea which is not considered to belong to any country ◻ verb 1. to pour water on the soil round a plant to make it grow ◇ Because it is hot we need to water the garden every day. ◇ She was watering her pots of flowers. 2. to make your eyes fill with tears or to make your mouth fill with saliva ◇ Peeling onions makes my eyes water. ◇ to make your mouth water to look so good that your mouth fills with saliva ◇ Those cakes make my mouth water. ◇ His new car made her mouth water. ◇ under water 1. swimming under the surface of water ◇ She can swim well, even under water. 2. covered by floods ◇ Parts of the town are under water after the river flooded. ◇ to keep your head above water 1. to swim with your head out of the water 2. to be able to keep out of trouble ◇ to water something down 1. to add water to another liquid ◇ Their proposals were watered down a lot. 2. to make a statement less strong water biscuit /'wɔːtə ,bɪskɪt/ noun a thin hard biscuit made of flour and water, eaten with cheese water buffalo /'wɔːtə ,bʌfələʊ/ noun a large Asian animal of the cow family, with a hump, used for farm work in some countries water cannon /'wɔːtə ,kænən/ noun a machine for sending out water with a lot of force, especially used by the authorities to stop people gathering into crowds (NOTE: The plural is water cannon or sometimes water cannons)

water closet /'wɔːtə ,klɒzɪt/ ◇ WC

watercolour /'wɔːtəklaʊə/ noun 1. paint which is mixed with water and used by artists ◇ He prefers using watercolours to oils. 2. a picture painted using watercolours ◇ There is an exhibition of Turner's watercolours in the Tate Gallery. ◇ She bought a watercolour of the village church. (NOTE: [all senses] The US spelling is watercolor.)

water cooler /,wɔːtə 'kuːlə/ noun a machine which people can get cold drinking-water from, used in places such as offices watercress /'wɔːtəkres/ noun a low spreading plant grown in water streams and eaten in salads and soup. ◇ cress (NOTE: no plural) watered-down /,wɔːtəd 'daʊn/ adj weaker and less powerful than the original

③ waterfall /'wɔːtəfɔːl/ noun a place where a stream falls down a steep drop. Synonym cascade waterfowl /'wɔːtəfaʊl/ noun birds such as ducks and geese, which live on or around water (NOTE: The plural is waterfowl.)

waterfront /'wɔːtəfrənt/ noun a bank of a river or shore of the sea and the buildings along it waterhole /'wɔːtəhəʊl/ noun a small pool in the desert or other dry area, where animals come to drink watering can /'wɔːt(ə)rɪŋ kæn/ noun a container similar to a bucket, with a long spout, used for pouring water on plants waterline /'wɔ:təlайн/ noun a line marking where the water reaches on the hull of a ship waterlogged /'wɔ:təlɔgd/ adj 1. full of water, or extremely wet ○ The soil had become waterlogged after the downpour. ○ My shoes were completely waterlogged by the time I got home. 2. flooded, full of water ○ After so much rain, the waterlogged golf course had to be closed. ○ Most plants cannot grow in waterlogged soil.

water main /'wɔ:tə mein/ noun a main pipe that carries water underground along a road, and into buildings watermark /'wɔ:təmɑ:k/ noun 1. a hidden mark in paper, usually put there to prove that the paper is legal or official ○ If you hold a banknote up to the light you will see the watermark. 2. a line showing the level water has reached ○ On the wall by the river you can see various watermarks showing the level of floods in different years.

watermelon /'wɔ:təmelən/ noun a very large type of melon with red flesh, large black seeds and dark green skin water polo /'wɔ:tə ,pəuləu/ noun a ball game played in water by two teams, each trying to throw a ball into a goal waterproof /'wɔ:təpru:f/ adj which does not let water go through ○ divers wear waterproof watches. ○ These boots aren't waterproof – my socks are soaking wet. ○ You will need plenty of waterproof clothing if you are going sea fishing. Antonym permeable ■ verb to cover something with a substance to prevent water getting in ○ They spread a coating of tar on the roof to waterproof it. ■ noun a piece of clothing made of material that does not let water through ○ The fishermen were all dressed in their yellow waterproofs.

waters /'wɔ:təz/ plural noun areas of sea

watershed /'wɔ:təsed/ noun 1. the high ground separating different rivers and the streams that run into them ○ The ridge of hills marks the watershed between the Rhine and Rhone. 2. a point where an important permanent change takes place ○ Failing the exams for the Civil Service was a watershed in his career. □ the nine o'clock watershed the time, 9.00 p.m, when adult programmes can start on TV waterside /'wɔ:təsaid/ noun a bank of a river, lake, sea waterski /'wɔ:təski/ noun a special ski for waterskiing waterskier /'wɔ:təski:ə/ noun a person who goes waterskiing waterskiing /'wɔ:təski:ɪŋ/ noun the sport of moving over the surface of a lake or river on large skis, pulled by a fast boat water skis /'wɔ:tə skiz/ plural noun flat pieces of wood for putting on your feet for sliding over water water table /'wɔ:tə ,teib(ə)l/ noun a natural level of water below the ground watertight /'wɔ:tətait/ adj 1. made so that water cannot get in or out ○ The food has to be kept in watertight containers. ○ Is the seal round the radiator watertight? 2. which cannot be shown to be false ○ She has a watertight alibi for the time when the crime was committed.

waterway /'wɔ:təwei/ noun a canal or deep river along which boats can easily travel waterwheel /'wɔ:təwi:l/ noun a wheel which is turned by water and makes a machine work waterworks /'wɔ:təwɔ:ks/ noun buildings with pumps for pumping water to houses and factories ○ This red brick building is the waterworks for the whole area. □ to turn on the waterworks to start to cry because you want sympathy (informal) ○ She just has to turn on the waterworks and her mother always gives in. ■ plural noun the urinary system, the system for passing urine (informal) ○ The doctor says there's nothing wrong with his waterworks.

watery /'wɔ:təri/ adj like water, which has a lot of water in it □ to go to a watery grave to be drowned at sea ○ The ship sank in the storm, and all the crew went to a watery grave.

Watt /wɒt/ noun the standard unit of electrical power

② wave /weɪv/ noun 1. a raised mass of water on the surface of the sea, a lake or a river ○ Waves were breaking on the rocks. ○ Watch out for big waves on the beach. ○ The sea was calm, with hardly any waves. ♦ Mexican wave 2. an up and down movement of your hand □ she gave me a wave she waved her hand to me 3. a regular curve on the surface of hair ○ His hair has a natural wave. 4. a sudden increase in something ○ A wave of anger surged through the crowd. 5. groups of people, or of things such as vehicles or machines rushing forwards ○ Wave after wave of soldiers attacked the fort. ○ They sent in waves of bombers to destroy the harbour. ■ verb 1. to move up and down in the wind ○ The banners were waving outside the town hall. 2. to make an up and down movement of the hand, usually when saying goodbye ○ They waved until the car was out of sight. ○ They waved goodbye as the boat left the harbour. □ to wave to someone to signal to someone by moving your hand up and down ○ When I saw him I waved to him to cross the road. □ to wave someone on to tell someone to go on by a movement of the hand ○ The policeman waved the traffic on. 3. (of hair) to have a wave ◻ I wish my hair would wave naturally. (NOTE: Do not confuse with wave.)

waveband /'weɪvbænd/ noun a group of radio waves which are close together wavelength /'wεvlenθ/ noun 1. the distance between similar points on radio waves ◻ They used a short wavelength for transmitting messages. 2. ◻ they're not on the same wavelength they do not understand each other at all (informal) ◻ She operates on quite a different wavelength from her husband.

waver /'weɪvə/ verb 1. to shake slightly or to move from side to side ◻ The needle on the dial wavered around the 200km mark. 2. to be unable to decide what to do ◻ He is still wavering about which hotel to go to in Paris. ◻ She wavered between the two possible colour schemes and finally decided to paint the kitchen white. (NOTE: Do not confuse with waiver.)

wavy /'weɪvi/ adj which goes up and down. Synonym curly (NOTE: wavier – waviest)

wax /wæks/ noun 1. a solid substance made from fat or oil, used for making things such as candles and polish ◻ She brought a tin of wax polish and started to polish the furniture. 2. a soft yellow substance made by bees to build their honeycomb ◻ He separated the honey from the wax and put it into jars. 3. a soft yellow substance that forms in your ears ■ verb 1. to put wax polish on things such as furniture or a car, to clean it and make the surface shine ◻ She was waxing the dining room table. 2. ◻ to wax lyrical about something to be full of enthusiasm about something (informal) ◻ The reviewer waxed lyrical about the young painter. 3. (of the moon) to appear larger

① way /wei/ noun 1. a path or road which goes somewhere ◻ Our neighbours across the way. ◻ I'll walk the first part of the way home with you. 2. a correct path or road to go somewhere ◻ Do you know the way to the post office? ◻ She showed us the way to the railway station. ◻ They lost their way and had to ask for directions. ◻ I'll lead the way – just follow me. 3. ◻ on the way during a journey ◻ I'll stop at the post office on my way to the restaurant. ◻ She's on her way to the office. ◻ well on the way to nearly ◻ The repairs to the house are well on the way to being finished. ◻ to go out of your way to help someone to make a special effort to help someone 4. a particular direction from here ◻ a one-way street ◻ Can you tell which way the wind is blowing? ◻ This way please, everybody! 5. the means of doing something ◻ My mother showed me the way to make marmalade. ◻ Isn't there any other way of making it? ◻ He thought of a way of making money quickly. ◻ The way she said it implied it was my fault. ◻ to get your own way to do what you want to do, even if other people don't want you to do it (informal) ◻ She always seems to get her own way. 6. ◻ to have it both ways to take advantage from two courses of action ◻ He wants to have it both ways, but he'll soon realise he can't. ◻ You can't have it both ways – going out to the club every evening and saving money. ◻ in many ways almost completely ◻ In many ways, I think she is right. ◻ in some ways not completely ◻ In some ways she may be wrong. 7. a manner of behaving ◻ He spoke in a pleasant way. ◻ You will have to get used to the manager's funny little ways. 8. distance ◻ The bank is quite a long way away. ◻ He's got a long way to go before he qualifies as a doctor. 9. a space where someone wants to be or which someone wants to use ◻ Get out of my way – I'm in a hurry. ◻ It's best to keep out of the way of the police for a moment. ◻ I wanted to take a short cut, but there was a lorry in the way. 10. progress, forward movement ◻ under way moving forwards ◻ The project is under way at last. 11. ◻ in a bad way very ill ◻ She's in hospital and in a really bad way. ■ adv far, a long distance away ◻ The bank is way beyond the Post Office. ◻ Their financial problems started way back in 1998. ◻ The price was way too high for me. ◻ way over your head difficult to understand ◻ The book was way over my head.

① way in /,wei 'in/ noun an entrance

waylay /'wei'leɪ/ verb 1. to stop and attack someone ◻ The gang waylaid the cashier as she was walking back to the office. 2. to stop to talk to someone ◻ I was waylaid by an old friend on my way to the Post Office.

③ way of life /,wei əv 'laɪf/ noun the manner in which you live. Synonym lifestyle

① way out /wei 'aʊt/ noun 1. an exit ◻ This is the way out of the car park. ◻ He couldn't find the way out in the dark. 2. ◻ a way out of a difficulty a solution to a problem ◻ To leave the country and live abroad was probably the easiest way out.

way-out /,wei 'aʊt/ adj strange, exciting (dated informal) ◻ They played some really way-out music. Synonym unusual. Antonym conventional

③ way up /wei 'ʌp/ noun a way in which something stands wayward /'weiwəd/ adj wild, who does what he wants. Antonym well-behaved

WC /dʌb(ə)l ju: 'si:/ noun short for 'water closet', meaning toilet (NOTE: mainly used on signs)

① we /wi:/ pron used by someone speaking or writing to refer to himself or herself and others ◻ He said we could go into the exhibition. ○ We were not allowed into the restaurant in jeans. ○ We had a wonderful holiday – we all enjoyed ourselves enormously. (NOTE: When it is the object we becomes us: We gave it to him; He gave it to us. When it follows the verb to be, we usually becomes us: Who is it? – It's us!)

② weak /'wi:k/ adj 1. not strong ○ After his illness he is still very weak. ○ I don't like weak tea – put another teabag in the pot. 2. not good at, not having knowledge or skill ○ She's weaker at science than at maths. ○ French is his weakest subject. ○ She gave the weakest of excuses for not finishing the work on time. (NOTE: weaker – weakest. Do not confuse with week.)

weaken /'wi:kən/ verb to make or to become weak. Antonym strengthen weakling /'wi:klin/ noun a weak person weakly /'wi:kli/ adv in a weak way (NOTE: Do not confuse with weekly.)

③ weakness /'wi:knes/ noun 1. the state of being weak ○ The doctor noticed the weakness of her pulse. Antonym strength 2.

□ weakness for liking for (informal) ○ She has a weakness for tall men with dark hair. ○ I have a weakness for Danish pastries.

② wealth /'welθ/ noun 1. a large amount of money, land, property and goods which someone owns ○ His wealth was inherited from his grandfather. 2. a large amount ○ We have a wealth of information about the inhabitants of the town in the sixteenth century. (NOTE: no plural) wealthy /'welθi/ adj (of a person) very rich (NOTE: wealthier – wealthiest) wean /'wi:n/ verb 1. to make a baby start to eat solid food after only drinking mother's milk ○ At what age should you start to wean a baby? 2. □ to wean someone off or away from something to get someone to drop a bad habit (informal) ○ We must try to wean him off the TV for a period.

② weapon /'wepən/ noun an object such as a gun or sword, which you fight with ○ The crowd used iron bars as weapons.

weapon of mass destruction /'wepən əv ,mæs dis'trækʃən/ noun a weapon such as a nuclear or chemical weapon which causes a huge amount of damage to large numbers of people or buildings weaponry /'wepənri/ noun weapons. Synonym arms (NOTE: no plural)

① wear /weə/ verb 1. to have something such as clothes or jewellery on your body ○ What dress are you wearing to the party? ○ When last seen, he was wearing a blue raincoat. ○ She's wearing her mother's earrings. ○ She wears her hair very short. 2. to become damaged or thin through being used ○ The tread on the car tyres is worn. ○ I've worn a hole in the heel of my sock. 3. to last a long time, to stay in the same condition in spite of being used ○ The carpet has not worn well. 4. □ not to wear something not to allow or put up with something (informal) ○ You can't put that picture up in the office – the female staff will never wear it. ■ noun 1. clothes ○ The menswear department is on the ground floor. 2. the action of wearing clothes ○ This anorak is suitable for summer wear. ○ A little black dress is perfect for evening wear. 3. the amount of use which something may have ○ The carpet on the stairs will have a lot more wear than the one in the bedroom.

wear and tear /,weər ən 'teəl/ noun the action of damaging something through use. Synonym deterioration □ fair wear and tear damage through normal use which is accepted by an insurance company ○ The policy covers most forms of damage but not wear and tear to the machine.

wear away /,weər ə'weɪ/ verb to disappear gradually, to make something disappear by rubbing. Synonym erode wear down /,weə ˈdəʊn/ verb to make something disappear by rubbing or much use wearer /'weərə/ noun a person who is wearing a particular type of clothes or shoes wearily /'wɪərɪli/ adv in a tired way wearing /'wɛərɪŋ/ adj tiring

① wear off /,weər 'ɒf/ verb to disappear gradually. Synonym weaken wear on /,weər 'ɒn/ verb to continue, with difficulty

① wear out /,weər 'aʊt/ verb 1. to use something so much that it is broken and useless ○ Walking across the USA, he wore out three pairs of boots. 2. □ to wear yourself out to become very tired through doing something ○ She wore herself out looking after the old lady. ♦ worn out weary /'wɪəri/ adj very tired □ to grow weary of doing something to get tired of doing something (formal) ○ We grew weary of always eating in the same restaurant.

weasel /'wɪz(ə)l/ noun a small thin furry wild animal which kills and eats birds and other small animals ○ The weasel chased the rabbit into its burrow.

weasel words /'wɪz(ə)l wɜ:dz/ plural noun a dishonest way of speaking where you avoid saying what you really think

① weather /'weðə/ noun 1. conditions outside, e.g. if it is raining, hot, cold or sunny ○ What's the weather going to be like today? ○ The weather in Iceland is usually colder than here. ○ Rain every day – just normal English summer weather! ○ If the weather gets any better, then we can go out in the boat. □ in all weathers in every type of weather ○ He works outside in all weathers and never gets a cold. 2. □ to make heavy weather of something to make something you are doing more difficult and complicated than you need to ○ We asked him to sort out the invoices but he's really making heavy weather of it. ■

verb 1. to have a gradual effect on a substance such as stone or wood through the action of weather on it ○ The rocks have been weathered into curious shapes. ○ The wooden fence was dark brown but now it has weathered to a light grey colour. 2. to live through a difficult or dangerous situation without being harmed or defeated ○ I don't know if we can weather this crisis without any extra cash.

weatherbeaten /'weðəbɪ:t(ə)n/ adj 1. (of a face) made brown by the wind and sun ○ The weatherbeaten faces of the old mountain farmers. 2. worn and marked by rain, sun and wind ○ There are a few weatherbeaten fishermen's cottages down by the harbour.

weather forecast /'weðə fə:kɔ:st/, weather report /'weðə rɪ:pɔ:t/ noun a description of the type of weather which is going to come in the next few hours or days weatherproof /'weðəpru:f/ adj able to keep out the wind and the rain

weave /wi:v/ verb 1. to make cloth by twisting fibres over and under each other ○ The cloth is woven from the wool of local sheep. ○ The new weaving machines were installed last week. 2. to make something by a similar method, but using things such as very thin pieces of wood or the dried stems of plants ○ She learnt how to weave baskets. 3. to go forward, twisting and turning ○ to weave through a crowd of onlookers (NOTE: wove /wəʊv/ – has woven /'wəʊvən/) □ get weaving! get going!, start now! (informal) ○ If you don't get weaving you'll never finish on time. ○ Come on, don't just sit around, let's get weaving. ■ noun a pattern made on cloth as it is being woven ○ The coat has a very fine weave.

③ web /web/ noun 1. a net spun by spiders ○ The garden is full of spiders' webs in autumn. 2. pieces of skin between the toes of some birds and animals which live on or near water, e.g. ducks or frogs 3. □ the Web the World Wide Web, the thousands of websites and webpages within the Internet, which users can visit webbed feet /'webd 'fɪ:t/ noun feet with skin between the toes web browser /'web ,braʊzə/ noun a program for showing and using pages on the World Wide Web webcam /'web,kæm/ noun a video camera recording pictures that are broadcast live on the Internet webcast /'webkæst/ noun a broadcast on the World Wide Web webmaster /'webma:stə/ noun a person who designs or manages a website

③ web page /'web peɪdʒ/ noun a single file of text and graphics, forming part of a website website /'websaɪt/ noun a collection of pages on the web which have been produced by one company and are linked together wed /wed/ verb to marry (formal, used mainly in newspapers) (NOTE: wedding – wed or wedded) we'd /wi:d/ short form we had, we would ② wedding /'wedɪŋ/ noun a marriage ceremony, when two people are officially made man and wife ○ They rang the church bells at the wedding. ○ Don't count on having fine weather for your wedding. ○ The film ends with a wedding. ○ This Saturday I'm going to John and Mary's wedding. □ a registry wedding, a civil wedding wedding held in a registry office or other place, but not a church, which is performed by a registrar ○ Did you get a piece of wedding cake? □ the 'Wedding March' a piece of music by Mendelssohn played at weddings ○ The organist played the 'Wedding March' as the bride and groom walked down the aisle.

wedding anniversary /'wedɪŋ æni,vɪ:s(ə)rɪ/ noun a date which is the date of a wedding in the past wedding reception /'wedɪŋ rɪ,sepʃən/ noun a party held after a wedding, wedding ring /'wedɪŋ rɪŋ/ noun a ring which is put on the finger during the wedding ceremony wedge /wedʒ/ noun 1. a solid piece of something such as wood, metal or rubber in the shape of a V ○ Put a wedge under the door to hold it open. 2. a piece of anything with a V-shape ○ a wedge of cheese 3. □ the thin end of the wedge something which seems small and unimportant but which will make things change to a great degree later ○ Allowing the children to stay out till 10.30 is just the thin end of the wedge – in a couple of years' time they'll not come home until after midnight! ■ verb 1. to put a wedge under something to fix it firmly open or shut ○ She wedged the door open with a piece of wood. 2. to force something into a small space □ to become wedged, to get wedged to become tightly stuck ○ He got his head wedged between the railings.

④ Wednesday /'wenzdeɪ/ noun the day between Tuesday and Thursday, the third day of the week ○ She came for tea last Wednesday. ○ Wednesdays are always busy days for us. ○ Can we meet next Wednesday afternoon? ○ Wednesday the 24th would be a good date for a meeting. ○ The 15th is a Tuesday, so the 16th must be a Wednesday. ♦

Ash Wednesday

Weds abbr of Wednesday

wee /wi:/ adj (in Scotland) very small ○ He's only a wee bairn. ○ I've had a big meal so I'll just have a wee piece of cake. Antonym big □ a wee bit a little ○ He was just a wee bit annoyed by my letter. □ in the wee small hours very early in the morning ■ noun urine (child's word) ○ The cat did a wee on the lawn. ■ verb to urinate (child's word) ○ Do you want to wee, Tommy? (NOTE: also wee-wee) weed /wi:d/ noun a wild plant that you do not want in a garden ○ Weeds grew all over the flowerbeds while he was on holiday. ■ verb 1. to remove weeds from a garden ○ She spent all afternoon weeding the vegetable garden. 2. □ to weed out to remove something which is not wanted ○ Weed out any old newspapers you don't want and take them to the paper bank.

weedkiller /'wi:dkilə/ noun a chemical which kills weeds. ↗ selective weedy /'wi:di/ adj 1. thin and weak ○ His opponent was a weedy little man who looked as though he had never had a fight before. 2. covered with weeds ○ We've been away and the garden is so weedy.

① week /wi:k/ noun 1. a period of seven days, usually from Monday to Sunday ○ There are 52 weeks in the year. ○ The firm gives us two weeks' holiday at Easter. ○ It's my aunt's 80th birthday next week. ○ I go to the cinema at least once a week. □ a week from now, a week today this day next week ○ A week from now or in a week's time, I'll be on holiday. □ a week tomorrow in eight days' time ○ A week tomorrow I'll be in Greece. □ yesterday week a week ago yesterday ○ They came back from holiday yesterday week. □ what day of the week is it today? can you tell me what day it is, e.g. is it Monday? 2. a part of a seven day period, when people work ○ He works a 35-hour week or he works 35 hours every week. (NOTE: Do not confuse with weak.)

weekday /'wi:kdeɪ/ noun any of the days from Monday to Friday, when most offices are open

① weekend /wi:k'end/ noun Saturday and Sunday, or the period from Friday evening to Sunday evening ○ We're going to Brighton for the weekend. ○ Why don't you come to spend next weekend with us in the country? ○ At weekends, we try to spend time in the garden.

③ weekly /'wi:kli/ adj, adv which happens or is published once a week ○ We have a weekly paper which tells us all the local news. ○ The weekly rate for the job is £250. ○ Do you pay the milkman weekly? (NOTE: Do not confuse with weakly.) ■ noun a magazine published once a week ○ He gets a gardening weekly every Friday. (NOTE: The plural is weeklies.)

weep /wi:p/ verb to cry, to have tears coming out of your eyes (NOTE: weeping – wept /'we:pɪŋ/) weeping willow /,wi:pɪŋ 'wiləʊ/ noun a type of large willow tree with long branches which hang down wee-wee /'wi: wi:/ noun urine (child's word)

② weigh /wei/ verb 1. to use scales or a weighing machine to measure how heavy something is ○ Can you weigh this parcel for me? ○ They weighed his suitcase at the check-in desk. ○ I weighed myself this morning. 2. to have a certain weight ○ This piece of meat weighs 100 grams. ○ The packet weighs twenty-five grams. ○ How much do you weigh? ○ He weighs 120 pounds. ○ She only weighs 40 kilos. □ to weigh anchor to lift the anchor of a ship in order to sail away 3. □ to weigh on someone to be a problem to someone □ time weighs heavily on his hands he has nothing to do

weigh down /,wei 'daʊn/ verb □ to be weighed down with to be bent because you are carrying something heavy ○ The car was weighed down with all our luggage. ○ The branches of the pear trees were weighed down with fruit.

weigh in /,wei 'in/ verb 1. (of boxers and jockeys) to have your weight measured before a fight or horse race ○ The boxer weighed in at 200lbs. 2. □ to weigh in to join in an argument (informal) ○ He weighed in with some forceful comments.

weigh out /,wei 'aʊt/ verb to measure something by weight

① weight /wei:t/ noun 1. how heavy something is ○ What's the maximum weight of parcel the post office will accept? □ to sell fruit by weight to sell for a certain price per pound or kilo 2. how heavy a person is ○ His weight is less than it was a year ago. □ to lose weight to get thinner ○ He's trying to lose weight. □ to put on weight to get fatter ○ She's put on a lot of weight since her holiday. ↗ overweight, underweight 3. □ to pull your weight to work as hard as everyone else ○ The manager has the reputation for being ruthless with employees who don't pull their weight. □ to throw your weight about to use your authority to tell people in a proud way what to do (informal) ○ She loves to throw her weight about at management meetings. □ she's worth her weight in gold she's a very useful person and we couldn't do without her 4. something which is heavy ○ If you lift heavy weights like paving stones, you may hurt your back. ○ Have you got a weight to put on the papers to stop them blowing away? □ that's a weight off my mind! that is something I need not worry about any longer ■ verb 1. to attach something heavy to something ○ They weighted down the sack with bricks and threw it into the river. 2. to add an amount to a total to produce a certain result ○ The figures are weighted to take account of seasonal variations. (NOTE: Do not confuse with wait.)

weighted /'weɪtɪd/ adj changed by the addition of an amount to a total weighting /'weɪtɪŋ/ noun an additional salary paid to someone because they live in an expensive part of the country weightless /'weɪtləs/ adj with no weight weightlifter /'weɪtliftə/ noun a person who lifts heavy weights as exercise or sport weightlifting /'weɪtliftɪŋ/ noun the sport or exercise of lifting heavy weights weight training /weɪt 'treɪnɪŋ/ noun physical training using weights to make your muscles strong weighty /'weɪti/ adj 1. important, serious ○ We now face the weighty problem of trying to expand into new markets. 2. heavy ○ She's tired after lugging her weighty bag round London. (NOTE: weightier – weightiest) weigh up /,wei t'ʌp/ verb to form an opinion of someone or something. Synonym assess □ to weigh up the pros and cons to look at all the arguments for and against something ○ He weighed up the pros and cons of what was being suggested very carefully.

weir /wɪə/ noun 1. a small structure built across a river to control the flow of water ○ From here, you can see the weir and the lock. 2. a fence put across a lake or river to catch fish

② weird /wɪəd/ adj strange or different from usual. Antonym normal (NOTE: weirder – weirdest) weirdly /'wɪədli/ adv in a strange way weirdo /'wɪədəʊ/ noun a strange person (slang) (NOTE: The plural is weirdos)

② welcome /'welkəm/ adj 1. met or accepted with pleasure ○ The rain was welcome after months of drought. ○ A bowl of warm soup would be welcome. ○ After a game of rugby he had a welcome hot shower or a hot shower was very welcome. 2. □ welcome to willingly allowed to ○ You're welcome to use the library whenever you want. ■ verb 1. to greet someone in a friendly way ○ The staff welcomed the new assistant to the office. ○ When we arrived at the hotel we were welcomed by a couple of barking guard dogs. 2. to be pleased to hear news ○ I warmly welcome the result of the election. ○ I would welcome any suggestions as to how to stop the water seeping into the basement. ■ noun the action of greeting someone ○

There was not much of a welcome from the staff when we arrived at the hotel. Antonym farewell □ a warm welcome a friendly welcome ○ They gave me a warm welcome. □ to outstay your welcome to stay longer than your hosts thought you were going to stay welcoming /'welkəmɪŋ/ adj making you feel happy to have arrived. Synonym friendly weld /weld/ verb to join two pieces of metal together by heating them together ○ The chassis can be repaired by welding the two pieces together. Synonym fuse ■ noun a joint made by welding two pieces of metal together ○ The weld was badly done and came apart. Synonym repair

② welfare /'welfərə/ noun 1. the act or practice of providing the things which people need and which help them to be healthy ○ The club looks after the welfare of the old people in the town. ○ We take the children to a child welfare clinic. ○ The government has taken measures to reform the welfare system. 2. money paid by the government to people who need it ○ He exists on welfare payments. ○ The family is on welfare.

welfare state /'welfərə 'steɪt/ noun a state which spends a large amount of money to make sure that its citizens all have suitable houses, education, public transport and health services. Compare nanny

① well /wel/ adv 1. in a way that is satisfactory ○ He doesn't speak Russian very well. ○ Our business is small, but it's doing well. ○ Is the new computer working well? 2. very much ○ He got back from the office late – well after eight o'clock. ○ You should go to the Tower of London – it's well worth a visit. ○ There were well over sixty people at the meeting. ○ She's well over eighty. Synonym considerably 3. □ as well also ○ When my aunt comes to stay she brings her two cats and the dog as well. ○ You can't eat fish and chips and a meat pie as well! □ as well as not only, but also ○ Some newsagents sell groceries as well as newspapers. ○ She ate a slice of cheesecake as well as two scoops of ice cream. 4. to emphasise ○ He may well be right. ○ She's well aware of how serious the situation is. ■ adj healthy ○ She's looking well after her holiday! ○ The secretary's not very well today – she's had to stay off work. ○ It took him some weeks to get well after his flu. ■ interj which starts a sentence, and often has no meaning ○ Well, I'll show you round the house first. ○ Well now, we've done the washing up so we can sit and watch TV. ○ (showing surprise) Well, well! What is Mr Smith doing here! ■ noun a very deep hole dug in the ground with water or oil at the bottom ○ Middle Eastern oil wells ○ We pump water from the well in our garden.

well- /wel/ prefix in a satisfactory way ○ well-attended ○ well-chosen (NOTE: Well- is used in front of many adjectives, see the following words. Note also the comparative in these compounds: well-advised – better advised; well-off – better off.)

well-advised /,wel əd'veɪzd/ adj □ to be well-advised to do something to be sensible to do something ○ You would be well advised to buy now before prices go up in the autumn.

well-balanced /wel 'bælənst/ adj 1. □ well-balanced diet the type and range of food which you eat regularly and which contains all the things you need to be healthy ○ It is important that children should have a well-balanced diet. 2. steady or sensible ○ She's a well-balanced girl, and won't make any rash decisions.

well-behaved /,wel bɪ'hərvd/ adj having good behaviour. Antonym disobedient well-being /wel 'bi:ɪŋ/ noun a feeling of being healthy and happy well-bred /,wel 'bred/ adj polite and well brought up well-brought-up /,wel brɔ:t 'ap/ adj polite because of having been shown the correct way to behave when young well-built /,wel 'bilt/ adj strong and solid. Synonym sturdy well-connected /,wel kə'nektɪd/ adj having friends or family who are important or have a high status in society well-defined /,wel dr'faind/ adj which is clearly explained or easy to see. Synonym distinct. Antonym vague

① well done /wel 'dən/ interj showing that you are praising someone for their success ○ Well done, the England team! ○ Well done to all of you who passed the exam! ■ adj (of meat) which has been cooked a long time ○ Can I have my steak well-done, please?

well-dressed /'wel drest/ adj dressed in good clothes, in the latest fashion. Antonym scruffy

③ well-earned /,wel '3:nd/ adj which has been deserved well-equipped /,wel ɪ'kwɪpt/ adj with all necessary equipment (NOTE: equipping – equipped) well-established /,wel ɪ'stæblɪʃt/ adj which has been established for some time well-fed /,wel 'fed/ adj fat, looking as if you had eaten a lot well-heeled /,wel 'hi:ld/ adj rich (informal). Synonym wealthy wellie /'wei/ noun a wellington boot well-informed /,wel in'fɔ:md/ adj knowing a lot about a subject. Synonym knowledgeable wellington /'welɪntən/ noun a loose knee-length rubber boot well-intentioned /,wel in'tenʃ(ə)nd/ adj intended or trying to help, but often producing a negative effect well-kept /,wel 'kept/ adj 1. which has been looked after well ○ a well-kept lawn 2. □ well-kept secret a secret which has not been told to anyone

② well-known /,wel 'nəʊn/ adj known by a lot of people. Antonym unknown well-mannered /wel 'mænəd/ adj polite well-meaning /,wel 'mi:nɪŋ/ adj done with good intentions

② well-off /,wel 'ɒf/ adj rich

② well-paid /,wel 'peɪd/ adj earning a good salary. Synonym lucrative well-preserved /wel pri'zɜ:vd/ adj in good condition despite advanced age well-read /,wel 'red/ adj having read many books and therefore knowing a lot. Synonym knowledgeable. Antonym uninformed well-spoken /,wel 'spəkən/ adj who speaks politely and correctly. Synonym articulate well-timed /,wel 'taɪmd/ adj which happens at the right time. Synonym timely well-to-do /,wel tə 'du:/ adj rich. Synonym wealthy well turned-out /,wel tɜ:nd 'aut/ adj well dressed well-wisher /'wel ,wɪʃə/ noun a person who is friendly towards someone. Antonym detractor

① Welsh /welʃ/ adj referring to Wales ○ We will be going climbing in the Welsh mountains at Easter. ■ noun 1. □ the Welsh the people of Wales ○ The Welsh are proud of their heritage. ○ The Welsh are magnificent singers. 2. the language spoken in Wales ○ Welsh is used in schools in many parts of Wales.

Welsh rarebit /,welʃ 'rəebɪt/ noun bread grilled with cheese sauce on top welter /'weltə/ noun a confused mass. Synonym flurry welterweight /'weltəweit/ noun a weight of boxer between lightweight and middleweight wend /wend/ verb □ to wend your way to go ○ He wended his way through the crowd.

Wendy house /'wendi haus/ noun a model house for children to play in. Also called playhouse

③ went /went/ □ go

③ wept /wept/ □ weep were /wə, wɜ:/ □ be

we're /'wi:/ short form we are weren't /wɜ:nt/ short form were not werewolf /'weəwʊlf/ noun a person who is thought to change into the form of a wolf at night and back into human form in the day (NOTE: The plural is werewolves.)

① west /west/ noun the direction of where the sun sets ○ The sun sets in the west and rises in the east. ○ We live in a village to the west of the town. ○ Their house has a garden that faces west or a west-facing garden. ■ adj in or to the west ○ She lives on the west coast of the United States. ○ The west part of the town is near the river. ■ adv towards the west ○ Go west for about ten kilometres, and then you'll come to the national park. ○ The river flows west into the ocean.

westbound /'westbaʊnd/ adj travelling towards the west westerly /'westəli/ adj 1. (of the wind) from the west ○ There was a light westerly breeze. 2. towards the west ○ They are heading in a westerly direction. ■ noun a wind blowing from the west ○ The westerlies blow many ships onto the rocks. (NOTE: The plural is westerlies.)

② western /'westən/ adj from or in the west ○ Great Britain is part of Western Europe. ○ The Western part of Canada has wonderful scenery. ■ noun a book or film about life in the western USA in the nineteenth century, especially about cowboys ○ She likes watching old westerns on TV.

westerner /'westənər/ noun a person who comes from the west, i.e. from Europe or from America westernised /'westənaɪzd/, westernized adj accepting and using things such as the ideas, customs, and industrial methods of countries in Western Europe and the United States westernmost /'westənməʊst/ adj in a place which is the furthest west

Westminster /'westminstər/ noun 1. in the area of London where Westminster Abbey and the Houses of Parliament are ○ Tourists always go to Westminster as part of their visit to London. 2. the British Parliament itself ○ The news was greeted with surprise at Westminster. ○ MPs returned to Westminster after the summer recess.

westward /'westwəd/ adj, adv towards the west westwards /'westwədz/ adv towards the west

② wet /wet/ adj 1. covered in water or other liquid ○ She forgot her umbrella and got wet walking back from the shops. ○ The chair's all wet where he knocked over his beer. ○ The baby is wet – can you change her nappy? □ wet through, soaking wet very wet ○ Change your shirt – it's wet through. ○ I was soaking wet after falling into the river. 2. when it is raining ○ The summer months are the wettest part of the year. ○ There's nothing I like better than a wet Sunday in London.

3. not yet dry ○ Watch out! – the paint's still wet. 4. (of a person) weak and not good at taking decisions ○ Don't be so wet – phone the manager and tell him what you think! (NOTE: wetter – wettest) ■ verb 1. to make something wet ○ The rain didn't really wet the soil. 2. to shake water over something ○ Wet the shirt before you iron it. 3. □ to wet the bed (of child) to urinate in bed and make it wet ○ She's started to wet her bed. ■ noun a weak person, especially a politician who whose opinions are not extreme ○ She got rid of all the wets in her cabinet.

wet blanket /wet 'blænkit/ noun an unhappy person who spoils social events, e.g. parties, by making other people feel unhappy (informal). Synonym spoilsport wetland /'wetlənd/ noun a marshy area which is often covered by water. Synonym marsh wetsuit /'wetsu:t/ noun a rubber suit worn by swimmers and divers to keep themselves warm in the water

③ we've /wi:v/ short form we have whack /wæk/ verb to hit hard, making a loud noise ○ She whacked her head on the low doorway. ○ He whacked the ball hard with his bat. ■ noun 1. a hard, noisy blow ○ He gave the ball a whack and it went over the wall. 2. □ have a whack (at it)! try to do it (informal) 3. an amount of money ○ We each paid the full whack.

whacked /wækt/ adj feeling extremely tired whacking /'wækɪŋ/ adj extremely large (informal). Synonym huge whale /weɪl/ noun 1. a very large creature that lives in the sea ○ You can take a boat into the mouth of the river to see the whales. (NOTE: Do not confuse with wail.) 2. □ to have a whale of a time to enjoy yourself very much (informal) ○ The children had a whale of a time at the zoo.

whaling /'weɪlɪŋ/ noun the practice of hunting whales

wham /wæm/ noun the loud noise produced by a solid heavy blow wharf /wɔ:f/ noun a quay where a ship can tie up to load or unload. Synonym quay (NOTE: The plural is wharfs or wharves /wɔ:vz/.)

① what /wɒt/ adj asking a question ○ What time is it? ○ What type of food does he like best? ■ pron 1. the thing which ○ Did you see what was in the box? ○ What we like to do most on holiday is just to visit old churches. 2. asking a question ○ What's the correct time? ○ What did he give you for your birthday? ○ What's the name of the French restaurant in the High Street? ○ What's the Spanish for 'table'? ○ What happened to his car? □ to know what's what to know everything about the situation (informal) ○ The builder knows what's what, so he'll tell you the details. □ what about used to introduce a suggestion ○ I'm hungry – what about some lunch? □ what for used to ask about the reason for or purpose of something ○ 'I need to see you tomorrow.' – 'What for?' ○ What is this gadget for? ■ adv 1. showing surprise ○ What a huge meal! ○ What beautiful weather! 2. giving a reason ○ What with the children being ill one after another, and my husband being away, I've got my hands full at the moment. ■ interj showing surprise ○ What! did you hear what he said? ○ I won the lottery! – What! (NOTE: After what used to ask a question, the verb is put before the subject: What's the time? but They don't know what the time is.)

① whatever /'wɔ:t'evə/ pron 1. it does not matter what (form of 'what' which emphasises; in questions) ○ You can have whatever you like for Christmas. ○ She always does whatever she feels like doing. ○ I want that car whatever the price. 2. (in questions) what, why ○ Whatever made him do that? ○ Whatever does that red light mean? ○ I've sold the car. – Whatever for?

whatnot /'wɔ:tndt/ noun something of the same or a similar kind what's /'wɔ:ts/ short form what has, what is ② whatsoever /'wɔ:t'sau'evə/ adj, pron form of 'whatever' which emphasises ○ There is no truth whatsoever in the report. ○ The police found no suspicious documents whatsoever. □ none whatsoever none at all ○ Do you have any idea why the computer suddenly stopped working? – None whatsoever.

③ wheat /wi:t/ noun a plant of which the grain is used to make flour (NOTE: no plural) wheedle /'wɪ:d(ə)l/ verb to try to persuade someone to do something, especially by speaking to them in a soft voice

② wheel /wi:l/ noun 1. a round piece which turns round an axle and on which a vehicle such as a bicycle, a car or a train runs ○ The front wheel and the back wheel of the motorbike were both damaged in the accident. ○ We got a flat tyre so I had to get out to change the wheel. □ on wheels with wheels attached ○ Hospital beds are on wheels so they are easy to move. ♦ meals 2. any similar round piece for turning □ to be at the wheel to be driving ○ She was at the wheel when the car went off the road. □ to take the wheel to start to drive a car ○ She took the wheel because her husband was falling asleep. ■ verb 1. to push something along that has wheels ○ He wheeled his motorbike into the garage. ○ She was wheeling her bike along the pavement. ○ The waiter wheeled in a sweet trolley. 2. □ to wheel round to turn round suddenly ○ She wheeled round and went straight up to the counter. 3. to fly in circles ○ Gulls were wheeling above the fishing boats. 4. □ to wheel and deal to make business deals in a way that is dishonest or is not fair wheelbarrow /'wi:lba:rəʊ/ noun a small cart with one wheel in front, and two handles, used by builders and gardeners to carry heavy loads wheelchair /'wi:l'seə/ noun a chair on wheels which people who cannot walk use to move around ○ a special entrance for wheelchair users wheel clamp /'wi:l klæmp/ noun a metal frame which is screwed to the wheel of an illegally parked car. Synonym clamp wheeled /'wi:l:d/ adj with wheels wheeler-dealer /,wi:lə 'di:lə/ noun a person who is skilled and successful, but possibly dishonest, in getting what they want, especially in business or politics wheely bin /'wi:li bin/ noun a large container on wheels, for putting rubbish in wheeze /wi:z/ noun 1. a whistling noise made when breathing ○ I'm full of coughs and wheezes. 2. a clever trick ○ He thought he had discovered a clever wheeze how to avoid paying tax until he got caught. ■ verb to make a whistling sound when breathing ○ The little boy had an attack of asthma and started to wheeze.

① when /wen/ adv at what time (asking a question) ○ When is the last train for Paris? ○ When did you last go to the dentist? ○ When are we going to get paid? ○ Since when has he been wearing glasses? ○ I asked her when her friend was leaving. (NOTE: After when used to ask a question, the verb is put before the subject: When does the film start? but He doesn't know when the film starts; When is he coming? but They can't tell me when he is coming.) ■ conj 1. at the time that ○ When he was young, the family was living in London. ○ When you go on holiday, leave your key with the neighbours so they can feed the cat. ○ Do you remember the day when we all went for a picnic in Hyde Park? ○ Let me know when you're ready to go. 2. after ○ When the speaker had finished, he sat down. ○ Wash up the plates when you've finished your breakfast. 3. even if ○ The salesman said the car was worth £5000 when he really knew it was worth only half that. 4. although ○ I said I knew nothing about it when in fact I'd known about it for some time.

whence /wens/ adv from where

① whenever /wen'evə/ adv 1. at any time that ○ Come for tea whenever you like. ○ We try to see my mother-in-law whenever we can or whenever possible. 2. form of 'when'

which emphasises ○ Whenever did she learn to drive?

① where /weə/ adv 1. (asking a question) in what place, to what place ○ Where did I put my glasses? ○ Do you know where the restaurant is? ○ Where are the knives and forks? ○ Where are you going for your holiday? 2. in a place in which ○ Stay where you are and don't move. ○ They still live in the same house where they were living twenty years ago. ○ Here's where the wire has been cut. 3. whenever ○ Use fresh tomatoes where possible. (NOTE: After where used to ask a question, the verb is put before the subject: Where is the bottle? but He doesn't know where the bottle is.) where- /weə/ prefix which thing (NOTE: Some of the following words formed from where- are used in their formal meanings in legal documents.)

whereabouts plural noun /'weərəbəts/ the place where someone or something is ○ She knew nothing of her son's whereabouts. Synonym location ■ adv /,weərə'bəts/ (asking a question) in what place? ○ They live in London – oh! whereabouts in London?

② whereas /'weər'ez/ conj 1. if you compare this with the fact that ○ He likes tea whereas she prefers coffee. 2. considering the following fact ○ Whereas the contract between the two parties stipulates that either party may withdraw at six months' notice.

③ whereby /weə'bəi/ adv by which; according to which (formal) wherein /weər'in/ adv in which (formal) whereupon /,weər'pɒn/ conj at that point, after that (literary)

② wherever /weər'evə/ adv 1. to or in any place ○ You can sit wherever you want. ○ Wherever we go on holiday, we never make hotel reservations. ○ The police want to ask her questions, wherever she may be. 2. form of 'where' which emphasises ○ Wherever did you get that hat?

whet /wet/ verb □ to whet your appetite to make you more interested in something by giving you a little taste of it ○ The brochures whet your appetite for holidays by the sea.

① whether /'weðə/ conj 1. (showing doubt, or not having reached a decision) if ○ Do you know whether they're coming? ○ I can't make up my mind whether to go on holiday now or later. 2. (applying to either of two things) both ○ All employees, whether managers or ordinary staff, must take a medical test. (NOTE: Do not confuse with weather.)

whew /fju:/ interj used to express an emotion such as great, surprise or to show that you feel too hot, or you are very pleased that something unpleasant has not happened

① which /witʃ/ adj, pron 1. (asking a question) what person or thing ○ Which dress are you wearing to the wedding? ○ Which boy threw that stone? 2. □ which is which what is the difference between the two ○ There are two switches, one for the light and one for the fan, but I don't know which is which. 3. (only used with things, not people) that ○ The French restaurant which is next door to the office. ○ They've eaten all the bread which you bought yesterday. 4. □ in which case if that is the case ○ He's ill, in which case he'd better stay at home.

③ whichever /witʃ'evə/ pron 1. any one in a group ○ You can take several routes, but whichever you choose, the journey will still take three hours. 2. (emphatic form of 'which') no matter which ○ Take whichever one you want. ■ adj no matter which ○ Whichever newspaper you read, you'll get the same story.

whiff /wɪf/ noun a slight smell

① while /waɪl/ noun 1. some time ○ It's a while since I've seen him. □ in a while in a short time, soon ○ I'll be ready in a while. □ a little while short period of time ○ Do you mind waiting a little while until a table is free? □ quite a while a longer period of time ○ He changed jobs quite a while ago. □ once in a while from time to time, but not often ○ It's nice to go to have an Indian meal once in a while. 2. □ to be worth someone's while to be worth doing ○ It's worth your while keeping copies of your work, in case your computer goes wrong. ■ worthwhile ■ conj 1. when, at the time that ○ He tried to cut my hair while he was watching TV. ○ While we were on holiday someone broke into our house. ○ Shall I clean the kitchen while you're having a bath? 2. showing difference ○ He likes meat, while his sister is a vegetarian. ○ She only earns £120 a week while everyone else in the office earns twice that. ○ Everyone is watching TV, while I'm in the kitchen making the dinner. 3. although ○ While there may still be delays, the service is much better than it used to be.

while away /,wail ə'weɪ/ verb □ to while away the time to do something to make the time pass more quickly ○ I had two hours to wait between planes and had several cups of coffee to while away the time.

② whilst /waɪlst/ conj while (formal) whim /wɪm/ noun a sudden wish or desire. Synonym impulse □ your every whim all the things you want ○ After she got married, she expected her husband to indulge her every whim. □ a passing whim the fact of wanting to have something and soon wanting to have something else ○ Don't do what he says – it's only a passing whim.

whimper /'wɪmper/ verb (of a person or small animal) to make low weak cries ○ She whimpered that she would be OK. ○ The dog was whimpering because it was tied up. ■ noun a sad, weak cry ○ I could still hear her whimper through the bedroom door.

whimsical /'wɪmzɪk(ə)l/ adj unusual or strange, not very serious whimsy /'wɪmzi/ noun an unusual or strange idea whine /wain/ verb 1. to make a loud high noise ○ You can hear the engines of the racing cars whining in the background. 2. to complain in a loud high voice ○ She's always whining about how little money she has. ○ The dogs whined when we locked them up in the kitchen. ■ noun a loud high noise ○ We could hear the whine of the engines long before we got to the racetrack. (NOTE: Do not confuse with wine.) whinge /windʒ/ verb to complain in a whining voice (informal) whinny /'wɪni/ noun a quiet high sound made by a horse ○ Did you hear the horse's whinnies in the middle of the night? ■ verb (of a horse) to make a quiet high sound ○ I heard the horses whinnying in their stables.

Synonym neigh

whip /wɪp/ noun 1. a long, thin piece of leather with a handle, used to hit animals to make them do what you want ○ Jockeys use the whip to make their horses run faster. 2. □ to crack the whip to make everyone do what you want ○ The boss had to crack the whip to get the job finished on time. 3. a MP who controls the attendance of other MPs of his party at the House of Commons and who makes sure that all MPs vote 4. a sweet food made with whipped cream or eggs and fruit or chocolate ○ She made a chocolate whip. ■ verb 1. to hit someone or an animal with a whip ○ He whipped the horse to make it go faster. 2. to mix things such as cream or eggs until they become firm ○ Whip the eggs and milk together. ○ It is easier to whip cream if it is cold. 3. to go quickly ○ He whipped round to the newsagent's to buy some cigarettes. 4. to do something quickly ○ He whipped off his hat when he saw her coming towards him. ○ She whipped out her cheque-book. 5. to steal ○ Someone's whipped my newspaper! (NOTE: whipping – whipped)

whiplash /'wɪplæʃ/ noun an injury to the bones in your neck, caused when your head moves suddenly backwards, as in a car which has been hit from behind whip-round /'wɪp'raʊnd/ noun (informal) □ to have a whip-round to ask everyone to give some money whip up /,wɪp 'ʌp/ verb 1. to encourage, to make something increase ○ Loudspeaker messages whipped up the crowd's enthusiasm before the match. 2. to get food ready ○ I'll just whip up a salad. 3. to beat things together ○ Whip up the eggs and milk in a bowl. ○ The wind whipped up the waves on the lake.

whirl /wɜ:l/ noun a fast turning movement ○ a whirl of activity □ let's give it a whirl let's try it out (informal) ■ verb to turn round quickly, to spin ○ She put on her new skirt and whirled around for everyone to see. ○ The children's paper windmills whirled in the wind.

whirlpool /'wɜ:lpʊ:l/ noun a stream of water that turns round and round very fast. Synonym eddy whirlwind /'wɜ:lwɪnd/ noun 1. an extremely strong wind that blows round and round very fast in the centre of an area of very low pressure ○ Whirlwinds come in the summer months and cause a huge amount of damage. (NOTE: Another US term is twister.) 2. something which happens more quickly than usual ○ They had a whirlwind romance, and got married on holiday.

whirr /wɜ:/ noun a low sound like something turning ○ I was woken up by the whirr of a small plane. ■ verb to make a low sound like something turning ○ The journalists' cameras were whirring and clicking as she stepped out of the church. (NOTE: [all verb senses] The US spelling is whir.)

whisk /wɪsk/ noun a kitchen tool used for whipping things such as cream or eggs ○ She was looking for the whisk to beat some eggs.

■ verb 1. to move something very fast ○ She whisked the plate of cakes away before I could take one. ○ They came in, said hello to us, and whisked our daughter off to the restaurant. 2. to beat things such as cream or eggs very quickly ○ Next, whisk the mixture until it is creamy. ○ I always whisk egg whites by hand.

whiskey /'wɪski/ noun Irish or American whisky

③ whisky /'wɪski/ noun 1. an alcoholic drink, made in Scotland from barley or other grains ○ The distillery produces thousands of bottles of whisky every year. ○ I don't like whisky – I prefer gin. 2. a glass of this drink ○ Two whiskies, please. (NOTE: The plural is whiskies.)

③ whisper /'wɪspə/ noun a quiet voice, or words spoken very quietly ○ She spoke in a whisper. ■ verb to speak very quietly, to make a very quiet sound; to speak secretly ○ He whispered instructions to the other members of the gang. ○ She whispered to the nurse that she wanted something to drink. Synonym murmur. Antonym shout whistle /'wɪs(ə)l/ noun 1. a high sound made by blowing through your lips when they are almost closed ○ She gave a whistle of surprise. ○ We heard a whistle and saw a dog running across the field. 2. a simple instrument which makes a high sound, played by blowing ○ He blew on his whistle to stop the match. ■ verb 1. to blow through your lips to make a high sound ○ They marched along, whistling an Irish song. ○ The door-man whistled for a taxi. 2. to make a high sound using a small metal instrument ○ The referee whistled to stop the match. 3. (of a bullet or the wind) to make a loud high sound when moving fast whistlestop tour /,wɪs(ə)lstɒp 'tʊə/ noun a journey where you stop for a short time in many different places

① white /waɪt/ adj of a colour like snow or milk ○ A white shirt is part of the uniform. ○ A white car will always look dirty. ○ Her hair is now completely white. ○ Do you take your coffee black or white? □ white as a sheet completely white, very pale (informal) ○ Are you all right? – you look as white as a sheet. ■ noun 1. the colour of snow or milk ○ The white of the snow-capped mountains stood out against the deep blue of the sky. 2. a person whose skin is pale ○ Whites are in the minority in African countries. 3. the light-coloured meat on a chicken ○ Do you want a leg or some white? 4. a white part of something ○ the white of an egg ○ The whites of his eyes were slightly red. 5. a white wine ○ A glass of house white, please.

whiteboard /'waɪtbɔ:d/ noun a flat white board in a classroom, on which you can write with a special type of pen white bread /waɪt bred/ noun bread made from white flour white Christmas /waɪt 'krɪsməs/ noun Christmas when there is snow on the ground white coffee /waɪt 'kɔfi/ noun coffee with milk or cream in it white elephant /waɪt 'elɪfənt/ noun something which cost a lot of money and is no use white flag /waɪt 'flæg/ noun a symbol showing that someone is accepting defeat white goods /'waɪt ɡʊdz/ plural noun large pieces of electrical equipment which you use in the home, e.g. fridges and washing machines

Whitehall /'waɪθɔ:l/ noun 1. a street in London, leading from Trafalgar Square to the Houses of Parliament, where there are the offices of several government departments ○ As you walk down Whitehall you pass Downing Street on your right. 2. the British government and civil service ○ Whitehall sources suggest that the plan will be adopted. ○ There is a great deal of resistance to the idea in Whitehall. □ Whitehall mandarins top British civil servants white-hot /,waɪt 'hɒt/ adj extremely hot white lie /waɪt laɪ/ noun a harmless lie white meat /waɪt 'mi:t/ noun 1. meat from the breast of chicken or turkey 2. a pale coloured meat like veal, as opposed to red meat like beef whiten /'waɪtn(ə)n/ verb to make whiter or to become whiter whiteness /'waɪtnəs/ noun the fact of being white

White Paper /waɪt 'peɪpə/ noun a report published by the government as a statement of government policy on a particular problem. Compare Green Paper white pepper /waɪt 'pepə/ noun pepper from seeds which have had the outer layer removed (NOTE: Pepper from whole dried pepper seeds is black pepper.)

white trash /waɪt 'træʃ/ noun poor white people (slang offensive) (NOTE: no plural) whitewash /'waɪtwaʃ/ noun 1. a mixture of water and lime used for painting the walls of houses ○ One coat of whitewash should be enough for this wall. 2. an attempt to cover up mistakes or dishonest behaviour ○ Everyone said the report was a whitewash and nobody was ever arrested. ■ verb 1. to paint with a mixture of water and lime ○ A landscape of fields and little whitewashed cottages. 2. to try to cover up mistakes or dishonest behaviour ○ The report was just an attempt to whitewash the officials at the children's home.

whitewater /'waɪtwɔ:tə/ noun part of a river which flows very fast over rocks whitewater rafting /,waɪtwɔ:tə 'ra:fɪŋ/ noun the sport of riding in small strong rubber boats down dangerous rivers whither /'wiðə/ adv to which place (literary or archaic) □ whither the EU? what is the future of the EU?

whiting /'waɪtɪŋ/ noun a type of small sea fish (NOTE: The plural is whiting.)

whitish /'waɪtɪʃ/ adj similar to white or partly white whittle /'wɪt(ə)l/ verb 1. to shape a piece of wood by cutting off small pieces with a knife ○ He was whittling a stick with his penknife. 2. □ to whittle something away or down to make something gradually smaller ○ He found his authority as chairman being gradually whittled away by the secretary. ○ Their aim is to whittle the staff down to half the actual number.

① who /hu:/ pron 1. (asking a question) which person or persons ○ Who was the person that phoned? ○ Who phoned? ○ Who are you talking to? ○ Who was she going home with? ○ Who spoke at the meeting? 2. the person or the people that ○ The men who came yesterday morning work for the electricity company. ○ Anyone who didn't get

*tickets early won't be able to get in. ○ There's the taxi driver who took us home last night. □ Do you remember the girl who used to work here as a waitress? (NOTE: With an object, who can be left out: *there's the man I saw at the pub. When who is used as an object, it is sometimes written whom /hu:m/. Whom are you talking about? The man whom I saw in the office but this is not common. After who used to ask a question, the verb is put before the subject: Who is that man over there? but I don't know who that man is over there.)

WHO abbr World Health Organization ○ The WHO's top priority is the eradication of tuberculosis.

who'd /hu:d/ short form who had, who would whodunit /hu:dʌnɪt/ noun a detective story. Synonym mystery

② whoever /hu:'evə/ pron (emphatic form of 'who') no matter who, anyone who ○ Whoever finds the umbrella can keep it. ○ Go home with whoever you like.

① whole /həʊl/ adj all of something ○ *She must have been hungry – she ate a whole apple pie. ○ We spent the whole winter in the south. ○ A whole lot of people went down with flu. ■ noun all, everything ○ She stayed in bed the whole of Sunday morning and read the newspapers. ○ The whole of the north of the country was covered with snow. ○ Did you watch the whole of the programme? (NOTE: Do not confuse with hole.) ■ adv in one piece ○ *The heron swallowed the fish whole.

wholefood /'həʊlfu:d/ noun food that has had very little processing and has been grown or produced without the use of chemicals wholehearted /həʊl'hɑ:tɪd/ adj complete or total wholeheartedly /həʊl'hɑ:tɪdlɪ/ adv completely wholemeal /'həʊlmi:l/ noun □ wholemeal flour flour which contains a large amount of the original wheat grain ○ I have two slices of wholemeal toast for breakfast.

wholemeal bread /'həʊl,mi:l bred/, wholewheat bread /'həʊl,wɪt bred/ noun bread made from flour which contains the whole grain whole number /həʊl 'nʌmbə/ noun a number such as 1, 35 or 630 which is not a fraction wholesale /'həʊlseɪl/ adv buying goods from manufacturers and selling them in large quantities to traders who then sell them in smaller quantities to the general public ○ He buys wholesale. Compare retail ■ adj 1. in large quantities ○ wholesale discount 2. on a large scale ○ The wholesale killing of wild birds.

③ wholesaler /'həʊlseɪlə/ noun a person who buys goods in large quantities from manufacturers and sells them to retailers. Synonym trader wholesome /'həʊls(ə)m/ adj 1. healthy, good for your health ○ You should stick to a more wholesome diet and stop eating all that junk food. □ wholesome food food that is good for your health ○ You should eat fresh fruit and vegetables and other wholesome food. 2. good for your morals ○ Those videos are not what I would call good wholesome entertainment for youngsters.

who'll short form who shall, who will wholly /'həʊlli/ adv completely (formal) (NOTE: Do not confuse with holy.)

① whom /hu:m/ □ who

whoop /wʊp/, hu:p/ noun a loud cry ○ The boys let out whoops as they ran down the hill. Synonym shout (NOTE: Do not confuse with hoop.) ■ verb to make loud cries ○ The gang ran along the main street, shouting and whooping at passers-by.

whooping cough /'hʊ:pɪŋ kɒf/ noun an infectious disease mainly of children which affects the bronchial tubes and causes the patient to make a gasping noise whoops /wʊps/ interj used to show that an accident has almost happened ○ Whoops! you nearly hit that tree! ○ She went charging across the kitchen on her trike and whoops! just missed Mum carrying a pile of plates.

whopper /'wɒpə/ noun 1. a very large thing 2. a very big lie ○ She told me a real whopper.

whopping /'wɒpɪŋ/ adj very large (informal). Synonym enormous. Antonym tiny who's /hu:z/ short form who has, who is ① whose /hu:z/ pron 1. (asking a question) which belongs to which person ○ Whose is that car? ○ Whose book is this? ○ Whose money was stolen? 2. of whom ○ The family whose house was burgled. ○ The man whose hat you borrowed. ○ The girl whose foot you trod on. (NOTE: Do not confuse with who's.)

who've /hu:v/ short form who have

① why adv /wʌi/ 1. (asking a question) for what reason ○ *Why did he have to phone me in the middle of the TV film? ○ I asked the ticket collector why the train was late. 2. agreeing with a suggestion ○ Would you like some lunch – Why not? 3. giving a reason ○ She told me why she couldn't go to the party. 4. showing something else is preferred ○ Why go by plane to Paris when you can take the train? ○ Why don't we go for a picnic as it's fine? (NOTE: After why used to ask a question, the verb is put before the subject: Why is the sky blue? but I don't know why the sky is blue.) ■ interj showing surprise ○ Why, if it isn't old Mr Smith!

wicked /'wɪkɪd/ adj 1. very bad ○ What a wicked thing to say! ○ It was wicked of them to steal the birds' eggs. 2. behaving badly in a way that is not serious ○ She gave a wicked little laugh. 3. dangerous ○ He came in carrying a wicked axe. 4. very good ○ They do a wicked line in French pastries.

wickedly /'wɪkɪdli/ adv in a wicked way wickedness /'wɪkɪdnəs/ noun the fact of being wicked wicker /'wɪkə/ adj made of thin pieces of wood or sticks woven together ○ a wicker basket ○ wicker furniture wickerwork /'wɪkəwɜ:k/ noun things made of thin pieces of wood or twigs woven together (NOTE: no plural) wicket /'wɪkɪt/ noun (in cricket) 1. a set of three sticks put in the ground with two small sticks on top, used as the target ○ The first ball hit his wicket. 2. the main playing area between two sets of these sticks □ fast wicket a wicket where the ball moves fast off the ground □ slow wicket a wicket where the ball moves slowly off the ground □ to be on a sticky wicket to be in an difficult situation (informal) wicket-keeper /'wɪkɪktɪ:pə/ noun (in cricket) a player who stands behind the wicket to stop the balls that the batsman does not hit

① wide /wɪd/ adj 1. which measures from side to side ○ The table is three foot or three feet wide. ○ The river is not very wide at this point. 2. to a great degree, including a large amount ○ The shop carries a wide range of imported goods. ○ She has a wide knowledge of French painting. ♦ width (NOTE: wider – widest) ■ adv 1. as far as possible, as much as possible ○ She opened her eyes wide. ○ The door was wide open so we just walked in. □ wide apart separated by a large space ○ He stood with his legs wide apart. 2. not on the target ○ The shells fell wide of their target. □ to be wide of the mark to be very wrong ○ He's wide of the mark when he says that that old car is worth £2000. ■ noun (in cricket) a ball which goes too far to the side of the batsman wide awake /wɪd ə'weɪk/ adj, adv completely awake wide-eyed /wɪd əɪd/ adj with eyes wide open

② widely /'wɪdli/ adv 1. by a wide range of people ○ It is widely expected that he will resign. 2. over a wide area ○ Contamination spread widely over the area round the factory. ○ She has travelled widely in Greece. □ he is very widely-travelled he has travelled in many places widen /'wɪd(ə)n/ verb 1. to make wider ○ We need to widen the road to take larger lorries. 2. to become wider ○ Further along, the road widens into two lanes in each direction.

wide-ranging /'wɪd'reɪndʒɪŋ/ adj which covers a wide range of subjects. Synonym extensive. Antonym narrow widescreen /'wɪdskrɪ:n/ adj referring to a television whose screen is noticeably wider than average

③ widespread /'wɪdspred/ adj over a large area. Synonym extensive. Antonym limited widget /'wɪdʒɪt/ noun a small useful object (humorous) widow /'wɪdəʊ/ noun a woman whose husband has died and who has not married again widowed /'wɪdəʊd/ adj who is a widow or widower widower /'wɪdəʊə/ noun a man whose wife has died and who has not married again

④ width /wɪdθ/ noun 1. a measurement of something from one side to another ○ I need to know the width of the sofa. ○ The width of the garden is at least forty feet or the garden is at least forty feet in width. 2. a piece of material cut right across a roll ○ We will need two widths of velvet to make the curtains. 3. the distance from one side to another of a swimming pool ○ She swam three widths easily.

wield /wi:ld/ verb 1. to hold something, usually by its handle, and use it ○ Her attacker was wielding a knife. 2. to use or have power to control people ○ The state wields enormous power over the ordinary citizen.

⑤ wife /waɪf/ noun a woman who is married to a man ○ I know Mr Jones quite well but I've never met his wife. ○ They both came with their wives. ♦ old wives' tale. Synonym spouse. Antonym husband (NOTE: The plural is wives /waɪvz/.)

wig /wɪg/ noun false hair worn on the head wiggle /'wɪg(ə)l/ verb to move slightly up and down or from side to side. Synonym wriggle wiggly /'wɪgli/ adj which is not straight

② wild /wɪld/ adj 1. living naturally, not tame ○ Wild dogs roam over parts of Australia. □ wild animals animals which are living in natural surroundings, as opposed to pets or farm animals ○ We watched a TV programme on wild animals in Africa. 2. □ wild mountain scenery mountains with features such as high cliffs and waterfalls

3. very angry; very excited ○ He will be wild when he sees what I have done to the car. ○ The fans went wild at the end of the match. □ to be wild about something to be very interested in something (informal) ○ She's wild about motorbikes. □ beyond your wildest dreams even better than you could expect ○ The results surpassed our wildest dreams. 4. not thinking carefully ○ She made a few wild guesses, but didn't find the right answer. ○ They had the wild idea of walking across the Sahara. ■ noun □ in the wild living in nature ○ In the wild, elephants can live to a great age. ■ adv 1. with a large amount of freedom ○ In this zoo, animals can roam wild in the fields. ○ In the safari park we let the animals run wild. 2. without any control ○ The crowds were running wild through the centre of the town.

wild card /'waɪld ka:d/ noun a computer symbol that represents any character wilderness /'wɪldnəs/ noun uncultivated and uninhabited country or desert □ in the political wilderness (of a politician) no longer in power wildfire /'waɪldfaɪə/ noun □ like wildfire very fast ○ The news spread like wildfire through the crowd.

③ wild goose chase /waɪld 'gu:s tʃeɪs/ noun a hopeless search

③ wildlife /'waɪldlaɪf/ noun birds, plants and animals living free and untouched by humans wildlife park /'waɪldlaɪf pa:k/ noun a large park surrounded by high fences, where wild animals are kept and are allowed to run wild inside (NOTE: no plural)

② wildly /'waɪldli/ adv 1. in a wild way ○ The crowd cheered wildly as the pop group started to sing. 2. □ wildly inaccurate completely wrong ○ His prediction of a fine summer was wildly inaccurate.

wiles /'waɪlz/ plural noun clever tricks wilful /'wɪlf(ə)l/ adj 1. determined to do what you want ○ She's a wilful child and very difficult to control. 2. done because someone wants to do it ○ They caused wilful damage to several telephone kiosks. □ it was wilful murder it was a murder which was planned in advance (NOTE: [all senses] The US spelling is willful.)

wilfully /'wɪlfʊli/ adv done because someone wants to do it (NOTE: The US spelling is willfully.)

① will /'wɪl/ modal verb 1. used to form the future ○ The party will start soon. ○ Will they be staying a long time? ○ We won't be able to come to tea. ○ If you ask her to play the piano, she'll say 'no'. 2. used for emphasising ○ The dog will keep eating the cat's food. 3. used as a polite way of asking someone to do something ○ Will everyone please sit down? ○ Will someone close the curtains? ○ (formal) Won't you sit down? 4. used for showing that you are keen to do something ○ Don't call a taxi – I'll take you home. ○ The car will never start when we want it to. ○ Don't worry – I will do it. (NOTE: the negative: will not is usually written won't /'wəʊnt/. The past is: would, negative: would not, usually written wouldn't. Note also that will is often shortened to 'll: he'll = he will) ■ verb □ to will someone to do something to want someone to do something, and suggest it by thinking it ○ The crowd was willing her to win the match. ■ noun 1. power of the mind and character ○ She lost the will to live. □ to work with a will to work very earnestly and willingly □ with the best will in the world however much you want to do something ○ Even with the best will in the world, I don't see how we can finish it in time. 2. a wish □ against your will without your agreement ○ He was forced to pay the money against his will. □ of your own free will willingly, without being forced ○ He signed the document of his own free will. □ at will whenever you want to ○ Visitors can wander around the gardens at will. 3. a legal document by which a person gives instructions to his or her executors as to what should happen to the property after he or she dies ○ He wrote his will in 1984. ○ According to her will, all her property is left to her children. ○ Has she made a will yet?

② willing /'wɪlɪŋ/ adj keen to help ○ Is there anyone who is willing to drive the jeep? ○ I need two willing helpers to wash the car.

■ noun eagerness to help □ to show willing to show you are eager to help

③ willingly /'wɪlɪŋli/ adv readily, in a eager way willingness /'wɪlɪŋnəs/ noun the quality of being ready to do something willow /'wɪləʊ/ noun a tree with long thin branches often found near rivers and streams willowy /'wɪləʊi/ adj tall and slender willpower /'wɪlpauə/ noun strength of will. Synonym determination. Antonym weakness wilt /'wɪlt/ noun a disease of plants which makes them droop ○ The lettuces are all suffering from wilt. ■ verb to become weak and droop ○ We've had no rain for days and the plants in the garden have started to wilt. ○ We all started off at a fast pace, but after the first mile or so some of us began to wilt.

wily /'wɪli/ adj full of tricks. Synonym crafty. Antonym ingenuous (NOTE: wilier – wiliest) wimp /'wɪmp/ noun a weak individual (informal insult)

① win /'wɪn/ noun the act of beating someone in a game ○ The local team has only had two wins so far this year. ○ We're disappointed, we expected a win. Synonym victory. Antonym defeat ■ verb 1. to beat someone in a game; to be first in a race ○ I expect our team will win tomorrow. ○ The local team won their match yesterday. ○ She won the race easily. □ to win hands down to win easily 2. to get a prize ○ She won first prize in the art competition. ○ He won two million pounds on the lottery. ○ She's hoping to win a new car in a competition in the paper. (NOTE: winning – won /wʌnɪŋ/) wince /wɪns/ noun a reaction on your face which shows you feel pain or embarrassment ○ He gave a wince as the nurse cleaned his wound. ■ verb to show signs of pain or embarrassment, especially on your face ○ He winced as the nurse gave him an injection. ○ She still winces at the memory of the awful mistake she made.

winch /wɪntʃ/ noun a device which pulls things up by winding a rope around a drum ○ The recovery vehicle has a winch at the back. Synonym hoist ■ verb to pull up or to lift by using a winch ○ The sailors were winched from the yacht by helicopter.

① wind noun /wɪnd/ 1. air moving outdoors ○ The wind blew two trees down in the park. ○ There's no point trying to use an umbrella in this wind. ○ There's not a breath of wind – the sailing boats aren't moving at all. □ to run like the wind to run very fast ○ He ran like the wind and won the race. 2. the ability to breathe □ to get your wind back to breathe properly again after running fast ○ Just give me a moment to get my wind back and I'll give you the message. □ to get your second wind to get enough breath again after running, so as to be able to make a new effort □ to get or have the wind up to be frightened (informal) ○ He got the wind up and ran away. □ to put the wind up someone to frighten someone (informal) 3. gas which forms in the digestive system ○ The baby is suffering from wind. □ to break wind to let gas escape from the intestines 4. □ to get wind of something to hear a rumour about something ○ Somehow, our rivals got wind of our plan to expand our chain of stores. ■ verb /waind/ 1. to turn a key or handle to make a machine work ○ Do you need to wind (up) the clock twice a week? 2. to twist round and round ○ He wound the towel round his waist. ○ She wound the string into a ball. 3. (of a river or path etc.) not to go straight, but with twists and turns ○ The river winds across the plain. (NOTE: winding – wound /waʊnd/)

4. to make someone breathless, especially by hitting him in the chest ○ She hit him with her umbrella and winded him.

windbag /'windbæg/ noun someone who talks a lot (informal insult)

③ wind down /'waɪnd 'daʊn/ verb to turn a handle to make something go down windfall /'windfɔ:l/ noun 1. a fruit which has fallen to the ground from a fruit tree ○ There are a lot of windfalls this year. 2. money which you receive unexpectedly ○

His premium bond suddenly produced a windfall.

winding /'wændɪŋ/ adj which turns and twists wind instrument /'wind ,inst्रɔ:mənt/ noun a musical instrument which you have to blow to make a note windmill /'windmɪl/ noun 1. a mill driven by sails which turn when the wind blows ○ They live in an old windmill in East Anglia. ○ Windmills were used to grind corn into flour. 2. a little toy made of folded paper, which turns in the wind ○ The children all had little paper windmills.

① window /'wɪndəʊ/ noun 1. an opening in a surface such as a wall or door, which is filled with glass ○ When I fly, I always ask for a seat by the window, so that I can watch the landing and takeoff. ○ I looked out of the kitchen window and saw a fox. ○ It's dangerous to lean out of car windows. ○ The burglar must have got in through the bathroom window. 2. a section of a computer screen used to display special information ○ Open the command window to see the range of possible commands.

windowframe /'wɪndəʊfreɪm/ noun a wooden or metal frame around a window

window of opportunity /,wɪndəʊ əv ɒpə:tju:nɪtɪ/ noun a short moment when the conditions for something are especially favourable window-pane /'wɪndəʊ peɪn/ noun a single piece of glass, used as part of a whole window window shopping /'wɪndəʊ ʃɒpɪŋ/ noun the practice of looking at shop windows without buying anything windpipe /'wɪndpaɪp/ noun the main air passage from the nose and mouth to the lungs. Also called trachea wind power /'wind ,paʊə/ noun the force of the wind used to drive a windmill to produce energy windscreen /'wɪndskri:n/ noun the glass window in the front of a vehicle (NOTE: The US term is windshield) windscreen wiper /,wɪn(d),skrɪ:n 'waɪpə/, windshield wiper /,wɪn(d),fi:ld 'waɪpə/ noun a device on a car which removes rainwater away from the windscreen windshield /'windfi:ld/ noun 1. a screen on the front of a motorcycle ○ The windshield protects the rider from the rain. 2. US the glass window in the front of a vehicle (NOTE: The British term is windscreen) windsurfer /'wɪnsɜ:fə/ noun a person who goes windsurfing windsurfing /'wɪndsrɔ:fɪŋ/ noun the sport of riding on the sea on a surfboard with a sail attached windswept /'wɪndswɛpt/ adj blown by the wind. Synonym desolate. Antonym sheltered

③ wind up /'waɪnd ʌp/ verb 1. to twist round and round ○ She was winding the string up into a ball. 2. to turn a key to make a machine work ○ When did you wind up the clock or wind the clock up? 3. to turn a key to make something go up ○ Wind up your window if it starts to rain. 4. to end up ○ They wound up owing the bank thousands of pounds. 5. to finish ○ The meeting wound up at five o'clock. 6. □ to wind up a company to put a company into liquidation ○ The court ordered the company to be wound up. 7. to make someone annoyed ○ He only did it to wind you up.

wind-up /'waɪnd ʌp/ adj which works by clockwork ○ a wind-up toy ○ It is not a wind-up clock – it works on a battery. ■ noun something done to annoy you (informal) ○ I didn't believe him at first, I thought it was just a wind-up. Synonym joke windward /'wɪndwəd/ noun, adj, adv on or to the side of a ship from which the wind is blowing. Compare leeward

③ windy /'wɪndi/ adj when a strong wind is blowing (informal) (NOTE: windier – windiest)

② wine /wɪn/ noun 1. an alcoholic drink made from grapes ○ We had a glass of French red wine. ○ Two glasses of white wine, please. ○ Should we have some white wine with the fish? 2. an alcoholic drink made from the juice of fruit or flowers ○ elderberry wine ■ verb □ to wine and dine someone to invite someone for an expensive meal ○ He seems to spend most of his time wining and dining potential customers.

② wing /wɪŋ/ noun 1. one of the two parts of the body, which a bird or butterfly etc. uses to fly ○ A brown butterfly, with white spots on its wings. ○ The little birds were flapping their wings, trying to fly. ○ Which part of the chicken do you prefer, a leg or a wing? 2. □ to take someone under your wing to help someone by showing them what to do, especially someone who is new to the work or in training (informal) 3. one of the two flat parts sticking from the side of an aircraft, which hold an aircraft in the air ○ He had a seat by the wing, so could not see much out of the window. 4. a part of a large building which leads off to the side of the main building, often built as an extension ○ They are building a new wing for the hospital. 5. a body panel over the wheel of a car, which protects against splashing water and mud ○ The front wing was dented in the crash. (NOTE: The US term is fender.) 6. the side of a football or hockey pitch ○ He ran along the left wing. 7. a winger, player who plays on the wing ○ He passed the ball out to the wing. 8. a part of a political party which has a certain tendency ○ She is on the right wing of the Conservative party. 9. a group of squadrons in the air force 10. □ waiting in the wings waiting to do something ○ The boss must not make any more mistakes – Stephen is waiting in the wings to take over.

winged /'wɪŋd/ adj with wings winger /'wɪŋə/ noun (in football, hockey, etc.) a person who plays on the side of the field ○ One of the wingers kicked the ball into the net. ■ suffix referring to a person on the right or left wing politically ○ a right-winger wing mirror /'wɪŋ 'mɪrə/ noun one of a pair of mirrors attached to the outside of a vehicle and providing a view to the rear wingspan /'wɪŋspæn/ noun a measurement from the tip of one wing to the tip of another wink /'wɪŋk/ verb 1. to shut and open one eye quickly, as a signal ○ She winked at him to try to tell him that everything was going well. 2. (of lights, stars) to flash on and off ○ The lights of the harbour were winking in the distance. ■ noun 1. the act of opening and shutting one eye quickly ○ She gave him a wink to show that she had seen him take the piece of cake. 2. □ hardly sleep a wink almost not to sleep at all ○ We hardly slept a wink last night because the children kept waking us up.

② winner /'wɪnə/ noun 1. a person who wins ○ The winner of the race gets a silver cup. 2. something which is successful ○ His latest book is a winner.

③ winning /'wɪnɪŋ/ adj 1. which has won ○ The winning team go on to the next stage of the tournament. ○ She had the winning lottery ticket. 2. pleasant, attractive ○ She has a very winning smile.

winning post /'wɪnɪŋ pəʊst/ noun a post which indicates the end of a horse race winnings /'wɪnɪŋz/ plural noun money which has been won at betting ○ He collected all his winnings and went to book a holiday in Spain.

winning streak /'wɪnɪŋ stri:k/ noun a period of time when a person has continuing good luck win over /'win 'əʊvə/, round /raʊnd/ verb to persuade someone who was previously reluctant ② winter /'wɪntə/ noun the coldest season of the year, the season between autumn and spring ○ In some countries winter usually means snow. ○ It's too cold to do any gardening in the winter. ○ We're taking a winter holiday in Mexico. ■ verb to spend the winter in a place ○ These birds normally winter in Southern Portugal.

winter solstice /'wɪntər 'sɒlstɪs/ noun 21st December, the shortest day in the northern hemisphere, when the sun is at its furthest point north of the equator winter sports /'wɪntər 'spɔ:ts/ plural noun sports which are done in the winter, such as skiing and skating etc.

wintry /'wɪntrɪ/ adj 1. cold like winter ○ They are forecasting more wintry weather tonight. 2. unfriendly and cold ○ He gave them a wintry smile which made conversation difficult.

win-win /'wɪn 'wɪn/ adj used to describe a situation which has a satisfactory outcome for all the parties involved

③ wipe /waɪp/ verb to clean or dry with a cloth ○ Wipe your shoes with a cloth before you polish them. ○ Here's a hanky to wipe your nose. ○ Use the blue towel to wipe your hands. ■ noun the action of cleaning or drying with a cloth ○ She gave the table a quick wipe.

③ wipe out /,waɪp 'aʊt/ verb 1. to kill, to destroy ○ The tidal wave wiped out half the villages along the coast. 2. to remove completely ○ The costs of moving to the new office have completely wiped out our profits.

③ wipe up /,waɪp 'ʌp/ verb to clean liquid which has been spilt, with a cloth

③ wire /'waɪə/ noun 1. a thin piece of metal or metal thread ○ He used bits of wire to attach the apple tree to the wall. ○ The chip basket is made of woven wire. 2. □ (electric) wire thin metal thread along which electricity flows, usually covered with coloured plastic ○ The wires seem to be all right, so there must be a problem with the dishwasher itself. 3. a telegram ○ He sent me a wire to say that he couldn't come. ■ verb 1. to put in wires to carry electricity round a building ○ The office has been wired for computers. 2. to send a telegram ○ He wired his office to say that the deal had been signed.

wireless /'waɪələs/ noun a radio receiver (dated, old) wiring /'waɪərɪŋ/ noun all the wires which make up a system to carry electricity round a building wiry /'waɪərɪ/ adj 1. (of a person) thin but strong 2. (of hair) stiff and not easily combed (NOTE: wirier – wiriest) wisdom /'wɪzdəm/ noun a general common sense. Antonym foolishness

③ wisdom tooth /'wɪzdəm tu:θ/ noun one of the four back human teeth which only grow after the age of 20, or sometimes not at all

③ wise /waɪz/ adj 1. having intelligence and being sensible ○ I don't think it's wise to ask her to invest all that money in his business. ○ It was a wise decision to cancel the trip. 2. □ to be none the wiser to know no more about it than you did before ○ I read his report, and I'm still none the wiser. ○ His lengthy explanation left us none the wiser about how the system would work.

wisecrack /'waɪzkræk/ (informal) noun a clever remark. Synonym witticism ■ verb to make a joke. Synonym joke wise guy /'waɪz ɡaɪ/ noun a person who seems to know the answer to everything, but in reality does not (informal) wisely /'waɪzli/ adv 1. in a wise way 2. prudently

① wish /wɪʃ/ noun 1. something that you want very much ○ I have no wish to get involved. 2. what you want to happen □ to make a wish to think of something you would like to have or to see happen ○ Close your eyes and make a wish. ○ Make a wish when you blow out the candles on your birthday cake. □ her wish came true what she wanted to happen did happen 3. a greeting ○ Best wishes for the New Year! ○ Please give my good wishes to your family. (NOTE: The plural is wishes) ■ verb 1. to desire something which is almost impossible to have ○ I wish I were blonde. ○ I wish we didn't have to go to work on Christmas Day. ○ I wish my birthday wasn't in June when I'm taking exams. 2. to want something to happen ○ She sometimes wished she could live in the country. ○ I wish some of you would help me with housework. □ I wouldn't wish it on anyone it is so awful, I wouldn't want anyone, even someone I don't like, to have it ○ This flu is awful, it's not something I would wish on anyone. 3. to hope something good will happen ○ She wished him good luck in his interview. ○ He wished me a Happy New Year. ○ Wish me luck – it's my exam tomorrow. 4. to want ○ The headmaster wished to see you in his study.

wishful thinking /,wɪʃf(ə)l 'θɪʃkɪŋ/ noun the practice of thinking that something will actually happen because you want it to. Synonym delusion. Antonym reality wish list /'wɪʃ lɪst/ noun a list of all the things you would like to have or do wishy-washy /'wɪʃi ,wɪʃi/ adj without any bright colours, or firm ideas (informal) wisp /'wɪsp/ noun a little piece. Synonym strand wispy /'wɪspi/ adj thin wistful /'wɪstf(ə)l/ adj longing for something, but sad because there is no hope of getting it. Synonym pensive. Antonym satisfied wit /wɪt/ noun 1. an ability to say clever and funny things ○ His wit comes out all through his book. 2. □ at your wits' end not knowing what to do next ○ They were at their wits' end when the builders reported even more structural problems in the house. □ to keep your wits about you to keep calm in a difficult situation and think hard what to do next ○ Don't panic, keep your wits about you, and everything will be all right.

witch /wɪtʃ/ noun a woman believed to have magic powers. Compare wizard (NOTE: The plural is witches.)

witchcraft /'wɪtʃkra:f/ noun the art of magic witch hunt /'wɪtʃ hʌnt/ noun persecution of people who are supposed to be politically unreliable

① with /wɪð, wɪθ/ prep 1. showing that things or people are together ○ She came here with her mother. ○ My sister is staying with us for a few days. (NOTE: with is used with many adjectives and verbs: to agree with, to be pleased with.) 2. something which you have ○ The girl with blond hair. ○ They live in the house with the pink door. 3. showing something which is used ○ He was chopping up wood with an axe. ○ Since his accident he walks with a stick. ○ The crowd attacked the police with stones and bottles. 4. because of ○ Her little hands were blue with cold. ○ Half the people in the office are ill with flu. 5. and, together ○ He always has ice cream with apple pie. ○ I want a sheet of paper with an envelope. 6. showing an emotion ○ Her face was twisted with anger. 7. in the same direction as ○ They decided to sail south with the wind. 8. in spite of ○ With all her courage, she didn't win.

② withdraw /wɪð'draʊ: / verb 1. to move back ○ The crowd slowly withdrew as the soldiers advanced. ○ He talked to the guests for a few moments, then withdrew into his library. 2. to take back ○ The old coins have been withdrawn from circulation. 3. to take money out of a bank account ○ You can withdraw up to £100 from any cash machine. 4. to take back something which has been said ○ She withdrew her offer to provide the food for the party. (NOTE: withdrawn /wɪθ'draʊ: / – withdrawn)

③ withdrawal /wɪð'draʊ:əl/ noun 1. the act of removing money from a bank account ○ She made three withdrawals last week. 2. the act of going back, doing the opposite of what you had said you would do ○ His withdrawal from the election surprised his friends.

withdrawal symptoms /wɪð'draʊ:əl sɪmptəmz/ plural noun an unpleasant physical condition which occurs when someone stops taking an addictive drug withdrawn /wɪð'draʊ:n/ adj shy, not liking to meet other people wither /'wɪðə/ verb (of plants) to grow weaker and dry up, to shrivel withering /'wɪðərɪŋ/ adj disapproving, which makes someone feel embarrassed.

Synonym contemptuous. Antonym complimentary withhold /wɪð'haʊld/ verb to refuse to let someone have something. Synonym hold back (NOTE: withholding – withheld /wɪθ'haʊld/)

① within /wɪ'ðɪn/ prep 1. (in space or time) in ○ The house is within easy reach of the station. ○ We are within walking distance of the shop. ○ I must go back for a checkup within three months. ○ They promised to deliver the sofa within a week. □ within sight able to be seen ○ We are almost there, the house is within sight. ○ The ship sank within sight of land. 2. □ within the law legal ○ Is parking on the pavement within the law?

① without /wɪ'ðaʊt/ prep 1. not with ○ They came on a walking holiday without any boots. ○ She managed to live for a few days without any food. ○ He was stuck in Germany without any money. ○ They were fined for travelling without tickets. 2. not doing something ○ She sang for an hour without stopping. ○ They lived in the hut in the forest without seeing anybody for weeks. 3. □ without doubt certainly ○ It is, without any doubt, his best film ever.

withstand /wɪð'stænd/ verb to resist something difficult or unpleasant. Synonym endure □ to withstand the test of time to survive ○ Shakespeare's comedies have withstood the test of time remarkably well.

② witness /'wɪtnəs/ noun 1. a person who sees something happen or who is present when something happens ○ The witness happened to be outside the house when it was burgled. 2. a person who appears before a court or committee to give evidence ○ Her sister appeared as a witness in the libel case.

3. a person who is present when someone signs a document ○ The contract has to be signed in front of two witnesses. ○ His sister signed as a witness. 4. □ to bear witness to to be evidence that something is true (formal) ○ His reaction bore witness to his interest in the matter. ■ verb 1. to be present when something happens, and see it happening ○ Did anyone witness the accident? 2. to sign a document to show that you guarantee that the other signatures on it are genuine ○ One of his colleagues witnessed his signature.

③ witness box /'wɪtnəs bɒks/ noun a place in a courtroom where the witnesses give evidence (NOTE: The US term is witness stand.)

wits /wɪts/ plural noun intelligence witticism /'wɪtɪsɪz(ə)m/ noun a clever and funny remark witty /'wɪti/ adj clever and funny. Synonym amusing (NOTE: wittier – wittiest)

③ wives /waɪvz/ ◊ wife

wizard /'wɪzəd/ noun 1. a man who is believed to have magic powers ○ The wizard made the frog change into a prince. (NOTE: The female equivalent is a witch.) 2. a clever person, expert ○ He's a wizard at chess.

wizardry /'wɪzədri/ noun being clever wizened /'wɪz(ə)nd/ adj dried and wrinkled. Synonym wrinkled

WMD abbr weapon of mass destruction

③ wobble /'wɒb(ə)l/ verb to move unsteadily from side to side ○ The children made the jelly wobble in their bowls. ○ Don't wobble the table when I'm pouring coffee. ■ noun an unsteady shaking movement ○ The front wheel has a wobble.

③ wobbly /'wɒbli/ adj 1. unsteady shaking from side to side ○ His bike has a wobbly back wheel. ○ She sat on a wobbly armchair.

2. (of a person) shaky, not very steady ○ She's a lot better, but still a bit wobbly. 3. (of a voice) as if wanting to cry ○ Her voice sounded wobbly over the phone.

woe /wəʊ/ noun 1. sadness or trouble ○ Money cannot cure all the woes of the world. ○ She stopped me and told me her tale of woe. 2. □ woe betide trouble will come to (formal, humorous) ○ Woe betide anyone who tries to contradict my mother!

woeful /'wəʊf(ə)l/ adj 1. bad, annoying ○ His woeful lack of interest in environmental problems is infuriating. 2. full of sadness ○ They sang woeful songs about their lost land.

woefully /'wəʊf(ə)li/ adv in a way that is sad or annoying wok /wɒk/ noun a Chinese round-bottomed frying pan used in stir-fry cooking

③ woke /wəʊk/, woken /wəʊkn/ □ wake wolf /wʊlf/ noun 1. a wild animal like a large dog, usually living in groups in the forest ○ At night the wolves came and howled outside the hut. □ a pack of wolves a group of wolves living together 2. □ to cry wolf to call for help when you do not need it, so that when you really need help no one believes you □ to keep the wolf from the door to have enough food to live on ○ With prices rising all the time they have difficulty in keeping the wolf from the door. □ wolf in sheep's clothing a person who seems innocent but really is wicked ■ verb to eat fast without chewing your food properly ○ He wolfed his food down and ran out to catch the bus. Synonym gobble. Antonym nibble wolf whistle /'wʊlf, wɪs(ə)l/ noun a whistle made by a man when he sees an attractive woman

① woman /'wʊmən/ noun 1. an adult female person ○ The manageress is an extremely witty woman. ○ There were two middle-aged women in the seats next to ours.

○ There are very few women in government. ○ There are more and more women bus drivers. 2. a wife, female companion ○ He still has no woman in his life. (NOTE: The plural is women /'wɪmɪn/.)

womanhood /'wʊmənhʊd/ noun the state of being a woman womaniser /'wʊmənaɪzə/ noun a man who tries to seduce women often (disapproving) womankind /'wʊmənkaɪnd/ noun all women taken as a group. Antonym mankind womanly /'wʊmənlɪ/ adj feminine, like a woman. Synonym female. Antonym manly womb /'wʊbəm/ noun the hollow organ in a woman's body where a fertilised egg is lodged and an unborn baby is carried. Also called uterus wombat /'wɒmbæt/ noun a small furry Australian animal womenfolk /'wɪmɪnfəʊk/ plural noun all the women in a family, etc. (dated)

③ won /wʌn/ □ win

① wonder /'wʌndə/ verb 1. to want to know something ○ I wonder why the room has gone quiet. ○ If you don't ring home, your parents will start wondering what has happened. 2. to think about something ○ I wonder how I can earn more money. ○ He's wondering what to do next. □ to wonder at something to be surprised at something ○ The tourists stood in groups, wondering at the size of the Pyramids. 3. asking a question politely ○ We were wondering if you would like to come for dinner on Saturday. ■ noun 1. an amazing thing ○ One of the wonders of the electronic world. □ to do wonders for to help make something better ○ An evening out would do wonders to cheer him up. ○ The cream did wonders for her skin problem. □ it's a wonder that it is very surprising ○ It's a wonder that they managed to escape. □ no wonder, little wonder it isn't surprising ○ It's no wonder you had difficulty in getting tickets for the show with so many tourists in London. 2. a feeling of surprise and admiration ○ The little girl stared at the elephant in wonder. □ to wonder about 1. to think about ○ We've been wondering about moving house. 2. to worry about ○ I'm wondering about the children, they don't look well.

① wonderful /'wʌndəf(ə)l/ adj very good, splendid ○ They had a wonderful holiday by a lake in Sweden. ○ The weather was wonderful for the whole holiday. ○ You passed your driving test first time? – Wonderful!

wonderfully /'wʌndəf(ə)li/ adv in a wonderful way wonderland /'wʌndələnd/ noun a marvellous imaginary place. Synonym utopia wondrous /'wʌndrəs/ adj wonderful (literary) wonky /'wɒnki/ adj, adv 1. unreliable to use 2. not straight woo /wu:/ verb 1. to try to get someone to support you or to vote for you ○ The government is wooing the younger voter. ○ The supermarket is trying to woo customers with special offers. 2. to try to attract a girl to marry you (old) ○ Henry VIII wooed Anne Boleyn during the summer of 1533. ○ Three suitors came to woo the princess, each bringing costly gifts.

② wood /wʊd/ noun 1. a hard material which comes from a tree ○ The kitchen table is made of wood. ○ She picked up a piece of wood and put it on the fire. ○ A wood floor would be just right for this room. (NOTE: no plural: some wood, a piece of wood) 2. many trees growing together ○ The path goes straight through the wood. ○ Their house is on the edge of a wood. (NOTE: The plural is woods.) □ not to see the wood for the trees not to see what is important because you are concentrating only on details (informal) 3. □ we're not out of the wood(s) yet we still have problems ○ There's still so much to do to the house, we're not out of the woods yet. 4. a large wooden ball, used in bowls (NOTE: The plural is woods.) 5. a large-headed wooden club, used in golf to drive off from the tee and hit the ball as far as possible ○ He's trying a new wood. (NOTE: Do not confuse with would.)

wooded /'wʊdɪd/ adj covered in trees

③ wooden /'wʊd(ə)n/ adj 1. made out of wood ○ In the market we bought little wooden dolls for the children. 2. (of an actor) showing no emotion when acting ○ He was very wooden on stage, not at all natural.

woodland /'wʊdlənd/, woodlands /'wʊdləndz/ noun an area of land covered in trees woodpecker /'wʊdpekə/ noun a bird with a long sharp beak which makes holes in trees to find insects under the bark woods /wʊdz/ plural noun an area of land covered in trees woodwind /'wʊdwɪnd/ noun smaller instruments in an orchestra such as the flute, clarinet, oboe and bassoon, which are played by blowing woodwork /'wʊdwɜːk/ noun 1. the art of working with wood ○ Woodwork classes were the ones I liked best at school. 2. the parts of a building which are made of wood ○ All the woodwork will be painted white. (NOTE: no plural) woodworm /'wʊdwɜːm/ noun a little insect that eats wood woody /'wʊdi/ adj made of wood (NOTE: woodier – woodiest) woof /wʊf/ noun 2. the sound made by a dog when it barks ○ A dog goes 'woof, woof', a cat goes 'miaow'. ○ Your father must be back, I've just heard a woof from the garden. ■ verb (of a dog) to bark ○ This great black dog rushed out and woofed at me.

② wool /wʊl/ noun 1. long threads of twisted animal hair, used to make clothes or carpets etc. ○ The carpet is made of wool. ○ I need an extra ball of wool to finish this pull-over. 2. the hair growing on a sheep ○ The sheep are sheared and the wool sent to market in early summer. □ to pull the wool over someone's eyes to deceive someone by not telling them the true facts ○ The estate agent tried to pull the wool over our eyes about the house, but luckily the surveyor pointed out some structural defects. 3. material which looks like sheep's wool woollen /'wʊlən/ adj made of wool (NOTE: The US spelling is woolen.)

woollens /'wʊlənz/ plural noun clothes made of knitted wool. Synonym clothing (NOTE: The US spelling is woolens.)

woolly /'wʊli/ adj 1. made out of wool ○ She wore a woolly hat. 2. looking like wool ○ Little woolly clouds floated past in the sky. 3. not clear ○ His explanation was really very woolly. (NOTE: woollier – woolliest) ■ noun a knitted piece of clothing made of wool (informal) ○ Don't forget to take a woolly – it's quite cold today. ○ October – it's time to get your winter woollies out. (NOTE: The plural is woollies.)

woozy /'wʊzi/ adj feeling confused and dizzy

① word /wɜːd/ noun 1. a separate piece of language, either written or spoken ○ This sentence has five words. ○ He always spells some words wrongly, such as 'though'. □ word for word exactly as it is said or written ○ Tell me what he said word for word. ○ A word-for-word translation often doesn't make any sense. 2. something spoken ○ She passed me in the street but didn't say a word. ○ I'd like to say a few words about Mr Smith who is retiring today. □ to have a word with to speak to ○ I must have a word with the manager about the service. ○ The salesgirl had made so many mistakes, I had to have a word with her. □ without a word without saying anything ○ She went out of the room without a word. □ by word of mouth spoken, not written 3. something written ○ We received a word from my sister – she's now in Canada. ○ We've not heard a word from the lawyers. 4. a promise which you have made □ to give your word to promise ○ He gave his word that the matter would remain confidential. □ to keep your word to do what you promised to do ○ He kept his word, and the cheque arrived the next day. □ to take someone's word for it to accept what someone says as being true ○ OK, I'll take your word for it. 5. □ to breathe a word to mention something ○ We want to keep our plans secret for the moment, so don't breathe a word to anyone. □ to have words with someone to argue with someone ○ They were good friends until one day they had words about the fence. □ in a word briefly ○ in other words that is to say ○ It's seven o'clock – in other words, time for dinner. ○ I'm going on holiday next month, in other words I'll be away from the office for about four weeks. □ not in so many words not speaking in exactly that way □ you took the words out of my mouth you've said exactly what I was going to say □ not to mince your words to say exactly what you think ○ I didn't mince my words – I told them exactly what I thought of their wretched plan. □ for words to be mentioned ○ It's too stupid for words. ■ verb to put in words, either written or spoken ○ He wrote a very strongly worded letter. Synonym express wording /'wɜ:dɪŋ/ noun words and phrases used in a piece of writing wordplay /'wɜ:d,pleɪ/ noun the clever use of words word processing /wɜ:d 'prəʊsesɪŋ/ noun using a computer to produce, check and change texts, reports and letters etc. Also called text processing word processor /wɜ:d 'prəʊsesə/ noun 1. a small computer which is used to produce texts, reports and letters etc. ○ She offered to write the letter for me on her word processor. ○ You can use my word processor to type your letter if you like. 2. a word-processing program which allows you to create texts, edit them and print them words of wisdom /wɜ:dz əv 'wɪzdom/ plural noun good advice wordy /'wɜ:di/ adj using too many words. Synonym verbose. Antonym concise (NOTE: wordier – wordiest)

③ wore /wɔ:/ □ wear

① work /wɜ:k/ noun 1. something done using your strength or your brain ○ There's a great deal of work still to be done. ○ There's too much work for one person. ○ She tries to avoid doing too much work in the house. ○ If you've finished that piece of work, there's plenty more to be done. ○ Cooking for two hundred people every day is hard work. □ to have your work cut out to do something to find it difficult to do something ○ They'll have their work cut out to get the job finished on time. 2. a job done regularly to earn money ○ He goes to work every day on his bicycle. ○ Work starts at 9 a.m. and finishes at 5 p.m. ○ Her work involves a lot of travelling. ○ He is still looking for work. □ at work working ○ The builders are still hard at work. ○ She's at work today, but will have the day off tomorrow. □ out of work without a job ○ Hundreds of people were out of work when the factory closed. ○ She has been out of work for six months. 3. something which has been made, painted or written by someone ○ the complete works of Shakespeare ○ An exhibition of the work of local artists. ■ verb 1. to use your strength or brain to do something ○ I can't work in the garden if it's raining. ○ He's working well at school, we're very pleased with his progress. ○ Work hard and you'll soon get a better job. □ to set to work to start working ○ If we all set to work early, we should finish the job this evening. 2. to have a job ○ She works in an office in London. ○ He used to work in his father's shop. ○ She had to stop working when her mother was ill. 3. (of a machine) to run ○ The computers aren't working. ○ The machine works by electricity. 4. to make a machine run ○ She works the biggest printing machine in the factory. ○ Do you know how to work the microwave? 5. to be successful ○ His plan worked well. ○ Will the plan work? ○ If the cough medicine doesn't work, you'll have to see a doctor. 6. to move a little ○ to work loose to become loose by constant movement ○ The nut holding the wheel must have worked loose.

workable /'wɜ:kəb(ə)l/ adj which can work work against /,wɜ:k ə'genst/ verb to have the opposite effect. Synonym counteract workaholic /,wɜ:kə'hɒlɪk/ noun a person who cannot stop working (informal)

③ work at /'wɜ:k ət/ verb □ to work at something to work hard ○ If you want to become a concert pianist you will have to work at it.

work bench /'wɜ:k bentʃ/ noun a table in a workshop at which someone works workbook /'wɜ:k'bʊk/ noun a book in which a student can write answers to exercises printed in the book. Synonym exercise book worked up /,wɜ:kt 'ʌp/ adj (informal) □ all worked up about something excited or annoyed about something ○ The people in the village got all worked up about the plan for the new airport.

① worker /'wɜ:kə/ noun 1. a person who works ○ She's a good worker. ○ He's a fast worker. 2. a person who works in a particular job ○ The factory closed when the workers went on strike. ○ Office workers usually work from 9.30 to 5.30. 3. a female bee which goes to find pollen to provide the queen with honey ○ Workers go out of the hive to search for pollen. (NOTE: In a bee colony, the males are called drones.)

work ethic /'wɜ:k ,eθɪk/ noun a belief that working hard is the best way to live your life workforce /'wɜ:kfɔ:s/ noun all the people who work in an office or factory (NOTE: no plural)

① working /'wɜ:kiŋ/ adj referring to a job or to work ○ The working population of a country. ○ The unions have complained about working conditions in the factory. ○ He came to the party in his working clothes. ■ noun a way or ways in which something works ○ The workings of a car engine are a complete mystery to him. ○ I wish I could understand the workings of local government!

working breakfast /,wɜ:kiŋ 'brekfəst/ noun a business meeting during breakfast working class /,wɜ:kiŋ 'kla:s/ noun a group in society consisting of people who work with their hands, usually earning wages not salaries. Antonym aristocracy working day /'wɜ:kiŋ deɪ/ noun 1. a day on which someone works 2. the number of hours someone spends at work working life /,wɜ:kiŋ 'laɪf/ noun the years a person has worked working party /'wɜ:kiŋ ,pa:ti/ noun a group of experts who study a problem and report on how to deal with it. Synonym task force

③ workings /'wɜ:kiŋz/ plural noun a place where a mineral has been dug ○ That hole is the entrance to some old iron workings.

working week /,wɜ:kiŋ 'wɪk/ noun the part of the week when people usually go to their jobs

③ workload /'wɜ:k,laʊd/ noun an amount of work which a person has to do

③ workman /'wɜ:kmən/ noun a man who works with his hands (NOTE: The plural is workmen.)

workmanlike /'wɜ:kmənlkaɪk/ adj thorough and satisfactory but not imaginative workmanship /'wɜ:kmənʃɪp/ noun the skill of a good workman

① work on /'wɜ:k ɒn/ verb to work hard to make something better

① work out /,wɜ:k 'aʊt/ verb 1. to calculate ○ I'm trying to work out if we've sold more this year than last. ○ The waiter couldn't work out the total bill. □ to work out at to amount to an amount ○ The total works out at £10.50 per person. 2. to succeed ○ Everything worked out quite well in the end. □ to work something out to find a successful way of solving a problem 3. to do exercises ○ He works out every morning in the gym. 4. (of a mine) to exhaust a seam of coal etc., and not be able to continue working there ○

The gold seam was worked out some years ago.

workout /'wɜ:kaʊt/ noun exercise or sports practice workplace /'wɜ:kpleɪs/ noun a place where work is done

① works /'wɜ:ks/ plural noun 1. a factory ○ The steel works will be closed next week for the Christmas holidays. 2. parts of a machine ○ I looked inside the clock and there seems to be dust in the works. ■ noun □ the works everything (informal) ○ They built a conservatory with a fountain, automatic lighting, a barbecue – the works!

worksheet /'wɜ:k,ʃi:t/ noun a sheet of questions for students to answer

③ workshop /'wɜ:kʃɒp/ noun a very small factory where things are made or repaired

③ workstation /'wɜ:k,steɪʃ(ə)n/ noun a desk with terminal, monitor or keyboard etc., where a computer operator works. Synonym workplace

③ work up /'wɜ:k 'ʌp/ verb 1. to develop ○ I find it difficult to work up any enthusiasm for my job. 2. to do some hard work to make something happen ○ I'm doing some digging to work up an appetite. 3. □ to work yourself up into a state to make yourself annoyed and worried by something ○ He's worked himself up into such a state about his exams. □ worked up

① world /wɜ:ld/ noun 1. the earth on which we live ○ Here is a map of the world. ○ She flew round the world twice last year. ○ He has to travel all over the world on business. ○ A round-the-world ticket allows several stopovers. 2. □ to come into the world to be born □ to bring a child into the world to give birth to a baby □ who in the world is John Sparrow? do you have any idea who John Sparrow is? □ to be all alone in the world to have no family ○ He isn't married, an only child, both his parents are dead, so he's all alone in the world. □ to be on top of the world to feel very happy (informal) ○ She's got a new boyfriend and is on top of the world. □ out of this world magnificent ○ The cooking in the restaurant was out of this world. □ to think the world of someone to respect or love someone ○ They think the world of their daughter. □ to do someone a world of good to make someone feel much better ○ His holiday has done him a world of good. 3. people with a particular interest or who work in a particular business ○ He's very interested in the world of music. ○ She wants to get into the world of big business. 4. a particular group of animals etc. ○ the insect world ○ the world of mammals world-class /,wɜ:ld 'kla:s/ adj so good as to be among the best in the world. Synonym first-rate world-famous /'wɜːld 'feɪməs/ adj known everywhere. Antonym unknown World Health Organization /'wɜːld 'helθ ɔːgənائز(ə)n/ noun an organisation, a part of the United Nations, which aims to improve health in the world by teaching and publishing information about diseases. ○ Her father used to work in the World Health Organization. ○ At the present time, the WHO's top priority is the eradication of tuberculosis.

worldliness /'wɜːldlɪnəs/ noun the quality of being worldly, not idealistic worldly /'wɜːldli/ adj 1. referring to the material world ○ All her worldly possessions fitted into two small suitcases. 2. not idealistic, with a lot of experience ○ She's worldly enough to know exactly what she's doing.

world music /wɜːld 'mjuːzɪk/ noun music from cultures outside the western world worldwide /wɜːld'wɜːdɪ/; /'wɜːldwɜːd/ adj, adv over the whole world ○ a worldwide energy crisis ○ The company has a worldwide network of distributors. ○ The TV news programme is available worldwide.

World Wide Web /,wɜːld 'waɪd 'web/ noun websites and webpages within the Internet, which users can visit (NOTE: usually shortened to the Web) worm /wɜːm/ noun 1. a small thin animal which has no limbs and lives in the soil ○ Birds were pecking at the soil for worms. □ the early bird catches the worm if you are the first to do something you will beat your rivals 2. a similar tiny animal living inside an animal's body, usually in the intestines ○ We had to give the dog a tablet to get rid of its worms. □ verb 1. to get worms out of an animal ○ The cat needs to be wormed. 2. to get through by twisting and turning ○ They managed to worm their way into the exhibition. 3. □ to worm something out of someone to get information out of someone by continually asking questions ○ They managed to worm the combination of the safe out of her.

③ worn /wɔːn/ □ wear

③ worn out /,wɔːn 'aut/ adj 1. very tired ○ He was worn out after the game of rugby. ○ She comes home every evening, worn out after a busy day at the office. 2. old and which has been used a lot ○ The tyres on the back wheels are worn out. ○ She was wearing a pair of worn out trainers. □ wear out

② worried /'wɔːrid/ adj anxious ○ He had a worried look on his face. ○ She's looking worried. ○ I'm worried that we may run out of petrol. Synonym concerned. Antonym unconcerned □ worried to death extremely worried ○ They were worried to death about her.

③ worry /'wɔːri/ noun 1. something which makes you anxious ○ Go on holiday and try to forget your worries. 2. the state of being anxious ○ She is a great source of worry for her family. □ verb 1. to be anxious because of something ○ He's worrying about his driving test. ○ I worry when the children stay out late. ○ Don't worry, I'll be back on time. ○ She's always pale and that worries me. 2. (of animals) to shake and tear with the teeth □ to worry sheep to chase and attack sheep ③ worrying /'wɔːriŋ/ adj which makes you worried. Antonym reassuring

① worse /wɜːs/ adj 1. less good than something else ○ Both children are ill, and to make it worse ○ It rained for the first week of our holidays, and the second week was even worse. ○ I think this film is worse than the one I saw last week. ○ Both children are naughty – but the little girl is worse than her brother. 2. more ill ○ He's much worse since he started taking his medicine. □ adv not as well ○ He drives badly enough but his sister drives even worse. □ he's coughing worse than ever he is coughing more than before □ noun something which is worse ○ They thought their problems were over, but worse was to follow. □ to take a turn for the worse to suddenly become more ill ○ Everyone thought she was getting better and then she took a turn for the worse. □ none the worse for not harmed by or ill because of something ○ She was none the worse for her ordeal.

worsen /'wɜːs(ə)n/ verb to become worse, to make worse

③ worse off /,wɜːs 'ɒf/ adj with less money than before worship /'wɜːʃɪp/ noun 1. praise and respect to God ○ Prayer is the most important part of worship. □ an act of worship a religious ceremony 2. praise and love for someone or something ○ Her worship of her boss isn't healthy. □ verb 1. to praise and respect God ○ The ancient peoples worshipped stone statues of their gods. 2. to take part in a church service ○ They worship regularly in the parish church. 3. to praise and love someone ○ She absolutely worships her boyfriend. (NOTE: worshipping – worshipped) worshipper /'wɜːʃɪpə/ noun a person who worships

① worst /wɜːst/ adj worse than anything else ○ This summer is the worst for fifty years. ○ I think this is the worst film he's ever made. Antonym best □ adv less well than anything or anyone else or than at any other time ○ It's difficult to say which team played worst. ○ She works worst when she's tired. □ noun a very bad thing ○ The worst of the bad weather is past now. □ to prepare for the worst to get ready to have bad news ○ Your father was very badly injured – you must prepare for the worst.

① worth /wɜːθ/ adj □ to be worth to have a certain value or price ○ This ring's worth a lot of money. ○ Gold is worth more than silver. ○ The house is worth more than £250,000. ○ The car is worth £6,000 on the secondhand market. ■ noun a value ○ Its worth will increase each year. ○ She lost jewellery of great worth in the fire. ○ Can you give me twenty pounds' worth of petrol?

worthless /'wɜːθləs/ adj having no worth, no use

③ worthwhile /wɜːθ'wɔɪl/ adj which is worth the effort spent on it. Antonym worthless worthy /'wɜːði/ adj deserving (NOTE: worthier – worthiest)

① would /wʊd/ modal verb 1. used as a polite way of asking someone to do something ○ Would you please stop talking? ○ Would someone please tell me where the library is? ○ Would you like some more tea? 2. used as the past of 'will' ○ He said he would be here for lunch. ○ She hoped she would be well enough to come. ○ He wouldn't go even if I paid him. 3. used as the past of 'will', showing something which often happens ○ He would bring his dog with him, even though we asked him not to. ○ Naturally the car wouldn't start when we were in a hurry. ○ My husband forgot my birthday again this year – he would! 4. used for showing something which often happened in the past ○ Every morning she would go and feed the chickens. ○ He would always be there waiting outside the station. ○ They would often bring us flowers. 5. used following a condition ○ I'm sure that if they could come, they would. ○ I would've done it if you had asked me to. ○ If she were alive, she would or she'd be a hundred years old today. ○ If it snowed we would or we'd go skiing. (NOTE: the negative would not is usually written wouldn't. Note also that would is often shortened to 'd: she'd be a hundred, he'd stay at home. Note also that would is only used with other verbs and is not followed by to) would-be /'wʊdbi:/ adj who hopes to become. Synonym hopeful wouldn't /'wʊd(ə)n't/ short form would not would rather /wʊd 'rɑːðə/ verb to prefer

③ wound /waʊnd/ □ wind ■ noun /wuːnd/ 1. a cut made on someone's body, usually in fighting 2. a hurt to someone's feelings ○ The wounds caused by the divorce will take years to heal. ■ verb /wuːnd/ 1. to hurt someone badly by cutting into their flesh ○ Two of the gang were wounded in the bank robbery. ○ As a young soldier he was badly wounded in the battle of the Somme. 2. to hurt someone's feelings ○ She was deeply wounded by what he said.

wound up /,waʊnd 'ʌp/ adj tense and anxious (informal). Synonym stressed. Antonym relaxed wove, woven /wəʊv, 'wəʊv(ə)n/ □ weave

wow, woven /wəʊw/ interj showing surprise and pleasure ○ Wow! have you seen his new girlfriend! ○ Wow! have you seen his new car! ■ noun 1. someone or something that is impressive or successful 2. a variation of sound frequency when playing back tapes ○ Wow is usually caused by uneven tape movement. ■ verb (of a singer etc.) to excite an audience (informal) ○ The new singing group wowed their fans.

WPC abbr woman police constable (NOTE: also used as a title before a name: WPC Smith) wrangle /'ræŋgəl/ noun an argument or dispute ○ A bitter wrangle developed between the partners. Synonym dispute ■ verb to argue ○ They're always wrangling over money. ○ They wrangled for months before the treaty was finally signed. Synonym argue

③ wrap /ræp/ noun 1. a type of shawl that is put round the shoulders or the top part of the body ○ She pulled her wrap closer around her. 2. a piece of material used to cover something ○ Remove the wrap before putting the dish in the microwave. 3. fast food, made of a tortilla wrapped round a filling 4. □ to keep something under wraps to keep something secret (informal) ○ The whole project is still under wraps.

wraparound /'ræpəraʊnd/ adj which goes right round something wrapped up /,wræpt 'ʌp/ adj so busy doing something, that you do not notice anything else. Synonym engrossed wrapper /'ræpəl/ noun a piece of paper used to wrap round something. Synonym covering

③ wrapping /'ræpɪŋ/ noun paper, cardboard or plastic etc., used to wrap something up wrapping paper /'ræpɪŋ ,peɪpə/ noun brightly coloured paper used to wrap presents wrap round /,ræp 'raʊnd/, wrap around /,ræp ə'raʊnd/ verb to put right round something (NOTE: wrapping – wrapped /ræpt/) wrap up /ræp 'ʌp/ verb to finish off ○ That just about wraps up the points we have to make.

wrath /rɒθ/ noun great anger wreak /riːk/ verb to do something violent. Synonym cause (NOTE: wreaking – wreaked or wrought /rɔːt/) wreath /riːθ/ noun 1. a circle of flowers or leaves especially given at a funeral in memory of the dead person ○ The wreaths came from all his friends. ○ The Queen laid a wreath at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier. 2. a circle of holly, hung on a door as a Christmas decoration ○ A lot of people hang holly wreaths on their front doors at Christmas. 3. a circle of leaves put round someone's head ○ The emperor rode past in triumph, with a wreath of laurel round his head. 4. winding clouds of smoke or mist ○ Wreaths of smoke rose from the smouldering village. (NOTE: The plural is wreaths /wri:ðz/.)

wreathe /ri:ð/ verb to surround with □ wreathed in smiles smiling broadly ○ The faces of the children were wreathed in smiles.

wreck /rek/ noun 1. a ship which has been sunk or badly damaged ○ Divers have discovered the wreck on the seabed. ○ The wreck of the 'Mary Rose' was found in the sea near Southampton. 2. anything which has been damaged and cannot be used ○ The police towed away the wreck of the car. ○ Their new car is now a total wreck. 3. a nervous, tired and worried person ○ After the interview with the boss he was a nervous wreck. ○ Two hours manning the complaints desk and you're a gibbering wreck. ■ verb 1. to damage something very badly ○ The ship was wrecked on the rocks in the storm. ○ The bank was wrecked by the explosion. 2. to ruin something ○ The children catching chickenpox has wrecked our plans to go to Greece.

③ wreckage /'rekidʒ/ noun what is left of a building, ship or plane etc. after it has been wrecked. Synonym ruins (NOTE: no plural) wrecker /'rekə/ noun a person who wrecks something wren /ren/ noun a very small brown bird wrench /rentʃ/ noun 1. a large spanner which can be adjusted to undo various sizes of nut. □ monkey wrench 2. a feeling of sadness at leaving ○ It will be a wrench to leave the old office. ■ verb to twist and pull something violently ○ She wrenched the box from his hands and ran off.

wrest /rest/ verb to twist, to wrench away wrestle /'res(ə)l/ verb 1. to fight with someone to try to throw him to the ground ○ The President's guards wrestled with the demonstrators. 2. to fight or struggle with a problem ○ He's wrestling with his tax forms.

wrestler /'res(ə)lə/ noun a person who wrestles as a sport wrestling /'res(ə)lin/ noun the sport of fighting, but without punching wretched /'retʃid/ adj 1. miserable and ill ○ I won't go to the office today, I feel wretched. 2. terrible or annoying ○ It's this wretched contract – we still can't get the terms agreed. ○ Those wretched squirrels have eaten all our tulip bulbs.

wretchedly /'retʃidli/ adv miserably

wriggle /'rig(ə)l/ verb 1. to twist from side to side ○ The baby wriggled in her father's arms. ○ The worm wriggled back into the soil. 2. □ to wriggle free to twist from side to side and get free ○ The burglars had tied his hands and legs, but he managed to wriggle free. □ to wriggle out of something to get out of a difficult situation by making clever excuses ○ Somewhere he managed to wriggle out of having to do the washing up.

wring /riŋ/ verb 1. to twist something, especially to get water out of it ○ Wring the face cloth (dry) after you have used it. ○ He wrung out his shirt before putting it to dry. 2. □ to wring information from someone to manage to get information with difficulty ○ The police managed to wring a confession out of him.

winkle /'riŋkəl/ noun 1. a fold in the skin ○ She had a facelift to remove wrinkles round her eyes. 2. a line or crease in cloth etc. ○ She tried to iron out the wrinkles in his trousers. ■ verb 1. to make lines or creases in the skin ○ Her face has started to wrinkle. ○ She wrinkled her nose at the smell. 2. to make lines or creases in something ○ Sitting in the hot bus all day has wrinkled her shirt.

wrinkled /'riŋkəld/ adj full of lines or creases wrinkly /'riŋkli/ adj covered with wrinkles ○ His wrinkly face broke into a smile.

③ wrist /rist/ noun the joint between the arm and the hand wristwatch /'ristwɒtʃ/ noun a small clock worn on a strap around the wrist (NOTE: The plural is wristwatches.)

writ /ri:t/ noun a legal document which starts an action in the High Court □ to serve someone with a writ to give someone a writ officially ○ They served a writ on the owner of the shop.

① write /raɪt/ verb 1. to put words or numbers on paper etc., with a pen or word processor etc. ○ She wrote the address on the back of an envelope. ○ Someone wrote 'down with the management' on the wall of the staff canteen. ○ Write the reference number at the top of the letter. 2. to write a letter and send it to someone ○ Have you written to your MP yet? ○ She writes to me twice a week. ○ Don't forget to get to write as soon as you get to your hotel. ○ He wrote a letter to the management to complain about the service. ○ Don't forget to write a postcard when you get to New York. □ it's nothing to write home about it's not very special (informal) ○ The food in the hotel is nothing to write home about. 3. to be the author of a book or music etc. ○ He wrote a book on keeping tropical fish. ○ Didn't you know she used to write for the 'Sunday

Times'? (NOTE: writing – wrote /rəut/ – has written /'ritən/)

③ write back /,raɪt 'bæk/ verb to answer by letter

③ write down /,raɪt 'daʊn/ verb to write something

③ write in /,raɪt 'ɪn/ verb to write a letter to an organisation

③ write off /,raɪt 'ɒf/ verb 1. to cancel a debt ○ The bank couldn't trace him so they had to write the debt off. 2. to remove an asset from a company's accounts because it no longer has any value □ the car was written off the insurance company considered it a total loss

write-off /'raɪt ɒf/ noun a total loss, removing an asset from a company's accounts

③ write out /,raɪt 'aʊt/ verb to write something in full □ to write out a cheque to write the words and figures on a cheque and then sign it write-protected /raɪt prə'tek्टɪd/ adj (of a computer disk) which cannot be altered or erased

② writer /'raɪtə/ noun a person who writes ○ Who is the writer of this letter? ○ She's the writer of books on gardening. Synonym author

③ write up /,raɪt 'ʌp/ verb to write a text fully from notes which you have taken ○ I took masses of notes, and now I have to write them up for the local newspaper.

write-up /'raɪt ʌp/ noun an article about someone or something in a newspaper writhe /raɪð/ verb to twist and turn when pain is very severe. Synonym squirm

② writing /'raɪtɪŋ/ noun 1. something which is written ○ Please don't phone, reply in writing. ○ Put everything in writing, then you have a record of what has been done. 2. □ the writing is on the wall there are signs that a disaster is about to happen (informal) ○ The writing is on the wall for old-fashioned grocer's shops. 3. writing done by hand ○ His writing's so bad I can't read it. Synonym handwriting 4. the occupation of being a writer ○ He earns his living from writing.

writings /'raɪtɪŋz/ plural noun serious things written

③ written /'rit(ə)n/ adj which has been put in writing

① wrong /rɒŋ/ adj 1. not correct ○ I must have pressed the wrong button. ○ He gave three wrong answers and failed the test. ○ That's not the right time, is it? – No, the clock is wrong. ○ You've come to the wrong house – there's no one called Jones living here. ○ There is something wrong with the television. 2. □ to start on the wrong foot to start to do things the wrong way □ to get out of bed on the wrong side to start the day badly □ to get the wrong end of the stick to misunderstand what someone is saying 3. not suitable ○ You came just at the wrong time, when we were bathing the children. ○ She was wearing the wrong sort of dress for a wedding. 4. bad ○ It's wrong to talk like that about her. ○ Cheating in exams is wrong. 5. making someone worried □ what's wrong? what is the matter? ○ What's wrong with my handwriting? – There's nothing wrong with it, it's just that I find it difficult to read. □ I hope nothing's wrong, there's nothing wrong, is there? I hope there is no problem

■ adv badly ○ Everything went wrong yesterday. ○ She spelt my name wrong. □ don't get me wrong don't put the wrong meaning on what I'm trying to say ○ Don't get me wrong, I love him dearly but at times he can be infuriating. ■ noun 1. a thing which is not right ○ The group is campaigning against wrongs done to children in care. 2. □ to be in the wrong to have made a mistake ○ I apologise – I was clearly in the wrong.

wrongdoer /'rɒŋdu:ə/ noun a person who has committed a crime. Synonym criminal wrongdoing /'rɒŋdu:ɪŋ/ noun a crime or unlawful act wrongful /'rɒŋf(ə)l/ adj unjust. Synonym illegal. Antonym rightful wrongfully /'rɒŋf(ə)li/ adv unfairly and illegally wrongly /'rɒŋli/ adv not correctly wrong number /rɒŋ 'nʌməbə/ noun a telephone number which is not the one you wanted to dial

③ wrote /raʊt/ □ write wrought iron /,rɒ:t 'aɪən/ noun iron which is bent to make gates and fences etc. Compare cast iron wry /raɪ/ adj showing amusement by twisting your mouth (NOTE: Do not confuse with rye.)

wt abbr weight

www abbr World Wide Web

X

X /eks/, X noun 1. the twenty-fourth letter of the alphabet, between W and Y 2. used to indicate an unknown person ○ Let's take the example of Mrs X, who is a widowed lady 40 years old. 3. a mark like a cross, especially on a map ○ To find the treasure, you have to find the spot marked 'X' on the map. 4. an unknown mathematical value ■ symbol 1. a multiplication sign ○ $3 \times 3 = 9$. (NOTE: say 'three times three equals nine') 2. showing size ○ The table top is 24 x 36cm. (NOTE: say 'twenty-four by thirty-six centimetres')

X noun the Roman numeral for ten or tenth xenophobe /'zenəfəʊb/ noun a person who dislikes foreigners xenophobia /,zenə'fəʊbiə/ noun a dislike of foreigners. Synonym chauvinism

XL abbr extra large

③ Xmas /'krɪsməs, 'eksməs/ noun same as Christmas (informal)

XML noun a computer programming language designed for web documents

X-ray /'eks reɪ/ noun 1. radiation with a very short wavelength, which is invisible, but can go through soft tissue and register as a photograph on a film ○ The X-ray examination showed the key was inside the baby's stomach. ○ The X-ray department is closed for lunch. 2. a photograph taken with X-rays ○ The X-ray showed that the bone was broken in two places. ○ They will take an X-ray of his leg. ○ She was sent to hospital for an X-ray. ■ verb to take an X-ray photograph of someone ○ There are six patients waiting to be X-rayed. ○ They X-rayed my leg to see if it was broken.

XX noun the Roman numeral for twenty or twentieth xylophone /'zaɪləfəon/ noun a musical instrument consisting of wooden or metal bars of different lengths which make different notes when you tap them with a little hammer

Y

y /waɪ/, Y noun the twenty-fifth letter of the alphabet, between X and Z yacht /jɒt/ noun 1. a sailing boat, used for pleasure and sport 2. a large luxurious boat with a motor ○ She spent her holiday on a yacht in the Mediterranean.

yachting /'jɒtɪŋ/ noun the activity of sailing on a yacht yachtsman /'jɒtsmən/ noun a person who sails a yacht (NOTE: The plural is yachtsmen.)

yachtswoman /'jɒtswəmən/ noun a woman who sails a yacht (NOTE: The plural is yachtswomen.)

yank /jæŋk/ noun a short sharp pull ○ He gave the rope a yank and it came away in his hands. ■ verb to pull hard and sharply ○ Yank that string and it should ring a bell in the bar. ○ She tried to yank the pram out of the mud. Synonym pull

Yank /jæŋk/, Yankee /'jæŋki/ noun an American, especially one from the northern states

yap /jæp/ verb (of a small dog) to bark ○ Her wretched little dog was yapping all the time. ■ noun a little bark ○ When the door bell rang the dog gave a yap.

② yard /jɑ:d/ noun 1. a measurement of length, equal to 0.914 metres ○ The police station is only yards away from where the fight took place. ○ Can you move your car a couple of yards as it is blocking the entrance to our garage? 2. an area of concrete at the back or side of a house ○ We keep our bikes in the yard. 3. US a garden round a house ○ Let's have a barbecue in the yard. 4. a large area where stores are kept outside, where lorries can load and unload ○ He went to the builder's yard to buy some bricks. 5. □ the Yard headquarters of the London Metropolitan Police (informal) ○ They called in the Yard to investigate. ○ Scotland Yard officers were called in.

yardstick /'jɑ:dstɪk/ noun a standard for measurement yarn /jɑ:n/ noun 1. a long piece of wool used in knitting or weaving ○ She sells yarn from the wool of her sheep. 2. a long story ○ He told me or he spun me some yarn about his time in the navy.

yawn /jɔ:n/ verb to open your mouth wide and breathe in and out deeply when you are tired or bored ○ He went on speaking for so long that half the people at the meeting started yawning or started to yawn. ■ noun

1. the act of opening the mouth when you are bored or going to sleep ○ His yawns made everyone feel sleepy. □ to stifle a yawn to try to prevent yourself from yawning 2. something which is very boring ○ The concert was just one big yawn.

yawning /'jɔ:nɪŋ/ adj open wide □ a big yawning hole a deep wide hole yd abbr yard

ye /ji:/ pron you (old) ○ Ye gods! ■ article the (used in imitation old names) ○ The pub is called 'Ye Olde Cheshire Cheese'.

yeah /jeə/ interj yes

① year /jɪə/ noun 1. a period of time lasting twelve months, from January 1st to December 31st ○ Columbus discovered America in the year 1492. ○ Great celebrations which took place in the year 2000. ○ Last year we did not have any holiday. ○ Next year she's going on holiday in Australia. ○ The weather was very bad for most of the year. □ year in, year out, year after year every year, over a long period of time ○ Year in, year out he sends me a plant for my birthday. □ all year round working or open for the whole year ○ The museum is open all year round. 2. □ since the year dot for a very long time (informal) ○ We've been going on holiday to Wales since the year dot. □ New Year, New Year's Day 3. a period of twelve months from a particular time ○ We spent five years in Hong Kong. ○ He died two hundred years ago today. ○ She'll be eleven years old tomorrow. ○ How many years have you been working for the company? 4. □ I haven't seen him for years or donkey's years I haven't seen him for a very long time yearbook /'jɪəbʊk/ noun a reference book which is published each year with updated or new information. Synonym annual year-long /'jɪə lɔŋ/ adj which lasts a year

yearly /'jɪəli/ adj, adv which happens every year or once a year ○ They make a yearly trip to London to do their Christmas shopping. ○

My yearly subscription to the museum is only £25.00.

yearn /'jɜ:n/ verb □ to yearn for something to long for something, to want something very much ○ She's yearning for some peace and quiet.

yearning /'jɜ:nɪŋ/ noun a feeling of wanting something very much. Synonym desire year-round /'jɪə rəʊnd/ adj happening all the year. Synonym constant yeast /'jɪ:st/ noun a living fungus used to make bread and to ferment alcohol yell /jel/ verb to shout very loudly ○ The policeman yelled to her to get out of the way. ■ noun a loud shout ○ He gave a yell and everyone came running to see what he had found. Synonym shriek

② yellow /'jeləʊ/ adj of a colour like that of the sun or of gold ○ His new car is bright yellow. ○ She's wearing yellow sandals. ○ At this time of year the fields are full of yellow flowers. (NOTE: yellower – yellowest) ■ noun the colour of the sun or gold ○ Do you have any hats of a lighter yellow than this one? ○ The yellow of the lichens on the rocks makes a very beautiful photograph. ■ verb to become yellow ○ The pages of the diary have yellowed with time but it is still legible.

yellow card /'jeləʊ 'kɑ:d/ noun in football, a card that a referee shows when giving a player a warning yellowish /'jeləʊʃɪʃ/ adj almost yellow in colour

③ yellow line /'jeləʊ 'lain/ noun a line painted along the side of a street, showing that you are not allowed to park

③ yellow pages /'jeləʊ 'peɪdʒɪz/ trademark a section of a telephone directory printed on yellow paper, which lists businesses under various headings, such as computer shops, newsagent's etc. ○ He looked up 'airlines' in the yellow pages.

yelp /jelp/ verb (usually of animals) to give a short cry of pain or excitement ○ The dogs were yelping in the back of the car. ■ noun a short cry of pain ○ The dog gave a yelp when the little boy pulled its tail. Synonym yap

yep adv, interj yes

① yes /jes/ adv a word showing that you agree or accept etc., the opposite of 'no' ○ They asked her if she wanted to come and she said 'yes'. ○ Anyone want more coffee? – Yes, please. ○ You don't like living in London? – Yes I do! ○ Didn't you work in Scotland at one time? – Yes, I did. ○ I need a clear answer – is it 'yes' or 'no'? Synonym affirmative. Antonym no

yes-man /'jes mæn/ noun a person who always agrees with someone in authority

① yesterday /'jestədeɪ/ adv, noun 1. the day before today ○ Yesterday was March 1st

so today must be the 2nd. ○ She came to see us yesterday evening. □ the day before yesterday two days before today ○ It rained the day before yesterday. ○ The shop only opened the day before yesterday. 2. recent times ○ The government is beginning to look like a group of yesterday's men. □ I wasn't born yesterday I know all about it ○ Of course I know people are smuggling cigarettes – I wasn't born yesterday you know!

① yet /jet/ adv 1. already, until now ○ Has the manager arrived yet? ○ I haven't seen her yet this morning. ○ Don't throw the newspaper away – I haven't read it yet. 2. □ as yet up till now ○ They have not managed to repair the fault as yet. ○ As yet, he hasn't given me any explanation for being late. 3. still, even ○ The police charged and yet more fans were arrested. ○ She ate yet another piece of cake. 4. in the future ○ All hope is not lost, we may yet win the championship. ■ conj but, still ○ He's very small and yet he can kick a ball a long way. ○ It was starting to snow, and yet he went out without a coat.
yet again /jet ə'geɪn/ adv once more after many times yew /ju:/ noun a large evergreen tree with flat green needles and poisonous red berries (NOTE: Do not confuse with ewe, you.)

yield /ji:ld/ noun 1. the interest produced by an investment ○ The yield on these bonds is higher than average. 2. the quantity of a crop or a product produced from a plant or from an area of land ○ What is the normal yield per hectare? ■ verb 1. to produce money ○ The investment has yielded a good interest until now. 2. to produce a crop or a product ○ This variety of rice can yield up to 2 tonnes per hectare. ○ The North Sea oil deposits yield 100,000 barrels a month. 3. to produce a result ○ Their researches finally yielded the information they were looking for. 4. □ to yield to someone to give up, to give way □ to yield to another car (of traffic) to allow another car to go first □ to yield to pressure or temptation to give in to pressure or temptation ○ The government yielded to pressure from the unions and did not proceed with the planned legislation. 5. (of material) to bend ○ We need a stiff material, something that will not yield.

yielding /'ji:ldɪŋ/ adj soft and flexible yippee /jɪ'pɪz/ interj used to show excitement yo /jəʊ/ interj used as an informal greeting yodel /'jəʊd(ə)l/ verb to sing with quick changes from low to high notes

yoga /'jəʊgə/ noun a system of exercises and meditation practised by Hindu thinkers, now popular in western countries as a way of keeping fit and relaxing yoke /jəʊk/ noun 1. a piece of wood placed over the necks of two animals when they walk side by side, pulling something such as a cart □ a yoke of oxen two oxen attached together 2. a piece of wood placed over a person's shoulders, with baskets or buckets at each end 3. a part of a dress or shirt around the shoulders from which the rest of the dress falls ○ The yoke of her little girl's dress is embroidered with flowers. (NOTE: Do not confuse with yolk.) ■ verb to join together, as if with a yoke ○ The water buffaloes were yoked together in pairs and taken to plough the fields. ○ Now that they are married she feels she's yoked to him for the rest of her life.

yolk /jəʊk/ noun the yellow part inside an egg (NOTE: Do not confuse with yoke.)

① you /ju, ju:/ pron 1. referring to someone being spoken to ○ Are you ready? ○ You look tired, you should rest a bit. ○ If I give you my address will you give me yours? ○ Hello, how are you? ○ Are you both keeping well? 2. referring to anyone ○ You never know when you might need a penknife. ○ You have to be very tall to be a policeman. 3. addressing someone directly ○ You with the red scarf over there, I need to see your ticket! ○ Hey you! leave my bicycle alone. (NOTE: You is both singular and plural.) you'd /ju:d/ short form you had, you would you'll /ju:l/ short form you shall, you will ① young /juŋ/ adj not old ○ This is where your Daddy lived when he was young. ○ She's very young, she's only six. ○ He became Prime Minister when he was still a young man. ○ My little brother's much younger than me or than I am. ○ In the afternoon there are TV programmes for very young children. (NOTE: younger – youngest) ■ noun 1. young animals or birds ○ Animals fight to protect their young. 2. □ the young young people ○ Today, the young have great need of spiritual guidance.

youngster /'jʌŋstə/ noun a young person. Antonym adult

① your /jɔ:/ adj belonging to you ○ I hope you didn't forget to bring your toothbrush. ○ This letter is for your brother.

you're /juə, jɔ:/ short form you are

① yours /jɔ:z/ pron 1. belonging to you ○ This is my car – where's yours? ○ My car's in the garage, can I borrow yours? □ a friend of yours one of your friends ○ You said she was a friend of yours, but she says she's never met you. 2. □ Yours faithfully used as an ending for business letters, when addressed to no specific person □ Yours sincerely, Sincerely yours used as an ending to a letter addressed to a named person □ Yours truly, Truly yours words written at the end of a slightly formal letter □ yours truly me myself (informal) ○ Who had to pay for all the damage, why yours truly, of course!

② youth /ju:θ/ noun 1. a young man ○ Gangs of youths were causing trouble in the village. ○ A youth, aged 16, was arrested for possessing drugs. 2. a period when you are young, especially the time between being a child and being an adult ○ In his youth he was a great traveller. ○ I haven't done that since the days of my youth!

youth club /'ju:θ klʌb/ noun a club where young people meet youthful /'ju:θf(ə)l/ adj young youth hostel /'ju:θ 'hɒst(ə)l/ noun a building where young travellers or walkers can stay the night cheaply you've /ju:v/ short form you have yo-yo /'jəʊ jəʊ/ noun a toy made of two round pieces and a string which you make the toy run up and down ○ Yo-yos were very popular when I was at school. ■ verb to go up and down ○ Share prices have been yo-yoing all week.

yr abbr year

yuck /jʌk/ interj used to show that something has a nasty taste yucky /'jʌki/ adj not nice, unpleasant yummy /'jʌmi/ adj delicious (informal)

Z

z /zed/, Z noun the last and twenty-sixth letter of the alphabet zany /'zeini/ adj wildly mad. Synonym unconventional (NOTE: zanier – zaniest) zap /zæp/ verb 1. to hit, to kill 2. to shut down the television using the remote control (NOTE: zapping – zapped) zeal /zi:l/ noun keenness or eagerness. Synonym enthusiasm. Antonym apathy zealot /'zelət/ noun a fanatic, a person who shows excessive zeal, especially for religion. Synonym extremist. Antonym moderate zealous /'zeləs/ adj eager, too efficient. Synonym enthusiastic. Antonym apathetic zebra /'zebrə, 'zi:brə/ noun an African animal like a horse, with black and white stripes ○ Zebras' stripes help them hide in the long grass of the African bush. (NOTE: usually no plural: a herd of zebra) zebra crossing /,zebrə 'krɔ:sɪŋ/ noun a place marked with black and white lines where traffic stops to allow you to walk across a road zenith /'zeniθ/ noun 1. the highest point, point of greatest achievement ○ The soprano retired at the zenith of her career. ○ The British Empire reached its zenith at the beginning of the 20th century. 2. the highest point in the sky reached by the sun or moon ○ The sun is now at its zenith.

③ zero /'zɪərəʊ/ noun 1. the number 0 ○ To make an international call you dial zero zero (00), followed by the number of the country. 2. the freezing point of water on a Celsius thermometer ○ The temperature stayed below zero for days. 3. nothing at all ○ They lost ten – zero. (NOTE: The plural is zeros.)

zero hour /'zɪərəʊ 'aʊə/ noun the time fixed to start something important, such as a battle zero in /,zɪərəʊ 'ɪn/ verb to go straight to something zest /'zest/ noun 1. enthusiasm or enjoyment ○ Her zest for playing football made her apply to join the local club. 2. added pleasure or spice ○ It all adds zest to the occasion. 3. a thin piece of orange or lemon peel ○ Grate the zest of one lemon and add it to the cake mix.

zestful /'zestf(ə)l/ adj enthusiastic. Antonym apathetic zigzag /'zɪgzæg/ adj, noun a line which turns one way, then the opposite way ○ There are zigzag lines painted at pedestrian crossings to show that cars must not stop there. ■ verb to move from left to right, then from right to left ○ The car zigzagged up the motorway until the police managed to stop it. (NOTE: zigzagging – zigzagged) zilch /'ziltʃ/ noun nothing (informal)

zillion /'ziljən/ noun a huge number (informal) ○ Zillions of people watched the game on TV.

zinc /'zɪŋk/ noun a hard bright light-coloured metal zip /zɪp/ noun a device for closing openings on clothes and bags, consisting of two rows of teeth which lock together (informal) ○ The zip of my anorak is broken. ○ Can you do up the zip at the back of my dress? (NOTE: The US term is zipper.) ■ verb 1. to go fast ○ Cars were zipping past us on the motorway.

2. □ to zip up to close something using a zip ○ She zipped up her anorak. ○ He zipped up his bag.

ZIP code /'zɪp kəʊd/ noun US a trademark for the numbers used to indicate a US postal delivery area in an address on an envelope (NOTE: The British term is postcode.)

zip drive /'zɪp draɪv/ trademark a trademark for a piece of computer equipment that makes large computer files smaller for easier storage or faster transmission zip fastener /'zɪp 'fa:s(ə)nəl/ noun a sliding fastener for closing clothes and bags zipper /'zɪpə/ noun US same as zip

zit /zɪt/ noun a pimple or spot on the skin zither /'zɪðə/ noun a flat musical instrument played by plucking its strings zodiac /'zəʊdiæk/ noun a set of 12 groups of stars that are related to 12 parts of the year and are believed by some people to influence character and suggest what will happen to them in the future zombie /'zombi/ noun 1. a dead body which is revived and controlled by witchcraft 2. a person who is unable to think ○ After thirteen hours in the plane I felt like a zombie.

③ zone /'zəʊn/ noun an area or part which is different from others, or which has something special ○ Police cars are patrolling the inner city zones. ■ verb to divide a town into parts for planning purposes ○ The land is zoned for industrial use.

zonked /'zɒŋkt/ adj 1. very tired ○ He looks completely zonked. 2. under the influence of alcohol or drugs zoo /zu:/ noun a place where wild animals are kept, and where people can go to see them zoo-keeper /'zu: ,ki:pə/ noun a person whose job is to look after the animals in a zoo zoological /'zu:əl'ɒdʒɪk(ə)l/, zəʊəlɒdʒɪk(ə)l/ adj referring to the study of animals zoological gardens /,zu:əlɒdʒɪk(ə)l 'ga:d(ə)nз/ plural noun same as zoo zoologist /zu:'ɒlədʒɪst, zəʊ'ɒlədʒɪst/ noun a person who studies animals zoology /zu:'ɒlədʒi, zəʊ'ɒlədʒi/ noun the study of animals zoom /zu:m/ noun same as zoom lens ■ verb 1. to go very fast ○ Cars were zooming past me on the motorway. 2. to rise suddenly and steeply ○ The exchange rate zoomed up last month. 3. □ to zoom in on something to focus a zoom lens so that it makes a distant object appear to come closer ○ He zoomed in on the yacht.

③ zoom lens /'zu:m lenz/ noun a camera lens which allows you to change quickly from distant to close-up shots while still keeping in focus zucchini /zu'ki:ni/ noun US the fruit of the marrow at a very immature stage in its development (NOTE: The British term is courgette.)

zzz noun a representation of the sound made by somebody sleeping, often used in cartoons

SUPPLEMENT

Irregular Verbs

Verb	Past tense	Past participle arise	arose	arisen
awake	awoke	awoken
be	was, were	been bear	bore	borne
beat	beat	beaten
become	became	become befall	befell	befallen
begin	began	begun
bend	bent	bent
beseech	besought, beseeched	besought, beseeched beset	beset	beset
bet	bet	bet
bid	bid	bid
bind	bound	bound
bite	bit	bitten
bleed	bled	bled
blow	blew	blown
break	broke	broken
breed	bred	bred
bring	brought	brought broadcast	broadcast	broadcast build	built	built
burn	burnt, burned	burnt, burned burst	burst	burst
buy	bought	bought
cast	cast	cast
catch	caught	caught
choose	chose	chosen
cling	clung	clung
come	came	come
cost	cost	cost
creep	crept	crept
cut	cut	cut
deal	dealt	dealt
dig	dug	dug
dive	dived, (US) dove	dived do	did	done
draw	drew	drawn
dream	dreamed, dreamt	dreamed, dreamt drink	drank	drunk
drive	drove	driven
dwell	dwelt, dwelled	dwelt, dwelled eat	ate	eaten
fall	fell	fallen
feed	fed	fed
feel	felt	felt
fight	fought	fought
find	found	found
flee	fled	fled
fling	flung	flung
fly	flew	flown
forbid	forbade	forbidden forecast	forecast	forecast foresee	foresaw	foreseen forget	forgot	forgotten
forgive	forgave	forgiven forgo	forwent	forgone
forsake	forsook	forsaken freeze	froze	frozen
get	got	got, (US) gotten give	gave	given
go	went	gone
grind	ground	ground
grow	grew	grown
hang	hung	hung
have	had	had hear	heard	heard
hide	hid	hidden
hit	hit	hit

Irregular Verbs

Verb	Past tense	Past participle hold	held	held
hurt	hurt	hurt
input	inputted, input	inputted, input interweave	interwove	interwoven keep	kept	kept
kneel	knelt, kneeled	knelt, kneeled knit	knit, knitted	knit, knitted know	knew	known
lay	laid	laid
lead	led	led
lean	leant, leaned	leant, leaned leap	leapt, leaped	leapt, leaped learn	learnt, learned	learnt, learned leave	left	left
lend	lent	lent
let	let	let lie	lay	lain
light	lit	lit
lose	lost	lost
make	made	made
mean	meant	meant
meet	met	met
mislay	mislaid	mislaid
mislead	misled	misled
misspell	misspelt, misspelled	misspelt, misspelled mistake	mistook	mistaken
misunderstand	misunderstood	misunderstood mow	mowed	mowed, mown
outdo	outdid	outdone
outgrow	outgrew	outgrown overcome	overcame	overcome overdo	overdid	overdone overdraw	overdrew	overdrawn overeat	overeate	overeaten overhang	overhung	overhung overhear	overheard	overheard overpay	overpaid	overpaid override	overrode	overridden overrun	overrun	overrun oversee	oversaw	overseen overtake	overtook	overtaken overthrow	overthrew	overthrown pay	paid	paid
put	put	put
quit	quit	quit
read	read	read
redo	redid	redone
repay	repaid	repaid
rerun	reran	rerun
reset	reset	reset
rethink	rethought	rethought rewind	rewound	rewound rewrite	rewrote	rewritten rid	rid	rid
ride	rode	ridden
ring	rang	rung
rise	rose	risen
run	ran	run
saw	sawed	sawn
say	said	said
see	saw	seen
seek	sought	sought
sell	sold	sold
send	sent	sent
set	set	set
sew	sewed	sewed, sewn
shake	shook	shaken
shear	sheared	sheared, shorn shed	shed	shed

Irregular Verbs

Verb	Past tense	Past participle shine	shone	shone
shoot	shot	shot
show	showed	shown
shrink	shrank	shrunk
shut	shut	shut
sing	sang	sung
sink	sank	sunk
sit	sat	sat
slay	slew	slain
sleep	slept	slept
slide	slid	slid
sling	slung	slung
slink	slunk	slunk
slit	slit	slit
smell	smelt, smelled	smelt, smelled sow	sowed	sown
speak	spoke	spoken
speed	sped	sped
spell	spelt, spelled	spelt, spelled spend	spent	spent
spill	spilt, spilled	spilt, spilled spin	spun	spun
spit	spat	spat
split	split	split
spoil	spoilt, spoiled	spoilt, spoiled spread	spread	spread
spring	sprang	sprung stand	stood	stood
steal	stole	stolen
stick	stuck	stuck
sting	stung	stung
stink	stank	stunk
stride	strode	strode
strike	struck	struck
strive	strove	striven swear	swore	sworn sweep	swept	swept
swell	swelled	swelled, swollen swim	swam	swum
swing	swung	swung
take	took	taken
teach	taught	taught tear	tore	torn tell	told	told
think	thought	thought
thrive	thrived, thrrove	thrived throw	threw	thrown thrust	thrust	thrust
tread	trod	trodden
understand	understood	understood undergo	underwent	undergone undertake	undertook	undertaken undo	undid	undone
unwind	unwound	unwound
uphold	upheld	upheld
upset	upset	upset
wake	woke	woken
wear	wore	worn
weave	wove	woven
wet	wet, wetted	wet, wetted weep	wept	wept
win	won	won
wind	wound	wound
withdraw	withdrew	withdrawn withhold	withheld	withheld withstand	withstood	withstood wreak	wreaked, wrought	wreaked, wrought wring	wrong	wrong
write	wrote	written

How to say the Alphabet

A	/eɪ/	N	/en/
B	/bi:/	O	/əʊ/
C	/sɪ:/	P	/pi:/
D	/dɪ:/	Q	/kju:/
E	/i:/	R	/aɪ/
F	/eф/	S	/es/
G	/dʒi:/	T	/ti:/
H	/eɪtʃ/	U	/ju:/
I	/aɪ/	V	/vi:/
J	/dʒeɪ/	W	/'dʌb(ə)lju:/
K	/keɪ/	X	/eks/
L	/el/	Y	/wai/
M	/em/	Z	/zed/, (US) /zi:/

How to say Numbers

Numbers	You say
1, 2, 3, 4 I, II, III, IV	one, two, three, four
1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th	first, second, third, fourth
5, 6, 7, 8 V, VI, VII, VIII	five, six, seven, eight
5th, 6th, 7th, 8th	fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth
9, 10, 11, 12 IX, X, XI, XII	nine, ten, eleven, twelve
9th, 10th 11th, 12th	ninth, tenth, eleventh, twelfth
13, 14, 15, 16 XIII, XIV, XV, XVI	thirteen, fourteen, fifteen, sixteen
13th, 14th, 15th, 16th	thirteenth, fourteenth, fifteenth, sixteenth
17, 18, 19, 20 XVII, XVIII, XIX, XX	seventeen, eighteen, nineteen, twenty
17th, 18th, 19th, 20th	seventeenth, eighteenth, nineteenth, twentieth
21, 22, 23 XXI, XXII, XXIII	twenty-first, twenty-second, twenty-third
30, 31, 32 XXX, XXXI, XXXII	thirty, thirty-one, thirty-two
40, 50, 60, 70, 80, 90 XL, L, LX, LXX, LXXX, XC	forty, fifty, sixty, seventy, eighty, ninety
40th, 50th, 60th, 70th, 80th, 90th 100, 101	fortieth, fiftieth, sixtieth, seventieth, eightieth, ninetieth one hundred, a hundred; a hundred and one
C, CI
200, 300, 400, 500 CC, CCC, CCCC, D	two hundred, three hundred, four hundred, five hundred
1,000
M	one thousand, a thousand
10,000	ten thousand
1,000,000	one million, a million
1,000,000,000	one billion, a billion

Decimals

0.5
0.25
2.5

You say

zero point five, point five zero point two five, point two five two point five

Money

£1
30p
£1.25
£27.36
$1 10¢
25¢
$1.25

You say

one pound, a pound thirty pence, thirty pee one pound twenty-five (pee), one twenty-five twenty-seven pounds thirty-six (pee) one dollar, a dollar ten cents, or (US) a dime twenty-five cents, or (US) a quarter one dollar twenty-five, a dollar twenty-five, one twenty-five

Telephone numbers

020 7921 3567

You say

oh-two-oh, seven-nine-two-one, three-five-six-seven

Years

1905 1998 the 1900s, the 1900's 2000
2005

You say

nineteen oh five, nineteen hundred and five nineteen ninety-eight the nineteen hundreds two thousand, the year two thousand two thousand and five

Dates

2.1.98 or 2/1/98

You say

the second of January, nineteen ninety eight, or (US) February first, nineteen ninety eight (NOTE: European and British dates are written with the day before the month, American dates are written with the month before the day.)

Some words with numbers

999, (US) 911, (Australia) 000

You say

nine nine nine, (US) nine one one, (Australia) triple oh (NOTE: the number to phone in an emergency)

24/7
9/11

twenty-four seven (NOTE: means 'all the time') nine eleven (NOTE: the eleventh of September 2001, when many people died in a terrorist attack in New York) the big 40, 50, etc.

the big four oh, five oh, etc. (NOTE: used humorously to refer to a fortieth or fiftieth, etc. birthday)

A1
A1, A12, B125, etc.

/eɪ 'wʌn/ (NOTE: means 'excellent')
,/eɪ 'wʌn/, /eɪ 'twelv/, /bi: wʌn tu: 'faɪv/, etc. (NOTE: the numbering system for roads in Great Britain)

4x4 4WD

four by four (NOTE: a vehicle with four-wheel drive) four-wheel drive (NOTE: a system in which engine power drives all four wheels of a vehicle, or a vehicle with this system)

H₂O

/eɪtʃ'tu: 'əʊ/ (NOTE: The chemical formula is sometimes used to say 'water').

M1, M25, etc.

/,em 'wʌn/, /,em twenti 'faɪv/, etc. (NOTE: the numbering system for motorways in Great Britain)

Numbers are sometimes used as abbreviations in emails, text messages or adverts.

2day	today	CUL8R	see you later	L8R	later
4U	for you	F2F	face to face	M8	mate
B4	before	GR8	great	P2P	person to person